In our own southlands we see the boos and cat-calls succumbing to the bravery of a clergyman, a mother and father, a small child. We have been shamefully slow in the process; this must be ad-mitted. Yet the just solution is near at hand. Under the leadership of a new president, it is hoped that the final links of racial equality will be forged; links that have been forgotten for all too long a time.

Indeed, in all parts of the world we see the majesty of the forgotten race rising above suppression and exploitation. Rising in Leopoldville, rising in Johannesburg, rising in Atlanta, in Rhodesia, in Nyasaland. Segregation and Apartheid become integration and equality.

Throughout the world men are speaking and singing out against the incredible catastrophe implicit in the further testing and development of atomic weapons, indeed all weapons. We hear Bertrand Russell, Pete Seeger, Linus Pauling, Steve Allen, Albert Einstein, hundreds upon hundreds of scientists, thousands upon thousands of students.

Yet, it is one question which we all ask: Can man learn to live together in peace and brotherhood or is it his role to destroy himself?

Merry Christmas and a Happy Chanukah.

-Michael Palter '68

A LOVE FOR GOD

The sudden rocky rooms at waterfalls Contain us as we climb. Our saring as we earno.

They batter down
Our sarthy aspirations, while our hearts
Leap to that haven where the water springs,
The cool draughts of love.
Our peace will come.

Washing with endless waters all our limbs, Sea, in its paler mask, Sea, in its puter mush, Entices us.

We sink to it; it whitens in our hair.

Fall and be loved completely while you can,

Then rise, or slowly drown.

Our peace will come.

Even the shades of trees invite us up
Into a breeze of loves.
That cave of leaves
Hides us from friends. A green weather of boughs Tells us to search for heaven out of this,
And the top limbs let us down.
Our peace will come.

Shall we assault the mountains? There they stand Coldly awaiting us.

We go to them.

Over luxuriant foothills body runs
Until it flees the snow in hostile heights,
Shakes once, and shivers down.

Our peace will come.

God always threatens. His love makes us bold. It is almost too much
To touch your hands,
Extremities that fall and freeze and drown.
Though an insanity of happiness is deathe,
I'll go. And then come home.
Our peace will come.

Joseph Langland Saturday Review

ON THE POETS

- * Anne Halley who wrote "Christmas Card" has four of her poems in the most recent edition of the Massachusetts Review. She is the wife of Jules Chametsky of the English department.
- Kenneth Smith, who wrote "Reaffirmation" at our request, is a veteran and a member of the class of 1963.
- Robert Tucker, a member of the English department, wrote "Two Christmases".
- Joseph Langland, author, poet, and instructor in the English Department, wrote his poem, "A Love For God" for the Saturday Review. We are pleased to reprint it here.

Barara Mahones

President, Trustees

"WHEREAS Provost Shannon McCune has guided the academic pro-gram of the University of Massachusetts for the past five years with great competence and deep dedication as well as with a sense of con-geniality and sincere friendship, extended alike to students, faculty and all other members of the University community, and

"WHERFAS he has contributed materially to the development of greater public recognition of the University's role in the state and in the nation through his careful attention to and cultivation of the public's interest in the University as a major facility of higher education, and

"WHEREAS his activities on the national level have aided in the clearer definition of the country's aims and aspirations for the education of its citizens,

"NOW THEREFORE we the Board of Trustees of the University of Massachusetts wish hereby to commend him for his demonstrated interest in the country's youth and his substantial accomplishments in insuring that the country's youth shall be well served in this most crucial field of education. We have every expectation, that in his new position, his interest and competence will make commensurate contribution on the international level."

Issue Statements McCune ()n

DR. SHANNON McCUNE

President Lederle yesterday issued the following statement on the announced resignation of Provost McCune:

"It is with a feeling of deep regret that I learn of Provost Mc-Cune's decision to leave the University. Although I have known him for only a few short months, I have found him to be an intensely delicated, able and imaginative administrator with a great concern for the future of the University and of education in general.

"His attention to matters of overall University policy, demonstrated in many solid accomplishments over the past five years, has been coupled with an equally dedicated attention to the needs of individual students. The entire campus community has benefited from Dr. McCune's enthusiasm, his warmth of personality, and his concern for the amenities which make life worth living. These qualities—which have been evidenced as much by Mrs. McCune as by her husband—will be missed by all who have come to know and esteem them.

"In accepting Dr. McCune's decision, reluctantly and regretfully, I nevertheless wish him every good fortune in his new position. There is not the slightest doubt that in his new post he will make a major contribution to international education."

Career Symposium Planned In Hartford

by SANDRA GIORDANO '63

Two career conferences will be held in Hartford, Conn., during the Christmas vacation as part of the placement service of UMass.

This is open to all college men, regardless of class or major.

There will be a Symposium for College Men, Wednesday, Dec. 28, at the Travelers Insurance Com-

"The Insurance Business-Challenge and Change" will be a one-day review of their industry.

Special emphasis will be placed actuarial science and electronic data processing, risk analysis, and product development. According to the company, "Our moving and changing economy requires constant analysis of conditions which govern our product." The program will include

The second conference scheduled is a Retailing Career Conference, sponsored by G. Fox & Company, also on December 28.

"Retailing—My Career?" will be held from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. It is open to all upperclassmen. will Both conferences will include lectures, tours, luncheons, and in-formal buzz sessions. Individual interviews will be scheduled as desired.

More information concerning either conference is available in the Placement Office. Reserva-tions may also be obtained there.

Brothers Four To Entertain At Winter Carnival Concert

THE BROTHERS FOUR

Recording Stars To Sing Feb. 12

Co-chairmen of the Winter Carni Concert Committee, Buddy Schultz and Peter Evans, announced that The Brothers Four have been contracted for the Jazz Concert, which will be held in the Cage on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12, 1961.

Started Singing A Year Ago

The Brothers Four started singing together while they were attending the University of Washington a year ago. Six months later they signed a contract with Columbia who released their well-known hit "Greensleeves."

The brothers made their tele-vision debut on the Jimmy Rodg-ers' Show and have appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show, the Kate the Ed Sullivan Show, the Kate Smith Show, Mitch Miller's Ford Startime Spectacular, the Dick Clark Show, Be Our Guest, and Canada's award-winning Music '60 Show. They are also remembered for their appearance at the bered for their appearance at the Newport Folk Festival last sum-

Yule Mail Deluge Expected To Exceed 6 Billion Pieces

by PATRICK YOUNG, United Press International
The U.S. Post Office Department is up to its red-white-andblue garters in the biggest Christmas meil with it is to be the control of th mas mail rush in history.

It expects to handle between 6 and 7 billion Christmas cards, letters and packages during the month of December. Postal officials also expect an increase in overseas mailings. During the last two months of 1959, Americans sent about 1.5 billion pounds of letters and more than 25.5 million pounds of parcel post abroad by ship.

Handling the Yuletide deluge will require about 250,000 additional postal employees scattered across the nation.

To facilitate Christmas mailing the department has installed stamp vending machines in many post office lobbies. Here in the nation's capital, the post office is experimenting with a dollar bill changing machine along with its stamp dispensers. The machine "reads" one and five dollar bills, checks for counterfeit or foreign ncy, and returns change.

rain, nor sleet, snow, so the saying goes, keeps everything from airplanes to a dog sled to deliver the Christmas

Uncle Sam has about 10,000 star routes, areas where the mail is delivered by contract carriers. Among them is Chester Noon-wook, described by one postal of-ficial as "the last of the great dog-sled mailmen." Noonwook and his team of huskies deliver the mail on remote St. Lawrence Island in the Bering Sea of Alas

Around Cody, Wyo., a snow weasel, a small machine with treads instead of wheels, carries the mail to isolated regions dur-ing the winter, and the Christmas snows between Nevada City and Graniteville, Calif., frequently Graniteville, force the star carrier to clamp on his skis to deliver the mail.

But with all the modes and methods of mail delivery, the post office still needs the cooperation of the American people. How? "Mail early," says the depart-

Funds For Food Drive

Over fourteen tons of food will be sent abroad because of the special offering taken at the Christmas Vespers program on Sunday sponsored by the Chris-tian Association.

The money will be sent to the "Share Our Surplus" drive conducted by the churches in connection with the government. Three hundred pounds of food from government surpluses is sent abroad for each dollar contributed.

The Vespers program was "Christ Our Lord", a liturgical expression of the Incarnation of Christ. It consisted of readings from the New Testament centering around the life of Christ. The readers were David Ellis, '61, Francis Broadhurst '61, and David Harrower '61.

A special choir, conducted by Merrilee Atkins '62, sang selections from Handel's Messiah. Soloists were Lee Carlson '64, soprano; Carol Schofield, alto; and John Knechel, bass. The accompaniet was Green February. companist was Grace Fahey. A special mural which formed the center of the worship setting was painted by Gordon Ripley '64.

C.A. Collects A.E.P. And K.A.T. Hold Yule Party For Holyoke Children

Santa Claus, Emanuel Kamison; Standing, Rosemary Hammelburg, and Barry Ravich.

Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity and Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority held a joint Christmas Party at AEPi for twenty-nine children ALPI for twenty-nine children from the Holyoke area. The par-ty began with the singing of Christmas songs and the play-ing of games with the children ranging in age from five years to nine years of age. Cartoons followed and milk and cookies were served to the children.

Santa Claus, played by Eman-uel Kamison from AEPi, was on hand to distribute some two hun-dred gifts gathered by members of both houses for the children.

Later that evening the Thetas were invited back to AEPi for a buffet supper.

Chairmen of the party were Rosemary Hammelberg from KAT and Jeffrey Goldberg and Larry Summers from AEPi.

Clothing Drive Sponsored For Needy Refugee Students

The Interfaith Council is sponsoring a winter clothing drive for the 1700 refugee students in Morocco and Tunisia. Many of the students live in stone or concrete block houses without much warmth and warm clothing is a necessity.

ecessity. The Interfaith Council asks that on your return from the Christ-mas vacation, bring back any out-grown, wearable articles of cloth-ing such as shirts, trousers, sweaters, blouses, or skirts. The council also requests that if they are cottons to wash and iron them; if they are woolens to wash them in Woolite or have them cleaned.

Although most of the refugees desperately need clothing, the drive will be focused on articles for high school and college students.

Collection boxes will be distributed in the dorms, fraternity and sorority houses and the SU following the Christmas vacation.

The drive will continue through the second week of January.

SPORTSENSE

by BEN GORDON '62

It was a dismal week as far as sports (and weather) go on the UMass campus. We lost a tough one to UConn, this loss being aggravated by the mixup over the number of fouls called against the number of fouls called against Redmen hustler, Mike Mole. The Hoop squad fell apart in general during the first portion of the second half, but came back, just a bit too late, in the waning minutes of the game. Well, that's basketball (we'll be stoical about

Coach Steve Kosakowski's hockey team didn't look too good down at Williams either. It may have been an off day, however, and it probably was, judging and it probably was, judging from the previous performances of the puckmen. UConn's coach Hugh Greer, is coming through in fine style. He, as per usual, predicted a poor season for the UConn YanCon champs. The Redmen can hardly be counted out of the race, how-ever. They'll be taking on the Huskies again in January, this time at the cage.

In other Conference action,

UMaine racked up its fifth victory in as many starts, defeating Bowdoin 58-49. Maine will be a tough customer for the UMass squad. Vermont defeated the New Hampshire team, 65-59.

On a sad note, Brian Hollander, a Brandeis University star, suf-fered a fractured skull in Saturday's game against the UMass squad. Hollander was injured in the third period when he committed a charging foul against Doug Grutchfield, fell, and landed on his head.

The Ohio State basketball The Ohio State basketoan squad was almost unanimously picked for the first Weekly Basketball Poll honor spot by the Associated Press. Jerry Lucas and Company received all but one vote for the top slot. The Buckeyes have a 3-0 record thus far, and are followed by Bradley (3.0) and are followed by Bradley (3-0) and Detroit, (3-0).

The comeback of Italy's Nicola

Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola over Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz of the U.S. Davis Cup team was quite a shock to the tennis world. The American squad had expected to be back in ac-tion for the Davis Cup trophy with Australia's perennials. It'll be a different story this year.

0

A LOOK AHEAD

In the Ivy League, Sports Il-lustrated finds Princeton the logical choice for basketball supremacy. The squad is deep, and though it lacks size and speed it has consistent man-to-man defense.

In the Mid-Atlantic Conference, the strongest in the East, St. Joseph's seems to be in line for top honors, but LaSalle and Temple can't be counted out.

The Rhode Islands quad is rated as best in Coach Ernie Calverley's career at his alma mater, and the scouting reports say it may challenge Maine, UConn and UMass for the top slot.

From myself, and from the Entire Collegian Staff, a Merry Christmas and a Happy New

NEW YORK (UPI) - The first American Stud Book was published in 1873 by Sanders D. Bruce, editor of a weekly called Turf, Field and Farm. The Jockey Club took over publication Things were going het and heavy at the nose bowl game between TEP and AEPi, Wednesday night. Here an AEPi player drives in for the shot, successfully eluding Tepper.

Varsity, Frosh Swimming Teams Lose To Wesleyan

DR: FROOD ON ine Arts

In which Lucky Strike's gift to the arts selects "The World's Greatest Masterpieces" and reveals all-in fact, more than all-that is known about each.

Whistlers' Mother: This painting, by an unknown artist depicts the housemother of a college sorority patiently waiting for a dance to break up in the next room. Note how the artist has captured the anguish and devotion of this lonely woman as she frets over her young charges (who were nicknamed "The Whistlers" because of the way in which they obtained dates).

Early Rembrandt: That Rembrandt was born a genius is conclusively proven by this little known masterpiece. This, his first known painting, astounded critics and made the name Billy Rembrandt famous throughout Europe. Believe it or not, Rembrandt created this masterpiece when he was two years old!

The Venus de Milo: Sculptured in the second century B.C. on behalf of a Greek pencil manufac-turer, this great statue has won fame through the ages as the symbol of beauty parlors, bowling alleys, upholstery firms and reducing pills. Today it is used primarily as a vivid warning to small children who bite their fingernails.

The Thinker: What is The Thinker think ing? This has been as baffling to scholars as the riddle of the sphinx and "Who's on first?" But now it can be revealed that this statue is actually a Roman warrior who had been asked, "Remember how great cigarettes used to taste?" When he failed to answer, "Luckies still do," he was turned to stone.

Woman in Water: Here is the original of a great "lost" masterpiece which I was able to acquire for the ridiculously low price of $8,500. I mention this only to show what great bargains you can find in art if you know your subject. I determined the authenticity of this priceless original by proving that the small stain, upper left, was made by Renoir's favorite coffee.

AT LEFT: "MASTER OF ALL MASTERPIECES"! "Here, in my opinion," says Dr. Frood, "is the greatest work of art. Note the bold, clean strokes in LUCKY STRIKE, conveying the wisdom and pride of the manufacturer. Note the perfect circle, representing, of course, the perfect product inside. And in the product itself we find a truly magnificant with the product itself we find a truly with the product itself sificent expression of quality, good taste, pleasure and contentment. Surely, there is no work of art that, over the years, has brought more aesthetic joy not only to all of us in the art world, but to millions of people in all walks of life."

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Product of The American Tobacco Company - Tobacco is our middle name"

The UMass varsity swimming squad lost their first meet to Wesleyan, Wednesday, 55-33, while the frosh lost a squeaker, 41-40.

41-40.

The Mermen took only one first, that one being copped by George Fisette in the 100 yd. Butterfly. Bob Burke took two seconds in the 100 yd. breast stroke and the 100 yd. individual race. Matt Rutkowski was another double placer, taking seconds. other double placer, taking sec-onds in the 440 and 220. Dave Leath swam well as he was runner up in the 100 yd. free style.

Bruce Morton and Frank De-Freitas took seconds in the back-stroke and diving events, respectively.

The 200 yd. medley relay was won going away by the quartet of Matt Rutkowski, Don Chiras, Dave Goldstein and Dave Leath.

The frosh meet was a heart-breaker, the rookies losing by only one point. Mike Rothschild, Dave Pacocha, Don Grant and Ray Lord all took firsts in the 200 yd. free style, 100 yd. Butterfly, 200 yd. individual medley and the diving competition, John Grybko swam very well, taking a first in the breaststroke event. Don Grant took a third in event. Don Grant took a third in the latter event, while Mike Bjornholm placed second in the 100 yd. backstroke. Austin fin-ished in the second slot in the Diving competition, behind Red-man Ray Lord.

Pi Beats TEP In Nose Bowl

The men from AEPi overcame a halftime deficit of eight points to defeat their arch rivals, TEP fraternity, 28-18 in their nose bowl classic at the cage, Wednesday night.

Trailing 15-7 at the half the Boys from Sunset Strip, led by the shooting of Steve Forman and John Seletsky, made the second frame count.

Walt Griffen and Gerson Rafer were the big scorers for TEP. Both houses played good ball, and it proved to be a great game for players and fans alike.

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — When
Mathodist defeated Southern Methodist defeated Ohio State 32-27 in 1960, the Mustangs completed 25 forward passes to establish a record for Southwest Conference team.

Deck The Hearths . . .

The Sports Staff of the Massachusetts Collegian joins in wishing you, the student body and faculty of the University of Massachusetts a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. May all the coaches have victories in their stockings, and beanpots on their hearths.

The Massachusetts Cultruian

ered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed mes weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examinations; to a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of of March 3, 1879, as amended by the act of June II, 1924.

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.

Associated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press
Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

DECK THE HALLS

The time has come to make out our Christmas shopping lists, for Christmas will be upon us quicker than you can say Jack Robinson. (Have you ever wondered, incidentally, about the origin of this interesting phrase "Quicker than you can say Jack Robinson"? Well sir, the original phrase was French—"Plus vite que de dire Jacques Robespierre." Jack Robinson is, as everyone knows, an anglicization of Jacques Robespierre who was, as everyone knows, the famous figure from the French Revolution who as everyone knows are proposed in his heaft.

as everyone knows, an anglicization of Jacques Robespielle who was, as everyone knows, the famous figure from the French Revolution who, as everyone knows, got murdered in his bath by Danton, Murat, Caligula, and Aaron Burr.

(The reason people started saying "Quicker than you can say Jacques Robespierre (or Jack Robinson as he is called in Englishspeaking countries)" is quite an interesting little story. It seems that Robespierre's wife, Georges Sand, got word of the plot to murder her husband in his bath. All she had to do to save his life was call his name and warn him. But, alas, quicker than she could say Jacques Robespierre, she received a telegram from her old friend Frederic Chopin who was down in Majorca setting lyrics to his immortal "Warsaw Concerto." Chopin said he needed Georges Sand's help desperately because he could not refuse such an urgent request.

(Well sir, Georges Sand went traipsing off to Majorca, but refuse such an urgent request.

(Well sir, Georges Sand went traipsing off to Majorca, but before she left she told her little daughter Walter that some bad men were coming to murder daddy in his bath, and she instructed Walter to shout Robespierre's name when the bad men arrived. But Walter, also, had been sea-bathing that morning on the Riviera, and she had come home loaded with sea shells and salt water taffy, and when the bad men came to murder Robespierre, Walter, alas, was chewing a big wad of salt water taffy and could not get her mouth open in time to shout a warning. Robespierre, alas, was murdered quicker than you could shout Jacques Robespierre (or Jack Robinson as he is called in the English-speaking countries).

(There is, I am pleased to report, one small note of cheer in this grisly tale. When Georges Sand got to Majorca where Chopin was setting lyrics to his immortal "Warsaw Concerto," she was happily able to help him find a rhyme for "Warsaw," as everyone knows who has heard those haunting lyrics:

In the fair town of Warsaw,

In the fair town of Warsaw. Which Napoleon's horse saw, Singing cockles and mussels, alive alive o!)

But I digress.

We were speaking of Christmas gifts. What we all strive to do at Christmas is, of course, to find unusual, offbeat, different gifts for our friends. May I suggest then a carton of Marlboro Cigarettes?

What? You are astonished? You had not thought of Marlboros as unusual, offbeat, different? You had regarded them as familiar, reliable smokes whose excellence varied not one jot or tittle from year to year?

True All true, But at the same time Malley.

True. All true. But at the same time, Marlboros are unusual, offbeat, different, because every time you try one, it's like the first time. The flavor never palls, never gets hackneyed. Each Marlboro is a fresh delight, a pristine pleasure, and if you want all your friends to clap their hands and exclaim, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus!" you will put them at the very top of your Christmas list.

And for further Yuletide joy, give Mariboro's nonfiltered companion cigarette, mild, flavorful Philip Morris—in regular size or the sensational new king-size Commander. You'll be released absorbly be welcome aboard!

Puck Squad Swamped By Williams, 15-2

The UMass pucksters went down in dismal defeat 15-2 under the heavy sticks of a scrappy Williams team, at Williams, Tuesday.

The only bright spots for the coals by Billy Redmen were the goals by Billy Ryan and Dick Alger. Goalie Bob Roland made about 45 saves, but was unable to cope with the forever-charging Williams squad.

All in all it was the worst game

All in all it was the worst game Coach Steve Kosakowski had seen in a long while. There was very little forechecking on the part of the Massmen, and their aggressiveness and offensive-defensive action was far below par. Williams had entered the game sportaction was far below par. Williams had entered the game sporting a 9-2 victory over Hamilton. They played a good ball game in their own, relatively small rink. Bill Ryan injured his arm during the match, and it is unknown if he'll be ready for Thursday's he'll be ready for Thursday's match with Amherst at 3:15 p.m.,

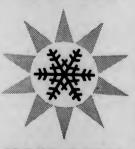

College Basketball

_
Boston College 88 Howard	61
Vermont 65 New Hampshire	59
Maine 58 Bowdoin	49
D.C. Freshmen 60 Fort Ranks	55
Rhode Island 85 Prown	76
Williams 91 Tulnites	69
Connecticut 72 Massachusetts	70
Northeastern 89 Bridgeport
Coast Guard 79 Tufts	76
Colber 90	58
Colby 80 Bates	54
West Virginia 75 Richmond	72
Utah State 67 Georgia Tech	62
Villanova 70 Princeton	46
V.M.I. 75	63
Cincinnati 74 Lovole (I.A.)	53
W. Reserve 88 Hiram	65
Hofstra 71 Upsala
Hartwick 76 Hobart	55
Q M II en Hobart	58
S.M.U. 67 Oklahoma	61
Tulsa 64 Arkansas	59
Marquette 83 Wlchita	79

'Aw, come off it, Hon-"

MORE SUN

MORE SNOW

OF THE EAST

For folders, information or reservations, write lodge of your choice or Box CD, Stowe Area Association, Inc., Stowe, Vermont.

Sports Editorial

Appointment Of Official Scorer-Good Or Bad?

Before even explaining the subject of this editorial, it is important to point out that this editorial is in no way meant to serve as an "excuse" for the 72-70 basketball loss to the University of Connecticut Tuesday night. An incident that occurred in that game, however, has given rise to the question of exactly who should be the official scorer of a basketball game.

At the present time in the Yankee Conference, the scorekeeper for the home team is onsidered the official scorer of the game. But what should happen when this official scorer happens to be wrong? Let us use an illustration from Tuesday's game.

Late in the fourth period a UMass player, according to the official scorer, committed his fifth personal foul of the game and thus was ineligible to continue playing. As soon as it was announced that the foul was this player's fifth, both the scorer's table and the press table went into chaos. "When did he get his fourth foul?" "I only have four fouls listed for him," "There must be a mistake," were some of the many outcries flowing from the press table. In short, all those who were keeping score of the game, both UMass supporters and Connecticut supporters, were sure that this player had committed only four fouls—everyone, that is, except the home scorer for Connecticut, the official scorer.

The UMass scorer attempted to call the discrepancy to the attention of the referees, but was threatened with expulsion from the game for any further outcries. Several reporters at the press table tried to question the decision, but were told to remain quiet. The situation in the game was crucial, and the loss of this key player was a serious blow to UMass' chances of winning the game. Yet, despite the seriousness of the situation, and the prodigious amount of opposition to the decision of the official scorer, no heed was paid to the pleas of the UMass scorer to recheck the number of fouls.

As was said before, the point of this editorial is not to provide an excuse for the loss of the game. Neither is it to condemn the referees who, being continually harassed throughout the game, merely shrugged off the arguments as routine. The point here is to ask the question of whether the home scorer is the logical person to be deemed the official scorer of a game.

Whether the official scorer was right or wrong, or whether any mistake was deliberate or unintentional, is not the province of this editorial to decide. The fact is, that when the official scorer of a game is the home team's scorer, and when there is any discrepancy in his figures that would favor the home team, the official scorer immediately is the object of suspicion of foul play, and the ethics and honesty both of him and his team are severely marred.

It would be far more logical and less aggravating to both teams, if the official scorer were a neutral person, assigned to the game by regional authorities, in the same manner in which referees are assigned. A system of this sort would eliminate any question of dishonesty that may airse, and would also provide experienced, competent men to do the scoring instead of relying upon the word of someone who is usually a student, and who is as liable to error as anyone watching the game from the stands.

Naturally, there would still be mistakes and arguments over the accuracy of the scorer, but there would be much less bitterness between teams caused by founded or unfounded suspicions of the score-

In view of the many quarrels that have already occurred over scoring situations, a move such as the one outlined above would seem to warrant considerable attention and quick action. Indeed, college basketball would achieve a black reputation if many more of these questionable incidents occur.

-A. R.

The new Massachusetts Review is out!

Available at the University Store, Baucom's, The Jeffery Amherst Bookshop, Hastings' $1.25 a copy

THE MASSACHUSETTS REVIEW, $5.00 a year, makes a fine Christmas gift. To begin with the current issue of MR, will be sent to your friends, with a Christmas card in your name, in time for the Holiday. As an expression of our appreciation, you will receive an unfolded copy, on heavy paper suitable for framing, of Rodolphe Bresdin's THE GOOD SAMARITAN, reproduced in this issue. Additional copies available at $1.00.

Send your gift list, with check or request to bill you, to THE MASSACHUSETTS REVIEW, 485 Bartlett Hall.

Contract Bridge

by BOB WEBER '64 NORTH (D) H AJ74 D QJ1062 C A8 EAST WEST SJ6 H853 S A K 3 H K Q 7 4 C Q 10 7 5 3 SOUTH S Q 10 9 8 4 2 H 9 2 D A K 9 6 C 6 None Vul. Dealer: North NORTH EAST SOUTH WEST

PASS 1 S PASS 3 S PASS PASS 1 H PASS N.T. PASS PASS Opening Lead: D-3

This is the second in a series of hands played in the National Open Pairs Tournament in New York last month. Again, this is the bidding and the play as it happened.

When we hold four hearts and five diamonds, we usually open the hand one heart, as North did. Although East has sixteen gh East has sixteer he must pass because he points, he must pass because he has four hearts. South has twelve points and a fair six card spade suit. He bids one spade. After North's rebid of one N.T., South jumps to three spades. He knows that North would not usually bid no trump with less than two spades. He also thinks that if North has just a little more than a minimum opening more than a minimum opening bid, then they might be able to make game. North, who holds fifteen points, raises to four spades.

West led the D-3 and North won with the D-Q. Declarer then played the S-5 which East won with his king. East returned the H-K which was won in the dummy with the ace. A second small trump was led from dummy which East ducked. Declarer won the trick with his queen. South then played a small trump which went to East's ace. East played his good H-Q and then decided to return a small club which declarer won with the ace. South then took his four good diamonds and his three remaining trumps, making four spades making four spades.

John Vento Named As New Justice

by Barbara A. Katziff '61
John Vento, '62, has been designated as the new member of Men's Judiciary, Mike Kleinerman, Chief Justice, has an-

Vento was picked Saturday from among seven applicants in a nine-hour session. He is a mem-ber of Lambda Chi Alpha and of WMUA.

LOST & FOUND

LOST: One dark green change purse. It contains about seventy-five cents. If found, please return to Chris Baring, 101 Plymouth

THE UMASS INTERROGATOR

A Campus Opinion Poll by BARBARA YETWIN '64

The "holiday spirit" again pre-vails at this season of the year. Decorated street lights begin to appear in shopping districts, children begin behaving, bright trees are to be seen everywhere, and package laden shoppers rush from store to store in an effort to find the correct gift for that "certain person."

The holiday spirit prevails, yet there are those who think of Christmas in a different way. These people mutter or holler about the loss of religion in what is one of the most deeply spirit-ual holidays in the Christian calendar.

The UMass Interrogator now asks, in order to determine how the students feel about Christ-mas: "In your opinion, has Christmas lost its religious sigization on the part of American merchants and entertainers?"

Ralph Simmons '62, a history major, after some thought said, "I believe the superficial emotions displayed on religious holidays is not the fault of commercialization, but a symptom of the passive attitude which families take in the religious training of their children."

Mary Lou Willard '64, from West Springfield, replied, "Yes, I do, especially in the case of Christmas, where it is commercialized to such an extent, that a great majority of Christians do not know the true meaning of the holiday.

"Merchants start to put Christmas decorations and cards into the stores long before Thanks-giving so that the beauty of them has worn off before the holiday actually arrives. They also play up Santa Claus more than Christ.

"Those in the entertainment world compose songs, plays, and so on, which do not seem to bring forth the meaning of Christmas."

David Collins '62, a chemistry major, replied, "Yes, it seems that people are only interested in getting all those wonderful pre-sents. Any religious significance originally attached, has long since degenerated into selfish co Jeanne Mullaney.'63, a resident of Knowlton House, replied quickly, even volunteering an ex-ample: "It definitely has lost re-ligious significance.

"It seems to be the trend in America, that the advertisers and merchants have dictated the America, that the advertisers and merchants have dictated the tastes of the American people. This is extremely true around Christmas, when people think only of giving and getting gifts.

"Furthermore, the big push starts much too early. As an example, in Worcester, the lights in the Common were on the day before Thanksgiving."

Ralph deGregorio '64, "Yes, I definitely feel that the true meaning of Christmas has almost been forgotten in our pre-sent society. The phrase, 'thank goodness it only comes once a year,' seems to represent our pessimistic views on this joyous pessimis holiday."

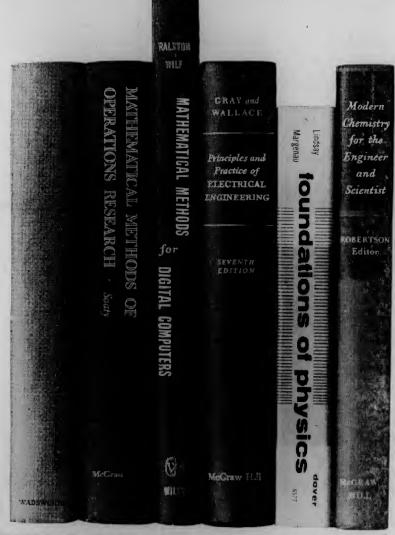

Doris Steadman '64, an education major and girls' dorm house counselor, replied, "I just think it's up to the individual whether it's commercial or not. If the per son feels the religious signifi-cance, then it's religious."

Richard Mastromatteo '63, living at Mills House, said, "When a merchant looks forward to a religious holiday because of the vast increase in his daily sales, a mother and father think of the holiday in terms of purchasing all those gifts, and their son can't wait until the day when he can open his presents, the religious holiday has lost its true meaning.

"A religious holiday is time set."

"A religious holiday is time set aside to worship God, and to bestow gifts and praise upon Him, not a time for commercial profit as it now seems to be."

"Perhaps, though the commercial side of Christmas seems outwardly more important, people do turn to the religious side of the holiday. Either way, the season is one to be enjoyed."

SYSTEMS

ENGINEERING CAN START HERE... OR HERE... OR HERE... OR HERE... OR HERE... OR HERE...

If you are completing studies in engineering, economics, math, science or business, have maintained high averages and are interested in a rewarding professional career leading to management, IBM Systems Engineering may be just the career for you.

What does an IBM Systems Engineer do? He studies problems in industry, science, business and government, and then or-ganizes the most modern electronic data processing tech-niques and machine systems to solve them. He works at the source and with top executives in the organizations concerned. The problems are fascinating and exciting—and include automation of: process control and manufacturing operations, inventory control document preparation, satellite tracking, highway planning, weather forecasting, and complete business control systems for utilities, transportation, banking and insurance, to name but a few. New techniques of automatic data processing are making headline news almost daily.

Your present training, combined with one of the most comprehensive training programs conducted by any company, may put you in a position to join this fast-growing new profession virtually an unlimited future. Openings will exist in all principal U.S. cities. See your Placement Director for additional information about IBM and to arrange for an interview. Or feel free to write or call me;

Mr. C. W. Sink, Branch Manager, IBM Corporation, 273 State Street, Springfield 3, Mass., ST 5-5371

You naturally have a better chance to grow with a growth company DATA PROCESSING DIVISION

WOMAN'S PAGE

Yule Parties Brighten Green Holiday Season

The joint sorority and frater-nity parties held for underprivil-eged children this past weekend were enjoyed by all. The children's excitement upon receiving their gifts certainly made the time and effort put into these parties most worthwhile.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

The Alpha Chi Omegas enjoyed their Christmas parties last weekend, with both Alpha Sigma Phi and Lambda Chi Alpha. What time did you finally get out of that Santa rig, Leo?

All the former Gamma Chi's

the former Gamma Chi's have been proudly wearing their new Alpha Chi Omega pledge pins for the past week. Just think, the only seniors on cam-pus who wear pledge pins!

Thanks to all the Theta Chi's beautiful red carnations which they sent to the Alpha Chi's as congratulations upon go-

Chi's as congratulations upon go-ing national.

The Alpha Chi's are proud of Jayne Hayden who placed second in the Declamation last week.

Caroling and donating Christmas gifts at Belchertown was very rewarding experience for all the sisters.

PI BETA PHI

The Pi Phi's enjoyed their past week of Christmas parties. Pi Phi joined with Q.T.V. on Saturday and TKE on Sunday to entertain some local underprivileged children. On Wednesday the annual house party was held.

The advisors were invited to the ner, and later "Santa" delivered gifts. Following the party, the sisters went caroling to the sisters went care neighboring houses.

Under the direction of Lee Hadsell, the Pi Phi's entertained at the Newman Club's Christ-mas Party Tuesday evening. The girls sang the two songs with which they won second place in the Sing. the Sing.

The basketball team who won their first game last week—good luck in the remaining games,

SIGMA KAPPA

With Christmas right around with Christmas right around the corner, the Sigmas, too, have been busy with Christmas par-ties. Friday night, December 9, AGR entertained Sigma Kappa at a spaghetti dinner followed by a gift wrapping and tree trimming party. On last Sunday afternoon, SK and AGR had a party for underprivileged children from the Amherst area.

After a number of games were played and refreshments were served, Santa appeared bearing gifts.

Last Monday night a party was held at the House for all the sisters, advisers and alums. Santa made another appearance with gifts for all. Afterwards, refreshments were served.

Sigma Kappa wants to thank Phi Mu Delta for the Exchange supper held Thursday, Dec. 8.

SK And KAT Place On Top

Sigma Kappa, with fine renditions of Fiddle-Dee-Dee and Open Our Eyes, captured first place in the Intersorority Sing. Pi Beta Phi, singing My Favorite Things and The Holy City, earned second place. Coming in third was Phi Delta Nu with The Lonely Shepherd and Angelus Ad Pastores Ait.

First place in the Dynamtics us Ad Pastores Ait.

First place in the Dramatization Competition was taken by Nancy King of Kappa Alpha Theta. She gave an excellent presentation of Dorothy Parker's A Telephone Call. Jane Hayden, of Gamma Chi Alpha, won second place with excepts from A Raisin in the Sun by Lorraine Hansberry. Kappa Kappa Gamma's representative Wendy Russel earned third place with "The Wife of Bath" from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales. Canterbury Tales.

Decorations And Dances Highlight Dorm Activities

Cheery decorations and successful dances really put the girls in a holiday spirit.

On Sunday, December 11 from 3-5 p.m. Arnold had Open House followed by a Christmas Dinner.

Each corridor was decorated with Christmas colors and themes to welcome parents and friends. Among the guests were Dean Curtis and Mrs. Gonon.

After a delicious buffet dinner was served in the recreation room, entertainment was provided by Janis Geberth, a visitor, who told a Christmas story and by Ann Friar, '64 and Pat Sweeney '64, who played several accordion duets.

Recognition for this successful event is given to the Dorm social committee. A good time was had by all who attended.

On December 13 the girls of the third floor at Arnold spon-sored a Coffee Hour. After re-freshments were served, Profes-sor Rand of the University's English Department told a Christ-mas story. This successful Coffee Hour was Arnold's second of the year.

On Friday, Dec. 9, the Arnold girls enjoyed themselves at a Christmas party held at Hills Dorm. Thanks for a wonderful time, boys ast Friday night, Knowltonites enjoyed an open house and Christ-mas party. After girls and their dates trimmed the tree, refresh-ments were served. Couples then attended an informal dance which was held in the recreation room.

KNOWLTON

Sunday afternoon was also open house and the girls entertained guests in their rooms and showed off the lovely Christmas decorations displayed throughout the dorm.

Tuesday night, the dorm social committee visited the Belcher-town State School to give the children a Christmas party and to distribute presents which were bought by money donated by the girls in the dorm.

Ruth McIntire, Leader In Recreation, Retires

Miss Ruth McIntire, Extension recreationist at the University of Massachusetts since 1934 and a state and New England-wide load. er in the field of community or-ganization, retired from the home economics staff as of November

A graduate of Cornell university in 1926, her responsibilities here were in the areas of leadership training, organization and program planning work in music, dramatics, folk dances, social games and other forms of recrea-

Through her programs she has worked with thousands of Massa-chusetts homemakers, community officials and others.

As Extension recreationist Miss McIntire helped with the 4-H recreation program. She started programs in creative retirement for the aging, public affairs and citizenship.

She has given direct aid in community recreation development to 68 towns and cities in the state and has served as advisor to a host of local committees responsi-ble for recreational programs in their communities. She was instrumental in organizing a statewide recreation coordinating com-mittee directly after the war, and participated in a state recreation conference called by the governor as an outgrowth of this coordinat-

Miss McIntire cooperated in the annual Farm and Home days for-merly held at the university and was responsible for the play writ-ing contest and music festival as part of that event. The latter developed into the Country Dance

Miss McIntire has been instru-ental in the formation of, and participation in, many recreational and community development groups. She organized the Massachusetts Association of Handi-craft Groups. She has worked with the University Theater Conference, New England Recreation Laboratory, the American Recreation society and National Recreation association. As chairman of the rural section of the American Recreation society she was largely responsible for initiating the workshop for Extension recreaworksnop for extension recreation workers in connection with the National Recreation Congress in Chicago last fall.

In 1938 Miss McIntire was one of three members of the National Recreation association attending the World Recreation Congress in Rome. In 1952 she studied various state recreation programs while on Sabbatic leave and spent three months the same year in the Scandinavian countries, where she attended a seminar on physical

Prior to joining the university staff, Miss McIntire spent two years as an Extension home demonstration agent in West Virginia, and six years as assistant program director at Oglebay Park in Wheeling, a recreation and cul-tural arts center serving youth and adults in the Greater Wheel-discovered there's no more Coke. And a cheer leader without Coke is as sad as a soap opera. To put the sparkle back in his eye—somebody! bring him a sparkling cold Coca-Cola!

Cheerless leader

BE REALLY REFRESHED

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

A Cartoon By Dahl

As a light touch in our Merry Christmas issue we have dug out of our office files the drawing above by the noted cartoonist Francis Dahl of the Boston Her-

The story behind this cartoon goes back to February 1947 when our campus, like most, was flooded with married veterans. The Collegian ran a feature article explaining to co-eds how to tell a married man from a single man.

The article provoked Mr. Dahl into a cartoon. Its humor is still good, and it is a reminder that the married student has become. apparently, a permanent fixture

UMass Students Reflect True Christmas

Children gather 'round the Christmas tree for refreshments at Phi Sigma Delta spon-sored party at Brightside Children's Home.

Children gather around the AEPi brothers and K.A.T. sisters.

-Photo by Pete Hefler A Knowlton girl leads Belchertown children in game.

—Photo by Pete Hefler oungsters make use of their newly acquired

Now was the time for refreshments. Ice cream, cookies and soda disappeared in record time because everyone knew that soon the big surprise would come.

Presents Given Out

Just as the last drop of soda disappeared, squeals of delight filled the room. Nancy Stiles staggered in under a huge box from which gaily wrapped pre-

Belchertown School

Girls Arrive at School
Happy shouts of welcome and grins greeted the girls as they entered. Soon after old friends were found and new friends were made, games were begun. Every-one joined hands, and games familiar to children around the world started.

Songs from "A Tisket a Tasket, Ring around the Rosey, London Bridge Is Falling Down, and Little Sally Saucer" filled the air. Throughout the entire room, love and happings grounded out. air. Throughout the entire room, love and happiness crowded out shyness and made eyes twinkle and lips turn up. Following the games, records were played, and the Mexican Hat dance has never had such enthusiastic participants. Clapping and singing, everyone danced until they fell into exhausted heaps on the floor.

Now was the time for refreshments. Ice cream, cookies and soda

—Photo by Jim Lane
Two youngsters enjoy singing their favorite Christmas Carols.

—Photo by Jim Lane
The Spirit of Christmas, as three carolers sing holiday music by candlelight at SU Carol Sing Sunday evening.

JAN - 9 1961 Massathus UNIVERSITY OF

LISTEN

YANKEE

See page 2

FRIDAY, JANUARY 6, 1961

VOL. XC NO. 38 5¢ PER COPY

football coach Charles Studley announced his resignation. He left to become head coach at the University of Cincinnati.

University of Cincinnati.

The campus received the news with mixed reactions. Some students think that Studley would have been foolish not to accept the Cincinnati job, some feel that Studley has "sold out" on UMass, but converse in what the converse in the converse in but everyone is upset at the gap-ing hole Studley has left in the football program here.

HE DIDN'T APPLY

Studley never applied for the opening left by George Blackburn at Cincinnati. When Blackburn left, the Director of Athletics at Cincy asked the head coach of the University of Illinois for the University of Illinois f recommendation. Studley was ne man named. Even though there were dozens of applications the job, Studley was apached. Cincinnati had a lot to offer: a substantial pay raise, a stadium that seats 30,000, a ma-

Coach Studley Resigns To Head Upon returning from Christmas vacation the UMass community was stunned Tuesday when head

Dr. Woodside Named As Acting Provost has been named Acting Provost of the University, it was an-nounced by President John W.

Lederle.
Dr. Woodside, a member of the faculty since 1936, will serve on an interim basis pending the ap-pointment of a successor to Dr. Shannon McCune, who resigned to become Director of the Depart-ment of Education in the Secre-tariat of UNESCO. McCune will remain until the close of first semester classes. Woodside will undertake his new duties at that

A distinguished zoologist, Dr. A distinguished zoologist, Dr. Woodside was graduated from DePauw University and received his Ph.D. degree from Harvard University. He was appointed head of the department of zoology at UMass in 1948 and became dean of the Graduate School in 1950. He currently holds both posts Woodside's received. both posts. Woodside's research activities have included work in the fields of experimental embryology, cancer in mice, and

Dr. Gilbert L. Woodside, dean of the Graduate School at UMass, author of numerous articles contributed to various scientific

> Sigma Xi and Phi Kappa Phi, he also holds membership in the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Society for the Study of Development and Growth, and the American Society of Zoologists.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa

GILBERT L. WOODSIDE

IFC Rushing Convo.

The Inter-Fraternity Council will hold its annual Rushing Convocation on Tuesday vocation on Tuesday evening, January 10, in the SU Ballroom beginning at 7 p.m. The Rushing Convocation marks the unofficial kick-off to the formal rushing program, which officially begins on "Open Sunday," the first Sun-day of the second semester, Jan-uary 29th. uary 29th.

At the convocation, freshmen will have an opportunity to meet fraternity men and the fraternity system. The program will consist of a talk by Dean Hopkins on the fraternity system, an explanation of the rushing rules by Steve Shusterman, IFC Rushing Chair-man, an introduction to rushing from Gordon Massingham, IFC President, and a brief film, "The Fraternity Idea." Following the film, refreshments will be served, and there will be an informal dis-

CHARLES (CHUCK) STUDLEY

and neighborly access to the Big

"It's a step up," commented Studley. Married and the father of five children, Studley admitted that he's ambitious. It's little secret that Studley's dream for a long time has been to be a head coach in the Bir Top Cincipated.

coach in the Big Ten. Cincinnati and there will be an informal dis-cussion period.

Any freshman, whether or not planning to rush fraternities, is urged to attend this convocation.

The fraternity presidents and IFC representatives who will conduct the informal discussion period will be glad to answer any questions you have pertaining to fraternities. fraternities.

The formal rushing period begins with "Open Sunday" on Jan. 29th, followed by one week of closed smokers at the respective fraternity houses, then two weeks of open and informal rushing, closing with "Pledge Chapel" on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21.

jor-college schedule (including is a lot closer to the desires Army, Air Force and Indiana), an ambitious man than UM an ambitious man than UMass is at the moment. Or, as Studley puts it, "There's a great future here (at UMass) for the right man. Maybe I'm not the right man. If I had considered myself the right man I wouldn't be leave. the right man I wouldn't be leav

Studley had a one-year contract with UMass, with an oral agreement between him and Athletic Director Warren Mc Guirk that the contract would be renewed for three years. Neither man figured on the Cincinnati opening. Even when the position was vacated by Blackburn, Stud-ley did not apply. But when Cincy came to him with their many attractions, he couldn't re-

There will always be speculation on why Studley left. The fact remains, though, that he did leave, and that UMass now has opening for a head coach. ere are already more than a There are already more than a score of applications for the job, from men who applied last when Charles O'Rourke remany from

SELECTION IN 21/2 WEEKS

Mr. McGuirk announced that the selection of a successor would be made within two and a half weeks. Undoubtedly he is waiting to advertise the vacancy at the NCAA meetings next week in NCAA meetings next

One thing is certain. UMass is a more attractive place to a coach than it was a year ago. Studley's team piled up the best record in 28 years. With a tough schedule ahead in the seasons to come, a top-notch coach will be required to continue the winning trend. If asked, Studley said he would recommend one of his assistants; Chet Gladchuck, Bob Anderson, Bob Delaney, or Dick MacPherson.

But no matter who is calcated.

But no matter who is selected, there is no doubt that the entire football future of UMass depends on the decision made by Warren McGuirk. We can only wait and

Senate OK's Key Constitution In Second Heated Debate

by AUDREY RAYNER '63

The revised Maroon Key constitution was passed by the Student Senate Wednesday evening after two meetings of violent arguing and indecision.

The first speaker opposing the acceptance of the constitution acceptance of the constitution was Arthur "Tex" Tacelli '62, who named three main objections to the revision.

to the revision.

One objection was to the stipulated 2.0 qualifying average.

Tacelli thought that this was "unfair. It will start a precedent and the start as for all campus organizations and many valuable members will be Tacelli was also opposed to a Tacelli was also opposed to a clause to be put in the new application blank asking for fraternity affiliation. He felt that this, one of the basic key problems, should be entirely excluded.

Lastly, said Tacelli, he objected to the proposed advisory board's intention. to "pass judgment" on intention, to "pass judgment" on prospective Keys.

Twohig then disputed each of Tacelli's points of objection.

Concerning the 2.0 average, the Senate president stated, "This is the handwriting on the wall. The 2.0 qualification will be here before long for all organizations. It should be here. The Maroon Key is an honorary society and represents the highest members of the freshman class."

Twohig reminded the Senate that the advisory committee to which Tacelli was opposed was a temporary institution, it is to be dismissed after two years. Twohig could also see no serious objection to any statement of fraternity affiliation.

Collegian Staff Reporter
n Key con- Twohig concluded with, "Those people who don't vote to pass the constitution tonight will be ap-pointed by me, as Senate president, to the committee to discuss it again." Later, Twohig apolog-ized for this "threat", which was objected to by some of the Senavote was taken. The con stitution was passed by a 17 to 8 vote, with one abstention.

Forest Discusses Careers

Insurance Company of Boston, spoke here Wednesday to the Mathematics Club. He talked about the insurance industry as a career for mathematicians and statisticians. Shown with Forest is Alan Kaplan '61, president of the Math Club.

Placement Office Distributes Graduates' Business Guide

Distribution of the 1961 edition of Career: For the College Man was initiated on campus today the placement office Once again, America's leading in-dustrial companies have helped to write this annual guide to busi-ness opportunities and have paid for its distribution on over 600 American college campuses.

A glance through this year's book shows that the search for qualified manpower by industry continues as intensively as last year. Engineers are again in heavy demand, but the accent this year, as never before since World War II, is on quality.

As a special feature to cele-brate the eleventh anniversary of this pioneer publication in the this pioneer publication in the college guidance field, 23 readers of the first edition have told us in their own words the stories of their business success,

Secretary of Labor James Mitchell opens Career: For the College Man with his personal assessment of the graduates' prospects for 1961. Mitchell's conclusion: projected expansion in-vestment will continue at a high rate, bringing with it obviously excellent opportunities for qualified college men. The publication also includes a detailed table showing 34 ways a graduate can discharge his military obligations. Career features complete cross indexes of avery company, broken indexes of every company, broken down by locations, college major, backgrounds preferred by com panies, corporate summer work opportunities, and most immediately, by recruiting schedules on och campus.

Off-campus, about 50,000 copies off-campus, about 50,000 copies of Career: for the College Man will be distributed through bookstores and throughout the Armed Forces all over the world.

This book is available to senior men only, at no charge, at the Placement Office.

STUDLEY LEAVES

The resignation of Charles Studley as head football coach seems to have angered a large portion of the student

However, no one really knows who should be blamed. Mr. Studley can't be blamed for wanting to accept his new position, considering the size of the University of Cincinnati, the teams they play, and the salary.

But the students have a legitimate gripe. We get a good coach who gives us the best record we've had in years, and he leaves us just as we begin to take on a tougher schedule. We didn't have a football field to use next year, and now we don't have a coach. Many students ask, "What do we do

There really isn't much we can do, except register complaints with the athletic department itself. If anyone can be blamed, it is they, because they were the ones who drew up a one year contract.

We have been told that the state only allows one year contracts or ten year contracts. Obviously, Mr. Studley didn't come here without some assurance that he would be given at least three years to prove himself.

The question is: Did Mr. Studley give us any assurance that he would stay for three years?

If he did, then he was the one who sold us down the river. If he didn't, then the Director of Athletics, Warren P. McGuirk, sold us down the river by not insisting on such an assurance.

Ages Ago-

Ages Ago is a translation by S. W. Jones of thirty-seven tales from the Konjaku-Mongatori collection, which consists of a thousand such tales from India, China and Japan. Ages Ago is unique in that it is the first translation from the Konjaku-Mongatori, which was compiled in the eleventh century by Chinese historians. The title, Ages Ago, comes from and has the same meaning as Konjaku. This phrase is used to preface the tales.

The scope of the tales runs from animal moral fables to a supposedly historical account of Preceptor Bodhidharma, the founder Zen Buddhism

A good example of the moral fable would be the tale of the tortoise and the crane. In this tale, the tortoise is trapped in a pond that is drying away. The crane promises to carry the tortoise to water if he would hold a rod in his mouth and not speak. The crane grasps the other end of the rod and proceeds to carry the tortoise off. After reaching a great height, the loquacious tortoise marvels out loud, consequently causing his fall and destruction

In another tale, the rebirth principle is demonstrated. This is the tale of the hare that roasted itself, in which a monkey, a fox, and a hare, take upon themselves the task of providing for an old, enfeebled man. The hare, unable to garner food for the old man, has his comrades light a fire into which he jumps and roasts himself to provide food for the old man. The hare as a result of his unselfish act is reborn in heaven.

Not all the tales are of this type though. In the tale of the east-bound traveller and the turnip, the traveller fathers a child by a turnip, which even in the mythical past was quite a feat.

Along with the pure entertainment value of Ages Ago, the back-Arong with the pure entertainment value of Ages Ago, the back-ground points that give the scrolls, dates, and works pertinence, offer insight into the literary development of the Orient. This alone makes the book a commendable addition to anyone's library. To all en-thusiasts of the East, and those who wish to expand their horizons and gain insight into the mysterious workings of the oriental mind, reading Ages Ago will be a highly enjoyable experience.

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870 Editor-in-Chief Larry Rayner

Editorial Editor Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Sports Editor Al Berman '62 Photography Editor Larry Popple '63 Assignment Editor Joan Blodgett '62

News Editor Donald D. Johnson '61 Business Manager Michael Cohen '61 Advertising Manager Howie Frisch '62 Circulation Manager Barry Ravech

Joan Blodgett '62

Barry Ravech

FRI.: News Associate, Bruno DePalma '63; Feature Associate, Margery Bouve; Editorial, Lorraine Gelpey; Sports, Ben Gordon; Copy, Joe Bradley.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 2, 1379, as amended by the act of June 11, 1984.

Subscription price

Student Union Unio of Mass., Amherst, Mass. Member-Associated Collegiste Press; Intercollegiste Press; Sun., Tues., Taurs.—4:00 p.m.

LISTEN, YANKEE — The Untold Story

V

by MICHAEL PALTER '63

"And we are not angry with you, whoever you are; we don't even know you. How could we? The North America we know is not the suburbs of Cincinnati, wherever that is; how could we know anything about that? What we know is the big, sharp edges of Yankee politics and Yankee imperialism To us, those are not just dirty words. They've been facts of our everyday lives as we've lived them in Cuba. It's been the idle tourists and the sugar monopolies and the support of the Batista dictatorship and the giving of medals to his murderers and our not having work to do and seeing the land lie idle while we squatted on the edge of the road in our filthy huts-that is what most of us know of North America."

These are the words of the Cuban revolutionary as conveyed to us through the intellectual prism of Mr. C. Wright Mills.* These are the words of a dark-skinned people who have been ruthlessly exploited beyond all bounds of the imagination. These are the words of a nation pleading for understand-

Mr. Mills is extremely perceptive and Listen, Yankee is the undeniable proof of this. The book is straight-forward and biting.

". . . He was no sentimentalist, Batista; he was a sick barbarian, a cruel savage with lethal weapons and modern torture at his command. In Havana alone, God only knows how many men and boys were castrated; and when women were raped, their husbands were made to look upon it. Batista's police stations were torture chambers; his bully boys everywhere, kicking, stealing, arresting, smashing. And always the same excuse: "The dirty Communists, they are trying to take over our fine little democracy.'

"While all this was going on, in the 1950's-just yesterday, it seems to us-for four and a half years, the Eisenhower government sold bombs and planes and bullets and guns to this gangster and dictator. They always said it was for Hemispheric Defense. But was it the truth? Those weapons were certainly not used for any such thing as hemispheric defense. They were used to kill Cubans

In Listen, Yankee one senses the failure of our foreign policy in respect to the "hungry nation" bloc of the world. It is pointed out that all too often the Communist bogus has been used to stifle a peo ple chafing under the yoke of despotism and yearning to be free. Indeed, this has certainly been the case during the Eisenhower administration

Yet, in Listen, Yankee, the revolutionary atm phere is further delineated. It is pointed out that although many Cubans, "are Marxist or leftist (or Communist, if you will) in our revolutionary development and thought, it is not due to any prior commitment to any ideology. It is because of our own development.

". . . We're making a revolution to solve the problems of the Cuban People. If our way of solving them, at this point or at that point, turns out to be similar to the solutions of other peoples-any peoples in the world-we certainly don't care."

I think it should be pointed out here that the Communist Party as such played an extremely minute part in the initial revolutionary actions.

". . . The Latin American Communist parties do have a generally high average of membership, for Latin America; nonetheless, in all the countries here, there are brighter men outside the Communist Party than in it. Anyway, in Cuba the Communist Party men try to hold back Fidel. They say to him, 'take it easy!' But he does not pay any attention, he does not take it easy. With him at its head, the revolu-tion is always moving. The Communist Party, and individual communists, follow in his wake. What else can they do? But they do not now lead, and they have not led at any time in the past.'

Of course, we must remember that this is as of August, 1960 in Cuba, Since this time, it certainly seems that the Communist Party has strengthene But, then again, has it strengthened significantly? I think it must be admitted that the true incidence of strength remains in the revolutionary spirit of the Cuban People, and not in the Party. This is indeed what Mills' revolutionary implies. Yet, are we, even today, getting the true facts?

Mr. Mills writes of his journey to Cuba:

"That journey has forced me to the view-a view which for a long time I had rejected—that much of whatever you have read recently about Cuba in the U.S. press is far removed from the realities and the meaning of what is going on in Cuba today

"I am not altogether clear as to how to explain this fact; I do not think it is simple. Unlike many Cubans, I do not believe that it is entirely due to a deliberate campaign of vilification. Yet it is true that if U.S. businesses adversely affected by the revolution do not coordinate your news of Cuba, business as a system of interests (which includes the media of mass communication) may nonetheless, be a controlling factor in what you are able to know about Cuba today."

Certainly Mr. Mills' implications can be applied to the present situation. This is, I think most vividly manifested in respect to our television networks. (It is a fact that the top U.S. news program is sponsored by Texaco. Bearing this in mind, I find it hard to imagine the possibility of accurate reporting in regard to Cuba).

If nothing else, the reader will get from this book an understanding (however superficial) of our attitude and actions in regard to Latin America as well as Cuba. And from this understanding, the unprejudiced reader (if such an animal exists) will realize the implications of our entire foreign policy, a policy which has so often subordinated moral considerations to the "anti-communist mirage." That this is many times a mirage has been proven time and time again. It has been proven in the Korean election riots; it has been proven in Japan (reflect upon Eisenhower's "almost-visit"); it will be proven in Spain (much to our shame).

Let us now realize that.

- 1. The imperialistic practices of the United States, while at first stifling the revolution of the Cuban People, are now acting as an involuntary catalyst of this very revolution. In addition, the present actions of the Cuban government are more easily traced if one is familiar with the past and present actions of the United States in regard to
- 2. The revolutionary government does not rec-ognize the Monroe Doctrine which they believe is contrary to the Charter of the United Nations.
- 3. The revolution has been forced to the left partially as a result of U.S. actions, indeed more than partially; immensely.
- 4. Many Cuban leaders are Marxists, but are not Communists of the Russian or Chinese type.
- 5. If elections were held this very day in Cuba, Castro would win. There is no doubt about this.
- 6. By severing diplomatic relations we are, in effect, severing a vital contact with a people climbing out of the slime of poverty, illiteracy, and ter-

True, this book expresses one point of view, but it is a view which has been overlooked amidst the hysteria of power politics. It is indeed time for an 'agonizing reappraisal."

*Listen, Yankee-The Revolution in Cuba by C. Wright Mills, Ballantine Books. Available at the SU Bookstore

Renovation Of Fire Damaged Sorority House Is Completed

On November 28, sorority sisters of Sigma Delta Tau moved back in after repairs were made on their fire-ruined house. The girls who were supposed to be living at this sorority house had to triple with other girls in crowded rooms in the dormitories until repairs were finished.

Because of the damage, the entire outside of the house was painted and the new third floor acquired sliding-door closets. On this floor, there are five rooms each accommodating two girls. All the walls in these rooms were painted white to make it easier for each girl to use her own color

A new linen closet was also added. A new arrangement was made on the second floor. Everyone sleeps in one room. The rest of the rooms are for study purposes. Each of these rooms has either three or four desks and book stands. The purpose of this is to enable any girl to study later at night without worrying about disturbing her roommate.

Because of the smoke damage on the first floor, new rugs, lamps, tables and new chairs were pur-chased. SDT no longer has a chased. SDT no longer has a trunk room. All suitcases are put in the basement, and the space is being utilized to make a new

All in all, the sisters of SDT are very proud and pleased with their "new home."

EARTH

82K

The TOP name in Missile Inertial Guidance-AC SPARK PLUG seeks top talent!

AC SPARK PLUG, THE ELECTRONICS DIVISION OF GENERAL MOTORS, has immediate, permanent positions in Milwaukee, Los Angeles, Boston and Flint. If you have a BS, MS or PhD degree in EE, Physics, Math or ME, you may qualify . . .

You can find a challenge and opportunity for advancement at AC. You will be working on such projects as MACE, THOR, POLARIS, the ultra-sophisticated TITAN system and complex Bombing Navigation Systems.

AC and GM will assist your career progress through graduate study at universities in nearby locations. In addition, you will have the opportunity to take exclusive on-the-job course work on the advanced state of the art.

These training programs are now available in Milwaukee:

ENGINEERING PROGRAM-For men whose career aim is design and development of inertial guidance equipment. All recent college graduates will enter this six-month training program with formalized, half-day classroom instruction. This instruction will be in conjunction with rotating job assignments of a two-month duration. These assignments, in Manufacturing, Reliability and Engineering areas, will provide a smooth transition from academic learning to career development.

FIELD SERVICE PROGRAM-formalized two- to four-month classroom training on missile inertial systems and bombing navigation systems. After completion of training program, assignments are to both domestic and foreign sites.

SEE YOUR PLACEMENT OFFICER TO SCHEDULE GENERAL MOTORS INTERVIEW

JANUARY 10

≶820

THE ELECTRONICS DIVISION OF GENERAL MOTORS

Humor Tinged News Report When Next First Lady Covered Past Inauguration

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Mrs. John F. Kennedy will watch her husband take the oath of office as the 35th President of the United States on Jan. 20, only eight years after she covered the first inauguration of President Eisenhower as a combination are first inauguration of President Eisenhower as a combination reporter-photographer-artist.

Her name was Jacqueline Bouvier then and she was working for the Washington Times-Her-

A warm winter sun flooded the Inauguration day crowd as she moved through the streets, recording her impressions with ink drawings. The following day, her story and art work appeared and graphically captured the Inauguration day spirit. Her drawings included a woman eating a box lunch, a dancing Indian and a dignified, homburg - wearing diplomat buying a hot dog.

"Jackie" was only 23, but in the year she had been working for the paper, her "inquiring camera girl" feature had become well known in the capital.

It seemed strange that the girl who had been voted the "most beautiful debutante" of 1948 in Newport, R.I., and New York, would become a cub reporter.

But Jacqueline wanted to become a writer, even at $42.50 a week.

As inquiring photographer, she A warm winter sun flooded the

As inquiring photographer, she asked some questions which were to become important to her in later years. They included: "Should a candidate's wife campaign with her husband? Do you think Inauguration day should follow closer upon election day? How does a candidate's looks influence your yet?" As inquiring photographer, she fluence your vote?"

Among the people she interviewed were Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, Mrs. Morris Cafritz, Washington hostess, two of Mamie Eisenhower's nieces — and the man she later married, Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Senate's then most eligible hachely.

Her camera and note pad re-corded the views of Nixon and Kennedy in 1953 when she asked them about the Senate pages. She also asked the pages about the

"I would predict that some fu-"I would predict that some ru-ture statesman will come from the ranks of the page corps," Vice President Nixon told Jac-queline Bouvier. "I notice that they are very quick boys, most of whom have a definite interest in politics."

"I've often thought that the country might be better off if we senators and the pages traded jobs," Kennedy said.

Said Jerry Hoobler, a page,

Said Jerry Hoobler, a page, "Senator Kennedy's always being mistaken for a tourist by the cops because he looks so young. The other day he wanted to use the special phones, and they told him, 'Sorry, mister, but these are reserved for senators.'"

Jacqueline also interviewed Nixon's daughter, Patricia, shortly after her father was elected Vice President.

President.

"What do you think of Sen-ator Nixon now?" was the ques-

"He's always away," answered Miss Nixon, then six. "If he's fa-mous why does'nt he stay home?"

Jacqueline ended her repor-torial career shortly before her marriage to Kennedy with cover-age of Queen Elizabeth's coronation in June, 1953.

She returned to the United States and on Sept. 12, 1953, she married John F. Kennedy in one the biggest society weddings of the year.

A short time ago, a reporter asked Mrs. Kennedy if she had really written the column her-

"Listen, I wouldn't sign my name to anything I didn't write," she said flatly.

Fashionettes

Fashion puts a snug foot for-Fashion puts a snug foot forward in new over-the-sock boots. They come in heights ranging from ankle to just-under-the-knee level. Stylists at B. F. Goodrich and Hood have fashioned the rubber boots in gay colors such as gold and red, high-fashion olive green. The boots are lined with flannel or pile.

As slim and trim as a sapling, the new slacks are tapered to the ankle for a more slender look and are topped with a classic long-sleeved shirt tailored in one of the many cotton-satin prints.

Our British cousins are spending more on clothes. Surveys show the biggest spenders are in the 16 to 24 age group. New clothes shops and boutiques are opening up to cater to the de-

JANUARY 10 & 11

ENGINEERS—BS, MS, Ph.D degrees in EE, ME, MET for outstanding career positions in analytical, design and development engineering.

SCIENTISTS—BS, MS, Ph.D degrees in Physics, EE, ME for challenging new study programs in Missiles & Space systems, Electron Beam Technology and our Research Laboratories.

A typical project under development: the air induction and environmental systems for the B-70 bomber.

FINAL EXAM SCHEDULE

	8-9:50 a.m.	10-11:50 a.m.	1-2:50 p.m.	3-4:50 p.m.
Fri. 13	Jr. Sr. 10 MWF Chem. Eng. 25, Econ. 26, Hort. 27, Ital. 5, Music 1, Nursing 25, Phy. Ed. 21, Wildlife 25, Zool. 25	French 1, 5, 7, 8	Jr. Sr. 1 MWF Italian 1, Spanish 1, 2, M. E. 1A, Zool. 35	Jr. Sr. 12 MTWThF Art 14, Bact. 31, Hist 25, M.E. 1B, M.E. 35 Music 29
Sat. 14	Jr. Sr. 8 TThS Bot. 25, Ec. 12, Home Ec. 3, 25	Math. 10, 1, 2, 4	Jr. Sr. 3 TTh C.E 34, French 25, German 25, Hist 31, Math. 7, 12, Russian 5	Jr. Sr. 4 TTh Acct 25, 26, Home Ec 41, Phy. Ed. 41, Phys 5, Psych. 27, Russian 1
Mon. 16	Jr. Sr. 9 MWF Astron. 1, Geol. 33, Ld. Arch. 23, Phy. Ed. 23, Poult. 25, Span. 25	Physics 25	Jr. Sr. 3 MWF English 25, 26	English 1, 2
Tues. 17	Jr. Sr. TThS Chem. 29, Ent. 26, Geol. 2	Chem. 1, 3, 25	Jr. Sr. 1 TTh C.E. 31, Ec. 25, French 27, Phil. 11	Jr. Sr. 2 TTh Hort. 29, Soc. 25, 26
Wed. 18	Jr. Sr. 8 MWF Fd. Mgt. 33, Phys. 7, Zool. 37	Bot. 1, Home Ec. 31, Math. 29, 30, Phil. 31	Jr. Sr. 2 MWF Art 31, 33, 34, Forestry 25, Math. 5, 6, Phy. Ed. 43, Rec. Lead 25, Spanish 5, 7, 8	History 5
Thur. 19	Jr. Sr. 9 TThS Agric. 1, Chem. 30, 33, Dairy 25, Music 3	E.E. 41, Zool. 1	Jr. Sr. 11 TS Air Science 25, 26, Nursing 1	Geol. 1, Math 31, 32
Fri. 20	Jr. Sr. 11, MWF C.E. 27, Lat. 5, Rec. Lead. 1, Span. 27	German 1	Jr Sr. 4 MWF Govt. 25	Psych. 26
Sat. 21	Graduate Record Exam. Available for make-up	(to 5 p.m.)

Contract Bridge

	Freak Di	stribution	1
	NO	RTH
	SJ	8 5 2
	H 6	532
	D 9
	CA	10 8 4
WEST		EAS	T
S A 10	7 4	S Q	963
H		H A	10 4
D Q 10		DA	J 6 3
CKJS	6532	CQ	7
	SOU	JTH (D)
	SK
	H K	QJ98	7
	D K	87542	2
	C
N-S	Jul. Deale	r: South
South	West	North	East
1 H	Pass	2 H	Pass
4 H	5 C	Pass	Pass
5 H	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening Lead: C-6
This hand is the last in a series of hands played in the National Open Pairs Tournament in New York this fall. Again, this is the bidding and play as it happened.

South opens the bidding with one heart and North raises him to two hearts with four hearts to two hearts with four hearts and eight points in support. South feels that his jump to four hearts is in order because of the distribution of his hand. West looks at his hand and decides to bid five clubs. He believes that his opponents can make four hearts and thinks that he might not go down too many. South bids five hearts because he is not sure whether five clubs can be set whether five clubs can be set enough to get a good score.

West led the C-6; the C-A was played from dummy; declarer pitched his S-K. The D-9 was led from dummy and East won the trick with his ace. He returned a small spade which South ruffed. Declarer now led a diamond and dumny ruffed. A small trump was led and South won the trick with his king. Another diamond was trumped by dummy and another trump led back. East won this trick with his ace and returned a spade which declarer trumped. South drew East's last trump and ran his three good diamonds three trump, making five hearts.

If West had not led a club, then five hearts would be set one with careful defense. South would not have time to pitch his losing spade on the ace of clubs.

This hand shows some of the of clubs.

This hand shows some of the freak distribution which can occur at the bridge table.

Four Colleges Put On Jan. Art Exhibition

The Four College Art Show running from January 6 to January 14 is a composite of works of both art majors and non-art majors from the four colleges in the area. Partly through the facilities available for exhibition, UMass was chosen to host the exhibit. Although the University has relatively few art University has relatively few art majors due to the newness of the department, the Art Club, less than one year old, has undertaken the entire running of the exhibition.

Five media will be shown: oils, watercolors, prints, woodblocks.

watercolors, prints woodblocks, lithographs, etchings, sculpture, and pencil drawing.

Three local artists will judge the competition and five first prizes will be awarded (one for each area) on January 10.

The exhibit is being held in the Commonwealth Room. All are invited free of charge.

A University of California scientist has developed a dust, deadly to insects only, that has proven extremely effective in controlling insect pests on zoo and pet animals.

Good Sport NEW YORK (UPI) — Actor Tony Perkins has spent as much time in a major league baseball time in a major league baseball uniform as some players who have made a career of the game. Perkins portrayed Boston Red Sox outfielder Jimmy Piersall in the movie "Fear Strikes Out," and he recently appeared in a Washington Senators uniform in the play "Damn Yankees" at the Carousel Theater at Framingham.

STOWE'S FAMOUS SKI DORM

$6.25 Daily (Incl. Breakfast & Dinner) SPECIAL MID-WEEK BUDGET PLANS FOLDER—Write or Phone STOWE, VERMONT • ALpine 3-7223

Up front you get rich golden tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking. Smoke Winston.

WINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

Pittsburgh Tries Trimester Plan; East And West Hold Efficient System Saves Money

If attitudes of students and in-Pittsburgh are indicative of a national consensus, the accelerated 11 month school year may soon replace the traditional 9 month academic year. After testing the trimester plan, Pitt's students and instructors admit that advantages outweigh disadvantages, that money saved and more efficient use of facilities are more important than suffering summer's heat or missing the leisurely vacation.

Under the trimester system the school year would include three 15 week semesters and one month of summer vacation. The first semester would start the first week of September and last until mid-December. The second semester, beginning immediately after New Year's, would extend to the beginning of summer session about the third week in April. August, the hottest month, would be the only vacation of significant length. Full time participation would lead to a B.A. in three years. The trimester year would comprise a total of 135 weeks over three years instead of 128 quire participation in all three weeks over four years.

Realizing that little can be done about the summer heat and shortened vacations, more and more students participating in ex-perimental three semester pro-grams accept the system because it saves money in the long run. The average net saving for three summers' work is approximately $1,100. Since the median annual $1,100. Since the median annual starting salary for college grad-uates is about $5,200, a three year graduate may expect to gain over $4,000 by not working summers and graduating a year earlier. However, students who must meet immediate payment deadlines may have little regard for estimates of future savings. A recent increase in loan availability brought about by the National Defense Education Act of 1958 enables students at 1,200 colleges to borrow at 3 per cent interest commencing one year after graduation.

Because of the large number of mporary drop-outs expected. the trimester system must offer optional enrollment and not reters. The trimester plan will have to duplicate the current en rollment plan; since a program requiring enrollment for all three quiring enrollment for an ensemble semesters would undoubtedly keep semesters out of many capable students out

The greatest advantage of a nation wide trimester plan would be continued use of facilities cur-rently idle part of the time. Since rently idle part of the time. Since property taxes remain fixed whether the buildings are occupied or empty, increased use of facilities would cut average cost per student and control rising tuition rates in many private schools. In addition, more efficient use of facilities would solve the problem posed by the country's population explosion. Adoption of the trimester plan seems the most economical way to accommodate the rising number of applicants. applicants.

Administrative tasks in adop-tion of the trimester plan would involve persuading various law making agencies to revise rules concerning graduation require-ments and eligibility for intercollegiate sports.

Exchange Program

Sapporo, Japan have an exchange program geared to the agricul-tural aspects of each country.

Extension Agricultural Economist George W. Westcott, who was at Hokkaido for 2½ years as an exchange professor in marketan exchange professor in marketing, gave a talk before the Japanese-American Society in Sapporo before his departure on August 25. He returned to the U.S. recently after an extended tour of Europe. In his talk he summarized the work being done.

"As you know," he said, "Japan's diet habits are changing, "Japan's diet habits are changing, with animal products increasing to replace the dwindling supplies of sea foods as protein. Hokkaido University is looking ahead to help give aid and direction through research and education to these very basic changes; namely:

(1) to further develop land on the Island of Hokkaido for the production of dairy and (2) poultry products, (3) to improve the Meetings between East and West need not always be at a "summit" conference table.

The University of Massachusetts and Hokkaido University, Sapporo, Japan have an exchange program geared to the agricultural aspects of each country.

Extension Agricultural Economist George W. Westcott, who was at Hokkaido for 2½ years as an exchange professor in marketing, gave a talk before the Japanese-American Society in Sapporo before his departure on August 25. He returned to the U.S. recently after an extended

Westcott believes that the economic progress that Japan needs is dependent upon her foreign trade, especially with the United States, he said, needs Japan as a postner, in democracy. partner in democracy.

The ICA exchange program, based on education and under-standing, is perhaps the surest way of helping both reach their goals, he believes

Rev.ArnoldKenseth To Speak At Hillel Service This Friday

Rev. Arnold Kenseth, pastor of South Congregational Church in Amherst, will be the guest speaker at the Hillel Friday night services to be held in the Worcester Room of the Student Union, January 6, at 7 p.m. Kenseth, who was formerly a Protestant chaplain at UMass, will speak on the "Conquest of Inner Space."

A graduate of Bates College, he received an M.A. in English from Harvard and a degree of bachelor of sacred theology from Harvard Divinity School. At present he is also a part-time faculty member of Amherst College.

In 1959 Kenseth received special In 1959 Kenseth received special recognition as a poet when he won a poetry contest held by the American Scholar magazine. His poetry has appeared in The Atlantic, Poetry Magazine, the Saturday Review, the Massachusetts Review, the CEA Critic, a number of religious periodicals, and Amherst Poets, 1959.

This past spring he was invited by Dean Samuel H. Miller of Harvard Divinity School to read his poetry to a group of Danforth Fellows attending Harvard, Radcliffe, M.I.T., and Boston University ton University.

Following the services an Oneg Shabat will be held.

R.S.O. To Audit All Account Books

All treasurers of R.S.O. are asked to bring their account books into the R.S.O. office at their convenience before the mid-year break. The office will be open Saturday morning, Jan-uary 21. The auditing of accounts will take place the week follow-ing finals.

Phi Sigma Delta Officers Elected

Phi Sigma Delta held its annual election of officers on Dec.

The election went as follows: President: Andrew Soucy '62, Vice-President: James Baskin '63, Treasurer: Mitchell Miller '63, Recording Secretary: Richard Gloth '63, Corresponding Secre-tary: Elliot Gaffer '63, and Ser-geant-at-Arms: Charles Nelson

One of the best investments you'll ever make...

You know what you invest in advanced ROTC . . . two years of classroom time and outside study.

But just see how handsomely your invest-

First and foremost, there's the proud mo-ment in Graduation Week when the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant are pinned on your Army uniform... and deep inside the warm sense of accomplishment at having made it. There's immediate help in meeting expenses owance of $535 for the two-year advanced ROTC course. Uniforms and military textbooks paid for. $117 for your six-week summer camp training, plus travel allowance. And when you're commissioned, a $330 uniform allowance.

You discharge your military obligation with the traditional rank, pay, privileges and re-sponsibilities of an officer in the United still be paying off. Success in the executive areas of business and industry comes earlier and more substantially to the man who can lead. Few are born leaders; but leadership can be learned. And advanced ROTC is a great place to learned. great place to learn it.

And later, when you're starting your climb

Talk with the Professor of Military Schools your school. Learn more about advanced ROTC. Ask particularly about the ROTC course in Leadership, with its practical exceptions of the command responsibilities. Talk with the Professor of Military Science at

Late Rally Fails As Redmen Bow To Holy Cross, 58-63

The Redmen basketball squad was foiled in a last ditch rally as it bowed to Holy Cross, 58-63, last night at the Cage.

It was the home opener for UMass and they delighted their supporters by almost upsetting the highly-ranked Crusaders.

As the score indicates, both eams were cold. This coldness was most apparent at the beginwas most apparent at the begin-ning of both halves. At the out-set points were scarce, but par-ticularly so for the Redmen. Holy Cross dunked eight points before the Redmen were able to get roll-

On Campus with Max Shulman

1961: YEAR OF DECISION

Well sir, here we are in 1961, which shows every sign of being quite a distinguished year. First off, it is the only year since 1951 which begins and ends with the Figure 1. Of course, when it comes to Figure 1's, 1961, though distinguished, can hardly compare with 1911, which, most people agree, had not just two, but three Figure 1's! This, I'll wager, is a record that will stand for at least two hundred years!

for at least two hundred years!

1911 was, incidentally, notable for many other things. It was, for example, the year in which the New York Giants played the Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series. As we all know, the New York Giants have since moved to San Francisco and the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City. There is a movement afoot at present to move Chicago to Phoenix—the city, not the baseball team. Phoenix, in turn, would of course move to Chicago. It is felt that the change would be broadening for residents of both cities. Many Chicago folks, for example, have never seen an iguana. Many Phoenix folks, on the other hand, have never seen a frostbite. have never seen a frostbite ere are, of course, certain difficulties attending a municipal shift of this size. For instance, to move Chicago you also have to move Lake Michigan. This, in itself, presents no great probem, what with modern scientific advances like electronic the French cuff. But if you will look at your map, you will find that Lake Michigan is connected to all the other Great Lakes, which in turn are connected to the St. Lawrence Seaway, which in turn is connected to the Atlantic Ocean. You start dragging Lake Michigan to Phoenix and, willy-nilly, you'll be dragging all that other stuff too. This would make our British allies terribly cross, and I can't say as I blame them. I mean, put yourself in their place. What if, for example, you were a British workingman who had been saving and serimping all year for a summer holiday at Brighton Beach, and then when you got to Brighton Beach there wasn't any ocean? There you'd be with your inner tube and snorkel and nothing to do all day but dance the Lambeth Walk. This, you may be sure, would not make you Lambeth Walk. This, you may be sure, would not make you

NATO-minded!

I appeal most earnestly to the residents of Chicago and Phoenix to reconsider. I know it's no bowl of cherries going through life without ever seeing an iguana or a frostbite, but I for preserving the unity of the free world? I am sure that if you search your hearts you will make the right decision, for all of us—whether we live in frostbitten Chicago, iguana-ridden Phoenix, or narrow-lapelled New Haven—are first and foremost

But I digress. We were speaking of 1961, our new year. And new it is! There is, for one thing, new pleasure in Marlboro Cigarettes. How can there be new pleasure in Marlboro when that fine, flavorful blend, that clean easy draw fifter, have not been altered? The answer is simple: each time you light a Marlboro, it is like the first time. The flavor is such that age cannot wither nor custom stale. Marlboro never palls, never jades, never dwindles into dull routine. Each pack, each cigarette, each puff, makes you glad all over again that you are a Marlboro smoker!

So, Marlboros in hand, let us march confidently into 1961.

May good fortune attend our ventures! May happiness reign!

May Chicago and Phoenix soon recover from their disappointment and join our bright cavalcade into a brave tomorrow!

The makers of Marlboro and of the new unfiltered king-size Philip Morris Commander join Old Max in adding their good wishes for a happy and peaceful 1961.

Holy Cross began to get luke warm and moved into a 15-point lead about half way through. As the Redmen started to warm up they slowly closed the gap until by the end of the half, they had come to within nine points at 29-38.

FOUR SCORELESS MINUTES

If hoops were rare at the beginning of the game they were exceedingly so at the start of the second half. For four minutes neither squad was able to manage a score. Then again both teams started to increase produc-

The scoring remained fairly even for a while, until the Purple opened up a 13-point lead with about 11 minutes left.

Then, finally, the Redmen began to move. Slowly but consistently they began to chip away at the big lead. Doug Grutchfield and Don Black began to find the range and by the time the Cross took a time out at 5:45, the hole was narrowed down to only seven

Then guard Jim Laughnane took over and led the Redmen in a desperate attempt to tie up the game. As the seconds ticked quickly by, three straight thoops by Laughnane made it 57-54. A hook by Black brought the Redmen to within a single point. Then followed a wierd series of nal and technical fouls, personal and technical room, well as travelling violations, and

POCKET BILLIARDS

Anyone who is interested in signing up for a pocket billiards tourney to determine a school champion may do so at the desk in the games area of the S.U., starting Monday, January 9. Entries will be limited to those who register early. Trophies will be awarded.

when the dust had cleared Holv Cross had managed to move ahead in the last few seconds. The final buzzer sounded before the Redmen could retaliate

DRIBBLING AROUND

DRIBBLING AROUND

The Redmen committed 20 personal fouls, as well as two technicals, that allowed HC to attempt 33 foul shots, of which they completed 17. The Cross committed only 11 fouls, allowing UMass 11 shots, of which only two were converted . . Jim Laughnane, who for some reason hasn't been playing much in the hasn't been playing much in the past few games, again proved that he deserves to be a regular starter by sparking the late surge and by scoring 8 points in the few moments he was in the game . . . The two technicals called against the Redmen are significant of their dissatisfaction with several calls in the game. Indeed several official decisions were questionable and too numerous to be shrugged off merely as "a matter of judgment" matter of judgment

STILL DRIBBLING

STILL DRIBBLING
Despite the score, the Redmen can be well satisfied with their performance. They held the "mighty" Crusaders to 63 points, and only two other teams in the past two years have done better. Neither team was up to par, however . . . Kirk Leslie did a good job in holding Jack "the shot" Foley to only 12 points . . The Redmen will play another home contest tomorrow night at the Cage, when they will entertain Colby College.

"Another matter of judg-ent?" asks CHARLES Lament?" ass PIER (44).

Frosh Dumped As Twitchell Scores 25

A game Little Redmen five played fine basketball for one half and then fell before a classy Holy Cross barrage to lose 82-63 in last night's prelim.

It was the all-around performance of Captain Roger Twitchell and guard Pete Bernard's floor play that gave Coach Garber's charges a well-deserved 38-37 half time lead.

Twitchell led all scorers with points, but the Cross had too 25 many guns.

UMA				HOLY	CRC
	G	FT	T		FG	FT	Т
Grutchfield	9	0	18	Foley	3	6	12
Leslie	3	0	6	Connors	1	0	2
Black	5	1	11	Thompson	3	1	7
Fohlin	0	0	0	Slattery	8	1	7
Mole	6	1	13	Blaney	7	5	19
Tremblay	0	0	0	Shea	6	4	16
Wheeler	0	0	0	Breslin	0	0	0
LaPier	1	0	2
Laughnane	4	0	8
Totals	28	2	58	Totals	23	17	63

MORE SUN

MORE SNOW

For folders, information or reservations, write lodge of your choice or Box CD, Stowe Area Association, Inc., Stowe, Vermont.

New First Run Policy! Top Rated International Films Beg. - Wed. - Jan. 11th Alec Guiness • John Mills
"Tunes of Glory"
Filmed in Scotland in color

COMING: BERGMAN'S "THE MAGICIAN" Hiroshima . . Mon Amo
"Blaclzorphevs" color
• "Expresso Bongo"

Send us your ner Address — We will send

Positions with Potential

ENGINEERS - CHEMISTS - PHYSICISTS

Ceramic · Chemical · Civil $Electrical \cdot Industrial \cdot Mechanical$ Metallurgical

National Carbon Company, America's leading manufacturer of carbon and graphite products, offers positions to qualified B.S. and M.S. graduates in the fields listed above.

Our products include graphite anodes, electrodes, motor and generator brushes, arc carbons, special graphite shapes used in nuclear, missile, and a wide variety of industrial applications.

We serve such key industries as aircraft, aluminum, automotive, chemical, mining, motion pictures, nuclear, steel, transportation, and the electrical Positions are available at 12 plants and laboratories located in Ohio, New York, West Virginia and Tennessee and also in our Marketing organization which covers the 48 states from nine key cities.

Interesting, rewarding careers in research, process and product development, production and methods engineering, product and process control, machine development, plant engineering, marketing, technical sales and technical service.

A National Carbon representative will be on campus

IANUARY 5 NATIONAL CARBON COMPANY
Division of Union Carbide Corporation
CARBIDE

OVER THE HOLIDAYS

UMass Wins Springfield Tourney Then Edges N.U.

For the second year in a row, the University of Massachusetts basketball team defeated three opponents to capture the top spot in the Springfield Tournament.

The tourney, held from Dec. 28-30, saw the Redmen defeat Columbia (64-57), favored Williams (63-53), and finally crosstown neighbor Amherst College (67-57). Williams College, which was ranked fifth in New England before the tourney, was picked by all experts to win the crown. But the Redmen settled all ques-tions of the outcome when they impressively dumped the Ephs in the semi-finals.

Standouts for UMass were Doug Grutchfield, who scored 65 points in the trio of games, and Kirk Leslie, who totalled 59.

NORTHEASTERN

No sooner did most of the No sooner did most of the UMass community return to cam-pus Tuesday, when the hoopsters departed for Boston, where they ran smack into a stubborn North-eastern quintet. After some hair-pulling action, the Redmen edged out the battling Huskies in over-time, 71-70.

While the game was close and exciting, it certainly wasn't satisfying for UM supporters. The Redmen seemed to lack the hustle and spark that has characterized most of their playing thus far. The one bright spot for UMass was the long-awaited coming-alive of Don Black, sophomore center from South Athol.

BLACK SCORES 19

Black, who has been seen as the key to UMass chances of success, got off to a slow start this year, but finally awakened Monday ight, scoring 19 points and nagging 20 rebounds. night.

The Redmen thus had completed the toughest part of their schedule—9 straight road games.
There isn't a team in the world college or pro—that wouldn't shudder at the prospect of hav-ing to play their first 9 games away from home. But the Redaway from nome. But the Red-men did it in fine shape and came out with an impressive 6-3 record and a four game winning streak. That's good in any league!

EXCELLENT CAREER

DEVELOPMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Naval Ordnance Laboratory located at White Oak in Silver Spring, Maryland, a suburb of Washington, D.C., offers excellent career development opportunities to seniors majoring in the physical sciences and engineering. After a year-long rotational training program, you help select your main assignment in aeroballistics...underwater, air and surface weaponry...explosives and chemical research...physics, mathematics and applied research. You are encouraged to work out an advanced degree program with the University of Maryland, and to participate in society meetings and foundational research. You will benefit from the best of working and living conditions at NOL's modern R & D facilities located in an ideal suburb of Washington. These positions are in the career civil service.

U.S. Naval Ordnance Laboratory White Oak · Silver Spring, Maryland

Positions with Potential

ENGINEERS · CHEMISTS · PHYSICISTS

Chemical

Electrical • Industrial • Mechanical

Union Carbide Consumer Products Company, America's foremost manufacturer of dry cell bat-teries and flashlights, and one of America's most forward-looking companies in the development of new battery concepts, now offers career oppor-tunities to qualified B. S. and M. S. graduates who are interested in creative scientific advancement.

Positions are available at Union Carbide Consumer Products Company's 8 plants, located in the following states: Iowa, North Carolina, Ohio, and Vermont.

Interesting, rewarding careers in research, process and product development, production and methods engineering, product and process control, machine development and plant engineering. Union Carbide Consumer Products representative will be on campus-

IANUARY 5

UNION CARBIDE CONSUMER PRODUCTS COMPANY

Division of Union Carbide Corporation

PRESTONE ANTI-FREEZE

Frosh Hoopsters Drop Two At West Point Tournament

by AL COHEN '63

Coach Dick Garber's frosh basketball team dropped two games to powerful opponents during the holidays at the West Point Tourney in New York. The little Redmen first fell victim to Army, 74-56, and then bowed to St. John's, 81-64 in the consolation game.

By AL COHEN '63

UMA

Fainten
Johnson, R.
Bernard
Curtia
Saila
Saila
Saila
Van B'daky
Twitchell
Twitchell tion game.

Too many travelling violations and the inability to play as a unit hurt the UMass scoring punch. Garber feels that most of his squad haven't yet reached full potential. The only bright spots at West Point were the fine performances of forwards Danny Laakso and Roger Twitchell.

Laakso hit five of his ten field goal attempts against St John's goal attempts against St. John's and clicked for 11 against Army's plebes. Twitchell continued to lead UMass in rebounding while net-ting 17 points in the second game.

The Garber wards, after keep-ing pace through the first half of the two games, fell behind in the stretch on both occasions.

SS			NORTHEASTERN
FG	FI	T
6	7	19	Sears	3	1	7
4	3	11	Ducey	5	8	18
0	3	3	Tully	ĭ		2
6	7	19	Vierstre	9	1	-
0	ò			9	è	10
1	0	2		E	9	13
Ā	ň	ä	Giodene	0	0	10
2	2			- 4	9	1
ő	2	2	Clark	1	2	4
28	25	71	Total	99	-
	6 4 0 6 0 1 4 2 0 28	6 7 4 8 0 8 6 7 0 0 1 0 4 1 2 2 0 2 28 25	6 7 19 4 3 11 0 3 3 6 7 19 0 0 0 1 0 2 4 1 9 2 2 6 0 2 2 23 25 71	FG FT T 6 7 19 Sears 4 3 11 Ducey 0 3 3 Tully 6 7 19 Vierstra 0 0 0 Burke 1 0 2 Solberg 4 1 9 Giodano 2 2 6 Kerzner 0 2 2 Clark 23 25 71 Total	FG FT T 6 7 19 Sears 4 3 11 Ducey 5 0 3 3 Tully 5 6 7 19 Vierstra 3 0 0 0 Burke 5 1 0 2 Solberg 5 4 1 9 Giodano 2 2 2 6 Kerzner 1 0 2 2 Clark 1 23 25 11 Total 23	FG FT T G Sars S F1 6 7 19 Sears S F1 4 3 11 Ducey 5 8 8 7 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19 19

FROSH HOCKEY

There will be a freshmar hockey practice tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Amherst rink.

The scoring:

O MEZE	33			AR	M X
	G	F	ГТ		FG	F	T
Painten	8	7	13	Hutchinson	4	8
Johnson, R.	3	8	9	Panouic	2	2	6
Baxter	1	0	2	Richards	5	3	13
Bernard	2	1	5	Chilcoat	6	1
Curtis	2	0	0		8	î	17
Salla	0	4	4	Williams	6 8 2 0	î	5
Van B'dsky	0	0		Treado	ñ	i	5
Twitchell	2	3		Erdman	0	21	2
Johnson, M.	2	1	5	Jiacomm'zi	0	ī	2
Laakso	4	8		o mecomin ar	۰	_	•
Total	17	99	56	Total	-		-
			00	Total	21	20	74
UMAS					HN
	G	FT			FG	FT	T
Painten	4	1		Holmes	6	3	15
Johnson, R.		7	19		6	2	14
Laakso	5	2	12		0	0	2
Bernard	0	3	8		0	1	1
Van B'dsky	0	1	1	Waddleton	9	11	29
I'witchell	6	5	17	Lombardi	1	0
iohnson, M.	0	1	1	Ross	ī	3	5
Saila	1	0	2	Kresse	2	5	9
				Skarulis	0	2	2
				Faranda	1	0	2 5 9 2 2
Total 2	22	20	64	Total	97	27	91

Dorm Bowling League

Bowling for the dorm and engineering teams will begin on Wednesday evening, Jan. 11 at 6:00 p.m. Schedules are at the desk in the games area of the S.U. and may be obtained by any team captain anytime before the first match. All matches must begin promptly. There will be a short meeting of all the captains at 8:00 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 11, in the bowling alleys.

Olympic Reason

ROME (UPI) - The Olympic symbol of five interlocking rings of blue, yellow, black, green, and red represents the five continents of the world, and at least one of the colors is found in the flag of every nation.

StockbridgeRiflers 2-1 In Holiday Postal Matches

The Stockbridge rifle team engaged in three matches during the holidays, dropping the first but coming back to win the final

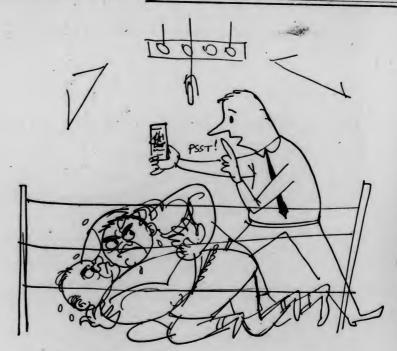

Lower scores in the kneeling position spelled the difference be-tween victory and defeat for the Aggies in a postal meet with Trinidad State Junior College of

The Stockbridge men came back, however, in another postal match, when they edged North Dakota State by a mere three points. In this contest, the kneeling position scores were again the big factor, with the Stockbridge team coming out on top.

And in the final game, the Stockbridge riflers completely outclassed a weak aggregation representing Citrus College of California in winning the postal match by over 200 points.

STOCKBRIDGE	TRINIDAD STATE
PR KN ST T Lotter 98 85 88 271 Valley 96 88 82 266 Ciesi'k 99 83 82 264 Nelson 98 88 76 262 Allen 98 89 72 259 Totals	S'dere 07 95 90 004
STOCKBRIDGE	NORTH DAVOTA

					T OFFITTO				1999
STO	PR	KI	N S	TT	NORT	H	DA	KO	TA
Allen Nelson Lotter Mich'll W'h'n Totals	99 97 95 96 97	85 88 86 93 92	85 88 82 74 74	269 268 268 268	P'm'n King F'd'k Pake B'tn'n Totals	95 99 97 98	97 72 79 91	92 76 89 70 89	284

When things get too close for comfort* your best friends won't tell you... but your opponents will!

- Old Spice Stick Deodorant brings you safe, sure, all-day protection.
- Better than roll-ons that skip.
- Better than sprays that drip.
- Better than wrestling with creams that are greasy and messy.

*Old Spice STICK DEODORANT Comes to the rescue fast!

Contest For Beard-Growers Makes UMass Men Bristle

The Winter Carni Activities Committee, headed by Carol Veno and Francis Lovejoy, announces the opening of an old-fashioned beard growing contest to start immediately and end on Thursday, February 9, the day before the Carnival Ball.

Judging the "noble growths" will be our campus barbers in the Scalp Shop. Beards will be judged on general appearance, fullness, and shape—not on length. The prize will be free tickets to the entire Winter Carnival Weekend, amounting to a value of more than ten dollars.

All you do to enter is to stop in at the Scalp Shop in the SU, show a clean-shaven face to start with, fill out an entry blank, and begin raising the crop.

Lest anyone give you any heat regarding your fuzzy chins, here are a few ready replies and rationalizations which will undoubtedly come in handy to bolster your defense:

First, you can use the historical approach and challenge your tormentor to peruse any illustrated history book and observe the overwhelming number of bearded faces: Agamemnon, Socrates, Marx, Lenin, etc.

Or, you might try the functional approach. A beard provides better insulation for frosty days, allows you to go for extensive periods without washing your face, and is handy for thoughtful stroking or swearing oaths by.

If all these fail, there is one last hope for your defense. You can say that there is nothing you can do, since it is growing from the inside, out.

Excellent Easter is the name of the sexton of Trinity Presbyterian Church, Meridian, Miss.

Named For Rider

AINTREE, England (UPI) — Becher's Brook, most famous jump on the Grand National Steeplechase course consisting of a high hedge in front of a 5½-foot wide stream, is named for a Capt. Becher who fell from his horse and drowned in the brook.

AGR Elects New Officers

Election of officers was held Tuesday night and the following brothers were elected: President: Dick Greene '62, vice-president: Joe Field '62, secretary: John Faucette '62, treasurer: Bill Field '63, social chairman: Ron Packard '62, Rushing Chairman: Curt Bailey '62, athletic chairman: Pete Stanley '63, house manager: Bob Foster '62, librarian: Dick Baker '62, steward: Jim Rogers '62, and usher: Art Kilbourn '62. Their terms become effective January 8 and last until January of 1962.

Lost & Found

Pair of beige and brown gloves with leather palms, Tuesday, between 212 Bartlett and the Library. Harriet Hawkins. Johnson House.

Lost: Will the person who took a plain gray coat from the coat rack in Knowlton on Dec. 17 please return it to Alice Klecbacker, 311 Knowlton.

Lost: in the vicinity of the Lincoln Apts., a pair of ski poles with rubber grips. Any informa-

SU Arts And Music Plans Hour Of Folk Songs Sunday

M O H

The Arts and Music Committee of the Student Union will present a Folk Music Hour in the Cape Cod Lounge this Sunday, January 8, from 3:00 to 4:00 p.m. Refreshments will be served after the hour in the Colonial Lounge for those attending.

7 3

The Folk Singers presented will be Susan Goldsmith and Dick Herman. Susan and Dick have appeared locally and are well known tion leading to their return would be greatly appreciated. Please contact Brad Rohrer at WMUA AL 3-3411, Ext. 425.

Lost: one pair of men's black frame glasses in a case with clip. Last known to be in Machmer on Sat., Dec. 10, 1960, in W37 on top of professor's desk. Reward. Contact Andy D'Avanzo, 125 Adams.

Lost: one black wallet, Monday night. Identification within. Please contact Michael Brita, 313 Van Meter.

Lost: from the Dining Commons, $138.75. Reward offered. Please contact Michael Tomeo. JU 4-9131. by folk music enthusiasts in this area. Miss Goldsmith appears during the summer in folk music coffee houses in Harvard Square. She has made appearances on television in the Boston area and was recently recognized by Mademoiselle Magazine.

moiselle Magazine.

Freshmen Students will be the guests of honor and will be given information at the following coffee hour concerning the UMass. SU and their place in the Union.

The Union is encouraging Freshmen and upper classmen to make the most of their student union "PUT THE YOU IN UNION!" There are several committee openings and available positions for committee chairmen presently.

Clothes Drive Postponed Until End Of January

Due to unforeseen difficulties the clothing drive, sponsored by the Campus Religious Council will be postponed to the week of February 1.

The council would like to thank all those who have helped with the drive so far and hope they will continue to motivate the students to collect their outgrown, wearable articles of clothing so that they may be collected and sent to needy students around the world.

Collection boxes will be distributed in the dorms, fraternity and sorority houses and the SU on or before February 1.

Plan Now for your Bermuda College Week

- Informal welcoming dance to sta the fun
- College Day at the Beach . . . the biggest beach party of the year
- All day cruise to historic St. George. Luncheon, Calypso music, Gombey Dancers
- sic. Gombey Dancers Fun Festival with Jazz concerts, choral groups, dance contests.
 Contact Ken Fallon, S.A.E.

"IT'S HERE-IF YOU WANT TO WORK FOR IT"

Even before Ron Spetrino received his engineering degree from Case he had good job offers from six companies.

He joined The Ohio Bell Telephone Company—his reason: "I was convinced an engineer could go further here—if he was willing to work for it."

As soon as Ron got his feet on the ground in telephone engineering, he was tapped for a tough assignment. The job—to engineer switching equipment modifications needed to prepare Cleveland for nationwide customer dialing of long distance calls.

Ron wrapped it up in five months, and found he had earned a shot at another tough assignment. In this job Ron helped engineer a completely new long distance switching center for Cleveland. This switching center connected Cleveland with the nationwide customer dialing network. It was about a year later that Ron put the finishing touches on the specs for this $1,600,000 project.

Today, as a Supervising Engineer, Ron heads a staff of five engineers and is responsible for telephone switching in much of the greater Cleveland area.

He supervises the design and purchase of $3 million worth of equipment a year. And even more important, he is charged with developing the technical and managerial skills of his staff.

Ron knows what he's talking about when he says, "In this business you have to do more than a good job. We expect a man to be a self-developer. We expect him to take responsibility from his first day on the job and think for himself. You don't get ahead around here by just doing time."

If you want a job in which you're given every chance to prove yourself, and real responsibility right from the start—you'll want to see your Placement Office for further information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."

FREDERICK R. KAPPEL, President
American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

VOL. XC NO. 39 5¢ PER COPY

NEXT ISSUE

Friday,

February 3

MONDAY, JANUARY 9, 1961

Lederle Names Seven Commonwealth Professors

34 Students Picked For 'Who's Who'

Thirty-four students were named to UMass Who's Who among Students in American Colleges and Universities, it was announced Binkley, Chief Justice, Women's Judiciary: Mrs. Mary Ann (Blais)

Consisting of 17 men and 17 women, the list also includes eight Dean's Scholars and features a cumulative average of 2.6.

Somewhat unusual about the selections is the fact that the list includes two students who, admissions officials say, are not slated to graduate until June of 1962. They are William F. Lockwood, Jr., and James E. Earley. The other 32 are expected to graduate this June.

The selections were made in early December by a committee of 10 students, with the president of the Student Senate, Dennis J. Twohig, as chairman. Each member of the committee left the room and was not allowed to vote when his own name came up for consideration.

All of the members of Adelphia and Mortar-Board were selected. Following is a list of the names with one major position of each.
Roberta L. Bernstein, House
Chairman, Thatcher; Patricia Binkley, Chief Justice, Women's Judiciary; Mrs. Mary Ann (Blais)
Bacas, Secretary, Mortar Board;
Donna L. Brooks, Senior Class
Executive Comm.; Hugh B. Calkin, Editor, Index; James E.
Earley, President, Theta Chi, John
J. Finnegan, Senior Class Marshal; Judith Fredman, President,
S.D.T.

LIBRARY

Philip H. Grandchamp, President, T.K.E.; Douglas P. Grutchfield, Captain, Basketball team; Christa R. Hahnenstein, Chairman, International Weekend; Denise H. Harmony, Treasurer, Senior Class; Robert P. Harris III, Senior Class Executive Comm.; Carol R. Jones, Chairman, Women's Affairs Comm.; Judith A. Konopka, Secretary, Senior Class; Bryna Lansky, President, Hillel Foundation.

Constance M. Ledger, Senior Class Executive Comm.; Clark A. Lennon, Chief Justice, IFC Judi-(Continued on page 3)

Two Department Heads Among Educators Picked By President

Seven members of the UMass faculty have been named to Commonwealth Professorships, it was announced recently by President John W. Lederle.

Established last year, the professorships are granted to faculty members who have done the most to distinguish themselves and the UMass by continued professional growth in teaching, research and publication.

The Commonwealth Professorships, instituted last year, were made possible after the state legislature approved a Board of Trustees proposal to establish more flexible personnel grades as a means of aiding in the recruitment and retention of outstanding educators. The first Commonwealth Professorship was granted to Dr. Maxwell H. Goldberg, author and educator who served as head of the English department from 1955 to 1960.

The new appointments include:

Thomas Copeland, member of the English Department who is general editor of a projected 10-volume collection of the correspondence of Edmund Burke. An authority on 18th century literature, Prof. Copeland recently received a grant of $34,00 from the Carnegie Corporation to carry on the compilation being undertaken by the Massachusett. scholar with the assistance of ten distinguished editors.

John Harris, head of the department of government. Authoi of British Government Inspectior as a Dynamic Process and numerous articles in scholarly journals. Prof. Harris has been instrumental in establishing a number of major teaching and research programs for UMass students.

McCune Fete To Be Held Tues. 3-5 P.M.

A student reception will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Colonial Lounge for Provost Shannon McCune, it was announced today by Senate Pres. Dennis J. Twohig.

Open to the general student body, light refreshments will be served and a gift from the students will be presented around 3:30 p.m., Twohig said. About 400 students are expected to attend.

The Student Senate voted an appropriation for the refreshments and gift before the Christmas vacation.

Mrs. McCune is also expected to be on hand. Like the provost, she has become very popular with the many students she has met at receptions.

A public reception, sponsored by the faculty and administration, was held for the McCunes Sunday in the SU Ballroom.

During his tenure as head of department, he has helped in securing private grants totalling approximately $300,000. He has been designated Commonwealth Head of Department.

proximately $300,000. He has been designated Commonwealth Head of Department.

Peter Heller, a member of the department of German and Russian. Prof. Heller is the author of a great number of scholarly articles centering on psychological and philosophical problems exhibited in German and other literatures. He is a teacher of ability who was highly praised for his work in initiating the Four-College Program in modern German literature.

Noted Researcher Named

Warren Litsky, member of the department of bacteriology. He has made a number of important advances in bacteriology and public health, and has earned an international reputation for his research and writing in those fields. A member of important American scientific bodies, he was recently elected a fellow of Great Britain's Royal Society of Health.

Richard Stein, member of the chemistry department. Internationally known for his work in high polymers, Prof. Stein has published extensively on his researches in that field. Elected as the first Arts and Sciences Scholar by his colleagues. By invitation, he has presented papers at two international conferences — the 1957 International Symposium on Macro-Molecular Chemistry and the 1958 International Polymer Conference. His advances in polymer chemistry have resulted in the awarding of numerous private and governmental grants to the University for work in this field.

Henry Van Roekel, member of the department of veterinary science. Dr. Van Roekel has gained an international reputation for his work on avian pathology. He was given the Tom Newman Award, an international prize, for the most outstanding contribution to poultry husbandry research in 1952

(Continued on page 6)

WMUA Team Interviews Lambert, Hendricks, & Ross

WMUA team interviews Lambert, Hendricks, and Ross Jazz group

CANDIDATES FOR WINTER CARNI QUEEN are (l. to r.): Betty Mercer '64; Betty Searles '63; Carolyn Young '64; Franny Munton '63; and Betty Broberg '63.

Fred Shotz, chairman of this from Brookline who is a major-

Queen Finalists Announced

By Winter Carni Committee

Fred Shotz, chairman of this year's Winter Carnival Publicity Committee, announced today the names of the five girls voted as finalists for Queen. They are: Betty Searles, a sophomore from Plymouth, Mass., majoring in Elementary Ed; Betty Broberg, a sophomore from Worcester, majoring in nursing and a sister of Chi Omega sorority; Carolyn Young, a Liberal Arts major in her freshman year and a former Miss West Springfield; Franny Minton, another sophomore from Worcester majoring in Liberal Arts, and freshman Betty Mercer from Brookline who is a majorette and secretary of her class.

The girls were picked in a pre-Christmas election from a group of thirty-six nominees by the ballots of 1478 undergraduates at the University. Sub-committee chairman, Paul Sibley and Sol Yas, who ran the election, said that the girls will receive tickets to the entire Carnival weekend and one of the five candidates will be crowned Queen by Pres. Lederle during the intermission of the Carni Ball on Friday night, February 10. WMUA's Ron Engel interviewed the popular Dave Lambert, Jon Hendricks, and Annie Ross in New York City at the Village Vanguard on December 17. With Ron were WMUA engineers Dave Moore and Wes Ewell and as photographer, WMUA announcer, Judy Noren.

Lambert, Hendricks, and Ross' style is vocal instrumentation, wherein they simulate, with their voices, instruments or entire sections of bands. Words are included in their interpretations; the lyrics to the majority of compositions are written by Jon Hendricks and convey meaningful emotionalism covering humor, love, and philosophy for living in general.

After the WMUA group left the club, they visited WNEW, generally conceded by most to be the best radio station in the country, where ace announcer-news-caster Hans Anderson graciously showed them the station's extensive facilities.

The tape will be aired on Mod-

The tape will be aired on Modern Impressions at 10 o'clock Monday night, January 9, providing the results of the informative and enjoyable session.

Synthesis

We do recognize that there is a state of confusion and inequality in our society, but often feel frustrated by having no course of positive action. The fact also exists, that the majority are being led by a minority. This minority establishes principles, not by consulting or by expressing the desires of the majority, but in reality, by expressing their perverted concept of the majority's wishes.

The state of confusion and inequality is that there are some men who are not allowed inherent human dignity and freedom. This state exists as a result of the mixed values of the misdirected, mis-

We students should be emphatic to situations in which men are prevented from enjoying their inherent rights. If we belong to any faith whatsoever, by following its tenets we will be aroused by these situations of inequality. Even if we do not believe in God, but believe in the inherent right of men to dignity and freedom, we will be aroused by the restrictions on the basic rights of all men. Then the frustration of having no course of action comes

Fortunately there is an organization, called Synthesis, dedicated to these principles of human dignity and freedom. Our members consist of students from Amherst, Smith and Mt. Holyoke Colleges, and the University of Mass. We are not only concerned with discussing issues such as racism and dis-armament but are seeking conviction on the larger, more encompassing issues of human dignity and freedom.

We are willing to act on our convictions from either presenting socio-political alternatives, to dis-seminating information on the problems we face through all possible media.

Our scope is broad, our hopes high, and our suc-cess will be determined by whether or not the stu-dent community is apathetic. If you hold the conviction that our principles are your own and wish to act on them, write to Synthesis, % the Collegian

Synthesis

L.G. E.A.S. K.S. M.P.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief
Larry Rayner '61
Editorial Editor News Editor
abeth A. Schneck '62 Donald D. Johnson '61 Sports Editor Al Berman '62 notography Editor Larry Popple '63

Business Manager Michael Cohen '61 Advertising Manager Howard Frisch '62

Assistant News Editor James R. Reinhold '61

Circulation Manager Barry Ravech

EDITORIAL

ssociates: Sally Mailalieu, Judy Dickstein, Lorraine Gejpey. Staff: Bill Avery. Carolyn Cheney, Lesley Dodge, Deanna Harrington, Jjm O'llearn, Michael Paller, Genieveve Reall, Martha Sandrof. Anne Slayton, Kenneth H. Smith, Judith St. Jean, Susan Strange, Jim Trelease, Pete Watson.

NEWS
Associates: Richard Howland, Beth Peterson, Bruno DePaima.
Senior Reporters: Don Croteau, Patricia Ward.
Special Reporters: Jack Baptistn, Joan Blodgett, Barbara Yetwin.

Peature Associates: Jean Cann, Patricia Barclay, Margery

Bouve.

Wemen's Page Editors: Marie Mortimer, Frances Maziarz.

Staff Reporters: George Dickinson, Joyce Bourgon, Joseph Bradley, Roger Oruf, Grace-Ann Fitzpatrick, Jacqueline Gallivan, Richard Haynes, John Holden, Irving Johnson, Geruld Kagan, Jacob Karas, Rosemary Kirchner, Ernestine Lemoyne, Thomas McMullin, James E. Mulcahy, Lois Moczarski, Mark Nataupsky, Audrey Rayner, Warren Richard, Patricia Stee, Diane Tovet.

Copy: Ernest Bilodeau, Richard Goldstein, Louis Greenstein, Dolores Mathews, Barciay Megathlin.

SPORTS
Associates: Jay Baker, Ben Gordon.
itaff: Mickey Adamson, Mike Bjornholm, Al Cohen, W. John Lennon, Dick Quinn, Dave Willard. PHOTOGRAPHY

teve Arbit, Charlie Brown, Bruce Bonner, Dick Forman, Jack Kesaler, Jim Lane, Stan Patz, Ernie Poole, Biil Theroux, Joel Tillman.

BUSINESS Circulation: Manager, Barry Ravech; Larry Cohen, Mike Rosenthal, Alan Savitt, Robert Wailis.

ADVERTISING
Steve Israel, Andy Shulman, Rab and

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Mon.: News Associate, Richard Howland; Feature Associate, Jean Cann; Editorial, Sally Mallalieu; Sports, Al Berman

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amberst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination period; tweet week the week following a vacation or examination period; or when a holiday fails within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 5, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1934.

Subscription price $4.00 per year: $2.50 per semester

nct of June 11, 1984.

tton price

$4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester
Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.

—Associated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press
Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

FOUR COLLEGE ART EXHIBITION

The Four College Art Show now being held in Commonwealth room of the Student Union is well worth our consideration. Those who take time to wander through will be amazed and impressed by the many professional or near-professional works on exhibit. Various media are being shown: oils, watercolors, sculpture, pencil drawing, prints, wood-blocks, lithographs, etchings. Some of the works may be considered outstanding for their originality in sub-ject and style, or for the unusual employment of color. A high degree of individuality in the interpretation of conventional themes is evident in many

The exhibit is comprised of works by both art majors and non-art majors from Amherst, Smith, Mt. Holyoke, and our own University. From this callection five pieces will be chosen to receive first prize awards on January 10.

If you are at all interested in what is being ac-complished by the artists of the area or if you wish to be pleasantly relaxed from the pressure of final exams, take time to view the attractively arranged works on exhibit. You will stop to look twice at many of them. There are many highly interesting works being presented.

The Iconoclast

by JIM TRELEASE '63

This is the last column of The Iconoclast. During its year of tenure, it has been presented over 35 times. Over that period of time there are few campus of fices or personalities who have gone unscathed. The Deans, Charlie O'Rourke, the Maroon Key, the now defunct government department, the late and truly defunct government department, the late and truly great (I can't help but kneeling at the name) J. P. Mather, the commuters, Provost McCune, the ROTC program, and that happy, cheerful spastic attendant in the locker room . . . all our sacred cows were some time or other tarnished by printer's ink. Only one went unmolested . . . RSO and Mr. Buck.

Now there were definite reasons for leaving these two alone. RSO is a very powerful campus office which is located in the refrigerator of the Hatch's dining facilities. Here Mr. Buck works amidst thousands of frozen funds and BLT's. There are many of us who remember this official before he came to the University . . . when he starred on that TV drama University . . . when he starred on that TV drama show "Treasury Men in Action." While he controlled a great deal of power once he arrived at UMass, there was still another reason for me to UMass, there was still another reason for me to fear him. I had it from reliable sources that Mr. Buck would replace Ivy Baker Priest as Secretary of the Treasury in Kennedy's administration. It's not that he's a Harvard grad or anything but rather because he used to hang around with some boys from Harvard and they all played touch football together. It was on the sandlots off the Charles river that our man earned his reputation by working that complicated backfield play to perfection . . . the "buck lateral series." lateral series.

In all seriousness, in the last month I've decided to hang out my "icons" to dry and start in with a new type of column. One of my reasons is because I feel I can do myself and my readers more good by discussing serious and pertinent topics, whether they be on campus or national affairs. Some good by discussing serious and pertinent topics, whether they be on campus or national affairs. Some of my future topics will be entertaining and light and others will be serious and constructive. At least once a month, there should occur on campus something which will lend itself easily to satire and an "iconoclastic" column. With a note identifying it as such, I hope to throw in this type periodically.

Another reason for switching columns is the emaciated supply of people or incidents which lend themselves to a type of column like The Iconoclast. Towards the end, it was definitely a grind to sit down every week and search for a subject which hadn't already been violated. Look at the Assistant Dean of Men . . . Billy Burkhardt. Everybody kills this poor man. The Ya-Hoo, the IFC skits, and the Iconoclast all flogged him with a smile. Over the last year I've often thought of setting up an SPCB Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Billy. Sooner or later, the subjects are milked dry and your readers start to yawn half way through the column and the subject himself sends you notes reading, "One more column like the last and we'll confiscate your electric sneakers."

This isn't meant to sound as if the administration has pressured me into toning down the journalistic effort. As a matter of fact, no member of the tion has pressured me into toning down the journal-istic effort. As a matter of fact, no member of the administration has ever taken a direct step toward such measures nor have they ever spoken to me or Larry Rayner about dulling the razor on The Icono-clast. They have taken their due and undue and clast. They have taken turned the other cheek.

Over the next few years, I look forward to the serious and the humorous. In the former category, I hope to reveal the names of those involved in the opium ring within the floriculture course and in the latter category we will someday discuss one of the funniest and most hilarious subjects on campus... the office of Director of Athletics.

Letters

Note Of Gratitude

Please allow me to use this media to thank the students, faculty and administration at the University of Massachusetts for the wonderful cooperation and acts of good faith during my stay here as the head football coach. My decision to leave Massachusetts was motivated by many factors but it was made extremely difficult because of our wonderful University and the many fine people in and around Amherst, I am sure that you will extend the same attitude and cooperation to the next football coach and that his success will be assured.

Charles B. Studley Head Football Coach

A Student Responsibility

To the Editor:

Teaching Freshmen I've been entertained by many things and Now I've only been entertained by many things and shocked by one: the colossal unevenness of high school backgrounds. Now I've only been "shocked," but what about you, the students? Some of you have been and others will be "executed": many of you who either are forced to withdraw from the University or who come so close that your career prospects are permanently affected, are paying for the crimes of your high schools.

Each one of you who feels that he has suffered here at the University because of weak high school training (and that includes simply not having learned how to study, how to grapple with an unpleasant task and get through the blasted thing, quickly) is obligated to go home and complain, loud and long, not as taxpayer but as victim.

Especially in this historic state people haven't flinched before the necessity of fighting for progress. Would it not bear great weight if right now, those of you who are being sacrificed to other peoples' backwardness and laziness had the courage to speak out to their local school boards and superintendents?

No one knows better than some of you the price of poor high cools. But how many of you yet know that yours is the responsibility, yours is the power to improve?

John Harvey Instructor, Romance Languages

Rally 'Round The Beard—Boys!

To the Editor:

These are times of cheer, of plenty, of warmheartedness, of blurred images and diffuse sentimentality; this is the era of the psuedo-historians from the liberal Left to laud and deify the hairy

Dr. C. Wright Mills calls for an "agonizing reappraisal" of the Cuban revolution. And indeed, his appraisal is agonizing; agonizing to anyone who believes that Communism should be stamped out and not catered to.

Though Mr. Palter may be befogged by Dr. Mills' oozing sentiment over the "bearded one," and though he may choose to rally around the Left-wing crying towel, let, however, the facts be known. around the Left-wing crying towel, let, nowever, the facts be allowed. Contained in the book are eight letters from imaginary Cuban revolutionists, and a statement by Dr. Mills suggesting that we help Latin America expropriate all United States enterprise. The book reads as though Castro had written it himself. (Recall Castro's TV harangues?)

Mill's "journey" to Cuba lasted a little less than a month and consisted mainly of 61 hours spent with Fidel. During that time he was given ample opportunity to misinterpret events and to whitewash the revolution with fragrant emotions.

In the book, an imaginary Cuban says that Fidel Castro is the most "democratic force in Cuba" because he always appeals to public opinion. (This "lucid" statement could then be used to show that Mussolini was the most democratic force in Italy.)

It is interesting to note that Dr. Mills conveniently omits the mention of the destruction of the freedom of the press, due process of law, the right to vote, and the wholesale executions. (But then, of course, we all know that the end justifies the means and therefore such atrocities are merely incidental expediencies.) However, it is equally interesting to note that in "erudite" fashion, Dr. Mills characterizes Batista as a "cruel savage" and a "bloody bastard."

C. Wright Mills fails to note that the United States embargoed arms shipments to Batista in March 1958. Yet he (Mills) claims that the United States supported Batista during the revolution. Mills also the United States supported Batista during the revolution, Mills also claims that U.S. investment is the cause of Latin American poverty and he points to Cuba and Venezuela as proof. The facts are that because of "oil imperialism," per capita income in Venezuela rose two and a half times. In Cuba, the real national income rose 38 per cent between 1953-1957. Wages and salaries during this time were increased from 56 to 65 per cent.

There are many more inconsistencies and blatant errors in this classical flight of intellectual disorder called Listen, Yankee; however they are, in fact, too numerous to mention here, Libraries may have a difficult time classifying this book. May I suggest—FICTION.

156 Hills South

If you are interested in publishing your creative works-prose etry, essays—the Literary Magazine would like to have it by February 6. Works to be submitted for consideration in the Winter issue may be left in the lit. mag. basket (Collegian office) or given to any member of the staff.

Who's Who ...

(Continued from page 1)
ciary; William F. Lockwood, Jr.,
Vice President, IFC; Manuel A.
Marks, Jr., Editor, Engineering
Journal; Gordon L. Massingham,
President, IFC; John A. Mitchell,
President, S.P.E.; Mary C. Morrison,
Student Union Governing
Board; Marshall J. Myers, President, T.E.P.
Patricia A. O'Connell President

Patricia A. O'Connell, Presi-ent, Mortar Board; Gail A. Osdent, Mortar Board; Gail A, Os-baldeston, Vice President, Student Senate; Lawrence H. Rayner, Ed-itor, Massachusetts Collegian; Ann J. Reseigh, Vice President, Christian Assn.; Roger T. Rilk-onen, President, Senior Class; Elizabeth A. Slavin, Chairman, SU Governing Board; John P. Sweeney, Business Manager, In-dex; Edward G. Szupel, President, P.S.K.

Dennis J. Twohig, President, Student Senate; Esta F. Yaffee, President, Panhellenic Council.

Stockbridge Five Drops Two Games

The Stockbridge basketball squad was defeated in its two games last week. In the first outing, the Aggies were downed by Windham College, 37-59.

In the second contest, Worcester Junior College was the victor by a.75-58 score. Bob Goyette and Carl Hoff were the leading scorers for Stockbridge during the two games. The team is the two games. The team coached by Richard Bergquist.

Roving Rodents Nibble At Union

Three rats were reported seen eating berries off the shrubbery on the left of the front entrance to the Student Union Friday af-

Patricia A. Ward first noticed them from the window of the Collegian office. She pointed them out to several other students in the office and the SU balcony.

Director of the Student Union, William D. Scott, said that he knew about the situation, and had notified the University Mainten-

The rats ranged from 10 to 18 inches in length, including the

There are 3257 men and 2000 omen undergraduates at the women undergraduates at University of Massachusetts.

Smith College Festival Exhibits Shaker Life

by DIANE TOVET '64 Collegian Staff Reporter

The Shaker Festival, held at Smith College from Jan. 4-25, includes a study of the Society's values through a lecture, symposium, art exhibition and musical.

The Festival, organized to draw ablic attention to the recent plans to restore a Shaker con nunity in Hancock near Pitts-eld, Mass. opened with an art exhibition entitled "The Work of Shaker Hands". This exhibit, dis-played at the Museum of Art (Tryon Art Gallery), included group of "inspirational pain group of "inspirational painings," furniture and furnishings photographs, of Shaker homes, photographs, architectural drawings, and documentary materials.

The festival was highlighted by the concert, "Shaker Festival", presented Jan. 8 by the Smith Glee Club and Choir, conducted by Iva Dee Hiatt and J. Heywood Alexander.

CLUB DIRECTORY

Meeting, Jan. 11, 7 p.m. Bow-ditch Lodge. Donald S. Watson will epeak on "Agriculture Be-hind the Iron Curtain."

CANTERBURY CLUB

Meeting, Sunday, 6 p.m. at 768 North Pleasant St. Following the meeting members will adjourn to the campus pond (weather permitting for skating.

DEBATE CLUB

A taped debate will be heard Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth Rm. S.U.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instruction, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the Com-monwealth Room, SU.

Meeting will be held on alternate Wed. during the ski season at 7:30 p.m. in the Public Health Building. Subjects will be films and plans for weekend and mid-year trips.

AMPTON STATE HOSPITAL

The Volunteers for Northamp-ton State Hospital will meet in the SU Lobby on Wednesday evening at 6:15. All those interested in going to the Hospital have to be ready to leave from the SU Lobby by 6:30. Transportation will be provided by student volunteers. There is a sign-up sheet in the S.U. lobby.

R.S.O. To Audit All Account Books

All treasurers of R.S.O. are asked to bring their account books into the R.S.O. office at their convenience before the midyear break. The office will be open Saturday morning, January 21. The auditing of accounts will take place the week following finals.

LOST & FOUND
LOST: Scarab bracelet on Jan. 4.
Sentimental value; reward; if found return to Harriet Josephson 404 Arnold.

One-Stop Shopping makes it easy to make the right buy at your Chevrolet dealers!

No need to look farther than your Chevrolet dealer's to find the car you're looking for. There under one roof you can pick from 30 models-almost any type of car for any kind of going. A whole new crew of Chevy Corvairs for '61, including four wonderful wagons unlike any built before in the land. Thrifty Chevrolet Biscaynes, beautiful Bel Airs, elegant Impalas and six spacious Chevy wagons-all with a Jet-smooth ride. Come in and choose the one you want the easy way-on a one-stop shopping tour!

New '61 Chevrolet IMPALA 2-DOOR SEDAN

Here's all anyone could want in a car! One of a full line of five Impalas with Chevy's sensible new dimensions, inside and out.

New '61 Chevrolet 4-DOOR BISCAYNE 6

NOW-BIG-CAR COMFORT AT SMALL-CAR PRICES

These new Biscaynes-6 or V8-are the lowest priced full-sized Chevies. Yet they give you a full measure of Chevrolet roominess.

New '61 Corvair 500 LAKEWOOD STATION WAGON

One of Corvair's wonderful new wagons for '61, this 6-passenger Lakewood gives up to 68 cu. ft. of storage space.

New '61 Chevrolet BEL AIR 2-DOOR SEDAN

Beautiful Bel Airs, priced just above the thriftiest full-sized Chevies, bring you newness you can use. Larger door openings, higher easy-chair seats, more leg room in front, more foot room in the rear.

New lower priced 700 CORVAIR CLUB COUPE

Corvair brings you space, spunk and savings in '61. Thriftier sedans and coupes with more luggage space. That rear engine's spunkier, too, and there's a new gas-saving rear axle ratio to go with it.

Redmen Stage Late Rally Nip Colby, 70-69 10

Grutchfield Scores 21 Points As Frosh Hoopsters Smother UMass Wins In Final

The University of Massachusetts staged a successful late rally to eke out a 70-69 triumph over Colby Saturday night in the Cage.

The Redmen were again agued with the inability to warm up quickly that harassed them during the Holy Cross game. They couldn't hit with much ac-curacy during the first few minutes of the game and soon found themselves on the short end of a 15-25 score.

Soon, however, UMass began to by lead. By halftime they had narrowed the gap down to two points, at 30-32.

MOLE GETS HOT

At the beginning of the second half Mike Mole clicked for four hoops to help UMass take a 41-39 edge with 16 minutes to go. Colby rallied for eight straight points to go ahead 47-41. The Redmen came back to tie it up at 49 who

Mole fouled out with 9:26 left.
The game stayed very close for while, with the lead changing a while, with the lead changing hands several times. Slowly, however, Colby began to pull ahead and at 3:30 led by five points. Then, after a Jim Laughnane hoop and a three-point play by Kirk Leslie, the score was again knotted at 64.

Again the lead changed hands Again the lead changed hands a few times until clutch baskets by Doug Grutchfield and Dick Green put the Redmen ahead 68-67 with one minute left.

by AL BERMAN '62, Sports Editor

Colby's Dave Thaxter then fouled Don Tremblay, and Don eased the tension a bit by dropping the two hoops to make it UMass 70, Colby 67 with 10 se-conds left. Charlie Swensen managed to hoop another two-pointer for Colby before time ran out, but served only to narrow the final margin to one point.

DRIBBLING AROUND

An unsung hero of the UMass starting line-up is forward Kirk Leslie. Kirk always manages to score in double figures for the Redmen, and his fine defensive play makes him particularly valuable. He held Holy Cross' Jack Foley to only 12 points (Foley scored 31 vs. UConn.), and men that Leslie grantly makes the score of the control of the scored 31 vs. UConn.), and men that Leslie guards rarely score highly . . . Jim Laughnane finally started against Colby, but for some reason he wasn't allowed to play very much. Liggy is a real hustler, and seems to spark up the team whenever he's in the game. Despite the fact that he played for only a very short time vs. Colby, he sunk a very important two points in the late UMass rally . . . An enlarged Varsity rally . . . An enlarged Varsity Pep Band made its debut Saturday night. Under the direction of Ted Souliotis '62, the band sounds better than ever . . The Redmen travel up to Burlington tonight where they will meet the University of Vermont in a Yancon game. The Redmen lost their only previous YanCon encounter to UConn at Storrs.

3 Minutes

	FG	FT	T	COLBY	FG	FT	T
Grutchfield	9	3	21	Kelley	5	0	10
Leslie	5	2	12	Swensen	2	4	8
Black	2	4	8	Burke	1	3	5
Laughnane	1	2	4	Thaxter	3	8	14
Mole	7	0	14	Kinne	8	4	20
Fohlin	1	0	2	Bergquist	3	0	6
Green	1	0	2	Wagner	2	2	6
Tremblay	0	2	2		_		117
Wheeler	2	1	5
LaPier	0	ō	Ü
		0-0-0	-
Totals Score at		14		Totals	24	21	69

Basketball Leads CHICAGO (UPI)—A survey by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations shows that 19,459 schools com-peted in basketball during the past year, compared to 11,564 in football.

Only One NEW YORK (UPI) — Goalie Jack McCartan of the New York Rangers is the only American-born player in the National Hockey League.

Holyoke Jr. College, 92-59

by AL COHEN '63

Coach Garber's not so Little Redmen met and vanquished a hapless Holyoke Jr. College five 92-59 in Saturday night's prelim.

The Holyokers kord

The Holyokers kept pace for about a quarter with the score 23 all. But then the inevitable happened. With UMass big height advantage off the boards, the small H. team couldn't keep up. Tom Bucalo, last year's Chic-Tom Bucalo, last year's Chicopee High capt. was the big noise for Holyoke. He led all scorers with 25 points.

Danny Laakso used a jump shot s height to register 20 pts. for UMass. Teammates Jim Painten and Bob Johnson had 18 and ten and Bob Johnson had 18 and 15 respectively. With Garber substituting freely, the Massmen broke it open with a 19 pt. half time bulge at 48-29.

The second half saw the Red-nen bench increase the margin over their weary opponents. The victory was the second for the frosh. They have dropped four.

HEN '63
Next Tuesday the off and on Garbers will seek their first win on a foreign court when they tackle the A. I. C. freshmen in Springfield at 6:30.

Johnson and Bernard have moved the team well. Six foot seven Karl Saila has been rebounding well. He was particularly good in Thursday's game with Holy Cross.

The tremendous all-around performance of Capt. Roger Twitchell against the Cross was marked by his ability to match his re-bounding with scoring. Twitch is 6'5 and can go high for a rebound.

Painten and Laakso both can score from the outside. The former drives and passes well while the latter can rebound and is deadly with his corner shot.

College Basketball Scores

UMass 70, Colby 69 Holy Cross 103, UConn 85 Bowdoin 50, Amherst 46 Providence 75, BC 65 Yale 68, Dartmouth 62 Rhode Island 75, Vermont 48 New Hampshire 80, Bates 65 Albright 66, Hofstra 55 Ohio State 91, Illinois 65 Brown 73, Harvard 53 Coast Guard 60, MIT 52 Tufts 83, Trinity 76 Wesleyan 70, Middlebury 57 Duke 81, N. C. State 67

Kentucky 89, Georgia Tech 79 Indiana 81, Michigan 70 Iowa 71, Minnesota 46 St. Bonav. 89, Duquesne 78 Columbia 65, Penn 54 Purdue 79, Northwestern 64 Maryland 72, So. Carolina 58
Princeton 64, Cornell 57
Pittsburgh 79, Syracuse 62
Vanderbilt 68, Tennessee 66
Cincinnati 83, N. Texas St. 34 Canisius 78, Seton Hall 64 Buffalo 55, Boston U. 54 Bucknell 75, Delaware 69

FEBRUARY

Marketing and Sales Engineering and Science

This is a unique opportunity to find out about the many career opportunities at IBM. The IBM representative can discuss with you typical jobs, various training programs, chances for advanced education, financial rewards, and company benefits—all important factors that affect your future.

An Unusual Growth Story: IBM has had one of the exceptional growth rates in industry. It has been a planned growth, based on ideas and products having an almost infinite application in our modern economy.

Diverse and Important Products: IBM develops, manufactures and markets a wide range of products in the data processing field. IBM computers and allied products play a vital role in the operations of business, industry, science, and government.

Across-the-Country Operations: Laboratory Across-the-Country Operations: Laboratory and manufacturing facilities are located in Endicott, Kingston, Owego, Poughkeepsie and Yorktown, N. Y.; Burlington, Vermont; Lexington, Ky.; San Jose, Calif.; Bethesda, Md.; and Rochester, Minn. Headquarters is located in New York City with sales and service offices in 198 major cities throughout the United States. United States.

The Accent is on the Individual: No matter what type of work a person does at IBM, he is given all the responsibility he is able to handle, and all the support he needs to do his job. Advancement is by merit.

The areas in which IBM is engaged have unlimited future. This is your opportunity to find out what that future has to offer you.

Call or stop in at your placement office to arrange an appointment with the IBM repre-sentative for the date above. If you cannot attend an interview, write or call the manager of the nearest IBM office:

Mr. C. W. Sink, Branch Manager IBM Corporation, Dept. 882 273 State Street Springfield 3. Mass.

You naturally have a better chance to grow with a growth company.

Varsity And Frosh Wrestlers Downed By Coast Guard

The UMass varsity and freshman wrestling teams were defeat-ed by Coast Guard squads Satur-day at the Academy.

The varsity went down to a 29-5 score, while the frosh were pinned 30-8. The next match for the varsity crew is on February 7, when they will tangle with Williams College matmen in the

OTHER WRESTLING RESULTS

MIT 17, Brown 15 Wesleyan 31, Tufts 5 Michigan 29, Indiana 8 Springfield 19, Yale 9 Pitt 20, Cornell 8 Lafayette 14, Bucknell 14 Rochester 16, Clarkson 13

COLLEGE TRACK Dartmouth 74, B. U. 30

STOWE'S FAMOUS SKI DORM

$6.25 Daily (Incl. Breakfast & Dinner)

SPECIAL MID-WEEK BUDGET PLANS
FOLDER—Write or Phone
STOWE, VERMONT • ALpine 3-7223

UMass Icemen Break 12 Game Jinx, Defeat UNH, 4-3

by DAVE WILLARD '64

Before a large crowd the UMass hockey team defeated the University of New Hampshire Saturday, 4-3. This game was noteworthy in several respects, for besides equalling their mark of last year it also marked the first time in twelve games that a Redman hockey team had beaten a UNH sextet.

The game was begun in bright sunshine, weather more suitable for football than hockey. This condition tended to make the ice less than suitable for good skating thus hampering the players REDMEN DOMINATE

REDMEN DOMINATE

The first period was dominated completely by the Redmen as they enjoyd a wide territorial edge besides scoring the only goal of the session. This was scored at the 2:00 mark when Tom Taylor dug the puck out from behind the net and centered it to the annushing Frank tered it to the onrushing Frank Gilliatt who slid it in the lower left hand corner of the net.

The second frame saw UNH come out on the ice a revived team as they quickly tied it up with only 38 seconds having elapsed. It was at this juncture that McKinnon scored the first of his three goals, when he batted in a bouncing puck after Roland had saved twice. UMass took the lead again at 4:43 when Jim Ellingwood scored unassisted. UNH was to retaliate, however, McKinnon beat Roland from about ten feet out on the left side at 5:22. The tempo slowed down after this point due large ly to the slow condition of the ice and what action there was seemed to be dominated by UNH as they had definitely snapped out of their first period dol-drums. UNH surged out in front at 13:27 when McKinnon, back for an encore, stole the puck, maneuvered in and scored to put his team out in frent 2.9 his team out in front 3-2.

UMASS GOES AHEAD

UMass, determined to put an end to their 12 year domination at the hands of New Hampshire, at the hands of New Hampshire, gave it a little something extra in the final period to pull it out. They did their scoring early as Dick Alger scored at the 5:12 mark assisted by Bassett and Ellingwood. Less than a minute later the still hungry Redmen scored the clincher when Stevens poked the puck in with UNH short-handed.

An added feature at the end

An added feature at the end (Continued on page 6) HOCKEY vs. UCONN

The UMass hockey squad, now 4-2 on the season, will take on the sextet from the University of Connecticut toat 7:00 p.m. at Orr

HAMILTON

STANDARD

DIVISION OF

UNITED

AIRCRAFT

CORPORATION

WILL INTERVIEW ON

January 10 & 11

design, analysis, test, sales, elec-tronics and manufacturing.

Campus with Max Shulman 'I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc.) THE ENGINEERS HAVE HAIRY EARS

Today in this age of technology when engineering graduates are wooed and courted by all of America's great industries, how do you account for the fact that Rimbaud Sigafoos, who fined at the very top of his class at M.I.T., turned down hundreds of attractive job offers to accept employment as a machinery wiper at the Acme Ice Company at a salary of $20 a week with a twelve-hour day, a seven-day week, and only fifteen minutes for lunch?

I know what you are thinking: "Cherchez la femme!" You are thinking that Mr. Acme, head of the Acme Ice Company, has a beautiful daughter with whom Rimbaud is madly in love and he took the job only to be near her.

Friends, you are wrong. It is true that Mr. Acme does have a daughter, a large, torpid lass named Clardia who spends all her waking hours scooping marzipan out of a bucket and staring at a television set which has not worked in some years. Rimbaud has not the slightest interest in Clavdia; nor, indeed, does any other man, excepting possibly John Ringling North.

So how come Rimbaud keeps working for the Acme Ice Company? Can it be that they provide him with free Marlboro Cigarettes, and all day long he is able to settle back, make himself comfortable and enjoy the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste?

No, friends, no. Rimbaud is not allowed to smoke on the job and when he finishes his long, miserable day he has to buy his own Marlboros, even as you and I, in order to settle back and enjoy that choice tobacco, that smooth, mellow flavor, that incomparable filter, that pack or box.

Well, friends, you might as well give up because you'll never in a million years guess why Rimbaud works for the Acme Ice Company. The reason is simply this: Rimbaud is a seal!

He started as a performing seal in vaudeville. One night on the way to the Ed Sullivan show, he took the wrong subway. All night the poor mammal rode the B.M.T., seeking a helping hand. Finally a kindly brakeman named Ernest Thompson Sigafoos rescued the hapless Rimbaud.

He took Rimbaud home and raised him as his own, and Rimbaud, to show his appreciation, studied hard and got excellent marks and finished a distinguished academic career as valedictorian of M.I.T.

Rimbaud never complained to his kindly foster father, but through all those years of grammar school and high school and college, he darn near died of the heat! A seal, you must remember, is by nature a denizen of the Arctic, so you can imagine how poor Rimbaud must have suffered in subtropical New York and Boston, especially in those tight Ivy League

But today at the Acme Ice Company, Rimbaud has finally found a temperature to his liking. He is very happy and sends greetings to his many friends.

Any time, any clime, you get a lot to like with a Marlboro— and with Marlboro's newest partner in pleasure, the unfiltered, king-size, brand-new Philip Morris Commander. Get

UMASS CENTER FRANK GILLIATT (15) HERE SCORES THE first goal for the Redmen against New Hampshire.

Sextet In Wins Over MIT & Jeffs During Vacation

Before the Christmas holidays began the UMass hockey team chalked up two victories, an early left to go Neimeyer scored again present from the team to coach Kosakowski.

The Thursday before vacation began, the Redmen played their cousins down the road, Amherst, and surprised them to the tune of 4-3 in sudden death overtime

After a slow first period, during which both squads scored once, both teams picked up in the second frame to play a fast brand of hockey. UMass scored when Ryan put the puck in, assisted by Glew and Ellingwood.

At the 6:30 mark Amherst scored as Turner hit Reese who slapped it in.

Glew put UMass out in front

left to go Neimeyer scored again for Amherst to send the game into overtime.

Then with 2:52 having elapsed, Frank Gilliatt sent a shot hurtling at the Amherst goalie who had the misfortune of getting his head in the way. Art Stevens skated in and tucked the puck in the half open net to give the Redmen vic-

Saturday, the last day of school, the Redmen entertained MIT be-fore a sparse crowd at Orr Rink. They won this game also by a 4-2 margin as Glew scored two and Gilliatt and Stevens one each.

Burke And Rutkowski Star. But Mermen Lose To WPI

by BEN GORDON '62

Two double winners for the UMass swimmers weren't enough to overcome the Worcester Poly Tech team last Friday as the squad lost 51-44.

Bob Burke, a sophomore, and Matt Rutkowski, a junior, both won two events, Burke taking top honors in the 160 yard independent with a 1:57.9, and in the 220 yd. back stroke event with 2:44.6. Rutkowski placed first in the 220 yd. free style and 440 yd. free style in 2:25.9 and 5:36.4 respectively.

The only other winner for the UMen was Eric Schule who narrowly beat out his teammate, Frank DeFreitas in the fancy diving competition. Junior Dave Desjardins swam to a second and third slot in the 220 yd. back stroke and 160 yd. independent, while Captain Dave Goldstein tallied two thirds and in 440 and 60 yd. free styles.

Bruce Morton and Jim Coffey represented the Mermen well in the 220 yd. backstroke event, placing second and third, while Geoge Fisette took a second in Geoge Fisette took a second in the 100 yd. butterfly, and Ron Chiras swam to a third in the 100

Dave Leith, a consistent placer in the free style events was sick and was unable to make the trip to Worcester. His presence might have changed the tide in favor of the Mass swimmers.

Coach Joe Rogers' swimmers will be trying to break into the winning column when they meet R.P.I. in the Women's Phys. Ed. pool, Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. The frosh, who lost to Wesleyan by only one point in their last outing, will swim against Assum College Monday night at you e complete program

(Continued from page 5)
was UNH pulling their goalie out in the final minute to put an extra forward up front. This was all to no avail, however, as the Redmen held on for the win.

Although neither team played at peak performance this can be attributed to the poor ice and the lack of condition as UMass had not played since before vacation and this was the first game for UNH as their previously sched-uled games had been postponed.

For UNH, goalie Blackburn made 27 saves to spark his team while McKinnon and Nichols did a fine job up front.

ROLAND OUTSTANDING

For UMass, enough can't be said about goalie Bobo Roland who played by far his best game to date. On at least five different casions he held his position to ve on complete breakaways by forwards, Half of his 22 saves bordered on the sensational side as he went down time after time to stop other blistering

Jerry Clinton played very well on defense as he used his body to good advantage, checking his big-ger foes into the boards and riding them out of the plays.

Bassett, Stevens, and Taylor also looked good out there as did

This triumph marked the Redmen's third win in a row. If the club keeps up its fine, spirited play of recent games they are a cinch to compile the best UMass hockey record in years.

Commonwealth Prof...

(Continued from page 1)

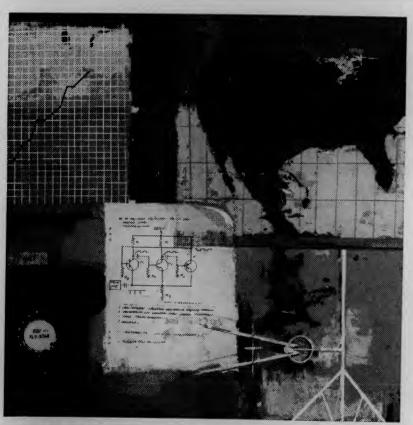

Civil Defense Consultant Named Merit P. White, head of the department of civil engineering. Prof. White has done extensive work in impact and explosion phenomena. During World War II he was engaged in war re-search on the effects of bombs and projectiles, and presently acts as a consultant to the U.S Air Force and Civil Defense Corps. His current research is devoted to finding effective methods to build structures with greater resistance to blast loads in the event of nuclear attack. Last summer he was a U.S. delegate, under a National Science Foundation grant, to the second World Conference on Earthquake Engineering in Tokyo. Prof. White has been designated Commonwealth Head of Department.

Debate Club To Present Taped Debate

A taped debate between Wes leyan University and Dartmouth College will be presented Tuesday evening, January 10, at the Debate Club's first meeting of the year. The debate was taped at the Wesleyan Debate Colloqui-um and is on the national topic: "Resolved that the United States Should Adopt a Program of Compulsory Health Insurance For All Citizens." Comments on the debate will be given from those who attended the Colloquium.

Plans will also be made for the debate activities in the coming semester which will include the Intra-mural Debate Tournament the Inter-Collegiate Tourna-

Those interested in any type of debating, Extemporaneous Speaking, Original Oratory, etc. as well as the general public are all in-vited to attend. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth room of the S.U.

8,000 Management Opportunities!

That's right. There will be 8,000 supervisory jobs filled from within the Western Electric Company by college graduates in just the next ten years! How come? Because there's the kind of upward movement at Western Electric that spells executive opportunity. Young men in engineering and other professional work can choose between two paths of advancement—one within their own technical field and one within over-all management.

Your progress up-the-ladder to executive within over-all management.

Your progress up-the-ladder to executive positions will be aided by a number of special programs. The annual company-wide personnel survey helps select management prospects. This ties in with planned rotational development, including transfers between Bell Companies and experience in a wide variety of fields. Western Electric maintains its own full-time graduate engineering training program, seven formal management courses, and a tuition refund plan for college study.

After joining Western Electric, you'll be planning production of a steady stream of communications products-electronic switching, carrier, microwave and missile guidar ing, carrier, microwave and missile guidance systems and components such as transistors, diodes, ferrites, etc. Every day, engineers at our manufacturing plants are working to bring new developments of our associates at Bell Telephone Laboratories into practical reality. In short, "the sky's your limit" at Western Florting.

Opportunities exist far electrical, mechanical, industrial, civil and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majars. Far more information, get your capy of Consider a Career at Western Electric from your Placement Officer. Or write Callege Relations, Roam 6106, Western Electric Company, 195 Braadway, New York 7, N. Y. Be sure ta arrange for a Western Electric interview when the Bell System team visits your campus.

ipal manufacturing locations at Chicago, Ill.; Kearny, N. J.; Baltimore, Md.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Allentown and Laureidale, P. on-Salem, N. C.; Buffalo, N. Y.; North Andover, Mass.; Omaha, Neb.; Kansas City, Mo.; Columbus, Ohio; Okiahoma City, Ok eering Research Center, Princeton, N. J. Teletype Corporation, Skokie, Ill., and Little Rock, Ark. Also Western Electric dist of Centers in 32 cities and installation headquarters in 16 cities. General headquarters: 195 Broadway, New York 7, N.

Mendenhall Says Smith ToMaintainPresentSize

Despite the tremendous increase in the pressure for admission on institutions of higher learning, Smith College does not plan to expand its present undergraduate enrollment of 2200, President Thomas C. Mendenhall said Sat-

Expansion Too Costly
In his first report to the Board of Trustees and more than 30,000 alumnae, Mendenhall said that Smith would find any such expansion too costly and that it would radically alter the character of the college. Instead, Smith must concentrate on educating the students it does have "suremely, if not uniquely, well," he

Mendenhall noted that the number of those seeking admission to the college has risen over the last ten years from perhaps two qualified applicants for each place to three or four candidates for the same place. He predicted that col-leges like Smith may well see the pressure double over the next few

"If this happens, what should the college do?" he asked. 'Should it appreciably increase its size, either merely to keep doing its share or perhaps even to increase its proportion of the total? The present answer, in the judgement of faculty, administration and trustees, is that on bal-ance it would be inadvisable and undesirable for Smith College to expand its numbers. Any increase that would be at all significant woud require considerable, costly expansion of facilities over and above what is now so desperately needed to do well with the present numbers and would radically alter the character of the college."

Percentage Down

The president noted that Smith and the other independent four-year liberal arts colleges for women long ago ceased to be important quantitatively in the edu-cation of women in this country.

"If Smith College and its sisters cannot educate a numerically significant portion of the college (Reprint from Springfield Union) mendous increase women of this country what is for admission on their educational raison d'etre?" he asked.

"Surely they can justify their existence only if they do su-premely, if not uniquely well with the students they have, confident that the latter's usefulness to themselves and society will far transcend their mere numbers."

Mendenhall noted the "plight" of the liberal arts college for women dependent on student fees for almost 80 per cent of its in-come and "facing an insidious, apparently endless increase in op-erating costs." While the endowment of Smith has during the last decade made "perhaps the most startling growth of any decade in the college's history, and has doubled its percentage of contribution to income," nevertheless women's colleges are "late-comers to a crowded competition where considerable old-fashioned reluctance to give to women's educa-tion still remains to be exercised," he said.

Cost Gap Rises

The gap between comprehensive fees income and total expense increased from $350 per student in 1950 to $4850 per student in 1960, despite increases in tuition during the decade, he reported.

Mendenhall added that Smith must look to its Alumnae Fund, annual giving program of the alumnae, which has increased over 300 per cent in the last decade, and to its development pro-gram, under which it seeks an initial $10,000,000. for necessary for building and endow

He said that Smith would lookalso increasingly to its program cooperation with three neighbor-ing institutions — Amherst and Mount Holyoke Colleges and UMass—as the best chance of maintaining Smith's relatively small program of graduate study This co-operative program will also offer Smith its "greatest also offer Smith its "greatest help" in its "ceaseless effort to keep up with the exploding cur-riculum," he predicted.

1,850 PAYING SUMMER JOBS

EARN YOUR TRIP AND EXPENSES

IN EUROPE

COMPLETE TOUR INCLUDING ROUND-TRIP TRANSPORTATION $345

For Free Information Write to: AMERICAN STUDENT INFORMATION SERVICE Jahnstrasse 56a • Frankfurt/Main • Germany

always keep NoDoz in proximity.

If you find studying sometimes soporific (and who doesn't?) the word to remember is NoDozo. NoDoz alerts you with a safe and accurate amount of caffeine—the same refreshing stimulant in coffee and tea. Yet non-habit-forming NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable. So to keep perspicacious during study and exams—and while driving, too—

The safe stay awake tablet - available everyw

VOL. XC NO. 40

ADELPHIA

SPEAKS

See p. 2

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1961

Advanced Placement Success Considered

5¢ PER COPY

dvanced work in certain subjects without first taking introductory courses? According to studies conducted at UMass, they can and do.

Guidance Director William F Field announced that this year's first-semester grades, now being recorded, indicate that freshmen in the University's program for superior students are as successful in advanced work as others are in introductory work.

On the basis of high school records, college classification tests, and faculty evaluations, 1200 advanced placements were made in the current freshman class. Since certain students achieved advanced standing in more than one course, the 1200 figure refers only to courses and does not indicate the total number of students involved. According to Dr. Field, however, approximately one-third of the freshman class of 1750 students earned advanced placement in one or more academic courses. Par-ticipants in the program gained full credit for the courses waived as well as for successfully com-pleted advanced courses.

Dr. Field said that there was

Dr. Field said that there was little doubt about the effective-ness of the program. "These 1200 specialized placements represent opportunities for broader educational experience and speedier

'On the instructional side, the program helps to prevent needless duplication of effect. There is no need for instructors in basic courses to give attention to students who do not need such attention. The whole process thus makes for maturity in our educational approach."

Exemptions granted in the first connected in place of the process.

semester included 169 in English composition and 171 in basic col-lege mathematics. Thirty-eight students were exempted from the first-year zoology course, while 24 others were permitted to take a chemistry course covering two full years of work in a single academic year. Most of the exemptions were granted to stuexemptions were granted to stu-dents proficient in one or more languages, with French having the highest number of advanced placements. Approximately 400 students demonstrated public speaking ability and were ex-empted from the basic speech

Dr. Field, in commenting on the overall performance of the fresh-man class, pointed out that the Commonwealth's high schools can take a great deal of credit for the general achievement of the class. He pointed in particular to the high percentage of freshmen prepared to take advanced work English, mathematics, and (Continued on page 6)

Glenn Miller Band To Play At Winter Carni Ball Feb. 10

Ed Hazlett and Jack Wylde, co-chairmen of the Winter Carni-val Ball Committee, have an-Glenn Miller Band has been chosen to play for the Winter Carni Ball next Friday.

The band, under the skillful and talented direction of Ray McKinley, will supply explant.

Kinley, will supply excellent dance music in the original Glenn Miller tradition for which it is so renowned.

McKinley, who took over direction of the Miller band after the untimely loss of Maj. Glenn Miller over the English Channel in December 1944, was the drummer of the Miller Army Air Force hand.

Miller was en route to a Christmus engagement for American GI's when his Air Force plane went down

McKinley played with the Will Bradley band, and for a time fronted his own band. A close, personal friend of Miller's, McKinley joined the Army Air Force band in 1943. He assisted staff arranger leave Gray on well roree band in 1940, the assisted staff arranger Jerry Gray as well as being the mainstay of the rhythm section. As a drummer, McKinley is known for his sharp, incisive drumming.

Lesley Payzant, who is in charge of decorations for the Ball, has said that the decor will follow the old fashioned theme, with gaslights and pot-bellied stoves.

Only one thousand tickets are being offered this year, and it is suggested that you get yours as soon as possible, since the supply will be far less than the demand. They can be purchased, along with tickets for all other Carni events, at the ticket window in the Student Union from 9:00 to 4:30 daily. The price is $4.00 per couple.

Dress for the Ball will be semi-formal and it will run from 8:30 to 12:30 with the coronation of the Queen to take piace at inter-mission. She will be crowned by President Lederle.

Collegian Training Course To Be Launched Monday

The Collegian will conduct a special orientation workshop for students wishing to join the news paper's staff, it was announced paper's stall, it was announced today. The workshop will be open to all students, with or without prior newspaper experience, who wish to join the Collegian in any capacity.

The workshop will be conducted for a four-week period. The week-ly program will begin Monday evening, Feb. 6, at 7 p.m. in room E13 of Machmer Hall. The classes will be instructed by Donald D. Johnson '61, news editor of the Collegian, and James R. Reinhold

'61, the assistant news editor.

Topics to be covered in the four-week workshop include reporting, journalism writing, copy-editing, page make-up, and headline writing.

The two seniors also conducted a similar training workshop last semester, attended by 30 stu-dents. This semester's workshop will stress depth reporting, writ-ing styles, and copy-editing tech-

At the completion of the sessions, participants will be given the opportunity to join the staff, according to the individual's preferences.

"We hope that all with a de-re to learn how the Collegian functions will avail themselves of this opportunity," Johnson stated.

Varel & Bailly Team To Perform Monday

Varel and Bailly with the Chanteurs de Paris will give a concert program Monday, Feb. 6 at 8 p.m. in Bowker Auditorium. Their performance will mark the fourth presentation of the 1960-61 University Concert Series.

As France's top song-writing team, Varel and Bailly have had tam, Varel and Bailly have had their songs introduced by such entertainers as Edith Piaf, Genevieve and Lena Horne. Together with the Singers of Paris, they are currently on their third American tour. They have previously appeared on the Ed Sullivan, Patrice Munsel and Gary Moore television programs.

University student groups have been especially enthusiastic in their acceptance of the Varel-Bailly group. The Chanteurs de Paris will be in costume for many numbers and will both sing and dance.

Following the concert, there will be an informal reception for will be an informal reception for the group in the Colonial Lounge of the S.U. It is hoped that stu-dents will turn out to meet and talk with these talented young men. As a measure of considera-tion for the performers, the Con-cept Association wishes to an Association wishes to announce that no autographs will e permitted.

Admission to the concert for students will be ID cards. For other persons not holding series membership, tickets will be $1.00 and may be obtained either at the Student Union ticket office or at the doo. There will be no admission fee for the reception, and (Continued on page 6)

New Infirmary To Stress Personal Patient Attention

by DICK HAYNES '64 Collegian Staff Reporter

The new million dollar UMass infirmary, currently under construction immediately north of Brooks House will be opened in the fall.

One wing of the structure, which is being entirely financed by state funds, will be devoted to out-patient care. This wing will contain five physicians' consultation rooms, several examina-tion rooms, and a room especially designed for the administering of

Individual Attention Stressed

This arrangement of facilities, Dr. Robert Gage reported, will make it physically possible for the first time for a student to enjoy an individual and personal relationship with a physician.

There will also be a minor surgical room, This will make possible certain surgical services for which students have previously been referred to off-campus physicians. The entrance lounge which serves as a waiting area is designed to contain a study

The second floor will have of-The second Hoor will have op-fices for the Director of Mental Hygiene and his associates, two four-bed isolation wards, a large kitchen, and a staff library and conference room.

Will Contain Physiotherapy Facilities
A major addition to the existing facilities will be the physiotherapy room providing opportu(Continued on page 7)

New million dollar infirmary nears completion; to be opened for service before fall,

Senate Considers Regulation Requiring 2.0 For Officers

The R.S.O. Committee recently passed by a 9 to 5 vote a motion which declares all students with averages below 2.0 ineligible to hold office in any R.S.O. organization. Two members abstained.

The motion is currently before the Student Senate, It will be-come law for the 1961-62 session if the Senate approves the meas-

Scheduled to come up at next Scheduled to come up at head Wednesday's meeting, the measure could easily become the most disputed bill of the current session. However, while there seems to be strong feeling on both sides, few would venture a guess as to the outcome

Seniors favoring the motion in-clude President Dennis J. Two-hig, Vice-president Gail Osbaldeston, Senator Donald Croteau, Peter Watson, and William S. Knowlton.

Opponents of the bill include enators Robert Trudeau, Arthur "Tex" Tacelli, and Raymond G.

Adelphia has declared itself to Adelphia has declared itself to be solidly against the measure. If enacted, the measure would affect some of the largest organizations on the campus. WMUA, Index, and the Collegian are all notorious for having officers with low averages.

ADELPHIA OUESTIONS R.S.O.

The Recognized Student Organizations Committee has recently proposed to the Student Senate a motion to the effect that a 2.0 cumulative average be a pre-requisite for election to office in any rec ognized student activity. Few will disagree that this motion, if passed, will protect some organizations from difficulties that might arise should an officer leave school because of academic reasons, but also more important, it will prevent the inexperienced student from assuming an overload of obligations. On the other hand, this motion not only deprives organization of using its own discretion in picking its leaders, but it also arbitrarily deprives some students from participating in an executive capacity. This motion seems to imply that extra-curricular activities will be in essence, an incentive to academic achievement. Can the lure of reward through recognition in an extra-curricular activity induce schol arship? IS THIS THE WAY THAT THE ACA DEMIC STANDARDS OF A UNIVERSITY ARE

The intention and sincerity of the R.S.O. Com mittee can be appreciated, but the important right of the organization to use its own judgment in selecting its leaders will be denied. A recommendation that the various organizations re-evaluate their criteria for selection of their officers would not be an impingement on the rights of an organization. as their hastily concluded directive certainly would. In this matter, as in any problem involving election procedures and the element of free choice, the question of the means justifying the ends must be considered. The student body and its representatives in the Student Senate should seriously consider the grave implications of this motion.

-ADELPHIA

Straight From The Shoulder

by DEANNA HARRINGTON '63

Have you ever noticed how much man loves straight lines? Symmetry, balance, and straight lines-these he continually expresses and strives for, in his architecture, landscaping, and personal affairs He paints scenes of other men and natural things with composition in mind, leaving it to other sensitive eyes to point to the lines of his creation and say proudly, "see"? He erects buildings with straight walls and floors, with straight tiles pasted on them; outside he plants bushes and trees that balance each other nicely. Inside, the doorjambs are vertical and are the bedposts. Man's windowsashes straightly aligns at least as much for his eye as for good working order. When a picture on the wall hangs crookedly, he must either straighten it or

Have you seen man's favorite designs? To be sure, these decorations may incorporate curves, but see?-it all balances nicely. Paper edges, phonograph sides, matchsticks, ceiling beams, even his nose and backbone man likes straight.

The same human beings who wear their tie-clips and skirt-hems perfectly horizontal mark out their days into vertical hours, their affairs into rows for the most efficient, straight-forward march,

Oh, there is everything commendable to be said about challenge and activity in a man's or a nation's life, say most men. Yet despite the intervention of complications into the individual or mass desires, man-somewhat oddly-continues to formulate new plans in their simple outline. He never ceases to plan on a straight-line progression from here to there regardless of how well experience has taught him, presumably, to take unforseeable chance into ac-

Imposing his conception of simplicity and order on a mass of ideas and objects basically chaotic, man finds one thing particularly difficult to either find or, once found, develop. If it were more frequently encountered, Man's beloved straight-line thinking would come easier to and be more productive for him. That respected and yet usually feared thing is a straight tongue.

A straight tongue speaks the truth

Contemporary Jazz

by RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

My good friend, Mike Blum (just returned from Europe and now My good friend, Mike Blum (just returned from Europe and now entering University of Florida for grad work), who did the jazz column for the Collegian previously: recently "discovered" Miles Davis. Mike had thought Miles' trumpet "too subtle" . . . "too much understatement and underplaying." One day Mike listened to all his Miles' sides and came to me with the enthusiastic conclusion that, "Miles is a genius . . . I've been taking him for granted all this time." Mike's refusal to "close the book" on Miles is a testimony to his openmindedness—a quality I would like to emulate in this column.

Miles Davis' latest Columbia album, "Sketches of Spain" establishes beyond a doubt his true genius. He ranks with Charlie Parker as an innovator, creator and an influence on other jazzmen. On a musical level, "Sketches" is a subtle blend of Spanish folk tunes and flamenco, the solo jazz trumpet and the orchestrations of Gil Evans. On an emotional level, Miles blends the flamenco or "Spanish blues" with the American blues; the classic Spanish tragedy with the tragedy of the negro in America; the excitement of the bullfight trumpet with the essential loneliness of the man.

The blending of all these elements remains completely natural ... Miles calls the orchestra "one big guitar." The orchestrations were extremely complex and difficult yet never intruded upon the solo horn. The ensemble does not play "background music" but complements the trumpet at all times. Arranger Gil Evans has integrated a complexity of ideas into a deceptively simple product, whose richness if not immediately apparent is readily discovered in subsequent ness, if not immediately apparent, is readily discovered in subsequent hearings. The whole record has that "rare" feeling which seems to in-fuse everything about it. Miles' trumpet sounds almost like a human cry in places. Few have ever blown that horn with such complete control. Miles seems to be on the verge of making a mistake at times . . . it seems as if the notes just have to break but they never do. His horn actually runs thru the shadings of a cornet, flugelhorn, French horn and a horn not yet invented. His tone is always rich and "round" . . . even in the higher registers.

"Sketches of Spain" is a very subtle album. The tremendous excitement it generates is a result of the driving flamenco rhythms and the tense undercurrent. It is not cha cha cha . . . nor is it party music. As I write this review I am listening to the side thru a pair of hi-fi headphones . . . alone with the music. To me, Miles is essentially a lonely cry. The liner notes quote this Spanish poem:

> "Alas for me! The more I seek my solitude, the less of it I find. Whenever I look for it, My shadow looks with me."

Those who do not like introspective or subtle music should not rush right out and buy this album (CL 8271 mono, CS 8271 stereo). But the album is truly great. Rarely has an American musician so completely suffused himself in the ethnic feeling of another culture. The liner notes compared Miles to an Andalusian gypsy who took up trumpet instead of guitar. Mike Blum got "homesick" for Spain while we listened to it. The music is authentic in every sense . . . it is a tribute to the universality of this jazzman's soul.

BOOKS

by LORRAINE GELPEY

We all have a bit of the slob in us. You and you and YOUum, even me. You know what I mean when I say slob; of course, you do. I know I don't have to elucidate. There's this book that does it anyway. It's called A Piece of the Action, and it was written by Herb Gardner-the creator of those little icons, the Nebbishes. We all love Nebbishes; we all love all those cartoons especially the one of the two of us with our feet on our desk, our body, soul, and mind in a state of incomparable relaxation with our sentiments expressed so very neatly: "Next week we've got to get organized."

This book is a novel, the author's first. It's a good one. Clever, amusing, satiric-you know the stuff from the cartoons. But it's more than them, it's a novel, I don't know very much about Mr. Gardner just what it said at the end of the book. But from the sound of the brief biographical note, I know quite a bit about him. My guess is that the book is pretty much autobiographical because it is about a guy who creates slobs who bear a remarkable resemblance to the Nebbishes you can find in the bookstore.

A Piece of the Action has a piece of just about every kind of work, play, thievery, sex (knew that one would get you), love, pathos, conflict-you know, the whole gamut, so to speak. It takes place in the city-yes, of course, New York City. No help for the would-be tourist though. Not a word mentioned about Mama Leone's. But read it anyway. It's one of those little fifty-cent wonders by Ballentine Books. And it only costs seventy-five. A bargain at half the

Attention All Creative Artists

The Literary Magazine deadline for short stories, essays, poetry, photography and art has been extended. Original student work will be due Monday, February 13 for consideration for publication in the winter issue. Submit your work to a member of the staff or leave it in the Literary Magazine basket in the Collegian office.

LETTERS

BRAIN-WASHING?

The Air Science Department of this university, with a shrug of self-righteous indifference, gave the principle of separation of church and state a slap in the face Jan. 10, the Tuesday before finals. Whether it was a result of ignorance, expediency, or outright religious bigotry, they owe everyone a prompt ex-planation. Why, at an assembly that all sophomore air cadets were required to attend under threat of demerits, was the film "International Morality" shown? We have no protest against the alleged purpose of the film-to show methods of Communist brain-washing and to discuss political and military questions—but didn't the department realize that it had been taken from the television series, The Catholic Hour, and had a definite religious bias?

Why did the officers in charge of the assembly demand such strict attention to the contents of the film, even to the extent of calling the cadets to at-tention when widespread displeasure became evident, tention when widespread displeasure became evident, and telling them to heed the message contained, just before a priest came on the screen to give his sermon? Were they completely ignorant of the fact that the end of the film was devoted entirely to propagating Catholic dogma and advocating that in order to defeat Communism we must all join the Roman Catholic faith? The officers seemed completely oblivious to any possibility that the audience might be of different religious faiths, and gave no indication whatsoever that official Air Force policy differed in any way from the opinions expressed in the picture.

Whatever the reason, such infringements on our freedom of religion—whether the offender be Protestant, Catholic, or otherwise—have got to stop. A film such as that shown last month would have been more appropriately sponsored by the Newman Club—not by a branch of the United States Armed Forces.

William D. Parry James E. Baskin Ronald D. Lees Stephen M. Ford

ICY CRITICISM

Not too many years ago, the campus pond was installed at considerable expense to the University. I would like to call to attention the fact that the pond's coefficient of sliding friction is much too high. I realize that pulling one's self up and dusting one's self off can be a valuable experience and often helps to build character. After falling on one's derriers a faw times however the experience be often helps to build character. After raining on one derrière a few times, however, the experience becomes less and less valuable, and more and more painful. This condition could be remedied very siminary inexpensively by coating the pond with a ply and inexpensively by coating the pond with a few inches of water, thereby putting a new surface on it. I am certain that the skating enthusiasts of the University would be very grateful.

A would-be skating enthusiast, Yours, Bob McAlear '64

The Massachusetts Collegian

Larry Popple '63 Assistant News Editor James R. Reinhold '61

Editor-in-Chief
Larry Rayner '61

Editorial Editor
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62
Sports Editor
Al Berman '62
Photography Editor
Larry Popula '62

Advertising Manager
Advertising Manager Advertising Manager Howard Frisch '62 Circulation Manager Barry Ravech

FRI.: News Associate, Bruno DePalma '63; Feature Associate, Audrey Rayner; Editorial, Lorraine Gelpey; Sports, Ben Gordon; Copy, Joe Bradley, Pat Barclay, Jean Cann.

ssociates: Sally Malialleu, Judy Dickstein, Lorraine Gelpey.
Staff: Bill Avery. Carolynd Cheney, Lesley Dodge, Deanna
Harrington, Jim O'Hearn. Michael Palter, Genievewe Reall, Martha Sandrof, Anne Slayton, Kenneth H. Smith, Judith St. Jean, Susan Strange, Jim Trelease, Pete Watson.

NEWS
Associates: Richard Howland, Beth Peterson, Bruno DePalma.
Senior Reporters: Don Croteau. Patricia Ward.
Special Reporters: Jack Baptista, Joan Biodgett, Barbara

Feature Associates: Jean Cann, Patricia Barciay, Margery Bouve. Women's Page Editors: Marie Mortimer, Frances Maxiars. Entered as second class matter at the post office at An herst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academy year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice week the week following a vacation or examination period; when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailin under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amende by the act of June 11, 1984.

Pinnings

Ruth Koskela, KKG to Bruce "Swampy" Marshman, Theta Delta Chi, Lafayette College. Donna Hastings to Donald Hastings, RSE, Rensselaer.

Jan Stewart, Alpha Chi to Mat Collins, Theta Chi.

Collins, Theta Chi.
Dottie Goodwin, KAT to Bill
Jeremiah, Phi Gamma Delta, Lafayette.
Prudie Sharpe, Crabtree, to Robert Reed, Sigma Phi Epsilon.
Carole Townsley, Lewis, to Harry Annable, Alpha Gamma

Rho.
Ginger Blais, Thatcher, to Dick Babeu, Tau Beta Kappa, Paul Smith J. College.
Engagements
Joyce Mitchell, Crabtree to Kenneth Olson, Wrentham, Mass. Marie Lazard, Crabtree, to James Stevenson, Theta Chi. Barbara Feldman, KAT to Irv Burnstein, Miami Beach, Fla. Jean Whitehouse, Lewis, to Joseph Bernier, Tewksbury. Sandy Friar, KKG, to Jim Forkey, Phi Sigma Kappa. Carol Graeber, KKG, to Jerry O'Connell, Phi Sigma Kappa. Suzanne Drew, Thatcher, to Dave Osterhout, Alpha Gamma Rho.

Janet Bardarzi, S.K., to Paul Kellet, Suffolk Univ.

FASHIONETTES

When you hang a raincoat to drip dry after laundering, stuff the pockets with tissue. This holds them open so even the inside corners will dry out. This trick is recommended especialy for coats made of practically air-tight plastic.

Packing sweaters for travel? Fold in the sleeves and roll the sweaters to prevent ridges and take less space.

take less space.

Sarah Coventry, jewelry designer, suggests you tuck a clip, brooch or earring in your party hairdo. But do it quickly, casually—for a rakish, gala look. It's a conversation piece, an ice breaker—and pretty, too.

Sporty dresses hit the high road to the southland Women's orty dresses hit the high to the southland. Women's Wear Daily reports that hemlines slightly above the knee and well above the knee are the order of the day. The short look offers a feminine alternative to shorts.

A three-hour cram course in hospital careers has been set up by Montefiore Hospital in New City.

Braniff International Airways was founded June 20, 1928.

Caries, the medical name for tooth cavities, is called a disease of childhood.

The Sororities Are Enjoying Frequent Exchange Suppers

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

The biggest pledge meetings on impus are being held at the Mt. Pleasant Inn these days. All 65 of the former Gamma Chis (and new Alpha Chi Omegas) are diligently learning their pledge manuals for the big weekend— Initiation Weekend on February 17, 18th and 19th.

Sandy Parmenter, who has been inactive because of illness, is back with us this semester.

The Alpha Chi Omegas are sorry to have to say goodbye to Mrs. Paul Agerwal who is no longer able to be an advisor. Dr. and Mrs. Agerwal have been named patron and patroness.

Judy Konopka has been chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Sondra Cary, '61 was recently married to David Geoffrion, '60,

Excitement is starting to build up as the date for Pledge Formal, February 25, draws near. As in the past two years, it will be held in the Coachlight Room of the Hotel Northampton, with Tony Ravosa playing.

Alpha Chi Omega welcomed three sophomores into the house Tuesday. They are Dolores Bed-narz, Linda Gardner and Betty Searles. Betty is also a finalist for Winter Carni Queen.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

During vacation, a brunch was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Grover of Auburndale for active and alumni Thetas in the Boston area. Many attended the brunch and enjoyed themselves immensely. The Theta's have recently had two very enjoyable exchange suppers with Sigma Alpha Epsi-lon and Kappa Sigma.

Bette Broberg was chosen as a nalist for Winter Carnival finalist

Theta is proud of Betty Slavin, Connie Ledger and Mary Ann (Blais) Bacus who made Who's Who in American Colleges and

SIGMA DELTA TAU

Congratulations to all the sisters on making such wonderful averages last semester. Let's keep it up and do the same this

Preparations are being made for SDT's open house which will be held on Sunday, February 5, 1961, from 2-5 p.m. Invitations were sent to all sororities, fraters, and dormitories. Unfortunately the freshman women are unable to attend, but the rest of the campus is welcome.

The sisters are looking forward to the many social events com-ing up this month. On Thursday, ing up this month. On Thursday, February 9, there will be an exchange supper with Kappa Sigma; on Wednesday, February 15, with Theta Chi; on Friday, February 17, a pizza party with Phi Sigma Kappa, and on Sunday, February 19, a buffet luncheon with Alpha Sigma Phi.

SIGMA KAPPA

The sisters of the house have been enjoying meeting and talk-ing with the freshmen and are

Dame Fashion Dimples Floors of Big Planes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dame fashion in her spike heels has given one maker of jet planes a flight problem not covered in engineering manuals.

Boeing Airplane Co. reported that the women created it when they started treading jet floor panels of traditional aluminum oneycomb.

Each slim heel on the shoe of Each sim neer on the snoe or a 110-pound female delivered an impact considerably in excess of 2,240 pounds per square inch. The floor panels, designed several years ago before the advent of the needle heels, had with-stood streams of pedestrian traf-

But the punishing jabs of the new heels broke the edges of the honeycomb cells just below the contact surface. The surface of the sub-flooring was found punch-ed with dimples.

Instead of trying to change fashion, the maker of planes developed new spike-heel resistant floor panels which will replace the honeycomb panels on 707 jets in production.

Designers say they should last about eight times as long as the honeycomb panels.

American Airlines, a firm with 8 of the jets in service, said it costs about $200 to replace each damaged panel of aluminum

The panels, incidentally, have nothing to do with the structure of the aircraft.

It is sub-flooring and under-neath it is a full basement where luggage, dogs, lobster and children's strollers are stored. looking forward to next week's Exchange suppers are soon to be held with Alpha Sigma Phi and Lambda Chi Alpha.

Next week the sisters will en-tertain Mr. Madeira, of the English Department. Sigma Kappa is proud of the five new sisters who were re-cently initiated. They are Linda Mugford, Kathy Rafferty, Isabel Millane and Ruth Lewis.

Preparations are now in full swing for the annual Pledge Formal. It will be held on February 25, at the Wycoff Country Club in Holyoke.

Keeping Down Aloft

NEW YORK (UPI) - Pe gers on at least one airline can now order a popular powdered diet instead of a meal.

National Airlines said steward-esses will serve the formula in-stead of breakfast to passengers on two morning commuter flights between New York, Providence and Boston.

Paper For Peace

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI)— The United Nations used about 650 tons of paper a year for re-production of its documents.

HOW SMALL CAN YOU GET?

Today let us address ourselves to a question that has long rocked and roiled the academic world: Is a student better off at a small college than at a large college?

To answer this question it is necessary first to define terms. What, exactly, do we mean by a small college? Well sir, some say that in order to be called truly small, a college should have an enrollment of not more than four students.

I certainly have no quarrel with this statement; a fourstudent college must unquestionably be called small. Indeed, one could even call it intime if one knew what intime meant, But I submit there is such a thing as being too small. Take, for instance, a recent unfortunate occurrence at Crimscott A and M.

Crimscott A and M, situated in a pleasant valley nestled between Denver and Baltimore, was founded by A. and M. between Denver and Baltimore, was founded by A. and M. Crimscott, two brothers who left Ireland in 1706 to escape the potato famine of 1841. As a result of their foresight, the Crimscott brothers never went without potatoes for one single day of their lives—and mighty grateful they were! One night, full of gratitude after a hearty meal of French fries, cottage fries, hash browns, and au gratin, they decided to show their appreciation to this bountiful land of potatoes by andowing a college. They to this bountiful land of potatoes by endowing a college. They stipulated that enrollment should never exceed four students because they felt that only by keeping the college this small could each student be assured of the personalized attention, the camaraderie, the feeling of belonging, that is all too often lacking in higher education.

Well sir, things went along swimmingly until one Saturday a Well sir, things went along swimmingly until one Saturday a few years ago. On this day Crimscott had a football game scheduled against Minnesota, its traditional rival. Football was, of course, something of a problem at Crimscott, what with only four students enrolled in the entire college. It was easy enough four students enrolled in the entire college. It was easy enough to muster a backfield, but finding a good line—or even a bad line—baffled the most resourceful coaching minds in the country. Well sir, on the morning of the big game against Minnesota, its traditional rival, a capricious destiny dealt Crimscott a cruel blow—in fact, four cruel blows. Sigafoos, the quarterback, woke up that morning with the breakbone fever. Wrichards, the slotback, was unable to start his motorcycle. Beerbohm-Tree, the wingback-tailback, got his necktie caught in his espresso machine. Langerhans, the fullback, was stolen by gypsies. Consequently, alsa, none of the Crimscott team showed up at

Consequently, alas, none of the Crimscott team showed up at the game, and Minnesota, its traditional rival, was able to score almost at will. Crimscott was so out of sorts that they immediately broke off football relations with Minnesota, its traditional rival. This later became known as the Dred Scott Decision. So you can see how only four students might be too small an enrollment. The number I personally favor is twenty. How come? Because when you have twenty students and one of them opens a pack of Marlboro Cigarettes, there are enough to go around for everybody, and no one has to be deprived of Marlboro's fine, mild flavor, of Marlboro's easy-drawing filter, of Marlboro's joy and zest and steadfast companionship, and as a result you have a student body that is filled with sweet content and amity and harmony and concord and togetherness and soft pack and flip-top box.

You will also find twenty cigarettes—twenty incomparable unfiltered king-size cigarettes—in each pack of Marlboro's new partner in pleasure—the Philip Morris Commander.

HI FI—STEREO COMPONENTS

— GARRARD — JENSEN HARMAN-KARDON — KLH - AMPEX

Complete Stocks of All Leading Manufacturers

BUILD-YOUR-OWN KITS T — EICO — PACO — DYNAKIT CITATION — H. H. SCOTT

Amateur Radio & Citizen's Band Equipment Tubes — Parts — Electronic Supplies

Soundco Electronic Supply Co., Inc.

-Western New England's Electronic Center-

Contract Bridge

by BOB WEBER '64

North S 83 H 10 9 8 6 3 DA987 C Q 7 East

SKQ52 HAQJ2 S A 10 9 H 5 4 D Q J 3 D K 1062 C KJ 1092 South (D) S J 7 6 4 H K 7 D 54 C A 6 5 4 3

Dealer: South All Vul. East 2 C 2 N West North South Pass 2 H Pass Pass D Pass Pass Opening Lead: C-3

When we have a minimum opening bid and the hand is distributed 4-4-4-1, as West's hand is, we open the bidding in the first biddable suit below the singleton. In the case of a single-ton club, we open the bidding one spade. We do this because our spade. We do this because our partner will probably respond in the suit in which we have the singleton. We may then make our rebid so that our partner may take a choice of our suits at the level of 2.

West opened the bidding one spade and East bid two clubs. West then made his normal rebid of two hearts. With the high cards in his diamond suit, East felt that no trump was a better contract than to hearts or spades. West bid his diamond suit, tell-ing East that he had 4-4-4 disbution, because he was afraid no-trump with a singleton club, even though East had responded in clubs. East looked at his hand and decided that notrump was the best contract and placed the partnership in game.

South led a small club and East won the trick with his King, taking North's Queen. Declarer then played a small diamond and played the ten from dummy. North won the trick with his ace and returned his last also which and returned his last club which South took with his ace. A small club was returned and declarer won the trick in his hand with the nine. He then led a small heart toward the dummy; East ducked and the heart Jack was played. East returned to his hand with a small spade to his ace. He led another heart and South He led another heart and South played his King. Declarer then played dummy's ace. He now took his good heart Queen, the King and Queen of spades and the King of diamonds and played a small diamond to his good Queen and Jack. East lost only two tricks, making five no-trump

Carnival Chairmen AskLimitedSkating

It has been requested by the people in charge of the Winter Carnival festivities that all students refrain from skating on that part of the pond which is roped off. This is a necessary precaution to insure that the ice will be in excellent condition when the Providence Skating Club appears on Feb. 11. Club appears on Feb. 11.

There will be skating allowed however in the vicinity of the hockey nets.

The Senator

Telephobia
Can the Senate do anything about getting more phones in the girl's dorms? Spending an hour in a phone booth trying to reach one number doesn't help my claustrophobia.

e Senate services committee is at this time negotiating with the Telephone Company for ad-ditional pay phones in the girls' dormitories. This same committee also uncovered the fact that school regulations allow the purschool regulations allow the purchasing of private phones, as was mentioned in an earlier Collegian. The administration does not disapprove and the Telephone Company is willing to install them.

Ice? On OUR campus?
Do you think our side-walks and paths will be properly sanded before the ice melts?

By the time you read this, the Services Committee will have contacted the Grounds Department on this matter.

Transferable Meal-Cards

I don't think the "non-trans-ferable" on the backs of our meal cards is fair. If a student has paid for a meal he should cer-tainly have the right to do what he wants with it, including giving it to a friend.

The Senate has considered and is considering this question. The validity of your assumption can-not be denied, but before the

Phi Eta Sigma Scholarships Offered For Graduate Study

Graduating seniors who plan to work for graduate degrees and who are members of Phi Eta Sigma, Freshman Honor Society, should get in touch with Robert S. Hopkins, Jr., faculty adviser of the University of Massachusetts chapter at South Callege. setts chapter, at South College.
The National Phi Eta Sigma

Fraternity offers two three-hundred-dollar scholarships each year on the basis of the student's

"non-transferable" can be moved, a system must be developed which would prevent the evolvement of greater "evils." For example, some students may be tempted to "double up" on the same card. This would only result in an increased board bill in the future. Suggestions on this subject will be welcomed.

Join Committee

My studies will not permit me to become a full-time Senator, but I would like to take some active part in the student government. Have you any suggestions Interested

Yes, I believe there are open ings for non-Senate members on some Senate Committees now. Contact Senate President Dennis Twohig through his box in the Senate Office, SU, in regard

R. W.

Spectators May non-Senators attend Senate meetings?

Most certainly. Meetings are every Wednesday at 7 p.m., in the SU Council Chambers. Seats mitted. are provided for spectators

INTERVIEW FEBRUARY

Candidates for Bachelors or Masters Degrees

Engineering and Science Systems Engineering and Sales

This is a unique opportunity to find out about the many career opportunities at IBM. The IBM representative can discuss with you typical jobs, various training programs, chances for advanced education, financial rewards, and company benefits—all important factors that affect your future.

SOME FACTS ABOUT IBM

An Unusual Growth Story: IBM has had one of the exceptional growth rates in industry. It has been a planned growth, based on ideas and products having an almost infinite application in our modern economy.

Diverse and Important Products: IBM develops, manufactures and markets a wide range of products in the data processing field. IBM computers and allied products play a vital role in the operations of business, industry

Across-the-Country Operations: Laboratory and manufacturing facilities are located Endicott, Kingston, Owego, Poughkeepsie and Yorktown, N. Y.; Burlington, Vermont; Lexington, Ky.; San Jose, Calif.; Bethesda, Md.; and Rochester, Minn. Headquarters is located in New York City with sales and serv ice offices in 198 major

The Accent is on the Individual: No matter what type of work a person does at IBM, he is given all the responsibility he is able to handle, and all the support he needs to do his job. Advancement is by merit.

The areas in which IBM is engaged have an unlimited future. This is your opportunity to find out what that future has to offer you.

Call or stop in at your placement office to arrange an appointment with the IBM representative for the date above. If you cannot attend an interview, write or call the manag of the nearest IBM office:

Mr. C. W. Sink, Branch Manager IBM Corporation, Dept. 882 273 State Street Springfield 3, Mass. ST 5-5371

u naturally have a better chance to grow with a growth company.

scholastic record, evidence of fi-nancial need, promise of success in chosen field, and personality. Only members of Phi Eta Sigma are eligible for these gift scholarships.

Local deadline for applications is February 15, 1961.

Eligibility Requirements and Basic Information:

1. The student must be a mem-per of Phi Kappa Phi.

2. The student must be a senior in one of our undergraduate schools.

3. The purpose of the Fellowships is to facilitate immediate entry to graduate study of outstanding seniors.

4. The award is for one year, the

5. Preference will be given to candidates with a definite purpose of proceeding to the doctorate or equivalent.

6. The student must have re-ceived the baccalaureate within 12 months preceding the initiation of the proposed graduate study. The Fellowships are to assist in fulltime graduate study immediately following graduation, and at no other time

7. The student must commence graduate study no later than September 1961. (There may be an exception for an individual involved in writing the student of th volved in military service.)

8. The student must be plan do graduate work in the field of his undergraduate major.

9. Professional study (law, theology, medicine, etc.) is not per-

10. Each applicant is advised to:

a. Apply at once to recognized graduate schools of his choice, preferably in American colleges and universities;

b. Apply also for waiver or remission of tuition;

c. Correspond with profes-sors concerning plans for graduate study;

d. Ask qualified people to supply references dealing with his capacity for graduate work:

e. Confer with Prof. John S. Harris (Chapter Sec-retary) about details of preparing application.

11. Prof. Harris must have the completed application form (plus transcript, photograph, and references) no later than February 15, 1961.

12. The U. of M. Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi may nominate no more than one candidate to the Na-tional Office of the Society for the 1961-62 Fellowship competition.

YOUR "SHOWPLACE"

AMHERST CINEMA

-NOW ... ENDS SAT.-All the fury of the searing

> "FEVER IN THE BLOOD"

with Efrem Zimbalist, Jr.

-SUNDAY - MONDAY-Elvis Presley "FLAMING STAR"

-PLUS-

"3rd VOICE" Edmond O'Brie

-STARTS TUES., Feb. 7-"Private Property" New Officers

Installed By

Fraternities

The new officers of Tau Kappa Epsilon were installed last night in traditional ceremonies at the chapter house, announced past President Phil Grandchamp. Tak-ing the oaths of office were Don ng the oaths of office were Don Brown, President; Ralph Sim-

Brown, President; Raiph Simmons, Vice-President; Bob Savoy, Secretary; Ted Osetek, Treasurer; Tom Connolly, Historian; John Sheehy, Chaplain; Bob Mulryan, Pledge-trainer; Boris Pawluk, Sergeant at Arms; Henry Makie, Steward; and Harry Tala-nian, Social Chairman.

OTV

QTV had installation of its new

QTV had installation of its new officers last Tuesday. Installed as President was Frank Pisiewski; Vice-President, Ron Baker; Master of Ceremonies, Bernie Murphy; Treasurer, Paul Cassidy; Steward, Doug DeVries; Corresponding Secretary, Ken Brophy; Recording Secretary and Social

Recording Secretary and Social Chairman, Jack Wylde; Chaplain, Marv Cook; Sergeant at Arms, Chuck Sherman. The new rushing co-chairmen are George Mc-Kenna and Dick LeGrande.

From The Greeks

University Freshman Wins English Prize

ly enjoying the high regard of his English instructor after giv-ing a $1,000 demonstration of his proficiency in the language.

Douglas Hedlund, son of Mrs.
Thelma Hedlund of Braintree, was declared winner of the money in a national essay contest spon-sored by the Encyclopedia Britannica. An outstanding salesman for the firm during the summer, Hedlund was announced as one of three top winners of national prizes awarded for essay-reports on summer selling activities. Hedlund's report was judged best in the entire Eastern zone. Other awards were given to Central

Presentation of the award-in the form of a scholarship to help defray Hedlund's college expenswas made in a recent cere es— was made in a recent cere-mony at the University. Making The presentation was Dr. John W. Lederle, president of the Univer-sity. Representing the Encyclo-pedia Britannica was Edward D. Hurley of the Boston office.

Enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University, Hedlund is a graduate of Brain-tree High School where he was a three-sports athlete and president of his class in his sophomore and junior years.

Sororities Announce Rush Schedule For Frosh Women

Monday, Feb. 6-Theme Parties at all Sororities, 7:00-9:00; open and invitation.

Tuesday, Feb. 7—Kappa Alpha Theta, closed date; Pi Beta Phi, closed date; Sigma Delta Tau, closed date.

Wednesday, Feb. 8—Alpha Chi Omega, closed date; Chi O-mega, closed date; Kappa Kap-pa Gamma, closed date.

Thursday, Feb. 9—Phi Delta Nu, closed date; Sigma Kappa, closed date.

Friday, Feb. 10—Preferential bidding in S.U. at 5 p.m.

Saturday, Feb. 11-Bids go out to the dormitories at 12:00 noon. Freshmen reply acceptance to sorority in person between 12:30 and 1:30.

Saturday, Feb. 11-Pledging. Sunday, Feb. 12-Pledging.

NOTICE

Freshmen — IFC Rushing Cards will be available in the Dean of Men's office throughout Rushing.

Monday, Feb. 13-Pledging. If there are any questions con-cerning this schedule, please con-sult your Panhellenic Handbook or a Panhellenic representative.

Weekend Buses To Resume Friday

"The Bus Service between U-Mass and the center of Amherst will resume its weekend runs this week Friday after suspending it for the exam and vacation period. This service provided by the busi-ness men of Amherst will run each weekend Fridays from 3 to 8 p.m. and Saturdays 1 to 6 p.m. every twenty minutes. 4000 rides were taken in the fourteen and a half weeks since September excluding vacations. A small charge of 5¢ a ride is made.

Fellowship To Cornell Offered For Seniors

Long Island City, N.Y.—A $4,000 Fellowship for the first year of graduate study at Cornell University will be awarded this spring to some outstanding young man from one of America's colleges or universities. It is the Hannibal C. Ford fellowship and is open to American citizens of sound character and of scholastic standing and initiative.

scholastic standing and initiative.
The Hannibal C. Ford Fellowship for advanced study in the Graduate School at Cornell Uni-versity has been established by the Ford Instrument Company to provide an annual fund to en-able an outstanding graduate from an engineering college to pursue full-time study in me-chanical engineering, electrical engineering, engineering physics, or mechanics and materials to proceed toward a higher degree. The $4,000 Fellowship will pay the university expenses for tuition, fees and similar costs and give the recipient a cash stipend of $2,500. He will have complete freedom of investigation into any branch of these fields of study in the Graduate School of Cornell. It is hoped by this Fellow-ship to encourage, in the first year of study at graduate level, talents and abilities in original scientific work so well exemplisigner and electro-mechanical genius, one of the nation's pio-neers in the development of ordnance and navigational controls and computers, and founder of the company which bears his name.

Ford Instrument Company, Division of Sperry Rand Corporation, which set up the Hannibal C. Ford Fellowship in 1953, is one of the foremost companies in missile guidance, digital and analysis companies alectronics, there missile guidance, digital and analog computers, electronics, thermionics and similar work in aerospace and other government activities. Winners of the Fellowship are not obligated in any way to work for the company.

Previous winners of the Hannibal C. Ford Fellowship were graduates from Rutgers, Brown, Purdue and Cornell Universities and the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy. Applicants for and the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy. Applicants for the Fellowship should write to the Dean of the Graduate School, Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. for application forms and full in-structions as to what informa-tion the University requires concerning their qualifications. Applications should be filed with the University by February 10 of this year.

Two Professors To Read Poetry At Jones Library

Prof. Leon Barron of the UMass Department of English and Prof. Rolfe Humphries, noted American poet and now visiting professor at Amherst College, will read their own poetry at the Jones (town) Library, Tuesday, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m.

Students are cordially invited to attend the reading, which will last about one hour and refresh.

to attend the reading, which will last about one hour, and refreshments will be served.

Prof. Barron, a native of Boston and a graduate of Boston Latin School, saw three years of army service in World War II before being graduated from this university in 1947. He holds advanced decrease from the University of the proper decrease from the University of the proper than the proper of the proper of the University of the proper of the University of the proper of the University of sity of Minnesota and Harvard. He has had poetry and literary criticism published in a half dozen different magazines and has taken leading roles in a number of operas and plays produced locally.

Prof. Humphries, an Amherst graduate, is widely known as a poet, editor, and translator. He has had six volumes of poetry published and has been awarded a number of prizes and fellowships for his varse.

Introducing the poets will be Benjamin DeMott, Amherst professor of English and author of the novel The Body's Cage.

Delicatessen Dept.

Get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Bottled under authority of the Coca-Cola Company by

Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

Vic Fusia Unanimous Choice To Succeed Studley

Pitt Backfield Coach Has Simple Formula

The anxious anticipation that followed the resignation of head football coach Chuck Studley was ended a week ago Wednesday when the University of Massachu
main with Fusia,
Fusia has very about whom he "team," and he l setts screening committee announced the appointment of Vic Fusia to the vacated position.

Fusia, who until now had been ackfield coach at the University of Pittsburgh, was runner-up to Studley last year, but was selected unanimously this time.

The former first assistant at Pitt has an easy formula for Pitt has an easy formula for coaching:

"Simple football," says he.
"When you teach simple football there are fewer chances for mistakes . . . and the fewer mistakes, the better chance you have

GLADCHUCK RETAINED

Fusia made it official that line coach Chet Gladchuck would be staying on and that more assistants would be named soon. Gladchuck has been at UMass since 1952, and will be working under his third head coach. He was retained by Studley when was retained by Studley when former coach Charles O'Rourke resigned, and now he is the sole member of Studley's staff to remain with Fusia,

Fusia has very definite ideas about whom he wants for his "team," and he believes that he will be able to secure the services of everyone he desires.
His first selection has already been named. He is Ted Schmitt, former Pitt lineman and line coach at Harvard since 1950.

VARIATIONS ON A "T"

Fusia, 44, says he's not sure how many changes he'll be mak-ing in last year's UMass "smor-gasbord" offense. He is waiting until he views the films of UMass games before he decides anything definitely.

definitely.

There are several things used at Pitt that he wants to try, however. "You might call it "T variations'," he said.

Fusia agrees that conditioning has its part in winning football.

"You have to be able to knock your opponents into the nickel seats—then finesse 'em."

Fusia, who has also coached at Brown, considers the academic picture in football. He claims that the player who has pride on the football field usually has pride in his studies. Football is no longer a game of athletes, but of student-athletes.

Vic Fusia makes his UMass debut with the members of the screening committee, who selected him to succeed Chuck Studley as head football coach. Seated, from left: WARREN P. McGUIRK, WILLIAM TUNIS, VIC FUSIA, President JOHN W. LEDERLE. Standing, from left: GEORGE RICHASON, JOHN GILLESPIE, EVAN JOHNSTON.

nt—athletes. the new goal in UM football Fusia hopes to continue toward philosophy—respectability in the Yankee Conference. He will work the Massachusetts area "as thor-oughly as possible" in search of top athletes. And he also plans to make a personal tour of the state's secondary schools when he comes to Amherst around Febru-ary 15.

ary 15.

He certainly has his work cut out for him. The Redmen in 1961 will be facing their toughest schedule in history. New additions to the schedule include Holy Cross and Villanova, as well as Boston University, A.I.C., and the YanCon regulars.

"I have no secrets in football," says Fusia. "I ask my players to do just two things—pray and give do just two things—pray and give 100 per cent effort."

Advanced Placement... (Continued from page 1)

eign languages.
Tests and studies made during the University's regular summer counseling program for incoming students provided the information on which all placement and exemption actions were based. Now in its fourth year of operation, the advanced placement proce-dure is part of an eight-phase program conducted by the Uni-versity for its superior students.

Speech Dept. Wants New One-Act Plays

The Department of Speech is looking for one-act play scripts written by UMass students, Anyone interested in submitting his script should bring it to the Speech office in Bartlett. Scripts received before March 1 will be considered for an early May proconsidered for an early May pro-

Varel and Bailly ..

(Continued from page 1) coffee will be served. University women are reminded that they are not due back at their dorms until one hour after the concert.

Future concerts of the Series include Rise Stevens on Mar. 14, and the Buffalo Symphony Orchestra on Apr. 13.

WMUA ON THE AIR

Jim Trelease and Howie Weinstein will be at the mike tonight and tomorrow night to bring you all the action of the UM-Maine twin-bill.

Salem refreshes your taste _"air-softens" every puff

menthol fresh

rich tobacco taste • modern filter, too Take a puff... It's Springtime! Yes, the cool smoke of Salem refreshes your taste just as springtime refreshes you. And special High Porosity paper "air-softens" every puff. Get acquainted with the springtime-fresh smoke of Salem and its rich tobacco taste! Smoke refreshed . . . smoke Salem!

Redmen Win Over Maroons Precedes Crucial Two-Game Battle Against Maine Bears

UMass Hopes Rest Upon Twin-Bill Card At Orono

squad, in a hectic last quarter surge, dumped the Springfield Marooners, 82-67, at the Cage Tuesday night.

7 7 3

The game was extremely close all the way through the first half. Twice the Redmen opened up 6 point leads, but each time the Marooners doggedly closed the gap. By halftime, the Redmen were hanging on to a slim 3-point lead, 36-33.

SOMEONE PRESSED A

BUTTON
Springfield caught up quickly at the opening of the second half. For several minutes the lead changed hands several times. Then, almost as if someone had suddenly pressed a button, Springfield seemed to die on the court as the Redmen took over the game completely. By 315 the game completely. By 9:16, UMass had opened up an 11 point lead. The merciless attack continued, with the brilliant defen-sive plays of Kirk Leslie and Jim sive plays of Kirk Leslie and Jim Laughnane, and the sharp shoot-ing of Leslie, Mike Mole, and Doug Grutchfield, until by 3:30 the Redmen were ahead by 22. Then, as coach Matt Zunic took out the starting team, Spring-field was able to come back slightly to lessen the defeat. The final score: UMass 82, Spring-field 67.

DRIBBLING AROUND

Mike Mole was the offensive star for the Redmen with 21 points, many of them very cru-cial first half scores . . . Kirk

Leslie again played his usually fine defensive game for the Red-men, and coupled it with a fine offensive putout of 19 points...

Doug Grutchfield was cold in the first half, but managed to come back in the final frame to total 15 for the game . . . Good, allaround, alert, hustling play was the main factor in the UMass victory. During their last period surge they continually stole passes and in other ways harassed the Springfield offensive plays.

The Redmen are now in Orono where they will play a crucial doubleheader with the Maine Wildcats tonight and tomorrow night. A double win for UMass is almost essential for any hope of the Yankee Conference Crown.

UMASS	FG	F	ГТ	SPFLD	FG	FT	T
Grutchfield	7	1	15	Merten	5	3	13
Widdison	0	0	0	Ek	2	3	7
Leslie	7	5	19	Marinko	- 4	4	12
Elson	0	0	0	Whittaker	ō	0	0
Black	2	5	9	Strong	3	3	9
Fohlin	0	1	1	Sylvester	0	0	0
Burgess	1	ī	9	Schriefer	4		9
Mole	10	- i	21	Zeranski	- 2	4
Wheeler	0	ô	0	DiChiara	•	0	8
Laughnane	5	4	14	Dichiara	- 4	1	9
Green	0	0	0
	*****	-	-		-		-
Totals	32	18	82	Totals	26	15	67

Canisius And AIC Defeated By UMass During Vacation

While most of the UMass campus community was convalescing from final exams, the basketball squad was busily at work winning two important games.

UPSET CANISIUS

On Tuesday night, Jan. 24, the Redmen perpetrated a major up-set by coming from behind to dump Canisius, 61-57, in overtime. The sacking of the highly-ranked eastern power was due in part to the accurate shooting of guard Mike Mole in the overtime period. Mike Mole in the overtime period.

Mole was responsible for all eight UMass' points during the extra five minutes. Mike totaled 15 points in the game.

Also to be commended is the fine work of sophomore center Don Black, who scored 17 points and whose fine all-around play earned him a spot on the All-

Other high scorers for the Redmen were guard Jim Laughnane with 13, and forward Kirk Leslie

Four nights later the UMass squad put on the greatest display of scoring power seen at the Cage in a long while, as it barrelled over American International Col-lege, 92-54.

Doug Grutchfield was high man for the Redmen with 22 points and Don Black again scored 17. The only other man in double figures was Kirk Leslie, who scored 16 points.

The Redmen played two of their finest games of the season dur-ing the vacation week, and the unfortunate part of it was that few students were around to see

Don Black Is On ECAC Star Squad

Don Black, Redmen 6-8 sopho-more center from Athol, was the only sophomore to be named Mon-day to the weekly All-East major college basketball team of the Eastern College Athletic Confer-selection Black's fine play against Canisius during the preceding week. This is the first such honor for any UMass basketball player yet this

The hustle shown by JIM LAUGHNANE throughout the season was quite evident in the Springfield game. Here Jim wards off a Springfield player before grabbing the ball. DOUG GRUTCHFIELD is looking on.

Frosh Basketball Squad Beats Springfield 85-68

by AL COHEN '63 Coach Dick Garber's frosh the team basketballers started slowly and then unleashed a strong, well-balanced scoring attack to topple Springfield, 85-68, in Tuesday's prelim at the Cage,

After the Maroons had taken command by 13-10 with about a quarter gone, UMass captain Roger Twitchell and Danny Laakso rebounded for a 38-28 Redmen lead at halftime. Jim Painten's soft touch accounted for 10 first half points.

In the second stanza the little Redmen broke fast for a com-fortable 45-32 lead. The comparatively small Springfield frosh had only guard Ken Sarubbi and forward Fred Bredice to counter. With sub Mike Johnson showing to good effect for the Garbermen lead was extended to 20

Bredice led all scorers with 27.
Sarubbi and Twitchell each garnered 18. All five starters tallied double figures as the Garbers posted their fourth win against four defeats.

four defeats.

The steady scoring of Captain Twitchell and the floor play of guards Bob Johnson and Peter Bernard were also big factors in the team's 81-63 win over A.I.C. last January 10. In that game the outcome was settled in the Red-outcome was settled in the Red-men's big first half. Strong re-bounding and good teamwork gave them a 43-25 midway bulge. Next Tuesday night fiinds Wind-ham Jr. College meeting the Gar-bers prior to the Rhode Island game, Windham looks particular-ly good this year. To their credit is a recent devastation of Stock-bridge.

UMASS FG Johnson, B. 6 Twitchell 6 Painten 8 Laakso 7 Bernard 5 Johnson, M. 4 Van B'dsky 0		15 18 16 17 10 9	SPFLD Sarubbi Accardi Jacobs McGrath Bredice Brooks Munson	FG 8 2 2 4 12 0 2	FT T 2 18 1 5 0 4 1 9 3 27 1 1 0 4
Gventer 0	0	0	munson	2	0 4
Totals 36	13	85	Totals	30	8 68

Hockey Team Defeated 6-1

The Redmen hockey squad was defeated by a strong Army sex-tet Wednesday, 6-1, at West Point.

One of the main factors in the loss, according to coach Steve Kosakowski, was the fact that, because of finals, the Redmen hadn't skated but four times in two weeks. Thus, they were greatly out of shape.

Even though they weren't in condition, they put up a fine showing for themselves, although it was the first time this year that they'd been held to less than two goals.

The lone score for the Redmen was made by Bob Stevens.

Outstanding in the game was goalie Bob Roland, who made 34 saves, several of which were extremely difficult.

The squad, now 4-3-1, will travel to Maine tomorrow, to meet powerful Bowdoin.

New Infirmary ... (Continued from page 1) nities for whirlpool, heat, traction and other forms of treat-

The third floor will be devoted entirely to in-patient care. It will contain 16 five-bed rooms, three shower areas, two solariums, and

The new infirmary is the first step in the planned expansion of the University Health Service.

BAA Results Mon.

GENERAL FOODS Announces ON-CAMPUS INTERVIEWS

At General Foods, one of the world's largest growth companies in the most basic of all industries — food—opportunities are open to professional people over a wide spectrum of technical and non-technical areas... in 23 divisions located throughout the United States.

Because of the scope of the company's opera-there is an excellent possibility that your career best be served here,

We will be most happy to discuss the potential of a GF future with you, if your studies are directed along the following or related lines:

RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT MANUFACTURING & PRODUCTION PLANT & MACHINE DESIGN MARKETING & SALES FINANCE

Campus Interviews Tuesday, February 7

SEE YOUR PLACEMENT DIRECTOR TODAY to arrange a convenient interview

Grutchfield Holds Early Lead In YanCon Scoring

Doug Grutchfield, captain of the UMass basketball squad, is the early leader in the scoring race of the Yankee Conference. Grutchfield, an all-conference selection for the past two years, has averaged 25 points per game in the two conference games played by the Redmen.

Tom "Skip" Chappelle of the University of Maine, the leading Tom "Skip" Chappelle of the University of Maine, the leading scorer a year ago, is right behind with a 24.0 average. The top scorers follows: top scorers follow.

PLAYER
Grutchfield, Mans.
Chappelle. Maine
Schiner. Maine
Hargen. UNH
Lee. URI
Becton, Vermont
Leslie, Mans.
Multer. URI
Mole, Mass.
King. Conn.

Dough Grutchfield, Kirk Les-lie, and Mike Mole lead the Red-men in total scoring. Dough

Doug has a 19.5 overall average, while Leslie and Mole follow with 13.0 and 11.7, respec-

SUMMER SCHOOL CLARK UNIVERSITY

INTERSESSION: JUNE 12 - JULY 1 One Course - Three Semester Hours SUMMER SESSION: JULY 5 - AUG. 19 Two Courses — Six Semester Hours

CO-EDUCATIONAL; ARTS • SCIENCES • EDUCATION • BUSINESS Write for Bulletin, Worcester 10, Mess.

CLUB DIRECTORY

COLLEGIAN WORKSHOP

A training and orientation workshop will be held weekly for four weeks, starting Mon., Feb. 6, at 7 p.m. in Machmer E13. All interested in journalism and/or Collegian ment should attend.

ROISTER DOISTERS

Coffee hour Thurs., Feb. 9, at 7 p.m. in the Commonwealth Rm., SU, for all persons who have worked in previous productions and those who are interested in working in future productions. An enjoyable eve-ning. General meeting Thurs., Feb. 9, at 11 a.m. in the Worester Rm., SU.

SKI CLUB

Sponsoring an intra-campus ski meet at Mt. Tom on Saturday of Carni Weekend. Entry blanks will be provided at club meetings. Meetings are held in the Barnstable Rm., SU, and not in the PHB. All meetings are at 8 p.m.

CAMPUS VARIETIES

The final tryouts for the twelve dancing parts will be held Sat., Feb. 4, at 1 p.m. in the Dwight House Rec. Rm. The twelve chosen women will know who they are immediately after the tryouts.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Coffee break Sun., Feb. 5, at 6 p.m. to be held at 768 N. Pleasant St. New program for this semester to be announced.

CARNI FASHION SHOW

Auditions will be held Mon. Feb. 6, at 1 p.m. in the SU Ballroom for all students in modeling for the show. Both men and women are needed. Women are requested to wear stockings and a belted outfit.

WMUA

The first meeting of this semester will be held Tues., Feb. 7 at 7 p.m. in the Ply-mouth Rm., SU. All members and also anyone interested in looking over the opportunities open in the campus radio sta-tion are invited and urged to attend.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Folklore Society at 8 p.m. this evening at 18 So. Prospect St. in Amherst. Students interested in folk music and singing are wel-come to attend.

Officers Chosen For Coming Year By Newman Club by JOHN HOLDEN

The Newman Club held its election of officers for the coming year, Tuesday evening in the Dining Commons,

The new officers are: president, The new officers are: president, Bob Savoy '62; first vice-presi-dent, Mary Jane Papp '62; sec-ond vice-president, Eugene Lam-bert '61; corresponding secretary, Connie Creamer '63; recording secretary, Penny Matthews '62; and treasurer, George Fisette '63.

Installation of the officers will take place on Sunday, Feb. 26, on WWLP television, channel 22 in Springfield. in Springfield.

After elections, Father Power, Newman Club chaplain, announced that the new Newman center will be completed, if plans go as sched-uled, by February of 1962.

The center will be located across the street from the Little Store, beside Theta Chi frater-

Three UMass Men Receive Prizes In Football Contest

Receiving awards from Liggett & Myers representative are, left to right: Alex Brough '62, Allen Czelusniak '61, and Liggett & Myers representative, R. W. Richards.

Nicholas A. Bazos '61, who was graduated from UMass in Janu-ary, has been named winner of the $300 first prize in a recent Liggett & Myers football contest.

He correctly predicted the score of the UMass-UNH game. Allen Czelusniak '61 and Alex-

Allen Czelusniak '61 and Alex-ander Brough, Jr. '62 won second and third prizes, respectively.

Thousands of contestants at 108 colleges and universities entered the contest by submitting empty cigarette cartons, with their predictions of the final and half-time scores in certain football

LOST & FOUND

Lost: (Before vacation) An enameled pin in the shape of a pansy. Made in Denmark, Janet Schoonmaker, Johnson House

Found: A sterling silver ball-point pen, made in Israel. Claim at the Collegian Office.

Lost: One right hand ROTC glove at the PSK smoker Monday night. If found, please contact Bill Coughlin, 477 Hills House

Lost: Man's silver wristwatch. 'Tissot' automatic. Initials on back. Please contact Jim Rode-heaver, 354 Hills House South.

Lost: A small plain gold ring and chain (no stone, engraved on face). Return to R.S.O. office. $10

Lost: Taken from Commons, German Heritage, and Education-al Psychology. F. McRevey, 218

MAKE MONEY! Dr. Frood is unable to answer letter from perplexed student. Your help needed. Lucky Strike will pay $200 for best reply to this letter:

Dear Dr. Frood: How can a man such as yourself be so wrong so often, so stupid so consistently and yet, at the same time, have the intelligence, good sense and outstanding good taste to smoke, enjoy and recommend the world's finest cigarette--Lucky Strike?

Perplexed

If you were Dr. Frood, how would you answer this letter? Send us your answer in 50 words or less. Try to think as Frood thinks, feel as Frood feels. For instance, his answer might be "HAVEN"T YOU EVER HEARD OF SCHIZOPHRENIA?" You can do better. All entries will be judged on the basis of humor, originality and style (it should be Froodian). Lucky Strike, the regular cigarette college students prefer, will pay $200 to the student who, in the opinion of our judges, sends the best answer to the letter above. All entries must be postmarked no later than March 1, 1961. Lean back, light up a Lucky and THINK FROOD. Mail your letter to Lucky Strike, P. O. Box 15F, Mount Vernon 10, New York. Enclose name, CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

WAGES

See page 2

VOL. XC NO. 41

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1961

Survey Here Shows Pay Below Average

by WARREN RICHARD '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

Results of a survey the Collegian recently conducted through 31 colleges, disclose the fact that most other schools pay more for student labor than does UMass.

On the average, the UMass student wage for general work is about 20 cents an hour less than average other schools pay.

The difference between the average minimum wage and the UMass wages varies from about 15 cents an hour for general laboratory assistants, to about 40 cents an hour for switchboard operators.

Wages for specialized work, however, are about the same or even above the average. Completed results of the wage survey are listed in an accompanying

The purpose of the survey, conducted by the Collegian with the help of the Placement Office, was to determine the average student wage from completed questionnaires returned by place-ment offices throughout the coun-

Questionnaires were sent to 41 chools in late November. Completed questionnaires were received from 31 institutions, 19 of which were New England campuses, and 13 of which were state universities. All who replied em-ploy students on a part-time basis. Seven replies came from small colleges with less than 1200 students, 11 had more than 1200 but fewer than 500 students, and 13 had more than 5000 students.

In addition to asking the student wage rates, the question-naire also included several ques-tions about how the schools manage student employment.

Eleven colleges reported that they pay for student labor in cash, ten pay for student labor in cash

Deadline For Scholarships Is March 15

All University scholarship applications must be completed and filed with the Placement service by March 15.

Assistant Director of Place-ment David P. Lawrence stated that the application blanks are in the Placement office now and should be obtained by interested students.

Many students lose out on scholarship aid each year, Law-rence added, because they have not bothered to fill out applications or have not returned them to him by the deadline

Lawrence also said that those students interested in learning more about financial aid should visit the Placement Office to read a new booklet, issued by the Placement Service, which gives all pertinent information about the University scholar-ship and loan programs.

and board, with the remainder of the colleges divided in offering cash and board, deductions from cash and board, deductions from student bills, and allowances on fees. One college reports bi-weekly payments to their stu-dent workers, four make payments weekly, seven twice monthly, twelve monthly, one twice annually, one both monthly and twice annually, and one both twice weekly and monthly. UMass both

Workers covered by insurance Nineteen of the schools questioned have their student workers covered by liability insurance. As yet UMass does not have any students are paid weekly by cash.

insurance plan.

Most schools, including UMass, do not make use of a student colleges, report Twenty-one not having an increased wage for night and weekend work. Only four colleges have a bonus plan for rewarding better student worker, and only five colleges give an automatic raise each academic year if a student returns to the same job held the previous year. Fifteen schools give raises on merit. UMass manages their raises as the majority, except that it gives an automatic raise each academic year if student returns to the same job held the evious year.

Maximum Hours Required Eleven colleges do not allow their students to work more than a set number of hours per week, varying from 6 to 40 hours. In one school first class students have a

(Continued on page 4)

Giant Fireworks Will First Night Of Winter Carni

over the Campus Pond will be the opening signal for the biggest, most fun-filled weekend the University has ever seen. The dis-play will begin at 8:30 p.m. Friday night just as the ball is getting under way, and will probably be best seen from the area en-closed by Goessmann Lab, Morrill Hall, the athletic field and Machmer Hall.

Saturday, thanks to "Old Man Winter," who seems to be trying to make up for the past three droughts, all of the plans of the Activities Committee will have Activities Committee will have been brought to completion and will be ready for use by those guys and gals who want to spend a day outdoors that they'll remember for many years I Snow sculptures will be on the Saturday agenda with the judging taking place from 10:00 to 12:00. The winners will be announced at the intermission of the Figure Skating Show which is to begin at 2:00 p.m. on the college pond featuring the Provi-dence Skating Club and the Amherst Skating Club.

At 1:30 p.m. another novel event will begin at the pond-side: The New England Sled Dog Association will put on an exhibition with four teams of nine dogs each. Following the show and a sample of how they race, they will give rides around the pond to interested spectators.

Those who have gazed per-plexed at the mounds of snow on either side of the Campus Pond will find the answers to their wonderment in the completion of wonderment in the completion of the Freshman Snow-Bowl; a twenty foot high heap of snow, around which one may slide at-taining great velocity yet going nowhere, and the Junior Snow-Slide; which will be an iced run beginning at Morrill Hall and ending at the pond. Trays will be supplied to reduce the coefficient of friction.

All of the above events are without charge and will be open to all throughout the day.

While you're enjoying the sliding and spectator events you can walk to the Sophomore Igloo behind the Student Union where refreshments will be available at popular prices.

Another facet of the weekend festivities will be reflected in the Fashion Show, which for the first time is under professional direction. Both men's and women's fashions will be shown by models chosen from the student body. The program will be held at Bowker Auditorium Saturday after-noon from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. Ad-mission is 50c per person and tickets are available at the Stu-dent Union daily.

Dr. Gage Announces Health Service Fees

by DICK HAYNES '64, Collegian Staff Reporter
Dr. Robert Gage has announced pertaining to health. plans for a greatly expanded Health Service for UMass students. Gage was appointed Director of the University Health Services in September, 1960 as a step in the development of an enlarged professional staff.

He has started his principles in the development of the Service as to: "Minimize interruption of full utilization by students of educational opportunities for reasons of health, to provide on campus as nearly complete medi-cal care as possible, and to ar-range for supplementation of campus medical care by provision for hospitalization and consultation with specialists."

Gage has also expressed a desire to contribute to the welfare university community the through information and guidance services especially in matters

STAFF TO EXPAND

Progress in the development of the new Health Service has in-cluded hiring a psychiatrist who will serve as Director of Mental Hygiene. It is anticipated that there will be two or three ad-ditional full time physicians.

Students to pay Health Fee Realization of these plans ould be too slow if based on state-legislative action. Therefore it is planned to have the Health Service financed in part by a student health fee. In the Fall of 1959, a Board of Visitors was convened by the invitation of then President Math-

This board, composed of phy sicians and administrators from Harvard, UConn, Dartmouth, Cornell, Williams, and Amherst, was
(Continued on page 3)

AGR Plans Addition To House

Artist's drawing of proposed annex and new house for Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity

The President of Alpha Gamma Rho, Dick Greene '62, has announced that Bernhard Dirk architect from Greenfield, Mass., has completed the plans for Alpha Gam's new brick chapter house.

The plans consist of a ten year program in which a completely new house will be built at a cost of approximately $150,000. The first step in this program is the construction of the $60,000 right wing, which will be built on the North side of the present wooden structure located at 406 N. Pleasant St.

Construction of the new wing will begin in May and is expected to be completed by the first of September this year. This new brick addition will provide housing for twenty additional brothers thus increasing the number of brothers residing in the chapter house to 43. The new addition will also triple the present dining hall space and thereby provide added facilities for social func-tions as well as for dining.

An additional $5,000 will be spent for the repair and modernization of the existing wooden structure.

Collegian To Hold Course In Journalism

The Collegian will start a four-week training course to-night at 7 p.m. All students interested in journalism are invited to attend these informal classes. The workshop will be held Monday evenings at 7 p.m. in E-13 of Machmer.

The Collegian is presently understaffed for reporting and rewrite personnel. Participants in the Workshop will be encouraged to join the staff in any capacity of their own choosing.

The Workshop program will be instructed by Donald D. Johnson and James R. Rein-hold, seniors in the news de-

A film on reporting will be shown at one of the class ses-

STUDENT PAY INCREASE DEMANDED

This Touches Your Pocketbook, Too.

We have conducted a survey. We have seen how other students are paid. We are aware that our demands are not unreasonable. We would like to see the rate of student pay at the University raised.

A college education is a costly item. Even at a state university, such as the University of Massachusetts, this is true. Many students would not be able to attend college if they did not help their parents with money earned over vacations and in part-time jobs during the school year. Unfortunately, here at UMass where the needy students should have a maximum of opportunity to help earn his education, he has less than the minimum opportunity. Not only are wages less than the minimum for any workers in the state, but they are also less than all but one of the 31 colleges queried in our survey. The average job-seeking student here discovers that he can only earn 75¢ an hour. This is 75% less than the amount that Congress is now considering for the national minimum. It is entirely unrealistic. Any student who hopes to out with his college expenses is soon disillusioned. He is unable to earn more than a pittance without sacrificing much time that should be devoted to study.

Why do student wages not come under the state minimum of $1.00 an hour? The answer we are given is that in allowing us to work for the payment of at least 75¢ an hour, the state, in a manner of speaking, is granting us a "scholarship". This, it seems to us, is a kind of double-talk. If the students were not working at the reduced wages, the University would have to pay townspeople 25¢ an hour more than they are paying the students. It is the University who is receiving the "scholarship" not the students. If the students were truly receiving the scholarship, they would be earning more than those workers who come from outside the student body and not less.

How do you feel about this situation? The facts are before you in the accompanying chart. The need for increased wages is present. We, on the Collegian, have tried to present some of the sides of the argument for you. We will continue to do so. But, it is up to you to make your feelings known. We welcome letters commenting upon our obviously unsatisfactory wage conditions.

ENTHUSIAM

A Prof. should have Enthusiasm Or else there's bound to be A chasm Between the course, the Prof.
And me.
'Cause this course is dull Futility
So, give me not just the Lecture's spasm Dear Prof. show too Enthusiasm.

-Warren C. Vinal Amherst, 1961

Letters

In Reply to Adelphia

To the Editor:

After reading Adelphia's comments on the 2.0 eligibility requirement (or 2.4 the previous semester if the candidate for office does not have a 2.0) passed by the Student Senate, I feel Adelphia has completely missed the reason for the ruling.

The problem of students dropping the responsi-bilities of an organization is not new. The following report was presented to this campus in April, 1959: report was presented to this campus ... "Our organizations are suffering the loss of key personnel at crucial periods of time. Many students are resigning from their positions because they are suffering from low grades as a direct result of overparticipation. Others who are over-active are hurting themselves academically and are doing their organi-zations and the University a great injustice." Ironically enough, this report was presented by the Adel-phians of that time. It is unfortunate that the Adel-phians of today do not have as much perception and foresight.

A point system for extra-curricular participation was recommended at that time. In the Adelphian editorial of Feb. 3 it was stated that a recommendation to the organizations would be sufficient. How-ever, it has been shown in the past two years that recommendation is not enough. The problem has be-come more acute. Students and organizations are

Rather than condemning the action of the R.S.O. Committee, Adelphia and the campus should be glad that students and faculty have finally done some-thing constructive in following up the recommendations of the former Adelphians,

R.S.O. Sub-Committee III Gail Osbaldeston Chairman

Talk Of The Week

Monday

"Deadlock Over Germany," Great Decisions Discussion, 7:30 p.m., Skinner. "Peace and Disarmament," by Prof. Maurice J. Vile, NATO Professor from Cambridge University, 8:30 p.m., Mead, Amherst Col-

Tuesday

"Does the U.S. Face a Dollar Crisis?," by Prof. Sterie T. Zeza, Princeton University, 2:30 p.m., Babbott, Amherst College. "The University of Massachusetts-Hokkaido University Cooperation Program," by Prof. Mack Drake, Chemistry Department, 7:30 p.m., Dickinson Hall.

RESULTS OF STUDENT WAGES SURVEY

In an effort to raise UMass student pay, the Collegian and the Placement office collaborated in preparing a questionnaire that would indicate a cross-section view of the hourly salary for part-time working students. Of 41 universities polled, 31 responded with helpful data. Below, the Minimum represents the average of starting salaries, and the maximum, the average highest salary. Where schools have a set salary pay scale, these figures have been averaged and listed under One Salary. The results of a University of Denver survey made last year is added as a comparison.

University of		Univ. of Denver Survey
Student Positions	Minii Survey	mum UMass	Maxi Survey	mum UMass	One Salary Survey	Minimum	Maximum
Typists	.95	.75	1.25	.90	1.20
Dorm Office Duty	.90	.60	1.10		.95
Messengers	.90	.75	1.10	.90	1.05
Library	.90	.75	1,20	.90	1.15	.90	1.10
Boarding Hall	1.05	.75	1.25 .	.90	1.15	.85	1.10
College Store	.95	.75	1.10	.90	1.10	.90	1.15
Janitors	1.05	.75	1.35	.90	1.25	1.00	1.25
Editorial Assts.	1.05	1.00	1.35	1.50	1.35	1.00	1.20
Faculty Assts.	1.00	1.00	1.25	1.50	1.40	.90	1.15
Technical Lab. Assts.	1.05	.85	1.75	.95	1.90
General Lab Assts.	1.00	.85	1.20	.95	1.20
Athletic Dept. Assts.	.95	.75	1.20	.90	1.10
Switchboard Operators	1.00	.60	1.25	_	1.15	.95	1.25
Parking Lot Attendants	.90	.75	1.00	.90	1.55

-Compiled by Warren Richard

Sound Of A Chanticleer

by Elizabeth A. Schneck '62

At this time, we as students, citizens, or just plain loafers out for a good time, are finding ourselves caught up in a web of institutional claims and value conflicts. The fact that we are caught up in some sort of web is apparent to some, primarily, are conflicted. web is apparent to some, primarily small and fragm-

For others, the fact we are living in a time of crises in which the For others, the fact we are living in a time of crises in which the nation's founding democratic principles are being challenged does not seem to be althogether apparent. These others appear to be ignorant c⁻⁻ indifferent to any situation that is immediately relative to their position. For all intents and purposes, these people may be called the Sleepers who hide behind sleeping pills, taking no real and conscious note of the cloudy world that is putting them into a hypnotic slumber.

What is unfortunate is that this latter and larger group of our society—the slumbering indifferent—are actually under the spell of a very effective hynotist. For certain, this is neither a very likeable nor very comfortable notion. But, the hypnotist, metaphorically speaking, is constituted of all the panderings and money-seeking claims of pressure group and value-formulating cliques in our society. And these run the gamut of institutionalization—from the well-mulled over Madison Avenue boys who do decide what will be good for us to buy and who, thereby, set the class standards of living to the less conspicuous, mass corporations. A typical example of this last are the food corporations who determine for each of us what and how many adulterants, additives, and preservatives we shall enjoy "without dangerous aftereffects." What is unfortunate is that this latter and larger group of our effects."

That such institutions can put their own desires and ends so blatantly and callously over on so many people comes down to only one thing: A large body of the American people are living a supersaturated life of content. Passively satiated, they are unable to question the motivations and perpetrations of self-interest ($) groups. On the national scale, this can not be viewed as too good. Since we must stand as a people in order to meet the challenges of a dynamic and nationals. as a people in order to meet the challenges of a dynamic and nationalistically-oriented offensive, we can not afford to be asleep in our very own society. We can not remain unaware, oblivious to what small internal groups are doing to the effectiveness and force of the nation.

It seems to me that not until a large percentage of the American people become willingly aware of the present situation—a nostalgiac indolence—can the nation face the larger questions of existence. And, the questions posed today—those of whether the nations of the world will be able to arrive at some sort of mutual and cooperative understanding in view of the odds of annihilation—seem definitely to require an answer or some approach to an answer or some approach to an answer.

quire an answer or some approach to an answer in the very near future... before the trigger-happy begin to play.

Analyses of current times and proposals for confronting these questions of existence and survival have been set forth during the past few years by alert and critical individuals. Minority groups of students and of citizens throughout the country have been organized to understand and cope with various facets of the chief question of derstand and cope with various facets of the chief question to understand and cope with various facets of the chief question of total destruction brought about by man's nuclear inventions. These minority groups' are steadily growing vociferous, adamant in their appeals for certain national and international objectives. Yet, frequently the objectives of these minority groups are either too limited or too broad and all-encompassing for effective action. In many instances, not realizing that the problem begins on the homefront, the appeals become misoriented as the group tries to run before it can walk. An answer can not entirely be found in these groups. An alert spirit of the people of the United States, as has been so in other countries, must be found. countries, must be found.

countries, must be found.

Those who claim the rights and privileges of citizenship have as an obligation in the continuance of the nation the responsibility to note the direction which the society is taking. Fear is being provoked by ambivalent feelings and contradictions brought about by members of the culture. A satisfactory way out does not lie in the complacent attitude. As students concerned with the future, we should begin to question the promotions and claims of the money-accumulation groups who are willing to sell out the better interests of the nation. The values of the people should not be allowed to become perverted, to lapse into a mood of meaninglessness and helplessness, to make the people the victims of themselves.

people the victims of themselves.

A general recognition of this problem is necessary first on the A general recognition of this problem is necessary first on the community and national scale. President Kennedy raised an important point in his inauguration address when he said: "Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country." The growing minority groups interested in the questions of peace and coexistence play an important and vital role by recognizing that a peculiar situation of crises exists. We can not sleep on, giving "nothing" as the answer to the President's question. Once alert, out of the hypnotic state, we will then be able to combat an idealogy that is trying to smother us.

ing to smother us.
*On the student level, for example, there are such groups as: the Student Peace Union, Challenge, Tocsin, and here in the four college vicinity, Synthesis.

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870 Editor-in-Chief Larry Rayner '61

Editorial Editor News Editor Donald D. Johnson '61 Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Sports Editor Al Berman '62 Business Manager
Michael Cohen '61
Advertising Manager
Howie Frisch '62
Circulation Manager
Barry Ravech Al Berman 02 Photography Editor Popple '63 Larry Popple

Larry Popple '63

Assistant News Editor
James R. Reinhold '61

m.: News Associate, Richard Howland; Feature Associate, Jean nn; Editorial, Sally Mallalieu; Sports, Al Berman; Copy, Pat Bary, Louis Greenstein, Joe Bradley, Jim Mulcahy.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed see times weekly during the cardenic year, except during vacation and examinan periods; twice week following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation and examinaen a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the veck following a vacation or examination period ex fine falls of the fall of the post of the fall of the fa clay,

MAINE VICTORIES CRUSH ALL UMASS YANCON HOPES

Leslie And Mole Shine For Redmen As Fouls Prove Vital In Both Mass Losses

by AL BERMAN '62, Sports Editor

In two games, both heart-breaking in different ways, the Redmen basketball squad lost all chances for the Yankee Conference crown this year by bowing to the University of Maine, 75-78, and 65-103, over the weekend in Orono.

The one was heartbreaking b cause victory was so close, the other because it was so far away. We'll take a look at the games.

"A GUIDE FOR THE DATELESS"

With the cost of dating rising higher and higher it is no wonder that so many of us men are turning to discus throwing. Naturally, we would prefer nuzzling warm coeds to flinging cold disci, but who's got that kind of money? Prices being what they are, the average man today has a simple choice: dating or eating. Unless the average man happens to be Finster Sigafoos.

Finster came to college with the normal ambition of any average man: he wanted to find the prettiest coed on campus and make her his. He looked long and carefully, and at last he found her—a tall job named Kretchma Inskip, with hair like beaten gold.

He asked her for a date. She accepted. He appeared at her house that night, smiling, eager, and carrying a bouquet of modestly priced flowers.

"Now then," said Kretchma, tossing the sleazy flora to a pledge, "where are we going tonight?"

Finster was a man short on cash, but long on ideas. He had prepared an attractive plan for this evening. "How would you like to go out to the Ag campus and see the milking machine?" he asked.

"Ick," she replied.

"Well, what would you like to do?" he asked.
"Come," said she, "to a funny little place I know just outside of town."

And away they went.

The place was Millionaires Roost, a simple country inn made of solid ivory. It was filled with beautiful ladies in backless gowns, handsome men in dickeys. Original Rembrandts adorned the walls. Marlboro trays adorned the cigarette girls. Chained to each table was a gypsy violinist.

Finster and Kretchma were seated. "I," said Kretchma to the waiter, "will start with shrimps remoulade. Then I will have lobster and capon in maderia sauce with asparagus spears. For dessert I will have melon stuffed with money."

"And-you, Sir?" said the waiter to Finster.

"Just bring me a pack of Marlboros." replied Finster, "for

"And you, Sir?" said the waiter to Finster.

"Just bring me a pack of Marlboros," replied Finster, "for if ever a man needed to settle back and enjoy the mild beneficence of choice tobacco and easy-drawing filtration, it is the shattered hulk you see before you now."

So, smoking the best of all possible cigarettes, Finster watched Kretchma ingest her meal and calculated that every time her fetching young Adam's apple rose and fell, he was out another 97¢. Then he took her home.

It was while saying goodnight that Finster got his illiant idea. "Listen!" he cried excitedly. "I just had a wonderful notion. Next time we go out, let's go Dutch treat!"

By way of reply, Kretchma slashed him across the face with her housemother and stormed into the house.

"Well, the heck with her," said Finster to himself. "She is

"Well, the heck with her," said Finster to himself. "She is just a gold digger and I am well rid of her. I am sure there are many girls just as beautiful as Kretchma who will understand the justice of my position. For after all, girls get as much money from home as men, so what could be more fair than sharing expenses on a date?"

With good heart and high hopes, Finster began a search for a girl who would appreciate the equity of Dutch treat, and you will be pleased to hear that he soon found one—Mary Alice Hematoma, a lovely three-legged girl with sideburns.

We're no experts on Dutch treat, but here's an American treat we recommend with enthusiasm—Marlboro's popular new partner for non-filter smokers—the PhilipMorris Commander.

FRIDAY NIGHT

In Friday night's game the Redmen started fast. By 11:00 the Redmen had pulled out to a 9 point lead, 22-13. But Maine was by no means collared. In just one minute the Bears had cut the lead five points, and by 6:53 had tied the game at 28.

From then on the game remained close, but the Bears always managed to remain ahead, and at half time the score stood at 39-38, Maine.

In the second half Maine quickly opened up a six point lead and kept increasing the rift until by 8:30 the Redmen were down, 53-61.

Then UMass, led by the re-bounding of Kirk Leslie and the sharpshooting of Mike Mole, chopped away at the Bears' lead, and by 4:44 the Redmen had tied the game at 65.

For 2½ minutes Maine kept taking the lead and UMass kept coming back. Then, at 2:11, Jim Laughnane sank a hoop that put the Redmen ahead, and a score by Don Black put UMass ahead by 4 at 1:31.

Then, as it looked as though the Redmen had the game about sewn up, they got jittery and started fouling the Bears. On five straight free throws, Maine went ahead, 73-74 at 0:33. The Bears scored twice more and Laughnane added the final tally for UMass before sounded at 78-75.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Then, Saturday night, the sky fell. In a game that was televised throughout Maine by a Bangor station, Maine put on a dazzling exhibition of ball-handling and shooting, and the helpless Redmen could do nothing but watch.

The game itself was decided early. Before even five minutes had passed, the Bears had run up an 18 point lead, and they in-creased their lead until by the end of the half they were ahead by 27, 57-30.

The nemesis of the Redmen in games was excessive foulpoint games was excessive foul-ing, but this fouling was most prominent in the second contest. Early in the second half Doug Grutchfield fouled out of the game, and 12 minutes later Mike Mole followed him.

It is doubtful whether Mole or Grutchfield could have done any-thing to save the game, however. The Bears were hot. In the 24 hours that had elapsed after the previous game, they seemed to have diagnosed most of the Redmen plays.

Whenever a UMass player would start a play, up would pop

UM Trackmen Look Good In B.A.A. Meet

by ABE SHEINKER '61

The UMass track team won one event and came up with some favorable performances in five others last Saturday in the 72nd annual Boston A.A. games at the Boston Garden.

The Redmen outran Bowdoin, Northeestern

Northeastern, and Springfield in a varsity mile relay as an-chorman Joe Lamarre staved off a late rally by Bowdoin. Sophomores Loren Flagg, Ken O'Brien, and Jack Harrington, making up the rest of the relay team, contributed to a 3:32.1 clocking, less than three seconds off the varsity record.

Ralph Buschmann, O'Brien,
Bob Avery, and Dave Balch gave UMass 5th place in a seven-team, two-mile varsity relay in the time of 8:13.8, which is some Maine defenseman to steal the ball. This complete ruffling of UMass plays upset the Redmen and they lost all their poise.

In addition, the Bears were deadly from the floor. Skip Chap-pelle, who was held to only 9 points in the first game, exploded Saturday night for 33 points. Larry Schiner scored 24.

Yet, with the huge lead that his team had piled up, Coach Brian McCall refused to remove his starters. Instead of taking the game by 20 points, and giving his second string a chance to play second string a chance to play, McCall kept the starters in and made the UMass loss more stinging to the already demoralized players. When the final whistle had blown the scoreboard read: Maine 103, UMass 65.

DRIBBLING AROUND

The only bright spot of "he weekend for the Redmen was the outstanding play of Kirk Leslie. Kirk scored 40 points in the two games and played his accustomed games and played his accustomed fine games on defense. The Maine fans and administration proved themselves very unsportsmanlike all through the weekend. The fans' conduct at the games was not at all befitting that of a University audient and the second conduct at the games was not at all befitting that of a University audient and the second conduct as the second conduct a University audience, and the administration's refusal to let the Redmen practice on the court was a flagrant exhibition of pettiness... UConn also has the same complaints against Maine, as do several other teams that have played eral other teams that have played in Orono, and there are many, many people just waiting for a crack at the Bears when they get out of their home playing court.

STILL DRIBBLING

Even though the Maine fans were extremely partisan, they couldn't help giving Mike Mole a stirring round of applause when he fouled out of the second game: a deserving tribute for an outwithin six seconds of the var-sity record in this event.

A third placing in a freshman mile relay was taken by Phil Danforth, Gene Colburn, Dave St. Cyr, and Al Morris.

In individual events, freshman Dave Collingwood made the high jump finals and placed sixth with a six for back. sixth with a six-foot leap. Another freshman, Bruce Piatek, took a fourth in the broad-jump with a fine 22-ft., 1/2-in. effort. with a fine 22-it., 72-iii. effort.
Sprinter Loren Flagg went as far as the semi-finals of the 50yard dash amid an Olympian field of speedsters.

Coach Footrick's men will compete next in the N.E.A.A.U. championships at M.I.T. on Feb. 8.

standing performance . . . Even though Skip Chappelle scored 33 points Saturday night (19 of points Saturday night (19 of them on free throws), the big man for Maine was Larry Schiner, who scored 24 points and completely contolled the boards . . . The Redmen will be seeking their first YanCon victory of the year when they meet Rhode Island Tuesday night in the Cage. The freshmen will meet Windham in the preliminary, starting at 6:30.

FRIDAY NIGHT UMAS 28 19 75 Totals 27 24 78 SATURDAY NIG

Totals 23 19 65 33 37 103

Dr. Gage ...

(Continued from page 1) charged with outlining scope and direction of the service's policies.

The board recommended that a health service fee be assessed each student. The fee would be administered as a trust fund.

Awaits Legislative Action

In December 1960, the University Board of Trustees approved this plan and authorized the President to implement the es-tablishment of a Health Service trust fund. All that remains for this plan to be activated is the approval of the legislature.

HI FI—STEREO COMPONENTS

H. H. SCOTT — GARRARD — JENSEN — AMPEX HARMAN-KARDON — KLH

Complete Stocks of All Leading Manufacturers

BUILD-YOUR-OWN KITS HEATHKIT — EICO — PACO — DYNAKIT CITATION — H. H. SCOTT

Amateur Radio & Citizen's Band Equipment Tubes — Parts — Electronic Supplies

Soundco Electronic Supply Co., Inc.

147 Dwight Street Springfield, Mass.

-Western New England's Electronic Center-

Christian Association Offers Open Classes On Religion

Registration is now open for non-credit classes in religion. Students who are interested should enroll in the Christian Association office before Thursday of this week.

The two courses which are open will be "Christian Faith and Human Relations" taught by the Rev. Thayer A. Greene and "Biblical Man and Contemporary Literature" taught the Rev. J. Springer.

'Christian Faith and Human Relations" will be an investiga-tion of the basic structures of Christian theology and of modern depth psychology to discover what these disciplines teach about the relation between man and man, and man

Special attention will be special attention will be given to courtship, marriage, and human sexuality. Both theological and psychological points of view will be discussed and compared.

Mr. Greene is a graduate of mherst College and Union Amherst College and Union Theological Seminary. On sabbatical leave last year, Mr.
Greene studied psychiatry and religion at the latter institution.

He is a former chaplain of Amherst College and is present-ly minister of the First Con-gregational Church in Amherst. The class will meet Fridays at beginning this week noon beginning E-25 Machmer.

"Biblical Man and Contemporary Literature" will com-pare man, his being and purpose, as viewed by contemporary writers and the Bible. It will meet Thursdays at 4:00 p.m. in E-25 Machmer.

There is no required reading, but among the books to be dis-cussed are The Fall, Moby Dick, Catcher In the Rye, and Murder in the Cathedral. The problems of guilt, meaninglessness and freedom will be investi gated.

Mr. Springer graduated from Ottawa Ottawa University and the Andover-Newton Theological Seminary. He is the Congregational University pastor. Both courses are open to any inter-ested students.

The third quarter of the year-long experimental curri-culum, "Inquiry" will be about contemporary theology.

Among the theologians to be discussed are Paul Tillich, discussed are Paul Tillich, Soren Kierkegaard, and Reinhold Niebuhr.

The course is closed for enrollment but interested students may attend the lectures, 9:00 p.m. each Monday in E-25 Machmer.

Literary Magazine Holds Competition For New Members

The Literary Magazine, a publication devoted to the creative publication devoted to the creative efforts of University students, has announced the date of its annual competition for persons interested in joining the staff. A general meeting and competition will be held this week, Wednesder Feb. 8 et 7:20 persons Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Collegian office.

Presented three times a year to the campus community, the Literary Magazine is a vehicle for the expression of student ideas and awarenesses in the poetry, and art. And in the aim of the publication to reflect, to the best of its capabilities, the intelectual tone of the University.

The general meeting is in-

Four Coeds Selected By Mademoiselle

UMass will be represented UMass will be represented this year on Mademoiselle's National College Board by Sally Burke '61, Judy Freeman '61, Sandra Golden '62, and Elizabeth A. Schneck '62. They are among the 842 students at 330 colleges who will report to Mademoiselle this year on college life and the college scene.

As a College Board member, each girl will complete an assignment that will help her ex-plore her interests and abilities in writing, editing, fashion, adwriting, editing, tashion, active vertising or art, in competition for the twenty Guest Editorships to be awarded by the magazine at the end of May.

The Guest Editors will be brought to New York for four weeks next June to help write, edits and illustrate Madagasia.

weeks next June to help write, edit and illustrate Mademoiselle's 1961 August College issue. Their transportation will be paid to and from New York and they will receive a regular

In addition to their work on the magazine, Guest Editors will interview outstanding men will interview outstanding men and women in their chosen fields to help clarify their career aims, will visit fashion showroom, publishing houses and advertising agencies and will take part in the parties Mademoiselle is planning for them them.

tended to give some insight into the role of the magazine and the role of the magazine and the part played by the staff members. A short competition will follow as an indication of the nature of the student's approach to critical analyses. All undergraduates interested in participating in the publishing of the Literary Magazine are heartily encouraged to come to this meeting. Anyone with innearthy encouraged to come this meeting. Anyone with interests in the editorial, artistic, or business aspects of publishing a college review should certainly consider the possibilities open at this time.

The deadline for contributions is the deadline for contributions of the contribution of the contribu

The deadline for contribu-tions to the Winter issue is Mon., Feb. 13.

-HELP-

The class of '62 is in dire need of assistance in constructing its mammoth Snow-Slide next to the Campus Pond, All Juniors are requested to contribute just a few hours this week to the project to insure its completion by the weekend.

Come to the slide area ar night this week after six-thirty.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: A small plain gold ring and chain (no stone, but engraved on face). Return to R.S.O. office. Ten dollar reward.

Lost: Whoever mistakenly took a black jacket with a black fur lining from the coat rack outside the Hatch, please return to Elaine Zeitzoff, 405 Leach.

SORORITIES—FRATERNITIES—DORMITORIES

WIN A NEW COLOR TV

Start Now

Collecting Cigarette Wrappers

FROM

Kent, Newport, Old Gold Spring, Old Gold Filter Kings

WATCH COLLEGIAN FOR FURTHER DETAILS

CLUB DIRECTORY

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION
Meeting Feb. 6 at 8:30 p.m. in Machmer E-25. Subject—"Inquiry" covenant and lecture.

DEBATE CLUB

On Monday, Feb. 6 at 6:30 in the Plymouth room of the SU, the club will hold a general meeting. A taped debate will be presented. Training of novices will begin and definite plans for tournaments and discussion groups will be started. Everyone is invited.

Everyone is invited.
ENGINEERING JOURNAL

Meeting to be held Thurs., Feb. 9 at 11:00 a.m. in the Engineering Building rm. 126.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE

Meeting Wed. Feb. 8 at 8:00 in the Bristol Room of the SU. The speaker will be M.O. Saunders talking on "The Master Plan", Refreshments.

LITERARY SOCIETY

The society will hold a meeting on Thurs. Feb. 9 at 8:00 in the

Worcester Room of the SU. Mr. Silver of the English Dept, will speak on the "Paralysis of Satire". All students are welcome to attend

SOPHOMORE BANQUET COM-MITTEE

Mon.-thurs, Feb. 6-9 sign-up sheets will be available at the SU Lobby Counter for all sophomores wishing to work on the banquet committee. The banquet will be held on March 28, in the SU ballroom.

RECREATION CLUB

Meeting will be held on Feb. 8 at 7:00 in the Worcester Room of the SU. Following the business meeting, refreshments will be served.

WATER SKIING CLUB

The first meeting of the club will be held Feb. 8 at 7:30 in the Barnstable Room of the SU. Movies will be shown. Open to all interested students and

Associate Degree Awarded To Stockbridge Graduates Designed to keep pace with fic courses in recent years, it the present academic program was felt that an associate dethe present academic program that now includes many phases agricultural science other n the practice of farming, an associate degree will be awarded Stockbridge School graduates at the University of Massachusetts starting with this year's graduating class. The Board of Trustees approved the action at its meeting last week following a recom-mendation of its Committee on Faculty and Programs of Study.

A diploma previously awraded for completion of the two-year technical and voca-tional course in the College of Agriculture.

With the addition of scienti-gree would reflect the higher specialized training now avail-able," said Fred P. Jeffrey, acting dean of agriculture and di-rector of the Stockbridge School.

The two-year school includes 12 courses ranging from practical farming to food management and distribution, milk plant operation, turf maintenance and forest products in-

Established in 1918 under the name of "The Two Year Course in Practical Agriculture," the purpose of the school was to meet demands for shorter courses in agriculture

Class Of '62 To Offer Several Scholarships

One of the most glaring weaknesses at UMass in recent years has been the lack of funds which can be made available to students for scholarships. This need for financial aid usually becomes more acute among upperclassmen, especially seniors, many of whom have used up much of their own money.

To help alleviate this problem, while at the same time promoting class spirit, the Class of '62 has decided to award several $100 scholarships to worthy students of the Class of '62. These scholarships will be awarded at Student Leader's Night in the spring, and will be used to help pay the costs of the fall semester of 1961. Those eligible for these scholar ships must be members of the Class of '62, must maintain a 2.5 cumulative average, must be in need of financial help, and must

All those who wish to apply for one of these scholarships should see David Lawrence at the Placement Office in South College. When requesting the application forms, applicants should state specifically that they are in-terested in the Class of '62 Scholarships and should write "Class of '62" across the top of the application form. The deadline for making applications is March 15, regarding these scholarships 1961. Anyone who has any ques-can contact Ted Souliotis at TKE.

Student Wage ...
(Continued from page 1)
10 hour maximum. Five colleges recommend a maximum number of hours varying from 15 to 30 hours. UMass recommends a max-imum number of 20 hours per week. No colleges reported having a required minimum number of hours.

In the last academic year 15 colleges found a shortage of student workers and seven a surplus Four schools including UMass had adequate workers.

Included in the accompanying chart is the results of a similar survey of western schools recent-ly compiled by the University of Denver.

Three years ago the results of a similar survey conducted by the UMass Student Senate and Placement Office were responsible for raising the minimum hourly wage on campus 15 cents per Announces ON-CAMPUS INTERVIEWS At General Foods, one of the world's largest growth companies in the most basic of all industries — food — opportunities are open to professional people over a wide spectrum of technical and non-technical areas... in 23 divisions located throughout the United States. Because of the scope of the company's opera-tions, there is an excellent possibility that your career may best be served here.

GENERAL FOODS

We will be most happy to discuss the potential of a GF future with you, if your studies are directed along the following or related lines:

RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT MANUFACTURING & PRODUCTION PLANT & MACHINE DESIGN MARKETING & SALES FINANCE

Campus Interviews Tuesday, February 7

SEE YOUR PLACEMENT DIRECTOR TODAY

Library Staff Unable UNIVERSITY OF To Up-Date Card File State Collegin State Page 18

TBTA

MAIN CATALOGUE ROOM OF GOODELL LIBRARY

A partial inventory of books taken last summer in Goodell Lihas shown at least 12,000 books to be missing.

Many student complaints have arisen regarding the missing volumes since the institution of the closed stack system this fall. Students have challenged the library's reluctance to remove the catalogue cards of books known to be missing. A frequently heard statement at the circulation desk is "The book seems to be missing", or "We cannot find the book", according to students.

Withdrawal Impossible

Hugh Montgomery, UMass librarian, has stated it would be im-possible to withdraw the cards of all missing books from the main circulation file at this time. He commented that there are at least six catalogue cards for each book, with some having as many as 25

According to Montgomery, it would require the work of four professional cataloguers for a full year to bring the files up to date. "At present our entire cataloguing staff is only four people, three of whom are professionals. The major portion of the time of these cataloguers at present, however, must be devoted to processing the new books received by the library (they can only handle 10,000 of the 20,000 new yolumes received annually) 20,000 new volumes received annually).

"We are interested in taking care of the current additions and are hard put to get this done, but we feel that this is more important than the inconvenience factor which is undeniable but unavoidable during the present UMass expansion program," he added.

Some cards are being removed from the main file at present, owever. Mainly American and English literature books are in this

Miss Irene Kavanaugh, assistant librarian, said, "It is a mistake to remove the cards before ascertaining that a book is permanently lost." She cited the case of a collection of Dylan Thomas works, completely gone at the time of the inventory, one-third of which have now filtered back.

Ten Professionals Needed

Montgomery indicated the cataloguing staff here should be brought to a complement of ten professionals, based upon the number of volumes and the student enrollment. He said he has had funds available from the state for a year to hire another cataloguer, but has been unable to fill the position. "It is easier to hire a Romance Language teacher than to find a capable cataloguer."

The library presently has a 3.4 to 1 ratio of clerical to professional employees. In a well-run library, the ratio is 1 to 1, while a tolerable ratio is 2 to 1. The professional must spend much of his time teaching and working with the clerical help. The professional must supervise 3.4 people here instead of just one or two.

Montgomery has asked the patient and intelligent use of the file for a year or two, by which time he expects to be able to begin the task of bringing the catalogues entirely up to date.

Summer Job Discussions To Be Held On Thursday

Two opportunities for summer job-finding are open to interested students on Thursday, Feb. 9.

A job convocation for UMass women will be held in the small ballroom in the SU at 11 a.m.

Mrs. Anne Tanner, Director of Placement for Women, explained that the meeting was being held mainly to answer questions about summer job opportunities and about Placement Office assistance in applying for summer jobs.

"We can't see all the students individually," Mrs. Tanner stated, "but we want to give them, particularly the sophomores and freshmen, general information on summer jobs."

A coffee hour will be held from 4-5 p.m. Thursday in the Colonial Lounge for discussion of Summer Work Projects, sponsored by the Students who have participated in these projects will relate their own experiences and give reports on this summer's job openings. The Rev. Russell Claussen,

The Rev. Russell Claussen, Protestant chaplain, explained the projects as "an attempt to do something worthwhile in the summer — something more than just a job."

Some type of seminar, a study approach, is involved in the projects. Some of the work is voluntary; some paid.

The job opportunities are open

Massachus

Senate To Consider 2.0 Issue At Decisive Meeting Tonight

tonight the Student Senate will consider a motion requiring a standard of 2.0 cumulative average for all elected and appointed officers in student organizations.

The motion originated in the Special Projects Committee, chaired by Gail Osbaldeston '61. The committee is a sub-commit-tee of the R.S.O., which establishes policy for student organizations

In order for this motion to become effective the whole motion must be accepted by the R.S.O. committee and the Senate, ac-cording to the R.S.O.—Senate policy initiated last year.

If the motion is amended to-night it will have to be returned

Pres. Lederle Plans Second SU Reception

President John W. Lederle will bld his second informal Student Hour in the Colonial Lounge of the Union on Thursday, Feb. 9. He will meet with students from 11-12 a.m.

Students will be encouraged to talk informally with the president and ask any questions of him. The Thursday session will not be a formal reception. Lederle's first Student Hour on

Dec. 6 was regarded as a definite

Capt.Phillips Writes Book On Antietam GEORGE DICKINSON Collegian Staff Reporter

Capt. Charles C. Phillips of the ROTC staff is writing a book about the battle of Antietam in the Civil War.

It will be a technical analysis the factors of the battle in of the factors of the battle in-cluding the use of artillery and the men in command. Capt. Thomas C. Hathaway has as-sisted Phillips in making detailed maps of the field at the time of battle.

battle.

Research for the book has taken five years, but is now completed, and Phillips hopes to have the writing done in about six months. This projected book will be the first ever published devoted entirely to the battle of Antietam, which Phillips feels was the most decisive battle of the Civil War.

England and France were considering recognition of the Confederacy, but rejected such plans federacy, but rejected such plans after Southern losses at Antie-tam. Furthermore this battle was followed by the issuance of the Emancipation Proclamation. Phillips' interest in this battle the Maryland battle field. He hopes to have the book published early in 1962 for the centenary anniversary of the Civil War.

to the R.S.O. committee for its approval. In case that the motion is defeated by the Senate a joint arbitration committee will tablished to recommend a comproposal. Motion Stated in Full

The motion to be considered is follows:

S25 Moved that to be eligible S23 Moved that to be eligible for office in any organization or Board, a student must have a cumulative average of a least a 2-point, or if less than a 2-point he must have attained a 2.4 average.

he must have attained a 2.4 average for the semester immediately preceding his election.

This includes elected and appointed offices such as Senate and Judiciary Board members, publications, I.F.C. and Panhellenic members, officers and chairmen of standing committees of all organizations and dormitories.

It is strongly recommended that this ruling include frater-nities, sororities, and house coun-

It will be the responsibility of the organization's advisor or head of residence and the outgo-ing president, as well as the candidate, to administer this policy.

Eligibility requirements for office and added duties of the pres-be incorporated in the by-laws of constitutions of individual constitutions.

This policy shall not pertain to officers holding office as of January 11, 1961 insofar as selection to that same office is concerned. This policy shall be in effect from September, 1961.

Other University Requirements Sited.

A survey was conducted by the S.U. to gather general information on student activities at other colleges and universities throughout the country. It has revealed that scholastic eligibility requirements for student activities on other campuses are widespread.

William Scott, director of the S.U., revealed that out of 30

S.U., revealed that out of 39 replies to the questionnaire, 29 institutions demand at least a 2.0 for participation in student activ ities, and that some have even higher standards for officers of organizations

Previous Motion Defeated In November of 1956 a similar motion was presented to the Senate. The motion S18 of 1956 required a student to have attained, by the beginning of the school year, an average high school year, an average enough to insure his entry (Continued on page 5)

Famed Band To Play At Sno-Ball Dance

The Winter Carni's Sno-Ball Dance, sponsored by Stockbridge, will feature the "King of Dance Tempos", Tony Abbott and his band. The dance is set for the SU ballroom, Saturday evening at 8:30 p.m.

Abbott has provided music for some of the nation's outstanding functions. He has played at Bailey's Beach, Newport, R.I., and the famed Roseland Ballroom, home of the name bands.

home of the name bands.

The band has just completed a tour of colleges and universities, including Providence College, where they were featured for Carolan Weekend.

This marks their first appearance here at UMass. During a part of the intermission, the orchestra will feature a Dixieland session, presenting some of the nation's outstanding musicians

Abbott was recently chosen to appear with his orchestra on a nation-wide television show, Mu-

He was presented for his dance orchestra, along with Eddie Condon for jazz, and the New York Philharmonic for symphony.

The dance will be semi-formal, admission $2.50 per couple. Free refreshments will be served.

C.A. Delegation Will Attend Meeting In Pembroke, N.H.

A delegation from the Christian Association will be among Dr. Frank Dilley, of the Department of Religion at Smith Colleges and universities at-the 150 students from New Eng-land colleges and universities at-tending the Connecticut Valley Conference to be held on Febru-ary 24-26 at Pembroke, New Hampshire. The topic to be studied is "Dehumanization in American Society". Leadership for the weekend will include professors and chap-lains from twenty N.E. schools. Dr. James Gustafson, Professor of Social Ethics at Yale Divinity School will be the platform speaker. He is a specialist in the area of the Church and our cul-ture. Small student seminars will discuss the addresses with faculty chaplain.

Nancy Warren will handle Nancy warren will handle registrations on this campus. The total cost of the weekend (ex-clusive of travel) is $15. Transportation is being arranged by the Christian Association. Persons who desire additional information may contact the C.A. office at the Student Union.

The conference is sponsored by the Student Christian Movement in New England, Attendance at the conference is not limited to students of any particular de-nomination or religion.

Our Views On The '2.0'

R.S.O. Sub-Committee #3's proposal of a 2.0 cumulative average as an eligibility requirement for office in any organization (or a 2.4 the semester preceding the election) is an issue that concerns both the students and the status of the University. This should be a major consideration in the passing of this bill when it comes up before the Student Senate.

A number of approaches have been presented to the groups primarily concerned with this proposal. Naturally enough, each one of these arguments is seeking to justify itself on some sort of rational grounds. And yet, we can see the arguments getting almost out of hand

Let's say there are two sides to this present issue—that is, discounting the middleof-the-fence viewpoint which, for some, seems to be the safest ground. First, we might sight those who are in favor of the passing of this motion. Then, there are also holding campus offices, would like to see the bill vetoed. They argue that their independence is being offended, that they are being deprived of certain fundamental "rights" or "principles."

Without insinuating too much, we might begin to wonder why such a proposal was made in the first place. The efforts put into this extra-curricular eligibility proposal are not entirely new. Three years ago Adelphia had presented a systematic consideration of the problem of extra-curricular activities the relationship of the actively-participating student to his activities and his studies. The outcome of the Adelphia study was a proposal made by them. It suggested that a point system be instituted here whereby students would not be exploited by the extra-curricular activities. At the same time it would permit the student an opportunity to choose his activities in proportion to his academic standing. Unfortunately, nothing more was done about this report. Apparently, it was filed.

At stake in this issue over the 2.0 (or 2.4 the preceding semester) stipulation is the academic standing of the student and of the University. The chief function of a university, it must not be overlooked, is its role as an institution of higher learning for the development of critical, thinking persons who will be capable of contributing beneficially to society. We realize that the student should at this stage of the game determine for himself how he should spend his time. But, this does not necessarily lead to academic betterment. Competition for a college education is becoming stronger and stronger, there seems to be little point in having as campus leaders students who, by over-active participation, are unable to meet graduation requirements of many departments of the University—that being a 2.0 cum.

The passing of this R.S.O. "Special Projects" proposal would be a step in the right direction. It would be an increased incentive for the student who wants to participate as an officer for an R.S.O. organization. At the same time, in the eyes of observers, we would be showing a willingness to advance our academic standards. That the student body and not the administration has made the proposal is quite significant.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief
Larry Rayner '61

Editorial Editor News Editor
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Donald D. Johnson '61 Sports Editor
Al Berman '62 Business Manager Michael Cohen '61

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amberst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period; or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing within the authority of the act of March 8, 1878, as amended by the act of June 11, 1884.

34.00 per year; $2.50 per semes nt Union, Univ. of Mass., Amberst, Ma Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press Sun., Tues., 'Thurs.—4:00 p.

In Changing Times

DOLLARS AND SENSE

by MICHAEL PALTER '63

"We must also remember that there is no greater defense against total nuclear destruction than total nuclear disarmament."

—John Kennedy

Messieurs Marzani and Perlo have written a book calculated to influence those who have not hitherto been moved by the emotionally based cries for disarmament. To be sure, we all object to the arms race in so far as we have seen what our modern weapons are capable of doing. Yet, many await the objective analysis of the economic implications of this arms race. The authors have tackled this problem commendably.

commendably.

This is not, however, the sum and substance of the book. Marzani and Perlo also delve into the feasibility of a system of controls and inspections of nuclear testing. They do not analyze the problem emotionally but logically and scientifically. As an example of this, let us take the "big hole" theory. According to this theory, nuclear explosions could be "muffled" under ground, thus making detection impossible.

Say Marzani and Perlo:

Say Marzani and Perlo:

"The idea is theoretically feasible, but practically impossible under an inspection system. To show its absurdity Professor Jay Orear of Cornell estimated the size of the hole for a 100 kiloton explosion, a relatively small explosion. It would take a cavity 800 feet in diameter, or a diameter nearly three times the length of a football field. This is a hole big enough to hold a dozen Rockefeller skyscrapers. I. F. Stone got a scientist to calculate tonnages. In hard rock it would take the removal of 25 million tons of rock, 5 million truck loads. The total production of anthracite coal in 1959 was 20 million tons and required 21,000 people. How could such an operation possibly be concealed?

"The Rand report talked of flushing a hole in a salt dome. The hole would require a tonnage removal of 20 million tons of salt. All the salt mined in this country in 1958 was 5 million tons. Even the hole would require a tonnage removal of 20 million tons. Even the Rand report conceded that it would take from two to four years to make such a hole and it would cost 40 million. Since everyone agrees that large mining operations are one of the easiest industrial operations to spot, how could such a hole, involving the silent conspiracy of tens of thousands of miners, possibly be kept from inspection teams? And why would anyone bother? The entire theory is a hoax."

Of course, this is just one part of a complex problem. Yet, one must remember that it is arguments such as this which are doled out to the American people by such cold warriors as Mr. Teller.

The authors indeed chafe the very nerve ends of the American position at Geneva. They point out that our position has been marked by as great a degree of inflexibility and intransigence as the Soviets'.

viets'.

This leads to a discussion of the Atomic Energy Commission. The sincerity of this organization and the validity of its reports in relation to radiation hazard, fallout etc. are questioned. Incidentally, I should here point out that such a noted scientist as Linus Pauling, a Nobel laureate, has also questioned the validity of certain A.E.C. reports and has, in addition, taken the pains to back himself up by a prodigious amount of evidence.

These discussions upon the feasibility of nuclear disarmament (as well as disarmament in general) are significant in that they represent the basis upon which the authors discuss the various economic consequences.

But what could be done if we could disarm?

"Let us take our 40 billion dollars thrown away every year into dangerous and useless armaments and use this money as a spring-board to rejuvenate our country, build those laboratories Professor Wiesner says we don't have and the Russians have, get those linguists Mr. Randall wants, rebuild our rat-trap cities, liquidate our juvenile delinquency, wipe out narcotics, send our Negroes to school, and so on and on to all the unfinished tasks before us."

As the authors of "Dollars and Sense" say, "the atmosphere is changing." Mr. Kennedy must realize that further armaments build-up, although insuring political and military stability in the short run can only lead to annihilation in the long run.

Of course, "we are all dead in the long run." Yet, if the arms race continues, our civilization most certainly is doomed to the short

LETTERS

LEADERSHIP NEEDED

On July 1, 1959, the resignation of Dean Sieling, as Dean of the On July 1, 1959, the resignation of Dean Sieling, as Dean of the College of Agriculture, became effective. Since that time, a duration of eighteen months, the administration and Board of Trustees of the University have not seen fit to appoint a new dean. And yet, this institution, which has its foundings as a Land Grant College, demands, lest we forget this fact, that a new dean be appointed immediately and that his selection be directed by the goals of agriculture, both in this state and throughout the nation. this state and throughout the nation this state and throughout the nation.

At present, the students enrolled in the College of Agriculture are without a strong leader to whom they can turn for guidance and purpose of cause. Thus, we as students are being made to bear the brunt of the indecision of the administration. And yet, it is not we alone who will suffer; but, rather, the public as a whole will join us by experiencing the withdrawal of services now rendered through the university and Extension Service due to the lack of funds from legislative sources because of lack of knowledge of the College of Agriculture's purpose and goals.

This is an appeal to decide immediately the future of agriculture.

This is an appeal to decide immediately the future of agricultural education and service in Massachusetts. The question has been tural education and service in Massachusetts. The question has been brushed aside for the past eighteen months, and it is not to be construed as insolence that we as interested students ask that it be resolved. And with many eyes watching those responsible for such a decision, the answer will be very clearly shown in the time that elapses between now and the naming of the man who will move Massachusetts' agriculture forward.

Respectfully yours,

Questioning A Myth

by ELIZABETH A. SCHNECK '62

The suggestion that perhaps too many of the nerican people are somnolent in their satiety had been put forth in a previous article. The attempt had been to show that we need first to rouse our-selves before major questions of existence and survival can be treated.

Undoubtedly, however, there must be some question in somebody's mind that perhaps this is not the case, that actually we are an alert people, that this point of view is just the figment of all too many, too-critical imaginations. I'd like to consider this possible potion using them. possible notion using three illustrations that would seem, at least, to reflect the tone of our day-to-day culture. These shall include: 1) The effects of advertising — to create the American meaningfulness, $$$. 2) American obesity, general food promotion.

3) The American willingness to let the government do for you what you wouldn't make the effort to do

Unlike any other nation in the world, our system of free enterprise, according to the privileges of a democracy, has permitted the elaborate development of an uncontrolled institution that can manipulate, coerce, foster, and flatter the thinkings of the less aggressive and ready-to-accept-anything individuals of the society. This institution: ADVERTISING.

True, it has been the brunt of much criticism in the True, it has been the brunt of much criticism in the past years. But, an amusing aspect of this is that much of the criticism has been the Madison Avenue boys' own doing, part of their formulations. They are the ones that are selling the books from Hidden Persuaders to The Wastemakers.

Now, here's a concluding statement from an article in the January 9 issue of Television Age, a magazine oriented to TV advertisers and promotion.

The winning strategy in the pursuit of the 1961 consumer is not merely to spend more but to spend more smartly. The captious c sumer, with more money in his pocket, can make you king. He can make you king if you understand him—and if you act on what

Well, it seems to me, they of the Advertising are already kings and the bulk of us have been for long unquestioning subjects. Every media of "free press" is saturated with advertising gimmicks, cajolings, toyings, chirping and squealing—insinuations of infantilism. They have saturated the media to the point that advertising is more and more determining the tone of newspaper, radio, and Motivation experts study what we, the people want but give us, instead, what will be economically satisfactory for their own pocketbooks. They give us more of what we have already been conditi accept. We, dutiful subjects, go along with the image making—Queen for a Day, etc.—and become con-vinced of the supposed, touted, right products to buy and cons

Surprisingly, many articles have recently been published concerning the expanding belt lines of much of the American consumer population. In a New York Times magazine article, "Why We Are Overly Larded", Lawrence Galton said: "Even average Americans are too heavy. You have to be well below average to experience the lowest mortality, the age Americans are too heavy. You have to be well below average to experience the lowest mortality, the actuarial study shows." And if overweight does not make one feel complacent and sluggish, what does? How about considering the mortality rates?

Just one more product to be questioned. Why do the dairy associations continuously attempt to reaffirm and promote through all sorts of campaigns the need of every good American to drink gallons of milk a day? If milk is such a vital part of the daily diet, why do we need to be convinced to consume it through million dollar pronotion campaigns whenever the status of milk as a health feature. whenever the status of milk as a health factor is challenged? We might note the facts presented in the recent Time feature article on Dr. Keys' study of cholesterol and the National Dairy Coursell. of cholesterol and the National Dairy Council's quick, indignant rebuttal a week later. We might also consider the high DDT and Strontium-90 content in Finally. Let's face it, everyone wants a handout the American citizen no less than anyone else. The promises of government officials and politicians for socialized medicine, socialized old age, $1.25 wage minimums, ad infinitum sound good. But, can we not ask ourselves whether this is good for us? Aren't we, when we accept these hando giving up certain rights and privileges of the mocratic state?

All of this is reducible to one basic conflict All of this is reducible to one basic conflict created by our form of state and society relationship. Our biological survival is assured by our economic life. What we know from biology and how we should behave has come in sharp conflict with commercialized opportunism. And, we have not found ways to resolve this conflict. Is this because we find it easier not to question the economic mechanizations of our culture for fear of pulling the rug from under easier not to question the economic mechanizations of our culture for fear of pulling the rug from under combination, representing nearly 50 years of total service on the professional staff at UMass, recently retired from teaching.

Dr. And Mrs. Bullis Retire From UMass

Dr. Kenneth L. Bullis had been

Dr. Kenneth L. Bullis had been a member of the veterinary science department since 1929 and head of the department since 1942. His wife, Katherine, who was pressed into service as a teacher because of the war shortage in 1942, was a freshman chemistry teacher.

Dr. Bullis obtained his mas-ter's degree at Massachusetts State College in 1939. He was a practitioner in veterinary medicine at Chicago Heights, Ill, and assistant veterinarian with the California Department of Agriculture in San Francisco before joining the UMass staff.

Dr. Bullis is a member of numerous scientific associations and societies, including the American and Massachusetts vetinary associations, International Academy of Pathology, New York Academy of Sciences and three separate International Veterinary Congresses.

Mrs. Bullis, the former Vet.

Mrs. Bullis, the former Katherine Mayor of Yonkers, N.Y., received her .B.A. and her master's degrees from Mt. Holyoke Coll-

As a teacher of freshman chem-year enrollment almost trebled from 425 students in 1942 to more than 1100 in 1960.

Retirement for the Bullises will mean continued attendance at professional meetings as an opprotessional meetings as an op-portunity for travel. They have attended more than 15 American Veterinary Medical Association meetings, and three Internationveetings. and three Internation-Veterinary Congresses over

Dr. and Mrs. Bullis left on February 1 for Tuscon, Arizona, and will return to their perman-ent home in Amherst about June

UMass Alumnus Promoted At UPI

Philip M. Keohane, 31, manager of the Springfield bureau of United Press International, was recently named as UPI divirepresentative with head-sion representative with head-quarters in Boston. Keohane taught the Collegian sponsored journalism classes for the past three years here. He holds a Master's degree in jour-nalism from Columbia Univer-

He has served the Collegian as a member of the Publishing Board for several years.

New Plans Announced By DeMolay

by MARK NATAVESKY '64 Collegian Staff Reporter

Quabbin Chapter Order of De-Molay recently announced its intention of becoming a more tive and functioning DeMolay

Meetings will be held, as in the past, at the Masonic Temple on Main St. in Amherst at 7 p.m. on the first and third Wednesdays of each month during the school

Any college students who be-long to other chapters are in-vited to attend the meetings. The chapter is also welcoming young men between the ages of 14 and 21 who are interested in developing their leadership abilities, character, and are interested in cultivating new friends.

Here are some illustrations of past members of DeMolay who past members of Demotay who have made names for themselves: Walt Disney and John Cameron Swayze in the field of television, Olympic Decathlon Champion Bob (Continued on page 5)

A native of New England, he has worked for UPI in New England and New York State, Koe is married and has one Koehane is succeeded in Springfield by Thomas A. Crawford of Boston UPI.

CLUB DIRECTORY

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Open meeting for prospective members Mon., Feb. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Commonwealth Rm., SU. Dean Robert Hopkins will speak. Refreshments to follow.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

Meeting Wed., Feb. 8, in the Engineering Bldg. The Student Paper Contest will be held at 6 p.m. and will be followed at 8 p.m. by the business meet-ing. Bjorn Lund, Chief Engineer at General Dynamics will speak on "Maritime Gas-Cool-ed Reactors." Refreshments.

CANTERBURY CLUB

On Sun., Feb. 12, at 6 p.m. the club will have a work party to finish its study room. The following week the club will have a supper and a speaker at Grace Church.

CARNI FASHION SHOW

Meeting of participants Thurs., Feb. 9, at 11 a.m. in the Norfolk Rm., SU.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

On Thurs, Feb. 9, at 4 p.m. there will be a coffee hour and a discussion on "Summer Jobs and Service" in the Colonial Lounge, SU.

ENGINEERING JOURNAL

Meeting to be held Thurs., Feb. 9 at 11:00 a.m. in the Engineering Building rm. 126.

FLYING CLUB

Meeting Wed., Feb. 8, at 8:30 p.m. in E16 Machmer Hall. This meeting is very important to members. Election of officers. All are invited to attend.

INTERNATIONAL WEEKEND

Very important meeting of the general committee Thurs., Feb. 9, at 11 a.m. in the Hampden Rm., SU. All members are urged to attend.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE CLUB

Meeting Wed. Feb. 8 at 8:00 in the Bristol Room of the SU. The speaker will be M. O. Saunders talking on "The Master Plan." Refreshments.

LITERARY SOCIETY

The society will hold a meeting on Thurs. Feb. 9 at 8:00 in the Worcester Room of the SU. Mr. Silver of the English Dept. will speak on the "Paralysis of Sating". All stylests years speak on the "Paralysis of Satire". All students are wel-

MOVIE COMMITTEE

Meeting Thurs., Feb. 9 at 11 a.m. in the Student Union.

MECREATION CLUB Meeting will be held on Feb. 8 at 7:00 in the Worcester Room of the SU. Following the business meeting, refreshments will

SOPH BANQUET COMMITTEE

Sign-up sheets for all commit-tees are available in the SU Lobby through Thursday. All sophs interested in working on the committee should sign up now. Date of banquet: March

SPORTS CAR CLUB

PORTS CAR CLUB
Meeting Mon., Feb. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Village Inn. Slated election of officers and a discussion of next rally (Hound
'n Hare; Sun., Feb. 19). New members and other interested parties, welcome.

PING PONG TOURNA

Sign-up sheets are now available in the Games Area for the 1961 UMass Championship Tournament. The tournament will include both a men's and a women's division. Hurry! Limited entry,

STUDENT ZIONIST ORGAN-IZATION

ZATION
Meeting Wed., Feb. 8, at 8 p.m. in the Middlesex Rm., SU.
Lesle Philips will be the speaker. His subject will be "The Future of Zionism in Amersa". Philips is New England Future of Zionism in Amer-ica." Philips is New England director of the organization.

WATER SKIING CLUB

The first meeting of the club will be held Feb. 8 at 7:30 in the Barnstable Room of the SU. Movies will be shown. Open to all interested students and faculty.

Scalp Shop To Be Scene Of Judging

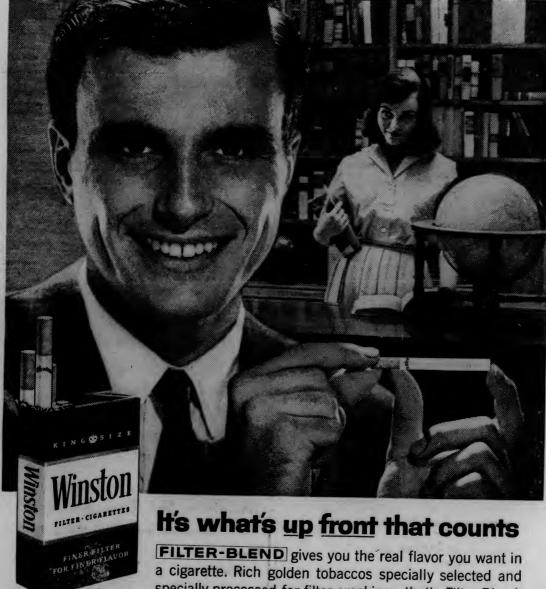

Tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the Scalp Shop, the judging of the twenty contestants in the Winter Carnival-sponsored Beard Growing Contest will take place.

Judging will be done by Nelson "Nels" Major, the "elder statesman" of the Scalp Shop.

The decision will be made on the basis of the general appearance and neatness of the beard, not on its length.

The two winners will receive complimentary tickets to all Winter Carnival events.

The contest is in conjunction with the Winter Carnival theme, which is "A Little Bit of Yesteryear". All are invited to attend.

It's what's up front that counts

FILTER-BLEND gives you the real flavor you want in a cigarette. Rich golden tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking - that's Filter-Blend.

VINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

Rhody Outrebounds Redmen For Win 71-65; Grutchfield's Points Smashes For the second time in three games the Redmen came from behind, went ahead, then muffed a game in the closing seconds as FALSE HOPES AROUSED FALSE HOPES AROUSE a game in the closing seconds as they lost to the University of Rhode Island last night, 71-65,

The inability to get important rebounds cost the game this time, and resulted in the fifth straight on loss for the UMass They have yet to win a

REDMEN LEAD EARLY

The Redmen slowly opened up lead early in the game, and by 3:09 led, 16-11. URI wasn't down for long for long, however, and before 4 minutes had elapsed the Rams had taken the lead,

Gradually the Rams moved further ahead, until by halftime they had pulled in front by eight points, 38-30.

As the second half got underway the Redmen began to chip away at the Rhode Island lead, and eventually knotted the score at 53. URI then took a four point

Then, all the time led by the sharpshooting of Doug Grutchfield, UMass increased its lead to six points, and just about every-one in the Cage figured that the Redmen had pulled an upset.

No such luck, however. The complete inability of the Redmen to control the ball off the boards to control the ball off the boards began to take its toll. Rhody had the ball all the time, and UMass couldn't get it. Soon the Rams had pulled out into the lead, 66-65. The failure of the UMass squad to be able to take more than one shot before losing the ball wound up in the team's not scoring any points in the closing seconds, while the Rams increased their lead.

The buzzer ended the Rhode Island spree at 71-65.

DRIBBLING AROUND

The final rebound totals: U-Mass, 23, Rhode Island 61—no more need be said! . . . Doug Grutchfield scored 23 points for the Redmen and in doing so broke the all-time UMass total scoring record. The mark, previously held by Jack Foley ('57), was 1081. Grutchfield now has 1087, with eight more games to play

... The Rams' strength comes from the fact that they have Something has to give Saturday night when the Redmen journey to Durham to meet the Wildcats of UNH. Both teams are winless in the YanCon, and the Saturday clash might loom as a battle for the cellar.

UMA		FT	Т	RHODE	ISL FG
Grutchfield	7	9	23	Weiss	2	5	9
Leslie	4	1	9	Lee 4	4	0	8
Black	5	1	11	Ricereto	5	1	11
Fohlin	0	2	2	Keonig	2	6	10
Mole	3	8	9	Schacter	1	0	2
Laughnane	4	3	11	Multer	7	0	14
		_	-	Smith	4	1	9
TOTALS	23	19	65	TOTALS	28	15	71
Score at 1	alf	tim	e:	URI 38.	UMa:	SS 2	30.

DOUG GRUTCHFIELD goes up for two points in his drive for the UMass scoring leadership record. Doug broke the record last night with a total of 1087 points to date.

WIN	DHA	M		UMA	SS
	FG	FT	T		FG	FT	T
DeFloria	11	8	30	Painten	4	2	10
Scott	6	1	13	B. Johnson	1 4	8	16
Hanna	6	8	20	Twitchell	4	5	13
Olson	2	0	4	Bernard	9	2	20
Potter	4	7	15	Laakso	5	1	11
Chmura	2	0	4	M. Johnson	1 4	3	11
			-	Van B'dsky	7 0	4	4
				Saila	1	0	2
TOTAL			86	TOTAL			87

Bernard Leads Frosh To Win Over Windham

by AL COHEN '63

Pistol Pete Bernard scored 12 points in a row and Dick Garben's freshmen overtook a rough Windham College five, 87-86, in last night's thrilling prelim. The former Brockton High ace totaled 20 markers, 18 in the second half.

The first half was pure frus-tration for the Garbers as Wind-ham enlarged an early lead to a 20 point bulge at 43-23. Behind DeFloria and Hanna, the Blue held a comfortable 45-31 lead at the half. Big John Potter, an All-Western Mass. center from All-Western Mass. center from Greenfield, provided rebound strength.

The Redmen were again behind by 20 with 9:15 to go when the by 20 With 9:15 to go when the scrappy Bernard caught fire. Peter hit on four jumps to cut the Blue lead to six at 5:39. Windham countered with two straight baskets for 81-71 but Pete narrowed the margin again. He made a long fielder, stole the ball and was fouled. He sank two from the line. Roger Twitchell brought the fans to their feet with a lay-up, then blocked a shot and Bernard scored five in a row, putting UMass in front by 83-82. Bob and Mike Johnson both tallied two points at

Mermen Bow To Jeffs, 50-45, As Rutkowski Stars

While few fans watched the Redmen lose to Rhode Island on the basketball court, fewer still diving Eric Schuhle captured secthe basketball court, fewer still appeared at the W.P.I. pool to the basketball court, fewer stin-appeared at the W.P.I. pool to witness the Mermen lose to Am-herst College 50-45. Rutkowski took top honors in both the 220 and 440-yard freestyle with times of 2:21.3 and 5:16.8. this sizes Matt 6 firsts and 2 seconds. times of 2:21.3 and 5:16.5. this gives Matt 6 firsts and 2 seconds in 8 events. Tony Lincoln turned 25.1 in 'the 50-yard freestyle, Fisette a 1:04.4 in the 100-yard

BASEBALL

There will be a meeting of all varsity baseball candidates Mon. Feb. 13 at 6:15 p.m. in Room 10 of the P.E. building.

a Swingline Stapler no bigger than a pack of gum!

swingline INC. IG ISLAND CITY, NEW YORK, N. Y

ond place,

In the 400-yard freestyle re-lay Rutkowski, Fisette, Chiras, and Leith combined to win with a time of 3:54.9.

Other swimmers for UMass were Goldstein, Coffey, Desjar-dins, Samson, and Chisholm.

Next meet is against Holy Cross on Friday evening at 7 o'clock. The Freshman squad will face Worcester Jr. College following the varsity's dual meet

WANTED: An OUD Player

Have Dumbeg, will travel. Also have position for Kanoon player in an Armenian-American Band. Oud player must show genuine Mountain Eagle feather as union card. Contact Arche Babaian, 315 Mills.

STROMBERG-CARLSON Console Mod. Phonograph—Beautiful mahogany door cabinet. Cost over $800 new, will sell for $85. Call ALpine 3-7633.

Decorating Supplies

Crepe Paper Powder Paint Poster Board VALENTINES

A. J. HASTINGS Inc.

Newsdealer & Stationer
Amherst, Mass.

Mt. Tom Ski Race Application

Sponsored by UMass Ski Club

Please check:

Novice |

Intermediate

Expert

RETURN TO R.S.O. BY NOON FRIDAY

HI FI—STEREO COMPONENTS

H. H. SCOTT — GARRARD — JENSEN HARMAN-KARDON — KLH Complete Stocks of All Leading Manufacturers

BUILD-YOUR-OWN KITS DYNAKIT

HEATHKIT — EICO — PACO — CITATION — H. H. SCOTT Amateur Radio & Citizen's Band Equipment

Tubes — Parts — Electronic Supplies

Soundco Electronic Supply Co., Inc.

147 Dwight Street -Western New England's Electronic Center-

PPORTUNITY

Challenging summer jobs for outstanding juniors and sophomores—leading to management careers with Sealtest Foods

- We're looking for good men among juniors and sophomores . . . in the upper half of their class . . active in extracurricular organizations . . . interested business career . . . men well-equipped with intelligence, initiative, and pleasant personality.
- We offer interesting summer jobs with Sealtest in sales, production, and accounting.
- We offer good pay.
- And we offer excellent experience and a chance to "try Sealtest for size."

Sealtest Foods is an opportunity company-progressive, on-the-grow. It is a division of National Dairy Products Corporation, one of America's top 25 companies in

Ask your Placement Director for an interview time when our interviewer will be on campus.

INTERVIEWS

February 21st

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Leads 'B' Aggie's Rifle Team TKE, KS Fight For First In 'A' Drop Two, Recently

As the IFC and independent basketball leagues are coming to a close the fraternity leagues are having a nip-and-tuck battle for the championship. On the other hand, most of the dorm and independent terms are extitive independent teams are settling in-to place with most of the excitement over.

In the IFC league "A", Kappa In the IFC league "A", Kappa Sigma and TKE are fighting it out right down to the wire, the former having an edge over TKE (6-0; 5-1). League "B" of the IFC is pretty much in the hands of the football champs, SAE. Both leagues will complete their schedules by post week schedules by next week.

Independent league play, sees the Black Labels having virtually sewed up the top position in sewed up the top position in league "A", and The Untouch-ables look like winners in the "B" league. Van Meter 3 and Green-ough are neck and neck in the dorm competition.

In the weekend league the Rejects have captured a good hold on the lead position.

Playoffs will begin February 23, the winner of that series then going on to play UNH here on March 4th.

Aggies Win

The Stockbridge basketball team defeated Monson Academy here Wednesday, 61-52. High scorers for the Aggies were Carl Huff with 22 points, Ted Hyland with 15, and Bob Goyette with

The Stockbridge team plays in the Cage and admission is free to all games.

by JAY BAKER '63

After basketball competition is over, Intramural Wrestling and volleyball will command the spot-light, beginning the week of March 6th.

WEDNESDAY

- #1 Chadbourne vs. Brooks
 VM (3) vs. VM (4)
 Untouchables vs. Chiefs
 #2 Greenough vs. Mills
 Borkos All Stars vs. Black Labels Satellites vs. Aces

THURSDAY

- #1 PSD vs. LCA Brooks vs. Adams
 TEP vs. PMD

 2 Chadbourne vs. Mills
 TC vs. KS
- Greenough vs. Middlesex

FRIDAY

- #1 Butterfield vs. Wheeler Hills N vs. Furrier VM (1) vs. VM (4) #2 Aces vs. BVD's
- Generals vs. Little Rascals VM (2) vs. VM (3)

MONDAY

- $1 Stockbridge vs. Holyoke Jr. Satellites vs. Furrier Tippers vs. Chiefs
 $2 Hills N vs. Robbies Cogs vs. Untouchables

De Molay ...

(Continued from page 3) Mathias, Governor Edward Arn

of Kansas, and many others.

DeMolay is an idealistic organization for young men who wish to better themselves as patriotic citizens, as leaders, and as men of character. The con-stant slogan of the organization is, "No DeMolay shall fail as a citizen, as a leader, and as a

Although DeMolay is sponsored by the Masons, a DeMolay is neither obligated to join the Masons nor is he guaranteed the privilege of joining that organization when he reaches his majority, age 21.

WAA Basketball, Ski And Bowling Teams Going Strong

which represents the University in home and away games and play-days with other colleges has been selected and will play Mt. Holyoke on February eighth at 6:00 p.m. in the WPE. The team will be the hostess at a play-day here on February twenty-fifth.

The ski team has had indoor conditioning sessions and outdoor

by MICKEY ADAMSON '61

The WAA basketball team slalom practice at Mt. Tom. It is expected that the team will complete with other schools this pete with other schools this month.

BOWLING

The bowling tournament is continuing until February sixteenth. The results of the first half are:

First—Lewis II
Second—Dwight III
Third—Alpha Chi I Fourth-Dwight I

The Stockbridge Rifle Team was on the short end of two was on the short end of two postal matches recently. The first match, versus the Colorado School of Mines, found the Aggies losing due to continued lower socres in the kneeling and offhand positions. Chuck Nelson fired a 275 for Stockbridge in this one.

Knox College of Tennessee also proved too much for the Stockbridge team. Firing a team total of 1393, the Knoxmen topped the local team's 1324 by 69 points. Georgacopoulos shot an excellent 292, which equalled the 1960 individual intercollegiate championship score. Top gun for Stockbridge was Brad Allen, with a 271.

STOCKBRIDGE	PR	KN	ST	т
Allen	97	87	87	271
Mitchell	99	83	86	268
Ciesluk	97	88	82	267
Washburn	100	91	74	265
Stenberg	98	86	69	253
TOTAL				1324
KNOX COLLEGE	PR	KN	ST	T
Georga'los	100	98	94	292
Elliott	99	98	88	285

TOTAL STOCKBRIDGE TOTAL COLORADO Freese Clark Pollock TOTAL

Senate . . . (Continued from page 1) the next succeeding academic year, in order to actively par-ticipate in student activities. This motion was sent to Constitutional Committee for revision.

On Feb. 20, 1957, the Constitutional Committee defeated the S18 motion. The defeat came because a definite proposal couldn't be established to be presented as a Referendum to the student body.

MISS FITT

SORORITIES—FRATERNITIES—DORMITORIES

WIN A NEW COLOR TV

Start Now

Collecting Cigarette Wrappers

Kent, Newport, Old Gold Spring, Old Gold Filter Kings

WATCH COLLEGIAN FOR FURTHER DETAILS

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS STOCKBRIDGE SCHOOL Presents

The Annual

Sno-Ball Dance

"The King of Dance Tempos"
TONY ABBOTT & HIS ORCHESTRA SATURDAY, FEB. 11 8-12 P.M.

STUDENT UNION BALLROOM Price: $2.50 Per Couple

Russian Tour Offered To American Students

For the third year, the U.S. time and many opportunities to National Student Association announces one of the most education. tional, inclusive, low-cost pro-grams to Russia for American students. The East-West tour is intended for those students who are deeply interested in a dy-namic educational experience dur-namic educational experience during the summer.

The stay in Russia includes visits to the Summer Palace in Leningrad, the Russian Circus and Ballet in Leningrad, the Soviet Agricultural Fair and Industrial Exhibition in Moscow, the Moscow Puppet Show, Moscow University, and a factory and collective farm in Kiev. Visits to smaller cities and viland collective farm in Kiev. Visits to smaller cities and vil-lages are also included. The pro-gram allows substantial free in Eastern Europe is afforded in a tour of Poland and Czecho-slovakia. Warsaw, Krakow and slovakia. Warsaw, Krakow and Prague all offer special impres-sions and chances for under-standing. Ample free time is available for individual explora-tion and meeting people. In addition to these Eastern European nations, the tour also visits Holland, Germany, Scan-dinavia, Berlin, and France, Alldinavia, Berlin and France. All-inclusive price for the 80 day program is $1,440. For further information, write Dept. R-1, U.S. National Student Association, 20 West 38th Street, New York 18, New York.

Glamour Announces Fifth 'Best Dressed' Contest

the Collegian said two years ago when Eleanor Galbraith was chosen as one of Glamour magazine's "The Best-Dressed College Girls in the U.S.A."

Girls in the U.S.A."

Ellie was first chosen as the UMass "Best Dressed Girl" in a campus-wide contest sponsored by the Collegian. After this, she was entered in the national com-petition against hundreds of "best dressed girls" from colleges across the country.

by PAT WARD '61

"Galbraith National Winner!"

That's what the headlines in contest, and the Collegian again will sponsor the UMass contest.

The girl who wins the title will be well-grouned, have good taste and imagination in clothes, have a good figure and excellent posture, and dress appropriately for her life.

The 10 best dressed will be flown to New York for an exciting two weeks in June. Night-clubbing, parties, fashion shows, and a cotillion in their honor will be just part of the festivities

UMass Ski Club Plans Skiing Day At Mt. Tom, Sat.

The UMass Ski Club is organizing a day of skiing at the new ski area on Mt. Tom on Saturday, Feb. 11, 1961.

The afternoon will be highlighted by races geared at the novice, intermediate, and expert levels. The down-hill and slalom will be featured and prizes awarded.

The Mt. Tom Ski Area is located on Route 5 and the races will take place between 1:30-4 p.m. All are invited to join in the fun. Bus transportation will be provided for the event. One be provided for the event. One may sign up at the Ski Club meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Hampshire-Essex Rooms of the S.U. All racers must file for entry at the above mentioned meet-

An application blank for the competition accompanies todays edition of the Collegian on page

Lost & Found

Lost; 1960 high school class ring, initialed JWB; in vicinity of Hamlin. Return to Collegian of-

Found: Brown trench coat at Lambda Chi Alpha, Friday night. Claim at 408 Van Meter.

Lost: Sport Watch in the vicinity of the Union. Contact Beverly Lebowitz, Arnold House.

UMass Ranks High In Government Tests

in government service have been ranked above the national averranked above the national average in tests administered by the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

A recent communication from the Office of the Director of the First U.S. Civil Service Region noted that the number of UMss candidates who passed qualifying tests in the fall of 1960 exceeded by almost 20 per cent the average number of successful candidates from all other colleges and versity for its impressive show-ing as well as for the work of its Placement Office in encouraging students to enter government

Figures released by the U.S.C .-S. regional office indicated that, of the 139 UMass students taking the tests in the fall, a total of 82 passed.

Students who qualify in the testing program are considered for trainee positions in a wide variety of career fields in various agencies and geographical locations.

Newman Club Buys Land For New Chapel, Center

The UMass Newman Club has purchased 35,355 square feet of land on North Pleasant St. in Amherst for construction of a new chapel and student center.

Rev. David J. Power, Catholic chaplain and adviser to the Newman Club, said that details of the construction and nature of the new building were not available as the architect has not yet finished drawing up plans.

The land was granted to the student organization by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts through the trustees of the uni-by Most Rev. Christopher J. Weldon, bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Springfield, and Theta Chi Fraternity at the Tax stamps on the instrument recorded at the Hampshire Coun-ty Registry of Deeds indicate a $4200 price paid for the land.

Election Schedule

Six vacancies in campus offices have occurred which are go-ing to be filled by up-coming special elections.

Nomination papers may be obtained at the Dean of Men's office Feb. 10 through 17, for the office of vice-president of the class of 1963 and for the foing Senate vacancies: South; Baker House, one opening; commuters, two openings. Friday, Feb. 17 at 4 o'clock is the deadline for completed forms.

To Fill Vacancies

The following week, elections will take place in Baker House, Hills-South, and the S.U.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Opportunities for Majors in

PHYSICAL SCIENCES • ENGINEERING MATHEMATICS • SOCIAL SCIENCES ARTS • BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Telephone representatives will be on the Campus Wednesday and Thursday, February 8th and 9th, to discuss employment opportunities in the following organizations:

OPERATING TELEPHONE COMPANIES

Engineering, construction, operation and maintenance of communication facilities. The following companies will be represented on the campus:

> New England Telephone and Telegraph Company New Jersey Bell Telephone Company

Applicants will be interviewed for other regional operating companies in the United States and Canada.

WESTERN ELECTRIC COMPANY

Manufacturing, purchasing, installation and distribution of equipment and supplies for the Bell System and national defense

Please make arrangements for interviews through your Placement Office.

NEW ENGLAND (A) TELEPHONE

In over 100 countries people get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

LIBRARY Library, FR 1 9 1961

See page 2

Student Senate Defeats 2.0 Requirement For Educators Urged To Teach Abroad

ment Institute urges all American educators to take advantage of the many opportunities to teach in foreign lands both for the contributions they can make in interpreting our country abroad and for the enriching experiences in international understanding they can bring to our students in this country upon their return to the schools of the United States.

The Institute, a non-commercial professional information and advisory service for the field of education, has been publicizing foreign education-positions in its monthly non-fee placement journal, Crusade For Education, since 1952. Last year the Institute assisted administrators in hundreds of overseas schools in more than 65 countries in Europe, the Near and Far East, Africa and South America, to recruit American educators for positions at all levels from kindergarten through university.

While every issue of Crusade

Issue is especially devoted to foreign positions in order to give educators ample time to complete application procedure for Septem ber 1961 positions, This International Issue includes specific data, including qualifications and salaries, about actual teaching, administrative, librarian, research, and science positions in many schools in many lands.

0

Many of these positions pay travel expenses and, in most cases, the language of instruc-tion is English. This issue feation is English. Inis issue fea-tures an article on teaching and living in England and an article describing the experiences of a teacher who has lived and taught in the Government Dependent Schools in Okinawa, the Philippines, Cuba and the Azores.

The International Issue may be examined at most Deans' Offices, University and Public Libraries, and School Superintendent's Offices.

night defeated the 2.0 requirement for officers in RSO organ-izations, 18-11, on a roll call vote. Although neither side seemed to want to be the first to speak, three motions to call the ques-tion were defeated before the final vote was taken.

Leading forces against the measure were Senators Abdul measure were Senators Abdul Samma, Vin Dellapenna, John and Arthur "Tex" Finnegan, and Arthur "Tex" Tacelli. The bill's strongest advocates included Senators Gail Osbaldeston, William Knowlton, Donald Croteau, and Peter Wat-

Sen. Abdul Samma delivered a which many considered the turning point of the debate. He asked, "Would extra-cur-

Speech Dept. Begins Free Play Lending

Groups interested in the production of plays may take advantage of a free service here at vantage of a free service here at UMass,

This service is a Play Lending Library, formerly supervised by Miss Ruth McIntire, Extension recreationist, recently retired. The service will now be available from the desiration of the service will now be available. from the department of speech headed up by Arthur E. Niedeck.

Plays are loaned for reading examination. Six different plays may be borrowed at any one time a period of three weeks

The lending library contains three-act and one-act plays for adults, young people and children. There is a brief synopsis of each play available, with information as to royalty, type of play, setting and cast ting and cast.

ting and cast.

These plays cannot be used for producing a performance, only for selecting for production.

All requests for copies of plays should be sent to Play Lending Library, Room 380, Bartlett Hall, University of Massachusetts Massachusetts,

ROTC Cadets Commissioned At Ceremony

Eleven UMass ROTC cadet of-ficers, both Armored and Air Force, received their commissions last Thursday, Feb. 2, in the Colonial Lounge of the S.U.

last Inuisialy, Feb. 2, in the Colonial Lounge of the S.U.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. Jere S. Berger, followed by an address by Dr. John Gillespie, UMass Secretary. Oaths of office were administered by Col. John C. Marchant, USAF, and Col. James R. Weaver, Armored. Cadets commissioned were: Walter P. Green, Jr.; Chester J. Kania, Jr.; Leland P. Miner; Richard M. Scofield; and Roger I. Williams, all USAF. Robert J. Betsold; Lawrence L. Conway; Russell A. Devereau; Gerald I. Harper, Jr.; Kenneth R. Tonis; and Arthur J. Worsh, all Armored.

ricular activities include card playing and watching TV?" He bserved that the boys in his ormitory who flunked out in dormitory who flunked out in January were the boys who were always watching TV and playing

He surprised the whole Senate by conducting a poll among the spectators, and announcing that 25 were against the motion while only two supported it. He also said that of those students polled in his dormitory, a majority were

He then asked the senate mem bers how they could go against the wishes of their constituents. Andy D'Avanzo saw the main objection as interfering with the right of the individual to make free choice.

He asserted that the Senate should not allow a person to take on more responsibilities when he can't live up to the ones he already has. D'Avanzo further asserted that the Senate should protect the organization from the individual who takes on more than he can handle and is forced to leave the organization.

to leave the organization.

Sen. Osbaldeston said the problem was recognized two or three years ago and said the time act was now. She referred to the report of Adelphia made in 1959 as "worthwhile."

Senator Robert Trudeau de-Senator Robert Trudeau defined an education as learning "to think for yourself"—not merely an increase in facts." He said that this motion would take away the opportunity for students to learn to think for them-

said that students must

He said that students must learn self-reliance—"by flunking out if necessary." Sen. Peter Watson urged the Senate to accept their "academic responsibilities" and pass the

William Knowlton described the purpose of extra-curricular activities as to gain "a little bit of practice from what you have learned," not over phasize them.

Sen. Raymond Wilson charged that the bill would lower morale in organizations because it takes away incentive from those with an average less than 2.0.

"It won't raise academic standards; it may even lower them," he added.

Tearing the bill apart, Sen. Dellapenna charged that the bill measure would not remove the problem caused by activities, and overlooks the freshman class, which needs help the most.

"It throws the freshman class out the window," he said.

(Continued on page 8)

WINTER CARNIVAL

Bearded Winners Awarded

BEARD CONTEST WINNERS are, left to right, Donald Paultney first; William Merrill, second; James Curtis, third; and Nelson Major, Scalp Shop barber.

Col. John C. Marchant (right), hands commission to Roger Williams, as Walt Greene looks on. Six other cadets received Com-missions in the United States Army.

Group Of UM Students Go'Village'AtMid-Term

A group of twenty UMass stu-ents visited Greenwich Village in New York City during mid-

The purpose of the trip was to learn about the Judson Memorial Church and its work in the area, The Judson Church is unique in the Baptist ministry. Its com-munity serves the artists and writers as well as the poor and uneducated people who live there. It has taken an active part in the political life of New York City and is in the forefront of the struggle against Tammany Hall.

A new area of the work of the church is the ministry to the victims of dope addiction.

A striking aspect of the ministry of the Judson Church is that it is not evangelical in the popular sense of the word.

The staff and the parish make themselves and the facilities of the church available to those who wish to participate; however, they wait for these interested to come to them. This is a new, and in many ways successful, way of making Christianity relevant to the community which it serves.

The group attended a play presented at the Broadway Con-gregational Church. "The Mira-cle", by Manuel Mendez-Ballester, is the author's reply to "Writing for Godot" by Samuel Beckett.

for Godot" by Samuel Decree.
Other activities included visits to the Guggenheim Museum and some of the many coffee shops some of the n in the Village.

The trip was sponsored by the Edwards Fellowship.

2nd Lieuts. Leland Miner, Dick Schofield, and Chester Kania, receive commissions from Col. John C. Marchant, at cere Thurs. Feb. 2, in the Colonial Lounge, S.U.

Ford Foundation Farce

Every student who signed up for Government 93, the Ford Foundation seminar in practical politics, has a right to feel that he was cheated out of a very valuable educational experience.

Briefly, the very messy situation began when Dennis Roberts informed the Government Department last December that he would be unable to live up to his commitment to teach the course this semester.

Apparently, John S. Harris, head of the department, thought of asking Sherman Adams, former presidential assistant under Eisenhower, to teach the course. After securing permission from the administration and the Board of Trustees, Harris asked Adams and he accepted.

According to the management of the Lord Jeff, Adams even went so far as to book a suite there beginning January 30.

But he wasn't destined to teach the course, because the Board of Trustees changed their minds, apparently for political reasons.

Regardless of what anyone thinks of Adams because of his dealings with industrialist Bernard Goldfine, there isn't a person in this country with the possible exception of the president himself who could better teach a course in practical politics.

The Collegian wishes to register a bitter protest against the Board's action. It is an absolutely disgraceful situation when a university's Board of Trustees robs the student body of the knowledge that a man like Adams could give us, advancing the ridiculous argument that Adams would have tainted the name of the university. The Board should be reminded that Ford Foundation, not the Commonwealth, would be paying for the course.

But the most disgraceful thing about this farce is accepting the man and then refusing him a few weeks later.

I. P

Senate Commended

The example set by last Wednesday's Senate meeting should be long remembered and oft repeated for two reasons.

The first of these is that the Senate was in a field where action is desperately needed. Nearly everyone agrees that the Senate should be less concerned with fiscal affairs and more concerned with the many extra-curricular and academic problems the university now has. Since these problems are certain to multiply as we grow larger, action should be taken now before these sore spots become too much to handle.

Secondly, the manner in which the opposing sides conducted themselves was quite exemplary. They separated issues from personalities at the outset; indeed, the very first speaker, Andy D'Avanzo, did a fine job of summing up the issue by asking if the individual should be allowed to make a free choice.

No point was overlooked by either side as the student representatives examined the pros and cons and stated their viewpoints in clear, outspoken, yet brief, speeches.

The Collegian wishes to extend its congratulations to the Senate as a whole, and President Twohig in particular, for a fine meeting and sincerely hopes that the Senate will keep up the good work in the rapidly approaching trying budget hearings.

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870 Editor-in-Chief Larry Rayner '61

Editorial Editor Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Sports Editor Al Berman '62 Photography Editor Larry Popple '63 Assistant News Editor James R. Reinhold '61 News Editor
Donald D. Johnson '61
Business Manager
Michael Cohen '61
Advertising Manager
Howie Frisch '62
Circulation Manager
Barry Ravech

FRI.: News Associate, Bruno DePalma '63; Feature Associate, Audrey Rayner; Editorial, Lorraine Gelpey; Sports, Ben Gordon; Copy, Joe Bradley, Pat Barclay, Jean Cann.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 3, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1934.

Subscription price

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. Member-Associated Collegiate Press: Intercollegiate Press

Deadline:

Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

CONTEMPORARY JAZZ

By RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

Thelonius Monk is one of the most unpredictable, delightful, sarcastic, dissonant, humorous, lyrical, swinging and "un-rythmic" musicians on today's scene. If this is a paradoxical and self-contradictory statement then it describes Monk perfectly. In the album, "Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers with Thelonius Monk", the elements of surprise, dissonance, humor and sarcasm are vividly demonstrated by the stereo recording. In this case, someone has thoughtfully placed Monk and his piano all alone on one side of the stage with the trumpet, tenor, drums and bass on the other side. Monk plays "against" the group in a pure space relationship, but he also does so in the sense that he is not always in harmony (conventional rules of harmony) and sometimes off the beat. Among all the other things he has going, Monk "drops out" for a few measures and builds suspense without playing a note. One hears nothing from "his" speaker (remember, this is stereo) but one knows that there is a piano there and wonders when it is going to play again. When it does, it is always in the most surprising and delightful manner.

Like Sonny Rollins, Monk wanders away from the rhythm, the melodic line and the basic chord structure and returns to them in such a manner as to leave the listener breathless and wondering how it was done

Monk's qualities as a group-leader and composer are re-demonstrated on "Thelonius Monk Quartet plus two at the Blackhawk". Playing with Monk encourages talented musicians to think and blow along new lines . . . not to concentrate on the obvious. "Let's Call This" is particularly haunting and beautiful in its off-rhythms and complex harmony.

Monk is one of the few piano players who can be immediately identified. He is different every time he blows, but his music is not characterized to any great extent by an agonized "searching." This constant changing (which does not destroy the basic Monk characteristics), the deviation from the basic rules of music and the refusal to be conventional reflect all that is dynamic in our time. Monk, like most modern jazz musicians, mirrors the bittersweet reality of life . . . with an added comment to those who dare to be different.

The Roister Doisters

by RALPH

Hi! With a new semester, the Roister Doister column returns to campus. By the way, the name 'Roister Doister' comes from the title of the first English comedy, 'Ralph Roister Doister' by Nicholas Udell

It's getting toward spring (although I'll bet you won't believe it either when you go to your eight o'clock class) and with spring comes the annual R.D. comedy production. As of this writing, the selection of the play to be presented hasn't been decided upon, but when that news comes through we'll give you full particulars.

To get a little bit away from the theatre (but still stay well within the Lively Arts), the annual Fine Arts Festival sponsored by Mortar Board will be coming up in two weeks, and for their main attraction, they will have Aaron Copland. Mr. Copland, the Dean of American Composers, will speak on contemporary music. This is a real step forward for the Festival, which is extending its scope this year.

Amherst College's production of The Crucible, written by famed playwright Arthur Miller, draws heavily on UMass acting talent for its main female roles. Among the distaff performers are Buffy St. Marie from Knowlton and Ann Meltzer and Carol O'Loughlin, both from Dwight.

The Operetta Guild has recently chosen the members of the three-man Executive Board for the coming year. The Board-elect is composed of Chris Hosford, back for his second year, Karen Canfield and Paul Cwiklik. Any suggestions as to plays for next year will be appreciated.

We're all looking forward to Campus Varieties production, which will be held on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of March.

That about takes care of the local news for now. Catch this column every Wednesday for threatrical bulletins and chats about new plays and people on the Big Street in the Big Town.

LETTERS

APOLOGY FROM A.F.R.O.T.C.

To the Editor:

The Department of Air Science wishes to apologize to Messrs, Parry, Nelson, Baskin, Lees, Ford, and others who may have been offended by the showing on 10 January 1961 of the film "International Morality," one of a series which had been shown on "The Catholic Hour" over commercial TV circuits.

The Department did not and does not intend to favor or promote any race, creed, religion, or political group, and its sole purpose in showing the film was to present some Communist methods utilized to obtain so-called "confessions," and to set forth moral reasons why military action may be necessary to preserve our way of life. It was unfortunate that the only film which illustrated the foregoing, and which was available to the instructor at the time, also carried a religious message of a particular faith—and for this we apologize.

JOHN C. MARCHANT Colonel, USAF Professor of Air Science

TEENAGE DELINOUENCY

To the Editor:

Did you think you had passed beyond interest in that headline? Apparently not! Four hats, two of which were military, were stolen from the hat rack outside the Hatch at about three o'clock on 6th of February. The thief then demonstrated his delinquency by stuffing the military hats (which had cost their owners up to $39.00) into toilet bowls in the men's room there. The "teenage" factor is not assured. One hopes that this thief still has years in which to mature and develop,—to grow up. One doubts that he will make it.

Teacher

SOPHOMORE DEMOCRACY

To the Editor:

I understand that the president of the Sophomore class is going to select the new vice-president. What right has he to do such a thing, since the vice-president was elected by the students. I say wait until elections and elect a new vice-president.

One Democratic Student,

2.0 BE OR NOT 2.0 BE

Moved that to be eligible What fearsome words these. They bring cries of "Incredible!" From all those who cherish C's.

S25 would be deleterious! Cries the voice of I.F.C. It's immoral! You can't be serious! Reason the Fraternal genii.

For 98 years 2.0's no requisite. We see no shadow of qualification Administrative. Twenty-five to 2 the straw poll says it. Let's be positive and vote negative.

Thus our awesome Senate suspicions. Why bother study? Who needs facts? Those who socialize get the positions. Who gets good marks? Just those dorm-rats!

Only mark the brave eleven Those who dare oppose mediocrity. Admissions to applications will soon be 1 to 7. Remorseless Time will see 215 for elegibility.

SUPPORT

The

Massachusetts

Review

Combined Fashion Show And Contest Will Be A Winter Carnival Feature

A musical fashion show, be lieved to be the first of its kind, will be held in Bowker Auditorium on Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. Featured will be 15 student models plus the five candidates for Winter Carnival Queen.

The novelty of the show lies in the fact that the girls will be modeling their own clothes, and judges chosen at random from the audience will become the girls. the audience will choose "the girl with the best taste" during the

The choice will be made on the basis of taste in wardrobe and runway presentation. Each girl will be asked to model three outfits from her own wardrobe; sportswear, casual wear and dress wear.

This unique fashion show is being produced and commentated by Marian Christy of the Mass. Department of Commerce. She is well known in the Boston fash-ion world and was chosen "Woman of the Week" for her out-standing work in the field.

Tickets for the show are now available in the Student Union from 9:00-12:00 A.M. and from 1:00-5:00 P.M. Admission is 50¢

Your Opinion May Now Be Worth A $500 Scholarship

During the months of February and March, Reed & Barton, America's oldest major silver-smiths, are conducting a "Silver Opinion Competition" in which valuable scholarship awards to-talling $2,050 are being offered to duly enrolled women students at a few selected colleges and uni-versities. The University of Massachusetts has been selected to enter this Competition in which the First Grand Award is a $500 cash scholarship; Second Grand Award is a $300 scholarship; Third Grand Award is a $250 scholarship; Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Awards are $200 scholarships. In addition, there will be 100 other awards consisting of sterling silver, fine china and crystal with a retail value of approximately $50.00.

In the "Silver Opinion Competiin the "Silver Opinion Competi-tion", an entry form illustrates twelve designs of sterling with nine designs of both china and crystal. Entrant simply lists what she considers the six best com-binations of these. Awards will be made to those entries matching or coming closest to the unanieditors from three of the nation's leading magainzes.

Miss Pat Howarth is the Student Representative who is conducting the "Silver Opinion Com petition" for Reed & Barton at UMass. Those interested in entering the "Silver Opinion Competition" should contact her at Dwight House for entry blanks and for complete details concerning the Conpetition rules. She also has samples of 12 of the most popular Reed & Barton designs so that entrants can see how these sterling patterns actually look. tually look.

Through the opinions on silver design expressed by college women competing for these scholar-ships, Reed & Barton hopes to compile a valuable library of expressions of young American

Interdorm Council Writes Constitution

The Women's Interdorm Council is in the process of writing a new constitution. This year the council hopes to instill a sense of competition into the various dormitory activities. The council's newly elected executive board, which consists of Karen Peterson, Elaine Carlson, Linda Swenson and Paula Turco, will begin the new "competition program" by issuing points at Winter Carnival activities.

Pinnings

Jackie Dumouchel, Dwight '62 to Bill Carlin '62, Lambda Chi Alpha.

Carolyn Jenks '64, Dwight to Jim Hodder '61.

Engagements
Diane Zwicker, Pi Phi to Al
Cooper, TKE.

week with rush parties, an change supper, and attempts at building a snow sculpture.

Monday night's theme party, a carnival, was a gala affair complete with a side-show, a fortune teller, a fat lady, wild animals, and various booths. Everyone, sisters and rushees alike, was deliable with the lates. delighted with the transforma-tion of the house, and the true carnival spirit prevailed.

Sigma Kappa wishes to thank AGR for an enjoyable exchange supper last Tuesday.

The sisters are proud to have four models among them. Judy Garlinger, Irene Gurka, Arlene Mawaka, and Jeanne Mullany were chosen to model in the Win-ter Carnival fashion show.

Two Sigma Kappas, Bev Mar-tin and Liz Murphy, will be among those singing in the chorus of the Campus Varieties' pro-

SATURDAY, FEB. 11

Signs And Symbols Of Valentine's Day Date Back To Ancient Beliefs Valentine's Day has always

Valentine's Day has always tempted lovebirds to go out on a limb. The expense of gifts and rhymed sweet talk has been the least of it—in 18th century England, the girl's father considered a Valentine equivalent to a pro-posal of marriage. Even riskier,

Dwight Welcomes New Members And Congratulates Old

DWIGHT

Along with the new semester are many new Dwightites. The welcome mat goes out to Janet Parker, Rosalyn Stoker, Marion Filkoski, Jean Meakin, Bernadette Menz, Laurel McLaughlin, and Jean Faulkner.

Dwight also has a cillor, Margaret Adamson '61. Mickey will be keeping the sec-ond floor in line from now on. She is replacing Edie Schwartz who has transferred to B.U.

Amherst College has been honored by the presence of two Dwight girls in Amherst's production of "The Crucible". Ann Meltzer will be Elizabeth Proctor and Carol O'Laughlin, Mary.

Karen Canfield has added another feather in her cap by being elected to the Executive Board of the Operetta Guild.

A Proud Announcement: 59% of Dwight's freshmen received an average of 2.0 or better last semester.

Dwight's basketball team is doing a fabulous job. The team, Mickey Adamson, Sue Kehew, Mary Niskanen, Carole (Chubs) Greaves, Pat (Bang) Lareau, Linda (Lupe) Lupien, has won both games played so far.

8-12 P.M.

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS STOCKBRIDGE SCHOOL

Presents The Annual

Sno-Ball Dance

"The King of Dance Tempos"
TONY ABBOTT & HIS ORCHESTRA

STUDENT UNION BALLROOM Price: $2.50 Per Couple

perhaps, was the Valentine "card" of 2,000 years ago—a scrap of folded paper with a girl's name written inside. The boy who plucked that name out of a hat or box was considered the young lady's sweetheart for the year.

Yet, oddly enough, the man who originally offered himself as a Valentine had nothing so romantic in mind. St. Valentine romantic in mind. St. Valentine was a young Roman martyred for refusing to give up Christianity. He died in 270 A.D. on February 14—the very day that, by coincidence, had traditionally been devoted to the love lotteries and to fine-feathered friendship. According to legend he left. ship. According to legend, he left a farewell note for the jailer's little daughter, who had befriended him in prison, and signed it "from your Valentine."

For centuries thereafter, "from your Valentine" meant friend-ship—and nothing more—when affixed to a note or gift sent on February 14 to commemorate the kindly spirit of St. Valentine. But by 1400 the phrase was appearing on romantic hand-made cards as well.

Other signs and symbols connected with Valentine's Day are nected with Valentine's Day are also ancient. The red heart, like the red rose which often crops up on Valentine cards, has signified love and emotion since early Roman times. The magnet is a symbol of love in France, where it is called l'aimant (the loving). When the power of the magnet was discovered in the magnet was discovered 15th century, the French immediately saw a parallel between the magnet's ability to attract and hold metal, and a woman's effect on the poor chap who was al-ready sending her Valentines. A French perfume house, Coty, calls one of its most popular fragrances "l'Aimant." The legend as well as the perfume has reached these United States, with department store salesgirls tell-ing the story to bemused males who hover around the nation's perfume counters just before Valentine's Day.

Why was lace an indispensable Valentine trapping in Grandma's day, and why is it still a popular frill? According to the dictionary, the word "lace" comes from a Latin word meaning "snare" or "noose"—so a lacy Valentine

For Various Activities And Awards

Many Sorority Members Are Chosen

PI BETA PHI
The Pi Phis are all looking forward to their Pledge Formal, this year to be held in the Coachlight Room of the Hotel Northnpton on February 18th.

Pat Binkley has been chosen for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

The sisters are all looking forward to an Exchange Supper with Alpha Gamma Rho, which will take place on February 15th.

SIGMA DELTA TAIL

S.D.T. is stirring with excitement as plans are being made for its Pledge Formal. It will be held on Saturday, March 18, at the Wycoff Country Club in Holyoke.

The sisters are very proud of four of their seniors who were picked for "Who's Who in Amer-ican Colleges and Universities." They are Roberta Bernstein, Judith Fredman, Bryna Lansky, and Esta Yaffee.

Elaine Kaplinsky, a pledge who was sick during first semester, is back with the S.D.T.'s.

SIGMA KAPPA

It's New!... It's Practical! .. It's only NEW ECLIPSE EVER-READY CLOTHES DRYER

This handy new invention provides over 10 feet of drying space on eight individual, heavily plated, smooth rods. Stands in or alongside the bathtub so drip-drys drip where they should.

Collapses for storage. Only 24 inches long, 3 inches in diameter, collapsed. Legs fold. Easy to pack and store yet always ready for immediate use.

Be one of the first to enjoy the added convenience of this new and thoroughly tested appliance. Orders filled promptly. Don't put it off. TODAY—send your name and address and your check or money order for only $3.95 for each dryer you want to:

THE BRIGHTWOOD SHOP

Box 126, Springfield 7, Massachusetts

DIRECTORY CLUB

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Open meeting for prospective members Mon., Feb. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Commonwealth Rm., SU. Dean Robert Hopkins will speak. Refreshments to follow

CAMPUS 4-H CLUB

There will be a skating party on the Campus Pond Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 7 p.m. Refreshments will be served at the Farley Club House.

CANTERBURY CLUB

On Sun., Feb. 12, at 6 p.m. the club will have a work party to finish its study room. The following week the club will have a supper and a speaker at Grace Church.

CHAMBER MUSIC CONCERT

A Chamber Music Concert will be held in the Commonwealth Room of the SU on Sunday, Feb. 19, from 3-4 p.m. All are invited to attend this presenta-ation by the Arts and Music

NORTHAMPTON HOSPITAL
An organization meeting for the volunteers for Northampton Hospitals will be held Mon-day, Feb. 13, in the Worcester Room of the S.U. Anyone interested in doing volunteer urged to attend.

SOPH BANQUET COMMITTEE

Sign-up sheets for all commit tees are available in the SU Lobby through Thursday. All sophs interested in working on the committee should sign up now, Date of banquet: March

SPORTS CAR CLUB

Meeting Mon., Feb. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Village Inn. Slated election of officers and a discussion of next rally (Hound 'n Hare; Sun., Feb. 19). New members and other interested

SU PING-PONG TOURNAMENT Sign-up sheets are now available in the Games Area for the 1961 UMass Championship Tournament. The tournament

JFK Invited Senior Class

President John F. Kennedy has been invited to give this year's commencement address, according to Dr. John Gillespie, Secretary of the University.

Kennedy's secretary declined to make a definite commitment at this time, but promised an answer by the end of April, Gillespie stated.

stated.

Gillespie said the president was invited at the request of the senior class executive committee.

will include both a men's and a women's division. Hurry! Limited entry. WESLEY FOUNDATION

The program for the Wesley Foundation meeting on Sunday, Feb. 12, will be "One Love, Conflicting Faiths." Supper will be at 6 p.m., and a film and panel discussion will start at 7

Sgt. Brenzo Retires To Speak To From AFROTC Dept.

By ROGER CRUFF '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

Left to right: Sgt. Mark Brenzo, Mrs. Brenzo, and Col. Marchant

On January 31, the AFROTC department held retirement ceremonies for Tech. Sgt. Mark

Brenzo. The assembly was attended by Dean Robert S. Hopkins, Jr., Col. John C. Marchant, members of the military department, members of the UMass administra-tion, and the entire AFROTC corps.

Col. Marchant presented a letter of appreciation from the Air Force and Cadet Col. David Burke thanked Brenzo for his service to the cadets.

Brenzo remained at the Univer-Brenzo remained at the Univer-sity over the usual allotted time for ROTC instructors and be-came one of the most popular members of the department. His attitude of humorous insults in addition to his spirit of helpful-addition to his spirit of helpful-ness were greatly appreciated by both students and faculty. During his four-and-a-half years at UMass, Brenzo led the Flying Redmen drill team to one second and three first place prizes in New England competi-tion. His descript to the tion. His devotion to the team and to individual problems of the members earned him the respect and friendship of all the Brenzo's popularity was such that graduated students and others, no longer in the corps, often returned to talk to him or often returned to talk to him or ask advice on personal problems. His service to the UMass community was recognized last spring when he was made an honorary member of Adelphia.

Service Record

Brenzo entered the National Guard in 1934 at Elmira, N.Y., where he remained until his unit was activated in 1941. He rose to the rank of Platoon Sergeant, and the rank of Platoon Sergeant, and was then assigned to OCS at Ft. Bragg. He was commissioned in October, 1942.

Brenzo served in Europe in World War II and rose to the rank of captain. He was a unit commander of the Red Ball Express which supplied Patton's thrust into Germany.

In 1947, Brenzo transferred to the Air Force and attended German language school in 1952. He was assigned to the European Intelligence Service as a major in 1952, and retired from active duty in 1953. duty in 1953.

He re-enlisted in the Air Force in 1954 and served as an instrucin 1954 and served as an instruc-tor at the Basic Training Camp at Sampson Air Force Base. Brenzo was reassigned to Shep-ard Air Force Base in Texas as an educational technician in Feb-ruary, 1956, He received his pres-ent duty at UMass in September, 1956.

Brenzo and his wife, Elizabeth, have been married nearly thirty (Continued on page 5)

GETTING DOWN TO CASES ... WITH AN ELECTRONIC COMPUTER

A young lawyer may spend many years searching through the countless volumes in a law library before he ever gets a chance to plead a case. His job is to research the cases which may provide legal precedent. It's a very necessary but tedious task.

Recently it was demonstrated that an IBM computer could accomplish electronic retrieval of statutory law. Nearly 2,000 statutes pertaining to a specific area of the law were stored in the computer's memory. In response to inquiries, the computer searched its memory at electronic speed and on instructions pointed out either citations or the full text of relevant statutes. This was accomplished in minutes. It might have taken a young lawyer the entire day.

Putting computers to work in unusual ways is not new at IBM. Computers are now doing remarkable jobs in interesting and important areas of business, industry, science and government.

If you are interested in a company that offers you an exciting career with virtually unlimited growth potential, then you should investigate IBM. Positions are open in research, development, programming and manufacturing.

The IBM representative will be glad to discuss any one of these fields with you. Your placement office can give you further information and arrange for an appointment. Or you may write, outlining your background and interests, to: Manager of Technical Employment, IBM Corporation, 590 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N.Y.

You naturally have a better chance to grow with a growth company.

Back To 'A Little Bit Of Yesteryear' Clocks Turn

PAT STEC '63, GRACE-ANN FITZPATRICK '63, and LOIS MOCZARSKI '63

Registrar M. O. Lanphear, at a previous Winter Carnival, appealled to the Spirit of Metawampee to assure good Carnival weather for the weekend events.

Midway toward completion, the giant igloo, to be known during the Carnival Weekend as the Ice Palace, will be a refreshment stand, —Photo by Peter Hefler

First Winter Carni Conceived In 1936

Outing Club Originates Annual Event Vigorous Outdoor Sports Stressed

Winter Carnival Weekend is here again for the 26th time, and the highlights of one of the big-gest weekends of the year are the Winter Carnival Ball and Sunday's concert with the Brothers Four. This is a far cry from the very first Winter Carnival Weekend in 1936. At that time the Outing Club conceived the whole idea, because they thought that the outdoor winter sports program was neglected in this locality, which they felt afforded the ideal surroundings for "invigorating" winter sports.

And invigorating they were! Hockey games, figure skating exhibitions. tobogganing, boxing and wrestling, basketball games, skijoring races, inter-collegiate skating races, slaloming, and an inter-collegiate cross country ski in 1936. At that time the inter-collegiate cross country ski nnter-collegiate cross country ski run and jump.

An elimination contest was held among the fraternities previous to Winter Carnival to select men capable of representing UMass against others in the various athletic events. athletic events.

Prof. Briggs Gave Instructions

If there was anyone around the never skied or skated before, Lawrence Briggs, now associate professor of physical education, gave instructions in ski-joring as well as in the other

Joring as well as in the other types of skiing and skating in the Physical Education Building. The Carnival committee that year revolutionized the campus when it announced that funds had been secured from college au-thorities which enabled the com-mittee to buy approximately 400 feet of film to take pictures of all phases of carnival activities.

Glenn Miller Here in 1939
In 1939, five years before his tragic death, Glenn Miller and his orchestra were hired to play at

(Continued from page 4)

Brenzo . . . years. They have a son and three grandchildren. Brenzo's future plans include finishing a house in his hometown of Elmira, N.Y.
Still at UMass

Typical to his devotion to the corps, Brenzo is still on campus the Winter Carnival Ball. A Hit Parade specialty was arranged by the Winter Carnival commit-tee who polled the students of UMass, Smith, and Mount Holy-CMass, Smith, and Mount Holy-oke Colleges to get the top tunes of the week. These would be played by Glenn Miller and his orchestra along with the car-nival theme song, "You'll Be Gone Tomorow."

Gone Tomorow."

In this same year off-campus girls outnumbered UMass co-eds attending the Carnival Ball, as 84 girls from other colleges and towns attended with Smith College leading this list. There were only 50 UMass girls there.

A feature of the 1940 Winter Carnival was the appearance of the noted poet Carl Sandburg who presented a series of readings from some of his more famous books, and then followed this up by singing songs from this up by singing songs from his American song-bag while ac-companying himself with the Lanphear Predicts Weather Weather trouble seemed to be problem for successive Winter Carnivals. In 1941, use of meteorological records to insure the best possible weather was introduced. In 1947 Registrar M. O. Lanphear was asked to make a prediction on the weather for Winter Carnival Weekend, After browsing through much meteoro-logical information, the Registrar committed himself on the follow ing prediction.

"If the isobars coincide . endotherms . . . highs . . lows . . . we will definitely have weather this weekend."

A high point of the 1958 Win-ter Carnival was the fireworks display which coincided with the launching of the first United States space satellite.

helping out with the drill team (but with "more irregular hours"), over two weeks after being relieved from duty.

During his assignment at U-Mass, Brenzo made many friends for himself and AFROTE He

Carnival Calendar Friday, Feb. 10

7:30 p.m. Chapel Bell Concert

8:30 p.m. Fireworks over Pond Carnival Ball, S.U.

10:15 p.m. Crowning of Queen

Saturday, Feb. 11

10 a.m.-Noon Snow Sculpture Judging

1:30 p.m. Sled Dog Races, Pond

2:00 p.m. Providence Skating Club, Campus Pond

3:00 p.m, Fashion Show, Bowker

8:00 p.m. Stockbridge Sno-Ball, S.U.

Ballroom

8:00 p·m. Movie: Pal Joey, Bowker 8:30 p.m. Fraternity Parties

Sunday, Feb. 12

3:00 p.m. Brothers Four Concert, Hicks Cage

TV Stations Will Cover Carni Events

This Friday, when UMass's twenty-sixth annual Winter Carnival gets underway, photographers and cameramen from three ers and cameramen from different television stations be on hand to record the differ-ent events and catch filmclips of the students participating in and enjoying the big winter week-end. The TV stations are WWLP in Springfield, WNAC (channel 7 in Boston), and WHYN in Holyoke,

Wide outside coverage by local and Boston papers will contribute to the influx of people to the to the influx of people to the University in search of winter novelties such as snow sculptures, the Sno-Bowl, Snow Slide, igloo, dog-sled races and many

Dog Sled Rides Offered

This year's Winter Carnival This year's Winter Carmival will be without its mascot, the shiny-nosed and fur-covered St. Bernard called Sam. This enor-mous canine, a familiar sight to

Sculptures, Ice Show To Highlight Weekend

Elements Cooperate To Provide Atmosphere For Winter Carnival

Coach lights, covered bridges, and the warm, convivial atmos-phere of an old-fashioned winter will provide the setting for the 26th annual Winter Carnival.

The "Little Bit of Yesteryear" theme will feature the Beard Growing contest and the four team dog sled races to be held on Saturday.

The Winter Carnival will be appropriately introduced by the traditional ringing of bells at Old Chapel as well as a fireworks display in the vicinity of the College Pand

At the Ball there will be dancing to the Glenn Miller Orchestra under the direction of Ray Mc-Kinley. During intermission, the Winter Carnival Queen will be crowned by President Lederle.

A "Little Bit of Yesteryear" will be expressed in the themes of the snow sculptures which are being constructed by the dormitories, fraternities and sororities.

The judges for the sculptures this year will be: Brooks Emerson, Springfield College; William Darr, Amherst College Art Department; and Robert Needham, Worcester Telegram.

ham, Worcester Telegram.

On Saturday afternoon the Providence Ice Show featuring two New England champions and fifteen performers will be the center of the activities at the Computer Pend Campus Pond.

A fifteen foot high snow slide and a thirty foot wide snow bowl have been constructed as an addattraction for the young as well as the young at heart. The other major structure is the Igloo which was constructed by the sophomore class. This Igloo will serve as a lodge where spectators can get warm and purchase refreshments.

Bearded Contestants Labeled Both 'Beat,'-'Distinguished'

The time had come for the men of this campus to revolt! The cry was, throw away your safety razors, short circuit electric was, throw away your safety razors, short circuit electric razors, don't buy shaving cream, razor blades or after shave lotion! Band together men and grow those beards! This is a part of the beard growing contest initiated by this year's Winter Carnival Weekend.

Two of the entrants, Hank Kel-Two of the entrants, Hank Kelley and Bruno DePalma are on opposites sides of the fence. Kelley still has his beard while DePalma shaved his off within two weeks. Why and what were their opinions? Their answers follow follow.

Kelley says that he has been taken for a beatnik, but that at home the girls think he looks distinguished. He has let it grow because it is something different to do, and much easier than shaving. But he intends to shave it off Friday. And to those men who feel that a beard will be warmer in these cold winter days, Kelley says it isn't so.

DePalma, the unbearded one, says his friends looked at him strangely when he had it. Although it was much easier, he felt "grubby" with it, and with the social pressures of friends and professors he heart although the social pressures of friends and professors he shaved.

Well men, these are the two well men, these are the two points of views. Who knows what the future may hold. One of you is destined to win the contest. Which one of you is it?

UMass students near Winter Carnival time, has become ill and will be replaced this year by a team of dogs from Vermont and Massachusetts,

These sled dogs will give an exhibition of their skill in pulling a dog sled and will give anyone who wishes a ride around the Campus pond on the sled.

Fred Glatz Picked To Be New Mass End Coach, Says McGuirk

Glatz Returns To Redmen From Boston College Team

The appointment of Fred J. Football squad. Glatz as an assistant athletic coach on the University of Massachusetts' staff was announced yesterday by Warren P. McGuirk, Dean of the School of Physical Education and Director of Athletics.

Glatz, who has been end coach Boston College for the past year, will join new head football coach Vic Fusia's staff as end coach, and will also handle the freshman football squad.

Coach Glatz, a native of Pitts-urgh, Pa., attended the University of Pittsburgh and won letters during his junior and senior years as an end on the Pitt.

AMHERST

CINEMA

ARD James Julie NEWMAR
"MARRIAGE GO-ROUND"

-The Big One Starts HERE Wednesday, Feb. 15-

He received his B.S. degree in 1936 with a major in physical education and health, and a minor in biology. After graduation Glatz played with the Pittsburgh Steelers for a year before entering the service. While stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, he was a standout performer in football, basketball and baseball and also assisted with the coaching chores in football.

Following his discharge from the service Glatz returned to his alma mater to begin working on his master's degree and while there was a member of the foot-ball coaching staff where he

NOW ... ENDS SAT.

Daily 7 - 9:10 Sat. 5 - 7:20 - 9:10

FRED GLATZ

coached the freshman squad and handled the varsity punters.

In September, 1959 Glatz joined Charlie O'Rourke's University of Massachusetts coaching staff as end coach and last Februar resigned to join Ernie Hefferle at Boston College.

UMass mentor, Vic Fusia, had this comment about the new addition to his staff: "Fred Glatz has made a fine impression on me with his enthusiasm and dedication to the football coaching profession. I feel very elated that he will be a member of my staff for the coming year."

Aggies Lose Two Games

The Stockbridge basketball team dropped two games this week, Monday at the Cage Tom Baker's 28 points led Northamp-ton Commercial College to a 66-52 victory. High man for Stockbridge was Ted Hyland with 17

Wednesday the Aggies were confronted with a Holyoke Junior College team that produced three men who scored over 20 points. The barrage was too much for Stockbridge as they suc-cumbed, 81-60. Bob Goyette's 16 points and Carl Huff's 14 led the is a rematch with Holyoke at the Cage Monday night at 7:00.

SPORTSENSE

The Massachusetts Redmen, struggling under the paradoxical load of no Yankee Conference victories, will be after their first when they visit New Hamp-shire's campus, Saturday. New Hampshire, also, had not won a conference game until they upset the UConn squad Wednesday.

It's hard to give a specific reason for the Redmen's failure to capture a YanCon victory, and I won't try to. The squad is a good one, and each reason a good one, and each reason that might be given for their unimposing record seems to be outweighed by the qualities of the team. They'll be looking for the win against the Wildcats, though.

UConn, also, will be after a victory—against Maine. The battle shapes up to be a rough one all the way, considering reports that the treatment given the Huskies by Maine at Orono was worse than what the Bears handed out to Coach Zunic and corps.

Elsewhere in UMass sports, goalie Bob Roland of Steve Kosakowski's pucksters stands out again, for although UMass was toppled by the men of Bowlote Roland came through with 42 saves. The foes were obliged to make only twelve stops during the game.

With the Winter Carnival just starting here at Amherst, Dart-mouth's sport-packed frivolities have come to a close. Middlebury took its third straight carnival trophy as the hosts followed in second place. New Hampshire placed third in the game

ODDS AND ENDS

St. Bonaventure and St. John's will be hoping to take the honors away from the incredible Ohio State squad in the NCAA tourney. Both teams have already accepted bids to make the trip. Ohio State is holding the top for the eighth straight week now and the only threat to its unbeaten chances, the Iowa squad, has suffered a death blow. The ninth ranked team has lost four of its starters through classroom eligibility. That's quite a loss in any language.

A sixteen year win streak held Yale has been smashed by one point. Eight Naval Academy records were broken as the men from Annapolis downed the Elis. The last time the Elis had been beaten in a dual meet was by Army in 1945.

It's foolish to speak of the declining U.S. monopoly in track and field events, said a Russian newspaper last week, they no longer have one. This is not strictly an idle boast, when we take a look at Valerly Brumel's recent 7'4½" high jump. The recent 7'412" high jump. The best B.U.'s John Thomas could do was 7'334"! This jump by the Russian is even more astounding when we consider that he is only 6'%" tall. Thomas is 6'512". That means that Brumel had to jump 1612" higher than his own height, a full six inches more than Thomas had to jump.

Another shadow was cast on future U.S. Olympic hopes when Bob Mathias, twice winner of the Olympic decathlon title, warned that Russia may become superior to the U.S. in basket-ball unless "we maintain an interest in the sport." We'd bet-ter remember that basketball is our own sport; probably the only popular sport in the U.S. today that originated in this country. "t's come a long way from the

UM Grad Is Varsity Coach

Donald C. Smith, a graduate of UMass, has been promoted from freshman football coach to assistant varsity football coach at the University of Rochester, it has recently been announced.

Smith's frosh football team won twenty and lost six games since he came to UR in 1955. He is also varsity baseball coach.

Louis Alexander, Director of Athletics said of Smith: "Don richly deserves the promotion to the varsity and I am sure he will be a great help to Paul Bitgood in his first season as head coach.

Bitgood succeeds Elmer Burnham who will retire this June after 17 years at the University.

Smith was an end with Massachusetts. He completed his master's degree in 1955 at Springfield, and coached football while in the Army at Fort Dix.

Smith and his wife and young daughter live in Brighton, Mass.

Winter Carnival Weekend "Will you be dining out?" Of Course!

Enjoy the Quaint Atmosphere of the newly opened "Village Hearth"

CHARCOAL BROILED FOOD

PRICES TO FIT YOUR STUDENT BUDGET

Open 4-11 p.m. Weekdays; Sundays 8-11 p.m. Breakfast Sat. & Sun. Open 8:00 a.m. LOCATED IN VILLAGE INN

UMass Track Squad Places Fourth In NEAAU Games; Flagg, Balch Break Records

by ABE SCHEINKER '62

The UMass track team took fourth place in the New England Amateur Athletic Union indoor championships at M.I.T., Wednesday, as Holy Cross ran off with top honors. All of the Redmen's 14 points were scored by sophomores, while the Crusaders piled up a total of 21 points to beat out the Boston A.A. and Boston University who tied for second with 15 markers.

Sprinter Loren Flagg was the Sprinter Loren Flagg was the sole UMass winner as he flashed by Boston College's John Barrett the 50 yard dash with a time of 5.5 seconds, establishing a varsity record.

Another school record was authored by Dave Balch, who finished second in the three mile run in 15 minutes, 32.7 seconds, be-hind Boston A.A. marathoner Jim Green. Ken O'Brian was one second behind Holy Cross's Charlie Buchta in the 1000-yard run as he clocked 2:27 for the Redmen's other second placing.

The mile relay team of Flagg, O'Brien, Joe LaMarre, and Jack Harrington had the second-best time of the twelve squads en-tered in the trial heat, but ran fourth in the final with visible fatigue slowing down two of the runners who had competed in previous events. Dick Ward wrapped up the UMass scoring with a 6-1 leap in the high-jump for third place.

The Redmen meet their initial dual meet competition of the sea-son next Wednesday evening at the Cage against always-power-ful Connecticut.

Wildcats Surprise UConn 91-84; End Husky Hopes

New Hampshire uncorked a New Hampshire uncorred a surprise in the second half to hand defending champion Connecticut its second defeat in the Yankee Conference, 91-84, Wednesday night.

The win was the first in the Conference for UNH and virtually bounced Connecticut out of a three-way scramble for first

WMUA AT UNH

The UMass-New Hampshire basketball game will be broad-cast over WMUA starting at 8:05 tomorrow night. Jim 8:05 tomorrow night. Jim Trelease will be at courtside.

Going into the game UConn, Rhode Island and Maine had each lost one game in the conference.

Maine, which handed Connecticut its first setback last month, is scheduled to meet the Huskies in a rematch at Storrs Saturday.

The Huskies are eager to take revenge upon the Bears for the poor treatment they received in Orono from both the fans and the administration.

the administration.

In other YanCon action this weekend, our Redmen will be in Durham Saturday night to take on the Wildcats, still hot from their UConn victory. The game will be broadcast on WMUA starting at 8:05.

Hockey, Swimming, Wrestling Squads On Tap For Carnival

Unfortunately, the varsity basketball team will not be playing at home this weekend of Winter Carnival, but there will be several attractions for the viewing of weekend visitors.

HOCKEY

Varsity game vs. Bowdoin College at Orr Rink, 2:00 Saturday. This game should be a real honey. The powerful Maine men aren't used to the type of rink used by the Redmen, and this should improve the UMass chances of upsetting the highly favored team.

SWIMMING

Varsity meet vs. Holy Cross, 7:00 p.m. tonight at the WPE. 7:00 p.m. tonight at the WIE. Poor scheduling on someone's part has this meet pitted at exactly the same time as the Winter Carni Ball. Those of you who aren't planning to attend the ball, however, might find an evening's enjoyment watching

FIRST OF MANY
NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Louis made the first of his 25 successful defenses of the world's heavyweight boxing championship with a 15-round decision over Tommy Farr on Aug. 30, 1937 Farr on Aug. 30, 1937.

CLEAN SWEEP

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jay

Gould of Philadelphia won the United States Amateur Court Tennis Championship 16 consecutive times between 1906 and 1925, missing only in 1918 and 19 when no tournament was held.

YANCON STANDINGS

	CIDITATION
	W	L
Maine	6	1
Rhode Island	5	1
Connecticut	5	2
Vermont	3	6
New Hampshire	1	5
UMass	0	5

the mermen in action,

WRESTLING

Varsity vs. MIT, 7:00 p.m.

Saturday. College wrestling is a fascinating sport to watch, and Saturday's match offers UM fans the opportunity of seeing the Redmen battle one of the better teams in the East. An hour or so at this match might be just the thing to precede a letter forth the thing to precede a later frat

SPORTS MINDED?

ere will be a meeting in the Collegian office for anyone interested in joining the Massachusetts Collegian Sports sachusetts Collegian Sports Staff, on Monday, February 13 FIRST ROSE BOWL

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) -The first Rose Bowl game was held Jan. 1, 1916, with Washington State defeating Brown, 14-0.

HOUSE OF WALSH

ANNUAL SALE

MEN

U. of M. REVERSIBLE JACKETS Were $13.50 NOW $7.95

Zip Type SWEAT SHIRTS $3.50 Value-NOW $1.99

MANY MEN'S SWEATERS ALL FABRICS

40% OFF

Regularly $16.95-$10.95 — NOW $10.95-$6.95

40-50 VILLAGER DRESSES

17.95 Corduroy 21.95 18.95 Hopsacking 14.95 24.95 15.95 Cot. Paisley

40% OFF LADIES' SLACKS

BERMUDA SHORTS

Tweeds, Flannels & Corduroy

All Wool

KNEE SOX

Were $2.00 NOW $1.80

LADIES' SWEATERS

WOMEN LADIES' ATHLETIC HOSE

In 4 Colors Were $1.00 NOW 69¢

LADIES'

POLO SWEATERS

$5.50-$5.95 $6.50-$6.95 $7.50-$7.95

LADIES' SHIRTS

$8.50-$8.95 MADRAS

CUMMERBUNDS $3.95 Value-NOW $2.49

NOW $3.95 NOW $4.95 NOW $5.95 NOW $6.95 LADIES' GLOVES

20% OFF

Ladies'

C.C.M. SKATES

40% OFF

100% Shetland Wool Were $13.95 NOW $7.95

Drastically Reduced

Ladies'

TWEED SUITS

Long Sleeve-Lamb's Wool $17.95 Value-NOW $10.95

200

LADIES'

SKIRTS

In Checks, Plaids & Solids Plaids & Solids — Flannels, Scotch Tweeds, Shetlands & Corduroy
REDUCED 30% to 40%
—Exceptionall Good Buy—

Genuine LODEN COATS

Sizes 10-16

$35.00 Value - NOW $22.95

DUFFERS (Male & Female)

Sizes S-M-L

$22.95 Value — NOW $19.95

DACRON & COTTON JACKETS

WASH and WEAR

Were $35.00-$39.95 - NOW $24.95-$32.00

8:30-5:30 EVERY DAY -- PHONE AL-3-3361 36 MAIN STREET AMHERST

B.U. Students, Faculty Petition Haile Selassie

A petition containing the signatures of 1400 Boston Uni-versity students and faculty members has been mailed to Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia in an effort to secure aid for a student who returned to Ethiopia after completing his studies at Boston University last June.

The student, Assrat Deferesu faces possible execution as a result of his participation in the recent revolt in his native coun-

According to Howard Walker of the African Studies program at Boston University, the signatures were obtained within a day and a half. The petition reads:

"Your Royal Imperial Majesty: We understand that Assrat Dewe understand that Assrat De-feresu, a former student of Bos-ton University, has been involved in the recent disturbance in Ethiopia and that he faces possible execution for his participa-

"Assrat lived and ate with u in our dormitory. He joined us in our classes. He participated in our discussions. He shared our University life. Many of us know him well. We do not want to see

"As students, we are equally concerned over the safety of some of the students at the Univer-sity College of Addis Ababa who are reported to have been involved in the recent uprising. We hope nothing will be done to jeo-pardize the right of students to influence, now, the world they will shortly inherit.

"We appeal to your Imperial Majesty to appreciate our feel-ings for our classmate, to con-sider these fundamental rights of students, and do what only you have the power to do—save the life of our friends and preserve the active concern of students for their feuture responsibilities." their future responsibilities.

NOTICE

Bernard Murphy, general chairman of this year's Winter Carnival, announced that ter Carnival, announced that the tickets for the Carni Ball, Friday night, are completely sold out. No tickets will be available at the door!!

Get these twelve great original recordings—in one 12" LP album-for $100 and ten empty Lucky Strike packs!

Custom-pressed by Columbia for Lucky Strike-an album of unforgettable hits!

Look at this album. Imagine these 12 great artists, great hits together on one record! Here are the original recordings—magnificently reproduced by Columbia Record Productions ($3.98 value). Never before have all these great artists been brought together in one album! Never before have you been able to buy these great hits at such a bargain price! To get your album, fill in and mail the shipping label at right with $1.00 and ten empty Lucky Strike packs to "Remember How Great," P. O. Box 3600, Spring Park, Minnesota. Spring Park, Minnesota.

REMEMBER HOW GREAT CIGARETTES USED TO TASTE? LUCKIES STILL DO

S	HIPPING LABEL
"Remember Hov P. O. Box 3600 Spring Park, Mir
TO YOUR NAME
STREET	(PRINT YOUR NAME HERE)
CITY	ZONESTATE
Offer g	ood only in U.S.A and Puerto Rico.

Senate . . .

(Continued from page 1)
He asserted that there was "n relationship between marks and extracurricular ability." Sen, Croteau said that the senate should act now because senate should act now because "it is going to come from the administration," sooner or later.

Charging that the motion was "full of holes," Sen. Finnegan said, "Let's kill this motion so dead that it will never, never, never come up again." He called the question and the senate did just that.
Folowing is the result of the Following is the result of the rolowing is the result of the roll call vote.

Yes: Linda Achenbach, Dana Clark, Donald Croteau, Andy D'-Avanzo, Carol Jones, William Knowlton, Gail Osbaldeston, Richard Shields, Carol Stone, Peter

chard Shields, Carol Stone, Peter Watson, and Judy Woodbury.
No: John Aho, Joan Blodgett, Alexander Brough, Patricia Chase, Marilyn Coris, Vin Dellapenna, Richard Doran, John Finnegan, Peter Haebler, Steve Hayson, Abdul Sayme, Libert Hewey, Abdul Samma, John Seletsky, Mary Jane Stack, Barbara Sneider, Arthur Tacelli, Hewey, Mary Jane Stack, Da., bara Sneider, Arthur Tacelli, Robert Trudeau, Richard Valintinetti, and Raymond Wilson.

LOST & FOUND

LOST, MISTAKEN IDENTITY:

Would the person who left his ray tweed topcoat and took mine from the checkroom in the S.U. during registration please

You can have your hairbrush for my car keys and gloves which were in the pocket. Dana Harlow, ext. 522.

LOST: A set of keys attached to a plastic religious card with the name and address of Nancy McFerrin. Please return to her at Lewis House.

See page 2

VOL. XC NO. 44

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1961

Sunday Traffic Snarls Amherst Region Jam

-Photo by Stan Patz

QUEEN OF THE WINTER CARNIVAL BALL, Bette Broberg,

Senate To Consider Motion To Suspend Adelphia Constitution

The Student Senate will consider on its agenda this Wednes-day a motion to suspend the constitution of Adelphia for thirty days in an effort to have the senior honor society revise its constitution on the subjects of the minimum average requirement, and election procedures for

Motion Stated

The motion to be introduced y the executive committee

MOVE that the Student Senate suspend the Constitution of Adelphia for thirty days at which time it is requested that Adelphia ew Constitution for approval.

It is strongly present to the Student Senate a

It is strongly recommended that Adelphia make those revisions which are dictated by the changing size and concept of the University of Massachusetts keeping firmly in mind the cherished ideals which were embodied in the original Adelphian organization.

It is also recommended that the following areas be thoroughly re-

 The desirability of a speci-fied minimum average for all current requiren for a unanimous vote of Adelphia to elect their successors;

3) More specific criteria for election clearly stated in the Constitution.

The 30-day suspension shall not cover any day-to-day operations which are required to keep Adelphia functioning, nor does it refer to financial privileges or operations. The suspension does apply to any Adelphian election procedure currently in progress or shortly anticipated, and to any new projects which would be binding on future Adelphians.

-Photo by Dick Fosman
BETTE BROBERG, Winter Carni Queen, and PRESIDENT

Motorists Clog Routes Trying To View Sculptures As Crowded Weekend Ends

A giant traffic jam on routes leading to Amherst Sunday af-ternoon provided the climax to the Winter Carnival weekend. Thousands of motorists, trying to enter Amherst to view the to enter Amherst to view the UMass snow sculptures, clogged the main roads throughout most of the afternoon. Delays of up to an hour and a half were reported approaches to the town

Amherst police estimated that 8,000 cars were crowded into the campus area Sunday afternoon. The major tieups were reported on routes 9 and 116.

All events of the campus-wide Winter Carnival were crowded to capacity. Tickets to the Carnival Ball on Friday night were sold out well in advance. The ballroom was crowded to capa-

Youngsters visiting the campus made full use of the circular snow chute built near the

Adelphia Purposes Stated

Adelphia is the senior men's honor society founded at UMass in April, 1915, to foster and uphold the highest type of fellowship ideals, and interests at UMass. The group stimulates and promotes leadership among the underclassmen; and rewards them by final recognition before their graduation. Membership is open to nineteen men students of the senior and junior classes.

Philip Grandchamp '61 stated; "I think it is a pretty poor man-ner and time to bring up this matter." He further said that Adelphia is considering the mat-ters suggested in the motion and was unwilling to reveal them be-fore the election. In addition, he said that this year's election would be affected by the changes. Pressures may be brough (Continued on page 3)

Second Class In Workshop

Tonight At 7

The second session of the current Collegian training workshop will be held tonight at 7 p.m. The classes, meeting weekly for four weeks' duration, are held in Machmer Hall E-13.

Anyone may still enroll in the informal classes by attending to-night. In addition to several present Collegian staff members, the following UMass students have enrolled:

Louise Dare '63, Jean Roanowicz '63, George Ganem '64, Paul Kennett '64, Alice Rex '64, Elen Maguire '64, Norma Finch '64, Ellen Gaines '64, Irwin Cherniak '64, Maureen Malone '64, Barbara Zebrowske '64, Martin Stein '64, Ann Miller '64, and Lesley Dodge '64.

This week's class, to be taught by Donald Johnson '61 and James Reinhold '61, will cover copyediting and style rules. Louise Dare '63, Jean Roano

Winners Listed

Alpha Gamma Rho won first rize in the fraternity division with its sculpture of an ox team

Second place was taken by QTV and third by Phi Mu Delta.

Sigma Kappa won first place in the sorority competition, with Chi O and Phi Delta Mu in second and third, respectively.

Lewis and Adams Houses won the first place trophies in the women and men's dormitory competition. Second place winners were Knowlton and Baker; third went to Hamlin and Hills

Fashion Show A Success

The fashion show held Saturday in Bowker was regarded as a success. Twenty women modeled outfits from their own wardrobes in these categories: casual wear, basic dress, and af-ter five' dress.

Judging at the show was done by five volunteers from the audience who rated the participants on the basis of choice of fashion and runway presentation. Ann Slaton '63 was announced as "the girl with the best taste in clothes".

Skating Show Dropped

Only the skating exhibition scheduled by the Providence Skating Club failed to go off on schedule. The Winter Carnival committee cancelled the event after warming weather made the pond unsafe for skating.

A.B. Beaumont Dies; Retired Agronomist

Dr. Arthur B. Beaumont, 74, of 285 Amity St., retired head of the UMass agronomy department and state soil conservationist, died Thursday at Cooley Dickinson Hospital in Northampton,

Native of Texas

Native of Texas

He was born in Waco, Tex.,
Jan. 21, 1887, and attended schools in Mayfield, Ky. He received a BS degree from the University of Kentucky in 1908.
In 1918, he received a Ph.D. degree from Cornell University.
Beaumont taught school for two vears at North Bend and Monvears at North Bend and Monyears at North Bend and Mon-mough, Ore. He was a graduate assistant at Cornell University for four years and became a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

He joined the UMass staff in 1917 as soils professor in the agronomy department, and served in this capacity and later as de-partment head until 1935. From 1935-37 he was with the USDA Resettlement Administration in Oklahoma and Texas, and then spent a year at Harvard University in charge of a land use project.

Dr. Beaumont was with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Washington, D.C., for one year before returning to the U. of M. in May, 1939, as extension soil conservationist. During the early 1940's he saw the need for a district soil conservation enabling act because of severe erosion occurring in the state. erosion occurring in the state. Working with agricultural and urban leaders, he was instrumental in securing passage of such a bill in June, 1945.

While extension soil conservationist, he founded the Soil Auger, a periodical devoted to soil conservation education and prac-tices. He was the author of more than 250 bulletins and scientific papers on soils, conservation and crops. Writer of two books on gardening, Dr. Beaumont traveled extensively in the U.S. and Europe studying soils. He retired

Head of SPCC Branch

He was a fellow of the American Society of Agronomy and former chairman of its New England section, a member of the Soil Conservation Society of America, the American Associa of Advanced Science lia fraternity. Recently (Continued on page 3)

THE BROTHERS FOUR wind up Winter Carnival Weekend with concert at Curry Hicks Gymnasium late Sunday afternoon after considerable delay due to traffic. They were escorted by police to the concert.

AN ANALYSIS OF THE 2.0 QUESTION

The arguments presented by those senators Wednesday night, against the 2.0 cum. requirement for R.S.O. officers, are in accord with the Commission of Education's statement of purpose of 1947, which reads in part, "... the Commission wants an education which will equip all American youth to live democratically as home members, workers, and citizens; it is concerned with ethical and moral living, mental and emotional health, wholesome recreational interests; it believes in the dignity of work and the importance of personal satisfactions and achievements; and it makes the regulations bow to the importance of fundamental skills. Mortimer Smith, in his article, Adjustment or Education, had this to say about the statement. "It is the usual hotchpotch of unexceptional, vague cliches, and has the usual weakness of such statements in trying to be all inclusive as well as expressing an apparent unawareness that some purposes of the school are primary and others subsidiary.

The primary purpose of any school should be to develop the American youth, idealized by the commission, through a sound education and not through extra-curricular activities which should be the subsidiary purposes of a school; efficient and successful leaders are not made of the same material as the student who can not first accept the responsibilities his studies impose on him.

The successful leaders and officers of an organization are those who realize their first objective of education. Thomas Henry Hux-ley, in "A Liberal Education Defined," supports this statement by saving, "Those who make honors in University, who learn the laws which govern men and things and obey them, are the really great and successful men in this world. The great mass of mankind are the 'Poll' who pick up just enough to get through without much discredit."

If I were voting for an officer for an organization of which I were a member, I would vote for the one who could accept the first responsibility of educating himself, rather than he who is active in many groups and effective in none. Furthermore, I would not want to be led by one of the 'Poll'. The leadership of such an individual, since he would "pick up just enough to get through," would be just enough to get by; obviously not the type of person who would offer dynamic leadership necessary to any organization.

The argument, the student has a free will to choose whether or not he will flunk out, was presented by several senators. Gentlemen, you are forgetting one important fact. A freshman is not a mature, adult, individual; he is impressionable, and has an idealized idea of the correct balance of social and academic life.

If the situation is created whereby the social life of college becomes dominant over the academic, the freshman could lose sight of his objective of gaining an education, the "primary" purpose of his being here. In the 2.0 cum. prerequisite for holding an office in a R.S.O. organization, exists the correct balance of the social and academic aspects of college.

In a broader sense, the 2.0 cum. has a significance which transcends it's application to R.S.O. organizations. If it becomes effective it would demonstrate that we, as students, realize that our leaders must have, not only a pleasing personality and an adaptibility to social situations, but the more important qualities of a sound academic background and an intense awareness of the contemporary community.

-Kenneth H. Smith

A Review

CONSCIENCE OF A CONSERVATIVE

Conscience of a Conservative, by Barry Gold-ter, is, as is stated on its cover, a book every nerican who loves his country should read—but read critically with utmost consideration, for the ideas and proposals it contains are now being promulgated by influential Congressmen and private citizens, and, if carried out, even to a minor extent, will have far-reaching consequences.

Senator Goldwater begins by describing the American people's yearning "for a return to conserva-tive principles, in a country where it is now gen-erally understood that individual liberty depends on decentralized government." He feels that the day's decentralized government." He feels that the day's overriding political challenge lies not in the field of foreign policy, but in "preserving and extending freedom" by reducing the powers of the federal government and enhancing those of the states. A Leviathan has been created, "a vast national authority out of touch with the people, and out of their control." Legislation must be repealed to reduce this authority. The federal government must be deprived of its control over education, farming, and public welfare. He doesn't bother to explain how successfully a decentralized government can deal with the fully a decentralized government can deal with the foreign threat, how individual liberty can be protected against communism with a clumsy, decentralized governmental apparatus grinding out foreign policy like an old machine—in reaction to each Soviet move. This he fails to consider, as well as the relationship between the foreign and domestic spheres, forcing the national government to assume a great amount of control over our internal prob-

In the last third of his book, Senator Goldwater presents some highly controversial suggestions of cerning our foreign policy. He advocates that be done with submitting major policy decisions to the United Nations—"to a forum where the opinions of the Sultan of Yeman count equally with ours; where the vote of the United States can be can-celled out by the likes of 'Byelorussia'." He is also in favor of withdrawing diplomatic recognition from all Communist governments, including that of the Concerning the drive for a permanent ban the testing of nuclear weapons—a drive which has assumed almost unanimous support in our country—Goldwater has the following to say: "There are two reasons why such proposals (against nuclear testing) ought to be firmly rejected. There is no reliable means of preventing the Communists from secretly breaking such an agreement." He mentions that underground atomic explosions can be set off without detection. "Secondly, tests are needed to develop tactical nuclear weapons for possible use in limited wars. We must develop and perfect a variety of small, clean nuclear weapons; and this in turn means: testing." To those who would scream he mentions that there is practically no fallout from tests above the earth's atmosphere, and none at all from underground tests.

Goldwater also believes that we must turn our foreign policy into one of offensive action rather than allow it to crumble into a policy of retreat and

"We must-ourselves-be prepared to undertake military operations against vulnerable Communist regimes. Assume a major uprising in Eastern Europe, such as occurred in Budapest in 1956. In such a situation, we ought to present the Kremlin with an ultimatum forbidding Soviet intervention, and be prepared, if the ultimatum is rejected, to move a highly mobile task force equipped with propriate nuclear weapons to the scene of the volt. Our objective would be to confront the viet Union with superior force in the immediate vicinity of the uprising and to compel a Soviet withdrawal. An actual clash between American and Soviet armies would be unlikely."

Victory over communism before a lasting peace harsh stand indeed, for an ultra-conservative.

The above are by no means all of the points contained within this new best-seller. In addition, the author gives an informative (though one-sided) analysis of states' rights, civil rights, the farm, labor, education and tax issues. Conscience of a Con-servative will provide stimulating reading for every concerned American citizen.

The Academic Deadbeat

There is a growing body of deadbeats populating the colleges. These are the boys who switch courses and drop math and then plan for graduate courses and drop math and then plan for graduate school. They want to stay in college because they are willing to deadbeat it for the allowance they get from home or for the pittance they earn at after-school jobs: they are willing to mark time and waste time to avoid meeting that big real world that lies in wait for them. It is not generally known, but there are literally thousands of boys and some girls whose "profession" is—going to college ...

—from The Carolina Israelite

LETTERS

Move To Suspend Adelphia's Constitution

To the Editor:

The Student Senate Executive Committee is presenting to the Student Senate this Wednesday a motion calling for the suspension of Adelphia's constitution with the recommendation that the Adelphia ans bring in a revised constitution for approval within thirty days.

The vote in the Executive Committee was unanimous with ten members voting to bring the motion to the Senate floor, one member absent and myself, as chairman, abstaining. The ten members represent as broad a base as could be desired in such an important Student wish to emphasize the point that these students come from various elements of campus life and could hardly be accused of representing too narrow a segment of student opinion. Moreover, the Committee is comprised of twelve very strong minded individuals who have never voted in a deliberate bloc and, in fact, this Adelphian motion is one of the few instances when there has been a unanimous vote within the Committee.

The point I am trying to make is that these ten students evidence a sincere sense of responsibility when representing their fellow students and it is a simple lie to accuse them of sponsoring this motion simply to embarrass Adelphia or to seek revenge for any individual on the Executive Committee who was not elected into Adelphia last feel this motion represents mounting student concern current state of our senior men's honorary society. Adelphia by custom and constitution is supposed to epitomize the best of scholarship, tom and constitution is supposed to epicomize the best of scholarship, leadership and community service in the nine juniors selected each year. Although the nine members currently on Adelphia, without a doubt, are outstanding individuals in some or all of these areas, it is my expressed opinion that Adelphia has wandered far from the chered criteria which embodied the original Adelphia organization back

Some members of the University Community ask what right has the Student Senate to intrude into the private affairs of an organiza-tion. The answer is clear cut to my way of thinking. Adelphia be-longs to the student! Ideally we look to these men for leadership and inspiration and they have come to represent the best the University of Massachusetts produces. Since this is so, it is not only the right but the responsibility of the students to express a strong mandate Adelphia to heed.

The motion asks Adelphia to consider revising their constitution areas as follows:

1) Minimum point average—should it be required and at what level? 2) The current requirement for a unanimous vote to elect to

2) The current requirement for a unanimous vote to elect to Adelphia. This has meant an individual could cast negative votes on all other candidates until his own choice was elected.

3) Definite criteria be established for election. As the constitution now reads, it is quite vague and the qualities and requirements should be more plainly listed.

I would add, that after meeting with Adelphia on this problem last December, I am not unaware that they are contemplating changes on their own. But they are adamant in refusing to announce any reforms before making their next selections this coming spring, and they are opposed to making any statement which recognizes the need for reforms and rededication to original Adelphian principles.

I ask each and every student to support this Senate motion regardless of whether he is a commuter, Greek, dormitory resident, independent, etc. It concerns us all since Adelphia represents us all.

Dennis J. Twohig

Dennis J. Twohig President, Student Senate

Talk Of The Week

"The Issues In United States Farm Policy," by Dr. Walter Wilcox, Library of Congress, 3:00 p.m., S.U.
"Soviet Challenge and World Leadership," Great Decisions Discussion, 7:30 p.m., Skinner Auditorium.
"Greek Religion and Greek Art," by Professor Francis Walton, Professor of Classics, Cornell University, 8:00 p.m., Bartlett

TUESDAY Young Republicans Lecture: Senator Philip Graham, 8:00 p.m., S.U.

"Existentialism: the Fear of Philosophy or Philosophy of Fear?," by Dr. Yourgrau, Visiting Professor of the History of Science in Smith and Amherst Colleges, 8:00 p.m., S.U.

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1876 Editor-in-Chie Larry Rayner

Editorial Editor Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Sports Editor Al Berman '62 Photography Editor Larry Popple '63 Assistant News Editor James R. Reinhold '61

News Editor
Donald D. Johnson '61
Business Manager
Michael Cohen '61 Advertising Manager Howie Frisch '62 Circulation Manager

James R. Reinhold '61 Barry Ravech
Mon.: News Associate, Richard Howland; Feature Associate, Jean
Cann; Editorial, Sally Mallalieu; Sports, Al Berman

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1984. Subscription price

Subscription price

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. Member-Associated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press.

Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

Redmen Snap Slump, Smash New Hampshire, 86-65

Grutchfield Scores 26 In First UMass YanCon Win

The lack of rebounding ability that cost the UMass basketball squad the loss of the Rhode Island game recently, was the ma-jor factor in carrying the Red-men to an impressive 86-65 win over the University of New Hampshire Saturday night at

The win was the first in Yankee Conference competition for the Redmen, who are now 1-5 and just ahead of the Wildcats' cellar-dwelling 1-6.

REBOUNDING DECISIVE

There was never any question as to the outcome of the game. With Don Black, Doug Grutch-field, and Kirk Leslie clearing the boards, the Redmen pulled out to an early 18-7 lead and didn't have much to worry about there-

The score was 45-27 at the end of the first half, and was beginning to look a little like a reverse of the UM-Maine total of just a week before. The Wildcats, in a feverish late attempt to come back, cut the margin to 60.56 with five minutes left. The 69-56 with five minutes left. Th Redmen weren't to be denied, however, and spurted into a lead that left the homers in the dust.

by AL BERMAN '62, Sports Editor The buzzer kept the UMass lead from increasing any further than 21 points.

Grutchfield, who wound up the game with 26 points, got 20 of them in the telltale first half. Jim Rich had 27 for the losers.

DRIBBLING AROUND

Grutchfield now has a 6-game YanCon average of 19.8, which is tops in the Conference . . . In other Saturday night action the University of Rhode Island shocked the NIT-bound Providence Friars, 78-76 in Providence. ... Of more importance to UMass people, however, is the fact that UConn, as expected, trounced the Maine Black Bears in Storrs, 73-60. After the unsportsmanlike treatment accorded both UMass and UConn in Orono, most enthusiasts were just waiting for Maine to play an important Yan-Con game away from home. The Bears went to Storrs Saturday and promptly proved that in a clean, well-umpired game, they were no match for the Huskies.

DOUBLE DRIBBLE

The UConn victory over Maine set Rhode Island up as the sole habitant of first place in the Yan-Con. The Rams are 6-1, while lost two games . . . Most UMass fans are expecting UConn to be eliminated entirely from the race tomography might with tomorrow night when they meet our Redmen at the Cage. In a previous game at Storrs the Huskies overcame a big half-time lead to edge UMass, 72-70. To-morrow's rematch should be one of the most exciting games of the season. The two frosh teams will meet for a preliminary bout

UMa	139			New Ha	mp	snn
	B	F	Pts		B	F	Pt
Grutchf'ld	10	6	26	Hargen	4	8	16
Leslie	6	2	14	Rich	9	9	27
Black	6	3	15	Bron	0	4	4
Laughnane	4	3	11	Battaglioli	5 2	1	11
Mole	3	2	8	Kagelelry	2	0	4
Fohlin	2	1	5	Mandr'veli	8 0	1	3
Wheeler	1	3	5	Cotoure	0	0	0
Widdison	0	0	0	Messer	1	0	2
Larkin	0	0	0	Baker	0	0	0
Seigel	1	0	2	Ebstyne	0	0	0
m			-		-	-	_
Totals	33	20	86	Totals	21	23	65
			tim	e-UMass	45.	N	ew
Hampshire	27

VARSITY LACROSSE

There will be a meeting for all Varsity Lacrosse candi-dates at 4:00 Tuesday, Feb. 14, at the Cage in Room 10. Everyone is welcome.

UMass Mermen Come Through With Stunning Defeat Of Holy Cross

Coach Joe Rogers and his swimmers tasted sweet victory at the expense of Holy Cross at the WPE pool last Friday night. UMass won 64-29, placing first in the initial 8 of the 11 events.

RELAY TEAM WINS

o open the meet a relay team of Bruce Morton, Dave Desjardins, George Fisette, and Ron Chiras won the 400-yd. Medley. Matt Rutkowski and Dave Leith followed with first and second respectively in the 220-yd Free-

Tony Lincoln continued with a first place time of 24.9 in the 50-yd Freestyle. Holy Cross, by now probably wishing they had never arrived on the UMass

WMUA AT COURTSIDE

If you can't make it down to the Cage tomorrow night, tune in to 91.1 on your FM dial, where Jim Trelease and Howie Wainstien will bring you all the action of the UM-UConn clash. Air-time is 8:05.

campus, was defeated by Bren-don O'Neill and Dave Desjar-dins who took one and two in dins who took one and two in the 200-yd Individual Medley. Holy Cross was unrepresented in Fancy Diving and Eric Schule edged teammate Frank DeFreitas giving UMass eight more total points. In the 100-yd Butterfly event Fisette flew to a first with 1:09-0 and Leith bettered Chiras for first and second in the 100-yd Freestyle. The climax of this fiasco came in the 200-yd Backstroke where in the 200-yd Backstroke where Bruce Morton turned 2.28.3 and Jim Coffey finished second for the Redn

SPELL BROKEN

The spell was broken in the 440-yd Freestyle when Matt Rut-kowski remained out of the race and captain Dave Goldstein finished second for UMass. Desjardins finished second again in the 200-yd Breast stroke.

The Freshmen swimmers swift-ly knocked off an outclassed Wor-cester Jr. College to complete the

For just the price of Europe alone SEE ISRAEL TOO!

ISRAEL COLLEGE STUDENT TOUR — CON-QUALIFIED LEADERS — 57 DAYS — CO-ED DUCTED BY QUALIFIED LEADERS — 57 D.

BY AIR — TEN COUNTRIES

$1350 all inclusive. June 28 - August 22

INTERNATIONAL GROUP TOURS, INC.

37 Court Square, Boston, Mass.

ERASE WITHOUT A TRACE ON EATON'S CORRASABLE BOND

Typing errors never show on Corrasable. The special surface of this paper makes it possible to erase without a trace—with just an ordinary pencil eraser. Results: cleanlooking, perfectly typed papers. Next, time you sit down at the keyboard, make no mistake—type on Corrasable!

Your choice of Corrasable in light, medium, heavy weights and Onion Skin. In handy 100-sheet packets and 500-sheet Only Eaton makes

A Berkshire Typewriter Paper

EATON PAPER CORPORATION (E) PITTSFIELD, MASS.

THE UNIVERSITY STORE

UMass Hockey Squad Beats MIT, 5-4, Then Drops Home And Home Series To Prolific Bowdoin Team

by DAVE WILLARD '64

This past week saw the UMass hockey club play three games, sandwiching a win between two

Monday they traveled up to Maine to take on Bowdoin who proved to be rude hosts, shutting out the Redmen, 8-0. The UMass sextet must have thought it had walked into a trap as the power-ful Bowdoin team never let up, dominating action and forcing battle-scarred goalie Bobo Roland to make 45 saves.

e 45 saves. M.I.T. VICTORY

Friday the Redmen again had to leave their domain in Amherst and journey down to Cambridge to try their luck against MIT.
MIT had lost only two games this season and one of them had been to UMass in their first encounter ing to avenge that defeat, how-ever, as they were ahead virtu-ally all the way. They were ahead, 2-0, before Art Stevens scored his first of three goals. After

STOWE'S FAMOUS SKI DORM

SPECIAL MID-WEEK BUDGET PLANS
FOLDER—Write or Phone
STOWE, VERMONT • ALpine 3-7223

Stevens had completed his hat trick MIT still led 4-3. At this point Bob Glue tied it assisted by Frank Gilliat and Stevens. This set the scene for hero Jim Ellingwood to score the decisive marker which enabled the Redmen to pull it out, 5-4. This was game of frustration for the Engineers, losing in the last six minutes after leading throughout, but no amount of calculating by asters of the sliderule could help them this time.

BOWDOIN AGAIN

Saturday night the Redmen had the privilege of playing at home on Winter Carnival Weekend for the first time in about five years. But the UMass team picked poor guests to invite for they failed to cooperate in the least. The Bowdoin team stormed down from Maine and snowed the Redmen, 11-1, picking up where they left off earlier in the week.

Bowdoin scored four in the first period, four in the second and were held to three in the final.

pulled the hat trick and Spaulding had two for Bow-doin. The lone UMass tally was doin. The lone UMass tally was scored by Billy Ryan in what was one of the prettiest plays of the season. He stole the puck at his own blue line, skated and stick-handled his way through the whole Bowdoin team and put it by the sprawling goalie.

The whole story was that the UMass team was outclassed by the flashy Bowdoin club which is rated one of the best in New England, Bowdoin was clicking on every pass pattern they set up which usually found a man open right in front of the crease.

REDMEN HANDICAPPED Although this is not an attempt make any excuses for the team, it must be pointed out that the Redmen were handicapped physically. Tom Taylor wasn't even dressed for the game while Art Stevens was doing his level best with a leg injury. Warren Bassett took his turns although not completely recovered from a concussion suffered in the first game with Bowdoin.

Even with these three stal-game with Bowdoin.

Even with these three stalwarts hurt, the UMass club did not give up. Although the score was high, had they let up the Bowdoin club could easily have scored eleven more. For this the scored eleven more. For this the team should be credited.

Bobo Roland again put on a sensational performance making 40 saves, many of them on the spectacular side. Although Bobo must have felt like a kewpie doll at a carnival context he hung in at a carnival contest he hung in there coming up with save after save, many on point blank shots.

The Redmen now have a few days of sorely needed rest in which time they hope to diminish game will be February 16, when they run over to Springfield to take on AIC.

Adelphia ...
(Continued from page 1)
bear upon the society not to change because individuals who normally would be eligible may be disqualified under the revi-

Senate President Dennis Two-hig '61 stated; "The changes in the Adelphia constitution should be revealed before the selection process gets underway."

Becument ...

(Continued from page 1)
was elected president of the eastern branch of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

PPORTUNITY

Challenging summer jobs for outstanding juniors and sophomores—leading to management careers with Sealtest Foods

- We're looking for good men among juniors and sophomores...in the upper half of their class... active in extracurricular organizations...interested business career...men well-equipped with intelligence, initiative, and pleasant personality.
- We offer interesting summer jobs with Sealtest in sales, production, and accounting.
- We offer good pay.
- And we offer excellent experience and a chance to "try Sealtest for size."

Sealtest Foods is an opportunity company—progressive, on-the-grow. It is a division of National Dairy Products Corporation, one of America's top 25 companies in

Ask your Placement Director for an interview time when our interviewer will be on campus.

INTERVIEWS

February 21st

CLUB DIRECTORY

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Open meeting for prospective members Mon., Feb. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Commonwealth Rm., S.U. Dean Robert Hopkins will speak. Refreshments to follow.

Short business will be held Wed., Feb. 15 at 7:00 in Bartlett 61.

There will be a meeting to-night at 10:30 p.m. The ori-ginal founder has returned from exile and will discuss "BX and the World". There will be fireworks.
COLLEGIAN WORKSHOP

Second session of the training program, Mon., Feb. 13 at 7 p.m. in Machmer E-13. All interested students may still enroll in the informal classes.

DEMOLAY

Meeting will be held at Masonic Temple, Main St., at 7 p.m. on Feb. 15.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The UMass Collegiate Chapter of F.F.A. will meet Feb. 14, at 6:30 p.m. in the Commonwealth Room. All former menibers and others who wish to join the club are welcome to attend.

HILLEL

There will be a meeting to be held Friday, Feb. 17, at 8:00 in the Worcester Room. Mr. Aryeh Simon, National Director of the Student Zionist Organization, will speak on: "Does Israel Have the Right To Try Eichmann in the Name of the Jewish People?"

There will be a meeting of the Italian Club on Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 6:45 p.m. in the Franklin Room. Professor Ilardi of the History Depart-ment will speak informally on his general impression as an American travelling in Italia. American travelling in Italy. All are invited.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

Meeting will be held Thursday at 11:00 a.m. in Bartlett 356. Officers wil! be elected.

SPORTS CAR CLUB

Meeting Mon., Feb. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Village Inn. Slated election of officers and a discussion of next rally (Hound 'n Hare; Sun., Feb. 19). New members and other interested parties welcome.

SU PING PONG TOURNA-MENT

Sign-up sheets are now available in the Games Area for the 1961 UMass Championship Tournament. The tournament will include both a men's and a women's division. Hurry! Limited entry.

Senate Okays Maroon Key Constitution

Before the mid-semester break Before the mid-semester break the Student Senate approved a constitution which placed the Maroon Key Society once again nuder R.S.O., a position which Maroon Key has not occupied since May of 1960. The new constitution contained many minor changes but the most controversial were the stipulation of a 2.0 average and the election method of semi-final selection.

Prior to this year, it was possible for a freshman to become a Key with a cumulative average as low as 1.6. Consequently, many Keys were being tapped in May and leaving UMass in June. In addition the honorary aspect of the organization was in question when the combined average of all the members fell blow the 2.0 mark. The new stipulation hopes to remedy the

The second major change was ne election method of cutting the applicants to a suitable nun ber before selecting finalists. The older method consisted of an inolder method consisted of an interview before the entire Marcon Key body. The new constitution provides for all freshman men to be given the opportunity to select the final seventy-five by regular election vote. The final twenty-five will be chosen by the Marcon Key Society from this list. These two revisals constitute the major changes of the recently passed constitution and comprise a fairer method of selection than in previous years.

On the week-end of Feb. 17-19 the Eastern Intercollegiate Key Association will hold its an-nual convention here on our camnual convention here on our campus. Ken Swain, president of E.I.K.A., is conducting the events in co-operation with the Maroon Keys and the S.U. Forty representatives from such schools as Harvard, Brown, Dartmouth, Colgate, Pennsylvania, and other top colleges will arrive here. Mr. Dana Harlow and Mr. William Scott will be the featured speakers during the week-end. After two days of speeches, meetings, and discussions the E.I.K.A. representatives will be the guests resentatives will be the guests of the Athletic Department at UMass-Vermont basketball game Saturday night before departing on Sunday.

U. of II.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1961

STACKS

See page 2

Seven Fraternities Placed On Social Probation

G.E.'s Cordiner Not To Receive Degree

by JAMES R. REINHOLD '61, Assistant News Editor

President John W. Lederle has denied that the name of General Electric official Ralph W. Cor-diner was presented to the Board of Trustees to receive an honordegree from UMass this ng. Cordiner is board chair-UMass this man of the corporation, which was convicted last week of violat-ing the Federal Anti-Trust Laws. Several officials of G.E. are facing jail terms as a conse-

Dr. Lederle said that Cordiner's was among those presented to a faculty screening commit-tee, but that action had not gone beyond that point. He indicated that the process of being awarded a degree is a long and involved one. The president said all action on honorary degrees is com-pletely secret, and that names of potential recipients are not re-vealed in advance.

Revealed in State Senate

State Senator Francis X. Mc-Cann (D-Cambridge) brought the Cordiner recommendation — and Cordiner recommendation — and its subsequent withdrawal from consideration — to light on the floor of the Senate Monday. Mc-Cann delivered a stinging attack on G.E., and lauded U.S. Atty. Gen. William Rogers for in-stituting action against the cor-

McCann said he was "ple

Issue Said Confidential

Rep. Phillip Whitmore (R-Sunderland), a University trustee, refused to confirm or deny McCann's statement, stating that all discussion of honorary awards is confidential. "If somebody talked out of turn, I'm not going to follow his example," he said.

Hugh Thompson, a trustee, said that Cordiner was under consideration for a degree. He also said that a list of candidates had been received by the trustees on Feb. 1.

Scrolls To Distribute Nomination Blanks Program, Freshman Weekend, Commuter's Tea, High School Days, and Activities Night. Members of Scrolls assisted in setting up the new Inter-Dorm Council and were on hand to give information at Fall Registration. Scroll faces were also familiar

Tonight the Scrolls will be dis-tributing forms so that each freshman woman will be able to list her recommendations for 1961-62 Scrolls, the sophomore women's honorary service organ-

Members of the present Scrolls, best recognized by their maroon hats, began their duties by usher-ing at the 1960 Commencement. They continued upon their return to campus this fall and were active in the Big-Little Sister

Sports Editor Of Collegian Is Promoted

Allan Berman, sports editor of Collegian, was appointed the newly-created position of As-sistant-editor-in-chief, it was announced today.

Succeeding Berman as sports editor will be Benjamin Gordon, who has been working as an assistant sports editor.

A junior, Berman has been on the paper since his freshman year. He was elected Sports Edi-tor last April.

His new duties will include the supervision of the production of Friday and Monday editions.

The announcement stated that Berman will act as editor-in-chief while on duty.

Berman is also president of Butterfield Dormitory.

McCann said he was pleased to note that someone at the University of Massachusetts showed the wisdom to have the name of Ralph Cordiner withdrawn" from consideration.

The list was drawn up by faculty committee, which unti-now has had the exclusive privi-lege of entering such nominations. According to reports, this privilege has now been modified to give trustees a hand in the Scroll faces were also familiar at the fall football rallies, parades and dances.

Freshmen women should be considering the girls in their class whom they would like to see become the future Scrolls.

From their recommendations the 1961-62 Scrolls will choose the girls they will be tapping at Student Leader's Night later this year. Selections are based on leadership and scholarship. Any freshmen woman with an averfreshmen woman with an average above the Freshmen Women's Average, or above a 2.0 in case the Freshmen Women's Average falls below a 2.0, are eligible for selection.

Radio Show Inaugurated By WMUA

WMUA announces the beginning of a new show, "Mass Opinion", which will be held this semester on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.m.
"Mass Opinion" will consist of "Mass Opinion will consider actual interviews of UMass students who will voice opinions on current world and national events, local happenings and campus isues.

The show will be conducted by Lloyd Teran, Chief Announcer of WMUA, who will conduct these interviews from different points on campus every Tuesday and Thursday morning at 11 a.m.

"Mass Opinion" was inau-gurated last night with a series of taped interviews on the stu-dent body opinions of the frater-nity closings. Interviews for the initial broadcast were made a few hours before the airtime in the Hatch. The program offered lively comment on the issue.

Special Elections Will Fill Several Senate Vacancies

Special elections will be held by the Student Senate on Tuesday, Feb. 21, to fill several vacancies. Openings now exist in the following offices: vice-president of the class of '63; Senate seats from Hills South, commuters, sororities, and Baker House.

Nomination papers, obtainable at the Dean of Men's office, have been available since Friday, Feb. 10, and will be available until Friday, Feb. 17. The deadline for returning the forms is on Friday at 4 p.m. in the Dean's office.

Elections for the vice-presidency and for the senators from the commuters and the sororities will be held in the SU on Tuesday, Feb. 21, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Polling for the Senate vacancies at Baker and Hills houses will take place in the respective dorms the same day from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

All Charged With Drinking In Houses By Dean Hopkins; To Be Tried Monday

MOH

Library

LIBRARY

Seven fraternities were accused of violating the liquor ban at parties this past weekend and placed on social probation by Dean of Men Robert S. Hopkins, Jr. yesterday afternoon.

The measure, originally affecting all 15 fraternities, was announced in a memorandum from the Dean of Men's office. Effective of the control of t tive at 5 p.m. yesterday, the memorandum was modified to affect only seven houses after University officials met prior to

The Interfraternity Council met early yesterday evening and un-animously voted to suspend all IFC competitions for a week and to hold no mixed social events anywhere this weekend unless all anywhere this weekend unless all houses were taken off social probation. The houses now on social probation include TKE, AGR, SAE, PSK, QTV, AEPi, and KS. The cases of these seven houses will come before the University Discipline Board Monday.

The memorandum relieved the IFC Judiciary "of its responsibilities for the balance of the current semester." charging that current semester," charging that the IFC had been unsuccessful in policing the liquor ban.

Apparently, Hopkins acted without consulting with either the IFC or any university officials. The action could cost the fraternities as much as $1355., which was reported at last which was reported at last night's IFC meeting to be tied up in parties this weekend. With Pledge Chapel scheduled for Tuesday, most fraternities were planning large parties, complete with bands, for the weekend.

The Dean's memorandum, dated February 14, read as fol-

"For the past year and a half the fraternities have been operat-ing under an alcoholic beverage prohibition which was imposed upon them by means of a me-morandum sent out September 11, 1959 by former President Mather. In it he made reference to the fact that it was up to the fra-ternities to police themselves in this matter.

For the past six months my actual observation and the receipt of innumerable reports has indicated to me that in fact the fraternities are not living up to the letter nor the spirit of the receivable of the letter nor the spirit of the receivable of the spirit of the receivable of the letter nor the spirit of the receivable of the letter nor the spirit of the receivable regulation.

As a result of my personal inspection of a number of frater-nity houses and a number of con-ferences which I have had with individual students who had obtained alcoholic beverages fraternity houses over the past Winter Carnival week-end, at least seven of the fourteen fra-ternities on this campus ap-parently had alcoholic beverages in their chapter houses in com-plete defiance of the University policy.

In order that there be no mis-understanding about the Univer-sity policy, let me quote that part which applies:

a. Undergraduate students, regardless of age, are not permitted the use of alcoholic beverages:

1. at any University social function;

 on University property;
 in any housing which accommodates students and commodates students and residents. end of quote.

he seven fraternities which directly involved in cases d above will be handled by the University Discipline Board acting through the Dean of Men as its Chairman. The Interfraternity Council Judiciary is relived of its responsibilities for the balance of the current semester. It is clearly obvious to me ter. It is clearly obvious to me ter. It is clearly obvious to me that the Interfraternity Council Judiciary and the Interfraternity Council Watchdog have been un-successful in policing the rule concerning alcoholic beverages in

ALL FRATERNITY CHAP-TERS ARE PLACED ON STRICT DISCIPLINARY AND SOCIAL PROBATION EFFEC-TIVE AT 5:00 P.M. ON 14 FEB-RUARY 1961 FOR AN INDE-FINITE PERIOD OF TIME.

Those chapters which feel that this is an injustice are requested to assemble their executive com-mittee and their adviser and to make an appointment with the Dean of Men at their earliest convenience for at least a half hour during which time they will be permitted to show good cause why they should not be placed on probation

This probation does not pro-This probation does not pro-hibit rushing activities but it does prohibit any and all kinds of mixed social relairs until such time as the pretainmany status is removed."

In addition, the Pean of Men announces the undertaking of the responsibility for policing fraternities and fraternal gatherings from now until the end of the semester in order to ascer-tain for himself that the fraternities conduct themselves under proper supervision; and that mature and strict direction will promote a following of the University policy.
(Continued on page 5)

Two Speakers To Discuss American Romantic Myth

The Christian Association will The Christian Association will present on Thursday, February 16, 7:30 p.m., in Bartlett Auditorium, Critique I "Myth of Romance in America" with guest speakers Mr. Arnold Silver, Assistant Professor of English and Rev. Theyer Greene paster of Rev. Thayer Greene, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Amherst.

Mr. Silver and Rev. Greene ill discuss the oversimplification and misunderstandings of court ship and the American way of life. In the American "Myth of Romance," boy meets girl and Romance," boy meets girl and love is at first sight. However, as our two guest speakers will point out, love does not just happen, it grows out of mutual un-derstanding, and rather than there being only one "Mr. Right" or perfect Miss, there may be actually two or three that will do just as well.

Mr. Silver, in his discussion of the inadequate understandings of romance in American literature, will refer to such authors as Thomas Dreiser, John O'Hara, D. H. Lawrence, William Max well, Sloane Wilson and Mauriac. He will demonstrate that American authors do not present a realistic view of love, and there realistic view of love, and therefore, contribute to the myth of romance in America.

Rev. Greene, who has had many experiences counselling couples before and after marriage, will also attempt to shatter the myth. There is, he believes an art to loving which grows with the couple as they work together and achieve a mutual understanding, which are the clues of "true love".

STATES

SYNTHESIS: Statement Of Purpose

As students of Amherst, Mount Holyoke, Smith and the University of Massachusetts, we join together to form Synthesis in response to our common concern for personal dignity and freedom. Facing a world of mounting tensions between nations, races, and societies, we cannot accept institutional excuses for their continuance. Generally, we support all efforts toward the creation of a free world in which every individual enjoys dignity and liberty. Specifically, we will take action to further:

Disarmament Racial equality

Racial equality
 Freedom of expression and thought Synthesis will develop this action by:
 a. Coordinating activities on the four campuses concerning human relations

b. Establishing an educational program making available publications, films and speakers relevant to specific campus activities

c. Initiating and sponsoring programs designed for participation on varying levels according to individual concern and conviction.

We undertake these things in the belief that it is students who must exert a dynamic force for the attainment of a free and peaceful world.

Editorial Of The Week

The recent wave of sit-ins started by Negro college students in the South helped to point up the fact that our colleges have played an ever-import-ant role in the struggle for civil rights in America. I even hazard the opinion that today the colleges wield a greater influence in the area of civil rights than the editorial offices or the pulpits of the coun-try. You must remember that throughout history, the students have always been the most responsive segment to political and economic changes.

I am mindful of the opinion many people ventured when Harvard, Yale, Sarah Lawrence, Cornell and other colleges refused to accept government funds for scholarships because these grants entailed a loyalty oath. "These are old, well-endowed institutions and they can afford an indepedent stand," was the concensus. But the truth is that these institutions are old, well-endowed and firmly established precisely because throughout their history.

stitutions are old, well-endowed and firmly estab-lished precisely because throughout their history they always took such a stand.

I am quite sure that because the sit-ins emanated from the Negro colleges that eventually these in-stitutions will become eminent throughout the world. The end result of any college is the student and when the student can take decisive action the colwhen the student can take decisive action the col-lege has fulfilled its function,

—Harry Golden
(In the Carolina Israelite)

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Larry Rayner '61 Assistant Editor-in-Chief Al Berman '62

Editorial Editor
Elirabeth A. Schneck '62
Sports Editor
Ben Gordon '62

Mews Editor
Donald D. Johnson '61
Business Manager
Michael Cohen '61 otography Editor Larry Popple '63 Assistant News Editor James R. Reinhold '61

Circulation Manager

Barry Ravech Sacristas Sally Mullalieu, Michael Palter, taff: Bill Avery, Carolyn Cheney, Lesley Dodge, Genevi Renil, Martha Sandrof, Anne Slayton, Kenneth H. Sm. Judith St. Jean, Susan Strange, Jim Trelease, Pete Wats Rudy Wittshirk, Marcia Ann Voickas.

NEWS

printes: Richard Howland, Beth Peterson, Bruno DePalma.

printes: Reporters: Don Croteau, Patricia Ward.

printes: Jack Buptista, Barbara Yetwin, Dave Oster
ial Reporters: Jack Buptista, Barbara Yetwin, Dave Oster-

re Associates: Jean Cann, Patricia Barclay, Audrey

Staff Reporters: George Dickinson, Joseph Bradley, Roger Cruff, Gruce-Ann Fitzputrick, Jacqueine Gullivan, Richard Haynes, John Holden, Irving Johnson, Gerald Kugan, Jacob Karss, Rosemary Kirchner, Ernestine Lemoyne, Thomas McMullin, James E Mulcahy, Lois Moczaski, Mark Nataupsky, Warren Richard, Patricia Stee, Diane Tovet.

Copy: Ernest Bilodeau, Richard Goldstein, Louis Greenstein, Dolores Mathews, Barclay Megathlin.

SPORTS
ciates: Jay Buker, Ben Gorden aff: Mickey Adamson, Mike Bjornholm, Al Cohen, Steve Daley, W. John Lennon, James E. Mulcahy, Dick Quinn, Abe Sheinker, Dave Willard.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Steve Arbit, Bruce Bonner, Dick Forman, Jack Kessler, Jim Lane, Stan Patz, Bill Theroux, Joel Tillman, BUSINESS Circulation: Manager, Barry Ravech; Larry Cohen, Mike Ros-enthal, Alan Savitt, Robert Wallis,

ADVERTISING
Steve Israel, Andy Shulman, Bob Slesinger.
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amerst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic ar, except during vacation and examination period; twice a celt the west following a vacation or examination period, or each the west following a vacation or examination period, or each the west of the second for mailing older the actor of Justice 1, 1984, as memoded the act of Justice 1, 1984, 4, 900 per year; 82.50 per semester fixed the second price in the second pri e 11, 1984.

$4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester dent Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. ted Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press Bun. Tues. 'Hurs.—4100 p.m.

Contemporary Jazz

by RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

Jazz is surrounded by phonies. Some very intelligent people tend to associate jazz with the various cults that supposedly represent the true jazz listener. Disc jockeys pull all sorts of teen-age antics short of payola to reduce modern jazz to the level of rock and roll. They are either doing what is expected of them by an uninformed public or they are merely making asses of themselves with their sunglasses, berets, beards and studied "cool" talk. I have heard that some of our own WMUA jazz-jockeys are guilty of "striving" to be "cool."

First of all, few serious jazz musicians talk like hep-cats. Those that do are merely fulfilling the public image. At times, jazzmen must act like "junkies" and mental cases in order to satisfy the paying customers at the side-show affairs which the college boys cail

Some college-types seem to think that their mere presence at jazz concerts (even the Kingston Trio is jazz to these guys) insures their "coolness." These are the jerks who throw beer cans while at that three-ring circus, the Newport Jazz Festival. It is no wonder that Miles Davis and Charley Mingus are so openly hostile to their audiences. One UMass "cool jewel" (gem) went up to Miles one night after a set and said, "Miles, baby, like I was blowing with you all night, man!" Miles, very quizzically (and truly cool) replied, "Why, what do you mean?"

Jazz critics set themselves up as the "experts" . . . forgetting that jazz is perhaps the most highly individualistic form of music from the musician's and listener's standpoints. I do not consider myself a critic . . . this column merely reflects my opinion and may serve, at best, as a partial guide to the complexities of recorded jazz. You can't learn about or enjoy jazz by reading . . . you must listen attentively.

I must say that I have no hopes of jazz ever coming to mean any more to the public than a fad . . . and I don't want to discourage the phonies. They buy the records (even if they don't listen to them), they pay admission and they buy most of the drinks at the clubs. In any case, whatever you think of jazz, don't associate the music with the lunatic fringe . . . be they "Creeping Ivy Leaguers" or other, more obvious, "insecurity risks."

By the way, I would like to clear up a point in last week's Monk article. Thelonius Monk and Sonny Rollins do not deviate, for the most part, from the basic rules of music. Their harmonies, rhythms melodic structures are not always conventional and so very complex . . . but they are there.

Stacks Again!

Toronto)

the stacks.

LIBRARY OPEN

STACKS TO JUN-

IOR CLASSES

(Reprinted from the Varsity,

First and second year students are soon to invade the long for-bidden nether regions of the main library—the stacks.

Formerly restricted to third and fourth year undergraduates and graduates, the stacks will be opened "as an experiment for the rest of this academic year" it was decided at the Library Coun-cil meeting last Wednesday. Freshmen and Sophomores will be admitted Monday to Friday from 5:30 p.m. till closing and on from 5:30 p.m. till closing and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. after they qualify for this privilege by standing an orientation tour of These orientation classes will e held on Wednesday afternoons at 5:10 p.m. starting February

1st. Students who wish to attend are asked to register in advance at the Central Circulation Desk.

Those students who have thus qualified will receive a special stamp on their present ATL cards and will be admitted starting the same day at the prescribed hours.

The stack system came in when the library was built in 1890 and was gradually opened up, first to professors, then graduates and regular passes 6 years ago and the occasional 1st and 2nd year pass has been issued temporarily for special reasons.

The University of British Columbia is the only other Canadian college with the institution of restricted passes for junior un-dergraduates, the experimental period," the Council's report stated, "it will probably be adopted as a regular practice in the future."

"If it proves successful during year students received

4th year students.

by KENNETH H, SMITH

The purpose of any library is to present the greatest availability of books to its users. Our present library system of closed stacks does not follow this prin-

Our policy appears to be a result of two things: the restrictive attitude of the University and the dishonesty of the students. If the student body as a whole is dishonest, which hardly seems credible, then closed stacks are a necessity. On the other hand, if this is a manifestation of the restrictive attitude of the of the restrictive attitude of the University, then closed stacks are not a necessity.

One of the major goals of a university is to develop the traits of a good citizen, such as the ability to assume responsibility. Obviously, simply following a restrictive library policy does not develop responsibility in the student body.

The University of Toronto has blved this problem satisfactorily. Senior and junior students have had access to the stacks and re-cently sophomore students have been granted this privilege.

We at the University could institute a similar policy with one addition. Open the stacks to sen-iors and juniors after they have successfully completed a orientation and also grant stack privileges to sophomores and second semester freshmen with an average of 3.0 or better, system of this nature could set up on a probationary basis to determine its value.

No great harm could be done by such an experiment and it would certainly be a step in de-veloping the responsibility of the student body. The system would also be a step towards creating one of the most important at-tributes of a good university: a free academic atmosphere.

Be it enacted that the Student Senate set the following policies:

1) The class ring be of standard design.

2) The wearing of the ring be a privilege given only to students who have successfully completed at least four semesters work,

3) That ring sale be supervised jointly by the Finance Committee and the Sophomore and Freshmen class officers who will determine what company is awarded contracts and through what agent rings will be sold.

4) That contracts for the manufacturing of the rings will be for a duration of two (2) years with the possibility of three (3) one (1) year extensions if the terms of said contract and quality of the rings prove satisfactory. (Act: Henderson)

At the present time there seem to be no real

At the present time there seem to be no real problems with the exception of inadequate campuswide knowledge of class ring policies and practices.

Student Senate Finance Committee Linda Achenbach, Chairman

LIBERALISM?

LETTERS

CLASS RINGS

of the Student Senate investigated this problem last semester and would like to inform the campus

The individual classes have always been responsible for the selection and contracting of the rings. Several years age the officers of each class sold these rings to their classmates, but due to the increased size of the classes this has become impossible. The University Store was then chosen as the ring agent by the ring committees of the several classes starting with the Class of 1960. The Store performs a service for the students and gets only its normal cost of operation which the class officers formerly received. One tradition from the past which still received. One tradition from the past which still exists is the "free ring" offer made to the junior class officers by the present contractor, Herff Jones. In February, 1959, the Student Senate passed the following act which defines a general policy for all classes from 1961 to and including 1965:

Be it enacted that the Student Senate set the following religious:

The individual classes have always been respon-

Over the past several years there have been a lot of rumors, questions, and discussions circulating over the campus about the class rings — the way they are selected and sold. The Finance Committee

To the Editor:

To the Editor:

To the Editor:

The administration in Washington, heavily dosed with "liberal" thinking, is attempting to run its golden chariot of progress over half of the American voters. With cruel cynicism, the new authorities in Washington are employing methods of political coercion in their efforts to dictate legislation, unapproved by a majority of American people.

An even smaller but no less intransigent group of these left-of-center believers has succeeded in the extension of its political influence into the execusion.

extension of its political influence into the executive branch of our government. This can be clearly verified by the recent unhappy experience of a responsible American citizen, Adm. Arleigh A. Burke. The liberal new frontiersmen, guns in hand, and with the efficient bureaucratic ruthlessness, disallowed any presentation of a preschessor exercities. any presentation of a speech cross-examining So-any presentation of a speech cross-examining coviet foreign policy.

A further continuation of such policies of procedure should be viewed with great distrust and wariness. Such policies represent a menace to our

David P. Halevy

EXERCISE CAUTION!

14 February 1961 The Editor of The Collegian

Dear Students:

In the Collegian for 6 February Elizabeth

In the Collegian for 6 February Elizabeth Schneck called for your participation in student organizations, such as Peace Union, Challenge, Synthesis and Tocsin I haven't as yet learned anysynthesis and Toesin is haven to a yet learned anything of the first three, but Toesin is based at Harvard University and is reportedly a center for the dissemination of studies on unilateral disarmament and abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Always a curious combination!

If I am able to inform myself on the other groups
I will let your know. I think you should look before

JAMES R. WEAVER Colonel, PMS

REFLECTIONS UPON THE STACKS

To the Editor:
I don't know whether or not the stacks are still closed to most of the undergraduates. During this last Christmas vacation I did read a few Collegians, however, and realized how fortunate I was to have escaped the unjustifiable tedium and general waste now encountered by the academic third When I read of the closed stacks last Decestate, when I read of the closed stacks last December, I could not in any way understand how such a policy is compatible with the purposes of a university; and as I write this letter, I still can not account for the peculiar reversals of function that seem inevitable whenever a service gets "institutionalized".

Ray Tripp '60

Win These Big Prizes

Lorillard's 3-way Campus Contest!

WILL WIN THIS FABULOUS
RCA 21-INCH COLOR TV SET!

Here's all you do. Have every member of the sorority save the empty packages of any of the Lorillard products displayed below. The sorority that has saved the most empty Lorillard packages will be awarded the RCA color television set. NOTE: 1. Wrap empty packages in bundles of 50. 2. Deliver to the Univ. Store by March 13, 1961. 3. Winning Sorority will be notified by March 17.

In event of ties-a blindfold drawing will decide the winner

WILL WIN THIS FABULOUS RCA 21-INCH COLOR TV SET!

The rules for fraternities follow the same pattern as for sororities. The fraternity that saves the most empty Lorillard packages will also win this RCA color 21-inch television set. So start saving the empty packages of any of the Lorillard products shown below. NOTE: 1. Wrap empty packages in bundles of 50. 2. Deliver to the Univ. Store by March 13, 1961. 3. Winning Fraternity will be notified by March 17, 1961.

In event of ties-a blindfold drawing will decide the winner

CAN ENTER THE LORILLARD SWEEPSTAKES FOR THESE FOUR GREAT PRIZES!

You don't have to be a member of a fraternity or sorority to enter.

READ COMPLETE SWEEPSTAKES RULES HERE:

1. Each entry must consist of one empty pack of any of the following brands: Kent . . Newport . . . Old Gold Filters, Straights . . . Spring OR—a plain piece of paper which has the "hand" drawn block letters of any of these brands drawn in any size.

Your name and address must be written on the back.

2. Deposit your complete entry in the Lorillard Campus Sweepstakes entry box. All entries must be on deposit before: 12 noon, March 13, 1961. There will be a random drawing in which the prize winners will be selected in consecutive order. Drawing will be held under the supervision of the college newspaper staff. Enter as many times as you want. Only one prize per contestant. Entrants need not be present at drawing to win.

3. Lorillard Campus Sweepstakes is open to all students of this school.

4. Lorillard Campus Sweepstakes is subject to all Federal, State and local laws.

5. Students whose immediate families are employed by the P. Lorillard Co, or its advertising agencies are not eligible.

Date of drawing: March 13, 1961.

An RCA Portable Stereo Set Mark 38

Portable Typewriter

A Polaroid Land Camera

PRODUCTS OF
P.LORILLARD COMPANY
First with the Finest Cigarettes
Through Lorillard Research

@ 1961 P. Lorillard Co

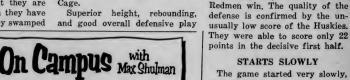

Redmen Overpower Cold Connecticut Quintet, 71-54

Improved Rebounding Makes Difference In Impressive Win

The UMass Redmen finally proved last night that they are a better ball club than they have en showing when they swamped

By AL BERMAN '62 the UConn Huskies, 71-54, at the Superior height, rebounding, and good overall defensive play

"THE SLOW RUSH"

Illustrated below is the membership pin of a brand-new national fraternity called Signa Phi Nothing. To join Signa Phi Nothing and get this hideous membership pin absolutely free, simply take a pair of scissors and cut out the illustration and paste it to your dickey

Let me hasten to state that I do not recommend your joining igna Phi Nothing. The only thing I recommend in this column Signa Phi Nothing. The only thing I recommend in this column is Marlboro cigarettes, as any honest man would who likes a filtered cigarette with an unfiltered taste, who yearns to settle back and enjoy a full-flavored smoke, whose heart is quickened by a choice of soft pack or flip-top box and who gets paid every took for writing this column.

It is difficult to think of any reason why you should join Signa Phi Nothing. Some people, of course, are joiners by nature; if you are one such I must tell you there are any number of better organizations than Signa Phi Nothing for you to join—the Mafia, for example.

But if you should join Signa Phi Nothing, let me give you several warnings. First off, it is the only fraternity that admits girls. Second, there is no pledge period; each new member immediately goes active. Perhaps "inactive" is a more accurate term; there are no meetings, no drives, no campaigns, no sports, no games, no dues, no grip, and no house.

The only thing Signa Phi Nothing has that other fraternities have is a fraternity hymn. In fact, two hymns were submitted to a recent meeting of the national board of directors (none of whom attended). The first hynn goes:

Hotcha, boop-boop-a-doop, Mother's making blubber scup.

The second hymn is considerably longer:

A Guernsey's a cow, A road is a lane, When you're eating chow, Remember the mein!

Pending the next meeting of the national board of directors, which will never be held, members are authorized to sing either hymn. Or, for that matter, Stardust.

Perhaps you are asking why there should be such a fraternity as Signa Phi Nothing. I will give you an answer—an answer with which you cannot possibly disagree: Signa Phi Nothing fills a well-needed gap.

Are you suffering from mental health? Is logic distorting your thinking? Is ambition encroaching on your native stoth? Are your long-cherished misapprehensions retreating before a sea of facts? In short, has education caught up with you?

If so, congratulations. But tell the truth—wouldn't you like to make an occasional visit back to the good old days when you were not so wise and composed and industrious—when you were, in fact, nuttier than a fruitcake?

If you pine for those old familiar miasms, those dear, dead vapors, join Signa Phi Nothing and renew, for a fleeting moment, your acquaintance with futility. We promise nothing, and, by George, we deliver it!

We, the makers of Marlboro, promise smoking pleasure and we think you'll think we deliver it—both from Marlboro and from our new unfiltered king-size Philip Morris Commander.

were they key factors in the Redmen win. The quality of the defense is confirmed by the un-

The game started very slowly, as both teams were cold, and in four minutes only five points had been scored, three of them by UConn. Shortly thereafter, the Huskies opened up a six point bulge, but the Redmen came back to go aband 17.14 at 7.24 to go ahead 17-14 at 7:24.

Then, led by the sharp shooting of Doug Grutchfield, UMass pulled out an 11 point gap. Despite a strong effort by UConn, good defensive work by Jim Laughnane, Kirk Leslie and Don Black staved off the hungry Huskies, and the half ended with UMass ahead, 32-22.

MORE OF THE SAME

The Redmen didn't let up at all. Perhaps driven on by the thought of their previous UConn encounter, when they blew an 18 point halftime lead, UMass kept pouring it on. The accurate shooting of Black and Mike Mole sent UMass out to a 17 point lead by 11:10.

Even that wasn't enough. In two minutes they had increased their lead to 24 points. In a desperate, last minute surge UConn fought back to lessen the humiliation and when the final buzzer sounded, UMass had come out on the long end of the 71-54

DRIBBLING AROUND

High point man for UMass was Doug Grutchfield with 26 points. Black had 15, and Mole and Les-lie also hit double figures . . . The improved rebounding of the Redmen has been significant in their last two victories . . . The game was slow for the entire first half, but the tempo increased for the second stanza. creased for the second stanza. Tempers flared late in the game when John Burgess, irate at being poked in the ribs, hauled off clobbered his tormentor. Players from both teams stream-ed onto the court, but the referees and coaches prevented a referees and coaches prevented a brawl... Earlier in the game a bout was almost precipitated when UConn's Pete Kelley hit Leslie on the back of the head with the ball... The Redmen travel to Medford tomorrow where they will meet Tufts at 8:00 p.m. THE next home game is this Saturday night against Vermont, where the Redmen will be seeking their third straight be seeking their third straight

KIRK LESLIE attempts to get two more points here but his shot was blocked. Kirk scored 11 points and played an excellent defensive game last night against UConn.

YanCon	win
UMass	G	FT	UConn	G	FT
Grutchf'ld	11	4 26	Kelly	2	3 7
Widdison	0	0 0	Madison	0	1 1
Leslie	3	5 11	King	4	9 17
Fohlin	0	1 1	Czuchry	3	0 6
Seigel	0	0 0	Haines	0	0 0
Black	3	9 15	Manning	0	2 2
Burgess	0	0 0	Hulteen	0	1 1
Green	0	0 0	Comey	3	0 6
Mole	3	6 12	Cross	1	0 2
Larkin	0	2 2	Carlson	À	4 12
Laughnane		1 3	Uhl	0	0 0
Wheeler	0	1 1		17	0

Totals 21 29 71 Totals 17 20 54 Score at halftime: UMass 32, UConn 22

UMass Freshmen Downed By Pups

by AL COHEN '63
Dick Garber's frosh basketballers kept up for a half and then fell before a stronger UConn five, 86-74, in last night's prelim.

Good rebounding by Mike Johnson and Jim Painten's scor-ing enabled the Garbers to stay within one point by halftime 35-

The loss of guard Pete Bernard

The loss of guard Pete Bernard through disiplinary reasons hurt the home forces. Painten fouled out at 11:56.

With the Blue on top by 20, UMass was showing the effects of trying to cope with a 6'10 center, Eddie Slomcenski. Time and again the high man record as again the big man scored on easy lay-ups to ice the game for UConn.

A total of 46 fouls were committed in the fray, 26 by the frantic Garbers.

Slomcenski led all scorers with 26. Teammate Ritter added 22. Twitchell with 17 and Bob Johnson with 14 topped the Redmen.

The frosh are now 5 and 5 on the season. They seek victory six Thursday at Springfield College.

DON BLACK high scorer for UMass last night, in addition to starring off the defensive boards.

BETWEEN MEALS... get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

Kappa Sigma And SAE Win IFC League Titles

by JAY BAKER '63 Sigma Phi Epsilon Alpha Gamma Rho probably will, be the final stand-

LEAGUE A

Kappa Sigma
Tau Kappa Epsilon
Lambda Chi Alpha QTV

Alpha Tau Gamma

LEAGUE B Sigma Alpha Epsilon Phi Sigma Kappa

Theta Chi Alpha Sigma Phi Phi Sigma Delta Although there will be no IFC

Due to the recent unjustified acts of the administration, the IFC basketball and bowling leagues have been suspended temporarily until further action is to be taken.

However, in the IFC basketball leagues all but two games have been played. Although these games could be a determining factor in the final standings I don't think that the predetermined favorites will lose those games. Therefore the standings which are listed below are, or probably will, be the final standgames next week the Independant and Dorm Leagues will play as scheduled. The schedule the remaining games is listed be-

THURSDAY, FEB 16 $1 DJ's vs Black Labels Chadbourne vs Adams

Brooks vs Wheeler 22 Drakes vs Barkos Mills vs Middlesex Greenoughs vs Butterfield FRIDAY, FEB. 17

Brooks vs Wheeler Generals vs Black Labels DJ's vs Drakes $2 Greenough vs Butterfield Little Rascals vs Borkos

SUNDAY, FEB. 19 2:30 Idiots vs Forwards 3:30 Chemists vs Sargeants

MONDAY, FEB. 20 21 Chadbourne vs Middlesex Adams vs Wheeler SAE vs AEPi $2 ATG vs TKE Mills vs Butterfield Brooks vs Greenoug vs Greenough SUNDAY, FEB. 26

SUNDAY, FEB. 26
2:30 Forwards vs Sargeants
3:30 Chemists vs Rejects Following this schedule the Playoffs for the campus championship starts Thursday, Feb. 23 at 8:00 p.m.

The campus champion is to play the University of New Hampshire Intramural champion at 6:15 p.m. on Saturday, March

Sport Shorts

The most yards ever gained by a Southwest Conference football team in a single game was 617 by Texas University against by Texas Un Temple in 1949.

When asked to list his hobby on a questionaire, outfielder Pete Whisenant of the Washington Senators replied "Eating".

Aggie Rifle | Meet The

Paced by Brad Allen's 271, the Stockbridge Rifle Team fired a total of 1324 to top the Nasson College score of 1276 in a recent postal match. High gun for the Maine team was Marks with 264 but greater team strength in all positions gave the victory to the Stockbridge men.

STOCKBRIDGE 97 87 87 99 83 86 97 88 82 Mitchell 97 88 82 267 100 91 74 265 98 86 69 253 Ciesluk Washburn

| Stenburg | 98 | 86 | 69 | NASSON | COLLEGE | Marks | 97 | 85 | 82 | 97 85 82 91 91 77 97 83 76 264 Crandall 259 256 Hislop Yorks 73 72 95 83 75 Goodwin 99

(Continued from page 1)

Frats . . . It is with regret that the fore-going is announced but my hand ternities will not try to play games in this matter and that they will demonstrate their true loyalties to the University, to themselves, and to any and all individuals who may be involved.

Loren Gergens briefs two of his salesmen on new telephone services for business customers.

"I DIDN'T WANT TO BE STOCKPILED"

When Loren Gergens was working for his B.S. degree in Business Administration at the University of Denver, he had definite ideas about the kind of job he wanted to land. He was determined to profit from the experience of several of his friends who had accepted promising jobs only to find themselves in "manpower pools" waiting to be pulled into a responsible position. "I didn't want to be stockpiled," Loren says. "That's no way to start."

As a senior, Loren talked to twelve companies and joined The Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Company, an associated company of the Bell Telephone System.

From his first day challenges were thrown at him thick and fast. First, he supervised a group of service representatives who handle the communications needs of telephone customers. Then he served as manager of several telephone business offices. In these jobs Loren had to prove himself on the firing line, make right decisions and carry them through. He knew his next jump depended on only one man-Loren Gergens.

In July, 1960, he was made Sales Manager in Boulder, Colorado.

"I'm on the ground floor of a newly created telephone marketing organization. And I can tell you things are going to move fast!" Loren says. "It's rough at times, but hard work is fun when you know you're going somewhere-in a business where there's somewhere to go."

If you're interested in a job in which you can be your own prime mover-a job in which you're given a chance to show what you can do, right from the start-you'll want to visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelli-gent, positive and imaginative men we ossibly find."

FREDERICK R. KAPPEL, President

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

Team Wins Redmen!

GRUTCH IN ACTION DOUG GRUTCHFIELD

6'4", 185-Senior, North Quincy. One of the all time standouts Massachusetts court history this physical education major is captain of the 1960-61 squad. Doug played forward during his sophomore and junior years, was tested at guard for a while early this season, but now is back at his natural position.

The team's leading rebounder for the past two years, Grutch has also been the squad's most accurate shooter, and was the only unanimous choice on the only unanimous choice on the Yankee Conference team last year. Already this year Doug has become the Redmen's all time greatest scorer. He broke the old record of 1081 points during the Rhode Island game, and now has 1123 with 7 more games left.

UMWomen Win First

by MICKEY ADAMSON '61 The WAA basketball team its first game defeated Mt. Holyoke 39-27. Tonight the team will travel to Mt. Holyoke for a Members of the will travel to Mt. Holyoke for a return game. Members of the team are: Mickey Adamson, Marcia Bertozzi, Marilyn Cairns, Bev DeMarco, Charlotte Kimball, Sherry Lambert, Karen Nolin, Jesse Piecewicz, Barb Viera, Priscilla Whalen, Fran White, Priscilla Whalen, Fran White, Ellie Osley, forwards; Peg Bagdon, Judy Duggan, Carole Greaves, Ellie Harrington, Ann Huska, Carolyn Jenkins, Pat Lareau, Linda Lupien, Carol Majewski, Doris Woodworth, guards, SKI TEAM

SKI TEAM

On Sunday the ski team will journey to Suicide Six in Vermont for the New England Intercollegiate Ski Conference. On the weekend of Feb. 25-26 the team will hold a meet with Mt. Holyoke probably at Mt. Tom.

CO-REC

There will be Co-Rec this Friday night the seventeenth in the WPE at 7:00 p.m.

CLUB DIRECTORY

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF

Meeting Thurs., Feb. 16, at 8 p.m. in the Franklin Rm., SU. p.m. in the Frankin Avia, Dr. Phillips A. Jones will speak on "Linear Accelerators."

ART CLUB

Short business will be held Wed., Feb. 15 at 7 p.m. in Bartlett 61.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

HRISTIAN ASSOCIATION
Meeting Thurs., Feb. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in Bartlett Aud.
Arnold Silver of the English
Dept. and Rev. Thayer Greene will discuss "The Myth of Romance in America."
Weekly Vespers Wed., Feb. 15, at 6 p.m. in the Worcester Rm.,
SU.

DEBATING CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Feb. 16, in the Worcester Rm., SU. An inter-squad debate will be held. Everyone is invited.

DEMOLAY

Meeting will be held at Masonic Temple, Main St., at 7 p.m. on Feb. 15.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE

DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the Student Union.

HILLEL

There will be a meeting held Friday, Feb. 17, at 8 p.m. in the Worcester Room. Mr. Aryeh Simon, National Director of the Student Zionist Organization, will speak on: ganization, will speak on:
"Does Israel Have the Right
To Try Eichmann in the Name of the Jewish People?"

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB Meeting Wed., Feb. 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Homestead. Refreshments.

ITALIAN CLUB

TALIAN CLUB
There will be a meeting of the Italian Club on Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 6:45 p.m. in the Franklin Room. Professor Ilardi of the History Department will speak informally on his general impression as an American travelling in Italy. All are invited.

NURSING CLUB

General Meeting Wed., Feb. 15, at 7 p.m. in the Public Health Bldg. All nursing students urged to attend.

ORTHODOX CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Feb. 16, at 8 p.m. in the Barnstable Rm., SU. Election of officers.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

Meeting will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. in Bartlett 356. Off-icers will be elected.

SKI CLUB

Meeting Wed., Feb. 15, at 8 p.m. in the Hampshire Rm., SU. This will be an important meeting. Complete plans will be made for the forthcoming holiday ski trip. A ski movie will be shown.

SU ARTS AND MUSIC COMMITTEE

Presenting a Talent Show March 10. Prizes, There will be a sign-up sheet at the lobby counter for those interested. Post cards will be sent con-cerning time and place for auditioning.

ARTS & S.U. MUSIC COMMITTEE

Music Hour Sunday Feb. 18 presenting chamber music, in the Union from 2-4 p.m SU DANCE COMMITTEE

Meeting Thurs., Feb. 16, at 11 a.m. in the Hampden Rm., SU. Plans will be made for H.E.R. weekend. All interested co-eds invited.

invited. U PING-PONG TOURNA-MENT

This week will be the last chance to sign-up. There is only room for a few more entries. Sign-ups can be made in the Games Area.

STUDENT ZIONIST ORGAN-

IZATION

There will be a business meeting followed by a discussion and singing Wed., Feb. 15, at 8 p.m. in Machmer E12.

VOLUNTEERS FOR BELCHER-TOWN STATE SCHOOL

Dr. Bowser will speak on the History of Mental Retardation tonight at 7 p.m. in the employee's Club Room at the school. Rides will leave Skinner parking lot at 6:15 p.m.

UMass-Radcliffe To Hold Exchange Program Feb. 19-24

The third annual UMass-Rad-cliffe Exchange Program will be held Feb. 9-Feb. 24.

Carol Veno '62, an English major, and Anne Reseigh '61, math major, have been chosen to represent UMass at Radcliffe.

On this campus, the Radcliffe girls will attend classes, meetings, and lectures. Also a colloquium will be held for them Tuesday, Feb. 21 at 4 p.m. in the Colonial Lounge of the SU.

Lost & Found

Lost: "Plato's Thought," paper-back, by Grube, in E-22. Please return to L. Rayner at Collegian

Lost: One brown-olive trench coat, taken by mistake from PSK Sat. nite. I have your larger coat. Contact Bob Francis, PSK

Lost: Navy blue glasses in a blue and white case, between Hamlin and the Commons. Please contact Ilona Heine, Hamlin 211.

Lost: Gold Longines watch in Men's Physical Education build-ing. Contact occupant of 419

Lost: Silver ring with Mother of Pearl inset. Contact Beverly Cohen, Arnold House. Reward. Lost between W.P.E. and Mach-mer.

3-PIECE COMBO

Anything from Jazz to Waltze The Metronomes

OUT OF WORCESTER tact Judy Partanen, Phi Delta Nu

Table Tennis Supplies

• Tables

• Paddles • Balls A. J. HASTINGS

Inc. Newsdealer & Stationer

Kellerman's

of Amherst -Home of College Styles-

WANTS AGENTS For Tuxedo Rental

Inquire:

Howard Frisch, AEPi

STONE & WEBSTER ENGINEERING CORPORATION

Houston

Chicago

Library to be open from 2 to 10 p.m. on Feb. 22.

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1961

Vandalism Cost S.U. $12,000

Bookstore And Hatch Are Cited: Students Absorb Cost Of Losses

by JAMES R. REINHOLD '61, Assistant News Editor Thefts and vandalism in the Dennis Twohig '61, Dr. James T. Nicholson '16, Dr. Maxwell Goldberg, and Evan Johnston '50, are shown at the Centennial Committee Dinner.

UMass Centennial Plans Underway

The University will observe its Centennial Year from September, Centennial Year from September, 1962 through September, 1963, but organization and planning must begin now, and must be marked by a spirit of cooperation and coordinated effort on the part of the entire University mmunity.
This theme was forcefully brought forward to a group of student leaders by Dr. Maxwell Goldberg, Executive Director of the University of Massachusetts Centennial, at a recent meeting designed to acquaint the students with the problems, aims, and ideals of the Centennial.

National Chairman Introduced

Dr. Goldberg took advantage of this meeting to introduce Dr. James T. Nicholson, National Chairman of University Centennial, and a distinguished alumnus. It was pointed out that much groundwork has already been done on a local and national scale and that the students must also begin planning what their role will be.

The theme of the Centennial will be "Toward Higher Learnby WILLIAM KNOWLTON '61 Senior Reporter niversity will observe its ing, More Widely Disseminated," from a speech by Senator Justin Morrill, at the 25th anniversary of Massachusetts Agricultural Colege. Senator Morril was the author of the Land Grant Act. under which this and many other institutions of higher learning were founded.

Cites Second UMass Century
Dr. Nicholson pointed out that it will be our intent to commemorate the past, to respect the present, but most important to look toward the future. This, along with the purpose of em-phasizing the latitude of effort which will be involved in the which will be involved in the Centennial preparations, was the main theme of the meeting. In
Dr. Goldberg's words we must look "toward a greater University of Massachusetts in its second century of development".

Members of student government, the student communications

ment, the student communications agencies, and the Class Officers agencies, and the Class Offices of 1963 were present, and were impressed with the immediacy, as well as the possibilities of the Operations were asked, as well as the possibilities situation. Questions were as (Continued on page 8)

Student Union are costing $10-$12,000 per year, according to Harold Watts, assistant director of the Union. "This is the amount that can be directly traced, and must be replaced out of the Union's budget. It is the students through their semester fees, which must bear these costs", he said.

The two major areas of trouble, according to Watts, are the Hatch and the University Book-

"In the Hatch", said Watts, "about $35 or $40 worth of silverware disappears weekly, or over $2,000 a year. To keep sufficient quantities available, we must reorder new supplies constantly Typically, he said, about ally, he said, about 12 spoons, six dozen knives, and three dozen forks must be replenished weekly.

Food theft is also a problem in the Hatch. "Last month a student was noticed slipping a sand-wich into his jacket and walking past the cashier," said Watts. "For this act, a college student has been asked to leave school, and his whole life jeapordized."

Bookstore Thefts Considerable

In the bookstore, about $6,000 orth of merchandise disappears nnually. "This figure is easily abulated by our inventories," annually. tabulated by our inventories," said Watts. Bookstore thefts involve not only small items as pencils, pens, and supplies, but also costly textbooks. "We often find the covers of books stuffed behind shelves in corners of the store, indicating that someone has walked off with the book," he added.

The bookstore recently began rapping small merchandise in wrapping small merchandise in special packaging to discourage shop-lifting.

"Many times, though, we have found the wrappings removed and

Senator Graham brought this analogy closer to home. He said that in the twelve years he had been in the General Court, Massachusetts rate of growth had doubled. "Massachusetts is growing at a fast rate, but without responsible leadership."

The Senator said that the people of Massachusetts are sick and tired of petty politics. "The peo-ple want leadership that can cry-

Leadership can come, he said, from civic leaders, industrial men, educators and the Republi-men, educators and the said can Party. The Democrats, said Craham, have let us

Sanator Graham, have let us down, and he cited several cases stallize action."

Costly To Student Body

The Union has been the scene other thefts and vandalism, costly to the student body in terms of replacement. "Last Friday, a vaccuum cleaner motor vanished, which will cost $305 to replace," he said.

Other items which have disappeared in the past months have included bowling balls, the molded aluminum ashtrays in the bowling alleys, the $50 aluminum frame signs used in the lobby, and grilles for the tops of radia-tors. "The tops were laboriously tors unscrewed and removed and now must be especially reordered to secure replacement," said Watts.

Situation Seen Serious

Watts views the situation as serious. "The more times one does this sort of thing without being caught, the greater the personal problem confronting the individual." He added that it is senseless to jeapordize one's college education for 25-50 cents.

"These thefts are costly, and the replacement or repairing funds come directly out of the students' pocketbook."

Thefts are a campus problem, not just a Union situation, he said. "The parties responsible can be both visitors and outsiders, as well as students."

Personal Property Included

Watts added that not only Union property is disappearing at an alarming rate, but also personal possessions of students. A disproportionate number of books, coats, and other pieces of clothing are reported 'missing' daily from the lobby and checking areas in the building", he

Senator Graham Hits Leadership In Senate

DemocratsBlamed For Petty Politics

"What's wrong with Massachusetts?" State Senator Philip A. Graham said, "lack of responsi-ble leadership," was the answer to this oft-asked question.

Senator PHILIP A. GRAHAM

Senator Graham, guest of the University's Young Republican Club, addressed a small group in the Student Union Wednesday the S

Senator Graham quoted a scientist's Man and Dinosaur analogy. The dinosaur, the scientist was quoted, became extinct because his mind was incapable of growing at the same rate as his body. Man faces the same ex-tinction possibility if his morality cannot keep pace with his intelto the UMass centennial commit-of Democrat 'leadership' where private gain takes precedence over public good. Dean Curtis Admits Asking Destruction Of Sculptures

Charge of "Disappointing" Applied to Four Dorms

by LARRY RAYNER '61, Editor-in-Chief

Dean of Women Helen Curtis yesterday admitted that she had asked that four women's dormi
What will they think of the tories destroy their snow sculp-tures because they had "dropped to a disappointing level."

The four dormitories affected were Mary Lyon, Arnold, Leach, and Thatcher Houses.

Dean Curtis said the action was Dean Curtis said the action was taken because she felt that the sculptures were in poor taste. All four had themes which sug-over the weekend and asked,

"What will they think of the University when they come to college and this is what they

She also expressed a desire to have students raise the level of sculptures at next year's Carni-

Ann Reseigh, house chairman Ann Reseigh, house chairman at Arnold House, reported that Chairman at Arnold House, reported that Sally Dion, had destroyed their sculpture entitled "Bathtub Gin," as requested. Homemothers at the other three dormitries also become important in public relations. She said that many

STUDENT SENATE

Senate Tables Motion To Suspend Constituting

by THOMAS A. McMULLIN '64, Collegian Staff Reporter
The Student Senate in a surprise action Wednesday night, voted to table the motion to suspend the Adalphia constitution. voted to table the motion to suspend the Adelphia constitu-tion for thirty days. Adelphia is the senior men's honorary society campus. The defeated motion recommended that the group review the current requirements for a un-animous vote to elect their successors, that they have more specific criteria for election clearly stated in the constitution, and that they require a specified minimum average for all members.

Twohig States
Stepping down from the president's chair, Dennis Twohig told the Senate members that the executive committee, in an emergency meeting, had recom-mended that the bill be tabled. He also stated that he "doubted it the meters in the tabled.

ne also stated that he "doubted it (the motion) would be brought up again."

Spokesmen for Adelphia have previously stated that the matters suggested in the motion were already being considered by the group.

group.

In other Senate action bills were passed to continue the Freshman Directory, to have candidates for campus officers remove their signs after the elec-tion, and to give a sum of money

We Await The Evidence

The first reaction we have to the situation which resulted in putting seven fraternities on social prohibition is one of wonder. We wonder why the University has picked this particular time to strike, and we wonder why seven particular fraternities were singled out.

There is little doubt that prohibition has been violated ever since it was enacted on this campus 18 months ago. This is not to imply that all fraternities have been offending the law, nor is it to suggest that any fraternities have been among the violators. The simple fact is, for 18 months now, the law has been broken by various individuals and groups on campus. It is possible that the administration has been unaware of this fact, but that is very hard to be-

If the University has known about the violations, which we think it has, why then has it decided to strike now, and why have seven particular fraternities been selected, apparently at random?

We feel that Dean Hopkins must have some evidence against these particular houses-evidence which he has heretofore been unable to collect. The evidence will be revealed Monday, and only then can we, or anyone else, judge the efficacy of those reasons.

After the guilt or innocence of the seven accused fraternities is determined, and after the administration officially states its reasons and policies in the matter, we will be better able to take a more definite stand in the matter.

ROISTER DOISTERS by Ralph

The origins of the theatre stretch back into the mists of remotest antiquity. Springing up as an extension and an accompaniment of primitive religion, some form of drama can be found in almost every society past and present, advanced or archaic. These early theatricals are usually in the form of mask-dramas or dances which give added emphasis to the prayers and wishes of the tribe.

The mask is found universally in this kind of drama, for several reasons—the dancer wants to look like the thing he is imitating, and the "magic" in the mask can temporarily give the wearer the powers of the object represented, be it animal or god or natural force like rain. There is also the business of war, and here the mask is useful to frighten away the enemy. Since the mask is magic, the will feel the power of the war-dance from many miles will be weakened by it.

Even in such a primitive, ancient background, the theatre had begun to take up the idea and the form that it has now. Instead of actually confronting the enemy and terrifying them, the culturally backward tribe believes in the power of symbols to do the job for Symbolism is a very strong element in modern drama too the modern playwright will often present one figure and give it the qualities of an "Everyman" who in the span of the play goes through the problems of the race or other social groups which the author wants depicted. The stage is essentially life distilled into generalities, the strongest extract of life that can be both easily seen by the audience and yet be universal at the same time.

The mask also has its counterpart in modern stagecraft. Where The mask also has its counterpart in modern stagecraft. Where the primitive will masquerade as an animal, totem, or a natural force, the actor of today will put himself into a role, hiding behind the face and personality of a fictional character and taking on that char-acter's strengths and weaknesses for as long as he is on the stage.

And what is the purpose of drama? In its early beginnings, And what is the purpose of drama? In its early beginnings, the aim was to beseech the gods to pity and bless the mortals below who were singing and dancing to attract the god's attention; now, as well as then, the aim of the stage is to beseech — but to beseech the audience, not the gods, to watch the presentation and then be aware of the faults and shortcomings of the world, presented in clear focus. Other strong motives combine to put a play on the modern stage — the wighes to instruct to extend in the rewising the provide and the strong motives. escape into fantasy, or to open a door to the clearer perception of reality. Whatever the motives behind the theatre, they are deeply embedded in human nature, and the drama in one form or another will probably last as long as there are humans to present it.

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870 Editor-in-Chief Larry Rayner '61

Editorial Editor Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Sports Editor Al Berman '62 Photography Editor Larry Popple '63 Assistant News Editor James R. Reinhold '61

News Editor Donald D. Johnson '61 Business Manager Michael Cohen '61 Advertising Manager Howie Frisch '62 Circulation Manager Barry Ravech

FRI.: News Associate, Bruno DePalma '63; Feature Associate, Audrey Rayner; Sports, Ben Gordon; Copy, Joe Bradley, Pat Barclay, Jean Cann.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed tee times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examinan periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of March 3, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1934. bacristion price Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. mber-Associated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press. Sun. Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m. adding:

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I.F.C. States Its Position

To the Editor:

In the light of recent events a statement by the Interfraternity Council seems most desirable.

The Interfraternity Council deeply regrets that it's "policing" efforts, carried out in good faith, have been found wanting. The task was not one which the Council selicities. the Council solicited, nor one which the Council in any way enjoyed, but it was one which the Council attempted to perform faithfully, within the limitaattempted to perform faithfully, within the limitations of students "policing" students. In the present academic year, I, as President of the Interfraternity Council, have taken additional steps to put more teeth in the Interfraternity "watchdog." Only presidents of fraternities were allowed to take part in the "roving committee," since they were felt to be the most responsible individuals in the system. The "roving committee" was instructed to start their police actions at 9:00 P.M. on Saturday evenings, so that they might reach each house while parties so that they might reach each house while parties were in full swing, and not too early or too late so as to be ineffective. The "roving committee" was provided with a form to fill out, stating the various visits made, the approximate times of each visit, and accurate descriptions of violations. During the past week, the Executive Board of the Interfraternity Council expanded its activities in the policing effort. Frequent visits were made to houses in an effort to seek violations at exchange suppers and rushing functions. I feel that no one could expect more, unless we had hired our own professional more, unless police force.

The memorandum stated, "for the past six months . . . actual observation and the receipt of innumerable reports has indicated . . . that in fact the fraternities are not living up to the letter nor the spirit of the regulation." We hold that if the University was aware of these illegal practices, a more positive action would have been to discuss the matter with the Interfraternity Council, and with the officers and advisers of the groups, and through discussion arrive at a mature and level-headed handling of the unfortunate problem.

Both the Dean of Men and the Provost have made semi-public statements, recognizing that both dormitory and fraternity housing groups were not following the letter of the law. An allegedly incorrect quote from the President in the Springfield Union, referring to the sanctity of private residence as never retracted. And the new Administration, though pressured by various student and faculty groups, has not made a clear statement of re-af-firmation of this policy. We have understanding for our new President's problems in taking over the very difficult situation without full knowledge of all the background. But all these facts have contributed the background. But all these facts have contributed to a very uncertain outlook on the problem among the students and have created a very difficult at-mosphere under which a student "watchdog" group was expected to operate.

Now to the matter which I hold most unfortunate, the relieving of the Interfraternity Council Judiciary's responsibilities for the balance of the current semester. The Judiciary has been dissolved for being "unsuccessful in policing the rule concerning alcoholic beverages." The Interfraternity Judiciary is analogous to the Men's Judiciary in its own area. The Men's Judiciary, although it sits in judgment of cases does not be set the set. ment of cases, does not have to enforce rules or go through classrooms and dormitories to find cases to try. If rules are broken, Men's Judiciary is not disbanded. It is still allowed to try the cases. Bedispanded. It is still allowed to try the cases. Be-cause the alcoholic beverage rule has supposedly been broken, are there grounds for disbanding the Interfraternity Judiciary, the judicial organization entitling fraternity groups to judgment

In many ways, we are happy to be relieved of the odious task of policing one another, a process which made other constructive improvement efforts all the more difficult. Although it is the consensus of the various groups that the entire affair has been unfortunately handled, the fraternity Presidents have pledged themselves to level-headed actions, and assure the campus of their united efforts to and assure the campus of their united efforts to maintain fraternities as active and contributing organizations in the University Community. It is their sincere hope that the University Discipline Board, soon to be deliberating on these various cases, will see fit to utilize this opportunity to proceed to the University better ways and means pose to the University better ways and means through which the responsible heads of the student organizations and the University Administration to-gether can create a workable situation. Gordon Massingham

President Interfraternity Council

Adelphia Replies

To the Editor:

In answer to Senator Twohig's letter in the Collegian of February 13, 1961, which implies that Adelphia is unaware of the issue and unwilling to take positive steps on their own, Adelphia would take positive steps on their own, and the content it position in order to indicate why like to present its position in order to indicate why this motion is unner handled indiscreetly. ecessary and that it has been

I. "I feel this motion represents mounting student concern over the current state of our senior men's honorary society."

The Adelphian Society is cognizant of the The Adelphian Society is cognizant of the distribution have been taken positive steps in this direction have been taken on our own. Had we been approached formally by the Senate these changes would have been revealed.

"They are opposed to making any statemen which recognizes the need for reforms and rededication to original Adelphian principles."

1. We saw no need to make any public statements since we felt our actions would speak for themselves.

2. The Adelphian Society saw no need to re-dedicate itself "to original Adelphian principles" since we have not wandered from these principles which have been to "promote campus spirit and to foster and promote the interests and ideals of the University of Massachusetts."

III. "They are adamant in refusing to announce any reforms before making their next selec-tions this coming spring."

1. Adelphia plans to select the new members on the basis of the new constitution which we have been drafting on our own.

Exercise Caution?

He screams American ideals, His eagle's wings bristle; Defend the rights of men-Poor American ideals. What ever has happened? If the eagles are American, They will destroy The destroyer of American ideals.

Bot'n Ovtönna

2. We saw no need to bring these revisions to anyone's attention in part, but rather in their entirety. Furthermore, we had never been approached formally to do no.

been approached formally to do no.

3. Our plan was to submit the new constitution to the Constitution Committee and then to the Student Senate for final approval, which we felt would serve as the formal announcement before selection of new m

4. This revision was being conducted on our own. Not having been approached formally by any organization, we saw no need to an-nounce these changes, but reported all matters to our advisor.

We feel that the passing of this motion will give We feel that the passing of this motion will give the student body the impression that Adelphia was unaware of the situation and unable to handle it on their own, thus in effect hurting rather than helping the name of Adelphia on campus. With-drawal or defeat of this motion will show the stu-dent body that the Senate is now aware that Adel-phia has recognized this problem and that Adelphia has been taking positive steps on their own, thus has been taking positive steps on their own, thus in effect strengthening the name of the organiza-

Juilliard String Quartet at Amherst

The Juilliard String Quartet, one of the world's foremost chamber groups, will perform at Amherst College February 20.
Its concert, scheduled at 8:15 p.m., in College Hall, includes works by Haydn, Berg and Sibelius.

Sibelius.

Sibelius.

The group founded in 1946 by William Shuman, president of the Juilliard School of Music, has performed in major centers in this country and abroad. Its appearances include concerts at the festivals in Salzburg, Vienna, Berlin, Budapest and Edinburgh. The quartet has also performed in Poland and at the Brussels World's Fair. In 1955 the group travelled more than 15,000 miles in Europe, playing 76 concerts and recording 67 broadcasts.

Performers include Robert Mann, violin, Isidore Cohen, violin, Raphael Hillyer, viola and Calus Adam, cello.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA WILL BECOME OUR SEVENTH NATIONAL SORORITY

The University of Massachusetts chapter of Alpha Chi Omega sorority will be formally incorporated into the national organization in ceremonies to be held on campus February 17-19. The local unit will become on campus February 17-19.

The local unit will become Delta Mu, the 93rd chapter to be accepted into the national. Pledging of new members will take place on Friday, Feb. 17, at 6:30 p.m. in the Colonial Lounge of the Student Union. Initiation ceremonies will be held on Saturday, Feb. 18, at 1:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple in Amherst. Mrs. Max Hittle of Indianapolis, Ind., national extension director Ind., national extension director for Alpha Chi Omega, will be the installing officer.

Later that day, at 6:30 p.m. a formal banquet will be held in the Lord Jeffery Inn for members of the chapter, installing officers, alumnae, and others.

The University president, Dr. John W. Lederle, and Mrs. Lederle will attend the banquet.

Activities will conclude with a reception to be held on Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Commonwealth Room of the Student Union.

Union.
The University of Massachusetts chapter is located in Province I of the national organization. The province includes chapters at the state universities in Vermont, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Maine, and at Syracuse University. cuse University.

Organized in 1885 at DePauw University, Alpha Chi Omega does work in behalf of children suffering from cerebral palsy. Since 1947, the national has giv-en approximately $52,000 for this purpose. Funds raised locally at alumnae clubs and chapters have amounted to $250,000 and have been turned over to the Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Co-chairmen for this weekend's ceremonies will be Mrs. James W. Thomas of Wethersfield. Conn., province president, and Mrs. George L. Kemp, North Granby, Conn., president of the Western Massachusetts Alumnae Club of Alpha Chi Omega.

Officers of the local chapter, all seniors, include: Jane Massimall seniors, include: Jane Massimiano, Pittsfield, president; Kathleen Hovey, West Springfield, first vice-president; Dorothy Ravgiala, Methuen, second vice-president; and Judith Konopka, Springfield, recording secretary. Chapter advisors are Mrs. Donald E. Bossart and Mrs. Caroline Broemel, both of Amherst.

Besides Mrs. Hittle, other national officers in attendance will Besides Mrs. Hittle, other national officers in attendance will include: Mrs. David W. Evans, Jr., of Gt. Barrington, development director; Mrs. John E. Shaffer of Syracuse, N.Y., president of Province I; and Mrs. Arthur C. Cope of Belmont, recently retired national extension chairman and national secretary.

Sororities Hold Pledging Ceremonies To Install The New Freshmen Members

ALPHA CHI OMEGA
Alpha Chi Omega welcomed
nine freshmen Monday night.
They are Deena Ferrigno, Barbara Gregory, Marguerite Jordan, Mayrora Verico (Sarabara de Sarabara Gregory, Marguerite Jordan, Mayrora (Sarabara de Sarabara de Sara bara Gregory, Marguerite Jordan, Maureen Keenan, Sylvia Oakes, Sylvia Piantoni, Eileen Reilly, Eilen Vyce, and Geraldine Waluke-vich. They were ribbon pledged on Monday evening and will be officially pledged tonight by the sisters of Gamma Sigma chapter of Alpha Chi Omega from URI sisters of Gamma Sigma chapter of Alpha Chi Omega from URI in Rhode Island. Tomorrow afternoon the rest of the house will be initiated. Following initiation, a banquet will be held for all the new sisters at the Lord Jeff. On Sunday, Alpha Chi Omega will be introduced to the campus at large at a tea to be held in the Student Union.

All the work on the snow sculp.

All the work on the snow sculpture was rewarded with a Seco Place in the Carni Snow Sculpture Competition.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

KAPPA ALPHA THETA
On Monday evening Theta pledged seventeen wonderful girls. The new pledges are Judy Agard, Jean Anderson, Marcia
Baily, Linda Bonney, Bev Bothelo, Del Comeau, Merryl Donley, Bobbie Farrell, Bonnie Hunter,
Sue Klein, Robie LaVatte, Eunice
LaMasieur, Barbara Murphy, Joanne Pariseau, Rosemary Seward, Gail Sird, and Margaret Walter. After pledging, dessert and coffee were served.
The Thetas are proud of Bette Broberg who was chosen as queen

oberg who was chosen as queen Winter Carnival.

A very successful and enjoy-able exchange supper was held with Phi Sigma Kappa this week. After dinner, everyone was in-vited back to Phi Sig for danc-

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA
Kappa is pleased with its twenty-one new pledges. They are:
Marty Adam, Diane Anderson,
Jayne Arnold, Merilee Carlson,
Bev Christo, Marie Creanza, Dottie Donovan, Carol Esonis, Pat Gilgut, Claire Goldrick, Marilyn
Graf, Judy Hanlon, Helen Jezior-Graf, Judy Hanlon, Helen Jezior-ski, Penny Kelly, Ann Ledwith, Betty Mercer, Jan Simonds, Clau-dia Smith Ellie Stang, Glenda Stockwell, Maggie Wenzel.

Dottie McGee, Jennet Roberts, and Joan Kelly have been recogzine The Key.

Christa Hahnenstein has been aosen for Who's Who.
Linnie Pratt, Carol Graeber and Linnie Pratt, Carol Graeper and Sheela Fowler have parts in the upcoming Campus Varieties pro-duction. Jeannie Alden has the Roz Zacher was recently elected KKG's new rush chairman.

PI BETA PHI
Pi Phi is very proud to welcome its new pledges. They are:
Beverly Brent, Johnson; Geralding Down William Beverly Brent, Jonnson; Geratine Dow, Knowlton; Jane Kline, Crabtree; Marie Makinen, Lewis; Janet Rose, Mary Lyons; Pat Stankiewicz, Knowlton; Carol Townsley, Lewis; and Leslie Wilcox, Hamlin

Townsiey, Dewis, Cox, Hamlin.

They were pledged Monday evening February 13th.

SIGMA KAPPA

SIGMA KAPPA
Sigma Kappa's final rush party, closed date, ended with a bit of excitement. A small fire in the living room ruined a section of the house's new wall to wall rug. Due to some quick thinking on the part of a few of the sisters and the houseboys, relatively little damage was done.

At a ceremony last Monday

At a ceremony last Monday night, ten girls were pledged. They are: Priscilla Bradway, Sharon Clapper, Penny Hatch, Janet Harron, Ellen Kfoury, Mae Kapinos, Judy Knox, Gail Jen-sen, Carolyn Oliver, and Paula Wickins sen, Car Wickins.

The sisters of Sigma Kappa would like to say "Thanks" to Joan Boskiewicz, activities chairman, who organized and made possible their winning snow

The Sigma's were very happy to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Madeira at dinner last Wednesday night.

There are nearly 16,000 gasoline service stations in California

Arizona has the largest Indian population of any state in the nation.

The Arkansas cotton crop in 1959 was 68 per cent above 1958 production.

More than 90 per cent of the wood used in this country is har-vested from private lands.

Pinnings

Carol Amarantes, Kappa Kap-pa Gamma to Topper Urban, Al-pha Chi Rho, Columbia Univer-

Myrlene Currie, Lynn, Mass., to corge Pleau, Sigma Alpha Ep-

Maura Driscoll, Kappa Alpha Theta, to Perry Harris, Phi Sig-ma Kappa.

Rosemary Kamison Kappa Al-pha Theta to Manny Hammel-burg, Alpha Epsilon Pi. Judy Praskiewicz, Mary Lyons,

Robert Maynard, Worcester Mary Smith, Sigma Kappa to Tom Connolly, Tau Kappa Epsi-

Carol Tarr, Sigma Kappa to Ron Packard, Alpha Gamma Rho.

Girls Are Proven To Be The Better Drivers

NEW YORK (UPI)—Boy driv-ers are more concerned with the care of the automobile but girl drivers have a better safety rec-

Automotive experts from the firm that makes an anti-freeze said so in an analysis of habits among the more than six million

The experts said the boy drivers see that oil is changed regularly, keep tires properly inflated and have the car winterized before cold weather sets in.

"Like their mothers, girls are inclined to think these mechanical details magically take care of themselves," the automotive authorities said.

The experts said that insurance rates do not rise when the young ladies drive, but when a teenage boy operates the family car, insurance rates are boosted fifty per cent.

The auto experts said that this superior safety records of girl drivers may be due in part to the fact that boys do more driving.

One of the world's largest open pit copper mines is located ate Santa Rita N. M.

On the average it takes 134 skilled men to drill a 10,000-foot

Have a real cigarette-have a CAMEL

This handy new invention provides over 10 feet of drying space on eight individual, heavily plated, smooth rods. Stands in or alongside the bathtub so drip-drys drip where they should.

Collapses for storage. Only 24 inches long, 3 inches in diameter, collapsed. Legs fold. Easy to pack and store yet always ready for immediate use.

Be one of the first to enjoy the added convenience of this new and thoroughly tested appliance. Orders filled promptly. Don't put it off. TODAY—send your name and address and your check or money order for only $3.95 for each dryer you want to:

THE BRIGHTWOOD SHOP

Box 126, Springfield 7, Massachusetts

CLUB DIRECTORY

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Alpha Phi Omega fraternity on Mon., Feb. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the Worcester Room of the SU. The program will include a guest speaker and refresh-ments.

ASTRONOMY CLUB

The first meeting of the Astronomy Club will be held Wed., Feb. 22, at 8 p.m. in Barnstable Room of the SU. The program will include a film presentation from the Bell science series, "Our Mr.

CANTERBURY CLUB

There will be a meeting of the Canterbury Club on Sunday, Feb. 19, at 6 p.m. at Grace Church. The program will include a supper after which Professor H. Leland Varley will speak. Transportation will leave from 768 No. Pleasant St. at 5:45.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

A Lenten Communion Service will be held by the Christian Association in the Common-wealth Room of the SU on Friday, Feb. 24, at 7 a.m. This Friday, the Rev. T. A. Greene from the Congregational Church will conduct the serv-

DEBATING CLUB

The Debating Club will go to Mt. Holyoke College on Mon., Feb. 20, to engage in two de-bates with the Mt. Holyoke Debating Team.

ENGINEERING JOURNAL

There will be a meeting of the students interested in the Engineering Journal on Tues., Feb. 21, at 11 a.m. in Room 126 of the Engineering Building.

There will be a meeting held Friday, Feb. 17, at 8 p.m. in the Worcester Room. Mr. Aryeh Simon, National Director of the Student Zionist Ortor of the Student Zionist Or-ganization, will speak on-"Does Israel Have the Right To Try Eichmann in the Name of the Jewish People?"

We all make mistakes

A delicatessen supper will be held Sunday, Feb. 19, at 6 p.m. in the Commonwealth Room. Admission is 50¢ for members, $1.00 for non-members. Author Moshe Shamir will speak or "Israel and the Middle East".

SU ARTS AND MUSIC

March 10. Prizes. There will be a sign-up sheet at the lobby counter for those interested. Post cards will be sent concerning time and place for auditioning.

SU ARTS AND MUSIC COMMITTEE

A chamber music concert will be held in the Commonwealth Room of the SU on Sun., Feb. 19, from 3-4 p.m.

SU PING-PONG TOURNA-

This week will be the last chance to sign-up. There is only room for a few more en-tries. Sign-ups can be made in the Games Area.

WMUA

All students interested in becoming engineers for WMUA please report to the station this Sunday, Feb. 19, at 1 p.m. Please be prompt.

Opportunities Offered For Fellowships

Students interested in a career in the public service who will re-ceive their B.A. in June are offered an opportunity to apply for fellowships to study at three different universities. The fel-lowship is $2,000 for the year plus college fees.

Beginning this June, fellows will serve a three-months' internwill serve a three-months' internship with a governmental agency in Alabama, Kentucky, or Tennessee such as the TVA, the Marshall Space Flight Center, a city, or a department in one of the state governments. In the 1961-62 school session, they will take graduate courses at the Universities of Alabama, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

Completion of the twelve-

Completion of the twelve-months' training period entitles fellows to a certificate in public administration,

For information and applications, students should write Coleman B. Ransone, Educational Director, Southern Regional Training Program in Public Administration, Drawer I, University, Alabama. The deadline for submitting applications is March 6, 1961.

Student Fulfills Military Obligation On Weekends

by IRV JOHNSON, Collegian Staff Reporter

Donald Masuret '62 flies with the 131st Tactical Fighter Squad of the Massachusetts Air National Guard at Barnes Airport in Westfield. His plane is an F-86, a faster model of the F-86A which scored the high MIG kill Masuret frequently flies training missions to different parts of the country such as New Orleans, Las Vegas, Miami, Phoenix, and even Alaska.

He has stated that there are opportunities to obtain an Air Force commission and fly with the Mass. A.N.G. on weekends, as he does. This is a convenient way to work off any military way to work off any military obligation, he said.

To qualify, one must have had two years of college and have passed the Stanine Test, which is a pilot aptitude test comparable to the College Board Exams. Any man entering this program receives a regular Air Force commission at the time he is sworn in and goes to school is sworn in and goes to school is sworn in and goes to school as second lieutenant.

Men who complete this 21-month training course receive their wings, and a commercial pilot's license with an instrument rating which permits them to fly any plane in any type of weather. weather.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: One black leather fur-lined glove. It's cold up here! Contact Joan Blodgett, Collegian Office.

Electrical Engineers-Physicists

NORDEN DIVISION UNITED AIRCRAFT

WILL INTERVIEW ON

February 23

career positions in Research, Development, Design and Man-ufacturing in such areas as

Fire Control Systems
Radar Systems
Data Processing Equipment
Inertial Guidance Systems
Television Systems
Aircraft Instrumentation
Navigation Systems and Components

Robert Potash Wins Competition Mention

Dr. Robert A. Potash, associate professor of history at UMass, was recently given honorable mention in the James A. Robertson Prize competition for professional papers published in the Hispanic American Historical the Hispanic American Historical Review during 1960.

The article by Potash, entitled "The Historiography of Mexico since 1821", appeared in the August issue of the review. The paper is a 40-page discussion of the trends in historical writing exhibited over the past eight decades in the work of historians of Mexico.

Potash, who recently received

Potash, who recently received a grant from the Social Science Research Council for a study of Argentinean history since 1930, is the author of a book on the in-Mexico. Published in 1959, the book is a discussion of the development of Mexican industry between 1821 and 1846. Written in Spanish, it was issued simultaneously in Mexico City and Ruenne Aires. Buenos Aires.

Buenos Aires.

A member of the board of editors of the Hispanic American Historical Review, Potash is collaborating with three other historians in the writing of a volume, The Dynamics of Politics and Government in Latin America, to be published later this year in paperback form paperback form

Farquhar, Geology Professor,

Also Published
"The Geology and Asbestos
Deposits of the Taita Hills
Kenya" is the title of a recently

Oswald C. Farquhar, as professor of geology at Published by the Geo

Geological Survey of Kenya in Nairobi, the Survey of Kenya in Nanton, book-length report is based research undertaken during safari to the Taita Hills, loca during in big-game country between Mount Kilimanjaro and the East African coast. The safari, in 1952, turned up significant deposits of important minerals, including anthophyllite asbestos, magnetic iron, kyanite (an aluminum-rich mineral), graphite, others.

The report is illustrated by numerous photographs, tables, figures, and colored maps. Also included is a pen-and-ink sketch showing a typical member of the Taita tribe. Farquhar was accompanied on the research expedition by porters of three different tribes and a Kikuyu cook. A member of the UMass staff since 1957, Farquhar has been concerned with asbestiform minerals for many years and has acted as a summer field consultant in Newfoundland for one of The report is illustrated by ant in Newfoundland for one of the world's foremost producers of chrysotile asbestos. At present he is planning an independent survey of asbestos deposits in the Caribbean and Central Amer-

A graduate of Oxford Univer-A graduate of Oxford University with a Ph.D. degree from the University of Aberdeen, the Massachusetts geologist is a member of several professional Scientific societies.

Brenzo Receives Cadet Gift

Photo by Pete Hefler

An informal "retirement dinner" was held for Tech. Sgt. Mark Brenzo at the Grist Mill in So. Amherst by cadets, old friends, and acquaintances last Tuesday evening.

Sgt. Brenzo has been active in Air Force activities on campus for the past five season.

for the past five years.

A presentation of a set of golf clubs was made by Cadet Kermit Pruyne.

Hillel Deli Supper Sunday, Feb. 19, 1961 – 6 p.m.

COMMONWEALTH ROOM

GUEST SPEAKER

MOSHE SHAMIR ISRAELI NOVELIST and PLAYWRIGHT Admission: Members 50¢; Non-Members $1.00

THE UNIVERSITY STORE

EATON PAPER CORPORATION (E) PITTSFIELD, MASS.

ERASE WITHOUT A TRACE ON EATON'S CORRASABLE BOND

Touch-type, hunt-and-peck, type with one hand tied behind your back-it's easy to turn out perfect papers on Corrasable. Because you can erase without a trace. Typing errors disappear like magic with just the flick of mark on Corrāsable's special surface. Corrāsable is available in light, medium, heavy weights and Onion Skin. In convenient 100-sheet packets and 500-sheet ream oxes. Only Eaton makes

A Berkshire Typewriter Paper

Corrasable.

eraser. There's never a telltale erasure

Contract Bridge

North
5 J 7 3
H Q 10 5 3
D 8 4
C K Q 7 2 S 10 6 2 H 7 D A 10 7 3 2 C A 8 5 4 S K 8 4 H A 9 6 D Q J 5 C J 10 9 South (D) A Q 9 5 K J 8 4 2 K 9 6

Dealer: South All Vul. North East 1 N Pass 3 H Pass West S H Pass Pass

Opening Lead: C-J

This week we are concerned with bidding two suited hands when the suits are touching in rank. This week's hand has four spades and five hearts and is a minmum opening bid. With hands of this type, we open the bidding in the higher ranking suit. We do this so that our partner may take a choice of our suits at the level of two.

South opened the bidding one spade and North responded with one no-trump. South then bid two hearts. North preferred hearts to spades, and since he had four hearts and ten points in support of hearts, he raised to three hearts. South felt that he did not have enough points to continue and passed.

It should be noted that if North had preferred spades, he could have taken his choice by bidding TWO spades. If South had opened the bidding with one heart, which is wrong, then his partner would have to bid three hearts if he preferred South's first suit. If South is on a minimum open-ing bid and North just has enough points to make a res-ponse, then usually they will not be able to make three of any-

West led the C-J; the C-Q was west led the C-J; the C-Q was played from dummy and East won the trick with his ace. He returned a small club which dummy's king took while de-clarer pitched a small spade. The H-10 was led from dummy and west won the trick with his ace. He decided to return the D-Q which declarer took with his K. pulled two rounds of South trump, ending up in the dummy,

The original recordings!

Remember, how great...

Appointments Announced To College Of Agriculture

President Lederle Names Professors And Instructors

Four new appointments in the College of Agriculture at UMass were announced this week by Pres. John W. Lederle following recent action by the Board of Trustees.

William A. Rosenau, assistant professor, has joined the department of horticulture as a floriculture section staff members at the Waltham Field Station. He will be concerned with research in greenhouse soils, and the nutrition and growth of horticultural crops.

Reared on a Connecticut farm, he obtained his B.S. degree in and led the spade jack. West took his S-K and then his D-J. another diamond which was ruffed in dummy.

Declarer took his two good remaining spades and his two trump, just making three hearts. only lost one trick in each

LOUIS ARMSTRONG

COUNT BASIE

LES BROWN

CAB CALLOWAY

XAVIER CUGAT

TOMMY DORSEY

EDDY DUCHIN

DUKE ELLINGTON

ANDRE KOSTELANETZ

HARRY JAMES

MARY MARTIN

DINAH SHORE

botany from Yale University in 1948, and his M.S. degree in 1948, and his M.S. degree in agronomy from the University of agronomy from the University of Connecticut in 1950.

For several years he has been employed by the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange as research assistant in the field seed division. After two years in the Navy, he attended Pennsylvania Navy, he attended rennsylvania State University, where he just recently finished work for his doctorate in agronomy with a major in soil fertility and a inor in plant physiology.

Norman T. Odden, who received his Bachelor of Agricultural En-gineering degree from Cornell University in 1959, is an instructor in the department of agricultural engineering. He will be engaged in farmstead engineering work including both research and has had 3 years teaching experience as an under-graduate at Cornell and as a graduate student at Michigan State University. He received his Master's degree at Michigan State last December. Albert Wrisley, Jr., manager of the Hotel Graystone, Elyria Ohio since 1957, is a new member of the food technology department as as assistant professor teaching food management. He obtained his B.S. degree from Cornell University in 1950.

Assistant Teach

Cornell University in 1950.

For two years after graduation he was assistant manager of the Stouffer Corp. in Chicago and New York, From 1953 to 1955 he served successively as winter desk clerk for a Key West, Fla. hotel; and as winter manager of a Miami restaurant. From 1956-57 he was manager of the Hotel Scott. Hancock. From 1956-57 he was managed of the Hotel Scott, Hancock, Named as an instructor in the department of veterinary science was Theodore Tzianabos, He will be engaged in research and control work in poultry disease, in-cluding a newly-recognized dis-ease of turkeys—virus hepatitis—affecting the liver.

—affecting the liver.

He obtained his B.S. degree and his M.S. degree from the University of New Hampshire in 1955 and 1958. His major was microbiology. On leaving the University of New Hampshire he was employed by the Massemble of the Massemb he was employed by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health in the virus division of state diagnostic laboratory at Harvard Medical School. Prior to his appointment, he was en-rolled in the graduate school here while working on his Ph.D. de Fund Drive Will Begin On March 13 Volunteers Will Collect For Campus Chest Gifts On Monday, March 13, the annual Campus Chest Drive will begin. Volunteers will be soliciting in the dormitories, sororities, fraternities, and faculty resi-

Through contributions, the Campus Chest gives support to the following organizations. The United Negro National Scholastic Service Fund, The World University Service, The Jimmy Fund, The Student Organization Scholarship Fund, and Hokkaido University—our sister university in Japan.

Co-chairmen for this drive are Robert Marshall '62 and Patricia Kraft '62. Anyone interested in working for the drive may do so by contacting either of the chairmen.

The Campus Chest is looking forward to the support of the students and faculty of the Uni-

The drive lasts one week ending on Monday, March 20th.

ductions ($3.98 value). Never before have all these great artists been brought together in one album! Never be-fore have you been able to buy these great hits at such a bargain price! To get your album, fill in and mail the shipping label at right with $1.00 and ten empty Lucky Strike packs to "Remember How Great," P. O. Box 3600, Spring Park, Minnesota.

Look at this album. Imagine these 12 great artists, great hits together on one record! Here are the original record--magnificently reproduced by Columbia Record Pro-

REMEMBER HOW GREAT CIGARETTES USED TO TASTE? LUCKIES STILL DO

OTHE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO.

STRIKE

'Remember Ho P. O. Box 3600 Spring Park, Mi 0
OUR NAME	(PRINT YOUR NAME HER	(E)
CITY	ZONE	STATE
04	good only in U.S. A. and Pr	unata Olan

	N COMEDY DELIGHT!
"Broad Hun	nor" -Bosley Crowthe
"A Jo	lly Show Indeed"
	-Terry Thomas
"Make	Mine Mink"
Plus-	WALT DISNEY'S
"Islands	of the Sea"-Color
Mon. thru	FriCurtain 8:00 p.m.
	-Cont'd from 6:00 p.m

Sigma Delta Psi Launches Drive For Members; Skills Announced

Sigma Delta Psi, the University's athletic fraternity, is now beginning its yearly drive for members. In the years gone by, candidates for admission did not begin fulfilling the requirements for admission until the latter part of the semester, most often too much the latter, for spring fever or finals invariably inter-fered. Now is the time to start, not next week or next month.

SDP is more than just a campus organization; it is a National Athletic Fraternity. The campus chapter is sponsored by the De-partment of Physical Education, under the direction and advisor-ship of Mr. Robert James, Mr. William Footrick, and Mr. Jus-

Membership to the fraternity is open to all male students who can pass certain qualifying tests. Those who qualify for member-ship receive the official gold ship receive the official gold key, a certificate of membership, and an opportunity to compete for the annual high point trophy.

For admission to full membership, a student must attain in the marks set opposite each of the following events in the presence at least one faculty advisor or the authorized director of the certification committee.

Sigma Delta Psi Test

1. 100-yd. dash 11.6 sec. 2. 120-yd. low hurdles . . 16.0 sec.

J.	nigh jump 5 ft.
4.	Broad jump 17 ft.
	16 lb. shot put 30 ft.
6.	20 ft. rope climb 12 sec.
7.	Baseball throw 250 ft.
8.	Football punt 130 ft.
	100-yd. swim 105 sec.
	1 mile run 6 min.
11.	Front hand spring
12.	Hand stand 10 sec.
13.	Fence vault chin high
14.	Good posture
15.	Scholarship (eligible for varsity competition)

Additional information concerning testing or admission requirements can be obtained from 4-6 daily in the cage. Speak to one of the advisors or Bob Vallee, 217 Mills.

UMass Gymnasts Toppled By Fine Performance Of Springfield Squad, 67-29

by JIM E. MULCAHY '63

The UMass gymnastics team failed last night in the bid for it's third win of the season. A powerful Springfield College led by Olympic candidate Jeff Cardinali outperformed the Jamesmen 67 to 29.

This was their first meet since the resigning of coach James Bosco. Practice was spasmodic and enthusiasm at a low ebb when Robert James returned to guide the boys. James filled in for Bosco last year while the former was in Rome studying Olympic athletes for his doctorate.

The team's performance was far from that displayed in our victories over Cortland State and Southern Connecticut. James feels that the team should have it's form back before the return meet with Cortland, March 25.

Charlie Paydos '62 showed fine form taking second on both the parellel bars and the flying rings. The swift-flowing moves of Paydos were overcome on the of Paydos were overcome on the bars by Cardineli who turned a difficult planche into a hand-stand, and on the rings by a Marooner's double somersault fly-away. Dave Yates '63 tumbled into second place with smooth tinsigna tignas and roundoffs. Ralph Nichols '62 showed much promise in climbing the rope in five seconds flat.

It the team improves as expected our dual meet with Temple on March 11 will be the most ex-

Aggie Rifle Squad Loses

With a 1393 team total over the three-position course, Central Michigan University took a postal rifle match from the Stockbridge shooters Wednesday. Brancheau's 284 individual effort for the Mount Pleasant team was high for the match, while Dick Sten-berg was tops for Stockbridge with a 268.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)-The dugouts for baseball players at War Memorial Stadium have built-in fixtures for fluorescent lights, but they probably will never be used.

Baseball dugouts are never lit primarily because any lights would distract players on the diamond and might impair their field of vision. No one seems to know how the fixtures came to be installed.

SPORTS STAFF

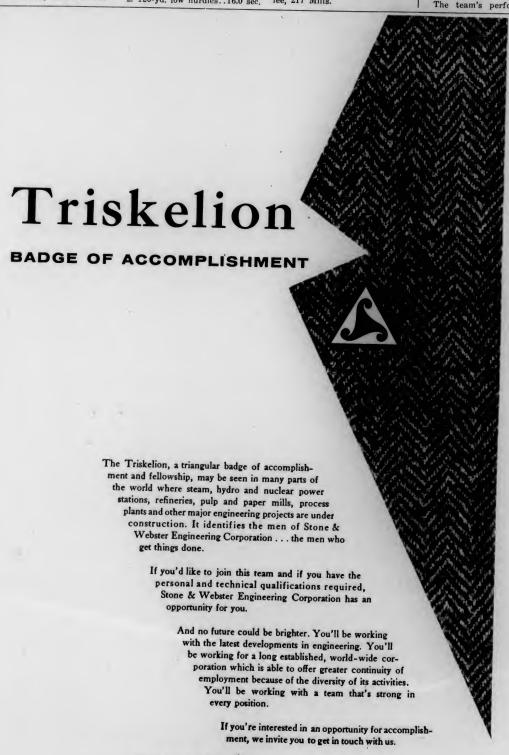

There will be a short meeting of Sports Staff in the Collegian office on Monday, February 20 at 11:00 a.m.

MORE SUN

For folders, information or reservations, write lodge of your choice or Box CD, Stowe Area Association, Inc., Stowe, Vermont.

for a copy of our book!
"Stone & Webster and You,"

Boston Chicago

San Francisco

STONE & WEBSTER ENGINEERING CORPORATION

Pittsburgh

Houston

0

T B M

SPORTSENSE

It seems that the basketball squad has finally come into its own looking at the swamping of looking at Wildcats, the defeat UConn and last night's defeat of Tuft's. The team is now 13-8 for the season, a not-too-impressive record, yet a deceptive one.

any rate, the 11 year reign of UConn over the Yankee Con-ference basketball kingdom has been ended. Whether the crown will go to Maine or Rhode Island is anyone's guess, but I'll take the Ram's, both for sentimental and statistical reasons.

It is estimated that the U.S. will need a minimum of five years to rebuild a figure skating team after the tragic loss of the so greatly talented team in the recent air crash.

Al Hall, 1956 and 1960 Olym-At Hall, 1956 and 1960 Olympic team member in the hammer throw, is now living in Greenfield and expects to practice at Alumni Field this spring and help coach the UMass weight throwers. Hall, who officiated at the UCoun mean level level. UConn meet last week, has best marks of 67 feet in the 35 lb. weight throw and 220 feet in the hammer. He was Pan American Games champion in 1959.

A recent article in the UConn paper highly praised the Husky hoopsters for overcoming such greatly pessemistic predictions of pre-season critics. It seemed to imply that these predictions (that UConn would be lucky if it had a winning season) were highly a winning season) were highly unjustified. It's interesting to point out that it was Hugh Greer, UConn's coach who wore the gloomy face before the season—he more than anyone else.

Jumping John Thomas will have another chance to show his stuff against the Russian athletes, tonight, and it took looks as if he'll be up against some stiff competition. Valerly Brumel, the eighteen year old Soviet high jumper who has established the new world mark of 7'41/2" claims he has cleared the bar at 7'3" off the boards. He made his record mark off a gravel approach. Brumel has said that he thinks he'll beat Thomas even though he has not jumped in an indoor meet of this type. The N.Y.A.C. meet should tell the tale.

Two Americans, both former rowing captains have been named to row for the Cambridge Blues, this year. One of them, Mark Hoffman, will take the stroke seat. The race will be held April 1, and will be the 132'nd meeting of Cambridge and Oxford.

of Cambridge and Oxford.

While we're playing Vermont tomorrow night, the crucial game of the Yankee Conference will be in progress between Maine and Rhode Island. The Bears have two losses (one to Rhode Island and one to UConn) while the Rams have only one. Thus, if the Rams win, the crown is theirs. There'll be many fans, whether they're from Ram country or not, who'll be rooting for the guys from Kingston. the guys from Kingston.

WANTE ON THE AIR If you can't make it to the Cage tomorrow night, tune in to 91.1 on your FM dial where Jim Trelease and Howie Wainstein will bring you all the action and color of the UMass-UVM .basketball .clash. .Air time is 8:05.

Hoop Squad Dumps Tufts Ouintet

The UMass basketball squad The UMass basketoall squad won its 13th game of the year against 8 losses last night as it defeated the men from Tufts College, 84-56 in Medford. Complete details of the game will appear in the Monday edition of the Collegian. The next game for the Collegian. The next game for the Redmen is tomorrow night when they take on the University of Vermont at the Cage, starting

> SEE MONDAY ISSUE FOR

> > DETAILS

Track Team Defeats UConn Racers As O'Brian, Balch And Ward Double Winners The UMass distance running crew led the Redmen to a 63-50 victory over Connecticut in their first dual indoor track meet of the Winter at the Core let Winter at the Cage last Wednesday.

Led by double winners Ken O'Brien and Dave Balch, the striders scored 29 of a possible 36 points in the four distance races, O'Brien called upon a re-serve of potent energy in the stretch to overpower his Husky rival in both the 600 and 1000

Especially strong for a distance man, the sophomore runner nip-ped the varsity record in the 600 by 0.4 secords with a 1:15 clockBalch, another sophomore, ran away from the field in the mile and two-mile, cracking Ralph Buschmann's 4:29.5 standard with a 4:24.5 time in the mile and leading teammates Buschmann and Blomstrom to a sweep of the two-mile. two-mile.

The third twin victor for the Redmen was Dick Ward, who easily beat his competitors in the 35 pound weight throw and the high jump. The sophomore whiz tossed the heavy hardware 47:-7½" and then lifted his own 215 pounds over the bar at 6'2", tying the varsity high jump mark.

Loren Flagg, Jim Reilly and Mike Dineen finished in that order to shut out UConn in the dash. The UMass mile relay team of Jack Harrington, Hank Kelsey, Bob Carpenter, and Joe La-Marre notched the eighth Redmen victory while romping past the Huskies to end the meet.

Connecticut's only double winner was Parsons, who took the high and low hurdles, the only running events won by the rivals. The UMass sophomores scored 49 of the team's 63 points while accounting for all of their victories.

FROSH WIN

Coach Bud Cobb's freshmen tracksters unleashed their poten-tial on the Husky pups with a tracksters unleashed their power tracksters unleashed their power tial on the Husky pups with a 76-37 whipping. John Harrington won both hurdling races for the Redmen while Fred Lewis set a new frosh record for the broad jump by over a foot with a 22'6'4" effort. Lewis added a third place fine 5'11" jump for a third place in the high jump.

Bruce Piatek sprinted to vic-Bruce Platek sprinted to victory in record tying time in the dash after taking second in the broad jump. Connecticut's Westberg took both long races over UMass' Bob Brouillet who was second, and Sumoski of UConn was the winner in the two weight events.

Dave Collingwood just missed Ward's frosh high jump mark with a 6'1" performance while tying for first place to finish off the evening.

The varsity trackmen travel to Northeastern on Florus y 25 for their next encounter with the re-cently crowned Greater Boston

Grutch Trails Chappelle In Scoring Race

Captain Doug Grutchfield of the Redmen hoop team trails Maine's Tom Chappelle in Con-ference, thus far in the season. Chappalle, who won the scoring crown last year, has a command-ing lead of 181 points in eight games for an average of 22.6 points per contest.

Grutch trails with 119 points and a 19.8 average while Joe Hargen of New Hampshire is third with 113 points and an average of 18.8 points per con-

Other leaders are: Larry Schiner, Maine, 150 and 18.7; Charlie Lee, Rhode Island, 102 and 17.0; Benny Becton, Vermont, 148 and 16.7; and Kirk Leslie, Mass., 94 and 15.6.

Mass Pistol Team Ranks Among Best In The East

It is high time that the var-sity pistol team, coached by Cap-tain Gordon Hathaway, be rec-ognized for what is in the coached by Capognized for what it is, one of the more successful pistol teams in this eastern sector.

Before going into the team's record it should be made clear the type of shooting the team engages in. One type of match is the Shoulder-to-Shoulder where the teams travel around and visit the teams travel around and visit to shoulder to each other to converte The teams. each other to compete. The other kind of shooting is the Postal Match where shooting is done at home under tournament rules, the results being sent to other t

The team's first match of any lind was back on Dec. 14, when they took on the U.S. Military Academy and MIT in a Shoulder-Shoulder affair. This one they to Shoulder affair. This one they lost as they compiled a total of 1275 points out of a possible 1500 compared with 1398 for the Academy and 1299 for MIT.

For the week ending Jan. 14, the UMa's Pistol Team competed in a error of Postal Matches and the computed in a error of Postal Matches and the computed in a error of Postal Matches and the computed in a error of Postal Matches and the computed in a cross of Postal Matches and the computed in the computer of the computer in a error of Postal Matches and time they really came through, finishing second only to the Military Academy. Behind them in order were the University of Michigan, The Air Force Academy, and the Kingspoint Merchant Marine Academy.

Tomorrow Capt. Hathaway and the team are leaving for West the team are heaving for West Point where that have entered the National Rifle Association Inter-Collectate Sectional Tournament. These tournaments are held all over the country and the individual and team scores are sent into Washington where they are compiled and matched against each other and prizes are awarded.

Those going to New York from UMars are Roy Fritz, Al Gordon, Jim Vermeiren, Al Rogers and Dave Brown. According to Capt. Hathaway no one is going to beat We t Point as trey are probably the best in the country. How-ever he is optomistic about his team's chances and especially about Roy Fritz.

Fritz has never been defeated Inter-Colleg ate shooting. He has been high individual in all the matches including those with West Point. A Veteran, Fritz shot on the U.S. Army Pacific team, Fritz has some impressive figures to back him up including a 289 and a 296 out of a possible. 289 and a 296 out of a possible 300. It is interesting to note here that last year's Collegiate Champ won with a 282 and Fritz hasn't shot anything less than a 288.

At the moment the team is engaged in a Postal Match with the Coast Guard Academy. The future plans call for matches against Villanova, The Naval Academy and Texas A.&M.

The team is also presently competing in a Revolver Association match with eight teams. They are firing in their second week which is not quite completed and already have a score of 1402, well above the average.

The Captain is now interested The Captain is now interested in acquiring new members, freshmen especially. No previous experience is necessary. Anyone interested can see the Captain at Dickenson Hall at his own convenience. Practice is in the basement every afternoon from 4-6.

F.H. Thompson &Son 13 N. PLEASANT ST. - AMHERST 738

Robert Sweet '59 Will Be Ordained Sunday

Bishop James T. Mathews of the New England Area of the Methodist Church will come to Amherst Sunday, Feb. 19, to ordain Robert Sweet '59, at the Wesley Methodist Church in a ceremony to be held at 8 p.m.

Robert Sweet is studying at Hartford Theological Seminary. He will be ordained a Deacon in the Methodist Church, in the first such service to be held here in Amherst. Following the ordination and communion service, a reception will be held for all attending. All are invited to this special service and evening pro-

Bishop To Speak To Foundation

Preceding the ordination service, Bishop Mathews will speak the Wesley Foundation. All college students are invited to hear him, Bishop Mathews has a serious interest in student life, being the chairman of the Department of College and University Religious Life of The Division of Higher Education of the General Board of Education of the Methodist Church. He grad-uated from Lincoln Memorial University, went to The Biblical Seminary of New York, and re-ceived his Ph.D. from Columbia University. In 1955, he went to Cambridge University in England for special study. He has received an honorary D.D. from Lincoln Memorial University.

Elected Bishop In 1960

Preceding Dr. Mathews' election to Bishop in June, 1960, he spent some years as a missionary pastor in Bombay, India, and pastor in Bombay, India, and Dhulia. In 1956, he was elected a Bishop in the Church of India but resigned before being consecrated because of his conviction that Indians should be in the Bishopric. Subsequentially, two Indian Bishops were elected.

Bishop Mathews will preach at the 11 a.m. service at Wesley Methodist Church.

NOW! WE CAN

ON FINE

PAPER!

SAVE YOU MONEY

EASY-TO-ERASE

TYPEWRITER

Now we have a fine quality, famous brand easy-to-erase paper at the lowest price yet! It's Eagle-A Type-Erase, the popular paper for cleaner, faster typing and quick erasability. At the touch of a pencil eraser, typing errors 'wipe' off the surface of Type-Erase, leaving no mark. Saves time ... makes your work neater. Comes in a budget priced pack of 100 sheets, 8½" x 11", in medium or heavy weight, plain or 3-hole punched. Free with every pack — a Letter Placement Guide to help you type neater letters and reports.

EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE

Buy your EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE PAPER today at

... the paper that erases perfectly with a pencil eraser

Made by American Writing Paper Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., manufacturer of Eagle-A Boxed Typewriter Papers

Bishop JAMES T. MATHEWS

Inter-College Program Is Discontinued

Carol Jones, Chairman of Wom-en's Affairs Committee of the Student Senate, announced yesexchange proterday that the with Radcliffe College has been canceled.

She reported that Betsy Booth, Chairman of the Radcliffe Ex-change Program, informed her by letter Wednesday that they had dropped the program this year. The program was initiated by Radcliffe College students three Radcliffe College students three years ago.

In the letter Miss Booth stated, "Radcliffe has certainly enjoyed the past exchange with students of the University of Massachusetts, and we sincerely hope that the interim of a year will not prevent us from exchanging with you in the future."

The program was to have

The program was to have started February 19.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: Tan trench coat with green lining, taken by mistake from SPE Friday night. I have your smaller coat with red lining. Pete Quinty, 302 Brooks.

Additions To | Health Staff Seen Likely

by ANN MILLER '63

Collegian Staff Reporter The University Health Service, including the out-patient depart-ment and infirmary, employs five full-time and five part-time full-time and five p nurses. Although there are no nurses. Although there are no definite plans to enlarge the present nursing staff, with expansion of the Health service and completion of the new infirmary, there will probably be additional nurses on the staff.

Commenting on present facili-ties, the nurses agree that the buildings in use have been adequate up to the present. However, if the existant medical facilities were to continue to be used with expected expansion of the university's population, they would be ineffectual in keeping with the school's needs.

"No Visitors" Rule Troublesome
One of the disturbing aspects of the present setup is that en-countered as a result of the "No student visitors are allowed," rule. The main purpose of hos-pitalization in the school in-firmary is to prevent the patient from coming into contact with from coming into contact with other students. By allowing stu dent visitors, this purpose would be defeated. Nurses' time which be defeated. could be otherwise utilized is spent taking care of notes and messages to and from the patients. Nurses who were asked to comment on this expressed the hope that a method might be found to eliminate the disrupting factors of this system.

Patient Contact Important

A disadvantage of the nature of their present work is that the infirmary nurses are no longer in contact with many nursing practices. The school infirmary is never involved, for instance, in surgery in surgery.

The consensus of those interviewed was that their present situation presents greater opporsituation presents greater oppor-tunity for personal contact with patients. They feel the atmos-phere is more pleasant than that of a hospital where they would be caring for dangerously ill and death-bed cases. Young people are often more cheerful and easy to get along with than many other cases they have encountered.

UMass Centennial ...

(Continued from page 1) suggestions were made by many present.
Dr. Goldberg stated that the meeting was not designed to produce any immediate action, but to promote mutual understanding. He concluded the meeting with a statement thanking tho present for their enthusiasm, and urging that they as student leaders begin to think of how their groups will contribute to the Author, Playwright To Speak To Hillel

MOSHE SHAMIR

Author Moshe Shamir will speak on "Israel and the Middle East" at a delicatessen supper sponsored by the Hillel Foundation to be held at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 19, in the Common-wealth Room of the S.U.

Shamir is best known in this country for his novel King of Flesh and Blood, which was awarded the Bialik Prize for 1955 and which has been translated into English, Spanish, Italian and Dwish Trypaths (1) ian, and Dutch. Two other of his seven novels have won awards ssishkin Prize going to He Walked in the Fields and the Brenner Prize given to With His Own Hands, which epitomizes the growth, the joy and the sacrifices of the youth of Israel de-

by DEBBIE SELIG '64, Collegian Staff Reporter
fending Jerusalem from the invading Arab armies in 1948. Shamir has also received distinction as a playwright.

He was born in 1921 to a pioneering family in Upper Galilee. Upon graduating from high school, he joined a kibbutz and became a member of the Jewish settlers' self-defense corps. In 1943 he joined the Palmach, famed Commando corps and, during Israel's struggle to maintain nationhood, rose to the rank of nationhood, rose to the rank of captain.

Shamir used his writing ability during the British mandate peri-od to issue defense pamphlets and also to edit the weekly magazine of the Israel Defense Army.

In the past he has visited the United States to tour and study and has lectured on contemporary Hebrew literature at Cambridge University in England.

At present he is a member of the Hebrew Academy and the Council for Culture and the Arts; he serves on the central com-mittee of the Union of Hebrew Writers. Besides his literary work, Shamir teaches drama at Tel Aviv University and writes a weekly column in one of Israel's most widely read newspapers.

He is currently conducting a coast-to-coast speaking tour of American colleges and universities.

Chairmen of the supper are Judith Izenberg and Joel Kang-isser. Admission is 50c for mem-bers and $1.00 for non-members.

Flute And Ensemble Featured In Recital

A recital of chamber music featuring flute and ensemble will be presented at the S.U. on Sunday, Feb. 19, at 3 p.m. Soloists will be Paul Norton (flute) and Elliott Schwartz (piano). Paul Norton, head of the UMass art department, studied flute with Marcel Movse and has performed with the Amhest Comnunity Opera Orchestra. Elliott Schwartz, who studied piano with Alton Jones and composition with Paul Creston and Otto Leunig. will present the first performance of his "Sonata for Flute and Piano."

The program will consist of Sonata No. 1 ("L'Henriette") by Michel Blavet; Trio, in C major, No. 71 by Haydn; Suite Modale (1956) by Ernest Bloch; Trio in D major, No. 31 by Haydn; and Sonata (1960) by Elliott Schwartz. The performance is open to the public.

Other performers will be Nan Turgeon, a student at Amherst Regional High School who is a member of the Western Massachusetts High School Orchestra and the Smith College Training Orchestra. Miss Turgeon, who has spent two summers at the New England Music Camp in Oakland, Maine, studies flute with Paul Norton and piano with Mrs. Bailey Brown.

A third flutist will be Judi Wagner, who studies flute with Mr. Norton and piano with Elliott Schwartz. Miss Wagner has sung in the Amherst Community Opera production of "Carmen," and will take part in the Smith-Amherst Glee Club's pre-spring presenta-

Marsha Wagner, also a student at Amherst Regional and a member of the hand and orchestra, has performed with the Tri-State Band and the Smith College Training Orchestra. A student of bassoon with Emil Hebert of Smith College and piano with Mr. Schwartz, she has spent two summers at the Amherst Music Center.

Helen Harbinson, a sophomore at Smith College studying cello with Miss Marion DeRonde, is a native of Princeton, New Jersey, where she performed with the Princeton University Orchestra.

THE COLLEGIAN WILL PUBLISH ON WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22

VOL. XC NO. 47

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1961

Medical School Receives Delay

Reports on legislation for a UMass medical school will be held up a week awaiting a for-mal statement of position from mal statement of position from the Hampden District Medical Society, the chairman of the Com-mittee on Education, Sen. Mary Fonesca, (D-Fall River), said

Warmly Backed

Warmly Backed
Proposals for a state medical school in Springfield were warmly backed by Rep. Philip K. Kimball, (R-Springfield), several Springfield doctors, and Atty.
William Cohen, representing Mayor Thomas J. O'Connor, Jr., at a committee hearing on Wednesday.

nesday.

Hugh Thompson a trustee of the university, called for putting the medical school in Boston.

Rep. James DeNormandie, (R. Lincelly, Royae, a vell-organized. coln), gave a well-organized a for establishment of the first two years of a medical school at the University in Amherst.

Outright opposition to the proposals for a Boston medical school came from Dr. Robert L. Glass of Tufts Dental College. Opposition to any state medical school was voiced by Dr. Philip LeCompte and Harold Katz for the Americans for Democratic

Dr. A. A. Palermo, president the Hampden District Medical Society, ran into a heavy barrage of questions from the committee. He said the society favors a Western Massachusetts college, but "with reservations," because it believes the state is doing a "pretty good job" and is proportionately better off in the number of doctors it has than are most others. He said that another received in the said that another received in the said that another reservation is over the ability of the state to pay for a good medical school.

Leading off the hearing with plea for a UM medical school the leading medical center of the world and therefore should have the added medical school.

Dr. Lowell Bellin of Springfield, a specialist in internal medicine, said, "... For goodness sakes, not in Boston. There are not enough patients now."

He stated that the single largest United States population area from which patients can be drawn for instruction at a medical center which does not have such a center and college in the such a center and college, is the Connecticut Valley, the area "be-tween Albany and Boston."

DeNormandie called for establishment of a first-two-year medical school at Amherst. He pointed out that expansion of the

At several points during the hearing, the figure of 800 spaces available after the first year of medical school was given as an indication that there would be plenty of room to absorb medical students from the university after the two years experience. er the two-year course is com-plete. DeNormandie estimated that the initial outlay for build-

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt First In Visitor Program

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will be one of the first speakers in the Student Sponsored Distinguished Visitors Program at UMass.

Mrs. Roosevelt will give a talk before the University community on March 9, the exact time and place to be announced later. This will be her second visit to the campus, the first occurring in September, 1952, when the late president's wife was the speaker at the institution's opening convocation for that year.

The Distinguished Visitor Program was established by the stu-dent body as a means of bringing to the campus "outstanding per-sons in the various fields of human endeavor." Stipends for speakers are provided out of stu-dent tax funds voted by the Student Senate.

The program is administered by a group called the University of Massachusetts Assembly, comosed of representatives from the student body, the Board of Trus-tees, the faculty, the administra-tion and the Associate Alumni.

tion and the Associate Alumni.
Gail Osbaldeston '61, who is chairman of the Assembly, said that the topic of the forthcoming talk by Mrs. Roosevelt will be announced at a later date. "We feel highly honored in being able to present so distinguished a world figure to be the first speaker under this program," she said.

in Boston at the Lemuel Shat-tuck Chronic Disease Hospital was UM trustee Thompson. Leading Center Thompson said that Boston is first two years of the present medical schools in New England seems to be impossible, but the final two years, mainly in clinical training in the hospitals, can be expanded.

De Normandie observed that the DeNormandle observed that the Boston location of a four-year medical school at Lémuel Shattuck would destroy the chronic disease care program there just as it "is coming into its own."

Plenty of Room

At several points during the

S.U. Council Elections

Election procedures for the S.U. Program Council have been temporarily suspended, according to William D. Scott, Director of the S.U. and Coordinator of Student Activities.

Scott said he delayed the elections, in that the organization, procedures, and personnel of the Program Council could be examined.

He said that since the Union opened, the Program Council has failed to operate efficiently.

A committee will be appointed this week to study the situation and report back to the S.U. Governing Board not later than next week, he added.

Clarence B. Shellnut, S.U., Pro(Continued on page 4)

Mortar Board To Present Fine Arts Festival Program

Dr. Ilardi Receives Rockefeller Grant

Fifteenth Century Italian Documents To Be Microfilmed And Published

Two American scholars have been granted $10,000 by the Rockefeller Foundation to prepare a major collection of 15th-century Italian diplomatic docu-

The funds will be used by Dr. Vincent Ilardi, assistant profesof history at the University of Massachusetts, and Dr. Paul M. Kendall, professor of English at Ohio University. The two scholars are in charge of a project to microfilm and publish 15th-century ambassadorial dispatches now in the archives at Milan, Italy.

Milan, Italy.

The plan to publish a critical edition of the dispatches of Milanese ambassadors at the courts of Louis XI of France and Charles the Bold of Burgundy grew out of Dr. Kendall's research on a biography of the search on a biography of the French king and Dr. Ilardi's work on balance of power politics in Italy during the last half of the 15th century. Italian Historians To

Aid Project
Three eminent Italian historians will assist in the project.
They are: Prof. A. R. Natale,
Director of the Milanese
Archives; Prof. E. Sestan of Archives; Prof. E. Sestan of the University of Florence; and Prof. E. Pontieri of the University of Naples.

The papers, not now readily available to scholars, present available to scholars, present new evidence of prime impor-tance concerning the social, concerning political, and diplomatic history of one of the great periods of western civilization. Together with microfilms of a mass of supplementary documents in supplementary documents in Italian collections, the completed edition will offer American historians a rich opportunity for significant research into the origins of modern diplo-

Volumes To Be Published

Volumes To Be Published
In Italy
The edition, in 20 volumes, will be published by the Istituto Storico Italiano of the University of Rome. Two volumes will be published yearly over the next ten years. There will be two editions, one in Italian and the other English. Both will be published by the Istituto. This is the first time that the Istituto has agreed to publish Italian documents under foreign editorship. According fo eign editorship. According fo the American editors, the suc-cess of the project will serve as an incentive for similar co-operative enterprises in the fu-

The collection's editors are both accomplished scholars. Dr. Kendall has held Ford and Guggenheim fellowships and is the author of two outstanding biographies, Richard III (1955) olographies, Kichara III (1900) and Warwick the Kingmaker (1957). His full-length study of 15th-century English society, The Yorkist Age, will be pub-(Continued on page 6)

Arts Fete To Feature A. Copland

Composer Aaron Copland will the featured speaker at this year's UMass Fine Arts Festival.
A major figure in American music, Copland will give a public lecture on Thursday, Feb. 23, at 8:30 p.m. in the S.U. Ballroom. The lecture will be a high point in the festival program which be-gins on Wednesday, Feb. 22, and ends on Sunday, Feb. 26. Mortar Board Sponsors Festival

Presented by Mortar Board, senior women's honor society, the festival is an annual event de signed to bring professional art and artists to campus for the benefit of the University com-munity and the public at large. Funds for the undertaking are provided by the Student Senate, the Associate Alumni, and the S. U. Program Council. Copland will appear under the newly established Student Sponsored Distinguished Visitor Program.

"The Abstract Idea" Named

The Abstract Idea Theme
Theme of this year's festival is "The Abstract Idea." Activities include the showing of experimental films furnished by New York's Museum of Modern New York's Museum New York's Museum New York's Museum New York's Museum New York's Art; an exhibit of modern paintings, drawings, and sculptures; a modern dance recital; gallery talks on abstract painting and photography; a demonstration of the production of electronic music; and a reading of a modern play

The festival committee has announced that a complete program will be announced on Monday. All events are open to the public at no admission charge.

Fourth SWAP &ShopSetFor May 12-14

The Fourth Annual Student Workshop on Activities Problems will be held May 12, 13, and 14, according to James E. Early, SWAP Committeeman.

Earley also said that the Oak'n Spruce Inn. in South Lee, where last year's conference was held, is under consideration as the site of the conference. He reported that he and Charles Curtis, general chairman, were going to South Lee to make final arrangements.

Cost Remains Stable

Earley stated that the cost per elegate would not exceed the $22 figure of last year.

Every organization is invited to send a delegate to the conference. The larger organizations which the committee feels should send delegates have already be-(Continued on page 6)

From right to left: Mrs. D. W. Evans, Jr., National Collegiate Membership Development Director; Jane Massimiano, Delta Mu Chapter President; and Mrs. Max W. Hittle, National Extension

More than 200 parents and students attended the installation reception for Alpha Chi Omega Sorority yesterday afternoon in the S.U. Bailroom. Several of the sorority's national officers were introduced to each guest. Among the gifts received by UMass, seventh national chapter was a silver tea set, Shown above are, left, Mrs. Max W. Hittle, National Extension Director, Jane Massimiano, Delta Mu Chapter President, and Mrs. D. W. Evans, Jr. National Collegiate Membership Development Director.

Freedom And Maturity

Most of us, I am sure, are annoyed at Dean Curtis' order to destroy certain "objectionable" snow sculptures, and in many ways we have a right to our indignation, for the demand certainly infringes upon student freedom—the little freedom we, as students, now have on this campus.

Yet, in the heat of our resentment we consider the relationship of freedom to responsibility and maturity. In the heavy emphasis given to drinking through this year's snow sculptures, a great deal of student immaturity and irresponsibility is evident. The sculptures which were destroyed were in poor taste. They certainly did nothing to create a good impression among the many interested visitors to our campus. At most, conveyed an immature over-concern with drinking and lack of originality.

A Need For Concern

In a letter printed in the February 15 Collegian Col. Weaver stated that I, in my February 6 article, called for "participation in student organizations, such as Peace Union, Challenge, Synthesis and Toesin." I am amused to learn that such a view could be found in my article. I can find no statement which advocates that students join any group whatever. advocates that students join any group whatever. In fact, I had stated in that article: "An answer can not entirely be found in these groups."

To indicate what certain students in vari parts of the country are doing, I attached a foot-note: "On the student level, for example, there are such groups as: the Student Peace Union, Challenge, Tocsin, and here in the four college vicinity, Syn-thesis." I suggested these organizations only as thesis." I suggested these organizations only as examples. Perhaps they might be the stepping stones for students who are unaware of such groups yet interested in discussing topics that seem to be of concern throughout the universities of the United States and the rest of the world.

In being realistic, we can not hide behind shams and veils of self-deceit and then hope to come out on top. We must recognize and confront the various conflicts and threats being imposed upon us. For instance, each one who refuses to admit that the advertising institution has no harmful effects is fatuous; this person becomes a hindrance to the status of the nation, because he hazes the reality with an easy-to-make smog. Also, we might look at the problems brought about by the continuous number of nuclear warfare and space age refinements. ber of nuclear warfare and space age refinements. With this are certain implications. To ignore such questions of existence does not seem to me to be too rational.

On these matters, the attitude of students r On these matters, the attitude or students reflected in vocal or written participation on this campus generally appears to be one of unawareness, indifference, and/or a lack of immediate concern. But, perhaps the attitude is one of: "What can we do?—Nothing." The first thing we can do is to clear our heads, sober up a bit. This is what is being done in many campus communities. As I said being done in many campus communities. As I said previously, the principles of a democracy and the privileges of the individual in a democracy can not be maintained unless we constantly evaluate the road that we are taking. Anyone who opposes this view is, in the end, anti-democratic; he is trying to im-pose his own idea/sentiments for some unspecified

I firmly agree with Col. Weaver that "you should look before you leap." But most importantly, be sure you look. Look at the various aspects of our con-temporary situation—from art to politics. And evaluate. And then, if you like, look at the groups that are willing and trying to face certain issues. Look

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Larry Rayner '61 Assistant Editor-in-Chief Al Berman '62

Editorial Editor
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62
Sports Editor
Ben Gordon '62

News Editor
Donald D. Johnson '61

Business Manager
Michael Cohen '61 Photography Editor Larry Popple '63 Assistant News Editor James R. Reinhold '61

Advertising Manager Howard Frisch '62 Circulation Manager

Mon.: News Associate, Richard Howland; Feature Associate, Jean Cann; Editorial, Sally Mallalieu; Sports, Al Berman; Copy, Pat Barclay.

Socpro The Fraternity Street

by W. C. VINAL '61

Social Probation is sweeping the frats Depriving the youth mixed alcohol bats. They can't have a mix for a week or t wonder just what the frat-brats will do? We wonder just what the frat-brats will do? Maybe they'll study an hour, some do, Or steal an exam to pass Hatch Lab II. Or, maybe they'll show a good ol' 'skin flick,' And sneak a cold beer all just for a kick, Or maybe some try to get a big date; But if there's no booze the frat-brat don't rate. Sooner or later as evening wears on He'll put on his coat. Our frat brat is gone; But there's hardly doubt where he can be found. The nearest bar stool is his hunting ground. He may be beard-less, and not twenty-one; But you can be sure as morning brings sun, He'll drink all he wants in that Amherst bar, Or, go up to Hamp, to good ol' Rahar, Pro'bition you see is just for the frats. The rest of the bars serve all of the brats. Along about twelve, or, maybe its one, He'll start out for home. He's just havin' fun. But after ten beers his eyesight is dim; But after ten beers his eyesight is dim;
He can't see the tree that's heading for him.
The next thing he knows he's back at the house,
Pro'bition is gone, he's drunk as a louse.
The parties just fine. His date's really great.
A.B.G.O.C.—He smiles at his fate.
Now suddenly he's all riddled with pain.
He opens his eyes. What's wrong with his brain?
He can't see a thing, it's blacker than night.
He's covered with blood. He's really a sight.
Then, near came a voice, so solemn and dim: He's covered with blood, He's really a sight. Then, near came a voice, so solemn and dim: "Poor boy, such a shame. It's really a sin. These youngsters won't take an adult's advice. They drink and then drive, and wind up on ice. Social Probation's what kids really need. What else can you do? They really won't heed The laws of the state, like all others do. Wonder if Johnny Green's open 'til two?" The voice faded out, and, also the pain. He felt not a thing not ever again.

They say that the boys have placed on his tomb They say that the boys have placed on his tomb

A notice from them. You must know to whom.

HERE LIES OUR BROTHER, SAINT SOCPRO HIS NAME

ALL FRAT MEN KNOW OF HIS DEED AND HIS NAME

HE DIED FOR OUR CAUSE. WE MADE HIM A SAINT

HIS NAME IS SOCPRO, THOUGH REALLY IT AIN'T?

HE WON US OUR CASE, HE PULLED ALL THE STOPS.

PROPERTION IS GONE WE PAID OFF THE CODE. PRO'BITION IS GONE. WE PAID OFF THE COPS SURE IT'S ILLEGAL; BUT, SHOW US WHAT AIN'T IT BEATS BEING A FRATERNITY SAINT.

A Liberal Education

by LESLIE DODGE '64

Dr. Clarence Shute, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, is in favor of required courses. He agrees with David Riesman that a student should play his weaknesses rather than his strengths because there are abilities of which he is not aware since he is not willing to explore. Wider cultural possibilites could be neglected when a student devotes his entire interest to the field in which he happens to be interested at the moment. interested at the moment.

There are requirements in the social and natural sciences as well as in the humanities. Dr. Shute placed the most emphasis upon the importance of natural sciences. He feel we must become concretely acquainted with scientific methods since science helps us to understand the world of problems that we meet every day, from "plumbing to speechipe". to spaceships.

In Dr. Shute's words, "Man's outlook upon the universe is very closely correlated with the picture of things that science gives. In our own time things are changing very rapidly. The ordinary outlook is correlated more with the science of one hundred years ago than with the science of today. Unless an undergraduate becomes familiar with the problems and language of the sciences, he is definitely handicapped in keeping up with the more important changes in the directors. capped in keeping up with the more important changes in the climate of his intellectual world."

The social sciences are designed to introduce the student to the ious functions of the social world in which he lives. It is impossible to be an enlightened person without an appreciation of those factors around us which we are called upon to discern in our daily lives and which we vote upon when we got to the polls.

As for the humanities, they comprise the entire area of the mind's creations. In dealing with them, we are not talking about nature, nor social, economic, political institutions, but rather the life of the hu-

The aim of those who determine subject requirements is a broad base of development which will allow each student the opportunity to develop along the lines of his particular interests. The problem is how to select the work in the different fields which will be of the greatest benefit to the average student, then adjust the curricula to the needs of the individual.

Dr. Shute says, "Education cannot be carried away in a note book. It is something taken into the soul which makes a person dif-ferent from what he was before. The aim of a liberal education is not merely to acquire information, although this is quite essential in the process, but to become a free man."

LETTERS

Six O'Clock Feedings

To the Editor:

I have heard of silly things in my life, but never anything to match Dean Curtis' edict to the women's dorms that snow sculptures representing a beer mug and "bathtub gin" be torn down because they were "immoral!"

were "immoral!"

What next—six o'clock feedings and teething

Astoundedly yours, Pat Ward '61

The Housing Office Mystery

To the Editor:

Three decades ago Massachusetts Agricultural College became the Massachusetts State College. A College became the Massachusetts State College. A decade and a half ago the University of Massachusetts came into existence, and sometime in the last half-dozen years the U. of M. began to make its bid for the Big Time. With this in mind, it seems that at least one adjunct. at least one adjunct of our administration, too, should recognize the modern world.

I speak of the Housing Office Bottleneck. Anyone who has been mishandled in this office, who has had to make plans from their evasion and ambiguities and there seem to be a few of us-will know what I

At present the policy of the Housing Office seems to be a lack of policy, its approval seems to be the whim of its administrators and its waiting lists are which of its administrators and its waiting lists are the deepest mystery.

To get student housing (I refer to married student apartments) one submits his applications and enters a Limbo found only in Dante and Kafka. Inquiries at the Housing Office are answered vaguely quiries at the Housing Office are answered vaguely and one's status is never really known. Persistence in one's inquiry—admired in the intellectual world—is treated as the greatest impertinence, even as irreverence, at the Housing Office.

May I suggest that the Housing Office join the Big Time with the University of Massachusetts. May I suggest that it make known the priority lists for housing, disclose the allotment of these apartments between faculty and students, and post the waiting lists so that a student may know his chances for living quarters more concretely and in advance. for living quarters more concretely and in advance, so that he can make definite plans at the beginning of his semester. May I suggest that a married graduate student (this is the group for whom I presume to speak) is a deadly serious student with a great deal in the balance and should not have to be more than normally concerned about his decision within deal in the balance and should not have to be more than normally concerned about his lodgings while at school. May I suggest that a system on more objective lines be initiated so that the Housing Office, instead of being a mystery society for pique and politics, may become a responsible and responsive branch of the administration of UMass.

Will anyone who is concerned with this problem contact me (I suggest by postcard) and perhaps we contact me (I suggest by postcard) and perhaps we can explore what can be done.

Arnold Gordenstein 42 McClellan St.

Talk Of The Week

Monday

● Great Decisions Discussion, 7:30 p.m., Skinner.

"Random Walks," by Professor John Kemeny, Department of Mathematics, Dartmouth College, 8:30 p.m., Babbott, Amherst College

Tuesday

"Nuclear Reactors in the Electric Power Field," by Mr. John Leborveau, Yankee Atomic Electric Company, 7:30 p.m., Dickinson Hall inson Hall.

Wednesday

"A Series of Abstract Films," Fine Arts Festival, 8:00 p.m., Student Union.
"European Union Today," by Professor Karl Loewenstein, Department of Political Science, Amherst College, 8:30 p.m., Babbott, Amherst College.

Thursday

Aaron Copeland Lecture and Piano Recital, Fine Arts Festival, 8:30 p.m., Student

"The UN: Where Do We Stand," by Sir Leslie Munro, New Zealand's Representative to the United Nations, 8:00 p.m., Chapin, Mount Holyoke.

Entered as second class matter at the post office herst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the year, except during vacation and examination periods; week the week following a vacation or examination pewhen a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for under the authority of the act of March 3, 1879, as by the act of June 11. 1924.

20 per year: 32.50 per yea

CLUB DIRECTORY

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

An open meeting for prosp tive members will be held Alpha Phi Omega fraternity on Mon., Feb. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the Worcester Room of the SU. The program will include a guest speaker and refresh-

ASTRONOMY CLUB

The first meeting of the Astronomy Club will be held Wed., Feb. 22, at 8 p.m. in Barnstable Room of the SU. The program will include a film presentation from the Bell presentation from the Bell presentation from Mr. S. W. science series, "Our Mr. S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

This year as last there will be presented by C.A. These will be held in the Commonwealth room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m., from Feb. 17 until

The services will be conducted: Feb. 24—Rev. Green, Congregationalist; March 3 — Rev. Bossart, Methodist; March 10

—Mr. Mand, Baptist; March
17 — Mr. Berger, Episcopal;
March 24—Mr. Craig, Presby-

COLLEGIAN WORKSHOP

Third session of the training program, Mon., Feb. 20 at 7 p.m. in Machmer E-13. All in-terested students may still enroll in the informal classes

CONCERT ASSOCIATION

The Concert Association will hold its meeting on Thursday, Feb. 23, at 4:30 p.m. in the Seminar room of Old Chapel.

DEBATE CLUB

Debate Club will travel to Mt. Holyoke for two debates Feb. Yeshiva College debating club will visit the campus on Monday, Feb. 27 for an after-

EDUCATION CLUB

There will be a panel discussion by student teachers on Tues. Feb. 21 at 7 p.m. in the Commonwealth room of the S.U.

ENGINEERING JOURNAL

There will be a meeting of the students interested in the Engineering Journal on Tues., Feb. 21, at 11 a.m. in Room 126 of the Engineering Building.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instruction, each Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the S.U.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE

On display in Wilder Hall Exhibition room are the student designs for the National Mobile Home Park Competition. Also on exhibit is the work of the junior and senior design class-es. Exhibit will run till Mar. 3.

LITERARY SOCIETY

The meeting will be held Tuesday Feb. 21, at 8 p.m. in the Hampden room of the S.U. The guest speaker will be the Israeli novelist and playwright Moshe Shamir, who will speak on "The Contemporary Israeli Novel". Everyone is walcome. Novel". Everyone is welcom

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

There will be a meeting held Wednesday, Feb. 22, at 7:00 p.m. in Bartlett 356.

Tuesday Feb. 21 at 11 a.m. in the Collegian office, final decisions to be made on the next issue. All interested people wel-

Contest Held In Poetry, Short Story

A poetry and short story con-test will be sponsored by the Literary Society and the Enghish Department. Judges of poetry will be Professors Koehler, Barron, and Tucker. Professors Langland, McCarthy, and Ratver have been named to judge the short story.

Prizes to be awarded are; First prize; $8, second prize; $5, and third prize; $2. Entries may be submitted any time before 5 p.m., March 15.

Two envelopes are required. Entrants are asked to print the name of their work and their

Taxpayers Will Follow Nearly Same Rules In Preparing Returns This Year As Last

EDITOR'S NOTE: Income tax time is approaching. By midnight April 17, some 60 million Americans must have their federal income tax returns in the mail. But, especially for those due refunds, there's no point in waiting until deadline. until deadline.

(Knowing the basic income tax rules and the legal gimmicks can save you money. You're entitled to it and the government wants you to have it. Following is the first of five dispatches on how to pay — and not overpay — your taxes. They were written for the non-expert with technical details checked for accuracy by the Internal Revenue Service.)

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) we could start off this 1961 UPI tax series with a dash of good news — like a tax cut for everyone or deductions for poker

Alas, the government is still pretty stodgy about these mat-ters. All it's done since last year is to plug a few loopholes here and open a few there.

Maybe the nicest development all year was a law by Congress which allows bigger medical ex-pense deductions for taxpayers who have dependent parents 65 also place their name and address in this envelope and seal it. Then place the envelope containing the work, name and address in the second envelope and seal it. Prizes will be awarded in each

All entries must be typewrit-ten and the following rules must be observed:

1) Poems are limited to a maximum of 42 lines; 2) There is no limit on short stories; 3) deadline is 5 p.m., March 15. 4) A pen name must be used.

pen name must be used. Entries are to be deposited in Entries are to be deposited in designated boxes in the S.U. and the English Dept. on the top floor of Bartlett Hall. The deci-sion of the judges will be final. All entries remain the property of the writer. and older. They no longer must exclude medical expenses equal to 3 per cent of their inco

There are other changes in the rules but they are pretty minor. The series will mention some of them as it goes along. If you think you've heard about one that pertains to you and you're not sure about it, you should consult your Internal Revenue Service of-fice by phone or your lawyer, accountant or tax specialist.

All this means that the 60 million taxpayers who must file returns by April 17 will be following pretty much the same rules as in the past few years.

April 17? Not April 15?

April 17 it is. That's a temporary change this year. The usual April 15 deadline falls on a Saturday in 1961. So taxpayers have two days' grace, until Monday, April 17.

Who must file a return? Any citizen or resident of the United States:

—Under 65 who earned $600

or more in 1960.

--65 or over who earned $1,200 or more in 1960.

-Who expects a refund for taxes withheld regardless of the amount of income earned? This would apply, for example, to a student who earned less than $600 during the summer

It also would apply to a taxpayer who can get a refund be ause he had very large deducti-le expenses, such as big medical bills or interest payments on a mortgage.

Regardless of the reason you are entitled to a refund, says the Internal Revenue Service, you will get it faster the sooner you file your return.

To file, you complete and mail one of three return forms—and enclose a check if you owe Uncle Sam money. The forms are:

1040A, the short form. 1040W, the middle form. 1040, the long form.

Roughly one taxpayer in two eligible to use the short form, a punch card about the size of a check. It is for persons whose gross income in 1960 was less than $10,000, including not more than $200 from dividends, inter-was not withheld by an employer. These same income limits apply for a joint husband-and-wife return. If the couple's combined income exceeds $10,000, or nonwithheld income exceeds $200, the couple may not use Form 1040A.

If you file on the short form. and your income was under $5,000, you can let the Revenue Service compute your tax. Thus, even though your scratch paper calculations show that you owe money, you may omit line 10, which says "enter tax."

This is the only circumstance in which you don't have to in-clude with your return a check for the taxes you owe. But all you gain is time, for eventually -probably in a few weeks-IRS will send a bill.

reminder: If your income was $5,000 or more you must figure out your income tax yourself, even on the short form. It's not hard to do and for incomes under $5,000 it's even easier.

Returns and checks should be made payable to "Internal Rev-enue Service" and sent to your District Director of Internal Rev-

If you file the short form you take the standard deducmust take the standard deduction of 10 per cent of income. If you want to take itemized deductions — because they would add up to more than the 10 per cent sum — you must file the middle form or the long form.

The middle form 1040W is

The middle form, 1040W, is two pages. Last year, the first it was out, some seven million taxpayers used it.
You may file on 1040W if your income consists only of wages or salary (regardless of amount) and not more than $200 of interest and dividends. You may not use it if you have income from other sources, such as property or rent, or if you report capital

The long form, 1040, is a must r taxpayers claiming depreciation deductions or reporting in-come from pensions, annuities, rents, royalties, estates, partnerships and other sources, or thos with retirement income credits. (Next: Rules for joint returns)

ERASE WITHOUT A TRACE ON EATON'S CORRASABLE BOND

Don't meet your Waterloo at the typewriter—perfectly typed papers begin with Corrasable! You can rub out typing errors with just an ordinary pencil eraser. It's that simple to erase without a trace on Corrasable. Saves time, temper, and moncy!

Your choice of Corrasable in light, medium, heavy weights and Onion Skin in handy 100-sheet packets and 500-sheet Only Eaton makes

A Berkshire Typewriter Paper

EATON PAPER CORPORATION (E) PITTSFIELD, MASS.

Rampaging Redmen Trounce Hapless Vermont 101-66

Fourth Straight Win Sparked By Leslie, Grutch And Black

The Redmen basketball squad tasted sweet revenge Saturday night when they trounced the University of Vermont, 101-66, at the Cage. The Redmen thus made up for two previous losses in the Conference: an 80-76 up-set by the Catamounts in Burearly in the season, and 103-65 drubbing by Maine in Orono just two weeks ago.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT

There was no doubt about the outcome of the game, even at UMass the very start. broke away early and had built up a 7 point lead by the time five minutes had elapsed. The Redmen widened their lead further until the halftime buzzer stopped them with a 28 point bulge, 52-24.

Six and a half minutes into the second half found the Redmen ahead by 34. Steadily, almost monotonously, the gap kept increasing, with Doug Grutch-field and Kirk Leslie leading the way, and at one time the Redmen ere ahead by 43.

Coach Matt Zunic decided to rest the starters and play some of the alternates, but Vermont was able to do little better than slightly lessen the humiliation as the game ended with UM on the side of a 35 point spread. DRIBBLING AROUND

The 101 points scored by the dmen was the highest any UMass squad has ever scored in the Cage. Rhode Island hit 102 in the Cage in 1955, for the only other 100 plus Cage game . . .

by AL BERMAN '62

The Redmen tied the Cage record for most field goals in one game with 40. They broke their own with 40. They broke their own field goal record, which formerly was 39 for one game . . The highest total of points ever scored by a UMass team is 104 against Boston University in Boston, in 1954.

The Redmen, although weak from the foul line all night, had no trouble from the floor, hitting 40 for 78 attempts. It was the second straight time they had shot for an average over 50%

... Doug Grutchfield hit 11 for 13 field goal attempts, and added a foul shot for 23 points. Kirk Leslie scored 22 points and snagged 17 rebounds, pacing the snagged 17 rebounds, pacing the Redmen all the way on offense and defense . . . High man for Vermont was big Benny Becton with 24 points. No other Catamount scored over 10 . . . Thursday night, Grutchfield's 22 points led the Redmen to an impressive led the Redmen to an impres 84-56 win over Tufts. Mike Mole UMass is now 14-8 on the season and assured of an overall winning slate. With 4 games left, the Redmen have a chance for their most victories in one sea-son in history. They won 17 in 1955-56... The Redmen are now in Syracuse where they will meet the Orange tonight. The next home game is this Saturday, when they will take on tough

UM			VERMONT
	FG	FT	T		FG	FT	T
Grutchf'd	11	1	23	Shabel	5	0	10
Leslie	8	6	22	Fleming	2	0	4
Widdison	0	4	4	Stahler	A	2	10
Siegel	1	0	2	Agel	0	õ	0
Black	6	3	15	Becton	7	10	24
Fohlin	1	1	3	Flinn	,	2	24
Burgess	0	2	2	Ader	3	2	8
Mole	8		19	Brem	2	2	6
Larkin	1	0		Houle	ő	0	0
Laugh'ne	A	ĭ	2 9	Kieslich	0	0	0
Wheeler	3	ô	6	Kiesiich	U	U	U
Green	0	0	0
Totals	Bertrus	21 1	Britisp	Totals		-	-

UP and IN KIRK LESLIE takes the rebound and puts it in for two of his 22 points Saturday night.

O.K., GIMME THE FOOTBALL JOHN BURGESS showed his aggressive spirit Saturday night against Vermont in many ways. Here he ties up a would-be scorer. John threw in two foul shots that night. JOHN BURGESS

UM.	ASS	3		TU	FTS
	FG				FG	FT	T	Three Time W
Grutchf'd	8	6	22	Goldberg	0	0	0	l line in
Widdison	1	1	3	Berger	3	0	6
Leslie	5	4	14	McGrath	5	3	13	NEW YORK (UPI)
Burgess	0	0	0	Holmes	ŏ	1	1
Seigel	0	0	0	Vrettas	5	5	15	IIminusian . C D .11
Black	3	3	9	Hughes	0	3	3	Uniersity of Brookl
Fohlin	3	5	11	Brennan	2	6	10
Mole	8	3	19	Peckham	1			the National Iniviation
Larkin	0	0	0	Klein	3	0	6	one reactorial mireacti
Laughnane		0	9	Anttonen	0	0	0
Wheeler	i	0	2	Anconen	0	U	0	ball Tournament thr
Green	ô	9	2
Green		-	-					1040 1044 1 4050
Totals	30	24	84	Totals	19	18	56	1943, 1944 and 1959.

Three Time Winner

NEW YORK (UPI)-St. John's Uniersity of Brooklyn has won the National Iniviational Basketball Tournament three times, in

Frosh Squad Defeats Leicester Crew 86-63

Jimmy Painten's 22 points and 20 rebounds paced the frosh hoopsters to a 78-65 victory over Leicester Jr. College in last's prelim. The former standout from North Quincy High played one of his best games as the Little Redmen posted their seventh win as against five defeats.

The Garbermen opened up an early twelve point lead on some Painten led fast breaks. Leices-ter's Minutemen managed to narrow the gap to 30-23 by half-

Pin-point passing by Robby Johnson and the Redmen's su-perior rebound strength frustrat-ed the Minutemen to the tune of a 64-38 UMass spread. Coach Garber substituted freely in the last quarter of play. Leicester fought to within eight at the close but it was too late. The loss of three starters on foul route hurt the Leicesters.

Little Jack Hanley's 26 point performance topped all scorers. He was followed by the Redmen's Painten with 22. Laakso of UMass and the losers Boss each

The scoring of Laakso and Painten was also very much apparent in Thursday's 89-63 sacking of the Springfield College Frosh. In that game Jimmy took nine rebounds to top the Gar-

Bobby Johnson's nine assists showed the way as the Redmen

LOST & FOUND

Found: One pair of glasses on the steps of French Hall. Inquire at French Hall office.

Lost: Economics notebook at Commons. Return to Jean Cann, Hamlin.

bloated a 43-34 halftime lead with their fast break tactics.

Jacobs with 14 was high for the Maroons who could not slow the speedy Redmen.

A return match with Stockbridge will wind up the season for the frosh in next Saturday's Manhattan prelim. The Garbers will be shooting for an 8 and 5

Intramural Mat Forms Now Ready

Applications for Intramural wrestling, which begins Tuesday, March 7, are now available at the Cage in the Intramural Director's office.

These applications must be returned to that office by March 3, and applicants will be weighed in upon submission

Weight classes will consist of. 125, 137, 147, 157, 167, 177, 191, and unlimited pounds.

With the exception of Edward Shane, '60, all of last year's winners will be out to defend their titles. They are: Jim Rog-ers AGR, 137; Larry Newey, 147; Frank George, SAE, 167; Mike Chretian, SPE, 177; Dick Hoss, Lambda Chi, 191; and Jerry Cullen, SAE, unlimited. Intramural points points will awarded to fraternity men plac-ing first or second. Trophies will be awarded to winners of each weight class.

Scott...

(Continued from page 1)
gram Director, said he didn't think that the step would effect
S.U. programs between now and
April 15.

Rhody Rams Down Maine, All But Cinch YC Crown

The victory gave the Rams a

The Rhode Island Rams all but wrapped up the Yankee Conference Crown last night when they romped over the Maine Bears 76-66 on the latter's own court. ond place Bears. UMass and Rams.

Hockey Team Splits; Dumps AIC And Edged By Colgate

This past week the UMass hockey club split a pair of games, beating AIC 4-2 and losing to by DAVE WILLARD '64 Colgate in overtime 4-3.

Thursday night the team traveled to Springfield to take on the rough and tough AIC Aces in a game which the UMass boys led all the way. Jim Ellingwood, Bobby Glew, and Tom Taylor scored the first three goals and with the score 3-2 with a little more than two minutes remaining AIC, going all out to pull this one out, removed their goalie. This gamble backfired as Frank Gilliat won a face off a few seconds later and fired the puck the length of the ice, hard and true into the nets.

Although the offensive unit of the UMass team was clicking the real story of the night was the superb performance of goalie Bobo Roland. This was Bobo's night to shine as his spectacular goal tending could easily have rated him a tryout with the Bruins. Many experienced observ-ers at the game couldn't remem-ber when they had seen a more outstanding job turned in by a netminder. All in all he turned netminder. All in all he turned aside 36 shots most of them right on the net and many of them from point blank range. This was easily one of the best goalie's games turned in this season in New England.

Tom Taylor played a fine game although he was playing game although he was playing with an injury. He tore the ligaments in his knee in the first two minutes, but the game scrap-per hung in there to score a goal. He will be out for the rest of the on as a result.

season as a resurt.

Friday night the Redmen were paid a visit by the men from Colgate. The game was started in a light drizzle but it didn't seem to hamper the players as they played a fast first period. Colgate scored first but UMass was quick to retaliate when Bob Glew centered a pass out from behind the net to the onrushing Ellingwood who flipped it in for the score.

Colgate scored again in this period but big Red Forbush tied it up with a slap-shot from the blue line that eluded the goalie's grasp.

The game rocked along through the second period with neither team able to muster a score. Then when it appeared that the game would end in a 2-2 deadlock, Col-gate scored at 17-19 of the last period. The Redmen were not down yet however, as Billy Ryan banged home a goal at 18:40 with an assist from Glew, which forced the game into overtime.

The rain which had stopped for most of the game began again at the start of this post game period. Although both teams had scoring opportunities, especially the Redmen, the score stayed the same until with 27 seconds left Blad scored his third goal of the game to give his team the win.
For the Redmen Jim Elling-wood looked very good for the second night in a row.

Warren Bassett and Charlie Donovan played a hustling game as did Frank Gilliat. Bobo Roland came up with another fine game in the nets but it wasn't enough this time.

The game was pock-marked with penalties as both sides had seven each called on them, quite a few for College hockey.

The Redmen have two games left. Wednesday they play Amherst down at Orr Rink and they wind up the season next Satur-day at New Hampshire.

Stockbridge Wins Twice

The Stockbridge basketball team notched its second victory of the week on Setundary of the week on Saturday against the J.V.'s of Deerfield Academy. The Aggies, paced by Carl Huff '61, outpointed the opposition 53-49. Dennie Dowd '61 cleaned the boards, feeding Huff for 23 points and Bob Govette '61 for 11, while boards, feeding Huff for 23 points and Bob Goyette '61 for 11, while scoring 6 himself.

Earlier in the week against Holyoke Junior College, Huff scored 26 points but was outscored by his team mate Ted Hyland who swished 27. This production at the Curry Hicks Cage ensured the Stockbridge 72-60 victory. Goyette aided the team by scoring 9 and keeping the boys busy converting his rebounds.

The boys meet Mt. Hermon here on Wednesday afternoon.

Matmen Bow

The UMass matmen, led by Coach John Douglas bowed to the Tufts crew in a closely fought match, 20-18, Saturday.

Tom Best and Jack Massarelli (147, 167 lb.) were the victors for the Redmen, two matches being won by forfeit.

Carl Wirsen and Craig DeWallace were winners for the Mass lace were winners for the Mass. freshmen, as the latter lost 16-12. What should be the best match of the season will be on tap Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. in the Cage when Coach Douglas' crew takes on the men from UConn.

To Tufts Team

Swim Squad Drops Meet

by STEVE DALY '63

A strong UConn team defeated the Massachusetts Mermen 60-33 at Storrs last Thursday. The Rogersmen had two firsts, Fisette swimming to his best time of 103.3 in the 100-yd. butterfly and the relay team of Cof-fey, Leith, Lincoln, and Fisette winning in the 400-yd. freestyle.

winning in the 400-yd. freestyle. Rutkowski had a bad day for the Redmen and managed only a third in the 220, and a second in the 440 freestyle events. Morton, a high scorer for coach Rogers, was out with an injury and left the backstroke up to Capt. Goldstein who finished third, and Coffey who was disqualified.

Lincoln in the 50 freestyle.

Lincoln in the 50 freestyle, O'Neill in the individual medley, O'Neill in the individual medley, and Desjardins in the breast-stroke, all placed second while Leith and Chiras finished second and third in the 100-yd. free. Overall record for the squad now stands at 1-5. Their next meet is with M.I.T. at W.P.E. pool February 24, at 7:00 p.m.

Football Meeting

There will be a meeting of all freshmen and varsity members of the football team and any other students interested in playing football next fall at 7:00 p.m. tonight in the Commonwealth Room of the Student Union dent Union.

The entire staff will be presented to the squad at that time by Head Coach Vic Fusia.

or Girls' Dorm Will Win This Fabulous

RCA 21-INCH COLOR TV SET!

there's all you do. Have every member of the sorority save the empty packages of any of the Lorillard products displayed below. The sorority that has saved the most empty Lorillard packages will be awarded the RCA color television set. NOTE: 1. Wrap empty packages in bundles of 50. 2. Deliver to Univ. Store by March 13, 1961. 3. Winning sorority will be notified by March 17. In the event of ties—a blindfold drawing will decide the winner.

* Fraternity

or Men's Dorm

Will Win This Fabulous

RCA 21-INCH

The rules for fraternities follow the same pattern as for sororities. The fraternity that saves the most empty Lorillard packages will also win this RCA color 21-inch television set. So start saving the empty packages of any of the Lorillard products shown below. NOTE: 1. Wrap empty packages in bundles of 50. 2. Deliver to Univ. Store by March 13, 1961. 3. Winning fraternity will be notified by March 17, 1961.

In the event of ties—a blindfold drawing will decide the winner.

Dississing

THE Entire Student Body

CAN ENTER THE LORILLARD SWEEPSTAKES FOR THESE FOUR GREAT PRIZES!

READ COMPLETE SWEEPSTAKES RULES HERE:

1. Each entry must consist of one empty pack of any of the following brands: Kent... Newport... Old Gold Filters, Straights... Spring OR—a plain piece of paper which lias the "hand" drawn block letters of any of these brands drawn in any size.

5. Studentis whose immediate families are employed by the P. Lorillard Co. or its advertising agencies are not eligible.

Date of drawing: March 13, 1961.

PRODUCTS OF P. LORILLARD COMPANY First with the finest cigarettes—through Lorillard Research!

Varieties To Present 'The Infernal Triangle'

Left to right: Fred Shotz '62, Jean Alden '62, and Donald Brown '61, members of the Campus Varieties cast.

Pledge Chapel Ends IFC Rushing Period

Tuesday, February 21, marks the end of the formal fraternity rushing period. On Tuesday, freshmen planning to join a fraternity should write the name of the fraternities of their first, second, and third choice on the back of the IFC Rushing Card, and bring it to the Dean of Men's Office anytime between the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Pledge Chapel will begin at 8 p.m. in the Student Union Ball-room. Freshmen may nick up. ternity should write the name of p.m. in the Student Union Ball-room. Freshmen may pick up their official in vitations to pledge beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Lobby Ticket Window. Ac-cording to the IFC Rushing Chairman, Steve Shusterman, There is an effort being wedge to there is an effort being made to Medical School ...

(Continued from page 1) ings and dormitories would be $5 to $8 million, with an annual operating cost of approximately $750,000. He observed that this process would be the first step roward creating more doctored. toward creating more doctors and creating them sooner. If still more is needed, then the final two years of a medical branch of the university might be established in the Valley.

Sharp Protest

William F. Mooney president of the Boston State College, pro-tested sharply one of the bills before the committee, which would allow a liberal arts and en-gineering branch of the university to be established in Boston, as well as a medical school.

Swap . . . (Continued from page 1) gun to receive information about the conference, Earley said.

Last Conference Successful year's conference considered so successful by the Collegian delegates that they agreed to print the full reports of each of the 15 discussion

The general purpose of the con-put this year's Pledge Chapel on a more serious vein by including an invocation for the first time, and by inviting a speaker from the National Interfraternity Council. After Pledge Chapel, freshmen and brothers will ad-journ to their respective houses, for the official pledging cere-

The Interfraternity Council urges all freshmen to consider carefully which fraternity would be best for them, and reminds freshmen and fraternity men that there should be no contact between freshmen and fraternity men from 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 20, to 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 21, at Pledge Chapel.

Dr. Nardi ...
(Continued from page 1)
lished in the fall. He is working on a biography of Louis XI of France. Ilardi Here Since 1957

Hardi Here Since 1957
Dr. Ilardi, a member of the University of Massachusetts staff since 1957, previously taught at the Carnegie Institute of Technology. He is the author of several articles in the field of Italian history and is currently writing a two-volume work titled Balance of Power Politics in Renaissance Italy (1454-1494): An Inquiry into the Origins of Modern Diplomacy.

macy.

Dr. Ilardi has held a research grant from the American Philosophical Association and was a Fulbright Fellow in 1959-60 working on material in the Italian archives and selecting the documents to be published in the edition.

ference is to bring together the juniors who will be leading organizations in following years to discuss the problems of activities in an informal atmosphere.

Collegian delegates will attend this years SWAP conference

Wes Honey's Play To Be Performed At Bowker Aud.

Adelphia and Revelers will be the hosts next week at their an-nual production of Campus Varieties, an original all-student musical comedy. The last two years, under the direction of Bill Chou-under the direction of Bill Chou-inard, have given us such success-es as "Boola Boola Bull" and "The Flowers Grow Wild". This year's show under the direction of Ed Rodriguez, is en-titled "The Infernal Triangle". The theme centers about Satan, who is puzzled over the great in-flux of men who attribute their damnation to women while in hell. Satan decides to go to Earth, take a human shape, find an evil woman, and use her to discern whether women are basically evil. The story evolves about Satan, the woman he finds, and a rich young man who hap-pens to be the woman's suitor. The show promises to be a great mixture of suspense, comedy and music. The songs for the show, incidentally, have been perfected by Fran Lovejoy who is doing the musical direction.

Wes Honey, the writer of the show has given us such interesting characters as Damon, Satan's valet, who will amuse you with his cynical humor as exemplified in his song "People Are No Damned Good". "The Infernal Triangle" will provide an evening of entertainment you certainly won't want to miss. Performances will be held March 2, 3, 4 in Bowker Auditorium. Tickets will be on sale in the Student Union beginning this Friday.

AIC Faculty Sounds Off On Freedom

A poll of six faculty members American International College on academic freedom at AIC, reported in the current issue of the student newspaper, Yellow Jacket.

The poll was taken as an aftermath of college administrators informing two faculty members that their contracts would not be renewed following their expiration in June

One professor, Dr. Lee Holt, was quoted as saying that he hoped in the years ahead AIC may recapture "the spirit of openness which it possessed in the past but which, for the time being, seems to have been lost."

He made specific reference to the administration's decision not to renew the contracts of Drs. Morgan Gibson and Thomas Robischon, who have been called controversial figures on campus, the first because he picketed last year in support of southern sitdown strikers and the second because he wrote in the same student paper two years ago that the danger of smut is overrated.

Administrators have denied there is any connection between their decision and the professors' opinions and their off campus activities.

Other professors were quoted in the Yellow Jacket as saying that college administrations should recognize the right of every teacher as a private citizen.

- Photo by Popple Francis Lovejoy, left, goes over script to Campus Varieties "The Infernal Triangle" with Director Edward Rodriguez.

Belchertown State School Invites Volunteer Workers

Every Saturday afternoon 1500 children at Belchertown State School for the mentally re-State School for the mentally re-tarded await the arrival of Uni-versity students who volunteer their services at the school. At Belchertown the children live in buildings according to their physical and mental ages. There is also the nursery for boys and girls to about age ten, the buildings for teenage girls and women, and teenage boys and men, and the infirmary for young babies and older men and women.

The volunteers expect to do anything from being the horse in a game of cops and robbers to learning the twist from band-stand experts, or from answer-ing the child's natural questions of "Why", to helping him underof "Why", to helping him under-stand and solve emotional and personal problems—as important there as they are to us at UMass.

No Training Needed

There is a guided tour to be held for those who would like to understand how Belchertown is set up and how it operates, Saturday, Feb. 25.

Transportation Available

Transportation Available
Transportation leaves from Skinner Parking Lot at 1:15 p.m. every Saturday, and returns to campus about 4:40 p.m.
All you have to do is sign your name in the Christian Association Office the Thursday before the Saturday you would like to the Saturday you would like to go, so transportation may be ar-

You can help with the Belcher-You can help with the beigner-town project by contacting the C.A. Office Monday through Fri-day or by contacting Sally Blom-bach, Hamlin, Sue Streeter, Mary Lyon; Bill Pearson, But-terfield, George Jones, Butterfield.

series of talks will be held at Belchertown State School for mentally retarded children ex-plaining the various departments there and giving those outside the school a deeper understanding of operations at the school.

The program will be held every Wednesday until March 22, from 7-8:30 p.m. in the Employee's Clubroom of the School Building at Belchertown.

The first of the series of talks was held on February 15, with Lawrence P. Bowser, M.D., Su-perintendent of the school, speak-ing on "Mental Retardation." The second talk, to be given on Feb. 22 will be about the "Nursing Service" at the school.

Speakers will be Miss Mary G. Newell, R.N., Chief Hospital Supervisor, and Herbert I. Bur-ridge, R.N., Director of Nurses. March 1, William J. Lacey,

March 1, William J. Lacey, School Principal, will speak on "The Educational Department at Belchertown State School". March 8, Miss Gladys Meyer, Head Psy-chiatric Social Worker, will discuss "Preparing our young people for return to the community."

for return to the community." March 15, Milton Budoff, Ph. D., Director of Psychological Research and visiting lecturer at the University, will speak on "The Psychologist in the State School." The final talk will be on School." The final talk will be on March 22, with Mrs. Barbara G. Valliere, Director of Volunteers speaking on "What Volunteers can do at Belchertown." She will also show slides of Belchertown State School.

Gratitude Expressed By '62 Class Officers

To the Student Body:

At this time the officers of the Class of 1962 would like to take the opportunity to thank all those who took part in making the 1961 Winter Carnival a most successful weekend.

We are deeply indebted to the campus police and maintenance department for their outstanding cooperation throughout the week-end. Much credit is also due to R.S.O. and the University Public Relations office for their efforts during the past semester. Many thanks to the dorms, and the Greeks for their wholehearted participation in building the snow sculptures, and to the Freshmen and Sophomore classes for their special contributions.

A great amount of gratitude must be extended to the General Chairmen and their committee members for their timeconsuming dedication to the success of the weekend.

Gratefully, Pres. Bernard Murphy V. Pres. Charles Curtis Sec. Jean Havey Treas. Deborah Read Class Advisor Dr. John VanSteenberg

> EUROPE-NEAR EAST-1395

Special Conducted Student Tours

Meet us in Venice and tour the Mediter-ranean; sailing to Greek Islands, Rhodes, Cyprus and Israel. Includes guided tours, folk dancing, seminars, life on a kibbutz, etc., 27 days only $395 and up.

For All Your Travel Needs Call, Write or Visit Us Now ROYAL STUDENT TOURS (Div. of PATRA Inc.) 665 Fifth Ave., N.Y.C. • Tel.: PLaza 1-5540

LIBRARY

THE CONGO

(See p. 2)

VOL. XC NO. 48

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1961

Two UMass Women Lead In The Crucible

Two UMass students, Buffy St. Marie '62 and Ann Meltzer '63, will play leading roles in Arthur Miller's drama of the Arthur Miller's drama of the Salem witch trials, The Crucible, which is scheduled for production at Kirby Theater, Amherst College, March 3, 4, 6, 10, 11, 12. The play, directed by Prof. Walter Boughton, includes a cast of undergraduates from Ambart.

of undergraduates from Amherst College, the University of Mas-sachusetts and Smith College.

The set, designed by Prof. Charles Rogers, is centered on a structure of stark beams placed against a background of black and light areas.

"We're constructing 'genuine antique' furniture," Professor Broughton said. "But we're try-ing to make sure that the 17th century setting does not get in the way of the universality of the

Although many people originally looked to the play for propa-gandistic messages regarding Mc-Carthyism and other contemporary political events, Professor Boughton believes it has universal qualities which are enhanced when the drama is produced at some distance from particular political situations.

Richard Watts, a New York wonder about the application of every scene to what was happen-ing eight years ago, we can see more clearly the way Mr. Miller's play rises inexorably to its almost overwhelming emotional impact."

Others heading the cast are Peter L. Duryea, a junior from Hollywood, Cal., Michael Naess, Anniywood, Cal., Michael Naess, a senior from New Canaan, Conn., Philip Gossett, a junior from Forest Hills, N.Y., Foster Stewart of Pittsburgh, Cora Kaplan and Kathy Kehoe of Smith College and Mrs. Judy Rothstein of Amberst

Prof. Ralph C. McGoun is technical director for the production.
Public sale of tickets begins
February 24.

Hadley College Plan Revealed At Meeting

A plan to establish a liberal A plan to establish a liberal arts four-year college somewhere in Hadley was revealed Saturday by town Moderator Edwin M. Podolak, who has been in touch with a group of educators and well-to-do men interested in ell-to-do men interested in viving the New College plan advocated several years ago

Podolak announced the possi-bility at the annual town meet-ing, and said he had been approached by Dr. John G. Church of Delmar, N.Y., a suburb of Al-bany, about the matter.

Dr. Church, who is associated with the New York State Educa-tion Department, confirmed Podolak's statements Saturday night, and told the Republican his group, which includes college teachers, bankers and others, would visit Hadley in the near future to survey sites for the New College.

The New York educator said but that nothing his group had been interested come of the idea, for some time in establishing a four-year coeducational college which would have a limited num-ber of courses, with fairly large classes, and would seek to pro-vide an integrated college educa-tion with far less diversification courses than is the case in other liberal arts colleges.

Stressing that his recent visit here to see Podolak, and the here to see Podolak, and the forthcoming trip by himself and his associates are exploratory, Dr. Church nevertheless indicated that of several communities which the group has investigated, Hadley seems to offer the last convertential for the New York best opportunities for the New College.

He said the New College plan was advocated by Smith, Mount Holyoke, Amherst and Univer-sity of Massachusetts in a study undertaken a few years ago un-der a Ford Foundation grant, but that nothing concrete has yet

Surrealist Art Exhibition Opens UMass Arts Fete

An exhibition of surrealist art titled "Private Worlds" opened today as a major feature of the UMass Fine Arts Festival, Thirty-four examples—includ-

Inity-four examples—includ-ing paintings, drawings, and sculptures—will be on display in the Commonwealth Room of the Student Union until March 1. The works reflect various styles and directions evident in com-temporary suprealist and symtemporary surrealist and symic art. Organized by Dr. ace L. McCann Morley, trustee the American Federation of Grace L. Arts, the exhibition is touring museums, universities and gal-leries throughout the country un-

The collection emphasizes the artist "as creator of his own meanings, values and symbols which he uses to communicate his views on the world." The surrealism of the 1920's and 1930's realism of the 1920's and 1930's in Europe is represented by the work of Miro, Delvaux and Magritte. Peter Blume's "South of Scranton" is included as an American adaptation of the European surrealist approach. Emphasis, however, is placed on younger artists from several countries.

All activities of the Fine Arts Festival are open to the public at no admission charge. Beginning today with a showing of experimental films, the Festival will continue through Sunday, A highlight of the event will be the appearance of composer Aaron Copland on Thursday evening. He will give a public lecture at 8:30 p.m. in the S.U. Ballroom and will later attend a coffee hour in his honor in the Colonial Lounge. All activities of the Fine Arts

UMass Fiscal Independence Is Unopposed In Committee

Bills providing UMass with more fiscal independence and al-lowing alumni to elect four of the present 14 appointed trustees were unopposed before the Com-mittee on Education Monday, No one from the Board of Trustees or administration appeared be fore the committee.

Rep. Sumner Z. Kaplan, D-Brookline, and Thomas C. Wojt-kowski, D-Pittsfield, favored the autonomy bill. Kaplan observed that this amount of autonomy is given state universities in nearly all other states. He said the university is hampered in com-peting for professional staff with other state and private colleges. Kaplan contended that 20 other state universities use the policy of having a certain number of trustees required to be alumni. He agreed that a bill simply to require the governor to name four graduates as trustees would e sufficient.

Following is the text of Rep.

Kaplan's statement in support of the Bill, H. 2076. "The financial needs of the University of Massachusetts have expanded greatly in recent years due to the increasing numbers of the student body. The General the student body. The General Court has been responsive to these needs, and generous in its appropriations for classroom and laboratory space. But as President James L. Morrill of the University of Minnesota put it in his book, The Ongoing State University, while the provision of adequate funds is the state's first essential responsibility to its university, money and means alone are not enough. The second and equal responsibility of a state to its university is to give state to its university is to give it reasonable freedom, in law and in fact, to do its work.

Government Controls Hamper
UMass
"The question has been raised in recent years by alumni, educators and parents whose children are prospective applicants to the University, how well is the University of Massachusetts able to 'do its work?' My studies of the past two years indicate that excessive governmental controls over the University of Massachusetts have hampered it from doing its work—the work of providing for the thousands of Massachusetts citizens who have and who will attend the University a truly quality education, and the work of providing for all citizens the fruits of research undertaken the fruits of research undertaken by a great university.

"What is needed to develop quality public higher education in Massachusetts is fiscal responsi-bility vested in the Board of Trustees of the University of Massachusetts, as it is vested, by constitution or by statute, in the board of trustees of the state board of trustees of the state university of almost every other state in the nation. "What does fiscal responsibility for Trustees mean? In the vast majority of states, the Trustees submit the university budget in detail to the state budget com-missioner for consideration by the Governor and the Legislature. The detailed budget submitted is used to justify the total appropriation requested. Based on the detailed budget and based on all the other considerations that go into creating a balanced budget for the state, the Legislature appropriates to the Trustees of the university a lump sum. It is then the task of the Trustees to allocate that sum as the needs of quality higher education dictate. The state later checks the use The state later checks the use of the appropriation by a post-audit and by public reporting procedures. Most States Allow More

Independence

"How essential fiscal responsibility is to quality public higher education was the subject of a study by the Thayer Committee in California in 1955. The Committee reported that the the terms of the committee reported to the committee repo mittee reported that 'the large powers and independence vested in the Regents of the University of California account in part for the fact that it is so generally among the universities of the United States. In this connection, it is interesting to note that no state university is included in the usual lists of institutions distinguished by the quality of their scholarship, research, and profes-sional work, which is not vested by the constitution of its state with authority which gives it considerable independence of the fluctuating political influence of current legislative direction.'

"In contrast to California, and to the great majority of states

"In contrast to California, and to the great majority of states, Massachusetts binds its state university in a tight web of con-trol by the General Court and by the Commission of Administr tion and Finance.

"How has gove has government control, rather than trustee control, hurt the University of Massachusetts? First of all, the rigid system of (Continued on page 6)

V.P. Primary, Senator Elections Held Yesterday

In a special election held Tuesday, Sororities elected Sandra Segel senator.

In a primary election, the class of '63 nominated Pete Bracci and Joe DiMauro for the office of vice-president of the class. Final elections will be held today, Wednesday.

Wednesday.

In an unusual development in the Commuters' election, Morey Vrooman was elected senator, while ten other write-in candidates received one and two votes

According to the election com-mission conducting the special election, another election will be held soon to fill the remaining Commuter vacancy. Two senators were supposed to have been elected for the Commuters.

The candidates and number of votes received were	as	follows

Class of '63:
Pete Bracci		133
Joe DiMauro		113
Tim Nevils		93
Sororities:		-
Sandra Segel		29
Virginia Anderson		19
Commuters:		10
Morey Vrooman		- 25
Ten write-ins	1	or 2 sach

Working on reading of Island are: Seymour Rudin, Miss Doris Abramson, Richard Stromgren, Leon Barron.

Arts Festival Will Feature Controversial Play Island

The première of Island, a controversial new play by Oscar Mandel, will be presented as a dramatic reading at UMass on Sunday as part of the Fine Arts Festival.

Sponsored by the Massachu-setts Review and directed by Miss Doris E. Abramson of the Department of Speech, the play, which appeared in the Winter issue of the Review, is a modern conception of the legend of Philoctetes, the archer whom the fastidious Greeks abandoned on their voyage to Troy after he had received a repulsive wound.

Mandel, a playwright and critic who teaches at the University of Nebraska, has just returned to this country following a year's (Continued on page 3)

VALUES AND ASPIRATIONS

During the past few weeks the University has seen the development of at least four major issues. These have included: the release of Sherman Adams from our academic circle, the fraternity spas, the morality behind the snow sculptures done by several of the women's dorms, and lately the deftness of certain students to get away with $12,000 worth of the Student Union.

Such a list of campus situations is bound to provoke wonderment. Beyond any doubt the issues that have come up during these past few weeks have been the source of many printed inches in the newspapers throughout the state. That there might have been sensationalism without justification might be argued. But nonetheless, an attitude of the University student body has been reflected across the state - and, it seems to be something less than a reflection of a desire for academic betterment and striving.

Halls of Ivy-ism plays little part here on campus, especially in an area of irresponsibility, violation of state laws, and strange values. Certainly this is an anguish for the entire University Community - and an enigma. It is certainly embarrassing for the Collegian, for instance, to have to admit and comment upon the current vogue of vandilism in the Student Union.

However unfortunate, the tone of the University atmosphere is being tinted by certain students' lack of concern for the community as a whole. We are concerned. Moralizing has become old-fashioned.

Yet, hope for a more intellectually-concerned future perhaps can lie in some of the less popularized functions of the University. More immediately, it might be found in the Fine Arts Festival that is being presented this week. Also, students might give thought idea-consideration to the organization and development of the centennial year program, which is now underway. This centennial idea which is: "Toward higher learning more widely disseminated," represents the nucleus for academic expansion and promises big things for the University.

Between $10,000. and $12,000. worth of food, school supplies, and miscellaneous supplies such as silverware, salt and pepper shakers, and ashtrays have been stolen from the Student Union, according to Assistant Director Harold Watts. He also notes a sizeable increase in the number of lost items never returned, even though they have the owner's name in them.

We are not sure exactly what happens to students who are caught stealing, but we feel that the penalties are lenient.

The Collegian feels that there should be just two alternatives for such cases. The convicted thief should either be permanently expelled, or, if allowed to stay in school, his name, crime, and penalty should be made known to the rest of the student body. Society has acknowledged the fact that every individual has a right to know who the criminals among their midst are, and we don't see why the University should be any different.

However, more severe penalties will not cut down stealing by itself; steps must be taken to make apprehension a probability rather than a possibility. The only way that this can be accomplished short of tripling the size of our police force, is to have any student who sees another stealing make a citizen's arrest and summon the University police.

We realize that the thought of turning "stool pigeon" is distasteful. Anyone who could not turn in a fellow student should remember one thing-you see him stealing from others today (everything stolen from IN CHANGING TIMES

THE U.N. AND THE CONGO

One of the most fascinating and laughable situations which I have viewed in the last few weeks is the utter shock displayed by the peoples of the world in by the peoples of the world in regard to the Congo situation. This is not saying that we were not repulsed by the mass blood-shed and rapine which culminated in the murder of Patrice Lumumand six of his followers. What I am getting at is the fact that all but the extremely naive should certainly have realized the gravity of the situation many months ago, and the far-reaching implications therein.

The seeds of chaos were indeed sown when Katanga, under the leadership of Moise Tshombe seceded from the Congo. Indeed from the very start, it seemed that Tshombe openly conspired with the Belgian Government. That he did conspire with the Belgian Government, has sub-sequently been shown. As a matter of fact, it would not be exaggeration to say that he is even now in power with the con-tinuing aid of Belgium. And now, when the very authority and prestige (or whatever of it re-mains) of the United Nations are at stake.

—(Elizabethville, the Congo Feb. 20 (U.P.I.))

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga threatened today to oppose the United Nations, with arms, if necessary. He accused Guinea and Ghana of touching off violence in the Congo on orders from Moscow.

Mr. Tshombe warned the United Nations against trying to disarm the rival Congolese armies and denounced suggestions that all Belgian technicians be expelled from the country. The Katanga president made his charges in a note to the United Nations and at a news conference. He accused the United Nations of plotting a "new colonial regime to be imposed and mainregime to be imposed and maintained by foreign armies."

In remarkable, almost unlievable, contrast with this lievable, contrast with this we go to Belgium where: "the Belgian people have always con demned political assassination . . Such acts have never happened in this country and Belgium has always protested against any such killings when they occurred in the Congo in the past.'

-(N.Y. Times Feb. 20) Mind you, this is coming from ne very country which has Mind you, this is coming from the very country which has catalyzed carnage and injustice in the Congo for all too many years, a country which has a long history of ruthless colonialand a country which ap-ently holds economic consi-tions above the ultimate derations above the ultimate freedom of the African. It is at this vital time that the United Nations and Mr. Hammarskjold must take specific and forceful action to effect a tolera-ble situation in the Congo. It is at this crucial juncture that Mr. Kasavubu and Mr. Ileo must be dealt with.

The eyes and the hearts of the world look toward the United Nations. And we all ask, "will the needs and aspirations of our peoples succumb to the slag of political expediency and the slime of power politics.

—Michael Palter

Contemporary Jazz

To many people, the Stan Kenton band is merely "loud" and harsh." But dynamics and new harmonic concepts are an integral part of the big band excitemen with which Kenton reflects the dynamics and dis-harmonies industry, racing cars and big cities. As so many people have said, "Kenton is a realist."

The trumpet, trombone and saxophone sections create amazing tonal qualities when 'pushed' sonically to their limits. The orchestra utilizes contrasts in sound intensity to a greater degree than is usually done.

Probably Kenton's experimental "progressive jazz" and his concert work with full orchestra, remain his most important con-tributions to music. Recently, remain his most important con-tributions to music, Recently, Kenton has done little innovat-ing . . . in fact he has become downright commercial at times. I can forgive him this because he has already contributed more than enough. But I feel that Kencannot stagnate any longer. is a dynamic and restless man who has come back to jazz m times after announcing his

His latest album from Capitol, Kenton Live From The Las Vegas Tropicana," is Kenton's long-awaited return to true big band jazz. Here, the band plays for an excited audience of pleas-ure-seekers; and, like most jazz groups in front of a live crowd, they relax and swing. This is one of the "loosest" sounding Kenton bands for a long time. Even so, Kenton's characteristic "nervous excitement" is never completely More room is given its . . . among them, soloists . . . among them, the booting baritone saxist, Bill Root. I heard this guy in Springfield last year and he blows his clumsy baritone sax with at least the facility of a tenor sax.

My use of the term "loose" is ot to imply that the band has deviated from its usual technical perfection. No matter how the music has been (and evitably, an experimenter make mistakes), the Kenton band has always played impeccably. In this case, the music is lighter and less experimental . . . and the section work is perfect. Sometimes, Kenton's drive for technical perfection has overshadowed the feeling for the music . . . not so here. Kenton, at his best, is physically and emotionally overpowering. The Capitol stereo recording, by the way, beautifully recording, by the way, beautifully captures the in-person thunder and drive of the Kenton band as it should be heard—live. It is a wesome to hear and feel physically the power of this band as it is reproduced on a superb sound system. Only through the latest advances in the public set is it. advances in the audio art is it possible to re-create the dy-namics which were deliberately put there. In other words, the power is almost as much a part of the music as the melody . . . and it also adds new tonal qualities to the instruments.

the Student Union comes out of the pocketbook of the student body), but you may not see him steal from you tomorrow.

And every student who would steal a 29 cent pen from the bookstore, or a glass of orange juice from the Hatch, wouldn't bat an eyelash about stealing from you.

If a student left a textbook in a classroom three years ago, he could be pretty sure that it would turn up at the lobby counter; if he loses it now, he can be pretty sure that the book will be sold within

We don't know why a student would be willing to risk his entir education and future by stealing, but we do know that we don't need or want such individuals around here.

The Massachusetts Collectian

Editor-in-Chief Larry Rayner '61 Assistant Editor-in-Chief Al Bermán '62

Editorial Editor News Editor
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Donald D. Johnson '61 abeth A. Schneck Sports Editor Ben Gordon '62 Photography Editor Larry Popple '63 Assistant News Editor James R. Reinhold '61

Business Manager Michael Cohen '61 Circulation Manager

sociates: Sally Mallalie, Michael Palter.

laff: Bill Avery, Carolyn Chency, Lesley Dodge, Genevieve Reall, Martha Sandrof, Anne Sluyton, Kenneth H. Smith, Judith St. Jean, Susan Strange, Jim Trelease, Pete Watson, Rudy Wittshirk, Marcia Ann Voickas.

NEWS
Associates: Richard Howland, Beth Peterson, Bruno DePalma.
enior Reporters: Don Croteau, Patricia Ward.
pecial Reporters: Jack Baptista, Barbara Yetwin, Dave Osterhout

hout.
Feature Associates: Jean Cann, Patricia Barclay, Audrey Rayner.
Women's Page Editors: Marie Mortimer, Frances Maziarz.

Staff Reporters: George Dickinson, Joseph Bradley, Roger Cruff, Grace-Ann Fitzputrick, Jacqueline Gallivan, Richard Haynes, John Holden, Irving Johnson, Gerald Kagan, Jacob Karas, Rosemary Kirchner, Ernestine Lemoyne, Thomas McMull, James E Mulcahy, Lois Mocrael Richard, Patricia Stee, Disner Grad Richard, Patricia Stee, Disner Godettin, Louis Greenstein, Copy: Ernest Bilodeau, Richard Goldstein, Louis Greenstein, Dolores Mathews, Barclay Megathlin.

Associates: Jay Baker, Ben Gordon.
Staff: Mickey Adamson, Mike Bjornholm, Al Cohen, Steve Daley, W. John Lennon, James E. Mulcahy, Dick Quinn, Abe WKPD.

WED.: News Associate, Beth Peterson; Feature Associate, Pat Barclay; Editorial, Michael Palter; Sports, Jay Baker; Copy, Bev Lang, Ruth Cobbs, Holly Dare, Joe Bradley.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amberst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a boliday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under a boliday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under a church of the act of March 3, 1879, as amended by the act of the price of the control of th

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

This is the first in a series of articles on capi-tal punishment. Such an issue is of vital impor-tance to all of us because it involves not only the rising crime rate—particularly among the younge generation, but also, the entire realm of human tarian causes.

by MARCIA ANN VOIKOS '63

Capital punishment is the only practical and effective means to bring justice and safety to a society. As the famous lawyer, Clarence Darrow, once said, "Life is based on emotions and feelings." If a killer murders someone close to you, wouldn't your normal reaction be to kill him?

The concent of rehabilitation isn't feelproof. Why

The concept of rehabilitation isn't foolproof. Why The concept of rehabilitation isn't foolproof. Why should the public support a murderer? If he's capable of committing one crime, what's to prevent him from committing another? A prison term and parole are not the answer because they are not foolproof: since environment plays a major role in human character, so is the prisoner influenced by his surroundings—other hardened killers can instill in him even more griminal ideas! re criminal ideas!

Proves We Must Retain the Death Penalty Primitive man was preoccupied by fear—fear of the unknown, fear of the gods. Since crime and sin were considered identical, it was the practical theory to wipe out the sinner to wipe out the crime in order to placate the gods.

"Eye for an Eye, Tooth for a Tooth'

"Eye for an Eye, Tooth for a Tooth"
In tribal societies, punishments were made to fit the crime on the basis of "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth." This reasoning isn't justified because it is oft-quoted from the Bible, but because certain offenses are injurious to society as a whole—not offenses are injurious to society as a whole—not only to the victim. Society has suffered—therefore, someone must pay!

The Role of the Judge

In blood feuds, the most effective punishment for a crime was exile from the gods. Ironically enough, the two clans involved failed to put an end to the affair, but maintained a perpetual feud. Consequently, it was necessary for a third party to intervene. As a result, the concept of the court was conceived as a mitigating agent when the clans couldn't settle their difference areas the settle the settle their difference areas the settle the settle the settle the settle the settle their difference areas the settle the set conceived as a mitigating agent when the clans couldn't settle their differences among themselves. Why the Death Penalty Was Necessary During the Middle Ages, the Church, a controlling factor in the life of the individual, attempted to abolish capital punishment. However, the expanding political and social order precipitated the rise of the nation state and growth of the towns. Consequently, the fate of the individual was less in the hands of church authorities than political leaders who found it both necessary and expedient to retain the death penalty.

the hands out it both necessary and ers who found it both necessary and retain the death penalty.

Moreover, the Industrial Revolution resulted in a vast social disorganization in England along with a tremendous rise in crime, Here again, the death penalty was employed not as an instrument of revenge, but in order to protect society!

(Next: Keep the Death Penalty—and Protect Society)

LOST & FOUND

Lost: Taken from the Cage on Feb. 20, 1961, 2 notebooks and 1 textbook. Text is yours if I receive the notebooks. E. S. Dolby, 109 Hills North.

Lost: Would the finders of the Benrus wristwatch left in 314 Bartlett Hall please contact H. Schelter in 204 Greenough or leave it at the S.U. counter. Reward

CLUB DIRECTORY CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

AMATEUR RADIO ASSOCIA-Meeting Wed., Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Rm. 10, Gunness Lab. Open house activities and nom-ination of officers.

ASTRONOMY CLUB

The first meeting of the Astronomy Club will be held Wed., Feb. 22, at 8 p.m. in Barnstable Room of the SU. The program will include a film presentation from the Bell science series, "Our Mr. Sun."

HRISTIAN ASSOCIATION
This year as last there will be Lenten Commission services presented by C.A. These will be held in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m., from Feb. 17 until Easter.

Easter.
The services will be conducted:
Feb. 24—Rev. Green, Congregationalist; March 3 — Rev.
Bossart, Methodist; March 10
—Mr. Mand, Baptist; March
17 — Mr. Berger, Episcopal;
March 24—Mr. Craig, Presby-

CONCERT ASSOCIATION

ONCERT ASSOCIATION
The Concert Association will hold its meeting on Thursday,
Feb. 23, at 4:30 p.m. in the Seminar Room of Old Chapel.

DEBATING CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Feb. 23, at 7 p.m. in Bartlett Hall. The club will hold practice debates hold practice debate long novices at this time All members urged to attend. Final plans for the intermural tournament will be made.

EASTERN STAR FOOD SALE Sponsoring a food sale Sat., Feb. 25, in the Masonic Hall at 1 p.m. Coffee and doughnuts served in the afternoon. Chapter members have been asked to make their favorite recipes so that a variety of food will be offered for sale.

FLYING CLUB

Meeting Wed., Feb. 22, at 8:30 p.m. in the Franklin Rm., SU. All members urged to attend.

Achievement Program Dean C. Scott Porter '19 announced today the faculty of Amherst College have voted to abandon the former underachiever program involving a mandatory year's leave of absense for those designated as "underachievers."

Amherst Discontinues

During the program, the Dean asked the faculty members to submit names of students whom they thought might fall into the underachiever category.

This fall nine of the original twelve underachievers who were required to take a year's leave of absence returned to Amherst. At the end of one semester it became evident that less than half came evident that less than hair of the group were doing better work than previously and that the remainder were either doing about the same or poorer work

As a result of the experience to date with the Amherst Underto date with the Amherst Under-achiever Program, Dean Porter recommended to the Amherst faculty that the Underachiever Program with mandatory leaves of absence be abandoned and this recommendation was approved unanimously by the faculty.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instruction, each Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the S.U.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Meeting Fri., Feb. 24, at 7 p.m. in the Plymouth Rm., SU. Mr. and Mrs. Cal Roeuler, who have served one term under the Evangelical Alliance Mission will show a film and slides on their work in New Guinea their work in New Guine

ANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE

display in Wilder Hall Exhibition room are the student designs for the National Mobile Home Park Competition. Also on exhibit is the work of the junior and senior design class-es. Exhibit will run till Mar. 3.

LUTHERAN CLUB

Meeting Sun., Feb. 26, at 7 p.m. at Prof. and Mrs. Eiben's house, 318 Lincoln Ave. Discussion: "What Price, Free Love?" led by Pastor Leslie Beale. Transportation for church in Easthampton from Knowlton and Hills houses at Knowlton and Hills houses at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, and for 9:30 a.m. Sunday, meeting at 6:30 p.m.

MOVIE COMMITTEE

Meeting Thurs., Feb. 23, at 11 a.m. in the Council Chambers.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

There will be a meeting held Wednesday, Feb. 22, at 7:00 p.m. in Bartlett 356.

YOUNG REPUBLICAN CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Feb. 23, at 8 p.m. in the Worcester Room, SU. Coffee served.

(Continued from page 1)

study in Amsterdam under a Fulbright, Miss Abramson, who has appeared in plays at Amherst Smith, and the University of Massachusetts, is in charge of the Speech Department's Experimental Theatre productions

The all-male cast includes Seymour Rudin, of the Department of English, as Odysseus, spokesman for the Greek nations. Rudin is remembered for his distinguished performance in Strindherer's Dream Play and Level performance in Strindberg's Dream Play and Joyce's Finnegan's Wake, both under the direction of Denis Johnston, Leon O. Barron, also of the Denis Johnston, Leon O. Barron, also of the Department of English, plays the role of Philoctetes, whose bow and skill Odysseus must capture at any Odysseus must capture at any cost in order to assure victory over the Trojans. Mr. Barron has appeared in AMCOP productions and in the Mount Holyoke presentation of Finnegan's Wake. Robert E. Stanton, '62, is Demodocus, the individual caught in the moral dilemmas posed by power politics. Other members of the cast include Norman E. Rothstein '56. Peter C. Avratin '83 stein '56, Peter C. Avratin '63, Stephen J. Allen '61, Francis Broadhurst '62, Eric R. Pruyne '64, John M. Kelly '61, and Joseph Nahil, graduate student.

Music for the play has been Music for the play has been commissioned by the Review from Gene Benton, of New York, who has composed music for Come of Age and Heloise. He is currently appearing in the Off-Broadway production of Leave It to Jane.

Richard Stromgren, of the De-Richard Stromgren, of the De-partment of Speech, which, with the Roister Doisters, is cooperat-ing in the venture, is Technical Adviser, He is assisted by Albert P. Madeira and Ransom Water-man of the University. Gordon Benoit, '61, is designer in charge of sets and lighting.

Admission is free to the public; curtain is at 8 p.m. in Bowker Auditorium.

"I'VE GOT NEWS FOR YOU"

I know all of you have important things to do in the morning—like getting down to breakfast before your roommate eats all the marmalade—so you really cannot be blamed for not keeping up with all the news in the morning papers. In today's column, therefore, I have prepared a run-up of news highlights from campuses the country over.

SOUTHERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY

SOUTHERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY

Dr. Willard Hale Sigafoos, head of the department of anthropology at Southern Reserve University, and internationally known as an authority on primitive peoples, returned yesterday from a four-year scientific expedition to the headwaters of the Amazon River. Among the many interesting mementos of his journey is his own head, shrunk to the size of a kumquat. He refused to reveal how his head shrinking was accomplished. "That's for me to know and you to find out," he said with a tiny, but sauey grin. tiny, but saucy grin.

NORTHERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY

NORTHERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY
Dr. Mandrill Gibbon, head of the department of zoology at Northern Reserve University, and known to young and old for his work on primates, announced yesterday that he had received a grant of $80,000,000 for a twelve-year study to determine precisely how much fun there is in a barrel of monkeys.
Whatever the results of Dr. Gibbon's researches, this much is already known: What's more fun than a barrel of monkeys is a pack of Marlboro. There is zest and cheer in every puff, delight in every draw, content and well-being in every fleecy, flavorful cloudlet. And what's more, this merriest of cigarettes comes to you both in soft pack and flip-top box wherever cigarettes are sold at prices that do no violence to the slimmest of purses. So why don't you settle back soon and enjoy Marlboro, the filtered cigarette with the unfiltered taste.

EASTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY

The annual meeting of the American Philological Institute, held last week at Eastern Reserve University, was enlivened by the reading of two divergent monographs concerning the origins of early Gothic "runes," as letters of primitive alphabets are called origins of early Gothic "runes," as letters of primitive alphabets are called.

Dr. Tristram Lathrop Spleen, famed far and wide as the discoverer of the High German Consonant Shift, read a paper in which he traced the origins of the Old Wendish rune "pt" (pronounced "krahtz") to the middle Lettic rune "gr" (pronounced "albert"). On the other hand, Dr. Richard Cummerbund Twonkey, who, as the whole world knows, translated "The Pajama Game" into Middle High Bactrian, contended in his paper that the Old Wendish rune "pt" derives from the Low Erse rune "mf" (pronounced "gr").

Well, sir the discussion grew so heated that Dr. Twonkey finally asked Dr. Spleen if he would like to step into the gymnasium and put on the gloves. Dr. Spleen accepted the challenge promptly, but the contest was never held because there were no gloves in the gymnasium that would fit Dr. Twonkey. (The reader is doubtless finding this hard to believe as Eastern Reserve University is celebrated the length and breadth of the land for the size of its glove collection. However, the reader is asked to remember that Dr. Twonkey has extraordinarily small hands and arms. In fact, he spent the last war working in a small-arms plant, where he received two Navy "E" Awards and was widely hailed as a "manly little chap.")

New from the makers of Marlboro is the king-size unfiltered Philip Morris Commander—made in a brand-new way for brand-new experience in smoking pleasure. Get aboard.

* there's plenty free parking

Redmen Hoop Squad Bows To Syracuse Quintet 74-66 As Freeze Stops Comeback

Losing an early lead, the University of Massachusetts basketversity of Massachusetts basket-ball squad dropped its second decision of the year to Syracuse, 74-66, Monday night at Syracuse. After the Redmen lost the lead late in the second half, the Orange put on a five-minute freeze to prevent the UMen from coming back.

Rebounding ability on the part of Syracuse also helped down the Redmen, who had a two-point lead with 13 minutes left to go. UMass is now 14-9 on the season and Syracuse is 4-14.

Pete Chudy and Ernie Davis, the football hero, had 27 and 21 points respectively for the win-ning team, while Doug Grutch-field had 19 and Mike Mole 18

Chudy and Davis scored all

Mat Squad Pins UConn Crew 28-10

The UMass wrestling team chalked up its first win of the season, yesterday, when it emerged the victor over a game UConn squad, 28-10.

Al Israel, Bill Batt and Bob Ellis of the matmen each won their matches by pinning their men to the rubber, adding five points apiece to the Redmen

Tom Best added three additional points, while Jack Massarelli and Dan Chirigoba each won by

Jack Hartnett and Duncan Mc. Leod suffered defeat at the hands of their opponents, Fred Curry and Captain Dennis Twiss of the Husky squad. This was McLeod's the Syracuse points in the second half as the Orange moved out front, 43-38. Mole and Kirk Leslie then started to click and helped UMass into its last lead, 49-47. Davis clinched the issue, though, by scoring 7 straight points, although UMass pulled up to within 66-60 of the Orange with five minutes left. The freeze throated any Redwar attack. thwarted any Redmen attempt to pull out the victory.

DRIBBLING AROUND

UMass hosts Manhattan College at the Cage Saturday night, then goes to Kingston Tuesday to grapple with the league-leading Rhode Island Rams. The season closes at the Cage on Saturday, Mar. 4, vs. New Hampshire ... In the NCAA tourney YanCon with the season control of the NCAA tourney YanCon with the NCAA tourney YanCon with the NCAA tourney YanCon In the NCAA tourney YanCon winners will play their first game of the elimination tourney against St. Bonaventure — ranked number two in the country. Good Luck Rhody! . . . The Redmen, with 14 wins thus far, have already tied their last year's total with three games left they stand ready tied their last year's total With three games left they stand a good chance of considerably bettering their record of last year, and perhaps even equalling their all time high of 17 wins in one season . . . Saturday night's first match of the year.

Coach John Douglas' crew is now 1-7 for the season, but this record is deceptive, for the Redmen play only three teams in their own league, those teams ing W.P.I., Tufts and UConn.

The matmen lost their Tufts atch last week, 20-18. UConn has yet to obtain a victory in the Mass. squad wrestles with are composed of men who have had previous wrestling experience, either in prep or high schools.

game will start at 8:15. The freshman preliminary goes on at 6:30.

UMass	fg	ft	t	Syracuse	fg	ft	t
Grutchfield	8	3	19	Chudy	9	9	27
Leslie	6	1	13	Berkenfeld	1	2	4
Black	1	3	5	James	3	1	7
Laughnane	4	1	9	Connors	1	0	2
Mole	7	4	18	Quigley	0	0	õ
Pohlin	0	2	2	Davis	8	5	21
Wheeler	0	0	0	King	2	5	9
				Mackay	2	0	4
				Machemer	õ	0	0

UConn wrestler escapes from the hold of a UMass matman in yesterday's imposing win over Mass' arch rival at the cage.

WHOOPS, YOU ALMOST STEPPED IN IT

The grunting and groaning was at a high level, yesterday, when the matmen chalked up their win. Here a UConn man is being caught. Or is it the UMass wrestler?

Only one man on the UMass varsity squad, and two on the fresh man team have had previous ex perience.

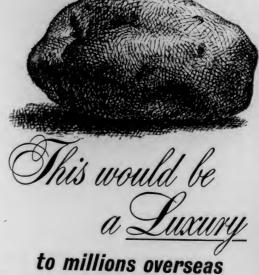

The team will play its last match Saturday at Wesleyan, and then will travel to the MIT gym in Boston to participate in the New England Intercollegiate Wrestling Association meet.

Bill Batt, a junior, looks as if he'll have a shot for high ranking in that meet,

PING-PONG TOURNEY

Today the first game in the men's ping-pong tournament was played. For all those who are participating there is a list posted at the games counter of all the pairs in the com

Trophies will be awarded to the winners of the tournament. The girls' competition will start as soon as the necession of the start as soon as the necession of the start as soon as the necession. essary number of contestants have signed up.

The problem of where the simplest food is coming from dominates the lives of thousands upon thousands of people overseas. One potato, a loaf of bread, a bottle of milk—these basic foods we take for granted would be a real luxury to them.

These people overseas are of all ages, races, colors. And with many needs. They are victims of disaster—civil strife, displacement, earth-quake, poverty—flood, famine, war. The problem of food is but one. Clothing and shelter are others. So is the lack of equipment to build lives anew.

lives anew.

How can you help these people? Give generous support to the overseas aid program of your religious faith. These programs provide help in many ways—food, tools, clothing, homes, jobs, farm machinery, education and technical training.

You name it and America's religious overseas organizations are making it available. In fact, our country's church-sponsored programs provide more than 80 per cent of all voluntary American overseas relief. When your religious faith makes its appeal this year ... remember why you are being asked to give ... and give generously!

PROTESTANT-One Great Hour of Sharing CATHOLIC-Bishops' Relief Fund JEWISH-United Jewish Appeal

* 60 million times a day people get that refreshing new feeling with ice-cold Coca-Cola!

rity of The Coca-Cola Company by

Coca-Cola Bettling Co. of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

Kellerman's Sale Continues and So Do The BIG SAVINGS Drop In Soon . . . at

KELLERMAN'S

-ACROSS FROM LOUIS' FOODS-

Final Intramural Basketball Standings Recently Posted

Date ended—February 23, 1961 NUMBER OF MEN

Fraternity Division Dormitory Division

Fraternity Division

Dormitory Division 86 Independent Division 82

Independent Division 230

PARTICIPATING

TEAMS 689

NUMBER OF NEW PARTICIPANTS
Fraternity 0 Dorm 4 Indep. 3
NUMBER OF GAMES

SCHEDULED 60-61 59-60

60-61 59-60

60-61 59-60

216

293 166 180 150

Due to the recent misfortunes of the Fraternities on campus last week the Intramural Basketball season formally culminated February 23. The League win-ners have been announced below with their positions in the play-offs for the campus champion-

WEEKEND LEAGUE-REJECTS (3-0) MIXED LEAGUE—ROBBIES

The winners of this game will get a bye to the finals if the Fraternity champions, KS and SAE, fail to play.

INDEPENDENT "A"—BLACK LABELS (5-0) INDEPENDENT "B"

UNTOUCHABLES (4-0) The winner of this game will play the Dormitory champions in the semi-finals,

DORMITORY "A"—VM3 (4-0)
DORMITORY "B"—

The winner of the campus championship will play the University of New Hampshire Intramural champion March 4 at the

THE FINAL STATISTICS CONCERNING INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL.

started—December 5, 1960 Fraternity Division

GREENOUGH (6-0) 266 144

NUMBER OF FO	RFEF	TS
	60-61	59-60
Fraternity Division	1	2
Dormitory Division	10	14
Independent Division	6	18
Total	17	34
NUMBER OF GAME	S PLA	YED

Dormitory Division Independent Division 15 18 80

NUMBER OF TEAMS DROPPED
Fraternity 0 Dorm 0 Inde
NUMBER OF MAJOR
INJURIES 0

Because of the tremendous turnout from the Fraternities and Dormitories, the Independent League may be limited next year. Mr. Justin Cobb, head of the Mr. Justin Cobb, head of the Intramural department, had the following to say concerning the Intramural Basketball season. "Due to a lack of facilities and the amount of available hours for participation, it will be dif-ficult to expand the already overneult to expand the already over-worked facilities. However, stu-dent interest has been over-whelming despite the incon-veniences of playing Friday nights and Sunday afternoons plus weekday games scheduled at 10:30 p.m."

The Intramural Wrestling program is about to get into full swing with the applications already out. If you have not received an entry blank and wish to compete see Mr. Cobb anytime in order to have filled out the form by March 3, 1961.

Jack Delaney Named As Backfield Coach

Vic Fusia, head football coach at the University of Massachuat the University of Massachusetts, today announced the appointment of Jack Delaney as an assistant coach on his Redmen varsity staff. Delaney, who has been backfield coach at the University of Cincinnati for the past six years will serve in the same capacity at Massachusetts.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, the thirty-three year old coach was an outstanding athlete at Aquinas H.S. in Columbus where he won twelve letters in football basketball, baseball, and track.

Following his graduation from gh school, Delaney served a two year hitch in the U.S. Army and then enrolled at the University of Cincinnati from which he received a B.S. degree in education in 1953. As an undergraduate in college, Delaney won a total of eight varsity letters in football, headed to and the college. of eight varsity letters in foot-ball, baseball, and track, and following his senior year he re-mained at his alma mater where he served a year as an assistant football coach and track coach and also a year as freshman football mentor before being made the offensive backfield coach. coach

Coach Delaney and his wife, Jackie, hope to locate a residence in Amherst with their three chil-dren, Terri, Mary Ann, and Johnny, sometime in the early

Rhody Looks Like Kingpin

"Anyone can win it," was the comment offered by Brian McCall at the start of the current Yankee Conference basketball race. With his starting five back intact, McCall, head coach of the Maine squad, had good reason to believe the Bears would outlast the rest, Maine did manage to lead the pack for a good part of the sea-son. But a powerhouse from Rhode Island proved too much for the Bears, beating them twice.

At present it doesn't look like Maine's going to make it but there may be a good reason. The YanCon is stronger than ever! Proof of this can be seen in UConn's triumph over Manhattan, Rhode Island's thrilling upset of Providence, the New England kingpin, and the jolt given Canisius by the Redmen from UMass. At present it doesn't look like

W.A.A. Ski Team Wins

A second place trophy was captured by the Women's Ath-letic Association Ski Team in its debut, last Sunday, in the New England Intercollegiate Ski Conference meet at Suicide Six, Woodstock, Vermont.

First place in the meet went to the Colby Junior College squad, a team whose top skier finished in 57.8 seconds in the field of 28 women competitors.

Joy Pratt of the University team finished fourth with a time of 59.5 seconds, while Louise Anketell was fifth in 63.3 sec-

Judy Williams and Pat Anketell placed minth and twelfth, with times of 71.9 and 84.4 seconds, respectively.

The other competing teams were from Wellesley, Colby Junior, Mt. Holyoke, Smith, Northeastern, Pembroke, Jackson and BU.

Northeastern University spon-sored the meet, which was held on a one run, 40 gate slalom course.

The UMass team, which was unorganized last year, has been coaching itself at the Mt. Tom Ski Area in Holyoke.

FROSH BASEBALL

FROSH BASEBALL
There will be an important meeting of all freshmen baseball candidates at 6:15 p.m., Monday February 27, in Room
10 of the Men's Phys. Ed.
Building

taste difference. You get rich tobaccos that are specially selected and specially processed for full flavor in filter smoking. Make your next pack Winston!

WINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

Attending the APO smoker Monday night were (l. to rt.) Prof. Alden Tuttle, Senior Advisor of the local chapter; Ronald Turgeon, guest speaker and Parker Cleveland '63, and Parker Cleveland UMass chapter president.

Turgeon, the guest speaker is a graduate of Keene State Teachers College and has done graduate work at the Catholic University of America in Washtrict Executive and is Assistant Camp Director of the Council's Camp Pomperaug. He spoke about the ideals of Alpha Phi Omega and how chapters can and are fulfilling them.

Future Farmers Organize Plans At Recent Meeting

A meeting of the Future armers of America (FFA) was rights" was unanimously passed. "Full rights" includes the right Farmers of America (FFA) was held in the Commonwealth Room of the SU at 6:30 p.m. on Thurs-

Dick Mottolo '62, secretary of the collegiate chapter, acted as presiding officer.

The meeting covered three main points which had been brought up at a preceding executive committee meeting.

A motion to set up an FFA display in the SU lobby during FFA Week (Sat., Feb. 18-Sat., Feb. 25) was passed.

General meetings of the asso-ciation will be held on the first Tuesday of every month, im-mediately following the executive committee meetings. The latter will arrange the agenda and program of questions,

A motion "to accept associate students presently in agriculture, but not former FFA members in

NOW! WE'VE GOT

FAMOUS BRAND

EASY-TO-ERASE

AT THE LOWEST

PRICE YET!

TYPEWRITER PAPER

to vote

A stipulation excluding these students from holding office was connected to the motion. Also the new members will not be respon-sible for the payment of state or national dues national dues.

The general FFA chapter brought up the motion in hopes that the lowered eligibility requirements will increase the size of the collegiate chapter.

The main purpose of FFA is to provide teachers of vocational agriculture and advisors for the FFA chapters. Any vocational agricultural school student is automatically a member of the association until he becomes twenty-one. During this time he holds full rights connected with holds full rights connected with holding offices and voting for ington, D.C. A past president of Eta Delta Chapter of A.P.O., he was recently elected to the Na-tional Executive Board for a six year term. He was employed by the Bridgeport, Conn. Council Boy Scouts of America as a Dis-

Rentals For Inauguration At S.U. Store

Augustine J. Ryan, manager of the University Store, announced that faculty members who are planning to purchase caps, gowns, and hoods for President Lederle's inauguration to be held April 22 should order them now. Rentals, however, should be placed by

April 1.
Price lists and order blanks are available at the store. All pur-chases and rentals can be handled directly by the store.

The colors of the hoods represent the academic degree and the college from which the degree was obtained. There are between 50 and 100 Colleges and Iniversities represented UMass. Ryan further stated that the academic procession would be "very colorful."

TAC Mission Explained To Air Cadets

The Air Cadet Squadron of the AFROTC was host to the Tactical Air Command Briefing Team, Thursday, Feb. 16.

The Team consisted of Maj. Matthew T. Dunn and Capt. Ernest P. Coutre, both of whom gave a talk on the mission of TAC in a general war as well as in a limited war.

Maj. Dunn and Capt. Coutre went on to explain through the use of visual aids, the overall use of visual aids, the overall mission of TAC. Of particular interest was the use of Com-posite Air Strike Force (CASF). This force is used by TAC to prevent troubled areas from developing into wars zones

Two examples of this were the Lebanon crisis and the Formosa crisis. Through the use of aerial refueling, TAC had aircraft at both places in less than twenty movie entitled "Checkmate was shown, demonstrating TAC's quick action in the Lebanon cri-Another brief movie was show on the demonstration of the "Bull Pup" air-to-ground mis-

"Bull Pup" air-to-ground missile, which is deadly accurate from 16 thousand yards.

Both Maj. Dunn and Capt.
Coutre travel all over the country to give the lecture to interested groups.

A coffee hour was held after

A coffee hour was held after the meeting for a question swer period. the SCRAPBOOKS PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS A. J. HASTINGS Inc.

Newsdealer & Stationer

Contract Bridge

NORTH S A K Q 8 4 H J D A K 9 8 4 3 2

EAST (D) S J 7 S 9 5 2 H 10 7 4 H K 8 5 3 2 D D 7 5 C A K J 8 7 5 3 2 C Q 9 4 SOUTH

SOUTH S 10 6 3 H A Q 9 6 D Q J 10 6 C 10 6 N-S Vul. Dealer: East EAST SOUTH WEST NORTH 4 C PASS PASS 4 S PASS PASS PASS PASS

This week's hand came from ne New England Regional Team of Four Tournament held last week in Norwich, Conn. The bid-ding and the play is as it hap-pened.

East's hand meets the requirements for a pre-emptive bid. He has a long suit which develop seven or eight tricks and has less than ten high-card points. The purpose of this type of bid is to keep the opponents out of the bidding or to make it hard for them to reach the best contract.

East opened his hand four East opened his hand four clubs and when the bidding got around to North, he decided to bid four spades. South did not feel that he had enough points to continue to slam so he passed.

North-South can make seven spades or seven diamonds if East is on lead. There is no play to the hand. Declarer just takes his thirteen tricks and goes home. Nothing East or West can do will set either contract.

If East had not opened with four clubs, it is fairly certain that N-S would get to either seven diamonds or seven spades because now they have enough time to show the strength of their hands.

Thursday, Feb. 16, the University Bridge Club had four tables in play, Steward-Tuttle won N-S over the Smarts while Warbur-ton-Swanson won East-West over Brubaker-Semone

Principal figures in TAC briefing were, from left: speakers, tain Ernest P. Coutre and Maj. Matthew P. Dunn; hosts, Col. Captain Ernest P. Coutre and Maj. Matthe John Marchant and Lt. Col Carl Sprague.

Kaplan . . . (Continued from page 1) appropriation by subsidiary accounts and the provision for notransfer among subsidiary accounts have meant that persons in the Commission of Administration and Finance and on the House and Senate Ways and Means Committees have made decisions on allocation of amounts Means Committees have made decisions on allocation of amounts within the total appropriation which ought to have been made by trained educators. A case in point is the library, which ranks fifteth among state universities.

Quotas Deprive Us Of Flexibility

"Secondly, by the Division of Personnel's setting of quotas within a tight classification within a tight structure, the L structure, the University has been deprived of the flexibility necessary to compete for talented professional staff. Freedom Bill of 1956 b for The Freedom Bill of 1956 barely scratched the surface of this

ລິເທດເດດທານທາດຕານທານຕານຕານທານເດັ MIMEOGRAPHING PROMPT SERVICE REASONABLE RATES Will Call For and Deliver CALL Alpine 3-7877

"Thirdly, central has often worked against the best interests of economy at the University by imposing upon it uniform standards applicable to other agencies, but ill-suited to the requirements of higher education. In most states, state university use of central purchasing is optional. For some insight in-to the economies which could be to the economies which could be achieved by putting fiscal responsibility in the Trustees, I recommend a reading of the Report of the President's Commission on Higher Education, entitled The Efficiency of Freedom. "What is really at stake here is whether Massachusetts is going to begin to take public high-ing to begin to take public higher education seriously. Thinking in the State House has too long relegated the State University to a position of mediocrity, behind the many private institutions lo-cated within the Commonwealth. It is time we awoke to the fact that the future of education for the great majority of talented Massachusetts citizens is in the State University, not in the pri-vate institutions, who even tovate institutions, who even to-day accept limited numbers of Massachusetts applicants, and whose plans for the future do not include expansion. -----

Now at a new, money-saving low price, we have fine quality Eagle-A Type-Erase — the paper that's famous for cleaner, faster typing and easy erasability. At the touch of a pencil eraser, typing errors "wipe" right off the surface of Type-Erase, leaving no mark. Saves time . . . makes your work neater. Comes in a budget-priced pack of 100 sheets, 8½" x 11", in medium or heavy weight, plain or 3-hole punched, free with every pack — a Letter Placement Guide to help you type neater letters and reports. EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE

... the paper that erases perfectly with a pencil erase

Made by American Writing Paper Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., manufacturer of Eagle A Boxed Typewriter Papers

Buy your EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE PAPER today at

For Easter Recess

To Miami
To California
To Honolulu
To Chicago

Round Trip

Includes: • Round-Trip via Boston • Reliable DC-7, four engine aircraft • In-Flight meal

PARKER TRAVEL

Reservations are Limited CALL CO 6-1024 (After 1) LIBRARY

REBIRTH

(See p. 2)

VOL. XC NO. 49

med lost

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1961

Campus Varieties in rehearsal. L. to r. Jeff Kliman, Jerry Wy-man, Judy Nolit, Jane Knowles, Ed Rodriguez, director.

Varieties Lists Host Of TEPers In Cast year's production of Campus Varieties, has been working for the past month with a cast of 50, for the performances which will take place at Bowker Auditorium on March 2, 3, and 4.

Playing the lead roles in Wes Honey's play, "The Infernal Triangle" are Fred Shotz, Jean Triangle" are Fred Shotz, Jean Alden, and Don Brown.

Fred, who plays Satan, the chief devil in Hell, is a former Maroon Key and Vice-President of TEP. The female lead will be played by Jean Alden, who appeared in last year's show, "The Flowers Grow Wild", and has been seen in the Operetta Guild Productions of "Damn Yankees" and "Bells Are Ringing". Jean, who plays a hard-hearted, gold-digging wamp, is a member of who plays a hard-hearted, gold-digging vamp, is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. The third member of the "Triangle" is Don Brown, who has also appeared in previous Operetta Guild productions. Don, who is President of Teke, plays the rival to Satan, who loses out by winning.

Three additional brethers of Three additional brothers of TEP play supporting roles. Jeff Kliman will appear as Damon, Satan, while Jerry Wyman and

Ed Rodriguez, director of this arr's production of Campus punchdrunk, but hilarious beat-niks,

In the female supporting role is Sue Drew, who has been in previous Campus Varieties and Operetta Gui'd productions. Sue plays Circe, Satan's colleague in Hell-raising.

The following round off the

Tanya Carol Vene
Maitre d' Bruce Tucker
Waiter Bill Miller
Cook Joel Berkowicz
Irma Lynn Prati
Kate Pattie O'Connel
Cop Joel Lerner
Mr. Scarvador Gerry Anderson
Mrs. Scarvador Natalie Smith
Man R. Toivo Riikonen
Wife Beaver Coyle
Broad Jonie Knowles
Friend Judy Nolet
Hatcheck Girl Sheila Fowler
Cigarette Girl Carol Graeber
Harvey Adams Ed Szupel
Devil Bev DeMarco
Devil Monk Myers
Hellians

Natalie Chase, Elizabeth Murphy, Janet Fortin, Jean Roano-wicz, Sue Lathrop, Bev Martin,

(Continued on page 8)

Counties Choose Students For UMass Science Fair

Twenty-four high schools in the four western Massachusetts counties will send their top student scientists to the UMass Regional Science Fair to be held April 8

Students from grades 10, 11 and 12 will show the results of their scientific prowess at the Regional Fair. During the month of March, many exhibitors will participate in public and paro-chial high school fairs from which Regional Fair entrants are selected. Winners at the Regional Fair will have a chance later to participate on the state, New England, and national levels. The Regional Fair is conducted by a committee of faculty members at UMass, with funds for awards coming from individual, awards coming from individual, patriotic, and professional organizations in the area.

Principal speaker this year will be Dr. Robert Nichols, professor of geology at Tufts University, internationally-known Antarctic explorer.

High schools presently entered in the fourth annual University fair include: Belchertown; Chicopee; Classical, Springfield; East Longmeadow; Frontier Regional, So. Deerfield; Greenfield; Holyso. Deerfield; Greenfield; Holyoke; Huntington; Lenox; Minnechaug Regional, Wilbraham;
Mt. Everett Regional, Sheffield;
Palmer; Pioneer Valley Regional,
Northfield; Pittsfield; Precious Blood, Holyoke; Mahar Regional,
Orange; Sacred Heart, Holyoke.

Four Frats Found Guilty; On Probation Until March

Four of the seven fraternities charged with violating the liquor ban were placed on social probation until March 30, it was an house.

President Lederle also apbation until March 30, it was announced today.

AEPi, AGR, PSK, and TKE were found guilty by the University Discipline Committee. The Chairman, Registrar Marshall O. Lanphear, said the other three were found not guilty because of insufficient evidence.

The probation means that the four houses will not be allowed

President Lederle also apresident Lederle also approved the committee's recommendation that Acting Chairman of the Student Personnel Administrative Council appoint a representative sub-c om mittee of S.P.A.C, to study the liquor problem and recommend a policy on or before March 30. The report indicated that the sub-committee indicated that the sub-committee would be inviting fraternity pres-

Copeland To Deliver Talk On Swift's Works

Thomas Copeland, Common-wealth Professor of English at UMass, will give a talk next week on "Swift and the Satiric View of Politics."

Sponsored by the English de-

Sponsored by the English department, the lecture will be given at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 28, in Bartlett Auditorium.

Prof. Copeland, a specialist in 18th-century English literature, will discuss the satiric approach to politics and politicians as reflected in the writings of Jonathan Swift. All interested persons are invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

be no admission charge.

The University professor, a member of the faculty since 1957, has done extensive research in 18th-century English literature. An authority on the statesman-writer Edmund Burke, Prof. Copeland is currently heading a UMass Zoologists Named Lecturers Under A.I.B.S.

Two members of the zoology department at UMass have been appointed special lecturers under a program conducted by the American Institute for Biological Sciences.

Drs. Lawrence M. Bartlett and William B. William B. Nutting are par-ticipating in the nation-wide pro-gram designed to stimulate interest in the sciences among high school students.

Under the A.I.B.S. arrangement, scientists teaching in colleges and universities are assigned to give lectures at secondary schools conducts. ondary schools, conduct discussions with superior students, and arrange conferences for teachers of high school science courses.

of high school science courses.

Lectured In Hawaii

As an A.I.B.S. lecturer, Dr.

Nutting visited Hawaii in December to meet with high school groups on Kauai, Oahu, and Maui. The lecture schedule was arranged by the Hawaiian Science Clubs Service of the University of Hawaii. Dr. Nutting also conferred with officals of the Hawaiian Department of Instruction on ways of improving science education in the new state.

Dr. Bartlett, a member of the UMass staff since 1944, is chair-(Continued on page 8) projected 10-volume collection of Burke's letters. The appearance projected 10-volume collection of Burke's letters. The appearance in 1959 of the first volume, un-der Prof. Copeland's editorship elicited excellent reviews both in this country and abroad.

The lecture on Tuesday is one a continuing series conducted the Lecture Committee of the by the Lecture Committee of UMass' English department.

idents to the meetings to help formulate the policy.
S.P.A.C. consists all University officials who primarily deal with

The statement said that pur-The statement said that purpose of the meetings was "to explore all possible ways of cooperation between the university and the fraternities in the direction of improving their social life. In particular, this group is to give careful attention to the best ways of administering the use of liquor in fraternities, policing the use of liquor in fraternities, and settling just penalties for violasettling just penalties for viola-

Lanphear also explained that Lanphear also explained that the committee's decision was based upon only the concrete evidence presented by the prosecutor, Dean of Men Robert S. Hopkins Jr. He commented that there was a possibility that other fraternities, including those not charged, might have been violating the ban, but there was not enough evidence to prove it.

enough evidence to prove it.

The three fraternities that were found not guilty were QTV, SAE, and KS.

-Photo by Steve Arbit

'King' Of World Crowns Self King Of UMass

by JOSEPH BRADLEY '64, Assignment Editor

Self-styled King of the World,
Bishop Homer A. Tomlinson,
General Overseer of the Church of God, crowned himself "King of Massachusetts University" in ceremonies in front of the S.U. Wednesday.

In an exclusive interview, Tomson stated that he had come UMass "to claim the Univerto Cumass "to claim the University." Tomlinson also stated that he had run for President of the United States and that he had been "disappointed." He added that "Mr. Nixon was disappointed too."

The leader of a church claiming congregations of 150 million, he has visited such places as Morocco, Korea, Russia, and France. In Russia, he claimed he had conducted a service before 600 only two blocks from Lenin's tomb

In Morocco, his Highness, Prince Mullay Hassan, heir to the throne of Morocco, invited Tom-linson into the palace at Rabat. Over ten thousand attended

Over ten thousand attended ceremonies on the palace grounds.

After his coronation in front of the S.U., the bishop named Joan Mahoney '63 Princess, and Saul Gliserman '63 Prince of UMass. Gliserman is pictured above at the left of the King's throne.

Rebirth

The McCarthy era was indeed a terrible enigma upon the American political scene. During those dark days, witch hunters scoured the country seeking out the "impure Discussion was stifled under the blanket of suspicion. Action was suppressed by clouds of fear.

Yet, America called upon the very roots of its political integrity to climb up and out of the horrible pit into which we had somewhat consciously fallen. Liberal voices, men who understood, called upon the United States' Senate and our great nation to act. And act we did!

We must here forcefully point out that it was not only "leftists" who acted against what they termed McCarthyism. It was rather, people representing many political philosophies. From Massachusetts to California came the indignant call. It was a call for freedom and integrity, against "exposure for exposure's sake," with all of its implica-

And after the days of the McCarthy menace there was a rebirth of the great "liberal tradition" of our nation. It is in this liberal tradition that many adults and younger people have joined such organizations Challenge, Tocsin, the Student Peace Union, and Synthesis. It is in this liberal tradition that America moves forward.

-M. P.

'Hail, The King'

Wednesday, at approximately 2 p.m., the "King of the World" entered the offices of the Collegian. The King is actually Bishop Homer Tomlinson, General Overseer of the "Church of God." He has been visiting many colleges and universities throughout the country in his quest for the Presidency of the United States in 1964.

To be frank, we have somewhat divided feelings toward the bishop. While we do not question his deep sincerity in his quest for a lasting peace for the earth, we do question the tenets upon which this peace is to be based.

But upon what planks does Tomlinson's "Theocratic Party" stand?

"For Union of Church and State in Jesus, Prince of Peace.'

Yet, in the very next plank, we see that the Theocrats" wish to . . .

2. "Keep (the) U.S. Constitution, Freedom of Worship, (and) Liberty.

This is in obvious contradiction with the First Amendment to the Constitution as interpreted in subsequent cases. Although we questioned the bishop on this, we received an entirely unsatisfactory answer.

Plank number eight of the "Theocratic Party" is indeed interesting. It is "to end use of tobacco, intoxicants, narcotics, (and) gambling." When asked how this goal was to be achieved, the bishop stated that it was to come about through a program of education. We have, however, serious doubts as to the safety of those who would not care to be "educated."

Plank number eleven favors the establishment of the "King James Bible as (the) Foundation of Righteousness." When questioned on this, Bishop Tomlinson was delightfully evasive.

Yet, we should not ignore men like Bishop Tomlinson, the "King of the World." If nothing else, he is a human being striving towards that which he feels to be a better existence for his fellow human beings.

We do not, however, predict a "Theocratic" landslide in '64.

"Every age and generation must be free to act for itself in all cases as the ages and generations which preceded it...

-Tom Paine: The Rights of Man

LETTERS

'READ WITH CARE!'

The following letter is in response to an article which appeared in the Feb. 20 issue of the Col-

To the Editor.

Elizabeth Schneck rides again! Read with care! Anybody who doesn't agree with her somewhat far out views on advertising is "fatuous" and "become hindrance to the status of the nation". Anyone who ignores the "question of existence" she ponders "does not seem too rational". And again, she says, "Anyone who opposes this view is, in the end antidemocratic; he is trying to impose his own idea sentiments for some unspecified end". Isn't this the kind of guilt by implication and word association commonly referred to by leftists as McCarthyism?

Allow me to specify: Be sure that the organization you join does not have a basic policy of undermining the security and sovereignity of the United States. The maintenance of these strengths is both national policy and a worthwhile end. And how can you tell? Does the student organization advocate abandonment of our defensive posture? Does it advocate a lowering of our guard against communism? Ask youself why it should. And can such a program at the student level be harmful? Yes, it can! By all means, think, study and choose your path. Don't join the detractors before you have done so.

JAMES R. WEAVER

REPLY

Today's "Letter to the Editor" is a reply by Col. Weaver to my article, "A Need for Concern" of Feb. 20. It seems to me that Col. Weaver's gleanings from this and previous writings need clarification.

- 1. The advertising institution is simply one institution I have selected to graphically illustrate my point of view. My views on advertising, however, have been labeled by Col. Weaver as "far out". I do not believe so; critics and pundits of our present day society have found much to criticize in the ways of Madison Avenue. For one example of advertising's overbearing influence, we might ask why was "Omnibus" taken off the air? Wasn't it because a sponsor could not be found to support a TV program focusing on something more than the mass tastes? This seems to reveal the considerable, ex-tensive, if not, pervasive influence of advertising's manipulation and the economic factor in the quality of programming being given to the public. Is the safe and best solution to give the people what the advertisers' desire? I doubt it.
- 2. The question of existence is definitely of concern to anyone who does want to find a meaning and purpose to life. May I ask, if meaningfulness and questions of human existence are not important, then what is? Can we survive by ignoring the problem? Furthermore, why, during the past several decades, has the body of thought known as Existenbecome so popular for theologians, philosophers, students . . .? A glance at contemporary literature will reveal, quite well, the direct concern of our times with the existential problems. Whether Existentialism offers any conclusive answers is of little relevance
- Whatever implications Col. Weaver is able to find in my statement, "Anyone who opposes this view . . . is anti-democratic," are not well grounded. It is certainly erroneous, and is taken out of context. What I did say is: Anyone who neglects to "evaluate the road we are taking" is not taking the responsibility to protect and reaffirm his dem cratic rights and privileges. Is this McCarthyism?
- 4. The second paragraph of the letter appears 4. The second paragraph of the letter appears to be dealing with an entirely different point. The intent might be questioned. It seems to be added with an end to curb participation by students in organizations which Col. Weaver might find "as undermining the security and sovereignty of the ganizations which Col. Weaver might find "as undermining the security and sovereignty of the United States". It might be added, in no issue of the Collegian has there been any statement of editorial policy which encourages any student to show any interest in organizations that urge unilateral disarmament. What articles have commented upon at various times is the need for us—as a nation or as mere students or individuals—to consider disarmament. But notice a disarmament that would armament. But notice a disarmament that would armament. But notice, a disarmament that would not permit us to let down our strengths had been suggested; it was a disarmament with inspection and controls. The Kennedy administration, as well as the rest of the world, it might also be noted, is currently discussing this sa

-Elizabeth A. Schneck

AS A PUBLIC SERVICE

Below, representative opinions of some of the various organizations which have been brought into question.

Student Peace Union

The Student Peace Union is an organization of young people who believe that war can no longer be successfully used to settle international disputes, and that neither human freedom nor the human race itself can endure in a world committed to militarism.

Without committing any member to a precise statement of policy, the S.P.U. draws together young people for a study of alternatives to war, and engages in education and action to end the present arms race. The S.P.U. works toward a society which will insure both peace and freedom and which will suffer no individual or group to be exploited by another. After years of bad faith shown by both East and West in disarmament negotiations, the Student Peace Union believes that to be effective, any peace movement must act independently of the existing power blocs, and must seek new and creative means of achieving a free and peaceful society. achieving a free and peaceful society.

Tocsin

Tocsin is affiliated with the National Student Peace Union. Editor's

There are many people, at Harvard as elsewhere, who question the continued development toward nuclear war; yet whether they have confirmed political convictions or are simply uneasy and bewildered, most of these people fail to express their concern. Having neither a clear sense of what action is needed nor a set of ideas which seems adequate to challenge prevailing assumptions supporting organization for war, they feel politically and intellectually impotent. The problem is how to provide these people—really all of us in greater or lesser degree—with the kind of personal opportunity which will lead to a sense of competence, both to think and to act on the issue. There are many people, at Harvard as elsewhere, who question

Existing peace organizations have had limited success in encouraging the change in consciousness upon which depends the creation of a significant political force for disarmament. Traditional approaches do not seem to attract a large following, or to sustain the interest of initial supporters. Traditional organization tends naturally to stress identification with a group without the accommitment to approach to stress identification with a group rather than a commitment to act appropriate to the individual.

Another problem which often discourages people from organizing for peace, is their belief that such a commitment would disregard their concern with ideological conflicts in the world today. It must be recognized, however, that such conflicts permit of no solution; by military means, and the affirmation must be that peace is the best environment for the maintenance of democracy both in this country and in the world.

Committee Of Correspondence

The Aims of Society

Any large society will contain fanatics who are willing to kill people in pursuit of absolutist aims, or out of sheer, if well-rationalized, destructiveness. But most of the men who are involved in the policy of deterrence, are neither fanatics nor personally destructive. We must therefore ask why so many of them are either blind to where their actions lead or cynical about it—even despairing—or lacking in the imagination to comtemplate consequences and possibilities. In our judgment, the continued acceptance of deterrence as the basis of defense, reflects a deep malaise from which, in varying form and degrees, both the Western and Communist blocs suffer. Men who do not value their own or other's worth as individuals, who find life boring and sterile, may also lack the zest, inventiveness, and sense of solidarity that might unite them in a search for new approaches to the problem of survival.

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870 Editor-in-Chief Larry Rayner '61 Assistant Editor-in-Chief Al Berman '62

Editorial Editor Editorial Editor
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62
Sports Editor
Ben Gordon '62
Photography Editor
Larry Popple '63
Assistant News Editor
James R. Reinhold '61

News Editor Donald D. Johnson '61 Business Manager Michael Cohen '61 Howie Frisch '62 Circulation Manager Barry Ravech

Assignment Editor Joseph Bradley '64

FRI.: News Associate, Roger Cruff; Feature Associate, Audrey Rayner; Editorial, Michael Palter; Sports, Ben Gordon; Copy, Pat Barclay, Jean Cann, Ruth Kobs, Andrea Beauchemin, Phyllis Trabach,

a second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed seekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examinativice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or ly falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of rch 3, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1984. rice

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amberst, Mass. ciated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press; Sun.. Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

SIX FASHION SENSES HELP IN SELECTING A WARDROBE

clothes, home, her husband, to mirror fashion at its height. But just what is fashion? How do you shop for it?

Experts say it's elusive . . . not detected merely in the cut of a skirt, or the shape of a neckline. They talk about the "six senses of fashion."

When you reach for a dress on a rack, your fingers instinctively caress the fabric. Touch is the first sense of fashion.

A man insists on choosing his own neckties. Here, color become a tremendous influence . . . just as lightness will often govern his selection of a topcoat.

Are you aware how strongly you seek vitality in a garment? The sense of "life" or "body?" Vitality is a potent sense of fashion. No one wants a blouse fresh dress to go limp and after an hour or two in

And you must certainly pos sess a sense of good taste. This may be highly individualistic, like your distinctive appreciation of beauty.

Give a little thought today to developing these six senses of fashion—they spell chic for your wardrobe of tomorrow.

of Vogue Editor-in-Chief Magazine, Jessica Daves, says belief in the fashion that is right for you has come from yourself.

"The woman with a high fashion I.Q.," she explains, "wears her clothes as if she were so sure of them, has such confidence in their fashion." in their fashion, and in herself, that she can forget both."

This season, Miss Daves suggests, you might consider a bulky fur hat, a glittery evening slip-dress, a narrow purple coat, a fur-collared suit, a culotte skirt, a knitted city suit, a new short hair cut, false eyelashes, paler lips, knee length skirts, a long, a waist-long necklace, a golden fox coat, bold plaid tweeds, in unexpected colors, a brigand cape.

CLOTHES DRYER

You might "consider all of these new ideas, accept none, and still be chic," Miss Daves remarks.

The reason lies in something Amy Vanderbilt said in defining Amy Vanderbilt said in defining the sense of taste . . . it is never rigid. "It takes into consideration the times, the needs, the interests, the future and the past of the person expressing it."

The noted author adds an encouraging word. "Good taste, like manners, can be acquired" like manners, can be acquired" slowly, as a result of contact with

The designer observes that the The designer observed informed layman knows something of the psychology and science of color . . . how color the ence of color . . . ho changes apparent size .

role of warm and cool colors.

"Increased use of color is helping to restore fashion to its proper place," Mr. Beaton proclaims with satisfaction.

Even the best-dressed enjoy feeling happy as a child, lively as a puppy! Your selection of clothing can give you a big boost toward this exhilaration, this sense of vitality.

The experts went to dancer
Gwen Verdon for her definition. "To me, vitality is a point of view. And my point of view is joy". New fibers in modern fabrics make vitality their point of view too.

One of the most remarkable creations coming out of the la-boratory and into the display windows is the blend . . . a technique as old as the industry it-self . . . with brand new results. In the past, designers were limited by natural fibers like wool, silk, cotton and linen . . . and combinations of these. No one of them, or any of them in blends, could boast all six senses of fashion!

The new man-made fibers add to the resources of the fabric de-signer today. Since the perfect fiber is yet to be invented, each available fiber possesses good and bad points. Clever blending emphasizes the best qualities. Creslan, the acrylic fiber produced by American Cyanimid Company, has been the most successful in achieving the exact senses of fashion you want!

That this fiber has enjoyed remarkable acceptance by the key apparel and furnishings makers in two short years is due at least in part to a unique designer ser-vice set up to create awareness of the "many faces" of Creslan eaded by a professional ion designer, this unit takes Headed the basic yarns made of Creslan, creates new and exciting fabrics in original fashions that best exemplify both the appearance and performance versatility of the fiber in terms of these key

Sororities Welcome More New Pledges

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Most of the excitement has died down after Initiation Week-end. The Alpha Chi Omega pledges have finally donned their sister pins-gold lyres set with pearls

Pledge formal is being held this weekend at Wiggins Tavern in Northampton. Tony Ravosa will play and the pledges will be Northampton. Tony Ravosa

Alpha Chi Omega welcomes Alpha Chi Onega welcomes

Lorraine Rees, '64, as a pledge.

CHI OMEGA

The Chi O's are thrilled to welcome fifteen new freshman pledges to their number. They are: Bonnie Borges, Pat Bourbbonnais, Marie Brazao, Debbie Downie, Judy Fitts, Barbara Downie, Judy Fitts, Barbara Kelly, Nancy Leach, Edie Leahy, Marcia Policow, Kay Reagan, Jan Reimer, Judy Scott, Pat Sweeney, Linda Swenson, and Doris Sylvester. In addition to the freshman pledges, Chi O welcomes two upperclassmen who accepted bids last Monday night. They are Nancy Speight and Margie Mentes.

Representatives of the house in Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities are: Don-na Brooks, Patty O'Connell, Denny Harmony, and Mary Morriso

The sophomore class of Chi O is no longer minus Nancy Carlyn who was welcomed back after a semester's absence.

Pledges are not the only new additions to 315 Lincoln Avenue. Chi O also added Jack Masarelli and Pete Ryan, two new house-boys, to the rollcall.

PHI DELTA NU

Phi Nu welcomes to our brand new pledges Joyce Bourgon,

Joanne Miller and Diane Smith. The sisters also have a new initiate, Leslie Ann Williams '63. We are pleased to have recently initiated Mrs. John Fenton and Mrs. Joseph Mawson as honorary members. They have been doing a splendid job as our advisors.

All the hard work on the snow sculpture paid off with third place for our "Kountry Kitchen."

Recently the sisters spent a very enjoyable evening with Phi Sigma Delta at a mixer and cof-

PI BETA PHI

Pi Phi wishes to welcome Eileen Holland who was bowpinned Friday, February 17th and who is soon to become a pledge.

Everyone had a time at the Pledge Formal last Saturday evening, at the Hotel Northampton. Judy Kelly was selected as the Pi Phi Debutante of the evening. Jackie Kearns and Roberta Hanna were chosen to be in her court.

Installation of officers for the coming year was held last Mon-day evening. The new officers of Pi Phi are: President: Patricia Kraft; Vice-President: Sheila Woodworth; Recording Secretary: Elaine Cantrel; Corresponding Secretary: Carol Wojcik; Treasurer: Deborah Read and Pledge Supervisor: Penny Mathews.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

The sisters of S.D.T. are proud and happy to welcome seven new pledges. They are: Merry Ar-nold, Marlene Bash, Ann Cohen, Ronnie Sue Fireman, Dorothy Glog, Wendy Greene and Ruth Rver

Pinnings

Lynn Foley, Pi Beta Phi to Frank George, Sigma Alpha Ep-

Ellen Kfoury, Sigma Kappa to Bill Skulley, Boston College.

Mary Sahib, Sigma Kappa to Tom Connelly, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Engagements

Barbie Winslow, Chi Omega to Ernie Robidoux, St. Michael's

Gail Osbaldeston, Knowlton House to Donald Croteau '61, Delta Delta Sigma.

Mary Whitley, Phi Delta Nu to Paul Powers, Boston College.

senses of fashion.

These creations, as such, will probably never adorn the man-nequins in your favorite store, but adaptations of them by lead-ing commercial designers will. They are unique "inspiration fashions" shown each season to key designers and manufactur-

Your suits and dresses can be wrinkle resistant, work clothes have excellent shrinkage control, knitwear a luxury touch, and permanent pleats in skirts can be really permanent! Ties can have unlimited color effects, rugs and carpets terrific crush-resistance, and your cosiest blankets are lightweight and quick-drying.

All the surface quality springs from the excellence of the fiber used. If you want to be both function and fashion-wise, check fiber co-ntent tags carefully.

No less an authority than Rene Bouche, artist, was summoned for his opinion of the sense of beauty. "Although I recognize the beauty of surface, I find true beauty an in-

Inter-Dorm Council Considers Use Of New Point System

The Women's Inter-dormitory Council is on its feet again with more enthusiasm than ever. Its main objective this year is to establish a point system thereby hoping to encourage more friendly competition among the dorms. Such activities as the Homecoming floats, Christmas decorations, scholarship records, decorations, scholarship records, the Inter-dorm Sing and sports will be covered by this point system. At the close of the school year, a plaque will be awarded to the dorm having accumulated the most points.

With Mrs. Field, Knowlton's housemother, and their advisor the council is looking forward to a successful season.

The next meeting will be held March 2, in the Plymouth Room of the Student Union at 6:45.

Helpful Hint

A new gadget makes it possible to handle phonograph records without touching the sen-sitive playing surface with the fingers. It is a cushioned slot on the front of the stereo phonograph in which a record can be stood securely on edge while the album is lifted off and put aside. Then the record can be grasped correctly—only by the edges be-tween the palms of the hands and placed on the turntable. To return a record to its album, the procedure is reversed.

trinsic quality- some inner attribute that flows from within to enhance the surface."

From now on, you can shop . . . with the six senses of fashion at your command.

It's New!... It's Practical! .. It's only NEW ECLIPSE EVER-READY

This handy new invention provides over 10 feet of drying space on eight individual, heavily plated, smooth rods. Stands in or along-side the bathtub so drip-drys drip where they should.

Collapses for storage. Only 24 inches long, 3 inches in diameter, collapsed. Legs fold. Easy to pack and store yet always ready for immediate use.

Be one of the first to enjoy the added convenience of this new and thoroughly tested appliance. Orders filled promptly. Don't put it off. TODAY—send your name and address and your check or money order for only $3.95 for each dryer you want to:

THE BRIGHTWOOD SHOP

Box 126, Springfield 7, Massachusetts

Stockbridge Senate Makes Plans For Coming Banquet

The Stockbridge Senate meeting in the Barnstable Room of the SU last Wednesday disclosed plans for the annual Progress Banquet.

The Banquet is to be held Monday, March 27th at 6:00 p.m. in the SU Ballroom.

Invited guests include Presi-ent John W. Lederle, Dean Fred dent John W. Lederle, Dean Fred P. Jeffrey, Professor Gordon S. King, Stephen R. Kosakowski, Colonel John C. Marchant, and Richard E. Bergquist.

Tickets to the $2.37 a plate roast beef dinner will be distributed by Joseph Gagliard of Middlesex Dorm.

At the banquet two trophies will be awarded to the outstanding basketball and football playing basketball and football play-ers of the year.

In a further action the Senate appropriated the funds necessary for Stockbridge participation in an inter-collegiate judging con-test to be held at the two-year Thompson School of Agriculture located at the University of New ampshire.
The location of the annual contest rotates between Stockbridge, the Thompson School at UNH, and the Radcliffe-Hicks School of Agriculture at the University of Connecticut.

Being sent to Durham as representatives of Stockbridge are five teams: the animal husbandry team and the dairy judging team, both of which will judge livestock; two dairy technology teams which will judge the quality of milk and other dairy products; a vegetable judging team; and an agricultural engineering team which will judge tractor

Each team will consist of three students who will be chosen from those students displaying excellence in their lab work.

The Senate recommends that interested students keep in mind that there are approximately six or seven labs before the selection of team members.

Another appropriation was passed providing the hockey team with needed funds for its operation. This, according to a Senate spokesman, will give permanence

Pledge Chapel Holds Ceremony For New Fraternity Members

169 pledges of the 14 UMass fraternity chapters were told, "The honeymoon is over," by Assistant Registrar William Starkweather in Pledge Chapel ceremonies Tuesday evening.

Steve Schusterman, IFC Rushing Chairman, welcomed the pledges. He said they had been scrutinized for the past three weeks. Schusterman added that the pledges "were now in the sec-ond stage of trial."

IFC President, Gordon Massingham, in a brief address, told the prospective brothers, "A good reputation is our most important asset." Massingham cautioned the pledges not to be members of the "shadow element."

Starkweather noted that the sen were now entering in the

to the organization once plagued by inactivity.

In a final action, the Senate awarded sweaters to those students who have displayed exceptional ability in track.

"give and take of group living."

Rev. Russell G. Claussen, Protestant chaplain at UMass, de-livered benediction. Rev. Claussen prayed for the "strength and conviction to live close to the ideals" upon which fraternities were founded.

The following is a list of the new pledges:

Alpha Epsilon Pi

Jack Benjamin Courtney Brickman Leonard Castle Jeffrey Eisman Michael Glickman Aaron Golub Michael Levine Paul Levy Joel Morrison Steven Orlen Les Pyenson Everett Rashotsky Michael Rubin Edward Salamoff Manuel Smith Samuel Starr Richard Zaiger Steven Pollins

Alpha Gamma Rho

Robert Albro Roger Bacchieri John Coughlin James Blanchard Leslie Koch James Gallagher Raymond Kodzis Michael Lamoureux Michael Mott John Nevers George O'Brien Kenneth Robbins Frederick Thurberg John Yablonski

Alpha Sigma Phi

John Allen Newton Carpenter Peter Cucchiara Joseph DeVaux Charles Gittens Robert Henry Robert Jarvis Richard Krasnouskas Anthony Lachowicz James Macedo Stephen Maskell Warren Morse Robert Oldach Dominick Parisi Bryan Peffer John Whitfield

Kappa Sigma

Salvatore Abisso John Awdycki David Bader Michael Brita Richard Conley William Crane Douglas Hedlund Robert Hutchinson David Kauppinen John Kelly Thomas Kilroy Robert Manson Paul Murray Kenneth Palm Allan Sikes Gerald Street

Lambda Chi Alpha

Edward Buscema Wallace Carnivale Robert Clinton Francis DiGiano John Farrell David Kennedy Richard Kosinski Kevin Lyons
David McGlone Daniel Niejadlik Alan Pierce Richard Repeta Charles Soczek Edward Sternowski Robert Taylor Thomas Tyrer

Phi Mu Delta

Arthur King Robert McDonnell Jeffrey Rantilla

Phi Sigma Delta

Mark Brenner Jeffrey Cohen Richard Dimock Steven Goldstein Jacob Karas Melvin Leventhal Edward Lyons David Perry Warren Richard Mark Rothstein Robert Skiba David Tasgal

Phi Sigma Kappa

James Batts Steven Gray Anthony Mercurio Terrence Murphy Robert Tedoldi Barry Toussant

Ronald Cournoyer Logan Doane Richard French Barry Meunier David Truesdell

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

David Belcher Albert Boulerice Paul Graham Tracy Osgood James Painten Steven Paradis Robert Paretti Ronald Pettirossi

Sigma Phi Epsilo

John Burke Francis Casey Joseph Cassano Russell Feener Eugene Frankio Paul Fraticelli Charles Glew
Peter Graham
Anthony Kazukonis
Stephen LeClerc John Nichols Albert Rand Christos Sideris William Theroux Wiber Witham

Tau Epsilon Phi

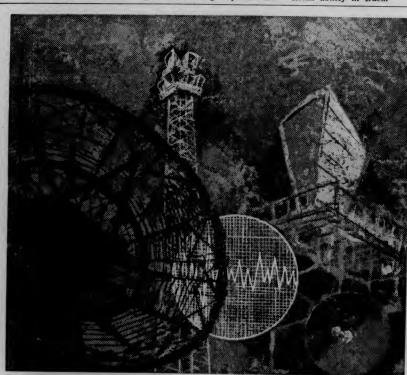

Neil Blatte Richard Beauvais Ron Guertin Charles Reid Robert Schwartz Fred Slater Bob Zidle

Tau Kappa Epsilon

David Battis Lee Burgess Richard Clark Eric Coate Neil Degon James Dugan Michael First David Garber John Karampatsos Paul Kennett Robert Marsella Edward Mintiens

Theta Chi

Robert Austin James Bloom James Bradley Roger Cavanaugh Arthur Collins Ralph Dell'Orfano Craig DeWallace Robert Ferrara Robert Harkins Gordon Lewis
Thomas Mahoney
Thomas Mendell
Richard Phillips

Is your future up in the air?

As the communications needs of our nation become steadily greater and more complex, the Bell Telephone System is continuing its pioneer work in microwave by "taking to the air" more and more to get the word across.

To this end, Western Electric—the manufacturing arm of the Bell System—has the monumental task of producing a large part of the microwave transmission equipment, that the microwave transmission equipment that knits our country together by shrinking thou-sands of miles into mere seconds.

In spite of its great technological strides, the science of radio relay is a rapidly-changing one. And new break-throughs and advances one. And new oreas-unoughs and advances are common occurrences. A case in point: our Bell System "TH" Microwave Radio Relay. This newest development in long-distance telephone transmission will eventually triple telephone transmission will eventually triple the present message-carrying capacity of exist-ing long-haul radio relay installations. A full scale system of 6 working and 2 protection channels can handle 11,000 telephone mes-sages at the same time. To make microwave work takes a host of make microwave work takes a host of special equipment and components: relay towers, antennae, waveguides, traveling wave-tubes, transistors, etc. But just as important, it takes top-ealiber people to help us broaden our horizons into such exciting new areas as communication by satellites!

And microwave is only part of Western Electric's opportunity story. We have—right now—hundreds of challenging and rewarding positions in virtually all areas of telephony, as well as in development and building of defense communications and missile guidance systems for the Government.

So, if your future is "up in the air," you owe it to your career to see "what's up" for you at Western Electric.

Opportunities exist for electrical, mechanical, industrial, civil and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. For more information, get your copy of "Western Electric and Your Career" from your Placement Officer. Or write College Relations, Room 6106, Western Electric Company, 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y. And be sure to arrange for a Western Electric interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

pal manufacturing locations at Chicago, III.; Kearny, N. J.; Baltimore, Md.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Allentown and Laureidale, Pa., on-Salem, N. C.; Buffalo, N. Y.; North Andover, Mass.; Omaha, Neb.; Kansas City, Mo.; Columbus, Ohio; Oklahoma City, Okla. eering Research Center, Princeton, N. J. Teletype Corporation, Skokie, III., and Little Rock, Ark. Also Western Electric district centers in 33 cities and Installation headquarters in 16 cities. General headquarters: 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y.

Win These Big Rizes

Lorillard's 3-way Campus Contest!

WILL WIN THIS FABULOUS
RCA 21-INCH COLOR TV SET!

Here's all you do. Have every member of the sorority save the empty packages of any of the Lorillard products displayed below. The sorority that has saved the most empty Lorillard packages will be awarded the RCA color television set. NOTE: 1. Wrap empty packages in bundles of 50. 2. Deliver to the Univ. Store by March 13, 1961. 3. Winning Sorority will be notified by March 17.

In event of ties—a blindfold drawing will decide the winner

WILL WIN THIS FABULOUS
RCA 21-INCH COLOR TV SET!

The rules for fraternities follow the same pattern as for sororities. The fraternity that saves the most empty Lorillard packages will also win this RCA color 21-inch television set. So start saving the empty packages of any of the Lorillard products shown below. NOTE: 1. Wrap empty packages in bundles of 50. 2. Deliver to the Univ. Store by March 13, 1961. 3. Winning Fraternity will be notified by March 17, 1961.

In event of ties-a blindfold drawing will decide the winner

CAN ENTER THE LORILLARD SWEEPSTAKES FOR THESE FOUR GREAT PRIZES!

You don't have to be a member of a fraternity or sorority to enter

READ COMPLETE SWEEPSTAKES RULES HERE:

1. Each entry must consist of one empty pack of any of the following brands: Kent... Newport... Old Gold Filters, Straights... Spring OR—a plain piece of paper which has the "hand" drawn block letters of any of these brands drawn in any size.

Your name and address must be written on the back.

2. Deposit your complete entry in the Lorillard Campus Sweepstakes entry box. All entries must be on deposit before: 12 noon, March 13, 1961. There will be a random drawing in which the prize winners will be selected in consecutive order. Drawing will be held under the supervision of the college newspaper staff. Enter as many times as you want. Only one prize per contestant. Entrants need not be present at drawing to win.

3. Lorillard Campus Sweepstakes is open to all students of this school.

4. Lorillard Campus Sweepstakes is subject to all Federal, State and local laws.

5. Students whose immediate families are employed by the P. Lorillard Co, or its advertising agencies are not eligible. Date of drawing: March 13, 1961.

An RCA Portable Stereo Set Mark 38

Portable Typewriter An RCA

A Polaroid Land Camera

PRODUCTS OF
P.LORILLARD COMPANY
First with the Finest Cigarettes
Through Lorillard Research

●1961 P. Lorillard Co.

Mass Hockey Squad Romps Over Jeffs 7-2 As Ryan's Hat Trick Sparks Offensive

The men from UMass celebrated Washington's birthday, Wednesday night, in fine style, much to the chagrin of Amherst, as the rampaging Redmen broke loose in the second period for five goals, propelling them to a 7-2 win over the Jeffs.

The game started out inno cently enough, as the first period wound up with each team having scored one goal. The Lord Jeffs, still bitter over their hotly contested earlier overtime defeat by the Redmen, were up for this game. It seemed as if they would be successful in their quest for revenge as they dominated play throughout most of the initial Amherst scored first at the 5:02 mark when Cruikshank skated in on Roland and faked him out for the score. Little did the Amherst club realize this was to be their last tally until late in the final period,

The Redmen scored the equalizer with only nine seconds remaining in the first period when Billy Ryan finally banged the puck home, after Bobby Glew and Red Forbush had missed an open

This last second goal, provided the spark that ignited the club into a second period perform-ance that had the fans electrified. At 1:22 an Amherst player was chased to the penalty box and the Redmen, opportunists that they were, wasted little time in capi-talizing as Ryan scored five sec-onds later with Donovan and Ellingwood picking up the as-

Then at 5:44 Jim Ellingwood, scrapping in the corner, centered the puck out to the onrushing Donovan who finished off the play by scoring. This made the

by DAVE WILLARD '64 3-1 but was just a sampling of things to come

At 7:27 the "Old Lamp Light-Ryan, completed his hat trick unassisted as he ragged the puck at the blue-line and then let go a shot that had eyes, as it sailed by two defensemen and past the

The Redmen took it easy on the Lord Jeffs for awhile and held off the scoring until 16:17 of the same second period, when Jim Ellingwood, starring in his role of play-maker, centered a perfect pass from the right wing in to Bob Glew in front of the net who put his stick down and directed it neatly into the nets.

UMass finished up this torrid and productive barrage at 18:07 when Art Stevens got into the act, with an assist from Pete

This second period action by the Redmen was, in the words of coach Steve Kosakowski, best single period of hockey I've seen since I've been coaching here." This is quite a tribute coming from a man who doesn't make it a habit of throwing compliments around haphazardly.

The team did itself proud with its inspired play in this period. They played great hockey; passing, fighting, and skating with zeal and desire unmatched by any team observed this season. They had the bewitched, bothered, and bewildered Amherst team spread out all over the ice most of the time, which enabled them to manuever virtually at will.

The third period was almost a complete reversal, as the play switched to the defensive, necessitated by a total of 21 minutes in penalties

At the 7:10 mark tempers flared up which resulted in a brawl involving about twelve

Amherst goalie Bob Richman, here, makes a stop on a UMass forward in the background who has just shot. The Redmen were too good for Richman as they sent seven goals past him during the game. BILLY RYAN put in three of them, eeting of all freshmen base-ll candidates at 6:15 p.m., Monday February 27, in Room 10 of the Men's Physical Edu-cation Building.

MIMEOGRAPHING

PROMPT SERVICE REASONABLE RATES CALL Alpine 3-7877

AMHERST CINEMA

-NOW Showing-"Variety is the Spice of Love."

Cary Grant Deborah Kerr Jean

"GRASS IS GREENER"

Sat. Continuous from 5:00

WED., MARCH 1st-"TUNES OF GLORY" Alec Guinness

All alone in front was this Redmen puckster but he couldn't get the puck past Richman. In the hot second period UMass forwards sent 5 goals past the helpless Amherst goalie.

players. It took five minutes to restore peace and order, and when play was resumed there was a lot of bare ice as the Redmen had but three men in front of their

It was at this point that UMass displayed their defensive prowess as they completely stymied the Amherst offense and even scored a goal themselves while short-handed.

Grutchfield Named To All-East Squad

Captain Doug Grutchfield of the University of Massachusetts Redmen was among the players named to the weekly All-East major college basketball team se-lected Monday by the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

The senior forward from North Quincy was the only unanimous choice for All Conference last year, and won this week's honor by virtue of his scoring 97 points in a four game stretch over Ver-mont, UConn, Tufts and New Hampshire.

Jack Foley of the Holy Cross squad headed the selections while All-America Tom Stith of St. Bonaventure was named for the fourth time this season, Grutch should add substantially to his year's total. He's got a 19.6 average now.

Bassett were the heroes during this defensive display, checking ferociously and breaking up rushes even before they got under way. At 16:32 Ellingwood scored while his club was still a man shy. Winning a face-off he collected the puck, skated in and scored for the final UMass goal the night.

Amherst scored a post-mortem goal at 17:53 on reserve goalie Frank Cesario who later made a couple of nice stops.

This game left little doubt in anyone's mind as to who holds the hockey supremacy in the burgh of Amherst. Coach Kosakowski, wanting to win this one more than anything else, saw all his wishes fulfilled as his boys played their hearts out.

Enough can't be said of the overall team effort displayed by the men: Ellingwood with three assists, Ryan with three goals, Bassett, Stevens, and Forbush for their defensive piay, plus the sparkling efforts by Glew, Donovan, Taylor, Roland, and everyne else one else.

This was the biggest margin of victory for their team in the Amherst-UMass rivalry and certainly provided even the veteran fans with some of the best hockey they had had the pleasure of watching at Orr Rink.

Gymnasts Picked To Beat Cortland Crew

by JIM E. MULCAHY '63

The UMass gymnastics team, inder the direction of coach Robert James, is traveling to Cort-land, N.Y. for a return meet with Cortland State Teachers College. We met Cortland here in December and defeated them 53-43. If things go as they have for the past two years, UMass can expect to win by an even larger score. For, our boys have performed with more finesse in their formed with more finesse in their gym than in our own, Cortland's lead, held until the last two events in the December meet, should not be evident Saturday, for Dave Yates '63, in-eligible first semester, is now in competition. Yates will add support on the parellel (P) bars, and high bar as well as leading and high bar as well as leading the tumbling team.

Our rope climbers have improved most considerably. Don Cleary '61 has speeded his time to 5.3 seconds, but more remarkable is the time posted by Ralph Nichols '62. Nichols failed to score against Cortland but tied the UMass record in our recent meet with Springfield. The rec-ord of 5.0 seconds was held by Fred Peterson of last year's team. Nichols and Cleary coupled with team captain Jim Bitgood '61, will be tough for anyone to beat.

BRIEGEL AIDS TEAM

Heinz Briegel '60, the most per-fected UMass gymnast, spent last Saturday at the Cage helping the Side horse, high bar, and "P" bar men. These were his best events and those which won him particular honors in 1959 national honors in 1959.

Our weakest event will probably be the side horse. We have come a long way but remain third class. Our routines consist of the "A" move catagory with only a few "B" moves. The moves of the west-resident A B or Care events are classed A, B, or C according to difficulty, "C" being the hardest to execute and worth the most points. The brunt of the load for this event will fall upon Jim Adam '62 and Bruce Mc-Cracken '63.

Our best events will remain the "P" bars and the flying rings. Charlie Paydos '62 has added a Charlie Paydos '62 has added a front somersalt (somie) dismount to his freeflowing "P" bar routine. Paydos should also pave the way on the flying rings but receive a good deal of support from captain Bitgood.

The team will use this meet as a prelude to our final meet of the season with Temple here at the season with Temple here at UMass on March 11.

Stockbridge Maintains Streak As It Beats Mt. Hermon 74-43

The Stockbridge basketball | team made it three in a row yesterday by defeating Mt. Hermon 74-43. The Aggies opened up a 22-3 lead early in the game and coasted to a 43-17 halftime score. The big gun in this first half splurge was Carl Huff '61 who poured 22 points through the hoop.

Ball control was the key to victory as Denny Dowd '61 and Bob Goyette '61 teamed up in sweaping both the offensive and defensive backboards. Their fine rebounding set up the offensive

The election of next years cap-tain will take place this week before the final game against the r resimien

STOCKB			MT. HE	RMO
	PT	FL		PT	FL
Goyette	14	0	Ovdemool	20	4
Hyland	4	1	Dupay	0	í
Cronin	5	4	Chase	2	ô
Huff	28	4	Harrow	3	ĭ
Clayton	6	2	Knapp	0	2
Locke	4	1	Maurer	3	2 2 0
Hiltz	2	2	Oudemer	2	ō
Smith	0	5	Serrem	ī	0
Dowd	7	. 1	Simpson	6	4
Dooley	2	2	Stocking	6	1
Sylvia	2	0		-	-
	-	-	TOTALS	43	15
TOTATO	77.4	99

TRACK MEET

The UMass-New Hampshire track meet, which was originally scheduled to be held here on March 1, has been rescheduled to take place on Tuesday, February 28, here at WEEKEND SPORTS CARD p.m.

Frosh B.B. vs. Stockbridge 6:30 p.m.

Gymnastics vs. Cortland Away Hockey vs. New Hampshire Away Track vs. Northeastern Away

Wrestling vs. Wesleyan Away

Riding Artists

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Oil paintings of 16 members of the National Jockeys Hall of Fame will be on display in the Pimlico clubhouse during the autumn racing season, Nov. 14-Dec. 15.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The richest running of the Pimlico Futurity was in 1958. The gross purse was $168,020 and the net to the winner (Intentionally) was $119,571.

SPORTSEN

Although Rhode Island appears cause of scholastic reasons. title sewn up, it doesn't look too good for the Rams in the NCAA playoffs. They will have to take the first team in the East, and the second team in the na-tion all in their first game, that team being St. Bonaventure.

Bonny narrowly missed defeating the number one team, Ohio State, but the Buckeyes managed to eke out the win by a sparce two points. That was Ohio State's two points. That was Ohio State's second near defeat in as many games, for the shaky Buckeyes could beat Iowa's Hawkeyes by only one point. Iowa, by the way, was playing with four of their first stringers in the stands, they had bear declared incligible bear declared incligible bear

The Rams have two remaining games in the Conference, against UConn and Massachusetts.

Vice Fusia, the new football coach at Massland, now has his staff picked and present, and should be getting down to busi-ness as far as spring practice

Vic's office in the Cage is being painted and prepared right now. Word has it that practice will begin March 1 and last for about two weeks.

Russia's eighteen year old Valery Brumel, who easily beat B.U.'s John Thomas at the New York Athletic Club meet, will be at it again tomorrow at the National A.A.U. Championships.

Brumel equalled Thomas' in-door record of 7'3" with ease and then asked that the bar be put at 7'5". He attempted that unprecedented jump and narrowly missed it on two attempts. When asked why he didnt merely try to beat Jumpin' John's record, he said that he wanted to do better than he had done in Leningrad

My guess is that Brumel will jump 7'5" tomorrow, but we can only wait and see.

Plans for a memorial fund for the American figure skating team are in the fire. It has been proposed and approved that a scholarship fund be established to aid skaters through college. to aid skaters through conegc.
The team and coaches were killed en route to the World Championships at Prague.

Twenty-two year old Penny Pitou, who took a silver medal for the United States in last year's Olympic games at Squaw Valley, (losing by one second) has married a member of the Austrian Ski Team, Egon Zimmerman. The news had been expected since the end of the Winter Games.

Joe Bellino, All-America halfback and winner of the Heisman and Maxwell trophies will be playing in the All-America grad-uating football game, June 23 in Buffalo.

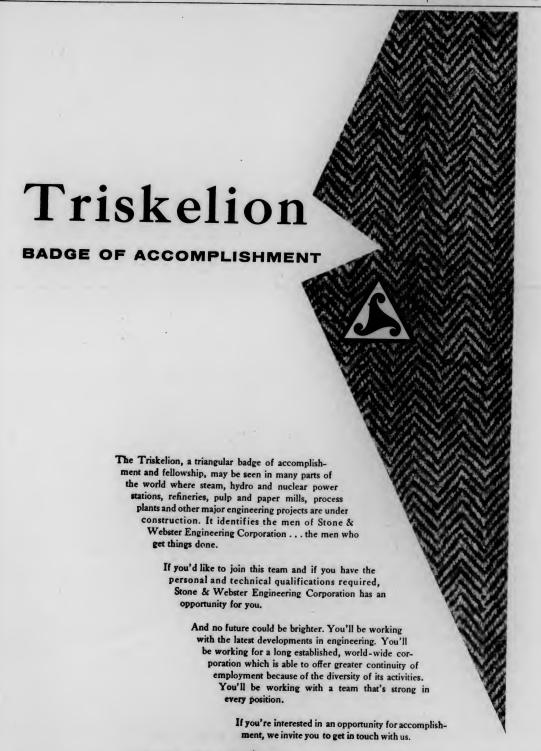

What Joe will do from then on is anyone's guess. He has had numerous offers from pro football teams. All he has to do is fill in the blank check for the amount he wants.

Joe has also been receiving offers from baseball teams. He has expectations of being named to the All-America squad in baseball also, though he doesn't know what position he'll be playing. As a freshman and a sophomore he was stationed behind the plate, the spot he likes best, but last season Coach Max Bishop had him running around the outfield. Joe would rather catch, but he'll play where he's told to. Football, Baseball or Navy, Joe?

Manhattan College will be visiting the cage Saturday night, and UMass is ranked the slight favorite. It should be quite a

A big hand goes to Steve Kosakowski and his hockey team for their crushing defeat of Amherst Wednesday night. It's been quite a while since we've beaten the Jeffs two games running. The team outplayed their crosstown rivals all the way, and will be looking for the same performance against New Hampshire tomorrow.

STONE & WEBSTER ENGINEERING CORPORATION

Seattle

Houston

Toronto

Chicago Pittsburgh

San Francisco

CLUB DIRECTORY

CANTERBURY CLUB

Canterbury Club will go to Belchertown State School to work with the retarded chil-dren, Saturday, Feb. 25 at 1 p.m. Meet at 768 N. Pleasant

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION Meeting Mon., Feb. 27, at 3 p.m. in the E25, Machmer. Dr. Pemberton of Amherst College will speak on "Paul Tellich."

COMMUTER'S CLUB

Saturday, Feb. 25, Commuter's Club will sponsor dance in Bowditch Lodge 8-12 p.m. Dress is informal; admission 35 cents stag, 50 cents drag. Free refreshments served.

DEBATING CLUB

Afternoon debate with the visiting team from Yeshiva College on Monday, Feb. 27 in the afternoon

EASTERN STAR FOOD SALE Sat., Feb. 25, in the Masonic Hall at 1 p.m., Coffee and doughnuts served in the after-noon. Chapter members have been asked to make their favorite recipes so that a varie-ty of food will be offered for

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

FELLOWSHIP
Meeting Fri., Feb. 24, at 7 p.m. in the Plymouth Rm., S.U. Mr. and Mrs. Cal Roeuler, who have served one term under the Evangelical Alliance Mission will show a film and slides on their work in New Guinea.
LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE FXHIRIT

EXHIBIT

On display in Wilder Hall Ex-hibition Rm, are the student designs for the National Mobile Home Park Competition. Also on exhibit is the work of the junior and senior design classes. Exhibit will run til Mar. 3. LUTHERAN CLUB

UTHERAN CLUB
Meeting Sun., Feb. 26, at 7 p.m. at 318 Lincoln Ave. Discussion:
"What Price, Free Love?" led by Pastor Leslie Beale. Transportation for church in East-hampton from Knowlton and Hills houses at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, and for meeting at 6:30

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Meeting Sun., Feb. 26, in the Wesley Methodist Church. Dr. Paul Deats of B.U. will speak on "The Church Encounters the

Injunction Is Filed Against Williams College Fraternity

An injunction has been served against the Beta Theta Chi fraternity of Williams College by its national, prohibiting the Williams chapter from initiating twenty new members, it was re-ported recently by Thomas P. Weinland '61, chapter president. According to Weinland, the national said it was concerned about the "climate of opinion concern-ing national fraternities at Williams College, particularly as em-bodied in total opportunity." To-tal opportunity refers to a system which the Williams ungraduates initiated this guaranteeing that every student at Williams who wishes to join a fraternity will be given a bid by at least one of the 15 fraternities on campus.

The twenty students in question may not be initiated until the national fraternity further investigates the situation. For the present, they have been given "associate status" at Beta Theta Pi, allowing them full priviledges short of initiation procedure.

Line Six Remains Open At Commons

Line six of the Dining Commons will remain open the rest of this semester in spite of its operating at a loss. Because of crowded conditions upstairs, the office of the Dean of Women re-quested earlier this year that the snack bar be converted into another lunch line

John F. Martin, assistant manof the Dining Commons, d that many students had asked for line 6 meal tickets, so it was decided to keep the line open. Line 6 now feeds 400 to open. Line 6 500 students.

Campus Varieties Needs Scene Aides

The annual production of Campus Varieties, the student-produced musical, is less than a week away. It is therefore urgent that all the help possible be obtained in constructing scenery. Anyone who is interested is asked to call Ed Rodriguez at AL 3-9295 or AL 3-5530 as soon as possible.

AEP, ELECTIONS

Alpha Epsilon Pi recently held an election of new officers. The results are as fol-

Manny Hammelburg-Master Barry Ravech-Lt. Master Steve Israel-Scribe

Howard Frisch-Exchequer Shusterman-Member

Sophomore Class Recently Organizes Executive Council

An executive council has been established by the class of '63 to provide liason service between the class officers and members.

The council includes advisor Dr. William Field, the class officers, and thirty class members. These members are to be chosen in a manner to give each dormitory, sorority, and fraternity equal representation.

The organization of individual committees is flexible. The present committees are: Class Ring, John Gournaris, Chairman; and Banquet Committee, Dave Kauffman, Chairman,

There is also a Public Relations Committee whose purpose is to maintain contact with the class members. The class hopes to set a precedent by establishing closer relations between class members and the different Class members also worked on Winter Carnival Weekend Committees. These include: Activities, Larry Murphy, Chairman; Weekend Committee, Charlie Rock, Chairman: Publicity, Joan Hussey, Chairman; Dance Committee, Don Whitehouse, Chairman; and Jazz Concert, Larry Murphy, Chairman.

2.0 Motion Is Referred Back To RSO

The controversy recently raged over the 2.0 average qualification for holding office in any R.S.O. organization has calmed down considerably since the defeat of the motion by the Student Senate. However, the "philosophy behind the motion" has not been for-

After the "2.0's" defeat, the motion was sent back to the R.S.O. committee R.S.O. committee whence it originally came. It has been referred to a joint committee composed of R.S.O. subcommittees no. 1 and no. 2 and the Activities Committee of the Senate. This body will consider the possibilities of all toxing the possibilities of all toxing the possibilities. ties of altering the motion, bring-ing in an entirely new motion, or completely disregarding the

Any results will go back to R.S.O. and again to the Senate.
Whatever is decided, it is almost certain that the issue is not yet closed for good.

(Continued from page 1)

Varieties . . .

Linda Daffinee, Charlotte Simondski, Jean Creamer, Steve Weiss, Ed Hazlett, George Hobart, Joe Nahiel, and Ted Ressel.

Jonie Knowles, Sandra Brodsky, Jane Grant, Merle Swardlick, Bobbie Genter, Nancy Baker, Marie Brazao, Kathy Ryan, Lana Canavan, Pat Broulliard, and Claudia Smith.

Tickets will be on Sale all next week at the ticket office in the Student Union. All seats are reserved.

Students And Faculty Attend Teacher Panel

faculty members attended the Education Club's panel of ex-perienced student teachers at 7 p.m. Tuesday night in the Commonwealth Room of the SU.

As an introduction to the panel discussion, Dr. Kornegay, the coordinator for the evening, read a short excerpt from Mary Ellen Chase's book, A Goodly Fellow-

The panelists included John Kane, who practice taught eighth grade social studies in West Springfield; Joan Hendrickson, who taught seventh and eighth grade geography in Turners Falls; Judith Cochran, who taught forty third graders in South Hadley Falls; and Elaine Olbrych, who taught fifth graders

Olbrych, who taught fifth graders in Chicopee.

Among the many problems brought out in the discussion were "theory vs. practice," the relationship between the student teacher and the critic teacher.

Continued from page 1)

Zoologists . . . man of the institution's Premedical Advisory Committee. A specialist in ornithology, he is a member of several national scientific societies,

A member of the UMass staff since 1950, Dr. Nutting is currently conducting research on the several species of the genus Demodex. Both he and Dr. Bartlett are engaged in studies der grants from the U.S. Public Health Service.

LOST: Monday Feb, 20, Ladies wrist watch; silver (White gold)
"Tradition" (brand name), broken watch band. If found—please return to Janice Reilly, 318 Leach House.

administrative details.

Kane said that the theory learned at UMass is not a waste, but the student must learn where and how to apply it. In regard to conditions Kane suggested that one ask the following questions: "What are these conditions? What can I do to improve them? How can I best perform under these conditions?"

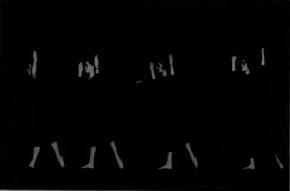

Miss Hendrickson and Miss Cochran stressed the "small things" as sometimes being most bothersome to the student teachbanking day, milk day, and collections were lections were enumerated. Miss Olbrych said that the first two weeks were the hardest part of the total student teaching experience.

While discussing the relation-ship between the student teacher and critic teacher, the most important rules agreed upon were to follow in the teacher's step, ask for criticism, ask for suggestions, and compliment the critic teacher when she does something special. Contrasted to the "I'm from the University. I under-stand I am to practice teach here. I have some new ideas, Let me try them out" attitude, the stu-dent teacher should have a dent teacher should have a genuine desire to be of assistance and to learn more and grow through the student teaching ex-

Women Who Want To Be Counselors Should Apply Now

Women students of the classes of '62 and '63 who are interested in applying for positions as Counselors in women's dormitories for next year, should do so now. Application blanks may be secured from Heads of Residence and the office of the Dean of Women. They must be returned on or before Thursday, March 9.

Final selections, which will be Final selections, which will be announced in April, will be made from recommendations by present House Councils, Dormitory Heads of Residence, Faculty, and the Senate Committee on Womthe Senate Committee on Wom-en's Affairs. Financial need isn't a consideration. Selections will be made on the basis of per qualifications of maturity, ership, dependability, and scholar-

Modern Dance club members rehearse for tonight's performance

Modern Dance Club Is Featured In Concert Tonight At Bowker Auditorium

The Modern Dance Club, spon-ored by the Women's Athletic Association, will present a con-cert tonight in Bowker Auditori-um at 8:00 p.m, as part of the Fine Arts Festival Weekend.

Those participating in the program are: Louise Aceti, Valerie Ask, Nancy Baker, Connie Blais, Ask, Nancy Baker, Connie Blais, Patricia Blacker, Eleanor Bossi and Sandra Brodsky.

Also Judy Brown, Pat Brouilliard, Thea Brown, Lana Canavan, Jan Clemant, Amy Clayman, Rita Crosby and Jan Crowley.

Judy Deane, Carol Doliber, Norma Fairbanks—Vice President, Barbara Feldman, Nancy Fiske, Mindy Flicop, Diane Fuller and Linda Garber.

Lorrie Gennari, Sue Goldsmith, Peggy Gonyea—Secretary, Deb-

Peggy Gonyea—Secretary, Deb-bie Greenberg, Ellie Harrington, Nancy Harris, Jayne Hayden, Mary Kay Heath and Do.othy

Pat Juskiewicz, Bryna Lansky, Barbara Lavalette, Judy Lawson, Mina Lowe, Pricilla Lincoln, Sue Macycove, Trudy Mahoney and Macycove, Trudy Mahoney and Sandra May.

Also Sue McMaster, Julienne Mendrek, Lynn Musgrave, Linda Muldoon, Penny Neal, Judy Oakley, Carol O'Loughlin, Elaine Ortend and Lon Powker. gard and Jan Parker

gard and Jan Parker.

Lesley Payzant, Jessie Piecewicz, Charlene Prentiss, Deborah Pratt, Mary Rishitelli, Carol Russell, Kathy Ryan, Sue Schrieber, Carol Shelasky, Gail Sird, Nathalie Smith, Nancy Stiles, Diane Tacy, Priscilla Wahlen, Lisette Walter.

The program, under the direction of Miss Georgia Reid and Miss Shirley Roby, will provide a variety of entertainment for dance enthusiasts. The lighting dance enthusiasts. The lighting director is Gordon Benoit; the make-up committee is headed by Mary Lou O'Keefe.

Recital Is Planned For March 1 By Faculty Members

Prof. and Mrs. A. V. Ebersole of the Department of Romance Languages will present recital on Wednesday, M at 8:30 p.m. in Bartlett Hall Auditorium. They will be accom-panied on the piano by Henry A. Lea of the German Department. The program will include music by Beethoven, Mozart, Verdi, de Falla, Schumann, Schubert, and Bizet. There will be no admission

Prof. and Mrs. Ebersole studied together in Mexico City, and have given concerts in Mexico City as well as in various cities in the United States. Mrs. Carmen Ebersole, a native of Valencia, Spain, began her vocal studies in that country. Prof. Ebersole has studied in this country as well as in Mexico, where he was in residence for four years at Mexico City College.

U. of H.

R.O.T.C.

See page 2

VOL. XC NO. 50 5¢ PER COPY

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1961

Exec. Editor Rayner | Copland Lecture Resigns After Dispute

Lawrence H. Rayner '61, editorin-chief of the Collegian since February, 1960, resigned Saturday before a special meeting of the newspaper's Publishing Board. His resignation came about after a dispute on Collegian operating policies, in which the Board refused to uphold his dismissal of News Editor Donald D. Johnson '61.

The Publishing Board had chalnged Rayner's abolition of an Executive Board, composed of the editors of the paper, as the means by which the newspaper's policies were determined. In addition, he was challenged for the abolition of competitions as a criterion for staff advancement.

Executive Board Reformed A spokesman for the Publishing Board said today that the paper will be guided by an Executive Board, pending a clarification of the paper's constitution-ally-decreed operations. No chairman of the board has been named Marc L. Ratner, assistant pro-fessor of English, is the Collegian's newly-appointed faculty advisor. He was named by acting-Provost Woodside.

Closer Cooperation Asked

Ratner has been at UMass for one year, coming from the University of Colorado. He had taught there for five years, and had been a faculty advisor to the literary magazine, and a member of the university's Publications Board.

Ratner has called for a closer cooperation between the staff and the advisor. A general meeting of the entire newspaper staff will

At The State House

Income Tax Abolishment Urged By Amendment

Now that we are coming into the season of income taxes there is hardly anyone who would not like to abolish them. Few believe it can be done and that Death and Taxes are the only things certain for everyone.

Willis P. Stone of Los Angeles,
California, is one of those optimists who believe that income taxes, particularly the federal in-come taxes, can be abolished, and he came to Boston, Tuesday, Feb. 14, for the second time within a month, to tell the Bay State Legislature how it can be done.

Stone, who impressed members of the Legislative Committee on Constitutional Law in his appear-ance here on Jan. 18, will again ear before that committee at ablic hearing to be held in the Gardner Auditorium.

Stone's appearance is being sponsored by the Massachusetts Committee for Economic Freedom, an organization composed of some of this state's leading business men who firmly believe the proposed 23rd Amendment to the Constitution can become a reality. Their current problem is to get the Massachusetts Legislature to go along with other states in memorializing Congress to adopt he 23rd Amendment, which could get the federal government out of private industry and thus eliminate the need for the personal income tax.

Vernon Hitchins, Boston bank-er, heads the group. Other prominent members include: W. Bruce Pirnie, and Col. Laurence Stresses 'State Of Composition Today'

Highlighting this year's Fine Arts Festival, Aaron Copland, the distinguished American composer, is shown during his lecture on "Contemporary Music," delivered Thursday evening, Feb. 23, in the S.U. Ballroom.

by BARBARA KATZIFF '61 Special Reporter

Aaron Copland, the dean of American music, delivered the feature lecture of the 1961 Fine Arts Festival, Thursday evening, Feb. 23, in the S.U. Ballroom, when he spoke on "Contemporary Music."

Is Pulitzer Prize Winner A native of Brooklyn, Copland was born in 1900, and began his

R.D. Spring Production To Be 'R.U.R.' By Karel Capek

The Roister Doisters announced Wednesday that their spring production will be Karel Capek's "R.U.R."

The play takes place on an island somewhere on this planet, where the central office of Rossum's Universal Robots is locat-

Play Set In Future

The play opens a few decades beyond the present day. The factory has turned out, following a secret formula, millions of manufactured workers. (Robot is a Czech word meaning worker). Helena Glory, president of the Humanitarian League, comes to ascertain what can be done to improve the condition of these over-specialized creatures.

Robot World Revolt

The last two acts take place ten years later. Because of He-lena's desire to humanize the robots, the head of the factory's experimental department has secretly changed the formula. The few hundred robots he has par-tially humanized are capable of leading a world revolt of robots. The rest of the play is melodra-matic, a handful of human beings held at bay while their robots close in on them.

In the epilogue, Alquist, the company's builder and the only human being left alive on earth, tries to reconstruct the lost for-mula. The robots know that when their bodies wear out there will be no new robots to replace them.
Then Alquist discovers two humanized robots, a young man and a young woman, and the audience perceives that mankind is about to start afresh.

Peirce To Direct

"R.U.R." will be produced on Thursday through Saturday, April 27, 28, and 29 in Bowker Auditorium, under the direction of Henry B. Peirce, Assistant Professor of Speech.

Tryouts for the show will be held Monday and Tuesday, February 27 and 28 at 7 p.m. in E14 and E16, Machmer. Those who cannot report at these times should report to B376 between 2 and 4 p.m. Tuesday afternoon.

distinguished music career 1920. He received a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1925-26, was awarded the R.C.A. Victor Award in 1930, and won an "Oscar" for the film score of The Heiress. In 1944, he received the Pulitzer Prize and New York Music Cri-tics Circle Award for his ballet Appalachian Spring.

Copland is also a lecturer and author of some note. He has been on the faculty of the Berkshire Music Center and of Harvard, Music Center and of Harvard, where he lectured on music, and was the Norton Professor of Poetry in 1951-52, Princeton awarded him an honorary Doctor of Music degree in 1956. That same year he received a gold medal from the American Aca-demy of Arts and Letters.

Discusses Contemporary Music What makes contemporary mu-c "contemporary?" Copland stated, that the beginnings of modern music came when the sounds departed from standards of the nineteenth century Ro-mantic tradition. He placed the Russian Moussorgsky, and the French Debussy with his Impres-sionism, in the forefront of the

Our truly "new" sounds in music began with Igor Stravinsky and Arnold Schonberg, Copland stated. With such compositions as the Rite of Spring in 1913, Stra-vinsky startled the world with his sounds of dissonance, new rhythms — termed "Primitivism" and departure from standard

Discusses Schonberg

Copland next discussed the dominating figure of modern music, Arnold Schonberg who introduced the atonal 12-tone system. In this system, all the tones of the scale are used, and con-sidered to be equal; there is no central key around which a piece written.

The inter-war period produced many figures of modern music, such as Webern, Vaughn Williams, Bartok, and Les Six of Paris, including Poulenc, and Milhaud. The early part of this period marked a neo-classical development spursed by Stravische riod marked a neo-classical de-velopment, spurred by Stravinsky and Schonberg. Classical forms and the improvisation and rhythms of American jazz were combined to give yet another color to music. The American figures of Copland, Sessions, Harris, and Piston, began their careers dur

Boulé & Stockhausen Mentioned Turning to the post-War era, Copland stated that it began with the young musicians intensely curious about the "new music" they had read about but had not been able to hear. In a burst of energy, they totally organized Schonbergs 12-tone scheme. Now, not only were there twelve tones, but 12 rhythms, and 12 degrees of loudness and softness were incorporated into the total concept. The French composer Plana The French composer Pierre Boulé and Stockhausen from Cologne, are leaders in this move-

Copland feels that this music copiand feels that this music has a love of new tone color and "delicacy of sound," but is ex-tremely difficult to perform. This is the music that has led partially to the new forms and concepts of electronic music.

In a resumé of electronic music, Copland stated that there are two types, the first of which in-cludes actual sounds isolated and

(Continued on page 3)

Special Senate Elections To Be Held Feb. 27 & 28 by JOSEPH BRADLEY '64, Collegian Assignment Editor

The Student Senate elections ommittee has announced special elections will be held to settle the following offices:

Commuter's Senator, 2) Sophomore class vice-president,
3) Hills South senator.
In a special election held last Tuesday, Commuters elected Morey Vrooman. However, two senators were to have been elected by Commuters. According to an election committee spokesman, no other candidate received a sufficient number of Sophomores last Tuesday nominated Joe DiMauro and Pete Bracci to run for vice presi-dent of the class of '63. In the primary, Bracci received 133 votes as DiMauro gathered 113.

Collegian Assignment Editor
Elections for the above will be run Tuesday, Feb. 28 in the S.U.
lobby 9 a.m.-4 p.m.
Because of an election discrepancy, Hills South will elect another senator in another special election to be held Monday.
Feb. 27, 7-10 p.m. in Hills South

Feb. 27 7-10 p.m. in Hills South. The commission's spokesman stated that the discrepancy arose over a complaint that there had been active campaigning in the balloting area while voting was in progress. The Student Senate determined this to be an unfair influence.

The election committee ther declared the election invalid and ordered Monday's re-run.

All those who ran in the earlier Hills South election will also be eligible for the re-run.

Prof. Wilkinson To Begin Philosophy Lecture Series

This semester the Philosophy Club will be presenting a series of provocative lectures on the general topic "Does Modern Society Violate Human Nature?" The speakers for the series have been selected from various fields in order to present a broad view of the question.

Dr. Thomas O. Wilkinson, assistant professor of sociology, first speaker in the series, will ss human nature as seen a sociologist's point of view, this Wednesday, March 1, in the Hampden room of the Student Union. The time is 8:00 p.m.

On March 15, Assistant Proon March 15, Assistant Pro-fessor Alex Page, from the Eng-lish Department will speak. He will be followed by Professor Solis L. Kates, Department of Psychology, on April 12, and Mr. Leonard H. Ehrlich, of the Philosophy Department on April Philosophy Department, on April 26. May 10, a panel discussion will take place between all speak-

All are urged to attend what promises to be a very interesting and informative program on a subject which concerns us all: modern society and its relationship to the nature of man

In Appreciation To Mortar Board

AND THE RESIDENCE

The Collegian wishes to congratulate Mortar Board on the excellent Fine Arts program presented this year. The Fine Arts Festival was superb entertainment and a worthwhile contribution to everyone's knowledge and appreciation of modern art and music. The program began on February 22, with a series of very interesting and unusual art films set to classical music. On Thursday, Feb. 23, Aaron Copland, Dean of American Music, gave a delightful and enlightening lecture on contemporary music, its development and latest trends. I' was very well attended as were all of the activities which were part of "The Abstract Idea." On Friday a modern dance recital was given by the Modern Dance Club, followed by three informative talks on various aspects of contemporary art and music

On behalf of all who attended these fine programs, we, the Collegian staff, wish to extend sincerest thanks and appreciation to Mortar Board members. -S.W.M.

A REVIEW: We Are All Murderers

Does society have the right to take the life of one of its members? This is the major question asked in the French film "We Are All Murderers" shown Thursday night in the Union.

The main character played by Marcel Majoudii is a 20 year old vagrant of the Parisian slums named Le Guen. His early life was influenced by his family: a drunkard mother, an unknown father, a prostitute sister, and a delinquent brother, and by lack of any formal education. During World War II he was mmissioned by the Resistance to kill Nazis and traitorous Frenchman. With the end of the war killing no longer was legalized. Le Guen, who previously had been paid to kill, found this difficult to understand, and soon was imprisoned.

In addition, the movie deals with the barbarity and cruelty of the French criminal system. We are shown the lives of three condemned men in a typical cell. Continually watched, bound with chains with nothing to occupy their time, the men just wait for the arrival of death. The horribleness of a guillotine execution is very well illustrated. At 4 o'clock in the morning a procession creeps in stocking feet down the corridor. Just as they reach the door of the condemned man's cell, the guards rush in, grab the man, pin him to his bunk, while the magistrates inform him that his plea has been refused. He is then dressed in his civilian clothes, dragged to an unsympathetic priest, and then hauled to where the monster is. All of this is made more vivid by the fact that La Guillotine is portable and therefore the prisoners are tormented by the anonymity of her position.

The most potent fact which the movie illustrated. was that capital punishment is socially ineffective. The knowledge that one brother was guillotined for committing a murder in a family feud did not prevent the second brother from committing the same deed. Education and environmental improvement would perform a much greater amount of good. The opportunities which were lacking before should now be given. The question raised by the film still remains. If these people were wrong in their acts why are we, as a society, right in ours?

-Lloyd David

The Massachusetts Collegian

POUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1879

ntered as second class matter at the post office at the second class matter at the post office at except during vacation and examination periods; two sholiday fails which the week following a vacation or examination periods the authority of the act of March capeted for m the authority of the act of March 2, 1879, as am eact of June 11, 1884, 1894, as a met of June 11, 1884, and per year; $2.50 per sem

Private Worlds

Most of us react unsympathetically to "modern" art, because it is difficult and often impossible to discover any meaning or significance in the confused jumbles that confront us. The incoherence is frankly jumbles that confront us. The incoherence is frankly unappealing. That which may be partly coherent is often so distorted that there can be no appreciation for color, form, or technique. The clash before us is meaningless in terms of any criterion with which we are familiar. At first glance Private Worlds could be written off as just another art exhibit that we don't like and understand less. But a more sensitive and comprehensive approach can yield a deeper tive and comprehensive approach can yield a deeper understanding of the position of a modern man.

The artist creates a harsh and unpleasing picture of the world, because this is the world he knows.

This is an indication of the confusion of many men of the twentieth century. The world for them is not a unified and pleasant place but a place of confusion, darkness, chaos, horror, death, separation. The shattered; many of the beliefs that made him strong have been so cracked and shattered by science, war, totalitarian governments that he can not find faith and meaning that will unify his existence again.

Many of the subjects chosen in this exhibit indicate man's isolation and his spiritual dicate man's isolation and his spiritual separation from his fellow man, A striking example is Francis Bacon's "Self Portrait"; his life appears as a terrible headache spent in a black box. "Confused Man" by Leonard Baskin depicts a heartbreaking sight and yet perhaps not an uncommon one to those whose beliefs are torn and tattered. Hate seems to break through the distorted "Anna N." by Balcom Greene. For Richard Lindner man is merely a cardboard pattern of the type found on the back of cereal boxes waiting to be cut out, folded, and hooked together although his face is already scratched out with a red streak; this is significantly entitled "Stranger Number Two."

A quick survey of the other titles indicates a A quick survey of the other titles indicates a similar representation of suffering: "Dark Interior," "Abduction," "Thwarted," "Chasm." This art is a visual representation of some of the sickness, boredom, and hate felt by many in today's world. Much of this genre of painting is perpetrated by unskilled enthusiasts who are unversed in the forms and techniques which they so glibly defy in an effort to join in a "revolt." But there is a serious message here for those who are sensitive to the heart beat of their time and one that can't be disregarded if the wounds in modern society are to be recognized and healed.

Patricia Lynn Wood '62

'Road Conditions'

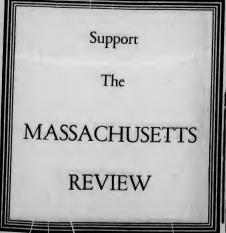

I feel it must be brought to the attention of the maintenance department of this university that the road leading past the Wheeler Dorm parking lot is in deplorable condition. There are so many holes near the foot of the hill that this road is not even safe for bicycles, let alone automobiles. And have pity upon the poor pedestrian who attempts to walk the length of this "wholly highway." It is disgraceful that the road, which is so frequently used, has been allowed to become such a hazard, and action should be taken to repair this situation at once.

Very truly yours,

Howard B. Altman

The Maintenance Department would also do well to consider the feasibilty of a sidewalk between the Student Union and Bartlett. Rumor has it that eleven English majors have perished in that abhorable mud and slush!

-Editor's Note

LETTERS

following letter is written in reply to the article, "Capital Punishment", that appeared in the Feb. 22 issue of the Collegian.

'Compulsion'

Collegian Aids and Abets Man's Regress

Collegian Aids and Abets Man's Regress

This week, by means of an article which reeked of the stench of burning faggots and Fonchevadian halitosis, the Collegian made another bold step backward. E. Graham Howe in his book WAR DANCE calls this "man's infinite regress," and I'm sure old E. Graham would chortle himself into a black knot over the moronic article, the barbaric article, the irrationally splenetic article by Marcia Ann Voikos '63. This article would cause a weakening in the bowels of any intelligent person who had the misfortune to pick up and read the Collegian on February twenty-second. February twenty-second.

Clever Titles-Just Like Marcia

In order to refute Marcia's argument for the students at the University to strip naked, paint themselves, and scream for the blood of the released Nathan Leopold I will use clever titles—just like Marcia did, And I ask the question again: will we answer Marcia's call to barbarism? Will we get Nathan Leopold out of bed some morning and parform a lebetomy on him with a deep shall be referred. can to Darbarism: Will we get Nathan Leopoid out of Ded some morning and perform a lobotomy on him with a clam shell, hoping that he will retch his last meal onto the floor? And then, when this is accomplished will we clothe ourselves, attend humanities class, and flagellate ourselves in the name of Attila the Hun? Let's look at the

Darrow Lurches In His Grave

Darrow Lurches In His Grave

As Marcia Viokos transferred her arguments from the convolutions on her cerebellum to the column in our newspaper I'm sure there was an almost imperceptible lurch in some distant graveyard. The graveyard? Darrow's. The lurch? The cadaver of Darrow rustling in its sarcophagus. You see, Marcia, Clarence didn't like people who promoted killing and barbarism. I suppose it would be presumptuous of me to say that he wouldn't be too crazy about you, for you favor capital punishment and even said so. I mean, I never said I favored it or anything. I guess if I was trying to dredge up facts I could show you Darrows eloquent testimony AGAINST capital punishment. Maybe Meyer Levin misquoted Darrow', but I doubt it, Marcia, So you quoted Darrow in your first sentence (the other sentence being Maybe Meyer Levin misquoted Darrow, but I doubt it, marcia, so you quoted Darrow in your first sentence (the other sentence being explained above) and committed your first mistake. You should have reviewed Oral Robert's new book instead of writing this article. I'm

I Don't Know, Marcia, Would You?

The sentence after the blunder on Darrow mentioned something The sentence after the blunder on Darrow mentioned something about "... if a killer murders someone close to you, wouldn't your normal reaction be to kill him." I suppose if you were some aborigine eating your supper of lizard's bladder on a rock, and some other aborigine snatched it away, then you'd probably kill him with a dingo's jawbone and shrink his head or something. But the answer to your question, Marcia, is, I hope to hell not. I mean, it wouldn't exactly be a NORMAL reaction for us at this stage of evolution to kill, would it. More abnormal I'd say. And also; I don't know, Marcia, would you? If this is normal for you, I'd hate to be your lab-partner.

Why Should The Public Support A Columnwriter?

Why should the public support a communitier.

Why should the public support anyone? Or anything? Why should the University be Beacon Hill sycophants? Why should taxpayers have to put up with the incessant bleatings of University administration? And why should they have to support murderers in incidence? jails and columnwriters in residence?

The answer to most of the above is NEED. The University NEEDS money, murderers NEED to be alive and OUT of society, and columnwriters NEED to have an audience for their egocentric ramblings. And also, persons who write letters to the editor NEED to be heard. And we're ALL supported by the public. So why should you, Marcia, deprive a murderer of his support? Who gave you the right to justify your state and condemn the murderer TO DEATH. Unless, of course, you're God. But I won't get personal about your theology.

What Was Good Enough For Neanderthal Is Good Enough For Me

The second paragraph, "History Proves We Must Retain The The second paragraph, "History Proves We Must Retain The Death Penalty" could be quite ludicrous to almost any moron. However, I happen to be a very discerning reader, and can only say that I was appalled by this anachronistic lump of prose. It is all very well to say that the primitive's theory and practice was to "wipe out the sinner, to wipe out the crime, in order to placate the gods,"—that is, it's all very well to say this if you're the type of person who reads bird entrails and massages a pregnant fertility image every third Tuesday. In this case I suppose capital punishment can be condoned, but one would also have to condone public circumcision, polygamy, the entrails bit, delousing in Curry Hicks, and ornamental scarring so popular among the Watusis.

Now I wouldn't argue as to whether we have regressed artistically from Cro-Magnon, but certainly we've come a long way ethically and morally. Now come on, Marcia WHAT gods are you trying to placate? And do you think human sacrifice is the answer? Is the history of the barbarian anthropoids the history that "proves we must retain the death penalty"? I'm chagrined at the prospect.

ROTC?

In short, Marcia, I really don't know what ails you except bar-barism, propensity toward progressive regress, irrationality, necrop-hilia, bad syntax, reactionistic anachronism, primitivism, warped theology, and a profound ague.

The only reason that I think you have acquired this procession of maladies is either from an association with a person who majors in ROTC or having disguised yourself and learned their methods through subterfuge, for only in the military is your reasoning matched. How did you ever do it?

Paul E. Theroux

TALK OF THE WEEK

"Japan—Future of an Asian Ally," Great Decisions Discussion, 7:30 p.m., Skinner.
"The Author of the Pieta d'Avigon Identified: Euguerrand Quarton," by Charles Sterling, Curator of Paintings, The Louvre, Paris, 8:00 p.m., Hooker, Mt. Holyoke TUESDAY
"Swift and the Satiric View of Politics," by Professor Thomas Copeland, Commonwealth Professor, 7:30 p.m., Bartlett.
"On Coming to Terms with Freud," by Professor Robert W. White, Professor of Psychology, Harvard, 8:00 p.m., Sage, Smith.

WEDNESDAY

WEDNESDAY

"Genetic Fine Structure in Drosophila," by Dr. William Hexter, Amherst College, Zoology Colloquium, 4 p.m., Morrill.

"Human Nature—A Sociological View," by Dr. T. O. Wilkinson, Philosophy Club Lecture, 8:00 p.m., S.U.

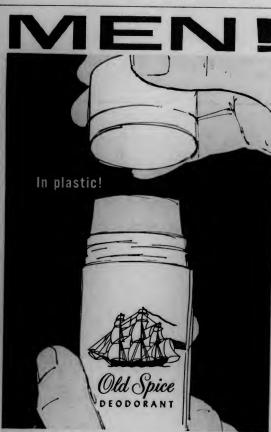

"Can the Central City Survive?," by Edmund N. Bacon, Exec. Director, Philadelphia City Planning Commission, 4:00 p.m., Babbott, Amherst College.

"What is Knowing? An Ethical Answer," by Prof. Roderick Chisholm, Professor of Philosophy, Brown University, 8:00 p.m., Babbott, Amherst College.

Want Money?

Taken from Forbes Magazine

Each of us has his or her own conception of what is worth attaining or obtaining. Many of us, unfortunately, are under the delusion that what we want is simply money, whereas it is the things we think money will bring that we really desire. Some people derive more satisfaction from giving than from receiving, from helping rather than being helped. It is well for each of us to ponder: What is it I really want? This can be laid down as basic: No human being can be genuinely happy unless he or she stands well in the esteem of fellow mortals. Inside everyone of us is an ego, an individuality, a personality, a soul, a consciousness that we are a separate, distinct human entity. Who would deal successfully with us must never forget that we possess and are possessed by this ego. A word of appreciation often can accomplish what nothing else could accomplish.

Here's deodorant protection

YOU CAN TRUST

Old Spice Stick Deodorant...fastest, neatest way to allday, every day protection! It's the active deodorant for active men...absolutely dependable. Glides on smoothly, speedily...dries in record time. Old Spice Stick Deodorant most convenient, most economical deodorant money can buy. 1.00 plus tax.

STICK DEODORANT

SHULTON

'Down The Hatch'

Down the Hatch
At Metawampee U.
Swamp-Yankees sit,
And talk and chew.

Some talk of things E--lec--cal, Like slide-rules; they Are rather dull.

Others speak 'Bout Government Wond' rin' how The 'lections went.

Called Biz. Admin. Who must account For ev'ry fin.

Mathematics is The work of sum, Like IBM's; But not so dumb

What have we here? The trumpets bleat! Why, the highly-touted

Look vonder there All toga clad, A Philosopher-Alas! Be-gad!

And over there The History sage Who knows it all Bout ev'ry age.

And rooted down Just like a tree The English Maj. Reads poetry

There they set For all to see Sippin' coffee,

There's nothin' much In any lobe, 'Cept: 'Wish we weren't On Social Prob.

And others that Are more profound: Wish Spring Day Would come around,'

This is college Metawampee U., Best course here is Hatch Lab II

WHAT'S WRONG IN OUR COLLEGES

by SUSAN STRANGE
Are our colleges as good as we think they are? David Boroff, in his article "American Colleges—What Their Catalogues Never Tell You", doesn't seem to think they are. they are.

Boroff states that most literary material is dull and boring, that almost sixty per cent of the college students today drop out of school, and that even college professors admit that of those professors admit that of those students that do graduate, very few are well educated. Higher education is now better than it was but is still not good enough. It is Boroff's opinion that a small school is better at helping a student mature than a large one. He points out, that, as Dr. Conant has stated, some small colleges require no more of a student han some high schools.

The most important "item" in education is the teacher. If the teacher is not a good one, then he is not able to "put across" an idea or neverle further than the second of the sec idea or provoke further thought and study. Boroff believes there many teachers who are in ept. He also says our universi-ties put too much stress on the lecture system, when the key to a real education is independent

Boroff feels the privacy of students is being invaded, making them cautious, and thus making them repress their ideas. A solution to this problem, he suggests, is to have discussions where teachers and students can exchange ideas, without the students being marked on what they say.

College professors are expected to be "good Joe's" and perfect, even though underpaid. Is it any wonder, says Boroff, that they lose sight of their purpose— to broaden the mental outlook of students—and think only of ob-taining a higher salary? Boroff believes that if there were more competition between teachers this problem could possibly by rectiproblem could possibly be recti-

To end his article Boroff states of education, "We are now

It gives no credit Toward graduation: But damned if it don't Reflect our nation.

—Warren C. Vinal '61

in a position to try the leap for excellence. We have the students; we even have the teachers. All we need is the will."

The author states that a small school is better in aiding a student to mature than a large school. In my opinion a large school is better for this purpose. There a student can meet other students of many more counstudents of many more countries, religions, and classes than he would at a small school. By he would at a small school. By meeting these different people a student learns of the beliefs of others. I believe this helps towards maturity. Also, in a large school you are "on your own" more than you would be in a small school. This means more responsibility, and thus more maturity.

I agree with Boroff that the

I agree with Boroff, that too agree with Boroff, that too much emphasis is put on the lec-ture system without discussion of ideas. Of course one must know a certain amount of facts, but how much will a student remem-how much will a student remember after he graduates?

I don't think it is fair to teachers to expect them to be perfect, but I can't see why this should cause them to lose sight of the purpose of their profession. I don't believe the problem would be aided any by more competition among teachers as Boroff suggests. I tend to think that teachers would be forcing the teachers would be forcing the students ahead faster and faster, students ahead raster and raster, soon they would be going too rapidly to learn anything.

Boroff is right, though. What we need to improve our educational system is the will. But do we have it?

Copland Lecture ...

(Continued from page 1)

developed on tape. Then there are new types of sounds created synthetically from vibrations or "radio static," for example, and taped directly or "mixed" with live music, and then taped.

Proud of the fact that he is an "American" composer, Copland does not feel that being labeled nationalistic limits his ability to write music. write music

Following the lecture and ques-tion period, a Coffee Hour was held for Copland in the Colonial

THE IVORY TOWER

Science fiction is about 90% unbelievably bad to anyone who has the slightest knowledge of literary styles. I make this state-ment because I have read most of what has been written in the last seven years.

Science fiction also has a vociferous following, who call themselves fen and who claim that science fiction will do just about anything but cure fallen

They make the point that science fiction has predicted everything that science has done for the last 50 years. This is prob-ably true, but science fiction has made so many statements it had

In the early 20's Hugo Gernsback founded a magazine called the Electrical Experimenter. This continues today as Amazing Stories. He wrote stories in ing Stories. He wrote stories in which he strung together educated guesses on future scientific developments in a plot that had no excuse for being. His most famous story is "Ralph 124C451". Read that slowly. In this he not only predicted radar but also the means of avoiding radar detection. Unfortunately, the stories are almost unreadable.

Recently, Mr. Gernsback made the statement that science fic-tion has a duty to put more sci-ence in the stories so that young ence in the stories so that young children will read them and become imbued with the dream of come imbued with the dream of science. I don't think this is go-ing to work. If any youth sees how science actually works as compared to what is depicted he will probably become an advertising executive.

The opposite extreme was typi-fied by the Tarzan series. This is known as "thud and blunder". Talk to anyone who has read science fiction for the last thirty or so years and he will tell that they just don't write like they used to. Thank goodness. These people probably haven't read these old stories for de-cades and remember them as they would like to. Stories of this they would like to. Stories of this type are very readable, for the five year old intellect.

One of the great virtues applied to science fiction by the fen is that it is constantly infusing new ideas into society. This is impossible because society just doesn't read science fiction. They can get all they want by reading the newspaper. Besides, science fiction, except for a very small handful of authors, hasn't had any new ideas.

Science fiction fen, plural of Science fiction ien, piurai or fan, are a very unique group of people. They would rather dis-cuss science fiction than read it. This literature has probably had more literary criticism than any other form. Get two fen together and they immediately produce a other form. Get two fen together and they immediately produce a fanzine. A fanzine is mimeo-graphed pamphlet that contains book reviews, reviews fanzines, poorly drawn pictures of bems. (Bug-eyed-monsters). Fen also form organizations like the Elves, Gnomes, and Little Men Chowder and Marching So-ciety. Honest.

So why do I read so much soi. ence fiction. Because the other 10% is superior to anything written. A few authors do write some brilliant works. The one virtue of science fiction is that you can write about unique, and many times unpopular, themes that would be accepted nowhere

There are very few rules to this literature, so Murphy's Law But just occasionally through this mass of unreadability a few thought-provoking ideas can be

Grutch Great As Redmen Smash Manhattan 73-57

Doug Captures Seventh Mass Hoop Record; Makes Good On 23 Big Points

Captain Doug Grutchfield set a new season scoring record for UMass basketball as he led the Redmen to a 73-57 sacking of Manhattan at the Cage Saturday night. The senior sharpshooter night. The senior sharpshooter ended Bill Prevey's 1952 mark of 474 when his 23rd and final marker gave him a 475 point to-

The win means that the Matt Zunic-coached Redmen can equal their own record of most victories in a season by winning their remaining two games.

The Zunics took an early 17-6 lead while the New Yorkers were plagued by poor shooting. UMass shot 43% from the floor and were never in trouble. Manhat-tan couldn't manage better than with Donny Black and Kirk Leslie taking a giant's share of the rebounds, the Redmen ran up a 39-24 half-time lead. Grutchice the game for the home forces.

The Jaspers opened the second frame with a full court press that failed to stop the Zunic's cool backcourt duo of Mike Mole and Jim Laughpus Mole's deib and Jim Laughnane. Mole's drib-bling skill in particular thwarted man-to-man defensive effort.

After Manhattan had cut the ad to 12, successive baskets by Grutch, Mole, and Leslie gave the Redmen a 49-29 bulge. Good hustling by the big city boys cut this lead to 15 but.six straight points, courtesy of Mole and Grutch, put UMass ahead to stay.

The Redmen further widen the gap with ten straight markers for a whopping 30 pt. lead of excitement in the otherwise drab affair. Numerous wet spots on the court—a result of Saturday's rain—provided much slip-ping and sliding as just about everybody took a spill. A valiant UMass ground crew performed creditably.

The Redmen subs finished the game while the out-of-staters chipped away at the lead.

Reserve center Chuck Fohlin had to alternate with Black after the big boy had acquired 3 personals in the first nine minutes

Mole was second in scoring with 16. He played a fine floor game.
Aggressive Kirk Leslie tossed

13. He and Grutch each had 11 rebounds. The Zunics are now 15 and 9 while the Jaspers have only a 6 and 10 record. Captain Doug should add to his total against Rhode Island on Tuesday and in the season's finale with New Hampshire. If they cop both, UMass will end with a 500 mark in the YanCon. I eeked out a win when they here with hustle and should be even stronger at Kingston. To beat them, UMass must stop a 5 man scoring attack and a bench that plays like first stringers.

SEE NO EVIL

KIRK LESLIE carefully helps out his

SPLISH SPLASH Manhattan's center, Haggerty, slips on the rain bedabbled Cage floor, loses the ball, and falls back onto CHARLIE FOHLIN. Both players hit the floor. Doug Grutchfield To Be Honored Saturday Captain Doug Grutchfield, the University of Massachusetts all-time scorer and holder of more scoring records than any other player in UMass basketball his-tory will be honored at the Redmen's final home game of the season this Saturday night against the University of New Hampshire.

In proclaiming this day "Doug Grutchfield Night" Director of Athletics Warren P. McGuirk indicated that a brief halftime ceremony would honor the Quincy native, just as two other former Redmen athletes were honored in past years (Bill Prevey in 1952 and Jack Foley in 1957) at the conclusion of brilliant basketball

In addition to being the Redmen all time scoring leader with 1226 points, Grutchfield holds records for most points scored in a single season, most points scored as a sophomore, most field goals made in one season, most field goals made in three years, most field goals scored in one game, and the highest field goals shooting percentage for one year as well as three years.

Doug has never missed a var-Doug has never missed a var-sity game in the past three years and the only game that he did not start in the 72 in which he has played was against Ameri-can International College during his sophomore year. Suffering from the grippe Doug played with a slight faver for only about with a slight fever for only about three minutes that night and the game marked the only time in his varsity career that he did not score at least one point.

During the past three years Grutchfield has led Massachusetts court teams in scoring 37 times and has been the team's top re more than twenty points on thirty occasions and his own individthe Cage. Doug also has the dis tinction of playing in more var-sity basketball games than any other Redman and every scores during games this week aaginst Rhode Island and New Hampshire, he will be adding to his current records.

DOUG GRUTCHFIELD Doug puts it up and in for two of his 23 points Saturday night.

Married and the father of two boys Grutchfield is majoring in physical education. His contribu-tions on the basketball court for Massachusetts during the last three years have been many and there is no doubt that a good part of the student body will turn out this Saturday night to pay tribute to a fine student athlete.

Photos by Patz

WMUA AT RHODE ISLAND The UMass-Rhode Island basketball game will be coming your way courtesy of Jim Trelease starting at 8:05 p.m. Tuesday night.

CELANESE INTERVIEWING ON CAMPUS

For dates and arrangements. see your Placement Director

Where chemistry means business ... there's more room to grow

In the past few years Celanese' wide ranging opera-tions in chemicals and plastics, as well as in chemical fibers, have broadened into new areas, and this forward looking, diversified company foresees an even greater range of products, markets, and interests coming tomorrow from today's scientific research and development, engineering and production skills.

You needn't be "slotted" at Celanese. There's plenty of room for you to grow-not only room and oppor-tunity, but encouragement to grow. For only with individual growth will this vigorous young company be able to meet its great, diverse tasks of tomorrow.

Wherever your technical interests lie-in chemicals, plastics, or fibers-there are opportunities for chemists, physicists, and engineers of all kinds—in research and development, in manufacturing, in technical service, in marketing.

Frosh Dump Stockbridge Squad 101-61

In the prelim, the frosh ended their season with their top scoring output, a 101-61 thrashing of Stockbridge. It was their seventh win in eight games.

A tyrannical domination of the boards and a fast break offense brought a 7-0 lead. Then the losbrought a 7-0 lead. Then the los-ers' Ted Hyland hit but it wasn't long before it was 22-8 and five new Braves made the scene.

With everybody getting into the scoring act, the deficit grew larger and larger in the second stanza. Giant Franz Van Bradsky from Kinderbrook, New York used his height to lead all scor-ers with 26. Helping him were Danny Laakso with 15 and Captain Roger Twitchell, 14.

Carl Huff led the Aggies with 18. Other players doing their bit for Stockbridge were Hyland, Bob Goyette and Al Clayton.

It was only fitting that team captain Rog Twitchell should score the final bucket, and that he did, at the same time putting the frosh over the 100 pt. mark for the first time this season.

LEARN TO FLY $3.80 Per Lesson

UMASS FLYING CLUB Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays 2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

Stockbridge Rifle Squad Defeats Marshall College

Three-position totals of 276 by Chuck Nelson and 275 by Dick Stenberg helped the Stockbridge Rifle team to its 1340 to 1305 win over Marshall College of West Virginia in a recent postal match.

Although Judd of the Marshall team fired a good individual 274, better team strength for the Aggies provided the final winning

Gymnasts Fly Over Cortland In Tune-Up For Powerful Temple

The Jamesmen outperformed Cortland State, Sat., in chalk-ing up their third victory of the season Reform the most season season. Before the meet coach Robert James said to the team,

by JIM E. MULCAHY '63
"This victory is not as important as the showing you boys must make to indicate your potential against Temple." The potential was displayed by the UMass gymnasts as they took first place in 5 of the 6 events, sweeping 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places in both the rope climb and high bar.

Don Cleary '61 pulled himself up the rope in 5.2 seconds. This, his fastest time of the year, is only one-tenth of a second slower

DON CLEARY

60-35 last Friday night to M.I.T.

at the W.P.E. Pool. The only bright moments for the Roger's men were the 200-yd. backstroke where Bruce Morton swam home for a first, and in the 50-yd. freestyle where Tony Lincoln took honors with a time of 24.6. Unfortunately, Fisette in the 100-yd. butterfly only took third after a false start by the field postponed the event, but not long enough for him to recover. Rut-kowski had another bad night, placing second in 440 and third in the 220-yd. freestyle. Other seconds went to O'Neill in the 200-yd. individual modern 200-yd. individual medley and Schuhle in springboard diving.

Chiras, DeFreitas, Leith, Coffey, and Desjardins took thirds in their respective events: 50-yd.

freestyle, diving, 100-yd. free, 200-yd. back, and 200-yd. breast-stroke. The last event, 400-yd. freestyle medley, was won by the Redmen, but came too late to do the deed.

UMass travels to Tufts on Tuesday where the competition should go a little easier than with

Dunsmore To Defend Title

The Men's Billiard Champion-ship will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. in the Bil-liard room of the Student Union Games Area.

William Dunsmore, sophomore defending champ, will attempt to retain his title when he meets Fred Kleiner, a senior.

The winner and runner up will each receive a trophy. All are invited to witness the 150 point

FROSH BASEBALL

There will be an important neeting of all freshman baseball candidates at 6:15 p.m., Monday February 27 in Room 10 of the Men's Physical Education Building.

than his personal record. Ralph Nichols '62 and captain Jim Bit-good '61 placed second and third with times under 6 seconds. From a Slow Start

From a Slow Start
These upperclassmen now feel confident of a good showing against Temple.

Our sweep on the horizontal bar was accomplished by three sophomores Dave Yates, Bruce McCracken, and Dan Gorman. Yates' light frame twirled and responded to overgrasps in a graceful manner which earned him first place. McCrackens graceful manner which earned him first place. McCrackens tightly gripped hands squeaked on the bar as he threw giant spins for second place. Gorman seemed to loose steam having a close call with his toes on the flyaway.

At the conclusion of these two events we enjoyed a 41-23 lead, but we had entered on the short end of a 17-15 count. This deficit was due to low scoring on the tumbling mats and the side horse.

The Cortland gymnasts tumbled over our other sophomore trio of Yates, Dick Norris, and Dick Peloquin, for a 9-6 lead. Yates the final man of the event, (Continued oo page 6)

UMass Dunked By M.I.T.; Recover For Two Firsts

The University Swimmers lost

FROSH LOSE

Following the varsity meet the UMass Frosh tangled with M.I.T. and were defeated 49-37. Mike and were defeated 49-37. Mike Bjornholm, a steady scorer for coach Rogers all season, set a freshman record in the 100-yd. backstroke. The new time now stands at 1:04.7. Not to be outdone, M.I.T.'s Matson established a new M.I.T. record of 54.7 for a new M.I.T. record of 54.7 for the 100-yd. freestyle.

the 100-yd. freestyle.

Other firsts for UMass were Rothschild in the 200-yd. freestyle, and Don Grant in the 200-yd. individual. The 200-yd. medley team of Rothschild, Pacocha, King, and Bjornholm finished up the meet with a winning time of 1:46.4.

The Freshmen swimmers now the Freshmen swimmers now stand at 2-3 overall with one meet remaining. Mt. Herman offers the last chance for their finishing with an even record next Wed. at three o'clock at W.P.E. pool.

Matmen Lose To Wesleyan

The UMass matmen, under the direction of Coach John Douglas, direction of Coach John Douglas, finished their regular season with a loss to a strong Wesleyan team, 33-5, last Saturday.

The only winner for the Redmen was Al Israel in the 130 pound class. John Chapman, a newcomer for the frosh team, took three points for the latter as they went down 26-3.

This was the worst season for

This was the worst season for This was the worst season for the wrestlers in many years, the reason for the 1-8 record lying both in the teams that UMass wrestled against and the fact that most of our men come to us without previous wrestling exper-

The wrestlers will visit MIT March 3 and 4 for the New England Intercollegiate Wrestling Association meet. Israel, Bill Batt and Tom Best have chances to place in the competition, it all depends on who they draw.

Lorillard's 3-way Campus Contest!

or Girls' Dorm Will Win This Fabulous

RCA 21-INCH COLOR TV SET!

Here's all you do. Have every member of the sorority save the empty packages of any of the Lorillard products displayed below. The sorority that has saved the most empty Lorillard packages will be awarded the RCA color television set. NOTE: 1. Wrap empty packages in bundles of 50. 2. Deliver to Univ. Store by March 13, 1961. 3. Winning sorority will be notified by March 17. In the event of ites—a blindfold drawing will decide the winner.

or Men's Dorm Will Win This Fabulous RCA 21-INCH

The rules for fraternities follow the same pattern as for sororities. The fraternity that saves the most empty Lorillard packages will also win this RCA color 21-inch television set. So start saving the empty packages of any of the Lorillard products shown below. NOTE: 1. Wrap empty packages in bundles of 50. 2. Deliver to Univ. Store by March 13, 1961. 3. Winning fraternity will be notified by March 17, 1961. In the event of ties—a blindfold drowing will decide the winner.

*THE Entire Student Body

CAN ENTER THE LORILLARD SWEEPSTAKES FOR THESE FOUR GREAT PRIZESI

READ COMPLETE SWEEPSTAKES RULES HERE:

1. Each entry must consist of one empty pack of any;
of the following brands: Kent, Newport. Old,
Gold Filters, Straights. Spring new plain piece, of paper which last he "hand" drawn blook letters of any of these brands drawn in any size.

and local laws.

5. Students whose immediate families are employed by the P. Lorillard Co. or its advertising agencies are not eligible.

Date of drawing: March 18, 1961.

PRODUCTS OF P. LORILLARD COMPANY First with the finest cigarettes—through Lorillard Research!

Debate Tournament Begins On March

The fourth annual Intramural Debate Tournament will begin its first round of debates Tuesday evening, March 7, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Succeeding debates will be held each Tuesday thereafter, at the same time. The prizes for the winning team will consist of a team trophy, to be placed in the winning house or dorm for the year, and individual, inscribed plaques for the two members.

All material for the debates will be supplied, so no research will be necessary. Each two-man debate team will be required to present two six-minute construction speeches, and one four-min-ute rebuttal argument. Two lossby any team eliminates them from further competition.

Membership on a house or dorm team is restricted to those with no previous intracollegiate experience in debating. Persons who have had little or no formal training may take advantage of a special help session, with Mr. Savaried and Mr. Angell of the Speech Department in charge The date for this "help session will be announced later. in charge.

All interested parties may sign All interested parties may sign up for a team by consulting either Mr. Savaried, Mr. Angell, or any member of the Debating Club, or by registering at the Speech Department Office, or on the special sign-up sheets located on the bulletin boards outside the Hatch and by the lobby counter. The number of teams that a house or dorm may have is not restricted and individual entries are also welcome. The deadline for applications is 12 noon, Sat-urday, March 4, 1961.

Every student is strongly urged o enter the tournament and bring some glory to his (or her)

St. John's Begins Five Year Combined Course Program

Jamaica, N.Y .- (I.P.) - As an outgrowth of a two year survey, St. John's University has inaugurated a five year professional program leading to a combined Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree and a Master of Business Administration degree.

The professional option is the first step in the liberally trained executive program underway at St. John's. The program has three parts: 1) the inauguration of a Graduate Division of the School of Commerce with a pro-gram of study built around a core curriculum in the basic hu-manities, 2) the publication of a special volume of Thought Patrns authored by the University faculty and leaders from the field of commerce and dedicated to the increased responsibilities of the executive in business today, and 3) the inclusion of a professional option for a student in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences to select a program of study resulting in combined baccalaureate and master of business administration degrees after a five year course of study.

The program permits a student seeking a BA in English, History, Economics or suitable major or a BS in Mathematics to integrate into the senior year of his pro-gram a series of courses leading gram a series of courses leading to an MBA in economics or management. Such an approach will not only produce a properly trained executive but will result in an economy of time. A student can secure his MBA at the end of five years, as opposed to the six and one-half to seven years which this normally takes.

THE UNIVERSITY STORE

Two Departments Sponsor Exhibit On DeTocqueville

The Library and the Depart-ent of Romance Languages (UMass) are jointly sponsoring an exhibit of books and photographs, "De Tocqueville and his Times." The famous author of Democracy in America, his tra-vels and the important personal-ities of his day in France and America are represented. The exhibit will be on display in the main lobby of the Goodell Library, March 1 through March 15.

Of special interest in the exhibit will be the complete works of De Tocqueville, reproductions of manuscripts by him and his contemporaries including Meis-sonier, Victor Hugo, Guizot and Taine. Portraits of several out-standing personalities of the day Thiers, Lamartine, Chateaubriand are of interest as well as caricatures by Daumier.

Attention of History 6 students is also called to this exhibit. De Tocqueville is the foremost his-torian of the French Revolution. Besides his Democracy in Amer. ca, De Tocqueville is the author of Ancien Regime.

LOST & FOUND

LOST: accounting book - Thursday night at 10 p.m. in front of the girls' dorms. Please return to Jim Varelas. Lambda Chi Alpha. Reward.

Lost: Foreign Policy in the Nuclear Age accompanied by a clip-board and writing paper, Sunday (of all days) from the Collegian Hour exam is next week. Contact Tracy Wilson, 319 Greenough or at the Collegian office.

LOST: A pair of glasses with black frames in a brown Lost while hitchhiking brown case. Northampton to Amherst Tuesday night. Contact E. Heyman, 224 Chadbourne.

CLASS OF 1963 Joe DiMauro for Vice-President

MIMEOGRAPHING PROMPT SERVICE

REASONABLE RATES ill Call For and Delive CALL Alpine 3-7877

CLUB DIRECTORY

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB Meeting in Guinness Lab, Room 10. Wednesday, March 1 at

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Lecture on "Structure of Mole-cules" to be given by Dr. Tho-mas Stengle on Wed., March 1, 8 p.m. in Peters Auditorium. Refreshments will follow the lecture. Business meetings at

Coffee Hour. Tuesday, Feb. 28, 3:30-5 p.m. in the Colonial

CONCERT ASSOCIATION

Meeting Wednesday, March 1, in Old Chapel Seminar

Final class tonight at 7 p.m. in E-13 of Machmer. Topic: Page make-up rules. All interested people invited.

This year as last there will be Lenten Services in the Com-

Apple Polish Hour to be held Tues., Feb. 28, 4 to 5 p.m. in

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

COLLEGIAN WORKSHOP

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

monwealth Room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m. until Easter. The services will be conducted this week by Rev. Donald Bossart, Methodist.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT the Cape Cod Lounge of the S.U. All are welcome S.U. All are welcome. GEOLOGY CLUB

Lecture by Gil LaFreniere on the "Geology and Spectacular Scenery of Coastal California" Mar. 1, 7:30 p.m. at Morrill Science Center, Room 138. Meeting open to all.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE

DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the S.U.

INTERNATIONAL WEEKEND

COMMIMTTEE

An important meeting of the General Committee for Inter-national Weekend will be held Tues., Feb. 28, 11 a.m. in the Nantucket Room of the S.U.

ROISTER DOISTERS

Meeting of the Roister Doister Publicity Committee to be held Tues., Feb. 28, 11 a.m. in the Middlesex Room of the S.U. Anyone interested is welcome.

SCROLLS

Nomination blanks for the se-lection of forthcoming Scrolls will be handed out to commuters in the Barnstable Room of the S.U.

S.U. DANCE COMMITTEE

A meeting of the S.U. Dance Committee will be held Tues., Feb. 28, 11 a.m. in the S.U.

Short meeting, Tuesday 7:30 p.m. in Collegian office for submission of manuscripts, etc.

Students Should Apply Now For Selective Service Test

Applications for the April 27, Applications for the April 21, 1961 administration of the Col-lege Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to take this test should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an applica-tion and a bulletin of information

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope pro vided to SELECTIVE SERVICE EXAMINING SECTION, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 586, Princeton, New Jersey. Applications for the April 27 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, April 6, 1961.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once. Test re-sults will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a Gymnasts ...

(Continued from page 5) brought the crowd to its feet applauding his routine. In his three passes along the sixty foot mat, he flipped, spun, and twisted into first place with the meet high score of 251 points. Norris and Peloquin finished sixth and

On the side horse, the light On the side horse, the light legged Petrocino once again beat our team of McCracken, Jim Adam '62 and Bob Sloan '63. The scoring was close, McCracken losing first place by only three points. He is our one competitive team member who had training in high school, Tom Steeves S'61 the team manager also had train-ing with McCracken at Wellesley High. Adam's fine leg circles High. Adam's fine leg circles earned him third place, while Sloan, steadily improving, came in fifth.

To a Fast Finish

With a 41-23 lead, only 8 points in the final two events were necessary for the 49 point majority and our third victory.

Yates performed on the "P" bars for Lee Munson '63, who had a sore thumb. He started off nicely but lost his balance and fell off. However, this bad luck did not affect McCracken and Charlie Paydos '62, who placed 3rd and 1st.

McCracken had a good rou-tine, centered around some fancy leaps and catches, but was spoiled by a poor dismount, Paydos grabbed the bars as if they were made for his hands and permade for his hands and per-formed his short routine deftly. His front somie dismount drew gasps from the spectators and points from the judges. These nine points put us over the top and allowed the flying ring team to perform without pressure.

On the rings, Paydos again copped first by employing his old reliables, speed and finesse. Captain Bitgood was only eight points behind Paydos. His score was due in part to his form on a "shoot to shoulder stand" but lost ground when he buckled under a quick flyaway.

Dave Amundson '62 finished fourth to give us a 12-4 advantage and the 62-34 victory.

EUROPE-NEAR EAST-395

Special Conducted Student Tours

ranean; sailing to Greek Islands, Rhodes, Cyprus and Israel. Includes guided tours, folk dancing, seminars, life on a kibbutz, etc., 27 days only $395 and up.

For All Your Travel Needs Call, Write or Visit Us Now ROYAL STUDENT TOURS (Div. of PATRA Inc.)
665 Fifth Ave., N.Y.C. • Tel.: PLaza 1-5540 •

LIBRARY 3 1961

FULL Collegian STAFF MEETING ON THURSDAY

VOL. XC NO. 51

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1, 1961

Centennial Office Will "I Led Three Lives" Will Be Move To Mem. Hall

by DIANE TOVET '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

Through careful planning for the past year and a half, the idea of moving the Centennial office from South College to Memorial Hall has finally become a reality. The office will be located in the Alumni Room on the second floor of Memorial Hall. Goldberg Heads Committee Headed by Dr. Goldberg, the Centennial Committee welcomed the invitation extended by the associate alumni through the executive secretary Evan Johns-ton to establish their office in quarters that are so conveniently located, and have such favorable conditions for effective work.

In addition, Dr. Goldberg feels it "most appropriate to have the Centennial developments focused in Memorial Hall because it dramatizes two central ideas.

Centennial Binds All Classes
"The first is that the whole

University community is involved in the Centennial Year; this means, not only the students, the faculty and administration, but also the alumni. Together these three groups go to make up what should be our vital University Community.

Continuity Stressed

"The second idea is that of continuity. This means that everyone connected with the Uni-versity, from the members of the youngest class now in college, to the oldest living alumni are a part of a vital single whole.

"Therefore it is most fitting to have the Centennial head-quarters in Memorial Hall, which is dedicated to the memory of the past members of this community whom we have lost, and to the future members of this commu-

Election Results Announced

Tuesday, Pete Bracci edged ahead of Joe DiMauro in an elecaneau of Joe Dimauro in an election for the vice-presidency of the sophomore class. After a recount, the tally was officially announced as 100 for Bracci and 97 for DiMauro, an unusually close result, but also an unusually low total

Still earlier this week, an elec tion was held at Hills South to elect a Senator from that dorm. The second election there in a week found freshman, Bill Cough-lin, polling 44 out of the 66 votes cast, his only opposition having been write-in candidates. An earlier election at the residence had been invalidated by the election's committee because of illegal campaigning.

of illegal campaigning.

Tonight at the Senate meeting,
Chief Justice of the General Court, Mike Kleinerman, will swear in Bracci and Coughlin as well as the following Senators who were elected last week:
Cindy Segel, Sorority Senator;
Morey Vroman, Commuters' Morey Vrooman, Commuters' Senator; and Ben Sackmary, Senator from Baker House.

Curtain Goes Up Tomorrow For Varieties

No poor devil would want to miss this year's production of Campus Varieties, sponsored by Adelphia and Revelers. The In-fernal Triangle will star Fred Shotz as Satan, Jean Alden as Carmen, and Don Brown as Rod-well.

The Infernal Triangle is the story of the Devil, who comes back to earth to perceive whether or not women are the cause of man's eternal damnation. What the Devil finds is Carmen, the most grasping, gold-digging, ego-centric woman on earth. A witty, sophisticated, omnipotent devil matches wits with Rodwell, Carmen's maltreated, miserly boy-friend, who has some fiendish help of his own.

(Continued on page 3)

Subject Of Philbrick's Talk Communist Infiltration Techniques And Methods Will Be Discussed

Philbrick has written two books Philbrick has written two books
—"I Led Three Lives", the story of his ordeal as a citizen, "Communist" and counterspy, and "The Queer Fish". "I Led Three Lives" became an overnight best-seller and was serialized in the New York Herald Tribune and in over 100 newspapers throughout the country.

country.
His Herald Tribune syndicated column, "The Red Underground", reached millions of other Americans, and has often exposed the secret plans of the Communists. Philbrick is supplied with the information by formation by many loyal Americans who occupy high positions within the underground apparatheir movements.

"I Led Three Lives" is now a top-ranking filmed television

It has been shown in 137 cities, including every large American metropolis. It won a George Washington Honor Medal from Freedom's Foundations, Inc. and has received 47 other awards from churches, veterans, civic and governmental bodies.

The television series, which stars actor Richard Carlson in the role of Philbrick, is based on from-the-record dialogue and on-the-scene photography. Philbrick worked closely with six writers and a team of researchers who worked on the programs.

Philbrick is also kept on call Congressional investigating (Continued on page 6)

Army Will Establish Local Strategic Unit

UMass has recently completed an affiliation agreement with the U.S. Army establishing a strate-

U.S. Army establishing a strate-gic intelligence unit on campus. The unit is headed by Maj. Norman G. Cournoyer, U.S. Army Reserve, Norman Cournoyer is an assistant professor of Food Technology, and formerly was commander of the 439th Strate-Intelligence unit at American University in Washington, D.C.

The unit will engage in research and analysis assignments under the Department of the supervision. Papers au-ng the establishment of it were signed by Dr. John thorizing

W. Lederle, and Lt. Col. Robert
D. Spencer, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence First U.S. Army.
The new unit has been designated the 420th Strategic Intelligence Research and Analysis nated the 420th Strategic Intelligence Research and Analysis Detachment. In addition to Maj. Cournoyer, the following reservists are members of the unit: Capt. Kirby Hayes, associate extension professor of Food Technology; E-4 Ronald LaCroix; and A/IC Ronald E. Hofmann. All A/IC Ronald E. Hofmann. All are associated with UMass either as, faculty or alumni. Interviews for other vacancies in the unit are being reviewed at the present time.

From left foreground: Merle Swardlick, Kathy Ryan, Pat Broulliard, Lana Canavan, Judy Lawson, Marie Brazao, Joni Knowles and Fred Shotz center.

At The State House

Rep. Thompson Urges UMass Fiscal Review

Thompson today urged the Joint Legislative Committee on Educa-tion to approve an order which he has submitted to establish a special nine-member commission to study the granting of greater fiscal responsibility to the trus-tees of the University of Massachusetts.

In making his request, through House Chairman, Cornelius Des-mond of Lowell, Speaker Thomp-son issued the following state-

"I have requested that a sincere and comprehensive study be made of the subject matter of House Bill No. 2076, presently pending before your Committee. I have been concerned with the frequent charges made by in-formed students of our Massachu-setts budgetary practices that our procedures unnecessarily hamstring university personnel in the discharge of their duties. I have also been disturbed to learn that Massachusetts is generally regarded as maintaining the most rigid control of any state in the union over state university budgeting

"I believe that the study I have proposed is of major importance to the long-range future of higher public education in Massachusetts. Many leading educators and political scientists who have studied the problem maintain that there is a strong correlation between the amount of fiscal autonomy given to the trustees and the quality of the education furnished at a state university.

"For these reasons, I have reached the conclusion that it is necessary for the General Court to examine this important prob-lem and to determine whether corrective legislation is neces-sary."

-Photo by Popple Fred Shotz '62, Satan, and Suzanne Drew '63, Circe members of the cast of Campus Varieties.

Toward UM Autonomy

Two bills that would give the University fiscal independence and decision-making power and freedom stood unopposed in the State House Committee on Education last we

The petitions made by Rep. Sumner Z. Kaplan would give the University autonomy if fiscal responsibility could be vested in the Board of Trustees rather than the state legislature. A statement made by Rep. Kaplan to support the bills indicates that this could be achieved by making more members of the Board of Trustees University alumni.

Representative Kaplan, a UM alumnus and staunch supporter of the University, argued that "no state university is included in the usual lists of institu-tions distinguished by the quality of their scholarship, research, and professional work, which is not vested . . . with authority which gives it considerable independence of the fluctuating political influence of current legislative direction." For example, the University of Michigan is noted as being one of the first schools to achieve a high academic standard. And, this was due to its fiscal independence.

Acting Provost Gilbert L. Woodside commented favorably on the autonomy proposal. He said tha "We would be a better University if we had autonomy," explaining that it would permit more "efficiency".

Certainly there are many obvious advantages to this proposal. That the University would be in a better position effectively to compete for more qualified faculty members is one of the most important reasons. With the power to determine faculty salaries, the University would also be in a position to retain the University would also be in a position to retain the University with the power of the property of the p tion to retain the up-and-coming faculty members

Immediate benefits would also be in sight for the student body. With a transfer of financial powers the Trustees would have the power to deter-mine the student payroll. Hopefully, student work-ers would be able to work for and get the muchneeded pay raise.

We can conclude from the nature of the possi-We can conclude from the nature of the possibilities opened by fiscal independence and from the comparison of the University with other state institutions that financial autonomy is needed here at the University. We of the Collegian desire the passage of these bills and hope that the State House will give full consideration to their meaningfulness and immense value . . . by endorsing them.

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870

Executive Board
Donald D. Johnson '61 Co-Chairman
Al Berman '62 Co-Chairman
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Editorial Editor
James R. Reinhold '61 Assistant News Editor
Ben Gordon '62 Sports Editor
Larry Popple '63 Photography Editor
Michael Cohen '61 Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62 Advertising Manager

EDITORIAL Pa

..... Joseph W. Bradley '64 Feature Associates:

n Peterso ger Cruff en's Page

Richard Haynes John Holden Gerald Kagan Jack Karas

Reporters:
Irwin Cherniak
Judy Clark
Norma Finch
Grace Fitzpatrick
Ellen Gaines
Jacqueline Gallivat
Irving Johnson
Special Reporters:
Jack Baptista
Mike Belanger
Doris Berry
Copy:

Patricia Ward

Ren Gordon Steve Daley W. John Lennon James E. Mulcahy PHOTOGRAPHY Jack Kessler Stan Patz

Bill Theroux Joel Tillman BUSINESS

rry Cohen ke Rosenthal ADVERTISING

Alan Savitt Robert Wallis Andy Shulman

TECHNICAL ADVISER

Marc L. Ratner

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1934, 34,00 per year; $2.50 per semester Coffice: Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. Member—Associated Collegiate Frees; Intercollegiate Press Daralline: Sun. Tues., Turns., 4:60 p.m.

The Case

For Capital Punishment

The following is the second in a series of articles on capital pun-The following is the second in a series of articles on capital punishment. The question of capital punishment as a value to society was raised last week. It has become the subject of much controversy and has aroused student opinion. The views expressed in this and subsequent articles in the series do no reflect the opinion of the

REPLY TO "COMPULSION"

Dear Paul,

I'm not going to try to write a ten-paragraph letter as you did because I know you can do a better job. I don't hate you for making the attack—I only feel sorry for you.

It would be unlady-like for me to repeat here my first reaction to your letter. However, my second reaction drew the conclusion that you aren't a very happy person. I humbly apologize for making y

Tell me, Paul, are you afraid of women? I'm not a psychology major and I've never met you — but please don't take out your hostilities on me. I assure you I'm quite harmless and wouldn't hurt you — as your lab partner or anything else.

If you'd care to discuss the issue of capital punishment on a more adult level, I'm at Knowlton —.

Marcia Ann Voikos

PART II

"The far-flung hunt for a little four-year old Edith Krecorius ended yesterday—when the body was found in a one-room flat—medical examiners indicate that she had been raped and then beaten to death—Police issued a nation-wide alarm for "the vicious degenerate" who had killed the girl. "No effort will be spared to bring him to justice."

After reading this account from the New York Times, can you honestly say that you believe in the entire abolition of the death penalty? Let's face it, it is difficult to be unemotional about such an issue; it is difficult to be rational. The individual can't live by reason alone. Our purpose is to achieve a middle-of-the-road attitude in dealing with capital punishment.

I realize that the arguments set forth in this series are not conclusive in themselves. They are merely scientific theories which can be analyzed, rejected, or improved. Agreed, the death penalty is against most religious and humane institutions, but it is the most practical way to achieve justice!

Concept of Free Will

Every human being has within him certain basic and dormant every human being has within him certain basic and dormant instincts, which, under a given set of circumstances, can lead to a capital offense. We are not concerned with all of those individuals who commit crime, but only those who refuse or are incapable of rehabilitation. These people refuse to live in harmony with society, and this refusal stems from their own free will.

In Self-Defense

Penalty of death is the only thing the criminal fears. If the death penalty were abolished, the killer would then fear only the ultimate punishment: life imprisonment. But this would logically and inevitably result in release of the prisoner by sympathetic parole board members who subconsciously rebel against capital punishment, together with the services of a clever lawyer. Consequently, the evil cycle continues—crime, imprisonment, parole—.

No, the alternative of life imprisonment is unsubstantiated for this reason: If the individual can kill in self-defense, then why cannot the State? For, in a democracy, is not the State merely an aggregation of individuals designed to protect each other and maintain security?

Moreover, a major function of the government is to maintain our security from without which it does by sending soldiers to their death in battle. From this standpoint, the individual states must have the authority to maintain its security from within, in order to protect society. Are we to let the patriots die and the murderers go free? Are we to let them return to society to commit more crimes?

Retain the Death Penalty—and Achieve Justice

As long as there are people, there will be crimes. Society seeks Justice (not to be confused with revenge) and manifests it by correcting the social conditions that breed crimes and by insuring that the killer won't commit the same crime twice. Therefore, the death penalty embodies the public with the ideals of justice and keeps the symbol of "lex talionis" alive: The State believes in humanity where it can afford to be humane and achieves vindication when it cannot.

It is argued that since one cannot give life one should not talk.

It is argued that since one cannot give life, one should not take life. This idealism is employed by some states as an example for crime prevention. But it doesn't work because the killer is thinking only of the crime he is committing—not the sin he is committing.

The Deterrence Factor

The Deterrence Factor

Since it is the duty of each state to protect its citizens by the most effective means, the object of the death penalty is to deter criminal offenses from being committed. I'll admit that deterrence is only a derived rationalization of revenge which stems from basic human emotions, primarily, fear. On the other hand, here is what Edwin L. Mechern, former governor of New Mexico states:

"It is my feeling that swift and sudden punishment with the sure knowledge that it is forthcoming is one of the greatest deterrents to the commission of criminal acts."

Even church groups advocate the death penalty as morally right: Even church groups advocate the death penalty as morally right: On June 1, 1941, Pope Pius XII sanctioned capital punishment as legitimate. Agreed, the death penalty has been misused in the past for political manipulations, but not today. Under the U.S. Constitution, it is impossible to convict a criminal of a major crime without any clearcut or conclusive evidence. In other words, the death penalty is not sentenced arbitrarily in America!

-Marcia Ann Voikos '63

LETTERS THE COLONEL VS. THE CO-ED

Rage on, Controversy, swell and grow, For although to no avail, You replace the debate on old Socpro, And the Senate's S25, which chases its tail.

We watch while a female David is hooted; She dares to oppose a modern Goliath.
Unable are even the grey-flannel suited To convert this militant monolith,

Perhaps some tocsin is nowadays needed To cure the apathy on this reserve; The Colonel would have it all go unheeded; However, his status he must preserve.

Thus the Co-ed's talk of a Free Thought roster Brings forth a charge of undemocratic; For we mustn't abandon our military posture Nor an arms race to please a martial fanatic.

So here's a proposal for all to espouse: That Umie's good President should mimic the work Of that New Frontiers man in our White House Who put the silencer on Arleigh Burke.

CONTEMPORARY JAZZ

By RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

At last, the brilliant veteran arranger, Quincy Jones, has a band of his own . . . a band that is technically capable of doing just what he wants it to do. Quincy has been around for his years . . . arranging for the bands of Dizzy Gillespie, Lionel Hampton, and others. Although Dizzy's famous big band was enthusiastic and swinging, its section work was sloppier than a Foreign Legion band.

The list of sidemon blowing for Origin 1.

The list of sidemen blowing for Quincy Jones today reads like an all-star lineup. In the trumpet section are no less than six of the top soloists and section men in action (Ernie Royal, Lennie Johnson, Lee Morgan, Nick Travis, Art Farmer and Jimmy Maxwell). Among the five-man sax section are Phil Woods and Sahib Shibab. Julius Watkins blows French born and the trombone section features Jimmy Cleveland, Urbie Green, Frank Rehak, and Jimmy Cleveland, Urbie Green, Frank Kenak, and Billy Byers. But the group does not sound like one of those over-promoted "all-star" sessions where the winners of some jazz poll get together and try (only the most dissonant to outclash each other . . . (only the most dissonant personalities win in each category). The section work is fleet and precise . . . even in the most complex interplay between the woods and brass, they remain clean supple and surjecting. remain clean, supple and swinging.

main clean, supple and swinging.

The album, "The Great Wide World of Quincy nes," rejuvenates some heretofore over-worked and introduces some new compositions.

On "I Never Has Seen Snow," (Harold Arlen and Truman Capote) Phil Woods blows a moving "backwoods" alto sax which, with the orchestra, creates a mood of some simple native of the Georgia "earth" who truly "never has seen snow."

Bill Potts' original "Eesom," is one of those singing things that sets the whole band lyrically rocking and quietly driving . . building one riff on top of another. All the arrangements are polished and professional . . . but without that "well-oiled machine" sound machine" sound.

There is no strain in listening to this light mo-There is no strain in listening to this light modern jazz. One does not have to understand what is going on in order to enjoy it... although the "heart and brain" listener will get double the pleasure. The quality of the Mercury stereo recording (SR 60221) is such that listeners were astounded at hearing a twenty-piece band come to life in my nine by nine room. nine by nine room.

nine by nine room.

Quincy Jones certainly has one of the freshestsounding big bands around. The sounds are modern and original, but happily, the music is not "far-out" or esoteric. I could say that this band has almost a popular appeal . . . and without compromising its jazz expression. Besides playing concert, Quincy also has a "book" (group of arrangements) for dances. All in all, this band is as happy and fresh as the new spring breezes melting the dirty roadside snow.

STATICISM

"He (the student) is interested primarily in the maintenance of the status quo-a very comfortable status quo which makes him the sought after darling of business and industry and the recipient of a generously paying job or fellowship immediately upon gradua-

> -Edward D. Eddy, Jr. Provost, University of New Hampshire. (1960)

Collegian To Sponsor Four College Best Dressed Contest

Glamour magazine's 5th an-al "Best Dressed Girl" Contest opens officially at UMass tomor-low. The nomination blanks for andidates for the title will be available in the Collegian office. Blanks for fraternities, sororities, and dorms will be sent to them.

Standards for judging the girls should include grooming, taste, figure and posture, and appropriateness of clothes to the girl's life and activities.

The girl who wins the UMass contest will be entered in Glamour's national contest, competing against hundreds of girls from colleges all over the coun-

by PAT WARD '61, Senior Reporter
gazine's 5th ansed Girl" Contest at UMass tomornation blanks for terviewed and entertained, feted and photographed and appear as and photographed, and appear as featured models in Glamour's annual college fashion show.

The ten lucky winners will appear in Glamour's August issu which is devoted to college girlspear in Glamo beauty, fashions, fads, interests, achievements, careers -

This is the second time that the Collegian has sponsored the contest. Eleanor Galbraith, who was the UMass Best Dressed Girl in 1959, was one of Glamour's ten national winners.

Bus Service Inaugurated

On February 13, 1961 a free bus service between UMass, Smith, Mount Holyoke, and Amherst was inaugurated. Its purpose is to provide transportation for students who have elected courses at any of the other in-

A card from the Provost's office is issued to authorized students. A fluid schedule has been established to accommodate the majority of students traveling between the four colleges.

> IS COMING TO YOUR CAMPUS ON MARCH 3. Your Placement Office will give you details.

DIRECTORY

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB
Meeting Wed., Mar. 1, in Rm.
10, Gunness Lab. at 7:30 p.m.
AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS
Loit diagram.

IECHANICAL ENGINEERS
Joint dinner meeting with the Western Mass. section of ASME Wed., Mar. 1, in the SU
Ballroom. Dinner: 6:45 p.m.
Meeting: 8:15 p.m. Prof. Day of the University will speak on "Fuel Cells." The ASME full tuition scholarship will then be awarded awarded.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Lecture on "Structure of Mole-cules" to be given by Dr. Tho-mas Stengle on Wed., March 1, 8 p.m. in Peters Auditorium, Refreshments will follow the lecture, Business meetings at

This year as last there will be

Lenten Services in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m. until Easter. The services will be conducted this week by Rev. Donald Bossart, Methodist.

COLLEGIAN

There will be a full staff root.

There will be a full staff meeting Thursday, March 2, 11 a.m. in the Commonwealth Room.

COMMUTERS CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Mar. 1, at 11 a.m. in the Hampden Rm., SU. There will be a discussion of the last dance and plans will be made for another dance and a hayride in the spring, All cummuters invited. nmuters invited.

CONCERT ASSOCIATION

Meeting Wednesday, March 1, in Old Chapel Seminar Room. DEMOLAY

Meeting Wed., Mar. 1, at 7 p.m. in the Masonic Temple. Initiation Degree Sat., Mar. 4, at 7 p.m. in the Temple.

GEOLOGY CLUB

EOLOGY CLUB
Lecture by Gil LaFreniere on the "Geology and Spectacular Scenery of Coastal California"
Mar. 1, 7:30 p.m. at Morrill
Science Center, Room 138. Science Center, Room Meeting open to all. HAYMAKERS SQUARE

DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the S.U. HORSE CLUB

Charter meeting Thurs., Mar. 2, at 11 a.m. in the UMass Horse Barn. Membership open to all experienced riders.

MANAGEMENT CLUB

Organization meeting Thurs., Mar. 2, at 11 a.m. in Rm. 124, Draper Hall. Election of of-ficers. Refreshments. New

RECREATION CLUB

Mrs. Theresa S. Brungardt, a prominent international figure in recreation and current State Director of Recreation for Ver-mont, will speak to the Rec-reation Club on Sunday, March 5, at 3 o'clock in Bowditch

b, at 3 o'clock in Bowditch Lodge. Mrs. Brungardt has been an outstanding member of the 1960 White House Conference on the Aging. She has served as a president of the American Regrestion Society and better Recreation Society and has re-ceived its Presidential Citation and Fellow Award. The Recreation Club has re-

The Recreation Club has re-cently affiliated as a student chapter with the American Recreation Society.

"BEST DRESSED" CONTEST

Nomination blanks for Glam-our Magazine's fifth annual 'Best Dressed Girl" Contest can be picked up Thursday in the Collegian office. Blanks for soro Cottenan office. Bianks for soro-rities, fraternities, and dorms will be sent to them. All nominations must be turned in by Thursday March 9 at noon.

Campus Varieties ...

(Continued from page 1)

The outcome of this battle of wits and bank audits is quite different from what one might expect.

Just as it takes all kinds of world it takes people to make a world, it takes all kinds to make a hell. The characters range from two drunker beatniks and an Italian restaurant thief to Harvey Adams, who receives his horns and tail in hell.

The curtain goes up at 8 p.m. tomorrow evening in Bowker Auditorium, Tickets are on sale at the S.U. box office. Any remaining tickets will be sold at

MIMEOGRAPHING

PROMPT SERVICE REASONABLE RATES Will Call For and Delive CALL Alpine 3-7877

STONE & WEBSTER ENGINEERING CORPORATION

Seattle

Houston

Boston Chicago Pittsburgh

San Francisco

ti (NU); 3. Hayward (NU) Time, 5.2

seconds.

Mile run—1. Balch (UM); 2. Parillo (NU); 3. Abelon (NU) Time 4:02 (distance only 9/10 mile).

45-yd. high hurdles—1. Lytle (NU); 2. Banks (UM); 3. Lucey (UM) Time, 6.1 seconds.

45-yd. high hurdles—1. Lytle (NU);
2. Banks (UM); 3. Lucey (UM) Time,
6.1 seconds.
600-yd. run—1. O'Brien (UM); 2.
Bolton (NU); 3. Dean (NU)* Time, 1:17
Two-mile run—1. Parillo (NU); 2.
Baleh (UM); 3. Buschmann (UM);
Time, 10:018.
45-yd. low hurdles—1. Banks (UM);
2. Lytle (NU); 3. LaMarre (UM);
Time 2:23.1.
1000 yd. run—1. Abelon (NU); 2.
O'Brien (UM); 3. LaMarre (UM) Time
2:23.1.

35-lb weight throw—1. Krastin (NU); Karshick (UM); 3. Giddings (UM)

2. Karshick (UM); o. Grand Distance 42;.

Broad Jump-1. Flagg (UM); 2.
Lytle (NU); 3. Reilly (UM) Distance.

Lytle (NU); 3. Rem., 20'3'4''.

Pole vault 1. Lynch (NU); 2. Anderson (NU); 3. Pruyne (UM); Height

High jump-1. Tie, Ward (UM) and Anderson (NU); 3, LaPier (UM) Height, 6'2".

10-lap relay-1. UMass (Flagg, Harrington, Young, Carpenter). Time, 3:21.8.

Stockbridge Puck

Squad Figures In

Upset Over SPE

Stockbridge upset the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity on Febru-ary 22, Wednesday evening in a hockey game on the Orr Rink at Malkasian scored two goals and Anderson of Stockbridge scored another two. Derr and Blood each added another, along with Stribley and Brooks who each added a point. Both goalies, Harris and Galvin, played ex-ceptionally well.

Sigma Phi Epsilon took a one

NOW! WE'VE GOT

TYPEWRITER PAPER

FAMOUS BRAND EASY-TO-ERASE

AT THE LOWEST

PRICE YET!

Amherst College.

Trackmen Overpowered By Northeastern Champs 66-47 As Flagg Takes Two Events

Powerful Northeastern, greater Powerful Northeastern, greater Boston champion and conqueror of all but one of its rivals, added the UMass trackmen to its list of victims by a score of 66-47 last Saturday at the N.U. Field House. The meet featured some of the closest competition in recent years in New England some of the closest competition in recent years in New England Collegiate track which the point totals do not indicate.

The Huskies' Joe Donahue opened the meet with a 52'\%' victory in the 35 lb. weight toss with teammate Buzz Krastin right behind at 51'5\%'' UMass' Dick Ward and Ernie Karshick came up with personal bests of 50'7\%'' and 50'3'', finishing third and fourth. It was the first time that four men ever reached 50 feet in this event in a UMass dual meet and less than 1\frac{1}{2} feet separated them.

But even tighter competition followed in the broad jump.

large trighter competition followed in the broad jump. Loren Flagg scored the first of his two victories for the Redmen in this event, doing 20'3½". Bill Lytle of the N.U. squad was secon at 20'2½". Jim Reilly of UMass was third at 20'2½" and Lucey of UMass placed fourth at 20'1" as only 2½" separated the four men. Flagg then won the 45 yard dash by inches and led off the winning UMass relay

The nerve-racking meet continued with N.U.'s Krastin taking the shotput at 42' and Karshick

by ABE SHEINKER '62

by ABE SHEINKER '62 and George Giddings of the Redmen taking second and third at 40°94" and 40°74" respectively.

UMass' Dave Balch was robbed of the Cage record in the mile when the lap-counter gave the wrong signal causing the milers to run one less lap. Balch coasted to a 4:02 time in the 9/10 mile race. 9/10 mile race.

Ken O'Brien powered his way to a win in the 600 while the soft dirt track kept Balch and O'Brien from duplicating their victories in the 2-mile and 1000 victories in the 2-mile and 1000 respectively. The leg-tiring surface held the two sophomores to second places in these races. Ward ended the meet by "psyching" out ex-high school teammate Will Anderson of N.U. with a tie in the high-jump at 6'2". Anderson had done 6'5" in a meet only last week.

The Redmen lost only four

The Redmen lost only four events by more than one point, being beaten 8-1 in the weight throw, pole vault, and two hur-dling races. But if UMass was weak in four contests, North eastern was weak in none, show ing the perfect team balance which is making the Huskies hard to beat. Their only loss, to Bowdoin, was precipitated when several key men could not get to the school because of a blizzard. The Redmen, row 1-1, meet

New Hampshire at the Cage as

The Rhode Island Rams have met their challenge, and have de-feated the Redmen. By doing so, the Rams have sewed up the Yankee Conference crown, and the bid to the NCAA playoffs.

The team that the Rams will be up against in the opening round of the NCAA tourney will be the number two team in the nation, St. Bonaventure. And who knows, maybe the Rams can take them. No one thought that Nia-gara could beat the Bonnies either, but they did, 87-77.

This was just about the greatest upset of the year, because of the fact itself, and other considerations. What considerations?
St. Bonaventure hadn't been beaten on its home court since 1947. Also, if they had beaten Niagara, it would have been the 100th straight victory on the home court, Well, c'est la vie,

Spring is just around the coras far as Head Coach Vic squad will begin today and last for a couple of weeks. The lacrosse team, led by Coach Dick Garber, has been out practicing behind the cage for about a week now, and the rest of the spring squads will be up and at it within a few days.

The Mass wrestling squad will be traveling to MIT March 3 and 4 to participate in the New Eng-land Intercollegiate Wrestling Association meet. Although the squad has had a bad year, they are looking for some possible in-dividual placing in the New Eng-land standings. Best of luck to Coach John Douglas and crew.

POT LUCK

Well, they thought John Tho-mas would defeat Russia's Valery to nothing lead at the beginning, but was quickly tied by Stock-bridge. Stockbridge held the lead to the end of the game after that.

Brumel in the A.A.U, meet, but it was no dice. Coach Ed Flanagan of B.U. had stated that John's trouble was a slowing down in his approach and take-off, so that he was jumping from off, so that he was jumping from a near standstill, but it looks as if that wasn't the clue.

Thomas couldn't make it over the bar at 7'1", although he had cleared 7'1" at the New York meet the week before. Brumel also didn't do as well as expected for he impred a "mee" 7'2". ed, for he jumped a "mere"

Brumel has commented that Brumel has commented that he's "sorry" that he didn't do better, but he's out to be much better at the Knights of Columbus meet in Boston, Friday. I stuck my neck out in my last column, saying that Brumel would make 7'5" at the A.A.U. meet, and it was instituted and the state of the same of th and it was justly severed by toppling bar (blade?), but take the same chance this time. I don't think Thomas will come close to Brumel. He seems to choke in the clutch, as he has done all along, and will probably be true to form Friday. Time will

The A.A.U. meet was hardly a failure for the U.S., however, as Ralph Boston of Tennessee State smashed his own indoor broad jump record by flying 26'612", beating out the threatening Ter-Ovanesyan of the Soviet

Five colleges have been selected to represent the East in the U.S. ski finals. Dartmouth, Maine, Middlebury, New Hampshire and Williams were chosen by the Eastern Intercollegiate Ski Association, the E.I.S.A. meet, usual determinant of the teams, having been cancelled because o

Don't forget to be at the Cage Saturday night when the Redmen take on the New Hampshire Wildcats in the final game of the season. Doug Grutchfield, the greatest courtster ever to play for the Redmen, will be honored.

EXTRA

The Redmen basketball quad was defeated by the ams of Rhode Island last squad was defeated by the Rams of Rhode Island last night, 83-73, at Kingston. The Rams thus clinched the 1960-61 Yankee Conference cham-pionship. For complete details the game, see Friday's WHO'S WHO PICTURES Index picture will be taken Thursday, at 11 a.m. in front of Morrill Hall. In the event of rain, photo will be taken at the same time on March 9.

MORE SUN

MORE SNOW

For folders, information or reservations, write lodge of your choice or Box CD, Stowe Area Association, Inc., Stowe, Vermont.

BETWEEN CLASSES... get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

Now at a new, money-saving low price, we have fine quality Eagle-A Type-Erase — the paper that's famous for cleaner, faster typing and easy erasability. At the touch of a pencil eraser, typing errors "wipe" right off the surface of Type-Erase, leaving no mark. Saves time . . . makes your work neater. Comes in a budget-priced pack of 100 sheets, 8½" x 11", in medium or heavy weight, plain or 3-hole punched. Free with every pack — a Letter Placement Guide to help you type neater letters and reports. EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE

LEARN TO FLY

$3.80 Per Lesson UMASS FLYING CLUB
Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays
2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

... the paper that erases perfectly with a pencil erase

Made by American Writing Paper Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., manufacturer of Eagle-A Boxed Typewriter Papers

Buy your EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE PAPER today at

THE UNIVERSITY STORE

SAE Defeats Kappa Sig To Gain Slot In Quarter Finals

Rejects And Black Labels Obtain Monday Night Spots

by JAY BAKER '63 SAE topped Kappa Sigma 31- on weekd 22 in the Fraternity League play-offs to gain a quarter final berth for the campus champion-

Other winners who have reached the quarter finals are the Rejects who defeated the Robbies of the Mixed League, SAE meets the Rejects Monday night.

A strong Black Labels team set aside the Untouchables without much difficulty and will meet Greenough, the Dormitory champ-

The quarterfinals were played Monday night and the semi-finals are to be played Wednesday night at 8:15 at the cage.

WRESTLING

Intramural Wrestling formally begins March 7 and goes until March 17. All the matches will be held in the cage from 4-6 p.m.

on weekdays. There is still time to enter, all applications have to be in Coach Cobb's office by Fri-

Also this year as in the past day March 3 at 5:00 p.m. VOLLEYBALL the Intramural Department is sponsoring a Volleyball Tournament, All rosters have to be into the Intramural Office by Friday March 3 at 5:00 p.m.

UMASS VS. UNH

Just a reminder that the In-tramural campus champion will play the University of New Hampshire campus champion

Grutch Leads In Western Mass Scoring Competition

Doug Grutchfield, who has been chasing Bob Mahland of Williams for two seasons, finally williams for two seasons, finally leads the Western Mass. college scoring race with a 19.7 average. The slender 6-4 senior from UMass and North Quincy flipped 42 points in two games to go ahead by a narrow two-tenths of a point.

a point.

Mahland was held to 21 points in his last two games to fall under the 20-mark for the first time this season at 19.5.

Can Thank Amherst
Grutchfield relinquished point supremacy to his Williams foe around the mid-season mark a year ago and has been trailing ever since. Last year, Mahland took top honors, 18.2 to 17.8. The UMass captain can thank Amherst for his sudden rise to

Amherst for his sudden rise to the top. The Lord Jeffs held Mah-

New W.A.A. Officers Listed; Bowling, Basketball Results

by MICKEY ADAMSON '61

The final winners of the twenty-five team intermural bowling and Wed. nigh

- Alpha Chi Omega I
- 3. Dwight III

4. Dwight II
Another individual round robin bowling tournament will begin the first week in March. The sign-up sheets are posted in the dorms and sororities now.

The volleyball tournament started on Feb. 28th and the land to one point last Tuesday— and this was the tide-turner. Grutchfield already has wiped out two all-time Massachusetts records this year. His 475 points tops by one the season high set by Bill Prevey in 1952. Doug also has totalled 1226 points in three years. The previous career mark was 1081 set by Jack Foley in 1957.

only unanimous choice on the All-Yankee Conference team a year ago, Grutchfield has sparked his team to two straight titles in the Springfield invita-tion tourney and was rewarded both times with the MVP trophy games will be played on Tues. and Wed. nights from 5-6.

The Naiad performances will take place on March 9, 10, and 11. Tickets may be obtained on Mon. and Tues. next. A delegation of Naiads will journey to Mt. Holyoke this week to view Holyoke's Water Ballet.

At a game recently held at Mt. Holyoke, the UMass basketball team was defeated 37-28.

This past Saturday two UMass teams participated in a playday here against Mt. Holyoke and Springfield UMass I beat Springfield and UMass II, but lost in the final seconds by two points to Holyoke. UMass II was defeated in all its games, The UMass swimming team at the same time was outclassing the Springfield girls. The next game for the team will be at the Mt. Holyoke playday on March 11th.

There will be Co-Rec this Fri-This past Saturday two UMass

There will be Co-Rec this Friday night at 7 p.m. in the WPE.

Congratulations to the following women who will take their offices on the WAA board at the banquet on March 14th:

Pres Ellie Harrington
VPres Ann Huska
Secy Marilyn Wood
Treas Pat Juskiewicz
Publicity Peg Bagdon
Co-Rec Barb Lavalette
Playday Carolyn Jenkins
Archery Nancy Nichols
Badminton Kay Reagen
Basketball Doris Woodworth
Bowling Mary Mayo
Field Hockey Diane Anderson
Gymnastics Sue Aldrich
Naiads Lucille Zalesky
Skiing Judy Williams
Softball Judy Duggan
Swimming Jean Rull
Tennis Bev DeMarco
Volleyball Barb Viera

Meet The REDMEN

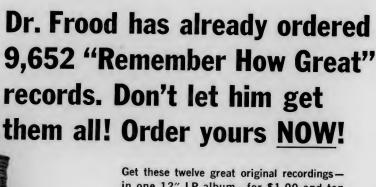

KIRK LESLIE

A graduate of Pittsfield high Kirk, a 6'5", 190 lb. Junior, was a top man on last year's squad although not becoming eligible until second semester, He has an excellent jump shot and is best off the offensive boards. A business major, Kirk is currently the Redmen's second highest scorer and one of the most valuable defensive players on the team.

COLLEGE ROUND-UP

INDIVIDUAL SCORING

(x	15	F	Pts.	AV
24	196	83	475	19.
20	155	81	391	19.
23	152	43	347	15.6
23	137	46	320	13.5
24	126	78	330	13.7
18	103	37	243	13.5
21	102	70	274	13.6
21	102	68	272	12.9
24	118	65	301	12.8
21	78	90	246	11.2
21	96	48	240	11.4
21	76	70	222	10.5
18	65	51	181	10.0
	24 20 23 23 24 18 21 21 24 21 21 21 21	24 196 20 155 23 152 23 133 23 137 24 126 18 103 21 102 21 102 24 118 21 78 21 96 21 76	24 196 83 20 155 81 23 152 43 23 133 73 23 137 46 81 103 37 21 102 70 21 102 68 24 118 65 21 78 99 21 96 48 21 76 70	C II F PIA. 24 196 83 475 29 155 81 391 23 152 43 347 23 153 73 339 24 126 78 330 18 103 37 243 21 102 70 274 21 102 68 272 21 102 68 272 21 78 99 246 21 78 99 246 21 76 70 222 1 76 70 222 18 65 51 181

in one 12" LP album-for $1.00 and ten empty Lucky Strike packs! Hurry! Order this fabulous album now! Here's a real collectors' item-the original recordings of twelve musical classics together for the first time! Great hits of swing, jazz and popular music magnificently reproduced by Columbia Record Productions on a 12" 331/3 LP. It's an unprecedented offer. Order your album right now. Just send one dollar and ten empty Lucky Strike packs (easier to mail if you flatten them) together with the filled in shipping label below to "REMEMBER HOW GREAT," BOX 3600, SPRING PARK, MINNESOTA. Here are the great songs, great artists included in the "Remember How Great" album:

> LOUIS ARMSTRONG COUNT BASIE LES BROWN CAB CALLOWAY Blues in the Night
>
> XAVIER CUGAT TOMMY DORSEY

EDDY DUCHIN DUKE ELLINGTON HARRY JAMES ANDRE KOSTELANETZ MARY MARTIN My Heart Belong: DINAH SHORE Buttons and

SHIPPING LABEL OUR NAME (PRINT YOUR NAME HERE) Offer good only in U. S. A. and Puerto Rico.

Yeshiva Tops UMass In Insurance Debate

-Photo by Bill There

UMass team pictured here in debate with Yeshiva. From left to right: Joseph Tryba, Christine O'Connor, Nathan Dendin, and David Epstein.

The UMass Debating Society met with representatives of Yeshiva University's debating team Monday February 27, at 3:00 in the Plymouth Room of the Student Union. The question debated was, whether or not the United States should adopt a program of compulsory health in-surance for all its citizens. This is the national intercollegiate topic for this year. It will be dis-cussed by the Debating Society at the New England Forensic Council Tournament and at the Tufts Tournament on March 10 and 11.

and 11.

Speaking for UMass were freshmen Joseph Tryba, the club's president, and Christine O'Connor, the secretary, Jay Savereid, Assistant Professor of Speech and the club's advisor, acted as comb. Indeing was Stuart Maccomb. coach, Judging was Stuart Mac-Kown, a graduate student at the University.

From Yeshiva University in
New York, the oldest and largest American university under Jewish auspices, were sophomores

Will Speak On Business

The second in a series of colloquia sponsored by the UMass School of Business Administration will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 1, 1961 in the Middlesex Room of the S.U. Building. The speaker will be Professor Walter G, O'Donnell of the School of Business Administration and the topic is entitled "The Search for A Philosophy of The Search for A Philosophy of nagement." Dr. O'Donnell is President of the Management Philosophy Colthe Management Philosophy Col-lege of the Institute of Manage-ment Sciences and has con-tributed many scholarly articles to professional journals. He has spent much time researching management philosophy concepts and his interdisciplinary approach to this subject should be of in-terest to all. terest to all.

David Epstein and Nathan Den-

The affirmative appeal was made by Yeshiva. They concluded that health insurance is a necessity which should be provided by the government, and presented a plan for compulsory insurance. UMass, in rebuttal, stated that the status quo is capable of han-dling any problem which does exist machine especially to resolve abstract problems.

After a close debate, the decision was awarded to Yeshiva.

M.I.T., with cooperation from I.B.M., will try to develop a system by which users can communicate with the computer from special substations linked by cable to the machine.

stations will include a form of "drawing pad," so that an engineer or student can communicate with the machine in hand-drawn

In addition, a user would be-quire a visual display device, like a TV receiver, to obtain in-lenge, a melding of man and

Auxiliary devices at the subshapes and figures.

formation such as graphs from

W. O'Donnell | THE UMASS INTERROGATOR-

A Campus Opinion Poll by DORIS BERRY '64

As students rush from class to class, they follow the routes which are most convenient for them. With the rain and melting snow, these unpaved paths are becoming more and more difficult to walk along. Since the spring thaws are approaching, the question as to whether or not these paths should be paved will be brought up once again,

The Interrogator has given the students and faculty a chance to express their opinions by asking this question: Do you think that it would be beneficial to the student body as a whole if the most im-

Alna Werme '62 from Johnson House, answered, "Yes. Everyone goes that way anyway." After thinking a minute, she added, "It would make the campus look neater in the spring without all the mud Dick Sawyer '63, who is in the College of Agriculture answered, without hesitation, "Yes. There is no direct route right now from the S.U. to Bartlett. You have to detour around the triangle. Also, they should learn how to plow. They should put up posts in the fall so that they will know where the walks are and will not have to reseed in the Mary Donovan '62 from Swampscott, replied convincingly, "No. There are too many going in other directions. The kids will only start

Judy Ryan '62, who is living at Lewis House, said, "Yes, provided

Judy Ryan '62, who is living at Lewis House, said, "Yes, provided that they don't cut up all the campus. Only the paths which are used most often should be paved."

Allen Czclusniak '61 feels that there is no need to pave more paths. "No. The present sidewalk in front of the libe leading to Bartlett Hall should be widened."

Sandy Baird '62, who is living at Hamlin House, answered, "Yes. You wouldn't ruin your shoes and wouldn't become so messy."

A faculty member who prefers to remain anotymous answered.

You wouldn't ruin your shoes and wouldn't become so messy."

A faculty member, who prefers to remain anoymous, answered,
"Yes. It is the only way to save the lawns. There isn't going to be a lawn there anyway unless the paths are paved".

Another member of the faculty graciously took time from his lunch hour to answer, "The campus is still expanding and it is difficult for the administration to know exactly where the walks should be paved. Within a few years, we may find that they are in entirely the wrong place. Any action taken on this question should come from the students themselves. They should use all the walks to better advantage and, then, go to bat with the administration."

vantage and, then, go to bat with the administration."

Perhaps these opinions have helped you to decide exactly what your position is in relation to this question. Remember that man is capable of thought and opinion. Without these, he is merely a vege-

M.I.T. Computer Center To Try Remote Control

answers to various groups of people at the same time and in people at the same time and various places is the goal of a four-year, $660,000 research program now under way at the gram now under way at the Massachusetts Institute of Tech-

One aim is to be able to use the computer by remote control-from classrooms, stance, as an adjunct to teaching.

For the first two years a grant of $160,000 has been given by the National Science Foundation and Says Prof. Philip M. Morse, director of the Computation Center: "The research worker and the stu-dent learner should be able to use the computer as he does a slide

"He should be able to ask the machine a question, get the answer quickly, and so on, without having to relinquish his place at the machine to give the next man

Rev. Coffin To Conduct C.A. Religious Embassy

The University Christian Association will present a three-day Religious Embassy entitled, "Campus Gods On Trial." The Embassy, which will be conducted by Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., Protestant chaplain of Yale University, will attempt to exploit the following: the worship of people and personalities, relations of the property of the people and personalities. of people and personalities, relegating God to second place; drinking policies; the involvement in activities to the extent that religion is forgotten; the notion that educated people don't need religion.

The Embassy will consist of three evening lecture-discussions and two daily seminar hours. Sunday March 5

7 p.m.—"Beat, Bothered and Bewildered," Public Health Au-

Monday March 6

4 p.m.—"American Failures & Student Opportunities In Africa," Middlesex Room, Student Union.

8 p.m.—"Loving Things and Using People," Public Health Auditorium, Tuesday March 7

11 a.m.-"The Current Crisis

Il a.m.—"The Current Crisis In Race Relations," Middlesex Room, Student Union. 7 p.m.—"Where Is The Life We Have Lost In Living?," Public Health Auditorium. Rev. Coffin is available to you individually at other ti Room 12 of Old Chapel.

Have a real cigarette-have a CAMEL

Amherst Chief Praises Volunteer Fire Fighters

Amherst Fire Chief George A. Cavanaugh this week praised a contingent of UMass students who helped fight a blaze in a seven-apartment dwelling on South Prospect Street.

The students, formally organized as a volunteer University fire department, "provided train-ed manpower at a time of urgent need," the Amherst chief said in a letter to University Pres. John W. Lederle.

> PAPER CUPS PLATES

Pointing out that the students worked hard, long and willing-," Chief Cavanaugh added: "It is reassuring to have this group available for assistance, and it is also a pleasure to report their effectiveness.

The students, numb The students, numbering ten men under Student Fire Chief Paul Rosenberg of Springfield, worked until after midnight helping the Amherst Fire Depart-ment to bring the blaze under control. Units were also sum-moned from Northampton to aid in battling the fire.

(Continued from page 1)

"I Led Three Lives" ... committees and has appeared be-fore the Senate Internal Security Committee and the Subversive Activities Control Board appointed by the President.

NAPKINS A. J. HASTINGS Inc. Newsdealer & Stationer Amherst, Mass.

Reflections

See page 2

VOL. XC NO. 52 5¢ PER COPY

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1961

Eleanor Roosevelt To Speak At S.U.

Current problems facing the United Nations Organization will discussed next Thursday by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in a major lecture in the S.U.

The former First Lady will appear here under the student-spon-sored Distinguished Visitor Program. She will speak in the S.U. Ball-room at 4 p.m. March 9, Her lecture is open to the public with no admission charge.

This will be Mrs. Roosevelt's econd visit to the UMass cam-is. She first came here in September 1952 when she spoke be-fore the University's opening convocation of the year.

To Discuss Current Crises

In her speech here Mrs. Roosevelt will consider important de-velopments now affecting the work of the international body, with emphasis upon conditions in the Congo.

Mrs. Roosevelt, the first wom Mrs. Roosevelt, the first wom-an delegate to the United Na-tions General Assembly, served six years as a U.S. representa-tive. On Tuesday President Ken-nedy nominated her as a delegate to the 15th U.N. General Assemto the 15th U.N. General Assembly session. Her name has been submitted to the Senate, along with the four others who will complete the U.S. delegation.

When asked to serve as a U.S. representative to the UN by President Truman in December 1945, Mrs. Roosevelt began what she has called "one of the wonderful and . . . worthwhile experiences of my life." She remained at the U.N. until President Figure 2 election in Eisenhower's election

Exponent of Human Rights

During her tenure at the U.N. she was chairman of the U.N. Commission on Human Rights and regards as her most important achievement the passage of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the General

Travels Extensively

Since 1952, she has circled the globe three times. Having visited with an attitude toward foreign that combines realism with a faith that Americans can

Mrs. Roosevelt has been a pro-Mrs. Roosevelt has been a prodigious writer, having authored two autobiographical works, This Is My Story and This I Remember; a book on her 1953 trip to India; a book On My Own, telling of her travels since 1945; plus several other collections of articles and children's stories. She writes a daily syndicated newspaper column,

Here As Distinguished Visitor
The Distinguished Visitor Program under which Mrs. Roosevelt will appear was established by the student body as a means of bringing to the campus "out-standing persons in the various fields of human endeavor." Sti-pends for speakers are provided out of student tax funds voted by the Student Senate. The program is administered by the Massachusetts Assembly, composed of representatives from bringing to the campus "out-composed of representatives from the student body, the University's trustees, the faculty, the administration and the Associate Alumni.

Dr. Hunsberger Is Appointed Arts And Sciences

A distinguished young scientist, Dr. I. Moyer Hunsberger, was today named Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at UMass.

The announcement was made by Pres. John W. Lederle after confirmation of the appointment by UMass trustees.

A former Fordham University Variable 1960 to the Arts and California of the Sciences post in July of last year to become Dean of General Studies at North Carolina State

To Head Largest Academic Unit er of major decorations for service during World War II, has done important research in the field of organic chemistry. In his new post, he will head the University's largest academic unit.
Devoted to instruction in the hu-

Devoted to instruction in the humanities, fine arts, social sciences, and the natural sciences, the College of Arts and Sciences enrolls more than 2800 of the 5330 undergraduates on campus. Commenting on the appointment, which becomes effective March 13, Pres. Lederle said: "Although Dr. Hunsberger has been at the University only a short time, he has done an outstanding job as head of the department of chemistry, and he has demonstrated administrative talent of high order. I am contalent of high order. I am con-

Interlibrary Loan System Is Encouraged

by SALLY WINTERS '64

Collegian Staff Reporter Collegian Staff Reporter
Until two years ago, UMass students had the privilege of withdrawing books directly from Amherst College library. This privilege had to be abandoned, because the facilities at Amherst College are no longer adequate to serve their own students as to serve their own students as well as ours. But also, since there are a greater number of UMass students, their loss and damage

Amherst College.
Another Service If a junior, senior, or graduate student, and in special cases, an underclassman, requires a book from the Amherst College library (or that of Smith or Mt. Holyoke), to supplement his reading material from our own library, he is able to use the inter-library. loan system. That is, he may withdraw a book from the neighboring college library through Goodell.

Goodell Facilities
Often, a student asks for books orten, a student asks for books form other college libraries with-out inquiring into what is avail-able on his own campus. Since UMass spends more money on its library budget, its supply of ma-terial must necessarily be great-

l must necessarily be great-(Continued on page 8)

fident he will be an outstanding leader for the College of Arts and Sciences"

Succeeds Acting Dean Shute

The University president also praised Dr. Clarence Shute, philosophy department head who has been Acting Dean of the Col-lege since July.

A native of Quakertown, Pa.,

Dr. Hunsberger holds B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees from Lehigh University. A member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, he Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, he did postdoctoral research at the fellowship awarded by the Atomic Energy Commission in 1948. From 1949 to 1955 he taught at Antioch College, and from 1955 to 1960 at Fordham.

At Antioch he supervised the research of undergraduate chemistry majors and postdoctoral fellows. His Fordham assignment included supervision of thesis work of candidates for advanced degrees and direction of research activities of postdoctoral fellows (Continued on page 8)

Staff Shortages Pose Problems For Librarians

by JAMES R. REINHOLD '61, News Editor
Graduate students and other the expansion of value the job of cataloguing books cordingly," he said. dle the job of cataloguing books for Goodell Library stated UMass librarian Hugh Montgomery. The qualified staff cataloguers are unable to keep ahead of the 20,dle the job of cataloguing volumes acquired annually by the library

Not Interested In Adding 'Pair of Hands'

"It is a foolish idea to think that graduate students or other inexperienced people can be inexperienced people can be brought in and put to work on this job," Montgomery said. "We are not just interested in adding another pair of hands to the staff." Personnel, he feels, must be well trained and the staff." be well trained and experienced, so that recataloguing will never be necessary once the book has been placed on the shelves.

Uncatalogued books presently Uncatalogued books presently total about 20,000 in Goodell. New aquisitions are catalogued on a priority basis. General reference material has the highest priority he said, with departmental requests for certain types of material being a prime inflence in the processing of new of material being a prime in-flence in the processing of new volumes. "The library watches

OLD '61, News Editor
the expansion of various areas here on campus, and reacts accordingly," he said.

Every Book Seen Important
The cataloguing problem is serious here, he said, because
"every book is important". "At serious here, he said, because "every book is important". "At Harvard, for instance, no one is concerned if they have many thousands of uncatalogued books, for they would only serve to enrich an already huge collection.

"It is as important here though, to fill the personnel positions as to put the books on the shelves." He feels that positions regarded as critical should be filled at once. "It would be embarrassing all around, however, if the Legislature all at once provided funds to fill every post." The University can compete favorably for top personnel, but could never secure a large group of top people at once "There just of top people at once. "There just aren't enough around." Seeks Career Personnel Regarding personnel, Mont-gomery added that he is looking for career personnel. "We want to build up a permanent staff without a constant turnover, which brings a diminishing re-

-Photo by Bill Therous

Uncatalogued books, numbering about 20,000 volumes at present, are stored on level one of Goodell Library, some 30 feet below ground.

various countries in Europe and Asia, she found the Soviet Union to be her "most interesting, most important, and most informative" trip. Her travels and her work with

Her travels and her work with the U.N. have left Mrs. Roosevelt Senate Delays Action

On Ya-Hoo Budget

by THOMAS A. McMULLIN '64, Collegian Staff Reporter In an unexpected action Wed-nesday night, the Student Senate reversed its previous position and postponed final action on the Ya-Hoo budget for two weeks. The motion of postponement was brought to the floor by Senator Arthur Tacelli. He stated the Senate should take some time to consider the plans and actions of consider the plans and actions of the Ya-Hoo staff, Tacelli furth the Ya-Hoo staff, Tacelli further explained that after last fall's Ya-Hoo controversy, the Ya-Hoo editor, Wesley Honey, had told the Executive Committee of the senate that the editors, in the future, planned satirical articles concerning Massachusetts politi-cal leaders and members of the sate legislature. The senator said that he felt this type of humor could only do harm to the University at a time when such important bills as the fiscal autonomy bill were being considered Immediately various senators Immediately various senators voiced strong opposition to the postponement. Many senators felt the use of "money threats" to force "censorship" on the magazine was unjustified. Senator Gail Osbaldeston stated that "we are considering a hudget "we are considering a budget, not whether we should censor something." Senator William Knowlton was in opposition to any censorship claiming that the issue was "whether there would be a Ya-Hoo uncensored and completely free or no Ya-Hoo at all."

Also proposed were the ideas of having the activities committee examine the Ya-Hoo constitution or of having the Senate suspend the magazine's constitution for a period.

ter many arguments for (Continued on page 6) After

The Un-Americans

For the past few months, many college newspapers, as well as other "liberal publications," have spoken out against the House Committee On Un-American Activities. Opposition to the Committee has also been manifested throughout the country by many demonstrations. Those opposed to the Committee point out that it has been an instrument of "repression and a disgrace to Congress" in its present form. Those in favor of the Committee assert that it is a vital necessity in an atmosphere of political conflict as it exists today.

On February 28 the Supreme Court again up held their decision that the Committee has the power to question witnesses as to direct Communist affiliations, as the New York Times pointed (March 1, 1961): "The Watkin's case of 1957, which implied that Congressional investigations subject to severe constitutional limits, is a fading landmark."

The unfortunate aspect of the movement to abolish the Committee is that those favoring abolishment have been classified as being themselves un-American! It must also be said that the term "un-American" is, practically speaking, indefinable. Indeed, many have tried, conversely, to define what "Americanism" denotes. During the McCarthy era, it was equated with chauvinism. A present day definition could perhaps be "American Legion Patriotism.

Although we know full well the nebulous nature of the term "un-American," there can be no doubt as to the implications of a committee which scurries from one end of the country to the other in its altruistic search for the "tainted ones." Indeed, James Roosevelt was on firm ground when he asserted that the Committee was "a bad institution, which has ided to grow worse in its depredations on liberties as well as on our democratic reputation in the world today."

Mr. Roosevelt, of course, is not the only one, as we have previously pointed out. Yet, he was practically alone Wednesday when the House of Representatives voted overwhelmingly in favor of appropriating $311,000 to enable the Committee to carry on its work in the current year. We believe that a great mistake has been made. We believe, along with Representative William Fitts Ryan, Democrat of Manhattan, that "the Committee on Un-American Activities has violated fundamental rights and priv-Activities has violated fundamental rights and privileges on which our nation is founded."

—M.P.

Editorial Of The Week

"The Communist Party meant business when it made liquidation of the Committee on Un-American Activities one of three primary objectives in its program adopted last winter. California, where Communist influence is now probably stronger than in any other state, was selected as base of operations. In May, party activists led the physical assault on the Committee members in San Francisco, so dramatically recorded in the startling film available from the HUAC. The party found the supine surrender of Mayor George Christopher and Judge Albert A. Axelrod to be a hopeful augury . . .

-The National Review

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870

Executive Board
Donald D. Johnson '61
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Editorial Editor
James R. Reinhold '61 News Editor
Ren Corden 200
Ben Gordon '62 Sports Editor
Howard Frisch '62 Advertising Manager

tered as second class matter at the post office at Am. Mass. Printed three times weekly during the andemic except during vacation and examination periods; twice a the week following a vacation or examination period, or a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended act of June 11, 1934. udent Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass ed Coilegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press Sun., Tues., Tura. 4-00 p.m.

Kill Them All

To Marcia Ann Voikos:

Since I am not afraid of women (except those seeking to tie me down) and am very happy despite your views on capital punishment . . . you needn't feel sorry for me. I think your feeling sorry for Mr. Theroux might be sincere . . . but it doesn't answer his arguments. Besides, pity always in volves a certain amount of condescension. (He did sound bitter tho, didn't he?)

As that old Jewish philosopher, Mort Sahl, once said: "Of course we've got to have capital punishment . . . how else will they learn?" And it's the economy way to deal with crime . . . no one will have to be housed, fed, rehabiliated and no studies need be made as to why people become criminals.

Also, killers like Fred J. Thompson can serve as conderful objects for the projection of society's guilt feelings. The crowd that was waiting for him in New York to stone him to death is an example of democracy in action. Let us all wash away our sins as this killer burns in the chair to appease the

Why don't we execute all traffic offenders and stop the slaughter on our highways? They kill just as dead. We could have mock electric chairs with mild jolts for the kiddies . . .

Seriously, Miss Voikos has some good arguments for capital punishment along with such ancient concepts as the "free will" bit and numerous errors common logic. Today, however, criminologists believe that capital punishment and the whole philosophy behind it is not an effective deterrent to crime. Criminals are products of a complexity of factors and the threat of severe punishment hardly deals with all these facets of the criminal personality.

I would like to say, at this point, that I have a great deal of sympathy for killer Fred Thompson but I wouldn't want him running around loose. I make no appeal to religious beliefs, for I have none . . . but I still could not muster enough hate to even want to join that "lynch mob" in New York with their quivering hands wrapped tightly around clubs and their spit-streaming mouths convincing each other what a dirty "degenerate" this killer is. The ideal of punishment without hate, revenge and pure love of killing is certainly not present here. These "irate citizens" are just as sick as the child-

Rudy Wittshirk '61

Friendly Guillotine

For the last few years, I have been an ardent foe of war, capital punishment, matricide, political carnage, and hara-kiri. I have sincerely thought that carriage, and nara-kirl. I have sincerely thought that all these social procedures were unjustifiable and morally reprehensible. However, after reading the lucid, reasonably correct, and surprisingly able agreements of Marcia Ann Voikos, and after read-ing that simply awful letter of Mr. Theroux (who truly must be in a terrible state of mind), I have come to the conclusion that I have, in the past, been quite mistaken.

Now I have a relative who has traveled rather widely throughout Europe during the last thirty-four years, and he has amassed a fine collection of ancient swords and war instruments, barbed chains irons, rocks and a reconstructed World War II German gas chamber at his estate in Mar-blehead. I am sure he would be delighted to have Marcia and any other interested students concerned with traditional measures of administering justice look through the collection, perhaps on a weeken late in the spring.

Further, I have before me a monthly flyer from Marshan Toy Company, Inc., 167 Luky Avenue, Cranston, R.I., telling of a new toy to be put in production this August: It is a miniature guillotine, about one-twentieth actual size, of stainless steel construction, complete with directions to avoid mishaps, costing a mere six dollars plus. I am sure that Marcia and the rest of the progressive, foresighted students of the University will agree with me that to place a toy of this nature in the hands of our children is the surest way of teaching them the first principle of American civil justice.

LETTERS

The following letter is in indirect reference to many articles which have been appearing in the Collegian.

- Editor's Note

Reflections

To the Editor:

"Why the push for organization membership, Bill?"

"Why the push for organization membership, Bill?"

"It's this way Joe. You get a guy to sign up as a member of the group, then he is committed in a way. He goes with the group. He is more easily led and used. An organization can be infiltrated as SANE was and the membership will find themselves a part of something well beyond their initial intent. They'll usually go right along. They'll convince themselves, rather than admit to an error. Then the group has a bigger voice and can make more noise. It can make itself felt. ce themselves, rather than admit to an error. Then the group bigger voice and can make more noise. It can make itself felt.

has a bigger voice and can make more noise. It can make itself returned "Down at Harvard, The Tocsin guys raised a big row over a showing of 'Operation Abolition'."

"What's that?"

"Oh that's the movie about how the student riots in San Francisco against the Un-American Affairs Committee were organized.

"Then, back in '59, Professor Lauter told us how the Student Peace Union fellows picketed the military review at Dartmouth and how at Wisconsin they had an Anti Military Ball."

"Well both those places dropped required ROTC last year. A little more pressure and ROTC will go altogether at those schools.

"Well isn't whopping the military, a measure of disarmament?"

For whom?

"For us, you goon. Who else?"
"How about Russia's?"

guess that's up to the State Department."

Paul Theroux, who had a case of the horrors in Monday's Col-Paul Theroux, who had a case of the horrors in monday's Collegian, is a sophomore transferee from Maine. Despite vague and dubious religious convictions and prior enrollment in ROTC in Maine, both of which should have precluded classification as a Conscientious Objector, he talked the new President into assigning him to that category, because he "was against killing people." (He found out, of Objector, he talked the new President into assigning him to that category, because he "was against killing people." (He found out, of course, that we military men kill three before breakfast on Saturdays). At his preliminary hearing with the Provost, Mr. Theroux solemnly assured Dr. McCune that if excused from normal participation in ROTC he would not campaign against or talk against ROTC at the University. But Dr. McCune is gone,—so I guess is the promise. Mr. Theroux concludes his diatribe against Martha Voikos with a snide crack at ROTC. With these standards I fully expect to find his name following Elizabeth Schneck and Mike Palter in the Collegian's editorial board. There's a dandy team!

And in that bouquet of valentines with which the Collegian surrounded "Col. Weaver's letter" in the Collegian of 24 February (the complete editorial portrait), there was one organization named that had not previously been mentioned, "The Committee of Correspond-

Whose committee? The Student Peace Union's, the Collegian's, the Party's, Tocsin's Synthesis', or "Surrender Now Pay Later's"? Anyhow, I wish them luck, I wish them joy! I hope sincerely they can evolve a policy even more workable than deterrence in maintening, peace. This patients of definition than deterrence in maincan evolve a policy even more workable than deterrence in maintaining peace. This national administration, and the last one with its Disarmament Office at cabinet level, and future ones would more than welcome any feasible and practicable suggestion. Until the "search for new approaches" is successful, indeed, until it arrives at a solution it will hardly be prudent to discard the existing fact of deterrent forces. They are, you know, deterrent against war and aggression.

I think I shall start an organization, too. The name could well be "The Patrick Henry Society," and you know the motto full well! That young patriot was not one to give final importance to his survival.—Or then again it could be the Nathan Hale Club.

Although we received it just before press time, we have included the following letter in the interests of fairness and consistency.

- Editor's Note

...And...

Your verses don't scan and your poetic license is extreme! If I am the "modern Goliath" the "militant monolith", I am flattered, but your "female David" didn't oppose the Colonel. The Colonel challenged her espousal of certain organizations, and her statement that anyone who didn't agree with her was "fatuous," "not rational" and "antidemocratic". My quotes had all the context needed and were accurate. Hers, then, was the charge "of undemocratic".

How BX would you "please a martial fanatic" by abandoning a military posture or an arms race?

Watch it, Bill! Who's the fanatic, Elizabeth or me?

As for your last verse, the suggestion that the honorable opposition be silenced does elicit my charge "of undemocratic". Can't you take it? Last year the Student Senate tried to silence the opposition to proposal by writing Hq First Army, the Secretary of the Army and the Department of Defense and the Trustees. Rather a shameful procedure! A democratic consideration does not function with mind closed to opposing argument.

WOMAN'S PAGE

ELECTIONS ARE HELD AT SORORITY HOUSES

INTERVIEWS FOR CIVILIAN

SIGMA KAPPA

Pledge Formal, held February
25th at the Wycoff Country Club, was deemed a terrific success by every Sigma Kappa and her date. Joan Werner reigned as queen with Connie Gardini,
Leanne Mulloney, Parth. Levis as queen with Connie Gardini, Jeanne Mullaney, Ruth Lewis, and Paula Wickens in her court. The Queen was crowned by Jane Ross, queen of last year's Formal. On February 23th the sisters Alpha Sigma Phi and are looking forward to one with Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the near future

The girls wish to thank Dr and Mrs. Nutting who came to dinner this week. It was a pleas ure to entertain them

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

On Monday evening Theta held its election of officers for the year 1961-1962. They are: President, Mary Jane Stack; Vice Pres., Anne Hall; Treas., Jan Ingham; Deputy Treasurer, Judy Wilkinson; House Manager, Bob-bie Lincoln; Deputy House Man-ager, Norma Ciaschini; Corr. ager, Norma Chasemin, Corr, Secretary, Judy Iverson; Record-ing Secretary, Gertie Meyer; Rush Chairman, Nancy King; Chaplain, Audrey Smith; Sr. Pan-Hel, Ann Rubin; Jr. Pan-Hel, Hel, Ann Rubin; Jr. Pan-Hel, Barb Lavalette; Social Chairman, Maura Driscoll; Activities Chairman, Connie Creamer; Scholar-ship Chairman, Ann Griffen; Frat. Editor, Lucille Johnson; Frat. Editor, Lucille Jonnson; Alumni Secretary, Mary Lood Jewell; Editor, Julie Atwood; Historian, Charlotte Kimball; Archivist, Sandy Baird; M. cshall, Archivist, Sandy Baird; M. rshall, Karen Peterson; Recreation

Chairman, Carole Hunnewell;
Athletic Chairman, Alna Werme;
Morale Chairman, Kathy Kelley.
SIGMA DELTA TAU

Plans are being made for the S.D.T. Conclave which will be held on March 3, 4, and 5. S.D.T.'s from the University of Rhode Island, McGill University, and Boston University will be visiting, and a very interesting weekend is in store. end is in store end is in store.

Nancy Pogatch has just become a sister of S.D.T.

The sisters of S.D.T. are very proud of the fine slate of officers for the coming year. They are: Pres., Sandra Segall; First Vice Pres., Janice Joseph; Second Vice Pres., Elleen Berenson; Recording Sec'y, Charlotte Rosencrantz; Corresponding Sec'y, Gerda ing Sec y, Charlotte Roseletante, Corresponding Sec'y, Gerda Brooks; Treas., Judy Izenberg; Ass't. Treasurer, Jean Zimmerman; Stewardess, Sylvia Weisberg; Ass't. Stewardess, Louise Bromfield; House Manager, Gail McKrensky; Ass't House Manager, Judy Rosenberg; Rush Chairman, Diane Rushbrook; Ass't. Rush Chairman, Rochelle Simons; Social Chairman, Janet Lewis; Senior Pan. Hel., Janice Joseph; Junior Pan. Hel, Linda Lederman; Historian, Diane Crocker; Alumni Chairman, Louise Crosby; Activities Chairman, Nancy Baker; Sgt. At Arms, Gloria Presser; W.A.A., Rochelle Simons. Corresponding Sec'y, Gerda Brooks; Treas., Judy Izenberg;

Enjoying a revival is the one-piece dressmaker bathing suit. Tom Brigance, of New York, gives it a special flair in a print of gold and black and white. A matching printed skirt is added, turning the suit into a sundress.

Expert Tells How Color Helps You

The 1961 spring fashions are full of gay, vivid and daring colors. But before that April spree, in the dress shops, a Uni-versity of Minnesota home economist has a word of warning.
"Your personal coloring is the key to choosing becoming color in your clothes," according to Mrs. Charlotte Baumgartner.

When choosing any piece of clothing, Mrs Baumgartner sug-gested, "consider what will best suit you; your skin, hair, and eyes."

"The key to color fashion," she said, "is to emphasize the desirable characteristics."

For instance, you can make blue eyes more intense by wear-ing a blue dress slightly more grayed than are the eyes. Or produce the same effect by wearing a small amount of the same hue if it is more intense. For example, try a violent blue necklace.

It is also possible to emphasize your coloring by wearing the complement of the hue you wish to emphasize. If you are a blond, the neutralized orange tones of your hair will appear more in-tense if you wear a bright blue sweater.

"Very light values seem to add color also," Mrs. Baumgartner said. If you want to bring out the color of your complexion and hair, wear white or some very light value payt to your face.

hair, wear white or some very light value next to your face. "A world of modern and excit-ing fashion awaits every woman who learns to know herself and buy accordingly."

Pinnings

Judy Garlinger, Sigma Kappa Dave Colby, Alpha Gamma Rho.

Jeanne Mullaney, Sigma Kap-a to Dennis Snay, Worcester Tech.

Janet Wehmann, Lewis House to Jim Brescia, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Marty Adam, Arnold to Bob

Boulais, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Joan Laflamme, Arnold to Al
Benoit, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Glamour Is Looking For Ten Best Dressed College Girls

a chance to be among the top ten,

In the spring, they will be photographed for the August College Issue. The location hasn't been selected as yet but judging from the 1960 issue it will be an exciting one. The 1960 winners went to Washington, D.C. in May to be photographed with leading political figures, including Senapolitical rigures, including Scha-tors Kennedy and Johnson and Vice President Nixon.

In June, the "ten best dressed" fly to New York to spend two fly to New York to spend two weeks as Glamour's guests. What the two weeks will hold is still a surprise, but it promises to be a gay, busy, glamourous visit. The highlight of the first week will be Glamour's annual College Fashion Show for 500 retailers at the Difference. The 1960 show the Biltmore, The 1960 show opened with the "ten best no. 2 Glamour-ten best dressed modeling the clothes they were photo-graphed in for the August issue.

The second week of the visit

The ten college girls who are chosen as Glamour magazine's a 1961 "Best Dressed" will have a wonderful experience in store for them. And whoever is chosen the UMass "Best Dressed" will have a chosent he college girls who are to New York will be climaxed by a Champagne Cotillion given in their honor at the Waldorf-Astoria, The 1960 Cotillion, for the benefit of the Institute of International Education, was cosponsored by Remington Rand, Scripto, Inc., and Glamour. The young women were presented in ball gowns designed especially for them by leading New York designers. Among the celebrities designers. Among the celebrities they met at the party were Polly Bergen, Tony Randall, and Darren McGavin. The dance was preceded by dinner at the Yale Clubwith the Yale singing group, the Bakers Dozen, who entertained at the Cotillion as did the Princeton Tigartenes. Tigertones.

Among the other highlights of the 1960 visit were a luncheon at the Colony Restaurant hosted by Abbe Rabiner who later presented each of the ten with one of his famous suits. The no. 3 Glamour-ten best dressed girls were presented with Remington Rand typewriters, perfumes from Lanvin and Dana, and went on a glamourous round of famous New York restaurants and nightclubs.

York restaurants and nightclubs. Eleanor Galbraith, who was UMass' "Best Dressed Girl" in 198, was chosen that year as one of the national winners. Her pictures appeared in the August College Issue, and perhaps this year's "Best Dressed Girl" from UMass will win the same honor.

Household Hints

Your pancakes will not stick, and there will be no smoke or and there will be no shorte of odor if you pack a small cotton bag with salt and rub the pan with it instead of using grease.

Make beds occasionally with the top hem of sheets at the bot-tom of the bed to distribute wear.

Woodenwear that has any odor of food in it should be soaked in hot water and household ammonia briefly.

To keep buttons firmly attached, try sewing them on with dental floss, will outwear the gar-

The mouthpiece of your tele-phone should be wiped often with an almost-dry sudsy cloth. This washes away germs and helps to prevent the spread of common

FASHION CONTEST TWENTY-FIVE EXCITING PRIZES INCLUDING AN ALL EXPENSE PAID TRIP TO LOS ANGELES TO WORK AT LANZ FOR 6 WEEKS DURING SUMMER VACATION AND FABULOUS LANZ WARDROBES. CONTEST FORMS AND INFORMATION AT: COLLEGIAN OFFICE

Liberal Arts Annex Destruction Ends Era

The OLD LIBERAL ARTS ANNEX is pictured here in the of being demolished. The building formerly lish, Art, Wildlife, and Psychology departments as well as the AFROTC and Armor ROTC detachments.

Three National Fraternities Censured For Discrimination

Three national social fraternities—Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi—were recently criticized because of alleged discriminatory pledg-

Alpha Tau Omega's High Council descended upon its Stanford University chapter to conduct closed hearings before deciding whether the national will expel the chapter for pledging four Jewish students. The Stanford chapter has voted unanimously to keep its Jewish members, regardthe consequences

ATO National President Gerald Johnson answered the charges of discrimination by explaining: "We don't exclude Jews—if they embrace the Christian faith, ATO is centered in Jesus Christ, its ritual is based on the New Testament, and any rushee or pledge believing in a non-Christian reli-gion would find the ritual and some of ATO's Christian pracces offensive."
Phi Delta Theta came in for stiff criticism from Lake Forest College in Illinois when the Phi Delta national refused membership to a Jewish student after local chapter had asked him to join. Lake Forest's Dean of Students Lake Forest's Dean of Students charge that the national frater-nity caused Donald Schiller to be depledged early this year "because of his religious background (Jewish)." The Dean told the national that local chapter members agreed that religious was behind agreed that religion was behind Schiller's depledging, despite the chapter's desire to pledge him. Charging Sigma Chi with being the only remaining fraternity on the Cornell University campus with an "overt discriminatory clause," four Cornell students picketed the Sigma Chi chapter last week during rush period.

The protest group carried signs which said "No More Jim Crow Fraternities" and distributed leaflets which urged the reader not to join the fraternity because it continued to be bound by its national charter to uphold its discriminatory clause.

Sigma Chi's National Secretary replied to the protest by stating that action on removal of the discriminatory clause will definitely be taken at the fraternity's summer convention.

Compulsory ROTC Ended At Lehigh After Trustees Act

The compulsory ROTC program as recently abolished at Lehigh Was recently abolished at Lehigh University (Bethlehem, Pa.), while University of Washington (Seattle) students prepared to make a strong case for a volun-tary ROTC program on their

The Lehigh decision was made school's Board of Trus tees, following a recommendation for elimination of the compulsory program from the faculty. The student government had ex-pressed itself on the issue several times last year. The Lehigh deci-sion follows a three-day series of student demonstrations on the Rethlehem company lands. Bethlehem campus last spring.

Washington's student Board of Control unanimously approved a 44-page committee recommenda-tion calling for elimination of the compulsory aspects of the program. The proposal for modificagram. The proposal for modifica-tion will now be passed on to Washington's president and Board of Regents. Surveys on the Seattle campus have indicated that more than half of the stu-dents in the basic, compulsory course are enrolled against their will. More than 1000 students have called for the change in a petition. petition.

The Department of Defense has recently agreed to leave the ROTC question to the individual campus. Both the Air Force and campus. Both the Air Force and Navy have indicated that the voluntary program adequately meets their officer needs.

Only the Army continued to insist upon the compulsory pro-gram. In the 233 institutions gram. In the 233 institutions where Army ROTC programs are currently maintained, the potential number of officers is 49,818 yearly. The Army estimates its annual needs at only 14,000 officers.

Noted Troupe

The famed Orgay Zemer Troupe (Weavers of Song) will perform at the Hillel Purim party, to be held at 7:00 on Sunday in the nonwealth Room of the S.U.

The Troupe is composed of four university students of the Boston area: Marian Capriles, vocalist; Michael Ingall, guitarist; Warren Bargad, guitarist and bass; and David Furash, "tofe" (native drum) player.

Last June the Troupe represented not only Israel but group folksinging at the Boston Arts Festival. Also, they have appeared as featured artists on the Hebrew Radio Hour, WBOS, Bos-

The group's songs, which are sung in Hebrew, depict the rebirth of the State of Israel.

In addition to singing, the members of the Troupe will lead the students in Israeli songs and

As a special treat hamantaschen will be served. Alan Savat and Irma Barron are co-chairmen of the event. There is no admission.

More than 12,000 Massachu-setts 4-H club members will occupy center spotlight during the week of March 4-10—National 4-H Club Week, Nearly 2700 volunteer local leaders also will receive a special salute for helping to make members' achievements possible.

"Learn-Live-Serve Through

4-H" is the theme of this year's National 4-H Club Week.

Although National 4-H Club Week is designed to recognize the achievements of club members in farming, homemaking, community service and other activities, club members themselves will help bring the event to the at-

Special club meetings, leader tention of the public.

National 4-H Club Week

To Be Held March 4-10

Hillel Party | UMass Student Trio Will Feature To Read Own Poetry

Karen Tucker '61, John Lovejoy, graduate student, and Ray-mond Kennedy '60 of UMass have been invited to read their poetry on a program at the Jones

Lovejoy is a graduate student in philosophy. A native of Cohas-set, Mass., he has lived in Cali-fornia and the South, and in Japan, Norway, and Sweden. He is a descendant of the Abolition-iet Elliph P. Leville P. Levi is a descendant of the Abolitionist Elijah P. Lovejoy and a cousin of Arthur O. Lovejoy, author of The Great Chain of Being. A graduate of Bates College, where a play of his was produced, he is the author of two privately printed volumes of poetry, Backyards of Childhood and But Up and Where Is That, He lives at 151 Amity Street. 151 Amity Street.

Karen Tucker, a Zoology major, is vice president of the Zoology Club and treasurer of the Pan Hellenic Council and Phi Delta Nu sorority. Her poetry has been published in The Quarterly. Daughter of an army colonel, she has lived in Europe and Asia; her family now makes its home in Baldwinville, Mass.

Kennedy, now an editorial re-search assistant at Merriam-Webster in Springfield, wrote a

Boss, acting head of the division of 4-H and youth programs at the University of Massachusetts.

Richard Canning, Jr., EAST SANDWICH, and Marlene Ingra-ham, WESTWOOD, will present pictorial reports to Charles H.

pictorial reports to Charles H. McNamara, state commissioner of agriculture; and to Gov. John A. Volpe. The two 4-H'ers will receive medals for their leadership abilities from the State Department of Agriculture.

LOST & FOUND

Found: Class ring. See Jim Varelas at Lambda Chi Alpha.

A special report on Bay State A special report on Bay State
4-H activities during the past year will be made to citizens of the Commonwealth by two club members on March 7 in Boston.

0 H

MEL

one-act play which will be produced at UMass in May. He has just completed a novella, and one of his short stories appeared in The Massachusetts Review. A small first collection of his poetry is now being privately printed. He is a Holyoke resident. Joining them on the program will be three Amherst College students. Professor Rolfe Hum-phries, well-known American poet and visiting professor at Am-

The program is sponsored by the Amherst Art Center, which is directed by Stephen L. Hamil-ton. His wife, Mrs. Jill Hamilton, is a member of the University library staff.

herst, will introduce all the read-

Attendance by the public is cordially invited, and refresh-ments will be served following the program Each poet will read for about ten minu

Home Economics Convocation Will Be Held Thursday

Mrs. Sibyl Moholy-Nagy, Pro-Architectural History and Three-Dimensional Design at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N.Y., will speak on "Regionalism and Humanism in Domestic Concepts" on March 9 at 11 a.m. in Bart-Auditorium at a conve of the Home Economics Club.

Sibyl Moholy-Nagy was born and educated in Dresden, Germany. In 1931 she married the noted painter, photographer and stage designer Laszlo Moholy-Ngov After living in Helbert Nagy. After living in Holland and England, they settled in Chicago where Moholy-Nagy founded the Institute of Design for which Mrs. Moholy-Nagy helped to Mrs. Moholy-Nagy he formulate the curriculum

After her husband's death in After her husband's death in 1946, she published his now famous Vision in Motion and wrote his biography, Moholy-Nagy, Experiment in Totality. Her other published works include a novel, Children's Children, a translation and commentary of Klee's Pedagogical Sketchbook, and Native Genius in Anoymous Architecture.

Mrs. Moholy-Nagy lectures frequently throughout this country and in Europe and is a regular contributor to the major architecture and art magazines.

The public is cordially invited.

banquets, exhibits, posters and other programs are scheduled during the week, says Marvin Identify and Claim Contract Bridge

S Q J 6 H A K 4 3 D A 2 C Q 10 4 3 WEST S 4 3 2 H 10 9 7 6 5 S 8 7 H J 8 DJ987 SOUTH (D) S A K 10 9 7 H Q 2 D K 10 4 3 CAJ

South Dealer None Vul SOUTH WEST NORTH EAST PASS 3 N PASS
PASS 4 N PASS
PASS 5 N PASS
PASS 7 S ALL PASS 5 H 6 H Opening Lead: H-6

The opening one no trump bid is a Kushner System bid which indicates 17-20 high card points, any distribution. This is in con-trast with our one no trump bid which indicates 16-19 high card show 15-17 high card points and a balanced hand. South bids his five card spade suit and North decides to try for a slam. After checking on the number of aces and kings that South has, North places the contract at 7.

and kings that South has, North places the contract at 7 spades. Declarer took the opening heart lead with the Q. The diamonds A and K were played next followed by a third which was trumped with Dummy's spade J. South returned to his hand with a low spade to the 9 and led his last diamond. He trumped with dummy's Q. A club was with dummy's Q. A club was played to the A and the spade A and K drew out all remaining trumps, South then played a small heart to dummy's A and discarded the club J on North's heart K. North's last club, the other two being discarded on South's A and K of spades, was trumped by declarer. Then he cashed his last trump, making the by declarer. Then he cashed his last trump, making the grand

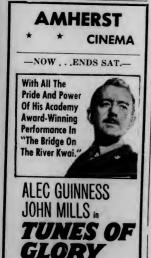

New Free Course In Contract Bridge To Begin March 7

Because of the growing interest in Contract Bridge on campus, the staff of the UMass and Springfield, Mass. Bridge Clubs are offering free lessons to the students.

The course will begin next Tuesday, March 7, at 7 p.m. in the Council Chambers at the Union, and will run for seven weeks.

The lessons are designed for those who have never played be-fore or who are just learning. Each lesson will consist of an hour of instruction and an hour of supervised play. supervised play.

Because of limited space, those people who wish to take the course must sign up at the R.S.O. office in the Union.

Daily 6:55, 9:15; Sat. 5, 7, 9:15

CLUB DIRECTORY

"BEST DRESSED" CONTEST Nomination blanks for Glam-our Magazine's fifth annual "Best Dressed Girl" Contest

"Best Dressed Girl" Contest can be picked up Thursday in the Collegian office, Blanks for sororities, fraternities, and dorms will be sent to them. All nominations must be turned in by Thursday, March 9, at

BOSTON GUILD FOR THE HARD OF HEARING

"Working with the Hearing

Handicapped A Demonstration and Film" will be the subject of a program presented at 7 March 8, 114 Bartlett Hall. The program will feature Miss Dorothy O'Halloran, speech and hearing therapist and Miss Jane Stapleton, case worker. The meeting will be open and students in education sociology, nursing, and pre-med are invited.

WORDS: THEIR CAUSE AND CURE

Today let us take up the subject of etymology (or entomology, as it is sometimes called) which is the study of word origins (or insects, as they are sometimes called).

Where are word origins (insects) to be found? Well sir, sometimes words are proper names that have passed into the language. Take, for instance, the words used in electricity: ampere was named after its discoverer, the Frenchman Andre Marie Ampere (1775-1836); similarly ohm was named after the German G. S. Ohm (1781-1854), watt after the Scot James Watt (1736-1819), and bulb after the American Fred C. Bulb (1843-1912).

There is, incidentally, quite a poignant little story about Mr. Bulb. Until Bulb's invention, all illumination was provided by gas, which was named after its inventor Milton T. Gas strange to tell, had been Bulb's roommate at Cal Tech! In fact, strange to tell, the third man sharing the room with Bulb and Gas was also one whose name burns bright in the annals of illumination—Walter Candle!

The three roommates were inseparable companions in college. After graduation all three did research in the problem of artificial light, which at this time did not exist. All America used to go to bed with the chickens. In fact, many Americans used to go to bed with the were chickens.

Well sir, the three comrades—Bulb, Gas, and Candle—promised to be friends forever when they left school, but success, alas, spoiled all that. First Candle invented the candle, got promised to be friends forever when they left school, but success, alas, spoiled all that. First Candle invented the candle, got rich, and forgot his old friends. Then Gas invented gas, got rich, bankrupted Candle, and forgot his old friends. Then Bulb invented the bulb, got rich, bankrupted Gas, and forgot his

Candle and Gas, bitter and impoverished at the age respectively of 75 and 71, went to sea as respectively the world's oldest and second oldest cabin boy. Bulb, rich and grand, also went to sea, but he went in style-as a first-class passenger on

Well sir, strange to tell, all three were aboard the ill-fated Lusitania when she was sunk in the North Atlantic. And, strange to tell, when they were swimming for their lives after the shipwreck, all three clambered aboard the same dinghy!
Well sir, chastened and made wiser by their brush with death, they fell into each other's arms and wept and exchanged forgiveness and became fast friends all over again.
For three years they drifted in the dinghy, shaking hands and singing the Cal Tech rouser all the while. Then, at long last, they spied a passing liner and were taken aboard.
They remained fast friends for the rest of their days, which, I regret to report, were not many, because the liner which picked them up was the Titanic.
What a pity that Marlboros were not invented during the she was sunk in the North Atlantic. And,

What a pity that Marlboros were not invented during the lifetimes of Bulb, Gas, and Candle! Had there been Marlboros, these three friends never would have grown apart because they would have known how much, despite their differences, they still had in company. would have known how much, despite their differences, they still had in common. I mean to say that Marlboros can be lit by candle, by gas, or by electricity, and no matter how you light them, you always get a full-flavored smoke, a filter cigarette with an unfiltered taste that makes anyone—including Bulb, Gas, and Candle—settle back and forget anger and strife and smile the sweet smile of friendship on all who pass!

Another peaceful smoke from the makers of Marlboro is the brand-new unfiltered king-size Philip Morris Commander.
Try one soon and find out how welcome you'll be aboard.

Six British And Austrian Schools Are Offering Summer Courses

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

HRISTIAN ASSOCIATION
This year as last there will be
Lenten Services in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m. until Easter. The services will be conducted this week by Rev.
Donald Bossart, Methodist.

CAMPUS 4-H

meeting will be held March 7 at 7 p.m. in Farley Club House. Election of Officers is the order of business.

COMMUTERS

Juniors may pick up their nomination blanks for Mortar Board in the R.S.O. office on Friday, March 3; Saturday, March 4 (until noon); and Monday, March 6. Please fill them out and return them to Nat Swain at the RS O. dele Nat Swain at the R.S.O. desk.

On Wednesday, Feb. 22, the UMass flying club elected of-ficers for the coming year The officers are president Pat Da-her; vice president Joe Bova Conti; secretary Judy Mandell; treasurer Dottie Lurie; publicity Ann Gustin. The election of an historian is still pending.

FOOD TECHNOLOGY CLUB Wednesday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. in Chenoweth Laboratory lecture entitled "Observation the Field of European Food in the Field of Euro Technology, 1960"; will

RECREATION CLUB

Mrs. Theresa S. Brungardt, a prominent international figure in recreation and current State Director of Recreation for Ver-mont, will speak to the Recreation Club on Sunday, March 5, at 3 o'clock in Bowditch

Brungardt has been an outstanding member of the 1960 White House Conference on the Aging. She has served on the Aging. She has served as a president of the American Recreation Society and has re-ceived its Presidential Citation and Fellow Award.

The Recreation Club has re-cently affiliated as a student chapter with the American Recreation Society

SYNTHESIS MEETING

There will be a general discussion meeting on Sunday afternoon, March 5, at 2:30 p.m., in the Barnstable Rm, S.U.

There will be an organizational meeting of all girls interested forming a women's service organization on campus. The meeting will take place Mon-day, March 6, at 7 p.m. in the Hampden Rm. of the S.U.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

There will be a reorganization meeting Monday, March 6, at 4 pm. in the S.U. Check the meeting board in the S.U. lob-

Four British and two Austrian summer schools are offering special six-week courses to American undergraduate and graduate students in July and August, 1961, it was announced by the Institute of International Educa-

Under the British University Summer School's program students can apply for study at one of four schools, each concentrating on a particular subject and period. At Stratford-upon-Avon the subject will be Elizabethan drama; at the University of London the course will be the study of English literature, art and music of the 17th and 18th centuries, using materials preserved in London's buildings, galleries and records; at Oxford the subject will be English history, literature and the arts from 1870 to the present. The theme of the Edinburgh School will be the political and economic history, philosophy and literature of Britain from 1559 to 1789. Although the courses are designed for graduate students, undergraduates in their last two years at a university will be considered.

The inclusive charge for board, residence and tuition for six weeks at each of the four British summer schools is approximately

Both Austrian summer scho include in their programs the op-portunity to attend performances at Salzburg's famed music fes-tival. The Salzburg Summer School stresses the German language and requires that all students enroll in a language co

Other courses - foreign policy, Austrian literature, European music and history of Austrian art—will be taught in English. The fee for the entire six-week program, which includes registration fee, room, board, tuition, examination fees, several conducted tours and three Salzburg Festival tours and three Saizburg resulval tickets, is $225. Applicants for the Saizburg Summer School may be 18-40 years of age and must have completed at least one year of college by June, 1961.

The University of Vienna, The University of Vienna, of-fering summer courses at its St. Wolfgang Campus near Salzburg, combines study with outdoor life at a mountain lake. Its aim is to enable English-speaking students become acquainted with Austrian educational and social values. Courses being offered invalues. Courses being offered in-clude German language, liberal arts, law and political science, and physical education. General eligibility for either a three- or six-week program is determined by at least two years of college study, but applicants for certain courses must meet other specific prerequisites.

The fee for the full six-week program, including tuition, maintenance, tours and excursions, and attendance at the Salzburg Fesattenance, with an entianal tival is $250, with an optional four-day trip to Vienna costing

Applications for both the British and Austrian programs may be obtained from the Information and Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 1
East 67th St., New York 21, New York, or from one of the Institute's regional offices. British summer school admission applica-tions must be received before March 31; admission applications for Austrian schools must be returned by May 1.

4-H Leaders' Conference To Meet Here On March 18

"Partners in Progress" is the theme of the State 4-H Leaders' Conference to be held March 18 at the University of Massachusetts, according to Marvin W. Boss, acting head of the division of 4-H and youth work.

Boss says the conference is to honor volunteer leaders and give special recognition through pres-entation of the 4-H Award of the Clover to those leaders who have served 4-H for 15, 20, 25, 30 and years. The conference also is so years. The conference also is intended to provide leaders and town committee members with a better understanding of some of the people and organizations that contribute to the success of the Massachusetts 4-H program.

On the morning agenda are the report of the Massachusetts 4-H Foundation and campus tours. Master-of-ceremonies for the luncheon will be 4-H'er Richard Robinson of BELCHERTOWN, a poultry major at the university, class of '64. Dr. Lloyd H. Davis, class of '64. Dr. Lloyd H. Davis, associate director of Extension, will be the guest speaker. Clover awards will be presented by a representative of the Railroad Community Committees of Greater Boston, Central New England and Connecticut River Valley.

Approximately 250 to 300 4-H agents, leaders and town com mitteemen are expected to attend the conference.

UConn Bans King Of World From Campus Appearance

Bishop Homer A. Tomlinson, "King of the World" did not speak at UConn Feb. 23 as planned but crowned himself King of University of Connecticut in Hartford in an extra-mural corportion.

Bishop Tomlinson, General Overseer of the Church of God, crowned himself at the Hartford Greyhound Station at 4 p.m. last

Phoning the Daily Campus from Hartford, he explained that upon arriving on campus, he was informed by the University that he could not stay as he lacked the "proper sponsoring group and clearance with the University."

Disappointed

He expressed his disappointment as UConn, he said, would have been the 24th university he had visited and would complete his New England tour.

He spoke at University of Massachusetts the previous day.

Officer Lawrence Goodale of Security told the Daily Campus he believed Tomlinson did not speak at UConn becouse of inclement weather.

The United States has replaced Russia as the largest buyer of Uruguagyan wool.

Although the 50 star flag is now the official flag of the United States, it is not improper to display U.S. flags with fewer stars.

Mississippi, with 2,389, has more certified Tree Farms than any other state in the nation.

U.S. newspapers consume 7 million tons of newsprint annually.

Nine of 10 forest fires are man-

Rhode Island Grabs Yankee Conference Crown 83-73; Stops Late UMass Comeback

by AL COHEN '64

Explosive Rhode Island became the new Yankee Conference champion with a big second half that downed UMass 83-73 last Tuesday before 3000 fans at Kingston. The door was opened to the Ram's by the twenty plus performances by Charlie Lee and Dave Richereto.

Dave Richereto.

Lee and Richerto, with 7 of Rhody's first nine field goals in the second half, put the Kingstions ahead to stay at 64-47. The Enrie Calverly-coached Rams cruised the rest of the way in breaking UConn's YanCon domination. ination for the second time in 14

The first half was a lot closer The Rams had opened by fast breaking the UMass five to take a 21-11 lead. They had made eight of their first ten shots. But Captain Doug Grutchfield rallied the Redmen as they spurted to a 29-26 edge. The rebounding of Kirk Leslie off both the offen-sive and defensive boards in-spired the short-lived Redmen

Then Rhody, behind the 6'4" Lee, jumped to a 47-41 advantage at intermission.

In the second frame, Rhody's ball handling showed to good effect. Time and again they worked the ball into big Gary Koenig or Richerto, both being very deceptive and quick.

UMass defense was often

CMass defense was often caught napping for when Lee took his long jumpers there wasn't anyone near him. On the other hand, the Rams employed a semi-press throughout the contest.

With barely ten minutes left in the game, UMass coach Zunic put his tallest charges, Fohlin and Black, in together. The margin was cut to twelve points be-fore the Rams went into a frustrating weave to eventually win by ten points. Rhody won the battle of the boards with 49 rebounds to Khody won the battle of the boards with 49 rebounds to UMass' 40. One big reason for this was Koenig, the nation's fourth best board man, with 16. The Rams, now 17-7 for the season were led by Lee with 22 points, and Richerto with 21. They are 8 and 1 in the Yancon.

All five Redmen starters hit All five Reamen starters inc double figures, Grutchfield's 17 markers being high. The Zunics are now 15 and 10 overall and 3-6 in the conference.

It might be mentioned that Keaney Gym, the fabulous lair of the Rams, not only provided and entertaining instrumental group, but spirited cheerleaders as well to treat the huge crowd.

Redmen Aim For Second Best Record In Season Finale Against Wildcats

The University of Massachu-etts basketball team will be looking to compile the second best court record for Redmen quintets in the past twenty five years when it entertains the University of New Hampshire squad Saturday evening at Curry Hicks in the season finals for both clubs.

Coach Matt Zunic's quintet has won fifteen of twenty five starts this season and a win over the Wildcats would make the final Massachusetts record of sixteen wins and ten losses second only to the 1955-56 squad which compiled 17 wins against 6 losses piled 17 wins against 6 losses.

Special feature of the Red-

The season finale for the Zunicmen is this Saturday night when the New Hampshire Wild-when the New Hampshire Wild-cats venture into Cage territory. Five Redmen will be seeing their final action, those being Doug Grutchfield, Jim Laugh-nane, Dick Green, John Widdison and John Burgess.

Rhode	Isla	and		UM	188
	B	F	Pts		B	F	Pts
Lee	9	4	22	Grutchfield	8	1	17
Weiss	4	4	12	Leslie	4	Ā	12
Koenig	0	5	5	Black	3	5	11
Multer	6	1	13	Laughnane	6	1	13
Stenhouse	1	2	4	Mole	A	5	13
Ricereto	8	5	21	Fohlin	0	2
Schacter	0	2	2	Wheeler	2	ĩ	5
Smith	1	0	2	Widdison	0	ô	0
Logan	ī	0	2	Larkin	0	ő	0
LaSala	ō	0	0	energ Halls	_	_	_
Nicynski	0	Ö	0	Totals	27	19	73
Totals	30	23	83
Score at				: Rhode Is	lan	d	47.
UMass 41.

men's final game will be a brief halftime ceremony which will honor and pay tribute to Captain Doug Grutchfield who will be playing his final basketball game for Massachusetts. The 6'4" senior playing his final basketball game for Massachusetts. The 6'4" senior from Quincy, Mass. has literal-ly rewritten the Massachusetts basketball records and has been very instrumental in leading the Redmen to fine basketball seasons during the past three years.

Four other seniors will also be making their last basketball ap-pearance for their alma mater: Jim Laughnane (Southbridge), Dick Green (Scituate), John Widdison (Clinton) and John Burgress (Weymouth) who have all seen action for the Redmen this

Coach Matt Zunic will probably start Kirk Leslie, Mike Mole, and Don Black along with Grutch-field and Laughnane while New Hampshire Coach Bill Olson will counter with Jack Couture, Joe Hargen, Nick Mandravelis, Jim Rich and Greg Kageleiry as the Wildcats attempt to register their seventh win in twenty four

The varsity game will start at 8:15 while a 6:30 preliminary game will match the winners of the Massachusetts and New Hampshire intramural basketball leagues against each other.

Swimmers Finish Season With 50-45 Win Over Tufts

Coach Joe Rogers and the first semes finished points and University Swimmers finished their season with a 50-45 win over Tufts last Tuesday. High scorer for the squad this year was Matt Rutkowski who returned to form after a brief slump and placed first in both the 220 and 440-yd freestyle events.

ONeill in the 200-yd individual, Fisette in the 100-yd butterfly, Morton in the 200-yd backstroke, and the medley relay team of Morton, Desjardins, Fisette, and Leith were other winners for the Redmen.

Second places played an im portant part in the victory for UMass. Led by Captain Dave Goldstein in the backstroke, who finished a four years swimming career for the University, Des-jardins, DeFreitas, Chiras, and Coffey all netted seconds in their respective events. Surprise of the afternoon was Coffey's second in both the 220 and 440-yd freestyle which he swam for the first time, in competition against Tufts.

The Freshmen team closed out their season on a sour note Wednesday by going down in defeat 6-30 at the hands of Mt. Hermon

The only first for the Frosh Mermen went to Pacocha in the 100-yd butterfly and Bjornholm in the 50-yd freestyle.

In the 50-yd freestyle.

Prospects for next year seem quite good for the Mermen with outgoing Captain Goldstein the only senior on this year's squad, and many hopefuls working their way up from the Freshmen. With this depth and potential coach Rogers should develop a winning combination especially with the combination especially with the expected return of Bob Burke who left the team at the end of first semester with a total of 24 points and should add much to points and should add much to next year's success. Congratulations to Bruce Mor-ton and Jim Coffey who have been chosen to accompany Coach Rogers and travel to the Univer-sity of Conn. campus this week-end to participate in the New England Intercollegiate Swim-ming Championships.

Collegiate Bowling Matches Scheduled

The year, as in the past, the 1961 Collegiate match games will be hosted by the Eastern and Midwest Intercollegiate Bowling Conference, and will begin April 15, in Chicago. The purpose of this event is to select the 1961 National Collegiate Match Games Bowling Champion

The competition is open to any matriculating male undergraduate of a four year accredited

College, and entrants must be in good scholastic standing.

The entry blanks may be picked up at the Cage, and must be accompanied with a fee of $7.00 which covers all bowling expenses.

Last year about four hundred students competed in this highly successful event which had its national finals televised.

Ya-Hoo...
(Continued from page 1)
both sides, the motion of postponement of the Ya-Hoo budget was passed by a close vote.
In other senate action the Engineering Journal budget and the constitutions of several student organizations were approved.

LEARN TO FLY $3.80 Per Lesson

UMASS FLYING CLUB Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays 2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

Give yourself all the breaks. Try Chesterfield King your next coffee break. Every satisfying puff is Air-Softened to enrich the flavor and make it mild. Special porous paper lets you draw fresh air into the full king length of straight Grade-A, top-tobacco.

CHESTERFIELD KING

-Photo by Bonner

WINNER AND RUNNER UP

William Dunsmore (second from left) and Fred Kleiner re-e trophies from Larry Truehart, Game Manager, and Clar-e Shellnut, Program Co-ordinator of the Student Union.

O'Brien And Lewis Smash Records As Trackmen Romp Over New Hampshire 87-26

by ABE SHEINKER '62

The UMass varsity track squad easily romped over the Univer-

Dunsmore Defeats Kleiner To Take Billiards Tourney

William Dunsmore, a sophomore, soundly whipped Fred Kleiner, a senior, in the annual Student Union Billiard Championship on Wednesday afternoon winning by the score of 150-50. This victory gives Dunsmore the championship for the second championship for the second straight year. Both received tro-phies for their efforts.

The Men's and Women's ping pong tournaments are now their way.

Pairings are posted on the bulletin board in the Game Area.

sity of New Hampshire, 87 to 26, in a meet at the Cage on Tuesday night. The Redmen won 10 of the 13 events while sweeping the first three places in four of Lee Munson, Bob Browne, and Kim Pruyne opened the contest with a sweep of the pole vault at the Amherst College Cage. Then, in the freezing cold of Alumni Field, Dick Ward put on the greatest clutch performance of the meet. John Ineson of UNH had led Ward in the 35-lb. weight throw, 45-4½ to 43-4½, as a slick throwing circle hampered the contestants. The big as a slick throwing circle hampered the contestants. The big sophomore, rising to the occasion on the 5th of his 6 tosses, proceeded to doff his shoes for better traction, and won the event in his stocking feet on a heave of 49'10". Ward later warmed his toes indoors with a 6-foot victory in the high jump.

George Giddings eked out a ictory in the shotput, besting Ineson by one inch and teammate Ernie Karshick by 4½ inches. Dave Balch recorded excellent Dave Baich recorded excellent times in winning the mile and two-mile races in 4:29.3 and 9:48, respectively, as Ralph Buschmann was second and Dick Blomstrom third, marking the second time in three meets that these runners have shut out their these runners have shut out their opponents in the long race.

Loren Flagg, winner of four straight indoor competitions, copped his specialty while tying the Cage and varsity records at 40 yards in 4.8 seconds. "Loppy" flashed through a trial heat in 4, but later questioned the timing. Mike Dineen and Jim Reilly made it a 1-2-3 dash sweep.

The 600 saw record-holder Ken O'Brien sitting out and resting for the 1000. So teammates Jack Harrington, Bob Avery, and Joe LaMarre shut out the Wildcats in the race with only 0.7 seconds separating them. Loren Flagg, winner of four

But O'Brien, who usually dou-bles in the 600 and 1000, was now primed for the climactic moment of the meet in the latter race.
The rugged sophomore passed the quarter-mile mark in 58 seconds with LaMarre right on his heels "Obie's" own race. He pulled away from his teammate, hit the half-mile mark in 1.58, a feat in itself, and then sprinted across the finish line in 2:16, as the Cage and varsity records. Cage and varsity records crumbled. His time was 2.1 seconds under the Cage mark and 3 seconds under the varsity record, while only 8.1 away from the world indoor standard.

Dan Emery of New Hampshire saved face for his team by winning the high and low hurdles and broad-jump. The Redmen wrapped it up with an easy win in the mile relay.

The frosh tracksters put forth The frosh tracksters put forth their second romp in as many meets while taming the Wildcat Cubs, 94 2/3 to 18 1/3. The first-year men lost only two of the 13 events while breaking one record and narrowly missing two others.

Fred Lewis was the record-Fred Lewis was the record-breaker, bettering his own mark in the broad jump with a 22'10'½" effort. The powerful grid star also took a second in the high jump. Near record performances were turned in by Bob Brouillet who won the two mile in 10:10 after winning the mile, and Gene Colburn who was 0.4 seconds off the 1000 mark with a 2:25 time.

John Harrington became the other double winner when he placed first in both hurdling races. Paul Pisinski led a sweep of the shotput with three tosses over 40 feet, including a best of 40'4".

Both UMass squads will travel to Cambridge Saturday for their last formal dual competition of the winter against M.I.T.

Good Record

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pitcher Rube Marquard of the New York Giants won 19 straight baseball games during 1912, starting on opening day with an 18-3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"GIVE A MAN A TOUGH JOB AND A CHANCE TO GO SOMEWHERE ... AND HE'LL BREAK HIS NECK TO DO IT"

In 1958 when Bill Ebben was only a few months away from his engineering degree at the University of Detroit, he was in touch with 15 prospective

He chose the Michigan Bell Telephone Company because: "This company offered the kind of engineering management opportunity I wantedand they weren't kidding."

One of Bill's first assignments was a survey of Michigan Bell's big Central District to find out how long available building space could accommodate the switching equipment required by rapid telephone growth. "I wasn't given any instruction," Bill says, "I was just told to do the job."

So Bill did it. His report became the guide for planning and budgeting future construction.

On his next move, Bill proved he could handle supervisory responsibility. He was sent to head up a group of seven engineers to design a new long distance switching center for Saginaw, Michigan -a $4,000,000 engineering project.

Today, Bill is on the staff of Michigan Bell's Program Engineer. He's working on a system for mechanized control of telephone construction costs.

How does Bill feel about his job? "Give a man a tough job and a chance to go somewhere—and he'll break his neck to do it. Of course, I don't think I'm going to be running the business next year-but I'm getting every opportunity to hit the top. You don't worry about opportunity here-you worry about whether you're as big as the job."

If you're a man like Bill Ebben, a man who can size up a job, figure out what needs to be done, and then do it—then you should get in touch with one of the Bell Companies. Visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."

> FREDERICK R. KAPPEL, President American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

Plastic Goggles Provide Safety For Chem. Students

EST FAD IN THE CHEM. LAB., THESE CLEAR PLASTIC GOGGLES offer protection to students from spattered acids and bases. Here Barbara Borys and assistant lab instructor Charles Mahar '61 model the new lab armor. The goggles are compulsory in all courses. Though they are reportedly uncom-fortable, the chem department considers them an indispensable

Copeland Delivers Lecture On Swift's Political Satire

"Satire is a kind of wit that is heated up by conviction," said Thomas Copeland, Commonwealth Professor of English in a speech Tuesday night. Speaking on "Swift and the Satiric View of Politics," Copeland distinguished between wit and satire, saying that a satirist is one who is "sore" about something. about something.

Discussing the background of Swift's era, Copeland mentioned that the 18th century satirists had great convictions about the topics they discussed.

hau great topics they discussed. Swift was depicted as a peren-nial "angry young man." Born in Ireland of a poor mother, Swift was sent through college by a benevolent uncle whom he dis-liked. He left Ireland at 21 and went to work in England, Swift despised politics because of his failure in practicing the art. Ac-cording to Copeland, he attacked politics through his writing as revenge. Not accepted by th revenge. Not accepted by the Whigs, Swift was offered an important editorial position by the Tories.

He used his new power to take revenge upon the Whigs for rejecting him. It had taken Swift years to gain power then the 45 years to gain power then the Tory regime collapsed and he was forced to flee.

Back in Ireland, Swift according to Professor Copeland attacked the Whigs by championing the Irish cause. His most famous work a collection called ous work, a collection called Gulliver's Travels, was written during this period.

vift's career was pitted with шашшашаш

MIMEOGRAPHING

PROMPT SERVICE REASONABLE RATES Will Call For and Deliver CALL Alpine 3-7877

disappointments which caused him to be extremely bitter. But this bitterness did not spoil the wit of his satire.

Men's Judiciary Will Elect Three Students

Men's Judiciary selections will be held Saturday March 11, and Sunday March 12 in the Senate Chambers of the S.U.

Two Sophomores, One Freshman To Be Selected

Two sophomores will be chosen Saturday and one freshman will be chosen Sunday.

Nomination papers may be picked up at the office of the Dean of Men. Papers will be available Friday March 3 and must be returned by 4 p.m. Friday March 10.

Candidates are asked to port to the Student Senate office at 12:15 p.m. on their respective

Student To Discuss Japanese Views On World Affairs

Yasuo Akai, UMass graduate udent in international relations will speak before a luncheon meeting of the Symposium. He will discuss the views of Japanese students toward intertional affairs. The event will take place Tuesday, March 7 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Essex Room in the S.U.

Anyone desiring to attend the luncheon and discussion notify Lorraine Gelpey in Knowl-

HILLEL PURIM PARTY

THE ORGAY ZEMER TROUPE

SUNDAY, MARCH 5 at 7:00 P.M.

COMMONWEALTH ROOM

STUDENT UNION

Hamantashen

All Welcome

Newman Club Hears AA's

by JOHN HOLDEN
Collegian Staff Reporter
Tuesday night, February 28, at 7:30 in the Dining Commons, four members of Alcoholics Anonymous spoke before the Newman Club.

Alcoholism is the world's urth major disease. In the United States, 75 million drinkers include five million known alco-

One of the speakers-all remained anonymous-spoke of the close connection between Cardi-nal Newman's Oxford movement, and the foundation of Alcoholics

Anonymous in 1935.

The speakers had different motives for becoming alcoholics, but all had one reason for en-tering AA—a desire to stop drinking. This is the only admis-

Play Reading To Be Given On March 8

A student play reading of Samuel Beckett's Waiting for Godet will be given by the Literary Society on Wednesday, March 8 at 8 'p.m. in the Bristol and Berkshire rooms of the SU.

and Berkshire rooms of the SU.

The students participating in the reading are Ben Benoit, Robert Stanton, Joseph Hahil, Paul Theroux, and Peter Gezork. Ali of these students have been actively involved in dramatizations and theatrical productions.
Following the reading, there will be a discussion on Samuel Beckett and his work.

Beckett and his work.

(Continued from page 1)

Dr. Hunsberger ...

Headed Chemistry Department At UMass he has been in charge of a chemistry department program involving approximately 1700 students enrolled in under-graduate and graduate courses. Shortly after his arrival, he was awarded $25,000 by the National Science Foundation for support of a major research project. He has also been supervising re-search work under grants from the National Institutes of Health and the U.S. Army Chemical

A regular lecturer at meetings of scientific societies. Dr. Huns-A regular lecturer at meetings of scientific societies, Dr. Hunsberger was invited to present a paper before the International Symposium on Hydrogen Bonding held in Yugoslavia in 1957. Since 1952, he has been following developments in Russian education and science and healest tradition and science and healest tradition. tion and science, and has lectured authoritatively on Russian and American science systems. Au-thor of numerous technical papers for leading scientific jour-nals, he has also published ar-ticles on education and the philosophy of science.

Is D.F.C. Recipient

During World War II, Dr. Hunsberger served in the U.S. Air Force as a lead navigator on B-24 bombers operating in the European theater. As a first light control of the company of the com lieutenant flying a complete tour of combat duty, he was the recipient of the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf Clusters and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Member of several professional societies, the new dean is listed in Who's Who in the East, Leador in American Education, and American Men of Science, Married to the former Elizabeth Ochnich of Conshohocken, Pa., he is the father of six children. He has had extensive experience in community work, including in community work, includi scouting and P.T.A. activities. including

Yale Chaplain Begins Religious Embassy

The Reverend William Sloane offin Jr., Protestant Chaplain Coffin Jr., Protestant Chaplain of Yale University, will inau-gurate the Christian Associationsponsored Religious Embassy this Sunday evening at seven p.m. in the Public Health Auditorium. The theme of the Embassy is "Campus Gods On Trail", and will consist of three evening lec-ture-discussions and two daily seminar meetings.

Rev. Coffin received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Yale in 1949 and his Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Yale Divinity School in 1956. While a divinity student at Yale, he was Assistant Chaplain and also served as Chaplain and also served as Minister to Presbyterian students. In 1956-57 he was Chaplain of Phillips Academy (Andover); in 1957-58 was Chaplain at Williams College.

liams College.

During World War II, he served with the U.S. Army in Europe as an Infantry officer and as a liaison officer with the French Army. Then for two years after the war, he was assigned after the war, he was assigned as liaison officer with the Russian army and was released from service in 1947 with the rank of service in 1947 with the rank of Captain. After completing his undergraduate studies, he studied at the Union Theological Semi-nary and from 1950 to 1953, during the Korean war, he served

REV. WILLIAM COFFIN, JR.

abroad working for the govern-ment in Russian affairs. In the summer of 1960 he led a group of students to Guinea as of Operations-Crossroads Africa.

Rev. Coffin is known as a very

Rev. Coffin is known as a very direct, dynamic speaker, and one can be assured he will not "spare the rod" with the "Campus God."

The Religious Embassy will strive toward a re-emphasis and re-assertion of personal Christian ideals which somehow become ideals, characteristically hazy in our col-

No-Fix Ticket Favored By Governor Volpe

At a Tuesday morning press inference, Gov. Volpe said he conference, Gov. Volpe s would be willing to si amended version of his traffic ticket proposal sign would be less subject to mani-pulation than the one he proposed in his special message. "Old Sneakers, Garbage"

The governor took the city of Boston sharply to task for "dirty streets... with old sneakers, garbage, and all kinds of things." He said the city would have to be cleaned up if the state is to attract tourist business from

Volpe again said the highway program of $90,000,000 he has recommended ought not to be amended to provide minimum amounts be spent in other parts of the state than Boston. He said, however, that if it is ame

-NOTICE-

The Student Union Dance The Student Union Dance Committee announces a dance to be held after the UMass-UNH basketball game Satur-day, March 4, 1961 in the small ballroom of the Union. There will be a public re-ception for Coach Matt Zunic, the basketball team and staff in the Colonial Lounge beginning at 10:15 p.m. All inter-ested students and faculty members are invited to attend both the reception and dance. There is no admission charge.

the Department of Public Works will have to live with it. He said that there remains

He said that there remains $80,000,000 in available funds.
Of the $170,000,000 total, $129,000,000 might be spent for the Boston inner belt, but only $5,000,000 could be spent in the next two years on the one project. He said this would mean that probably more than balt the probably more than half the $90,000,000 would go for the inner

Awaits Decision

Awaits Decision
Gov. Volpe said he has asked the Senate to recall a bill to make Columbus Day a Sunday law holiday in order to await the federal Supreme Court decision on the Springfield case on the constitutionality of Massachusetts Sunday laws.

He said his office staff will be made available to discuss his be made available to discuss his New Haven proposal with Speak-er John F. Thompson, D-Ludlow. Thompson has indicated sharp opposition to the Volpe proposal with other states to subsidize the Inter-Library Loan ...

(Continued from page 1)
er. Students should take advantage of this fact.

Also, a book from our own library will sometimes substitute for one that is being sought else-where, and an interlibrary loan will not be necessary.

When students cannot find the when students cannot find the source books they are looking for in our own library, the case may be that they don't know how to use the card catalogue.

Not A Right

It must be emphasized that our library contains the great majority of the material that any student will require, and that borrowing from Amherst Col-lege's library is only a supple-ment to our own library's fa-cilities

This interlibrary loan system is "A courtesy and a privilege, not a right," says Hugh Montgomery, Goodell librarian, and the UMass students should treat it as such.

S.U. Talent Show Planned March 10

The Arts and Music Commit-tee of the Student Union is sponsoring a Talent Show to be sented on Friday, March 10, 1961 at 8 p.m. in the S.U. Ballroom. Students will provide the talent for this show.

Talent is being recruited from the student body. As yet, the number of students participating is too small to provide active and interesting competition.

VOL. XC NO. 53 56 PER COPY

Our Peace Corps

See page 2

MONDAY, MARCH 6, 1961

Kennedy Establishes U.S. Peace Corps

Goal Of 500 Members Set This Year For Unpaid Volunteer OverseasService

by JAMES R. REINHOLD, '61, News Editor President Kennedy announced no-salary basis.

the formation of a Peace Corps of young men and women Wednesday. The volunteers will serve America overseas in underdevel-

Established by Executive Order

The President signed an executive order setting up the project, and sent a special message to Congress asking that the corps be established by law on a peranent basis.

Kennedy ordered the creation of the pilot corps following through a campaign promise to counteract the influx of Soviet technicians into the underdeveld nations.
'This corps will be a pool of trained men and women sent ov-erseas by the United States government or through private organizations, to help foreign countries meet their urgent needs for skilled manpower," the President skilled manpower," the President said. "It is our hope to have 500 to 1000 people in the field by the end of this year."

Go Only Where 'Needed'

Kennedy told a news conference that members of the corps will go only to nations where their services and skills are genuinely needed and desired. He added that life "will not be easy."

Volunteers will live at the same level as the citizens of the country in which they work, eating the same food and speaking the e language. None of the and women will be paid a salary Kennedy added.

Emphasis Upon Skills

"We are going to put particu-lar emphasis upon those men and women who have skills in teachring, agriculture, and health," the President said.

In his message to Congress Kennedy made these specific points:

1—The program will be administered by a headquarters agency in Washington, but will work with colleges, universities and private agencies. R. Sargent Shri-

Legislature Plans Two Year

Medical School For UMass state medical school, on teachers' pay raise and UMass bills may pay raise and UMass bills may have to await action on Federal aid, under the program announced by President Kennedy, Sen. Mary L. Fonseca (D-Fall River) said after an executive session of the committee on education. She is senate chairman of the committee.

The education committee has

The education committee has heard all but two matters, one of which was referred from another committee, the senator said. By end of this week only state, salary increases at UMass, and the question of the medical school will be left to be decided.

"We recognize the need for a state medical school," said Senasociation has no stand on the issue of compulsory against ROTC. Thackrey, in answering the stand that ROTC is just like any other type of basic compulsory course stated: "We do not believe that requirement serves the same function as compulsory freshmen English . . English performance in most other University courses. No analogous

(Continued on page 5)

is necessa'ry for satisfactory

on is served by ROTC." He studying the problem from all points of view, the expense and location particularly.

Speaker of the House John F. Thompson today announced his support of legislation to establish a two-year, basic science a two-year, basic medical school at UMass. making his Thompson said:

"Ever since the idea of a statesupported medical school was first advanced for legislative consideration by the late Governor Paul A. Dever, the Den nor Paul A. Dever, the Democratic Party in Massachusetts has strongly supported all efforts to establish a state medical school. We have been aware of the pressing need for more doctors and of the equally pressing need to place medical education within the financial reach of qualified young men and women from low and middle income families in our state.

"Unfortunately, little progress families in our state.

"Unfortunately, little progress has been made during the past decade in legislative efforts to set up a four year state-supported medical education program.

At the present time, supporters of a four year state medical school are hopelessly divided as to the geographical location of such an institution, and many such an institution, and many informed observers believe that a divide and conquer strategy has been deliberately contrived by opponents of the plan in an effort to defeat all such efforts.

fort to defeat all such efforts.

"While not abandoning my enthusiasm for a full four year program, I believe that the time has come for positive action. I a two-year basic science medical school program at the University of Massachusetts affords us an opportunity to make a meaning-ful beginning in dealing with this all-important problem. I understand that such a program could be initiated with dispatch and put into operation for a re-moderate expenditure of public funds.

"In my judgment, the only medical school proposal presently before us which has any real possibility of success is the twoyear basic science medical pro-gram. For this reason, I have de-cided to lend my full support to this proposal as the best available means of getting constructive action now in this crucial area.

Appointment Of Dr. Paine Announced

by DICK HAYNES

by DICK HAYNES
Collegian Staff Reporter
Dr. Robert W. Gage has announced the appointment of Dr.
Charles B. Paine as full-time assistant physican of the University Health Service. Paine, a former resident of Charleston, West Virginia, received his BS. from Yale University, doctorate from University of Pennsylvania, from University of Pennsylvania, and served his internship at Cooper Hospital in Camden, New

He is married, has two chil-dren, and has served with the Twelfth USAF Field Station in Hokkaido, Japan. He assumed his duties on Feb. 27 and will-work here until July 1.

Gage also announced that the new student health fee will probably be $25 or $30 per semester per student. The money, to be deposited in a trust fund under the control of the board of Trustees will be used to increase the tees, will be used to increase the professional staff of the Health Service, independent of the State Legislature.

He said that the final assess-ment which is dependent upon the Board of Trustees will probably be announced late in April. The fee will be assessed on each student's semester bill commence student's semester bill commenc-ing in September. There will be three additional physicians em-ployed by the Health Service, one in July and two in September. The present state allotment for the Health Service is $84,-

000. Of this amount $73,000 is used for the salaries of two doctors, five full-time nurses, five part-time nurses, two clerks, three cooks, three part-time kitchen personnel, and one house-keeper. This also pays utilities and leaves about $7.225 for materials. terials. This is approximately $11 per student.

Gage expressed hope that the state legislature will continue its present level of support of the Health Service. Under the new Health Fee system, all non-stu-dent groups using the campus who require medical services will be assessed for such service

Rhode Island Group Favors

As the result of an extensive urvey, the URI Educational Af-State Universities; and George Holster, director of the Rutgers News Service.

on a . . . problem which has assumed overriding importance—

End Of Compulsory R.O.T.C.

by IRWIN CHERNIAK, Collegian Staff Reporter and that the Department of De-fense has no basis for favoring such a program."

Russell Thackrey said the As-fairs Committee on Feb. 6, 1961 published a summary of their findings favoring the discontinuance of basic compulsory ROTC.

In their report the committee cited letters from: Army Secretary Brucker; Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Commander of the U.S. Continental Army Command. Russell Thackers, Eventure Sec. Russell Thackrey, Executive Secretary of the American Associa-tion of Land Grant Colleges and

2-Volunteers will not be of-

3-Volunteers will train for periods of six weeks to six months, and will serve overseas for two to three year periods.

4-Volunteers will receive no pay, and their living allowances will "only be sufficient to meet basic needs and maintain health."

Modest severance pay will go to retiring members for readjustment back in the U.S.

(Continued on page 5)

fered draft deferment.

Secretary Brucker stated that "A compulsory basic two year course provides a broad selection base from which the best quali-fied applicants can be chosen . . . to qualify the student to be a commissioned officer." The Secretary further cited that: "Such an intimate understanding (of military factors) is of great value to the (undergraduates) in formulating their views our national security."

The Defense Department, taking an entirely different point of view, concluded "... that a military requirement does not exist ver, the President's brother-in-law, will direct the agency on a Four Positions Available On Soph Exec. Council There are four vacancies at present on the Sophomore Execu-Council. The Executive Council has been working with the class officers to help establish class policies and organize class functions. Under the guidance of the Council, such projects as the Igloo, work on Winter Carni committees, Soph-Frosh Night, Class Rings and Blazers, Soph Banquet, and Class Outing, have been com-pleted or are in the planning

The positions are open to any-one in the Class of 1963 who has a 1.7 cum or above, and is willing to work for the class. Applications are made up by the individual and should contain the

Name; Residence and Mailing Address; Cum ave.; Activities you have been in at college; Type of committee work you are interested in; and concrete examples given in answer to the following question—What would I like to see the Soph Exec Council accomplish, and how can the Council accomplish it?

Those who applied first semester of this year will have to re-apply to be considered for Exec Council this semester, Return the applications by March 14 to the Class Box 863 in R.S.O. or to Bob McMaster, Peter Bracci, Mimi Halper, or Sue Streeter.

Saturday night was Doug Grutchfield night at the Cage, and here Saturday night was Doug Grutchfield night at the Cage, and here Doug is shown with his wife, Patricia (left), and his mother, Mrs. Doris Grutchfield, displaying the gifts that he received. Mrs. Grutchfield and Patricia are holding the golf clubs (partially visible) presented to Doug by Kappa Sigma fraternity. In front are the silver platter and tea set from his teammates, a large piece of luggage from the Department of Physical Education, the set of insignia presented by Col. Weaver (bottom), and the plaque (lower left, partially visible) presented by Dennis Twohig, from the student body. See sports page.

Photo by Steve Arbit

Our Peace Corps

We are the richest country in the world; yet, in Asia, Africa, and elsewhere, people who are not so fortunate as we are live and work in an atmosphere of physical and mental poverty. It is not that these people do not want to irrigate their crops, but rather that they do not know how. It is not that they can not understand Americans, but that they have never had the opportunity.

At last our country is going to do something to correct this situation. A United States Peace Corps is being formed. Initially it will be composed of many specialists who will render the needed technical aid. These specialists will be chosen on a highly selective basis. Soon, perhaps all those who wish to volunteer will be permitted to join, but for now let us be careful to choose those who are most highly qualified and competent.

It is important that we should not dismiss the Peace Corps as being merely an instrument of idealism. Quite to the contrary, it is an idea based upon supreme practicality and urgent need. Is it idealistic to believe that it is the duty of the rich and fortunate to help the poverty-stricken and unfortunate? Is it idealistic to strive for understanding between the richest nations and the poorest? Certainly not!

Our Peace Corps will not be an instrument of politics but rather of humanitarianism. It will not be a tool of infiltration, but of education. The peace corps is a noble venture. We wish it well.

On Voluntary ROTC

Probably unknown to many is the fact that the Defense Department at Washington does not advocate a compulsory R.O.T.C. program. The Department has stated that military requirement does not exist for compulsory basic training at our colleges and universities.

Also of interest are the results of a voluntary R.O.T.C. program newly instituted at Rutgers University; 64% of the freshmen at Rutgers have voluntered for this program.

Such information makes us wonder at the necessity of compulsory R.O.T.C. at our own university. Apparently some colleges have experienced considerable success with voluntary programs. Couldn't UMass do the same? The millions of dollars saved the country by cutting down on training programs ought to be considerable incentive for a new, voluntary program. We can think of better ways of spending the nation's precious dollars than by using them in forced training of uninterested R.O.T.C.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Executive Board
Donald D. Johnson '61 Co-Chairman
Al Berman '62 Co-Chairman
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Editorial Editor
James R. Reinhold '61 News Editor
Ben Gordon '62 Sports Editor
Larry Popple '63 Photography Editor
Michael Cohen '61 Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62 Advertising Manager

nd class matter at the post office at Am-ed three times weekly during the academic vacation and examination periods; twice a ot during vacation veek following a voliday falls within authority of the a of June 11, 1934.

The Ivory Tower

I have noticed recently a number of references to Murphy's Law This law is quite well known but is usually given in a slightly garbled form. I'll devote this column to straightening out the record.

Murphy's Law was first formulated by a group of students at an Eastern engineering school in the mid-50s. It spread quickly throughout the Boston area and was eventually sent to John W. Campbell, Jr., Editor of Analog Science Fact and Fiction. From there it spread to the academic world especially that of the sciences where its uni-

Murphy's Law, in its most general form, is: "If anything can happen it will". This is one of the fundamental facts of science,

Any time an experiment is conducted there are a number of things that can happen. Since there is a greater possibility of things going wrong than of turning out right, the experiment, especially with inexperienced hands, usually goes wrong. However, there is a definite possibility that the experiment will turn out right. Thus we have progress.

I'm sure you can think of many examples of the applications of this law. Let me give you a few.

I recently ran an experiment that entailed the refluxing of a chemical mixture for four and a half hours under bone-dry conditions. At four hours and twenty-eight minutes, I got water into the mixture. At least this was the first part of the experiment, it could have happened at the end,

Another time, a group of students were conducting tests on a catalytic bed in an attempt to achieve fluidized conditions. This is a physical phenomena that can be visualized. The experiment was carried out in a sealed metal tube so a special detection apparatus was constructed to detect the phenomenum electrically. Five times the apparatus worked successfully, but fluidization was not achieved. The sixth time, the experimenters had good reason to believe that they had fluidization. Unfortunately, the apparatus blew a fuse.

This is the first successful attempt to place experimental failures on a scientific basis. In the past, scientists thought their errors were due to poor technique or other controllable factors. Now it has been shown that error is an inherent part of any experiment, and while it may be minimized, can never be completely eliminated.

So, don't feel too had when you waste hours on an experiment that does not work. Murphy's Law says that there is nothing you can do anyway. You can't beat the system.

Things do go right. Occasionally, an experiment may turn out to give the desired results with a minimum of effort. However, it usually takes a number of unsuccessful trials first. Such is science.

To set the record straight, there is no Professor Murphy or anyone else by that name. To have a general law, you sh

Joe Cohen

The Roister Doisters

Recently, a controversial article appeared in the New York Times, which quoted the critic, Eric Bentley, as saying: "All the college theaters do, by and large, is to give bad presentations of successful Broadway shows. It's amateur night every night in the university

Is college theater really as unjustifiable as Mr. Bentley seems to think? I doubt it. With the passing of vandeville and amateur play-houses, about the only incubator for theatrical talent is in college. Here, in a comparatively lenient environment (since casting directors have to compete with the urgent call of studies and other campus organizations, and cannot count upon the extensive rehearsals and wide selection of actors that a metropolitan director would have), the students are able to shift into a semi-professional capacity that makes the transition to full-time actor much easier to accomplish. The best part of college theatricals is the experience it gives aspiring students to grasp the characterization, learn the staging tricks and technical terms, to become at ease in front of an audience, while allowing him to see and be connected with the complete operation of the theatre, from ligthing to direction to set design

Besides the practical segment of college theater, the part bene ficial to those actually involved in putting on a production, there is also consideration of the audience.

To be able to produce a Broadway play right on campus automatically expands the scope of the play; gives it a wider range so that more people can actually see it acted out effectively and get the meaning behind it—people who perhaps would never have seen it any other way, or even read it.

Let us be fair. Many of us, living in an area so close to both Boston and New York, have seen plays by the original Broadway cast—shows that have been quite unimpressive, shows that you have seen done better by a campus group. We at the University of Massachusetts are fortunate to have three such groups—Roister Roisters, Operetta Guild and Campus Varieties, plus an experimental theatrical organization. We feel that the verkle presented by the three theat. Operetta Gulid and Campus Varieties, plus an experimental theatrical organization. We feel that the works presented by these groups both enrich the participants and the university, and we are very happy that these people will go on, perhaps, to the professional stage, or, if not, will at the very least have a heritage of some of the best works in Western literature which they, the University and the surrounding area could not have had if, as Mr. Bentley would have it, college theater were left to wither on the vine instead of being the sturdy, fruitful plant it is. fruitful plant it is.

LETTERS

Such A Rebuke—Unnecessary

To the Editor:

I believe, Mr. Theroux, that it was you who, in your first article against the opinions on capital punishment set down by Miss Voikos, viciously (I'd even go so far as to say sadistically) rebuked her for her inhumanity, unnaturalness and god-like convictions. Actually, I find this quite humorous, in a sick sense of the word, for I can be frank in say-ing that I have never encountered a piece of literature (I grant that you have a wonderful talent—if somewhat warped) which reeked so excessively of inhumanity, unnaturalness and that "Heavy Wrath of God" attitude.

Maybe Miss Voikos had a point when she replied her second editorial that she felt sorry for you but I don't want to get personal either, Mr. Theroux.

question of ethics and morality concerning capital punishment is, I believe, a question without final solution, and should not, at any rate, evoke the tyrannical, egotistical, brutal and inhumane attitude which you so blatently exhibited.

Tell me, Mr. Theroux, do you have a lab part-

Ben Gordon '62

To The 'Star Chamber'

We, the "Frat Brats", wish to extend our sincerest felicitations to this august body for their astute empiricism in "detecting" recent alleged odious plots and conspiracies by we, Yahoos, against the administrative Houyhnhnms. Citing the words of Jonathan Swift, we humbly offer additional empirical axioms for discovering future insidious perversions against infallible Houyhnhnm "Bulls". We beseech you great administrators "to examine into the diet of all suspecting persons; their times of eating; upon which pecting persons; their times of carries, side they lie in bed; with which hand they wipe side they lie in bed; with which hand they wipe side they wipe and from the color, odor, taste, their excrements, and, from the color, odor, taste, consistence, crudeness or maturity of digestion, form men are never so serious, thoughtful, and intent, as a judgment of their thought and design. Because when they are "at stool," which has been found by frequent experiment. For in such conjectures, when a Yahoo is contemplating Bacchanalian revelry, his ordure would have the tincture of silver and magen-ta. We fearfully hope that our meager comprehen-sion of Swiftian scientific axioms are not misconstrued as intrusions upon the "Chamber's magnanimous wisdom.

Your humbled and obedient servants,

La Greenough Food

The time: 5:00 P.M. . . . OBOY! This is the time I've waited for all day long. The time has come to enjoy the exquisite cuisine of La Greenough Inn. Everyone calls me crazy for complimenting the delicious food served there. Just because the food is a little tough; OK, maybe it's very tough and inedible that's no reason to complain. Man, that's just like home cooking.

I had a pleasant surprise yesterday at supper, my cube steak wasn't cooked . . . The fellas don't know that I love uncooked meat; there's nothing like it. It does wonders for the digestive system. What I especially like about Greenough is it's real Western style; it's very easy to see that after you wipe the grease off the inside of the cup while drinking that elicious coffee. Oh yes, one more terrific advantage of a meal: they don't encourage you to stuff your-self at each meal with bread. No sir, they tactfully try to give you two whole pieces instead of the free choice they used to give. Bread's no good for you anyway; ask any doctor.

It's now 6:15 and, dammit, I've missed another

Stephen Silverman Baker Dorm

Talk Of The Week MONDAY

- "Campus Gods on Trial," Christian Embassy, 7:00 p.m., Public Health Auditorium.
- "South Africa and An Explosive Continent," Great Decisions Discussion, 7:30 p.m., Skinner Auditorium.
- "Ethics and American Culture," by Professor Gayraud Wilmore, Professor of Ethics, Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, 7:00 p.m., Babbott, Amhers College (March 7, at 4:00 p.m. and March 8, at 7:00 p.m., also.)
- "Gumran Community and Scrolls," by Professor Ronald Tamblyn, Professor of Religion, Mount Holyoke, 4:10 p.m., L2 Cleveland, Mount Holyoke.

Our Peace Corps

See page 2

VOL. XC NO. 53 5¢ PER COPY

MONDAY, MARCH 6, 1961

Kennedy Establishes U.S. Peace Corps

Goal Of 500 Members Set This Year For Unpaid Volunteer OverseasService

by JAMES R. REINHOLD, '61, News Editor
President Kennedy announced the formation of a Peace Corps of young men and women Wednesday. The volunteers will serve America overseas in underdeveloped areas

Established by Executive Order The President signed an executive order setting up the project, and sent a special message to Congress asking that the corps be established by law on a permanent basis.

Kennedy ordered the creation of the pilot corps following through a campaign promise to counteract the influx of Soviet technicians into the underdeveloped nations.

'This corps will be a pool of trained men and women sent ov-erseas by the United States government or through private or-ganizations, to help foreign countries meet their urgent needs for skilled manpower," the President said. "It is our hope to have 500 to 1000 people in the field by the to 1000 people in the field by the end of this year."

Go Only Where 'Needed'
Kennedy told a news conference that members of the corps will go only to nations where their services and skills are genuinely needed and desired. He added that life "will not be easy."
Volunteers will live at the same

Volunteers will live at the same level as the citizens of the country in which they work, eating the same food and speaking the same language. None of the men and women will be paid a salary, Kennedy added.

Emphasis Upon Skills

"We are going to put particu-lar emphasis upon those men and women who have skills in teach ing, agriculture, and health," the President said.

In his message to Congress Kennedy made these specific

1—The program will be administered by a headquarters agency in Washington, but will work with colleges, universities and private agencies. R. Sargent Shri-President's brother-inlaw, will direct the agency on a

2-Volunteers will not be offered draft deferment.

3-Volunteers will train for periods of six weeks to six months, and will serve overseas for two to three year periods.

4—Volunteers will receive no pay, and their living allowances will "only be sufficient to meet basic needs and maintain health." Modest severance pay will go to retiring members for readjustment back in the U.S.

(Continued on page 5)

Legislature Plans Two Year Medical School For UMass

Action on the location of a state medical school, on teachers' pay raise and UMass bills may have to await action on Federal aid, under the program an-nounced by President Kennedy, Nounced by President Kennedy, Sen. Mary L. Fonseca (D-Fall River) said after an executive session of the committee on edu-cation. She is senate chairman of the committee.

The education committee has heard all but two matters, one of which was referred from another committee, the senator said. By the end of this week only state aid, salary increases at UMass, and the question of the medical school will be left to be decided.

"We recognize the need for a state medical school," said Senasuch a program."

Russell Thackrey said the Association has no stand on the issue of compulsory against ROTC. Thackrey, in answering the stand that ROTC is just like any other type of basic compulsory course stated: "We do not believe that requirement serves the same function as compulsory freshmen English . . . English . . . is necessary for satisfactory performance in most other University courses.

No function is served by ROTC." He
(Continued on page 5)

studying the problem from all points of view, the expense and location particularly.

Speaker of the House John F. Thompson today announced his support of legislation to estab-lish a two-year, basic science medical school at UMass. In making his announcement, Thompson said:

"Ever since the idea of a state-apported medical school was rst advanced for legislative consideration by the late Gover-nor Paul A. Dever, the Demo-cratic Party in Massachusetts cratic Party in Massachusetts has strongly supported all efforts to establish a state medical school. We have been aware of the pressing need for more doctors and of the equally pressing need to place medical education within the financial reach of qualified young men and women from low and middle income families in our state.

"Unfortunately, little progress has been made during the past decade in legislative efforts to set up a four year state-supported medical education program.

ed medical education program.
At the present time, supporters of a four year state medical school are hopelessly divided as to the geographical location of such an institution, and many informed observers believe that a informed observers believe that a divide and conquer strategy has been deliberately contrived by opponents of the plan in an effort to defeat all such efforts. "While not abandoning my enthusiasm for a full four year program, I believe that the time has come for positive action. I believe that the establishment of a two-year basic science medical school program at the University of Massachusetts affords us an opportunity to make a meaningful beginning in dealing with this all-important problem. I un-derstand that such a program could be initiated with dispatch and put into operation for a re-latively moderate expenditure of public funds.

public funds.
"In my judgment, the only medical school proposal presently before us which has any real possibility of success is the two-year basic science medical program. For this reason, I have desided to be a local proposition of the pro cided to lend my full support to this proposal as the best available means of getting constructive action now in this crucial area

Appointment Of Dr. Paine Announced

by DICK HAYNES

Collegian Staff Reporter Dr. Robert W. Gage has an nounced the appointment of Dr Charles B. Paine as full-time assistant physican of the Univer-Charles B. Paine as full-time assistant physican of the University Health Service. Paine, a former resident of Charleston, West Virginia, received his BS. from Yale University, doctorate from University of Pennsylvania, and served his internship at Cooper Hospital in Camden, New Jersey.

Jersey.

He is married, has two children, and has served with the Twelfth USAF Field Station in Hokkaido, Japan. He assumed his duties on Feb. 27 and will work here until July 1.

Gage also announced that the new student health fee will probably be $25 or $30 per semester per student. The money, to be deposited in a trust fund under the control of the board of Trus-tees, will be used to increase the professional staff of the Health Service, independent of the State Legislature.

He said that the final assessment which is dependent upon the Board of Trustees will prob-ably be announced late in April. The fee will be assessed on each The fee will be assessed on each student's semester bill commencing in September. There will be three additional physicians employed by the Health Service, one in July and two in September.

The present state allotment for the Health Service is $84,-000. Of this amount $73,000 is used for the salaries of two docused for the salaries of two doctors, five full-time nurses, five part-time nurses, two clerks, three cooks, three part-time kitchen personnel, and one house-keeper. This also pays utilities and leaves about $7,225 for markets. terials. This is approximately $11 per student.

Gage expressed hope that the state legislature will continue its present level of support of the present level of support of the Health Service. Under the new Health Fee system, all non-stu-dent groups using the campus who require medical services will be assessed for such service.

Rhode Island Group Favors End Of Compulsory R.O.T.C.

by IRWIN CHERNIAK, Collegian Staff Reporter are result of an extensive and that the Department of Dethe URI Educational Affense has no basis for favoring As the result of an extensive survey, the URI Educational Af-State Universities; and George Holster, director of the Rutgers News Service.

ing an entirely different point of view, concluded "... that a mili-tary requirement does not exist

fairs Committee on Feb. 6, 1961 published a summary of their findings favoring the discontinuance of basic compulsory ROTC. In their report the committee cited letters from: Army Secrerowell, Commander of the U.S. Continental Army Command; Russell Thackrey, Executive Secretary of the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities; and Google

Secretary Brucker stated that "A compulsory basic two year course provides a broad selection base from which the best qualibase from which the best qualified applicants can be chosen ... to qualify the student to be a commissioned officer." The Secretary further cited that: "Such an intimate understanding (of military factors) is of great value to the (undergraduates) in formulating their views on a ... problem which has as on a . . . problem which has assumed overriding importance—our national security."

The Defense Department, tak-

for a compulsory basic program,

Saturday night was Doug Grutchfield night at the Cage, and here Doug is shown with his wife, Patricia (left), and his mother, Mrs. Doris Grutchfield, displaying the gifts that he received. Mrs. Grutchfield and Patricia are holding the golf clubs (partially visible) presented to Doug by Kappa Sigma fraternity. In front are the silver platter and tea set from his teammates, a large piece of luggage from the Department of Physical Education, the set of insignia presented by Col. Weaver (bottom), and the plaque (lower left, partially visible) presented by Dennis Twohig, from the student body. See sports page.

Photo by Steve Arbit

Four Positions Available On Soph Exec. Council

There are four vacancies at resent on the Sophomore Executive Council. The Executive Council has been working with the class officers to help estabthe class officers to help estab-lish class policies and organize class functions. Under the guid-ance of the Council, such proj-ects as the Igloo, work on Win-ter Carni committees, Soph-Frosh Night, Class Rings and Blazers, Soph Banquet, and Class Outing, have been com-pleted or are in the planning stages.

The positions are open to any-one in the Class of 1963 who has a 1.7 cum or above, and is willing to work for the class. Applications are made up by the individual and should contain the following information:

Name; Residence and Mailing Address; Cum ave.; Activities you have been in at college; Type of committee work you are interested in; and concrete examples given in answer to the following question—What would I like to see the Soph Exec Council accomplish, and how can the Council accomplish it?

Those who applied first some

Those who applied first semester of this year will have to reapply to be considered for Exec Council this semester. Return the applications by March 14 to the Class Box 863 in R.S.O. or to Bob McMaster, Peter Bracci, Mimi Halper, or Sue Streeter.

Our Peace Corps

We are the richest country in the world; yet, in Asia, Africa, and elsewhere, people who are not so fortunate as we are live and work in an atmosphere of physical and mental poverty. It is not that these people do not want to irrigate their crops, but rather that they do not know how. It is not that they · can not understand Americans, but that they have never had the opportunity.

At last our country is going to do something to correct this situation. A United States Peace Corps is being formed. Initially it will be composed of many specialists who will render the needed technical aid. These specialists will be chosen on a highly selective basis. Soon, perhaps all those who wish to volunteer will be permitted to join, but for now let us be careful to choose those who are most highly qualified and compe-

It is important that we should not dismiss the Peace Corps as being merely an instrument of idealism. Quite to the contrary. it is an idea based upon supreme practicality and urgent need. Is it idealistic to believe that it is the duty of the rich and fortunate to help the poverty-stricken and un-fortunate? Is it idealistic to strive for understanding between the richest nations and the poorest? Certainly not!

Our Peace Corps will not be an instrument of politics but rather of humanitarianism. It will not be a tool of infiltration, but of education. The peace corps is a noble venture. We wish it well.

On Voluntary ROTC

Probably unknown to many is the fact that the Defense Department at Washington does not advocate a compulsory R.O.T.C. program. The Department has stated that a military requirement does not exist for compulsory basic training at our colleges and universities.

Also of interest are the results of a voluntary R.O.T.C. program newly instituted at Rutgers University; 64% of the freshmen at Rutgers have voluntered for this program.

Such information makes us wonder at the necessity of compulsory R.O.T.C. at our own university. Apparently some colleges have experienced considerable success with voluntary programs. Couldn't UMass do the same? The millions of dollars saved the country by cutting down on training programs ought to be considerable incentive for a new, voluntary program. We can think of better ways of spending the nation's pre-cious dollars than by using them in the forced training of uninterested R.O.T.C. cadets.

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870

Executive Board
Donald D. Johnson '61 Co-Chairman
Al Berman '62 Co-Chairman
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Editorial Editor
James R. Reinhold '61 News Editor
Ben Gordon '62 Sports Editor
Larry Popple '63 Photography Editor
Michael Cohen '61 Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62 Advertising Manager

dered as second class matter at the post office at Am. Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic except during vacation and examination periods; twice the week following a vacation or examination period, o a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for malin the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended the control of the control o

June 11, 1934.

lee $\frac{34.00}{2}$ per year; $2.50 per semester

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass
lated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press; Intercollegiate Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

The Ivory Tower

I have noticed recently a number of references to Murphy's Law This law is quite well known but is usually given in a slightly garbled form. I'll devote this column to straightening out the re

Murphy's Law was first formulated by a group of students at an Eastern engineering school in the mid-50s. It spread quickly throughout the Boston area and was eventually sent to John W. Campbell, Jr., Editor of Analog Science Fact and Fiction. From there it spread to the academic world especially that of the sciences where its universal applications became known

Murphy's Law, in its most general form, is: "If anything can happen it will". This is one of the fundamental facts of scien

Any time an experiment is conducted there are a number of things that can happen. Since there is a greater possibility of things going wrong than of turning out right, the experiment, especially with inexperienced hands, usually goes wrong. However, there is a definite possibility that the experiment will turn out right. Thus we

I'm sure you can think of many examples of the applications of law. Let me give you a few.

I recently ran an experiment that entailed the refluxing of a mical mixture for four and a half hours under bone-dry conditions. At four hours and twenty-eight minutes, I got water into the mix-ture. At least this was the first part of the experiment, it could have

Another time, a group of students were conducting tests on a catalytic bed in an attempt to achieve fluidized conditions. This is a physical phenomena that can be visualized. The experiment was carried out in a sealed metal tube so a special detection apparatus was constructed to detect the phenomenum electrically. Five times the apparatus worked successfully, but fluidization was not achieved. The sixth time, the experimenters had good reason to believe that they had fluidization. Unfortunately, the apparatus blew a fuse.

This is the first successful attempt to place experimental failures on a scientific basis. In the past, scientists thought their errors were due to poor technique or other controllable factors. Now it has been shown that error is an inherent part of any experiment, and while it may be minimized, can never be completely eliminated.

So, don't feel too had when you waste hours on an experiment that does not work. Murphy's Law says that there is nothing you can do anyway. You can't beat the system.

Things do go right. Occasionally, an experiment may turn out give the desired results with a minimum of effort. However, it ally takes a number of unsuccessful trials first. Such is science.

To set the record straight, there is no Professor Murphy or anyone else by that name. To have a general law, you should have a

-Joe Cohen

The Roister Doisters

by RALPH

Recently, a controversial article appeared in the New York Times, which quoted the critic, Eric Bentley, as saying: "All the college theaters do, by and large, is to give bad presentations of successful Broadway shows. It's amateur night every night in the university theaters"

s college theater really as unjustifiable as Mr. Bentley seems to think? I doubt it. With the passing of vandeville and amateur play-houses, about the only incubator for theatrical talent is in college. Here, in a comparatively lenient environment (since casting directors have to compete with the urgent call of studies and other campus organizations, and cannot count upon the extensive rehearsals and wide selection of actors that a metropolitan director would have), the students are able to shift into a semi-professional capacity that makes the transition to full-time actor much easier to accomplish. The best part of college theatricals is the experience it gives aspiring students the characterization, learn the staging tricks and technical terms, to become at ease in front of an audience, while allowing him to see and be connected with the complete operation of the theatre, from ligthing to direction to set design.

Besides the practical segment of college theater, the part beneficial to those actually involved in putting on a production, there is also consideration of the audience.

To be able to produce a Broadway play right on campus automatically expands the scope of the play; gives it a wider range so that more people can actually see it acted out effectively and get the meaning behind it—people who perhaps would never have seen it any other way, or even read it.

Let us be fair. Many of us, living in an area so close to both Boston and New York, have seen plays by the original Broadway cast—shows that have been quite unimpressive, shows that you have seen done better by a campus group. We at the University of Massachusetts are fortunate to have three such groups — Roister Roisters, Operetta Guild and Campus Varieties, plus an experimental theatrical organization. We feel that the works presented by these groups both organization. We feel that the works presented by these groups both enrich the participants and the university, and we are very happy that these people will go on, perhaps, to the professional stage, or, if not, will at the very least have a heritage of some of the best works in Western literature which they, the University and the surrounding area could not have had if, as Mr. Bentley would have it, college theater were left to wither on the vine instead of being the sturdy, fruitful plant it is.

LETTERS

Such A Rebuke—Unnecessary

I believe, Mr. Theroux, that it was you who, in your first article against the opinions on capital punishment set down by Miss Voikos, viciously (I'd punishment set down by MISS voicos, viciously (1 u even go so far as to say sadistically) rebuked her for her inhumanity, unnaturalness and god-like convictions. Actually, I find this quite humorous, in a sick sense of the word, for I can be frank in saya sick sense of the word, for I can be trank in saying that I have never encountered a piece of literature (I grant that you have a wonderful talent—if somewhat warped) which reeked so excessively of inhumanity, unnaturalness and that "Heavy Wrath God" attitude.

Maybe Miss Voikos had a point when she replied in her second editorial that she felt sorry for you . . . but I don't want to get personal either, Mr. Theroux.

The question of ethics and morality concerning apital punishment is, I believe, a question without final solution, and should not, at any rate, evoke the tyrannical, egotistical, brutal and inhumane attitude which you so blatently exhibited.

Tell me, Mr. Theroux, do you have a lab part-

Ben Gordon '62

To The 'Star Chamber'

To the Editor:

We, the "Frat Brats", wish to extend our sincerest felicitations to this august body for their astute empiricism in "detecting" recent alleged odious plots and conspiracies by we, Yahoos, against the administrative Houyhnhms. Citing the words of Jonathan Swift, we humbly offer additional empirical axioms for discovering future insidious perversions against infallible Houyhnhnm "Bulls". We beseech you great administrators "to examine into the diet of all suspecting persons; their times of eating; upon which side they lie in bed; with which hand they wipe their excrements, and, from the color, odor, taste, consistence, crudeness or maturity of digestion, form men are never so serious, thoughtful, and intent, as a judgment of their thought and design. Because when they are "at stool," which has been found by frequent experiment. For in such conjectures, when a Yahoo is contemplating Bacchanalian revelry, his ordure would have the tincture of silver and magen-ta. We fearfully hope that our meager comprehension of Swiftian scientific axioms are not miscon-strued as intrusions upon the "Chamber's magnani-

Your humbled and obedient servants, P. S. K.

La Greenough Food

5:00 P.M. . . . OBOY! This is the time I've waited for all day long. The time has come to enjoy the exquisite cuisine of La Greenough Inn. Everyone calls me crazy for complimenting the delicious food served there. Just because the food is a little tough; OK, maybe it's very tough and inedible that's no reason to complain. Man, that's just like home cooking.

I had a pleasant surprise yesterday at supper, my I had a pleasant surprise yesterday at supper, my cube steak wasn't cooked . . . The fellas don't know that I love uncooked meat; there's nothing like it. It does wonders for the digestive system. What I especially like about Greenough is it's real Western style; it's very easy to see that after you wipe the grease off the inside of the cup while drinking that delicious coffee. Oh yes, one more terrific advantage of a meal: they don't encourage you to stuff yourself at each meal with bread. No sir, they tactfully try to give you two whole pieces instead of the free choice they used to give. Bread's no good for you anyway; ask any doctor. anyway; ask any doctor.

It's now 6:15 and, dammit, I've missed another

Stephen Silverman

Talk Of The Week MONDAY

- "Campus Gods on Trial," Christian Embassy, 7:00 p.m., Public Health Auditorium.
- "South Africa and An Explosive Continent," Great Decisions Discussion, 7:30 p.m., Skinner Auditorium.
- "Ethics and American Culture," by Professor Gayraud Wilmore, Professor of Ethics, Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, 7:00 p.m., Babbott, Amhers College (March 7, at 4:00 p.m. and March 8, at 7:00 p.m., also.)
- "Gumran Community and Scrolls," by Professor Ronald Tamblyn, Professor of Religion, Mount Holyoke, 4:10 p.m., L2 Cleveland, Mount Holyoke.

START SMOKING LiM's TODAY—
LiM wrappers can be used as extra entry blanks (.....)

Redmen Skin Wildcats 93-61 In Season Finale

Laughnane, Mole And Leslie Standouts As Team, Students Honor Captain Grutch field

The Redmen basketball squad ended the 1960-61 season with a bang Saturday night by soundly walloping the New Hampshire Wildcats, 93-61, at the Cage.

It was Doug Grutchfield night. and the squad really gave its captain something to remember as it ran all over the Wildcats right from the beginning.

COLD START

Both teams were cold at the beginning, but the Redmen man-aged to keep on the plus side of a very close game until the ten minute mark. Then, led by Mike Mole and Kirk Leslie, UMass broke through to an eight point bulge in less than two minutes. bulge in less than two minutes. The UMies kept on pounding throughout the half and by the end of the frame had piled up a 14-point bulge, 43-29.
MORE OF THE SAME

The second half was just a continuation of the first, as the Red-men just kept pouring it on.

	_		_	Pourms
UMa			-	New Hampshire
		FT	T		FG F	T
Grutchfield	6	2	14	Hargen	3	3
Burgess	0	0	0	Rich	8	4	20
Leslie	8	2	18	Baker	0	1	1
Widdison	1	0	2	M'dravelis	4	3	11
Black	2	5	9	Bron	0	9
Fohlin	2	0	6	Jasinski	0	2	2
Siegel	1	0	2	Kageliery	1	0	6
Mole	7	2	16	Battaglioli	0	1	-
Wheeler	3	õ	6	Messer	1	0	2
Green	2	0	4	Couture	9	5	11
Laughnane	8		16	Couture	9	9	11
		-
Totals .	41	11	93	Totals	20 2	11	61
Score at	he	lf	tim			N
	29.			c. Ommon	40,	244	244

Weekend College Hoop Results

AIC 85, U. of Hartford 63 UMass 93, New Hampshire 61 Williams 71, Amherst 55 Holy Cross 77, Providence 72 Rhode Island 73, Connecticut 61 Yale 68, Columbia 60 Adams 88, Worcester St. 70 Niagara 77, Buffalo 59 Penn 73, Dartmouth 51 St. Louis 70, Bradley 63 Duquesne 75, Fordham 66 Kent State at Western Kentucky cancelled

Minnesota 73, Michigan 70 Illinois 85, Purdue 75 Wisconsin 75, Northwestern 61 Suffolk 83, Nichols 66 Merrimack 109, Babson 77 Vermont Frosh 70, Dartmouth Frosh 57

Seton Hall 86, St. Francis (NY)

Wichita 91, N. Texas State 75 Wake Forest 96, Duke 81 Ohio State 91, Michigan State 83 Kentucky 68, Tennessee 61 Cortland 87, Oneonta 70 East. Kentucky 67, Moreland 54 Whittenberg 55, Akron 47 Bridgewater 66, Quinnipiac 65 Miami (Ohio) 87, Toledo 86 (OT) St. Lawrence 90, Norwich 70 Mississippi 74, Mississippi St. 70 Kansas State 75, Nebraska 56 Florida 78, Georgia 74 Cincinnati 69, Marshall 57 George Washington 93, William

George Washington 93, William & Mary 82
Boston College 80, Syracuse 78
Brandeis 65, Rensselaer 50
Princeton 71, Harvard 59
New York Univ. 69, B. U. 53
St. John's 87, Manhattan 68
Siena 64, Iona 59
Muhlenberg 85, Franklin & Marshall 63 shall 63

Rochester 108, Hamilton 72 Brown 61, Cornell 60 Indiana 78, Iowa 69

Strong Competitor
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)—
Yale University swimming teams, coached by Robert Kiphuth, captured 175 consecutive dual college meets from 1925-1937.

by AL BERMAN '62 Coach Matt Zunic started substi-tuting the alternates early in the second half, but there was no appreciable difference in the game, and by the time the zip mark appeared on the clock, the Redmen peared on the clock, the Redmen found themselves up by 31 points

DRIBBLING AROUND

It might have been Doug Grutchfield night, but nobody told Kirk Leslie, Jim Laughnane or Mike Mole. They all played ex-tremely well, with Laughnane's performance his best of the sea son. Leslie was high man for 18 points, and also snagged 14 rebounds. Mole and Laughnane each had 16 points, and Grutch hooped 14, while snagging 15 rebounds.

FOR YOU DOUG Jim Laughnane presents Doug Grutchfield with a gift from the team during halftime.

The halftime ceremony in honor of Grutchfield was without flourish, but poignant in its simplicity. With publicist Dick Page as emcee, several presentations were made. Teammate Laughnane also in his last game Saturday, presented Grutch with gifts from the team. President Don McKay from Kappa Sigma gave Doug a set of golf clubs from his frat brothers. Colonel Weaver donated a set of insignia, Warren Mc-Guirk, Director of Phys. Ed., gave a gift from the department, and the students were represented by Dennis Twohig, who pre-

FINAL BOUNCES

The Redmen broke a record Saturday night by scoring 41 field goals, one more than their splurge against Vermont a few weeks ago. The Redmen might easily have gone over 100 for the

FIVE PROUD SENIORS

These five benevolent Seniors saw the last action of their college careers Saturday night at the Cage against the University of New Hampshire. Standing, left to right, are John Widdison, Doug Grutchfield, Dick Green, John Burgess, and kneeling in front is been normal from the foul line. They missed 14 of 25 chances there . . . Five Redmen saw final action Saturday night. In addition to Grutchfield and Laughnane they were: John Widdison, Dick Greene and John Burgess. They'll all be tough shoes to fill.

UMass Tracksters Trample MIT Team 75-38 As Ward, Flagg Star; Frosh Also Win

by ABE SHEINKER '62 formal indoor dual competition

The UMass track team recorded its second lopsided victory in a row when they trounced the MIT runners, 75-38, at Cambridge last Saturday. The Redmen won of the 13 events including three of the 13 events, including three hutouts, while finishing their with a 3-1 record.

Dick Ward began the compewith ward began the compe-tition by winning the 35-lb. weight throw with a creditable heave of 49'4'2". The 6'3", 215-lb. sophomore, who has been defeated only once in four meets in the weight, finished the winter as an undefeated high-jumper at six feet. Ward also took a second in the shotput with a personal best of 41'1" while his weight best of 41'1" while his weight lifting partner, George Giddings, also topped his own best with a winning 42'312" put. Al Garsys, Charlie LaPier, and Loren Flagg made it a high jump sweep as they all tied for seconds. Flagg accomplished his fifth onsecutive dash victory with a first in the 50-yd. sprint. And two-milers Dave Balch, Dick Blomstrom, and Ralph Buschmann swept their specialty for the third time this season. Only one man has managed to place against the three B's in the two-mile this Winter. Buschmann recorded a victory in the mile at 4:33.7 while ill-feeling Balch finished third.

Ken (Double-Record) O'Brien lost the 600 to Tech's Withbroe by one-tenth second, but came back to beat him in the 1000. The slow dirt track kept the times far off Obie's great marks. The Redmen won a hurdles race for the first time this season and did it easily. Al Lucey, who has been nipped by fine competition all winter, led the way in both the highs and lows, with the sliderulers scoring only a third in the lows. Carl Hanson and Lapier were the other two sweepers in the highs while Bob Kirk was second over the low barriers.

MIT managed to salvage a vic-tory in the mile relay when a Mass. runner was disqualified for cutting off his rival. Tech was also strong in the pole-vault, taking 1 and 2 in that event.

The frosh trackmen completed their indoor competition with a 67-46 win over the MIT fresh-men. Coach Bud Cobb's fresh-man teams have not lost a meet this year, neither in indoor track nor in cross country, where they were New England champions. Bob Brouillet, this area's 5th best freshman cross country runner, looked strong while w the nile and two-mile races. Fred Lewis won the broad jump easily at 21'10 1-4" and was runnerup in the high jump to teammate Dave Collingwood, Colly hit a season's best in the weight toss with a 41'9'2" effort for a third, only 3 1/4" off the winner's

Paul Pisinski achieved his best mark of the winter in the shotput with a 41'81'2" for a second while teammate Trechi was over 40 feet teammate Trechi was over 40 fee in third place. Speedy Bruce Pis tek won the dash and was second in the low hurdles while Phil Danforth and Gene Colburn were victorious in the 600 and 1000, respectively.

Tech's Jim Flink was the frosh star, however, as he won the high and low hurdles and took seconds in the dash and broadjump for Coach Bill Footrick will take several of his top men to New York City next Saturday to compete in the Intercollegiate A.A. A.A. (IC4A) Championships.

Stockbridge Ends Basketball Season

The Stockbridge basketball team, under the direction of Coach Richard Bergquist, wound Coach Richard Bergquist, wound up its season with four wins and ten losses. High man for the Aggies was Carleton Huff with a total of 228 points. Ted Hyland has been chosen team captain for next season, Bob Goyette, this year's captain; followed Huff with 188 and 149 points respectively. points, respectively.

Scrappy Jeff Wheeler lunging for the ball during last period action when he came in to spark the team with six straight points. In the ensuing action Wheeler snatched the ball away from these two UNH defenders and laid it in for a score.

Meet B. Footrick Head Track Coach

Coach Bill Footrick is now in his fifth season of coaching varsity track here at the University. After twenty years as a successful high school track coach, Footrick succeeded Lew Derby, who resigned after 32 years at UMass.

At Springfield College, the native of Dobbs Ferry, N.Y. won varying letters for three years varsity letters for three years with the internationally famous gymnastic team and the track

Besides being a member of the team, he was also a member of New York Athletic Club track

SAE VS. NEW HAMPSHIRE Look for a story on the SAE New Hampshire game which took place as a preliminary to the varsity basketball game, Saturday night, in Wednesday's issue of the Collegian.

the semi-final Olympic team at Alto, California.

The talented UMass track men-tor is also a master of the trampoline, an art he learned from Coach Missen. Coach Footrick Coach Missen. Coach Footrick was later a member and an instructor in Coach Missen's Naval Gymnastics program at the Uni-versity of North Carolina and at Pensacola, Florida while he was

Springfield Takes Honors In N.E.I.W.A.

Springfield College won top honors in the New England In-tercollegiate Wrestling Association meet held at M.I.T. this weekend, and was followed very closely by the Amherst squad. None of the UMass entrants placed in the finals.

The meet, said UMass Wrest-ling Coach John Douglas, was the most competitive, exciting matches ever seen in New Eng-land wrestling competition, and was quite worth the trip.

In some of the more outstanding matches, Jim Lightner of the Coast Guard Academy won the New England Championship in the 147-lb. class, while a teammate of his, Joe BiBella, took top honors in the 137-lb. class, and also won mention for the most throws in competition (3).

The W.P.I. representitive placed first in the 157-lb. match, and in addition was honored with the fastest throw, exactly one minute.

There were only five seniors competing in the event, and this

Associated Press Names 1961 All America Squad

FIRST TEAM Player, School

Jerry Lucas, Ohio St.
Tom Stith, St. Bonv.
Terry Dischinger, Pur. 6'7" Jr.
Roger Kaiser, Ga. Tech
6'1" Sr.
Chet Walker, Bradley, 6'6" Is. Player, School Jerry Lucas, Ohio St.

Chet Walker, Bradley 6'6" Jr. SECOND TEAM Walt Bellamy, Ind. 6'11" Sr.
Tony Jackson, St. John's 6'4" Sr.
Frank Burgess, Gonz. 6'1" Sr.
Frank Burgess, Gonz. 6'9" Jr. Doug, Moe, N.C. 6'6" Sr.

fact promises an even more competitive tourney next year.

Coach John Douglas is looking forward to a better UMass record next season, as a promising freshman team will be moving up to take their places on the mat with some men who have had valuable experience which they were lacking

Educational Comm. ...

(Continued from page 1) also suggests that in place of two years of compulsory basic ROTC, "a short course compulsory orientation program be

Middletown, O. New York City Terre Haute, Ind. Dale, Ind. Ben. Har., Mich.

New Bern, N.C. Brooklyn, N.Y. Endora, Ark. L. A. Calif. Brooklyn, N.Y.

up." According to the committee, is the case at the University of Wisconsin.

The Educational Committee is not in favor of the compulsory program. The committee cited the position of the National Student Association on compulsory ROTC which is described as an infringement upon the academic freedom of the American college student as well as a great waste of some students' time." The report further stated Gen. Pow being for compulsory ROTC mainly because it prevents snap decisions on the part of pre-reg-istered freshmen. Also, the heads of the newly instituted voluntary ROTC program at Rutgers said of the program "it far exsaid of the program "it far exceeded our most optimistic forecasts; 64% of the freshmen at Rutgers volunteered for the program."

Peace Corps ...

(Continued from page 1)

To Receive Orientation

The President said that each recruit would receive instruction in the culture and language of the area to which he would be

"Peace corps members will often serve under conditions of physical hardship, living under primitive conditions among the peoples of developing nations," said Kennedy. "It is essential that peace corps men and women live simply and unostentatiously among the people they have conto assist."

Open To 'All Qualified'

Kennedy said that the peace corps will be open to all Americans "who are qualified" and will not be limited to the young, or to college graduates. "Undoubtedly the corps will be made up primarily of young people as they complete their formal education."

The Budget Bureau is trying to figure out how much the program will cost. Administration officials said preliminary estimates range from $5000 to $12,000 yearly for each member, including training, transportation, and overseas liv

8000 Letters Received

In the two days after Kennedy signed his executive order for the corps, over 8000 letters poured in. Many have been from volunteers and others have come from peo-ple commenting on the program and offering suggestions.

Two thousand people have al-Two thousand people have already volunteered, about four times the number expected to leave the U.S. in the first unit this fall. Most volunteers are young college seniors. But the list of those who want to join also includes surgeons, teachers, married couples, businessmen, high school students, government workers, librarians, typists, clerks workers, librarians, typists, clerks a German immigrant, and a 62year-old grandmother.

Kennedy said the first mem-hers of the corps would concen-trate on teaching, eradication of malaria, operation of public health

SPORTSENSE

Things are looking up football-wise at the Cage as far as Coach Fusia is concerned. Fusia, who was a unanimous choice to replace Chuck Studley as Head Football Coach at UMass, could not be more pleased with his staff and the enthusiasm exhibited by coaches and players alike.

The staff of Chet Gladchuck, Fred Glatz, Ted Schmitt and Jack Delaney, said Fusia, will be a "credit to the University" and "credit to the University" and will be instrumental in establishing "a new image of the UMass athlete." Fusia believes that a player must be proficient in the classroom as well as on the grid-iron, and aims to do what he can to bring this about. Scholastics first, football second.

Commenting on the formidable UMass schedule for next season (we play Villanova and Holy Cross to make it the toughest schedule in UMass gridiron his-tory) Coach Fusia said it "is a good thing" for it is only by competing against rugged teams that squad can forward itself.

As far as prospects for next season go, it is too early to make any predictions. Fusia is concentrating all of his attention on Spring practice which will begin in mid-April, The team is weight lifting now, but it is a strictly voluntary proposition.

From the impression Coach From the impression coach fusia made on me, and on all of the "residents" of the Cage, I'd say that the team could not be in better hands.

Coach Earl Lorden's baseball team will be out practicing as soon as the grounds permit, and they'll have to make it as so possible. The team leaves March 30 for a trip which will take them first to Princeton. That does not leave them much time to get into shape. The pitchers and catchers are throwing in the Cage now.

HOOP HOLIDAY

Saturday night's game marked the end of the 1960-'61 basketball season at UMass, and both players and fans did it up right. Before the packed stands, the Redmen went on to establish their men went on to establish their greatest season since 1956 when the record was 17-6. Captain Doug Grutchfield received a standing ovation, to say nothing of the numerous gifts, and topped the night off by furthering his many (12) records. Grutch now has a career total of 1257 points, 782 rebounds, and 506 tallies for the season—all records. Jimmy Laughnane had one of the finest games of his career, making good for 16 points. Dick Greene, John Burgess and John Widdison all played their last game in a Redmen uniform als

Rumors have it that next year's oop schedule will include Providence, Coast Guard and Rutgers, along with Syracuse.

The Friars of Providence were dumped Saturday night by Holy and sanitation projects, school construction, and agricultural production.

"To Be Free Of Red Tape" Shriver said the corps should be an international service free from red tape, propaganda, and 'religious proselytizing." "This must be a co-operative venture of the whole American people."

Officials said inquiries should be addressed to:

The Peace Corps, International Cooperation Administration Head-quarters, Washington, D.C.

by BEN GORDON '62, Sports Editor oking up football- Cross 77-72, although Jim Hadnot made good for a big 37 points. Both Hadnot and Jim Egan of Providence were named to the first A.P. All East Team, while Jack Foley, who hit for 25 points and Tim Shea of H.C. made the squad also. The fifth member of the team is Maine's Tom Chappelle.

"Skip" is Maine's counterpart of our Grutchfield. Last year he was the first sophomore to win the YanCon scoring crown and was named to the second A.P. All-New England team. And Chappelle will be back next year. Grutchfield, by the way, was picked to this year's second A.P. All-East team.

ALL-AMERICA SQUAD

The Associated Press has also named the 1961 All America squad, which can boast the presence of St. Bonaventure's Tom Stith, Ohio State's Jerry Lucas, Purdue's Terry Dischinger, Georgia Tech's Roger Kaiser and Bradley's Chet Walker. Lucas and Stith who are regarded as this year's greatest players, were on the top of the list. Both the Springfield and Williams squads will be battling it out along with six other teams this coming weekend in the Northeast Regional competition. The Ephs are picked to win the games, and if they do, they'll go on to meet the Mid-East (Ohio-Illinois) champ at Evansville, March 16.

A rather large roar went up at the cage Saturday night when it was announced that UConn had fallen prey to the YC Champs from Rhode Island, 73-61. The Rams will need all the inspiraton they can get before they the Bonnies.

Another roar shook the cage when we heard that the UMass trackmen had swamped MIT. Things look pretty good for next year, for the team is losing only two members, Ralph Buschmann and Bob Kirk, while they're gain-

Brown University captured the New England swim title at Storrs Saturday with 74 points. title at Williams and UConn were in second and third places, respectively. Both UMass entrants (Jim Coffey and Bruce Morton) failed to qualify for the finals.

to qualify for the finals.

The records established at the Olympics in Rome, twenty three in all, have been verified. The U.S. holds eight of them, Wilma Rudolph and Otis Davis figuring highly in the artists.

highly in the getting.
What promised to be the greatest Harvard swim team ever was dumped roughly by the Yale Swimmers 52-43, Saturday. Harvard hasn't beaten Yale

BRUMEL SOARS

BRUMEL SOARS
Well, although Valery Brumel didn't clear 7'5" at the K of C meet, he did well enough to establish a new world indoor record of 7'3½", breaking John Thomas's record of 7'3' established January 8. Thomas could not get up enough steam to make 7 feet, his worst showing of the three week rivalry. Brumel three week rivalry. Brumel copped the honors all three times.

Now that the basketball season has ended, keep your eyes open for the spring season. All of the teams are making ready for an action filled two months of sunshine sports.

MIMEOGRAPHING

PROMPT SERVICE REASONABLE RATES Will Call For and Delive CALL Alpine 3-7877

ENGINEERS AND SCIENTISTS NAA's On-Campus Interviews

MONDAY, MARCH 13

The NAA industrial family has a career for you

Nuclear power at the Atomics International Division

Atomics International Division is a leader, both here and abroad, in the development of nuclear reactors for power, research, and mobile systems.

A Electronics & electromechanics at the Autonetics Division

Autonetics Division carries out research, development, and manufacture of computers, data systems, inertial guidance, armament controls, flight controls. Builders of guidance systems for Polaris subs, Minuteman ICBM.

A A Naval aircraft & missiles at the Columbus Division Columbus Division, a complete center of systems capability, produces Navy's Mach 2 A3J Vigilante, is developing new Army target missile, and building reflector for world's largest radio/telescope

Design & development of manned weapon systems at the Los Angeles Division

Los Angeles Division is the home of next-generation manned weapon system—the Mach 3 B-70 Valkyrie—and America's first manned space vehicle, the X-15.

Propulsion systems and concepts at the Rocketdyne Division

(Canoga Park, Calif.) (McGregor, Texas) (Neosho, Mo.)

A Space explor exploration & missiles at the Space & Information Systems Division

Rocketdyne Division, Free World's leading producer of large rocket engines, supplied main-stage boost-ers for 29 out of 32 successful U.S. satellites and space probes.

SIS Division produces the GAM-77 Hound Dog missile and concentrates on manned and unmanned space exploration vehicles, anti-ICBM projects, and management of information processing systems.

Advanced opportunities for engineers and scientists with graduate degrees. See Your Placement Office Today For Interview

NORTH AMERICAN AVIATION, INC.

the university is talking to the meet people from many more na-tions than he ever would other-wise. Even the barrier of a language unfamiliar to both doesn't faze him. Takao, incidentally, handles English very well, al-

Japanese Dishes
The food found in many

American eating places is "standardized," Takao observes. Hamburg, French fries and cole slaw are on most menus. He also shares a common American ob-servation that good restaurants are expensive. Since he likes to cook, Takao often prepares Japa-nese dishes for his American and Japanese friends. Mrs. Katherine

O'Donnell, a food technology laboratory assistant and a good friend of Takao's says he is a 'very good cook." Takao returns e compliment.

Aside from a sightseeing tour

during a stopover in San Fran-cisco, Dr. Takao has had no time to see America. His contract specifies a three-week travel period which he plans to put to good use. Sometime this spring he will visit Washington, D.C. and as many factories, plants and universities as he can manage.

Also, Dr. Takao will attend the April meeting of American Bacteriologists in Chicago and a food technology conference in New York in May. In Chicago he hopes to see Dr. T. Myoda a former colleague from Hokkaido who is now doing research work in Cleveland.

fessors are currently at the University of Massachusetts. Three university staff members are at

Primary Elections

Of Women's Board

Will Be March 20

Primary elections for Women's Judiciary will be held Monday, March 20, and the finals will be held March 23. The election will follow the new plan adopted last year. Present Judiciary members need not run, but will be reviewed a committee of members of women's Affairs Committee and senior members of Judiciary. Nomination papers, available in the Office of the Dean of Women starting Monday, March 6, must be returned by 12 noon Friday,

Providing the present members wish to remain on the Board, there will be two openings in the sophomore class and one opening in the freshmen class. A 2.0 cum ulative average is an eligibility requirement. A screening committee will interview all applicants; those receiving the committee's approval will be placed on the

the University of Hokkaido.

Nine Japanese exchange

though he denies it vigorously this gives him a chance to many other foreign stude

Japanese Food Technologist Enjoys Warmth Of NE People

(Reprinted from the Springfield Sunday Republican)

Contrary to some opinion, New Englanders aren't taciturn and aloof. That's the observation of one Japanese visitor who says, "The weather is cold, but the people are very warm."

Visiting Professor

Dr. Shoichi Takao, a visiting professor in the food technology department at the University of Massachusetts, says everyone he has met has been very friendly and helpful. Other exchange pro-fessors had told him what to ex-pect he says, and he found everything much as they said.

Dr. Takao came from the University of Hokkaido last November under the International Cooperation Administration (ICA) program of mutual technical assistance in agriculture. He is currently making fundamental studies of the effect of heat on food spoilage bacteria. On he is working with Dr. Hamed

Egypt, a member of the food technology department.

Takao will be at the university until the end of August sity until the end of August when the current ICA contract

Taught at Hokkaido Taught at Hokkaido
Takao has taught microbiology at the University of Hokkaido for 13 years. Hokkaido and the University of Massachusetts both have approximately

Dr. Takao is married and has a daughter who was five years old on Washington's Birthday. He has another remote tie with the U.S. — his high-school-age sister has an American pen-pal living near Los Angeles.

Dr. Takao's own impressions of America are many and varied. He finds few differences in

CLUB DIRECTORY

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PHYSICS

There will be a lecture on "Ra-diation Hazards in Space" by Dr. Franklin Hutchinson, Pro-fessor of Biophysics, Yale Uni-versity, in Peters Auditorium on Thurs., March 9, 8 p.m. Re-freshments will follow.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Nominating Committee is accepting suggestions for next year's officers now. You may place suggestions in the box ir the C.A. office or at the Religious Embassy lectures on March 5, 6, and 7.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

This year as last there will be Lenten services in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m. until Easter. The services will be conducted this week by Mr. Mand,

HAYMAKERS SQUARE DANCING CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the S.U.

LITERARY SOCIETY

A student play reading of Sam-uel Beckett's Waiting for Godet will be given in the Bristol and Berkshire Rooms of the S.U. on Wed., March 8, 8 p.m. A discussion will follow the read-ing. Everyone is invited to at-tend. Refreshments will be served.

MATH CLUB

A lecture by Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson on "The Ringing of Bells" in Machmer E16, March 7, 7 p.m. NEWMAN CLUB

Dr. Gillespie and Dr. O'Hare will speak on "The Philosophy of Communism" in the Dining Commons, Tues., March 7,

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

A meeting will be held Thursday, March 9, at 11:00 a.m. in Bartlett 256

S.U. DANCE COMMITTEE

Tuesday, March 7 at 11 a.m. in the Council Chambers of the S.U. All co-eds interested in working on H.E.R. Weeker dance are invited to attend.

Roister Doister Cast Selected For RUR

by GEORGE DICKINSON '64

The Roister Doister tryouts ing of or their spring production, Mr. Karel Cape's R.U.R. (Rossum's Universal Robots), were held.

The cast was named Wednesday as follows:

Harry Domin, General Manager of R.U.R.-John Kane

Sulla, a Robotess-Eve Silber-

Marius, a Robot-Ken Brophy Helena Glory-Judith St. Jean Dr. Gall, head of the Physiolo-gical and Experimental department of R.U.R .- John Getter Mr. Fabry, Engineer General, Technical Controller of R.U.R.— Jerry Baker

Dr. Hallemeier, head of the Institute for Psychological Train-

Robots-David Goldstein Mr. Alquist, Architect, head of the Works Department of R.U.R. -Dick Potter

Consul Busman, General Manager of R.U.R .- Jack Wylde

Nana-Nancy Pulaskie

Radius, a Robot-Mike Hench Helena, a Robotess - Marcia

Primus, a Robot-Robert Peters

This play is the story of the destruction of mankind by manmade robots which have become so nearly human that they will overthrow and kill their masters.

The production is scheduled for presentation April 27-29 and will be directed by Henry B. Peirce.

Sumptuous Commons Setting 'Makes Food Taste Better'

Photo by Pete Hefler

ONE TABLE at the Dining Commons set up for fancy dining last Friday evening. Left: Mag Wenzel, Susan Gouzoules, Betty Williams. Right: John Fletcher, Dave Garber, Adrian Allen.

Soft candleglow, sweet music, and fine linen (by Gordon) was to the usual Commons fare.

Soft candleglow, sweet music, and fine linen (by Gordon) was the setting for a dining Commons dinner meeting Friday night. Six freshmen, John Fletcher, Dave Garber, Susan Gouzoules, Mag Wenzel, Adrian Allen, and Betty Williams, decided to give atmosphere to the usual Commons fare.

Said Garber, who lives at 455 Hills South, "We wanted to cheer up the Commons and make the food taste good." Miss Gouzoules ex-"It makes the food taste better.

The table was flawless, with th ions' finest silverware, softly glowing candlelight. STOWE'S FAMOUS SKI DORN from a portable radio, and artificial flowers made on the spot with paper napkins.

The group has styled themselves "The Friday Night Diners' Club," and according to Garber, they plan to make it a regular Fiday night occasion. This first meeting was the charter members' meeting. bers' meeting

LOST & FOUND

Lost: Small gold heart-shaped clasp pin, on second floor of Bartlett. Return to Carol Clapp, 106 Knowlton.

Educational Psychology Lost: notebook, Saturday morning, in the Hatch. Needed for exam. Nancy Ridill, 426 Arnold.

Lost: Trench coat with brown and white striped lining, Wednesday night in S.U.. Robert Lucas, 116 Greenough.

Lost: 1961 class ring Thursday Reward offered.

primary election ballot.

in S.U. John Acres, Greenough. Lost: Will trade pair of black heels, size 8A for pair of black heels (7A). Mine taken by mis-take from first floor ladies' room

Education Department Plans To Hold Spring Conference

The Education Department is again beginning preparations for their annual spring conference to be held on April 28 at the S.U.

This year the conference will fearment is again beginning preparations for their annual spring conference to be held on April 28 at the S.U.

This year the conference will fearment is again beginning preparations for their annual spring conference to their annual spring conference to the conference will fear their annual spring conference to the conf ture staff members from Syra-cuse University. Tickets will be on sale from Monday, March 6 to Wednesday, March 15.

The university will be host to five other colleges participating in the conference, Keane College, AIC, Our Lady of the Elms, Springfield College, and Westfield College, A coffee hour will open the conference at 9 a.m. followed by registration at 9:30 a.m. The by registration at 9:30 a.m. conference will last until 4 p.m. with an hour's free time for lunch. Special permission to miss classes will be available at the Dean of Men's Office.

Experts from the staff of Syraworkshops on six topics: Let's B2 Creative, The Problem Child— Our Greatest Challenge, From Rattles to Rhythms, To Group or Not to Group, Sparking Your Teaching of Reading, and Tech-niques for Integrating the Socialand Emotionally Disturbed ld. The conference will be Child. The conference will be geared to all prospective elementary teachers. Students will have the opportunity to attend two out of these six groups, one in the morning and one in the after-

Tickets will be sold in all dormitories and sororities for $1.50. Commuters may purchase tickets by contacting Sue Gallagher at Sigma Kappa or Marcia Ricker in Dwight House. There is only a limited number of tickets available for university students.

LEARN TO FLY $3.80 Per Lesson

UMASS FLYING CLUB Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays 2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

NEWMAN CLUB MEETING

7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 7

$6.25 Daily (Incl. Breakfast & Dinner)

SPECIAL MID WEEK BUDGET PLANS

FOLDER—Write or Phone

STOWE, VERMONT • ALpine 3-7223

Commons

"The Philosophy of Communism"

by Dr. John Gillespie and Dr. William Hare

Springfield Takes Honors In N.E.I.W.A.

MOH

Springfield College won top honors in the New England In-tercollegiate Wrestling Associa-tion meet held at M.I.T. this weekend, and was followed very closely by the Amberts are declosely by the Amherst squad. None of the UMass entrants placed in the finals.

The meet, said UMass Wrest-ling Coach John Douglas, was he most competitive, exciting natches ever seen in New Engwrestling competition, and was quite worth the trip.

In some of the more outstanding matches, Jim Lightner of th Coast Guard Academy won the New England Championship in the 147-lb. class, while a teammate of his, Joe BiBella, took top honors in the 137-lb. class, and also won mention for the most throws in convention (2) most throws in competition (3).

The W.P.I. representitive placed first in the 157-lb. match, and in addition was honored with fastest throw, exactly one

There were only five seniors competing in the event, and this

Associated Press Names 1961 All America Squad

Player, School
Jerry Lucas, Ohio St. 6'8" Jr. 17
Tom Stith, St. Bonv. 6'5" Sr. 17
Terry Dischinger, Pur. 6'7" Jr. 17
Roger Kaiser, Ga. Tech 6'1" Sr. 18
Chet Walker, Bradley 6'6" Jr. 18
SECOND TEAM
SECOND TEAM
19 Juny, Ind. 6'11" Sr. 19 Juny's 6'4" Sr. 19 Juny's 6'4" Sr.

Tony Jackson, St. John's 6'4" Sr. Frank Burgess, Gonz. 6'1" Sr. Billy McGill, Utah 6'9" Jr. Doug, Moe, N.C. 6'6" Sr.

forward to a better UMass record next season, as a promising freshman team will be moving up to take their places on the mat with some men who have had valuable experience which they

Educational Comm. ...

(Continued from page 1) also suggests that in place of two years of compulsory basic ROTC, "a short course compulsory orientation program be set were lacking.

Ben. Har., Mich.

Dale, Ind.

New Bern, N.C. Brooklyn, N.Y. Endora, Ark. L. A. Calif. Brooklyn, N.Y.

Middletown, O. New York City

Terre Haute, Ind.

fact promises an eyen more com-petitive tourney next year. Coach John Douglas is looking up." According to the committee, such is the case at the University of Wisconsin.

The Educational Committee is not in favor of the compulsory program. The committee cited the position of the National Student Association on compulsory ROTC which is described as an infringement upon the academic freedom of the American colleg student as well as a great waste of some students' time." The report further stated Gen. Powell as being for compulsory ROTC mainly because it prevents snap decisions on the part of pre-reg-istered freshmen. Also, the heads of the newly instituted volun-tary ROTC program at Rutgers said of the program "it far exceeded our most optimistic fore-casts; 64% of the freshmen at Rutgers volunteered for the pro-

Peace Corps ...

(Continued from page 1) To Receive Orientation

The President said that each recruit would receive instruction in the culture and language of the area to which he would be sent.

"Peace corps members will of-ten serve under conditions of physical hardship, living under primitive conditions among the peoples of developing nations," said Kennedy. "It is essential that peace corps men and women live simply and unostentatiously among the people they have com to assist."

Open To 'All Qualified'

Kennedy said that the peace orps will be open to all Ameri-ans "who are qualified" and will not be limited to the young, or to college graduates. "Undoubtedly the corps will be made up primarily of young people as they complete their formal education."

The Budget Bureau is trying to figure out how much the program will cost. Administration officials said preliminary estimates range from $5000 to $12,000 yearly for ch member, including training, transportation, and overseas liv-

8000 Letters Received

In the two days after Kennedy signed his executive order for the corps, over 8000 letters poured in.
Many have been from volunteers and others have come from pe ple commenting on the program and offering suggestions.

Two thousand people have already volunteered, about four times the number expected to leave the U.S. in the first unit this fall. Most volunteers are young college seniors. But the list of those who want to join also includes surger is, teachers, married couples, businessmen, high school students, government workers, librarians, typists, clerks a German immigrant, and a 62year-old grandmother.

Kennedy said the first mem bers of the corps would concen-trate on teaching, eradication of malaria, operation of public health

SPORTSENSE

Things are looking up football-wise at the Cage as far as Coach Vic Fusia is concerned. Fusia, was a unanimous choice to replace Chuck Studley as Head Football Coach at UMass, could not be more pleased with his staff and the enthusiasm exhibited by coaches and players alike.

The staff of Chet Gladchuck, Fred Glatz, Ted Schmitt and Jack Delaney, said Fusia, will be a "credit to the University" and will be instrumental in establishing "a new image of the UMass athlete." Fusia believes that a player must be proficient in the classroom as well as on the grid-iron, and aims to do what he can to bring this about. Scholastics first, football second.

Commenting on the formidable UMass schedule for next season (we play Villanova and Holy Cross to make it the toughest schedule in UMass gridiron history) Coach Fusia said it "is a good thing" for it is only by com-peting against rugged teams that a squad can forward itself.

As far as prospects for next season go, it is too early to make any predictions. Fusia is concentrating all of his attention ring practice which will begin mid-April. The team is weight lifting now, but it is a strictly voluntary proposition.

From the impression Coach Fusia made on me, and on all of the "residents" of the Cage, I'd say that the team could not be in better hands.

Coach Earl Lorden's baseball team will be out practicing as soon as the grounds permit, and they'll have to make it as soon as possible. The team leaves March 30 for a trip which will take them first to Princeton. That does not leave them much time to get into shape. The pitchers and catchers, are throwing in the Cage now

HOOP HOLIDAY

Saturday night's game marked the end of the 1960-'61 basketball season at UMass, and both play-ers and fans did it up right. Be-fore the packed stands, the Red-men went on to establish their greatest season gives 1955 men went on to establish their greatest season since 1956 when the record was 17-6. Captain Doug Grutchfield received a standing ovation, to say nothing of the numerous gifts, and topped the night off by furthering his many (12) records. Grutch now has a career total of 1257 points, 782 rebounds, and 506 tallies for the season—all records. Jimmy the season—all records. Jimmy Laughnane had one of the finest games of his career, making good for 16 points. Dick Greene, John Burgess and John Widdison all played their last game in a Redmen uniform also.

Rumors have it that next year's hoop schedule will include Providence, Coast Guard and Rutgers, will include Provialong with Syracuse.

The Friars of Providence dumped Saturday night by Holy and sanitation projects, school construction, and agricultural production.

"To Be Free Of Red Tape" Shriver said the corps should e an international service free from red tape, propaganda, and "religious proselytizing."

"This must be a co-operative venture of the whole American people."

Officials said inquiries should not made good for a big 37 points. Both Hadnot and Jim Egan of Providence were named to the first A.P. All East Team, while Jack Foley, who hit for 25 points and Tim Shea of H.C. made the squad also. The fifth member of the team is Maine's Tom Chappelle.

The Peace Corps, International Cooperation Administration Head-quarters, Washington, D.C.

"Skip" is Maine's counterpart of our Grutchfield. Last year he was the first sophomore to win was the first sophomore to win the YanCon scoring crown and was named to the second A.P. All-New England team. And Chappelle will be back next year. Grutchfield, by the way, was picked to this year's second A.P. All-East team.

ALL-AMERICA SQUAD

The Associated Press has also named the 1961 All America squad, which can boast the presence of St. Bonaventure's Tom sence of St. Bonaventure's Tom Stith, Ohio State's Jerry Lucas, Purdue's Terry Dischinger, Geor-gia Tech's Roger Kaiser and Bradley's Chet Walker. Lucas and Stith who are regarded as this year's greatest players, were on the top of the list.

Both the Springfield and Williams squads will be battling it out along with six other teams this coming weekend in the Northeast Regional competition. The Ephs are picked to win the games, and if they do, they'll go on to meet the Mid-East (Ohiochamp at Evansville. March 16.

A rather large roar went up at the cage Saturday night when it was announced that UConn had fallen prey to the YC Champs from Rhode Island, 73-61. The Rams will need all the inspiraton they can get before they meet the Renies. the Bonnies.

Another roar shook the cage Another roar shook the cage when we heard that the UMass trackmen had swamped MIT. Things look pretty good for next year, for the team is losing only two members, Ralph Buschmann and Bob Kirk, while they're gaining some promising freshmen.

Brown University captured the New England swim title at Storrs Saturday with 74 points. Williams and UConn were in second and third places, respectively. Both UMass entrants (Jim Coffey and Bruce Morton) failed to qualify for the finals.

The records established at the

The records established at the Olympics in Rome, twenty three in all, have been verified. The in all, have been verified. The U.S. holds eight of them, Wilma Rudolph and Otis Davis figuring highly in the getting.

What promised to be the greatest Harvard swim team ever was dumped roughly by the Yale Swimmers 52-43, Saturday. Har-vard hasn't beaten Yale since

BRUMEL SOARS
Well, although Valery Brumel didn't clear 7'5" at the K of C meet, he did well enough to establish a new world indoor record of 7'3½", breaking John Thomas's record of 7'3' established January 8. Thomas could not get un enough steam to reale not get up enough steam to make 7 feet, his worst showing of the three week rivalry. Brumel copped the honors all three times.

Now that the basketball season

Now that the basketball season has ended, keep your eyes open for the spring season. All of the teams are making ready for an action filled two months of sunshine sports.

MIMEOGRAPHING

PROMPT SERVICE REASONABLE RATES Will Call For and Delive CALL Alpine 3-7877

ENGINEERS AND SCIENTISTS NAA's On-Campus Interviews

MONDAY, MARCH 13

The NAA industrial family has a career for you

Nuclear power at the Atomics International Division naga Park, Colif.)

Atomics International Division is a leader, both here and abroad, in the development of nuclear reactors for power, research, and mobile systems

Electronics & electron & electromechanics at the Autonetics Division

Autonetics Division carries out research, development, and manufacture of computers, data systems, inertial guidance, armament controls, flight controls, Builders of guidance systems for Polaris subs, Minuteman ICBM.

A A Naval aircraft & missiles at the Columbus Division

Columbus Division, a complete center of systems capability, pro-duces Navy's Mach 2A3J Vigilante, is developing new Army target missile, and building reflector for world's largest radio/telescope.

Design & development of manned weapon systems at the Los Angeles Division
(Las Angeles, Calif.)

Los Angeles Division is the home of next-generation manned weapon system – the Mach 3 B-70 Valkyrie –and America's first manned space vehicle, the X-15.

Propulsion systems and concepts at the Rocketdyne Division (Canoga Park, Calif.) (McGregor, Texas) (Neosho, Mo.)

Rocketdyne Division, Free World's leading producer of large rocket engines, supplied main-stage boost-ers for 29 out of 32 successful U.S. satellites and space probes.

SIS Division produces the GAM-77 Hound Dog missile and concentrates on manned and unmanned space exploration vehicles, anti-ICBM projects, and management of information processing systems.

Advanced opportunities for engineers and scientists with graduate degrees. See Your Placement Office Today For Interview

NORTH AMERICAN AVIATION, INC. 🚓

many other foreign students. He says this gives him a chance to meet people from many more nations than he ever would other-wise. Even the barrier of a lan-guage unfamiliar to both doesn't faze him. Takao, incidentally, handles English very well, al-though he denies it vigorously.

Japanese Dishes
The food found in many American eating places is "standardized," Takao observes.
Hamburg, French fries and cole slaw are on most menus. He also shares a common American ob-servation that good restaurants are expensive. Since he likes to are expensive. Since he likes to cook, Takao often prepares Japanese dishes for his American and Japanese friends. Mrs. Katherine O'Donnell, a food technology laboratory assistant and a good friend of Takao's says he is a "very good cook." Takao returns the compliment e compliment.

Aside from a sightseeing tour

during a stopover in San Fran-cisco, Dr. Takao has had no time to see America. His contract specifies a three-week travel period which he plans to put to good use. Sometime this spring he will visit Washington, D.C.

and as many factories, plants and universities as he can manage.

the April meeting of American Bacteriologists in Chicago and a food technology conference in New York in May. In Chicago he hopes to see Dr. T. Myoda a former colleague from Hokkaido who is now doing research work

Nine Japanese exchange pro-fessors are currently at the Uni-versity of Massachusetts. Three university staff members are at the University of Hokkaido.

Also, Dr. Takao will attend

Japanese Food Technologist Enjoys Warmth Of NE People

Contrary to some opinion, New nglanders aren't taciturn and oof. That's the observation of one Japanese visitor who say "The weather is cold, but th people are very warm."

Visiting Professor

Dr. Shoichi Takao, a visiting professor in the food technology department at the University of Massachusetts, says everyone he has met has been very friendly and helpful. Other exchange professors had told him what to expect he says, and he found everything much as they said.

Dr. Takao came from the University of Hokkaido last November under the International Cooperation Administration (ICA) program of mutual technical assistance in agriculture. He is currently making fundamental studies of the effect of heat on food spoilage bacteria. On this he is working with Dr. Hamed

(Reprinted from the Springfield Sunday Republican)

n, New El-Bisi from Egypt, a staff the university is talking to the n and member of the food technology many other foreign students. He department.

Takao will be at the univer-sity until the end of August when the current ICA contract

Taught at Hokkaido

Takao has taught microbiology at the University of Hokkaido for 13 years. Hokkaido and the University of Massachusetts both have approximately 00 students.

Dr. Takao is married and has a daughter who was five years old on Washington's Birthday. He has another remote tie with the U.S. - his high-school-ag sister has an American pen-pal living near Los Angeles.

Dr. Takao's own impressions of America are many and var-ied. He finds few differences in his work here and in Japan.

One of his chief delights at

CLUB DIRECTORY

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF

There will be a lecture on "Radiation Hazards in Space" by Dr. Franklin Hutchinson, Pro-fessor of Biophysics, Yale Uni-versity, in Peters Auditorium on Thurs., March 9, 8 p.m. Refreshments will follo

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION
The Nominating Committee is accepting suggestions for next accepting suggestions for next year's officers now. You may place suggestions in the box in the C.A. office or at the Reli-gious Embassy lectures on March 5, 6, and 7. CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

This year as last there will be Lenten services in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m. until Easter. The services will be conducted this week by Mr. Mand, Bantist

HAYMAKERS SQUARE

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the S.U.

A student play reading of Samuel Beckett's Waiting for Godet ill be given in the Bristol and Berkshire Rooms of the S.U. on Wed., March 8, 8 p.m. A discussion will follow the reading. Everyone is invited to Refreshments will

MATH CLUB

A lecture by Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson on "The Ringing of Bells" in Machiner E16, March

NEWMAN CLUB

Dr. Gillespie and Dr. O'Hare will speuk on "The Philosophy of Communism" in the Dining Commons, Tues., March 7, 7:30

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

A meeting will be held Thursday, March 9, at 11:00 a.m. in

DANCE COMMITTEE

Tuesday, March 7 at 11 a.m. in the Council Chambers of the S.U. All co-eds interested in working on H.E.R. Weekend dance are invited to attend

Roister Doister Cast Selected For RUR

by GEORGE DICKINSON '64

The Roister Doister tryouts for their spring production, Karel Cape's R.U.R. (Rossum's Mr. Alquist, Architect, head of the Works Department of R.U.R. Universal Robots), were held.

The cast was named Wednesday as follows:

Harry Domin, General Manager of R.U.R.-John Kane

Sulla, a Robotess-Eve Silber-

Marius, a Robot-Ken Brophy Helena Glory-Judith St. Jean

Dr. Gall, head of the Physiological and Experimental depa ment of R.U.R.—John Getter

Mr. Fabry, Engineer General, Technical Controller of R.U.R .-Jerry Baker

Dr. Hallemeier, head of the Institute for Psychological Train-

Works Department of R.U.R. -Dick Potter

Consul Busman, General Manager of R.U.R.-Jack Wylde

Nana-Nancy Pulaskie

Radius, a Robot-Mike Hench Helena, a Robotess - Marcia Bailey

Primus, a Robot-Robert Peters

This play is the story of the destruction of mankind by man-made robots which have become so nearly human that they will overthrow and kill their masters. The production is scheduled for presentation April 27-29 and will be directed by Henry B.

Primary Elections Of Women's Board Will Be March 20

Primary elections for Women's Judiciary will be held Monday, March 20, and the finals will be held March 23. The election will follow the new plan adopted last year. Present Judiciary members need not run, but will be reviewed by a committee of members of the Women's Affairs Committee and senior members of Judiciary.

Nomination papers, available in the Office of the Dean of Women starting Monday, March 6, must be returned by 12 noon Friday, March 10.

Providing the present members wish to remain on the Board, there will be two openings in the sophomore class and one opening in the freshmen class. A 2.0 cumulative average is an eligibility requirement. A screening commit-tee will interview all applicants; those receiving the committee's approval will be placed on the primary election ballot.

and white striped lining, Wednesday night in S.U.. Robert Lucas, 116 Greenough. Lost: 1961 Class ring Thursday

Reward offered. in S.U. John Acres, Greenough. Lost: Will trade pair of black heels, size 8A for pair of black heels (7A). Mine taken by mis-take from first floor ladies' room Education Department Plans To Hold Spring Conference

The Education Department is again beginning preparations for their annual spring conference to be held on April 28 at the S.U.

This year the conference will feature at the conference will be a supplied to the con ture staff members from Syra-cuse University, Tickets will be on sale from Monday, March 6 to Wednesday, March 15.

The university will be host to The university will be host to five other colleges participating in the conference, Keane College, AIC, Our Lady of the Elms, Springfield College, and Westfield College. A coffee hour will open the conference at 9 a.m. followed by registration at 9:30 a.m. The conference will last until 4 p.m. with an hour's free time for lunch. Special permission to miss classes will be available at the classes will be available at the Dean of Men's Office.

Experts from the staff of Syra-

Not to Group, Sparking Your Teaching of Reading, and Tech-niques for Integrating the Socially and Emotionally Disturbed Child. The conference will be geared to all prospective elemen-tary teachers. Students will have the opportunity to attend out of these six groups, one the morning and one in the after-

Tickets will be sold in all dormitories and sororities for $1.50. Commuters may purchase tickets by contacting Sue Gallagher at Sigma Kappa or Marcia Ricker in Dwight House. There is only a limited number of tickets avail-able for university students.

LEARN TO FLY $3.80 Per Lesson

UMASS FLYING CLUB Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays 2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

Sumptuous Commons Setting 'Makes Food Taste Better'

ONE TABLE at the Dining Commons set up for fancy dining last Friday evening. Left: Mag Wenzel, Susan Gouzoules, Betty Williams. Right: John Fletcher, Dave Garber, Adrian Allen.

Soft candleglow, sweet music, and fine linen (by Gordon) was the setting for a dining Commons dinner meeting Friday night.

Six freshmen, John Fletcher, Dave Garber, Susan Gouzoules, Mag Wenzel, Adrian Allen, and Betty Williams, decided to give atmosphere to the usual Commons fare.

Said Garber, who lives at 455 Hills South, "We wanted to cheer up the Commons and make the food taste good." Miss Gouzoules explained, "It makes the food taste better."

The table was flawless, with the

STOWE'S FAMOUS SKI DORN

$6.25 Daily (Incl. Breakfast & Dinner) SPECIAL MID-WEEK BUDGET PLANS
FOLDER—Write or Phone
STOWE, VERMONT • ALpine 3-7223 The group has styled them-selves "The Friday Night Diners' Club," and according to Garber, they plan to make it a regular Friday night occasion. This first meeting was the charter members' meeting.

mmons' finest silverware, soft-glowing candlelight, music ly glowing candlelight, music from a portable radio, and arti-ficial flowers made on the spot with paper napkins.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: Small gold heart-shaped clasp pin, on second floor of Bartlett. Return to Carol Clapp, Knowlton.

Lost: Educational Psychology notebook, Saturday morning, in the Hatch. Needed for exam. Nancy Ridill, 426 Arnold. Lost: Trench coat with brown

NEWMAN CLUB MEETING

7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 7

Commons

"The Philosophy of Communism" by Dr. John Gillespie and Dr. William Hare

VOL. XC NO. 54

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

THE CRUCIBLE

REVIEW

See page 2

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1961

Mrs. Roosevelt Will Speak In Ballroom

5¢ PER COPY

A capacity crowd is expected to hear Eleanor Roosevelt tomorrow afternoon when she appears here. She will speak at 4 p.m. in the S.U. ballroom under the auspices of the UMass Distinguished Visitors Program.

The doors of the ballroom will be opened at 3 p.m. In the event of an overflow crowd, her address will be transmitted throughout the Union over the public address system.

After her talk, a coffee hour will be held in the Cape Cod Lounge.

Mrs. Roosevelt will be able to meet with students and answer their questions.

questions

One of the primary considerations of the Visitors Program is to provide the opportunity for informal student contact with notable

Mrs. Roosevelt is the first visitor to be sponsored by the program, although they presented Aaron Copland in conjunction with Mortar Board at the recent Fine Arts Festival.

Mortar Board at the recent Fine Arts Festival.

The Distinguished Visitors Program hopes to have one or two more major celebrities on campus this semester. Student suggestions on possible future visitors are always welcomed, and should be forwarded to Miss Gail Osbaldeston, % R.S.O. Box 803.

Among the people expected to be in the audience when Mrs. Roosevelt speaks tomorrow will be Ted Sheerin '60, who proposed the original bill that set up the program last year in the Student Senate. Also expected are 120 sergeants from Westover Air Force Base, who are coming as a part of their Current Affairs course at the base.

Nomination Papers Available For Six Judiciary Positions

According to Carol Jones, chairman of the committee on Women's Affairs, the papers for women candidates must be returned to the Dean's office by noon, Friday, March 10. There are two yazancies open to sophe are two vacancies open to sopho-more women and one to a fresh-man. Primaries will be held Mon-day, March 20, and final elec-

Nomination papers for the Men's and Women's Judiciary are presently available in the offices of the Deans of Men and Women.

According to Carol Jones,

Nomination papers may be picked up at the Dean of Men's office, and must be returned by 4 p.m. Friday, March 10. Candidates are requested to report to the Student Senate office at 12:15 p.m. on the day of their interview.

$128,000 In Financial Aid Is Available To Students

Currently over 400 scholarships or grants-in-aid valued at an estimated $128,000.00 are awarded each year to a large number of university students.

These awards are made both on the basis of need and scholar-

Anyone wishing to apply for one of these financial aids is asked to complete an application asset to complete an application form and a College Scholarship Service Parent's Confidential Financial Statement available from the Placement Office, South College. No specification of scholarships is necessary as each student is considered for all the student is considered for all the available scholarships.

A 2.5 cumulative average is the present scholastic require-ment for all students applying for a renewal of scholarship aid.

All applications must be completed and filed with the Place-ment Service by March 15. Suc-cessful applicants will be notified some time after April 15.

Mr. Lawrence, Assistant Direc tor of Placement, has suggested that any students not eligible for scholarship aid may still apply for one of the many loans that the University offers. He also advocated part-time work as a means of helping to finance a college education. Both these offices are affiliated with the Placement Service in South Col-

State Hospital Institutes 'Interaction' Therapy Plan

Northampton Project Increases Contacts Between Patients And Outside Volunteers

Northampton State Hospital has for its objective the development of two-way interaction between the hospital and the community. Interaction already existing is limited and infrequently thera-

Lederle To Be Inaugurated In April

The formal installation of Dr. John W. Lederle as 15th president of the University of Massachusetts will be held on Satursachusetts will be heid on Saturday, April 22, it was announced today by a faculty committee in charge of the event.

Dr. Lederle, former Director of the Institute of Public Administration at the University of Michigary, assumed the Massa.

Michigan, assumed the Massa-chusetts post in September, 1960. Invitations are now being sent to presidents of more than 300 colleges and universities, to of-ficials in the State and Federal government, to officers of learned societies, and to members the campus community.

Activities on the day of the inaugural will include a luncheor for invited guests and others, the academic procession prior to the formal inaugural ceremonies, and the installation itself.

The committee in charge announced that it will soon issue a complete program of events scheduled for the day of the in-

by ANN MILLER '64, Collegian Staff Reporter
A project now underway at the There is a certain amount of incomplete the control of the control on-going contact between the hospital and outside groups, Stu-dent and other volunteers devote an afternoon or evening to work with patients. Others have joined the Hospital Auxilliary. Certain professional and vocational groups come to the hospital for lectures. Most often, things done for patients are aimed at adjusting them to continuing hospital-ization rather than helping them overcome their illness.

> Project Also Benefits Volunteers It is a basic premise of the Northampton Project that more would be done for the hospital would be done for the nospital if the opportunity for participa-tion were more widely known and if a more comprehensive system of activity were develop-ed. Benefits would be derived from the Project by the par-ticipating agency as well as the ticipating agency as well as the hospital. For college and univer-sity students, activities within the an educational or vocational ob-

The Northampton Project is especially concerned with foster-

t of ing joint programs between the hospital and educational institu-tions. Theraputic student programs of this kind are carried on, at the present time, in the metropolitan Boston area and elsewhere. Amherst College has begun a field work program for course credit, A vocational counselling program has been initiated by Springfield College and is due to be considerably ex-

Students Will Use Psychodrama

Tentative plans have been made for a program of therapy based on psychodrama, employ-ing students of the university. This will be under the direction of Professor Yablonsky of the Sociology Department.

Three main types of participa-tion are possible. Participation may be voluntary. It may be associated with course work. It may be formal research engaged in by students or faculty.

Many Interests Valuable

While it is customary to think of such educational programs in terms of psychology and so (Continued on page 3)

P. J. Crowley Will Discuss League Of Cities And Towns

Philip J. Crowley, 54, Mayor of Everett and President of the Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns, will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Barnstable Room of the Student Union.

Sponsored by the Political Science Association, Crowley will discuss the newly founded League of Cities and Towns.

Crowley has been Mayor of Everett for the past 11 years Re-

Crowley has been fore that, he was a common councillor for two of the Board of Alderman for three years.

He is a graduate of Northeastern University, and also attended Bentley School of Ac-Crowley has been Mayor of Everett for the past 11 years. Be-tended Bentley School counting and Finance. He was elected to Everett's Common Council in 1940 and the Board of Alderman in 1942. From 1943 to 1947, he served overseas in the Army.

He was re-elected to the Board of Alderman in 1948, and was elected Mayor in 1950. He has been re-elected five consecutive two-year terms, each time with an increasing majority. He de-feated his opponent by a nearly 2 to 1 ratio in 1960.

Crowley was Assistant Credit Manager at Tidewater Motor Oil Co. for 22 years, until he was elected mayor,

The City of Everett has a bi-cameral, strong-mayor form of government

John J. Finnegan, President of the Political Science Assn., also announced that Tax Commissioner announced that Tax Commissioner Robert T. Capeless will speak on the financial structure of the Commonwealth on March 23. He said that the association will make plans for this and other programs at a meeting at 11 a.m. March 16 in the Council Chambers. Any students interested in joining the association should attend this meeting.

- Photo by Dick Forman

Justice David Clancy '63 last week swore in the following from left to right: Morey Vrooman '61, Commuters' Senator; Ben Sackmary '64, Senator from Baker House; Pete Bracci '63, Vice-president of the sophomore class; and Bill Coughlin '64, Senator from Hills South.

Notables On Campus

The University seems to have billed this year an unusual number of celebrities. And these celebrities from Mendes-France, Rowstow, and Riesman to Aaron Copland seem to have stimulated an intellectual nervecord somewhere. Announcements of every speaker brought to campus by a growing number of benevolent organizations have excited enough interest to crowd the huge S.U. Ballroom and provoke at least a few pointed questions from the audience.

This Thursday one of the most noted persons will be on our campus. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is coming through the efforts of the Massachusetts Assembly, under the sponsorship of the Distinguished Visitor's Program.

A Representative to the United Nations General Assembly under the Truman administration, Mrs. Roosevelt will comment from first-hand experience upon the current world problems that face the U.N. Undoubtedly, we can expect a talk that will critically review the touchy U.N. situation from the nation's number one politically-oriented woman. Her attitude toward foreign relations is one of almost hard-boiled realism combined with a profound faith that Americans will succeed, as long as we realize the situation we are in. For this, she urges that we take a fresh look at the world.

We must not overlook the fact that Mrs. Roosevelt has shown much interest in the nation's students, their political and social concern. She has done much through her lecture tours and writings to further earnest discussion and consideration of current problems. Beyond this, Mrs. Roosevelt has worked hard for her "causes", in particular the American Association for the United Nations and the Democratic Party.

We, this week, will certainly have a splendid opportunity to hear the words of a world-famed person. The coming of Mrs. Roosevelt to campus to be sure has excited not only UM students but the entire vicinity. The crowds surely can be expected. We only hope that everyone who is interested in hearing Mrs. Roosevelt will be able to attend

LETTERS This Is Education?

An unfortunate thing happened today to our class of 24. At 8:15 our teacher's unpredicted and uncalled for action made us stop and wonder about the process of education that this professor is employing.

For the unpreparedness of a handful of students, he felt justified in storming out, condemning the class for those few, and declaring his utter disgust; he said that he didn't have to stand for this. It seems to us, though, that he does have to stand for this. We realize that by being unprepared we only fool ourselves, and his added punishment is worthless. We feel that his asking personal offense is rather is worthless. We feel that his asking personal offense in rather childish; much worse things than this have been done to teachers in the past.

This faculty member, a Ph.D., presumably responsible, mature and capable person, being paid through the University by us to give us fifty minutes each class, has slighted us and we feel wronged. Must we stand for this, "Education?"

The Class of French 8, Section 1, MWF 8-9

"I Own No Badge ..."

To the Editor:

From a certain Collegian article:
. vague and dubious religious convictions. precluded classification as a conscientious objector."

Poem
I own no badge that says "Believer"; have no membership card to God: Because of this, suggests Sir Weaver, My pacifism is a fraud.

I guess until I get a poster Nailed with diocésan stud, I'll have to make a toast or Two to "big and better pools of blood."

Let us run to church tomorrow; Any one that's named will do; Then we'll have a legal right. To sweep the gory residue.

I own no badge that says "Believer": I have no membership card to God; But yet I know what a rifle stands for, And a steady, military trod.

Robert S. Sobek '63

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870

as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass, Printed weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination as week the week following a vacation or examination period, or sy falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of arch 3, 1879, as aniended by the act of June 11, 1934.

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. ociated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press Sun. Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

ter: The Crucible Reviewed by JUDITH ST. JEAN '61 finally his life, exposes Abagail to help Rever Theater:

A very fine production of The Crucible was presented by the Masquers of Amherst College last weekend and will be repeated March 10, 11, and 12 in Kirby Memorial Theater.

The Crucible has a tendency to be a screechy play, as it depicts the hysteria caused by the Salem witch accusations and trials. The set and lighting were excellent in expressing the idea of the play. Ann Meltzer, a student at the University, was extremely adept in the role of Elizabeth. She perhaps more than anyone else in the cast had controlled emotion. Elizabeth is the wronged wife of John Proctor played by Peter Duryea. Proctor has the strength of character to cry out against the young girls who are accusing the women of the town of witch-craft. Duryea in the role was believable and effective, but at times he, as many of the people in the cast, displayed unbridled emotion rather than true characterization. Proctor, at the expense of his own reputation and for the harlot that she is Beverley Sainte-Marie, also from the University, played Abagail with the needed emotion and screaming fanaticism of the leader of the accusers.

One of the most effective scenes in the play was the scene in which Mary Warren, played by Cora Kaplan, confesses that she is part of Abagail's hoax and that there are not really witches in Salem. In the scene Mary is seated with her back to the audience facing the judge, played by Michael Taylor. Also present are Reverend Hale, played by Philip Gossett, Reverend Samuel Parris, played by Foster Stewart, Abagail and her girls, Proctor, Corey and a few minor characters. Michael Taylor, as Judge Hathorne, was very dignified and presented what I could believe would be the activate of the would be the attitude of the Commonwealth toward the religious implication of witches. Reverend Hale, the religious authority on witchcraft, is called in to help Reverend Parris when his daughter is thought to be be-witched. Philip Gossett, as Hale, overplayed the role, making Hale a nervous twitching distraught man. Hale never seemed to be a level-headed man of authority, but rather one who rushed in where "angles feared to tread".

Foster Stewart as Parris created a rounded character, stuffy, over confident with his inferiors and humble to his betters.

There were many minor characters, who were well northy actions to the state of the acters who were well portrayed, acters who were well portrayed, for example, Katherine Kehoe, as Tituba the colored domestic from Barbados, Carol O'Laughlin, a University Student, as Betty, and Brett Prentiss, as Giles Corey the old man who unwittingly convictable in the state of witches of the state of the s ed his wife of witchcraft.

The production, on the whole, and especially the direction, was very well done; but a basic cri-ticism of the production would be that the excessive emotion need ed for the play was unchannelled and became emotion for the sake of emotion rather than for char-acterization.

The Omphalos

by PAUL THEROUX

"Try to conduct yourself in a way that you need not resort to violence."

Tolstoy, The Law of Love

To JRW—My Biographer
I would like to expand a little on that letter signed "JRW"—at least on a small paragraph which included my name and a brief, incomplete, and fal-included my name and a brief, incomplete, and fallacious biography, and a few accusations.

Now I guess we all know who "JRW" is—that is, Colonel JRW. Right? OK. And I guess there wasn't any doubt in anyone's mind as to WHOM the paragraph had been aimed at. I mean, he mentioned my name and everything. So the cat is out of the bag, Col. Weaver, they will know who we are and which end of the bayonet we're on.

The only problem is that the students of the University don't exactly know why I oppose capital punishment or why I'm a Conscientious Objector punishment or why I'm a Conscientious Objector (oddly enough, for the same reason), or why you bear so much animosity toward C.O.'s, liberals, Ex-Professor Lauter, Elizabeth Schneck, Michael Palter, or me. On your suggestion I joined the staff hoping that maybe some of the ramifications of the list that maybe some of the ramifications of the list above could be brought out into the open and, es-pecially, to tell more of the details of the AD HOC earing concerning my Conscientious Objector status —details which you left out of your letter and de-tails which were of more import than finding out that "we military men kill three (men) before breakfast on Saturdays".

In reference to your letter, Col. Weaver, I can find exactly four true statements among the ten accusations directed at me. They are:

1. That I had a "case of the horrors" (disgust would be closer) over an article by my friend Marcia Voikos and

2. that I am a sonhomore transferrer from

- that I am a sophomore transferee from Maine, and I am against killing people, and that
- I made a rather sardonic comment about the ROTC department and the military in general.

What happened to the rest of your japes? Am 1 the hateful, the hateful, pagan, garrulous, pacifist, left-wing, communist-oriented liberal that you implied I am? Or am I a citizen of the United States of America (and the world), a Christian, and therefore a person who reserves the right to say that he does not want to carry a rifle whose sole purpose is zoning in on another human's life center and, under the irrational parasol of fanatic patriotism, assuming the role of the Creator and extinguishing that same human life? Soldiers may be canonized, tanks blessed, and bombs beatifed, but there has never been and there never will be a HOLY WAR. These two terms compose what the rhetoricians call an oxymoron—it is a FALLACIOUS oxymoron. It never existed, and, by definition, it never will.

Can the sights and telescopes on your guns look into and probe deeply the hearts and minds and souls or men? Did you say that I have "vague and dubious" religious convictions because I refuse to kill in the name of Christ? Because my faith is not strong enough to salve a murderer's conscience? What religion is it that commands its parishioners to kill? Or do the parishioners consider for a mement their duty to their God first and their own mortal, worthless, murderous skins second? How can the Fifth Commandment be qualified to exclude a great majority of people? The answer is, simply, it can't. The qualification is in men's minds—which Can the sights and telescopes on your guns look

Talk Of The Week WEDNESDAY

"The Philosophy of Mysticism," by Professor Walter T. Stace, Professor of Philosophy, Mount Holyoke, 8:00 p.m., Chapin, Mount

THURSDAY

- "United Nations," by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Distinguished Visitors Lecture, 4:00 velt, Dist p.m. S.U.
- p.m. S.U.

 "The Physics of Viruses," by Professor Franklin Hutchinson, Yale University, 8:00 p.m. Peters Aud., Goessmann.

 "Peacetime Uses of Nuclear Explosives," by Bernard J. O'Keefe, Vice President, Edgerton, Germeshausen, and Grier, Inc., 7:15 p.m., Commonwealth Room, S.U.

 "Regionalism and Humanism in Domestic Concepts," Mrs. Sibyl Moholy—Nagl, professor at Pratt Institute, 11:00 a.m. Bartlett Auditorium.
- Auditorium.

- "The Alternatives in United States Farm Policy," by Dr. Karl Fox, Visiting Professor of Agricultural Economics, Harvard University, 3:00 p.m., S.U.
 "Russian Views On Peace and Disarmament," by Professor Louis Sohn of Harvard Law School, 8:00 p.m. Bartlett Auditorium.

would be pretty frightening if all their whims arried out. Anyway, Colonel, I went over all of this efore in a 26 page objection entitled "A Belief In Utopias" which I submitted to the AD HOC hearing board. In this paper I stated my reason for objecting as well as what I consider to be a convincing argument for all Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Agnostics, and Buddhists to become Conscientious Objectors. Taking for granted that you read the paper, I can see no reason for you to say that my convictions are either "vague" or "dubious". In fact, your accusation is a very serious one. I hope fact, your accusation is a very serious one. I hope you had other intentions than pure ridicule.

As to the accusation that I "talked the new President into assigning" me to the category of Conscientious Objector, this is also fallacious. I have never exchanged one word with our new president; if I talked to anyone, Colonel, it was you along with Rev. Claussen, Provost McCune, and Col. Marchant. As I remember, you asked most of the questions and I assumed that you were satisfied, and that it was you, Colonel, that spoke to the President on my behalf. In any case, the AD HOC board recommended that I be exempt from ROTC, and you were a member of that board.

The statement you made of my alleged "soleme."

The statement you made of my alleged "solemn assurance" to the Provost that I would neither "campaign against" nor "talk against" the ROTC was very disturbing as well as being untrue, The Provost told me not to let everyone know that I was exempt as a C.O. merely because he did not want a rash of pseudo-Conscientious Objectors to badger him for an exemption. I do not remember solemnly assuring the Provost, or anyone else, of my intention of taking a vow of silence as a Conscientious Objector. But until your letter appeared in Friday's Collegian no one was aware of my status as a C.O., so it was you, Colonel, rather than I, that broke the silence. I'm sorry. But now that everyone knows that The statement you made of my alleged "solemn silence. I'm sorry. But now that everyone knows that I'm a Conscientious Objector, they have to find out why. I would like everyone to know why, and now that you have opened the case I will proceed with my weekly arguments for pacifism.

Hard Of Hearing Guild To Give Demonstration

The Boston Guild for the Hard of Hearing will be visiting U-Mass Wednesday, March 8, to present a program entitled "Working with the Hearing Handicapped." The presentation will take place in 114 Barlett Hall, the Speech and Hearing Center at 7 p.m.

Conducting the program which includes a demonstration and des a demonstration and entitled "The Glass Wall" will be Miss Dorothy O'Halloran, speech and hearing therapist, and Miss Jane Stapleton, case

Co-sponsors for the evening will be the Speech and Hearing Therapy Interest Group and the Women's Vocational Placement Office.

This will be an open meeting, and students in Education, Nursing, Speech, Pre-Med, Sociology, Public Health, and Psychology invited to attend. Public Health, and Psychology are especially invited to attend.

"LOVE IN REVERSE"

They met. His heart leapt. "I love you," he cried.

"Me, too, hey," she cried.
"Me, too, hey," she cried.
"Tell me," he cried, "are you a girl of expensive tastes?"
"No, hey," she cried, "I am a girl of simple tastes."
"Good," he cried, "for my cruel father sends me an allowance

"Good," he cried, "for my cruel father sends me an allowance barely large enough to support life."

"Money does not matter to me," she cried. "My tastes are simple, my wants are few. Just take me riding in a long, new, yellow convertible and I am content."

"Goodbye," he cried, and ran away as fast as his chubby little legs could earry him, for he had no convertible, nor the money to buy one, nor the means to get the money, short of picking up his stingy father by the ankles and shaking him till his wallet fell out.

He knew he must forget this girl but, lying on his pallet at the dormitory, whimpering and moaning, he knew he could not. At last an idea came to him: though he did not have the money to buy a convertible, perhaps he had enough to rent one! Hope reborn, he rushed at once to an automobile rental company and rented a yellow convertible for $10 down plus 10¢ a mile, and with many a laugh and cheer drove away to pick up the girl. up the girl.

"Oh, goody," she said when she saw the car. "This suits my simple tastes to a 'T'. Come, let us speed over rolling highways and through bosky dells."

And away they drove. All that day and night they drove and finally, tired but happy, they parked high on a windswept hill.
"Marlboro?" he said.
"Yum yum," she said.

They lit up. They puffed with deep contentment. "You now," he said, "you are like a Marlboro—mild and fresh and relaxing."

"But there is a big difference between Marlboro and me," she said, "because I do not have a Selectrate filter nor do I come in soft pack or flip-top box."

They laughed. They kissed. He screamed.

"What is it, my dear," she cried, alarmed.

"Look at the speedometer," he said. "We have driven 200 miles and this car costs 10¢ a mile and I have only $20 left."

"But that's exactly enough," she said.
"Yes," he said, "but we still have to drive home."

They fell into a profound gloom. He started the motor and backed out of the parking place.
"Hey, look!" she said. "The speedometer doesn't move when you're backing up."

He looked. It was true. "Eureka!" he cried. "That solves my problem. I will drive home in reverse. Then no more miles will register on the speedometer and I will have enough money

I think that's a marvelous idea," she said, and she was right. "I think that's a marvelous idea," she said, and she was right. Because today our hero is in the county jail where food, clothes and lodging are provided free of charge and his allowance is piling up so fast that he will have enough money to take his girl riding again as soon as he is released.

Backward or forward, a fine, new experience in smoking is yours from the makers of Marlboros—the unfiltered, king-alse Philip Morris Commander. Welcome aboard!

Talent Show Will Be Held Friday Night

The Arts and Music Committee of the S.U. will present a Talent Show Friday, March 10, at 8 p.m. in the S.U. Ballroom. Cochairmen of the committee are Sue Sidney and Sid Feldman. Admission will be free.

The participants are all students at UMass. They include the following people: Ann Elizabeth following people: Ann Elizabeth Feeley, song; Linda Russell; Marsha Bailey, monologue; Lester Neale, piano and song; Susan Goldsmith, jazz dance. Ken Goodman and Al Berman, song and piano; Jack Kessler and Gary Ticknell, folk singing; Joan Wilson, piano; Bernard Pitkin, piano; and others. Judges will be members of UMass' facul-

Awards of $25, $15, and $10 will be given to the three top

Bill Jamison '62 will be the Master of Ceremonies for this event. The three prize winners will be sent to the University of Connecticut in May to represent UMass at a regional show. This is the second Annual Stu-dent Union Talent Show presented and with all the potential talent the show promises to be very entertaining.

Six Teams To Debate At Tourney

The fourth annual Intramural debate tournament will begin on Tuesday evening March 14. In order to help those people in the tournament and those interested in debating, a help session will be held on Friday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the seminar room on the third floor of Bartlett Hall. All teams are asked to have at least one member there if possible

At present there are six teams signed up. The debate club does not have the names of the people who signed up at the S.U. as this sheet never reached us. Would e people please make a (Continued on page 6) these mherst. Mass.

PAPER CUPS PLATES and NAPKINS A. J. HASTINGS Inc.

Newsdealer & Stationer

SINGER Offers mmer Employment v Career Opportunity

A unique summer employment op-ortunity with challenging career pos-bilities, limited only by your ambi-ion and ability, with a well-estab-shed international organization, is valiable to all undergraduates. Work this summer in one of the Work this summer in one of the summer is the summer in one of the summer in one of the summer is the summer in one of the summer is the summer in the summer is the chile earning salary plus commission. Our potential abilities will be de-eloped by our proven training pro-ram.

ne rour United States regions receive an $800 Scholarship from Company.
Ornpany.
The presonal interview, write, statname and location of college, area seired employment, course or mand year of graduation, to:
VCER SEWING MACHINE CO.
Singer Building.
Broadway, New York 6, N.Y.
Mr. F. A. Kolyer. Director of los Promotion

CLUB DIRECTORY

AIEE-IRE

Public lecture Thurs., Mar. 9, at 7 p.m. in the Commonwealth Rm., SU. Bernard J. O'Keefe will speak on "Peacetime Uses of Nuclear Explosives." Refreshments, Dinner honoring Mr. O'Keefe at 6 p.m. in the Student Union

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PHYSICS

There will be a lecture on "Ra-diation Hazards in Space" by Dr. Franklin Hutchinson, Pro fessor of Biophysics, Yale University, in Peters Auditorium on Thurs., March 9, 8 p.m. Refreshments will follow

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Nominating Committee is accepting suggestions for next year's officers now. You may place suggestions in the box in the C.A. office.
This year as last there will be

Lenten services in the Com-monwealth Room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m. until Easter. The services will be conducted this week by Mr. Mand,

COLLEGIAN

Full staff picture for Index, Thurs., Mar. 9, 11 a.m., Norfolk Rm., S.U.

DEBATING CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Mar. 9, at 7 p.m. on the third floor, Bart-lett Hall. All members asked to

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the S.U. LITERARY SOCIETY

A student play reading of Sam-uel Beckett's Waiting for Godet will be given in the Bristol and Berkshire Rooms of the S.U. on Wed., March 8, 8 p.m. A discussion will follow the reading. Everyone is invited to attend. Refreshments will be

POLITICAL SCIENCE

ASSOCIATION
Meeting Thurs., Mar. 9, at 8 p.m. in the Barnstable Rm., SU. Mayor Philip J. Crowley, president of the newly formed Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns will talk shout the and Towns will talk about the

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Mar. 9, at 7:30 p.m. in Rm. 61, Bartlett Hall. Four movies on different types of schizophrenia followed by a discussion by Dr. Seymour Ep stein of the department. Re-

SU DANCE COMMITTEE

Meeting Thurs., Mar. 9, 11 a.m., in the Plymouth Rm., S.U. STUDENT ZIONIST

ORGANIZATION

Meeting Wed., Mar. 8, at 8 p.m. in the Hampden Rm., S.U. Chaim Frenkel, Israeli student on campus will speak on "The Future of the State of Israel."

UMass 'Best Dressed Girl' Nominations Due Thursday

Time is getting short. All nomiations for the "Best Dressed nations for the Girl" contest must be received by noon tomorrow, Thursday. All fraternities, sororities, and dormitories have received nomination blanks; commuters and other in-dividuals who wish to make nominations can do so in the Collegian office.

Pictures of all candidates will be taken Friday March 10, between 5-7 p.m. in the Collegian office. The girls are requested to wear an outfit suitable for attending "Campus Varieties" (heels, please) or a similar func-tion. We will notify all candi-dates personally.

The girl who wins the UMass contest will be entered in Glam our's national contest. Our win-ner will have a chance to receive prizes and be interviewed on television, among other things. Remember! The things to consider when nominating candi-dates are: good figure, excellent posture, imagination and good taste in clothes, good grooming, and appropriateness of clothes to her on- and off-campus life.

Flying Student Logs 3000 Miles For Airline

Soft spoken Capt. Tom Elden Vancouver is literally flying s way through college. The Canadian Pacific Airlines' pilot flies 3,000 miles a week be-tween classes at the University of British Columbia, where he is studying to become a minister.

The former Royal Canadian Air Force pilot now earns $15,000 a year. Yet each Monday, Wednesday and Friday he applies himself to lectures on philosophic thought and Christian destring nimself to lectures on philosophic thought and Christian doctrine in order to qualify for a $4,000 a year ministerial post. The other three days, he dons his blue pilot's uniform and ferries twinengined Convairs on the 1,000 mile flight between Vancouver and Colegon.

and Calgary.
"I remember wanting to fly since I was 6 years old," he said. "But the church has also been at the back of my mind. I've been avoiding it, but now I can't put it off any longer. I'm used to the routine of study and I enjoy what I'm doing very much. It's hard work but I've always wanted to do this?" do this.'

Elden is 37 years old. He studies his current subjects: literature, mental hygiene, philosophic thought and Christian doctrine at home, where he lives with his daughter Louise 12, and son, John, 8. His wife died last year. During his 12 years with the airline he has flown to Hong Kong, Japan and Hawaii.

But to achieve his goal of be-coming a minister, he has volun-tarily switched to domestic flights. In six years he hopes to become an ordained minister.

State Hospital ...

(Continued from page 1) logy, the range of participation is by no means limited to these. Art therapy, music therapy, and Art therapy, music therapy, and dance therapy are now accepted forms of treatment. They even seem due to become specialties in their own right. Vocational training and training in home economics are especially valuable. Indeed, a far wider range of academic interests and student skills than commonly supposed are capable of contributing to the mental hospital.

the mental hospital.

The Northampton Project is supported by a National Institute of Mental Health grant. The Project Director is Dr. Charles Hamberg, a social scientist. He is assisted by Paul Teta, graduate student in sociology at the University. Anyone interested in obtaining further information is invited to contact Dr. Hamberg by writing to: The Northampton invited to contact Dr. Hamberg by writing to: The Northampton Project, Northampton State Hos-pital, Northampton, Mass.; or to contact Paul Tela through the

Redmen Finish With 16-10 Slate, Prospects Good For Next Year

The Redmen basketball squad finished the 1960-61 slate Satur-day night with its second highest win total in history. The record, 17 wins set back in 1956, was one better than this year's 16-10 mark.

Was it a successful season? That all depends on how you look at it. If the won-loss record is the criterion for evaluation. the team was successful. But if success depends upon Yankee Conference leadership, then the team has left something to be desired.

With a 4-6 In YANCON
With a 4-6 Conference record, the Redmen finished fourth out of six, That's not too impressive.
In a dismal first part of the season, UMass lost its first 5 YanCon games.

But if the season is to be called success-and it should be-it is because of the tremendous improvement the team has made over the course of the season. It would have been nice, says UM by AL BERMAN '62 publicist Dick Page, "if the team could have played all season the way they played the last half."

However the function of playing ball is to improve, and if by playing a team does improve, then the playing must be deemed successful, For a measure of how much the team did improve, just look over the record. In the first part of the season the Redmen lost to UConn and Vermont by close scores. In the later rematches, though, UMass whipped both teams soundly. Also in the second half of the season the Redmen topped Canisius and Manhattan, two of the top basketball teams in the East.

EARLY SUCCESSES

Before anyone chalks up the first part of the season as a loss, it might be well to point out some achievements at that time. Early in the year UMass won the Springfield Tournament for the second straight time, and in do-ing so defeated Williams College,

UMASS FLYING CLUB Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays 2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

LEARN TO FLY

$3.80 Per Lesson

up until then rated fourth in New

All things considered, then, the 1960-61 basketball season was quite successful. Perhaps the Redmen failed to win the YanConcrown, but they did firmly establish themselves as a power in New England basketball, and as a team to watch next year.

Speaking of next year, exactly what can UMass fans look forward to in 1961-62? Two starters, Doug Grutchfield and Jim Laughnane, will have graduated and admittedly, says Coach Matt Zunic "their loss will be felt."

"But," continued the Coach,
"we'll still have Kirk Leslie, a guy who has been pretty much overlooked this year. He has been the real backbone of the team. He's a consistently high scorer, and he leads the team in rebound.

"Don Black has come a long way this year," said Coach Zunic, "and we're hoping for a lot from him next year. Of course, we're expecting a lot of help from (Roger) Twitchell, (Jim) Painten and (Don) Laakso, who and (Don) Laakso, who have been outstanding freshmen."

In addition to that, spark plug Mike Mole will be returning for what should be his best season.

Hoop Statistics Released, Grutch, Leslie, Mole High

1960-61 UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS FINAL BASKETBALL STATISTICS

Name	G	FG	Pct.	FT	Pct.	RB	Pts	Ave.
Grutchfield, Doug	26	210	.483	86	.662	251	506	19.5
Leslie, Kirk	26	138	.477	84	.646	285	360	13.8
Mole, Mike	26	129	.362	72	.713	86	330	12.7
Black, Don	26	82	.344	83	.629	209	246	9.4
Laughnane, Jim	23	69	.454	51	.785	91	189	8.2
Fohlin, Charlie	26	28	.394	37	.507	115	93	3.6
Wheeler, Jeff	18	21	.375	9	.428	30	51	2.8
Widdison, John	14	5	.357	10	.769	14	20	1.4
Green, Dick	12	4	.333	6	1.000	7	14	1.2
Burgess, John	8	1	.142	5	.625	14	7	0.8
Seigel, Howie	8	3	.375	1	.500	9	7	0.8
Larkin, Pete	7	1	.125	, 3	.750	4	5	0.7
Elson, Dave	8	4	.250	0	.000	13	8	1.0
Others		15		13		27	43
Team						210
Mass Totals	26	710	.414	460	.646	1365	1880	72.3
Opp. Totals	26	607	.381	528	.645	1170	1742	67.0

Jeff Wheeler, who has been al-ternating with Laughnane at a guard slot, will be ready for plenty of action next year.

MORE HOME GAMES

MORE HOME GAMES

"Another thing that hurt us this year," said Zunic, "was was playing 16 (out of 26) games away from home. Next year, though, for the first time, we'll probably be playing more home probably be playing more home games than away."

This year's Redmen schedule was the toughest in history. The team also was one of the best in history. Next year, the schedule will be much tougher, but we can look forward to a much improved

BLOCKED

Kirk Leslie, who has led the team in rebounds throughout the season, and who was the second highest scorer for the Redmen (scoring 18 points in the New Hampshire game during which this shot was taken) will be back next year as a mainstay of the Zunics, Black and Mole will also bolster the team.

VARSITY GOLF

There will be a meeting of the varsity golf team and all who are interested in going out for the squad on Thursday at 5:00 p.m. in Room 10 of the

AMHERST + + CINEMA

STARTS TONIGHT Jack Lemmor Ricky Nelson

The Wackiest Ship In The Army"

-Color-

-LATE SHOW FRIDAY-"The Lovers" (French, uncut)

Salem refreshes your taste "air-softens" every puff

Take a puff...it's Springtime! For the cool, fresh softness in Salem's smoke is the very essence of springtime. This most refreshing cigarette of all is made even more so by Salem's special High Porosity paper that "air-softens" the smoke. You'll be delighted with Salem's springtime freshness - its rich, tobacco taste. Smoke refreshed . . . smoke Salem!

menthol fresh rich tobacco taste modern filter, too

SAE Team: Front row left to right: P. Simineau, A. Clark, T. Foley, P. Føley, P. DePaolo. Standing left to right: R. Macberg, S. Kelly, T. Delnickas, T. Judge, P. Sullivan, J. Logan, Mgr., D. Cole, J. Cullen, Coach.

UNH Frat Dumps SAE

In a helter-skelter basketball game last Saturday night, which took place instead of the usual frosh game, Lambda Chi Fraternity of UNH dumped the UMass SAE squad, winners of the intramural competition, 89-43.

Pat DePaolo of the SAE team scored 14 points, but other than that, things were pretty dim.

TOURNAMENT

If you want to eatch the Small Schools Tourney finals Saturday night in the Cage, the admission is 50 cents with

Pro Potpourri by DAVE WILLARD '64

It seems ironic that new Yan-kee pilot Ralph Houk has tabbed moody Mickey Mantle as his team leader. He must have come

WILLARD '64

two new teams they could be traded for a sizeable sum them-selves.

Leo 'Durocher wasted little tain leader. He must have come a long way from his bubble gum days in centerfield and throwing tantrums every time he popped up. During the recently completed Baseball Player's Golf Tournament Mantle's "only" display of temperament was when he play of temperament was when he play of temperament was when he broke his putter over his knee after missing an easy putt...

There don't seem to be as many stars holding out this year for higher wages; they probably realize that with the addition of

Leo Durocher wasted little time in stirring up a controversy.

Just getting back into baseball Just getting back into baseball after a prolonged lay-off he put the bite on General Manager Fred Haney of the new Los Angeles team for not hiring him as manager after leading Leo to believe he would get the post. Then Durocher goes and gets himself kicked out of the first Dodger intra-squad game. Turning to basketball for a moment, have you noticed that in the last have you noticed that in the last few games between the Celtics and Hawks the fans have refrained from any garbage throw-ing. Perhaps they are saving their eggs and tomatoes for the playoffs... So you think playing in the NBA is all grand and glorious. Well don't let the St. Louis Hawks hear you because they have had only one day off when they weren't traveling or playing since Christmas.

That perennial cry is once again arising from the Red Sox camp and that is that they think they've found that long sought after slugging right-handed first-baseman tailor made for Fenway Park. This time it is Bob Tillman, a fine catching prospect up from Minneapolis who is be-ing converted into a first baseman under the expert tutelage of Rudy York. According to York the 6'4" youngster handles him-self like a pro and is making the much to everyone's adjustment satisfaction.

Goalie Gump Worsley of the

New York Rangers is on every-one's unsung hero team. The pudgy net-minder comes up with a nightly average of 35 plus saves a game behind a porous, next to nothing defense. If it were not for him the Bruins might not have found themselves in the cellar come the end of the season. in the cellar come the end of the scason . . . Speaking of the Bruins, although the management cleared rookie goalie Bruce Gamble of any of the blame for the team's disastrous doldrums, the chances are that Lynn Patrick will be shopping around this winter for another goalie. What ever happened to "Long" John Henderson?

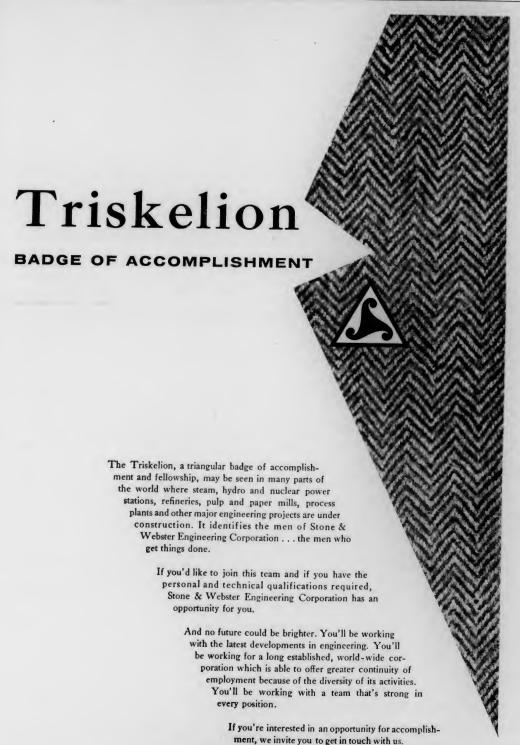

Easygoing Mike Higgins has finally given Don Buddin his Easygoing Mike Higgins has finally given Don Buddin his ultimatum. After going along with Don through four years of agonizing errors and weak hitting, Mike said recently, "Buddin hasn't lived up to expectations. I agonizing errors and weak hitting, Mike said recently, "Buddin hasn't lived up to expectations. I hope he proves himself this year because this is his last chance to make good with the Sox."

This year the Celtics became the third club in NBA history to win all their inter-club series. They also did it last year and the now defunct Washington club did it before that . . . Even with his late season rash of injuries Oscar Robinson became only the second rookie to score 2,000 points in an NBA season. As if you couldn't guess, some big guy from Philadelphia was the first to do it.

In order to stock the new Chicago franchise in the NBA there will be a draft conducted in April. Each of the present teams is allowed to protect only seven of their ten man roster. The Celtics, oddly enough, are undecided whether to keep Bill Sharman. Sharman's present plans call for becoming manager of the new Pittsburgh entry, scheduled to begin play in 1963 at the earliest. What the Celtics must decide is whether big Tom Sanders is more valuable to their immediate fuccontinued on page 6) In order to stock the new Chi-

Ask your Placement Office for a copy of our bookles

New York

STONE & WEBSTER ENGINEERING CORPORATION

Pittsburgh

Houston

Los Angeles

Chicago

San Francisco

Contract Bridge

by BOB WEBER '64

North (D) S A K Q 9 5 2 H A K 4 D A K 9 C 7 est Last
10 3 S J 6
Q 8 H J 7 5
10 6 5 4 3 D Q J 7 2
K J 8 4 C A 10 6 3 South S 8 7 4 H 10 9 6 3 2

D 8
C Q 9 5 2
Opening Lead: D-2
North holds 25 points and a good six card suit. This hand meets the requirements for our opening two bids. With a six card suit, North could have opened two with as little as 23 points. This two-bid is forcing to a game South's two no trump bid shows less than seven points. It does not indicate where the points might be or what the distribution is. The purpose of this bid is to tell the opening bidder that there probably is no slam contract between them. North then rebids his suit and South, with good support, places the pair in good support, places the pair in

There is no problem to the play of this hand. Declarer wins the opening diamond lead in his hand and then draws trump. The D-K is played and North's last diamond is trumped in dummy. A small heart is lead to the A which is followed by the K and the North must now lose a heart trick to East's J. East cashes his club ace and its all over. Declarer loses only a heart and a club, making five spades.

Expanding Bridge Club Offers Beginners' Class

Eight pairs of bridge club members competed in a regular-ly scheduled game Thursday eve-ning in the Middlesex Room of the S.U. Top was Cowan and the S.U. Top was Cowan and Ball, Alpha Sigma Phi, and sec-ond was Susan Black and Elliot Heyman. There were two guest pairs who played as usual very well.

Beginners are being taught contract bridge. It is free, in-cluding booklets; there's room for forty; the instructor is Bob Weber '64, who has taught the Springfield Bridge Club. Classes will begin Tuesday night.

With the notice and request for competitive support now circulated, it is reasonably expected that there will be a considerable increase in the size of the game. This does not mean that the game is closed. It is still an open invitation to come with or without a partner to try your luck.

We are experimenting with a new policy and will report only top pairs and only those pairs in ch at least one of them is a

Guests are invited and urged because they add skill and to the game, but they will be public . for competitive p for competitive purposes, S nt competitors will be given advantage of being given advantage of being compared only with other student competitors.

Education Block

Interviews for the Secondary Education Block will be held the week of March 27 in the Educa tion Department offices in Mach-mer Hall. Sign-up sheets for appointments are in the Education pointments are in the Education Office, Room 301, Machmer Hall. All students who are interested in taking the Block in either semester of 1961-62 should sign up for an interview.

Debate Tourney...

(Continued from page 3) effort to come Friday and give their names again.

There will also be a general club meeting Thursday evening at 7 p.m. on the third floor of Bart-

NOW! WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY ON FINE EASY-TO-ERASE TYPEWRITER PAPER!

Now we have a fine quality, famous brand easy-to-erase paper at the lowest price yet! It's Eagle-A Type-Erase, the popular paper for cleaner, faster typing and quick erasability. At the touch of a pencil eraser, typing errors "wipe" off the surface of Type-Erase, leaving no mark. Saves time... makes your work neater. Comes in a budget-priced pack of 100 sheets, 8½" x 11", in medium or heavy weight, plain or 3-hole punched. Free with every pack — a Letter Placement Guide to help you type neater letters and reports.

EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE

... the paper that erases perfectly with a pencil erase

Made by American Writing Paper Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., manufacturer of Eagle-A Boxed Typewriter Papers

Buy your EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE PAPER today at

THE UNIVERSITY STORE

EducationCommitteeFavors Medical School For UMass

Deans Will Welcome Two Year Plan If Necessity Proved By Investigation

Creation of a two-year, basic medical-science school as part of the University of Massachusetts will be favored by the legislative Committee on Education, it was learned last night.

Sen. Mary L. Fonseca (D-Fall River), committee chairman, de-clared that sufficient votes have been obtained in the current poll-ing of the 15-member legislative group to approve the two-year medical school plan.

Nuclear Uses To Be Topic Thurs. Night

Bernard J. O'Keefe will speak on "Peace-time Uses of Nuclear Explosives," Thursday 7:15 p.m. in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U. O'Keefe is vice-presi-dent of Edgerton, Germeshausen and Grier, Inc., of Boston.

O'Keefe attended George Wash-O'Keefe attended George Wash-ington University and received a B.S. degree in electrical en-gineering, magna cum laude, from the Catholic University of America. He did graduate work in electronics and radar at Bowdoin College and at Massachusetts In-College and at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

His long experience in nuclear weapons development and test operations has brought him letters of commendation from the Atomic Energy Commission and the Department of the Navy.

O'Keefe, who received the Alumni Award as outstanding engineering student at Catholic University, is a registered professional engineer in Massachusetts, a member of the Massachusetts Society for Professional setts Society for Professional Engineers and the American In-stitute of Electrical Engineers, and a senior member of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Dr. E. C. Putala Receives Injuries In Auto Accident

Dr. Eugene C. Putala, assistant professor of botany at UMass, was injured in an automobile accident Sunday, while returning to his Amherst home. The accident occurred in Bennington, Vt. after Putala had been visiting in Burlington.

He sustained a concussion and possible pelvic injuries. Putala's full extent of injuries was not

According to Edward L. Davis f the botany department, the octor said that Putala would be hospitalized from ten days to three weeks.

Dr. Putala resides at 387 N. Pleasant St., Amherst. He is a graduate of UMass and has re-ceived both M.S. and B.S. de-

> ROSELAND BALLROOM

IN PERSON Friday, Mar. 10 - 7-11 p.m. Chubby Checker ADMISSION $1.00

Sat., Mar. 11 - 8-12 p.m. Eddy Martin

Mrs. Fonseca said the commit-tee would make no recommenda-tion as to the location of the university appendage. The commit-tee has been studying five other proposals for a full, four-year medical school to be located in Boston, Worcester or Springfield.

The forecast of the committee's action, to be filed within the next few days, came on the heels of a request to Gov. Volpe by the deans of the Harvard, Boston University and Tufts Medical Schools for a study of the medical school issue.

The deans incorporated nine suggestions to Volpe as their consensus on the course of action the Commonwealth should follow.

Of "prime interest" to the three existing medical schools, stated the letter, is the "qual-ity of a new medical institution."

Frank A. Tredinnick Jr., vice realized A. Fredininca 31, vace president for development at Tufts, informed the governor that the three deans would "wel-come an additional medical school if such a school seemed necessary and comes as a result of sound, thorough study and needs."

Tredinnick urged Volpe to Tredinnick urged Volpe to initiate a study soon by a special commission comprising "leading legislators." He advised the govornor to omit the deans of existing medical schools although they could serve as "research persons."

The commission would be directed to report its recommendation by Dec. 1.

"Despite allegations to the contrary, an adequate study in depth has never been undertaken," said Tredinnick of the medical school issue that has floated around the State House since first proposed by the late Gov. Paul A. Dever in 1948.

Pro Potpourri...

(Continued from page 5)

ture. The Celtics have only two consistent forwards, Heinson and Ramsey. Conley, Loscutoff, and Guerilla pass the test defensively but don't score. Now Sanders is big and strong, and from every indication can score better than any of these three. It is my guess that Sharman at the age of 35, won't be around with the Celtics much longer, either voluntarily or otherwise

Governor's State Budget May Be Completed Soon

Action on Governor Volpe's record $487,000,000 state budget may be completed by the House of Representatives before the first of April.

Learned Through Ways and Means Committee This was learned as the House ways and means committee re-sumed work on preparing the General Appropriations Bill. A public hearing was held during the past week to hear the views of Frank J. Zeo, executive director of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations,

Hope to Meet Constitution Date Rep. John J. Toomey (D-Cam-bridge) had hoped to get the budget before the House under the State Constitution require-ment of a report by the first Wednesday in March, namely, March 8. This now will be impossible Therefore, Rep. Toomey and his committee will ask the House on Tuesday to adopt an order granting the committee a further extension of time in which to make a report. The extension probably will be for only seven to ten legislative days lative days.

Meanwhile, the Toomey com-mittee is slowly being submerged by a deluge of favorable com-or a deluge of favorable committee reports referred to them by the lower branch.

Other Bills Approved

Here are a few of the bills approved by other committees and now waiting action by the Toomer committee.

mey committee:

A bill to establish a Greater Boston Planning District and Planning Council;

Disabled Exempt
A bill of Sen. William D. Fleming (D-Worcester), chairman of the Senate ways and means comthe Senate ways and means committee, exempting persons retired for disability from filing annual statements of earnings from gainful employment;

A bill to have the State reimburse the Metropolitan Transit Authority for the transportation of school children on its system;

A bill establishing a uniform system of departmental and agency reports and requiring a comprehensive annual report on State Government activities to the General Court;

Bill Provides Scholarships

A bill making provision for scholarships at the Bradford Durfee College of Technology and the New Bedford Institute of the New Bedford Institute of Technology. These scholarships, not to exceed $250 in any year and limited to five at each in-stitution, would be known as the Commonwealth Scholarships. The bill was filed by Rep. Matthew J. Kuss of Fall River.

A bill to allow retired state, county, city and town employees to work at polling places at primaries and elections without interfering with their pensions; To Study Community Colleges

A resolve providing for an investigation and study by the Massachusetts Board of Regional Community Colleges of the feasibility of establishing a vocational technical school in Essex County. This bill was favorably reported by the committee on Education and based on a petition cation and based on a petition signed by Essex County legisla-

Study War Memorial Change A resolve providing for an investigation and study by the Greylock Reservation Commission

Greylock Reservation Commission for the repair, restoration or change in structural design of the Mount Greylock War Memorial;
Of interest to 36,000 state workers is the bill for legislation to limit the number of state employees and to provide for the payment of a bonus to state employees to be determined by the amount of payroll cost reduction in each department.

Ewit Bert

LIBRARY

MRS. ROOSEVELT

See page 2

FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1961

'65 Increase

Burkhardt Offers Little Hope To Men Of Abbey

by MARK NATAUPSKY '64
Collegian Staff Reporter
Assistant Dean of Men William Burkhardt, Monday evening, attended a special Adams House dorm meeting to discuss the future of that dorm ture of that dorm.

Chances Are Slim

Burkhardt unofficially formed the Adams men of their chances of keeping the dorm next year. He said if the budget al-lows an increase in enrollment the dorm will undoubtedly go back to the women. Although he spent the major part of the eve-ning addressing the near perfect turnout, he could not offer them much hope in retaining the dorm.

1961 Projected Enrollment 6,000

Dean Hopkins announced Wednesday that the projected en-rollment for next year is about 6,000. He stated "Our plans for next year are being made on the projected enrollment for '61.'62. Though a budget which will enable an increase in enrollment has not as yet been passed, the Ad-ministration is acting under the assumption that the measure will be carried.

Projected Enrollment a Handicap Projected Enrollment a Handicap Mrs. Gonon, Assistant Dean of Women, stated, "We are tre-mendously handicapped for space to meet projected enrollment. We are uncertain as to direction, but there is every unlikelihood that (Continued on page 8)

Three To A Room Seen Likely; 20% Slash Offered

Due to the predicted increase in the enrollment of the class of '65, Frank B. Thomas, Housing Officer, issued the following statement concerning the housing of the incoming class.

"Increase in enrollment for the school year 61-62 involves a housing problem that will necessitate some changes in the pres-ent residence hall set-up.

A new men's residence hall previously scheduled for fall of '61 occupancy will not be avail-able. This means that in order to maintain our enrollment at target figures with no cutbacks that some of the other residence halls will have to absorb additional stu-

Plans Now Being Considered

Plans Now Being Considered
Present plans call for the return of the Abbey to women and the acquisition of Plymouth
House in County Circle for four year men students. Certain large rooms in four of the upperclass-men's residence halls will be designated as triples on a full semester basis. This procedure will be of advantage to students who wish to save on room rent as a 20% reduction will be al-lowed for those tripled and to oc-cupants of Plymouth House in double rooms.

It is suggested and strongly recommended that any students within commuting distance of the (Continued on page 8)

Men To Lose Abbey Mrs. Roosevelt Talks On Foreign Policy & U.N.

Library.

Former First Lady Stresses Value Of Contacts Between World Peoples

by PAT STEC '63, Collegian Staff Reporter
"Personal contact between peoples means an enormous amount. The great value of the United Nations is that other nations see how we live. If we do what we believe, we can show the world the values of democracy as they are lived," stated Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt Thursday, March 9, in the Student Union ballroom.

Mrs. Roosevelt, first of the speakers of the Distinguished Visitors Program, added that when the first delegates from Africa came to the United Nations, they were turned down in restaurants and had difficulty finding places to eat. "We must prove that the values of democracy are greater than the values of communism. We must not fail to paint a good picture of what democracy means to us.'

-Photo by Joel Tilli drs. Eleanor Roosevelt is escorted into the ballroom by Gail Osbaldeston '61, Chairman of the Distinguished Visitors Program, and by Ponald Croteau, also '61.

I.F.C. Judiciary Regains All But Police Power

by DICK HAYNES '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

by DICK HAYNES '64,
Robert S. Hopkins, Dean of Men, has reinstated the powers of the I.F.C. Judiciary. On Feb.
14, a memorandum from the Dean of Men's office relieved the I.F.C.
Judiciary "of its responsibilities for the balance of the current semester", because the Judiciary had been unsuccessful in policing the University liquor han In adthe University liquor ban. In ad-dition, the Dean announced at that time that he would undertake the responsibility of policing all fraternities and fraternal

Clark Lennon, vice-president of the I.F.C., reported that the Dean the power to judge cases per-taining to violations of the University liquor regulations.

Gordon L. Massingham, I.F.C. president, stated that he didn't believe the responsibility of policing the fraternities and enforc-ing the liquor ban should have been invested in the I.F.C. in the has restored to the I.F.C. Judi-ciary all power held previous to the Feb. 14 memorandum except

(Continued on page 8)

UMass' Best-Dressed Girl To Be Commended Locally

by PAT WARD '6
Thirty-three girls have been nominated in the "Best Dressed Girl on Campus" contest.
All candidates are requested to come to the Collegian office tonight between 5 and 7 p.m. for pictures. They are requested to wear an outfit suitable for attending Campus Varieties or a similar function, and heels.

The girls nominated are: Ann Slayton, Gail Osbaldeston, Sandra Saitto, Marjorie Olson, Elaine Zeitzoff, Ada Nordberg, Judy Lawson, Fran Munton, Les Payzant, Susan Sidney, Marion Mac-

by PAT WARD '61, Senior Reporter
girls have been Leod, Liz Van Epen, Sandy Gates, the "Best Dressed Janet Bardazzi, Maura Driscoll, Leod, Liz Van Epen, Sandy Gates, Janet Bardazzi, Maura Driscoll, Roz Zacker, Robie LaBatte.

Also, Marsha Joyce, Jeanne Mullaney, Nancy Pogatch, Martha Ronan, Beverly Carlson, Roz Tepper, Joan Werner, Kathleen Kelley, Carol Townsley, Jean Zimmerman, Carol Guerette, Gretchen Cobb, Mary Lu Jewell, Pam O'Donnell, Priscilla Burns, and Amy Clayman. and Amy Clayman.

The girl chosen as UMass' Best Dressed Girl will, in addition to being entered in Glamour's na-(Continued on page 8) Speaking without a prepared text, Mrs. Roosevelt informed her audience that the functions of the U.N. specialized agencies are "spreading information, and promoting good will and understanding between nations." She stated that the United States doesn't see She stated much of the work of specialized agencies because are a fortunate people and don't need the aid."
"U.S. Is Fortunate"

We were once isolated by two oceans. This obliged us to develop things which we couldn't get our-selves. We don't stop to think how many people there are starving—not because they don't have money—but because there just isn't any food. People on the whole in the United States don't understand what famine is. We understand what famine is. We must keep reminding ourselves how fortunate we are," she said, that the United Nations is in our country, for the more people who go there the better it is for the entire nation. "Then we begin to understand that the main objective of the United Nations is to prevent war." prevent war.

Mrs. Roosevelt added that the United Nations makes mistakes because its machinery is run by human beings who make mis takes. "But it is good machinery." Discusses African States

Turning to the problem of the many newly-formed African nations, the distinguished visitor to UMass dismissed the ideas of many people that the African states would form a bloc when voting during the General Assembles with a part of the bly. "The vote on the part of the new nations has been very rea-sonable."

She also stated that these new states want to be neutralist na-tions and do not want to be in the cold war. "This is impossible. They are in the cold war and are going to remain in the cold war. She warned her audience that the African states want "to play the United States against Russia to get as much as possible from both sides."

Translation Problems Mentioned

Another problems Mentioned
Another problem that Mrs.
Roosevelt stated in her speech was that of language and custom.
There is difficulty in all translated documents and speeches to find appropriate words in each language to fit the meaning of the original, she said.

A word of advice was given to (Continued on page 8)

Mrs. L. N. Menon To Speak On Indian Foreign Policy

lege next week.

Mrs. Lakshmi N. Menon, Deputy Minister of External Affairs puty Minister of External Affairs of India, will give two public lectures on "Indian Foreign Policy: A Search for Alternatives." The talks are sponsored by the Four College Committee on Non-Western Studies. The first will be given at 4 p.m. on Thursday, March 16, in the Commonwealth Room, SU. The second will be given at 8 p.m. on Friday, March 17, in Sage Hall at Smith. 17, in Sage Hall at Smith.

17, in Sage Hall at Smith.

Mrs. Menon, wife of Prof. V.

K. N. Menon, Director of the Indian Institute of Public Administration at New Delhi, is an authority on international relations and has represented the government of India in the United Nations through four sessions.

A distinguished leader in the women's movement in India, Mrs. Menon also served on the U.N. Menon also served on the U.N. Commission on the Status of Women held at Beirut in 1949 and was Chief of Section on the Status of Women in the U.N.'s Human Rights Division.

In 1953, Mrs. Menon represented India on the U.N. Committee on Information from Non-self-governing Territories and later worked on the third and fourth worked on the third and fourth

An important member of the U.N. Committees dealing with so-Indian foreign ministry will cial, cultural, humanitarian, and speak at UMass and Smith Col- trusteeship questions as well as trusteeship questions as with problems of non-self ing territories

MRS. LAKSHMI N. MENON

Appointed Deputy Minister of External Affairs in 1957, Mrs. Menon visited China in 1956 as a member of an Indian parlia-mentary delegation, visited Aus-tralia and New Zealand in 1957 as guest of the respective gov-ernments, and was leader of the Indian delegation at the independence celebrations in Somalia in 1960.

(Continued on page 8)

Our Distinguished Visitor

The people as a whole in the United States don't know what famine is.

They (the people of the underdeveloped nations) starve . . . not because they can't get the money to buy food, but because there is no food.

We are a very fortunate people

Nations and People

You should be a peace-loving country (to be acceptable for membership in the U.N.) Yet, since the Chinese have troops in Tibet, they can not qualify.

In the next session we can expect that a Formosa representing the Chinese people will not be acceptable in the U.N.

Human beings are often very weak. They make a great many mistakes. They are not always cor-

(Speaking of the British Prime Minister): He's very restrained but not exactly compelling.

It is difficult to find one word translatable into all languages.

Here (the U.N.) is a place where you can study; where delegates from all over the world can get information to make the world more understandable.

(On the treatment of some negro delegates when they initially arrived in New York from Africa): They were turned down at restaurants; nobody would serve them.

Your own country hasn't always got lilly white

The main objective is to try to prevent war.

-Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

Collegian Editorial Policy

One of the principle functions of a newspaper in serving its readers is that of formulating opinion. On each topic of concern to our readers, the Collegian will make every attempt to present all facets of the issue, as immediately and as accurately as possible. Thus, the Executive Board will meet frequently to discuss and analyze significant issues According to the decision reached by the Board, an unsigned editorial reflecting its opinion will be printed in the editorial column. In the editorial an attempt will be made to evaluate the pros and cons and to indicate the reasons for the position that the Board takes. All unsigned editorials represent the official Collegian position. All signed editorials appearing in the editorial column do not, necessarily, reflect the opinion of the Editorial Board, and usually reflect only personal opinion.

The "Letters" column, vital to active and free discussion, provides an opportunity for the readers to express their own views on issues treated in the Collegian or on topics which would be of general concern to the University reader. These letters must, however, be signed. This newspaper is not obliged to print any letter submitted to the editor.

In the hopes that this editorial page will become an active meeting ground for comment and opinion, the Executive Board urges students and faculty to contribute their opinions,

The Massachusetts Collegian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870

Executive Board
Donald D. Johnson '61 Co-Chairman
Al Berman '62 Co-Chairman
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Editorial Editor
James R. Reinhold '61 News Editor
Ben Gordon '62 Sports Editor
Larry Popple '63 Photography Editor
Michael Cohen '61 Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62 Advertising Manager

News Associate: Roger Cruff Feature Associate: Audrey Rayner Assignment Editor: Joseph Bradley '64 Editorial Associate: Michael Paiter

Copy:
Ann Milier
Mary Roche
Pat Whitins

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period; or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, ss amended by the act of June 11, 1934.

Subscription price

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. Member—Associated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press
Sun, Tues., Thurs.—4.90 p.m.

Capital Punishment

Dr. Lewis Yablonsky, associate professor of sociology at UMass, has had years of experience in the field of crime (criminology). He has worked with criminals in prisons, reformatories and the streets of New York City. Mr. Yablonsky taught criminology at Columbia and Harvard before coming to UMass. Here is his statement:

"The main argument for capital punishment is that it deters. There is no scientific evidence which indicates that capital punishment does deter the commission of homicides. In fact, there is some evidence that an electrocution or hanging stirs up baser emotions in the population, thereby encouraging violence.

"Since there is no clear-cut evidence that capital punishment deters, we should turn to humane treatment in a civilized society. Therefore, I would take the stand that capital punishment should be abolished. As Clarence Darrow suggests, capital punishment makes society as vicious as the criminal who commits acts of violence.

This statement is presented to bring an authoritative comment into the present controversy, which has been characterized by emotional outburst and pseudo-rational arguments. It is by no means intended to end the issue with finality. The question is still very much alive . . . and probably will be as long as there is serious crime. In the attempt to solve certain problems, nothing seems more inviting than the solution of "killing off" the most obvious causes. In such an issue as capital punishment, it seems important to refrain from any actions based on pure emotion. Only conscientious study and research can rid us of the "false causes" which are plaguing us and the various courses of action based upon these causes.

Rudy Wittshirk Staff Reporter

A Bicycle Built For Who?

Due to the fact that I am one of a minority who find it advantageous to have a bicycle on campus, I feel I must write concerning one of the many choice hazards which make life interesting (and dangerous) at this University. This item pertains to the jumpiness of students passing up and down the hill on which are found the better boys' dorms. It has happened many times that I have come barreling down this pedestrian-strewn hill on my rickety bicycle to have someone suddenly become aware of my speedily approaching presence and jump to the side of the road to escape they believe, becoming imprinted with the form of myself and my bike, Unfortunately, 99% of these well-meaning souls will jump directly into my path, I don't mind the sight of blood as long as it isn't my own, but since there is a chance that both myself and my mistaken target might stain the pavement, I feel that taking the following safety precaution could save one and perhaps two individuals from becoming closely associated on the front end of a bicycle:

The sound of an approaching bicycle, with or without a rider, should cause a walking student to continue walking IN THE SAME DIRECTION and preferably at the same rate of speed, and not attempt to slow the operator's downward flight by interposing a body between the bicycle and the bottom of the hill.

Pleadingly yours, Nick Toomey '64

LETTERS

R.O.T.C.

To the Editor:

In view of the recent article in the Collegian concerning ROTC at the Univ. of Rhode Island, I believe it would be pertinent to present at this time the results of last year's actions of the Student Senate on this question. These results are especially pertinent to the Freshman class.

Last year, after much controversy, the Student Senate held a referendum on the ROTC Question at which 52% of the male undergrads voted. Of this total, 73.6% voted in favor of voluntary ROTC. The results of this referendum plus the results of a detailed study on the question by Mr. Bart McLean were accepted by the Student Senate, and these results were forwarded to the Board of Trustees.

At present, the student body is waiting for a decision from the Board of Trustees. We hope that continued student voicing of opinion will help the Board of Trustees to come to the same decision as 73.6% of the male students.

Bob Trudeau Senate Curriculum Committee

Appropriate Scheduling

To the Editor

The Distinguished Visitors Program deserves a round of applause for bringing Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt to this campus and, as a result, raising our prestige, self-respect, and stimulating the cultural and intellectual atmosphere of the University. Such events provide perhaps the most memorable dimension to a college education—one that can never be found in a classroom—by allowing personal contact with historic world figures of our times. We each support this program—and should be proud of the fact—and each of us should be given the opportunity to take advantage of it.

It is therefore regretable that many interested students were denied this right because of certain instructors who failed to appreciate the significance of the occasion, and, for such reasons as refusing to reschedule an hour exam and begrudging their students the chance to make it up under threat of dire punishment, forced the members of their classes to miss this rare opportunity. Perhaps these instructors sincerely have the welfare of their pupils at heart, wishing them to receive a solid, run-of-the-mill education, uninterrupted by the stimulus of once-in-a-lifetime events, such as Mrs. Roosevelt's visit.

In the future it would be advisable that these important events be scheduled at a time when all students could attend. When this is not possible, the instructors themselves should have enough consideration to allow their students to take advantage of these occasions—which are undoubtedly among the finest examples of cultural and intellectual stimulation this University has yet been able to offer.

W. P.

University Atmosphere

To the Editor:

When I first came to the University of Massachusetts, I could hardly breathe because of the heavy intellectual atmosphere which broods upon this campus. The idea is for the novice (personified as "freshman") to learn the art of breathing deeply. This is accomplished by gently placing the freshman into a building of little cells or incubators, known as dormitories, where he can strengthen his lungs. Thus the immature "animal" grows into a youthful college intellectual.

And then I realized the truth. My lungs were all right, I was just in a fog. A think fog. Anti-intellectual atmosphere. The majority of undergraduate residents thrive on it. Synonyms are as omnipresent as is this fog: cheat, resist learning, drink, and make noise. Anything which circumvents the process by which one acquires knowledge or drowns out the thought of breathing a "fresh" effluvium will suffice.

Those who believe that the pursuit of knowledge is a worthwhile activity are mistaken. The noisemaker drowns out his own thoughts. He is not a selfish person, though; his molecule-vibrating activities also help relieve that intellectual of his worthless thoughts.

You ask me what I am trying to say?

Well, I do have an ulterior motive, and I am trying to suggest that perhaps we allow the "poor, misguided" intellectual to ramble on. Let us hush our egos; stop listening to our beautifully loud voices and grant the minority the right to pursue their thoughts in peace. Let us (and here exists my ulterior motive) give back the study rooms to the studious. In other words, remove the television from the study room (or "rec" room, if that is what you insist it is) in Wheeler House and let the noise sensitive beings (who wish they were not noise sensitive) have a place convenient for studying.

Is it fair, that in an institution created for the pursuit of higher learning, the individual who desires a good place to study must be inconvenienced in order to find it; while the person desiring to pursue higher entertainment need go no further than the basement.

The fog thickens . . .

NOTES AT RANDOM

by JIM TRELEASE '63

HEADACHES from the HANGOVERS: If you major effort to bring pressure on fraternities and the readers of our state's daily newspapers bught that the raids on the campus fraternities during Carni weekend were strictly spur of the mo-ment or that the drinking done that weekend was exceptional, you are sadly mistaken. The raids were discussed at length two weeks in advance. The cam-pus and state police held discussions on where stu-dents were drinking in town and what package stores were augmenting their supplies. In the end, their only goof was insufficient evidence for all but three when it came to trials.

The evidence for one house was narrowed down to this: a policeman was directing traffic in front of the fraternity when he went inside for a moment's relief. There he found several beer cans in the corner. The verdict—guilty: the moral—it doesn't pay to use your "head". If bottles are evidence, they should have taken a look out behind Hills house and then put all of the several hundred students therein ocial pro.'

When the press services picked up the story, heads began to whirl. The administration was dying to know who gave out the news to the wires and the trustees cried over the fact that the administration let it get blown up in Boston papers. That same weekend the boys upstairs fumbled the ball again by letting the Sherm Adams deal leak out. Bets these and the Ya-Hoo "Pope picture," the UPI has certainly biased the public opinion against us this year. How can we expect the better students, the etter athletes, or the better teachers to aspire to inhabit our green pastures when the only thing they ever read about us is on our "hangovers" or "religious intolerance."

When Mattie Zunic ponders over the fact that less than half of our basketball games receive coverage in Boston papers, he has good reason to anger. This is a state university. Yet, the Boston sports editors insist that the Boston readers want to read Harvard, B. U., Celtic and Bruin box scores . . . not UMass scores. It narrows down to ignorant reasers biased by poor reporters who'll do anything for a scoop with a buck in it.

weren't enough, there is smoldering in the Eas a Goldwater!"

sororities whose charters include clauses regarding religious or racial tastes. Already there's a group here in UMieland who hope to carve away at the several houses on this campus who have such charters. Their weapon: plenty of publicity.

STUD CHUCKLEY: Several profs over in Curry Hicks pondering over the good will expressed by the campus to Chuck Studley because they smelled Limburger cheese on the pigskin. How many high school students has Studley taken with him to Cincinnation when he had existing the same than the control of the cont whom he had originally recruited for here next

THE TEXAN RIDES AGAIN: Wait till you catch a glimpse of Ya-Hoo's next campus queen. Not only is she "tough" but it may be one of the maga-'s last publications. Senator Tex Tacelli led a raid on the mag and its budget the other night; when the gunsmoke cleared, the survivors could smell a Khrushchev on the "pulp."

Now that Bob Zelis is no longer selling tickets to Cuba over the Easter vacation, the move is on to Fort Lauderdale. This year's beach parties should top all existing records because of surplus of publicity handed out by flick-"Where the Boys Are. A 95¢ ad in the Collegian should provide you with someone who "has car, needs riders," or "has money, needs ride." From the talk across our muddy campus paths, there are plenty of "migratory shirkers" here who plan on making the pilgrimage.

BITNIKS: Larry Rayner, ex-Collegian chief, currently news and commenting over WMUA, M-W-F at 6 p.m. . . . Rumor that Baker dorm is slipping down the hill several inches each year is confirmed . . . Research done at West Point shows that "deep" kissing is chief proponent for passing or catching mononucleosis . . . Fastest moving things on campus are not Coach Footrick's trackmen but rather 25¢ chain letters . . . reaping rich profits . . They'll probably be Red's next project . . . Senator and Arizonian Barry Goldwater says, "Where fraternities are not allowed, communism flourishes." As if the Ya-Hoo, Carni, and Adams dals Gordon "Willie" Massingham says, "God bless Barry

On The Proposed Abbey Conversion

by MARK NATAUPSKY '64

Several residents of Adams House who are opposed to the pro-posed reconversion of the Abbey to a girls' dormitory have prepared the following statement:

What started as an organized effort on the part of the residents of Abigail Adams Dorm to retain the "Abbey" as a men's dorm, developed into a controversy which will ultimately effect the entire student body.

On Monday evening, last, Mr. William Burkhardt attended a full house meeting of the Abbey at which he explained to the residents that the possible need to return the Abbey to the women will be caused by the problem facing the University of a new major enrollment expansion. The uncertainty of this problem lies now with the State legislature and its decision and possible passage of a budget which will create forty new faculty positions. If this budget is passed, the student enrollment will increase by 600. The University plans to maintain the current 60/40 ratio of men to women. In this case, the release of the Abbey to house the increased female enrollment will necessitate putting 360 new male students and the current 100 residents of the Abbey into already overcrowded facilities on "the hill."

The prevailing theory is that with our new classrooms, labora-

Abbey into already overcrowded facilities on "the hill."

The prevailing theory is that with our new classrooms, laboratories, and other academic facilities, we should be educating more students than are now currently enrolled.

But is it not a logical fact that the three or four hours spent in

But is it not a logical fact that the three or lour nours spent in these facilities each week represent only one-third or less of the actual study time encountered by most students and that the majority of the remaining two-thirds is spent studying in one's dormitory? Does this mean that we will be forced to accept overcrowded housing and impossible study facilities so that Beacon Hill will not be able to find any observious vacant seats in its shipy new classrooms?

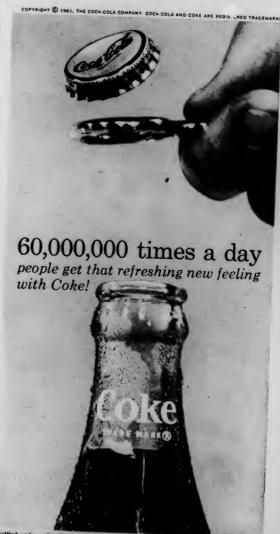

possible study facilities so that Beacon Hill will not be able to find any obnoxious vacant seats in its shiny new classrooms?

Does it not seem more logical that the students using these classrooms be guaranteed adequate housing and study facilities that are vital to a sound education? If we may quote from a report to the presidents of the four valley colleges, proposed under the Auspices of "The Committee for New Colleges," 'Studying is the most important activity in which students engage; yet little attention has portant activity in which students engage; yet little attention has been given to evaluating the conditions under which they study.' It is evident that some colleges are actually concerned with improving

It is our contention, here at the Abbey, that any properly en-rolled student deserves a complete, well rounded education, not an education that suffers due to overcrowded conditions.

Therefore, we at the Abbey would like to suggest that the first available budget increase be used to alleviate poor housing and study onditions, rather than eliminate the already too few retreats available for intensive studying.

We firmly believe that quality of education and not a mass production of degreed students should be the goal of our University.

ttling Co. of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

Fashion Hints Are Offered For New Spring Wardrobe

Spring means a new outlook life, and for milady—a new outlook on fashion.

If you're a busy young homemaker or an active teenager, you'll be interested in the new you'll be interested in the new budget-priced cottons which com-bine colorful prints and plaids with imaginative styling. You'll love the blazer jackets and slim skirts, bright pinafores, tunic tops and slim pants, little-boy shorts and string-tied jackets, and pleated button-down skirts which stop just above the knee.

The minute you don one of these light-hearted fashions you'll feel gay, and your gaiety will continue right on through to the laundering of the garment. More than likely, the fabric will have been chemically treated so it requires little or no ironing, cutting the time spent in caring for the garment to a minimum.

How can you tell if a cotton fabric has easy care qualities?

The National Cotton Council suggests you look first for a label identifying the fiber content of the garment as "100 per cent cotton" or "all cotton." Then check to see if there is a tag which reads "wash and wear," "no iron," "drip dry," or "minimum care."

Its best, of course, to follow any laundering instructions given on the tag, but here are some general tips from the Council on how to care for wash and wear

For best results, machine wash ing and tumble drying of wash and wear cottons are recommend-ed by laundering experts. The treated items may be laundered at normal washing temperatures, even in the same load with un-treated cottons if desired. If shirts or other garments are soiled at collars and cuffs, these areas should be rubbed with soap or detergent before they are placed in the machine.

Wash and wear cottons should never be left in the machine for never be left in the machine for any length of time after having been washed or dried. They should never be wrung out, nor should they be squashed down into a clothes basket. Also, over-loading the machine should be avoided since crowding will cause wrinkling. As soon as they are taken from the washer or dryer, garments should be placed on garments should be placed

It is not necessary to starch treated cottons, nor to sprinkle them even if some pressing is desired. More touch-up pressing may be needed on wash and wear cottons which are hung to drip dry than those which are tumble dried. Areas that may need spe-cial attention are collars, cuffs, and seams. It is best to use a steam iron. If a dry iron is used, a medium warm temperature see a medium warm temperature setting is sufficient since ironing is easier than with untreated fabrics.

One last rule, says the Council, applies to all "100 per cent cottons," whether they have been treated for easy care or not. They should be laundered frequently and as soon as possible after they become soiled. Soil, stain, and perspiration are demoved easily when clothes are laundered promptly.

University Student Attends Conference

Gail P. Roycroft '61 of the University of Massachusetts par-ticipated in New York University's thirteenth annual Confer-ence on Careers in Retailing on Friday, February 24. Some 300 students and faculty

Some 300 students and faculty members of seventy eastern colleges and universities attended the all day meeting at the Hotel Statler-Hilton in New York City. The program included talks by Nathan Ohrbach, chairman of the board of Ohrbach's Inc., and by other prominent retailing executives, a round table discussion with personnel administrators, a luncheon sponsored by the NYI luncheon sponsored by the NYU School of Retailing Merchants' Council, and visits to a department store and fashion ho

The annual conference is designed to give the students a knowledge of executive opportunities in the field of retailing and how to prepare for them.

00000000

Many Sororities Announce Officers For Coming Year

ALPHA CHI OMEGA Everyone had a ball at Pledge Formal the weekend of Febru-ary 25th. Tony Ravosa and his group were terrific, and the strains of "How Dry I Am" coming from the favors, musical mugs, didn't offer too much competition.

petition.

The results of the elections held on March 6th were as follows: President, Nancy Hanlon; First Vice President, Janet Souza; Second Vice President, Elizabeth Baldi; Recording Secretary, Marsha Hargrayes; Contrary tary, Marsha Hargraves; Corresponding Secretary, Susan Colognesi; Treasurer, Shirley Fishman; Assistant Treasurer, Margaret Sawyer; Historian, Joan Dickson; Warden, Ruth Henderson; Chaplain, Janet Taylor: Stewardess Sally Catago Assistant Companies of the Companies of th lor; Stewardess, Sally Gates; Assistant Stewardess, Shirley Ingalls; Senior Panhellenic Rep., Janet Souza; Junior Panhellenic Janet Souza; Junior Panhellenic Rep., Judith Hancock; House Mgr., Astra Ozolins; Social Chairman, Janet Stewart; Rush Chairman, Mary Ellen Cicchetti; Assistant Rush Chairman, Lisa Nordberg; Song Leader, Joanne Hyland; Balfour Rep., Barbara McDonough; Lyre Editor, Cary O'Connell.

CHI OMEGA

CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega announces with pleasure its officers for the coming year. They are: President, Barbara Winslow; Vice-Pres., Alice Lee Edgerton; Secretary, Nancy Ridill; Treasurer, Sandra Class: Pledre Trainor Paula Glass; Pledge Trainor, Paula Turco; Assistant Treasurer, Les-ley Payzant; Assistant Pledge Trainor, Ann Kelley; Personnel Chairman, Doreen Waskiewicz; Trainor, Ann Kelley; Personner Chairman, Doreen Waskiewicz; Standards, Patty Conway (sen-ior), Kathy Connolly (junior), Jan Reimer (sophomore); Senior Pan Hellenic; Patricia Olivera; Pan Hellenic; Patricia Olivera; Junior Pan Hellenic, Beverly De Marco; Rush Chairman, Nancy Pissano; Assistant Rush Chair-man, Carol Madison; Social Chairman, Carol Neal; Social Chairman, Carol Neal; Social Committee, Joan Hussey(junior) Kay Reagan (sophomore); Activi-ties Chairman, Carolyn Sherriff; Alumnae Chairman, Ruth Butter-field; Assistant Alumnae Chair-man, Joan Rubenstein; Social and Civics Chairman, Janet man, Joan Rubenstein; and Civics Chairman, Janet Parker; Regalia Chairman,

Arnold Holds Tea

On February 28, some Freshmen residents of Arnold House sponsored a Coffee Hour.

After refreshments were served, Dr. Harlow of the Education Department showed slides and spoke on Hong Kong which he called The World of Suzie Wong. Dr. Harlow answered questions after his talk.

Housemothers and Faculty members were greets for the same state.

Housemothers and Faculty members were guests for the eve-ning. The Coffee Hour was deemed a success by all. Arnold is still looking for its plaque for winning first place in the Float Parade. How about it,

Pinnings

Sue Colognesi, Alpha Chi Omega to Marv Cook, QTV. Fonda Cox, Smith College to John Rizos, Alpha Sigma Phi. Suzanne LaCroix, Alpha Chi Omega to Charlie Rosco, Alpha Gamina Rho.

Omega to Charlie Rosco, Alpha Gamina Rho.

Jean Roanowicz, Knowlton to Don Ball, Alpha Sigma Pi.

Mary Ann Walker '63 to David Collins '62.

Engagements
Judy Konopka, Alpha Chi
Omega to Ensigh John (Pete)
Temple '60, Sigma Phi Epsilon.
Jinny Shaw, formerly of Crabtree to Jim Howarth, Butterfield.

Sandra Brodsky; Vocations Chairman, Barbara Wood; Chap-ter Correspondent, Carolyn Mc-Grath; Historian, Marilyn Bill-

As one of their first official As one of their first official dates, the pledges of Chi Omega will be hostesses to all the sorority pledges at a Panhellenic Tea to be held from seven to nine on Sunday evening, March 12. Panhel hoped to establish this tea as an annual tradition around. tea as an annual tradition among the sororities at the University. Chi Omega plans, to make the theme of the tea "Spring Gar-

At a special pledging ceremony held on March 1st, Chi O welcomed four sophomore girls to the ranks: Lucy Allen, Pam Hayes, Margie Mentes, and Nancy Speight.
On March 25th Chi Omega will hold pledge formal at the Wy-coff Country Club on South Had-ley. All are anxiously looking forward to it.

As soon as spring weather hits the campus the Chi O's softball team will be out practicing under the direction of the new coach, Bobby Veno of Kappa Coach, Boody Veno of Kappa Sigma.

Marsha Policow '64 and Connie Love '61 will represent Chi Omega in the sorority cow milk-ing contest on March 18th.

Kana Lilly six times loser

Kana Lilly—six times loser has been nominated as Chi O's queen of the May.

PI BETA PHI

PI BETA PHI

Pi Phi would like to welcome its new pledges. They are Sandra Edmands, Knowlton; Eileen Holland, Crabtree; Marcia Trimbull, Knowlton; Karen Kober, Crabtree, and Linda Myers, Mary Lyons; and there are also two re-pledges: Barbara Alcarese and Kathy Lenkoski. Pledging took place on Wednesday evening

March 1st.
Pi Phi enjoyed having President and Mrs. Lederle for dinner
Tuesday evening February 28th.
Pi Phi would like to thank Lambda Chi for the exchange supper held on Wednesday March 8th. Everyone really enjoyed themselves

SIGMA DELTA TAU

This past weekend Psi chapter was host to S.D.T.'s from the Univ. of Rhode Island, Boston University and McGill University. University and McGill University. The occasion was Sigma Delta Tau's annual conclave. The girls exchanged several ideas on the organization of the individual chapters. Mrs. Leah Cassell, the regional advisor, flew in from Indiana and brought greetings and advice from National. Indiana and brought grand advice from National and advice from National.

The next few weeks are going to be busy! On March 28, Founder's Day Banquet will be held at the Lord Jeff. Mother and Daughter Banquet will be on April 12 at the house. The pledges are looking forward to Pledge Weekend, April 14-16.

looking forward to Pledge Weekend, April 14-16.
Plans are being made to visit the children at the Shriners' Hospital in Springfield.
Newly elected members of Elections Committee are: Marsha Katseff, Judy Rosenberg and Ann Shifman. Deanna Shapiro and Linda Lederman were elected to Standards Beard and Linda Lederman were elected to Standards Board.

SIGMA KAPPA

The sisters of Sigma Kappa are proud to announce the fine slate of officers elected last Monday night. They are: President, Liz Murphy; First Vice President, Ann Padgorski; Second Vice President, Pat Howarth; Recording Secretary, Jane Ross; Corresponding Secretary, Mal Clapper; Treasurer, Carol Rurak; Registrar, Ellie Osley; Rush Chairman, Carol Hajjar; Social Chairman, Joanne Romano; and House Manager, Judy Jarvella.

Two approaches to the "man's deodorant" problem

If a man doesn't mind shaving under his arms, he will probably find a woman's roll-on satisfactory. Most men, however, find it simpler and surer to use Mennen Spray Deodorant. Mennen Spray was made to get through to the skin, where perspiration starts. And made to work all day. More men use Mennen Spray than any other deodorant. How about you? 60¢ and $1.00 plus tax

0

CLUB DIRECTORY

CANTERBURY CLUB

Progressive Supper Sunday, March 12, at 6 p.m. at 768 N. Pleasant Street.

MAROON KEY APPLICATIONS

All freshman men who obtained a 2.0 or better first semester may pick up applications at the SU Lobby Counter Wed., Mar. 14, or Thurs., Mar. 15 between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

PRE-LAW SOCIETY

Announcement: Dean Robert Drinan S.J. of Boston College Law School will interview applicants and other prospective students Mon., Mar. 13, from 3-5 p.m. in the Norfolk Rm., SU. Following, he will give a general informative talk on the School at 7:15 p.m. in Crabtree Lounge.

SOPHOMORE BANQUET

Freshman girls interested in being waitresses for the banquet Tues, night, Mar. 28, can sign up at the SU Lobby Counter between 9-4 Tues., Mar. 14. Waitresses will be chosen from the sign-up list.

EDUCATION ASSURED

Alpha Zeta Forms Trust Fund For Child Of Former Student

The late David B. Byers, married in June, 1959, was buried 20 months later at the same church in which he was married. He died Feb. 12, Winter Carnival Sunday.

The 28-year-old former UMass student, who was to have been graduated in January, left a wife, Nancy, and 11-month old son, Scott.

The brothers of Alpha Zeta, the mitories f UMass agricultural honorary fra-half years.

ternity, are sponsoring a trust fund for the education of Byers' child. In hopes of raising one thousand dollars, they are seeking donors, in addition to the six they now have.

Byers, a forestry major, came to UMass in January, 1957, after serving in the navy for four years. He was a counselor in Chadbourne and Van Meter dormitories for nearly two and a half years.

Byers died of Hodgkins Disease, an illness which enlarges the lymph glands and spleen, and induces anemia

Alpha Zeta is hopeful of getting the interest of other organizations behind this project. At a meeting of the members Tuesday night, a representative from the Waltham office of the John Hancock Life Insurance Co. discussed trust fund possibilities.

William Ziener has been appointed to head the group to establish the fund. Ziener said he intends to seek R.S.O. recognition for the fund for Byers' son.

The child and his mother are now living in Maynard, Mass.

Address On Soviet Views To Be Given

Professor Louis B. Sohn of Harvard Law School will speak at Bartlett Hall tonight at 8 p.m. on "Russian Views on Peace and Disarmament."

Sohn has long been involved in the problems of world peace. He participated in the San Francisco Conference in 1945 for the founding of the United Nations, and later served on the U.N. Secretariat staff. He is co-author, with Harvard professor Glenville Clark, of the book, "World Peace Through World Law," in which a careful attempt is made to outline a possible course away from the arms race and towards peaceful coexistence, by means of a proposed revision of the U.N. charter.

Sohn was also a participant in the December, 1960 "Pugwash Conference" in Moscow, at which scientists from Russia and the United States discussed technical questions on disarmament.

The meeting sponsored by the Hampshire-Franklin Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, is open to the public.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: Ronson lighter, silver, slightly battered, lost in S.U. Sunday, Mar. 5. Reward. Contact Bill Christmann, B4 Wheel-

Lost: Experimental Psychology, green composition notebook. Need for hour exam. Lost outside of Undergraduate Psych. Lab. Return to Michael Hench, 128 Shay Street, Amherst, AL 3-7379.

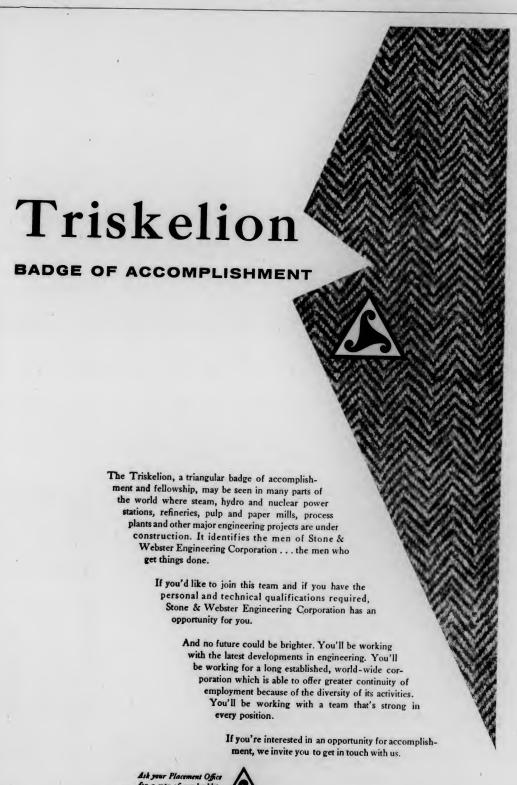

Lost: Pair of glasses, aluminum rimmed with brown clip case. See Al Lima, 111 Wheeler.

Lost: Tan leather pocketbook lost in Commons on Monday night. Reward. Contact Wanda Letoile, 425 Hamlin.

Lost: An Alpha Chi Omega pledge pin (ren and green, with a golden lyre on it) possibly in vicinity of Bowker, on March 3. Please contact Margie Jordan, Lewis House.

Lost: 1961 class ring Thursday in S.U. John Acres, Greenough. Reward offered.

Lost: Will trade pair of black heels, size 8A, for pair of black heels (7A). Mine taken by mistake from first floor ladies' room in S.U. Feb. 28,

STONE & WEBSTER ENGINEERING CORPORATION

Houston

Los Angeles

Chicago Pittsburgh

San Francisco

New York

Gymnasts To Snare Temple Owls In Cage UMass

BRUCE McCRACKEN relaxes his grip on the horizontal bar to throw a stoop through disfrom a reverse giant The palms of his hands mes squeak like chalk on mount blackboard as he executes

Much Improved Redmen Team Draws Bead On Philadelphians

The UMass gymnastics team faces its much awaited foe tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in the cage, The opposition, the Owls from Temple University, led by long legged Bob Smith have lighted on UMieland, after making a good showing at the E.C.A.C. meet last week at Navy. Smith who gave our Heinz Briegel such a hard time last year took first place on the high bar as well as taking second place on the side horse. These feats show him to be the backbone of the Temple team as well as a fine performer, from a spectator's vantage point.

Since our defeat by Springfield, the team has steadily improved to the point where as team captain Jim Bitgood says, "The boys are at their peak, and I feel confident of a good showing".

The tumbling team led by Dave Yates has improved 100% since Springfield. A tumbler's routine consists of three passes along a sixty foot mat. Usually two of the passes are backward and one is forward. The difference in a pass may be distinguished by the way the tumbler faces. Yates has incorporated full twisting back somersaults into one of his back passes making him an easy match for the best Temple has to offer. However, the other members of our sophomore trio will find the going a mite more difficult. Dick Peloquin is working on the addition of a difficult front pass and hopes to have it down pat by Saturday. Dick Norris is trying to perfect his flip-flops and round-offs.

The side horse will undoubtedly go to the big Owl, Bob Smith, Both Bruce McCracken and Jim Adam are fighting for second place. They should take both second and third due to the night to day transformation they have made in recent weeks. Both boys are able to execute double leg circles and have no fear of the past plague of poor mounts and dismounts. Once a gymnast has mounted a piece of apparatus, he may not put his weight on the floor until his routine is completed. If he does, the judges automatically score him on what he has completed and all that follows is nullified. However, some long legged boys may sweep there feet across the floor

JIM BITGOOD has swung into a shoulder stand from an up shoot. Jim, a senior and captain of this year's team, is looking forward to a fine team effort in this his last gymnastics meet for UMass.

JIM ADAM slips over the side horse while balanced on one arm. He has released his other arm in order to perform a double leg circle. Jim is a junior as are Dave Amundson, Charlie Paydos, and Ralph Nichols. These boys will be back next year as the old timers. It is probably from this group that the team will select their co-captains for the following season.

GYM SHOTS

Results of the season thus far: UMass

Cortland State (N.Y.) 43 Southern Connecticut 33 at New Haven

Springfield College 67 at Springfield Cortland State (N.Y.) 34

The boys were sorry to see Mr. Bosco go when he did, but they were glad to get someone as good as Mr. James to finish out the

Mr. James was forced to give up grooming the guide the varsity. the freshmen to

He is a graduate of Springfield College and while an undergrad-uate he captained the gymnastic Exhibition team.

The meet is open to the public and there will be no admission charge.

For those that arrive early there will be a chance to look over the Eastern Collegiate rules on your score sheet.

CHARLIE PAYDOS, the flying wizard of the UMass gymnastics team, performs a double cut catch. Charlie is bringing his legs forward and has let go of the "P" bars. He will regrasp the bars behind his legs as he swishes his legs through to ready him for his next move. He always commands undivided attention on the "P's" as well as on the rings. Although his routines are short they are inspiring because of their swiftness and agility.

verse giant. Dave is new to the high bar but has been tumbling since his days at Minnechang High School, As a student he was state tumbling champ for two years in a row.

Commentary by Jim E. Mulcahy

DAVE YATES pirouettes from a front giant swing to a re-

Owls Treed If Under Par On The Vital Precision And Form Of Gymnastic Flights

The team momentum which has been building up since the Cortland meet is increased by Coach Robert James. He reminds the boys of the fact that, "It takes only one slip on the apparatus to disqualify the best gymnast and put him out of the running."

The makeup of the "P" bars team is not yet definite and will not be known until tomorrow. The difficulty centers around Lee Munson and his sore thumb. If he is not in operation Charlie Paydos, Bruce McCracken, and Yates will perform. But, if Munson is functional coach James may decide to hold out either McCracken or Yates. Both these boys will have competed in two previous events. The four members of this team are strong and have deftly executed routines but lack the winning punch of "C" moves. The "C" moves are the most difficult to throw and require much time and muscle to perfect.

A MUSCULAR POETRY IN MOTION IS VISIBLE THROUGHOUT

A MUSCULAR POETRY IN MOTION IS VISIBLE THROUGHOUT

Manager Tom Steeves stated that, "Consistency is the most important feature of a routine, and the team as a whole is now more consistent and fluent in its actions than it had been all year".

A good example of consistency and fluency is depicted by the flying ring men. Captain Bitgood, Paydos, and Dave Amundson are sure to sweep into this Owl stronghold and return with more than the minimum number of points. Amundson has a shoulder balance (stand) which should add from 6 to 10 points to his routine. The below to above the rings sequence of up shoot to shoulder stand is Jim Bitgood's lesson in agility, and the short and sweet routine of Paydos will be spiced up by the added height on his dislocates.

PERSEVERANCE SHOULD TELL THE TALE

Who will it be on the horizontal bar? Why the ominous Owl, Smith, of course. Smith should easily outdistance us. We do anticipate good routines from McCracken, Yates, and Dan Gorman. Although lately the boys have not been as consistent as they should be. One day they hit their routine perfectly and the next day they miss completely.

The elderly rope climbing trio of Bitgood, Don Cleary, and Ralph Nichols has been working exceptionally hard this week trying to crack the 5.0 second mark. A rope climber is timed from his lunge off the floor to the striking of the blue chalked tambourine 20 feet up. The main flow of energy has been in the development of an explosive reach at the end of the climb. This reach may cut as much as 1.5 seconds from a climb.

DON CLEARY our other senior on the team is caught in the middle of a pull and reach sequence. Don has his time down to 5.2 seconds and hopes to break 5.0 Saturday. He is experimenting with a new method of reaching for the saucer.

Photos by Stan Patz

Maine's Skip Chappelle Wins YC Scoring Crown

By scoring 43 points against New Hampshire in his final out-ing, Tom "Skip" Chappelle of the University of Maine easily re-tained his Yankee Conference scoring title.

Chappelle, a junior, scored a total of 241 points in ten games, three more than he scored a year ago and only seven points below the record total of 248 set by Tom Harrington of Rhode Island during the 1958-59 season. Chappelle set a new conference record with 85 free throws, bettering the mark of 73 conversions set by Bill Pappas of New Hampshire in 1954-55 in 1954-55.

Benny Becton, Vermont's sensational sophomore, who led his club in just about every department, took over the runner-up spot with a 20.3 average, edging out Larry Schiner of Maine who had 20.1. Doug Grutchfield, who broke the existing scoring record at UMass, finished fourth with a 19-9 percentage a 19-9 percentage.

Rebound figures have not been kept in the past but Gary Koenig of the champion University of Rhode Island Rams averaged 16 rebounds a game during the cam-

Special Conducted Student Tours

Meet us in Venice and tour the Mediterranean; sailing to Greek Islands, Rhodes, Cyprus and Israel. Includes guided tours, folk dancing, seminars, life on a kibbutz, etc., 27 days only $395 and up.

KKG Bows To Dwight 40-33

by MICKEY ADAMSON '61

Dwight dormitory defeated Dwight dormitory defeated KKG 40-33 last week to win the championship in the inter-mural basketball tournament. To participate in the finals, KKG defeated KAT and Dwight defeated Hamlin and Leach. The members of Dwight team were Mary Niskanen, Linda Lupien, Pat Lareau, Sue Kehew, Capt., Carole Greaves, and Mickey Adamson.

The Naiad show. "Pick Mary

The Naiad show . . . "Rich Man oor Man . . ." will be presented The Naiad show . . . "Rich Man Poor Man . . ." will be presented tonight and Saturday evening at 8:00 PM in the WPE pool.

Ellie Osley '62 has been elected to serve as head of sub-board for the coming year.

SKI TEAM WINS

The W.A.A. Ski team topped Keene State Teachers College at a meet Saturday at Magic Mountain, Londonderry, Vt.

The University team captured four of the first five places.

Joy Pratt took first; Louise Anketell second; Pat Anketell fourth; and Judy Williams, fifth in a field of 12 women competi-

For All Your Travel Needs Call, Write or Visit Us Now ROYAL STUDENT TOURS (Div. of PATRA Inc.) 665 Fifth Ave., N.Y.C. • Tel.: Plaza 1-5540

What's it take to make the right connection?

Plenty! Consider the problem. Western Electric manufactures the switching systems which connect some 60-million Bell telephones throughout the U. S. The average call over today's electromechanical system requires 420 relay operations. All together, this interconnecting equipment makes up the heart of whote relay operations. All together, this interconnecting equipment makes up the heart of what is, in effect, the world's largest machine.

That's where Western Electric and you come in. The switching equipment for this "machine" involves an enormous manufacturing job carried on by our plants throughout the country. Because of the size and service requirements involved, we require quality standards far exceeding those of ordinary manufacturing. The size of this job presents an unusual challenge to the engineer who may save the Bell System many thousands of dollars by even a small cost-reduction step.

While today's switching calls for a priority on engineering, tomorrow's will be even more exciting. For even now the revolutionary Electronic Central Office is under field trial and promises to remake the world of telephony. Future Western Electric engineers, working closely with their counterparts at Bell Telephone Laboratories, will concentrate heavily on developing manufacturing methods for this ECO equipment.

Your Western Electric assignments may cover many of our other responsibilities as the world's leading communications manufacturer. Perhaps you'll work on advances in facturer. Perhaps you'll work on advances in microwave transmission, or even on satellite

Joining Western Electric may well be your

Opportunities exist for electrical, mechanical, industrial, civil and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. For more information, get your copy of "Western Electric and Your Career" from your Placement Officer. Or write College Relations, Room 6106, Western Electric Company, 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y. And be sure to arrange for a Western Electric interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

Principal manufacturing locations at Chicago, III.; Kearny, N. J.; Baitimore, Md.; Indianabolis, Ind.; Alientown and Laureldale, Pa.; Winston-Salem, N. C.; Buffalo, N. Y.; North Andover, Mass.; Omaha, Neb.; Kansas City, Mo.; Columbus, Ohio; Okiahoma City, Okia. Engineering Research Center, Princeton, N. J. Teletype Corporation, Skokie, III., and Little Rock, Ark. Also Western Electric distribution centers in 33 cities and installation headquarters in 16 cities. General headquarters | Broadway, New York 7, N.

Frosh Finish Season With 8 Wins, 5 Losses

by AL COHEN '63

This year's edition of freshman basketball under the direction of Coach Dick Garber, produced an cluded in the control of the coach base of 8-5 slate and the promise of new additions for the varsity.

After winning their opener with Stockbridge, the Little Redmen suffered two defeats in the West Point Tourney. They bounced back to top A.I.C. and Springfield but fell before archrival UConn and Holy Cross. The squad then went on to win five of their remaining six games including a thrilling 87-86 comefrom-behind triumph over Windfrom-behind triumph over Wind-

The season finale saw the Garbers go over the 100 point mark against Stockbridge. In all they totalled 1009 points to their

S.U. Tourney Entries Open

Entries are now being signed up for the men's and women's Student Union Bowling Tournament Championship.

Both the men's and women's tournament entries will be limited. Sign up now at the games area desk.

Trophies for the winners and runners-up will be awarded. They are on display in the Student Union lobby.

opposition's 934.
Outstanding performers included lanky Jimmy Painten (6'3"), team captain Roger Twitchell (6'5½"), Bob Johnson (6'), and Danny Laakso (6'4"). Guard Pete Bernard and big Mike Johnson also showed to good effect.
Painten and Laakso provided good outside scoring as did Bob Johnson, who made the team good outside scoring as did Bob Johnson, who made the team move with his playmaking. All possess fine jump shots.

Captain Twitchell proved an able shooter as well as a top rebounder. His long arms and spring make the tall New Jersian a good prospect for Coach Zunic's Redmen. Redmen

Bernard showed his ability under pressure with a 20 point out-burst that sunk Windham, De-liberate Mike Johnson was a conliberate Mike Jonnson.
sistent rebounder all year.

Other frosh who saw service were Karl Saila, Sam Baxter, El-liot Guenter, Franz Von Bradsky, Daniel Harvey, Tom Grazulis, Fred Baker, Bob Curtiss, Tim Awdychi and Tom Mendell.

SEASON SUMMARY

UM	58	UConn 90
UM	63	Holy Cross 82
UM	92	Holyoke 59
UM	85	Springfield 68
UM	87	Windham 86
UM	74	UConn 86
UM	78	Leicester 65
UM	101	Stockbridge 61
UM	81	Stockbridge 56
UM	56	Army 74
UM	64	St. John's 81

SPECIAL OFFER ... For 2-Headed Pipe Collectors Only Genuine imported hand-carved cherrywood pipe. that really smokes! This unique two-headed pipe is a real conversation piece...a must for your collection! Hand-carved in the Italian Alps and finished in gay colors. Stands alone on its own tiny legs. Ideal for your desk, mantel, or bookshelf ... mighty good smoking, too! This is a wonderful value! Send for your two-headed pipe today! NOW Sir Walter Raleigh in the new pouch pack keeps tobacco 44% fresher! Choice Kentucky Burley— Extra Aged! Smells grand! Packs right! Smokes sweet! Can't bite! Clip Coupon. Mail Today! Sir Walter Raleigh Box 303 Louisville 1, Kentucky ADDRESS CITY. ZONE__STATE COLLEGE This offer good only in U.S.A. Not vaiid in states where prohibited, taxed, or other-wise restricted. Offer expires June 30, 1961. Allow four weeks for delivery.

Roosevelt Chats With Students Before Speech

—Photo by Joel Tillman Karen Canfield '63 and Carol Jones '61 talk with Mrs. Roosevelt in Colonial Lounge following afternoon's speech

IFC Scholarships Available For Two Qualified Greeks

The Inter-Fraternity Council tion. The deadline for these has announced that applications for its two $100 scholarships are tion. These scholarships will be now being taken. To qualify for one of these scholarships the per-son must be an active fraternity man with at least a 2.6 quality point for the fall semester of the current year.

Applications may be picked up at David P. Lawrence's office in South College. Lawrence is the assistant director of placement

If any fraternity man has already made an application for scholarship, all that is required is that he add Inter-fraternity uncil to the top of his applica

> AMHERST + + CINEMA

NOW . . . ENDS SAT.— Jack Lemmon and Ricky Nelson are great in ★ LATE SHOW FRIDAY ★

at 11 P.M.

Never Before Has The Camera Dared Intimately, So Revealingly!

The JOVERS

Plus-MR. MAGOO CARTOONS

AMHERST CINEMA -EXCLUSIVE SHOWING-SUN.-TUES. - MAR. 12-14 E OF THE YEAR'S BEST" GENERAL DELLA ROVERE I'm by ROBERTO ROSSELLINI

These scholarships will be presented at the Honors Convoca-tion to be held on May 10, 1961.

Zionist 'Campfire' To Be On Sunday

The Student Zionist Organization will present "United Nations Campfire" at 8 p.m. this Sunday at Bowditch Lodge.

at Bowditch Lodge.

Folksinger Sue Goldsmith '64 will be featured on the program.
An active member of the Pioneer
Valley Folklore Society; Miss
Goldsmith has sung in coffee shops in the Boston area as well as at a campus Music Hour. She will lead a general folk-sing.

Also on the program will be

Also on the program will be many UMass foreign students, who will give informal talks on own countries.

Refreshments will be served free of charge. There will be a 45-cent admission.

Burkhardt Offers ...

(Continued from page 1)
men will keep the Abbey." She further stated that the University not want to deny low cost education to high quality students who are applying for admission.

Attempt to Maintain Ratio

The University is trying to maintain the current 60/40 ratio of men to women and to provide adequate housing with the facili-ties available. In order to keep this ratio as close as possible, some adjustments must be made in housing facilities in the mediate future.

The Administration feels, therefore, that the first step to be taken in solving this problem of expansion will be to re-convert the Abbey to a woman's dormitory next year.

I.F.C. Judiciary ...

(Continued from page 1) first place. He added that "The L.F.C. does not want the responsibility of policing, by the present policy, returned to it".

At present, all violations of the University liquor ban by frater-nities are being judged by the University Discipline Board.

ROSELAND BALLROOM

IN PERSON Friday, Mar. 10 - 7-11 p.m. Chubby Checker ADMISSION $1.00

Sat., Mar. 11 - 8-12 p.m. Eddy Martin

Mrs. Roosevelt ...

(Continued from page 1) the United States by Mrs. Roosevelt "The United States must learn to analyze what is being said and remember backgrounds and things that happened in the past. Remember your own country hasn't lily-white hands. Problems happen but never one at a time. They always tie in with things that happened in the past." China Representation To Change

Mrs. Roosevelt has also taken a stand on the problem of For-mosa and the representation of Communist China in the United Nations, "The last session of the United Nations was practically notified that Formosa would not represent China if it were not for the abstentions of some nations in voting. In the last session in voting. In the last session Formosa was turned down for a seat on the Economic and Social Council, This is a sign of things to come. Formosa representing only Formosa will be acceptable." That Red China will eventually be admitted into the United Nations is inevitable, believes Mrs. Roosevelt but to qualify China must show that she is a peace-loving nation. This means she must first get her troops out of Tibet and North Korea.

Mrs. Roosevelt held an informal discussion session in the Cape Cod Lounge following her address

Mrs. L. N. Menon ...

(Continued from page 1)
Author of "The Position of omen" in the Oxford Pamph-

Women" lets on Indian Affairs, she has also written many articles in magazines and newspapers on women's rights, problems in edu-cation, and current affairs.

UMass' Best Dressed ...

(Continued from page 1) contest, receive an outfit from Ann August's of Northampfrom Ann Augusts of Northamp-ton and Amherst and accessories from McCallum's of Northamp-ton, be interviewed on WHMP radio, and appear on the Kitty Broman Show over Channel 22 in Springfield.

Three To A ...

(Continued from page 1) (Continued from page 1)
University elect to live at home with the option of moving on campus as vacancies develop. Fraternities also should plan to fill their Chapter Houses to capacity at the beginning of the school year.

Cooperation Needed
With the full cooperation of all parties concerned it is felt that it will not be necessary to unit will not be necessary to un-duly crowd our residence halls. At the same time it will mean a saving to some students.

Further procedural details will be released to the Collegian by the Housing Office in early April.

LOST & FOUND

Found: pair of black leather gloves in Bartlett language lab. Claim at S.U. Lobby counter. Lost: Gold oval bracelet, lost

Lost: One fountain pen, black and silver with the initials W.P.S.
Lost: One fountain pen, black and silver with the initials W.P.S.
Lost on the way to Bartlett Auditorium from Chadbourne. Reward for return to Bill Squibb, 223 Chadbourne.
Lost: Pair of white boots in library coat room. If taken by library coat room. If taken by mistake please return to Eve Silberstein, Johnson, 316.

osevelt and Gail Osbaldeston, chairman of isitors Program, talk informally before Distinguished Visitors Program,

'Philosophy Of Communism' Discussed At Newman Club

A Newman Club meeting was held Tuesday at 7:30 in the Dining Commons.

Dr. John Gillespie, previous head of the Bureau of Government Research at Washington and present administrative assistant and secretary to the president of UMercel President of UMercel President. sistant and secretary to the president of UMass, and Dr. Wil-liam O'Hara of the Government Department spoke on "The Philosophy of Communism."

In a question-and-answer form, the two speakers discussed the roots of Communism, which stemmed from the disunity of roots

European religious thought caused by Lutheranism in 1517. The later teachings of Hegel and Marx led to the beliefs in a classless, peaceful society withclassless, peaceful society with-out police or army in a Russia ruled by working men.

However, the antithesis to this situation is found in reality in Hungary, Poland, and East Berlin, which are run by a society of fear, economic and psychological warfare, diplomacy by breaking treatises, a rigid class strata, and a government ruled by engineers, professors, and bureaucrats. Both speakers suggested ways by which Christianity could fight Communism. Setting an example by practicing the virtue of patience was one manner to com bat a doctrine which will, to all appearances, be with us for a long time.

Another way suggested was to examine individual faith by studying the works of St. Augustine and St. Thomas Aquinas. Both writers are known as "bulwarks against materialism."

CORRECTION

Dr. Robert W. Gage, M.D. of the University Health Service has requested the following correction:

The new health fee will be $25 or $30 per student, per year, not as stated in the March 6 issue of the Collegian.

Musical Tragedy Will Be Given At Wesley Church

In rehearsal for the forthcoming Wesley Foundation production are Charlie Brown '63, Steve Allen, and Lorraine Bienier. The play is scheduled for Sunday, March 12.

The musical tragedy "Lost in the Stars" will be presented by the Wesley Foundation this Sun-day at 7:30 p.m. in the sanc-tuary of the Wesley Methodist Church

The musical is based on the popular novel Cry, The Beloved Country, written by Alan Paton. It is the gripping story of Africa and her white and Negro troubles, which have such a wide implication today.

which have such a wide implica-tion today.

The plot centers around two families: the Jarvis family, who are white landowners in a loveiy valley; and the Kumalo family, one of whom, Stephen, is the Negro pastor of the village com-

The play is directed by Jan Clement '63. The lead role of Pastor Stephen Kumalo is played by Stephen Allen '61, and Mr. Jar-vis is played by Ralph Marino '63,

The musical sections of the lay are sung by the "Wesleyplay are sung by the "Wesley-aires" under the direction of Donald Gagnon, a graduate student, and Mrs. Raymond Fedje. The solo parts are sung by Carol White '63, Allen, Gagnon, and Mrs. Fedje.

An open invitation is extended to UMass students. There is no charge.

More Money

See page 2

VOL. XC NO. 56

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

MQNDAY, MARCH 13, 1961

Graduating Average by THOMAS A. McMULLIN '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

A new compromise on the controversial minimum academic average for student organization has been brought forth by an R.S.O. sub-committee. The new bill, worked out with the help of a Senate committee and will come before the Senate on March twenty-second.
The main change from the old bill, soundly defeated by the Senate in February, and the new bill, is that the 2.0 quality point average has been changed to the curvature. the cumulative average required of the student's graduating class. This average varies with the class concerned.

The new bill will state: Moved The new bill will state: Moved that to be eligible for office in any R.S.O. organization or Board, a student must have a cumulative average required of his graduating class, or if less than the graduating average he must have attained a 2.4 average. have attained a 2.4 average for the semester immediately preceding his election.

This includes elected and apoffices such as Senate and Judiciary Board members, publications, I.F.C. and Panhel-lenic members, and officers of organizations and dormitories.

It is strongly recommended that this ruling include fraternities, sororities, and house selors.

It will be the responsibility of the organizations, advisor or head of residence, the outgoing president, as well as the candidate, to administer this policy.

Eligibility requirements for office and added duties of the president and faculty advisor shall be incorporated in the by-laws of constitutions of individual organizations.

This policy shall not pertain to officers holding office as of January 11, 1961 insofar as selections that same office are concerned. This policy shall be in effect from September 1961.

2.0 Idea Restated On UMass Budget May Prevent Enrollment Of New Students

Lederle Charges Volpe's 1962 Budget Could Lower Educational Standards Here

According to a Boston Traveler report dated Wednesday, March 8, UMass President John W. Lederle "... charged Gov. Volpe's 1962 fiscal budget would prevent enrollment of 600 new students and downgrade the present education program."

The Traveler stated Lederle informed John W. Rigney, budget commissioner, and

"The 1962 budget recommendations as now being considered by the Legislative committees do not provide, as was intended, for the admittance of 600 additional students to bring the total enrollment to 7,000.

"Neither does it provide for the maintenance of the present quality of the educational program that, with expansion, is imperative."

Lederle said the university's trustees agree it will be impossible to admit more students until additional funds are provided.

(Volpe's budget cuts the university's request for $13.6 million to $10.9 million.)

Lederle said, "They (trustees) are firm in their position that any increase in the student-faculty ratio (now 15 to 1, but under the budget it would jump to 16 to 1) at this time would be a reduction in the quality of instruction .

"They are gravely concerned about cuts in positions and other funds over what was originally presented by them as a very tight budget.

Opera Singer Risë Stevens To Appear In Fifth Presentation Of 1961 Concert Series

by BARBARA KATZIFF '61, Collegian Staff Reporter

Rise Stevens, versatile star of the Metropolitan Opera Co., concert hall, radio and television, films and recordings, will give a concert on Tuesday, March 14, at 8:00 p.m. in the Cage. Students with ID cards will be admitted free of charge.

Miss Stevens has previously given two concerts here, and is returning by popular demand. Her performance marks the Rise Stevens, versatile star of eturning by populer performance Her performance marks the fifth presentation of this year's Concert Series.

Studied at Juilliard

Born in New York City, Miss Stevens began singing at the age of ten. She studied at the Juil-liard School of Music and later liard School of Music and later with the famed Richard Strauss for a short period of time. Feeling that she did not yet have enough experience, Miss Stevens refused her first offer to sing with the Metropolitan Opera Co. and instead embarked on a European tour. She made her de-but in Prague, Czechoslovakia, and then went on to set a record for season performances—35 in one season—before returning to season—before returning to United States and a Metro-the United States and a Metropolitan Opera contract.

Perhaps part of Miss Stevens' versality is due to her triple voice range in the mezzo-soprano, soprano, and contralto fields. Her operatic repertoire consists of over 40 roles; she is, however, particularly well known for her nerformances in Carmen and Der performances in Carmen and Der Rosenkavalier.

Sang at La Scala

Known equally well both here and abroad, Miss Stevens has appeared at such famous opera houses as Italy's La Scala, the Nouses as Italy's La Scala, the Vienna State Opera, the Paris Grand Opera, and has had great success in the Soviet Union. She was the first American diva to sing in the premiere of an Italian opera in Italy itself, and participated in the opening of participated in the opening of the First International Music and Drama Festival of Greece at Honors have been bestowed on Honors have been bestowed on Miss Stevens on this side of the Atlantic also. She was the only prima donna to sing at the ground-breaking ceremonies of New York's Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. In addition, she holds honorary degrees. tion, she holds honorary degrees in music and the humanities from Russell Sage, Hobart and William Smith Colleges, and is the subject of a biographic, Subway to the Met, by Kyle Crichton Reception After Concert llowing the concert, there be a reception for Miss Stevens in the Colonial Lounge of the Union. It is hoped that many students will take this opportunity to meet and speak opportunity to meet and speak with Miss Stevens personally. As in the past, the Concert Associa-tion wishes to remind students of its policy of consideration to the performers in requesting that autographs be sought.

University women will have one hour free time after the end of the concert so that they will be able to attend the reception.

The Buffalo Symphony, under the baton of Joseph Krips, will be the final offering of this sea-son's Series on April 13. son's Serie

RISE STEVENS, famed opera singer, will appear at the Cage this Tuesday evening, March 14, at 8:00 p.m. in the fifth presentation on the 1960-61 Concert Association Series. Students will be admitted with ID cards; admission for all others will be Series

"They warn against any meas they warn against any measures that would reduce the quality of the academic program and thereby threaten the accreditation of the university."

Impact Of New Budget

Specific changes that would be effected by the passage of Volpe's budget, according to an eight-point outline made by the university's analysis, would: Teaching Positions Eliminated —Reduce the number of teaching positions budgeted for the 600 new students from 40 to 4.

P.J. Crowley Discusses 'City League'

by JUDY CLARK '64 Collegian Staff Reporter

Philip J. Crowley, Mayor of Everett, spoke Thursday evening in the S.U. on the formation of the Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns, of which he is president.

Crowley stated that the cities and towns are "creatures of the State" and "at the mercy of the

The League's main purpose is to combat hostile legislation for cities and towns. The league is not an "anti-group" but a volun-tary confederation to promote on interests.

After trying for twelve years to establish itself, the League was finally set up Feb. 14.

The confederation will consist of a president, an executive coun-cil of twenty members, and no fewer than eight members from each city and town. Each community will have one vote regard-less of its size.

Leagues were formed in 1898 by other states as protection against "Big Brother", the State. Forty-four states now have leagues. Hawaii is presently establishing one.

The Massachusetts League has been endorsed by UMass, Bos College, and Tufts University. Boston

—Cut the number of new positions from a proposed 288 to 59, —Reduce funds for reimbursable research programs with the federal government from $100,000 to $50,000.

—Reduce the funds needed for library work from $100,000 to $50,000 at a time when $100,000 is the minimum needed to boost the the minimum needed to bo present $7 per student library ratio in the state.

—Eliminate a $200,000 one-year request for a university research fund.

-Fail to provide for staff increases necessary for admissions, student personnel or administra-tion for budgeted 600 students.

-Eliminate $250,000 for cam-pus roads and sidewalks.

—Fail to increase common-wealth scholarship funds from $25,000 to requested $50,000. —Fail to provide staff operating funds for eight new buildings opening tihs fall.

Effect On Students

Budget cuts "will prevent many udents from fulfilling their students from fulfilling their majors and other university requirements at this time, causing them to postpone these vital educational requirements," a spokesman said.

UMass Band To Perform On Saturday

At 8 p.m. Saturday, March 18, the UMass Concert Band will present its annual Spring Concert at Bowker Auditorium. Admission is 75c or a student ID.

The program has been chosen to include numbers which will please a wide range of musical tastes. Among the selections are An Outdoor Overture by Aaron Conland, recently a guest lecturer Copland, recently a guest lecturer at UMass; songs from the Music Man, still playing on Broadway; Man, still playing on Broadway; a number of marches, each one different and exciting. To delight the younger set and make the older reminisce, the band will play the score of Tubby the Tuba.

MORE MONEY -Out Of Our Pockets

"The new student health fee would probably be $25.-$30. per year per student." surprising statement appeared in the body of a Collegian article (Mar. 6) entitled, "Appointment of Dr. Payne Announced." The statement was made by Dr. Gage who went on to state that "final assessment which is dependent upon the Board of Trustees will probably be announced in April."

For those of you who pay your own college bills, this new fee represents a 10% increase in your yearly fee, assuming you now pay $300. a year tuition and fees excluding room and board. If you were paying $300. per year, you will now pay up to $330. Quite a jump in price, just for a medical program.

Let us ponder this expensive question further. I am compelled to pay this extra fee and probably a pro rated amount for summer school. When I am in need of medical care, I must, by the economics of the situation, go to the infirmary. This does not allow me to choose a doctor of my own (no reflection on Dr. Gage or his staff). Even under socialized medicine (to which we note a striking similarity) this privilege is granted-but not under our newly proposed program.

While no actual legal or physical force is applied, who would, after spending $25 .-$30. a year for a service, fail to use it? Since most students, especially at a state school, are well aware of the value of money, this economic force is as great or greater than any other force which could be applied.

Also, when we realize that this tax per student times a student body of about 6,000, equals $150,000. we begin to wonder where such a large sum of money will be put to use each year. This amount is one and a half larger than the present state allotment of $84,000. as noted in the article.

We all know that a health service costs money, and probably we are willing to pay our share-provided we can get a return for our investment proportional to the investment. Yet we doubt in this instance that each student on this campus will receive $25.-$30. of medical service for the school year. Are we helping to set up another "general fund"?

The only way for the Board of Trustees to find out our opinion is for us to let them

On Next Year's Housing

Next year our dear friends at housing plan to convert many existing double rooms to triples. Will we have sardine can dormitories? I remember my amazement when I first arrived at school this year amazement when I list arrived at school this year and saw a mattress on the floor of each room in my dorm, so that three hapless students could be rounded into each small den. Fortunately, this only lasted a few days, but imagine if this lasted the entire semester. Suppose one student wanted to study, another wanted to catch a few winks, and the last wanted to listen to the latest addition to his jazz collection; the result Mace Hustein. The lection; the result-Mass Hysteria. Three in a room might be possible only if there were facilities on campus where a student could do late studying, or go to listen to the radio or phonograph. Conse quently, the room would be used only for sleeping and dressing. Will this campus be changed from a diploma farm to a diploma factory?

The Massachusetts Collenian

FOUNDED OCTOBER 26, 1870

BE CALM, NOW DON'T WORRY, ONE MUSTN'T LOSE CONFIDENCE, ETC.

Contemporary Jazz

by RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

Since jazz suffers in the circus atmosphere of large and uninter-Since jazz suffers in the circus atmosphere of large and uninter-ested crowds, the problem of bringing the music to the masses and preserving its integrity is a difficult one. A new Springfield civic and cultural organization is providing an intelligent solution by making a limited number (1500) of concert series tickets available to all. The membership cards entitle the holders to attend all of the 4-6 concerts planned for the October to May 1962 season.

A non-profit group, The United Jazz Concert Association of Great-Springfield, is now conducting a membership drive which will definer Springheid, is now conducting a membership drive which will definitely end on March 14. Only members may attend the concerts . . . and the members will have a chance to vote for the artists they wish to perform. Place and date of each concert will be announced to the members. The cost is a nominal ten dollars. This means that each concert will cost around two dollars . . . a bargain considering the talent available. Among the 37 famous jazz artists listed, are such notables as Louis Armstrong Benny Goodwan. Pagic Kenter, Onione. notables as Louis Armstrong, Benny Goodman, Basie, Kenton, Quincy Jones, MJQ, Brubeck, Cannonball, The Jazztet, Coltrane, Garner, Sarah, Dinah, Hi-Lo's, Mahalia Jackson, Ornette, Mingus, Silver, etc.

The limited audience should provide a good atmosphere for jazz listening . . . and with the talent available, the listening should be great. Those interested in memberships should visit or write or telephone the campaign headquarters at:

70 Vernon Street Springfield, Mass. (RE 4-8087 or RE 4-8607)

Anyone interested in further information can see me. My address is 20 High Street in Haydenville (COlony 8-7788) I can sell memberships to those who wish them.

The Ivory Tower

by JOE COHEN

Pipe-smoking is no longer an art and a source of enjoyment. It has now become a status symbol, especially on college campuses. You once were able to describe a pipe-smoker as a man who could sit back and enjoy the good taste of tobacco. You just can't characterize pipe-smoker at all only more of the contract of the smokers at all any more.

Let me describe a few simple tests for differentiating a true

Look at the smoker's index finger or thumb of the hand in which he holds his pipe. If he has been smoking for any length of time one finger will be calloused. This comes about from tamping the hot to-bacco with this appendage. No true pipe-smoker would dream of using a water gradest. ing a metal gadget.

ing a metal gadget.

The only two tools a pipe-smoker ever uses are pipe cleaners and a reamer. The cleaners are used after every pipe. The false smoker can't tell the difference between tobacco and percolated nicotine anyhow so he uses the cleaners sparingly. The false smoker also believes that the bigger the amount of char the more status. Ideally there should be no room for tobacco in the bowl. The true pipe-smoker will have a smooth even light char. You are smoking tobacco, not wood.

Here is one of the sweet tests. The status seeker refers to bring.

Here is one of the surest tests. The status seeker refers to briar as "Algerian briar." As anyone who knows will tell you, this is a redundancy. All briar comes from Algeria.

The amateur will try to impress you with obscure facts about wood, grain, tobacco blends, and a whole host of other idiocies. The true smoker knows all this anyhow but all he is interested in is get-true smoker knows all this anyhow but all he is interested in is getting a good smoke so he won't make a pest of himself.

No true pipe-smoker would dream of smoking anything like "Amphora," "Zephyr," or "Holland House." These are so mild that after you have smoked for a while you can't taste them.

Also, see how he empties his pipe. If he taps it on his shoe or on the sidewalk or any other hard surface he is out. He also probably breaks many pipes. Briar, especially hot briar, is fairly fragile. Meerschaum should never even be smoked outside.

Now that all the innermost secrets have been given away I am sure we will get the status seekers using these plays and destroying

Now that all the innermost secrets have been given away I am sure we will get the status seekers using these ploys and destroying what little enjoyment is left to pipe-smoking. However, I keep one secret untold. Ask your pipe-smoker what the dottle is. I'll bet he wouldn't know one if he tasted it.

The Old Philosopher

Portrait-Study

Studying can do so much
. . . To help improve the mind . . . As there are never limits to . . . The knowledge we can find . . . And it need not be different . . . By any kind of measure . . . Indeed if properly approached . . . It can become a pleasure ... If only we will go into . . . A corner of our own . . . Where we can read in comfort and . Be quietly alone . . . For there the body will relax. And soon the mind will follow . . . And the knowledge will be easier . . . To masticate and swallow . . . And in that atmosphere we can. Digest our food for thought . . . As we compare our thinking with . . . The things that we are taught. -From the Boston Globe

LETTERS

Socialized Medicine

According to recent information there will be a new fee added to semester bills next fall. This fee is expected to amount to 25 to 30 dollars per year. The purpose of this assessment is the provision of medical care for students.

I have talked to several students who will be here next year and everyone was definitely against the idea. It seems that the majority of students require medical care one or two times a year at the most. It would be far less expensive for the majority of us to go to doctors in town at the rate of four dollars per visit than to pay 25 or 30 dollars per year for Socialized medicine. Yes, I said SO-CIALIZED medicine, what else can you call a compulsory medical program such as this?

It annears that there are many students who

It appears that there are many students who feel as I do and I hope that something can be done to prevent this plan from going into effect.

Arthur F. Freeland '61 1113 Lincoln Apts.

En Reponse

Re the letter from "The Class of French 8" printed in the Collegian, 8 March: while it may be true that twenty-four students were in the class, we most certainly didn't all react in the same way, and I, for one, am unwilling to have my feelings expressed for me by one who does not know them.

Patricia Hannigan '63

Patricia Hannigan '63 Editor's Note: Other letters expressing the sentiment have been received by the Editor.

Talk Of The Week

MONDAY
"I Led Three Lives," by Herbert Filbrick,

"I Led Three Lives," by Herbert Filbrick, 4:00 p.m., S.U.
"The Americas in Jeopardy—Threats to a Free Western Hemisphere," Great Decisions Discussion, 7:30 p.m., Skinner.

"Alyosha and Billy — Thoughts on Russian and American Literature," by Prof. Rufus Mathewson, Jr., Professor of Slavic Languages, Columbia University, 8:30 p.m., Babbott, Amherst College.
"The Role of the Supreme Court in American Life," by Paul A. Freund, Professor of Law, Harvard Law School, 8:00 p.m., Sage, Smith.

TUESDAY

"The Kennedy Administration to Date," by Prof. Earl Latham, Department of Political Science, Amherst College, 7:30 p.m., 86th Room, Mount Holyoke.
"The Supreme Court and its Critics," by Paul A. Freund, Porfessor of Law, Harvard Law School, 8:00 p.m., Sage, Smith.

WEDNESDAY

WEDNESDAY

"The Greek View of Human Nature," by Prof. Alex Page, Philosophy Club Lecture, 8:00 p.m., Bartlett Auditorium.

"Physical and Social Sciences: Contrasts and Unity," by Philippe Le Corbeiller, Physicist and Visiting Professor at Smith College, 8:00 p.m., Chapin, Mount Holyoke.

"The Importance of Nietzsche," by Eric Heller, Professor of German, Northwestern University, 8:00 p.m., Alumnae House, Smith.

CLUB DIRECTORY

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB A meeting will be held in Gunness Laboratory, room 10 on Wed., March 15, 7:45 p.m.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

An inquiry lecture "William Temple" by Roger Alling, Am-herst College will be held in Machmer, E25 on Mon., March 13, 9 p.m.

COMMUTERS CLUB

There will be a meeting Thurs., March 16, 11'a.m. in the Nan-tucket Room of the S.U. All commuters are invited to attend.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the S.U.

MARKETING CLUB

There will be a lecture "Mar-keting Housewares in New England Through Manufacturer's Representatives" by Joe Donovan, manufacturer's rep-

Have you thought about

YOUR FUTURE

You may have one with

COMMERCIAL CREDIT

A REPRESENTATIVE

will be on campus

MONDAY, MARCH 20

See Placement Officer to schedule your interview resentative, in the Middlesex S.U. March 16, 11 a.m

PRE-LAW SOCIETY
Dean Robert Drinan S.J. of
Boston College will give a general informative talk ral informative talk on the chool at 7:15 p.m. in Crabtree Lounge

SOPHOMORE BANQUET

TICKET COMMITTEE

Volunteers are needed to sell tickets in the S.U. March 20-24, 27 from 9-4 and March 25 from 9-12. All members of the class of '63 willing to donate time, please sign up for specific times near the bulletin board in the S.U. Lobby before the end of this week. STATESMEN

Tryouts for the Statesmen will be held in the Hampshire Room, S.U., Wed., Mar. 15, 7 p.m.

CORRECTION

Final election of Women's Judiciary candidates will be held Thursday, March 23.

Men's Judiciary selections were held Saturday and Sunday, March 11-12 in the S.U. Senate Cham-

The March 8 Collegian contained incorrect dates.

THE UMASS INTERROGATOR

A Campus Opinion Poll

by DORIS BERRY '64

A contest is currently being conducted to find the "UMass Best Dressed Girl." When she has been chosen, she will be entered in Glamour magazine's national contest. Glamour will choose the ten best dressed college girls in the country and feature them in its August College issue

The criteria to be used in judging are:

1. Good figure, beautiful posture; 2. Clean, shining, well-kept hair; 3. Imagination in managing a clothes budget; 4. Good grooming—not just neat, but impeccable; 5. Appropriate campus look—in line with

6. A clear understanding of her fashion type; 7. Individuality in the use of color, accessories; 8. A workable wardrobe plan; 9. A neat way with make-up—enough to look pretty but not overdone; 10. Appropriate, not rah-rah, look for off-campus occasions.

The Interrogator asks: Do you feel these qualifications are being fulfilled well by the average UMass coed?

Jane Kline '64, a pre-med student, answered, "No. Good grooming is very lax. Most girls are a little too informal. Slacks, Bermudas, and sweatshirts should be limited. There is no fashion type because they dress mostly as the group does."

dress mostly as the group does."

Charles Cotter '61, an Animal Science major, replied, "I don't think they quite come up to these qualifications. A lot don't take care of their hair and some wear too much makeup."

Joan Werner '63 from Barre, answered carefully, "Yes. I think they are very conservative, but well-dressed. Most people are from the middle-income bracket and can't afford too many clothes. The girls usually are neat and well-groomed though."

Lahn Galdan '62 replied "I

John Golden '62, replied "I don't think they overdo their makeup or wear anything that doesn't look right on them. I don't think the average girl has a good figure or beautiful pos-ture." He added laughingly, "I'd rather be down South."

David Kaufman '63, who lives at Butterfield, said, "Yes, in gen-eral. However, I think that most girls are too conservative in their dress. They are afraid of indiv. dress. They are afraid of individuality.'

Jan Smith '64, a Math major, answered, "No. Most girls don't have time to spend on clothes, wardrobe, and makeup. Also, the average girl either slouches or bends over backward."

Allan Buss '61, who commutes from Granby, said. "Yes, but there are some who wear makeup in excess and some who don't wear enough. For a college cam-pus, the dress is appropriate."

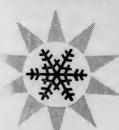

pus, the dress is appropriate."

Carol Folley '62, a Sociology major, replied. "What I do not like to see the girls wear is Bermudas to classes. I think it would be nice if the girls dressed up a little more because if you act and dress like a lady, you'll be treated like one."

APOLOGY
The following would like to apologize to Jean Roanowicz of Knowlton for the grave mistake printed in Friday night's Colleg-

A.W., J.C., R.I.

MORE SUN

MORE SNOW

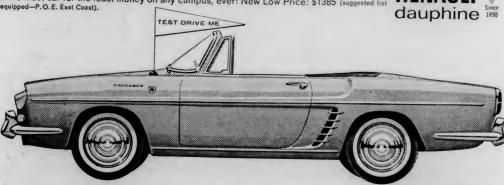

For folders, information or reservations, write lodge of your choice or Box CC, Stowe Area Association, Inc., Stowe, Vermont.

Professors and students both agree that nothing beats the Dauphine for economy, styling, and 4-door convenience. Up to 40 miles on a gallon, low upkeep, rugged, sporty performance make the Dauphine the most car for the least money on any campus, ever! New Low Price: $1385 (sugger, rugged, sporty performance may price, fully equipped—P.O.E. East Coast).

Here's the car to escape from the ordinary in. Heavy on styling, light on gas and upkeep—the Caravelle is available with an optional hard top that turns it into a sports coupe at a moment's notice. Like the Dauphine, the Caravelle carries a 12 month/12,000 mile (whichever comes first) warranty and a load of free extras. TEST DRIVE US.SOON AT YOUR LOCAL RENAULT DEALER! Here's the car to escape from the ordinary in. Heavy on styling, light on gas and upkeep — the

57 KING STREET

MON CEN MOTERS, INC. NORTHAMPTON, MASS.

Trackmen Perform Well At N.Y.; Make Ready For UConn Relays

While not sweeping the city off its feet the boys did do very well much to the satisfaction of their Sophomore Loren Flagg, competing against 41 other sprinters qualified for the finals and fin-ished a very creditable sixth in the finals for the 50-yd, dash.

Dick Ward, UMass all around athlete, tied for seventh in the

This weekend coach Footrick and his Indoor Track Team made the trip down to New York to compete in the big IC4A Meet.

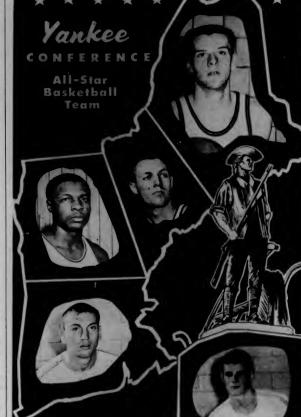

High jump with a 6'2" effort. Besides these qualifiers Ken O'Brien just missed placing in the 1000 by .6 of a second. He had the just missed placing in the 1000 by .6 of a second. He had the misfortune of running in the misfortune of running in the same heat with three other men who eventually placed in the finals. He still broke his cage record of 2:16 by .2 of a second. Joe LaMarre, a Junior, did the best time of his school career in the 1000, grinding out a time of 2:19.5. In the 600 Harrington turned in his best performance of turned in his best performance of 1:17.5.

Dave Balch, as expected, did a fine job in the two-mile run, finishing seventh out of thirty, with a time of 9:47.2. Farther back in the same race was Ralph Buschmann timed at 9:56. Both of these boys had participated earlier in the mile. Balch crossed the line at 4:37.5 and Buschmann with a 4:42.

Next week the team travels to the Connecticut Relays. This holds an added importance for them for it will determine who will go to Florida during the Spring Vacation. This Florida trip is to compete at the University of Miami. There will be two meets, one the night of April 5 and the other on April 8. They will take on Miami, Brown, and Furman, in both encounters.

It should be noted that the nineteen boys coach Footrick is taking with him to Florida have to pay their own way as this isn't sponsored by the College. This certainly indicates a desire and sense of duty above and beyond the ordinary.

Two weeks after Spring Vacation the scene switches to the great outdoors as the men, vir-tually the same team that played the indoor circuit, travel down to Waltham, to take on the Bran-

THE CHOSEN FIVE OF THE YANKEE CONFERENCE

LEARN TO FLY $3.80 Per Lesson

UMASS FLYING CLUB Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays 2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

DIRTY?

FRATERNITIES & SORORITIES

Have your dirty clothes p hed up Wednesday night and Saturda afternoon afternoon.

> CAMPUS CLEANERS . ENT: KEN WAX '63

It's what's up front that counts

FILTER-BLEND up front is a Winston exclusive. It makes Winston really taste like a cigarette. Filter-Blend means tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for good taste in filter smoking. Try Winston.

WINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

Chappelle; Doug Grutchfield resides in New Hampshire; Vermont's Benny Becton follows, while Gary Koenig and Barry Multer of the Rams complete the cycle.

Although all of the players are not in their right states, they're all here. In Maine is Tom

All-YanCon Team Named

Two members of the Champion-ship Rhode Island team and one player each from UMass, Maine, and Vermont comprise the All-Yankee Conference team as selected by the coaches of the conference teams.

Captain Doug Grutchfield of the UMass Redmen was selected for the second straight year to represent the elite of Yankee Conference basketball. Both Doug, ference basketball. Both Doug, Tom "Skip" Chappelle, the conference scoring champion from UMaine, and Barry Multer, cap-tain of the Rhode Island Rams, were unanimous choices for the first quintet. Chappelle is also making his second appearance.

Gary Koenig, the power packed rebounder of the Rams, and Benny Becton, sophomore sensation at the University of Vermont also were first team selections.

Both Kirk Leslie and Mike Both Kirk Leslie and Mike Mole of the Redmen squad made the second team, while Don Black received write-in votes.

Letters

See page 2

VOL. XC NO. 57

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 1961

To View So. America

the students of UMass, is designed to promote interest in and understanding of international affairs. This year the weekend, entitled "The Other America", is based on Latin America.

The main events of the weekend are the keynote address, the traditional opening of the weekend; and the panel discussions, which deal with some particular problem of the area under discussion. This year's keynote speech will be given on Friday cussion. This year's keynote speech will be given on Friday night at 8, by Daniel Cosio-Villegas, director of the Collegio de Mexico. Cosio-Villegas is also Mexico. Cosio-Villegas is also editor of Historian Maxicana, and has been the Mexican ambassador to the U.S. The address will be followed by an informal discussion period and coffee hour.

Panels To Be Held Saturday
Saturday's presenting the saturday of the saturday of Saturday's program will open at 9 a.m. with a coffee hour which will be followed by the first panel, at 10. This discussion will be on economic interests and conflicts in Latin America. Different points of view will be presented by Rear Admiral Ober-lin C. Laird, U.S.N. Ret. and Dr. Alevander. Laird is the Latin American Consultant to the Board of Directors of the U.S.

Steel Corp. Alexander is a member of the Rutgers Economics department. The panel will be moderated by Dr. Robert Potash, Latin American historian and member of the UMass history department.

The second panel, on the cur-The second panel, on the current political situation in Latin America will begin at 1 p.m. It will be presented by Mr. Irving Pflaum, Dr. Ramon Ruiz, and Mr. John P. Harrison. Pflaum is a member of American Universities Field Staff Inc., and has recently returned from two years in Cuba. Ruiz is a member of the history department at Smith in Cuba. Rulz is a member of the history department at Smith College. Harrison is Associate Director of the Humanities divi-sion of the Rockefeller Founda-

The weekend will also feature an exhibit of Latin American art, an International buffet supper, an International buffet supper, and an evening of entertainment and dancing. The buffet will be and dancing. The buffet will be held Saturday evening from 5 to 7 at the Wesley Methodist Church. Admission will be $1.00. The weekend will close with an informal dance party in the ball-room. Rolf Cahn, guitarist and folk singer will centertain with an informal concert. A band will an informal concert. A band will also play for dancing. Refresh-ments will be served.

Dance Will Close Weekend

Tryouts For Plays Planned For Experimental Theatre

Casting of two one-act plays son directed two plays for it.

will be conducted Wednesday March 15 and Monday, March 20, submitted, Kennedy's were submitted, Kennedy's were March 15 and Monday, March 20, 7:30-10 p.m. in E-10 Machmer. The plays will begin the experimental theatre for this season at UMass. At this time potential designers and technical people may also sign up to work on the may also sign up to work on the production. Miss Doris E. Abramson of the UMass Speech Department will direct the two plays, both of which have been written by Raymond Kennedy, an English major who graduated last June Experimental theatre was inaugurated by the Speech Depart-ment in 1959, when Miss Abramchosen. Each play is in an en-tirely different style. One, "A Bagpipe and Poppies," has a cast of six characters and is a realis-tic drama. The other, "A Matter of Time," is an expressionistic of Time," is an expressionistic farce and has a large cast. Raymond Kennedy is already known on campus for his short stories and poems in the student literary magazine and a short story in the Massachusetts Re-

The production date for these experimental day, May 12. nental plays will be Fri-

Starting off the Campus Chest Drive is Pres. Lederle with Pat Craft '62 and Bob Marshell '62. The drive started Monday, March 13, and will run throughout the week until next Monday. The proceeds support student organizations, specifically The World University Service, Hokkaido, The United Negro Fund, and three SOS scholarships. This year, the goal is set for $5,000.

International Weekend House Committee Announces Increase In UMass Budget

Need For 40 Teachers Anticipated

Representative John J. Toomey, (D-Cambridge), chairmen of the House Ways and Means Com-mittee, yesterday announced in a report to the House of Representatives:

"We have increased the University of Massachusetts budget by $400,000 by addition of 40 new teaching positions and other nec-essary personnel and made other expense adjustments to enable the University to accept a total of 7,000 students in the Fall.

"The new infirmary building will be completed for the Fall semester and each student will be required to pay for health services. As the program will be self-supporting, it has been authorized as a trust fund opera-

Toomey told the Democratic controlled Legislature the comtold the Democraticmittee's appropriations proposal thorize under present conditions.'

"Only the most inconceivable optimist can confidently expect that there will be no difficulty in obtaining the revenue with which to finance the program presented in this bill," he told a news con-ference.

"The uncertainty of revenue

"The uncertainty of revenue collections which hangs over the general fiscal picture this year warrants caution in making revenue estimates."

Toomey said the committee recommended cuts from the budget prepared by the Republican governor in most state ac-can governor in most state ac-counts. The biggest came in the Department of Public Works, which was trimmed nearly $1.5 million from Volpe's recommendation

More for University

A $417,382 increase was pro-posed in the appropriation for the University of Massachusetts. Toomey said that will allow the university to increase its enroll-ment to 7000 students, up about 600.

House Speaker John F. Thomp-on, (D-Ludlow), accused Volpe "hostility or indifference" toward the university and other state institutions of higher edu-

"It is unfortunate and regret-"It is unfortunate and regret-table that the chief executive, in preparing his budget, failed to provide sufficient funds to carry out Massachusetts' commitments and objectives in higher public education." Thompson told the news conference.

Thompson told the news conference.

Thompson said he is satisfied that the Ways and Means budget will not impair "the operation of essential state services." He said the general appropriations bill will face action in the House to-tomorrow.

Governor Rapped

Thompson issued a statement accusing Volpe of "deplorable (Continued on page 3)

WMUA Broadcasts Ideas On Spring Day

by DICK HAYNES '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

Last night, Lloyd J. Teran on Last night, Lloyd J. Teran on the show Mass Opinion (WM-UA) investigated the student feeling about the desirability of having a UMass Spring Day. Of the many persons interviewed only one stated that Spring Day was an entirely had tradition. was an entirely bad tradition.

This was because "the last Spring Day gave the University a bad name," he said.

Two juniors said "That the old drunken orgy has been stopped is a good thing. However, if a Spring Day were well planned it could be as much fun as it used to be."

Another person commented, "I Another person commented, "I don't think anyone on campus now has ever seen a Spring Day. What they know about it is hearsay. Therefore, any form of Spring Day that might be instituted would be new and I think would be accepted as such". Several people said they would like to have a Spring Day even without the drinking.

Senior Hits Administration

One senior said, "The thing I object to is that the administration moves down on it (Spring Day) like they move down on so many other things the students want to do. This is another manifestation of the administration's attitude toward the students.

"Since 1956 this campus has suffered a decrease in individual ism because of the policies of the administration — an increasing policy of keeping the students policy of keeping the students down, pressuring all of them into conformity. This, however, is because the state legislature has chosen to relegate almost complete autonomy to the University administration. The administra-tion can do anything to the students that they so desire to do.
If they want to throw him out—they do. The student has no recourse."

Loss of Tradition Cited

"Spring Day," said another senior, "is very important be-cause of the loss of tradition that has taken place here."

A junior commented, "The only tradition I know is the tradition that used to be. There is no tradition now. When I leave this school, I'd like to have to be proud to be an alumnus. Unfortunately, there is nothing here. tunately, there is nothing here for me to be proud of."

Mass Opinion is a regular fea-ture on WMUA every Tuesday and Thursday at 7 p.m. The interviews are prerecorded in the Hatch at 11 a.m. on the day of

Communist Experience Is Topic Of Philbrick Talk

by DIANE TOVET '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

Herbert Philbrick, former F.B.I. counterspy, and author of the book, "I Led Three Lives", addressed an audience last Monday for an hour and a half in the Student Union Ballroom.

Triple Life Began Accidently

For nine years Philbrick lived a triple life, as an ordinary citizen, as a member of the Com-munist Criminal Conspiracy, and munist Criminal Conspiracy, and as a volunteer counterspy for the F.B.I. When he moved to Cambridge with his family, Philbrick joined the "Cambridge Youth bridge with his family, Philbrick joined the "Cambridge Youth Council". When he discovered that this organization was merely a Communist front, and that many innocent young people were being victimized, he went to the F.B.I. with his story. There he was urged to stay in the organization, and to join the Communist Criminal Conspiracy as a contact with the F.B.I. Agreeing to help, Philbrick returned to the Cambridge Youth Council, and after a training period in the Young Communist League, he advanced rapidly in the Communist Party.

Fronts Spread Propoganda Once established in the Communist Party, Philbrick learned that the fronts, used as "transmission belts for Communist propoganda", were extremely ef-

During his two years of training in the Young Communist League, where the emphasis was placed on becoming a "hardened, disciplined, and steeled" member of the Communist Party, Philbrick received only the barest glimpse of the Party's ruthlessness in choosing it trees and the party is recommended. ness in choosing its members. In his later years, he attended a his later years, he attended a meeting to choose a good Communist from many applicants screened; only one member was chosen. When Philbrick questioned this careful elimination he was reprimanded by his superior who said, "All we need is one Communist in one place at the right time."

That sentence has come to have grim meaning as people in vital scientific and governmental posi-tions turn to the Communist side. However, according to Philbrick, "the response of young people is the brightest light on the hori-

Collegian Urges Referendum

A blanket bill that compromises an earlier bill A blanket bill that compromises an earlier bill on the quality point average of student leaders was recently announced by the R.S.O. Sub-Committee. The bills requiring a point average of students to hold office is a result of a comparative study made by the Senate and R.S.O. on the academic standing of students as leaders.

The original bill required campus leaders to have a minimum cumulative average of a 2.0, or a 2.4 the semester preceding election. After much controversy, this bill had been defeated on the floor of the Senate and went back to the sub-committee.

The compromise bill states: Moved that to be The compromise bill states: Moved that to be eligible for office in any R.S.O. organization or Board, a student must have a cumulative average required of his 5-uduating class, or if less than the graduating average he must have attained a 2.4 erage for the semester preceding his election.

Those who favor the passage of this bill cite e need for capable student leaders. It is also arthat the primary function of the University educational, in the academic sense, and that activities should not become exploitive.

The opponents to the bill argue that students should be given the responsibility to determine for themselves their role and extent of participation in extra-curricular activities.

Since this issue is of immediate concern to the entire student body who must select their leaders, it is the opinion of the Collegian that the views of the student body must be expressed. We, therefore, urge the Student Senate to put into effect a referendum as the most valid method of determining the sentiments of the campus on this issue.

Do the students of the University wish to select their leaders on a quality basis?

PINNED TODAY-GONE TOMORROW

"Darling, isn't it wonderful? We're pinned."
"Oh, really? Why didn't you tell me sooner?"
"Well, you know how it is—I figured the Collegian gets out the news quicker than I do. What the hell—it's good for a few laugh, You should have seen those guys break up!"

—And so it goes. Pinnings, pinnings, and more pinnings, some real, some not real. Within the last two weeks there have been at least three false pinnings in the Collegian—possibly more.

Perhaps the fault lies with the Collegian. In the rernaps the fault lies with the Collegian. In the future, intense investigation and cross-examination should be pursued to verify a pinning. But we're on the adult level now—let's show it. On the other hand, this may be an outlet for pent-up energy. But if "Joe College" can't find anything more exciting to do with his spare time—the college girl is doomed!

Think of the possibilities this could lead toengagements, even marriage? That moment of peace—when you suddenly find out you're married by reading it in the paper!

THEY DON'T MAKE PINS LIKE THEY USED TO, HONEY, BUT MY (CHEATIN') HEART BE-LONGS TO YOU

And while we're on the subject of pinning—does it have any meaning left? Where's all that loyalty and stuff? Is it in that "weekday rendezvous?" Is it in the thrill of dating that third party? Oh, well, this sort of thing has been going on since the beginning of time. In fact, it's probably going on right

"Congraduations."

'For what?'

"You're unpinning."
"Thanks. I feel ten pounds lighter already -let's go out and celebrate.

-M.A. V.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Executive Board
Donald D. Johnson '61 Co-Chairman
Al Berman '62 Co-Chairman
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Editorial Editor
James R. Reinhold '61 News Editor
Ben Gordon '62 Sports Editor
Larry Popple '63 Photography Editor
Michael Cohen '61 Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62 Advertising Manager

WEDNESDAY'S STAFF

LETTERS

Waxing Words of Wisdom

An Open Letter to the Student Body:

Each year, many outstanding figures . . . visit our campus as guest speakers . . . Much of what these persons have to say is of continuing interest not only to the present student body but also to those who will follow us in the years to come. The ideas and opinions expressed by such notable speakers as Mendes France, Senator Flanders, and Eleanor Roosevelt are worth recording for future reference by instructors and by students. reference by instructors and by students.

I would like to suggest that tape recordings be made of the lectures of all interesting and informa-tive personages who visit our campus from time to time. These tapes could then become an excellent addition to our present reference library at Goodell. Filed just as any other information, these tapes could be used by the student body just as texts and microfilms are now

I believe the cost of such a project would be minimal, the entire equipment consisting of a suitable tape recorder, one or two playback booths in the library, and the footage of tape required.

The immediate necessity is to start taping this storehouse of knowledge and opinion before many more guest lecturers pass from us. The equipment is available now. The library facilities can follow

Bertram R. Stanley

Editor's Note:

This suggestion might be noted. After a check with WMUA, we learned that Mrs. Roosevelt's speech had been recorded. However, other notable speeches have not been documented on tape.

Poor Communications

Open Letter to the University Community:

On Thursday, March 9, the School of Home Economics presented as their convocation speaker Mrs. Sibyl Moholy-Nagy, Associate Professor of Archi-tecture at Pratt Institute. Mrs. Moholy-Nagy, a noted lecturer, author and architectural critic, spoke on "Humanism in the Architecture of Urban Redevelop-ment", using as an example the Lafayette Development in Detroit. (Ludwig Hilberseimer, planner, and Mies van der Rohe, architect).

A fact to be deplored is that such a limited audience heard Mrs. Moholy-Nagy speak on a topic that was of interest to the entire University community. Other points not to be overlooked are the absence of proper publicity, and the appalling lack of inter-departmental communication. With proper inter-de-partmental cooperation the University community could have taken full advantage of Mrs. Moholy-

There are many times when we blame students for being complacent, apathetic and of having no real thirst for knowledge. We must, in this instance, place the blame squarely on the University as a whole, the departments and individuals within the departments for fostering and allowing to exist this close-mouthed attitude.

Sincerely yours.

John H. Spencer Architectural Designer Instructor, Mechanical Engineering Robert L. Kent, Jr., A.S.L.A. Assistant Professor, Landscape Archiecture

Johnny Appleseed and His Peace Corps

To the Editor:

Not all American university youths are standing with an open mouth in expectation of their assignments overseas with the Peace Corps. A foolish few are already preparing to throw their lives away, needlessly and uselessly, in a clumsy attempt to scale the dizzy heights of an exasperated idealism. Apparently, the constraining force of common sense has been unceremoniously tossed over the edge, as a hypnotized number of American youth prepare to embark on an Odyssey of perilous dangers. That so large a number of university youth are to contract away their lives for another telepathic scheme for world peace, turns over that side of American youth, marked by irresponsibility and intellectual fatuity.

David R. Halevy

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1984. 400 per year: $2.50 per semester Subscription price June 11, 1934.
rice $4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester
Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.
clated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press
Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

Philbrick On:

Communist Activities

by BRUNO DE PALMA '63

Students crowded the S.U. Ballroom Monday afternoon to hear Herbert Philbrick lecture on the Communist Party in the United States and his activities within the Communist Party as an F.B.I. counterspy. In his two hour lecture and the questioning period which followed, Mr. Philbrick brought to light many astounding facts concerning the Communist Party in the U.S. and its activities. His talk spanned the entire range from cell activities to basic Communistic doctrine, including such prominent topics as Radio Free Europe, the Kennedy proposed Peace Corps, Communistic infiltration in Cuba, and the NDEA loyalty oath.

Since its establishment in Russia in 1917, Communism has grown in alarming strides until today its power encompasses one fourth of the earth's surface and subjugates one third of the earth's population. And, in his words, "There is a serious threat of losing more ground." Where is Communism? Everywhere. In fact, Mr. Philbrick began his activities in the Communist Party right here in Massachusetts, in Cambridge. Newly married and recently graduated from Northeastern University, Mr. Philbrick decided to join some organization in order to establish friends and associates in Cambridge. His attention was drawn to a promising, constructive organization, the Cambridge Youth Council. But after six months of work and being elected chairman, he discovered that the Cambridge Youth Council was nothing but a Communist front for subversive activities. Going to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's office in Boston, it was suggested, with no coercion, that he continue in the C.Y.C. and keep the F.B.I. informed of their activities. Thus began the incredible story of a man who, for nine years, was to live a triple life; the life of an ordinary, average citizen; the life of a high office Communist; and the hazardous life of a counterspy.

Mr. Philbrick emphasized the effect of such organizations as th Cambridge Youth Council. He said that these organizations are transmission belts that "transmit Communist lies, Communist falsehoods, and Communist propaganda to gullible American people," and also that these were fronts for the recruiting and training of members for the Communist party. They are in existence all over the nation and they are constantly active in subverting the American people. The most conspicuous point about these fronts is their inconspicuousness. They all have the most innocent names possible. For example, take the Cambridge Youth Council; at first sight, very respectable. Or the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, (a newly formed organization to consolidate Communistic activities in Cuba) or the American Youth for Democracy Club. All seemingly respectable and concan Youth for Democracy Club. All seemingly respectable and constructive. And why shouldn't these organizations have such patriotic, democratic sounding names? For who would join a Committee to Consolidate Communistic Activities in Cuba or the Communistic Club for the Subversion of American Youth? These Communistic fronts must sound and appear righteous and democratic to gain support from the general public. In fact, Mr. Philipsick pointed out, the rest rest the general public. In fact, Mr. Philbrick pointed out, the most popular word in the names of Communistic fronts is American. How do we know if an organization is Communistic or not? The average person can't tell, but there is available from the Federal Government handbook called, "Guide to Subversive Organizations" Communist fronts.

What do these organizations do? As I already stated, they are transmission belts for Communist lies and propaganda, and are recruiting grounds for new members. How does someone become involved in the Communist Party? First, he joins a front. Then, if he seems intelligent and industrious, he is elevated until he is an important member of the group. Then the Communists pop the news. He has all this time been working for the Communist Party. And, they say, if you have enjoyed your work so far and found it interesting, why not continue, Most do. But, surprisingly, the greater majority of those who are in the Communist Party are very intelligent and financially secure. nancially secure.

What can we do to combat these Communistic fronts? Mr. Phil-What can we do to combat these Communistic fronts? Mr. Philbrick said that there was much which we could do. The most potent weapon to counteract these fronts was knowledge. By educating the public to the activities of Communist fronts, the American people can be safe from the lies and propaganda these fronts spread. He said, "We are trapped by ignorance, we have no knowledge about Communism." And the greatest source for knowledge about Communism comes from the colleges and universities where students are willing to learn the threat of Communism. Summing up, Mr. Philbrick said that we must fight to keep ahead of Communism. We must never relax our guard against Communism and we must continually keep learning more about it. And he is confident that we will win.

TALK OF THE WEEK

WEDNESDAY
"The Greek View of Human Nature," by Prof. Alex Page, Philosophy Club Lecture, 8:00 p.m., Bartlett Auditorium.

THURSDAY

"Indian Foreign Policy—A Search for Alternatives," by Mrs. Lakshmi N. Menon, Deputy Minister of External Affairs, Republic of India, 4:00 p.m., S.U.

FRIDAY

- "Gravity and Magnetics for Geologists and Seismologists," Geology Lecture, by Dr. L. L. Nettleton, Huston, Texas, 7:30 p.m., Morrill Science Center.
 "Faust—Damnation or Salvation," Professor Eric Heller,
 Northwestern University, 7:30 p.m., S.U.

Nation Wide Groups Discuss Foreign Policy Development

by GRACE FITZPATRICK '63, Collegian Staff Reporter

"Great Decisions 1961" is the title of an annual nation wide review of foreign policy facing the United States government and her people.

Discussion groups are set up in homes and community centers all across the nation. These groups meet for eight successive weeks and discuss a series of eight problems facing the United States.

Members State Opinions

The members of the group have an experiment to state their care opinions both verbally and in

Members State Upinions

The members of the group have an opportunity to state their own opinions both verbally and in the form of a ballot which is east by each member at the conclusion of each discussion.

These ballots are forwarded to the "Great Decisions" center in Washington, D.C.

There is an active "Great Decisions" discussion group which meets weekly at UMass. The fifth in

There is an active "Great Decisions" discussion group which meets weekly at UMass. The fifth in the series of discussions was held Monday, March 6 The topic was: "The U.N. in Explosive Africa."

On Campus with Max Shulman

I WAS A TEEN-AGE SLIDE RULE

In a recent learned journal (Mad) the distinguished board chairman (Ralph "Hot-Lips" Sigafoos) of one of our most important American corporations (the Arf Mechanical Dog Co.) wrote a trenchant article in which he pinpointed our gravest national problem: the lack of culture among science graduates.

Mr. Sigafoos's article, it must be emphasized, was in no sense derogatory. He stated quite clearly that the science student, what with his gruelling curriculum in physics, math, and chem too. What Mr. Sigafoos deplores—indeed, what we all deplore—is the lopsided result of today's science courses: graduates who can build a bridge but can't compose a concerto, who know Planck's Constant but not Botticelli's Venus, who are familiar with Fraunhofer's lines but not with Schiller's.

Mr. Sigafoos can find we obstitute to this believe in the land of the property of the

Mr. Sigafoos can find no solution to this hideous imbalance. however, believe there is one—and a very simple one. It is this: if students of science don't have time to come to the arts, then we must let the arts come to students of science.

He will know that he is a fulfilled man...

For example, it would be a very easy thing to teach poetry and music right along with physics. Students, instead of merely being called upon to recite in physics class, would instead be required to rhyme their answers and set them to familiar tunes —like, for instance, The Colonel Bogey March. Thus recitations would not only be chock-full of important facts but would, at the same time, expose the student to the aesthetic delights of great music. Here, try it yourself. You all know The Colonel Bogey March. Come, sing along with me:

Physics

Is what we learn in class Said energy is mass. Nento Is highfalutin

And Pascal's a rascal. So's Boyle.

Do you see how much more broadening, how much more uplifting to learn physics this way? Of course you do. What? You want another chorus? By all means:

He made the Leuden jar. Trolley
He made the Trolley car. Curic Rode in a surrey,

And Diesel's a weasel. So's Boule.

Once the student has mastered The Colonel Bogey March, he can go on to more complicated melodies like Death and Transfiguration, the Eroica, and Love Mc Tender.

And when the student, loaded with science and culture, leaves the classroom and lights his Marlboro, how much more he will enjoy that filter, that flavor, that pack or box! Because there will be lower by there will no longer be an unease grawing at his soul, no longer a little voice within him repeating that he is culturally a dolt. He will know—know joyously—that he is a fulfilled man, a whole man, and he will bask and revel in the pleasure of his Marlboro as a colt rolls in new grass—content, complete, truly educated—a credit to his college, to himself, and to his tobac-

And while he is rolling, colt-wise, in the new grass, perhaps he would stop long enough to try a new cigarette from the makers of Marlboro—unfiltered, king-size Philip Morris Commander. Welcome aboard!

Amherst Student Is Guest

The chairman for the group was Curtis Johnson and his guest was Aloysius Nevaogugu (Woewas Aloysius Nevaogugu (woe-Goo-Goo) a student at Amherst College who is first problem discussed was that the newly independent Africans should have education first, freedom second. Nevaogugu suggested that the type of edu-cation offered makes a big dif-

Native Teachers Advocated

The type of education ad-ocated was the training of native teachers who would, in turn work to educate the rest of the ople.

It was the opinion of the group that the basis of the trouble in Africa and particularly in the Congo was that freedom was attained before the people were ready.

The remedy proposed for this situation was that the Congo might be put under a protectorate designated by the U.N.

This suggestion was ruled out because the people of the Congo would not be willing to give up their newly won freedom. It was decided that the people might accept the directorship of a com-mittee made up of African states-

These men would be chos from other nations in Africa such as Nigeria which had made a smoother transition from colony to independent nations.

The second item discussed was the statement "Africa for the Africans". It was suggested that this ultimatum was the impractical idea of some demigod poli-

African Racial Harmony Exists

Nevaogugu stated that racial harmony can and does exist in most sections of Africa. It was decided that what the Congo needed was a spirit of national-

The discussion suggested The discussion suggested a good system of general public education was set up to make the African people aware of what was going on, the demigod politician would be destroyed and a greater spirit of nationalism would exist.

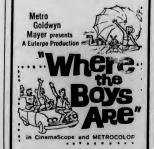

would exist.

The third problem discussed was the need for economic development in the Congo. This (Continued on page 5)

-Starts TONIGHT-

Feature- 7:00 & 9:00

CLUB DIRECTORY

AIR CADET SQUADRON

There will be a meeting of the A.C.S. at 8:00 p.m. in the Public Health Aud, Movies will be shown followed by refresh-ments.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB
A meeting will be held in Gunness Laboratory, room 10 on Wed., March 15, 7:45 p.m.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Evening vespers will be held in the Worcester Rm., SU. each the Worcester Rm., SU. each Wednesday at 6 p.in.

This year at last there will be Lenten services in the Commonwealth Rm., SU., Fridays at 7 a.m. until Easter. The services will be conducted this week by Mr. Berger, Episcopal.

COMMUTERS CLUB

There will be a meeting Thurs., March 16, 11 a.m. in the Nan-tucket Room of the S.U. All commuters are invited to attend.

EXPERIMENTAL THEATRE TRYOUTS

Tryouts for two one-act plays will be held Mon., Mar. 20, at 7:30 in E10 Machmer.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE

DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wedn day night at 7 p.m. in the S

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Banquet Sat., Mar. 18, at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Union. Elizabeth R. Crandall, Assoc. Elizabeth R. Crandall, Assoc. Prof. of Home Ec. at URI will speak on "The Changing Role of Women and It's Affect on Home Management." Tickets are $1.55 and can be obtained from Ellen Smith, Dwight.

MARKETING CLUB

Lecture: "Marketing House-wares in New England Through Manufacturer's Rep-resentatives" by Joe Donovan. manufacturer's representative, in the Middlesex Room, S.U. Thurs., March 16, 11 a.m.

OUTING CLUB

The club will hold its annual Sugaring-off Party and cook-out at Tyler Cabin, Mt. Toby Sun., Mar. 19, at 2 p.m. The cost will be 75¢. Advance sign-up is necessary for food ar-rangement. Care will be Skinner Parking Lot at 2 p.m. Sign-up in the SU.

SOPHOMORE BANQUET

COMMITTEE

Volunteers are still needed to sell tickets in the SU daily from 9-4 (Sat., 9-12). All those rom 9-4 (Sat., 9-12). All those willing to donate a few spare hours, please sign-up for specific times near the bulletin board to the right of the SU Lobby Counter, before the end of the week.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Meeting Thurs., Mar. 16, at 11 a.m. in the Plymouth Rm., SU. Plans for the Easter Egg Hunt and H.E.R. Weekend will be discussed

STATESMEN

Tryouts for the Statesmen will be held in the Hampshire Room, S.U., Wed., Mar. 15, 7

STUDENT ZIONIST ORGANIZATION

Sponsoring at Kumzits Wed., Mar. 15, at 7:30 in Rm. 108, Dickenson Hall. For more information contact Norma Wal-fron, 211 Knowlton.

Concert Band Will Present Annual Spring Performance

The University of Massachusetts Concert Band presents its annual Spring Concert this Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Bowker Auditorium. This is the second of a series of three concerts by the 60 piece band.

Doris Abramson is featured as narrator in the Kleinsinger music story Tubby the Tuba. Miss she story Tubby the Tubb. Miss Abramson, a graduate of UMass and of Smith College where she received her M.A. in 1951, is a member of the UMass faculty as a speech instructor. She has made many dramatic appearances and frequently has directed Roister Doister plays and Amherst Com-munity Opera productions.

Three Pieces for Brass, Piano, and Tympani by Elliott Schwartz will also be performed. Mr. Schwartz, a native of New York City, received his undergraduate education and earned his master's degree at Columbia University. He was appointed an instructor in music at UMass in September His Three Pieces was composed

Other selections played will be Military March by Beethoven, March 3 de Febrero by Roncal, and The Three Trumpeters by Agostini. Other light selections will round out the program.

The admission is 75¢ or a student ID. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

House Committee ...

(Continued from page 1)

shortsightedness" in his appropriation recommendation for the riation red university.

"The fact of the matter is that the cuts which this administration proposed to make in the original

WANTED

RIDE FOR TWO to FORT LAUDER-DALE and back Spring Vacation. Contact 118 Van Meter or 134 Baker.

Softballs and Softball Bats A. J. HASTINGS Inc. Newsdealer & Stationer

Amherst, Mass.

requests of the university would necessarily result in the scrap-ping of the increased enrollment program and the turning away of some 600 students next Septem-ber," Thompson said.

The committee recommended the university get an $11,256,300 appropriation. Toomey said that would finance 40 new teaching positions and other personnel needed to boost enrollment to 000 students.

He said it also will enable the university to keep its student-faculty ratio of 15-1. Volpe's proposal would have increased the ratio to 16-1.

ratio to 16-1.

Toomey said the committee recommendation was unanimous.

And Rep. Ralph Cartwright, (R-

And Rep. Ralph Cartwright, (R-Randolph), ranking minority member, said GOP committeemen "wholeheartedly approve of the action of the committee."

"We are united in our determination that there shall be no new taxes," he said. "Therefore, the bill we present is the maximum that can now be appropriated."

UMass Baseball Squad Gets Set For Southern Trip, Season Play

contests on a Southern swing fea-ture the UMass' 1961 varsity baseball schedule.

The Redmen will swing southward on March 31, playing their first game at Princeton. April wil find UMass engaging the University of Maine in a nonconference tilt also on the Prince on company After a day of presentation campus. ton campus. After a day of practice at the East Carolina College field in Greenville, N.C., the Redmen will travel to Camp Lejune where games will be played against Bowling Green, Southern Connecticut and Camp Lejune. The team will conclude the trip on April 8 with a game at Fort

The regular season will start April 13 with a home game against Trinity College. Ten Yan-kee Conference games feature the schedule with non-league games against Holy Cross, Boston Uni-versity, Springfield, Amherst, Tufts, American International, Tufts, American and Coast Guard.

Coach Earl Lorden, starting his 14th year as UMass baseball mentor, has a young and promis-ing team at his command. The d is composed of 12 mores, seven juniors and just five seniors. Capt. Paul Foley (Woburn) leads the returning just .226 last spring, but showed Jum signs of power with one double, three triples and two home runs, plus 9 runs batted in.

Other experienced veterans are senior pitchers Ed Connolly (Pittsfield) and Paul Wennik (Andover) who will shoulder most of the hurling chores; infielders Bob Roland (Nahant) and Frank Pisiawski (Holyaka). and Frank Pisiewski (Holyoke); and catcher Ted Osetek (Chico-field) (.452); Larry OBrien (Saugus) (.370); Pete Larkin (Bel-mont) and Tony Williams (Mil-ford); outfielders Bob Hughes (Belmont) (.342) and Bill Del-(Belmont) (.342) and Bill Del-Vecchio (Somerville) (.370); and catcher Dave Krukonis (Bridgewater). This group chalked up a 6-2 mark as a frosh team, with 6-2 mark as a frosh team, with the only defeats being a 12-in-ning loss to Holy Cross and a 10inning loss to Springfield, which they later avenged.

Coach Earl Lorden, in his fourteenth year as Head Base ball coach, will be getting his team into shape for a rigoro twenty-game schedule and an April trip to the southern scene.

YC Scoring

Heads Named,

Doug Fourth Tom Chappelle held his Yan-Con scoring crown this year with an average of 24.1. The leaders in Pts.

199 19.9

129 12.9

241 24.1

20.3 20.1

15.7

14.9 130 13.0

12.3 123 12,3

11.8 110 11.0

the final figures follow:

Benny Becton, UVM Larry Schiner, Me. Doug Grutchfield, UM

Tom Chappelle, Me.

Joe Hargen, UNH Charlie Lee, URI Kirk Leslie, UM

Barry Multer, URI Jim Rich, UNH Mike Mole, UM

Dave Ricereto, URI
Dale Comey, UConn
Don Sturgeon, Me.
Bob Bron, UNH
Mike Weiss, URI
Harry Zingg, UND

Harry Zinng, UVT Don Black, UM

Dave King, UConn Wayne Champeon, Me. Len Carlson, UConn

Strong Temple Team Downs Redmen Gymnasts 40½-55½

The UMass gymnasts, finish-The UMass gymnasts, Innshing their season Saturday afternoon, were outperformed by the high flying Owls from Temple Univ. The Owls, ranking fifth in the East, held the Jamesmen to a 40½-55½ score. Our score moved up six points from last year's total and is due to our fine show. tal and is due to our fine show-ing in both the rope climb and flying rings.

NICHOLS LEADS THE WAY

Rope climber, Ralph Nichols led the Redmen in a comeback bid in the first of the last three events, Nichols set a UMass record on his first climb with a time ord on his first climb with a time of 4.7 seconds. He had been trying to break Fred Peterson's record of 5.0 seconds, which he had tied at Springfield. He set the new record and showed that it wasn't a fluke by ascending in 4.9 seconds on his second climb. Jim Bitgood and Don Cleary tied for third place with climbs of 5.3 seconds.

Our bid ended on the "P" bars as the big Owl, Bob Smith, and his company swept the event.

Bruce McCracken did not com pete on the "P" bars for he bruised his elbow on a stoop through dismount from the high

BITGOOD TAKES FIRST

PLACE
However, we ended with a flourish on the rings. Jim Bitgood copped the first place and Charlie Paydos the second, while Dave Amundson flew in at fifth.

The 11 points scored by climbers and the 10½ scored the ringmen were the brights of the second trio bright events, and of the meet.

The following are the gymnasts; individual scoring totals for the season.

Meets: 1—Cortland State Teachers College—Here

2—Univ. of Southern Connecticut

3—Springfield College—There
4—Cortland State Teachers College—There

lege—1
-Temple	Un	iver	sit	y—'	Ther	e
Symnast	1	2	3	4	5	Tot
SENIORS
Bitgood	7	4	3	7	81/2	29 1/4
Cleary	7	4	3	6	21/2	16 1/4
Iagopian	4	3			- '"	7
UNIORS
Adam	4	6	1	3	2	16
mundson	0	5		2	1	8
Vichols	0	3	2	4	6	15
'aydos	9	91/2	8	12	5 1/2	44
OPHOMORE	S
Gorman	31/2	6	2	3	2	1614
AcCracken	91/2	13	6	3	2	4236
Aunson	7	31/2	0			111%
Vorris		2	0	1	1	4
Peloquin	2	1 2	2	0	2	7
loan	1	2		1	0	4
ates			4	12	7	23
'otals	53	63	29	62	401/2

Naiad's "Rich Man Poor Man" Seen As Success

With grace and precision, the Naiads last weekend presented a program beautifully varied in mood tempo. Using as their leap from the high diving board into the circle of swimmers benaiads portrayed various occupations through water movements.

The solemnity of religion was

The twenty-two junior naiads got the show off to a snappy start in a precision routine depicting soldiers

One of the highlights of the evening was an excellent per-formance by Toni McCune, Ruth Henderson, and Roberta Bernstein. Portraying painters, the girls went through their movements with grace and precision which made the performance an enthralling one for the audience.

Another outstanding performance was given by Maren Simonds and Maratha Derby in a striking representation of thieves. Highlighting the act were the dramatic opening and use of lighting for effect.

103 10.3 Comedy was also provided as the Naiads in red suits and flip-

The solemnity of religion beautifully enacted as the Naiads entered in total darkness carryentered in total cardles. Swiming can-lighted candles. Swiming can-lighted candles. Swiming can-lighted candles. ming to the strains of "Air on the G string", the gentle grace-ful movements of the swimmers portrayed the effect.

Using mathematics as a base, ten of the Naiads presented a beautifully executed number forming pyramids, figure eights, and other mathematical symbols that were delightful.

In a cute routine the Naiads gave us the changes in fashion throughout the years as they appeared in costumes ranging from the roaring twenties to the pres-ent day two-piece bathing suits.

In the finale precision was emphasized as the whole group assembled and performed with exactness. All in all it was a de-lightful program which combined lighting, music, and grace to give an excellent performance.

Near Perfect

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)-Michigan won 55 football games and lost only one from 1901 through 1905. The Wolverines' only defeat during that span was a 2-0 setback at the hands of Chicago in 1905

EUROPE-NEAR EAST-395

Special Conducted Student Tours

Meet us in Venice and tour the Mediterranean; sailing to Greek Islands, Rhodes, Cyprus and Israel. Includes guided tours, folk dancing, seminars, life on a kibbutz, etc., 27 days only $395 and up.

For All Your Travel Needs Call, Write or Visit Us Now ROYAL STUDENT TOURS (Div. of PATRA Inc.)
665 Fifth Ave., N.Y.C. • Tel.: PLaza 1-5540

Have you been looking for some unusual Domestic and Foreign Tobacco Blends, Pipes, Cigars, or Cigarettes? Augie can furnish you with some de-lightful aromas and the right pipes to enhance their taste. We also carry a full line of Foreign and Domestic Magazines.

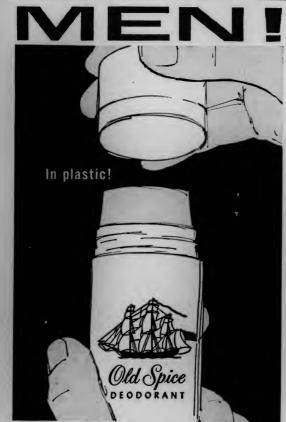

-SMOKER'S SPECIAL-

With the purchase of a $2.95 pipe you get: Free Choice of $2.02 Package of Tobacco and a Pipe Tool Bring this clipping with you to

LIZOTTE'S

76 MAIN STREET (Next to Nonotuck Savings Bank)

NORTHAMPTON

Here's deodorant protection YOU CAN TRUST

Old Spice Stick Deodorant ... fastest, neatest way to allday, every day protection! It's the active decodorant for active men...absolutely dependable. Glides on smoothly, speedily...dries in record time. Old Spice Stick Deodorant most convenient, most economical deodorant money can buy, 1.00 plus tax.

STICK DEODORANT

SHULTON

Proficiency Tests In Gym Scheduled For March 24, 25

Proficiency tests in Physical Education will be administered on Friday, March 24 and Saturday, March 25. This will be the last time these tests will be offered this semester.

A description of each test will be available on the Activity Bulletin Board in the Curry Hicks Gymnasium, and sign-up sheets will also be posted on the board, Registration for the outdoor unit of instruction will be on March 27 and 28, 1961.

If a student is able to pass the proficiency test in the activity he

Frosh Rifle Team Places Second In Conference

The UMass freshman rifle team shot a 1370 to take a second place in the Yankee Conference matches held here last week. The team was 20 points away from Vermont's winning 1390, while Rhode Island finished third.

The team, under the direction of Sergeant Richard Smith of the ROTC department, has been shooting for only a month, and chooses, he will be excused from a half-semester of gym. The student must choose a subject on which he has not received instruction at UMass.

Doug Wells was high man for the Redmen as he shot for a 284 out of a possible 300. He was followed by Mark Nataupsky (280), Harold Butterworth (274), Richard Levine (270) and Bruce Yelnek (262).

Wells also took the second place slot in the individual standings, while taking a fourth in the offhand shooting. Butterfield placed fifth in the latter.

Sergeant Smith testified to the progress and ability of the team, and predicted a first place for them in next year's match.

SPORTSENSE

HOWEL

Although it's rather apparent that winter hasn't departed from the UMass campus, it is a fact that winter sports at UMass are just about at an end. All that is left for Redmen squads is the N.C.A.A. gymnastic meet in Illinois which will take place next Saturday, and the UConn relays to be run at Storrs, also next Saturday. Saturday.

Both teams have performed well all season and should perform admirably at both events.

After these meets there will be nothing doing on Campus (sportswise) until after the April vacation. The teams will working out getting ready the sunshine sports up until that time if anyone would like to

by BEN GORDON '62, Sports Editor catch a glimpse of our prospects, catch a glimpse of our prospects, which look pretty good.

Backtracking on the basketball season, it might be noted that Doug Grutchfield now is the only player from Massachusetts to have made the All-YanCon first team twice, and is the only player in the conference to gain Allteam twice, and is the only player in the conference to gain All-Yancon fame three years running (Doug made the second team as a sophomore.) Watch for Maine's Skip Chappelle to out-do Grutch next year, though. Chappelle has made the first team two made the first team two years now, and he'll be a senior next year.

Tom retained his Yankee Con-Tom retained his Yankee Conference scoring crown with 241 points in 10 games for a 24.1 point-per-game average, and although it was eight points away from establishing a new Conference record (the standing one is held by Rhode Island's Tom Harrington who scored 248 two Harrington who scored 248 two Harrington who scored 248 two years ago), Chappelle set a new conference mark with 85 free throws, breaking Bill Pappas' record at UNH set seven years

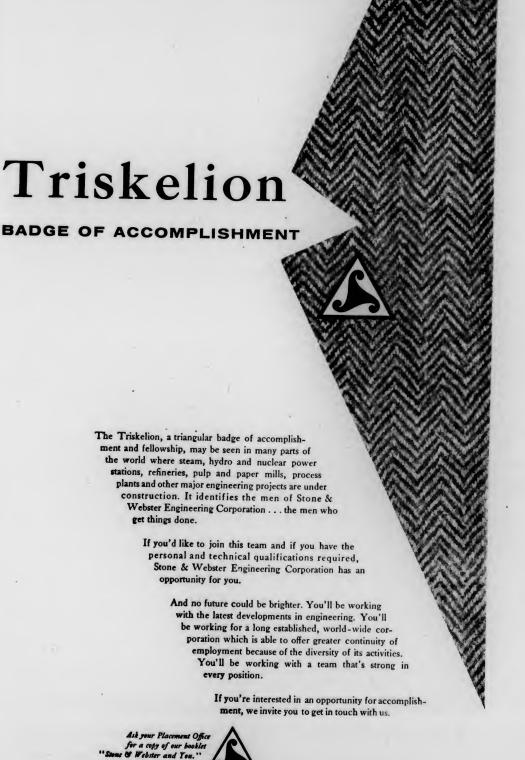

Coach Steve Kosakowski's hockey team unofficially took tep honors in the YanCon puck race with its 4-1 Conference card. with its 4-1 Conference card. Since only three of the six conference schools have sextets, this is only a "mythical" honor. Congratulations anyway. Steps. gratulations anyway, Steve.

Basketball is far from over in the Nation, as the NCAA and NIT games are about to get un-der way. (The NCAA games began last night).

As far as the NCAA goes, the only team to pick is, obviously, Ohio State, the best team in the Ohio State, the best team in the nation in most people's eyes. The Buckeyes have now won 28 games in a row by virtue of their defeating Michigan, twenty three of them this year. They've had easy sailing most of the way, excepting Iowa and St. Bonaventure.

The NIT is a different story, however, it being anyone's guess as to who will emerge the victor. UMass will be watching Providence as we'll probably be playing the Friars next season. The latter will play DePaul in the opening round, while Holy Cross takes on Detroit.

On a local note, pucksters Jim Ellingwood of Arlington and Bob Glew of Framingham have been elected co-captains of next season's ice team. Both played exceptionally well during the just-finished season.

RIDERS Round Trip to Florida call PHILIP GRANDCHAMP

AL 3-7608

STONE & WEBSTER ENGINEERING CORPORATION

Boston Chicago Pittsburgh San Francisco

Houston

Toronto

Fellowships Awarded To UMass Students

Shown receiving congratulations from University of Massachusetts President John W. Lederle are (l., to r.): William H. Oakland, Jr., 74 Maple Street, Chicopee Falls; James L. Izatt, '63 Britton Street, Fairview; Richard J. Landry, 23 Spring Street, Medford, winners of Woodrow Wilson Fellowships. The high naational award will permit each student to undertake graduate work in his special field,

LEARN TO FLY $3.80 Per Lesson

UMASS FLYING CLUB
Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays
2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

'Statesmen' To Audition Voices Tonite

The Statesmen, the all male UMass octet, announces tryouts and basses to for tenors and basses to take place tonight Wednesday, March 15 at 7 p.m. in the Hampshire Room of the S.U. These tryouts are for openings in the group to be filled immediately.

An ability to read music is de-An ability to read music is desired but not essential provided the individual is readily able to pick up music "by ear." A solo voice is not required, more important is the ability to blend with the group.

The repertoire of The States men ranges from the more mod-ern innovations of Fran Lovejoy to such standards as "Joshua," and "Coney Island," which are done in barbershop harmony.

T.V. appearances in Spring-eld and Boston are also credited to the Statesmen.

will sing at such places as the University of Maine, the Schine Inn in Springfield, and at HER

Speech Therapy Clinic Serves Dual Role

Joanne Hayland 62, student instructor is assisting this child in the speech therapy laboratory.

This June the first students will graduate from the Speech Therapy Division of the Speech Department.

Speech Therapy majors are enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences and receive a B.A. upon graduation.

Last fall, the Speech Therapy clinic at Bartlett Hall was opened. This clinic serves two purposes—trains therapy majors and treats patients with speech difficulties.

There are at present 70 patients who attend the daily clinics. Recently, UMass freshmen with speech difficulties have men with speech difficulties have also been enrolled in the clinic. Approximately eleven percent of the student body have found need for such aid. This percentage is comparable to the percentage of students in high schools with similar problems. This reflects the lack of therapists on the high school level.

Problems Studied
Many hearing and speech problems are dealt with in the clinic: articulation, cleft palate, cerebral palsy, stuttering, delayed speech, euphony, voice disorders, and hearing problems.

The clinical suite, located in Bartlett Hall, contains two of-fices, a reading lounge, a lobby, four small therapy rooms, and two small class rooms equipped for individual and group therapy. Equipment used includes tape recorders, record players, and group hearing aids.

The classrooms are partitioned

Winners Named In Recent Contest Held On Campus

Winners in the Lorillard con-test recently conducted here were announced Monday. In the fra-ternity division Lambda Chi won the color television. Sigma Kappa won the television in the sorority division.
Student prize winners were:

Edward Lyons, 343 Baker, a portable stereophonic recond player; Richard Bartlett, 83 Meadow Court, portable typewritter; John W. Block, 206 Adams, polaroid camera; and John Soraghan, 206 Butterfield, transistor clock-radio.

with a two-way mirror and a high fidelity inter-communication system to allow observation be-

Participate in Three Courses
The speech therapy students participate in three practice participate in three practice courses, Each student is respon-sible for a two hour period in the clinic. Demonstration and observation are offered in the intro-ductory course and individual therapy is emphasized. The student studies the same patient throughout the program. This also entails preparation of lesson plans and writing progress re-ports. During the program field trips are taken to other clinics in the state to observe other clinical techniques.

The speech department staff evaluates the students and patients matching the capacity of the student with the problem of the patient.

the patient.

Dr. Inez E. Hegerty, Assistant professor of Speech, emphasizes the necessity of liberal background in the training of therapy majors. She says "It isn't enough to know a technique."

Foreign Policy ...

(Continued from page 3) would probably entail foreign investment. It was mentioned at this point that before investment tould be encouraged, law and order must exist.

Africans Not Destitute
Nevaogugu suggested that a start toward economic expansion might be a federation of the western African countries but this federation might be difficult to maintain because of the lack of roads and other forms of com-munications.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: An Alpa Phi Omega pledge pin in the vicinity of the S.U. and Baker Dorm. If found please contact Jack Kooyoomjian, 239 Baker.
Lost: One black leather glove, white fur lined. Return to Bar-bara Lundgren, Thatcher. Lost: Black English notebook, taken from Commons Thursday evening, line 3. Please contact Leo Harootyan, 257 Hills South. Found: Gold ladies watch with expansion band, Goessmann near lab. 52, Friday 1:00 p.m. Pick up at S.U. lobby.

DIRTY?

FRATERNITIES & SORORITIES

Have your dirty clothes picked up Wednesday night and Saturday afternoon.

CAMPUS CLEANERS AGENT: KEN WAX '63

Decidedly not. In fact most executive jobs are on the ground. Of course, all officers may apply for pilot and navigator training if they meet the eligibility requirements. There will always be a need for piloted aircraft. And it is foreseeable that in your working lifetime, there will be piloted spacecraft—piloted and navigated by Air Force officers.

But right now, there is also a big future for college-trained Air Force officers on the ground. New and exciting technical jobs are opening up. Important ad-ministrative positions must be filled as World War II officers move into retirement.

How can you-a college student-become an Air Force officer? First, there's Air Force ROTC. Then for college graduates, men and women in certain fields, there is Officer Training School. The graduate of its three-month course wins a commission as a sec-ond lieutenant. Other ways are the Navigator Train-ing program, and the Air Force Academy.

Some benefits that go with being an Air Force officer. Starting salary plus allowances compare with the average in equivalent civilian jobs. Then there's free medical and dental care, thirty-day vacation, the chance to win graduate degrees at Air Force expense, and liberal retirement provisions.

No, Air Force officers do not need wings to move up. There's plenty doing on the ground. Perhaps you could be one of these young executives in blue. Ask your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write. Officer Career Information, Dept. SC13, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

U.S. Air Force

There's a place for professional achievement on the Aerospace Team

Budget

See page 2

VOL. XC NO. 58 5¢ PER COPY

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

Wednesday called for an 11-man study of legislation of Rep. Sumner Z. Kaplan, D-Brookline, for further fiscal autonomy at U-

Mass. The commission is to report the first Wednesday of next

Similar Legislation

also included in the study similar legislation for fiscal autonomy at

Lowell Technological Institute and a bill to give tenure to teachers at the university after three

The measure will go to the Joint Rules Committee which is expected to report the study favorably with considerable dispatch, because House Speaker John F. Thompson, D-Ludlow, has stated his support of baying

John F. Thompson, D-Ludlow, has stated his support of having a study made on the subject of greater fiscal independence.

In essence, the Kaplan bill pro-

The Committee on Education

January.

years of service.

FRIDAY, MARCH 17, 1961

Council Will Be Formed For Fine Arts Program

by DIANE TOVET '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

A meeting of the Student Senate Concert Adivsory Committee, has decided that a Fine Arts Council should be organized immediately to better centralize and unify the total action in the Fine Arts field.

There will be an equal number of voting students and faculty forming the Council with no more than two of the faculty from the Fine Arts Department and at least one Student Senate

Senate Steps Down

Much of the present authority that the Student Senate holds over such groups as the Concert Association, The University Band, and the Fine Arts Festival will be delegated to the Fine Arts Council to develop a "more programmed efficient and proprogrammed, efficient and pro-fessional attitude."

Yet, the Senate is in no way "forfeiting its responsibility to represent the students' interest or to safeguard the use of stu-dent funds."

Although the Council is to be entirely extra-curricular in nat-ure, this does not mean that student funds will be used to sup-port programs which are the responsibility of the University

Program Directed At Students

Although the benefits of a uni-fied Fine Arts program will be made available to the surrounding area, primarily it will be a program directed at the University Community.

Following Senate policy, yearly the total funds to be used by the Fine Arts Council will be allo-cated to it, but the Senate may also prohibit the use of funds for any reason. The senate member of the Council will relay information on Council policies and action periodically to alleviate the necessity of checking each expenditure through the Senate.

The framework of the new Council's budget will be built on the 1961-62 budgets of the Uni-versity Bands and Concert Association. In addition a sum in excess of what is now spent in other art areas, such as the Fine Arts Festival, Art Club, etc., will be allocated to the Council to further Fine Arts on the campus.

Council must request from Senate a sum to support the en-tire Fine Arts field, following tire Fine Arts field, either the Senate format, or some other. budgetory

Problems Solved in Constitution

ship, budget and Senate activity in the Fine Arts Council were discussed in the "Proposed Stu-dent Senate Policy on a Fine Arts Council."

At this point the Senate will step out of the Council's organ-ization and all its subsequent problems will be dealt with in its Constitution.

German Scholar Heller To Give 'Faust' Lecture

One of America's foremost scholars in the field of German litera-will give a public lecture on Goethe's "Faust" at UMass later

Prof. Erich Heller of the German department at Northwestern University will speak on "Faust—Damnation or Salvation?" Sponsored by the English and German-Russian departments at UMass, the talk will be given at 7:30 p.m., Friday, March 17, in the S.U. Ballroom. The public is invited to attend the lecture; there will be no admission charge.

will be no admission charge.

A leading essayist and critic. Prof. Heller is author of "The Escape from the Twentieth Century," a challenging book on German literature. A native of Czechoslovakia, the scholar left that country after the Nazis took over, and took up residence in England. After studying at Cambridge University, he became head of the German department at the University of Wales.

Prof. Heller achieved an international reputation after the publication, in 1952, of his book of essays entitled "The Disinherited Mind." After visits to this country as guest professor Harvard and at Brandeis, Prof. Heller took the post he now holds at Northwestern. His most recent book is a study of Thomas Mann called "The Ironic Ger-

Senate Plans Council Funds

In the future the Fine Arts

These main problems, member-

IFC. Helenes Announce April 10-15 Greek Week Interfraternity and Pan

Hellenic Councils have announced that the annual Greek Week will held the first week after spring vacation, April 10 through

The week will officially get underway Tuesday with a sorority mass exchange supper. Each sorority will welcome some one from each other house on cam-pus, with an eye toward better friendship and understanding.

Greek Banquet will be Wednesday night at 6 p.m. in the S.U.

budget approved as a lump sum by the Legislature. Now, the by the Legislature. Now, the University budget is subject to University budget is subject to item controls by the Legislature and its House Ways and Means Committee. Post audits would be continued of University activities by the State Auditor's office and explanations of all University spending would still be required before the legislative committee.

Legislature Will Begin Study

UMass Fiscal

Seen as Necessary

Proponents of the greater fis-al autonomy bill see it as necessary to enable university trustees to make transfers of money between funds in order to meet needs at the school. It is also believed the measure would make competition for hiring and retaining faculty members at the university less subject to administrative controls in Boston.

The fiscal autonomy bill, whatever version is recommended by the special study, may become a major issue at the 1962 election. It is expected that Speaker ill be looking to then. He has been Thompson will higher office an exceptionally strong support-er of the university in recent years. Without his efforts in the Legislature several university Legislature several university programs almost certainly would have met legislative burial. Only Tuesday, Thompson sharply attacked Gov. Volpe and his administration for "executive hostility or indifference," over the Volpe budget for the university.

House Ways and Means Committee added $415,000 to the fund for the university when it was protested the Volpe cuts went so deep that the planned 600 more students could not be admitted next fall to bring enrollment to

The study would be composed of three senators, five representatives and three appointees of the governor. It will be furnished with quarters in the State House and the other customary powers of recess commissions.

The guest speaker will be from the National Interfraternity

Friday evening will see the Greeks and their dates all dressed up for the Ball. Richard Maltby will provide the music. The Greek Week Queen will be crowned at intermining. Greeks crowned at intermission.

Saturday is the day of the Chariot Races, starting at 2 p.m., between Goessman and Memorial

The Week will come to an end Saturday night with theme par-

Dr. Moner Fellowship Recipient

Dr. John G. Moner, assistant professor of zoology at UMass, has been awarded a National Science Foundation Science Faculty Fellowship, it was announced to-day by President John W. Le-derle.

Selected On Ability

Selected On Ability
Science Faculty Fellows are selected on the basis of their demonstrated and potential ability as teachers of science. The purpose of the fellowship is to provide an opportunity for college or university teachers to enhance their effectiveness through hance their effectiveness through advanced study and research.

Presently Conductly Program

Dr. Moner, who is currently aducting a research program under a grant from the National Science Foundation, will be spending the one-year tenure of spending the one-year tenure of his Fellowship at the Biological Institute of the Carlsberg Foundaion in Copenhagen, Denmark, in the laboratory of Dr. Erik Zeuthen. Dr. Moner has recently been granted a sabbatical leave by UMass for this purpose.

Carlsberg Foundation is Center The Biological Institute of the Carlsberg Foundation is a center of outstanding work in cellular biology with particular emphasis on research dealing with the physiology of cell division. Dr. Moner will study the effect and physiological significance of va-rious factors such as nutrition and carbon dioxide concentration on cell division in the lower or-ganisms as well as the signi-ficance of cytoplasmic particles suspected of playing a role in cell wall formation.

Dr. Moner received his A.B. degree in 1949 from Johns Hop-(Continued on page 8)

Cigarette Package Contest Winners Announced

Contest Winners-Rear: Liz Murphy representing Sigma Kappa sorority, which won color TV. Front: Edward Lyons, stereo; Richard Bartlett, typewriter; John Block, Polaroid camera; John Soraghan, radio; and Dick Morton representing LCA fraternity, which won color TV.

Budget

An Expression Of Faith

The student body is no doubt aware of the budget situation in relation to our university. As we understand it, the budget was initially cut some three million dollars. Subsequently, some four hundred thousand was appropriated to secure a faculty increase of forty, this being necessitated by the entrance of six hundred additional students this fall.

Although we were disturbed by the initial slash, we have been encouraged by subsequent events. We are especially encouraged by the optimistic attitudes of many legislators as concerns the University. We realize that this is a state university and as such it is intimately related to the political and economic situations prevailing within the state. This is perhaps unfortunate. Yet, if we take this into consideration we realize that this is no time for idealistic pleas, but rather for objective analysis.

Although there may be some legislators who relegate a secondary status to public education, we would like to believe that the overwhelming attitude is one of sincere devotion to the principles of the public educational structure. While conflicts may arise among legislators in relation to this issue, we believe that these conflicts are necessarily manifestations of the extreme pressures brought about by difficult economic and political situations.

We are sure that many legislators are cognizant of the fact that an addition of forty to the faculty will barely rectify the situation in which we find ourselves. In addition, we realize that many legislators are aware of other pressing problems which we, as students, encounter daily. Yet, it is clear that we are moving forward.

President Kennedy has spoken of "new frontiers." Implicit in this phrase is the need to meet the challenges of the future. We feel that education, both public and private, constitutes a vital link in the future of our nation. We feel that the University of Massachusetts must symbolize the attitudes, the hopes and aspirations of the citizens of the Commonwealth.

We suggest that all who disagree with this should engage in honest introspection and re-evaluation. We stand true to the theme of our Centennial: "Toward higher learning more widely disseminated." Yet along with this wide dissemination, we must achieve educational standards consistent with high quality. We trust that the legislature will keep this in mind.

MP. E.S. A.B. B.G. R.W.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Executive Board

Donald D. Johnson '61 Co-Chairman
Al Berman '62 Co-Chairman
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Editorial Editor
James R. Reinhold '61 News Editor
Ben Gordon '62 Sports Editor
Larry Popple '63 Photography Editor
Michael Cohen '61 Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62 Advertising Manager

News Associate: Roger Cruff Assignment Editor: Joe Bradley '64

Copy:
Phyllis Trabach
Mary Roch
Editorial Associate:
Michael Palter

All unsigned editorials represent the official Collegian position. All signed editorials appearing in the editorial column do not, necessarily, reflect the opinion of the Editorial Board, and usually reflect only personal opinion.

Contemporary Jazz

By RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

The Paul Horn Quintet is one of the few original jazz groups working on the west coast. Paul reflected his stay with Chico Hamilton in the instrumentation—he blows alto sax, flute and clarinet . . . and the rest of the group includes vibraphone, piano, bass and drums. Three men in the group, including Horn, have been classically trained and have worked in various non-jazz orchestras as instrumentalists or writers. Therefore, it is somewhat surprising to hear these men fusing their intellects with the solid, driving jazz beat laid down by the rhythm section. Horn acknowledges Ravel as an influence . . . but there is something here of the "tabu" sound . . . the South Sea Islands. Ahmad Jamal's rhythmically-based trio creates a similiar mood, but this group does much more than accent rhythms.

The vibraphone and the flute are delicate instruments which require a light touch from the drums. The primary function of a drummer is to lay down a beat in a manner complementary to the melody instruments. Drummer, Billy Higgins, propels the quintet with driving, compulsive stick-work, yet does not mar the essentially fragile character of the front-line. Higgins is extremely tasteful—the hallmark of a good drummer—when he could easily blow off the back of a soloit's head with mis-placed crashes of thunder. Paul Horn blows a flute that is free of its long subjection to all the "high parts" as the fawn comes bounding out of the woods in some Walt Disney

A "mood of the islands" seems to penetrate all of the quintet's works. This is achieved mainly by the melodic approach . . . rather than having the rhythm section "go native." The "Tall Polynesian," in the tune of the same name, seems to me to be a woman—a lithe, smooth-brown native with dark eyes full of fun and love.

The album, "something Blue" by the Paul Horn Quintet (hifijazz album J615), is a real swinger—it makes you want to move your body. Even more, it integrates many known and many unknown musical experiences into an exciting new blend. Considering the musical training and experience of the arrangers and soloists for this group, I doubt very much that the end result was accidental. Where the older school of jazzmen unconsciously paid tribute to earlier forms of music, the modern jazzman consciously utilizes "foreign" musical experiences. He not only breaks the music into its technical components, but he seems to become infused with the emotional feelings that tie the "native and his drum" with the "jazzman and his horn."

The Ivory Tower

A recent issue of Time magazine had an article about a painter who smears his models with paint and lets them roll on the canvasses. There have been instances of artists trying to sell blank canvasses. Jackson Pollack, an excellent painter by the way, did some of his best work by just dripping paint randomly on a large canvas.

Apparently art has progressed to a stage where talent is no longer necessary. As a matter of fact, the way current fashions are, it may actually be a handicap.

Actually what most people consider modern art is abstract expressionism. This is only one of the many isms now in the current vernacular. There is impressionism and expressionism, both abstract and realistic. Cubism and pointillism are no longer practised except as a curiosity. Surrealism would not be important except that Salvador Dali insists that cabbages and rhinoceros horns are the essence of the universe. Dadism professes to be non-art. I tend to agree with this definition.

While anyone can now paint and claim, with some accuracy, that this work is as good as any professional artists, it is actually more difficult to go a good abstract painting than a realistic one.

There are realists painting now. Unfortunately, they usually are rather obscure. Maybe, their press agents aren't very good. Most people cannot name even one living realist. Probably the best is Andrew Wyeth.

The peculiar thing is that realists usually make more money on the average than other painters. Because of magazines, their demand has never been higher. Of course, if one paints for the mass trade, one is prostituting one's art.

Last year, Picasso had a travelling exhibition of something called "The Bathers". He had made six figures out of material he found in his studio. He used things like broom sticks, easels, frames, and bolts. He then cast this in bronze, arranged the figures on gravel, and set a price of $250,000.

I don't believe that he sold them, but that is immaterial. The question is what purpose did this have? Was it truly art, was it a joke perpetrated on the American public by Picasso, or did he just have an artistic lapse. We'll probably never know. However, I doubt very much if any other painter could have done this and gotten away with it.

We have reached this stage because of many reasons. A very important one is plain ignorance. If you don't understand what the terminology means you can't possibly criticize it. If you do, the artist and the critics will shout you down.

We have probably gone as far as we can with abstract expressionisms. It just is not producing any new ideas. We are going to turn to other forms of painting. We might even get something that looks like the title, and I don't mean Opus No. 695½.

Joe Cohen

LETTERS

The Peace Corps

To the Editor:

Mr. Halevy's note of caution concerning the Peace Corps is a welcome attitude, yet I think his indignation runs the wrong way. He mocks the idealism of the students who are willing to enlist, rather than the weakly conceived plan which the Administration is dangling as a bait. In Mr. Kennedy's attempts to recreate the élan of Roosevelt's New Deal, the Peace Corps comes to us as a latter day C.C.C. or W.P.A. You might say he has bowed to the young intellectuals by giving them a W.P.A. project from which they may derive a feeling of camaraderie, while they fail nobly. The idea of failure is inherent in the Peace Corps plan which came into being as a campaign platform issue, and which now exists merely as an assuagement of the Ugly American image.

What particular attribute qualifies Mr. Kennedy's brother-in-law as a builder of armies of Peace? Does the support of Harvard students testifly to the sensibleness of the Peace Corps charter as it now stands? The tentative plans say nothing about two basic things that will be of paramount importance when the Corps is in a foreign country: (1) will they wear a uniform (2) will they bear arms, or have any sort of military protection. Both these issues must be considered, for we can not say whether or not a militant group will find the Peace Corps an edifice worthy of being demonstrated against. The generation in power, from newspaper columnists to government officials, have stopped thinking and clutter the air with abstraction. The New York Times Magazine ran an article on the Peace Corps that was only pictures. The Administration talks about it and the Press talks about it; but nobody is thinking. We have been told that the Corps is not restricted to college students, but we haven't been told what the Corps is supposed to do.

This ill conceived plan bears no association to the haunting knowledge that children in Africa suffer with the swollen bellies of Kwashiorkor, that half the lands of the free world suffer the blight of ignorance. I, for one, think it would be a good thing if the American People were to have an organization by which they could, in part, distribute some surplus of material goods and put to use the energy of its will to help; but the amorphous structure of the Peace Corps is inadequate and insulting to my ideal. Let us be aware that these are the 1960's. Let us propose an organization that will rationally attempt to deal with but one of the horrible aspects of our modern world. If a corps of Americans trained to inoculate against disease were to go out into the world, limited to this one real and sound objective, and having the talent and energy of America mustered behind it, the dangers to be entailed would willingly be borne, and for me, it would be enough.

Charles Bacas

Rehabilitate?

To the Editor:

I wonder just how many of those who commit murder are ever rehabilitated. How many of them never commit murder again once they are allowed to re-enter society? The answer could be of some help in determining whether we should continue capital punishment or not.

If we are helping these men by locking them up behind walls of iron and steel for years, then perhaps capital punishment can be abolished. Perhaps they appreciate the kind benevolence of a society which has allowed them to keep their miserable lives. Or perhaps the proponents of abolition of the death penalty wish society to greet with open arms the man who commits premediated murder as well as the degenerate.

Let us suppose that we could successfully rehabilitate four out of five. What about that one we could not rehabilitate? Then we have saved the lives of four murderers and lost the lives of six innocent human beings, perhaps someday one of your family or mine. I don't know about your arithmetic, but mine tells me somehow this does not come out even. It looks to me as if man has lost more than he has

Mary Ann Walker '63

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Am herst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academi year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, of when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1934.

Subscription price

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass Member.—Associated Collegiate Press: Intercollegiate Press

Scan, Tacs., Thurs.—4:06 p.m.

Representatives Are Elected For Future Sorority Events

The installation of Alpha Chi's new officers was held last Monevening.

Three new committee heads have been appointed as follows; Scholarship Chairman, Joanne Hyland; Activities Chairman, Donna-Lee Bonner; and Publicity

Chairman, Rita Blake.

A good time was had by all the Alpha Chi Omega pledges at the Chi Omega tea held last Sun-

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Recent exchange suppers with Theta Chi and with Lamda Chi were enjoyed by all the Thetas.

Last Sunday, seventeen KAT pledges were formally presented to the campus. This presentation took place at a tea held at the Chapter House.

Priscilla Deane and Joanne Solitario will represent Theta in the annual cow-milking contest.

The new pledge class elected Rosemary Seward and Sue Klein as their President and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively. Tede Johnson, Alva Dearborn, Joan McNiffe and Kathy Ryan have recently joined the ranks as new Theta pledges. Theta pledges.

KAT will be represented at its District Convention at Syracuse University by Mary Jane Stack. Maura Driscoll, Nancy King, and Pat Valiton. Also, Ann Rubin is

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

KKG's new officers are: President: Carol Veno; Vice President: Jean Havey; House, Ellen Wilson; Assistant House: Carol Friat, Recording Secretary: Betty Lu-kow; Corresponding Secretary: Jackie Napolitano; Treasurer: Assistant House: Carol Friar: Jackie Napolitano; Treasurer: Rochelle Bates; Social Chairman:

Carol Graeber; Registrar: Diane Gernes; Key Correspondent: Judy Zaleski; Scholarship: Sue Sidney; Rush: Roz Zacher; Assistant Rush: Lana Canavan; Marshal: Jean Alden; Senior Panhell: Donna Pope; Junior Panhell: Betty

Also efficiency: Jean Bruen; Pledge Trainer: Sandy Russell; Assistant Pledge Trainer: Wendy Russell; Chaplain: Nancy Clark-son; Public Relations: Betsy Robicheau; Assistant Public Rela-tions: Judy Rajecki; Athletics: Joyce Larson; Activities: Barbie Sneider; Song Chairman: Elaine Chomyn.

New Pledge officers are President: Merilee Carlson; Vice President: Marie Creanza; Secretary: Jan Simonds and Treasurer: Judy Hanlon.

Kappa's basketball team, under the leadership of Joyce Larson, won the Sorority Championship. Jeannie Alden, Carol Veno, Carol Graeber, Sheela Fowler and Lana Canavan performed in Campus Varieties

Carol Graeber and Marty Adam Carol Graeoer and Marty Adain are Kappa's representatives to the Cow-milking Contest which will be held this Saturday.

KKG's Pledge Formal will be

KKG's Pledge Formal will be held at Wiggins Tavern Saturday exchange supper Alpha Sig was enjoyed by all and the supper with Theta Chi on the 15th was a great success.

PHI DELTA NU

PDN elected new officers last Monday. Those elected are: Presi-dent: Merrilee Atkins; Vice dent: Merrilee Atkins; dent: Merrilee Atkins; President: Marquita Secino; Recording Secretary: Mary K cording Secretary: Mary K. Heath; Corresponding Secretary: Carol Keirstead; Senior Treasurer: Sarah Jean Carpenter; Junior Treasurer: Ruth Perley; Social: Gretchen Cobb; Rushing: Bernice Conlon; Acting Chairman: Marney Whitney; Chaplain: Carolyn Zoia; PanHell: Carolyn

Zoia and Betsy Walker.
Other officers include: Scholarship: Nancy Flood; Alumni: Ship: Nancy Flood; Alumm: Priscilla Hynes; Historian: Irene Budrewicz; Expansion: Carol Fol-Assistant: Janet Hardy; ley, Assistant: Janet Hardy; Steward: Leslie Williams; House Manager: Nancy Flood, Assistant:

Madelyn Zuretti. Helen Hardick '62 was pledged Monday, February 27, and Betsy Walker '63 was initiated the same water 63 was initiated the same evening.

This Saturday the annual pledge formal will be held at the Schine Inn in Chicopee.
The girls recently enjoyed having Dr. William Ross as a dinner most.

Dorothy Buckman '61, was one of the three students who pre-sented a 4-H report to President Lederle last Monday as a part of national 4-H club week.

Mrs. Crandall Will Speak At Banquet

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Crandall, Associate Professor of Home Economics at U.R.I., will be the guest speaker at the annual Home Economics Club Banquet to be held Saturday, March 18, at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Union.
Mrs. Crandall will speak on "The Changing Role of Women and its Effect on Home Management." She is the co-author with Irma Gross of such books as "Management for Modern Fami."

"Management for Modern Fami-lies" and "Home Management in Theory and Practice"

Pinnings

rassment arising out of the false pinnings submitted to the Collegian by irresponsible individuals, the Collegian has adopted the the Collegian has adopted the following procedure to assure protection of personal reputations:

The Editors will personally confirm every pinning notice submitted by actual contact with one or another of the parties concerned. No notices will be printed without such confirmation and authorization, even if it means delaying publication of the notice.

The Collegian regrets the embarrassment caused to those dividuals falsely named in earlier

James Reinhold '61 News Editor

Karen Gieringer, Arnold, to Bob Francis, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Nancy Padden, Arnold, to Mike Howayeck, Phi Mu Delta.

College Girls Are Urged To Compete

A unique and exciting new contest is being sponsored by Lanz Original, with twenty-five prizes offered. First prize winner receives an all-expense-paid trip to Los Angeles for six weeks during the Summer vacation, with room, spending money and sight-seeing tours around the area. An opportunity to work at Lanz in seeing tours around the area. An opportunity to work at Lanz in Los Angeles in their sales prometion and advertising departments, a complete wardrobe including a party dress, daytime ensemble, Austrian cotton dress, Constewage outfit and cotton swimsportswear outfit and cotton swim suit and jacket. Second Prize winner will receive the same complete wardrobe, while third through twenty-fifth prizes are merchandise certificates valued up to $100.00.

Complete information and entry blanks are available at stores carrying Lanz fashions.

Coed Models Are Sought By Magazine

The August issue of Mademoi-selle is devoted entirely to the college student and only college students are used as models. The students are used as models. The magazine is now looking for coeds 5'5" to 5'9" in stocking foetoeds 5'5" to 5'9" in stocking feetowho are slim and photogenic. If you are going to be in or near New York before the end of April, plan to stop by the magazine's offices. Interviews will be held on Fridays or by appointment.

ment.

If you're interested and will not be in New York, just send a snapshot to Mademoiselle with your height and weight noted. Those interested may contact Barbara Smallwood, Mademoiselle Magazine, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

Summer Job Directory Is Available To Students

A directory listing summer jobs for college students is now available. This Summer Employment Directory contains the names and addresses of more than one thousand organizations, in locations throughout the United States, that are now seeking student help for this summer.

Jobs are available in resorts, Jobs are available in resorts, ranches, government, summer camps, hotels, business, industry, restaurants, state and national parks, amusement parks, hospitals, and other types of organizations. These employers represent literally thousands of summer jobs.

The names and addresses of employing officials, specific job openings, salary range, and in-formation on how to write an effective letter are given.

The Summer Employment Directory is available, in most colleges, in the office of the of-ficial in charge of student placement, the library, or the Dean's office. Also, a considerable number of public libraries now have a copy of this directory.

SCIENTIFIC DIRECTOR Dr. Rechnitzer and the U. S. Navy bathyscaph "Trieste" found out how deep the ocean is: 7 history-making miles.

Dr. Rechnitzer is a Camel smoker. He says, "I smoke Camels for one reason: taste . . . rich, satisfying taste I enjoy every time I light up."

The best tobacco makes the best smoke!

NOW! WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY EASY-TO-ERASE TYPEWRITER

Now we have a fine quality, famous brand easy-to-erase paper at the lowest price yet! It's Eagle-A Type-Erase, the popular paper for cleaner, faster typing and quick erasability. At the touch of a pencil eraser, typing errors "wipe" off the surface of Type-Erase, leaving no mark. Saves time...makes your work neater. Comes in a budget-priced pack of 100 sheets, 8½" x 11", in medium or heavy weight, plain or 3-hole punched. Free with every pack — a Letter Placement Guide to help you type neater letters and reports.

EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE

,.. the paper that erases perfectly with a pencil erase

Made by American Writing Paper Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., manufacturer of Eagle-A Boxed Typewriter Papers

THE UNIVERSITY STORE

Rise Stevens Meets With Students Following Concert

Rise Stevens, Metropolitan Opera singer, is pictured here as she appeared at the reception in the Colonial Lounge following her appearance Tuesday evening in the fifth concert of the Concert Association 1960-61 Series, Here, left to right, are: James Shomate, Miss Steven's accompanist; Miss Stevens; and Barbara Katziff '61, in charge of publicity for the Association.

Three Chosen For Service On Judiciary

Three men were chosen for Men's Judiciary last weekend.
Ed Hammond and Charles "Bill" Donovan, both '63, were selected from a field of sixteen candidates. Jerry Anderson '64 was chosen out of a group of aight freshwan endidates.

was chosen out of a group of eight freshman candidates.

Both Hammond and Anderson are veterans. Hammond is president of the Maroon Key and a member of Phi Sigma Kappa.

Donovan is a member of Sigma Phi Ensilon and Anderson is a Phi Epsilon and Anderson is a Theta Chi pledge.

The new additions to Men's Judiciary were chosen by members of the judiciary and of the senate.

Chief Justice Mike Kleinerman '61 stated, "I am quite pleased with these three men, and I expect big things from them in the future. The responsibility is great and I feel they are more than qualified to meet it."

Nearly eight hours each day

more than qualified to meet it."

Nearly eight hours each day
was devoted to making these se-

Un-American Committee Is Debated At Amherst

Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Johnson Chapel at Amherst College as the climax of a series of meetings on this subject. Before the debate, the controversial film "Operation Abolition," of which Mr. Lewis Abolition," of which Mr. Lewis is the narrator, will be shown.

The series will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, March 17, in Mead Auditorium when a recording, including sound tapes taken on the scene of the San Francisco "riots" last year, will be played. The record has been produced, by Fulton Lewis III, formely of the staff of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and William P. Homans Jr., who has served as counsel to witnesses before the Un-American Committee, will debate the merits and evils of the Committee next Monday at 7:30 nm in Lohresses. prove that they were not as charged by J. Edgar Hoover, "Communist dupes." These charges are reiterated by "Operation Abolition," and people attending both meetings will find many contradictions. These questions, and many others, will be discussed after the movie. Mr. Lewis has promised to stay as long as there is interest.

Homans has gained experience in this field through his work with the Civil Liberties Union of Both programs are sponsored by the chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action at Am-herst College.

State 4-H Club Activities Report Presented To UM

Presenting a pictorial report of Bay State 4-H activities to President John W. Lederle are (left to right) John Riesen '63, Dorothy Buckman '61, Judith Williams '62, and Lloyd H. Davis, associate director of the Extension Service.

A pictorial report on the 1960 activities of Massachusetts' 12,000 4-H club members brings smiles to the faces of club members and UMass officials alike at a special presentation ceremony Monday in connection with Na-tional 4-H Club Week, March special presentation ceremony onday in connection with Naonal 4-H Club Week, March 11.

4-H activities was presented to Pres. John W. Lederle, left, by a trio of university students representing the University 4-H club and club members in the state.

A pictorial report of Bay State

Following the presentation of the report, the 4-H flag was raised on the flagpole in front of South College to fly during National 4-H Club Week.

'Gravity And Magnetics' Is Geology Lecture Subject

A lecture entitled "Gravity and Magnetics for Geologists and Seismologists" will be given at UMass by Dr. Lewis L. Nettleton of the Association of Petroleum Texas.

Research and Development Company. Since 1946 he has been a partner in the Gravity Meter Explorition Company of Houston, Texas. Geologists.

The talk, sponsored by the department of geology, will be given at 8 p.m. tonight in the auditorium of the Justin Morrill Science Centers. All interested persons are invited to attend. persons are invited to accent Coffee will be served after the

Dr. Nettleton, a native of Idaho, received his Ph.D. in physics at the University of Wisconsin in 1923 and for many years was a geophysicist with the Gulf

Long credited with the skillful use of gravity and magnetic methods for locating oil-bearing rocks, the visitor is also an au-thoritry on the formation of an-cient salt domes in the Gulf Coast states.

His "Geophysical Prospecting for Oil," published in 1940, has been used as a textbook in many colleges. He is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Advancement of Science, the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, the American Physical Society, the American Geophysical Union, and has been a member of the Society of Exploration Geophysicists since 1936, serving as editor, vice president, and president, as well as on many committee assignments.

NOTICE

Primary elections for Women's Judiciary will be held Monday, March 20, in the Student Union Lobby from 9:00

This king wrote the book on flavor. Every satisfying puff is Air-Softened to enrich the flavor and make it mild. Special porous paper lets you draw fresh air into the full king length of top-tobacco, straight Grade-A all the way.

Join the swing to

CHESTERFIELD KING

CLUB DIRECTORY

ASTRONOMY CLUB

Tues., Mar. 21, at 8 p.m. in the Barnstable Rm., SU. Guest speaker, Slides. Anyone interested may attend.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Informal meeting Sun., Mar. 19, at 6 p.m. at 768 N. Pleasant

DAMES CLUB BAKE SALE

Bakery Sale for the scholar-ship fund, Friday, March 23, 9 a.m.-3 p.m. in S.U. lobby.

EXPERIMENTAL THEATRE TRYOUTS

Tryouts for two one-act plays will be held Mon., Mar. 20, at 7:30 in E10 Machmer.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

Delicatessen supper Sun., Mar. 19, at 5:30 p.m. in the Commonwealth Rm, SU. Dr. Louis Price of the psychology dept. will speak on "Self Hatred among Jews." Admission: 50¢ members; $1, non-members.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Banquet Sat., Mar. 18, at 12:30 p.m. in the Student Union. Elizabeth R. Crandall, Assoc. Prof. of Home Ec. at URI will speak on "The Changing Role of Women and Its Affect on Home Management." Tickets are $1.55 and can be obtained from Ellen Smith, Dwight.

OUTING CLUB

DUTING CLUB
The club will hold its annual Sugaring-off Party and cookout at Tyler Cabin, Mt. Toby Sunday, Mar. 19, at 2 p.m. The cost will be 75¢. Advance signup is necessary for food ararangement. Cars will leave Skinner Parking Lot at 2 p.m.
Sign-up in the SU.
OPHOMORE BANQUET

SOPHOMORE BANQUET COMMITTEE

Volunteers are still needed to sell tickets in the SU daily from 9-4 (Sat., 9-12). All those willing to donate a few spare hours, please sign-up for specific times near the bulletin board to the right of the SU Lobby Counter, before the end of the week.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: Two Italian 6 textbooks Bartlett 208 last week. If found, please return to Joan Campatelli, Mary Lyon Dorm.

Lost: One brown leather purse. Contents—glasses, change purse, ink pen. If found, please contact Carole Grant, 302 Johnson.

SchoefflerTo Speak About Price-Fixing

On Monday, March 20, at 8 p.m. in the Middlesex Room, General Electric economist Sydney Schoeffler will deliver a talk concerning the possible dichotomy between the free economy and rapid progress.

Professor Schoeffler, Professor of Economics at UMass., will spe-cifically direct his comments to-ward the recent disclosures of the coordination between the leaders of the electrical industry in contract bidding and price-fixing.

This will be the first in a series of lectures sponsored by the new-ly organized University Economics Association, the goals of which will be to explore the eco-nomic factors involved in today's rapid society.

The Association cordially invites the public to attend these lectures, and extends a special invitation to those whose inter-ests concern the future of America and wish to participate in a program of investigation and understanding.

HAPPY ST. PATRICK'S DAY

'Legendary Facts' Explained For Spirit Of Irish Holiday

Get out the green, speak with a brogue, it's March 17, the day nonoring Ireland's beloved patron

If you're not yet in the spirit of the day by the time you read this, here are some facts and legends to offer incentive to spirit.

It is a "legendary fact" that St. Partick rid the Emerald Isle of snakes. It is also common knowledge that if you follow a leprechaun, he'll lead you to a pot of gold.

The shillelagh or Irish black-horn walking stick, is often re-fened to as the "Irish Persua-

This may come as a shock to some. Irish whisky cannot be purchased in Ireland except at Shannon's duty free airport. Irish whisky is exported.

On the same line, taverns On the same line, taverns or "pubs" are not open in Ireland March 17, a holiday and a holy-day. The harp was the symbol of the 1916 Easter Week Uprising.

The "Wearing of the Green" was once forbidden by the British in subjugated Ireland. Another shocking item: the Irish potato is not native to Ireland. The potato came originally from South America.

Irish president, Eamon de Valera was born in New York City in 1882. His dual citizenship once saved de Valera from execu-ción before a British firing tion

The classic "factual legend" is one which no true Irishman will deny. If Ireland should sink into the Irish Sea, County Cork will

Dr. Rogers Is Featured At Conference

Dr. Vincent Rogers, associate professor of education at UMass, was a major participant in the national conference of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, a division of the National Education Asso-

Held in Chicago, the four-day conference, which ended Wednesday, considered the main topic, "Pressures for Change and New Directions in Elementary Education." Dr. Rogers, a discussion leader during each day of the conference, submitted a report at the last session in which he indicated the kinds of research needed to resolve problems in elementary education.

A member of the University staff since 1957, Dr. Rogers served previously as a teacher and principal in elementary schools. A graduate of Cornell University, he was awarded his doctorate of education by Syracuse University. He is a member of several professional societies.

Intramural Debates Open With Eight Teams Competing

The first round of the Intra-mural Debates was held Tuesday March 14, in Bartlett Hall. These debates will be held on every Tuesday night for the rest of March and into the middle of April.

The debate topics are of a legal nature and are handed out to the debaters a half-hour before the debates begin. The debate itself consists of two six-minute contruction speeches and one three-minute rebuttal by both teams. Two losses by a team consti-tutes elimination from further competition.

The teams that debated Tuesan represented sororities, fra-ternities, dormitories, and inde-pendents. Paul Daubitz and Neil Cullinan, independents, won the first debate against Joyce Parent and Barbara Drake of Phi Delta Mu.

The other debaters were: Jack Downey and Joseph Kailec representing Butterfield won over William Shaevel and Barry Ravech of A.E.Pi; Michael Hench and John Madden representing Hills House won over Janice Hill and Malcolm Sarna, independents; and Steve Jenkens and Joseph Jones representing Van Meter won over Richard Sibley and Michael Rosebury of Butterfield.

"I DON'T THINK THERE'S ANY END TO THE OPPORTUNITY IN THIS BUSINESS"

When Gene Segin got his B.S. in Business Administration at the University of Illinois, he was in touch with 8 prospective employers.

Gene joined Illinois Bell Telephone Company because: "The people I talked to here made it very clear that I would not be shuffled into some narrow specialized job. I thought this job offered the greatest opportunity for broad experience."

On his first assignment Gene was sent to Springfield where he conducted courses in human relations for management people.

His next move was to a traffic operations job in Rock Island. On this assignment he was in charge of all personnel who are directly responsible for handling telephone calls in this heavily populated area. Here Gene earned a reputation for sound judgment and skill in working with people. He was promoted to Traffic Supervisor.

Today, Gene's chief responsibilities are in management training and development, and companyunion relations. The latter includes contract bargaining and helping settle labor disputes.

How does Gene feel about his job? "It's a real challenge. I'm in some of the most vital and interesting work in the country." And about the future-"Well there aren't any pushover jobs around here. It's tough. But if a man has what it takes, I don't think there's any end to the opportunity in this business."

If you're looking for a job with no ceiling on it-a job where you're limited only by how much responsibility you can take and how well you can handle it—then you'll want to visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information on the Bell Companies.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."

> Frederick R. Kappel, President American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

Winning Season Gives Puck Team Mythical Crown

by DAVE WILLARD '64

Although the skates have been unlaced for the last time let's scrape the ice just once more in review of this past season. The Redmen, under the guidance of coach Steve Kosakowski, finished coach Steve Kosakowski, finished the most successful season of any UMass hockey club for at least five years, with a 7-6-1 slate. As a matter of fact it represents the winning season for a UMass winning season for a UMass team over the same duration of time.

The boys started off the campaign on the right foot with a decisive vitcory over AIC. After losing two in a row including one

BILLY RYAN

Bill has played a great game hockey for the UMass team for three years now, and his presence both on offense and defense will be missed by team and fans alike.

Scholar dollars travel farther with SHERATON HOTELS

STUDENT-FACULTY DISCOUNTS

Save on the going prices of going places at Sheraton Hotels. Special save-money rates on singles and greater savings per person when you share a room with one, two or three friends. Generous group rates arranged for athletic teams, clubs and college clans on-the-go. For rates, reservations or further information, get in touch with:

MR. PAT GREEN
College Relations Dept.
Sheraton Corporation
470 Atlantic Avenue
Boston 10, Mass.

to powerful Williams, the club started a three game win streak with a decision over arch-rival Amherst. Over the next seven games the team lost four, won two and tied one.

Then came the climactic finale with Amherst, a game that turned out to be the most rewarding in every aspect as far as the Redmen are concerned. This was certainly poetic justice, capping a successful season with a brilliant performance against Amherst.

The team, with its 4-1 record against Yankee Conference schools won the mythical Confer-schools won the mytincal Conference Championship, adding glory to their triumphant year.

Perhaps we should take a look at this year's squad individually, taking it apart to find out what made it tick.

First of all from the departing

First of all from the departing seniors the hardest position to fill next year will be that of goalie, so ably handled by Bobo Roland in the past. Certainly the best netminder seen by the Red-men, it would not be an over-men, it would not be an over-statement to rank him as one of the best in the East.

Billy Ryan, another stalwart, has donned the UMass uniform for the last time. His worth to the team is almost immeasurable, as he is an expert stick-handler, sharp-shooting forward, and a steady defensemen. Many times this flashy, red-headed crowd-pleaser streaked up the ice on rushes which he capped with a

Tom Taylor, playing up front, could always be counted upon to give his all in every game. A steady performer, Tom's presence in the line-up was always felt.

One of the most underrated players is Warren Bassett, "Mr. Consistency" himself, when Bassett was taking his regular turn on defense it was almost like having another goalie out there. Seldom did an opposing player Seldom did an opposing player get by, around, or through War-ren, for although he isn't excep-tionally big, he held his ground and covered his position almost flawlessly.

THE 1960-61 UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS VARSITY OF HOCKEY SQUAD Kneeling (left to right): Captain Roland, Clinton, Stevens, Ellingwood, Taylor, Donovan, and Cesario, Standing: Gilliat, Kennedy, Bracci, Chretian, Glew, Ryan and Coach Kosakowski.

Needless to say, all these afore mentioned players will be sorely

COACH STEVE KOSAKOWSKI

A successful hockey season in the bag, Coach Kosakowski will be looking forward to an equally fruitful tennis team.

LEARN TO FLY

$3.80 Per Lesson

UMASS FLYING CLUB
Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays
2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

missed next year and their important contributions will be re-

Looking ahead to next year the Looking ahead to next year and future is very promising. Returning are co-captains Bob Glew and Jim Ellingwood. The high scoring Glew figured in many of the team's earlier victories with scoring Glew figured in many of the team's earlier victories with two and three goals a game. El-lingwood wound up with nine as-sists, tops on the club. This alone points out his value in scrapping for the puck to set his teammates up. He can also score when the occasion arises, as his six goals can attest.

Art Stevens, another junior, Art Stevens, another junior, was the top goal getter with twelve. This tough veteran can look good against the best of them as he is always in the action. Wherever Art is, the puck can't be far-away. Frank Cesario, reserve goalie, is the possible successor to Roland. Ed Forbush, big defenseman, seems to have big defenseman, seems to have picked up a lot of experience this year and his steady improve-ment will be needed next year.

ment will be needed next year,
A sophomore this year, defenseman Jerry Clinton looked good, especially in the earlier part of the season and should pair with Forbush to form a tough duo. Another sophomore,
Frank Gilliat, was perhaps the most improved player by the end of this season. Looking better with each game, he used the ex-perience and knowledge he picked up to good advantage at his cen r position.

Other returnees for next year that expect to see more action are Pete Bracci, Dave Kennedy, and Charlie Donovan.

Freshmen that are expected to bolster next year's squad include Al Johnson, Dick Phillips, Bob Lee, John Burgess, and Jack Healy.

BOB ROLAND

Having captained the puck-men to their best season in many a year, Bob, who will be seeing action on the baseball field this spring, has completed his college hockey days with the "job-well-done" feeling. Bob and his pretty wife Mary Lou will soon be parents.

No write-up on the hockey team could be complete without the mention of Coach Kosakowski. This voluble coach molded a group of varying talents together to form a successful unit. Some-times short of manpower he usually managed to come up with the right combination. "Kos" as he is affectionately called by his proteges, creates quite a figure at a game. Bundled up as if pre-pared for an Artic safari, baseball or golf cap askew, size 20 boots flapping with every step, Coach Kosakowski is continuously active on the sidelines. His big, bass voice can be heard all over the rink, providing advice and encouragement to his players and sometimes h

This year, Coach Kosakowski and his team, with their per-formance made the campus sit up and take notice; next year, if the goalie position can be filled adequately, the club could very easily take a much deserved higher position on the UMass sports scene.

C 1961, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY. COCA-COLA AND COKE ARE REGISTERED TRADEMARKS

OPEN WIDE and SAY A-H-H-H! Get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

UMass Trackmen Set Sights On UConn Indoor Relays, Sat.

UMass track coach Bill Footrick has entered a full squad in the fifth annual University of Connecticut Indoor Relay Meet at Storrs this Saturday, A total of 250 athletes from 17 schools will provide top-notch competition from all parts of New England in a full program of both team and individual contests.

In this meet, careful juggling of contestants in the 14 events can result in a better team score. Coach Footrick has decided to concentrate on the medley relays, since each of the four men runs a different distance and his top men are distributed among sev-eral events. In regular relays, each of the four men runs an by ABE SHEINKER '62 equal distance, meaning that a team must have four good men in one event for the best combination of runners.

Time trials are being conducted this week to determine who will run each leg of the relay events. Co-captain Joe LaMarre will run off against Bob Avery for the lead-off half-mile leg of the dis-tance medley relay. Jack Har-rington has nailed down the quarter-mile leg with a personal best of 53 seconds flat, and sophomore stars Ken O'Brien and Dave Balch are slated for the three-quarter mile and one mile s, respectively. LaMarre and O'Briend hit personal half-mile bests of 1:59 and 1:56, respectively, on their way to their top 1000-yard performances in parison, only one UMass runner has broken the two-minute mark in the past three years, and that was outdoors where times are always faster.

The sprint medley will be the Redmen's other top event. The lead-off quarter-mile spot is still a toss-up as is the half-mile anchor post, but flashy sprinter Loren Flagg has clinched one of the 200-yand middle better the 200-yard middle berths.
Those runners who do not qualify for the medley relays will make up the teams entered in the regular mile and two-mile relay

Going to the individual conweight. Pole-vaulters Lee Mun-son and Dick Brown, broad-jumpers Al Garsys, Flagg, Reilly, and Lucey, and high-jumpers Joe Cassidy, LaPier, and Garsys Cassidy, LaPier, as round out the entries.

All-around star Dick Ward will miss the meet because of a class field trip.

Sunday, March 19, 5:30 p.m. Speaker: DR. LOUIS PRICE "SELF-HATRED AMONG JEWS"

Commonwealth Room

50¢ Members

F. H. Thompson

NORTH PLEASANT STREET - AMHERST

$1.00 Non-members

Potpourri Pro

With the big heavyweight championship fight now over here's an interesting set of satistics. There were requests for press space for 900 papers in 47 states and 16 nations . . . While on the subject of heavyweight fights this past one still didn't reach the magnitude of the two great Dempsey-Tunney battles. Their first bout was in September of the year 1926, On a wet, miserable night, boxing's largest ber of the year 1926. On a wet, miserable night, boxing's largest crowd in history turned out, A total of 120,757 people paid $1.893,733. The second match, a year later, the attendance dropped to 104,943 but the gate jumped to another record $2,658,666. Tunney, the Champion picked up a check for a cool million dollars, the largest "payoff" in boxing history. And that was before television came along to swell the receipts. There will probably never be another fight to match either of these two.

Little things mean a lot, at to match either of these two.

Little things mean a lot, at least they do to Arnold Palmer, Pro Golfer of the Year last year. His fortunes riding on the course of a little golf ball he earned a record $80,738, almost as much as Ike made. To show you how fast things can change in this fast things can change in this unpredicatable sport, in his first torous twelve on a par four hole. That's the way the little ball

The new Washington Senators The new Washington Senators roster is heavily dotted with former Red Sox players. Willie Tasby, Billy Hoeft, Marty Keogh, Dave Sisler, Pete Daley, Billy Klaus, and Tom Sturdivant. This means that the Senators should have a championship team if past performances of other Red Sox castoffs mean anything. We are referring to Frank Bauman. referring to Frank Bauman, Charley Maxwell, Albie Pearson and most memorable of all Babo Ruth, among others.

Now that George Wiess is President of the new New York club in the National League speculation has it that Leo Durocher will be his manager. What a triumvirate it would make if Casey Stengel became General Manager-the rest of the baseball world would really have to look out then . . . According to Pally out then . . . According to Ralph Houk Yogi Berra is going to see FROSH TENNIS MEETING There will be a meeting of all members of the freshman tennis team, and all frosh interested in playing on Wednesday, March 22 in Room 10 of the Curry Hicks Cage at 5:00 p.m.

ope and METROCOLOR

STARTS SUNDAY_

5 Academy Award Nominations . . .

'The SUNDOWNERS'

Byron Nelson was one of the Byron Nelson was one of the few men who ever got everything he wanted. The leading golfer of the early 1940's won every major championship he ever went after. He won the U.S. Open in 1939; the PGA in 1940 and 1945; the Masters in 1937 and 1942. To top it all off he set a record by finishing in the money in 113 consecutive tournaments.

Statistics don't lie but here's hoping they do for the new Los Angeles and Washington franchises. If the figures hold up these two clubs could be in for a rough year. The combined records of the players on the Angels in the National League show a total of 62 homers. The pitching staff sports a losing record of 32-52. They'll have to go some to beat the Pirates with that kind of a performance. Over in the American League the new Senators combined for a total of 37 Statistics don't lie but here's American League the new Sena-tors combined for a total of 37 homers, less than Mickey Mantle hit himself, and the pitchers turned in a 47-36 record. There it is, good luck boys, you'll need it.

The Pacific Coast League has The Pacific Coast League has finally adopted, on a trial basis, the rule which would allow the substitution of a pinch hitter without removing the pitcher from the game. If accepted in the majors just think how much longer guys like Yogi Berra, Pete Runnells, Vic Wertz, Smokey Burgess, Gene Woodling and other hitting greats could remain r hitting greats could reon the scene. This action hardly seems likely however, especially since the new expansion.

Don Newcombe, the welltraveled fire-balling right hander traveled fire-balling right hander is getting another chance with the club he originally starred for. The Dodgers have signed him in hopes that he can regain some of the speed and form that made him one of the most feered and the speed and form that made him one of the most feared and respected pitchers in the National League a few years back. Here's more proof that old baseball players never die, they just become managers. Enos just become managers. Enos Slaughter, the "Old Warhorse" Slaughter, the "Old warnorse recently signed a contract to manage the Raleigh Caps in Class B Carolina Baseball League. He says he will play on a nimited basis. Some people just a fimited basis. Some people just don't know when to quit.

No doubt managers have heard some imaginative excuses from late arrivals to spring training camp, but Al Lopez of the White Sox received one that has to rate at the top of the list. When queried by manager Lopez as too why he hadn't reported with the other batterymen, tardy pitcher Juan Pizarro promptly replied, 'I was working on my income tax."

D. W.

PROFICIENCY TESTS

PROFICIENCY TESTS
Proficiency tests in Physical Education will be administered on Friday, March 24 and 25,
This will be the last times these tests will be offered this semester.

Please read the Activity
Bulletin Board in the Gym for a description of each test.
Sign up sheets will also be posted on the board.

Registration for the outdoor of instruction will be o March 27, 28.

Contract Bridge

by BOB WEBER '64

RTh

8
A Q 7
A Q J

5 A K Q J 6 5
EAST
S Q 9 5 3
H K 10 6
D K 9 5
10 4 2 NORTH (D) WEST A 10 6 J 8 4 10 7 3 2 8 7 3 K J 7 4 2 9 5 3 2 D 8 6 4

None Vul. Dealer: North West Pass North East South 2 N 3 S Pass Pass N All Pass Opening Lead: D-2

contract Bridge, the opening bid of two in a suit is the strongest bid in our system and forces the partnership to a game contract. North's hand has 25 points in it and contains a good six card suit. South's two no trump bid is not a desire to play in no trump but just tells North that he has less than seven points and not to go to slam unless he has more than a minimum two-bid. After North rebids his good suit, South bids what might be considered a fairly good five carder. North now places the con-tract at three no trump.

West lead the two of diamonds and Declarer decided to win the trick with the ace. He then ran his six good clubs. On the last three club tricks, declarer discarded three hearts. East threw a heart and two spades and West pitched three diamonds. The D-J was lead from dummy and East won the trick with his king. East reasoned that South could not have both the ace and king be-cause this would give him at least seven points and he would not have bid two no trump. Rather than playing a heart, he laid down the S-Q. Declarer played the K and West won the trick with his A. He lead the S-10 and it was all over. Declarer took six clubs, two diamonds, a heart and a spade, making an overtrick.

R.U.R. Cast Changes Announced

Henry B. Peirce, Director of the Roister Doisters' spring pro-duction, Karel Capek's "R.U.R.", has announced several changes in the cast.

The new members of the cast and their parts are: Dr. Gall, David Goldstein; Fabry, Ivan Terzieff; Hallemeier, Robert Mastrodmenico; Marius, Michael Nault; Consul Busman, Mike Hench; Robot No. 1, Richard Levine.

A work party Saturday in Bowker Auditorium at 1:00. Sets now on stage from previous shows will be struck, and new sets for "R.U.R." will be started. All members of Roister Doisters' stage crews and any other interested persons are urged to attend. An enjoyable afternoon is promised.

Govt. Class Hears Talk By Vignault

Dave Vignault, newly elected representative and a sophomore at UMass, recently addressed a government class here on "The Legislative Process."

Vignault, 24-year-old veteran, was elected in November on his first try to the General Court as a representative from the Eighth Hampden district.

He addressed the class on his impressions of the General Court, concluding the discussion with a question and answer period.

The youthful politican said that he was "pleased to return to the University of Mass." He also said that he feels the Com-monwealth and the Nation are in need of political talent.

Vignault hopes to continue his studies during the fall semesters.

Prof. George Goodwin of the Government Dept., a former instructor of Vignaults, conducts the class.

Dr. Moner ...

(Continued from page 1)

(Continued from page 1)
kins University and his Ph.D.
degree in 1953 from Princeton University. Following a tour of duty with the armed services, he was appointed to the University faculty in 1955. Dr. and Mrs.
Moner and their two sons,
Christopher and Curtis, will sail for Copenhagen from New York on July 14, on the liner Kungsholm.

THE UMASS INTERROGATOR-

A Campus Opinion Poll by DORIS RERRY '64

The predicted increase in en-rollment for the year 61-62 necessitates changes in the present housing situation. In order to accommodate additional students and still maintain the 60/40 ratio of men to wom-en, Abigail Adams House will be reconverted to a women's dorm, and large rooms in four of the men's residence halls will be set up as permanent triples.

Also, four year men students will live at Plymouth House. will live at Plymouth House, which now houses Stockbridge

Many questions arise from these proposed plans. Probably the most controversial to the student body, however, is wha should be done with the Abbey.

About two years ago when the women moved into the new dorms, Adams House, familiarly known as the Abbey, was transferred to the men. Since then, men in the Abbey have become extremely attached to their dorm and are reluctant to give it up.

Now the students may voice their opinions: Do you think that the Abbey should be given back to the girls?

Two Knowlton girls, Marcia Malone '64 and Beverly Amund-sen '64, exclaimed immediately, "Oh, definitely not. We enjoy a sense of security having the Ab-bey boys right across the street."

Joy Chapman '64, who is living in Leach, answered, "Yes, be-cause the boys in the Abbey don't get to know boys in the other dorms on the hill."

Buddy Schultz '62, a Business Administration and Economics major, replied convincingly, "No. more convenient men's dorm because the men in Engineering don't have to carry their tools so far to classes. I believe the university should con-struct a fraternity row to house approximately seventy boys in each fraternity. This would solve all housing problems."

Ken Mead '61, a Stockbridge student, answered, "Yes, I think they should because if they don't, what will they do with the extra girls next year? The men in the Abbey could move to Plymouth House and be almost as close to the Engineering huilding. the Engieering buildings.

Jim Murphy '64, who is an Engineering major, said, "Definitely, because the men in the Abbey are separated from the rest of are separated from the rest of the men on campus. If it's neces-sary for the good of the school, then it doesn't really matter what those who were there think."

Bill Nelson '63, and Bob Wise '64, both residents of the Abbey, '64, both residents of the Abbey, are of course very much concerned with this question and have jointly expressed their opinions. "No." they said, "We don't believe that we should be overcrowded so that the girls won't be. It is a proven fact that the flunk-out rate is higher among men than women.

"Engineers need more con-centrated study, and the Abbey is, by far, the quietest dorm. Here, also, this is a very definite brotherhood—much more so than any other dorm on campus

"The girls don't particularly care to live here anyway. There is little privacy in facilities, and girls require more privacy than boys.

"We feel that the Abbey has more than lived up to the ex-pectations of the administration, and by taking it away, they are only defeating their purpose."

The fate of the Abbey now lies in the hands of the administration, and everyone will be con-cerned to learn the decision.

Internat'l Weekend Plans To Present 'Other America'

"The Other America" will be the subject of this year's Inter-national Weekend.

The event, to be held Friday and Saturday, March 24-25, will be devoted to a discussion of problems and developments in Latin America.

The annual weekend is designto promote greater standing or current problems in standing or current problems in international affairs.

Main events of the Weekend include a keynote address by a prominent figure in world affairs, panel discussions on specific problems, exhibits of art and other cultural materials, as well as folk singing and an informal dance.

dance.
Included among the participants will be rear admiral Oberlin C. Laird, USN (ret.), Latin American consultant to the Board of Directors of the U.S. Steel Corporation; Dr. Robert Alexander, member of the department of economics at Rutgers University; Dr. Ramon Ruiz of the history department at Smith College.

A complete program for the two-day affair will be announced

Model for model ... there are 18 Chevrolets lower priced than any other full-sized car!

Leave it to these Jet-smooth Chevies to go easy on your family budget! All told there are 18 Chevrolets-V8's and 6's-priced lower than comparable competitive models*. Sumptuous Impalas, sprightly Bel Airs, bottom-priced Biscaynes and a whole stable of wonderful new wagons. And every one of them has a road-gentling Jet-smooth ride, Body by Fisher refinements and dozens of engineering details you'd expect only in the most expensive makes. Look them over at your Chevrolet dealer's one-stop shopping center and see how easy it is to drive out in just the one you want!

of manufacturers' suggested retail prices (including Federal tax) for models with 118-inch wheelbase od Six 4-Dr. 6-Pass. Station Biscayne V8 2-Door Sedan d V8 4-Dr. 6-Pass. Station Wag

Need For Health Fee Explained By Gage

Robert W. Gage, M.D. Director of Health Services, has prepared the following statement on the new Health Fee:

"As the Health Service broadens its concept of service and develops new facets of activity, it is important that there be general understanding among students and faculty of the purposes it serves and the stages of its growth. With such understanding there will, I hope, be general and enthusiastic support; without it there is bound to be dissatisfaction.

To Be More Than First Aid

To Be More Than First Aid

"The first and most mportant project in expanding the Health Service is providing as nearly complete medical care as possible on campus. This medical care is to be much more than first aid and dispensary service. This is to be competant, personal, comprehensive care—immediately available. This program will be directed toward meeting the needs of young adults in our University community. The first step in this direction has been the securing of the services of a psychiatrist to direct the mental hygiene activities.

"Having more staff physicians will make it possible for students."

"Having more staff physicians will make it possible for students

"Having more start physicians will make it possible for students to be seen as the need arises. Promptly and personally, without losing valuable time waiting for the hasty attention of a physician or nurse.

Minimizing Student's Time Losses Important

"Minimizing loss of a student's time by preventing injuries, guiding modified programs, and encouraging continued physical activity in the physical education and athletic area make a permanent positive contribution to student health and duration.

tive contribution to student health and education.

"It is the determination of the Health Service to do everything to minimize loss of time from school work which might be suffered for reasons of health.

"This program can be realized only by the assessment of a stu-dent health fee.

Fees Used At Other Colleges

"A student health fee is the manner in which nearly every college health service in the country is financed, at least in part. And this is as it should be. Students should be able to finance reasonable health health is as it should be. Students should be able to finance reasonable health expenses in the same manner as they finance board and room.

"The proposed health fee will spread the cost of the planned services among all students who may need help, rather than making it necessary to assess larger charges to those who use the service more, charges which might require their leaving school. This is the manner in which any insurance plan works. Compulsory? Yes, because otherwise each student would have the natural youthful confidence to believe he wouldn't need much care.

"The amount of the health fee has not been settled. It will not, howeveer, be $50.860 per year as errogeously reported. A fee of $30.

howeveer, be $50-$60 per year as erroneously reported. A fee of $30 per year is probably the limit. To this will be added a supplementary voluntary insurance program, probably costing about $15, which will provide for major surgical and other services which the Health Service will be unable to furnish, and for services when students are not in resdence in Amherst. Anyone who feels this cost is excessive might reflect on the yearly cost for smoking and entertainment which is in reflect on the yearly cost for smoking and entertainment which is in

Fee To Pay For Student's Service Only

Fee To Pay For Student's Service Only

"One consideration should be made clear. Those activities of the Health Service which do not pertain directly to student medical care will be subsidized by other means than the student health fee. Students can be assured that they are paying for only their care. Thus, care for the athletic program, conference group, Boston Patriots, faculty, etc. will not be borne by the student health fee.

"The budget, as proposed, is a modest one. In fact, it is the minimum which the Board of Visitors feels is possible. I believe it is practical, however. If any group is interested in a constructive discussion of the problem, I shall be glad to arrange a meeting. This is your Health Service, administered for your benefit, according to our best judgment."

LIBRARY U. of H. Massathus

Library

VOL. XC NO. 59 5c PER COPY UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS MONDAY, MARCH 20, 1961

President Lederle Announces $10 Increase In Athletic Fee

$5 Extra A Semester Needed To Support Expanded Program

Following the approval of the Board of Trustees at a recent meeting, President John W. Lederle announced a five dollar per semester increase in the athletic fee for all students, beginning with the 1961-62 academic year.

In commenting on the action of the trustees, Dr. Lederle indicated that the current athletic fee of ten dollars per semester was set back in 1938 and, though the fee has been held down for the past 23 years, it is not now possible to carry on the existing program at the present per-stu-dent fee. Since 1938, for instance, the inter-collegiate athletic pr gram has expanded from eight varsity and five freshman sports to sixteen varsity and thirteen freshman teams involving more than a thousand students.

Game Admission Covered

Currently each student in the undergraduate enrollment receives a season athletic ticket, valued at a minimum of $28.00 which covers admission to all athletic contests scheduled on our campus with reduction accommodations in tickets purchased offcampus at both conference and conference games.

Dr. Lederle also stated that the participating student intramural population has increased at a greater rate than the increase in general school population. This reflects the increasing interest of the students in campus-sponsored recreational pursuits.

At the present time the intramural program does not have an adequate annual budget to supthis interest in an educationally sound, competitive athletic program.

Students Will Benefit

In conclusion, Dr. Lederle stat-that it will be the students themselves who will derive bene fits from the athletic fee increase. Whether it is the student who wishes to compete on an intra-mural basis or those who are parmurat basis or those who are participating in the required physical education program, improved programs and facilities made possible by the fee increase will help the University foster physical soundess in our students.

The fee increase was recommended by the 10-man Athletic Council, composed of faculty and alumni representatives. The council is responsible for the total inter-collegiate program here.

McGuirk Comments

According to Warren P. Mc-Guirk, director of athletics, "This is something we have been put-

(Continued on page 3)

Mrs. L. N. Menon Discusses India's Progress And Goals

by SALLY WINTERS '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

Mrs. Lakshmi N. Menon, Min-ister of External Affairs, Republic of India, spoke under the sponsorship of the Four College Non-Western Studies Committee Thursday afternoon in the small Ballroom. In her talk, "Indian Foreign Policy—A Search for Alternatives" Mrs. Menon was primarily interested in pointing out why India was maintained an un-committed foreign policy since gaining its independence thirteen years ago.

The circumstances and compulsions which dictate this nation's olicy were enumerated by Mrs. Menon. India joins no pacts, and allies itself with no blocs, because it feels that friendship, rather than a search for security, is a prerequisite to any alliance.

Also, by committing itself to one power, India would automatically make enemies of others.

In taking a definite stand, the country might be forced to defend its position with arms. No Military Aid Stating that war solves no problems, but creates them, Mrs. Menon cited World War II, the war that was to end all wars. It produced the Anglo-American and the Soviet Blocs.

These two forces have built up mistrust and hostility between themselves, such that each gives military aid to underdeveloped countries that would profit better from economic aid.

India will not accept military aid from anyone: "If our country needs aid by military arms, we will buy them." The speaker felt that it is the free aid to small, independent nations that brings about their political unrest and coups d'etat.

Progress with Democracy

Besides its objection to war and alliances, India feels its domestic policy has an advantage in a noncommitted foreign policy. An agreement with only one country is much less beneficial than friendship with all nations.

Under the rule of others, India made no economic advances, but remained illiterate and poverty-stricken Now the possible way. stricken. Now the people want to prove that progress can be made (Continued on page 3)

Mass. Tax Commissioner To Speak Here March 23

by LARRY RAYNER '61, Senior Reporter

State Tax Commissioner Robert T. Capeless, former Mayor of Pittsfield, will address the Political Science Associaton at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Barnstable Room of the Student Room

Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation since 1958, he will discuss the financial structure of Commonwealth.

He served four consecutive terms as mayor of Pittsfield from 1948 to 1955.

In 1950 he became associated with the Massachusetts Special Commission on Taxation, the group that blue-printed the reorganization of the Department of Corporations and Taxation in

He was appointed to the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission in 1956 and to his present post in December, 1958.

He attended Tufts University and Boston College Law School completing his studies in 1941 with a Bachelor of Law degree.

He was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1941 and the federal bar in 1947. He was a partner in the Cain, Chesney, Lewis, and Capeless law firm from 1946 to 1956. He then became Manager of Community Relations for the General Electric Co. in Pittsfield.

A Lieutenant-Senior Grade, he commanded amphibious landing craft operations in the campaigns for Guadacanal, Russell Islands, New Georgia, and Iwo Jima dur-

John Finnegan, President of the sponsoring Political Science Association, invited the general public to attend, urging govern-ment and finance majors in par-ticular to attend the meeting.

Maltby's Band Will Play At Greek Ball

by DAVE OSTERHOUT '62

On Friday April 14 the Student Union Ballroom will be the set-ting of the Greek Ball sponsored annually by the Pan Hellenic and Interfraternity Councils. The ball-room, which will be decorated with fraternity and sorority let-ters, will echo the magical sounds of Richard Maltby and his or-chestra. The Greek Ball is part of the Greek Week festivities with the Greek chariot races and fraternity parties to follow on Saturday.

Richard Maltby, who compos-es, arranges and directs, per-forms on the trumpet, vibraphone, chimes and his pet in-strument, the "kookiephone;" described by Maltby as "a stereo-phonic instrument which sur-rounds itself with its own sound." He has, during a 20-year career in musicana . . . including five years on the road with his own band . . . created a signature for dancing. His "new sound" is based on contrapuntal trumpets
... a Bach fugue form of writing for trumpets, most easily described by saying, "All the trumpets playing the same part at different times, together."

RICHARD MALTBY'S ORCHESTRA-"The Band the Dancers Demand"—will play in the S.U. Ballroom for the Greek Ball on April 14. His "New Sound" is based on his trumpets, all playing the same part at different times together.

Known as "THE BAND THE DANCERS DEMAND," Maltby's entourage has played for more than 150 colleges throughout the United States.

The high point of the Ball will be the crowning of the Greek Week Queen by President Leder-le. The five finalists will be elected by the fraternities and sorori-ties and the queen is chosen by a panel of judges. The Greek Week Queen will then preside over the chariot races.

Confusion In Knowledge

"Had not I desired to know so much!" These were the words spoken by the character of Dr. Faust, the "insatiable speculator." This figure has come down to us through the ages to symbolize man's quest for ultimate truth and knowledge. He embodies what might be called the sinister desire to gain the ultimate truth, for Faust, incapable of grasping the profound significance of life with his ager human intellect, engages the aid of one of devil's cohorts, Mephistopheles, and with him verses the entire range of human experience seek-to know the "ultimate truth and knowledge." But here is Faust's failing, for he does not experience the world in a natural, human way but in unnatural, un-human way. He is robed in a cloak of evil, and his quest is unnatural. "Had not I desired to know so much." By this he admits his sin, admits that he seeks something which is forbidden to him.

And could not these words be said even today? Are we, the human race, justified in searching too deeply into knowledge and truth? Or is it a performed concept that man should never know the "ultimates." It is said that in knowledge there is understanding, and in understanding there is peace. But where, when? For every question answered by science two more arise in its place. For every concept explained by philosophy, two more arise. Let us go beyond the question of whether it is right or wrong to gain the ultimate knowledge and ask whether it is feasible or not. Faust spent an entire lifetime seeking this answer and even had the aid of the devil's cohort, yet, Faust never came to realize true ultimate knowledge. Man has searched for 3,000 years, has laid the universe at his feet in order o find the answer. And still, the answer has not seen found; it is as obscure as it ever was, maybe to find the so. And where does the end lie? Faust, after more so. And where does the end lie? Faust, after a lifetime of searching, was rescued by angels from the hands of Mephistopheles who claimed him. And man, who shall rescue man? After man has experienced all possible, after man has searched into ever facet of life, after man has asked every question concievable, and finds himself still lost, still helpless, still unable to grasp the "ultimate," who shall come from above and claim him?

The Massachusetts Collegian

Donald D. Johnson '61 Co-Chairman
Al Berman '62 Co-Chairman
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62 Editorial Editor
James R. Reinhold '61 News Editor
Ben Gordon '62 Sports Editor
Larry Popple '63 Photography Editor
Michael Conen '61 Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62 Advertising Manager
PHIOPIAI

Majialieu, Michael Palter.

Dave Osterhor Deborah Selig

Mary Roche Jean Roanowicz Phyllis Trabeck Patricia Whitin

Larry Rayner SPORTS Steve Daley
W. John Lennon
James E. Mulcahy
PHOTOGRAPHY
Pete Hefler
Jack Kessler
Stan Patz
BUSINESS

Bili Theroux Joel Tillman

Patricia Ward

Larry Cohen Mike Rosenthai Andy Shulman Bob Slesinger
TECHNICAL ADVISER
Marc L. Ratner ADVERTISING

Alan Savitt Robert Wallia

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amrst, Mass, Printed three times weekly during the academic rr, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a ck the week following a vacation or examination period, or en a holiday fulls within the week. Accepted for mailing der the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended the act of June 11, 1934.

June 11, 1934.
- $4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester
Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.
lated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press
Sun., Tues., Thurs.,—4:00 p.m.

The Success Bogus

by GENEVIEVE REALL '63

The success bogus has many synonyms in the contemporary vo-cabulary: "materialism," "The American Dream," "opportunity unlimited," etc. We are in a self-conscious age. Americans are aware of their preoccupation with tangible indices of accomplishment-supposedly by making the best of opportunities and adopting the "early bird gets the worm" philosophy which Ben Franklin so lauded. I am not so concerned with this attitude in the context of the larger public but rather with how it has seeped into most facets of our life and thought-even into the collegiate scene. In discussing and re-examining the "success ideology," as we in student life know it, perhaps a more valid definition of "success" might be suggested.

OK. You've heard it a thousand times—marks aren't the important thing. But aren't they? You have a hazy idea that the notes you're memorizing for tomorrow's exam will (or should) serve a deeper purpose for you personally. But you also know that you're anticipating the nature of a certain essay question, that you're studying in a manner which you think will benefit your mark the most, not you the most. You also have a suspicion that your envied friend with the 3.6 is getting a better "education" than you are: that his marks mean that not only is he a more "educated" person than are you, but that he has a more adequate mentality too. You then generalize this assumption to the notion that he is a more successful person. He's successful: and you—well, with your tottering 2.0 or whatever-it-is you feel maybe that you aren't . . . , very much. Poppycock. So that's your definition of success—well, even educational success? But let's take another look at your logic. I know a few girls with quick minds and retentive memories. They have facility in acquiring knowledge within the classroom, for exams, etc. —but, I hate to say, they're not especially "educated." Knowledge is not education. Knowledge is knowing something—which may or may not have meaning or fruitfulness. We can know a great deal in the classroom and in our exams—and yet at the same time know nothing about the material in terms and yet at the same time know nothing about the material in terms of our own living. A mark indicates knowledge, information which can be put on paper. A mark cannot indicate knowledge integrated into and constructively functioning in life. To quote one educator: "Education is the organization of knowledge into human excellence. It is not the mere possession of knowledge, but the ability to reflect upon it and grow in wisdom."

This criticism of the significance of a grade should be no solace to the shiftless. It is meant only to clarify and to refute the fallacy that good grades—ipso facto—mean one is educated, is "successful." They only mean he has mastered the elements of learning—not that he has reflectively utilized them. The sole justification for the mark is mifies a student's reasonable awareness of facts and relationships which he may select and blend into a meaningful, intelligent view from which he may select and blend into a meaningful, intelligent view of life. This is all it indicates. It is no criterion of personal success. Low marks can mean several things: you rebel, like Byron, and read so much outside of class that you have no time to study; you lack the peculiar faculty for good memorization or for cognizing relationships; or you're slothful. The last case is the only case in which one should feel pangs of conscience. And even then there is no real cause for inadequacy feelings. for inadequacy feelings.

should feel pangs of conscience. And even then there is no real cause for inadequacy feelings.

But that is not the way it operates in our thinking. If we can't make Dean's List, we might aim at Revellers, a presidency, starring in a production, making Queen of such-and-such, and so on down the line. And if we cannot ascertain a demonstrable, clear-cut purpose in life, we feel uneasy, if not guilty. Is there one of us who has not aspired to or dreamt of being able to evidence some kind of "worth"? But our definition of worth—of "success"—in this culture is veritably perverted. Worth now means acquisition of the visible, the evident, the tangible indices of accomplishment—whether it is a Ph.D. or the Junior League. So we strive for the indices—the goals—and when we've acquired them, we count ourselves adequate because they say (1) we have been diligent or (2) we are gifted. Diligence and gifts, however, do not give a person worth. If in being diligent, we develop useful capacities, all and good. If in being gifted we bring enjoyment to others, all and good. But diligence and gifts per se mean little. If you have neither, you may still be the worthiest of humans.

Here, then, is my definition of success: fulfilling in oneself those human capacities which tend to increase the happiness of others. In short, completing, to the best of one's ability, those duties of the social being. Worth is not to be confused with the power to administrate well, or to write a great novel, or to dance beautifully, or to even be intellectually able: all of which result in indices of accompishment. Granted, these endowments may forward the happiness of others—but that end is not necessarily contingent upon them. It know a certain but that end is not necessarily contingent upon them. It know a certain Granted, these endowments may forward the happiness of others—but that end is not necessarily contingent upon them. I know a certain indolent laborer. His language can be offensive; his grammar is unbelievable; he is graceless and, I suspect, a high-grade moron. But I love that man. He has a directness, a warmth, a candor, a sincere and affectionate manner which unlock the heart. In my estimation, he is a greater person than Franz Liszt or Napoleon or Elizabeth Taylor. He is a success in the true sonce of the word.

is a success in the true sense of the word.
You can take that denition or leave it. To those who must strive after a goal to feel worthwhile I might add: it is harder to be a truly and consistently moral man than to be a distinguished one, and it is more difficult to secure lasting peace of mind than to amass wealth.

Steinbeck Once Wrote...

Behind the harrows, the long seeders—twelve curved iron penes erected in the foundry, orgasms set by gears, raping methodically, raping without passion. The driver sat in his iron seat and he was proud of the straight lines he did not will, proud of the power he could not control. And when that crop grew, and was harvested, no man had crumbled a hot clod in his fingers and let the earth sift the growth. Men ate what they had not raised, had no connection with the bread. The land bore under iron, and under iron gradually died: for it was not loved or hated, it had no prayers or curses . . . (Grapes of Wrath) Mr. Steinbeck was writing about our great technological advances and how the miracles of human kindness has not yet caught up with the miracle of science.

From The Carolina Israelite

LETTERS

In Disagreement With Mrs. Menon

To the Editor:

To the Editor:

I wish to draw your attention to the few points mentioned by Mrs. Menon about India's foreign policy at her recent lecture. While replying to a question about the reason for not settling the International Kashmir dispute by way of plebiscite under United Nations supervision, Mrs. Menon gave the history of Kashmir problem as follows:

"Soon after partition, Pakistan attacked Kashmir and the king requested India for military help. So Kashmir is a part of Indian territory."

A brief review of the history is as follows:—As a result of the struggle for freedom and demand of over 100 million peoples for a separate state, a new independent country Pakistan was born in August 1947. At that time, apart from British India there were many independent and semi-independent states in the subcontinent. The small states had a right to accede to India or Pakistan according to their inin the subcontinent. The small states had a right to accede to India or Pakistan according to their interest. The peoples of Kashmir decided to join to Pakistan and started fighting for freedom. Sensing the danger, the king requested India for military help. At the people's request Pakistan stepped into the matter. As a result, the problem was brought by India at the UN Security Council, Since then, many proposals have been brought up by UNCIP for peaceful negotiation by way of fair and impartial plebiscite for demilitarizing Jammu and Kashmir, which has always been rejected by India only. According to the UN charter, this is the only way to ascertain the right of self-determination of four million Kashmiris. million Kashmiris.

The second reason given by Mrs. Menon is that since partition Pakistan had no election, it is good for the Kashmiris to stay under India. However, Pakistan did have its first country-wide election in December 23, 1959 in which every individual had a chance to vote. The reasons given by Mrs. Menon are quite contradictory to the actual situation.

Razia K. Choudhury Physics Department

Reply To Peace Corps Opposition

Peace Corps Opposition

To the Editor:

The establishment of the Peace Corps by President Kennedy is a noble and praiseworthy move. At long last the Government of our country has done something to counteract the ever-growing drive of the Communists to capture the minds of the peoples of the world's underdeveloped nations.

For all too many years we have sat back and watched the Communists infiltrate the areas of Southeast Asia, Africa, and Latin America. We have stood aside while the ignorant and poverty stricken have been drawn to the false hopes of communism. We have seen once-pro-westerr, countries reduced to "neutralism." Our leaders have been stoned and abused in our own hemisphere.

Now that our President has had the wisdom to enact measures to turn the tide in our favor, some people have had the ignorance to term it a "political move." In the Collegian of March 15, Mr. Halvey called the Peace Corps an "exasperated idealism." Is it idealistic to be willing to promote the cause of freedom in such a beneficial way? Is it "irresponsible" for American boys and girls to offer their time and their knowledge to help the miserable, and starving, to reveal the truth and combat ignorance?

Let us hope that some day many more of us will have the chance to do what a select group—The Peace Corps—will soon be doing.

David L, Battis '64

MONDAY

- "Arms and Survival-strategies to avert dis-aster," Great Decisions Discussion, 7:30 p.m., Skinner, Political Science Lecture, 8:00 p.m., S.U.
- Does Free Economy Mean Economic Problems?" by Professor Sydney Schoeffler, 8:00 p.m., S.U. Movie: "Operation Aboli-tion," and discussion with Fulton Lewis III, formerly on the staff of the House Commit-formerly on the staff of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, 7:30 p.m., Mead, Amherst College.

TUESDAY

"On Constants of Nature," Philosophy Lecture by Dr. Yourgrau, Visiting Professor of the History of Science at Smith and Amherst Colleges, 8:00 p.m., S.U.

"Dilemmas of the Militant Southern Negro," by Mrs. Ruby Shuttlesworth, wife of Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, Birmingham, Ala, 4:00 p.m., Babbott, Amherst College.

WEDNESDAY

"The Biological, Psychological and Sociocultural Explanations of Incest Taboos," by Dr. Michael Horowitz, Assistant Professor of Anthropology, Kent State University, 4:00 p.m., S.U.

WAC Here To See Junior, Senior Women

LIEUT. LENA LAUREA

Junior and senior women who interested in a career as a commissioned officer in the Women's Army Corps, are urged to contact Lt. Lena Laurea of the Women's Army Corps who will be on campus March 22 at the Student Union.

She will be here to explain the two programs which have been et up by Department of the Army, to introduce college juniors to military life in the WAC by attending a four week summer training program at Ft. McClellan, Alabama (This training program is offered with pay and without obligation), and to explain the advantages to college eniors in obtaining a direct commission from civilian life.

College juniors and seniors who have any interest in any of the various jobs offered in civilian life, ie., public relations, organization representative, recreation director, company counselor, teaching, graphic arts, and many others, are urged to see Lt. Lau-rea and learn what the counterparts of these exectuive positions are in the WAC.

Remember that there are many wonderful opportunities available with these interesting assignments that include: travel, 30 days vacation each year with pay, not to forget educational op-portunities almost unlimited while portunities in service.

History Club To Discuss

SaccoVenzetti

On Tuesday, March 21, at 8 p.m. in the Commonwealth Room of the Student Union, the History Club will present a program which we feel is of current interest to all. The topic of the lecture will be the Sacco-Vanzetti Story. Our lecturer will be Aldino Felicani, a friend of both Sacco and Vanzetti. Felicani helped form the Sacco-Vanzetti Defense Committee and served as its treasurer during the seven years of their trial. Felicani is currently the editor of "Countercurrent", an anti-communist, anti-Fascist publication. Since the deaths of Sacco and Vanzetti, Felicani has worked tirelessly to have their names exon-

We hope that you will be able to attend this meeting.

erated.

CLUB DIRECTORY

ARMENIAN CLUB

The first meeting of the Armenian Club will be held in the Norfolk Room of the S.U. Mon., March 20, 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Evening vespers will be held each Wednesday in the Worcester Room of the S.U., 6 p.m.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

This year as last there will be Lenten services in the Com-monwealth Room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m. until Easter. The services will be conducted this week by Mr. Craig, Pres-

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Coffee hour Tuesday March 21 in the Colonial Lounge from 3:30-5:00 p.m. to meet the nominees for office next year.

COLLEGIAN

General election for next year's officers Thursday March 23 at 7 p.m. Room in S.U. to be announced.

DAMES CLUB BAKE SALE

Bakery Sale for the scholarship fund, Friday, March, 23, 9 a.m.-3 p.m. in S.U. lobby.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the S.U.

There will be a lecture, the Sacco-Vanzetti Story" by Al-dine Felicani, in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U. Tues., March 21, 8 p.m.

HORSE CLUB

There will be a meeting in the Plymouth Room of the S.U. Thurs., March 23, 8 p.m. It is important that all members attend.

MAROON KEY

Any male freshman who attained a 2.0 or better first semester and did not take out an application for the Maroon Key may get one from either Ed Hammond at Phi Sigma Kappa or John Gounaris at Theta Chi Mon., March 20, or Tues., March 21. Deadline for appli-cations is Tues., March 21.

NEWMAN CLUB

"The Church in South America" by Rev. John N. Fowler will be the subject of a lecture at the Dining Commons Tues., March 21, 7:30 p.m.

NURSING CLUB

The first spring meeting will be held in room 103 of the Pub-lic Health Building Wed., March 22. 7:30 n.m

SOPHOMORE EXECUTIVE

COUNCIL

A sophomore class meeting will be held in Bowker Audi-torium Thurs., March 23, 11 a.m. All members of the sopho more class are urged to attend

International Dance Will Be Highlight Of This Weekend

Abdul Samma '63, president of ne International Club at U-Mass, has announced that the club will sponsor a dance this Saturday night as part of its participation in International Weekend, which is being held March 24 and 25.

"One of the highlights of the dance," he said, "will be flamen-co guitarist and folk singer Rolf Cahn," who is popular in and Cahn," who is popular in and around the Boston area. He will perform at intermission.

Foreign students, members of the International Club, will also perform, singing and dancing according to the customs of their native lands.

Samma, who comes from Tanganyika, East Africa, feels that there is not enough American representation in the club. "The campus has the impression that the club is for foreign students only," he stated. Actually, it's open to all."

Demonstrating the role which students in foreign countries have played in world affairs, Samma gave as examples the overthrowing of such governments as Menderes in Turkey, Rhee in Korea, and El Salvador in South America, and the can-cellation of Eisenhower's trip to

Lisa Lieberman '61, secretary of the club, who has been a member for three years, said that she believes "the club prometes an interest in other countries and their ways of life. I think all Americans would profit from contact with such an organization."

The club is made up of American and foreign students who "promote international understanding" through speakers, films and slides, and international dances in conjunction with Amberts Smith and Managers Amherst, Smith, and Mt. Holy oke Colleges.

There are about seventy for-eign students in the club, rep-resenting over twenty-five different countries.

Details of the dance are to be

Mrs. L. N. Menon ..

(Continued from page 1) without infringing on anyone's rights. They are "determined to see that democracy is made real," even in want, poverty, and at the cost of a more rapid rate of

India's Goals

The four aims of India are international in scope.

Even though she has no army, India is involved, like the rest of the world, in the long-range effect of disarmament and the banning of nuclear weapons.

India is fighting against the "inhuman and uncivilized" racial

Training countries under foreign rule for independence, and giving economic aid to liberated peoples are also high goals of Peace Through Cooperation In closing, Mrs. Menon advo-cated "Peace Through Coopera-tion" and a human society that will bring about greater under-standing and an acceptance of differences among nations.

President Lederle ...
(Continued from page 1)
ting off for the past four or five years. We just can't underwrite our total program with the increased costs of everything. Our total program here is more compehensive than at any other Land Grant school in New England."

LOST & FOUND

LOST: Gold ring with a red stone initials F.E.T., near Daltons Diner. Please return to Fred Tibbetts, Alpha Sigma Phi.

it mild. Special porous paper lets you draw fresh air into the full king length of top-tobacco, straight Grade-A all the way.

Join the swing to

CHESTERFIELD KING

Stockbridge Marksmen In Win Over King's College

Firing a team total of 1332, tributed scores in the 260's to the Stockbridge Rifle Team had a 21 point margin over King's College of Pennsylvania in a re cent postal match. Dick Stenberg of the Aggies with a 275 beat out Zavada of King's College by three points for high individual gun of the match, and Ray Ciesluk, Chuck Nelson, Brad Allen, and Lowell MacNutt con-

H 0

take the tee
ST	OCKBRII	OGE
	PR	KN	ST	TOT.
Stenberg	100	89	86	275
Ciesluk	99	86	82	267
Nelson	99	87	80	266
Allen	94	85	85	264
MacNutt	99	93	68	260
TOTAL				1332
KIN	G'S COL	LEGE	:
Zavada	96	95	81	272
Kazmierski	98	86	79	263
Jones	97	84	81	262
Sowa	97	90	68	255
Walko	99	96	54	249

Today, foregoing levity, let us turn our keen young minds to the No. 1 problem facing American colleges today: the population explosion. Only last week four people exploded in Cleveland, Ohio—one of them while carrying a plate of soup. In case you're thinking such a thing couldn't happen anywhere but in Cleveland, let me tell you there were also two other cases last week—a 45 year old man in Provo, Utah, and a 19 year old girl in Bungor, Maine—and in addition there was a near-miss in Klamath Falls, Oregon—an eight year old boy who was saved only by the quick thinking of his cat Walter who pushed the phone off the hook with his muzzle and dialled the department of weights and measures. (It would perhaps have made more sense for Walter to dial the fire department, but one can hardly expect a cat to summon a fire engine which is followed by a Dalmatian, can one?) Dalmatian, can one?)

I bring up the population explosion not to alarm you, for I feel certain that science will ultimately solve the problem. After all, has not science in recent years brought us such marvels as the transistor, the computer, the bevatron, and the Marlboro filter? Oh, what a saga of science was the discovery of the Marlboro filter! Oh, what a heart-rending epic of endless trial and error, of dedication and perseverance! And, in the end, what a triumph it was when the Marlboro scientists after years of testing and discarding one filter material after another—iron, nickel, lead, tin, antimony, sponge cake—finally emerged, tired but happy, from their laboratory, carrying in their hands the perfect filter cigarette! What rejoicing there was that day! Indeed, what rejoicing there still is whenever we light a Marlboro and settle back and enjoy that full-flavored smoke which comes to us in soft pack or flip-top box at tobacco counters in all and setule back and enjoy that full-havored smoke which comes to us in soft pack or flip-top box at tobacco counters in all fifty states and Cleveland!

Yes, science will ultimately solve the problems rising out of the population explosion, but in the meantime the problems hang heavy over America's colleges. This year will bring history's greatest rush of high school graduates. Where will we find classrooms and teachers for this gigantic new influx?

Well six some say the answer is to adout the trimester system.

Well sir, some say the answer is to adopt the trimester system.

Well sir, some say the answer is to adopt the trimester system. This system, now in use at many colleges, eliminates summer vacations, has three semesters per annum instead of two, and compresses a four year course into three years.

This is good, but is it good enough? Even under the trimester system the student has occasional days off. Moreover his nights are utterly wasted in sleeping. Is this the kind of all-out attack that is indicated?

that is indicated?

I say no. I say desperate problems call for desperate remedies. I say that partial measures will not solve this crisis. I say we must do no less than go to school every single day of the year. But that is not all. I say we must go to school 24 hours of every day!

The benefits of such a program are, of course, obvious. First of all, the classroom shortage will immediately disappear because all the dormitories can be converted into classrooms. Second, the teacher shortage will immediately disappear because all the night watchmen can be put to work teaching calculus and Middle English poetry. And finally, overcrowding will immediately disappear because everyone will quit school.

Any further questions?

Yes, one further question: Have you tried Marlboro's newest partner in pleasure—the unfiltered, king-size Philip Morris Commander? If not, by all means come aboard. You'll be glad you did.

UConn Player Involved In Game-Throwing Charges; Twenty College Teams Seen Implicated In Fixing

It is believed that 15-25 colleges will be involved in charges of accepting money to throw games, said New York District Attorney, Frank S. Hogan.

The announcement last Saturday that three college basketball players were accused of accepting bribes of $1000-$1500 jolted the Eastern basketball world.

Involved in the game-throwing an unidentified University of Connecticut player who is charged with receiving a $1500 bundle to shave points in the UConn-Col-gate game of March 1. Eight UConn players saw action in that game, Colgate winning it 87-71.

The huskies were paced by Dave King who tallied for 19 points in that game. King was trailed by Len Carlson (14), Pete Kelley (13), Paul Gomes (10), and others with four points

Before the investigation is completed, many more colleges are expected to be involved.

The D.A.'s office also an-ounced the arrest of two men, described as representatives of nationwide syndicate, and booked them on bribery and conspiracy in an attempt to rig college

The suspects, Aaron Wagman, 28, and Joseph Hacken, 41, have both been previously involved in fixing deals, one involving football, and the other boxing.

Most of those in the know be-lieve that this scandal will dwarf that of 1951 when 33 players of several schools were involved. Such powerhouses as City College of New York (then holder of the national championship), Kentucky and Bradley were in-volved. Several players drew jail sentences and many were barred from the game,

Besides the implication of a UConn player, two players from Seton Hall were charged with taking bribes of $1000 apiece for throwing a game against Dayton at Madison Square Garden Feb. 9. Dayton won that one 112-77. Both hoopsters, Henry Gunter and Art Hicks are cooperating in the police probe.

GREER CRUSHED

Although basketball followers atthough basketball followers indicated that both games aroused suspicion at the time, UConn Coach Hugh Greer stated that he was "completely crushed" by

Coach Greer added: "I had no idea of anything like this. Nothing like this ever happened to me before in all my years of coaching". He has been at UConn for 14 years now.

Tom Blackburn, the Dayton coach, said he had no reason to suspect foul play in the Seton game. Seton Coach Richie Re-gan's head is "in a spin". He gan's nead is "in a spin". He suspected nothing. Dayton was originally listed as a six-point favorite, but later the game was knocked off the betting boards. This signified that the bookies refused to take any more bets.

The UConn-Colgate game twice as taken off the boards after Colgate had been established first as a 9-point favorite, dropped to 5 points, then climbed again to 11.

Sports Of Yesteryear

College sports have a long history at the University, and that history extends back to the days when we were not a University but rather Massachusetts Agricul-

Through the years much has changed, not only the players, rules of the game and procedures, but also sports-writing style. All of this is evident in the excerpts printed here of a stirring track meet at Madison Square Garden March 14, 1910. The account of the meet printed here was first printed in The College Signal, a forerunner of the present Collegian, under the headline of "Good Showing."

"Captain Dickinson ran first for us; he jumped the pole at the start and held the lead for fifty yards, here he was caused to swerve from his course to avoid persons crossing the track, which was poorly policed, and the Wes-leyan, Pratt, and Hamilton men leyan, Pratt, and Hamilton men passed him. However on the last lap he passed the Hamilton run-ner and gave a perfect tag to Cloues who gained two yards at the start and gave Damon a lead of ten feet . .

There were over a hundred runners in this race and they were numbered simply with pieces of paper having the number marked in pencil; when the race was fairly underway there were men at five foot intervals all around the track and as several were lapped it is thought that the judges were at a loss to deter-mine whether a man came in first or last, and hence the entangle-ment of the decisions

Wesleyan won the race with a lead of ten yards over Pratt, wl finished second and eight yards ahead of the Aggie team.

Top Base Thief
Washington (UPI) — George
Case, former Washington Senator outfielder and now a coach with the same club, led the American League in stolen bases five League in stolen bases five straight seasons from 1939 to 1943.

FROSH TENNIS

There will be a meeting for all Freshmen tennis candi-dates on Wednesday March 22, at 5:00, in Room 10. All

Here's deodorant protection YOU CAN TRUST

Old Spice Stick Deodorant... fastest, neatest way to allday, every day protection! It's the active deodorant for active men...absolutely dependable. Glides on smoothly, speedily...dries in record time. Old Spice Stick Deodorant most convenient, most economical deodorant money can

STICK DEODORANT

UMass Tracksters Run, Jump, And Leslie, Roland, Four Others Throw Way To Third Place At UConn

coring in twelve of the fourteen events, the UMass track ook third place in the fifth team took third place in the fifth annual University of Connecticut Indoor Relays at Storrs on Saturday. Holy Cross' great distance men led them to the team title wih 59 points as host UConn trailed with 52, followed by the Redmen with 33, Boston University with 29 and Rhode Island with 23 Saventean colleges were with 23. Seventeen colleges were Ernie Karschick was the scorer in the weights with fifth in the shotput and 35-lb. weight throw for two points. "Red" hit a credible 47 feet in the latter. Joe Cassidy and Charlie LaPier were two-thirds of a three-way tie for fourth in the high jump, also gathering two points. Al Garsys picked up another two with a fourth in the broadjump as he leaped a season high of 21'31/2".

REDMEN DISAPPOINTED

Redmen were disappointed

by ABE SHEINKER '62
with their showing in the distance medley relay as they ran third behind UConn and Holy Cross. Joe LaMarre led off the race with a fine 2:01 half-mile leg and Jack Harrington ran the next quarter. Despite this fast running, Ken O'Brien had to and did make up a 15 yard deficit in the three-quarter segment. But Dave Balch, who spent part of the week bedridden with a cold, could not hold the yardage running the mile anchor leg in sub-par condition. The third, how-ever, was good for four points as the relay events counted greater the scoring.

After easily winning his trial heat in the 60 yard dash, "Loppy" Flagg took a third in the final in a blanket finish that had a few feet separation between him, Eric Tait of Holy Cross, and winner and YanCon sprint champ Carl Lisa of Rhode Island. With three markers there, the Redmen added a pair in the sprint medley relay.

(220 yards), and Bob Avery (half- mile) scored the fourth in this event as both Young and Flagg stumbled and nearly fell owded curve.

Footrick Seizes Opportunity

Seeing a chance to pick up more points, Coach Footrick de-cided to enter a team in the twomile relay. At a few moments notice, Joe LaMarre was again running a half-mile lead-off leg followed by Avery. Jack Harring-ton no sooner had laced his shoes than he was running the third post and O'Brien anchored the quartet into second behind this event's national champion Holy Cross and ahead of UConn for six tallies. In the final relay, the mile, Young, Bob Carpenter, La-Marre, and O'Bien brought home four points with a third, again knocking off the Huskies but trailing the Crusaders and B.U.

In individual running events, Al Lucey picked up a fifth over the

Honored At Sports Banquet

Sports Banquet held in the Student Union Ballroom. Seventy let-ter winners of winter sports teams were present to see exteams were present to see ex-UMass basketball coach Bob Curmann later ran third in the two-mile just ahead of teammate Dick Blomstrom who was fourth. These events fattened the score

FROSH SHOW WELL

The Frosh held their own in their nonscoring distance medley relay with a second behind Brown. Dave St. Cyr, Phil Danforth, Gene Colburn, and Bob Brouillet formed the quartet that just couldn't match the speed of Brown's anchor miles. Dave Form Brown's anchor miler, Dave Far-ley, who has done 4:11.

The meet proved the durability of the UMass legmen as La-Marre, Harrington, and O'Brien each worked in three events. This contest wound up a successful indoor season.

Two awards were presented to members of the basketball team. The George Henry Richard Cup was awarded to Kirk Leslie, the most improved member of the squad. Kirk led the squad in re-bounds and was second in rank in scoring. Coach Zunic expects a lot of him next year.

Jim Laughnane was presented with the Samuel B. Samuels trophy for his excellent foul shooting. Jim led the team in shooting from the foul line with a .785 free throw percentage.

Goalie Bob Roland received the Varsity Club Plaque for his out-standing playing in the nets. Bob was the vital cog in this season's successful hockey season

Outgoing captain of the gyn nastics team, versatile Jim Bit-good, was honored also. Jim was the third best point getter for the gymnasts, and his steadying influence was a great contribution to the team.

Roy Fritz and Ed Moses were honored for their shooting on the UMass pistol and rifle teams, respectively.

The night was a fitting end to a ghly successful winter sports

KIRK LESLIE

Try If You Want
NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. Golf Association has rulled a player may try to play a ball lodged in a tree. But if he shakes the ball out of the tree, the play-er is penalized two strokes in medal play or loss of the hole in

My Neighbors

"There, that's it!"

Riders to Fla. Wanted 1-WAY or ROUND-TRIP (Leaving March 30) Contact Len Austin, Apt. I-1, Hampshire House, AL 3-9288

AMHERST + + CINEMA

-NOW ... Ends Wed.-'The SUNDOWNERS' ROBERT MITCHUI DEBORAH KERR PETER USTINOV

Lucky Strike presents the contest to end all contests! WIN THE FROODMORH "It runs!" Dr. Frood presented the automobile industry with this magnificent pre-compact. Hurt and disillusioned because the auto industry preferred to develop their own compact, FROOD NOW OFFERS HIS

CAR TO SOME LUCKY COLLEGE STUDENT! This is a brand-new, gas-driven, REAL CAR. It features four (4) wheels, genuine foot-power brakes, "fresh-air conditioning," and actual left-right steering mechanism! The economical 7.9 horsepower engine saves you hundreds of dollars in hay and oats! Goes 32 miles per hour, gets up to 65 miles per gallon. The Froodmobile can be licensed in every state except New Jersey. (New Jersey hates Frood.) WIN this beautiful car (with "FROODMOBILE" mounted in brass on the cowl!). Actual value over $1,000.

TO ENTER THE LUCKY STRIKE FROODMOBILE CONTEST, simply finish this sentence in 25 words or less:

"I need the Froodmobile because . . ."

Entries will be judged on the basis of humor, originality and style (preferably Froodian). If, in the opinion of our judges, your answer is best, the makers of Lucky Strike will deliver to you, on campus, the Froodmobile. A carton of Luckies will be given to the first 100 runners up. Along with your entry send your name, return address, college or university, and class. Entries must be postmarked no later than April 15, 1961. All entries become the property of The American Tobacco Company. Send your entry (or entries) to LUCKY STRIKE, P. O. BOX 17A, NEW YORK 10, NEW YORK.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Product of The American Tobacco Company - Tobacco is our middle name

Latin American Art To Be Exhibited

International Weekend this year will feature several special exhibits. Among these will be a collection of pre-Columbian Latin American art. The exhibit, on loan from the Museum of Primitive Art in New York City, is composed of statues and other artifacts from various sites in Mexco, Costa Rica and Guatemala. This exhibition will open on Friday, March 24 in the Mid-dlesex room.

Other exhibits during the weekend will include a collection of Latin American flags, which will be displayed in the ballroom. Goodell Library will feature books written by Mr. Daniel Cosio Villegas, the keynote speaker for the weekend, and other Latin American literature.

EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE

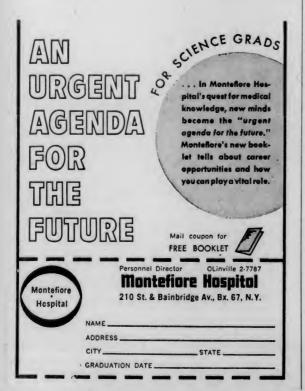

... the paper that erases perfectly with a pencil eraser

Made by American Writing Paper Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., manufacturer of Eagle-A Boxed Typewriter Papers

Buy your EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE PAPER today at

THE UNIVERSITY STORE

Precisionettes Registration To Be Held March 22, 23

THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS PRECISIONETTES

Registration for freshman and sophomore girls interested in the Precisionettes will be held Wednesday and Thursday, March 22 and 23, in the Commonwealth Room from 5 to 6 p.m.

Among the traditional activities associated with the University are the Precisionettes, a 48 girl drill team. The organization is particularly distinctive, being one of three such collegiate groups in the country. They participate in all home football games and at least two away games in conjunction with the Redman Band.

There are always some who assume that a special skill or talent is needed or that previous marching experience is required, but this is not so. Anyone should register if they fall within these requirements:

- requirements:

 1. between the heights of 5 feet 4 inches and 5 feet 7 inches. If in doubt, come to be measured.
- a four year student as either a freshman or sophomore. Nursing majors are not permitted to try out since they would have a relatively short time with the group.

3. an acceptable scholastic average. This means that a) Students on probation are not permitted to try out, and b) Those whose average is low are urged to consider seriously.

 a real desire for the perfections of physical and mental disciplines.

The Precisionettes will be under the leadership of Prof. Joseph Contino, Band Director and Don Witkowski, Drillmaster.

CAMPUS CHEST

Tonight at 8 p.m. the three finalists for the coveted title of Miss Campus Chest will display their talents in the lobby of the SU. These "lovelies" are voted into the final by the penny votes of the students.

The pictures displayed in the lobby give a daily chuckle to students passing to and from classes. More important than the laughs are the votes of the students. These votes are contributions made to the Campus Chest drive. The Miss Campus Chest contest is a little something extra pushing us toward our campus goal of $5,000.

Students and faculty alike have been asked to donate $1.00 apiece. Solicitors have been at work all week collecting in the dorms, sororities, fraternities as well as in the offices of our professors.

in the offices of our professors.

This is the only charitable drive on campus and is conducted only once a year. This year the Campus Chest will give support to four student organizations. The organizations are World University Service, Hokkaido University, the United Negro Fund, and the UMass Student Organization for Scholarship.

Christian Association Will Hold Elections Wednesday

On Wednesday, March 22, the Christian Association will hold its election of officers for 1961-62. The election will be in the lobby of the Student Union from 8 a.m. till 5 p.m. On Tuesday, March 21, there will be a coffee hour to meet the candidates from 3:30 till 5 o'clock in the Colonial Lounge of the Student Union.

Nominees are:

Sam Blythe '62 Campus Relations: Dick Elliott '62 Bob Keene '63

Program: Joan Hussey '63 Dottie Lowe '63

Social Responsibility: Sue Sidney '62 Jan Taylor '62

Worship: Wayne Anderson '62

Secretary: Anne Hall '62 Sue Onksen '62

Treasurer:
John Slattery '63
Terry Robinson '63
The area of Campus Relations

includes membership, dorm representatives, Context and freshmen activities. Program area is responsible for monthly Critiques, Religious Embassy, dorm study groups and conferences. Social Responsibility is the service and social action group, service projects include volunteers for Belchertown and the Northampton hospitals, weekend work camps at Roxbury and Rabbit Hollow and occasional special projects. Social action will deal with questions of contemporary social issues facing students, the nation and the world. The Worship area is concerned with the worship life of the C.A. and plans weekly vespers, Christmas vespers, Lenten vespers and the Lenten communion service.

Guild Starts One-Scenes For Spring

Operetta Guild has announced that it plans to present a program of "one-scenes" again this spring.

One-scenes are excerpts from various musical shows which make a kind of sampler of the highlights of these shows. An example of a one-scene if "You Can't Get a Man with a Gun" from "Annie Get Your Gun."

The students select and put on the shows with the aid of Professor Alviani, faculty advisor to the Operetta Guild.

The one-scenes are open to everyone, and all interested people are asked to attend a meeting Tuesday at 6:30 in the seminar room of Old Chapel.

This is an organizational meeting to make plans for a touring company which will perform after spring vacation.

Awaiting Your Arrival

LEARN TO FLY

$3.80 Per Lesson
UMASS FLYING CLUB
Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays
2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

Clean, comfortable and "easonable accommodation for male students, clubs, teams, administrators and groups in the heart of midrown New York, close to all transportation and nearby Empire State Building, All conveniences, cafeteria, coffee shop, tailor laundry, barber shop, TV room, tours, etc. Booklet C. Rales: Single Rooms $2.50-$2.50; Double Rooms $4.54.20

WILLIAM SLOANE HOUSE Y.M.C.A.
56 West 34th St., New York, N. Y. Oxford 5-5133 (nr. Penn Sta.)

NEWMAN CLUB MEETING

Tuesday, March 21, 1961 — 7:30 p.m.

Dining Commons

"THE CHURCH IN SOUTH AMERICA"

by Rev. John N. Fowler, Maryknoll Missionary Curred Our Full Staff Collegian Election Thursday, 7 p.m.

Council Chambers

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 22, 1961

VOL. XC NO. 60 5¢ PER COPY JobAvailabilityDown

From Last Spring

by SANDRA GIORDANO '63, South College Reporter

"Opportunities for college graduates this year are greater than in 1958 and 1959, but appear to be fewer than in spring, 1960." stated Robert Morrissey, Placement Officer for Men.

The number of companies and school superintendents looking for college graduates has in-creased, but, paradoxically, the number of job openings has decreased to some extent.

"The recession, pre-election excitement, and the sporadic condition of the stock market resulted in the indication that many sulted in the indication that many companies were unsure of employment conditions for this year's crop of college graduates. "However," Morrissey continued, "recent trends indicate an upsurge in the economic outlook as described by the industrial representatives who visit the campus."

demand for engineers, physical scientists, mathemati-cians, physicists, and chemists ar exceeds the demands for physical graduates in other areas as has been the case for the past few

The need for teachers con-tinues, but it is most strongly felt in particular geographical

According to recent estimates, salaries are staying close to last year's levels with a slight in-crease, Engineers will average about $530 per month with electrical engineers the highest at $545. The other averages will be as follows:

Chemists Mathematicians Agriculture . $425

Morrissey stated that "The tendency on the part of the industrial recruiters visiting campus has been to select the student in the upper one-quarter of the class, although there have been many exceptions to this pre ference."

"Seniors who haven't received offers through the on-campus re-cruiting media may apply for single job vacancies which are reported to the Placement Serv-ice."

Rourke Takes Chest Title As 'Miss Ft. Lauderdale'

Monday night Alpha Tau Gam-Monday night Alpha Tau Gamma's Dick Rourke, alias Miss Fort Lauderdale, won the title of Miss Campus Chest. This title ranks third at UMass, close on the heels of Miss America and Miss Rheingold.

Miss Fort Lauderdale, displaying the qualities of socia-bility and tact, gathered the audience into the palm of her

After concluding the contest, Miss Ft. Lauderdale stated: "Ah do hope that the students and faculty of UMass use this week advantageously in contributing advantageously in contributing the necessary dollars to push us up to the campus goal of $5,000."
The women's dorms, contributing $526, are led by Arnold and Mary Lyons. The sororities have contributed $427 with two houses still not reporting. The other six houses have contributed close to 100%

Another bright spot campus chest drive is Alpha Phi Omega's, collection of $331 from our professors.

$120 has been collected in six men's dorms. In the fraternities only AEPi and ATG have do-nated. Both have contributed

The drive will continue until March 24 and contributions may be left in the R.S.O. office in the S.U.

Jeanne Mullaney Picked Glamour Contest Winner

Jeanne Mullaney is the University's "Best Dressed Girl on Cam-

Miss Mullaney, a sophomore nominated by Sigma Kappa, carried off the honors from among the finalists on the basis of pictures, both formal and informal, taken on campus last weekend. She will be entered in Glamour's 5th annual "Ten Best Dressed College Girls in America" con-

Of the thirty three girls who were nominated, three were selected as finalists. The two runners-up are Pam O'Donnell, a sophomore nominated by Pi Beta Phi, and Martha Ronan, a fresh-man nominated by Hamlin

Criteria for the selections were grooming, figure and posture, imagination and good management of a clothes budget and wardrobe, and appropriateness of clothes to the girl's life.

To the winner will go a mer outfit donated by Ann August, Amherst and Northampton, McCallum's, Northampton, and Bolles' Shoes, Amherst.

Also, she will be interviewed on WHMP, Northampton radio station, and on the Kitty Broman Show, carried on Channel 22 television, Springfield.

Judges for the contest were:
Col. John Marchant, faculty Mr. Clarence Shelnutt, Student Unio

Union Larry Rayner, WMUA Stan Patz, Collegian photograph-

Larry Popple, Collegian photographer

John Finnegan, Student Senate
Pat Ward, Collegian, chairman
(Continued on page 5)

1.8 Compromise Bill Passes RSO, Faces Delay In Senate

The 1.8 minimum average compromise bill was passed yesterday by an R.S.O. change committee. The from the previous motion, known as the "2.0 bill," is that the 2.0 quality point average has been changed to the cumulative aver-age required of the student's graduating class. For the class graduating class. For the class of 1964 the graduate average is 1.80, for the other classes it is 1.70. Students without the required average would not be allowed to become an officer in any recognized student organization.

The motion, as passed by R.S.O., now states: Moved that to be eligible for office in any R.S.O. organization or Board, a student must have a cumulative average required of his graduating class, or if less than the graduating average he must have attained a 2.4 average for the semester immediately preceding bill would include elected and appointed offices such as Senate and Judiciary Board members, publications officers, I.F.C. and Pan-Hellenic members. and officers of all other organ-izations and dormitories. The bill would not apply to the chairman of standing committees.

Includes All Offices

It is strongly recommended that the ruling include fraternities, sororities and house counselors. It will be the responsi bility of the organizations, advisor or head of residence, the outgoing president, as well as the candidate, to administer the poli-

The policy would not pertain to students holding office as of January 11, 1961, insofar as elec-(Continued on page 3)

Rise In Athletic Fee Justified By McGuirk

by JACK BAPTISTA '61, Special Reporter

Several days ago President Lederle announced that, begin-ning next year, the student athle-tic fee will be raised from 10 to 15 dollars per semester. This move is raising a good deal of objection among the student hody Several days body.

Fee Increase Justified According to Warren P. Mc-Guirk, director of athletics and a member of the Athletic Council which supervises the use of the athletic funds, the increase in fees is justified as a necessary and long-needed measure.

"We have had to do things the

"We have had to do thing hard way in our athletic program hard way in the University in the past hard way in our athletic program, here at the University in the past four years," states McGuirk. "Nearly all athletic directors that I have met in the last 10 years have handled their athletic pro-crams differently because they nave nandled their athletic programs differently because they have not had to economize to the smallest detail as we have."

McGuirk says that the physical education department wants to acquire some respect in the way the athletic program is carried out at the University.

Pointing to many instances

Pointing to many instances here UMass has been embarrassed because of the use of defi-cient and out-of-date equipment in its athletic programs, he at-tributes these occurences to the lack of funds which the depart-ment has been forced to operate with.

UMass Not Second Rate McGuirk feels that UMass should not allow itself to be regarded as a second-rate athletic school, and that the increase in funds which will now be available will make its athletic program far more effective and comprehensive.

Last year, the athletic fee ba lance sheet reveals that a total of $112,979 was collected through student fees, which added to the balance left over from the previous year, gave the physical educa-tion department a total of $126,000 for student athletic

$6000 Balance Remains
Of this total, all but $6,000 as spent during the 1959-1960 school year.

Among the various uses to which this money went, interwhich this money went, inter-collegiate athletics absorbed the greatest part, accounting for about $68,000. This amount covgreatest ers all expenses incurred by UMass in athletic competition with other colleges and universi-

Price Includes New Equipment It includes New Equipment It includes such items as pur-chase of new equipment, clean-ing and repair of old equipment, films, awards, and the travel, lodging and meals expense of the various teams for away gam and to urnament competition covers the cost of end-of-season banquets for the teams, the payment of officials and referees for competitive overstanding. petitive events, and the fees dues payable to athletic as-

(Continued on page 6)

Café Italiano To Be Held In Ballroom

Next Tuesday, March 28, the S.U. Ballroom will be gaily dec-orated for the Sophomore Banorated for the Sophomore Ban-quet, Café Italiano. This banquet is traditionally held each spring by the Sophomore class to pro-mote class spirit and enable class members to become better acquainted. A real Italian meal will be served by freshman waitbe served by freshman wait-resses costumed as senoritas.

The evening's entertainment will be highlighted by a per-formance from the Jazz Doctors. Preceding the Jazz Doctors there will be short addresses given by the Class President, Bob Mac-Master, and the Class Advisor, Dr. Field. Following the speeches, a class blazer will be presented to a member of the class as a deep prize. door prize.

Tickets are being sold through ne 27th of March at the Student Union ticket window. There is a charge of 50¢ for those eating at any of the University Dining Halls, and a charge of 99¢ for all others. The banquet will be held between 6 and 8 p.m.

Robert T. Capeless, State Tax Commissioner and a former mayor of Pittsfield, who will speak on the financial structure of the Commonwealth at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Barnstable Room of the Student Union. Sponsored by the Political Science Association, the public is invited.

Needed: A Money Tree

has provoked much discussion and indignation on campus. In order to sooth the righteous indignations and ease the economic traumas, we'd first like to throw some light on the circumstances involved in this issue.

President Lederle has insisted the fee will not exceed $30. per year. The exact amount of the fee has not yet have not been charged any health fee.

Since the building of the new infirmary and the complete revamping of the medical program here at the University, the medical budget has necessarily had to be increased. (This goes along with Parkinson's Laws). While the State Legislature is expected to take care of some sections of the medical budget, such as the maintenance of the medical plant, the cost for professional services at the Health Center, it is argued, will have to be carried by the students, Without the proposed $30. fee from the student body, Dr. Gage has stated that operation of the Health Service would be "impossible." He argued that he would have only an 'empty shell without any services." ing used," Dr. Gage has cited, "are time.

The recently announced medical adapted to fair efficiency, but the health fee, which will be assessed on larger quarters would make service all students beginning next Septem- incredibly worse" without the added personnel.

The head of the medical program is firmly convinced that the fee must be made compulsory. He feels that the subscription arrangement would not permit him to plan ahead for an efficient staff. He is skeptical of a voluntary medical program because he feels that "students have a natural, been settled. In the past we students youthful confidence to believe they won't need care.'

> We might add, however, that students are obviously not in favor of this tax proposal because it means money out of a limited-income pocketbook. This is the principal reason for the opposition. It is a very meaningful one to students who are look-impartially:

who will be benefiting from the serv- tem. It is suggested that the compulsory plan would operate in much the same way as any insurance program. giving the same type of security ben-Under the new health service, the students would have the opportunity for almost complete medical care, not just the regular aspirin and throat lozenges service which "The humble facilities presently be- most of us have received up to this E.S.

LETTERS CONTEMPORARY JAZZ

By RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

One of the barriers to jazz listening is the poor variety of records carried in stock by local stores, "I can order it for you," is the usual reply to a request for a jazz rec-ord. No one can stock all the albums avail-able, but I have found that the Quill Bookin Northampton has the most com-jazz library in this area. It was at the that I found this week's jazz side, Quill that I found this 'Modern Art' by Art Farmer.

Renny Golson

The Art Farmer-Benny Golson jazz groups have evolved a distinctive synthesis "funky" blues style with the more odern forms of jazz. The two have de-loped together as group members and individually as soloists.

Art Farmer has thoroughly absorbed the trumpet influences of Miles David and Clifford Brown to form his own sensitive style. His solos feature the development of an ndividual composition and careful phras-

Benny Golson is best known for his beau tiful jazz compositions . . . especially the classic, "I Remember Clifford." He is still developing as a tenor saxist, but in a unique He has a way of gliding fro to another to make each so statement into one unbroken line. His tone the tenor reminds me of the square re tone produced on the lower register of the bass clarinet. It sounds almost like a pure tone with only a few resonant har

The brilliant Miles Davis pianist, Bill Evans, is a third member of the group capable of improvising a thematically perfect solo. Evan is undoubtedly the finest of the new jazz pianists.

"Modern Art" is a subdued and carefully conceived album, More than being just "neat and orderly," the music is warm and emotional. One can listen to the tunes over and over again and come to the realization that there is nothing superfluous or out of place here. Farmer's muted solo on Cole Porter's "I Love You" is beautiful in its swinging simplicity.

I have heard that Down Beat gave this album its top five star rating . . . and I agree. "Modern Art" achieves perfectly what it set out to do.

To the Editor: Att'n, Genevieve Reall

In regards to your editorial, The Success ogus, I find that I agree most whole-Bogus, I find that I agree most heartedly with your comments concerning heartedly with your comments to the large our system of amount of mistaken worth placed on the achievement of grades or a given average. However, I would seek to modify your de-finition of a standard of success.

You felt that success is, "fulfilling in You felt that success is, "fulfilling in oneself those human capacities which tend to increase the happiness of others." It would seem that you and I agree that giving meaning and fulfillment to one's life should be the criterion by which success should be measured, but I feel that the "happiness in others" should not be a necessary part of this criterion. Granted, to some needle the concern for their fallow. ome people the concern for their fellow an will have a great deal to do with fulfilling their own capacities, since their particular talents may lie in social work or other endeavor of that nature. However, by the same token someone else may have capacity to be the best sheep herder or the greatest monk that ever lived.

You see, if you simply want to achieve happiness in others in order to attain per-sonal success, you place yourself in a position in which your success is dependent on the judgment of others and, if you allow them to decide whether or not you have personally reached that point of self fulfill-ment that we talk of, I'm afraid that they will never be able to clearly and honestly evaluate the situation. How can they? What other person knows you and your capacities as well as you do?

I'm certain that there have been many people in the history of mankind that have achieved what has been success to them and not concerned in the least as to ner anyone else (including you and I) thought they were a success or not.

Therefore, as a result of the foregoing observations, I would define success as "that state in which a being has fulfilled that state in which a being has fulfilled its nearfecture." its potentialities or actualized its perfec-

Sincerely yours, John A. G. Madden '64

The Case For Capital Punishment

PART 3

by MARCIA ANN VOIKOS '63

society plays in molding the life of the in-dividual are of major importance and can-not be overlooked. Therefore, capital punishment is secondary to the most fun-mentally.

damental issue of correcting those conditain cases. What is the answer? There is more final or perfect solution. We can only suggest that there be limitations on the justice, yet, jeopardize its fulfillment by death penalty—that the courts be consistent in sentencing it.

The argument states that since society is some measure responsible for creating in some measure responsible for creating. no final or perfect solution. We can only suggest that there be limitations on the in sentencing it.

Neither is the death penalty sentenced orders - to them, murder is only natural conduct. Second, those who are basically normal, but at a given moment are subject to severe emotional strains which may lead them to commit murder. Third, the profes gunman whose duty it is to obey his superiors, whereby, killing is a matter of course—a job, a way of life.

It is difficult to decide when the death penalty should be applied and when it shouldn't. It is easy to say we should eliate the dangerous types forever—but all criminals are equally vicious! This problem would be relatively simplified if there were an established set of rules based on a logical and rational system: if criminal A commits crime type A, the death penalty is justified; but if criminal A commits crime type B—perhaps life imprisonment? On the other hand, this reasoning is Death Penalty?

The death penalty should be based on the extent and scope of the killer's background, his police record, his capacity for self-control, and his reasons for murder. why he is disposed to such acts. Only when underlying causes for crime are under-od can they be modified and rehabilitation administered-when it is feasible.

The purpose of punishment, in most instances, is to cure, to strengthen, to rehabilitate. But what about those whose criminal compulsions cannot be altered to constructive ends? What can we say for those individuals for whom there is no pos-sible prevention or correction? Effective

The Problem: Murder, Not The Murderer
The issue of capital punishment cannot be measured in terms of the criminal alone. Such factors as faculty economic and domestic relations together with the role society plays in molding the life of the inmanifest an attitude conducive only to maintaining the prisoner physically, not use the death penalty.

Is Society Responsible for Human Behavior?

As we have seen, there are those who violently oppose or favor capital punishment. Yet, the general consensus is one of innocent. Yet, from that standpoint, so is parole irreparable. Parole boards can make parole irreparable. Parole boards can make parole irreparable. They are seed therefore, some measure responsible for creating Neither is the death penalty sentenced in some measure responsible for creating impartially: gangsters and the rich get the unsatisfactory economic and social contents of the student health fee insist benefits will be forthcoming under the new set-up that would not be possible under our present sys-Who commits murder and why? First, not determine one's choice of right or ose who suffer from severe mental dis-ders — to them, murder is only natural place the negative values the individual holds, but to maintain a healthy environment whereby he, himself, may obtain new and constructive values.

FROM THE STATE HOUSE

The legislative committee on the judi-ciary recently heard the perennial pleas for ciary recently heard the perennial pleas for and against the death penalty in Massachu-setts. A bill filed by Rep. Sumner Z. Kap-lan provided life sentences for persons con-victed of first degree murder UNLESS the jury recommended the death penalty. Kap-lan noted that it was a fallacy to have there were an established set of rules based on a logical and rational system: if criminal A commits crime type A, the death penalty is justified; but if criminal A commits crime type B—perhaps life imprisonment? On the other hand, this reasoning is unsound because no elements of society—including the courts—are totally void of emotion.

How Can We Insure the Consistency of the Death Penalty? ders

In opposition to the bill Rep. Gerald P. Lombard told the committee: "This is the time to strengthen the laws, not weaken them." With Reps. John J. Toomey and Theodore A. Vaitses Lombard has filed a Moreover, the killer should be subject to Theodore A. Vaitses Lombard has filed a extensive tests and analyses by those bill to extend the death penalty to the trained in behavioral science to determine crimes of rape, dope, peddling, and kidnapping.

Campus Chest	Contributions
Women's Dorms	$526.00
Sororities	427.00
Faculty	331.00
Men's Dorms	120.00
Fraternities	93.00
Campus Total	$1,597.00

The Massachusetts Collegian

Executive Board

Donald D. Johnson '61
Al Berman '62
Elizabeth A. Schneck '62
James R. Reinhold '61
Ben Gordon '62
Larry Popple '63
Michael Cohen '61
Howard Frisch '62 ... Co-Chairman
.... Co-Chairman
Editorial Editor
... News Editor
... Sports Editor
totography Editor
Business Manager

Ruth Kobs
Andi Beauchemin
Andi Beauchemin
Holly Dare
And Miller
Bev Lang
e at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly durexamination periods; twice a week the week following ly falis within the week, Accepted for mailing under ed by the act of June 11, 1934.

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.
Press

Joint Recital To Be Held By Alviani And Schwartz

The S.U. Arts and Music Committee of UMass will present Doric Alviani and Elliott Schwartz of the University's music department in a joint recital on Sunday, March 26, at 3 p.m. in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U. The program is open to the public; no admission will be charged.

The program contains music for voice and piano. Mr. Schwartz will introduce two of his own compositions, "Three Pieces on Two Notes for Four Hands" and

1.8 Average...

(Continued from page 1) tions to the same office are con-

Senate Action Delayed

According to informed sena-tors, action on the bill in the senate is expected to be delayed until an alternate proposal, acuntil an alternate proposal, acceptable to the leadership on both sides of the question, can be drawn np. An informal senate committee will be set up to formulate the new bill.

Vin Della Penna, senator from Van Meter, said that if an alter-

"Fire and Ice," a song set to the Robert Frost poem of the same

Another piano number for four hands will be Ravel's "Mother Goose Suite." Mr. Alviani will present voice selections ranging from "La Danse Macabre" by Saint Saens to several unaccompanied songs of the Negr panied songs of the Negro spiritual and folk variety.

Mr. Alviani is head of the department of music and has been a member of the faculty at the University since 1938.

nate proposal can be formulated, it will definitely be presented to the senate, "What happens after that is indefinite."

The bill would probably pass the senate, because it is coming from the representatives of both sides of the question. If it passes the senate, it would then have to go back to the R.S.O. committee.

the senate, it would the senate, it would the R.S.O. committee. If the new proposal is a reasonable one and meets with the same aims of the R.S.O. bill, then it is hoped that R.S.O. will pass the amended version. "If they have a mended version, "then the mess." the amended version. "If the don't," said Della Penna, "the we're back to the same old mess.

UMass Is Flunking On Salary Scale

The president of the University of Massachusetts said Monday night that the institution is nearly flunking in salaries paid to its professors.

John Lederle, appearing on radio panel show, said: "We probably rate about a D-plus or a C level when it comes down to the full professor salary and therefore over the long pull view this as a very serious problem.

Lederle was replying to a question of salary scales at the versity. He said salaries paid to instructors are high compared instructors are high compared with other state institutions but that the ratio drops as the teacher's rank increases.

Lederle also urged establishment of a state medical school. He said he thought the ideal location would be in the Boston area, "the medical center of real world renown."

CLUB DIRECTORY

CANTERBURY CLUB

Buffet supper Sun., Mar. 26, at 6 p.m. at 768 N. Pleasant St. Rev. E. J. Nichols, Director of DANCE CLUB Rev. E. J. Nichols, Director of Youth and Adult Education

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

This year as last there will be Lenten services in the Com-monwealth Room of the S.U. on Fridays at 7 a.m. until Easter. The services will be conducted this week by Mr. Craig. Presbyterian.

General election for next year's officers Thursday March 23 at 7 p.m. in the Council Chambers. Index picture will follow.

CONCERT ASSOCIATION

Important meeting Wed., Mar. 22, at 6:30 p.m. in the SU. Election of officers. Check the SU Lobby Bulletin Board for

DAMES CLUB BAKE SALE

Bakery Sale for the scholarship fund, Friday, March 24, 9 a.m.-3 p.m. in S.U. lobby. DEBATING CLUB

Important meeting Thurs., Mar. 23, at 11 a.m. in the speech seminar room on floor Bartlett. Decision on future tournaments will be made, and Collegiate Tournament.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the

H.E.R. WKND. DECORATION COMMITTEE

Meeting Thurs., Mar. 23, at 7 p.m. in the Nantucket Rm., S.U.

HORSE CLUB

There will be a meeting in the Plymouth Room of the S.U. Thurs., March 23, 8 p.m. It is important that all members attend

MANAGEMENT CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Mar. 23, at 11 a.m. in Draper 124. There will be a business meeting followed by a discussion of job oppor-tunities.

MARKETING CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Mar. 23, at 11 a.m. in the Middlesex Rm., S.U. NURSING CLUB

The first spring meeting will be held in room 103 of the Pubic Health Building Wed.,

SOPHOMORE CLASS

A sophomore class meeting will be held in Bowker Auditorium Thurs., March 23, 11 a.m. All members of the sophomore class are urged to attend.

Debate Club Participates In Tourneys

Nineteen schools from the New England area were entered in the New England Forensic Council Tournament at Bowdoin College, Maine.

The question of compulsory health insurance was debated by Jim Schlittenhardt '63 and Kevin Donovan '61 on the affirmative, and Chris O'Connor '64 and Joseph Tryba '64 on the negative.

Beverly DeMarco '63 entered original oratory and oral inter-pretation. Jay Savereid of the UMass speech department was the team's coach and judge for the weekend. Holy Cross won the urnament and the University of Maine came in second.

Members of the UMass debat-Brooklyn College Tournament the weekend of March 18, along with 54 other schools from the East

The problem of compulsory health insurance was argued on the affirmative by William Krim '64 and Lew Goldstein '64, and on the negative by William Olsen '64 and Joseph Tryba '64.

Clarence Angell, UMass speech to New York, acting as judge. In its first outing, the team had four wins and six losses, Again Holy Cross came in first, followed by the University of Maine.

After spring vacation the de-bating team will participate in four more weekend tournaments.

NOTICE

Voting for Maroon Key will be held in the S.U. Lobby Thursday March 23 between a.m. and 5 p.m. All fresh man men who have not plied are eligible to vote.

WINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

Hans Kellerman's

ACROSS FROM LOUIS' FOODS-

—THE HOME OF COLLEGE STYLES—

For All Your Clothing Needs Make It KELLERMAN'S because

The QUALITY is HIGH and PRICES are LOW!

Sophomores Lead UMass Indoor Trackmen To Successful Season

Laden with capable sophomores the UMass indoor track squad achieved a highly successful win-ter record this year. The Redmen had a 3-1 mark in dual competi tion and scored well in several championship meets. It was back in 1958 that Coach Footrick's men had a better slate in recent years, as they went undefeated in five meets. The only two seniors on the Ralph Buschmann squad, Ralph Buschmann and Bob Kirk, themselves capable men, found the going tough with their younger teammates. Co-captain Buschmann, who runs the mile and two-mile, scored 24 points and ran several two-mile races under 10 minutes. Kirk is a low hurdler.

The team's nine juniors also contributed to the scoring. Jim Reilly, the squad's top sprinter last year, had to take a back seat to Loren Flagg in the dashes. But Reilly was a consistent point-getter in the dash and broad-jump, and is the only man on the team who can high-jump above his own height, He's and has done 5'10". Half-miler Bob Avery managed to work into condition although hampered by a virus condition all season. He'll be ready outdoors. Charlie La-Pier and Joe Cassidy sparked the high-scoring of the team in the high jump, LaPier also picked up points in the high hurdles.

Co-captain Joe LaMarre came ith some great times in the although overshadowed by Ken O'Brien. Rapidly improving weightmen Ernie Karshick scored heavily in the shotput and 35-lb. weight, becoming the fifth man in UMass history to break 50 feet in the latter. Ron Young became preparing for spring in the gan preparing for spring in the quarter-mile by running in sevby ABE SHEINKER '62 eral meets. The pole vault was taken care of by Kim Pruyne and gymnast Lee Hunson.

SOPHS STAR

But by far, the 14 sophomores on the squad outshone the others. They accounted for 236 1/6 of the team's 319 points and set new records in 8 events, the only new varsity marks. The big four were Loren Flagg, Ken O'Brien, Dave Balch and Dick Ward. Dave Balch and Dick Ward. Flagg scored 41 1/3 tallies, the rlagg scored 41 1/3 tallies, the team high, won five consecutive sprint contests and was New England amateur champion in the 50 yard dash. He now owns varsity records at 40 yards (4.5), 45 yards (5.2), and 50 yards (5.5), and competed in the high and broad jumps also. Rugged middle-d is tance man O'Brien broke the varsity 600 standard with 1:15.0 and twice ran under the 1000 record with 2:16 and 2:15.7 erushing the formers 2:16. 2:15.7, crushing the former 2:19 time. He had 37% points.

Second high scorer Ward, with 40, almost made a monopoly of two totally unrelated field events. He didn't lose a high-jumping He didn't lose a high-jumping contest in dual meets and won 3 of 4 in the 35-lb, weight throw. of 4 in the 35-lb, weight throw. On two occasions, he tied the varsity jump mark at 6'2", and also broke 50 feet with the heavy implement. Lastly, his versatility was demonstrated with a standstill 41-foot toss in the shotput, the high high. still 41-foot toss in the shotput an event (in addition to the highjump) which he never practice

Balch ran wild and ran a long way. The Holbrook hoofer had 38 tallies and records at one mile (twice, 4:24.5 and 4:29.3) and three miles (15:32.7). His dual meet slate in the one and two mile races was 6-2.

was the team's best Al Lucey hurdler with 22 points and showed promise in the broadjump. Mighty George Giddings upped his shotputting to 42 feet while nabbing two victories. Little Jack Harrington showed he can match strides with the big boys, by scoring heavily in the 600 and relays.

Distance star Dick Blomstrom came along in a bad year, as his sub-ten minute two-mile times would usually make him number one on the squad. Jumper Al Garsys, sprinter Mike Dineen, vaulter Dick Brown, quarter-miler Bob Carpenter, hurdler Carl Hanson and all around "Polo" Kelsey also contributed to

CREDIT GOES TO COACH Coach Bill Footrick was mainy responsible for the team's good showing. Not only did he know he had good material, but he worked them just the right amount, utilizing European train-ing methods and judiciously plachis men in various events. Prospects for the outdoor seasor The Indoor record is

New England Amateur Championships, 4th place; UM 63 Connecticut 50 Northeastern 66 UM 47 UM 87 New Hampshire 26 UM 75 MIT 38

niversity of Connecticut Indoor Relays, 3rd place.

FROSH TRACK

There will be a spring eshman track meeting in soom 10 of the Cage Monday, March 27 at 5:00 p.

FROSH LACROSSE

Freshman lacrosse candi dates please assemble in Hicks Gymnasium Lobby on Wed nesday, March 22 at 7:00 p.m

Sports Editorial

Our Idolized Deceivers

by JIM TRELEASE '63

Part I

Announcing this spring's not-so-original, washed and dried, dirty per didn't have to be himself . . . he could have been Larry Rayner or Al Berman or even YOU. But for a not so "tender while" two years ago, he was Brad Huthwaite, the principal force behind the exposure of an extensive gambling operation dealing in fact that Brad Huthwaite, editor of the University of Michigan newspaan extensive gambling operation dealing in football pool cards at the Ann Arbor campus

When Huthwaite watched his effigy being strung up on campus as a traitor to an accepted campus routine, he was not aware that it would take two years before his "cloak-and-dagger" routine would be acknowledged as bearing witness to the truth. In the ensuing months, though, he bore the brunt of the attack made on him by national magazines and syndicated columnists who chastised Huthwaite for working up a frenzy over "the sort of thing that . . . is really quite harmless."

In an indirect fashion, apologies were thrown to Huthwaite from the front pages of this past weekend's newspapers. To Americans the the front pages of this past weekend's newspapers. To Americans the major story in the news was far from the Congo where the absence of clothes is customary . . . it was in New York City where the presence of spring garments is the fashion. New York District Attorney Frank S. Hogan (of 1951 basketball scandal and fixed quiz shows fame) had announced the selection of sport's 1961 set of dirty clothes—more basketball scandal. And it's only the beginning, said D.A. Hogan, for reports in our hands indicate as many as 20 schools may be involved. The Gotham investigator would have been more correct if he had said that it was only the "continuance" . .

Ten years ago this year—1951—the New York Herald Tribune ran an editorial climaxing the exposé on college basketball fixes. It read in part: "There will come a time when the arrests cease, the excitement dies down and the gamblers begin to crawl out of the woodwark".

As the case of Brad Huthwaite indicated, "a time" came just eight years later and they all laughed when he sat down at his typewriter. Perhaps you laughed then or would have laughed had you read of the Michigan arrests. You laugh at the idea of a little football pool card... a slip of paper with 20 games listed on it. You buy it for a dime, bet as much as you want, circle the four or more winners you like, and get your receipt. If you win, there is a graduated odds scale for the pay-off. You can pick them up at any fraternity house on our campus and from most of the football players. You say the little card won't influence the player himself? Michigan basketball captain Jack Lewis was garnering $500 a week and gridiron fullback Tony Rio weighed in at $350 per week after a workout with little colored slips. Do some multiplying . . the above players' earnings by the number of students by the number of campuses . . . and your product is big businessmen centered around boys dressed in this year's spring fashions—dirty sports clothes.

Will there ever be clean clothes for sports to wear? Who is to blame? The players? The college? The gamblers? Or the American people? Would you be surprised at the dirty clothes in golf? And what has happened to the boys involved in the 1951 basketball scandal during the intervented. scandal during the intervening years?

See Part II for that information, Friday.

Top Guns Of Kansas State College Outshoot Stockbridge Sharpshooters

Firing a 1429 team total for ne of the best college scores of the year, the Kansas State Col-lege Rifle Team easily defeated the Stockbridge School shooters in its last match of the current

Although Dan Washburn and Dick Stenberg each posted 272 for an individual effort, all mem-bers of the Kansas team had scores in the 280's, with Wheeler as the top gun with a 288.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGE
PR KN ST
Wheeler 100 98 90
LEE 100 96 90
Dry 100 97 89
Spence 100 98 87
Burns 199 98 87

Picturesque Restaurants in U.S.A.

carlo of naples

JU 4-9671

For that Food Americans Eat In Italy ---

OPEN 5 P.M. to MIDNIGHT DURING VACATION, TOO

AMHERST + + CINEMA

-ENDS TONIGHT-

"The Sundowners"

-STARTS THURSDAY-

Walt Disney's

"SWISS FAMILY ROBINSON"

> in Panavision & Color Starring John Mills

Cifers you FOREIGN & DOMESTIC TOBACCO and PIPES at Low Prices. Also a complete line of Foreign Magazines. SPECIAL! 1 Pipe & Pkg. of Tobacco 75¢.

THIS WEEK ONLY. (Clip this Ad for Special)

Contest Five Years Old

Five years ago, the editors of Glamour decided that it was time to do something about the college girl. Until that moment, they had had no issue devoted to the college girl, only a few features in the August issue, which is traditionally regarded as the "back to school" issue.

So originated the idea for a college issue done in terms of real, live college girls—and for a fashion magazine, what better idea than "the ten best dressed college girls"?

Glamour editor Lucia Carpenter was put in charge of this project, and she has watched it grow until last year there were over three hundred nominations.

College newspapers were chosen to run the contest in order to insure that the girl chosen as best-dresed on each campus would be truly representative of the campus, and not the choice of a small clique.

Glamour has established a set of criteria which must be used by each college in selecting its "best dressed girl" and this insures an equal chance for each girl competing in the national contest. Girls have been chosen from colleges all over the country, state universities and private schools, girls' schools and co-ed schools, big schools and little schools, four-year schools and junior colleges.

The contest, which celebrates its fifth birthday with the selection of the 50th "Best Dressed College Girl," has become a tradition not only with Glamour, but with more than 300 American colleges.

PAM O'DONNELL, 63

UMass' 'Best Dressed': Jeanne Mullaney, '63

The "Best Dressed Girl on Campus" at U. of Mass. is Jeanne Mullaney. Jeanne, a sophomore resident of Knowlton House, is a journalism-English major, and her career plans are in this field. Five foot four, with black hair and brown eyes, Jeanne is seen in the fall as a member of the Precisionettes.

Jeanne's other campus activities include S.O.S. and the Sophomore Banquet Committee. She has just been elected Sigma Kappa's junior representative to the Panhellenic Council.

Jeanne's home town is Worcester; while attending South High School there, she was fashion editor of the school paper. She is still interested in Worcester: she was recently pinned to Denis Snay, a sophomore at Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

Sketching and painting are among Jeanne's favorite pastimes; she is also an ardent swimmer.

Jeanne was seen as a model in the Winter Carnival Fashion Show, and will be remembered for her poise and personality. She is always dressed appropriately for the many facets of a college girl's life, and her grooming is excellent.

Since Jeanne is Irish, we are looking forward to seeing her in her brand new green outfit, the prize awarded to our "Best Dressed Girl." The dress was given by Ann August of Northampton and Amherst, the patent leather pumps by Bolles Shoes, Amherst, and the short white gloves and patent leather clutch bag by McCallum's, Northampton.

Judging Criteria

- 1. Good figure, beautiful posture.
- 2. Clean, shining, well-kept hair.
- 3. Imagination in managing a clothes budget.
- 4. Good grooming-not just neat, but impeccable.
- 5. Appropriate look—she's in line with local customs.
- 6. A clear understanding of her fashion type.
- 7. Individuality in her use of color, accessories.
- 8. A workable wardrobe plan.
- 9. A neat way with make-up (Enough to look pretty, but not overdone).
- Appropriate—not rah-rah—look for off-campus occasions.

These are the criteria suggested by Glamour magazine for judging the "Best Dressed Girl" candidates. We used them in running our contest, and they will be used by Glamour in picking its winners. They are not only good standards for judging a contest, but will serve very well as a guide for all girls interested in looking their best.

Our Runners-Up

Our two runners-up, Pam O'Donnell and Martha Ronan, are both attractive, well-groomed, and well-dressed. Each is an individual, and they, along with Jeanne, prove that the well-dressed girl is the girl who is herself; who is not merely one of the crowd, but her own personal, special self!

Martha, a resident of Hamlin House, is a member of the Newman Club and the Water Skiing Club. She comes from Winthrop, and wants to be a medical technologist or a chemical researcher. Tall and slender, with auburn hair and green eyes, Martha is an ardent sports enthusiast. Sailing, swimming, and water skiing are among her summer activities with her twin sister, Pat. Martha was nominated by Hamlin House.

Pam, the nominee of Pi Beta Phi sorority, is an English major who hopes to work on a magazine or for the government. A resident of Leach House, Pam is 5'6" tall, has brown hair and blue eyes. A native of Pittsfield, Pam's interests include making her own clothes, cooking, tennis, and swimming. Pam is a member of the Newman Club and the H.E.R. Weekend Committee.

Best Dressed Winner...

(Continued from page 1)

The pictures of Miss Mullaney will now be sent to the offices of Glamour Magazine in New York, where they will be judged in competition with those of other girls who have been selected as the "Best Dressed" on their campuses.

After all photos have been assembled and studied, the magazine will announce the names of the 10 national winners.

After the final selection, the ten finalists will be invited to come to New York as guests of the magazine. They will spend two weeks of June in New York.

While there, they will be photographed together for the August College Issue of Glamour, and will model in Glamour's College Fashion Show. They will be guests of honor at a champagne cotillion. Other events planned for the winners have not yet been announced. Last year's winners were flown to Washington and photographed with leading political figures. Janet Day, of Longmeadow, a student at Hood College, was photographed with the junior senator from her state . . . he is now President.

This is the second time that the University has nominated a candidate. Two years ago, the UMass "Best Dressed Girl" was Eleanor Galbraith, who went on to become one of the ten national winners. She was featured in the August 1959 issue of Glamour Magazine.

MARTHA RONAN, '64

Wealthy Actress' Donation Still Aids UMass Students

A loan fund, a graduate fellowship and several undergraduate scholarships at the University of Massachusetts all bear her name.

Gold Rush Darling

Who is she? Charlotte "Lotta" Mignon Crabtree-singer, dancer and comedienne-the darling of "Gold Rush" campus and Broadway.

Known as the world's richest actress, Lotta died at the age of 77 in Boston on Sept. 25, 1924, leaving an estate of more than $4 million. She had added to the profits of her theatrical enter-prises larger sums gained in real estate speculation in New York and an analog a

EVERY COLLEGE STUDENT needs this book

toincrease his ability to learn

An understanding of the truth contained in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy can remove the pressure which concerns today's college student upon whom increasing de-mands are being made for academic excellence.

Christian Science calms fear and gives to the student the full assurance he needs in order to learn easily and to evaluate what he has learned. It teaches that God is man's Mind-his only Mind-from which emanates all the intelligence he needs, when and as he needs it.

Science and Health, the textbook of Christian Science, may be read or examined, together with the Bible, in an atmosphere of quiet and peace, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Information about Science and Health may also be obtained on campus through the

Christian Science Organization at

UNIV. OF MASS. Meeting Time WED., 6:30 P.M. Meeting Place OLD CHAPEL

and elsewhere, and owned pro-perty in many places.

After providing varying amounts for relatives, disabled World War veterans, dumb animals, discharged convicts and needy actors and actresses, Lotta surprised the world by leaving the rest of her estate—a cool $1 million—to the Massachusetts Agricultural College, now the University of Massachusetts.

Sets Up Fund

In setting up the agricultural fund, Miss Crabtree said: "I believe it is my duty to aid in some of the great social and economic questions of the time, and it is my belief that the best method to reduce the cost and expense of living and provide a generally more prosperous and larger employment for the people lies in the intelligent and active promotion of agricultural pursuits and lieve it is my duty to aid in some tion of agricultural pursuits and that I may render real practical assistance in this direction I au-thorize my trustees to loan the semi-annual income of this fund, with interest travel. with interest, to such graduates of Massachusetts Agricultural College at Amherst, as have com-pleted their course and who have the desire to follow agriculture."

Used Three Ways

Acting Dean of Agriculture, Fred P. Jeffrey, chairman of the university scholarship committee, says the funds are now used in says the runds are now used in three ways. A graduate fellow-ship—currently held by Edward R. Balboni of Springfield and Cushman—is awarded annually for a doctorate in some phase of agriculture.

A number of undergraduate scholarships totaling $5000 a semester are awarded to students in the two-year Stockbridge School and the four-year College of Agriculture. Currently 46 stu-dents are being aided by these scholarshins

Also, between six and 12 noninterest loans are made each year to agricultural graduates to help them get started in farming. At present 80 such loans are outpresent 80 such loans are out-standing and recipients are farm-ing in all six New England states and New York. Loans range from $5,000 to $10,000.

1500 Assisted

Dean Jeffrey estimates about 60 have been aided for each of the past 10 years and that at least 1500 have been assisted rince the fund was established. The entire Lotta M. Crabtree estate is directed by trustees with offices in Boston.

When she retired in 1891 at the height of her career, Lotta had been seen in such triumphs as "Firefly," "Topsy," "Bob," "Nitouche," and "The Little De-tective," as well as in other light

THESIS BINDERS TYPING PAPER A. J. HASTINGS

Inc. Newsdealer & Stationer Amherst, Mass.

Latin America To Be Theme Of Panels At International Weekend

ganized at UMass eight years ago with the purpose of stimulat-ing interest in international affairs, providing a means of communication among American and foreign students, and examining first hand issues on the interna-

Irst hand issues on the international scene.

Some of the speakers at past weekends have been well known people such as V. K. Krishna Menon, Senator Hubert Humphrey, Dr. Eugene Rabinowitch, and Dr. Charles Malik.

Panelists To Discuss So. America This year we have as panelists several outstanding men who will provide interesting views on cur-rent problems in Latin America.

"The Foreign Investor: Bene-factor or Villain" will be dis-cussed by Rear Admiral Oberlin C. Laird and Dr. Robert Alexander in Panel I, moderated by Dr.

Adm. Laird taught Spanish at Annapolis during three tours of shore duty. He has been aide to several Latin American dignitaries during their visits to the U.S., and was chief of the U.S. Naval Mission to Chile.

After his retirement from the Navy nine years ago, he was a director of the public relations board of the Orinoco Mining Company in Venezuela, and from sultant on Latin America to the U.S. Steel Corporation.

Dr. Alexander, an economist, is resently teaching at Rutgers. presently teaching at Rutg He has traveled extensively Rutgers. Latin America and has written several books on contemporary developments in that area. His latest work, Communism in Latin America, will be published in

Dr. Alexander is a student of the labor movement in Latin America. He is also a member of the board of the Institute of International Labor Research, Inc.

Potash Plans Study In Argentina
Dr. Potash is a member of the UMass history department, and UMass history department, and is also the foreign student ad-visor. He has made extended visits to Argentina and Mexico and has visited many other Latin American countries.

He has written books and articles on Mexican economics and historiography, and Argentine political parties. His latest book, political parties. His latest book, which is on the Argentine military, will be published soon. Dr. Potash holds a fellowship from the Organization of American States and a grant from the So-cial Science Research Council which will enable him to spend next year on Sabbatical in Argentina Panel II, a discussion of the future of Latin America, will be between John P. Harrison and Dr. Ramon Ruiz, both of whom hold doctorates from the versity of California. Dr. is in charge of the Smith College course in the history of the course in the history of the Americas covering Latin America, the U.S., and Canada.

Harrison Reviews Humanities

Harrison Reviews Humanities
Projects
Harrison was for several years an official in charge of the Latin American division of the National Archives. He is presently assistant director of the Rockefeller Foundation's Humanities Divi-Foundation's Humanities sion for Latin America.

One of those now receiving funds is a seminar headed by Daniel Cosio-Villegas, keynote speaker for the weekend. Har-rison has traveled in Latin Amera, and is a specialist on rural education there.

Irving Pflaum, who will speak "The Politics of Right Now" spent two years in Cuba during the revolution. Since his return here he has written several ar-ticles and made some speeches on Cuba at various places in Athletic Fees...

(Continued from page 1)
sociations of which UMass is a member. Also there are the costs of the football summer training program and the spring baseball trip south trip south.

A total of 11,000 dollars was spent in intramural and related programs. The intramural pro-gram at UMass has expanded greatly in the past few years, greatly in the past few years, with ever-increasing numbers of student participants. Also included in this total are the expenses of the Womens Athletic Association program. Women engage in five inter-scholastic and nine intramural sports, with a total of about 825 participants. Injuries, Other Expenses Covered About 75,000 dollars was spent last year for athletic injury care, cheerleader expenses, and ex-cheerleader expenses, and expenses of athletic personnel to attend various conventions, clinics, and meetings. This in-cludes transportation, lodging, and meals of coaches attending such functions as the N.C.A.A. basketball coaches' clinic as well as high school scouting and con tact trips.

The physical education department ment maintains two full-time publicity men who handle the dis-tribution of sports information. Their salaries and varied expenses incurred for this purpose totaled slightly over 9500 dollars in 1959-1960.

Capital outlay, which includes expenditures on small mechanical equipment for use in the athletic program, accounted for 8,000 dollars, while general operation expenses totaled over 14,000 dol-

It should be emphasized that none of the funds collected from students' athletic fees is used to pay for the required student physical education program at the University, Funds for this purpose are furnished by the state. All the students' athletic fees are used to pay for the general sports program, to which the state contributes nothing.

Also, no student fees are used for athletic scholarships. Money for this purpose is raised exclusively from gate receipts, concessions, vending machines and alumni purchases of season's tickets. tickets.

This is the first of two parts which will continue in Friday's Collegian.

Installation Of Computer Planned For Goessmann

The new IBM 1620 computer, a complete data-processing system, will be installed in Goessmann Laboratory this April, for research projects.

An IBM computer system is scheduled for installation in Goessmann Laboratory late in April this year. This computer will be available free of charge for approved educational and research problems. search problems.

The 1620 Data Processing System is a powerful, small, stored-program computer designed for scientific research, engineering, and management science com-putations. Solid-state componentry and the most advanced computer circuits have been com-bined to achieve reliable, high-speed operation.

PERCUSSION!

Trap w/stand, bass, foot-pedal, sticks, brushes, cymbals, covers, case. A buy at $40. AL 3-2166.

LEARN TO FLY $3.80 Per Lesson

UMASS FLYING CLUB Inquire Room 202, ROTC Bldg., Tuesdays or Fridays 2-4 p.m. Open to Students, Faculty and Administration.

The "1620" is a complete data processing system which can per-form arithmetic and all logical and input-output operations on a production basis. Conventional decimal arithmetic is used, providing ease of communication between man and machine.

A few of the wide variety of applications for which the "1620" is suited are performing highway cut-and-fill and bridge design calculations for civil engineers, supporting optical ray tracing calculations for lens de-sign, and evaluating petroleum blending options for refinery engineers

ELECTIONS

Primary elections for Women's adiciary were held Monday, March 20. Results were as follows: Class of '64 Carol Esonis and Janice Reimer; Class of '63 Barbara Viera, Ada Nordberg, Beverly DeMarce, and Jean Bruen. Final elections will be held Thursday, March 23, in the S.U. lobby from 9:00 to 5:00, Aberrations of Democracy

SEE PAGE 2

American Field Service Representative To Discuss Politics of Americas

Irving Pflaum, a representa-tive of the American Universi-ties Field Service, will be a keynote speaker tonight at the opening Weekend of the International Pflaum's appearance as the keynote speaker represents a change from the schedule ori-ginally announced. Dr. Cosio-Vil-legas, the Mexican historian who was to have been the keynoter, was forced to cancel yesterday because of illness.

Pflaum, who recently returned to the U.S. after a two-year stay in Cuba, will speak on the "Politics of Right Now," an analysis of the current Latin American political situation. His address will herein at 8 pm in the S.U. vill begin at 8 p.m. in the S.U.

Johansson To Speak

Bertram Johansson, the Latin American editor of the Christian Science Monitor, will deliver the afternoon address Saturday. His speech, starting at 1:30 p.m. will be "New Hopes in Latin America," a survey of the Kennedy administration policies in the Latin American area.

Other events on Saturday will include two parels: one of 10 include two panels: one at 10 a.m. on "The Foreign Investor: Benefactor or Villain?" and another at 3 p.m. on "Prospects for

According to David Ellis '61,
"International Weekend this year holds the promise of being the most substantive program directed at an inquiry into interna-tional relations held on this cam-

Handicap Cited

He hopes the student body will direct its attention to the pro-gram planned this weekend. "We are laboring under a handicap this year. The three valley colleges are on vacation. In the past they have provided as much as half of the attendance at International Weekend programs."

Ellis further stated, "As co-chairman of International Week-end, I want to invite everyone on campus to take advantage of this opportunity.

"It is seldom that the student body as a whole gets the chance to meet with, and talk to, people who have international reputa-tions. This weekend presents the perfect opportunity.

"The panelists and speakers will be available for discussion at various times throughout Satur-day in the Colonial Lounge." All events of the weekend are free and open to the public.

Weekend Keynoter Student Senate Votes 2.0

Changed to Pflaum Minimum Average Requirement Effective In Fall For R.S.O. Organizations' Officers

By THOMAS A. McMULLIN '64, Senate Reporter

The Student Senate, in a sur-prise action Wednesday night, passed the controversial 2.0 mimimum average motion. The bill, which will go into effect in September 1961, provides that officers of all recognized student organizations must have a 2.0 cumulative average or a 2.4 average for the preceding semester. Original Motion age of their respective classes.

The bill, originally proposed by Senator Ridell of the Activities Committee, stipulates that all officers have the graduating average of their respective classes.

Immediately upon presentation of the bill, Senator Wilson proposed that the bill be postponed for five weeks. He stated, "We want time to come up with a compromise. We felt we'd defeated the 2.0 philosophy."

In reply, Senator Ridell stated, "We've postponed this enough. The opponents should have come

The opponents should have come

The opponents should have come to the committee meetings."

Compromise Committee Proposed Senator Della Penna, in reply, stated, "There's no harm to post-poning it. We'll bring in something acceptable to both sides." He then proposed that a committee composed of people from both sides be formed.

The motion to postpone was then called and defeated by a 17-16 vote.

Senator Croteau immediately proposed that the bill be amended to include the 2.0 average instead of the graduating average. Sena-tor Croteau said, "The reason I brought this up is that I believe the 1.8 is ridiculous. It gives the impression the Senate doesn't want any restrictions."

Senator Della Penna spoke of a survey made at the University of Illinois showing that when students dropped extra-curricular activities their marks stayed the same or dropped.

same or dropped.

Senator Twohig then made a speech which, some felt, proved to be the turning point in the debate. He stated that, "Flunking out is a very serious matter," in reference to remarks that if an officer fails out of school, he'll learn a good lesson. Twohig then explained that the opposition to the minimum average was typical explained that the opposition to the minimum average was typical of the "mediocrity" found on campus. He concluded by saying that, "No one's rights are being abrogated by this bill. I think I'm right and you know I'm right. If you want to follow someone, follow the best."

Senator Trudeau replied that "the previous speaker is putting us in the position of the father in the position of the father a three-year-old child." He reiterated his previous position by stating that if the student "doesn't know when to study, he should flunk out."

Studies Come First
Senator D'Avanzo concluded the debate by saying, "We must put studies first, extra-curricular activities second. It's high time we, the students, told everyone we're here first for studies and second for extra-curricular activities. If you're here for scholas-tics, put your vote where your mind is."

The senators did just that; the bill was approved by an 18-13

Those for the bill were: Achen-Those for the bill were: Achenbach, Burns, Chase, Clarke, Croteau, D'Avanzo, Fratar, Hajjar, Hanlon, Jones, Knowlton, Ridell, Sackmary, Shields, Stone, Twohig, Vrooman and Woodbury.

Opposed were: Aho, Blodgett, Coughlin, Della Penna, Doran, Finnegan, Haebler, Samma, Segal, Seletsky, Tacelli, Trudeau, and Valentinetti.

Senators Watson and Wilson

Senators Watson and Wilson abstained.

Paper Elects Staff

The Collegian staff elected its Executive Board for the The Collegian staff elected its Executive Board for the coming year last night. The new officers are, seated from left: JOE BRADLEY '64, News Assignment Editor; JIM TRELEASE '63, Editorial Editor; AL BERMAN '62, Editor-in-Chief; and BETH PETERSON '63, News Makeup Editor. Standing, from left, HOWARD FRISCH '62, Business Manager; LARRY POPPLE '62, Photography Editor; and BEN GORDON '62, Sports Editor.

At The State House

House Passes Two Year Bill For UMass Medical School

Under suspension of the rules of a school of medicine, and without debate the House of The sum of three hundred Representatives Thursday passed a bill providing for the establishment of a two-year medical course at the Univ. of Mass. The bill which now goes to the Senate reads:

"The trustees shall establish at Amherst a two-year basic science medical course which shall be the equivalent of the first two years

The sum of three hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated for the purpose of preparing plans and specifications for classroom and laboratory facilities necessary to carry out the provision of this act."

out the provisions of this act."

House Speaker John Thompson of Ludlow called for an immediate establishment of the medical istration at Harvard University. A nationally known educator and public administrator, Dean Price served on President Eisenhower's

A critical evaluation of "The Presidential Executive Office from Roosevelt to Kennedy" will be unaken at UMass in a public lecture by Don K. Price, Jr., dean of the Graduate School of Public Admin-

Presidency To Be Reviewed By Harvard Dean

A nationally known educator and public administrator, Dean Price served on President Eisennower's advisory commission on government organization. His talk will be given at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, March 28, in Bowditch Lodge. All interested persons are invited to attend.

A former staff member of the U.S. Bureau of the Budget and deputy chairman of the Research and Development Board of the Department of Defense, the Harvard educator was assistant to

John P. Hagen To Speak At Science Congress Rocket expert John P. Hagen an opportunity to discuss the de-will be the main speaker at a Science Congress to be held on April 8-9 in conjunction with the UMass Regional Science Fair.

Dr. Hagen, responsible for developing the liquid fuel now used in Vanguard rockets, is a member of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration His work has been extensively reported in national newspapers and magazines

Pilot Program In 2 States

The new Science Congress has been instituted as a pilot program in two states, Massachusetts and Texas. Organized under provisions of the National Defense Education Act and administered by the Massachusetts Department of Education, the Congress has been planned as a means of encouraging establishment of clubs for students of science and mathematics.

The Congress also provides teachers of these subjects with velopment of appropriate other activities involving wide student

The University's Congress is one of two for the Commonwealth. A similiar event will be held at an institution in the eastern part of the state.

Combined With Science Fair

Combining of the Congress with the University's annual Science Fair will provide high school students and their teachers with a major chance for evaluation of current developments in the teaching of science on the secondary level.

At present, more than 25 high schools in the four western Massachusetts counties have submitted entries for the Science Fair exhibit. It is also expected that many science and mathematics teachers in this area will attend the lectures and seminars scheduled for the Congress.

Department of Defense, the Har-vard educator was assistant to Herbert Hoover on a study of the U.S. presidency for the Commis-sion on the Organization of the Executive Branch of the Govern-

Author of "The Political Economy of American Foreign Poli-cy" and other books, Dean Price served as associate director and vice-president of the Ford Foundation prior to joining the facul-ty of the Graduate School of Public Administration at Har-

The University lecture, under sponsorship of the department of government, is one in a series dealing with contemporary affiairs.

Ballroom Scene Of Soph Fete

The class of '63 will hold its Sophomore Banquet Tuesday, March 28th in the S.U. Ballroom, from 6-8 p.m.

Music by the Jazz Doctors will follow several short addresses by Bob McMaster, Class President and the Class Advisor, Dr. Field.
A class blazer will also be presented.

Tickets for the Banquet will be sold through Monday, March 27, in the ticket window. Tickets will cost 50¢ for all those that eat at the University Dining Halls and the University Dining Halls 99¢ for all others attending.

Aberrations Of Democracy

We are all aware of the machinations of that not so unique institution, the House Committeee on Un-American activities. We have from time to time expressed our views as to the existence of this committee, as have such publications as the New York Times, Washington Post, New York Herald Tri-

It is, however, apparent that we can as certain the general philosophy behind this committee by delineating the political philosophies of the individual members. In Representative Francis E. Walter, Pennsylvania Democrat and chairman of the Committee, we have a fine example of "Un-Americanism philosophy.

First, let us talk of Mr. Walter's campaign to intercept mail from communist countries. He has introduced a bill to this effect. The bill would establish a "controller of foreign propaganda" in the Customs Service. In addition, publications from behind the "iron curtain" would be labeled as communist propaganda. Although in former years the Post Office has checked all but first class mail from communist lands, the prevailing system merely requires the addressee to fill out a form to the effect that he desires the publication.

Mr. Walter, patriot that he is, implies that if this bill does not pass "poison will be poured into the veins of our society without restriction and without notice or warning of its nature." The implications of this statement are far-reaching and significant. Obviously, this could be an important step towards imposing political censorship upon our nation. But let us not criticize Mr. Walter, for he is the patriot and we are merely the people.

Let us discuss another product of the prolific imagination of Mr. Walter. Another of his bills would "prohibit the employment on merchant ships or on the waterfront of anyone who refused to answer questions about subversive activities." The Walter bill, in fact, bars all those who refuse to answer questions from employment "in any capacity aboard any merchant vessel of the United States or within any waterfront facility.'

Thus, any longshoreman or seaman who invoked the Fifth Amendment would be out of a job. In this situation one can see an interesting paradox. A person, by taking the Fifth Amendment is automatically to be classified as subversive!

A casual look at any of these bills should evoke a hearty chuckle from all except the reactionary. Yet, this is not a laughable

It is not a laughable situation because the latter bill has been passed by the House with only two dissentions. It is not a laughable matter because the House Committee on Un-American Activities exerts influence which startles the imagination. Finally, it is not laughable because it negates the fundamental principles of our constitution and, by extension, the continued existence of American Democracy as we know it.

"When a wound is perfectly healed, the slough falls off it itself; but if the slough be taken off earlier, it bleeds. Similarly, when the perfection of knowledge is reached by a man, the distinctions of caste fall off from him, but it is wrong for the ignorant to break such distinctions."

> From Ramakrisna: His Life and Sayings by Mueller

The Omphalos

By PAUL THEROUX

"A man must swallow a toad every morning if he wishes to be sure of finding nothing still more disgusting before the day is over." —Nicholas Chamfort (1741-1794)

I can think of a few other things I would rather do than sit or my unmade bed and compose letters to Col. Weaver, the Administration, Gov. Volpe, Barry Goldwater, Norman Vincent Peale, Oral Roberts, Tenzing Norkay, Mao-Tse Tung, King Farouk, Orval Faubus, Bertrand Russell and the student body in general, But the few other things are seniously the student body in general. things are so picayune, so narrow, so unimaginative, and so unstimulating that I plan to write a few letters tomorrow morning, right after breakfast, to the above mentioned parties.

And while I'm at it I think I'll compose a few lines to the people And while I'm at it I think I'll compose a few lines to the people who attend church services every Sunday; wail and moan about the sins of mankind; the obscenity of Henry Miller; and the moral rot and decay of civilization. Praying on foamy cushions they plead for peace and tranquillity, for a cessation of war as the visions of H-bombs balloon in their skulls. Then, two days after the almost traumatic utterances of forgiving their trespassers (and I guess we all know who the trespassers are), they put on the old ROTC fripperies, check the old air-cooled, semi-automatic, shoulder-type, 30 cal., people gun for shells and march off to the drill field.

Why? To kill the trespassers, of course.

Now, God knows, we're getting trespassed on like mad. I mean, we've been passed and trespassed so much, so hard, and so often.

Actually, any trespasser from the Ming Dynasty to the Kennedy Dynasty would have a fudgicle's chance of being forgiven. Ask any

To say that the Russians are not trespassers is to say that a kumquat is not palatable. And since Military is achieving prominence as a science far above anything the ornithologists could hope for, it makes one wonder how palatable a kumquat really is, in the light of the number of churches that dot the landscape. If this is difficult to conceive, try reading the next paragraph.

Are You or Aren't You?

War is peculiar to humans as is Christianity. But war is, to me, an especially odious thing. As a matter of fact, I wonder how anyon can assemble a gun; I wonder if they know what the hell they're do

But war is marked because our conception--the Agnosto-Judeo but war is marked because our conception—the Agnosto-Judeo-Christian conception—of life goes far beyond the moral and intellectual state of the nations and the men that acknowledge it. That is why the rule of conduct of these three interacting beliefs is greatly opposed not only to our individual habits but even to the whole social organization of pagans who became deists in name only. In other words, man cannot live the life he now lives and still remain a Christian Law or weekend agnostic Organized religion as it is practiced.

words, man cannot live the life he now lives and still remain a Christian, Jew, or weekend agnostic. Organized religion as it is practiced in Amherst and environs is opposed to our way of life. No, kids, not running parallel to—but OPPOSED.

And in this "Lower-Kinsey Epoch of the Atomic Age" the warring nations of the world have become attached falsely to religion whose principles differ from paganism and complete Dadaistic nihilism only by a lack of sincerity. Faith in religious doctrines disappeared little by little without being replaced by any other. That is why we find ourselves under this "irrational parasol of fanatic patriotism and clinging blindly" (from my first article).

I might add that Tolstoy (the man who was responsible for the

I might add that Tolstoy (the man who was responsible for the movie "War and Peace") had a few words to say on the subject of man's apathy. Specifically: "It is the long duration of (man's) lack of faith that has caused him to lose all notion of the bond which exists between his servitude and his participation in violence."

The Ivory Tower

If you had to choose one object that would symbolize our civilization, what would it be?

A psychiatrist's couch, a Cadillac tail fin, a television isolation booth, a pilgrim's hat in green with an arrow through it, a parimutuel stub, two tickets to "My Fair Lady", a college degree?

How about Khrushchev's shoe, Castro's beard, Kennedy's bushy hair? Or maybe DeGaulle's sense of destiny, a U.N. security force helmet or the corrected results of the latest Russian five-year plan.

Maybe the heet symbols would be Herter with one foot in his

Maybe the best symbols would be Herter with one foot in his mouth holding a U-2. It might be Nixon being pelted with stones in Venezuela or Hagerty in Japan, or even simpler, a "Yankee Go Home" sign.

As symbols of our leisure we could use a wide screen movie house, a Chris-Craft tail fin or a baseball player flying across the country.

We might use a quick frozen TV dinner or a completely automatic pushbutton frying pan made of the identical ceramic used in the nose cone of the Atlas missile. A good suggestion is an IBM 704 computer programmed to compose rock and roll music by allowing it any combination of three given notes. combination of three given notes

Another idea is Elvis Presley singing "The Lord's Prayer Rock".
sibly a complete set of all 86 different recordings of "Mack the

Possibly a complete set of all 86 different recordings of "Mack the Knife" as recorded in the last five years by 86 different persons.

We are living in an enlightened civilization so we can't use pictures of the starving Congolese children, or a huge grain silo overflowing with stockpiled, price-supported corn. We won't even suggest statements by the last two or three administrations saying what great friends of democracy Trujillo, Peron and Batista were.

We could use a book by Mickey Spillane or Norman Vincent Peale, or a plainting done in tempera by a chimpanzee titled Opus No. 1.

No. 1.

A possibility is the cut-away view of a human torso showing little b-b's dissolving, a handkerchief with holes in it caused by concentrated stomach acid and a huge hunk of congested phlegm.

Maybe we should use all the statistics showing that lung cancer is caused by cigarette smoking and all the statistics showing that lung cancer is not caused by cigarette smoking. We could also use a pound of contaminated cranberries.

und of contaminated cranberries.

How about a six-room ranch house with no cellar or attic, a built-carport selling for $18,000 completely identical, except for the lor, with 600 other houses in the same development.

However, my own personal choice is a shiny new porcelain toilet Joe Cohen

LETTERS

Success

To the Editor: Dear Mr. Madden:

You have quite misconstrued my definition of success. You somehow inferred from the article that the definition meant: success is exellence in a socially ameliorative vocation . . . i.e. a social worker. Then you proceeded to argue that one may be vocationally successful (sheep herder, monk) regardless of whether or not his work is directly concerned with humans. Of course, But I am not excelcing of with humans. Of course. But I am not speaking of vocational success (although it might implement the ends which I consider to vocational success (although it might implement the ends which I consider to constitute success). I am speaking of accomplishment as a human being who is responsible for the stability and health of his social milieu. This accomplishment may or may not have any connection with vocations, gifts, etc. In short, personal moral adequacy. This is a value which should be attained to by prince and pauper alike, by PhD's and sheep herders alike. It is a basic, universal criterion of success as a human being. If we were animals, realization of this value would not be incumbent upon us. Since it is a universal index we were animals, realization of this value would not be incumbent upon us. Since it is a universal index of worth among humans, it would seem proper to adopt it as an enduring and true standard of success. Vocations alter with time; what may have been good sheep herding a century ago may not be good sheep herding today. But—excepting perhaps the ethical relativist—most would agree that there are particular major moral values (not all moral values) which withstand time and even culture. Who would dispute that charity is as valuable now as it values) which withstand time and even culture. Who would dispute that charity is as valuable now as it was a thousand years ago? Even your human isolate (the monk) is also responsible for his claim to humanity. If a monk beat his dog or refused sanctuary to a visitor, I would pass judgment on his success as

The statement that there are those who consider themselves successful because they have achieved what to them is a standard of success, different from mine, does not in the least vitiate my criterion. Their success still has not been personal success—it may have been success as a gangster or Eichmann's administrative success in exterminating six million Jews. I only contend that the former sub-ordinates the latter in my scale of reliable of the success.

ordinates the latter in my scale of values.

Your definition does not define success. It only defines development. You do not state what kind of potentialities should be fulfilled. There are good and potentialities, you know. Furthermore, how are evil capacities, you know. Furthermore, how are those potentialities to be directed or used? If a poe-tic genius fulfills an extraordinary artistic potential and—to exaggerate—buins every poem he writes, would you call him a success? As Wordsworth wrote, "A poet is a man speaking to men." It would wrote, "A poet is a man speaking to men." It would seem that success goes further than mere development; there must be some discrimination in the kind and purpose of development. I aver that to develop social qualities is to develop those elements most noble and precious in our nature, and that the END of their development is human greatness. I did not say vocational greatness but human greatness. So of their development is numan greatness. I did not say vocational greatness, but human greatness, ocial responsibility is inherent in every significant type of human endeavor. To meet that responsibility is the ultimate test of personal value.

IN MEMORIAM

Saturday, March 18, Carol Whitehead, class of '64, died following a stay in the hospital. Although she hadn't been on the campus long, Carol made her presence felt through her work in C.A., the Arts and Music Committee, and the Hamlin House Coffee Hour Committee.

fee Hour Committee.

In her home town of Longmeadow, where she lived at 64 Pleasantview Avenue, Carol was very active in church life, and worked last summer as a teacher in the Summer Bible School.

A "Carol Whitehead Memorial Fund" for cancer research has been started, and all donations can be sent to the "Old First Church", Springfield, Mass.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '6

Editorial Editor
James J, Trelease '63
News Editor: Assignments
Joseph Bradley '64
Sports Editor

Editorial Editor
Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62
News Editor: Make-Up
Beth Peterson '63
Photography Editor

Ben Gordon '62 Lawrence Popple '63 FRI.: Editorial, Mike Palter '63; News, Roger Cruff, '64; Sports, Ben Gordon '62; Feature, Audrey Rayner '63; Copy, Pat Whiting '63, Mary Roche, '64, Jerry Orlen '62.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a when the week following a vacation or examination period. or when the subservation of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1884. is 11, 1984. $4.00 per year: $2.50 per semester tudent Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. ed Collegiate Press: Intercollegiate Press Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

Greeks Announce

Forthcoming Plans

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

Various Fashion Trends Are Currently Upcoming sense.

So how does a fad become a trend? By settling down, getting rid of its rough edges and whacky overtones, becoming legitimately attractive. Most fads never make it. They come and go in a matter of months. Trends arrive slowly and stay for years.

arrive slowly and stay for years. In makeup trends, emphasis is still on the eyes. But now we are more subtle and more skillful With the heavy look toned down for daytime, eyes are still emphatic. Lips are full and softly-colored, not sharp and brilliant. Lipstick shades tend to rosy or averaging.

Basically, the 1961 fashion look can be described as the Vital Look. This means an air of typically American vitality and ex-citement beneath a surface so-

In hair fashions, the hallmark of the Vital Look is hair artfully abbreviated in length, sleek and cheeky in form, and forward-looking in direction. Remember that hair will still be short this Spring, but definitely not cropped . . . in other words, a little longer than in the past but still on the short side. short side.

Line, always the most vital feature of any fashion, continues to be soft. This is one reason for Everyone knows what a fad is.

It's a new fashion that hits with force and—often without sense.

So how does a fad become a trend? By settling down, getting rid of its rough edges and whacky overtones, becoming lessely.

which are seductive in a ladylike way... colors in tones of purple and lavender (no longer an old lady's shade) and melting into pink... lots of knits with an emphasis on openwork... fake fur that will go into warm weather as a trim. And note that all of these items fit into the general trend to softness.

Campus specials? Divided skirts, of course. Mix-and-match outfits will hold their own, with the emphasis on match. The barearmed look is expected to make gloves an important accessory.

And now a word from the fashion-wise: it is predicted that the culotte will replace Bermuda shorts (length here is just above the knee) . . . also jersey knick-ers, worn under tweet skirts that button down the front or are button down the front or are side-wrapped ... overblouses and tunics sashed in leather ... dimensional wools ... lots of 'sweet' colors, such as yellow, pink, and raspberry ... black accessories used with navy.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA The Alpha Chi pledges held their first meeting last week and the following officers were elected: President, Betty Searles; Secretary Transport cd: President, Betty Searles; Secretary-Treasurer, Ellen Vice; and Song Leader, Linda Gardner. Betty Searles was chosen as Alpha Chi's nominee for Greek Now to the fashion futures, the upcoming styles. On the horizon are lots of capes, including many on suit jackets . . . slashed seams which are seductive in a ladylike Alpha Chi's Ball Queen. A new award to be given each month to a girl in the house who is outstanding in campus or sorority life was initiated to-night. This month Alpha Chi honored its ex-officers with carhonored its ex-officers with carnations. Those receiving them were: Jane Massimiano, Kay

Hovey, Dorothy Ravgiala, Judith (Konopka) Temple,
Honey
Menkes, Grace Grybko, Sally
Blombach, Joan Hebert, Helen
Burns, Elaine Olbrych, Linda
Frissell, Sally Burke, Linda Hadley, and Carol Radulski.
Margie Jordan and Lorraine

ley, and Carol Radulski.

Margie Jordan and Lorraine
Rees were our representatives for the cow-milking contest held last Saturday. Good try pledges!!!!

PI BETA PHI

The Pi Phi's entertained their Province President, Mrs. Philip Adams, last week upon her annual visit to this chapter. A buffet supper was held Sunday, March 12th, and there was a cofhuai visit to this chapter. A buffet supper was held Sunday, March 12th, and there was a coffee hour held after house meeting on Monday night. On Tuesday, Pi Phi held a tea from 4 to 5:15 in honor of her visit.

Carol Wojick and Sandra Ed-mands were Pi Phi's representa-tives for the annual cow milking contest held on Saturday March 18th. Sandy Edmands won the

Linda Griffin has been elected President of Pan Hellenic Coun-

SIGMA KAPPA

On March 18, Sigma Kappa was represented in the annual

Campus' Best Dressed Girl States Her Personal Opinions

Jeanne Mullaney has been hosen "best dressed girl" on the University campus. We have asked her a few questions to find out just how it feels to win such an honor, and what she feels is important in choosing and wearing a wardrobe.

When asked what her reaction was when she learned she had won, Jeanne replied, "At first I won, Jeanne replied, "At first I didn't believe it, then I was very very excited. Pat Ward called while I was eating lunch and then I couldn't even finish it."

"The first thing I did was callmy mother and then Dennis, the boy that I'm pinned to."

At the time when we talked to Jeanne, the contest results had not been announced to the cam-

Jeanne, the contest results had not been announced to the campus at large. She commented, however, "My sorority sisters, by way of congratulations, decorated my room liberally with toilet paper streamers. Unfortunately we had to tear some down this morning to find the mirror!"

Fashionwise, Jeanne said, "I think the most important thing is for a girl to choose the fashion most suitable to herself regardless of the fads of the time. I find that for me tailored clothes are more flattering. Because of my financial situation, my wardrobe is necessarily limited. The clothes that I buy are chosen for practicality.

cow milking contest by Judy Knox and Gail Jensen. Pledge Jensen took third place.

The big white house on Allen Street is now graced by a colored television set won in the recent television set won in the temptation to enjoy the programs "in tion to enjoy the programs "in living color" instead of studying will be great for all the sisters.

Ann Padgorski had been electrical wise vegidest of Don Halloria

ed vice-president of Pan Hellenic Council

Council.

The sisters are proud of Jeanne Mullaney, recently elected "Best Dressed Girl" on campus.

Our representative in the Greek Ball Queen contest is Penny Hatch. Joan Werner has also been nominated as a candidate in the contest.

"I think it is important on a college campus for a girl's ward-robe, particularly casual clothes, to be arranged so that she can wear a variety of combinations."

When asked about the expenses of being well dressed Jeanne answered, "An Inexpensive way to add to your wardrobe is to make add to your wardrobe is to make some of your own clothes. Sew-ing is also valuable in altering your clothier to assure a perfect fit."

"In order to maintain a neat appearance, clothes should be kept clean, neat, pressed, and mended at all times."

Pinnings

Beverly Brenner of Mary Lyons to Arnie Baker, Tau Ep-

Lyons to Arnie Baker, Tau Epsilon Pi.

Ann Doane, Kappa Alpha Theta to Butch Green, Alpha Delta Phi of Amherst College.

Mary Donovan '62 to Allen Czelusniak, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Patricia Neal of Arnold to John Stella, Sigma Phi Epsilon at Boston University.

Patricia C. O'Connell of Dwight House to Thomas E. Foley, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Donna Schornbeck of Knowlton to Don Poultney, Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Eleanor Gavoni, Phi Delta Nu to Conrad Dugre of Chicopee.

My Neighbors

BETWEEN BITES. get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

d under suthority of sca-Cola Company by -Cola Bottling Co. of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

HAVE A REAL CIGARETTE-CAME

Roy Woodle, Convair Flight Engineer, supervises an Air Force Atlas Satellite Launch that will relay information from outer space to in-crease knowledge of the earth and aid weather young space engineer smokes Camels. He says they're the only cigarettes that give him real satisfaction every time he lights up.

The best tobacco makes the best smoke!

H

Guitarist, Cahn To Appear At International Dance

Rolf Cahn, flamenco guitarist folk singer who is being ared at the International featured at Dance on Saturday night, is well-known for his recordings, lectures, and participation in vari-

Labels under which Jahn has recorded are: Bay Concerts, Folk ways, World Pacific, and Tradi-

In 1959, the guitarist took part concerts at Harvard Univer-ty, Reed, the University of Minnesota, UMass, and in Boston and Chicago. That year he also gave a lecture series on "The Esthetics of Folk Music" to the Boston Folklore Society.

Cahn visited Spain last year to study with Spanish musicians Caliqueno, Perici del Lonar, Ra-fael Nogales, and Sebastion Mon-tiel. While in Spain, Cahn lived with gypsies near Barcelona for

The guitarist will perform during the intermission of the dance.

LOST AND FOUND

Lost: A beige colored fur-lined glove somewhere between the Hatch and Bartlett Monday morning. If found please return Hatch Jacqueline Lapointe, Arnold Lost: Black clutch purse, with kidskin gloves. Please return to Janet Balboni, Dwight House.

Lost: Anyone finding a white earl high school class ring omewhere between Machmer and Skinner please contact Sanderson, 116 Lewis.

Lost: A pair of beige driving gloves in 203 Bartlett last Friday afternoon. Please return to Les-ley Dodge, 415 Hamlin.

Lost: Light tan jacket with elastic on shoulders, Lost at Mike's Saturday afternoon. Call AL 3-9151 and ask for Jim.

Lost: One pair of rubbers in the vicinity of Arnold Dorm Sat-urday night. Contact Sam Troy at Phi Sigma Delta. Reward.

Lost: Brown leather purse.
Contents-glasses (value-necessity) Contact: Carole Grant, 302
Johnson House.

Six Students To Take Part In Weekend

Six foreign students, five from Six foreign students, five from UMass and one from Smith, will participate on Saturday night in the International Dance which is being sponsored by the UMass International Club as part of this end's program.

Wally Ulich '64 and Lita-Angela Sieloff, a graduate stu-dent, both from Germany, will perform a German Folk dance entitled "Fensterln Geh'n." The dance illustrates a common South German custom and will be performed in appropriate costur

A Philippine song is to be pre-sented by Mrs. Edith Baria, who is also a graduate student. Mrs. Baria lives in Manila.

Claudio Galeazzi '62 and Mary Gray, from Smith College, will perform a "Carnival Dance" which is danced in their native country of Brazil.

Another graduate Felipe Constegra of Colombia, and Miss Gray will dance several numbers typical of the Latin American countries,

What's it take to make the right connection?

Plenty! Consider the problem. Western Electric manufactures the switching systems which connect some 60-million Bell telephones throughout the U. S. The average call over today's electromechanical system requires 420 relay operations. All together, this interconnecting equipment makes up the heart of what relay operations. All together, this interconnecting equipment makes up the heart of what is, in effect, the world's largest machine.

That's where Western Electric and you come in. The switching equipment for this "machine" involves an enormous manufacturing job carried on by our plants throughout the country. Because of the size and service requirements involved, we require quality standards far exceeding those of ordinary manufacturing. The size of this job presents an unusual challenge to the engineer who may save the Bell System many thousands of dollars by even a small cost-reduction step.

While today's switching calls for a priority on engineering, tomorrow's will be even more exciting. For even now the revolutionary Electronic Central Office is under field trial and promises to remake the world of telephony. Future Western Electric engineers, working closely with their counterparts at Bell Telephone Laboratories, will concentrate heavily on developing manufacturing methods for this ECO equipment.

ECO equipment.

Your Western Electric assignments may cover many of our other responsibilities as the world's leading communications manu-facturer. Perhaps you'll work on advances in microwave transmission, or even on satellite

Joining Western Electric may well be your

Opportunities exist for electrical, mechanical, industrial, civil and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majars. For more informatian, get your capy of "Western Electric and Your Coreer" from your Placement Officer. Or write College Relations, Room 6106, Western Electric Company, 195 Broadway, New Yark 7, N. Y. And be sure to arronge for a Western Electric interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

ncipal manufacturing locations at Chicago, III.; Kearny, N. J.; Baltimore, Md.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Alientown and Laureldale, Pa., nston-Salem, N. C.; Buffalo, N. Y.; North Andover, Mass.; Omaha, Neb.; Kansas City, Mo.; Columbus, Ohio; Oklahoma City, Okla. indeering Research Center, Princeton, N. J. Teletype Corporation, Skokie, III., and Little Rock, Ark. Also Western Electric distribution centers in 33 cities and installation headquarters in 16 cities. General headquarters: 155 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y.

Latin American Tour To Be Offered By NSA

Students participating in the U.S. National Student Associa-Latin America in 1961 will find a large part of the expenses being assumed by USNSA, A "part scholarship" is being offered to each participant in the form of a reduced tour price, while additional supplementary. tional supplementary scholar-ships may also be applied for. These will be financed by a special scholarship fund.

USNSA believes it has a valuable contribution to make in support of President Kennedy's recent plea for closer understanding between the peoples of the USA and Latin America. Consequently the program has been conceived and planned as a "traveling seminar," with a selection process being used to choose only the most qualified and interested students. The group will be led throughout the trip by an outstanding professor of Latin American affairs.

An orientation program will again be held in Puerto Rico be-fore the group departs on the main part of its 40 day itinerary in Peru, Chile, Argentina, and Brazil. The highlight of the program will be the stay at Brazilia. Also included are Lima, Santiago, Valparaiso, Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, and Sao Paulo.

In all countries students will meet key officials in government, business, labor, politics, and the church, with the whole range of current economic, political, and social problems being discussed. Major emphasis will be placed on meetings with Latin students, professors, and others in education; discussions here in education; discussions here may provide a possible basis for extending the reciprocal exchange student programs presently arranged between individual schools in the two continents.

The program is carefully planned to include extensive sightseeing excursions while every participant will find ample free time to pursue his or her special interests.

The all-inclusive price is $800 for the 40 day program. Interested students should apply to Dept. R-2, U.S. National Student Association, 20 West 38th Street, New York 18.

LIBRARY NOTICE

The library hours during the Spring vacation are as fol

Thurs., March 30-8 a.m.-5

Fri., March 31-8:30 a.m.-12

Closed-Sat., April 1 and Sun April 2, Mon., April 3, Fri., April 7, 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Closed—Sat., April 8 and Sun. April 9

Weekend Schedule

8 p.m.—Keynote Address: "The Politics of Right Now," by Irving Pflaum, American Universities Field Staff, Inc., speaking on Cuba, in the SU ballroom.

Saturday, March 25

9 a.m.—Coffee hour in the Colonial Lounge of the SU.
10 a.m. — Panel discussion:
"The Foreign Investor: Benefactor or Villain", by Rear Admiral Oberlin C. Laird; Dr. Rohert Alexander Buttoner. bert Alexander, Rutgers; Dr.

Robert Potash, UMass; in the Commonwealth Room.

1:30 p.m.-Informal discussion. 3 p.m. — Panel discussion:
"Prospects For the Future"
Dr. Ramon Ruiz, Smith College; and John P. Harrison, Rockefeller Foundation.

5-7 p.m.—International Buffet, Wesley Methodist Church.

8 p.m. — International Club Dance and Entertainment, fea-turing Rolf Cahn, guitarist.

CLUB DIRECTORY

AIEE-IRE & IES

Joint meeting Mon., Mar. 27, at 6 p.m. in the Union, There will be a supper and Rollo G. Williams will speak on "Spec-tral Quality in Lighting".

ARMENIAN CLUB

Election of officers for next year on Wed., Mar. 29, at 7

For SPRING and EASTER

Vacations

SPECIAL COLLEGE RATES

MBILTMORE

IN NEW YORK $525 per person (3 to a room)

$625 per person (2 to a room) $800 single

For information or reservations address Mr. Raiph Schaffner, The Biltmore, New York 17, N. Y. Madison Avenue at 43rd Street MUrray Hill 7-7000

"WHERE EVERYONE MEETS UNDER THE CLOCK"

p.m. in the Plymouth Rm., SU. Everyone interested in joining invited.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Buffet supper Sun., Mar. 26, at 6 p.m. at 768 N. Pleasant St. Rev. E. J. Nichols, Director of Youth and Adult Education will speak.

ROISTER DOISTERS

Holding a work party for con-struction of R.U.R. sets Sat., Mar. 25, at 1 p.m. in Bowker Aud. An enjoyable afternoon is promised. New RD members can obtain stage experience here.

Picturesque

Restaurants in U.S.A. carlo of naples

JU 4.9671

For that Food Americans Eat In Italy ---

OPEN 5 P.M. to MIDNIGHT DURING VACATION, TOO

Operetta Guild To Stage "Oklahoma" Here In Fall

The UMass Operetta Guild will begin its 14th season of musical production next fall by brin production next fall by bringing to the campus Rogers and Hammerstein's record hit "Oklahoma!" Considered a classic of the musical theatre, "Oklahoma!" offers the University community musical entertainment at its best.

Selection of the fabulously suc-Selection of the fabulously successful play was announced at a recent meeting by Operetta Guild Business Manager Paul A. Cwiklik. Auditions for the October presentations, which are open to all persons interested in any phase of production, will be held after the spring recess. The fter the spring recess. The chedule dates are Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, April 17, 18, and 19. The time and place of auditions will be announced im-

"Oklahoma!" was first presented by the theatre guild on April 1, 1943 at the St. James theatre in New York City and to date it has given record performances totaling 2,249. Based on Lynn Riggs' "Green Grow The Lilacs", Rogers and Hammerstein's great play and "Unforgettable music have probably brought more excitement and delight to people around the world than have any others in our time."

In charge of production, the executive board consists of Busi-ness Manager Cwiklik, Personnel Manager Production Manager Ford. Professor music d Manager Karen Canfield, and Production Manager Christian Hosford. Professor Doric Alviani of the music department is guild advisor.

President Lederle To Keynote Annual SWAP Conference

President John W. Lederle will be the keynote speaker at the Fourth Annual Student Work-Activities Problems, the shop on Activities Problems, the SWAP Executive Committee announced recently.

This will be the first oppor-tunity that students will have to find out what policy changes President Lederle has in mind.

The Committee also reported that several faculty members have been invited, and a state legislator has tentatively acceptations. ed an invitation

The Executive Committee SWAP is composed of Li SWAP is composed of Linda Achenbach, chairman, Jim Earley, Charlie Curtis, Sue Sidney, and Nancy Ridell, They have been working on SWAP since the first weeks of school, in the hopes of organizing a worthwhile, successful SWAP weekend.

The student body is urged to ontact any member of the Exe-utive Committee should a question arise concerning the week-

The committee has also con-faculty for program suggestions Since this is one of the few op-portunities for students to discuss campus problems, they are urged to make program suggestions. The best method of solving campus problems, however, is to have interested students attend SWAP, the committee said.

All organizations All organizations encounter problems or difficulties during the academic year and SWAP offers the opportunity to air such

This year's SWAP Conference will be held May 12, 13, and 14 at the Oak'n Spruce Inn in South Lee, Massachusetts. The cost will be $22. per delegate, which ircludes transportation, lodging for two nights, all meals, and use of all the feelilities offered. the facilities offered by the Oak'n Spruce Inn.

When the delegates are not attending the discussion Sessions, they may spend their leisure time golfing, swimming, playing tennis, shuffleboard and several other activities.

Gov. Volpe Calls For Study Of Establishment Of Medical School

cial message to the General Court called for a study of the problem of establishment of a state medical school, with a re-port to be made at the end of the

Many Studies

The Committee on Education of the General Court believes no more studies are needed. It has reported favorably legislation supported by House Speaker John F. Thompson, D-Ludlow, for a plan to have the first two years of medical school at UMass, the students. of medical school at UMass, the students to graduate to four-year schools in which there are vacan-

The matter of a state medicaldental school has been subject to many legislative studies in Massachusetts over the last 12 years. It has also been studied on the

Joint Meeting Of Engineers Held Monday

Rollo G. Williams will speak on "The Spectral Quality in Lighting" at a joint meeting of the IES and the AIEE/IRE on Monday, following a "get ac-quainted hour" and a supper.

Wiliams is the Director Willams is the Director of Color Research and Lighting Consultant of Century Lighting, Inc. in New York. A frequent lecturer in Architectural Light-ing, he teaches the subject at Columbia University.

The speaker will discuss the Pavilion United States of the Brussels World Fair in 1958; the American Exhibit at Moscow in 1959; the Royal York Hotel, Toronto; and the Copacabana Club in New York.

The meeting's "get acquainted hour" will take place at 6 p.m., to be followed by a supper at 7 and the speaker at 8.

to establish whether or not it is done as a branch of UMass. Volpe noted that in Tufts, Harvard and Boston University, the state has three of the greatest medical schools in the world.

"There is some question, how-ever," he said, "as to whether or not the present facilities of these schools are adequate to meet the immediate and long-range needs," stated Volpe, ". . . there exists Immediate and long-range needs," stated Volpe, "... there exists ... a question as to the optimum location for such facilities ... These questions remain unresolved ... The lack of definitive resolution . . . is due . . . (to the lack) of a sufficiently broad as well as penetrating study."

The governor said present 10 and 20 year demands for doctors should be evaluated and considread in relation to population.

Then, he said, the question of expanding present schools or creating a new one should be considered. He said he is advised there is a great shortage of medical teachers and the costs of attract-

Paper Plans Special Issue On Civil War

The Collegian of April 12, 1961, the first issue after the Easter vacation, will contain a special supplement devoted to the Civil War Centenary.

Plans are now underway to de vote space to stories of local interest on aspects of the Civil War. Centennial observances of he War began last fall and will continue through 1965.

The Collegian's special feature will be concentrated about fea-tures of local interest: articles of the role of Amherst in the event, and the role played by person-ages from the Western Massa-chusetts area. Essays by members of the University community on various phases of the Civil War are also expected.

A synopsis of a forthcoming book on Antietam being written by Capt. Charles Phillips of the Armor ROTC detachment is to be included.

Anyone of the University comwith an interest in the munity with an interest in the Centenary observances, or who possesses souvenirs pertaining to the occurrence, is encouraged to contact the Collegian.

AMHERST + + CINEMA

-NOW Ends Mon.-WALT DISNEY'S

> "Swiss Family Robinson"

in Panavision & Color

with John Mills

James MacArthur Dorothy McGuire

Daily 2 - 4:15 - 6:30 - 8:45

federal level and in a number of state level private studies.

All the studies have indicated that a medical school would be an exceedingly expensive thing to establish whether or not it is done as a branch of UMass. Volpe noted that in Tufts, Harvard and Boston University, the state has three of the greatest medical schools in the world.

"Some Question" ing some here must be studied.

"Careful consideration must be given to the question of whether or not a graduate medical school would be included in any state program," stated Volpe. "Among the fiscal realities which must be considered are: 1, o perating costs; 2, tuition; 3, scholarship and other grants in aid; 4, availability of hospital facilities; and 5, the medical school plant itself."

Calls for Commission

The governor called for a seven-man commission to be made of three legislators and four members selected by the gov-

His call for a study appeared to have dimmed severely the hopes of establishment of a two-year medical school at the unversity in Amherst. It is doubt-ful that such a plan would be capable of being passed over the gubernatorial veto. On the other hand, the Democrats have long and strongly advocated the establishment of a UMass medical school and will not easily swallow the prospect of another study.

UMass trustees are apparently divided over what to support in the way of a medical school. One faction wants to follow the line laid down by Gov. Paul Dever and later by Foster Furcolo to have a four-year school in Bos-ton, specifically at the Lemuel Shattuck Chronic Disease Hospi-

Winners Of Talent Show To Compete In UConn Regional

Jack Kessler and Gary Tichnor, Jack Kessler and Gary Tichnor, and Marsha Bailey, who were winners of the first and second prizes in the Second Annual Talent Show presented by the Arts and Music Committee of the S.U., will be sent to Connecticut to compete in the University of Connecticut Regional Talent Show.

Kessler and Tichnor sang a selection of folksongs from various countries, and Marsha Bailey performed the monologue "Eloise." Third prize was won by Ken Goodman and Al Berman for a song and instrumental act. Gift certificates of $25, $15, and $10 were awarded to the winner. were awarded to the winners.

Judges of the talent show were Dr. Ebersole and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lilly.

Volunteer Drivers To Belchertown School Required

Every Saturday afternoon students from UMass volunteer to work at the Belchertown State School for mentally retarded As the program has grown this year, transportation is needed to able students to continue volun-teering at the school.

Those driving will see students a action, and may take part in the program.

The group leaves from Skinner Parking Lot at 1:15 and returns to campus by 4:30. Volunteering to drive does not commit you to driving every week.

Those interested in helping the program, who would like more information, please contact the Christian Association Office or contact Sue Streeter in Mary Lyon, or Bill Pearson in Butterfield.

300 plus hitters for last season's

Larry O'Brien, Corky Schmoy-er, Pete Larkin and Tony Wil-liams, all sophomores will be playing a lot of ball in the in-field. Senior Bob Roland and juniors Lou Bush, Fran Pisiewski and Ed Forbush will be the pro's

Schmoyer, O'Brien and Larkin played geat ball for the fresh-men, all three batting over the 300 mark, "Corky" hitting for a

The Lordens will be looking better last season's 10-7 record, beginning their regular sea-son against Trinity College April

Here's the roster of this year's in that sector.

booming 432.

Redmen Baseball Squad Set For Long Southern Siege

A busy, trip to the southern scene awaits Coach Earl Lorden's baseball team this April, Twenty one players will make the trip and will compete in eight games, weather permitting.

The squad will leave campus about 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 30 and will travel down to Princeton. Their first game will be with Princeton on the following day, and the next with UMaine at Princeton on April 1.

After an all day practice ses-on at East Carolina College on Monday, April 3, the team will journey to Camp Lejeune for a five game stay. Those games are scheduled as follows:

April 4 vs Bowling Green U.
April 5 vs Camp Lejeune
April 6 vs Southern Conn. St.
April 7 vs Southern Conn. St.

April 7 vs Southern Conn. St.
April 7 vs Camp Lejeune
The team will then travel to Fort Lee, Virginia and will play the Fort Lee nine on Saturday April 8. Then they will happily return to the UMass campus in time for classes time for classes

Coach Lorden and the team can count on some hard work on this trip, having had no opportunity play outdoors as yet. Their ly practice has been on the rdwood floor of the cage.

Although the team has lost ome outstanding men from last squad, prospects for a suc-

Paul Wennik, Cliff Bullock and Ed Connolly should provide the backbone of the pitching staff, being the three returnees from last season's mound men. Wennik, who came through with who came through with 2.65 earned run average last year, second only to Bob Eic-horn's 2.07, will bolster the pitching crew. Bulolck and Connolly had 4.65 and 4.50 ERA's.

Lou Pia, out of action with a sore arm last year, shows a great deal of promise and should be pitching the team to more than one victory.

Ted Osetek, who played well behind the plate last year, al-ternating with Man of the Year Sabourin, will be the mainstay in the catcher's box. Ted, a 304 batting average under his belt will be assisted by sophomore Dave Krukonis in his catching chores.

Senior Paul Foley is the sole

chores.
Senior Paul Foley is the sole survivor of last year's outfielders

PAUL WENNIK

Name	Pos	Age	Ht.	Bat	Th	Cl.	Home
Corey, Rod	OF	19	5'11"	R	R	'63	Grafton
Foley, Paul	OF	21	5'8"	L	L	'61	Woburn
Delvecchio, Bill	OF	21	5'11"		R	'63
Hughes, Bob	OF	19	6'	R	R	'63	Belmont
Rush, Louis	2B	20	5'10"		R	'62
Forbush, Ed	1B	21	6'2"	L	L	62
Larkin, Pete	SS	19	6'	R	R	'63	E. Longmead Belmont
O'Brien, Larry	2B	19	5'10"	R	R	'63
Pisiewski, Fran	3B	20	5'11"	R	R	'62	Saugus
Roland, Bob	3B	23	5'11"	R	R	'61	Pittsfield
Schmoyer, Jim	SS	19	5'11"	R	R	'63	Nahant
Williams, Anthony	3B	19	5'11"	R	R	'63	Pittsfield
Krukonis, Dave	C	19	6'	R	R	'63	Milford
Osetek, Thaddeus	C	21	5'10"	R	R		Bridgewater
Bullock, Clifford	P	21	5'11"	R		'62	Lynn
Bracci, Pete	P	20	5'10"	L	R	'62	Lynn
Connolly, Ed	P	22	6'2"		L	'63	Haverhill
Elmstrom, Carl	P	22		L	L	'61	Pittsfield
Pia, Louis	P		5'11"	R	R	'62	Malden
Shaw, Bill	P	21	6'2"	R	R	'62	Pittsfield
Wennik, Paul		20	6'2"	R	R	'63	Leominster
	P	22	5'8"	L	L	'61	Andover
Chasen, Dick	Mgr.

Spring Schedule

June 3

		_
Apr. 13	Trinity College	H. 3:30
Apr. 15	Coast Guard	H. 2:00
Apr. 17	A.I.C.	A. 3:00
Apr. 19	Amherst	A. 3:15
Apr. 21	Maine	H. 3:00
Apr. 22	Maine	H. 2:00
Apr. 25	Holy Cross	H. 3:00
Apr. 27	Williams	A. 4:00

A man with Aiopecia Universalis* doesn't need this deodorant

He could use a woman's roll on with impunity. Mennen Spray was made for the man who wants a deodorant he knows will get through to the skin . . . where perspiration starts.

Mennen Spray Deodorant does just that. It gets through to the skin. And it works. All day. More men use Mennen Spray than any other deodorant. Have you tried it yet? 64¢ and $1.00 plus tax

*Complete lack of body hair, including that of the scalp, legs, armpits, face, etc.

Apr. 29 Boston U. May 2 Connecticu Connecticut H. 3:00 Tufts College H. 3:00 New Hampshire A. 2:00 Rhode Island A. 2:00 May May May 12 Vermont May 13 Vermont May 16 Connecticut Connecticut A. 3:00 Rhode Island H. 3:00 New Hampshire H. 2:00 May 18 May 20 May 30 Springfield H. 2:00

Amherst EXTRA

H. 2:30

Watch for Jim Trelease's final Sports Editorial on College fixing in Monday's Col-

Stockbridge Team Appoints Officers For Next Season

The members of the Stockbridge Rifle Team elected their officers for the coming year at a meeting held in the R.O.T.C. building last Tuesday evening.

The new leaders are: President: James Mitchell Vice President: Loren Valley Sec. Treasurer: Donald Blood Exec. Officer: Bradford Allen Captain: Lowell MacNutt

The team came a long way this year, and Coach Colonel John Marchant is looking forward to another successful season, next

PERCUSSION!

Trap w/stand, bass, foot-pedal, sticks, brushes, cymbals, covers, case. A buy at $40. AL 3-2166.

Sports Editorial

Our Idolized Deceivers

By JIM TRELEASE '63

Part II

What motivates a boy to take a "fix" price? Where does it all start? Back in 1951, the basketball player with as many as a dozen scholarship offers to his name learned to think for himself: "What's in it for me?" When New York colleges found that they could get their boys off the dirty city streets during the summer months by arranging jobs for the athletes on the Borscht circuit in the Catskills, while at the same time giving them an opportunity to sharpen their skills against opposing players who were also there for that purpose, the schools jumped at the chance. By 1951, the gamblers, who had made the jump to the Catskills long before the scholastic migrants made the exodus, were on first name terms with our All-Americans. Sooner or later, the question popped up from those innocent, crew Sooner or later, the question popped up from those innocent, crew cutted American youths: "What's in it for me?"

was always a degree of regret mixed with a degree of com-There was always a degree of regret mixed with a degree of compromise. "I'm bringing in all these spectators and playing my heart out for them," said one Long Island University player, "My coach Clair Bee gets all the credit and Ned Irish (owner of Madison Square Garden) and the college are getting all the gravy. Where do I come in?" These boys were the common run-of-the-mill American youth. Some were even extraordinary... like Adolph Bigos of LIU who was a combat veteran decorated with the Bronze Star and five battle ribbons. There were 32 players involved, three Olympic team members, and ten All-Americans included.

BASKETBALL NOT ONLY PROSPECT

BANKETBALL NOT ONLY PROSPECT

But don't get the mistaken idea that only basketball wears the dirty clothes. Big-time gamblers would never want to give the impression that they are above any form of sport. Thus it was that two Connecticut high school football players were offered $50 apiece to throw a football game in 1951 between Danbury High and Greenwich High.

a football game in 1951 between Danbury High and Greenwich High.

Yet, all this was not precedent setting. Prize fighting, racing, basketball, and football had had their share of scandals in the past. But on November 1, 1955, America's "hallowed shrine of sportsmanship", golf, took out her set of dirty clothes and shocked the sporting world. What makes this particular story especially interesting is that it hits so very close to home . . . as near as an Amherst laundry just a few minutes from the campus at the University of Massachusetts. Working in this laundry was a golfer named William Roberts. On a lazy summer weekend in 1955, Mr. Roberts journeyed down to the Deepdale Golf Club on Long Island where this famed club (Vanderbilt, Eisenhower, and Crosby have trod upon its fairways over the years) was featuring its last days with a "Calcutta" competition. A "Calcutta" is a form of gambling in which golfers are auctioned off the night before the action, all payments going into a pot which is split between the owners of the winners the next day. Player teams range in price from $300 to $3,000.

Describing himself and kin patterns at 15 to 10 to 20 to 20

Describing himself and his partner as 17-stroke and 18-stroke handicappers respectively, they were both bought for $1,128.30. In reality, Roberts was a three-handicap golfer and his partner, working under an assumed name in the "Calcutta," was Charles Helmor, Springfield, Mass. public links champion and likewise a three-handicap

BIG HAULS MADE

When the two men won the competition with a total of 27 under par, their owners collected $16,106.93. The first investigation showed that not only had "amateur" Roberts lied about his handicap, but he had also bought 50% of himself in the auction the previous night. A closer investigation showed that Roberts was the second "fix" in the "Calcutta." It had been fixed earlier but someone pulled a double cross and hyperbyt in Roberts. cross and brought in Roberts.

"Calcuttas" are a smooth running circuit, played by much the same "hustlers" each year. The three big "Calcuttas" operate each year on almost the same schedule at the Seminole in Palm Beach, La Gorce in Miami, and the Greenbrier in Sulphur Springs, West Va. Another black spot on the "Presidential" sport is head-to-head play. Here one player challenges another (the "hustler" usually lies about his handicap) and both place large sums of money on the play.

Don't let the income tax people in Washington lead you to believe that Joe Louis lost all his money in taxes or through faulty managing. When the Brown Bomber showed up in Los Angeles loaded with money, "they" were waiting for him. Their appearance, form, and handicaps were so bad that Joe figured he could cash in on an easy pasture of green. As it turned out, when the hustlers finished with him after one week, ol' Joe had been cleaned out of a quarter of a million.

Who is really to blame for these stigmas on our way of life? The player, the coach, the college, the gamblers, or the American spectators . . . Who can afford to wash his hands of the guilt? In 1951, there was an assorted group responsible. The New York Times blamed "the home, the neighborhood, the campus, and the college for fostering a distorted sense of values." The Chicago Tribune blamed even the New Deal, The now defunct Manhattan Daily Worker pointed to the profiteering chairmen of Wall Street corporations. Columnist Max Kase finally put the finger on the player. Kase, who scooped the newspaper world on the 1951 dirt, wrote: "A first blush of sympathy for the corrupted weakling has given way to cold rage because of their lack of loyalty to school and calloused greed to their Judas pieces of silver." Who is really to blame for these stigmas on our way of life?

Part III Monday.

INTRAMURAL SOFTBALL ROSTERS

Softball rosters can be picked up now from Mr. Cobb in Room 10A at the Curry Hicks Cage. These rosters must be returned to him before the vaction. Fraternity teams need not pick up these

Includes Chappelle, Becton

Three New England players highlight the UMass basketball all-opponent team for 1960-61 as selected by the Redmen varsity letter winners. Backcourtmen Tim Shea of Holy Cross and Tom "Skip" Chapelle of Maine and center Benny Becton of Vermont were the New England players named to the first five. Syracuse grabbed the two forward spots with the selection of Pete Chuly and All-American halfback Ernie

CHARTER MEMBER

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Cincinnati was the first professional baseball club in the United States —the Red Stockings of 1869— and was a charter member of the National League when it was formed in 1876.

Six men were placed on the all-opponent second team; Charlie Lee (Rhode Island), Bill O'Connor (Canisius), Larry Schiner (Maine), Gary Koenig (Rhode Island), Fred Sayles (Amherst) and George Blaney (Holy Cross).

Others receiving votes were Jim Hich (New Hampshire), Jack Foley (Holy Cross), Har-vey Hunt (Kent State), Barry Multer and Dave Ricereto (Rhode Island), Wayne Champeon (Maine) and Bob Mahland (Wil-

SOCCER MEETING

There will be a meeting of ae Varsity Soccer team to spring practice on y, March 28 at 5:00 Thursday, March 28 at 5:00 in Room 10 of the Cage. All those interested in participating in spring soccer are in vited.

Redmen All-Opponent Team Freshman Tracksters Chalk Up Unbeaten Season; Prospects Good

The UMass freshman track team continued its winning ways in the just completed indoor sea-son. Coach Bud Cobb's men, in the process of compiling one of the best records of any freshman athletic team at UMass, won all of their three dual meets after knocking off all seven cross-country rivals and taking the New England frosh championship last fall. The first-year men swamped all of their rivals this winter: UConn, 76-37; New Hampshire, 94 2/3-18 1/3; and M.I.T., 67-46.

Pointwise, the top man on the squad was Phil Danforth with 42 tallies. He competed in the dash and the 600 yard run, and was a member of the mile relay quartet which never lost in dual competition and was third in the

By ABE SHEINKER '62

Boston AA meet. Danforth also was the quarter-miler on the distance medlay relay team which ran second in the UConn Relays.

Gene Colburn, who led the Redmen in the N.E. frosh cross-country meet with a third, was next in the point totals at 36. He was undefeated in dual meets in the 1000 yard race, missing the frosh record by 0.4 seconds with 2:25, and ran on the mile and distance medlay relay teams. The other members of the star BAA relay members of the star BAA relay quartet were Dave St. Cyr and Al Morris. St. Cyr scored 23 points while running the 1000 in addition to the relays, Morris was a capable 600 man with 29 tal-lies. Rounding out the middle-distance army which was distance crew, which was the nu-cleus of the team, were Dick Monteiro, 1000 yarder, and Bob Boynton, 600 runners. Both oc-cassionally ran the relay.

The team's record-breakers were Fred Lewis, Bruce Piatek, and Dave Collingwood. Lewis and Piatek made a farce of the old broad jump mark, 21'6" in the BAA meet. Then Lewis leaped 22'6'4" versus UConn, 22'10-1/2" versus UNH, and 22'10'4" at M.I.T. Paitek also tied Loren Flagg's 40 yard dash frosh rec-Flagg's 40 yard dash frosh rec-ord with 4.7 seconds and Lewis scored well both as a sprinter and high-jumper. Collingwood, who is being groomed by Coach Cobb as another Dick Ward, tied and then surpassed the latter's high jump standard with 6'1". His 41'91/2" distance in the 35-lb. weight throw ranked 11th out of 23 in a national freshman postal competition conducted by weight-man and West Point coach Eino

Keerd, former B.U. star.

The squads other weightmen were Dave Pisinski, Tony Trocki, Bob Schwartz, and Tim Parker. Pisinski and Trocki were consistent around 40 feet in the sistent around 40 feet in the shotput and ranked 7th and 8th, respectively, out of 20 in that event in the postal meet. Schwartz, in the shot, and Parker, in the weight toss, also show-ed promise as heavy hardware

Bob Brouillet and Jim McDermott, who were 5th and 6th, respectively, in the N.E. cross-country meet, represented the frosh in the mile and two-mile. "Bullet's" best times were 4:38 "Bullet's" best times were 4:38 and 10:10 and "Mac" was not far behind him. Lanky Craig Erickson, a man with much untapped potential, helped the team in the broad-jump and dash.

For the first time in many years, good pole vaulters and hurdlers were plentiful on the frosh squad. Led by Lumley with a high of 11'4", pole-toters Maynard Hodgdon, Dave Williams, Bill Kitchen, and Jim Lumler. nard Hodgdon, Dave Williams, Bill Kitchen, and Jim Lumley outscored their rivals, 15 2/3 to 7 1/3. Top man over the hurdles were John Harrington with 21 points. Coupled with George Lake, Gordon Webb, Dave Mac-Donnell, and Piatek, this crew outdid their comnetition, 43 to 11.

outdid their competition, 43 to 11.
A tribute is due the coach of these athletes, Justin "Bud"
Cobb. While going unpaid for his chores, he has a knack for recognizing track potential and turning medicars high sub-less than the competition of turning mediocre high school runners and field men into college stars. His team has a very good chance of extending its win streak through the spring sched-

Dunsmore, Clark Duet Captures Honors In New England Billiards Competition

University Billiards Champion Bill Dunsmore and his teammate, John Clark, have shot their way to the New England Billiards Crown, it was recently announced. Dunsmore, a sophomore, won the UMass championship last month by soundly defeating senior Fred Kline.

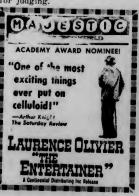

Bill then selected freshman John Clark as his partner for the ensuing competitions, considering him to be the second-best at the University, and went on to take the New England honors with a total of 539 points. University Billiards Champion total of 539 points.

Closest competitor was the UConn duet, which compiled score of 362

The North Adams born Dunsore and Hudson bred Clark than went on to take a twelfth place in the national competi-tions, Indiana taking the top honors. The closest New England participant was UConn, which participant was took 19th place.

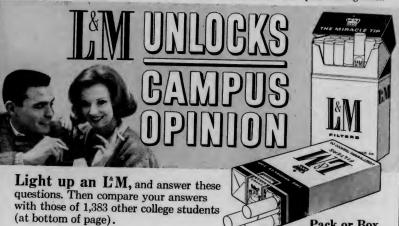

Games were played at the schools and results were sent in

BILL DUNSMORE

in a series of polls conducted by L&M student representatives in over 100 colleges throughout the nation. Watch for the next poll coming soon.

Question #1: Suppose the government asked for volunteers among college students to pioneer in manning the first space station, would you go if odds for your safe return were 50-50?

Answer:

No_

Question #2: How many children do you plan to have when you are married?

Answer:

None Three_ Six

Five_

Seven or more.

Question #3: Should class attendance be optional so long as students pass the exams given in class?

Yes.

Question #4:

When buying cigarettes, which do you usually purchase, the soft pack or the box?

Soft Pack_

I'M UNLOCKS FRIENDLY FLAVOR

... Flavor that never dries out your taste!

Get the flavor only L&M unlocks ... available in pack or box!

The L&M Campus Opinion Poll was taken at over 100 colleges where L&M has student representatives, and may not be a statistically random

M Co Campus

Opinion

Answer: Question #1. Yes 36.2%. No 63.8%.

Answer: Question #2. None 3.1%. One 8.3%. Two 30.5%. Three 30.6%. Four 16.4%. Five 4.6%.

Six 2.3%. Seven or more 4.2%.

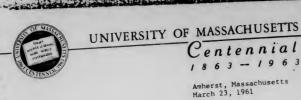

Answers: Answer: Question #3. Yes 68.7%. No 31.3%.

Answer: Question #4. Soft Pack 72.2%. Box 27.8%. L^aM comes both ways, of course, but the big difference in L^aM is friendly flavor of fine tobaccos blended to suit your taste.

●1961 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

CENTENNIAL MOTTO PICKED:

'Toward Higher Learning, More Widely Disseminated'

An Open Letter to the Student Body:

As the University of Massachusetts Centennial development winds up its preliminary work, and on behalf of General Chairwan James T. Nicholson and the Centennial Committee, I wish to voice appreciation of the enthusiastic and intelligent response we have had from the student body.

You can take pride in the promise already shown of how more you will be contributing throughout the Centennial.

Some of you will not be here during the Centennial period itself. If so, don't feel disappointed or lose your enthusiasm there will be public recognition of whatever you do toward the Centennial's success; and this will become a part of the permanent record. Also, in your changed status as alumnus or alumnuy you will continue to take part.

Besides, as you contribute to the effectiveness of the Centennial, you will be increasing the worth and prestige of the University. This will help insure your own enhanced standing as Uoff graduate. It will give you ever-increasing pride in being a lifelong member of the academic community to be referred to as "the Greater University of Massachusetts."

The Centennial Connittee looks forward, therefore, to your strong participation throughout. All suggestions, all offers of cooperation will be most welcome.

Sincerely, Majurell H Holdhery

Maxwell H. Goldberg Executive Director UofM Centennial

As Centennial Director

From the tower of South College, a light often burns late into the night. From his temporary office there, Prof. Maxwell H. Goldberg has been carrying on the job of Centen-nial Executive Director.

In addition to coordinating on-cam pus activity, and meeting with all bearers of ideas and suggestions, Prof. Goldberg has already spent con siderable time "on the road" promot ing the Centennial across the country

In trips to Chicago, Washington, Boston, Philadelphia, New York, and other cities, Dr. Goldberg has ex-plored the means of accomplishing the Centennial objectives.

On March 4, the UMass alumni in the mid-West were brought together for the first meeting in three years, at which time Prof. Goldberg outlined the Centennial.

Dr. Goldberg was born in Malden, and graduated summa cum laude from the University in 1928. He was for several years the head of the English department here. At present he is Commonwealth Professor of the Humanities.

In addition, Dr. Goldberg serves as chairman of the faculty commit long-range academic planning.

Dr. Goldberg was recently on leave of absence to serve as a consultant to the University of South Florida.

Dr. Goldberg '28 Serving James T. Nicholson '16 Is General Chairman

The man who has been called "Mr. Red Cross" by many is Dr. James T. Nicholson, General Chairman of the

Dr. Nicholson, a 1916 graduate of Mass. Agricultural College, is the re-tired Executive Vice-President of the American National Red Cross. He retired from that post in 1958.

Two years after graduation from M.A.C., where he received a B.S. in floriculture, Nicholson found himself in uniform at Camp Devens, Mass. He was commissioned in 1918, and saw service with the 41st Machine Gun Battalion, 14th Division. Following the war, he contacted the Red Cross for employment aid for friends. Repeatedly he sought the Red Cross to aid "the other fellow".

From 1919 to his 1958 retirement, Nicholson worked up through the ranks to the post of Executive Vice-

At M.A.C. he was a member of igma Phi Epsilon, and later the head of his chapter.

In June 1946 the University conferred an honorary Doctor of Laws degree upon him in recognition of his services to humanity.

Since his retirement he has devoted himself to work as a member of the U.S. State Department's Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid.

by JAMES R. REINHOLD '61 and DONALD D. JOHNSON '61

"The University Centennial must be marked by a spirit of cooperation and coordinated effort on the part of the entire University community," stated Prof. Maxwell H. Goldberg, Centennial Executive Director. common aspiration, and common effort toward fulfillment of com-mon ideals—everyone from the 'baby class' of 1964 to the oldest

"The Centennial will not be a mere kaleidoscope of unconnected spectacles staged for us as pas-sive spectators. It will be, rather, of unified design cooperatively created by all of us working together.

The Centennial observances themselves will not begin until June of 1962, and will extend through August 1963. Preliminary efforts, however, were start-ed two years ago, when the Cen-tennial Committee was first con-

Launched Feb. 9th

The past two months have seen the tempo of planning activity greatly increase. The Centennial was publicly launched on Feb. 9 was publicly launched on Feb. 9 in a gathering of present student leaders. In his keynote speech to the group, General Centennial Chairman James Nicholson '16 set the tone of the Centennial by declaring, "It will be developed in such a way as to play down 'hoop-la', but to commemorate the past, to respect the present. and most important, to look to-ward the future."

Accomplishment of the Centennial aim, said Dr. Nicholson, would involve a two-fold task: to envision the ideal greater University of Massahucsetts, and to proways and means of realizing

It is the hope of the Centennial planners to integrate the several constituencies — present student body, the faculty, and the alum-ni—that compose the University community into the Centennial

Cooperation Indicated

Since the February meetings, class officers and student leaders have been in close contact with Prof. Goldberg for the purpose of seeing how they may effectively cooperate in the overall project development.

Student Senate President Don nis Twohig '61 has declared, "The University of Massachusetts Centennial observance is certainly a fitting time to stop and review the past century of progress here at the University, and to look en-thusiastically toward the future. The students, naturally, hope to play a major role in the Centen-nial and we all welcome the opportunity it gives us to aim for a bigger and better future for the

With Twohig, Prof. Goldberg has discussed the formation of two student committees: one to work with the combined Centennial Committee; the second to parallel the faculty committee on long-range academic planning.

During the three-day campus launching of the Centennial. formal meetings of the major committees took the form of Round Robins. In these sessions opportunity existed for the exchange of information and ideas.

Professors Offered Suggestions

Prof. Sydney Packard of Smith College, the coordinator of the Four-College Cooperative Pro-gram, gave assurance of the interest of his program in the Cen-

Prof. Paul Norton of the art department suggested an architectural history of the University. to parallel the general history of the institution being prepared for the Centennial by Prof. Harold Cary of the history department: Norton's students have already completed what could become a section of the history, and further student projects could complete the work. "This is especially significant in that it would be a joint student-faculty production," said Dr. Goldberg.

A meeting of the eight Com monwealth professors provided an excellent opportunity to dis-cuss ways and means of giving the centennial program solid aca demic, civic, and cultural sub

Prof. Thomas Copeland suggested a new Honors Program to be inaugurated during the Cen-tennial year and taking a student from his sophomore year right through a Master's Degree, with college teaching experience en-

Scholarships Proposed

Prof. John Harris suggested a Centennial drive for graduate scholarships and fellowships.

Prof. Richard Stein proposed symposia in connection with the establishment of a four-college I.B.M. Computer Center, and in connection with the completion of the fourth unit of the Justin Morrill Science Center, Stein further suggested a symposium on the teaching of science to nonscience students

Stein, as chairman of the University Research Council has an-nounced the Council is taking action in favor of vigorous support of the Centennial and of active participation in its project, both financial and substantive.

At a meeting, Gail Osbaldeston '61, chairman of the Massachusetts Assembly, explained how the Centennial philosophy matches the philosophy of the student Distinguished Visitors Program. She has volunteered to bring the two together for extraordinary program operatively developed for the ob-

Annual Events Considered

It has been further suggested to the Centennial planners that annual UMass events during the contennal themes. Among such possible events are the Horticultural Show, the Military Ball, the Winter Carnival, International Weekend, the Fine Arts Festival, the Open House weekend, the annual SWAP Conference, and Commencement weekend.

The Centennial Committee has also heard suggestions that ap propriate features in the Collegian, Index, and other campus publications be oriented toward the fulfillment of the Centennial objectives.

As an immediate consequence the early February conferences, several groups have made allocations to a Centennial "bread-and-butter budget".

"The officers of the Centennial class of 1963 moved with speed from generous sentiment to gen ferences", said Prof. Goldberg. Through the sophomore class president, Bob McMaster, the class announced its intention of allocating $300 toward the centennial's 'bread-and-butter" "get-the-wheels-rolling" budget.

"Centennial Class Scores"

"It is appropriate that the Centennial Class has grabbed the ball and actually made the first score", Goldberg stated. Also score", Goldberg stated. Also $1000 has come from the Student Senate and $2000 from the Associate Alumni.

Each group has committed it-self, further, to systematic additional support of the Centennial working budget.

Dr. Goldberg commented that "by buying into the Centennial development, each of the donors clinched the case for the basic character of this development.

"This act made decisively clear what the UMass Centennial is not. It is neither the sole responsibility, nor the monopoly of any one of the sectors, which together make up the total academic com munity of the greater University of Massachusetts. It is rather the responsibility and the privilege of

Francis Pray, secretary of the 75th anniversary celebration of the University, has urged provision for "opportunities to bring the University to the people of Massachusetts, rather than expecting them to attend all events on the campus."

Pray further pleaded for "real imagination" in the conception of exhibits.

Scholarships Suggested

From Dennis Crowley has come a suggestion which Goldberg has labeled "a measure of the trelabeled "a measure or the tre-mendous potential of the Cen-tennial as a major instrument in the University's development." Crowley has encouraged "state-Crowley has encouraged "state-wide response to a Scholarship Fund of a few millions. Every-body knows that the state will always continue to support the major tasks of the University, but a fund that would guarantee scholarship aid to the poorer quarter of our students would be wonderful . . ."

University President John W. Lederle has hailed the Centennial as "a most important moment in our history and for our future," and as "a main agency for the advancement of all sectors of the University in the second century of development."

はかから 下切りた

VOL. XC NO. 62

MAR 29 1961 INIVERSITY OF

Yahoo

SEE PAGE 2

MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1961

Foreign Investment Is Subject Of Panelists

5¢ PER COPY

LIBRARY

by DIANE TOVET '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

Discussing The Foreign Investor are Rear Admiral Oberlin C. Laird, USN Ret.; Dr. Robert Potash, UMass History Dept.; and Dr. Robert Alexander, Rutgers Economics Dept.

Taking part in the Internation-Weekend, Rear Admiral Ober-C. Laird, USN Ret. and Dr. Robert Alexander, a member of the Rutgers Economics depart-ment, participated in a panel discussion moderated by Dr. Robert Potash on the subject of the "Foreign Investor; Benefactor or Villian". The discussion was held Saturday morning at 10:00 in the nonwealth Room of the SU Basic Issues Outlined Problems on both sides, that of the private investor and that of the Latin Americans have arisen from the need of Latin arisen from the need of Latin America for foreign investment. This need came about because of the fast population growth and the low per capita wage, Mas-sive investment has been given in the form of inter-government loans or grants, and in the form of private investment. The problems arising from this massive investment, as pointed out by Dr. Potash, are threefold on the side of the investor. He first must be assured that his enterprise won't be expropriated, second that he'll realize a profit; and third that he'll be able to transfer that profit home. On the side of the Latin American countries, a Latin American countries, problem is presented by the inves tor because of an increased na-tionalism. Latin America must be assured that the investor will benefit the country in question, and not undermine its sovereign-

Case History Cited In citing the case history of a steel corporation which estab-(Continued on page 3)

R. Capeless Speaks About State And High Local Taxes

by JUDY CLARK '64, Collegian Staff Reporter Robert T. Capeless, assistant 50:50 ratio.

Tax Commissioner, stated that Massachusetts is commonly re-ferred to as "Taxachusetts" beferred to as "Taxachusetts" be-cause of its high local taxes, not because of the state taxes. Capeless spoke Thursday evening at the S.U. about Massachusetts' tax problems.

The state collects $460 million mainly through personal income taxes and sales taxes, while the towns collect $760 million from property taxes. This 38:62 ratio between state and local tax col-lections is a serious defect in the system. Most states maintain a Capeless predicts that in the near future the state will have to raise $120-$150 million to balance the budget. He strongly believes that this can be accomplished only by a limited sales tax or by a revision of the state personal income tax system. He clearly emphasized that a state lottery or logalized clearly emphasized that a state lottery or legalized gambling wouldn't solve the problem.

Capeless strongly urged that the specific details of any tax reform be noted. He further stated that tax ideas are not hard to dram unpits the second to dream up-it's the acceptance that is difficult.

I.F.C. Votes To Contribute $1000 To Stricken Family

oss sustained in a disastrous

The Mitchells' 4-year-old died in the blaze, and the father was severely burned attempting to save the youngster. The

The I.F.C. has voted to give about $1000 to aid a North Amherst farmer whose family has been stricken by tragedy.

Each member of the 15 fraternities on campus will give an amount sufficient to provide the family of Stanley Mitchell with funds to make up for some of the loss sustained in a disastrous The fraternities' contribution will supplément funds already raised under auspices of the North Amherst Congregational Church and St. Brigid's Roman Catholic Church of Amherst. IFC President Gordon Massingham also announced that fraternity members volunteered to help members volunteered to help Mitchell on his farm while he recovers from burns.

Pflaum Says In Keynote Talk 'Cuba Not Radical Politically'

Irving Pflaum, representative of the American Universities Field Service and holder of the Ph.B. and J.D. degrees, gave the keynote address Friday, March 24 on the subject, "Politics of Right Now," as a part of Inter-national Weekend.

Pflaum Lived In Cuba

Pflaum, who lived in Cuba for seven months during the Cuban Revolution, declared that the Revolution was a moving thing. In most cases, he states, revolution goes from a moderate to ar extremist position but this can-not be applied to Cuba. Cuba is not very radical politically. Executing people is one of the most traditional occurrences during a revolution. This should be looked at as conservative, Pflaum ex-plained. Perhaps the change has gone from radical to moderate.

"Perhaps I am biased because "Perhaps I am biased because I am a northerner, but I am unhappy because we are being attacked by a supposed friend.
There must be some reason. It did not come out of the blue.
There must be some reason why
Cuba looks at us suspiciously.
What have we done in Cuba?"

Pflaum then proceeded to an-wer the question. He stated that the United States liberated Cuba from the Spaniards in 1900. Ir 1901, we insisted that they acknowledge the Platt Amendment in their constitution. For thirty-four years we had the legal right to intervene in Cuba and we u it six timesonce for four years. This was supposed to be sovereignty? We made Cuba practically a colony."

The speaker added that by 1929, ninety percent of every-thing worth owning in Cuba was owned by North America. Cuba was transformed from a country with 1,500,000 people to a nation of 5,000,000 people. At the end of this period there were 165 sugar mills transformed Cuba from an agrarian to an industrial nation Most of the land was used to house industrial buildings and needs. Cuba had to import even her most basic foods. During the depression money stopped going to Cuba and instead came going to Cuba and instead came from Cuba. Because of the lack of aid no mechanization took place. The population increased and so did unemployment. From 300,000 to 500,000 people who wanted work couldn't get it.

Cuba Turns Industrial

In March 1959, the Cuban Revolution began. Everything old was looked at as bad. "Batista's was looked at as bad. "Batista's reign was corrupt, you couldn't get a driver's license without the use of bribery," declared Pflaum.

There was too much talk about the gloriousness of the Cuban Revolution. Pflaum added that when the revolution changed and became cannibalistic, as all revolutions do, people had to explain it some other way. Therefore they said that Castro de-

· (Continued on page 3)

New Fee Not High; Includes Season Ticket

This is the second of two parts the first of which appeared in Wednesday's Collegian. When compared with other col-leges and universities, the new athletic fees will not be par-ticularly high. Many schools ticularly high. Many schools charge even higher fees and still require students to pay a reduced price for tickets to athletic con-tests. Yet, at present, UMass supports 15 different athletic programs. The University of Rhode Island charges $20 per year, but ports 15 different athletic offers only five programs.

Warren McGuirk, director of athletics, sights several reasons why the student fee increase is why the student fee increase is necessary. First, there is the predominant fact that with the inflationary tendencies of the American economy since World War II, prices have become very high. This has forced the physical education department to a welleducation department to cut down on expenditures. They have found this difficult in view of the fact that the athletic program has been greatly enlarged and imbeen greatly enlarged and im-proved in the past few years. Secondly, more and better pro-better pro-tective equipment is required for players who have been using old-er defective equipment which is potentially dangerous for the

Thirdly, McGuirk would like to

by JACK BAPTIST '61, Collegian Special Reporter s the second of two parts of which appeared in ay's Collegian.

The second of two parts
as put greater emphasis on J.V.
participation. Such sports as tennis, golf, lacrosse, track, swim-ming, gymnastics, and wrestling have freshman teams which play fewer games than they could or should, for lack of funds. Lastly, and more immediately, new capital outlay equipment is badly needed. New bleachers for the Cage are necessary. New auto-Cage are necessary. New auto motive equipment is also needed.

Many students have shown concern over the fact that the Athletic Council, composed of ten men representing the faculty and alumni, does not have a real student representative with voting privileges.

student representative with voting privileges.

Since the Council is responsible for the disbursement of the funds raised for athletic fees, it is believed that better student representation is desirable on it. According to McGuirk, the Council would probably not be opposed to such student representation or to granting it voting power. Howgranting it voting power. How-ever, he is opposed to any pro-cedure of an elected student representative, since this could suit in putting a man on the Council who either does not know very much about intercollegiate athletics or may not have (Continued on page 3)

Latin America Neglected According To Johansson

by JACQUELINE GALLIVAN '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

"Latin America has been In his view, it is the ruling ignored too much for too long" classes, the oligarchs, militarists, according to Bertram Johansson, the Latin American Affairs ediaccording to Bertram Johansson, the Latin American Affairs edi-tor of the Christian Science tor of the Christian Science Monitor, who spoke here Saturday as part of the International Weekend program. Johansson spoke from many years' experi-ence in Latin American activities when he cited Cuba as an exam-ple of this "laissez-faire" diplo-macy macy.

The speaker named several Central and Southern American nations to which U.S. aid has been sadly inadequate. While focusing attention on European and Asian Affairs, the U.S. State Department has virtually left our southern neighbors "in the cold," he stated. One reason for this is that news agencies tend to report Latin American issues only sofar as they concern us. A second reason is that these Spanish ond reason is that these Spanish-speaking countries have seemed to handle their own affairs rather well without U.S. aid for quite a while, so the attitude is to leave

Johansson stated that there is an information curtain over Latin America that implies that "some-thing doesn't want to be known" officials, who refrain from giving information on domestic issues. He went on to say that they fear that they will lose if U.S. aid comes in. Their wealth, which controls all industry in Latin America, will naturally diminish if the U.S. government conducts economic research and social reform programs which raise the living standards of the poor in these countries. president Kennedy's new Latin American aid program, in Mr. Johansson's opinion, promises a real breakthrough in relations between the United States and Latin America. It provides a tenpoint, ten-year program of economic research aid, agricultural aid, roadbuilding and bread aid. aid, roadbuilding, and broad social reforms, which aim ultimately at a more even distribu-

President Kennedy's biggest stumbling blocks to date are con-gressional opposition to the budg-et required for the program, and reluctance of the oligarchy in the Latin Americas to accept U.S. aid. Mr. Johansson concluded his informative talk by answering questions from the floor.

-

Senatorial Dilemma: Ya-Hoo And Humor

In recent months at the University of Massachusetts, there has been considerable concern over the purposes and criticism of the content within the student humor magazine, Ya-Hoo. Only a month ago, Senator Arthur Tacelli took the Senate floor in an attempt to throw more light on the publication's policies. And now, with last week's tardy edition, there has arisen a move from the President of the Student Senate, Dennis Twohig, "to permanently withdraw recognition of the Ya-Hoo constitution." To this move, we must answer a strong "NO!"

campus humor magazine can and should serve a useful purpose in campus life. Its satires and swings at the Administration, university life, and our society's icons should serve as effective means for entertainment and, at times, be the students' weapon is expressing displeasure over an element within their environment.

The idea of puncturing icons and harassing administrations is one which Americans have heard from Mark Twain through Will Rogers to our present day Mort Sahl. The ability and right to laugh at themselves is peculiar in this world to Americans. And this possession, as part of our culture, must be clung to and measures to deny it must be fought wherever the situation justifies it.

The present condition of our Ya-Hoo can be paralleled to a voice which comes from infected vocal cords. To cure the defect, you don't seal up the mouth but rather you go to the root of the trouble—the vocal cords. In the last two years, the reigns of decision and content for the Ya-Hoo have fallen into the hands of Wes Honey and Tracy Wilson. The apathy of the student body has presented these two students with the advantage or problem, depending on your point of view, of putting out this publication practically by themselves. Their views on humor, art, and decency dominate each issue.

An example of this is evident in this past issue which, consisting of only 12 pages in comparison with past issues of 24 or more pages, was met by readers with some disappointment. The reason for this recession in pages is due to Wes Honey and Tracy Wilson's dream of putting out a satirical final issue this year based on the New Yorker magazine. Their decision on this satire was not based on the fact that only a very small minority on this campus would be able to comprehend the effort and the other large majority would have to go out and buy a copy to the actual New Yorker in order to understand the satire. Here is your example of their taste in humor, which, clever as it may be, differs sharply with student tastes. But at present theirs is the hand which rules the roost.

A Jewish-dialect joke as told by Myron Cohen can be a very amusing tale. The story about the "little old lady in confession" as told by the Irish priest at a communion breakfast would brighten the morning of any colleen. But this same dialect joke or confessional story in the hands of others has been used in the past in an anti-Semitic or anti-Catholic vein. Religious and racial humor are as deadly in the hands of you or me as a bomb is in the hands of the Klu Klux Klan. It is not for us to say how the religious "humor" of the Ya-Hoo was intended or how each reader should interpret it. But it may be time to indicate that this old swimming hole is now shallow and muddy, with dangerous rusty fishing hooks awaiting those who bare to tread its waters.

Therefore, with the hope that our Senatorial electors will see the merit in salvaging the voice of our publication by investigating the vocal cords, we look forward to future issues where there should be cleaner and fresher waters for us to enjoy. For "the most wasted day of all is that on which we have not laughed."

Contemporary Jazz

By RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

John Coltrane's new album, "Coltrane Jazz," is one of the finest John Coltrane's new album, "Coltrane Jazz," is one of the finest quartet works for a long time, and will become a classic with an influence on much that follows on tenor sax. I can't help thinking of the Charlie Parker quartets. I recommend that all jazz fans at least listen to this one. Its Atlantic number 1354. I picked up my stereo version at the Quill Bookshop in 'Hamp.

The "early 'Trane" blew violent "sheets of sound" . . . extended physics at fantastic speeds After a mutually profitchly extra with the

The "early "Trane" blew violent "sheets of sound" . . . extended phrases at fantastic speeds. After a mutually profitable stay with the legendary Miles Davis Quintent, John learned to slow down and think about what he was blowing. Miles taught him to choose each note with care . . and Coltrane became a major figure in the Quintet, complementing Miles' trumpet with a haunting and brooding tenor sax.

No musician ever works with Thelonius Monk and forgets the experience. He may react like a certain baritone saxist (not Mulligan) did once backstage, and say, "What the hell is he blowing? . . . I can't follow him." Or he may grow in stature and leave cliches forever behind. From Monk, Coltrane gained a new harmonic freedom . . . jumping from one improbable note to another in a most natural manner.

Today, Coltrane again blows more notes to the bar at certain tempos. But he has retained his ability to construct meaningful and lyrical phrases while playing speedily and effortlessly.

'Trane's control over his horn is illustrated by the fact that he

"Trane's control over his horn is illustrated by the fact that he can actually blow two... sometimes three notes at one time. Thru a combination of fingering and tightening of the lips he can produce the upper harmonics of a note at the same intensity of the fundamental tone. If Coltrane perfects this "freak" process, he will actually be able to blow chords on a single-line instrument. This is not a gimmick, but it shows how thoroughly this man has explored the technical limitations of his horn... almost as an extension of himself. His range reaches to notes that "ain't even on the horn." He can play a soprano saxophone that is virtually indistinguishable from a tenor. He is one of the fastest men on his horn.

Coltrane is always intensely lyrical. He plays as if the music just Coltrane is always intensely lyrical. He plays as if the music just has to spill out. The quartet improvises so well together that it sounds has to spill out. The quartet improvises so well together that it sounds almost concert-like.

On the tune, "Village Blues." the plucked bass plays a tension-creating ostinato figure while 'Trane stands in the quiet streets of this "down" town with his feet apart and his horn crying to the inhabitants . . . a "down" crier.

The Ivory Tower

This is a modern fable without a moral

Once there was a man named G. Harry Stine who worked for the government on advance rocket research before the days of Sputnik. Besides being a rocket scientist, Mr. Stine also happened to write science fiction under the pseudonym of J. J. Coupling. Naturally this man was a nut and should not have been working on such supersecret

One day the Russians launched a Sputnik. The reaction of the government was first of disbelief that those backward Russians could dare to attain a scientific achievement before they could. Then they decided that it must be a fluke and there was no need to speed up the space program since we couldn't possibly be behind.

However, Mr. Stine, being an eccentric science fiction author.

suggested to powers that be many wild projects that he thought would work. Of course the government, being composed of conscientious officials, could not let this sort of thing continue. They immediately decided they could do without the services of Mr. Stine.

A fly-by-night, hair-brained company, Bell Telephone, decided that they might find a place for our hero. To show you how wild this company is, we have it on good authority that they are experimentwith extra-sensory perception.

Mr. Stine was put to work on the advanced research projects and allowed to develop his own ideas.

One of his crazy science-fiction type ideas was to have a string satellites ringing the earth at suitable intervals for the purpose bouncing radio signals off them. Granted, if it should work it would speed up telephone communications considerably, but anyone with any sense at all can tell that it is completely unfeasible.

That is, all except the people at Bell Telephone. Last year they launched the first Echo satellite and it did work. In the not too distant future we will have many more.

Mr. Stine is now developing some other wild ideas. In his spare he advises model rocket building societies. He has become so involved in the space age that he no longer writes science fiction.

This happens to be a particularly blatant example of bureaucracy at work. We were lucky in this one, I wonder how many other eccentric scientists are wandering around with no one to listen to

It is very hard to get a completely new idea, but it is even harder to get people to give you a hearing. Most scientific Nobel prizes are given to men who did their work at an early age.

The one thing a scientist needs most is imagination, and this is exactly what cannot be taught him.

Costly Time-Offs

In commenting on the California state budget, Senator Randolph Collier made this time saving statement: "Coffee breaks are costing California about $75 million a year." The Senator went on to explain that male office employees go to the bathroom at least six times a day on the average. A. Alan Post, an efficiency expert as well as legislative analyst, added, "We've made some preliminary studies which indicate a direct correlation between the two kinds of time-off."

Just another example of "better things for better living" through the work of statisticians.

LETTERS

Twohig Vs. Ya-Hoo

I would like to express a few thoughts that have been in my mind for some time concerning our campus humor magazine, Ya-Hoo. It always strikes me as somewhat ironic that it is considered either narrow-minded or prejudiced to criticize Ya-Hoo and yet anyone who dares to do this is always attacked with various degrees of viciousness in the next is-sue of the magazine. I believe this is easily shown sue of the magazine. I believe this is easily shown by the treatment meted out to a student senator, Tex Tacelli, who merely asked that Ya-Hoo policies be reviewed before the Senate passed their budget for the coming year. I would remind the students, and especially the fraternity residents whom Senator Tacelli represents, that this magazine is publicly owned by the Student Body. We students pay $3900 a year to support the magazine and I firmly believe we've got a right to question content and policies at any time. policies at any time.

Secondly, I have become even more concerned with what the Ya-Hoo calls the "anti-clerical" tone with what the Ya-Hoo calls the "anti-clerical" tone of the magazine but what is in reality an anti-religious attack which is obviously a petulant response to the withdrawal of certain pictures in the last issue. I realize also that this is a hard thng to criticize because all our good constitutional Americans will leap to the front screaming "separation of church and state." To this I wholeheartedly agree that I don't corny the analogy one step further, as but I don't carry the analogy one step further, as Ya-Hoo does, and say that this means that a student sponsored publication has a basic right to attack and ridicule personal religious beliefs without con-trol or criticism.

Messrs. Honey, Patten, and Wlson, who are primarily responsible for the content of Ya-Hoo, represent a distinct pseudo-intellectual segment on campus. Their creed is a basic belief that they are above all the "dirty politics" which go on in South College, the Student Senate, and Rome and they are the really freethinkers because they are brave enough to attack these elements. This they have done with a vengeance which certainly has brought very little credit to themselves or the University.

I am going to do everything in my power to try and persuade the Student Senate to withdraw constitutional and financial recognition of Ya-Hoo. I honestly feel that this magazine has done nothing positive for the University, does not represent stu-dent humor in any way and has come to represent the narrow personalized point of view of the Editors. Student supported publications should not be the vehicle for airing this kind of trash and I think the students feel this way.

Senator Dennis J. Twohig

Sodom And Gomorrah

After leaving one of the girls' dormitories around 10:30 p.m. last night, I couldn't help wondering if we were returning to the good old, decadent days of the Romans. There was so much confusion as I tried to fight my way through the entwined and entangled forms, that I had my hand shaken, cheek biseed, and face slavned within a distance of six kissed, and face slapped within a distance of six feet. The way that the girls carried on, made me think that kissing was going out of style.

Now girls, don't you think that you should use more discretion and conduct yourselves in a more womanly manner?

Robert P. Landon

All unsigned editorials represent the official Collegian position, All signed editorials appearing in the editorial column do not, necessarily, reflect the opinion of the Editorial Board, and usually reflect

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief

Editorial Editor

James J, Trelease '63

News Editor: Assignments
Joseph Bradley '64

Sports Editor
Ben Gordon '62

MON: Editorial, Sally Mallalieu; Sports, Ben Gordon '62; Feature, Jean Cann; Copy, Paul Kennett '64, Pat Barclay '63.

Entered as according to the work of the second of the second Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Frinted three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended 5 bloom of June 11, 1988, 44,00 per year; $2.50 per semester Office:

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.
Member—Associated Collegation Press. Its 1888.

Three Teams Remain Undefeated In Debates

mural Debate Tournament held Tuesday night, March 21, 1961 in Bartlett Hall. The debaters received their topic material from chairman Edward Tolman at 7:30 p.m. and started to de-bate at 8:00 p.m. The judges for this round were Mr. Angell and Mr. Saveried of the Speech Dept. and Mr. MacKown.

The results of Tuesday night's debates were: John Madden and Michael Hench representing Hills House won against Paul Daubitz and Neil Cullinan, independents; Joe Kielec and Jack Donney of Butterfield won against Steve Jenkins and Joe Jones representing Van Meter; and Dave Crowley and Vin Parisi of Phi Sigma Dalta wen against Maleals. Delta won against Malcolm Sarna and Janice Hill, independents.

Senate Plans New Election

The Student Senate's election committee has announced the dates and places for the spring election of campus officers.

Offices available will be in the classes of '62, '63 and '64 senators at-large, and a member of the S.U. Governing Board from each class. A commuter-Senator elec-tion will also be held.

Nomination papers will be available at the Dean of Men's office on the Monday after vacation, and will be due on the following Monday at 4:00 p.m. Watch the Collegian and the S.U. bulletin boards for further information. formation.

Foreign Investment . . .

(Continued from page 1) lished itself in Venezuela, Rear Admiral Laird definitely agreed that the foreign investor was a benefactor to the country. In the case history, the steel corporation after considerable realization tion, after considerable preliminary investigation established a claim near a large river in Venezuela. The effect that this mining commission had was to accelerate new industry, increase the demand for rative labor, to build a market for new work and for the native food, to establish new roads and a hydroelectric system and to increase the national economy. The impact this corporation had on labor increased the daily pay of the worker until he was among the best paid workers in the country and raised benefits

Past Explains Resentment

Dr. Alexander in answering the question of the benefit or detri-ment of the foreign investor showed why past history would

WMUA To Present Handel's Messiah As Easter Special

As a special Easter presenta-tion, radio station WMUA will offer Handel's Messiah Tuesday evening at 7:30. Dave Mitchell, Musicale host, announced the se-

The oratorio, which premiered in 1742, was recorded by the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Sir Thomas Beech-

Tuesday evening, the selections chosen will be the second and third parts, The Death and the Resurrection.

tend to cause resentment or fear of investors. Until 1930, when private investors woke up to the fact that they were guests in a foreign country, there had been no trace unions, underpaid workers, and active participation in the wrong side of local politics by investors. by investors by investors.

Foreign Investment Needed
Now Latin Americans realize that they need foreign investment but want it only in certain areas, such as industry. Foreign control of such areas as public tilities is recented furt recent utilities is resented. Just recent-ly in Mexico the government took over control of utilities from a foreign holder.

The Latin American countries could also be happier if these large corporations would enter into partnership with local people and train them to take over.

Public Investment for Future

Despite the fact that thus far investment has been primarily private and private investment still has a future in manufacture, Dr. Alexander feels that the "burden of help has to come from the public foreign investor, not private as now."

Chariot Races Featured In Greek Week

With all the festivities that go along with Greek Week, probably the most colorful this year will be the annual Chariot Race held on Saturday, April 15, at 2 p.m. This year in addition to the race itself, the program will include a parade of Greeks from each fraternity dressed in costumes of the Greek era. Pledges will be allowed to participate in both the pageant and the race. The contest will take place again this year on Ellis Drive, with the route extending from the front of Goessman to the front of Memorial Hall.

Chariots will be constructed by each fraternity to meet uniform standards. Each chariot will be drawn by four men, two abreast, eliminating last year's problem of various methods of running.

As an impetus toward greater skill, a new method of elimination has been devised. Instead of run-ning off the five winners of each heat, the best three teams, according to their clocked time, will compete for the final victory. The three finalists will be chosen from five heats, each heat having three contesting teams. The trophies for the first three places will be awarded by the Greek Ball Queen, who will preside over the races.

Pflaum Asserts . . .

(Continued from page 1) ceived everyone

"We ignored Cuba and mobilized for Laos. Let the dust settle was the policy for Cuba. We were letting the dust settle and when it set led it turned out red," continued the expert on Cuba.

He added that we might still be rescued by the Cubans. "We haven't entirely failed in Cuba. They have done us the extreme compliment of imitating us by Americanizing, More Cuban tour-ists come here than American tourists go to Cuba, They have learned something about free-dom. The Ten Year Plan that Kennedy is talking about may have come to late, but it should be looked at in terms of the people."

GREAT BETWEEN COURSES!

Get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

CLUB DIRECTORY

AMATEUR RADIO ASSOCIA-TION

will be a meeting There Gunness Laboratory, room 10, Wed., March 29, 7 p.m. Election of officers and a field trip (transportation provided).

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

There will be a Christian Association Coffee Hour and Reception of Officers on Tuesday, March 28, in the Colonial Lounge from 3:30-5:00. Everyone wel-

A dramatic reading "The Way of Life" by Jere Berger in Bartlett Auditorium Tues., March 28, 8 p.m.

Evening vespers in the Wor-cester Room of the S.U. each Wednesday at 6 p.m

CONCERT ASSOCIATION

Meeting in Old Chapel Seminar Room Tues., March 28, 8:30

DEMOLAY

Meeting in the 2nd Degree Masonic Temple Wed., March 29,

ENGINEERING JOURNAL

There will be a meeting in the Engineering Building room 126 Tues., March 28, 11 a.m.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing, and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the S.U.

HORSE CLUB

Meeting in the Council Chambers Tues., March 28.

New Fee . . . (Continued from page 1) interest in them. He feels candidates for such a postion should be carefully screened to be sure that they have some identity with sports.

Despite the complaints of some students in regard to the increase in athletic fees, there are a number of students and faculty who feel that the increase is necessary in order to maintain the level of athletic programs currently offered at UMass. They point out that costs are much higher now than they were when the present rate of $20.00 per was established in 1938.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB

Meeting in the Womens Physical Education Building Tues., March 28, 8 p.m. Dr. Karpovich of Springfield College, guest speaker.

PHI ETA SIGMA

Meeting in the Bristol Room of the S.U. Wed., March 29, 6:30 p.m. for members; 7 p.m. for prospective members.

PHILOSOPHY CLUB

The Philosophy Club discussion group will meet Wednesday, March 29, at 7:00 p.m. in Bartlett 356 to discuss existential thinkers.

S.U. DANCE COMMITTEE

There will be a full meeting of H.E.R. Weekend Dance mem-bers on Tuesday, March 28, at 11:00 a.m. in the Plymouth Room of the S.U. Pleast stand.

S.U. WOMEN'S BOWLING

TOURNAMENT

Hurry and sign-up for the 1961 Women's Bowling Tournament. There is room for only six more ladies, Prizes, Sign-up in Games Area.

WATER SKI CLUB

Meeting in Machmer E-16 Wed., March 29, 8 p.m. Plans for the coming season to be discussed,

ZOOLOGY CLUB

Meeting in Morrill Science Center room 138 Wed., March 29, 7:30 p.m. Open House planning and business meeting. Slides on Hawaii will be shown by Dr. Nutting. Everyone is welcome. Refreshments will be served.

They sight the fact that the interest in sports on the part of students has mounted greatly in response to the enlarged athletic program offered. Furthermore, they maintain that even among those students who don't participate directly in either intercollegiate or intramural sports there appears to be a great deal of pride and interest in the quality of athletics found at the University. Finally, they say, the success and quality of teams here at UMass has improved considerably in recent years, and a greater supply of funds for athletics should help to continue this progress.

BRANDEIS UNIVERSITY SUMMER SCHOOL

1961 Session June 26 - August 4

LANGUAGE WORKSHOP

- Coeducational
- For Graduate and Undergraduate Students
- Credit Transferable

FRENCH—First, Second & Third Year GERMAN—First Year RUSSIAN—First Year SPANISH—Second Year

- Intensive SIX Week SIX Credit Course Full Year's Work
- Language Laboratory

For further information, clip and mail to: Brandeis University Summer School Rabb 102

Waltham 54, Massachusetts Please send details of Summer Language Workshop to:

Name Address Sports Editorial

Our Idolized Deceivers

Part III

Last weekend, the president of Seton Hall University (the first of this year's schools to be hit with "fixes") directed the blame at the gamblers: "We teach them (players) the right way by day, but there are men who talk by night who corrupt the youth of our country. The playing field is a place of honor, and yet foul men prey about."

But the real answers were supplied over seven years ago. The first part was answered by Clair Bee, LIU coach, who wrote, "I—any coach under the pressure of hig time spoot—way so also whed in the coach under the pressure of big time sport—was so absorbed in the victory grail that I lost sight of the educational purposes of athletics." The abuses he listed were: (1) scholarships, (2) cash subsidies, (3) guaranteed passing grades in the classroom, and (4) overemphasizing the importance of sports with extended road trips, long year-round practice sessions

The second part to the answer was volunteered unknowingly by Rocky Marciano. "Everybody knocks boxing but the people," said the Rock, and he couldn't have hit the nail any harder or straighter... THE PEOPLE. The law will probe sports, Congress will forbid it, athletes will disavow it, and columnists will libel it ... but the people will always flock back to it. In 1958, Champion Floyd Patterson founds in the people will always flock back to it. In 1958, Champion Floyd Patterson ple will always flock back to it. In 1958, Champion Floyd Patterson fought Roy Harris before 20,000 fans in California, a state which had been labeled by investigations as being filled with boxing corruption. The number one "diver" was Art Aragon, the only fighter in the history of American boxing ever to be found guilty in a court of law for fight-fixing. But just a few nights after the Patterson fight, Art Aragon entered the same ring, in the same state, and, before 2000 MORE fans at ringside and 14 million MORE fans via TV ,was knocked out by Carmen Basilio. As long as the public can wrap themselve in a blanket of disillusionment and insist upon being continually well

Grutchfield's Scoring Paves Way For New England All-Star Win Over Boston Greats At Garden

By DICK BRESCIANI, Assistant Sports Publicity Director

ing strength of Doug Grutchfield, Barry Multer and Gordie Merten powered the New England College Senior All-Stars to a come-from-behind 121-100 win over the Greater Boston Senior All Stars before a large crowd Thursday night at Boston Garden.

Although our own Captain deceived, then fixes will flourish. How do you stop the college fixes? If the schools are playing sports for money, then their athletes will sooner or later follow in their footsteps. Your athletic directors across the nation pressure their publicity departments to push football and basketball and ignore the track, swimming, hockey, and soccer. Why? The are pushed aside because minor sports do not fertilize the campus with greenbacks for cause minor sports do not fertilize the campus with greenbacks for a bigger football stadium or field house. Once they have those palaces, then they've got to have the top teams to draw the crowds to fill and maintain these concrete montrosities. Top teams cost money... and here is where you have your trouble all over again.

If you want to call it de-emphasis—OK; if you say we'll end up with poor teams—OK; if you suggest closing down the ticket boxes entirely—OK. You call it anything you desire. But as Clair Bee sail after being sold out by his players in 1951, "Anything is infinitely better than waiting beside a telephone at 4 o'clock in the morning while kids in the police station downtown are signing confessions that while kids in the police station downtown are signing confessions that will brand them as long as they live."

In the meantime, Americans will continue to flock to sports spectacles sponsored by, scheduled by, fixed by, and played in by "our idolized deceivers." game and was the leading re-bounder and scorer for the winning team, the crowd's fancy was captured by the playmaking and scoring antics of 5'4" Roland

"Fan" Gaudette.
The tiny backcourtman whipped in 33 points for the losers, hitting on a variety of shots. Gaudette originally played his frosh basketball at Massachusetts in 1956-57, but dropped out of school and enrolled at Clark University.

He averaged 16.5 this winter for Clark which finished with a 12-4 record. Gaudette's hot shooting spurted the Greater Boston team to an early lead, which at one time late in the first period reached a 31-18 score.

Grutchfield's 10 first period points kept the New England club alive. Doug played only four minutes of the second period and scored just one hoop, but the rest of the team caught fire and finally tied the game at 55-55 by half-

Doug hit a jump, then took a nifty Multer pass, converted it into a three-pointer and quickly banged in a 15-footer for seven

Big Frank Quinn (Boston Col-lege) scored for Greater Boston, but Multer retaliated with a long bomb and then fed Grutchfield for a layup.

But Gaudette reentered the game and hit four baskets, one of them a pretty left-handed hook shot to put the lead to 86-84 at the end of the third period.

Merten (Springfield) and Larry Schiner (Maine) added to the winner's scoping attack in the vinner's scoring attack in the inal stanza. The score quickly became 105-94 and the New Englanders coasted he

Double Dribbles
Grutchfield hit 10 of 18 shots, six of seven foul shots and grabbed 12 rebounds. Multer connected on 10 of 22 hoops. He sand some long jumpers in the final Grutchfield played the pivot, nce Jim Sutherland 6'7 (Bates) didn't show up.

THE SUMMARY:
NEW ENGLAND STARS

Swensen (Colby)

Schiner (Maine)	6	7	19
Scott (Bowdoin)	0	1)
Hargen (UNH)	1	- 2	10
Grutchfield (UMass)	10	6	26
Multer (URI)	10	0	20
Merten (Springfield)	6	3	13
Zines (Vermont)	3	1	7
DiChiara (Springfield	1 3	1	13
and the print the party of the	, ,)
	45	0.1
GREATER	BOSTON	31	121
	b	f	nte
Viestra (NE)			pts 6
Giordano (NE)	2 3 2 3	2 2 2
Ducey (NE)	3	2	8
Chamberlain (BU)	2	2	6
	3		6 7 0
McGrath (Tufts)	0	0
Quinn (B.C.)	6	4	16
Barakat (Assumpton)	1	4	18
Eliot (M.I.T.)		0	2
Gaudette (Clark)	15	3	33
Polhemus (Babson)	2	3	4
	-	Dente	****
	41	18	100

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the varsity soccer team on Tuesday, March 28 at 5:00 p.m. in Room 10 of the Cage. All interested in playing are welcome

SOFTBALL ROSTERS

Softball rosters can Le picked up now from Mr. Cobb in Room 10A of the Cage. These rosters must be turned back before the vacation. Fraternity teams need not pick up the rosters

GOLF MEETING
There will be a meeting of all varsity golf candidates at 5:00 p.m. Wednesday night in Room 10 of the Cage.

car (with "FROODMOBILE" mounted in brass on the cowl!). Actual value over $1,000. TO ENTER THE LUCKY STRIKE FROODMOBILE CONTEST, simply finish this sentence in 25 words or less:

"I need the Froodmobile because . . ."

Entries will be judged on the basis of humor, originality and style (preferably Froodian). If, in the opinion of our judges, your answer is best, the makers of Lucky Strike will deliver to you, on campus, the Froodmobile. A carton of Luckies will be given to the first 100 runners-up. Along with your entry return address, college or university, and class. Entries must be postmarked n later than April 15, 1961. All entries become the property of The American Tobacco Company. Send your entry (or entries) to LUCKY STRIKE, P. O. BOX 17A, NEW YORK 10, NEW YORK.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

four (4) wheels, genuine foot-power brakes, "fresh-air conditioning," and actual left-right steering mechanism! The economical 7.9 horsepower engine saves you hundreds of dollars in hay and oats! Goes 32 miles per hour, gets up to 65 miles per gallon. The Froodmobile can be licensed in every state except New Jersey. (New Jersey hates Frood.) WIN this beautiful

Product of The American Tobacco Company - Tobacco is our middle name

VOL. XC NO. 63

and + Ulat

Massathuse Library Hours
Library Hours
1961 U. of II.

(See page 3)

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1961

Finalists Are Chosen For Greek Weekend

5¢ PER COPY

Candidates for Greek Queen pose in Colonial Lounge, Sitting left to right are Ellie Stang '64 and Joan Werner '63. Standing are Jan Hall '62 and Judie Iversen '62. Not pictured, Pat Brouillard '64.

The five finalists viing for the title of Greek Ball Queen were chosen last week from field of twenty-two candidates by a vote of the active members of all the sororities and fraternities.

Joan Werner '63, a resident of Barre, is the nominee of ATG. She is a member of Sigma Kap-pa, the Sophomore executive Council, the Sophomore Banquet Committee, and the Newman Club. She is an English major and lists her major pastime as swimming.

Judie Iversen '62 is a speech therapy major who comes from Concord. The nominee of Phi Mu Delta, she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, a counselor at Hamlin House, and a member of the Christian Association.

Ellie Stang '64 was nominated by her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma. An education major, she comes from North Andover and is a member of the Christian Association. Her hobby is art.

Pat Brouillard '64, a resident Pat Brouillard '64, a resident of Haverhill, is also an education major. She was nominated by QTV and Alpha Sigma Phi, Her activities include Campus Varieties, Modern Dance Show, Tennis Club, and Newman Club.

Jan Hall '62, a physical educa-tion major, is the nominee of Sigma Phi Epsilon. A member of Kappa Alpha Theta, Newman Club, WAA, and the Phys. Ed. Majors Club, she comes from Wrentham.

The queen will be chosen Monday at 3 p.m. Judges will include: William L. Mahoney, assistant executive director Alumni Association; William Deminoff, University News Service; and Mrs. Eleanor F. Niedeck, speech instructor. Crowning of the queen will take place during the intermission at the Greek Ball on Saturday night.

Hunsberger States Approval Of Proposed UMass Budget

by ANN MILLER '64, Collegian Staff Reporter New dean of Arts and Sciences, Regarding the budg I. Moyer Hunsberger, has termed "The University has the proposed UMass budget in-crease "heartening news". Of the 40 new teachers to be added to the staff from the proposed budg-et increase, over half are slated for the College of Arts and Sci-

Notes Expansion

The Dean noted that the com ing years promise to be years of sion for UMass.

erger, who has headed the UMass department of chemistry since September 1960, took office March 13 as the new Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. He replaces Fred V. Cahill Jr. as head of the largest academic unit at the University.

Dr. Clarence Shute had been Acting Dean since Cahill left in July to become Dean of General Studies at North Carolina State,

Regarding the budget, he stated

Regarding the budget, he stated "The University has to make its own case for funds". As a state university we must prove the necessity of our being, he commented. He believes there is a "tendency toward greater interest in education", which will be to the school's advantage.

Emphasis On Quality
Along with the increase in numbers, Dr. Hunsberger hopes to maintain a high level of quality in education at the University. "There is danger that when a

"There is danger that when a university expands as rapidly as we do, people think emphasis is on quantity," he said. "I'm intersted to see that as the University." ested to see that as the University expands we don't lose sight of quality."

Commenting upon the legisla-tion to establish a two year basic science medical school at UMass,

(Continued on page 6)

Lederle Seeks Student Aid In Dorm Shortage Next Fall

Library

Students Asked To Volunteer For Double And Triple Rooms

The following is the text of a statement issued by President Lederle concerning the impending housing shortage.

The prospective shortage of dormitory space during 1961-62 makes it necessary for the University to request the student body's cooperation to help solve a pressing problem.

There is no question that the Administration would like to Administration would like to have sufficient room space to insure that no student need feel inconvenienced. But in a growing institution it is not always possible to maintain optimum condi-tions, much as we would like them to prevail. The coming academic year, then, provides something other than optimum conditions in the matter of housing. The reason for this lies principally in the fact that the tran-sition from the operations of the sition from the operations of the UM Building Association to those of the UM Building Authority has resulted in a loss of time in planning and construction of dormitories on campus.

Had all gone normally, there ould now have been two residence halls under construction to absorb the increased enrollment of the incoming freshman class. Since we do not have these dor-mitories, we have only one

Greeks Will Hold Feast On April 12

The Greeks will gather in the S.U. Ballroom for their annual Greek Banquet, Wednesday, April 12. The banquet will begin 2. 6:30 p.m. with a cold plate dinner served by the S.U.

A large turnout is expected, since the membership of all fracternities and sorrottes on care.

ternities and sororities on cam-pus has been provided with tick-ets for the occasion.

The speaker for the Banquet will be Joel Reynolds, a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity and President of the National Inter-fraternity Council. The NIC was organized to promote fraternal ideas and cooperation among fraideas and cooperation among tra-ternities on campuses throughout the United States. Each year a National Interfra-ternity Convention is held and is by a representative from each campus connected with the association.

Outstanding ideas result from these conventions. As an example, the Chariot Races held here during Greek Week arose from an idea that was brought back from the convention.

from the convention.

In addition to providing an interesting speaker, the Banquet gives a chance for all Greeks to gather together. Seating will be arranged so that a whole sorority or fraternity will not sit together.

avenue open to us.

We can, of course, deny entrance to the 600 additional students qualified for admission in the fall. But obviously we cannot say no to these applicants—just say no to these applicants—just as we could not have said no, in similar circumstances, to many of you who are now enrolled at the University. The only alternative, then, is to ask students on campus to undertake "doubling" or "tripling" in rooms which are rtipling" in rooms which are now singles or doubles.

Since no other alternative is feasible, the University must institute such a policy in order that all students may have somewhere to live. We realize, of course. that imposing a policy is not al-ways an easy thing—either for the students or for the Administhese circum re, we woul tration, Under these circumstances, therefore, we would much rather have volunteers for double and triple rooms (at reduced per-student rates) than to have to make assignments on an arbitrary basis.

The advantages of such a pro-ess are two-fold: students can effect savings on room rent as well as have a chance to choose their own room-mates. Most im-portant of all, those who do portant of all, those who do volunteer will be indicating their concern for the maintenance of the University's academic pro-gram and the necessity for giv-ing as many students as possible every opportunity to acquire a college education. Since we now have adequate classroom and laboratory facilities, as well as instructional staff, for the addi-tional students we wish to take, every opportunity to acquire a tional students we wish to take it would be unfortunate if, because of a temporary dormitory problem, we could not easily do

We emphasize that the problem is a temporary one, and with the completion of new dormitories, there will be no need for the policy of doubling and tripling. In actual fact, even under these conditions, the Univer-sity is better off than a number of other institutions which have had to take drastic measures to had to take drastic measures to house their students.

We hope, then, that your response to this request will be based on all these considerations. Your understanding can convert a "problem" into a cooperative centure under which the Living a "problem" into a cooperative venture under which the University's general educational pro-gram can proceed unhampered.

Students who wish to sign up for doubles or triples will (Continued on page 5)

Class Executive Council Plans Sophomore Events

-Photo by Pete Hefler

Members of the Sophomore Executive Board—from left to right, seated; J. Lindahl, A. Meltzer, J. Hussy, S. Prolman, standing; J. Brescia, D. Kaufman, C. Rock, L. Murphy, P. Stevens.

The Sophomore Executive Council has several events plan-ned for the Sophomore class for the rest of the semester. The Class Outing featuring a Rock 'n' Roll band, will be held May 1. On May 7 a track meet for men women will be held. Prizes will be awarded.

Having consulted with the class, the executive council has arranged to have blazers offered to the sophomores at reduced prices in commemoration of the coming centennial year celebraThe council has arranged with the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women to have $50 deposited in an emergency fund in each office to be used only for Sophomores after the emergency money, already on account for all students, has been used. This money will be refunded to the class in February, 1963, to be used as the class sees fit.

Meetings of the Executive Council are open to all students on the first Tuesday of each

FROM RAILROAD TO REFERENDUM

When the Student Senate passed the controversial "2.0" bill one week ago, there were more than just long faces worn by the opposition to the bill. There were six Senators who wore red faces for being absent from a Senate assembly which passed a bill which vitally concerned their electives. Also, two Senators, in hopes of postponing the bill, abstained from the final vote. In any case but this one, we would certainly question the absentees'

When the Senate convened that night, the "1.8" compromise bill was scheduled. Our absentees and abstract When the Senate convened that night, the "1.8" compromise bill was scheduled. Our absentees and abstainers, besides a large percentage of the remaining Senators, were so strongly opposed to such a low requirement, that the "tea leaves" saw an almost sure defeat for the motion. It was then that the "2.0" was brought up again and this time railroaded through the chambers so quickly and unexpectedly that you would have sworn the New Haven railroad was running its schedule through the Student Union. The way this bill was handled on the floor without any advance notice and the absence of eight votes in the final tally . . . whether all this did an injustice to the Student Body, we have little doubt. The little doubt which we did have was absolved quickly with the resignation of the Senior Senator from Van Meter, Robert Trudeau, or what he felt was "a grave and malicious action to so misrepresent the students A motion passed . . . by a small group of people who manipulated the methods of parliamentary procedure, . ."

What remains now is not to simply sit back and wait for the bill to take effect, but rather to support a referendum which Adelphia has placed on the Spring election which will call for a vote on the bill by the Student Body itself. A 50 per cent turnout will be needed for this referendum and of this percentage, two-thirds of the voters will have to vote "No" in order to cancel the bill as it stands. We pass no judgment at this time on whether the "2.0" is a correct standard but rather we question the background which the bill holds. Because of the vague background, we have but one recourse—a referendum. vague background, we have but one recourse—a referendum.

There is no reason to believe that if this "2.0" is defeated in the Spring that the average issue will not come upon the Senate floor again. There, is reason to believe that Senator Della Penna will bring forth a compromise which states that the only activities which should be "taxed" by such an average requirement are the "workhorse" activities. This action then would divide the campus organizations in half: the Collegian, WMUA, and the Senate plus other heavy load organizations as against the Outing Club, the German Club, and the religious organizations—light loads.

We feel that by no means is the minimum average for activities a dead issue. In the best interests of the Student Body, and in the best interest of the Senate's reputation as a body of representatives for the students, the referendum in the Spring election should and must be supported by we, the students.

Ya-Hoo Compromise

Before walking into their chambers tonight, our student maters should and must have a clear idea of the Ya-Hoo crisis, carry the representative opinion of their constituents same time be open minded enough to recognize a the problem if it comes to the floor during the and at the same tin solution to the problem if it comes to the floor durin evening. It is clear that a dismissal of the magazine gether or a dismissal of the magazine alto-gether or a dismissal of the concern it has aroused will not suffice in this instance. If ever there was an issue which de-finitely should not suffer the topsy-turvy, beclouded, scathed, railroaded fate which the "2.0" bill did, it is this bill which Senators Twohig and Tacelli have had the intelligence to bring on the floor tonight and in recent weeks. But the action needed is that of a compromise from Twohig's earlier

Beneath the shouts for freedom of the press or cens ship, there exists a workable solution. We believe that the smp, there exists a workable solution. We believe that the following, or a reasonable facsimile to the following solution, would provide some of the answers which we seem to be groping for on the issue. The first action must call for a dismissal of the present Ya-Hoo constitution. Its new constitution would provide for a cut in yearly editions from three to two. With this in effect, each issue would contain close to 40 pages and, while more pages would facilitate the task of working the magazine around a new but central theme for each issue, the increase in time between issues would enable the editors to take greater care in the settingup and editing of the Ya-Hoo. The central theme would be decided upon by a board of regular Ya-Hoo writers, artists, and perhaps one faculty advisor. With the number of pages doubled, each issue would not be perused through in a matter of minutes but would be read with interest and saved instead of being dropped in the trash barrel.

A second innovation provided for should prevent two present malfunctions: (1) the ability of two or three individuals, to create, edit, and in general, control the magazine, by themselves, and (2) the tendency of the publication to direct its content at a minority audience instead of covering a large part of the campus in its scope. This constitutional provision would call for a public announcement of the theme for the forthcoming issue as well as offer an invitation to all interested parties on campus to submit writs of humor on that particular theme. With a heterogeneous selection to choose from, the editors could thus make the final selection.

In order to offer a degree of stability to the magazine and its officers under a new constitution, we suggest a Policy Board, perhaps the same one which operates over the Collegian, which would oversee the editors' final product. Cries have been offered up in the past that censorship of this kind would drain the magazine of its strength. To these criers we must answer: do you believe the editions of the Ya-Hoo in the last two years have done anything but incur the wrath of readers and warrant such probation with a Board as its counsel. If the magazine's conduct in the years to come merits such, the Policy Board might possibly be eliminated.

Our position in the past issue was that of salvaging the sinking Ya-Hoo. A compromise tonight within the Senate Chambers would be a step even further ahead . . . a move toward patching the holes in the hull and a measure calling for many different but competent winds to blow the sails which move the Ya-Hoo.

Sacco-Vanzetti Case

by MARCIA ANN VOIKOS '63

Life Goal of Felicani to Clear Names of the Two Innocent Men

In a highly emotional and spell-binding talk at Tuesday night's History Club meeting, a devoted old man rendered an urgent plea to clear the names of two innocent men. Aldino Felicani was a sonal friend of Sacco and Vanzetti and is no noted authority on the case.

Sacco and Vanzetti were two Italian emigrants to the United States in the 1920's who became a shoemaker and fish-peddler, respectively. At that time, the two men were caught up in the tide of socialism and radicalism which was sweeping the country. Thousands were deported or sent to jail. And Judge Fuller, the leading authority for the state in the widely-publicized trial, was responsible "for filling the jails with them."

On July 14, 1920, Sacco and Vanzetti were convicted of first-degree murder for having robbed and killed two men carrying a payroll to Braintree. Seven years later they were executed, although evidence had been uncovered in the meantime which may have proved them innocent. The case set the world aflame because it involved the whole problem of crime and punishment.

In the first place, Felicani pointed out that cur-rent anti-radical feeling caused bitter prejudice on the part of the judge and jury towards the tw particularly when Judge Fuller said — "The cal ideals of Vanzetti are cognate to crime."

Secondly-the evidence: in 1925, it was implied Secondly—the evidence: In 1925, it was implied that a gang in Providence was possibly connected with the murder. New England remained unmoved. No new trial was granted. Also, the Boston Police Chief at that time ordered maintenance men to work in front of the State House so that the Sacco-Vanzetti funeral could not pass by.

But the most spectacular evidence was uncovered when Felicani visited the people of Plymouth. He knew them well. Vanzetti had peddled fish there. When the people gave Felicani the receipts signed on the very day of the murder—was the evidence used? "Nothing happened," said Felicani, "because Fuller was a sadist!"

Felicani went on to relate the jailhouse incident. Felicani went on to relate the jailhouse incident. Since it is the custom in Massachusetts to claim the bodies before death, Felicani was required to fill out papers at the jail. All he remembers was—"the jail—roped off for miles, seeing the walls covered with guns and searchlights, and hearing the noise of the troopers' horses." When he arrived at the jail, the warden was drunk and the prisoners tense Felicani warden was drunk and the prisoners tense. Felicani added, "To claim the bodies of friends still alive is disheartening."

Sacco and Vanzetti were products of their environment and the violent social thinking of their time, Moreover, they were victims of circumstances beyond their control and serve as a symbol for the need of revising the entire penal system in Massa-

Letters To The Editor

As a spokesman for a very distinct pseudo-intellectual segment of the campus community, I would like to avail myself of the opportunity to say that I do understand The New Yorker. This, I realise, labels me pariah. The very fact that I read is cause enough to make me something not of the common mold, thus a trouble-maker.

As one of those odd folk who break icons and tread in muddy pools loaded with rusty fish-hooks, I find it utterly disgusting that the only way to be funny is to take swipes at the administration. I find it even more disgusting, 'though much more hilarious, to label people who print anecdotes told by religious students as "Judas". Of course I'll not ask which Judas, the labellers should never be forced to realise that there was a chap called Maccabeus, or something like that.

As one of those irreverent Boetians who finds "Dirty Politics" as a thing unpleasant, I rather rankle at the implication that realising that such a thing exists, it should be allowed to go on unhampered. As a person who believes in a God, I am further infuriated at the implication that I should not laugh at a religious joke if I do not first state my faith.

As a person who tries to think, I take it to be an insult that my enjoyment of a dialect joke is tantamount to burning nocturnal crosses. It appears to me, that should a joke be funny when told by Myron Cohen, "awr th' gud F'ither atta Communion Breakf'st ter gladden th' hort uvva foine brath uvva colleen," I have every right in the world to repeat that joke

Or perhaps I am wrong. Perhaps I should la those uproariously funny tales concerning Red Blasko, Dean Curtis, Billy Burkhardt, and the College Pond. Something tells me that I shouldn't, and that same voice tells me that the students shouldn't either.

To the Editor:

To the Editor:
After reading Senator Dennis Twohig's and J. T.'s letters expressing opposing views on the future of 'our' $3900 a year humor magazine, I found myself in the peculiar position of agreeing with both. I thought that maybe I was one of the bewildered, befuddled, and betrayed products of certion of agreeing with both. I thought that maybe I was one of the bewildered, befuddled, and betrayed products of certain undergraduate discussion classes conducted by certain equally bewildered and befuddled graduate students. But alas, a thunderbolt of enlightenment suddenly struck out of the fog. The Ya-Hoo has been constructed on a cracked foundation—that of socialized humor.

Personally, the "Humor" of Ya-Hoo gives me a guilt complex; yet I respect, in my warped reasoning, the right of anyone to laugh and criticize whatever he or she pleases. However, the student (as well as myself) has been placed, because of compulsory financial support for Ya-Hoo, in the position of all or nothing. This is not where the magazine or the student should be. This type of magazine should be privately owned as the views and the method of expressing them will never be representative of the student body as a whole nor of the University. As it stands now the "humor" that is printed in Ya-Hoo is paid for by students who do not agree with it, and if the humor were suddenly to take a reversal (for the better) the ones who agree now will disagree then. By the way, who owned Mark Twain or Will Rogers?

The idea of "nunciuving icons and harassing administra-disagree then. By the way, who owned Mark Twain or Will Rogers?

The idea of "puncturing icons and harassing administrations..." is a personal right and to be agreed, a cherished one. It does not follow, however, that this personal right will vanish if the body politic removes its financial support for Ya-Hoo. Ya-Hoo should be operated the same as any other magazine and should be sold to those who wish to purchase, not required to be bought before hand by those who wouldn't purchase it even after it was published. Once humor becomes compulsory it creases to be humor.

Therefore I support Senator Dennis Twohig in his fight to remove Ya-Hoo from the books. As the magazine provides a personal rather than a functional service to the students, I see no reason why some of the students should foot the bill for the amusement of others. If enough support can be raised among the students who desire such printed matter can obtain it for a price. This in no way would be a breach of the freedom of the press or of the right to criticize, humorously or otherwise. Compulsory humor is, very obviously, a breach of individual freedom. Besides, who ever heard of a compulsory tax on laughing?

Richard D. Buck mpulsory tax on laughing?

P.S. Perhaps the $3,900 could go to undergraduate scholar-

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Joseph Bradley '64 Sports Editor Ben Gordon '62

Editorial Editor

James J. Trelease '63

ews Editor: Assignments

Joseph Bradley '64

Business Manager

Howard Frisch '62

News Editor: Make-Up

Beth Peterson '63

Editorial Editor Photography Editor

Ben Gordon '62 Lawrence Popple '63 WED.: Editorial, Warren Richard '64; Sports, Ben Gordon '62; News, Audrey Raynor '63; Feature, Pat Barclay '63; Copy, Roger Cruff '64, Ruth Kobs '64, Bev Lang '64.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amerat, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the addenic car, except during vacation and examination periods; twice the week following a vacation or examination period; or en a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing office it, 1988, and the week. Accepted for mailing office it, 1988, and the properties of the properties 11, 1984.

$4.00 per year; $2.50 per sementer lent Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.
Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press
Sun., Tucs., Thurs.,—4:00 p.m.

Women Form Service Organization To Serve Campus And Community

On March 6, 1961, University women were given their first opportunity to join and help form a women's service organization here on campus. At that meeting the following temporary officers were elected: Virginia Rodgers, President; Linda Lane, Vice-President; Susan Teto, Recording Secretary; Karen Canfield, Corresponding Secretary; and Dottie Lurie, treasurer. Corresponding Secreta Dottie Lurie, treasurer.

for such an organization here on campus. Up until now there has

Much of the credit for forming W.S.O. is due to the brothers of Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, who are, in a large part, responsible for the first ideas and actions for the group. The members of W.S.O., the membership of which is open to all University women in good standing, feel that there is a need for such an organization here on reviewed by R.S.O., and Mrs. William Field was elected to serve as advisor to the group. The members have already helped significantly on the Campus Chest Drive, and in the spring are planning, a work westered. ning a work-weekend at the Morningside Camps, in conjunc-tion with Alpha Phi Omega.

Any University woman interested in joining W.S.O. is cordially invited to attend the next meeting, to be held on April 10, 1961, at 6:30 p.m.

Paintings By Students Are

The paintings of two University of Massachusetts students are part of the 12th annual National Exhibition of Realistic Art now on display at the Museum of Fine Arts in Springfield.

On Exhibition

The paintings, both watercolors, are the work of William Tinney, junior from Wollaston, and David Seuss, Northampton sophomore, Mr. Tinney's work is entitled "Promontory"; Mr. Seuss's is called "Once upon a Time." The two young artists are studying in the University's department of art under the direction of Mr. Ian MacIver, a noted American watercolorist.

The Springfield exhibition, sponsored by the Academic Artists Association, will continue through April 9.

Library Hours

The hours for the Student Union Building during the Spring vacation will be as follows:

Thursday, March 30, 1961-Building closes at 7:30 p.m

Friday, March 31, 1961-Building closes at 1:30 p.m.

Saturday & Sunday, April 1 & 2.
1961—Building closed.

Please check the bulletin boards in the Union for hours— Week of April 3-9, 1961.

CLUB DIRECTORY

ARMENIAN CLUB

There will be a meeting tonight at 7:00 in the Plymouth Room. Elections will be held. Everyone interested in joining the club is welcome to attend.

There will be a meeting of the Art Club on Wednesday, April 12 at 7:00 p.m. in Bartlett 61. Films will be shown. The public to the state of the shown. lic is invited.

A.S.C.E.

Mr. Earl Anderson and Mr. Angelo Iantosca will speak on "Sanitary Engineering as a Career" tonight at 8:00 p.m. in the Worcester Room of the S.U. A film will be shown. New members are welcome.

HAYMAKERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7:00 p.m. in the S.U.

LITERARY SOCIETY

Tryouts for the reading of "No Exit" will be held on Tuesday night, April 11, at 7:00 p.m. in the Nantucket room of of S.U. The play will be presented on May 10. Everyone is welcome to try out.

MANAGEMENT CLUB
There will be a field trip sponsored by the Management Club to Bradley Air Field, Windsor
Locks, Connecticut, on Tuesday, April 11, starting at 8:00 a.m. Sign up sheets are on the bulletin board opposite 124 Draper Hall.

Manager Of Store Elected President At Tufts Meeting

Mr. Augustine J. Ryan, Manager, University Store, was elected president of "College Stores of New England" at a meeting held at Tufts-University, Medford, Mass., on Wednesday, March 22, 1961. This organization was formed in December, 1960, a proposed or sealed the store of the 1960, to promote exchange of information among college and preparatory school stores of the area. It is independent of the National Assn, of College Stores and was organized to supplement the national association New England States.

There will be a demonstration of skiis and equipment as well as a discussion of safety rules and practices tonight at 8:00 p.m. in Machmer E-16. Also, there will be an announcement of plans to start skiing soon.

WOMEN'S SERVICE ORGAN-

There will be a meeting on Monday, April 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the Nantucket room of the S.U. All interested University women and faculty are cordially invited.

ZOOLOGY CLUB

There will be a meeting to-night at 7:30 p.m. in room 138, Morrill Science Center, dis-Morrill Science Center, discussing Open House plans. Dr. Nutting will show slides on Hawaii, after which will follow a business meeting. Everyone is welcome, Refreshments will be served. be served.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: One black wallet. Reward. Contents very important. Please contact Grant Crichfield at Phi Sigma Kappa or AL 3-3206

Lost: A black wallet containing papers of personal value; in vicinity of library, Monday night. Return to James Heneberry, 224 Butterfield.

Bus Service Discontinued After Easter

A bus service from the University to the center of Amherst on Fridays and Saturdays has been provided during the University year by the Amherst Chamber of Commerce, It ran five hours a day at intervals of the commerce. day at intervals of twenty min-utes each weekend for the con-venience of the University stu-dents. In view of the coming spring weather the bus will not run after the Easter vacation be-gins. It is expected that the bus service will resume with the opening of the University in the fall. It is evident that it is well worthwhile to students and to the the advantages of the Amherst that the advantages of the Amherst business center be made easily available to the student body and others at the University.

Blythe Is Elected To CA Presidency For Coming Year

On Wednesday, the Christian Association elected its officers for 1961-1962. Those elected

President: Sam Blythe Secretary: Sue Onksen Treasurer: John Slattery

V.P. Campus Relations: Dick El-

V.P. Program: Dottie Lowe V.P. Social Responsibility: Janet Taylor

V.P. Worship: Wayne Anderson

The new officers will be officially installed at the Open House Breakfast April 30 to which all students and their parents are invited.

Sam Blythe has requested all students interested in working in the C.A. to contact the Vice-President of the area they are interested in or else to register interested in, or else to register their interest at the C.A. Office in the Student Union.

HAPPINESS CAN'T BUY MONEY

With tuition costs spiralling ever upward, more and more undergraduates are investigating the student loan plan. If you are one who is considering the "Learn Now, Pay Later" system, you would do well first to study the case of Leonid Sigafoos.

would do well first to study the case of Leonid Sigafoos.

Leonid, the son of an upholsterer in Straitened Circumstances, Idaho, had his heart set on going to college, but his father, alas, could not afford to send him. Leonid applied for a Regents Scholarship, but his reading speed, alas, was not very rapid—two words an hour—and before he could finish the first page of his test the Regents had closed their brief cases crossly and gone home. Leonid then applied for an athletic scholarship, but he had, alas, only a single athletic skill—balancing a stick on his chin—and this, alas, aroused only passing enthusiasm among the coaches.

And then, huzzah, Leonid learned of the student loan plan: he could borrow-money for his tuition and repay it in easy monthly installments after he left school!

Happily Leonid enrolled in the Southeastern Idaho College of Woodpulp and Restoration Drama and happily began a college career that grew more happy year by year. Indeed, it became altogether cestatic in his senior year because Leonid met a coed named Salina T. Nem with hair like beaten gold and eyes like two squirts of Lake Louise. Love gripped them in its eyes like two squirts of Lake Louise. Love gripped them in its big moist palm and they were betrothed on the Eve of St. Agnes.

big inoist palm and they were betrothed on the Eve of St. Agnes.

Happily they made plans to be married the day after commencement—plans, alas, that never were to come to fruition because Leonid, alas, learned that Salina, like himself, was in college on a student loan, which meant that he had not only to repay his own loan when he left school but also Salina's, and the job, alas, that was waiting for Leonid after graduation at the Boi'ce Raccoon Works simply did not pay enough, alas, to cover both their loans, plus rent and food and clothing.

Sick at heart, Leonid and Salina sat down and lit Marlboro Cigarettes and tried to find an answer to their problem—and.

Sick at heart, Leonid and Salina sat down and lit Marlboro Cigarettes and tried to find an answer to their problem—and, sure enough, they did! I do not know whether or not Marlboro Cigarettes helped them find an answer; all I know is that Marlboros taste good and look good, and when things close in and a feller needs afriend and the world is black as the pit from pole to pole, it is a heap of comfort and satisfaction to be sure that Marlboros will always provide the same unflagging pleasure, the same unstinting quality, in all times and climes and conditions. That's all I know.

Leonid and Salina, I say, did find an answer—a very simple conditions. That's all I know.

Leonid and Salina, I say, did find an answer—a very simple one. If their student loans did not come due until they left school, why, then they just wouldn't leave school! So after receiving their bachelor degrees, they re-enrolled and took masters degrees. After that they took doctors degrees, loads and loads of them, until today Leonid and Salina, both aged 78, both still in school, hold doctorates in Philosophy, Humane Letters, Jurisprudence, Veterinary Medicine, Civil Engineering, Optometry, and Dewey Decimals. Their student loans, as of last January 1, amounted to a combined total of eighteen million dollars, a sum which they probably would have found great difficulty in repaying had not the Department of the Interior recently declared them a National Park.

You don't need a student loan—just a little loose change— to grab yourself a new kind of smoking pleasure from the makers of Marlboro—the unfiltered king-size Philip Morrb Commander. Welcome aboard!

Women! Men! New Marlboro Contest STARTING APRIL 10

For 4 Consecutive Weeks

1st Prize—$35 Gift Certificate

2nd Prize—$20 Gift Certificate For Sports Clothing at the HOUSE of WALSH, Amherst

RULES:

- 1. Contest open to all registered students at the University.
- 2. Ballots will be any empty package of Marlboro, Alpine Parliament or Philip Morris.
- 3. Write name and school address on entry and deposit in box located in the University Store.
- 4. Drawings will be held each of the following Fridays at 3:00 P.M., April 14, 21, 28 and May 5.

Sixteen UMass Trackmen Ready For Journey To U. Miami Meets

A select group of sixteen track-en will leave Amherst Thursmen will leave Amherst Thursday, for a training trip to Miami, Florida. Accompanied by Coach Bill Footrick, the squad expects to drive straight through and reach the Sunshine City early Saturday morning.

Three years ago, when the idea southern trip was conceived, a University track squad made the journey and Miami coach Ben Downs was so impressed by the gentlemanly conduct of the athletes, that he invited the team to return every spring. Since vacations of this school and University of Miami coincided the past two years, the Redmen could not travel there as the Hurricane tracksters were away from

The UMass group will be the guest of the Florida school which is also contributing a portion of the driving expenses since UMass does not pay any expense of the journey. The Redmen will stay at one of U. of Miami's handsome dormitories and eat at their Stu-dent Union which overlooks a scenic lake set in a background of palm trees. The school is in Coral Gables, a city of wealthy homes, tropical landscape, and white city buildings about five miles west of Miami.

The group will practice early every day because of the heat and will compete in two meets. The competition will be in the form of two quadrangular meets with Miami, Furman, and Brown

UM Golfing Hopes High

The University of Massachu-etts varsity golfers take to the fairways April 18, for what promises to be another highly successful season.

Returning to the greens will be four of the seven starters from last spring's combine. These lettermen include co-captain Pete Hatfield and Mike Meglioa, senior Dan Pierre, and junior Barry Schmoyer. Also, several boys who participated in one or two matches will be in the fold.

This season's highy ambitious schedule calls for matches with twelve opponents and the Yankee Conference and New England's in period of one month.
The '60 version of the Redmen team lost only one match, that being a 4-3 decision to UConn on the Huskies' home course, that by ABE SHEINKER '62 on Wednesday evening, April 5, and Saturday afternoon, April 8. Departure for the 1650 mile return trip is scheduled for Satur-day evening following the second meet. The remainder of the boys time is free for enjoyment of the many tourist attractions of Miami Beach and Fort Lauder-

Included in the squad are distance runners Ralph Buschmann, Dave Balch, and Dick Blomstrom, middle distance men Ken O'Brien, Joe LaMarre, Bob Avery, Ron Young, and Jack Harrington, sprinters Loren Flagg and Jim Reilly, throw-jumper Dick Ward, jumper Al Garsys, hurdler-jump-er Charlie LaPier, and discus thrower Charlie Romeo. Javelinists Jack Ballou and Hank Kelsey will throw off to determine which of the two will go, as will ole-vaulters Lee Munson

In 1958, when the Redmen lost to Miami, 73-63, the Hurricanes' Bill Bennett won the 100, 220 high and low hurdles, and lost the broad jump by half an inch. The competition is expected to be just as good. Brown is last year's New England champion and boasts one of the nation's best two milers, Bob Lowe, as well as N.E. high hurdles champ Angelo

Working out under the hot sun should give the Redmen a fine start on the coming outdoor sea

Stephen Davis Plaque Is Goal For Intramuralists

In 1954, Stephen Davis grad-ated from the University of dorm or independent group which compiles the greatest number of Massachusetts, Shortly after he was killed while on a routine hop in Florida when his plane crashed. Among his effects was found ed. Among his effects was found a will made out in pencil, giving $10,000 to the University. This amount, doubled by his parents, has been converted into a full scholarship for a student majoring in social sciences and participating in the intrampular are ticipating in the intramural pro-

For Davis' graduating words to Director of Athletics Warren McGuirk were to the effect that he wanted the intramural athletic

Davis participated in all intra-mural activities at UMass, and coached many of them. McGuirk has stated that he has never met a student more dedicated to in-tramurals. His great interest, and competitive spirit made him "terrific" young man.

The Steven Davis plaque, re-cently acquired by the Cage, will

Any upperclassmen interested in trying out for the team should attend the organizational meeting in the Physical Education Building tonight at 5:00 p.m.

The golf schedule follows:

Apr.	18	Trinity	H 1	:30
Apr.	20	Rhode Island	A 1	:30
Apr.	26	Brandeis	A 1	:30
Apr.	29	R.P.I.	A 10	:30
May	1	Amherst	A 1	:30
May	2	A.I.C. & UConn	H 1	:30
May	5	YanCon Oro	no 10	:30
May	9	B.C., N.H. Durh	am 1	:30

compiles the greatest nu points in a year's int points in a year's intramura sports. SAE now leads the comyear's intramural petition, followed by TKE Sig Ep.

Sig Ep.

Ronny Young, a junior, will receive this year's scholarship, as he comes closest to the image created by Steve Davis.

DAVIS PLAQUE

May 12. N.E.I.G.A. 13 at Providence 1:30 May 18 W.P.I. & Nichols College Worcester 2:00
May 19 Springfield H 1:30

SOFTBALL ROSTERS Softball Rosters can be picked up now from Coach Cobb in Room 10A of the Cage. These rosters must be turned in to him before the vacation. Fraternity teams need not Fraternity teams n

For SPRING and EASTER Vacations

SPECIAL COLLEGE RATES

MBILTMORE IN NEW YORK

> $525 per person (3 to a room) $625 per person (2 to a room) $800 single

For information or reservations address Mr. Ralph Schaffner, The Biltmore, New York 17, N. Y. Madison Avenue at 43rd Street MUrray Hill 7-7000

"WHERE EVERYONE MEETS UNDER THE CLOCK"

SPORTSENSE

0 H

the rosebuds in the cheeks of our athletes begin to emerge. Delightful, isn't it? Along with those glowing cheeks, though, emerges a great deal of talent. Talent on the baseball diamond, on the lacrosse field, and already proved talent on the track.

3

M

The University of Miami will be the scene of Coach Footrick's exploits, as he and the trackmen travel to that campus as invited guests and competitors. Judging from the performance of the team thus far in the year, they should arrive back in campus with many laurels.

Along with the track and base ball teams, the lacrosse squad will be making the southern scene. Coach Dick Garber's stickmen have been strengthened by some promising sophomores and look as if they'll keep up the teams six year winning record.

Not only the spring sports are active. Coach Vic Fusia and his troupe of assistants are busily working at getting grid recruits. The original group of prospects totalled 600, but it has now been cut to 200 high school players.

One of the major factors in the selection of these high school athletes, as far as Coach Fusia is concerned, is their scholastic standing, college football acting as a "complement to a fine edu-

Spring football practice, limited by the Yankee Conference to only 10 days within a 20 day period, will begin April 17.

Many students have speculated Many students have speculated as to whether or not Doug Grutchfield might be going into professional basketball. Whether he does or not, it is evident that he is capable of doing it successfully, as witnessed by his great performance as Boston Garden last week.

Speaking of pro ball, pivot man Don Black has been approached by the new Pittsburgh team of the American Basketball league. Don, who is eligible to be drafted by a pro team (having been ready to graduate, originally, this year; Don left school to go into the service) plans to wait until graduation and see how things work out.

ODDS AND ENDS The 1960-61 basketball season

Ah, spring is here and again has come to a rather upsetting end, at least for Ohio State. Cin end, at least for Onio State. Cin-cinnati, which could do no better than a third place in NCAA standings with the great Oscar Robertson, took all the honors in the finale.

Cincinnati Coach Ed Jucker stressed defense as the chief factor in the upset. The Bearcats were ranked as second team in the nation, next to the previously unbeatable Buckeyes. The ratings should be a little different now. The NIT was won by the Friars from Providence, and that fact should be of some concern to us at the University. For Providence will journey to our campus next year. As it looks now, they'll be plenty tall, owing Cincinnati Coach Ed Jucker campus next year. As it looks now, they'll be plenty tall, owing to the presence of big (6'10") Jim Hadnot and a 7' upcoming freshman.

Providence's sparkplug Vinnie Ernst, an All-NIT choice, will back with the friars also.

For the first time in five years, the Little All-America team boasts the presence of New England hoopsters — two of them. Maine's Tom Chappelle and Wil-liams' Bob Mahland were picked by the AP last week.

The University of Michigan took top honors in the NCAA swimming meet, upsetting fa-vored Southern California, Harvard took a surprise fourth place, following the Ohio State Buck-

FLASHBACK

In reply to the March 20th article run on the sports page article run on the sports page entitled "Sports of Yesteryear," Captain Dickenson, of the 1910 track team at Mass Aggie came into the Collegian office to give some more information on the meet. Dickenson, who coached track here at Amherst for ten years afterwards, was the foun-der of the RSO organization on

He was rather disturbed that the mention of an ace runner, Caldwell, was not in the article. Caldwell ran the two-mile race that day in March of 1910, and although he won the race, lap-ping all the runners, he was not awarded the prize due to faculty tested to no avail. Caldwell later went to Cornell where he was a great star, comparing great star, competing in the 1912 Olympics in Sweden, and winning the 600.

When the short vacation is at an end (perish the thought) be for some fast moving spring sports at the UMass cam-how much sleep he gets.

If you sometimes find studying soporific (and who doesn't?), the wo to remember is NoDoz.® NoDoz perks you up in minutes, with t same safe awakener found in coffee or tea. Yet NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable. Absolutely non-habit-forming, NoDoz is sold everywhere without prescription. So, to keep perspicacious during study and exams—and while driving, too—always keep NoDoz in proximity.

The safe stay awake tablet—available everywhere. Another fine product of Grove Laboratori.

The safe stay awake tablet—available eve

Seniors

Management Trainee openings with State of Connecticut in Budget Management, Personnel, Purchasing, Business Management, Banking, Tax, Insurance and Accounting.

Applications and announcements available at College Placement Office or State Personnel Department, State Office Building, Hartford, Connecticut.

Dual Matches In '61 Season

Ten dual matches plus the Yankee Conference championship competition compose the UMass varsity tennis schedule for 1961 as announced today by Assistant Athletic Director Earl E. Lorden.

Coach Steve Kosakowski's netmen have captured four Conference tennis titles in the past five years. Kosakowski feels he has the material to annex another crown this spring. Five veteran seniors compose the backbone of the team. This group compiled an 8-1 record in 1959 and were 7-0 last year.

Co-Captains John Thomas (Leominster) and Bill Thompson (Norwood) had good years as juniors. Thomas was 6-1 in singles competition while Thompson was 5-1. Ernie Howarth (Southboro) had a 4-0 record, and Sid Poritz (Norwood) finished 4-3. Another senior letterman, Ted Rubin, was out of school last spring but compiled a 5-4 mark with the 1959 squad. And in doubles matches Howarth and Thompson were 6-0 while Poritz and Thomas finished 4-2.

The Redmen tennis squad will have five home matches and will be the hosts for the Conference championships to be held the weekend of May 12-13.

TINLEY PARK, III. (UPI)-Tony Bettenhausen became the first U.S. Automobile Club national champion (1958) to gain his title without winning a single race during the season.

UMass Netmen To Play Ten Hoop Scribes Name Grutchfield To District One Basketball Team

Among the 40 college basket-ball players throughout the nation honored by the United States Basketball Writers Association is The University's Doug Grutchfield, Doug is without a doubt the greatest hoop performer ever to wear a Redmen uniform, and the Association was evidently quite aware of this fact.

(Quotes from Look)

average in three years—16.9 and most field goals attempted in three years—1207. He previously set new marks of most field goals in one game—14 (1959-60), and most points as a sophomore—322 (1958-59).

It is no wonder that the 6'4" native of North Quincy won the provious set.

Grutch esablished ten in-dividual records in his three year varsity career. They are: Most points in three year—1257; most points in one year—506; most field goals in one year—210; most field goals in three years— 520; most rebounds in three years—782; most yearsity career. years—782; most varsity games played—74; highest field goal percentage in one year — 483; percentage in one year — 483; highest field goal percentage in three years—431; highest scoring

It is no wonder that the 6'4" native of North Quincy won the nomination and praise of the Basketball Writers Association and was selected to one of the All American district teams.

"A happy revival of old values -ball possession, the percentage shot, minimum of error, defense -has distinguished this basketball season. It has produced an unprecedented number of complete players. The complete player has to be able to do more than score. He must be able to do more than score. He must be able to guard and to play without the ball. These qualities shine forth among the members of the 1960-61 Look All-America, chosen by the United States Basketball writers Association. Association.

If a more deliberate and slower game ensued, nobody worried, be-cause this was a better game to ok at. In the words of Bob Rule, president of the U.S.B.W., "The selection committee recognized a national trend toward greater national trend toward greater emphasis on defense. This re-sulted in greater versatility and virtually all of the (40) players chosen this year qualify in this category.

category.
"After picking the team, the committee pointed out that, despite the many close-score games, there remained an advantage to the home team. Part of this, they believe, traces to the antics of the fans. The committee re-emphasized its stand of a year ago that responsibility for conago that responsibility for con-trol of crowd behavior must rest with the schools and that the coaches themselves, by better be-havior, can influence crowds. It would also help if spectators fol-lowed the example of the players and slowed down a little."

Lacrosse Team Shoots For Best Year In UM History

What could be the best la-crosse team in UMass history will play a 12 game schedule this will play a 12 game schedule this year under the capable direction of Coach Dick Garber.

Garber, a former All-American stickman, feels he has the players and the determination to better last season's mark. The Redmen were the Class "B" New England Champions with a 7-4 slate in 59-60. in 59-60

Co-Captain Dick Hoss of Rockland, was the leading mid-field goal getter as a junior scoring 37 goals and 11 assists to rank fifth nationally. Hoss is expected to continue his scoring pace this year but the key to Garber's success will be the defensive strength.

strength,
Co-Captain Jerry Cullen, Woburn, heads the defensive unit.
He is supported by junior letterman Walt Glinski Rockland. The number one goalie, football kicking specialist John Bamberry, has the potential to become a great potential to become a great man. Three standards on last year's freshman squad will bat-tle for the third defenseman posi-

The attackmen are all letter-winners. They are Bob Glew Framingham), Bob Gibeley (Salem), and Armand Caraviello (Medford). The starting ten have all had playing experience. But every squad member is from Massachusetts and the Bay State has never had lacrosse in the high schools. The others have yet to prove themselves in varsity competition. However, rugged work-outs and vigerous competitive scrimmages have testified to the ability of the Garbers.

The Redmen have already done The attackmen are all letter-the ability of the Garbers.

The Redmen have already done well in a scrimmage with Williams and will meet power-packed Harvard this Thursday. The regular seasons begins Saturday afternoon at Adelphi College in Garden City, Long Island. The game will initiate a swing through the Middle Atlantic itiate a swing Middle Atlantic game will through th through the Middle Atlantic states for the UMass snake beat-

AFROTC Shooters Defeat Westovers

The AFROTC rifle team defeated the Westover Air Force Base shooters 1282-1094 on Wednesday, March 22. Vermeiren of the Massmen was high men with a score of 273. Other members of the squad were Barry Friedman, Richard Levine, Pete Gillion, Steve Woogmaster, Williard French and Steve Salon.

Lederle Seeks . . .

(Continued from page 1) given an opportunity to do so in April. Procedures to be followed will be publicized by the Housing Office and the Office of the Dean of Women.

able! Arbitrary, opinionated and belligerent perhaps, but unreasonable, never!"

UMASS INTERROGATOR A CAMPUS OPINION POLL

President Kennedy recently sent a message to Congress asking that a Peace Corps be estab lished by law on a permanent basis.

The volunteers will serve America overseas, in oder to aid foreign nations who genuinely need and desire the services, and also to help control the influence of Soviets in these underdeveloped areas.

Those who wish to serve, primarily young people as they com-plete their formal education, will be instructed in the culture and language of the area in which they will serve.

This trained manpower will first concentrate on teaching, operation of public health and sanitation projects, school construction, and agriculture.

Volunteers will not receive a salary and will live exactly on the same level as the citizens of country they are serving.

The cost of the program will ange from $5,000 to $12,000 early for each member, including training, transportation, and

Whether this program will prove to be beneficial or merely idealistic and impractical is a question which is raising con-troversy, and is therefore asked of UMass students: What do you think of President Kennedy's re-

STUDENT SUMMER POSITIONS

The Moss Associates Bulletin with job listings for undergraduate and graduate men and women is now available in the North. Moss Associates is not an employment placement agency and will col-lect no fees on your fu-ture salary. We will supply you with job supply you with job sources and the related facts to help you secure a desirable position. Posi-tions are available in in-dustry, resort areas, businesses, government agen-cies, and some in Canada.

Your particular curriculum may qualify you for many specialized higher paying jobs. Personnel, social work, clerical and agricultural positions are available. Basic engineering skills may qualify you for high paying positions in government and indus in government and industry. Resort positions are available for experienced and inexperienced per-

The availability for all summer positions lessens as the summer draws near. It is advisable to near. It is advisable to apply for these positions as soon as possible. To receive the Moss Associates Bulletin, send two dollars ($2.00) in cash, check, or money order, no C.O.D.s' please, together with the coupon below to:

Moss Associates Box 4141 Philadelphia 44, Pa.

Send Bulletin SP

Address ..

Moss Assoc. Box 4141 Phila. 44, Pa.

cent Peace Corps proposal?

Larry Cummings '64, who is majoring in Electrical Engineering, answered, "It would be a great benefit to this country in prestige, and a benefit, naturally, to the countries where the candidates are going to go. It is definitely not impractical."

Raymond Salveson '64, also an Engineering major, replied sceptically, "Actually, I don't see how either this country or other countries can benefit from the Peace Corps. It would be like sending an ambassador to a country when he has no special training or ability for that field.

Jane Grant '62, an Art major, said, "I think it will be good, but will take a long time to get started and become organized. If comes within the limits of foreign aid already allowed, it will be all right, but if it increases the money we give out, I think there are better ways to use this money.'

Two Physical Education majors, Jack Cirame '61 and Robert Gibeley '61, jointly expressed their candid opinions, "It's all right, but it's a millionaire's proposal for millionaires. Besides, who wants to live like Patrice Lamumba?" As an after thought, Jack added, "I'm a Democrat."

Richard Fillemore '64, from Springfield, replied, "It is prac-Springileid, replied, "It is prac-tical from the standpoint of our relations with other nations, and also will provide a good training ground for future diplomats from this country.

Debbie Greenberg '63, a Psychology major, answered, "The Peace Corps could be beneficial if run correctly by capable men who will send only qualified peo-ple to these countries, and who will not get carried away with too many ideas."

Maryellin Cicchetti '62. lives at Hamlin, replied, "It's a very good idea because what we've been doing with our money we've been doing with our money is more or less just giving it to countries, whereas Russia sends in help. Through the Peace Corps, we'll be giving our help and this will build us up in the eyes of European and Asi: 'ic countries' countries.

The success or failure of the Peace Corps will be determined in the months to come, and all Americans, regardless of political affiliation or personal beliefs, should sincerely desire the proposal's success.

Lizotte's

A fine selection of domestic and foreign pipes and

Come in and spend a few min with Hugie.

00000000

Now! A completely Happy Show—No Tears! No Mes-Asage! Just music and laughter

"Expresso Bongo" PETER SELLERS "Battle of The Sexes

Maroon Key's Blue Blazers Will Become New Tradition

The new-look Maroon Keys sport their new blazers in front of the S.U. The blazers are navy blue, emblazoned with a silver key

Church In South America Topic For Newman Club

Tuesday evening a Maryknoll well as Spanish, are the lan-priest spoke at the Newman Club guages of this Catholic continent. priest spoke at the Newman Club on the postion of the Church in South America, where the Father spent fifteen years from 1942 to 1957. The Father is now Superior General of the Maryknollers, which is not a monastic order but a society of diocesan priests whose income comes from the contributions of Americans, and whose work is foreign missions whose work is foreign missions throughout the world. Father Fowler pointed out that both Portugese and Indian, as

Psych Club Planning Open House

The Psychology Club had its second meeting last Wednesday. New elected officers are: president, Steve Burke '63; vice-president, Sally Perry '62; Secretary-treasurer, Julie Atwood '62; publicity co-chairmen, Debbie Wall '62 and Cindy Chrisant '62; refreshment chairman, Betty Macmillin '62 Millin '62

Millin '62.

Dr. Teichner presided at the meeting as the club advisor.

The club also made plans for the open house to be held April 29 & 30. At this time, visitors from all over the state will be shown around the entire basement floor of Bartlett Hall by members of the club. Every lab will be open to the public, and each one will have a member of the club on hand to explain the particular experiment going on.

Thus open house was previously handled by the graduate students and faculty, but this year it has been turned over completely to the undergrad students. This will give these particularity. This will give these participating students a feeling of belonging to the Psychology Dept.

TENNIS BALLS TENNIS RACKETS A. J. HASTINGS Inc.

Amherst, Mass. Newsdealer & Stationer

guages of this Catholic continent. However only 10 percent of the 95 percent Catholic people go to

Although the peasants knew the importance of Baptism and the Sacraments, they are poorly instructed on Church laws and have had little Catholic education. In one small town of 12,000 the Father counted seven high school students in the graduating class. Several reasons may explain this situation, the Father said. There is usually one priest to 5,000 people. The masons control most of the banking in the country. Much financial aid for business or education will be given to a young man if he will become a mason. It is common to find Catholics in South American who say they are Catholic and mason at the same time, This year's Maroon Key Society has begun a precedent which will become a tradition with all future Keys, namely, the wearing of blue blazers.

Since most honorary societies on campus are distinguished by some type of blazer, it was sug-gested that the Keys place themselves in this category. The color chosen was navy blue. The em-blem, designed by Balfour, is a silver key with a maroon "M" and is similar to the tie pin. The blazers, this year, were paid for by the individual members of the society, but the athle-tic department has consented to buy the blazers for the organization in the future in apprecia-tion of the services performed by the Keys for the various athletic

The maroon and white hat will still be the official emblem of the society with the blazer being worn at the more formal events.

Since Fridays are "student leaders days" with all honorary societies on campus, the Keys will be wearing their new blazers every Friday from now until Student Leaders Night.

Hunsberger . . . (Continued from page 1)
Hunsberger remarked that, "It may be that a medical school is inevitable".

The new Dean is very interest-The new Dean is very interest-ed in further expansion of the College of Arts and Sciences. On this topic he said, "I would like to see us develop our own depart-ment of Russian". Also, he would like to "explore the possibility of doing more in the area of Oriental studies".

This area of study, he believes, is one that has been unfo ly overlooked. In light East's increasing importance in the world today, he believes more should be done toward learning about it.

If economic conditions could be improved, and the existing schools could be stocked, the Church would then have an increase of men in the religious vocations.

Butterfield Solves Problem Of Social Apathy In Dorms

the theme of a dance held at Butterfield House last Saturday eveing. The romantic music of a multiple speaker at the Beer" was tions of the dorm throughout the year. ing. The romantic music of a multiple speaker stereo system and the crackling of logs in the fireplace added much to the atmosphere of the evening.

The dance was the second to held by Butterfield dorm this year. Butterfield is unique in the fact that it is the smallest, yet probably the most socially prominent dorm on campus, Presently in the fire are card parties with Johnson, Hamlin and Leach Houses to take place after the vacation

Butterfield is little more than the size of a large fraternity, and nearly all its residents are upperclass independents who feel a sense of unity because of their autonomy. All social functions are planned by the House Council—a group of 18 elected officers and counselors—and are attended by a loyal group of residents. This group, about forty strong, has formed a sort of "independent fraternity" called Beta Iota Sigma (Butterfield Independent Society). The group plans the many social and athletic funcclass independents who feel

The House Council in Dutter-field is one of the few working on Campus. All disciplanry action to be taken must go through the Council and be passed by a vote of the elected officers. The suc-cess of the system is verified by the unusually small amount disciplinary problems that curs in the dorm.

The high-point of the social calendar at Butterfield is the Spring picnic and dance, held annually a few weeks before final exams. During the day the residents and their dates motor out to Montague where Mrs. Sally Dirks, Butterfield housemother, allows the use of her large and beautiful farm for a long day of picnicking and all the activities that go with it.

Then, late in the day, all the couples return to Butterfield for a dance in the evening. The Spring picnic and dance has become a permanent tradition at Butterfield House, and it is a strong rebuttle to all those who claim that there is no social life in UMass dormitories.

w. Lt Car+

NEW SLANT THE CIVIL WAR

(See page 2)

VOL. XC NO. 64 5¢ PER COPY

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 12, 1961

Recognition Of Ya-Hoo Withdrawn By Senate

by THOMAS A. McMULLINS '64, Senate Reporter
The Student Senate at its last meeting on March 29 withdrew financial and constitutional recdoesn't reflect the atti ognition from the Ya-Hoo for the remainder of the school year. The Senate motion stipulates that the final edition of the humor magazine will not be published this spring and that the der a new advisory committee next fall.

The editors of Ya-Hoo have been under criticism since the administration withdrew the Pope John-Norman Vincent Peale picture from last fall's magazine. Critics claimed the latest issue had a "lack of qual-ity" and contained certain "anti-religious" remarks.

The fight against the magazine was lead by Senate Presi-dent Dennis Twohig. Stepping down from the president's chair, Twohig stated, "I hold no grudge against any editor of the Ya-Hoo. I did not consult the ad-

Hoo. I did not consult the administration or the Catholic chaplain on this matter."

Twohig went on to say, "I have not run into one person who does not think this thing should be changed. These people have got to be responsible to the student body."

The Sente president called the

The Senate president called the agazine a "sacred cow." He agazine a "sacred cow." He id, "They have taken pot shots at everyone. You criticize Ya-Hoo and in the next issue you're in Ya-Hoo. They've dug pretty

Senator Knowlton then spoke defense of the Ya-Hoo. He stated, "It's a pretty drastic action. I don't think we can throw this off the record just because it doesn't reflect the attitude some senators and students! An advisory committee would be in order if you think the Ya-Hoo has been that bad."

nas been that bad."

Senator Croteau then asked that a policy board similar to the Collegian's be formed. He said Ya-Hoo editor Tracy Wilson had approved the idea.

Twohig then criticized the Croteau plan. "These men are strong willed and will not go along with a policy board."

Croteau retorted by stating "It's a choice between control and criticism."

Senator Tacelli, who had op-posed the Ya-Hoo at an earlier Senate meeting and had been the object of several remarks in the Ya-Hoo, stated, "I'm not speaking out of sour grapes. I want to avoid recognition of the Ya-Hoo for this spring, because I don't think we can set up a board in think we can set up a board in

The motion was then called, two amendments which had been presented were defeated; and the original motion was passed as presented. The vote was nineteen to fourteen

Those for the bill were: Achenbach, Brough, Burns, D'Avanzo, Fratar, Haebler, Jones, Rajecki, Ridill, Sackmary, Shields, Stack, Stone, Tacelli, Twohig, Wilson, Woodbury, Hajjar, and Chase

Those against were: Blodgett, Clarke, Coughlin, Croteau, Della Penna, Finnegan, Hewey, Knowlton, Mortimer, Samma, Sege Sneider, Vrooman, and Watson.

New Dean Of Agriculture Is Announced By Pres. Lederle has been named Dean of the Col-lege of Agriculture at UMass, it was announced recently by Pres. John W. Lederle

Succeeds Dr. Sieling

Dr. Spielman, presently Asso-ciate Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Connecticut, will also serve as Director of the Mas-sachusetts Experiment Station and Director of the Cooperative Extension Service. He succeeds Dr. Dale H. Sieling, who resigned to become scientific director of the U.S. Army Quartermaster Research and Engineering Com-mand at Natick, Mass. Serving on an interim basis has been Fred P. Jeffrey, Director of the Stockbridge School of Agricul Stockbridge School of Agricul-ture and Associate Dean of the College of Agriculture.

The appointment of Dr. Spiel-man, effective July 1, 1961, culminates a wide search for an administrator to supervise the teaching, research, and extension activities conducted by the College of Agriculture and allied agencies.

Belongs To National Societies A specialist in animal physio-logy and nutrition, Dr. Spielman received a B.S. degree from the University of Minnesota, an M.S. from Oregon State College, and his Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota. He is a member of several national academic honor societies, including Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, and Alpha

Greek Week started yesterday with the Sorority Mass Exchange

Tonight the Greeks will as-semble for the annual Greek Banquet. The speaker will be Joel Reynolds, President of the National Interfraternity Conference. Scholarship trophies will go to the sorority and the fraternity with the best academic average for the past year.

Friday night the music of Richard Maltby and his orchestra will be heard at the Greek Ball held in the S.U. Ballroom. During intermission the Greek Week Queen will be crowned by President Lederla.

dent Lederle.

Supper.

old administrator has gained ex-perience in almost all phases of agricultural activity. Prior 1942 he served as an a county agent in Oregon, in the School of Agriculture at the University of Min-specialist at the University of Kentucky.

DR. ARLESS SPIELMAN

From 1942 to 1944 Dr. Spielman was an assistant professor of dairy husbandry at Washington State College. In 1944 he he came associate professor of ani-mal husbandry at Cornell Uni-versity, and in 1947 was appoint-ed Professor and Head of the Department of Animal Industries at the University of Connecticut. Station at the latter institution since 1949,

Has Served On Committees

Dr. Spielman has served on many regional and national committees concerned with problems in agriculture. He has be member of the Board of member of the Board of Gov-ernors, Agricultural Research In-stitute, National Academy of stitute, National Academy of Sciences; Chairman of The Committee of Nine, American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities; Chairman of Regional Research Committee of the Novtheasters Evacuities the Northeastern Experiment Station Directors; member of the Experiment Station Committee on Organization and Policy, American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Univer-sities; and Chairman of the lat-ter committee's Federal-States Relations Subcommittee.

Dr. Spielman's publications in-ude approximately 40 technical articles and research papers in the nutrition and physiology of farm animals; more than 20 trade publication articles dealing with farm animal feeding prob-lems; and eight state extension bulletins on food and care of dairy cows.

The new dean is a member of the American Dairy Science Association, the American Society of Animal Production, the American Association for the American Society for Public Administration. He is also listed in American Men of Science.

Dr. Perkins Will Speak At Lederle's Inauguration

Dr. John A. Perkins, President f the University of Delaware, and former Undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare, will be the main speaker at the forthcoming inauguration of Dr. John W. Lederle as fifteenth President of the University of Massachusetts. Massachusetts.

Dr. Perkins, whose book "Plain alk from a Campus" has had ide circulation throughout the American educational communi-ty, will share the speaker's plat-form with Dr. Lederle at the inauguration, to be held April 22

Invitations to the inaugural ceremonies have been sent to col-leges and universities throughout the country, as well as to of-ficials in the State and Federal government, officers of learned societies, and to members of the campus community. Responses are being received daily, and a large audience is expected at the installation.

Dr. Perkins, former budget director and state controller of the state of Michigan, was professor of political science and assistant provost at the University of Michigan prior to becoming Michigan prior to becoming President of the University of Delaware in 1950. He and Dr. Lederle were colleagues at the Michigan institution where both served in the political science department. Before accepting the Massachusette port in Content of the Content of the Massachusette port in Content of the Co partment. Before acception Massachusetts post in September, 1960, Dr. Lederle was Director of the Institute of Public Adinistration at Michigan.

Dr. Perkins, a past president of the American Society for Pub-lic Administration, has held sev-eral important advisory posts on state, national and international levels. In July, 1953, he was lected to the executive board of the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organ-ization, and in 1954 he was ap-pointed to membership on a spe-cial committee on Inter-govern-mental Relations for the U.S. Government.

DR. JOHN A. PERKINS

During his presidency at the University of Delaware, he has been a member of a number of Continued on Page 6

Saturday at 2 p.m. the Chariot Races will begin. They will be run from Goessmann Hall to Memorial Hall. The teams will consist of one driver and four runners. All the fraternities will hold theme parties on Saturday night. The parties will be judged on the basis of originality, effect on the basis of originality, effect and decorations; a maximum of 10 points may be awarded towards - Interfraternity Council yearly competition. The parties will vary from a "Fort Lauderdale Party" to an "Around the World in Fighty Days Party" World in Eighty Days Party".

Schedule For Buffalo Philharmonic Greek Week To Present Concert Is Announced

by BARBARA KATZIFF '61, Special Reporter

13, at eight in the Cage, the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra will offer the sixth and final presentation of this year's Concert Series. Admission for students will be by ID cards.

Orchestra Ranks In Top Ten

The Buffalo Philharmonic celebrating its twenty-fifth year this season, is ranked among the nation's ten finest orchestras and has the internationally famous Josef Krips as its conductor. The Orchestra has announced that the final portion of the program will be devoted to playing Beethoven's Fifth Symphony.

Krips was appointed Conductor and Music Director in 1953, replacing William Steinberg, now conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony. In addition to its regular series and tours throughout the United States and Canada, the Orchestra also conducts an annual series of major concerts with leading soloists in Buffalo's neighboring cities of Niagara Falls and Lockport.

Josef Krips was born in Vien-

This Thursday evening, April na and received his training at the Vienna Academy. After a distinguished career in his native city, including the start of the post-war Mozart renaissance and the rebuilding of the famous Vienna State Opera, he went to Holland and then to Landan as the conductor of the London as the conductor of the London Symphony Orchestra. In this country, Krips has won acclaim as a guest conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra and the New York Philharmonic.

Reception To Follow Concert

Following the concert, there will be a reception for Krips and the members of the Buffalo Philharmonic in the Commonwealth Room of the Student Union. The Concert Association hopes that students will take advantage of this opportunity to meet with Mr. Krips and the orchestra

Women students are reminded that they are allowed one hour following the concert before they are due back at their dorms, so that they may attend the reception. Students will be admitted by showing their ID cards; for all others, admission will be $1 or Series Membership.

WAR JUBILEE: *Shameful Dollars

There is a time to rejoice . . . There is a time to reminisce . . . There is a time to live and a time to die. Today is a time to live and rejoice . . . on the dead, whisper the Madison Avenue admen.

America's Civil War was our blackest moment in history. Not even our humiliation of Spain in the Spanish-American war or our conduct in the Mexican war appear in such dark and macabre ink on the pages of United States history as do the battles of North against South. The fact that brother fought against brother was not quite as shameful as the fact that a nation which was founded on the hopes of preserving tolerance and union was bathed in blood spilled over intolerance and disunion. These centennial years are reminders to look back . . . to remember in shame and cognizance our past mistakes and then take greater pride and determination that "those brave men shall not have died in vain."

But to America's admen, dressed in blue and grey uniforms, marching down Madison Avenue on their way to the bank, the Civil War is not a war to be viewed with head bowed but a war to be remembered with a face in the sun, an ear to the TV commercial, and eyes high enough to read the bill-boards along the highway. Yes, America, we are first a consumer and then an American. Before you remember the shame, put on your Civil War cap marketed by National Cap and Cloth Hat Institute, drink a carton of milk from Foremost Dairies with battle scenes on the side of the container, and phone your local movie theatre on the date of arrival for MGM's re-release of "Gone With the Wind."

If you are still plagued by stagnant time and money, go down to your Chrysler Corporation dealer and ask for his Valiant model called the "Dixie Special," hop in and take a Civil War tour, sponsored by Sinclair Oil, to Gettysburg battlefield while listening to the radio blare another historic sound from the past—"Just Before the Battle, Mother." When you arrive at Gettysburg, you may want to get out and walk around the 78 hot dog and souvenir stands that occupy land there. If that is the case, you had better buy a "turncoat" for your dog. The coat is grey on one side and blue on the flip side

And when America finishes celebrating in 1965, maybe a few of her citizens will bend their heads in respect for our past sins . . . the shame of 1865 and the shame of 1965. Why 1965? Because, by then, most of us will have helped in hindering the development of American culture, each of us will have contributed our two cents or reck to the assault. Everyday for the next four years, history—that pillar upon which culture leans most heavily—will have to bear the brunt of our attack in the form of commercialism. Let us live and rejoice under the banner of history and pride in our heritage in order that the end products of such celebrations may be similiar to the $20,000 profit that the Montgomery, Alabama Centennial Committee reaped from string ties, parades, and top hats while celebrating some weeks ago under the banner of "The Jeff Davis Inaugural."

Since our nation's birth, Europe and the world have asked, "America, where is your culture?" and our reply has always been, "Give us time to develop one. We are still a young country." But the "time" we plead for may never arrive as long as we allow the debauchery or our culture witnessed during this Civil War centennial.

And what of tomorrow? How will we react 50 years from now when we look back on Faubus and his militiamen? Or the United States' negligent role in helping a gasping Hungary? Will we say determinedly, "Never nust we permit such to occur on our soil again." Or will we act as America acts today "in honor of those brave men who here gave their lives that that nation might live" for tomorrow's dollar.

J T.

Arms Sanity

Unlike many nuclear policy committees which spring up across the nation in the form of radical picketing and rabble rousings, the Hampshire-Franklin Committee for a Sane Nuclear policy has acted in a way peculiar to few—sanely. Their appeal to Americans is on an intellectual plane and their argument is simply a request for America to use its head in whatever decision it reaches on nuclear policy.

Tomorrow, the Committee features a discussion between Thomas Schelling, author of The Strategy of Conflict, and Robert Wolffe of the Harvard Philosophy Department. Their subject, Arms Control or Disarmament: Can Russia and the United States Agree?, is one which the fires of the cold war make a must for those interested in a Sane America through a Sane Nuclear Policy.

Contemporary Jazz

By RUDY WITTSHIRK '6

While over to hear some sides, and old English-teaching friend from Illinois asked for "The Genius of Ray Charles"... even though he had the album at home. He sat there grinning and laughing and waving his arms as Ray sang "Let The Good Times Roll." "Tell them I dig Ray Charles," he said. Okay. Another friend is going to buy all the records Ray ever put out. (The Quill Bookshop has a complete collection of mono and stereo Ray Charles albums.)

The singing of Ray Charles provokes genuine laughter, tears and sheer amazement . . . often all three at once. I found a surprising number of people on campus who had heard Ray Charles. They were all quick to point out the "feeling" he puts into a song. Like a Frank Sinatra, Charles sings every word as if he meant it. He is completely uninhibited and affects all listeners with his enthusiasm.

The modern jazz singer has roots that go back to the times when jazz had not yet been invented. The voice and piano of Ray Charles is definitely blues-based . . . but, like most jazz vocalists today, the great jazzhorns of the past fifty years have had a dominant influence.

Charles is almost a paradox. He can sing every style of jazz and make it his own. He makes the most insipid lyrics into beautiful love songs. It is not the tune that matters with a jazz singer...it is the singer.

He also can sing in the "blues-shout" tradition of Count Basie's vocalist, Joe Williams . . . or he can sing "modern." He has been successful in the pop field, but one should not judge him on this work. Also he has been a favorite of musicians, an audience which is not fooled by such substitutes for talent as a sexy (?) voice, a baby face, an exotic name or catchy lyrics. The difference between Ray Charles and rock and roll is most apparent in the beat and the subtle phrasing and control of the singer. Where rock and roll was derived from rhythm and blues, the genuine blues have been around much longer.

The tone of his voice is unique . . . vaguely like Al Hibbler singing with Ellington. Also, like Hibbler, Ray Charles has that feeling for the world of sound in which only blind people live. He does not wear dark glasses to be "cool."

The main quality of Ray Charles is his complete enjoyment of the experience of life . . . a readiness to laugh or cry. He never holds himself in . . . especially when he sings.

The Ivory Tower

Important events in history often are based on little insignificant

Some more obvious examples are Alexander the Great's early death or Hitler's poor artistic ability. One of these events that is not so well known concerns the mistaken surrender of Lee at Appomattox. It all came about in this way.

It was the spring of 1865. Lee and the Confederate army were chasing Grant all over the map of Northern United States. He had even pushed him up as far as Gettysburg in Pennsylvania. General Lee decided his men deserved a rest so he allowed them to advance to Appomattox in Virginia for a brief time.

Grant also was tired of fighting this losing cause and he followed the Southern troops in order to tender the final surrender.

Now, it is a matter of record that General Grant liked a nip once in a while. This matter of surrender was distasteful to him, as well it might be, so the night of April 5 he partook of a little alcoholic spirits to make this matter a bit less unpleasant. The next day Grant was feeling somewhat under the weather and he looked it.

As it turned out, April 6 was a dreary dismal day. The Northern army had run out of supplies and General Grant and his aides' blue uniforms were so begrimed that they looked grey. Also the Northern generals had not time to clean up properly before the formal ceremony of surrender.

General Lee, being the polished Southern gentleman that he was, decided he wanted his sword polished so his appearance would be spotless as a sign of honor to the vanquished.

He noticed a grimy bewhiskered man grooming a horse nearby so Lee gave him his sword. This man was Grant.

General Grant took the sword that was intended for Lee's lackey and for a few brief moments was bewildered. He quickly recovered his composure and took this as a sign of Lee's surrender to him. Never one to let such an opportunity pass, Grant thanked Lee profusely and accepted his surrender.

So here we have a crucial turning point in history. Lee, waiting for Grant's surrender has just had his surrender accepted by General Grant. What will Lee do?

Lee actually had no choice. A Southern gentleman's word is his bond, even if given in mistake. If he corrected this error it would be a blow to Southern chivairy, and after all what was the Civil War fought about if not this.

Possibly if Grant had not been a drinking man, or if the Northern army had enough money for proper uniforms, or if the day had not been as dreary, or if General Lee had not been the perfect Southern gentleman we might all be living under a Confederate flag.

Of such minutia is history made.

LETTERS

To the thinking men of the UM Maintenance Dept.:

Here's a little note to ponder a few months before taking any action

For the past few months as we have walked down to the Commons, when we arrive at the bank across the street from the infirmary, we have been greeted by a new fixture on campus—sewage. We have had the pleasure of sliding in it, slipping in it, falling in it, and most of all smelling it. We are sure that everyone enjoys this new fixture. Perhaps we should inform other colleges of it; it might become a fad.

On the practical side it serves many useful purposes. It makes an excellent breeding ground where the Bacteriology Dept. can gather specimens. Later this semester the rest of the campus will be rid of flies and mosquitoes—they will all be drawn to that one area. Consumption of Commons "food" will be reduced. Whose appetite can stand up to such an ordeal? The artistic minded may be delighted by the lovely hues of gray produced by the rotting filth spreading over the ground.

In conclusion may we thank the Maintenance Dept, for this new fixture which has given us so much pleasure. It is gratifying to see that someone really cares about the students.

Sincerely yours, W. J. French '63 B. W. Philbrick '64

Greek Cheer

To the Editor:

Three cheers for IFC! After all the talk in the past about fraternities being only places to drink, hold wild parties, etc., ad infinitum, I, for one, am glad to see that the fraternities are showing the campus and the administration that there is more to them than that.

I am referring to the wonderfully generous gesture on the part of IFC in donating $1000 to the Mitchell family of North Amherst, whose son was lost and home destroyed in a tragic fire a few weeks ago. The fraternities are to be commended for contributing to make this donation possible. It is action such as this that brings to light some of the true ideals and underlying strong points of Greek organizations.

Judith Konopka Temple '61

To the Editor:

To President Lederle, Dr. Gage, and the Student Senate, I pose this question. Would you like to be told to whom to take your families for medical care? Perhaps this sounds strong, but this is exactly what this administration will be doing if they add $60 a year on to my medical bill. As a married student with two children my medical bills are appreciable each year. Nevertheless my wife and I have our family doctor with whom we entrust the safety and well being of ourselves and our children. We, therefore, like anyone else, would greatly resent and resist someone who told us we would have to change doctors. However, if we had to pay out $60 a year to the University, even though my wife and family cannot use these facilities, we could not afford the medical care we receive now. In effect then, I myself would be forced to use a medical center other than that of my choice while paying double for the medical attention we would get. As anyone with a family knows medical expenses can mount up rapidly with maternity costs and expenses for small children. For the majority of the students on campus who are unmarried and away from home the Health Service is or will be an exceptionally convenient and reliably excellent source of medical care should the need arise. However, for the married student dependent on a low fixed income, the idea of compulsory medical costs from which we receive no benefits is horrendous. It is for this reason that I will refuse to the point of expulsion the payment of such an assessment if and when I am notified.

I believe I speak for others in my situation when

I believe I speak for others in my situation when I urgently ask for a competent review of the intended policy with regard to the heretofore mentioned objections.

Respectfully, Owen C. Jones, Jr. '62

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '6

Editorial Editor
James J. Trelease '63
News Editor: Assignmen
Joseph Bradley '64
Sports Editor
Ben Gordon '62

Business Manager Howard Frisch '62 News Editor: Make-Up Beth Peterson '63 Photography Editor Lawrence Popple '63

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amberst, Mass. Printed three times weakly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination seriods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination seriod, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1984.

Subscription price
Office: Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amberst, Mass. Momber—Associated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press; Mass. Thurs.—4 (20 p. m.

'Ladies' Man' To Be Chosen On Campus

Who would you say is the Ladies' Man of the UMass campus? Is he a football player who sweeps all the campus women off their feet or is he the allaround "nice guy" who is pop-ular with both men and women? ular with both men and women? You'll have your chance to choose soon, and to give some lucky UMass student a chance to win an all-expense-paid holiday in Hollywood and a date with a film beauty. Our hypothetical winner will have his pick of any one of the 31 gorgeous starlets appearing with Jerry Lewis in his upcoming picture "The Ladies' Man."

As the saying goes, it could be

As the saying goes, it could be you! The contest is open to all UMass males. A "Ladies' Man" from this campus will be elected his month. A panel of headed by Jerry Lewis later this judges headed by Jerry Lewis will then determine how our "Ladies' Man" stacks up with others from colleges around the

Anyone Can Enter
Each fraternity, sorority, dorm and club is invited to put up a candidate. Commuters may also participate by submitting a petition signed by five fellow students (either men or women). Details of the actual contest will be disclosed at a later date.

If you would like to compete for our campus' "Ladies' Man" title, contact the Press Agent on campus, Al Berman, at the Collegian office here on campus. You'll be shown "attractive" photos of the 31 girls and asked to select the gal you'd like to date (an enjoyable task).

In order to participate in the national competition, all candidates must be lined up and ready to start campaigning by 5:00 p.m. Sunday, April 16.

KELLERMAN'S - For College Styled Clothes

Prices Are Born Here-Raised Elsewhere -ACROSS FROM LOUIS' FOODS-

BUFFY ST. MARIE Sings

THIS WEDNESDAY EVENING

7:30-10:30

50¢ Cover

Saladin Coffee House

Coca-Cola Company by Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

'Devil' To Be Elected For H.E.R. Dance

Elections will be held for "Devil of H.E.R. Weekend" to-morrow in the S.U. Lobby from nine to fiye. The winner will be crowned at the "Diabolique" Dance which will be held Friday, April 19, All female students are

April 19. All female students are eligible to vote.

Nominations from the women's dormitories are: John "Winnie" Burchill by Mary Lyon, Bob Broggi by Hamlin, Charlie Curtis by Thatcher, Dave Flagg by Leach, Tom Foley by Dwight, Jeff Have by Lewis, Sam Lucier by Arnold, Mike Rosenthal by Crabtree, and Larry Tripp by Johnson. Johnson.

Johnson.

The sororities' nominations are: Al Bevilacqua by PDN, Dick Cambell by KAT, Ed Cass by Pi Phi, Tom Davidou by SDT, Fran Lovejoy by SK, Jerry O'Connell by KKG and Bob Veno by Chi O.

The dance is the first activity of H.E.R. Weekend, a tradition at UMass during which the girls treat their dates.

treat their dates.

AMHERST + + CINEMA

Wed. Thurs. 6:50-9:00

Gina Lollobrigida

"GO NAKED IN THE WORLD"

* LATE SHOW + Friday at 11:15 p.m. "One Summer of Happiness"

(Swedish)

CLUB DIRECTORY

ART CLUB

p.m. in Bartlett Hall 61. Art films. Public invited.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Meeting and election of of-ficers Wed., Apr. 12, at 8 p.m. in Peters Aud. Dr. Edward Atkinson from Arthur D. Little Co. will speak on Radiation Drugs."

DEBATING CLUB

Important meeting for all members Thurs., Apr. 13, at 7 p.m. in the 3rd floor seminar room, Bartlett.

FRESHMAN CLASS

Meeting Thurs., Apr. 13, at 11 a.m. in Bowker. There will be a discussion of the theme for the Frosh Mix, the Soph-Frosh meet, and the Frosh Outing. Committees will be formed.

RT CLUB

Meeting Wed., Apr. 12, at 7

HAYMAKERS SQUARE
DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7:00 p.m. in the S.U.

MOVIE COMMITTEE

Meeting Thurs App. 12 at 11.

Meeting Thurs., Apr. 13, at 11 a.m. in the S.U. ORTHODOX CLUB Meeting Thurs., Apr. 13, at 7 p.m. in the Hampden Room.

ROISTER DOISTERS

Wanted: 20 men to play walk-on roles in "R.U.R." Interested persons contact Mr. Peirce in the Speech Office, Bartlett.

SENIOR CLASS
Meeting Thurs., Apr. 20 at 11
a.m. in S.U. Ballroom.

SPECIAL EVENTS COMMIT-

Meeting Thurs., Apr. 13, at 11 a.m. in the Plymouth Rm., SU. Plans for HER Weekend will

Four College Group Holds Conference On Disarmament

"The Art of Peace and the Game of War" is the central theme of a four college conference to be held at UMass, April 15. It will begin at 1:30 p.m. in Bartlett Auditorium.

This of peace and the speakers. The conference will reconvene at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Union for a panel discussion by members of several student action groups.

Topics discussed in the aftermony series of speeches are: "So

15. It will begin at 1:30 p.m. in Bartlett Auditorium.

This conference on nuclear disarmament is the first student event presented by Synthesis, a student movement of the four college community. Organized last fall, the members of Synthesis believe that it is "students who must exert a dynamic force for the attainment of a free and peaceful world."

peacetul world."
Highlighting the Synthesis conference is a series of five speeches during the afternoon, from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. Intermittent question and discussion periods will be held with the noon series of speeches are: "Social Implications of the Arms Race" by Jack Schwartz, mathematics professor at N.Y.U.;

"Moral Imperatives for Disarmament" by A. J. Muste, Fellowship of Reconciliation and edition of of Reconcillation and edition of Liberation magazine; and "Practical Aspect of Disarmament Policies" by Karl Lowenstein, political science professor at Amburst Callera political science professor at Amherst College.

Also included will be: Roger Fisher, professor of law at Harvard who will discuss "Inspection, Control and Compliance,"

UMass Baseball Team Compiles 3-3-1 Record On Southern Trip

by GEN GORDON '62, Sports Editor

Three wins against the nines of Princeton, Camp Lejeune and Fort Lee, coupled with a like number of losses against Southern Connecticut (2) and Camp Lejeune, along with a 1-1 deadlock with S.C. gave the University baseball squad a 3-3-1 record for its recent Southern trip.

The squad showed good allaround potential during the trip, many of the vets living up to ex-pectations, and a number of the rookies also looking good.

Outstanding hurlers were vet-Ed Connolly and Paul erans Ed Connolly and Paul Wennik, each man winning and losing one apiece. Wennik chalked up a 4-2 win over Princeton in the first game of the trip, and lost a tight one to Camp Lejeune, 8-7. Connolly lost his first outing the the hands of Scattery Care at the hands of Southern Con-necticut State 2-0, but came back in great form against Fort Lee in the final game, 11-5.

But the pitching highlights didn't stop with the vets. Sopho-

But the pitching highlights didn't stop with the vets. Sophomores Art Shaw and Pete Bracci both looked big and strong on the mound, Shaw hurling against Camp Lejeune for a 14-5 victory.

Soph Rod Corey and Juniors Lou Pia, Carl Elmstrom and Cliff Bullock will need more work on control, said Coach Earl Lorden, while Pia might be good for a starter if his potential defor a starter if his potential develops. Corey has a great curve and could also be a top chucker for the Redmen.

The loss of Larry O'Brien at second base necessitated additional experimenting at that sack. The infield, although not a tight one, has the necessary potential, all the players being able to make the good plays. Shortstop Frank Pisiewski was probably the top all around infielder during the trip, while Tony Williams looked very good at third. Captain Paul Foley was a standout in left field.

The Redmen are no slouches at The Redmen are no slowches at the plate, as witnessed by the fourteen extra base hits, includ-ing three home runs tallied dur-ing the trip. Although the team shows only average speed on the basepaths, good baserunners are in abundance.

Catcher Dave Krukonis and Ted Osetek both looked good, Krukonis showing the greatest power at the plate with a 353 average.

The teams' first regular season game will be against Trinity on Thursday at 3:00. The Lordens haven't played Trinity in the last two years, having been rained out in '59 and '60.

Get down to the game and give the squad a good send-off for the '61 baseball season.

Thirteen Lettermen Return As Football Squad Digs In For Spring Grid Sessions

With approximately thirteen of last year's twenty-six lettermen returning new Head Coach Vic Fusia has plenty of questionable spots to fill as Massachusetts gets ready for its most ambitious schedule ever. Proportionally, Coach Fusia has a tougher job than Chuck Studley had in that the new Cincinnati coach had 23 of 30 lettermen returning to his squad. The team also has a rougher schedule, having dropped only one major team (Harvard) and picked up two (Villanova and Holy Cross).

The squad is allowed only ten

The squad is allowed only ten days of practice within a 20 day period by Yankee Conference

FROSH BASEBALL GAME The freshman baseball team will begin its season against Trinity on Thursday, April 13 at 3:15 p.m. on the new field behind the farms.

lost through sloppy defense than any other factor.

The Redmen's offense will undoubtedly be built around the solid passing of senior quarterback John McCormick, who rates as one of the East's top passers.

Some fine ends led by junior halfbacks, Sam Lussier and Ken Kezer should be key men as the Redmen try to match their 7-2 record of a year ago and a first place tie in the Yankee Conference with Connecticut.

place tie in the Yankee Conference with Connecticut.

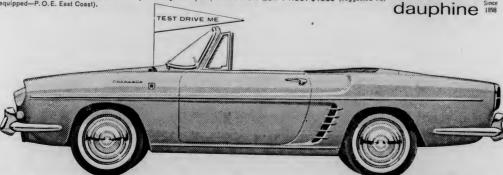

The tackle and fullback positions loom as the biggest question marks as spring drill gets under way. Both lettermen at the halfback slots will graduate this year, those being Dick Hoss and John Gazourian, while John Burgess and Al Cavanaugh are leaving the right tackle spot vacant. If Coach Fusia and his staff can come up with some sleepers here the Redmen could do well again this fall.

again this fall.

Professors and students both agree that nothing beats the Dauphine for economy, styling, and 4-door convenience. Up to 40 miles on a gallon, low upkeep, rugged, sporty performance make the Dauphine the most car for the least money on any campus, ever! New Low Price: $1385 (suggested list price, fully equipped—P. O.E. East Coast).

Here's the car to escape from the ordinary in. Heavy on styling, light on gas and upkeep—the Caravelle is available with an optional hard top that turns it into a sports coupe at a moment's notice. Like the Dauphine, the Caravelle carries a 12 month/12,000 mile (whichever comes first) warranty and a load of free extras. TEST DRIVE US SOON AT YOUR LOCAL RENAULT DEALER!

MON CEN MOTERS, INC. NORTHAMPTON, MASS. 57 KING STREET

My Neighbors

EXTRA

Stories on the Southern trips of the lacrosse team and track team will appear in the Friday issue of the Collegian.

Bowling Tourneys Set To Begin Soon

The pairings for the annual men's bowling tournament have been posted in the games area of the Student Union.

Contestants should contact their opponents at once as the first round must be completed by April 19. The second round will begin on April 20.

GIRLS WANTED

Five more women are needed

Five more women are needed for the women's bowling tourna-ment which will start as soon as ment which will start as soon as the girls' ping-pong tournament is completed this week. Girls in the bowling tournament must contact their opponents at once.

THE TALL MEN

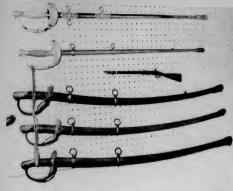

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—
Tax Christian's quarterback Guy
Gibbs (6-7) and end Aubrey Linne (6-7) formed probably the tallest forward passing combination in college football in 1960.

FRESHMAN GOLF

All male students in the freshman class interested in frosh golf must attend a meeting on Wednesday, April 12, at 5:00 p.m. in Room 10 of the Cage.

IL W

Gen. Hooker Of Hadley Loses Chance For Glory

by WILLIAM J. TINTI '61

"It is satisfactory to my mind that the rebels have no more in-tention of going to Harrisburg than they have of going to

"Who ever saw a dead cavalry-

"The Rebel Army is now the legitimate property of the Army of the Potomac."

Hooker Spoke Sharply

These are the words of Joseph Hooker, Major General of the Union Army in the War between the States. The first message was sent to the Governor of Pennsylvania when he screamed for veteran troops to defend his capital. The second statement was repeated in the teeth of his chief of cavalry, Pleasanton, in a moment of netulance. The weak is ment of petulance. The words included in the third quote were spoken when the Army of the Potomac crossed the fords of the Rapahannock to begin the battle of Chancellorsville.

Hooker had the misfortune combining a sharp tongue with an inflated ego. With one voice he deprecated the achievements of others and overemphasized his own. There is no question as to his talents and abilities—he was a excellent commander of men. an excellent commander of men. Throughout his military career, from the storming of Churubusco to the surprising victory of Look-out Mountain, Hooker proved over and over again his personal bravery and his ability to inspire the soldiers fighting under him. Unfortunately, however, his recognition of his own ability somehow excluded the possibility of his recognizing any other per-son's claim to fame. Sherman, he insisted, was "crazy." Grant, he said, had "no more moral sense than a dog." Howard, who had served under him in many cam-paigns, he claimed "would com-mand a prayer meetimand a prayer meeting with a good deal more ability than he

GEN. JOE HOOKER

General Loses Confidence

Only one type of man is allowed to speak this way and that is the man who wins. Only the victorious are impregnable victorious are impregnable enough to call all other men

But in the moment of crisis, when the Battle of Chancellors-ville could have gone either way, Hooker lost confidence in Hooker. He gave conflicting orders and could not get his men into a could not get his men into a fighting position. The chance for glory had been fumbled; his dreams would remain dreams, and the moment could never be retrieved.

And ever after he had to say to himself:

"I have seen the moment of my greatness flicker, And I have seen the eternal Footman hold my coat and snicker, And in short, I was afraid."

Forefathers Settled In Mass.

The ancestors of Joseph Hook-The ancestors of Joseph Hooker were aggressive and prosperous men. For one hundred and twenty-five years an uninterrupted line of Joseph Hookers had participated in the westward expansion of Massachusetts. Starting from Wenham, just north of Salem where the founder of the line had arrived from England in 1689, the family reached the Connecticut River four generations later.

four generations later.

The first Joseph Hooker advanced from a common farm laborer to an owner of property and as the years passed he be-came a surveyor of highways in the best Massachusetts tradition. the best Massachusetts tradition. His son moved to Westford where he spent a productive life as a farmer and landowner. The third Joseph Hooker went off to Louisburg to fight in the French and Indian Wars and returned a hero, honored by his family and his community alike. When the Revolutionary War started, this old warrior led the Minutemen of the village to Cambridge and went on to become a captain in George Washington's Continental Army. After the war, considerable real estate was amassed by the captain and his sons by confiscation of Tory estates.

The third son of the captain, also named Joseph, moved on to

Hadley where he purchased a lot and house on West Street. There and house on West Street. There his fourth child, Joseph, destined to become one of the most controversial and most puzzling figures of the Civil War, was born on November 13, 1814.

Old Weapons Include Mass. Inf. Sword

The local Amerst arsenal?
No, the above are pictures of Robert W. Fowler's antique weapons collection. Fowler, who resides at 137 Farview Way, is the principal clerk in the tresurer's office at Smith College.

er's office at Smith College.
Fowler's collection of guns represents nearly the complete evolution of U.S. military rifles. Included in the collection are Civil War vintage muzzle loaders, early breech loaders, the Springfield 1903, the Garand M-1, and the automatic carbine. The sword collection demonstrates the combination of fine beauty and potential death. One sword bears the inscription "Maj. N. E. Ladd 55th Reg. Mass. Vol. INF." 's office at Smith College. Fowler's collection of

War Begins As Amherst Answers Call

by P. KENNETT and I. CHERNIAK

One hundred years ago today the outbreak of the Civil War the outbreak of the Civil War radically changed the everyday way of life of Amherst citizens. During this great rebellion, the town loyally responded to every request for men, money and

Before 1830, there was very little opposition to slavery in Amherst, but in 1833, a group of students from Amherst College organized an anti-slavery society organized an anti-slavery society which met despite the disapproval of many faculty members and students. Although the faculty eliminated the organization, in 1836 it once again became active, this time with the consent of the this time with the consent of the faculty.

In the later 1830's the "Am-In the later 1850's the "Amherst Anti-Slavery Society" was formed, with an initial membership of 245 townspeople There were no "Tories" in Amherst after 1860

Troops from Amherst fought in most major engagements of the war. At the battle of New Berne in 1862, Lieut. Frazar A. Stearns, in 1862, Lieut. Frazar A. Stearns, son of President Stearns of Am-herst College, serving as adju-tant, was killed while rallying his tant, was killed while rallying his men to charge. General Burnside ordered that a six-pounder brass gun, captured at New Berne, be given to Stearns' reginent, and they in turn presented the gun to Amherst College, where it was kept in Williston Hall.

During the was fifteen

During the war fifty-seven Amherst men died in battle, from wounds and disease, 49 wounded, and nine captured.

Blood Of North, South Rushes Into Antietam

by CAPT. CHAR
The little village of Sharpsburg, Maryland, with its dusty streets and its quiet inhabitants, had been in obscurity, reared in obscurity, and by September of 1862 seemed destined to die in obscurity. The stream of history had passed it by years ago, but now on September 15, 1862 it was apparent that, if even only for a brief moment, the name of this remote little village would be flashed around the world, and would soon become a sad memory throughout the length and breadth of the land for many an American family.

News of Jackson's Victory
For on September 15, 1862 his-

American family.

News of Jackson's Victory

For on September 15, 1862 history's tide began to flow the streets of Sharpsburg in the form of the ragged legions of Lee's Army of Northern Virginia.

Wagons and artillery filled the streets with dust as the retreating Confederates headed for the Potomac River and safety. In a few hours Sharpsburg might well resume its slumber of the ages, and Lee's first invasion of the North might well be ended. But through the dust and the confusion a sweat covered rider handed Lee a message from Stonewall Jackson announcing victory for the Confederacy at Harper's Ferry and asking for instructions.

Good News! Good news cloted

Good News! Good news elated Lee. Sharp orders were issued, and the tired dust covered Conrederates began filing off the road, and quietly occupied the rolling hills from quiet sluggish Antietam Creek on the right to the majestic Patronage. Antietam Creek on the right to the majestic Potomac on the left. Artillery and wagon teams lashed their way back through Sharpsburg. Orders were hurried to Jackson—march on Sharpsburg with all possible speed!

Time was of the essence now. If the Union Army attacked before the arrival of Jackson with the other half of Lee's army, the Confederates might well be over-

Confederates might well be Confederates might well be over-whelmed and destroyed, Lee's army could be pushed into the Potomac River and forced to sur-render, the Civil War might well end, and thousands of lives might be saved be saved.

16 September dawned and turned into bright day, into noon, into afternoon, and finally into evening, and nothing happened except the occasional growl of an angry piece of artillery. The Union commander had allowed the day to slip through his fingers, and as time slipped away so did the reputation of McClellan and the lives of his men. Jackson had arrived, and except for a small segment, Lee's army was united and secure on command-ing terrain—waiting for what the morrow might bring. An army in blue, 87,000 strong, faced an army in gray, 40,000 strong, and all in the space of a strong, and all in the space of a little over nine square miles.

17 September, the bloodiest day in the entire Civil War, turned into dawn amidst the crash and roar of the massed muskets and artillery of General "Fighting Joe" Hooker's First Corps as it slashed down on the Confederate left flank held by Stonewall Jackson, A cornfield of thirty acres was fought over thirty acres was fought over eight times, and 8,000 men lost eight times, and 8,000 men lost their lives in a desperate effort for its possession. As Hooker's First Corps was repulsed and swept from the field Mansfield's Corps bore relentlessly in, Mansfield was killed and his Corps repulsed. Jackson's divisions were torn to bits, and Lee rushed his reinforcements in. A third Union Corps bashed into the positions of Jackson and D. H. Hill further to the Confederate right, and a sunken road sudright, and a sunken road sudendly appears in the pages of history and is forever after called the Bloody Lane; 3,000 more men lost their lives here.

Last Division Saves Lee
Suddenly quiet descended as

Last Division Saves Lee
Suddenly quiet descended on the Confederate left, and a bridge across sleepy little Antietam Creek leaped into focus, and Union forces by 1 o'clock had scized a crossing and were now preparing for an attack on Sharpsburg. Lee's Army would be cut off from its line of retreat and captured. Time ticked on two o'clock, three o'clock, and then a roar of musketry and artillery, and the blue tide raced for the town. Suddenly it reeled backward and was engulfed in a cloud town. Suddenly it reeled back-ward and was engulfed in a cloud of smoke and dust. The last division of the Confederate Army had just arrived, had attacked, and Lee's Army was saved.

Night came amid the cries of the wounded and the terrible stillness of the dead. 20,000 stillness of the dead. 20,000 Americans lay killed or wounded over a 30 acre cornfield, in a sunken road, and around a bridge. To the east Clara Barton worked far into the night to set a precedent which would give birth to the American Red Cross. Oliver Wendell Holmes lay bleeding near the bridge with his second wound of the Civil War. William McKinley, a lowly commissary sergeant, won the gratitude of his comrades by delivering hot food to the battlefield. Lee's Northern invasion was over, and the village of Sharpshot room to the battleheld. Lee's Northern invasion was over, and the village of Sharps-burg eased back into obscurity.

Nomination Papers Now At Dean Of Men's Office

Nomination papers are available at the Dean of Men's office for the 25 positions open in the spring election. The completed forms are due back at the Dean's office April 17, at 4:00 p.m.

From the classes of '62, '63, '64, four class officers, one member of the Student Union Governing Board, and three sena-tors-at-large will be elected. There will also be an election for commuter senator.

Only class officers will be affected by the primary election scheduled for Thursday, April 20, from 9-4 in the lobby of the Stu-

April 27, the final election will run from 9-4 in the SU lobby. This election will concern candi-dates for the S.U.G. Board and Senate and class officers.

The Senate-RSO 2.0 bill will not affect this election, but in the case of the S.U.G. Board, a graduating average is constitutionally required.

Candidates should notice that the Election Rules Act now requires that candidates remove all campaign matter after the election, and that no material be posted on trees.

Candidates with any questions should contact Vin Della Penna, chairman of the election committee, at Van Meter House, or leave note in the Senate office

FreshmenAssemble For Class Meeting Thurs. At Bowker

An important Freshman Class meeting will be held Thursday, April 13, at 11 a.m. in Bowker Auditorium.

There the Class advisor, Charles Smith, will be introduced. The theme for the Frosh Mix, and next year's Soph-Frosh night will be discussed as well as the Soph-Frosh track meet and the Frosh outing. Committee chairmen will be chosen for the Frosh Mix and Soph-Frosh night and committees for these func-tions will be formed.

Parliamentary | Debate Set For April 12

Arrangements have been made by the Debate Club for a parliamentary debate on Wednesday, April 12, at 8 p.m. in Skinner Auditorium.

The resolution, "Resolved, That the United States Needs More Men Like Robinson Crusoe", will be debated by Steve Allen and Abdulrasul Samma from UMass and by visiting debaters from New Zealand.

A parliamentary debate is one in which the audience can participate. They may express their approval or disapproval of the remarks made by the debater. They also have the right to ask questions of the speaker at any time, and after the principle speakers have spoken, any member of the audience may speak for a maximum of three minutes. A vote taken at the end of the debate will decide if the resolu-tion has passed or failed.

Former Senator Appointed As Distinguished Professor

Established under a Ford Foundation grant, the public af-fairs professorship is designed to bring to the campus persons who have held top-level positions in federal, state or local governments. Appointees serve on a one-semester basis, teaching in the department of government at the University.

The distinguished professor will offer one seminar in American politics for graduate students and selected junior and senior undergraduates during the se-mester. He will also be available for informal participation in courses such as economics, his-tory, sociology, and others, de-pending upon his experience and special interests.

A Democrat, Mr. Clements served as a U.S. Congressman and Governor of Kentucky before his election to the Senate in 1950. During his tenure as a Senator, he was assistant Democratic Former U.S. Sen, Earle C.

Clements of Kentucky has been named Distinguished Professor of Public Affairs at UMass, it was announced today by Pres.

Lohn W. Lederle.

Established under a Ford Foundation grant, the public affairs an officer in World War I, he was an officer in World War I, he was an officer in World War I, he was a more state, and the bigs home state, and the control of the bigs home state, and the control of the control of as an officer in World War I, he returned to his home state and was successively sheriff, clerk, and judge of Union County.

In 1941 he was elected to the Kentucky State Senate and served as majority floor leader in 1944. Elected to the 79th Congress in November, 1944, Mr. Clements was re-elected in 1946. In the following year he became In the following year he became Governor of Kentucky, serving in that office until his election to the U.S. Senate in 1950. After retiring from the Senate in 1957, Mr. Clements became Washington consultant for the American Merchant Marine Institute Inc. Merchant Marine Institute, Inc a position he continues to hold. In his new appointment

In his new appointment at UMass, the Kentucky legislator succeeds former Sen. Ralph Flanders of Vermont, who was the first to serve under the Ford Foundation program.

Perkins . . . (Continued from page 1) advisory groups and committees studying needs and problems in the state of Delaware, In 1957-58, Dr. Perkins was on leave of absence from the Delaware post to serve as Undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the Eisenhower Administration. In 1959, he was appointed tion. In 1959, he was appointed by President Eisenhower to a three-man fact-finding board which submitted two reports bearing on the nationwide

A member of many profes-A member of many profes-sional societies, Dr. Perkins was elected president of the Ameri-can Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities in 1960. In addition to "Plain Talk from a Campus," the Delaware educator has written many authoritative articles dealing with problems of enrollment increases in the nation's colleges and universities

TENNIS BALLS TENNIS RACKETS A. J. HASTINGS Inc.

Newsdealer & Stationer

Concert

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

put away a penny a week for one year . . . why, you will have fifty-two cents!

Dear Dr. Frood: Our college mascot is a great big lovable Saint Bernard. He loves everyone-except me: In fact, he has bitten me viciously eight times. What can I do to get him to like me?

Frustrated Dog Lover

DEAR FRUSTRATED: Mother him. To carry this off, I suggest you wear a raccoon coat, let your hair and eyerows grow shaggy and learn himper affectionately.

Dear Dr. Frood: Most of my life here is extracurricular. I carry the drum for the band, pull the curtain for the drama society, wax the court for the basketball team, scrape the ice for the hockey team, clap erasers for the faculty club and shovel snow for the fi 'ernity houses. Do you think these activities will really help me when I get out of college? Eager

DEAR EAGER: I don't think the college will let you out.

Dear Dr. Frood: On New Year's Eve I foolishly resolved to be more generous with my Luckies. My friends have held me to this, and I've been forced to give away several packs a day. What do you think would happen if I broke this resolution?

DEAR RESOLUTE: It's hard to tell, really. Lightning, a runaway horse, a tornado—who knows?

Dear Dr. Frood: Before vacation, my girl and I agreed to exchange Christmas presents. I sent her a nice hanky. You can imagine how I felt when I awoke Christmas morning to find a sports car from her. What can I do now?

Distraught

DEAR DISTRAUGHT: Remind her that Easter giving time is just around the corner.

Dear Dr. Frood: Can you help me convince my girl that I'm not as stupid as she thinks I am? Anxious

DEAR ANXIOUS: Perhaps, but you'll have to convince me

TO GET A QUICK LIFT, suggests Frood, step into an elevator and light up a Lucky. Instantly, your spirits will rise. When you savor your Lucky, you're IN—for college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. They're a wised-up bunch who've known all along that Luckies taste great. Get the cigarettes with the toasted taste—get Luckies.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Product of The American Tobacco Company - "Tobacco is our middle name"

Winners of Downbeat International Jazz Critics Poll

ART BLAKEY & the JAZZ MESSENGERS

Springfield Aud. Fri., April 21 - 8:30

LIBRARY UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

MAN IN SPACE

(See page 2)

VOL. XC NO. 65 5¢ PER COPY

"As students of Amherst, Mount Holyoke, Smith and the University of Massachusetts, we join together to form Synthesis in response to our common con-cern for personal dignity and freedom. Facing a world of mounting tensions between na-tions, races, and societies, we tions, races, and societies, we cannot accept institutional excuses for their continuance. Generally, we support all efforts toward the creation of a free world in which every individual enjoys dignity and liberty."

With these words, an organization called "Synthesis" was born. This Saturday, April 15, the group will sponsor what has been described as "a significant event in the four college community."

in the four college community."
"The Art of Peace and the Game will deal with the various problems which we face in this nuclear age. This conference, which will take place in Bartlett tics professor at N.Y.U., A.J.
Muste, editor of Liberation Magazine, Mr. Karl Loewenstein, professor of political science at Amherst, and Mr. Roger Fisher, professor of law at Harvard University.

Following the conference, panel discussions will be carried on in the S.U. Participants in the on in the S.U. Participants in the conference will include Dave Mc-Reynolds of the War Resistors League, Robert Gilmore representing the American Friends Service Committee, and Robert Gussner of the Student Peace Union Union

Although this particular con-ference will deal exclusively with disarmament and related prob-lems, Synthesis is projecting other events dealing with such matters as racial equality and by SANDRA GIORDANO '63, Collegian Staff Reporter Robert J. Morrissey, Director of Placement, has been designated as the official campus representative for the dissemination of information relative to the Peace Corps. He has also been named to membership on the Four-College Committee to discuss the Peace Corps.

Applications Available For Peace Corps

In the words of President Kennedy: "The Peace Corps is to con in the words of President Kennedy: The Peace Corps is to consist of a pool of trained American men and women sent overseas by the United States' government or through private institutions and organizations to help foreign countries meet their urgent needs for skilled manpower."

Briefing Set For Elections This Monday

A briefing of candidates and drawing for position on the ballots for the Spring elections will be held on Monday, April 17, at 4:15 p.m. in the Barnstable Room of the S.U.

The Elections Committee will The Elections Committee will deliver relevant information to the candidates for office, after which, Senator Knowlton will draw the order in which the con-testants' names will appear on the ballots for each of the elec-

Attendance at this event is recommended, and if a candidate is unable to attend, he is urged to send a representative.

Students are reminded that nomination papers are still available for the positions of class officer, senator-at-large, member of Student Union Governing of Student Union Governing Board, and commutor senator. Students interested in these positions must have nomination pa-pers (obtainable at the Dean of Men's Office) back at the Dean's Men's Office) back at the Dean's Office by 4 p.m. Monday.

Few people had signed out nomination papers as of three o'clock, Thursday, according to the Elections Committee Chairman. He stated, "These are extremely important and powerladen positions. The student body should have a wide field of (Continued on page 3)

Questionnaires for applications for this voluntary service are now available in the Placement

The questionnaires contain 28 questions, concerning the ap-plicants' education, employment experiences, language skills, technical abilities, health, etc.

technical abilities, health, etc.

Married couples may apply, but only if both can serve and have no children under 18. No applicants under 18 may qualify.

The Peace Corps at present is on a temporary basis. Personal interviews for interested applicants will be held sometime in the future at various locations. the future at various locations throughout the country. Final acceptance will depend on successful completion of specified training. The submission of an application does not constitute an obligation to some in the constitute and the control of t obligation to serve in the Corps.

It is estimated that the first 500-1000 volunteers will be screened and sent overseas by without pay as teachers, technicians' helpers and government aides at the request of the host

- WANTED -

The Collegian is in need of a non-student secretary for the 1961-1962 academic year. The pay scale is well above the allmpus average.

Those interested in the position should contact either the present secretary, Mrs. Mary Lu Roland, Al Berman, Editor-in-Chief, or Howard Frisch, Busi-ness Manager.

Four Colleges Air Lederle Extends Inaugural 'Synthesis' Topics "As students of Amherst, Auditorium at 1:30 p.m., will feature Jack Schwartz, mathematics of Massachusetts, we ties professor at NYIII. Ceremonies

THE TRUSTEES AND FACULTY OF

THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

REQUEST THE HONOR OF YOUR PRESENCE

AT THE INAUGURATION OF

JOHN WILLIAM LEDERLE

AS PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

AT THREE-FIFTEEN O'CLOCK

ON SATURDAY, THE TWENTY-SECOND OF APRIL

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY-ONE

April 22 The student body is cordially invited to attend the Inaugura-

Set For

invited to attend the Inaugura-tion of Dr. John W. Lederle as fifteenth President of UMass. The installation ceremonies will be held Saturday, April 22.

More than 300 delegates rep-esenting colleges and universiresenting colleges and universi-ties, learned societies, and govties, learned societies, and governmental groups will be on camernmental groups inauguration. We pus for the inauguration. We hope that all students will feel free to extend personal welcomes to our distinguished guests.

The formal ceremonies will be-The formal ceremonies will begin with an academic procession at 3 p.m., the line of march proceeding from the Dining Commons through the quadrangle of women's dormitories to the Women's Physical Education Building. The installation will be held shortly thereafter in the gymnasium.

Students are also invited to attend the reception to be given by President and Mrs. Lederle in the S.U. Ballroom at 4:30 p.m.

No tickets are required for either the installation ceremony or the reception.

Open Invitation To All UMass Students

Undertakes Interaction

The Northampton State Hospital is presently undertaking development of a project to initiate interaction between the hospital and the surrounding community. The Northampton Project is spacefully concerned with space especially concerned with spon-soring programs between the hospital and educational institutions in this area

A meeting of students inter-sted in the Project has been ested in the Project has been scheduled for Saturday, April 15, at 9 p.m. in the auditorium at the Main Building of the Main Group at the Northampton State Hospital.

This meeting will feature a group of Harvard-Radcliffe volwork of this sort at the Metro-politan State Hospital. They will explain the nature of their pro-grams and will show a 45 min-ute film illustrating their work.

Last summer, six Harvard-Radcliffe students set up a "halfway house" for recently released patients before they went completely on their own. This project was a sort of pilot study to determine the potential use of this kind of work.

It is hoped that similar interested will be initiated among University students. A group from the University and Mount Holyoke have already become involved in the Project.

State Hospital | Reynolds Lauds Greeks Before 400 At Banquet sororities are the most effective means of developing the poten-tial of the young men and women in colleges today.

Reynolds addressed approxi-mately 400 fraternity and sor-ority members at the Greek Ban-quet Wednesday hight in the SU quet wed Ballroom.

Discussing the attacks which have been launched against fraternities in recent years, Reynolds said college officials are demanding more constructive programs, particularly in the academic area, from the fraternities and sororities. Discussing the attacks which

"Since fraternities and sorori-

"Since fraternities and sororities are cohesive groups, they can be either positive or negative forces," he said.

While Reynolds argued that fraternities made a great contribution in the development of potential, he admitted that they are not as effective in this area potential, he admitted that they are not as effective in this area as they might be.

"One of the sins of the fraternities is not fully developing the huge reservior of petential in the undergraduate body," Reynolds stated.

He commended the IFC for its

the commended the IFC for its communal purchasing through the fraternity manager.

He said fraternities were like banks in that the members can draw on the name of the house

by LARRY RAYNER '61, Senior Reporter
Joel W. Reynolds, Chairman of in tangible and intangible ways, but the fraternity will run dry unless the members make conunless the tributions.

> He pointed out that while the percentage of Greeks in the un-dergraduate student bodies has decreased, fraternities and sorori-ties have expanded considerably in the last ten years to take up the swollen enrollment. Reynolds noted that chapters have increased 32 percent and membership 53 percent in the last ten years.

PDN To Hold June Convention

Phi Delta Nu will hold a convention on campus this June to found a national chapter, Presi-dent Merrille R. Atkins an-nounced Wednesday night at the Greek Barguet Greek Banquet.

Phi Delta Nu also was de-clared winner of the Inter-sorority scholarship award with a 2.6 average. Sigma Delta Tau was second with a 2.58 and Sigma Kappa took third with a 2.57.

Kappa Sigma won the IFC scholarship award with a 2.27. Sigma Alpha Epsilon won second place with a 2.24 and Phi Sigma Kappa took third honors with a 2.18.

Man In Space

"It's time we stopped making excuses on why we are behind and time we once again put our mind, our hand, and our heart to the job of space development." Such were the words of an irate legislator upon hearing the news that Major Gagarin had taken a journey into space.

These words are indeed disheartening for they reveal an unfortunate ignorance as to our conditions of rocketry. It has been a well-known fact that the Soviets have been forced to develop super thrust rockets because of the very nature of the instrumentation envolved. While the United States has undertaken a miniaturization of rocket instrumentation, the Soviets have labored with relatively bulky materials necessitating rockets which produce tremendous thrusts. Added to this is the fact that the Soviets are reaping the profits of a head start over the United States in rocketry. Thus, we can perhaps see why the first space-man is called Gagarin and not Jones.

Yet, this is not the point. The underlying significance of this space flight, if it could be easily seen, is not that of man's valiant conquest of space, but rather of man's frantic grasp for a sort of ephemeral glory and security. If the United States were first into space, it would be the same. This is not to say that this does not represent a formidable scientific achievement. Yet, the value of scientific advance can only be measured within the context of its own time. To illustrate this let us merely survey our situa-

In our own country millions are unemployed and many slum areas exist. In Russia, also slums and a shortage of consumer goods. This is not to mention the "poorer" sections of the world!

Yet, as long as prestige of the power blocs varies in proportion to the technilogical achievements of each, politicians will rant and rave for more spending in fields such as rocketry. It is here that we see lucid reflections of the cold war. The race for space is merely a sickening manifestation of this situation. We are, at the moment, subjecting science to the pursuit of relatively meaningless achievements. We are spending and spending and spending, but what have we got? Well, we've got bombs and slums and underpaid teachers and rigged quiz shows and underfed families and super-hways.

And the human race mraches on.

M. P.

The people of the United States share with the people of the Soviet Union their satisfaction for the safe flight of the astronaut in man's first venture into space. We congratulate you and the Soviet scientists and engineers who made this feat possible. It is my sincere desire that in the continuing quest for knowledge of outer space our nations can work together to obtain the greatest benefit to mankind.

Correction: the price of the health fee as quoted in Owen Jones' letter to the Editor stands at $25-$30 per semester, not $60 as printed .- Ed.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief

Editorial Editor James J. Trelease '63 Howard Frisch '62
News Editor: Assignments
Joseph Bradley '64 Beth Peterson '63
Sports Editor Sports Editor Ben Gordon '62

Business Manager Beth Peterson '63 Photography Editor Lawrence Popple '63

tered as second class matter at the post office at Am., Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic except during vacation and examination periods; twice a the week following a vacation or examination period, or a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing r the authority of the set of March 8, 1879, as amended to June 11, 1938 erated of June 12, 1938 erated of June 11, 1938 erated of June 12, 1938 erated of June 12, 1938 erated of June 11, 1938 erated of June 11, 1938 erated of June 12, 1938 erated of June 12,

The Omphalos

by PAUL THEROUX

"We (will) organize fronts-little fronts, big fronts, temporary fronts, permanent fronts, all kinds of fronts . .

-Robt. Welch, Pres. of the John Birch Society

Part I-Concerning John Birch

It's getting so that a body can hardly turn around without getting a "right-wing" square on the left wattle. I sometimes wonder who the fecund mother is of all the ultra-conservatives, the reactionairies, the hangers-on, the prigs, boors, and romantics who continue to harass? Or are these the sons of the liberals: the antithesis in this insane dialectic. Well, it maeks one wonder-and especially it makes one wonder about the ends and aims of these prigs, etc.

The lastest, and most dangerous, of these ultra-conservative priggish organizations, the John Birch Society, is posing as an anti-com munist movement but using communist methods to get power in the United States. New this is strange, but not entirely foreign to the reactionaries. Didn't McCarthy use the witch-hunt method, the getthem-out-of-bed-in-the-middle-of-the-night-and-intimidate-them method? Of course. And in this same manner the Blue Book of the John Birch Society states in Article 6 of its objectives: ". . . (we should) start shocking the American people . . . some really dramatic exposures would be worth a lot." How do they intend to expose dramatically some unsuspecting person? Aha! Robert H. W. Welch, the founder and president of the John Birch Society, has the answer:" . we will run in a magazine an article consisting entirely of ques tions . . . which would be devastating in their implications." But Bob goes on to say that" . . . the question technique . . . is mean and dirty. But the communists we are after are meaner and dirtier and too slippery for you to put your fingers on in the ordinary way." MEAN AND DIRTY! And Bob said so himself!

(For more on the Society and the names of its prominent members, see Part II, Monday.)

COMMENT: WAR AND PEACE

by ELIZABETH SCHNECK '62

Back in the old days, warfare was a matter of one guy clobbering another guy over the head with a club. Today, warfare seems to be more a question of making man's hair stand up on his head; the expectation is that sooner or later he'll be sure to give in.

Modern warfare is obviously indifferent to the wishes and sentiments of the lone individual that finds himself caught up in the cry of a militant state. Luckily for us, however, the democracy is founded on the principle of the rights of the liberty of the individual. No matter how many bones of contention the lone person may provoke, he is still privileged to make claims and assertions to demonstrate his own sentiments. He is permitted to declare his position, to raise questions, to reaffirm his rights. The individual, we might recall, is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution and by the precedents set down by the founding fathers who designed our "tree of liberty."

Little success would we have today in a warfare of clubs. We certainly would be something more like Don Quixotes combating the windmill. Today, we can boast the superachievements of H-Bombs, germ warfare, missiles, anti-missiles, and anti-anti-missiles. We've nade headway . . . real and measurable progress.

One form of this progress is the big move forward in science. Modern warfare is a science—this can not be doubted. And, science is a method of formulating conclusions of probabilities so that they might be applied as a technique. In short; then, military science is a technology and not the study of fine arts and comparative values.

Now, civilization has progressed to such a point that warfare is no longer in the hands of the lone man, the barbarian. Therefore, it must now be in the hands of some special group. The question is: Is the policy of warfare in the hands of the technicians of warfare or is it in the hands of another group? Policymaking, to answer the question, certainly can not and does not reside in the hands of the military technicians. Policymaking is not a science or technique; the decision to wage war or not involves values, comparative values. The purpose of a military department to a state is merely to implement the decision reached by a consideration of values.

And, certainly in the totalitarian states, such as Khrushchev or Mao's, the question of policymaking is not permitted to be discussed by the people. The people's participation is simply one of complacent (necessarily complacent due to the wish to survive) technicians, in the role of passive obedients. The technicians might fall, however, into a number of levels, according to the epaulets, etc.

In contrast, we in the democracy have the privilege to enter into and discuss the policy of war and peace. No special elite group has been elected, to my knowledge, to decide on the policy of war and peace. The question I now raise: Since we in our democratic state are not and can not merely be technicians, can we allow ourselves to be coerced to think as technicians? By abdicating the privilege to study comparative values—for instance, considering the issues of war and peace—we would, however, be letting some elite group take over and make the decisions for our own, personal, and individual welfare.

LETTERS

THOSE NAUGHTY GIRLS

To Mr. Robert P. Landon:

I've been doing some thinking about your recent complaint to the Collegian . . . concerning the girls' conduct in front of the dorms at night. All I can say is—so what? What are you complaining about? If you can't fight them, join them! What's the old saying—"(something) makes the world go 'round?"

Now, I think you'd agree that present world conditions should warrant more concern than a friendly goodnight on the UMass campus three feet away from the housemother's window. Think how those front steps would miss all their regular customers if we chose another place to say goodnight. (Incidentally, did you have another place in mind?)

That brings us to another question, Mr. Landon—curfews (those necessary evils). But, then, you wouldn't understand them from a girl's point of view—you know, "make every minute count?" That's why you see the mass conglomeration of male and female compatibility on the stairs at 1:00

Sure it gets rough sometime. But that's to be expected. What are you going to do with 170 energetic coeds? Don't dodge all those "entwined and entangled" forms—just fall right in!

By the way—how would you like to head a committee to find a more suitable place for the "one o'clock club?"

Spring Is Here

In past and future weeks the weatherman and our calendar may differ in defining our present state as Spring. The calendar may read April but the rains will fall, the winds will chill, and yesterday snowflakes did fall. But there is always one sure way by which we are able to tell whether or not Spring is here.

This is the way which brings a truce to the war of ideas between the young and the old, carries portable radios into the gardens and beaches, gives Presidents sore arms, creates parking congestion from New York to Los Angeles and from Missouri to Minnesota, brings back hotdogs and peanuts just as surely as Spring brings back the swallows to Capistrano, and most important it is the way that America uses to usher in Spring. That's baseball!

In the last ten years, our world and country have progressed at a rate of speed which now puts us 200 years ahead of our time. Society's only problem is in keeping up the progress of science. But in this initial week of baseball 1961, we may take our hats off to baseball's hierarchy-the Commissioner, League Presidents, Club owners, and player representatives—for the flexibility and determination they have shown in keeping up with a growing Amer-ica. Today with East and West (New York and Los Angeles) and North and South (Minnesota and St. Louis) encompassed, baseball may honestly be acclaimed "our national pastime".

Yet, even with the migrations of teams, and the changes in rules, the game has never lost an ounce of its originality or popularity. Willie Mays does not play stick-ball in the streets of Harlem anymore and every kid knows that Joe Di Maggio is divorced from Marilyn Monroe and, by the time he is a teenager, he reads that Babe Ruth was practically a glutton. Nevertheless, on the hot asphalt streets of Harlem every boy fields the ball like Willie, Little Leaguers continue to argue over who is going to wear Joltin' Joe's number "5", and America still speaks awesomely of the day the Babe pointed to

So, if for no other reason than that it brings back baseball, . . . thank God for Spring!

'Little World's Fair' Will Be Held Here

Alaskan tundra, to the harems of exotic Arabia will come the various, cultural displays to be exhibited at the Little World's Fair here at the University of Massachusetts from May 3rd through May 5th. The fair will be sponsored by the Department of Recreation Leadership and the Student Union Program Committee. It will take place in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U. from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Embassies all over the world Embassies all over the world have been contacted for exhibits, and as an added attraction, two guest speakers will appear each evening. The entire University community is encouraged to enter the exhibition.

Registration forms for entering exhibits are located in all dorms, sororities, fraternities, the S.U., Faculty Club, and the Department of Recreation Leadership in the Curry Hicks Building. These forms must be in the Briefing Set . . .

(Continued from page 1)
adidates from which to pick."

The primary election will be held next Thursday and the final election will be held on Thursday, April 27.

advertising the event by Monday, April 24th, at 4 o'clock p.m. In cases where exhibits are from off campus, forms will be acceptable if mailed to the Department of Recreation Leadership, Curry Hicks Building, not later than April 25th, 4 p.m.

The public is invited to attend without charge.

Elections Will Fill Governing Board's 3 Open Positions

Three positions are open on the S.U. Governing Board to be filled by public elections in the spring of each year. Representatives of the present Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior class are to be elected at the general elections on April 27. These positions offer opportunity for anyone in the student body to take part in top-level policy making for operation of the S.U. facilities and program. Anyone who would like program. Anyone who would like to know more about the duties of these positions should contact Edward Buck in the Student Activities Office or any member of the present Board. Nomination papers should be submitted as in the case of other elective posts.

Guild To Hold Auditions For Oklahoma

The UMass Operetta Guild has announced that auditions for its fall production of "Oklahoma!" will be held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday April 17, 18, and Slated for Old Chapel Auditorium, auditioning schedules will vary in time so as to afford a greater opportunity for all in-terested persons to attend one of the three sessions. The Executive Board lists them as follows:

Monday at 7:00 p.m., Tuesday at 1:00 p.m., and Wednesday morning at 9:00 a.m.
These auditions are open to all

These auditions are open to all UMass students interested in any and all phases of production. Operetta Guild Business Manager Paul A. Cwiklik urges all students sincerely interested in a musical production of this type to after the campus their servto offer the campus their serv

> HILLEL ELECTIONS Monday, April 17, 9-5 Student Union Lobby Bring Membership Cards

ARTS & CRAFTS COMMITTEE

Any student interested in arts and crafts classes in jewelry, and crafts classes in jewelry, silkscreen and copper enameling should sign up immediately in the student activities office. Instruction classes will begin on

DIRECTORY CLUB

Meeting Mon., Apr. 17, at 6:45 p.m. in the Middlesex Rm., SU. John W. Anderson will speak on "The Accounting Department Curriculum and Careers in Accounting." All Business School students welcome. Sophomore accounting majors urged to attend.

ARMENIAN CLUB

Business meeting Tues., Apr. 18, at 6:30 p.m. in the Hampden Rm., SU, followed by an informal dance at Skinner

CANTERBURY CLUB

Informal discussion Sun., Apr. 16, at 6 p.m. at 768 N. Pleas-

ECONOMIC ASSOCIATION

Meeting Tues, evening, Apr. 18, in the Plymouth Rm., SU. Assoc. Prof. Paul J. Meier will speak on "Economic Problems in Yugoslavia." Meier's person-al experiences will make this subject interesting. All interested welcom

OUTING CLUB

Meeting Tues., Apr. 18, at 8 p.m. in the Middlesex Rm, SU. Plans will be made for the remainder of the semester.

ROISTER DOISTERS

Work parties for R.U.R. Sat. & Sun. at 1 p.m. Refreshments. Wanted: 20 men to play walk-on roles in "R.U.R." Interested persons contact Mr. Peirce in the Speech Office, Bartlett.

SENIOR CLASS

Meeting Thurs., Apr. 20 at 11 a.m. in S.U. Ballroom.

ZOOLOGY CLUB

Meeting Tues., Apr. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in Morrill 138, Open house plans. Committee chairmen urged to attend. All are wel-

WMUA To Present New Experimental Music Show

WMUA has announced that as a result of a student opinion poll taken last semester indicating a preference for better music than is ordinarily heard on the radio, it will begin a new experimental it will begin a new experimentar musical show starting April 17. The show, WMUA Music Thea-tre, will be aired Monday through Saturday from 3:30 to 6:00 p.m. for a two week trial

The purpose of WMUA Music Theatre is to present good music of the type students have indicated they want to hear. It will not include rock and roll or rhythm and blues.

Lloyd Teran, Station Manager of WMUA said, "WMUA Music Theatre is an experiment in music presentation. If it is a success, and we hope it will be, it will become a regular feature of WMUA" of WMUA."

WMUA elected officers for the coming year. They are: Station Manager, Lloyd Teran; Program Director, Eric Sandel; Business Manager, M-J Fowler; Technical Director, Dave Mainwaring, and Public Relations Director, Ken

LOST & FOUND

Lost: Scarab bracelet with name-plate and engraving on back. Lost between Girls' Gym and Bartlett. Please return to Ar-lene Aron, 206 Dwight. Lost: Pair of aluminum rimmed glasses in brown clip case. See Al Lima, 111 Wheeler.

Art 14 notebook in Hatch on Wednesday morning. Please return to Judy Rajecki, Dwight

Salem refreshes your taste

_"air-softens" every puff

Take a puff... it's Springtime! Just as springtime reawakens you to the beauty and soft greenness all around...so every Salem reawakens and softly refreshes your taste. Salem, with all its rich tobacco taste, is a gentle, easy-going smoke. Special High Porosity paper "air-softens" every puff, so that more than ever, Salem gives you the freshness of springtime. Smoke refreshed...smoke Salem!

- menthol fresh
- rich tobacco taste
- modern filter, too

Registrar Posts Honors List

CONVAIR/ASTRONAUTICS STARTS YOUNG ENGINEERS AND SCIENTISTS ON THEIR WAY UP IMMEDIATELY

Before you decide on your professional association, check the advantages of Convair/Astronautics.

/ Check the programs—Atlas, Centaur, Midas, ARENTS.

/ Check the facilities—new and modern in every respect.

/ Check the generous tuition refund plan for advanced studies.

studies.

V Check the location – San Diego, a city of half a million, has the finest climate in the U.S.

V Check all the advantages of a career at "Astro" — with your placement office, or write to Mr. R. M. Smith, Industrial Relations Administrator-Engineering, Dept. 130-90, Convair/Astronautics, 5200 Kearny Villa Road, San Diego 12, California.

CONVAIR/ASTRONAUTICS

DIVISION OF GENERAL DYNAMICS

SAN DIEGO 12, CALIFORNIA

ntinued on page 8)

Concert

THE MODERN JAZZ QUARTET

Winners of Downbeat International Jazz Critics Poll

ART BLAKEY & the JAZZ MESSENGERS

Springfield Aud. Fri., April 21 - 8:30

Tickets at
Jeffery-Amherst Music Store
ADMISSION: $1.95 & $2.95

Sororities Report

PHI DELTA NU

The sisters of Phi Delta Nu have been awarded first place in the intersorority scholarship competition for last semester.

The Phi Delt's were very happy to entertain fellow Greeks at the intersorority supper which the intersorority supper which was held last Tuesday.

PDN's theme for the H.E.R. Weekend party will be "South Pacific." The party is being held on Saturday of next week.

PI BETA PHI

Massachusetts Beta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity joins other chapters and alumnae clubs in the United States and Canada this month in welcoming the 105th chapter of Pi Beta Phi at Mississippi Southern College, Mississippi Southern Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

The Pi Phi's enjoyed them-selves a great deal at the Ex-change Supper with Alpha Gam-ma Rho on Thursday, April 13th.

THE DEAN YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Now in the waning days of the school year when the hardest heart grows mellow and the very air is charged with memories, let us pause for a moment and pay tribute to that overworked and underappreciated campus figure, your friend and mine, the dean of students.

Policeman and confessor, shepherd and seer, warden and oracle, proconsul and pal, the dean of students is by far the most enigmatic of all academicians. How can we understand him? Well sir, perhaps the best way is to take an average day in the life of an average dean. Here, for example, is what happened last Thursday to Dean Killjoy N. Damper of Duluth A and M.

At 6 a.m. he woke, dressed, lit a Marlboro, and went up on the roof of his house to remove the statue of the Founder which had been placed there during the night by high-spirited under-graduate.

(The Dean had not been driving his car since it had been placed on the roof of the girls dormitory by high-spirited under-

At 7:45 a.m. he arrived on campus, lit a Marlboro, and climbed the bell tower to remove his secretary who had been placed there during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 8 a.m. he reached his office, lit a Marlboro, and met with Derther Sigafoos, editor of the student newspaper. Young Sigafoos had been writing a series of editorials urging the United States to annex Canada. When his editorials urging the United States to annex Canada. When his editorials had evoked no response, he had taken matters into his own hands. Accompanied by his sports editor and two copy readers, he had gone over the border and conquered Manitoba. With great patience and several excellent Marlboro Cigarettes, the Dean persuaded young Sigafoos to give Manitoba back. Young Sigafoos, however, insisted on keeping Winnipeg.

At 9 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with Erwin J. Bender, president of the local Sigma Chi chapter, who came to report that the Deke house had been put on top of the Sigma Chi house during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 10 a.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and went to umpire an intramural softball game on the roof of the law school where the campus baseball diamond had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates.

At 12 noon the Dean had a luncheon meeting with the president of the university, the bursar, the registrar, and the chairman of the English department at the bottom of the campus swimming pool where the faculty dining room had been placed during the night by high-spirited undergraduates. Marlboros were passed after lunch, but not lit owing to the dampness.

At 2 p.m., back in his office, the Dean lit a Marlboro and received the Canadian minister of war who said that unless

At 2 p.m., back in his office, the Dean lit a Marlboro and received the Canadian minister of war who said that unless young Sigafoos gave back Winnipeg, Canada would march. Young Sigafoos was summoned and agreed to give back Winnipeg if he could have Saskatoon. The Canadian minister of war at first refused, but finally agreed after young Sigafoos placed him on the roof of the mining and metallurgy building.

him on the root of the mining and metallurgy building.

At 3 p.m. the Dean lit a Marlboro and met with a delegation from the student council who came to present him with a set of matched luggage in honor of his fifty years' service as dean of students. The Dean promptly packed the luggage with his clothing and Marlboros and fled to Utica, New York, where he is now in the aluminum siding game.

• 1061 Max Shulman

To the dean of students and all you other hard-working academic types, here's the new word in smoking pleasure from the makers of Marlboro—king-size unfiltered Philip Morris Commander. Welcome aboard!

WOMAN'S PAGE

MARIE MORTIMER '63 and FRANCES MAZIARZ '63, Co-Editors

JudiciaryElected Its New Members

Women's Judiciary has recently elected new members and new officers. Judiciary is an im-partial council of five women handling all infractions of women's dormitory and University

Before being sent to Judiciary Before being sent to Judiciary the girl is interviewed by her house council. If the council feels that the offense is serious enough to warrant further attention they send the case to Judiciary along with recommendations. mendations.

Judiciary meets at least once a week to go over cases. They also consider women's rules each year in conjunction with the Senate Women's Affairs Committee.

This past year Pat Binkley has erved as Chief Justice and Esta Yaffee as Secretary with Diane Coyle, Carol Veno and Jane Benoit on the council.

Incumbent members who wish to serve another year are screened by the Judiciary and Senate Women's Affairs Com-Senate mittee members. Diane Coyle and Carol Veno have been selected Carol Veno have been se in this way to serve again.

Newly elected members for the coming year who were re-cently elected by the women of the student body are Barbara Viera, Jeanne Bruen and Janice Barbara four queens are selected to preside over activities on certain big U. of M. weekends. The first U. of M. weekends, The first event is Homecoming; next fol-lows Military Ball, Winter Car-nival, and last but not least Greek Ball. Finalists for the queens on these occasions are selected from nominations subselected from nominations sub-mitted by fraternities, sororities, and dormitories. This is the first in a series of articles in which we shall talk with the queens reliving over this year's activities.

Campus Queen To Become Model

Homecoming Queen was the first contest of the school year. Judy Lawson was selected to Judy Lawson was selected to preside over the festivities of the Judy, a cute co-ed from Taun-Judy, a cute co-ed from Taunton, is in her second year here at the University. Since she is a floriculture major, her second year is also her last.

Judy was in the queen's court for other weekends before she was ground Over the second year.

for other weekends before she was crowned Queen of Home-coming. Before attending the University she was also in the Miss Taunton Pageant, another beauty contest in her home town. The whole process of interviewing, pictures and finally the

The whole process of interviewing, pictures and finally the crowning was enjoyable but also nerve racking for Judy. The most memorable event of the whole occasion was an unexpected kiss from President Lederle.

At home Judy was a ballet instructor. She also enjoys skiing.

At home Judy was a ballet instructor. She also enjoys skiing, skating, and swimming.

As for marks, Judy considers herself to be an average student. An active member of the Operetta Guild, Campus Varieties, and the Newman Club, the queen's activities keep her quite busy.

That Judy certainly is photogenic and definitely a wise choice for queen is confirmed by her future plans. Although she is a floriculture major, after graduafloriculture major, after gradua-tion our Homecoming Queen will take a job as a model at G. Fox and Co. in Hartford, Connecticut.

Deerfield Drive-In

April 14, 15, 16 Friday, Sat., Sun.

TONY CURTIS

"The Great Impostor"

-Co-Feature-

"Seven Ways From Sundown" Audy Murphy - Barry Sullivan

Feature 7:30 p.m. Shown first on Sunday only.

Two approaches to the "man's deodorant" problem

If a man doesn't mind shaving under his arms, he will probably find a woman's roll-on satisfactory. Most men, however, find it simpler and surer to use Mennen Spray Deodorant. Mennen Spray was made to get through to the skin, where perspiration starts. And made to work all day. More men use Mennen Spray than any other deodorant. How about you? 64¢ and $1.00 plus tax

Knowltonites Hear Dr. Gage Speak

On Tuesday, March 21, Dr. Robert Gage, head of the University Infirmary, was a guest at Knowlton House. An informal at knowlton House, An informal coffee hour was held, highlighted by a question and answer period.

A list of questions prepared by the girls in the dorm were submitted to Dr. Gage beforehand. These questions formed the outline for the discussion which outline for the discussion which took place. The questions covered the many and diverse physiological and psychological problems of the college student, ranging from sex to health and diet.

genuine interest of Dr. Gage in young people and their problems, combined with the enthusiastic participation of the girls present made the discussion a very profitable one for all. The Knowltonites agree that every dorm should have the opportun-ity of taking part in such talks.

The Moscow fashion touch has town wearing cossack hats re-cently were Princess Margaret and Princess Alexandra of Kent. Shops now also are selling fur-lined high boots.

Spring suits are simple. The jackets are cropped at the hip-bone and cut on boxy lines. One detail is the use of silk prints in the same tone for jacket lining and blouse.

Not since the days of ancient Greece has the fluid line been so fluid — relaxed — for resort wear, reports the National Cotton Council. The overblouse is the story of the season, contributing greatly to the relaxed look in everything from ballroom apparel.

Southerners Prove Too Hot To Handle But Mass Records Fall

The UMass track squad which journeyed to Miami during the Spring vacation found the opposition to be as hot as the weather. But the Redmen, who were guests of the U. of Miami, did well by their own standards.

Furman University of North Carolina won the first of two quadrangle meets held Wednesday, April 5, by scoring 62 points to Brown's 47, Miami's 34½ and Massachusetts' 19½. Brown University won the Saturday afternoon affair with 50½ points while Miami scored 49, Furman 48%, and Massachusetts, 16%.

These teams are some of the top squads in the nation. Brown is New England outdoor champion and Furman is the Southeast Conference's indoor and outdoor title holder.

The Redmen were forced to top performances by their superior competitors and records fell. Dick Ward easily shattered the UMass varsity outdoor high jump standard by two inches when he leaped 64". Charlie La-Pier clipped two-tenths of a sec-by ABE SHEINKER '62 ond off the 120 yd. high hurdle mark with a 15.7 second time. Loren Flagg tied both UMass sprint records with 10.0 seconds in the 100 and 22.0 seconds in the 220 yd. dash.

Other good but non-record performances by the Redmen were Ron Young's 51.6 second quarter-mile, Charlie Romeo's 128'7" discus toss, a 9:57 two-mile by Dave Balch, and one of 10:01 for Ralph Buschmann. These latter two times are especially good in light of the heat which is a deterrent to distance runners. Half milers Ken O'Brien, Bob Avery, and Joe LaMarre had good respective times of 2:00, 2:02 and 2:03. Lastly, sprinter Mike Dineen surprised Coach Footrick after his first week of javelin throwing when he hurled the spear 160'1" in one of the meets.

On the whole, the boys profited from the trip, coming home with a series of hard workouts on the cinder track behind them, as well as some healthy looking tans.

INDOOR CAPTAINS ELECTED

In a meeting preceding the Florida trip, the varsity track team elected Ernest C. Karshick and Joseph L. LaMarre co-captains for next year's indoor team. Karshick is a mechanical engineer from South Boston and attended Boston Technical High School. He became the fifth U-Mass weight man to break 50' in the 35 pound event this winter and also competed in the shot put. Outdoors he has been throwing well above his past performances in the hammer and discus thus far.

formances in the name discus thus far.

LaMarre is a civil engineer from Dorchester who attended Boston English. He ran a 2:19 1000 yd. race indoors and is a half miler outdoors. He and Ralph Buschmann were this year's indoor co-captains.

INCLEMENT WEATHER
Thursday's varsity and frosh baseball games scheduled to be played against Trinity were rained (snowed?) out.

Leslie And Mole Named As Next Year's Hoop Captains

Kirk Leslie and Mike Mole, UMass court standouts for the past two seasons, have been elected co-captains of the 1961-62 Redmen basketball quintet.

Both performers, natives of Pittsfield, were instrumental in leading Pittsfield High School to some of its finest basketball seasons just a few years ago.

Leslie, a 6'5" forward majoring in business, has averaged 13 points a game for the past two seasons and this winter was second in overall scoring with 360 points and was the team's leading rebounder. Kirk was a Yankee Conference second team selection and was also a standout in the Redmen's second straight championship in the Springfield College Invitation Tournament in December. Leslie was named to the All Tourney First Team for his standout performance.

Mole, a 5'11" playmaker, is most effective with one hand push shots. He is also a business major and has averaged 12.4 points per game during the past two years. In addition to being selected on the Yankee Conference second team, Mike was also

KIRK LESLIE

AMHERST + + CINEMA

-NOW ... ENDS TUES.-

WALT DISNEY'S

"101 DALMATIANS"

In Color

"HORSE WITH FLYING TAIL"

from Disney . Shows Daily from 2:00

-WED., APRIL 19-

"World of Suzie Wong"

MIKE MOLE

an All-Western Massachusetts first team college choice and was listed on the second team in the third annual Springfield College Invitational Tournament.

Frats To Compete In Cage Pool, Mon.

There will be an interfraternity swim meet on Monday, April 17, at 7:00 p.m. in the Curry Hicks Cage pool. The events will be as follows:

> 150 yd. medley relay 50 yd. free style 50 yd. breaststroke 100 yd. free style Diving (three dives) 200 yd. freestyle-relay

Five points will be awarded to the winner of each event, 3 and 1 points going to the runnerups. The fraternity which accumulates the most points will be awarded a trophy.

Eligibility rules and rosters are in the hands of each fraternity athletic chairman. Sign up now!

My Neighbors

"Now then, who's intersted in lower taxes?"

AMHERST CINEMA

* LATE SHOW TONIGHT 11:15 *

NOT PART OF PEGULAR FRIDAY SHOW — ALL SEATS 90¢ THAT INTERNATIONAL CLASSIC FROM SWEDEN

ONE SUMMER OF HAPPINESS

-Plus-

Cartoons"

SUMMER JOBS EUROPE

Earn Your Trip and Expenses

FOR FREE INFORMATION WRITE TO:

AMERICAN STUDENT INFORMATION SERVICE e. V.

JAHNSTRASSE 56A, • FRANKFURT/MAIN, • GERMANY, • TELEPHONE 591238 flavor and make it mild. Special porous paper lets you draw fresh air into the full king length of top-tobacco, straight Grade-A all the way.

CHESTERFIELD KING

Join the swing to

Four UMass Squads Appoint Captains For 1961-'62 Season

Captains of four UMass varsity winter sports have been announced by Assistant Athletic Director Earl E. Lorden.

Chosen by their teammates for the 1961-62 season were: Charles Paydos, gymnastics; Robert El-lis, wrestling; Matt Rutkowski, swimming; and Joseph LaMarre and Ernest Karshick, indoor track

LOTION

Paydos, a Dean's List Math major, is from Ware, Mass. and specializes in the rings and parallel bars. Ellis is a sophomore from Springfield. He is a forestry major and wrestled in the 167 pound class.

Rutkowski, from Waltham, was at his best in freestyle events and is majoring in civil engineering. LaMarre, a top tain of the indoor track squad this past winter and was again chosen by the team. He is majoring in civil engineering and is from Dorchester. Ernie Karshick improved greatly all season in the shotput and 35-pound weight events. He is from South Boston and is a mechanical engineering major.

sports or just relaxing. Come in to see this new luxury collection of knits. Specially designed for the man of action.

AMHERST

F. H. Thompson

NORTH PLEASANT STREET

-Photo by Hefle

Shown left to right are Walter Stranger, runner-up in the Men's ping pong tournament, the tournament winner, Hooshmand Mottahedeh, and Program Co-ordinator Clarence Shellnut who is presenting the trophies. Mottahedeh took the crown in five matches, compiling a total of 96 points to Stranger's 92.

Stickmen Defeat Wesleyan After 5-2 Southern Journey by Al Cohen '63 Coach Dick Garber's varsity lacrosse team completed a highly successful early season tour of the Middle Atlantic States over the Spring Vacation. Long hours of pre-season drill paid off with a 5-2 slate. The UMass snakebeaters capacity of the Middle Atlantic States over the Spring Vacation. Long hours of pre-season drill paid off with a 5-2 slate. The UMass snakebeaters capacity of the Cohen with 3 paced a come from behind victory over Wes-

The UMass snakebeaters opened at Adelphi College in Garden City, Long Island on April 1st with co-captain Dick Hoss scoring and Bob Glen getting 4 assists. The Garbers downed the Long Islanders 9-4. Hoss scored 4 goals and Al Chretien added 3. Then the Redmen scrimmaged a fine Lehigh and came up with a last quarter team effort to surge ahead and win 9-7.

Two more scrimmages followed. The UMass snakebeaters opened ahead and win 9-7.

Two more scrimmages followed.

In the first the Garbers were bested by a superior Penn. State squad 12-3. Penn. was the biggest squad to face UMass and had too much overall strength.

The stickmen next journeyed to eastern Pennsylvania to take the measure of Lafangette 8-5.

the measure of Lafayette 8-5.
A scheduled game at Stevens
Tech of Hoboken, N.J. saw the Garbermen emerge victorious by a 7-2 score. They suffered their second loss of the trip at Rutgers. Rutgers, a lacrosse power-house with many Baltimorians, offered their "B" team and won 6-4. In a windup at Delaware, Chretien and Bob Gibeley ac-

Redmen a 9-4 win.

On Wednesday, Redmen fans were treated to a rousing home opener. Hoss with 4 goals and Chretien with 3 paced a come from behind victory over Wesleyan, 11-8.

At the cod of the Chretien with 3 paced a come from behind victory over Wesleyan, 11-8.

leyan, 11-8.

At the end of the 2nd period UMass trailed 4-1. Three goals in the next six minutes, however, evened things up by half-time. The second half was all UMass. The Garbers put on a display of power, posting 6 straight goals while Wesleyan could only manage 1. By the end of the third quarter it was UMass and Wesleyan 5.

With Coach Garber substitut-ing freely their "Little 3" oppon-ent had closed the gap to 11-8 by ent had closed the gap to 11-8 by game time.

The Redmen are now 3-0 on the season. This record is the result of good ball handling, team organization, and smart offensive clearing. Goalie John Bamberry also deserves much credit for his outstanding defensive play in the young season.

credit for his outstanding defensive play in the young season.
Saturday finds the Garbers in Worcester for an engagement with rival Holy Cross. The Redmen "B" team will also make the trip. The next home encounter is with Amherst on April 22.

Intercollegiate Parachutists To Jump In Annual Event

The traditional annual Inter-collegiate Parachuting Meet at Orange, Massachusetts is sched-uled for Saturday, April 29 with Sunday, April 30 as a weather date.

The winning team will be awarded the Gavin Gavel, the symbol of intercollegiate parachuting supremacy. The Gavel is adorned with the original jump insignia of the Hon. James M. Gavin, currently United States Ambassador to France.

Standard intercollegiate rules will be confirmed at the April 18 Parachute Club of America Board of Directors' meeting, and will be mailed to all interested parties on April 20.

parties on April 20.

There will be a banquet for contestants at the Inn at Orange contestants at the Inn at Orange on Saturday night, and a dance at the Parachute Barn, an annex of the Inn. Also scheduled for the evening will be a showing of the 1960 Academy Award nomi-nee film "A Sport is Born" and newsreels of the Boston Common jumps.

The meet will consist of Event I of the 1962 World Championships but with only three jumps being made instead of four. The altitude is 3300 feet, and jumps can be either static line or 0-10 seconds delay, the best two jumps being scored. Accuracy of landings only will be considered. A team (one from each college) will consist of three members, all of whom can also be scored in the individual standings. There is no limit to the individual contestants from each college.

college.

The team score will consist of the best 2 out of 3 jumps of the three members added together. Separate prizes will be awarded to the high scoring individuals.

BASEBALL GAME

The UMass baseball team will take on the Coast Guard nine tomorrow at 2:00 Alumni field.

Registrar . . . (Con. from page 4)

Carol A. Zak Joan M. Zisk

Donald F. Hunt Kathleen C. Hu

Carol A. Wojcik Patricia L. Woo Carolyn M. Zioa

Sneila D. Harrison Janice D. Hill Frances A. Holman Priscilla M. Hynes Gayle A. Johnson Charles A. Soczek Carolyn E. Stearns

lle D. Tompkins
las A. Tyrer, Jr.
lon M. Webb
L. Whitehouse
l B. Williams
ara A. Winans
Ann Winters Marilyn E. Loper
Derrell S. Lynch
Richard J. MacDonald
Frederick P. Mach
Susan E. Macycove
Christine Malin
Carol A. McDonough
Helen G. Mesnick
Paul K. Metevia, Jr.
Francis L. Morgan, Jr.
C. E. O'Connell
S. N. Paleocrassas
Robert R. Putla
Mardell C. Pease
Pamela Perkins
Robert R. Putla
Mardell C. Pease
Pamela Perkins
Carolyn E. Price
Carolyn E. Price
Carol A. Roche
Carolyn E. Solet
Sandra L. Russell
Sandra L. Russell
Sandra L. Russell
Sandra L. Russell
Sandra E. Saver
C. V. Scannell
James B. Schmoyer
Marilyn Shahlan
Jonn E. Sidell
James B. Schmoyer
Marilyn Shahlan
Robert S. Solet
John P. Spineti
Beth E. Stone
Archie Strong
Thomas W. Sullivan
Gerald I. Tabasky
Maurice P. Tallbot, Jr.
Dianne F. Tyrrell

J.F.K. Can't Accept Invite To Graduation

A communication from the White House has indicated that President Kennedy will not be able to accept the UMass invitation to be this year's Commencement speaker.

The letter, signed by Kenneth O'Donnell, special assistant to the President, expressed sincere regret that Mr. Kennedy's heavy schedule during the early June period made it impossible for him to accept the invitation. The letter noted that the President's schedule includes a visit to France from May 31st to June 2nd and other commitments.

The letter indicated, however, that "the President is hopeful that he will have an opportunity to deliver such an address at some future time."

Reading Of Island To Be Presented At Smith, Sunday

Anyone who missed the staged reading of Island by Oscar Man-del during Fine Arts Weekend at UMass has a chance to see it at Smith College this weekend.

The Smith College Theatre Department has invited the cast of Island to give a repeat perform-ance in their theatre, Students Island to give a repeat personance in their theatre, Students Building, on the Smith campus, Sunday afternoon, April 16, at 3 o'clock. The performance is open to the public free of charge. The cast will be the same as it was here, with the exception of Shaun O'Connell, whose role of Medon will be taken by Frank Smith, instructor in Economics at Smith, instructor in Economics at Island was directed by Doris Abramson of the Speech Depart-ment; her technical adviser is Richard Stromgren of the same department. Designer of lights and sets is Ben Benoit. Leading and sets is Ben Benoit. Leading actors are Seymour Rudin and Leon Barron of the English De-partment faculty and Robert Stanton, a junior speech major.

What's it take to make the right connection?

Plenty! Consider the problem. Western Electric manufactures the switching systems which connect some 60-million Bell telephones throughout the U. S. The average call over today's electromechanical system requires 420 relay operations. All together, this interconnecting equipment makes up the heart of what is, in effect, the world's largest machine.

That's where Western Electric and you come in. The switching equipment for this "machine" involves an enormous manufacturing job carried on by our plants throughout the country. Because of the size and service requirements involved, we require quality standards far exceeding those of ordinary manufacturing. The size of this job presents an unusual challenge to the engineer who may save the Bell System many thousands of dollars by even a small cost-reduction step.

While today's switching calls for a priority on engineering, tomorrow's will be even more exciting. For even now the revolutionary Electronic Central Office is under field trial and promises to remake the world of telephony. Future Western Electric engineers, working closely with their counterparts at Bell Tele
Principal manufacturing locations at Chicago, Illi, Kearny, N. J. Winston-Salem, N. C.; Buffalo, N. Y.; North Andover, Mass.; Omass.

phone Laboratories, will concentrate heavily on developing manufacturing methods for this ECO equipment. Your Western Electric assignments may cover many of our other responsibilities as the world's leading communications manu-facturer. Perhaps you'll work on advances in microwave transmission, or even on satellite communications.

Joining Western Electric may well be your right connection.

Opportunities exist for electrical, mechanical, industrial, civil and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. For more information, get your copy of "Western Electric and Your Career" from your Placement Officer. Or write College Relations, Room 6106, Western Electric Company, 195 Breadway, New York 7, N. Y. And be sure to arrange for a Western Electric interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

Principal manufacturing locations at Chicago, Ill.; Kearny, N. J.; Baltimore, Md.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Allentown and Laureldale, Pa.; Principal manufacturing locations at Chicago, Ill.; Kearny, N. J.; Baltimore, Md.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Allentown and Laureldale, Pa.; Winston-Salem, N. C.; Buffalo, N. Y.; North Andover, Mass.; Omaha, Neb.; Kansas City, Mo.; Columbus, Ohlo; Okiahoma City, Okia. Engineering Research Center, Princeton, N. J. Teletypa Corporation, Skokie, Ill., and Little Rock, Ark. Also Wastern Elactric distribution centars in 33 cities and installation headquarters in 16 cities. General headquarters: 195 Broadway, New York 7, M. P.

EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE

... the paper that erases perfectly with a pencil eraser

Made by American Writing Paper Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., manufacturer of Eagle-A Boxed Typewriter Papers

Buy your EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE PAPER today at

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

MAROON KEYS

REVISITED

(See page 2)

MONDAY, APRIL 17, 1961

Senate Receives Referendum Plea

by THOMAS McMULLIN, Senate Reporter

A petition signed by 1496 students was presented to the Stu-dent Senate by Senator John Finnegan Wednesday night. The petition will put the controversial 2.0 bill on the spring ballot on April 27.

Fifty per cent of the student body will have to vote in the election and two-thirds of the students voting or approximately 1800 students will have to vote for repeal.

The petition reads: "Whereas the Student Senate of the University of Massachusetts has re-cently passed a motion requiring a 2.0 cumulative average (or a 2.4 for the previous semester) as a requirement for holding office in extra-curricular activities (as mentioned in S38) and, Whereas the motion was passed by such a slim margin, with a number of senators absent, and Whereas, in view of the sever-

Whereas, in view of the severity of this matter, we feel that it should be voted on by the entire student body, therefore, we the undersigned do here by affix our signitures to be recorded as being in favor of placing S38 (as amended) on the ballot of the annual spring election." nual spring election."

C.A. To Present St. Paul's Choir

Shown here in rehearsal is St. Paul's College Choir, which will be presented April 19 by the C.A. and Grace Episcopal Church.

On Wednesday, April 19, 1961 at 8 p.m. in the S.U. Ballroom, Saint Paul's College Concert Choir of Lawrenceville, Virginia, will present a concert sponsored by Grace Episcopal Church, the Amherst Council of Churches,

Students Will Pre-Register On May 2nd

Tuesday, May 2, has been set aside as Counseling Day. This day is specifically designed to al-low advisor and student adequate time for consultation and preregistration for the next sem ter. Thought and care on this date promote an effortless and speedy registration in September.

Many schools and departments are making special arrangements. Students are advised to check departmental bulletin boards for particulars prior to that date. The schedule booklets will be available from advisors this week for those students who this week for those students who care to do some planning before Counseling Day.

Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors should go to their advisors on or after Thursday, April 20, to pick up copies of the schedule of courses booklets for the fall and spring semesters, 1961-62. This will enable them to make tenative course plans before tenative course plans before counseling day, May 2.

and the Student Christian Asso ciation. An admission of $.75 be charged.

Choir Is On Tour

Choir Is On Tour
The choir is on its 1961 Spring
Tour arranged and planned by
New England friends of Saint Paul's College. All monies received from the concerts—whether by admission fees, free-will offerings, record sales, or contributions—will be given to Saint Paul's College not only to defray the expense of the tour, but to be used toward the development of its own program. of its own program.

Saint Paul's began as a small

Saint Faul's began as a small parochial school in Lawrenceville, Virginia, in 1883, but has de-veloped since then from a Nor-mal and Industrial School, to a Polytechnic Institute, to the Saint Paul's College it is now. It is now a full fledged four-year institution of higher learn-

The choir Receives Praise
The choir is not new to this area, for it has received acclaim from the Northfield Schools, from the Northfield Schools, Berkshire Eagle, Worcester Tele-gram, and Greenfield Recorder-Gazette. The Berkshire Eagle is quoted as saying, ". . in such numbers as 'Hail Warrior Hail,' they opened up like an organ and brought the house down. They did that more than once. Here and that more than once. Here the quality and size of their voices were beautifully displayed . . . Their dynamics, in short, were dynamic. This was show business and well done."

Queen, Chariot Races, All Highlight Greek Week

Judie Iversen '62 was crowned Queen of Greek Week by President John W. Lederle in ceremonies held Friday night at the Greek Ball in the S.U. Ballroom. She is a speech therapy major who comes from Concord.

Nominated by Phi Mu Delta, she is a member of Kappa Alpha she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, a counselor at Hamlin House, and a member of the Christian Association.

Dave Cheney '62, chairman of the Ball Committee, estimated that five hundred couples attend-ed the Ball and heard the music of Richard Maltby and his orch-

> Thirteen Fraternities Participate in Race

Thirteen fraternities participated in a chariot race between Draper Hall and Memorial Hall on Saturday afternoon before a crowd of about seven hundred persons. Five qualifying heats were run to narrow down the field to the three teams with the best times.

Those qualifying for the final round were Kappa Sigma running the course at 1:13.6, Alpha Tau Gamma running in 1:15.1, and Tau Kappa Epsilon with the time of 1:15.2.

Kappa Sigma Wins Race
In a close final round, Kappa Sigma won the race. Runners for Kappa Sigma were Ron Young,
Jack Harrington, Mike Dineen, and Bob Avery. Dick Conley was rider.

Tau Kappa Epsilon placed se cond with Nickolas Gutting, Phil Danforth, Gordon Webb and Bor-ys Pawluk pulling Joel Lerner. Alpha Tau Gamma placed third: Bob Goyette, Phil Flagg, Dick Dumaine, and Paul Bleau pulled F. P. Maroney

F. P. Maroney.
Following the race, the three winning teams were given trophies and kisses by Judie Iversen, Greek Queen. The three winners were also awarded IFC competition points. Kappa Sigma was awarded ten, TKE was given seven, and ATG received three.

Queen and Court Honored
During the intermission between the qualifying and final

Photo by Dick Fo KEVIN JUDGE of S.A.E. is pictured here presenting MISS JUDIE IVERSON, Greek Ball Queen, with her silver goblet in-scribed "University of Mass. Greek Week Queen 1961."

races ceremonies were held on the reviewing stand in front of the S.U.

S.U. Ellie Stang, Joan Werner, Jan Hall, and Pat Brouillard, members of the queen's court, were presented with silver candy dishes bearing the inscription "University of Massachusetts Queen's Court, Greek Week 1961".

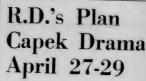

Judie Iversen, Greek Queen

Court, Greek Week 1961".

Judie Iversen, Greek Queen, was presented with a silver goblet carrying the inscription "University of Massachusetts Queen, Greek Week 1961." After the race she said, "I'm so happy. I've had a wonderful weekend and I want to thank everyone who made it to thank everyone who made it possible."

Also on the reviewing stand were Curt Bailey and Dave Chen-ey dressed as Greek guards; Gor-don Massingham, IFC President; Bill Lockwood, IFC Administra-tive vice-president; and Dave Bourke of IFC.

Vinnie Basile was the chairman of the race committee which in-cluded John Quayle, Jack Zajicek, Jim Varelas, and Fred Pomerlean. Timekeepers for the race were Vic Fusia, Justin Cobb, and Edmund Quiroga.

Karl Capek's stark drama "R.U.R." will be the spring presentation of the Roister Doisers, student dramatic group at

"R. U. R." will be performed Thursday through Saturday, April 27-29, in Bowker Auditori-April 27-29, in Bowker Auditorium. The play is under the direction of Henry B. Peirce, Jr., assistant professor of speech. Tickets for the performance may be purchased by calling the S.U. Box Office on or after April 19. Mail orders may be sent in at any time. any time.

Capek's play, a comment on the de-humanizing force of ma-terialism, concerns a factory which produces Rossum's Univer-sal Robots. A magnificent melo-drama, the plot tells of the at-tempt to humanize come delitempt to humanize some of the robots and the subsequent ter-rible events coming as a result of the automatons' desire to become rulers instead of slaves.

Leading roles have been assigned to John M. Kane '63, from Longmeadow; Judith A. St. Jean '61 from Agawam; and Ri-chard M. Potter '63 from Green-field. Kane plays Domin, robot field. Kane plays Domin, robot leader, while Miss St. Jean is Helena Glory, a human dedicated to bettering the lot of the robots, and Potter is Alquist, the man responsible for building the automatons.

The settings and lights were The settings and lights were designed by Ben Benoit, a senior theater major, Robert Smith is technical director for the show; Jeffery Hall is stage manager; and the preductive of the show is the stage manager; and the production coordinator is Betsy Smith.

The Roister Doister production will be given as part of the University's Open House, held annually on campus in the spring.

A.G.R. "horses" strain muscle and sinew as they gallop for posi-fion in one of elimination heats. A.G.R. is shown pulling ahead of an unidentified rival chariot as the Collegian camera captures

MAROON KEYS: A Year Later

Just under a year ago, the Maroon Key organization of this campus suffered a humiliation which might have killed any other group. Not only were their leadership qualities questioned, but even their intellectual capacities came under fire after the Collegian printed a list of organizations and their scholastic averages. The net result of the comparison was that the Keys placed a lowly last in contrast to the Adelphians, Mortarboards, and Scrolls. And before the month of May was out, a thorough investigation showed the scars of fraternity politicking in the selection of many of that year's members plus the need for a complete change in the organization. RSO froze their funds, the Student Senate set up a committee to change their constitution . . . and the Maroon Keys' faces were almost as red as their keys.

Somehow the summer tempered the violence of the storm-the constitution was changed and, most important of all, the Keys themselves, when they arrived on campus in September wearing those white hats bought from thawed out funds, had made an honest effort to clean their own house

When the school year began, the Keys had dropped from the organization, those members whose averages and conduct prohibited any tenure in the society. Yet, there were still those Keys who owed their membership entirely to fraternity politicking plus those who might have rated close to 0 when it came to definite leadership ability. What to do with these two minorities within the group was the problem faced by the organization. Whether premeditated or not, this year's end result from the complex is: the victims of the fraternity spoils system showed that they deserved to be Keys regardless of any form of patronage; and those deficient in leadership ability did the next best thing-imitated-they imitated the good example of their fellow members.

Today the Maroon Key stands beside Adelphia, Mortarboard, and the Scrolls as an organization which not only has helped and united our campus, but as an organization which we may be proud of in every way. Their resurrection can be credited to the Keys themselves and their year-around efforts to return a good name to their organization. Not only were the Keys' football rallies the best this campus has seen in years, but their conduct at athletic events, dances and general campus attractions has been of such a caliber that it is no longer important that they are not an honor society. There is no question whatsoever . . . it is now a fact: in a year which saw a new president, a new football coach, and a definite challenge to our campus unity, we may thank the Maroon Key for a job well done in leading and organizing.

All unsigned editorials represent the official Collegian position. All signed editorias appearing in the editorial column do not, necessarily, reflect the opinion of the Editorial Board, and usually reflect only personal opinion.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor

Business Manager James J. Trelease '63

Jews Editor: Assignments
Joseph Bradley '64
Sports Editor
Ben Gordon '62

Sports Editor
Ben Gordon '62

Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62
News Editor: Make-Up
Beth Peterson '63
Photography Editor
Lawrence Popple '63

MON.: Editorial, Warren Richard; Sports, Dave Willard; News, Pat Barclay; Feature, Jean Cann; Copy, Jean Roanowicz.

Entered as accord class matter at the post office at Amberst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a boliday fails within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1884.

Subscription price 44,00 per year; $2.50 per semester June 11, 1936.
ice $4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester
Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.
iated Collegiate Press
Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

The Omphalos

by PAUL THEROUX

Part II -- John Birch Society

And what are the questions that President Robert Welch plans to ask the suspicious? Here is a sample taken from the Blue Book: "According to this printed record, you once spent several months passing out anti-semitic literature. Is that true?" Then Welch says, "As soon as he finishes squirning out of that one . . . another questions of the series."

Now this could be very humorous. I mean, seeing one of these alleged communists squirming all over the surface of a television screen. I have a friend that would go into wild hysterics and uncontrollable laughter at the mere mention of someone being publicly trollable laughter at the mere mention of someone being publicly verbally flagellated—he almost convulsed himself into a booby-hatch during the McCarthy hearings, and John Birch would damn near propel him into outer space. But John Birch is no joke; their purpose, as is the purpose of most well-meaning reactionaries, is to gain power in order to make the United States an ultra-nationalist, undemocratic society. This group of vermin cannot be dismissed as simply just another fanatical organization of the left or right. Many of its supporters are America's most influential industrialists, publishers,

The members which are listed in the Blue Book and which may The members which are listed in the Blue Book and which may be familiar in this area are: Dr. N. E. Adamson, Jr., a Boston surgeon; Hon. Spruille Braden, former Assistant Secretary of State; Mr. Robert W. Stoddard, President of the Yyman-Gordon Co., Worcester and member of the board of directors for the First National Bank of Boston. These men are odious vultures out to undermine the United States of America. They are dedicated to slander and aim at impeachment of some of our most respected government efficiely second. States of America. They are dedicated to slander and aim at impeachment of some of our most respected government officials; namely, their "Petition To Impeach Earl Warren." According to Robert Welch (author of the Blue Book): "Democracy is merely a deceptive phrase, a weapon of demagoguery and a perenial fraud." The society's members accuse F.D.R. of acting on behalf of Stalin, assert that Harry Hopkins used his influence to supply Russia with money and material for the atom bomb, and accuse Harry Trumpa of doing contribing for the atom bomb, and accuse Harry Truman of doing everything he could to prevent exposure of communists and their activities.

I just thought that it would be nice to know a little more about the John Birch Society and it is with all good intention that I pass this information on to my fellow students. The headquarters of the J.B.S. is in Belmont, Mass.; so you can see that the stench of this group could easily pervade the University air. I mention this because there are many flag-waving, ultra-nationalistic, well-meaning persons here who would be drawn unwittingly into the John Birch Society thinking that they are doing the country a great service by abetting the mad, fanatical cause of Robert Welch and his intrusions on the lives of private citizens. It is just these well-meaning citizens who comprise the members of cells which now exist in 35 states and exist in 35 states and who anonymously telephone people to warn them that their neigh-pors are suspected Reds.

But I doubt if any UMass student could afford the $24 dues.

The Ivory Tower

Apparently we are on the brink of another basketball scandal. This is just onother symptom of the "shamateurism" that everyone keeps talking about. This whole problem stems from the confusion in defining what an amateur athlete actually is.

The traditional definition is that of a person who participates in sport for the pleasure he derives from it and not for any thought material gain.

Anyone who accepts an athletic scholarship is not a true amateur. As long as he must practice and must excel to keep this aid he is missing all the fun of athletics.

How can you get a scholarship for participating in a sport, any-how? Scholarships are meant as a reward for excellence in studies. If money is going to be granted, at least think of some better name for this.

I think every college student should go out for some sport. A college education is not complete without the benefits to be gained from this activity. However, I do not consider football, basketball or track legitimate sports, they are paid spectacles.

You can't even go out for the major sports unless you have been thoroughly recruited from high school and have some kind of aid. How can you possibly enjoy a sport if you know that your very attendance at a school is predicated upon your performance on the athletic field. Is this any way to get an education?

I have a varsity letter in crew from a school which has the policy of no athletic scholarships. We practiced from the first day of classes until two weeks after school closed. We rowed during vacations. If the river was frozen we rowed indoors on machines.

I wasn't allowed to take easier courses, get any money from the school or alumni, or have any privileges whatsoever. Nobody forced me to go out for this sport and if I didn't stay with it nothing would happen to me. As a matter of fact, one year the captain had to drop crew because his studies got to be too much.

This was truly an amateur sport. Every man rowed because he loved crew. The only glory he ever got was the hope of winning somebody's smelly t-shirt. There isn't even the possibility of personal glory. In crew individual stars only detract from the overall team

Rusty Callow, former Navy coach, once said that whenever any-one asked him why he was connected with crew he always replied "Why do you get up in the morning"? That is true amateurism.

I believe that if this spirit could be returned to all athletic con-ests there wouldn't be so much talk about the weak moral fiber of

Western America's Folk Art Contribution

by PAT WARD '61

An interesting theory has been advanced by numerous foreign critics, that America's only real contribution to the folk art of the world, and Hollywood's only achievement, is the Western.

To someone brought up with Westerns being grudgingly accepted but not approved-to someone who has only to pick up a newspaper to read what horrible things the TV Westerns are doing to the minds of little children—this comes as a revela-

It is the Western's strict advocacy of good-its prescribed ritual of virtue triumphing over evil— and its stylization that are its attractions in this

Some of the world's greatest art forms are idly stylized. Japan's Kabuki theatre, for example, is rigidly performed in accordance with tradi-tions and rituals which are centuries old. The classic art of "mime", as done by the great Marcel Marceau, is another stylized art.

And what is a Western, if it is not stylized? Have you ever seen a Western where evil wasn't defeated? Where the hero wasn't at least partially good? Where there was no beautiful scenery? Where, whether it was about Indians, homesteaders, a range war, the railroad, the Civil War, or bandits (and has there been a Western about anything else?) there wasn't at least one of the following: a pure heroine; a saloon girl with a heart of gold; a banker, either noble cowardly, or sneaky; a side-kick for the hero, usually crusty and middle-aged; and frequently, some sort of little child.

The great Westerns which have been made fit this ritualized pattern. Think of only a few: "The Virginian", "Stagecoach", "Shane", "High Noon". Marlon Brando recently spent two years and several million dollars making an important movie; what was it but "One Eyed Jacks", a Western what was it but "One Eyed Jacks", a Western.

Not all Westerns are great art, though, even though they may follow the ritual and be lavishly made. The recent "Cimarron" is an example of a Western which didn't make the grade. This 2½ hour epic has all the standard ingredients: a noble heroine, a noble hero, a saloon girl, several side-kicks and good friends, a little kid who grows up and marries an Indian. There is a great land rush, the growth of the Oklahoma territory, discovery of oil—a great many things. However, the hero—and this is author Edna Ferber's fault—has incurable wanderlust, and takes off for varying periods, leaving wife, little kid, and crusty sidekicks to run his newspaper. The first jaunt lasts five years, takes ning whe, little kid, and crusty spackicks to run his newspaper. The first jaunt lasts five years, takes him to another land rush, Alaska, and the Spanish American War. The second and last takes him to various and unknown places for eleven years, and he lands—at the age of at least fifty-five fighting for the British in World War I, and gets killed. Noble wife carries on.

I have missed something, but said hero's wander-lust is never explained, and I found myself wonder-ing all through the movie, when I should have been concentrating on other things, just why it was he behaved like that.

You must admit that spoils "Cimarron's" claim be an example of the art of the Western; what Western worth its salt has a hero whose motives aren't plainly visible on his manly brow from the very first shot of him and his horse?

Letters To The Editor

I do not know your aim in printing your opinion of the John Birch Society. To me it is fairly obvious that you have been sucked up by the Communist line of thought. That is your free choice.

Today and in the future we need some one to shock us out of the pit we have fallen into. It is very evident that we are falling behind every day and opening this country to Communistic infiltration. A person like Robert Welch and many others like him are needed to do this shocking.

He has been very successful in finding and publishing part of the vast Soviet espionage in this country and abroad. He has been so successful in fact, that Communists are actually worried. The current attack on the John Birch Society and Robert Welch is inspired by the Communist Party. They are using their vast resources to stimulate public opinion and encourage a congressional investigation. By using our own Senate they hope to rid the country of this truly American society. Think twice, Paul, just who are you working for?

Carl M. Hanson '63

CLUB DIRECTORY

V

ACCOUNTING ASSOCIATION Meeting Mon., April 17, at 6:4 p.m. in the Middlesex Room of the S.U. John W. Anderson will speak on "The Accounting Department Curriculum and Careers in Accounting." All Business School students welcome. Sophomore accounting majors urged to attend,
AIR CADET SQUADRON
There will be a meeting of the
Air Cadet Squadron Thurs.
April 20, at 7 p.m. in the Public Health Auditorium, There will be a lecture "The History of Air Power" plus movies and

of Air Power" plus movies and

ARMENIAN CLUB

Business meeting Tues., April 18, at 6:30 p.m. in the Hamp-den Room of the S.U., followed by an informal dance at Skinner Auditorium.
CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Saint Paul's College Choir will present a concert at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 19, 1961 in the S.U. Ballroom. Admission

ECONOMIC ASSOCIATION

Meeting Tues. evening, April 18, in the Plymouth Room of the S.U. Assoc. Prof. Paul J. Meier will speak on "Economic Problems in Yugoslavia." Meier's personal experiences will make this subject interest-ing. All interested are wel-

HAYMAKERS SQUARE DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, ing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in the S.U.

J L V

HORSE CLUB

Important meeting of the Harse Club Weds., April 19 at 3:30 p.m. in Grinnell Arena. MATH CLUB

The Math Club presents Mr. Schoeffler of the Economics Department in a talk on "Math Applied to Decision Making in Business" in the Middlesex Room of the S.U. Mon., April 17, at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

OUTING CLUB

Meeting Tues., April 18, at 8 p.m. in the Middlesex Room of the S.U. Plans will be made for the remainder of the se-

ROISTER DOISTERS

Wanted: 20 men to play walk-on parts in RDs' spring pro-duction of "R.U.R." Interested persons contact Mr. Peirce in the Speech office, Bartlett.

SENIOR CLASS

Meeting Thurs., April 20, at 11 a.m. in the S.U. Ballroom. WOMEN'S SERVICE

ORGANIZATION

There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Women's Service Organization on Monday, April 17 at 6:30 p.m. in the Hampden room of

ZOOLOGY CLUB

Meeting Tues., April 18, at 7:30 p.m. in Morrill 138. Open

English Lecture Tues. On 'Motives Of Raskolnikov'

A major American commenta-tor on Russian literature will speak on Dostoevsky's great nov-el "Crime and Punishment" in a cture to be given this week at

Prof. Rufus W. Mathewson, Jr., a member of the Department of Russian Language and Literature at Columbia University, will give a talk on "Raskolnikov's Motives" at 7:30 p.m. in the S.U. Ballroom on Tuesday, April 18. All interested persons are invited to attend. There will be no admission charge. admission charge.

Sponsored by the lecture committee of the UMass English department, the talk will center on the complex impulses which drive Dostoevsky's protagonist to acts

Prof. Mathewson is well-known for his book "The Positive Hero in Russian Literature," published in 1958 by Columbia University Press. The Volume won for its author the Clarke F, Ansley Award shortly after publication.

The lecture is one in a continuing series conducted by the English department at UMass. All are open to the public.

house plans. Committee chairmen urged to attend. All are

Low-Cost Trip Offered

The Civil Aeronautics Board advisory staff last week approved for the first time a European flight open to the faculty, students, and their families of the four colleges. The flight, sponsored by the International Relations Organization at Amherst, will leave New York for Paris on June 22 and will return from Paris on September 6. turn from Paris on September 6.
The pro-rata cost of the flight will be $300 per round-trip.
The CAB decision established a precedent for the four colleges, since never before has the CAB permitted a flight to be chartered by more than one college.

The Board finally consented to allow the flight because of the unusually high degree of co-operative activity among the four colleges, including course-work, the use of libraries, and recrea-

The Board's approval was the consequence of a persistent letter-writing campaign by four Amherst College seniors, Jeff Gordon, Al Greenbaum, Art Landy, and Mark Stiglitz. Mark Stiglitz, past president of the Amherst IRO, commented, "We are very happy that we can now provide to the faculty and students of the four colleges a long-needed service, offering low-cost, quick transportation to those who plan to spend the summer in quick transportation to those who plan to spend the summer in Europe."

To reserve a seat on the plane it is necessary to make a $50 deposit, payable to "IRO Flight." For further information contact Gordon at Alpha Delta Phi, AL 3-9104, Greenbaum at Beta, AL 3-9250, or Stiglitz, James Hall, AL 3-2561, ext. 264.

New Group To Discuss Discrimination In Amherst

An independent group of in-dividual students will discuss the possibility of discrimination in Amherst, Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. in the Franklin Room of the S.U.

The students, who have been doing research on their own, will meet to share the results of the study. They will attempt to determine the extent of the prob-lem, and to plan some line of ac-

According to a release received from the group: "This is a specific instance of one of the major social issues of our time and we extend a most cordial invitation to all faculty and students to at-tend this meeting, whether to better inform themselves concerning the problem, or to be-come actively engaged in trying to resolve it."

The group cited a study conducted at Boston University by student members of Epic (Effective Public Integration Committee) which disclosed discrimination by some landlords who were on the official Boston University busing list. housing list.

LOST & FOUND

Found: A watch near Kappa Sigma Owner can pick it up up-on identification by seeing John G. Young, 322 Wheeler House.

Lost: Class of 1961 (U. of M.) Ring. Contact Richard L. Dill, 168 Hills South. Reward.

Found: Class Ring—Roslindale High School, 1960. Owner can have it by contacting Leo Bliz-niac, Gen. Maintenance Bldg.

niac, Gen. Maintenance Biug. 4:30-5:00 p.m. Lost: April 10, in front of Goodell; English bicycle, Robin Hood sports model, black. Call Arthur Clark, 451 Ven Meter. Reward.

Lost: Blue Air Force raincoat, about noon Sunday; pipe and to-bacco in pocket. I have yours. Contact Leo Colbert, 324 Butter-

LIBRARY HOURS

SINGER Offers mmer Employment with Career Opportunity

sonal interview, write, state and location of college, are employment, course or may ear of graduation, to:
SEWING MACHINE CO.
Singer Building
dway, New York 6, N.Y.

It's what's up front that counts Up front is FILTER-BLEND and only Winston has it! FOR FINER FLAVOR Rich, golden tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for full flavor in filter smoking. WINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

UMass Sparkles On Diamond, Dusts Off Cadets 3-1

Wennik's 3-Hitter And Foley's Slugging Ruins Coast Guard

by BEN GORDON '62, Sports Editor

A three hit pitching performance by southpaw Paul Wennik and the slugging of Paul Foley led the Redmen baseball squad to a 3-1 victory over the Cadets from Coast Guard Saturday, at Alumni Field.

It looked at first as if the large rowd was in for a long pitchers' uel, both hurlers showing good stuff through the first three innings. But senior Paul Foley, lead-edeledelede.

EVERY COLLEGE STUDENT needs this book

to increase his ability to learn

An understanding of the truth contained in Science and Health with Key to the Scrip-tures by Mary Baker Eddy can remove the pressure which concerns today's college student upon whom increasing de-mands are being made for academic excellence.

Christian Science calms fear and gives to the student the full assurance he needs in order to learn easily and to evaluate what he has learned. It teaches that God is man's Mind-his only Mind-from which emanates all the intelligence he needs, when and as he needs it.

Science and Health, the text-book of Christian Science, may be read or examined, together with the Bible, in an atmos-phere of quiet and peace, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Information about Science and Health may also be obtained on campus through the

Christian Science Organization at

UNIV. OF MASS. Meeting Time WED., 6:30 P.M. Meeting Place OLD CHAPEL

Deceleration

ing off the bottom of the fourth the Lordens, smashed a double to left field. Foley then took off for third on a wild pitch and headed home when Dave Kru-konis slammed a single between third and short. Krukonis went to second on a throwing error, but Dan White, the Cadet hurler, stymied Ed Forbush and Bob Roland to retire the side.

The Coast Guard squad came back in the sixth to knot the score. Hyde, the first batter for the visitors, sliced a long triple to right center. Pitcher White reached first base on a poor throw by Wennik, Hyde holding Women!

Bob Marston Ray Creek

located in the University Store.

LOTION

For Sports Clothing at the HOUSE of WALSH, Amherst

STARTING APRIL 10

For 4 Consecutive Weeks

1st Prize-$35 Gift Certificate

2nd Prize—$20 Gift Certificate Congratulations to Last Week's Winners

1. Contest open to all registered students at the University.

2. Ballots will be any empty package or reasonable facsimile of Marlboro, Alpine, Parliament or Philip Morris.

3. Write name and school address on entry and deposit in box

4. Drawings will be held each of the following Fridays at 3:00 P.M. April 21, 28 and May 5.

1st Prize

2nd Prize

at third. A walk to the Coast Guard lead off man loaded the bases. Tension eased as Wennik ger looped a soft liner over shortstop Pisiewski's outstretched glove to bring in the sole Coast Guard tally. Wennik settled down to strike out the next two men, and didn't give up a hit after

A Redmen scoring threat in the seventh didn't pan out, but the team made up for it in the next stanza. Fran Pisiewski led off the inning, reaching first when the first baseman dropped a low throw. After Bill DelVecchio sacrificed Pisiewski to second Foley, representing the lone UMass ru stepped to the plate, and blasted the third pitch over the centerfielder's head. When the dust had settled both Pisiewski and Foley were across the plate. Redmen three, Coast Guard one. The Cadets never had a chance to come back, being put down one, two, three in the ninth.

Men!

PAUL FOLEY

POP UPS

Of the six Redmen hits, Foley and Krukonis had two apiece, Fran Pisiewski and Bobo Roland collecting the others . . . Roland looked sharp in center, holding a fourth inning CG smash to two bases; a triple might have been trouble later . . . Paul Wennik had control and speed on the mound, fanning eight men . . . The Alumni Field backstop will never he the same after the best. never be the same after the beat-ing it took when catcher Dave Krukonis slammed into it going for a pop foul . . . Redmen hoop whiz Doug Grutchfield was at the game, pointing out the highlights to his two year old son . . . CG's White was previously undefeated.

UMASS Williams, 3b ...

Pisiewski, ss4	1	1	0
DelVecchio, rf	0	0	0
Foley, If	2	2
Schmoyer, 2b	ō	ō	2
Krubonis, c 4	ő	2	1
Forbush, 1b 3	0	2	ó
Roland, cf 2	ő	1	0
Wennik, p 3	ő	1	0
, o	U	U	U
Total 32	3	6	3
COAST GUARD ab
	r	h .	rbi
	0	1	0
	0	0	0
Hillger, cf 4	0	1	1
O'Donovan, 1b 4	0	0	0
Burgian, c 4	0	0	0
McCann, rf 3	0	0	0
Maka, If 3	0	o	o
Hyde, 2b	ĭ	1	ő
White, p	ń		0
1 D	0	U	0
Total 31
	1	3	1
	100
Coast Guard 000	001	000	-1
Wennik (W) 2-1

Varsity Netmen Open Season By Blanking New Londoners

by AL BERMAN '62

The varsity tennis squad started off the 1961 season on the right foot Saturday by soundly defeating the netmen from the Coast Guard, 9-0. The win was the twenty-second straight in reg-ular match competition for the UMass squad.

The Redmen didn't lose a single point in the match as returnees John Thomas, Ted Rubin, Bill Thompson and Ernie Howarth, and newcomers Paul Edelstein and Everett Sherman swept the singles matches easily.

In the doubles competition Sid Poritz paired with Tom Simons, razor nicks, helps keep your skin

SHULTON New York . Toronto

1.00 plus ton

Thomas played with Rubin, and Edelstein combined with Sam Levy to ward off the New London

The fine showing of the UMass squad displayed the great depth in playing ability of the team. Coach Steve Kosakowski was particularly in the coach steve for the coach ticularly impressed with showing of the sophomores.

The Redmen tennis squad takes on Brandeis today on the UMass

The results:

1. Thomas (UM) defeated Potent (CG), 6-0, 6-1,

1. Rubin (UM) defeated Robinson (CG), 6-0, 6-1,

2. Rubin (UM) defeated Shrum (CG), 6-0, 6-2, 6-2,

3. Howarth (UM) defeated Hsu (CG), 6-2, 6-2,

5. Edelatein (UM) defeated Heming (CG), 7-5, 6-0,

6. Sherman (UM) defeated Spence (CG), 6-4 $1.00 GHz

1. Poritz and Simona (UM) defeated Robinson and Hsu (CG), 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 8-2, and Rubin (UM) defeated

Don't Be Left Out: Learn To Cast Fast

The 15th Annual Eastern Intercollegiate Fly and Bait Casting Tourney will be held on the campus May 13th and 14th.

Practice and instruction will begin following the organizational meeting Wednesday, April 19 at 7 p.m. in the Curry S. Hicks' 7 p.m. i Building.

All interested students, regardless of competitive experience, are invited to attend.

Drawing Card

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)

-Michigan State's 1960 football team drew an average of 69,151 fans to establish an all-time
MSU attendance record.

LACROSSE CANCELLED

The Varsity Lacrosse match scheduled at Worcester against Holy Cross Saturday was post-poned due to the condition of the playing field.

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

CAMPUS

LABOR MARKET

(See page 2)

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 19, 1961

Lederle Gives Views About Peace Corps

by ERNESTINE LEMOYNE '64, Collegian Staff Reporter
President Lederle has stated college or university, and all his views on the estiblashment of volunteers for it would be ch

the Peace Corps. He believes that on the basis of the plans made for it thus far, it has much to offer. He stated, "it adds a new dimension to our foreign policy by bringing youth into the picture"

He compared it to the Civilian Conservation Corps and the Na-tional Youth Administration es-tablished after the depression in this country.

Among the first projects of the new Kennedy administration has been the intention of establishing a Peace Corps. The essential idea of this Peace Corps is the placeof Americans in actual ment of Americans in actual operational work in presently developing areas of the world. These workers would be chosen on a voluntary basis and would be given just enough to provide a minimum decent standard of living.

Many of these volunteers will be chosen from among young col-lege graduates. The usual length of service would probably be two years, with perhaps three year terms in some cases.

Offers Suggestions Lederle also stated that there were two ways the selection of volunteers of college age could college age could shed. Either they be accomplished. Either they could be chosen on a national scale or the Peace Corps might make a contract with an individual college or university, calling for a certain project to be car-ried out in one country by that college or university, and all the volunteers for it would be chosen

As a final word he said there would be much the worker would have to adjust himself to, such as new diseases, climates, and different living conditions. But if these adjustments were made his work aborad would have much to offer in personal satisfaction.
What is the Peace Corps Looking for in a Volunteer?

A specific "needed skill" is the first requirement. The Peace Corps was established to respond Corps was established to respond to requests from host nations.

The range of needed skills is great. Most nations requesting Volunteers will be industrially less developed than the U.S.A. They will want engineers, technicans, teachers, craftsmen and administrators administrators.
Other countries will seek to improve their agricultural sys-tem, creating a need for farmers who understand the land and the use of modern implements and for agricultural specialists with college degrees.

Government and political science majors may be in demand by a newly formed nation anx-ious to establish an effective administration administration.

Teachers will also be needed, especially in South Asia, Latin America and Africa.

Second, the Volunteer must understand that he is not trying to remake the world in our image. He must sincerely appreciate the values, mores and traditions of the society in which he works.

Inauguration Ceremonies Are Scheduled For This Saturday

Third, the Volunteer must be "adaptable" enough to undertake a difficult and sometimes frus-trating assignment. A Volun-teer's individual contribution will be small and may go unappre-ciated or unrecognized. Inner-stamina and security are essen-tials if frustration and disillu-sionment are to be avoided. The Volunteer must not go abroad seeking to solve personal prob-lems he cannot solve at home. Fourth, the Volunteer should appreciate that the Peace Corps is a "two way street," that the Volunteer will learn as much as he teaches. His own horizons will expanded and broadened while works in harmony with his nation counterpart.

Fifth, the Volunteer must understand the strengths of democracy and how our system func-tions. He must be able to answer both the questions put to him by the sincere doubter and the professional agitator.

Sixth, the Volunteer must have a grasp of the host nation's lana grasp of the host nation's language. Intensive language training will be part of the Peace Corps training program.

Seventh, the Volunteer must be in excellent physical condition. Living for two or three years in an underdeveloped rural tropical condition will require Volunteers to be in tiptop physical shape. Eighth, the Volunteer must understand what he is doing and (Continued on page 4) SWAP Deadline

Are you going to SWAP, or is your organization sending a delegate?

Nearing

The SWAP Committee is now The SWAP Committee is now making final plans for the conference to be held May 12, 13, 14 at the Oak 'n Spruce in South Lee. The cost is still only $22 per delegate, and all campus groups are invited to send representa-

Many organizations have made Many organizations have made plans to send delegates, but have not sent in either the application, the delegate's name, or the money. Linda Achenbach, chairman, asks that all such groups contact her in Johnson or the Senate Office, or see one of the other Committee members as soon as possible. Without this vital information, the workshops can not formation, the workshops can not be planned properly. There is a limit on the number attending, so send in your application today.

NOTICE
The Collegian is in need of a full-time, non-student secretary for the 1961-62 academic year. The pay scale is well above aver-

Those interested in the posi-Inose interested in the posi-tion should contact the present secretary, Mrs. Roland, any day in the Collegian office. All applications must be sub-mitted by no later than 2:00 p.m. Monday, April 24, in order to be considered.

Lederle Fifteenth UMass President To Take Office day (April 22) of Dr. John W. Lederle as fifteenth President of

The day's program will begin with registration of delegates from 10 a.m. to noon in the S.U. The Inaugural Luncheon honoring Dr. and Mrs. Lederle will be held in the S.U. Ballroom, beginning at 12:15 p.m. After the invocation by Dr. Louis Ruchames, chaplain to Jewish students at chaplain to Jewish students at UMass, four speakers will present brief greetings to the new president. These include Gov. John A. Volpe, representing the Commonwealth; Maxwell H. Commonwealth; Maxwell H. Goldberg, Commonwealth Professor of the Humanities at U-Mass, representing the faculty; Dennis J. Twohig, president of the Student Senate, speaking for the students; and Richard J. Davis, president of the Associate Alumni, representing UMass Alumni, representing UMass

Delegates from 200 educational institutions and organizations will march in the academic procession which will precede the installation ceremonies to be held at 3:15 p.m. in the gymnasium of the Women's Physical Education

Impressive ceremonies will Building on campus. Dr. Lederle will be escorted to the platform by (April 22) of Dr. John W. by the UMass's trustees. Presid-will be escorted to the platform by the UMass's trustees. Presiding over the inaugural exercises will be Dr. Frank L. Boyden, chairman of the trustees.

Gov. John A. Volpe will perform the investiture ceremony, during which the new president will formally assume the responsibilities of office. Main speaker will be Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, who will give an address entitled "An Eastern Land-Grant University—Second Century—New Leadership." The traditional presidential address will be given by Dr. Lederle.

The Most Reverend Christopher J. Weldon, Bishop of the Diocese of Springfield, will give the invocation. The benediction will be pronounced by the Rev-the invocation. The benediction will be pronounced by the Rev-erend Dr. Roy Pearson, Dean of Andover-Newton Theological School and President of Andover Theological Seminary.

Inaugural activities will con clude with a reception for Dr. and Mrs. Lederle in the Student Union Ballroom shortly after the clude installation exercises.

The student body is cordially invited to attend the inaugura-

New Folk Group To Appear With Bob Newhart Saturday

The Chad Mitchell Trio is shown rehearsing for their appeare with Bob Newhart at John M. Greene Hall, Smith College, on April 22.

The Chad Mitchell Trio, a new

The Chad Mitchell Trio, a new folk singing group, will appear as the additional attraction with comic Bob Newhart, the man with the "button-down mind", at John M. Greene Hall in Northampton on Saturday, April 22.

The success story of the Chad Mitchell Trio is phenomenal. They drove from Gonzaga University in Spokane, Washington across country to an engagement in Greenwich Village. By the next day they had acquired a manager, who brought them to Colpix records. After their audition, the boys were signed on the tion, the boys were signed on the spot.

A few days later, they auditioned for the Blue Angel night-club, and became the headline attraction only two weeks after their opening there. The next week the Trio were special guests for Pat Boone's TV Show, and were signed for several weeks by Arthur Godfrey for his daily ra-

Since this auspicious beginning, the Trio has gained a na-tionwide fame through a tour with Harry Belafonte and television shows. They are featured on the album, "Harry Belafonte Re-turns to Carnegie Hall," and on their own solo album, "The Chad Mitchell Trio Arrives."

Pan-Hellenic Officers Are Announced For Next Year

New Pan-Hell officers are: left to right, Linda Griffin, Pres. Linda Lederman, Sec.; Jan Joseph, Treas, Absent is Ann Podgorski, Vice Pres.

Recently, the Panhellenic Council held elections for officers for the term of March 1961 to March 1962.

Linda Griffin of Pi Beta Phi was elected president, and Ann Podgorski of Sigma Kappa was elected Vice President. As Secretary, the council elected Linda Lederman and as Treasurer Jan Joseph. Both girls are members of Sigma Delta Tau. Carolyn Zoia of Phi Delta Nu and Janet Zoia of Phi Delta Nu and Janet Souza of Chi Omega were elected as Co-Rush Chairmen. On Monday, April 17, the council held its annual Installation Banquet. The new officers were installed and speeches concerning Pan Hel's past and future activities were given.

Plans are now being formulated for the Panhellic Workshop, to be held on April 24 under the co-chairmanship of Carolyn Zoia and Bev DeMarco. The central theme this year will be ral theme this year will be Sorority Introspection with emphasis on the impact of sororities on campus. The main speaker will be Dr. William Field after which representatives from each house will meet in discussion

The Minority Slaves But Majority Will Pay

At the time when the Ya-Hoo crisis arrived before the Senate several weeks ago, a Collegian editorial and Senator Twohig made mention of the fact that this magazine, representing $3900 in student taxes, had let the reins of control fall into the hands of a minority consisting of three peo-ple. One of the significant features which arose from the magazine probings was that one could clearly see in Ya-Hoo a crisis faced by almost all our major campus organizations—a majority of the work is being done by the minority.

Just look into the offices of our major organizations—Index, WMUA, Roister Doisters, and the Student Senate—and chances are that you will see the same few faces in those rooms day in and day out. The Index, which handles approximately $25,000, is put into our laps at year's end through the efforts of practically three people. While there are more than these few working for the organization, the division of labor is very low. And those beautiful sets in Roister Doister productions are painted and banged together by just a few students who work almost 70 hours in one week while cutting most of their classes for the duration.

The major organizations by which our campus expresses itself are the Collegian, the Student Senate, and WMUA. In past years, the Collegian was the one organ which suffered most severely from the labor disease. Today its staff of writers and reporters is such that no student must put in 50 or 70 hours a week on the paper. But before the Collegian could cure itself the diswas passed on to our other two main outlets of student opinion. Presently, a dozen or so individuals put bills through the Senate and another dozen put WMUA on the air seven days a week. The principal danger in this disease within these particular organizations is that soon, like Ya-Hoo, the voice of the students soon becomes the voice of a few individuals, through no fault of the

It is quite obvious, then, that with this labor-disease enveloping our campus, it would be easy for: an entire organization to fall apart should one or two of its principal members quit; and a voice of the majority to soon fade to the voice of the minority.

The Actor

From his high school yearbook "His record was one of excellence, he was a true athlete, always defending with bravery and pride the flag of the school. He has shown how to win the admiration and the affection of all. He has good timber and the actor in him will not be lacking."

They gave out the highest awards given to actors and actresses the other night but the above described figure was not there. Still, he was the center of attraction . . . this time as the man 5,000 men came to fight. he man is Fidel Castro. The yearbook pegged him correctly as an actor . . . but the labels of "admiration and affection" were

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief

Allan Berman
Editorial Editor B
James J. Trelease '63 H News Editor: Assignments
Joseph Bradley '64 orts Editor

Business Manager Howard Frisch '62 News Editor: Make-Up Beth Peterson '63 Photography Editor
Lawrence Popple '63

ntered as second class matter at the post office at Am-, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic except during vacation and examination periods; twice a the week following a vacation or examination period, or a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing r the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended the act of June 11, 1984.

Contemporary Jazz

The work of art in Zen is pproduced by a "disciplined spontaneity." Without going into the nature of Zen, let me just say that contradictions and paradoxes are central . . . in a peripheral sort of way. The Zen artist moves his hands without stopping to deliberate his next move or make changes. It is necessary to keep moving . . .not randomly, but in the disciplined, yet almost sub-conscious, manner of Zen. The result (which is not planned before-hand) is an unbroken picture with flowing, natural moving lines . . . and is usually fairly simple. This method of painting is very close to one basic aspect of Miles Davis and his group are not Zen masters (to my knowledge)... but pianist Bill Evans points out the similarity of the music to what he calls a "Japanese visual art." Before the recording of the album, "Kind of Blue," Miles wrote five simple sketches which the sextet used as a basis for improvisation. The group had never seen these sketches and the first rendition of each was recorded . . . making it quite close to pure spontaneity.

The five works are best described as maintained levels of emotion . . . almost trance-like, Indeed, I have gone into a sort of trance while listening to this side . . . although many other records will do the same thing. My reaction depends upon the time of day (sundown) and my mood.

There are no definite beginnings or endings . . . the works begin and end only in the sense that a "theme" is stated and the line is begun and broken. All three horns slow down their blowing and always maintain control over every note. Julian Adderly's usually jagged alto sax is lyrical and pensive while playing with Miles, John Col-trane's tenor is so close to the alto in timbre that it is tricky at times to determine just which of the saxes is playing. With the remarkably perfect melodic conception not only a beauty in each solo but a mutual feeling makes each solo the continuation of the preceding. The rhythm section does a quietly brilliant job of sustaining the mood throughout each piece. A good deal of the load was on the bass, piano and drums because they were constantly setting the pe

Despite its association with beatniks (whatever they are), "Kind of Blue" is not a far-out album. I have found this Miles Davis album to appeal to a wide variety of people. The manager of the Quill Bookshop told me that it always has been selling well. It is an album that is universal, in that its sustained emotions can range from sadness to elation—depending on the listener. It makes me lyrically and obliviously happy while others become blue. I can ony speculate as to what each of the men were thinking as they played . . . but have six musicians thought so much alike and sustained an have six musicians thought so

Goals For Americans

'The "Negro problem" is the most conspicuous area for drama The "Negro problem" is the most conspicuous area for gramatic new advance. Problems in race relations are not unique to the contacts of Negroes and whites. From time immemorial "stranger" was equivalent to "enemy". Tensions have always been more difficult to eliminate when physical differences accentuated the distinction. It is one of the triumphs of civilization when that ancient prejudice is erased. That it is possible to overcome prejudice is plain upon the record. Hawain offers a conspicuous American ayamular, people of record. Hawain offers a conspicuous American example; people of many tinctures of skin, backgrounds of history, and varieties of culture dwell together in peace.

The key is in the Declaration of Independence. If, in the poet Frost's quotation, "it simply isn't true," no solution is possible. If on the other hand, we accept as fact that all men are created equal . . . race relationships can become constructive.

The first unalienable right is the right to life. A truncated life will not suffice; men are entitled to life in all its fullness—length, breadth, depth. Yet, a Negro life expectancy, at birth, is about 7.5 years less than for a white man. At age 25 the life expectancy of a Negro is still about 5.8 years less than for whites. This startling discrepancy . . . is largely due to inferior education. Those deficiencies are the direct consequence of curtailment of "unalienable" rights. Life is too sweet to be thus shortened by design, even the design of negligence.'

-from GOALS FOR AMERICANS in S.U. bookstore

Erich Fromm And Love

"When we teach knowledge, we are losing that teaching which is the most important one for human development: the teaching which can only be given by the simple presence of a mature, loving person. In previous epochs of our own culture, or in China and India, the man most highly valued was the person with outstanding spiritual qualities. Even the teacher was not only, or even primarily, a source of information, but his function was to convey certain human attitudes. In contemporary capitalistic society-and the same holds true for Russian communism-the men suggested for admiration and emulation are everything but bearers of significant spiritual qualities If we should not succeed in keeping alive a vision of mature life, then indeed we are confronted with the probability that our whole cultural tradition will break down. This tradition is not primarily based on the transmission of certain kinds of knowledge, but on certain kinds of human traits. If the coming generations will not see these traits anymore, a five-thousand year old culture will break down, even if its knowledge is transmitted and further developed."

-Erich Fromm, THE ART OF LOVING

LETTERS

Twohig Challenged

To the Editor:

The function of presiding at meetings which is implicit in the office of president of any organiza-tion, is most important in the Student Senate. And yet, during the past year, Dennis Twohig, president of the Student Senate, has come onto the floor to speak on many occasions, turning the chair over to the vice president, treasurer or secretary.

By doing so, Mr. Twohig is robbing the Senate

By doing so, Mr. Twohig is robbing the Senate of the competent chairmanship which it has a right to expect, and which he accepted responsibility for by accepting the office. It is simply not the duty of the other officers to know parliamentary procedure as thoroughly as is needed, for the simple reason that they have other duties, inherent in their cofficers to preferry they competence between the contract presembly he ask offices, to perform; they cannot reasonably be asked to spend extra time performing Mr. Twohig's

In the second place, Mr. Twohig, whenever he caks, speaks with the authority of his office—ether he so intends it or not. Many members of the Student Senate are thereby influenced greatly by what he says. Since the Senate often does not receive its agenda until the meeting (which is contrary to its bylaws) only the Executive Committee of which Mr. Twohig is chairman, is familiar with the bills to be presented in advance. Therefore, the opportunity for investigation of motions before the meeting is limited. The implication of Mr. Twohig's frequent speeches is that the Senate is not capable of handling its business without his guidance.

No one is questioning Mr. Twohig's right to be heard in the Senate. But past presidents of this body have been able to get their opinions known without continually speaking on the floor.

If Mr. Twohig wishes to remain as president of the Senate, he should remain in the president's place in the chair.

place-in the chair.

by Pat Ward '61

John Birch Challenged

John Birch Challenged
To Mr. Carl M. Hanson '63:
Upon reading your letter I was, to be perfectly frank, shocked. You make the implication that: 1) the Collegian has been "sucked up" by the Communist line of thought, and 2) that the attack in the Senate upon the John Birch Society is Communist inspired. Unfortunately, it would seem that your inspired. Unfortunately, it would seem that your statements are a little off base.

In opposing the Society one exercises one of his fundamental rights—that of free speech. To label one who opposes it as a Communist, as the House Un-American Activities Committee has been known Un-American Activities Committee has been known to do, is an attempt to intimidate that person into silence. In doing this you take away his right of free speech. This action lowers you to the level of those Communists who would do the same, or perhaps an even lower level, as you are a "patriotic" American. This, sir, seems what you are trying to accomplish Unfortunately (for you) this will not accomplish. Unfortunately, (for you) this will not

The action in the Senate against the John Birch Society is, I feel, a laudable one. The move was not prompted by Communists, but by those who know what the Society stands for. For, although having a commendable objective, the means proposed are far from commendable. They do not take into consideration the fact that this is a democratic country protected by a constitution. Or perhaps the Society has a solution for this also. Just remember, all who would support this Society: when you infringe upon the rights of citizens (as John Birch proposes to do) you aid, rather than stifle, those you oppose. The action in the Senate against the John Birch

Elwin C. McNamara '64

Campaign Issue

It has come to the attention of the elections committee that several people have been tearing down signs of one candidate to put up those of an-

In accordance with the provisions of the elec-tion rules act, candidates who campaign in this manner can be disqualified and students not running can be brought before the respective judiciary.

Even setting aside the possibility of repercussions, any normal person would, doubtless, insure against this sort of thing if he had any confidence at all in the ability of his qualifications to draw

We most respectfully ask the campaigners to try to avoid that ..type of campaigning which is generally considered unethical.

Vin Della Penna '64 Chairman-Elections Committee

Literary Magazine

The creative works of University students are now being accepted for consideration in the third issue of the Literary Magazine. While the staff looks forward to contributions of short stories, poetry, and experimental writings, they especially encourage submission of essays and critical writigns. Work must be submitted to a member of the staff or left in the LM basket in the Collegian office by this Saturday, April 22.

CLUB DIRECTORY

AIR CADET SQUADRON

There will be a meeting of the Air Cadet Squadron Thurs. April 20, at 7 p.m. in the Public Health Auditorium, There will be a lecture "The History of Air Power" plus movies and refereshments.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB Meeting Wed., Apr. 19, at 7 p.m. in Gunness Lab.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION Saint Paul's College Choir will present a concert at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 19, 1961 in the S.U. Ballroom. Admission

COMMUTERS CLUB

Meeting Thurs., Apr. 20, at 11 a.m. in the Nantucket Rm., S.U. Election of next year's officers. Plans will be made for spring picnic and hayride. commuters welcome.

DEMOLAY Meeting Wed., Apr. 19, at 7 p.m. in the Masonic Lodge.
AYMAKERS SQUARE

DANCE CLUB

Presenting square dancing, folk dancing and couple dancing, with instructions, each Wednesday night at 7 p.m. in

FELLOWSHIP

Bible study on John 5 to be held Friday, April 21, in the Plymouth Room at 7:00 p.m.

LITERARY MAGAZINE

Meeting Wed., Apr. 19, at 7 p.m. in the Plymouth Rm., S.U.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

Meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Bartlett Rm. 61, Dr. Budoff will discuss retarded children. Refreshments will be served.

ROISTER DOISTERS

Wanted: 20 men to play walk-on parts in RD's spring pro-duction of "R.U.R." Interested persons contact Mr. Peirce in the Speech office, Bartlett.

SENIOR CLASS

Meeting Thurs., April 20, at 11 a.m. in the S.U. Ballroom.

WOMENS' SERVICE ORGAN-IZATION

Meeting Mon., Apr. 24. This will be a larger meeting with guest speaker and refresh-ments to introduce this group to the campus community. campus women invited. R and time to be announced. Room

Amherst Women To Conduct Used Book And Music Sale

Annually in May, a booksale is held on the Amherst Town Common by the League of Women Voters. This year the sale of used books will be conducted Friday, May 12 and Saturday, May Tribuse Saturday, pay for voters' service projects, information services during campaigns, and other of the organization's enterprises.

On May 12, the sale will be

On sale are all kinds of books and paperbacks, sorted into categories such as historical, science, music, and fiction. Sheet music, records, and National Geographic magazines will also be avail-

The proceeds from this book-

Carbon Paper Typing Paper Typewriter Ribbons

A. J. HASTINGS Inc.

Amherst, Mass Newsdealer & Stationer

terprises.

On May 12, the sale will be held from 8:30 a.m. to dusk, and on May 13, 8:30 a.m. to noon.

Anyone wishing to donate used may leave them at the Gulf Service Station next to the Fire House, or arrange to have them picked up by calling Mrs. Warren Teichner, AL 3-2686, or Mrs. Loren Beth, AL 3-2021. Contributions will be welcomed.

H.E.R.Dance To Feature Tony Ravoso

H.E.R. Weekend will start Friday night with a dance whose theme is "Diabolique". It will be held in the S.U. Ballroom from 8 to 11:30 and features Tony Ravoso's Band and the Statesmen.

During the evening the "Devil of H.E.R. Weekend" will be crowned. The finalists are: Charlie Curtis, Fran Lovejoy, Eddie Cass, Jerry O'Connell, and Sam Lussier.

Saturday night several On Saturday night several sororities will be giving parties. Chi O's theme is "Coco Chi O"; PDN's is "South Pacific". Alpha Chi will give a "Hobo Party"; KAT, a "Hawaiian Party". Both SK and Pi Phi intend to have picnics Saturday afternoon. Many picnics Saturday afternoon. Many of the women's dorms are also planning parties or open houses.

LOST & FOUND

Found: 2 Notebooks-Ecor ics 25 and English. Also Math I or IV Text in 109 Bartlett, May claim at the S.U. Lobby.

Found: KKG pledge pin. Claim at the Collegian Office.

Lost: A Brown raincoat taken by mistake at a meeting of American Institute of Industrial Engineers at the Springfield Armory Officers Club on Wednesday, April 12. I have yours. Contact Bob Trudeau, 204 Van Meter, any evening.

Lost: Holyoke High School ring, Class of '60, in vicinity of Feed, Fertilizer building. Also: White blazer near Chem. Lab. I have yours. Contact Babs Barys

WRITE-IN BOBBIE HAN

COPYRIGHT © 1961, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY, COCA-COLA AND COKE ARE REGISTERED TRADEMARKS

Candidate for Secretary '63

GREAT BETWEEN COURSES! Get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Bottleo under authority of The Coca-Cola Company b

Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Northampton, Northampton, Mass.

Male Dorm Residents Will Reserve Next Year's Room

Men's dormitory residents who have not reserved a room for next year may do so at the Housing Office in the basement of Draper Hall beginning at 8:30 a.m. each morning on the following schedule:

Class of '62-April 25, 26, Residents of Adams

May 2, Class of '63—May 4, 5. Class of '64-'65—May 9, 10.

Due to the prospective short-age of dorm, space for the com-ing year, men who prefer to do so may choose their own room-mates in triple rooms; otherwise it may be necessary to assign a third man in certain dorms. In many cases this will be a temporary measure with the third man moved out of those rooms whose occupants did not elect to triple as soon as vacancies occur. Rooms tripled after November 1. will carry a 20% rent reduction per occupant

Plymouth House will be available on a first come basis with rooms to be reserved only as doubles at a 20% rent reduction. Adams House will not be avail-

Present undergraduate residents who do not plan to occupy a dorm room next fall are to notify their Head of Residence

Seniors To Make Decision On Class Gift Tomorrow

A Senior Class meeting will be held tomorrow, Thursday, April 20 at 11:00 in the S.U. Ballroom.

Among the items of business there will be pertinent information concerning the Senior Din-ner-Dance, the Senior Picnic, Class Night, and Commencement. There will also be a final vote on the class gift. After a thorough screening, the Executive Committee has narrowed the suggestions to: (1) funds for an information center which would be located at the entrance of U-Mass, and (2) funds for an electrical system which would automatically play the Old Chapel bells.

Phi Kappa Phi Announces Selection Of New Members

Phi Kappa Phi, a scholastic Evelyn Aliferis honor society, held spring elec-tions on March 22. Its purpose is John G. Young to recognize and encourage stu-dents who have maintained high standards of scholarship and and character. Those elected were:

Seniors:	Major:
Dorothy G. Bailey	Hist.
Judith K. Barney	Educ.
Michael A. Constantini	E.E.
Lawrence J. Dowd	G.B. Fin.
Richard T. Fitzgerald	Acetg.
John J. Hewitt	M.E.
John A. Kane	Govt.
Richard J. Landry	Govt.
Margaret A. Leahy	Math.
Charles P. Marchetti	M.E.
Leo C. Moody	Russian
J. L. Pallazola J	our Engl.
Edmund A. Prych	C.E.
Miriam B. Samuels	French
Mrs. Ann E. Gordetsky	Educ.
Carol B. Sherwood	Nurs.
Dana Paul Smith	German
Sally Ann Tessier	E.E.
Juniors:
Jean Rodgers	Nurs.
Merrilee R. Atkins	Psych.
Martha Crane	Premed.

Donald Goose

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (UPI) -Mrs. George De Wolf's unusual household pet is a 40-year-old goose named Donald.

Many years ago, Mrs. De-Wolf's father accidentally backed over the goose with his automobile. The goose revived and since has been a member of the family

Patricia A. Conway John G. Young H.Ec. Graduate Students: Jean Sue Brubaker Govt. Lewis A. Cowardin David A. Dame Gerry Elder Wildlife Ent. Govt. Samuel Edwin Frv. Jr. Govt. Govt. Math. Andrienne Goggin Alan A. Heisler Barry Hellman Barry Psych. Psych. Dairy Susan Hersch George R. Howe Merrill C. Hoyle Forestry Fred Morrill Hunt Marguerite Kane Gail K. Lambert Psych Psych. Chem. E. Govt. Alan Leiman William Levins
Shelby Faye Lewis
James F. McGuirk, Jr.
Roger F. McIntosh Govt. Math Shuya Noda Paymond E. Reilly Bus, Ad. Psych. Francis L. Sandomierski Ronald Cecil Semone Earl A. Smith Math. Psych. Dept: Jay Trowill Jay Frowill
Faculty Members:
Thomas W. Copeland
James B. Lüdtke
Robert W. Wagner
List of new Officers:
President Philip
Vice-President Class English Bus. Ad.

Philip L. Gamble President
Vice-President
Secretary
Treasurer
Vinip L. Gamble
Clarence Shute
Fred P. Jeffrey
Joseph Langfroy Marshall Robert ...
Journal Correspondent
Frank R. Shaw

Member of Nominating Committee Albert Goss

SAT., APR. 22, 1961 at 8:15 p.m.

JOHN M. GREENE HALL SMITH COLLEGE NORTHAMPTON, MASS.

also america's most exciting folk singers THE CHAD MITCHELL TRIO

$3.75-3.20-2.65

2.10-1.55 -OR AT THE DOOR

TICKETS NOW ON SALE AT THE LORD JEFF MUSIC SHOP Amity Street, Amherst, Mass.

UMass Nine Stuns AIC In Booming 14-3 Triumph

Connolly Hurls 3-Hitter, Fans 18 As Team Collects 18 Hits

Eighteen hits and a brilliant three hit performance by Redmen chucker Ed Connolly paved the way to a 14-3 Umass victory over AIC at the losers' stadium. Mon-

Although the first five UMass Although the first five UMass tallies were unearned, the AIC infielders throwing the ball all around the diamond, no-one could deny that the Redmen had it all over the Aces. Every batter on the Lorden squad with the exception of Bill Delvecchio came through with at least one hit, and that included three subs.

After going down 1-2-3 in the first stanza, the Redmen came back in the second for four big runs. After Corky Schmoyer and Ed Forbush had crossed the plate

Choose just the Jet-smooth

Chevy you want in one stop at your

Chevrolet

dealer's

Here's the choice that makes choosing the new car that's right for you easier than ever. Thirty-one models in all-designed to suit almost any taste, priced whole the word of clery covars, including thrifty sedans and coupes and four wonderful new wagons. Budget-wise Biscaynes—lowest priced full-sized Chevrolets. Beautiful Bel Airs, sumptuous Impalas and America's only true to suit almost any budget. There's whole crew of Chevy Corvairs, including by BEN GORDON '62, Sports Editor on a single and an error Connolly plastered one to right field for a round tripper, bringing in Ro-land ahead of him.

One more tally lit up on the scoreboard in the fourth when catcher Dave Krukonis reached first on an error and was driven home on Bob Roland's second hit and second RBI, a double to left.

But this was child's play to the Redmen, and the hapless AIC squad was to discover this in the sixth frame when five more runs were brought around the base-paths. AIC pitcher John Leith, coming into the game with a win already under his belt gave up seven hits in this inning, including back to back triples by Kru-konis and Ed Forbush. Roland,

Connolly, Pisiewski, Hughes and

Unsatisfied with their per-formance thus far, the Mass nine hit for two more tallies in the seventh on three singles and two walks and after a relatively quiet eighth inning chalked up two more, Pete Larkin and Lou Bush coming off the bench to blast out two singles.

The Aces' only bright spot came in the bottom of the sixth when they hit Connolly for three runs on three hits, the only hits given up by Connolly in the game. Batting around, the AIC team made good on two walks, a hit batsman and an error, Bob St. Armand getting the first hit, followed by a double by Dick

New Chevrolet IMPALA SPORT COUPE

All fire Impala models combine Body by Fisher beauty with a new measure of practicality. Door openings of this Sport Coupe, for instance, are over a half-foot wider this year.

New Chevrolet IMPALA CONVERTIBLE

Here's one wide open for fun and a lot of the fun is in Chevy's Jet-smooth ride. Add Turboglide transmission (extra-cost option) to this or any Chevy V8 for tops in easy going.

New Chevy Corvair 500 LAKEWOOD STATION WAGON

Loads of space inside—and still more in the trunk up front. And with all their wagon-size versatility, these rear-engine Lakewoods handle like a charm.

Connolly's control was not the best, as he gave up eight bases on balls. He loaded the bases in the first inning on three straight walks, but retired the sides when waiss, but retired the sides when he got the next batter to fly out to center. But when his fast one was over the plate, no one could come near it, as is evidenced by his striking out 18 men, includ-ing eight of the last eleven play-ers to face him. ers to face him.
POP UPS

The Redmen hitting performance Monday was the best remembered by Coach Earl Lorden in the last ten years . . . All four UMass tallies in the second came with two outs . . . The great margin of victory was a n.ild surprise for many at the Cage, including Lorden bives! cluding Lorden himself. The Aces are usually pretty stubborn . . . All of AIC's three losses have been suffered at home . . . Centerfielder Bob Roland has final-terfielder Bob Roland has final-U-Sullivan, Kenney. T-2:80.

ly started to hit. Bob has never been a big hitter for the team, but his 1 for 2 performance in the Coast Guard Game, and 3 for A showing against the Aces, in-cluding three RBI's, look pretty good. Redmen bench power is nothing to grin at, all three of the subs coming in to the game connecting for hits.

The Redmen will play the Jeff nine today at 3:15 at Amherst. The Jeffs are always tough.

h 1 1	rbi
1 1 1	1
1	1
1
	1
0	0
2	1
1	0
2	2
1	2
1
1	0
2	1
3	3
2	2
18	13
h	rbi
0	0
0	0
ö	0
0	0
0	0
1	1
1	ō
1	1
0	0
0	0
17
0	0
	18 h 0 0 0 0 0 1 1

UMASS

E Russ tto, Meucci, Bulger, Cro-mack, Osetek, PO-A-UMass 27-6, AIC 27-12, LOB - UMass 10, AIC 9. Roland, Cromack. sh. HR—Connolly. i. 2. Bulger, Berte.

Sixty Players Turn Out For Frosh Baseball Team

by DAVE WILLARD '64

One of the toughest jobs in coaching is that of a freshman team coach, and freshman base-ball coach Richard Bergquist's task is no exception.

Greeted with a turnout of some sixty candidates coach Bergquist has now cut that number down to about twenty-five. Most of these players come from their respec-tive high schools with glittering recommendations but the prob-lem is, can they produce in col-lege ball. Thus, as on any freshman team, these stars must prove themselves all over again, as they cannot get by on their past

The coach is faced with the omewhat unpleasant and ticklish

The coach is faced with the somewhat unpleasant and ticklish job of deciding who is college caliber and who isn't. He has whittled the battle for positions down to two or three for each, but his starting line-up is still anyone's guess.

Handicapped by the inclement weather, the team has been able to hold only three outdoor practices, certainly not enough to give any true indications.

Right now there are four main candidates for pitcher. They are Mike Brita, Dick Farrell, Dick Haavisto, and John Mastone. Other mound potentials who will probably see action are Mike Johnson and John Karampatsos.

Leading the race for backstops is Gordon Lewis who will be backed up by Tony Auretto, First base will be covered by ohn Awdycki and John Mastone when the latter isn't pitching. Moving around the infield Dick Repeta, Paul Fagg, and Gerry Street are battling it out for the keystone sack. Plugging up the shortstop hole are Barry Meunier and Joe Apicella. Third basemen are John Earle and Tom Ryan.

BLLARD '64

Patroling the outer gardens will be Paul Scheer, Leonard Slomski, George Poirier, Ray Kodzis, Tony Kazukonis, Dan Harvey, Jack Curtiss and Jim

As can be seen all positions are up for grabs and it is still too early in the season to make any predictions.

first scheduled

The team's first scheduled game with Trinity last week was rained out and will not be made up. The boys are hopeful to be able to get in their game at Mount Hermon today.

With a few games under their belt the team will shape up and Coach Bergquist will be able to form a more definite opinion on the talents and capabilities of his squad.

Lederle Views . . . (Continued from page 1) why he is serving his country in "Men and word peace.

"Men and women over 18 meeting these standards will be welcomed into the Peace Corps," Sargent Shriver, the program's Director said.

"At a critical point in history," Shriver stated, "The President has placed an important and dif-ficult task in the hands of our nation's young people. The success of the Peace Corps depends on how well they meet the standards set for them."

sports car—the Corvette. Drop by your Chevrolet More people are buying new Chevrolets than any other make. So your dealer's got a wide choice of OK Used Cars. dealer's and do your new car shopping the easy way -in one convenient stop.

New Chevrolet BEL AIR 4-DOOR SEDAN Priced just above the thriftiest full-sized Chevrolets, all four Bel Air models bring you beauty that likes to make itself useful.

Slimmer and trimmer on the outside; yet inside there's a full measure of Chevrolet's roomy comfort.

Sec, the new Chevrolet ears, Chevy Corvairs and the new Corvette at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's!

KELLERMAN'S

NORTH PLEASANT ST. (Across from Louis' Foods)

Offers the FINEST COLLEGE SUMMER STYLES

Prices are born here-raised elsewhere

The UMass track team is setting its sights on six tough opponents in the up-coming outdoor season which opens April 26 with a meet at Brandeis. The Judges should be the only push-over for the Redmen and the Tufts-Northeastern triangular meet will be especially signi-ficant as the team attempts to licant as the team attempts to avenge their only indoor loss to the cocky Huskies. Connecticut, Holy Cross, and Springfield are teams which UMass has not beaten outdoors in many years, so victories over them would be

In the process of tackling the

Mass Netmen Edged By Brandeis Tennis Team 5-4

setts varsity tennis squad saw a 22-match winning streak cut Monday afternoon here in close-fought, 5-4 loss to Brandeis.

The match was one of those rare ones where every set played was an exhibition of excellent, well-matched playing on both sides, and it was hard to decide which one to watch.

Brandeis took the singles, 4-2, with Ted Rubin and Bill Thompson winning for UMass. In order to have won the match the Redmen would have had to win all three of the doubles matchesand they almost did it.

Sid Poritz and Tom Simons teamed up to defeat the top two men on the Brandeis squad, and Bill Thompson played with Ernie Howarth to take another point for UMass. But Rubin and captain John Thomas couldn't overpower their strong Brandeis opponents in a match that was

by AL BERMAN '62
The University of Massachu- closer than the score indicates.

0

H

The Redmen are now 1-1 for the season as they prepare to journey to Worcester where they will meet the Holy Cross netmen tomorrow afternoon. The next home match will be played Saturday afternoon at 2:00 versus Fairfield. The many spectators who were at the Brandeis match can testify that varsity tennis is a fascinating game to watch, and many more observers are expected for the Fairfield match.

- SINGLES

 1. Zelnik (B) defeated Poritz (UM),
 6-4, 9-7.
- 2. Rubin (M) defeated London (B), 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.
- 4-9, 6-0, 6-3, S. Schiavo-Compo (B) defeated Thompson (UM) 6-3, 6-3, 4. Thompson (UM) defeated Berlin (B), 6-2, 6-1, 5. Teller (B) defeated Howarth (UM), 6-4, 6-2,
- 6. Hantman (B) defeated Simons (UM), 6-2, 6-3.
- DOUBLES

 1. Porits and Simons (UM) defeated Berlin and Zelnik (B), 7-5, 8-6.

 2. London and Schlavo-Compo (B) defeated feated Thomas and Rubin (UM).

 8. Thomas and Rubin (UM). Thompson and Howarth (UM) defeated Karp and Ordonez (B), 7-5, 2-6, 6-2,

In the process of tackling these strong opponents, the Redmen will have a good shot at bréaking nine of the fifteen varsity records. Loren Flagg has already tied the two dash records in Florida, so any improvement will mean new marks in these events. He will be assisted by sprinters Jim Reilly and Mike Dineen.

Reilly will be the team's only five-event man as he does the 100, 220, low hurdles, broad and high jumps. The lows are a new event for him but he will be well received.

Meet Season; Records May Fall

Track Squad Sets Sights On Six

by ABE SHEINKER '62 needed since the squad's best hurdler, Al Lucey, underwent a back operation recently. Another welcome relief because of Lucey's absence was Charlie LaPier's setting of a new high hurdles mark in Florida. He should fill the gap left by Lucey in the highs and can improve on his own record.

Coach Footrick hopes that a past weakness in the quarter mile will be remedied by fast-improving Ron Young and Jack Harrington. Both ran well on the southern trip. It is also possible southern trip. It is also possible that Ken O'Brien, who set an unofficial indoor track record in this race in March workouts, will double in this and the half-mile. That would give the team a strong trio in each of the flat races. O'Brien's colleagues in the half are Joe LaMarre and Bob Avery.

Continued Next Week SPRING TRACK SCHEDULE April 26-at Brandeis April 29-at Springfield 2:00 May 3—Connecticut Home 3:00 May 6—Tufts, Northeastern Home 2:00

May 10-Holy Cross Home 3:00 May 13—Yankee Conference Championships, Kingston, R.I. May 20—N.E. Championships at Durham, N.H. 10:00

May 27—Intercollegiate A.A.A. Championships at N.Y.C. 10:00

TKE Takes First Place In First Intramural Swim Meet

by LARRY COHEN '63

The fraternities took a new step forward Monday night in intramural competition. For the first time, an intramural swim AGR, Kapp meet was held in the Men's Phys. Ed. pool.

It was a big nucleus with nine of the fraternities competing. The houses entered were AEPi,

AGR, Kappa Sig, TKE, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa, Phi Sigma Delta, Theta Chi and Sig

Sigma Delta, Theta Chi and Sig Ep. The events were scored with five points for first place, three for scond and one for third.

TKE, with a score of 39 points, outdistanced second place Theta Chi with a safe margin of 31 points. AGR took a close third with points. Kappa Sig, Lambdu Chi, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sig Ep, AEPi and Phi Sigma Delta finished behind third place in that order.

that order.

The events with their winners are as follows:

200 yd. freestyle relay
1. Kappa Sig 2:00.2
2. Theta Chi 2:00.4
10. yd. freestyle 2:00.4
10. yd. freestyle 102.5
2. Yablonski, AGR 109.3
3. Peters, LCA 110.4
10. yd. freestyle 1. Jones, TKE 28.9
2. Chenery, LCA 29.6
3. Mendrick, Sig Ep 29.8
50 yd. breatoke
1. Ward, TKE 37.8
2. Foovluk, TKE 44.9
2. Foovluk, TKE 44.9
3. Schmidt, AGR 10.3
3. Schmidt, AGR 38.0
150 yd. medley relay 38.0 are as follows:

ving ri. TKE 88 pts.
Sorti, TKE 65.75 pts.
Tedoldi, Phi Sig K. 62.2 pts.
Coach Bud Cobb, head of the intramural sports program, was very pleased with his first swim meet and is hoping for a bigger turnout next year.

MIMEOGRAPHING PROMPT SERVICE

REASONABLE RATES ill Call For and Deliver CALL Alpine 3-7877

Concert

THE MODERN JAZZ QUARTET

Winners of Downbeat International Jazz Critics Poll

ART BLAKEY & the JAZZ MESSENGERS

Springfield Aud. Fri., April 21 - 8:30

Tickets at
Jeffery-Amherst Music Store
ADMISSION: $1.95 & $2.95

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: The best defense is a good offense, unless you're weak or cowardly, in which case a good hiding place is unbeatable.

DEAR DR. FROOD: Every guy I go out with thinks he's Casanova. What should a girl do?

DEAR CHASED: Ask each one to roll up his sleeve. If there is a small birthmark just above the left elbow, you've got the real Casanova.

DEAR DR. FROOD: A tackle on the football team likes the same girl I do. He says that if I see her any more, he'll mop up the floor with me. I refuse to be intimidated! What should I do? Ninety-nine Pounder

DEAR NINETY-NINE: You'd better let your hair

DEAR DR. FROOD: I am a sophomore majoring in architecture. Our college has just completed a magnificent carillon tower. Yesterday, while examining the blueprints, I was horrified to discover that the tower will collapse at 3:30 P.M., June 3, 1964. I have taken my calculations to the dean, to the architects, to the builders, to the president of the college. No one will pay any attention to me. I am desperate. What can I do to avert disaster?

Frantic

DEAR FRANTIC: You've done your best, son. Now, for your own peace of mind, won't you join me in a short trip to Las Vegas to see what kind of

DEAR DR. FROOD: I've been writing poems to a certain girl for about five months. Yesterday I found out that this girl and her friends get together to read my poems and laugh at them. Do you think I should stop writing to her?

DEAR UPSET: Definitely not. There are all too few humorous poets writing today.

FROOD TO WASHINGTON! Dr. Frood has been called by government officials to unveil his extraordinary "Luckies for Peace Plan." Questioned about this plan, Frood replied: "The details are still classified, but it all started when I discovered that college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. This led me to believe that if all the world's peoples would but lean back and light up a Lucky, they would be too happy to be belligerent."

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Product of The American Tobacco Company - Tobacco is our middle name

R.D.'s R.U.R. Regarded As Major Social Drama

"The Czech writer Karel Capek was one of the most distin-guished dramatists of the period between the two great world wars, and his play R.U.R., which the UMass Roister Doisters will present at Bowker Auditorium on April 27, 28, and 29, has been reapril 21, 28, and 29, nas been regarded, since it was written in 1920, as a striking, prophetic treatment of a major twentieth-century theme, that of the depersonalization and mechanization of human beings in modern industrial society. industrial society.

R.U.R. Dramatizes Mechanical Plight of Humanity

"Capek's play retains its interest for present-day audiences primarily for its vivid dramatiza-tion of its central vision: the plight of humanity dehumanized plight of humanity dehumanized and enslaved in the inexorable mechanical "progress" of our century. The title R.U.R. is an abbreviation of Rossum's Universal Robots, and the theatrical success of Capek's picture of a future content with the content of the conte future society in which a human master-race exploits a mass of artificially created workers gave international renown to the word "robot" (derived from a Czech noun meaning "work"). The wide

Seymour Rudin, Professor of English at UMass, released the following statement on the Roister Doister production, R.U.R.: the theatre—has not dimmed the vividness or lessened the emotional power of Capek's work.

Play Important For It's Expressionist Methods -"R.U.R. is important also for its use, within a convenional "realistic" framework, of the expressionist methods that came to be significant in the twenties and that continue to have influence in today's theatre—methods involv-ing the stripped, stylized, non-realistic, nightmarish presenta-tion of fantastic, dehumanized

"When R.U.R. was produced in New York by the Theatre Guild in 1922, it was greeted by cri-tics and audiences as a remark-able theatrical embodiment of the author's vision of mankind moving toward a self-made doom. What we have witnessed in the intervening four decades has increased the pertinence of the play. Few twentieth-century plays have so strikingly seized on our central concern — the preservation of our human self-hood in what Capek might today describe as our I.B.M. world. R.U.R. is an important work, and its coming revival an important undertaking."

UMass AFROTC Drill Team To Host Area Competitions At Westover

The Flying Redmen, Air Force ROTC Trick Drill Team, is shown visiting the Lincoln Memorial during its recent trip to Washington, D.C. The team participated in the 1961 Cherry Blossom Festival.

Longview Foundation Award Presented To Anne Halley

Miss Anne Halley, a part-time member of the English department at the University of Massachusetts, has been declared winner of a Longview Foundation Award for distinguished writing appearing in "little mag-azines" and collections for the year ending September 30, 1960.

Announcement of the award was made by Harold Rosenberg, program director for the Founda-

Miss Halley, one of 40 Ameri-an writers honored by the Foundation, will receive a cash prize of $300. Basis of the award is a memoir, "Children in Liberty," which appeared in the Fall 1960 issue of the national publication First Person.

Miss Halley, who writes under her maiden name, is the wife of Jules Chametzky, assistant professor of English at the University of Massachusetts. A graduate of Wellesley College, Miss Halley holds a Master's degree from the University of Minne-

This Sunday, April 23, the AFROTC Drill Team will play host to the AFROTC Area Drill Competition at Westover Air Competition at Westover Air Force Base. Our defending cham-pions and winners of six of the last seven competitions will take the floor at 8 a.m. Over 15 schools will be competing in the armed division including UMass, Holy Cross, B.U., MIT, Tufts, Buffalo, and Brown.

The competition is open to the public, free of charge, and it is hoped that many from UMass will attend. As an added feature the base itself will be open to the public as part of Westover's annual open-house, Those attending will be able to observe many of the nation's top aircraft in action, including the F102, the F104, and the B52.

As a tuneup for this competition ne Flying Redmen, captained y Archie Babaian, traveled to Washington, D.C., and competed in the National Drill Team Competition held in conjunction with petition held in conjunction with the annual Cherry Blossom Fes-tival the week of April 7. The Flying Redmen finished below such teams as Rutgers, Purdue, and Colorado, but were not dis-couraged due to the fine quality of these larger schools in their of these larger schools in Class Officers Elections Thurs., 9-4 in S.U. I.D. Cards Needed

AMHERST + + CINEMA

-STARTS TONIGHT-

The World of SUZIE WONG

* LATE SHOW FRIDAY * "Lady Chatterley's at 11:15 P.M.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH

Protective Pouch Keeps Tobacco

New protective aluminum toil pouch keeps famous, mild Sir Walter Raleigh 44% fresher than old-fashioned tin cans. Choice Kentucky burley-extra aged. Get the familiar orange-and-black pack with the new pouch inside!

SMELLS GRAND - PACKS RIGHT! SMOKES SWEET - CAN'T BITE!

BROWN & WILLIAMSON TORACCO CORPORATION THE MARK OF QUALITY IN TORACCO PRODUCTS

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10 net profit per party.
- PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eligible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholarship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can
- EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of valuable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in your own hometown.

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, Alpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON..DeLAND General Manager College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc.

WESTFIELD, MASS.

Massachus

UMass Protest

(See page 2)

Primary Elections

Murphy, McMaster, Kingsley All Win Presidential Races By Wide Margins

by ANN MILLER '64, Collegian Staff Reporter
Thursday, April 20, the primary elections for officers of the classes 1962, 1963, and 1964 were classes 1962, 1963, and 1964 were held in the Student Union lobby from 9 to 4. The final results

Results of the '62 presidential race are: Bernard Murphy (incb), 181; Kevin Judge, 84.

For the '62 vice presidential race: William Hailer, 55; Charles Curtis (incb.) 196; Leonard Schiller, 33 r, 33.

For '62 treasurer: Deborah lead, 227. For '62 secretary: lean Havey, 236.
Results of the '63 presidential

Results of the '63 presidential race: Howard Wainstein, 114; Gordon Oakes, 174; Bob McMaster (incb.), 385.

For the '63 vice presidential race: Charlie Ruma, 88; Joe Di-Mauro, 177; Pete Bracci (incb.), 321. Leff Wheeler, 128.

331; Jeff Wheeler, 128.
For '63 treasurer: Lloyd David, 172; Sandra Russell, 286; Ann Burns, 210.

For '63 secretary: Karen Peterson, 177; Paula Turco, 148; Susan O'Neil, 131; Bobbie Hanna, Results of the '64 presidential race: Steve Kingsley (incb.), 364; Barry Toussaint, 175; Dave Truesdell, 163; James E. Bloom, 214; David Kauppinen, 74.

For the '64 vice presidential race: Margie Jordan, 204; Kim Wallace, 379; Berel Gamerman,

For '64 treasurer: Carol Esonis, 206; Peter Graham, 97; Fred Sullivan, (incb.), 229; Priscilla Bradway, 85; Madelyn Borges,

For '64 secretary: Maryann Kapinos, 100; Betty Mercer (incb.), 377; Kay Reagan, 186.

A protest was lodged by one of the candidates for the office of treasurer of the class of 1964 over the appearance of the names on the ballot. Vin Della Penna, on the ballot, Vin Della Penna, Election Committee Chairman, deemed it valid. A rerun for that office will be held Monday, April 24, from 9 to 4 in the S.U. Lobby. The other results will remain as they stand from last night's re-

Finalists will be: '62 presiden-Finalists will be: '62 presiden-tial, Murphy and Judge; '62 vice presidential, Hailer and Curtis; '62 treasurer, Read; '62 secretary, Havey; '63 presidential, McMas-ter and Wainstein; vice-presiden-tial '63, Peter Bracci, Joe Di-Mauro.

(Continued on page 3)

Literary Contest Winners To Read Works At Saladin

The results of the Literary Society's Poetry and Fiction Contest have been announced.

The poetry winners are as follows: 1st prize—Rudy Wittshirk ($8), 2nd prize—Leslie Williams ($5), 3rd prize—Karen Tucker ($3), Honorable mention: Betsy Robicheau and Tomislav Sajkovio

In short stories, for similar cash awards, 1st prize—Edward Clasby, 2nd—Joan Angus, 3rd—

William Lee. Honorable mention: Kenneth Cutler, Florine Newell, Kenneth Cutler, Florine Newell, Elizabeth Quigley, William F. Ross, Paul Theroux, and Rudy Wittshirk.

Wittshirk. All manuscripts can be picked up by their owners from the English Dept. office. There will be a public reading by the winners of their prize entries on Monday, April 24, at 7:30 p.m.' in the Saladin restaurant

Presidential Inauguration To Be Broadcast Saturday

A special FM radio broadcast the installation of Dr. John Lederle as 15th President of Mass will be made tomorrow directly from the scene over an educational radio network.

The broadcast will originate in the student-operated campus station, WMUA-FM. WFCR is a new station founded under the Four College Cooperation program. Operating at 88:5 meg-acypcles, it has not been officialopened but will carry the in-guration as an adjunct facility. The network record

The network report will be carried from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Announcer will be Wood brige Brown, radio communications specialist at the University, who will describe the academic procession and other highlights of the colorful exercises.

the entire inaugural program —including the investiture ceremony, in which Gov. John A.

Volpe will participate; Dr. Lederle's inaugural address; and a speech by Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware—will be presented during the broadcast. Music will be supplied by the UMass Concert Band.

The on-the-scene report will be under the direction of Vincent Brann, instructor in Speech at Smith College and Four College Program Coordinator for Educational Radio. He will be assisted by S. Jay Savereid, assistant professor of speech at UMass, campus program coordinator. Bradley D. Rohrer, a Wellesley junior at the UMass, is in charge of ar-rangement for WMUA-FM. Donald Upham, project director for the Educational Radio Network, Donald Quayle, assistant general manager for radio, will supervise for WGBH-FM.

Incumbents Lead Student Statement Protests Castro, Soviet Student Action

Termed 'Libelous Action,' Rioters Urged To Act In A More Civilized Manner The UMass student body has motion. After discussion is motion.

called for a sweeping denunciation of Soviet policy and action in the still simmering Cuban in the still situation.

Given To Students

student body.

In a statement circulated late Thursday afternoon, 100 students protested "... the libelous action of the government of the Union motion. After discussion, it was decided not to present it to the Senate, But to give it over to the slandering the government of the United States of America concerning participation in the recent invasion of Cuba

Explanation Sent

Copies of the statement and an accompanying explanation were sent to other colleges in the Four College group.

Four College group.

Protest Student Action
The statement continued:
"Furthermore, we protest the actions of those students who stoned the American Embassy in Moscow and suggest that in the future they act in a manner more becoming citizens of a civilized country."

An explanation accompanied explanation accompanied

An explanation accompanied the statement. It read:

"The statement before you is now being circulated for signatures among the students at the University of Massachusetts and at Smith, Amherst, and Mt. Holyoke colleges. This statement has been initiated solely by undergraduate students.

"One of the loudest and most dergraduate students,

"One of the loudest and most effective voices for communism has been that of the communist students. It is only natural that when the neutral world sees and hears these students backing their government in demonstrations such as the one mentioned in the statement, it should wonder at the absence of the voice of the American student.

of the American student.
"Doesn't the American student support his government? Doesn't he know what's happening in the world? Or could it be that he doesn't care?

"The American student does support his government. He is extremely well informed. And (Continued on page 8)

Inaugural Procession Will Move To

The inauguration of Dr. John W. Lederle as the 15th president of UMass will take place on Saturday, April 22. The entire stuednt body is cordially invited by ednt body is cordially invited by the trustees and faculty to attend the ceremonies. Along with the students are invited 300 dis-tinguished guests, from academic and non-academic positions.

The formal ceremonies will bein at 3 p.m. The line of march will begin at the Dining Commons, proceed through the women's quadrangle to the Women's Physical Education building. The president will then be formally inaugurated.

Students Positioned On Route In order that all interested stu-dents may have an equal chance to observe the procession, certain class assignments have been made along the route of march. The students are requested to observe these assignments so that as much confusion as possible will be prevented. As the procession begins at 3 p.m., students should be positioned by that time.

The graduate students are requested to line both sides of the walk, in double ranks, with the

the men closer to the W.P.E. The seniors should be aligned, also doubled ranked and on both sides, in front of Leach and Dwight houses, the women closer to the W.P.E.

The Juniors should stand be-tween Leach and Crabtree and Dwight and Mary Lyons dorms. Sophomores are next, near Crab-tree and Mary Lyons dorms, with the Freshmen closer still to the Commons, The women are asked to be closer to the W.P.E. as in the other classes.

The Stockbridge students are located next to the Commons, but allowing enough space so that the procession may proceed smoothly.

S.U. Reception For Public

After the inauguration, a reception will be held in the S.U. Ballroom by Dr. and Mrs. Lederle. The reception will begin at 4:30, and all students are invited. No tickets are required for the inauguration or the the inauguration or the

All students are especially encouraged by the planners to par-ticipate in the inaugural activities.

A group of centennial planners met last night at the Lord Jeff Inn to discuss the forthcoming event. Left to right: Professor Mack Drake, Professor H. Leland Varley, Maxwell Goldberg, executive director of the Centennial, Dr. James Nicholson, General Chairman, Ralph France, Professor James Ferrigno, and Professor George Westcott.

In Behalf Of Our Dignity

It has been exactly a year now since the residents of the University of Massachusetts heard phrases urging them on to "sustain excellence." The greying President Mather departed last April and, judging by the headlines in our Commonwealth's newspapers, with him went all the students' ideas of excellence. Judging by student organizations, officers, and honor societies, the idea of excellence has never left this campus. But the people of New England never see our organizations or officers . . . they just see degrading headlines.

And now, on the eve of the inaugural of a new President, there arrives a headline which gives clear indication of a striving to "sustain excellence." The Boston Herald read: "UMASS STUDENTS CHIDE RUS-SIANS." In comparison to the headline which one Boston paper ran recently— "UMASS FRATS HAVE HUGE HANG-OVER"-this means more than just a few students scolding the Soviets.

Communism relies on its youth to expound its theory and agitate those opposed revolution the world over. And the U.S.S.R. has every reason to be proud of its youth: they have done their job far, beyond the call of Marx, Lenin, and Uncle Joe. Their voice in advocation and defense of socialism is heard around the world . . . from Tokyo to Korea to Havana.

Democracy has no counterpart to the Communist youth. American youth don't throw stones at Embassies or riot in the streets in protest over Communism. The Soviets slander, lie, and muddy the face of America . . . but American students riot only after their football coach has lost his tenth game.

In an effort to back our government, our President, and U.N. Ambassador Stevenson, a group of UMass students, headed by Student Senator Ray Wilson, circulated a protest condemning the Soviet's libelous actions against the U.S. and criticizing the behavior of Russian students.

In a year which saw UMass hit the news with three headlines pointing out our poorer features, this petition is laudable.

In a nation which urges a peaceful solution to the world's problems, this petition is in accord with our national goals.

And, in a decade which has seen our allies ask the United States to defend democracy in another manner than dollar bills, this petition is a step in the right direction by our American youth.

NOTICE

With the advent of the Spring election carrying the controversial "2.0 bill" referendum, the Monday Collegian will carry a copy of the said bill as it passed through the Senate, as well as an editorial stand on the"2.0" issue.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor Business Manager
James J. Trelease '63
News Editor: Assignments News Editor: Make-Up Joseph Bradley Photography Editor

Ben Gordon '62 Lawrence Popple '63
FRI.: Editorial, Michael Palter, '63; Sports, Ben
Gordon '62; Feature, Bruno DePalma '61; Copy,
Jerry Orlen '63.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amerst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic ear, except during vacation and examination periods; twice seek the week following a vacation or examination period; or hen a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing inder the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended y the act of June 11, 1994.

"ubscription price $4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester fine: Student Union, Univ. of Mass. Amperst Mass." $4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester dent Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. i Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press Sun., Tues., Thurs., 4:00 p.m.

In Changing Times

Cuba today sits between power blocs. Both the United States and the Soviet Union are using this island as a wedge to polarize world opinion. Thus we have an atmosphere of charges and counterchanges punctuated by daily executions in Havana. But behind this great enigma it appears that certain reasonable observations can be made.

We must first realize that Soviet charges of direct U.S. intervention are, for the most art, fallacious. The fact that an American pilot may have been shot down in Cuba does not change this, since we might deem the presence of one, ten, or even fifty Americans neglegible. The Soviets might better have charged "indirect intervention." The grounds for this could be substantiated by proof that the U.S. had given considerable economic aid to the rebels. Disregarding the documentation that has been produced by Cuba in the U.N., one is nevertheless inclined to believe that the United States has indeed aided the rebels. This can, no doubt, be termed indirect intervention.

Before indignantly denying this, the observer should recall the Guatemalan situation with regards to the Arbenz regime. When we consider this, we need not make value judgements as to Arbenz's political philosophy. Suffice it to say that the United States (through the C.I.A.) intervened in order to insure a friendly regime. Unfortunately our intervention leaked out, but that's politics!

Of course when one discusses intervention by the U.S. he is confronted by these who shout, "Monroe Doctrine." This doctrine would be rather difficult to explain to a Cuban who believes that he has the right to chose his own government. It is useless and quite irrevelevant to say that most of Castro's backers are illiterate. The fact is that they are also people and as such are entitled to any government they wish. Although we might violently disagree with the existing political atmosphere in Cuba, it would not be an exaggeration to say that it is quite none of our business, unless some sort of military invasion is being prepared against the U.S.

Of course it is no business of the Russians either, yet they have armed the Castro regime with modern military equipment. The facts are that if Castro were not equipped he would have been in an extremely precarious position. Significant Soviet aid, it should be recalled, was only accepted in reaction to unnecessary pressures, many of which emanated from the United States. This lends weight to the theory that the leftward swing of Castro was a reaction and not a preconceived plan.

Thus, we must remember that:

The Cuban Revolution is backed by a majority of the Cuban People. The peasantry hopes to achieve material gains through the Rev-

Moscow's charges of direct American intervention remain un-proved. It appears that by making this charge, the Soviets have over-played their hand. At most, it is a case of indirect intervention by ans of economic aid

The Monroe Doctrine is resented by those who espouse national sovereignity. (Some people just don't know what's good for them!)

Finally, the State Department and the C.I.A. need not get upset over Cuba. After all, we did win in Guatemala. We still have a .500

The Ivory Tower

The Eichmann trial is a significant event in the history of juriser of precedents

I have heard all sorts of arguments on radio, in the newspapers, by important men all questioning Israel's right to try Eichmann. These are all related to points of legality.

People are trying to be objective in a place where objectiveness nnecessary. If you have most of your family wiped out it is pretty hard to be objective.

All the points raised may be true or may not. The question is academic. This is a man who had a hand in killing millons of people.

Do you have any idea what a million people look like? Does a man like this deserve a fair trial?

Israel will give him a fair and honest trial. They are trying a political belief, a symbol, not one man

The world must never forget the Nazis. Not only the German but the entire world must never forget what happened only sixteen Eichmann is unimportant. The idea is, Anti-semitism will probably never be eradicated. But it should be held out for all to see and not shoved into the darkness. Maybe our collective conscience can stand a little prodding.

The whole trial is based only on an issue that should never become objective. When all the talk has finished, one fact will still remain. The Nazis killed millions of people.

This fact can never be atoned for. Israel does not want a of anti-German sentiment to develop. Germany is no more at fault than the rest of the world. The world must never forget.

For our veneer of civilization, for all our worldly-wise urbane ways, we still allowed millions of people to be killed. Who is at fault? Am I may brother's keeper? Yes.

I refuse to be moved by arguments on whether Eichmann will get a fair trial. He didn't consider this in 1945. His life will not bring back any of the people he killed but try and tell that to a man who spent years in a concentration camp and saw his family killed. This man is not conducive to arguments about justice. Anything this Eichmann gets will be just.

LETTERS

PETITION

Dear Mr. Editor:

The following petition is currently being circulated among students here at the University and at the other neighboring colleges:

"We, the undersigned undergraduate students of we, the undersigned undergraduate students of the University of Massachusetts, hereby protest the libelous action of the government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in slandering the govern-ment of the United States of America concerning participation in the recent invasion of Cuba

We further state that we feel we are representa-tive of students throughout the United States in that we heartily support the actions of our federal government in its relations with the Castro govern-

Furthermore, we protest the actions of those students who stoned the American Embassy in Mos-cow and suggest that in the future they act in a manner more becoming citizens of a civilized co

The petition is being circulated by students who dered to be campus leaders under the supposition that it is time that American college stu-dents woke up to the world situation and started playing a role in our national politics.

The principle is fine; there certainly is room for ident action. But the petition strted above is un-

Let's just take a realistic look at the Cubar Let's Just take a realistic look at the Cuban situation for a minute. First of all not all Americans are pleased with our position concerning Cuba. I am sure that many people in the Kennedy administration are embarassed by the fact that we have, partly by circumstance, been forced into a situation where we half-heartedly have given our support to a revolutionary invasion of one of our closest neighbors.

I am sure that many people feel that the continued bungling of the Cuban situation by the Eisenhower administration has put us in a situation where our national position on Cuba has been subjected to almost unanimous criticism from the other nations of the world. Almost none of the other members of the United Nations have backed our position. And such respected leaders as Prime Minister tion. And such respected leaders as Prime Minister Nehru of India, probably the most respected of the neutralist leaders, has openly and harshly criticized the connection of this country with the recent rebel

If it comes to the point where students unknow-ingly sign petitions backing government policy for which even the national leadership is somewhat em-barassed, then we have reached an all time low on

Look at the facts before you jump at this one! Emie Chaples '61

TRACK

To Mr. Joe Cohen:

In your article "The Ivory Tower" of April 17, you stated, "I do not consider football, basketball or track legitimate sports, they are paid spectacles." I hope that you were not referring to the University of Massachusetts because to my knowledge there are no track scholarships issued here at the University. University.

Many of the students here at the University have en disillusioned into thinking that we track men been disillusioned into thinking that we track men are paid athletes. We are not!! We participate in this sport for our own pleasure!

Quotes

"I cannot claim mercy because I do not deserve it. Perhaps I should hang myself in public so that all the anti-Semites in the world can have the ter-rible nature of their acts made clear to them."

"The American people are entitled to know whether we are intervening in Cuba or intend to do so in the future. The answer to that is no. What happens in Cuba is for the Cuban people themselves to decide."

"The issue is in the hands of the Cuban people. It is a major tragedy that they must fight again for freedom, that the 26th of July Movement they sacrificed so much for has been sold out by the man who launched it. But the Americas must resolve that Cuba will not become another Korea, another Laos. May the Cubans purify their own soil and build their own free society-and let the rest of the world be put to notice to keep hands off.

NOTES AT RANDOM

by JIM TRELEASE

There was a home in California draped in black last week. There ere some very famous people attending that funeral. And Marion

Across the continent in the "heartland of America," there was another house with a mourning wreath on the door. The "big-bong" door chimes at 79 Wistful Vista were silent. And Molly McGee was dead.

Marion Jordan, one half of the husband and wife team which played before millions of families not so long ago as "Fibber McGee and Molly," died last week and her passing marked more than just the death of a warm and entertaining personality. It put her name back into the headlines, brought almost forgotten characters into the obituaries which followed her name, and it warmed the memory glands of millions who listened attentively every Tuesday night.

Most of us were half-way through grammar school when we took cognizance of the McGees, Gildersleeve, and the Old Timer. But Molly's passing brings back more than just the residents of Wistful Vista. We remember an era in American entertainment which forever shall be unparalleled for its warmth and originality. Many of the names and personalities will remain in the news and limelight for several years to come . . . and some of the names are nearly forgotten already. Amos 'n Andy, Jack Benny, Roy Rogers, Gene Autry and Melody Ranch, and Dave Garroway are still very evident. But Baby Snooks, the Fat Man, David Harding, Counterspy, Jack Armstrong, All-American Boy, Gabby Hayes, Lamonte Cranston, The Shadow, Inner Sanctum, and Henry Aldrich . . . they are all one generation away from obscurity.

There were cold winter evenings when kids across the nation sat against their radiators and listened to the adventures of Sky King, Superman, Straight Arrow, Sergeant Preston, and the Green Hornet. Earlier in the day, millions of Moms cooked and cleaned to the plots of Ma Perkins, Our Gal Sunday, Stella Dallas, Mary Noble, Backstage Wife, and One Man's Family.

stage Wife, and One Man's Family.

In those days, radio saw real personalities . . . not just press agent inflated egos as we have today. Remember the fellow who woke up America with his "calls to breakfast"—Don McNeil? The CBS network had two redheads working for it: one had some very talented "friends"—Arthur Godfrey; the other redhead associated with some pretty weird but funny friends (Freddie the Freeloader, Cauliflower McPugg)—Red Skelton.

The rival network, NBC, didn't have redheads but their payroli The rival network, NBC, didn't have redneads but their payron supported the extraordinary noses of two very funny men: one said witty, rapid-fire things about F.D.R. and his dog Falla, the sponsor, Bing Crosby, and Jane Russell—Bob Hope; and the other nose complained that "Everybody's tryin' ta get inta da act!"—Jimmy Durante. Some of the names are still around and some have passed away but many Americans still say, "I remember him when he was an radio."

on radio."

It is to all the people who never made the jump from radio to television that we here pay tribute. They are the old guard. There were no replacements for the McGees, Shadows, or Lone Rangers because television monopolized the posterity. With the death of Molly McGee, we remember the warmth and humor which was America's before the "fabulous 50s," and we are reminded that, as far as talent is concerned, radio is dead. We are the last generation to remember the talent . . . when we forget there will be nothing left but obscurity. From here on, as the Marion Jordans grow old, there can be no changing of the guard . . . just a passing of the old guard.

IFC Themes Considered Successful

All the fraternities partici-pated in the Annual Theme Party Competition held last Saturday night. The themes were many and varied and on the whole a big success.

The parties were judged by a unel of judges composed of panel of judges composed of members of the faculty. Judging was conducted on the following basis: 1. Orginality of theme, 2. basis: I. Orginality of theme, 2. Effect and continuity of decorations, 3. Costumes, 4. Effort shown in planning for party, and 5. Overall effect.

awarded toward Points were annual Interfraternity Council competition with a maximum of ten points to be awarded. LCA's Tea House of the Lambda Moon, TKE's Hawaiian Party, and Sig Ep's Sea Cruise took top honors with sight signal.

The other houses received points as follows: TEP—7; AEPi, PSD, and ATG—6; QTV and ASP—5; KS and PSK—4; PMD and TC—3; SAE and AGR—2.

Canterbury Retreat Set For April 29

The theme of this year's Can-terbury Club weekend retreat conference will be "The Values of the New Generation.

The Rev. Alvin Kershaw, former chaplain and instructor of philosophy at Miami University, will be the leader of the annual event, which is to be held the weekend of April 29.

The UMass club is hosting the Canterbury clubs from Smith, Mt. Holyoke, and Amherst Colleges. The retreat will be held at Bucksteep Manor House; the cost for the weekend is three dollars.

Those interested in attending the conference are requested to contact Mal Sarna at 104 Greenough or Jere Berger at Old

Have a real cigarette-have a CAMEL

UMASS INTERROGATOR A CAMPUS OPINION POLL

by DORIS BERRY '64

When the Student Senate conmpromise bill was scheduled Before the final vote, the bill was amended to include, not the graduating average, but the "2.0" average, a bill which had previously been defeated by the

This new "2.0" bill, therefore, This new "2.0" bill, therefore, was voted on and passed by a slight margin without any advance notice and with an absence of eight votes in the final

Consequently, Adelphia has placed a referendum on the Spring election which will call for a vote on the bill by the student body itself.

A turnout of 50% will be needed and, of these, two-thirds must vote "no" in order to defeat the

If it is repealed, perhaps a compromise will be worked out in which only the "workhorse" activities, such as WMUA, the Collegian and the Senate, will be affected by the scholastic requirement.

The minds of students must be

The minds of students must be delved into and their opinions on this issue brought into the light.

The Interrogator asks: How do you feel about the manner in which the "2.0" bill passed the Senate? When the referendum is called, will you support the bill?

Jan Saunders '64, from Weymouth, answered, "I won't support the bill because I think it should apply only to activities that take up a let of time, and not to those such as religious ornot to those such as religious or-ganizations."

Lee Carrell '63, an Elementary Education major, is not in favor of the 2.0 bill. "The Senate should be informed beforehand about issues to be voted on, so they can give it serious consideration.

"We are all adults and should be able to decide whether we can perform well in an activity re-gardless of our average."

Michael Phoenix '64, from Pittsfield, who is a Chemical Engineer, replied, "If I had been in the Senate, I would have voted for the 2.0 bill, but I don't agree with the procedure. They should have passed it the first time."

Allan Gehring '64, a Pre-med student, adequately expressed his opinion, "In a prep school, it's all right to make restrictions because the students can't decide when to study, but in college they should make their own decisions.

"The university can't make Michael Phoenix '64, from "The university can't make

"The university can't make laws to protect students against flunking out and, if they do, the laws will be only superficial."
Paul R. Dilger '62, a Stockbridge student, answered, "I believe in the '2.0' and I will be at the referendum. All the referendum. All Senators should have been at the meeting because it's not for prestige alone that they are Senators.

"The manner of voting was wrong though. There should have been a referendum or recall be-fore the 2.0 bill could have been voted on again, because that is the way a democracy works."

Pat Ward '64, who is living at Leach, replied, "I think the bill Leach, replied, is not unreasonable. Students should be more concerned with their marks than outside activities because that is why they are here."

Robert Gallo '63, who lives at Hills, is against the bill. "A 2.0 is kind of a high achievement. If a student is suited for representative work, it shouldn't matter whether his average is 2.0 or 1.0. It also seems like dirty politics in the Senate."

Bonnie Laird '63, answered, "I definitely think the bill was pushed through. It almost seems that they knew they couldn't get it through if all the members of the Senate were there.

"I will not support the bill because it is up to the individual to decide for himself whether he is capable or qualified to taken Robert Gallo '63, who lives at is capable or qualified to taken on activities."

Regardless of your opinion, the and your university. The referen-dum must be supported vigorous-ly by us all. issue seriously concerns

Jazz And Fashions Show To Be Held

A program of "Jazz and Fashions" will be presented by the Arts and Music Committee and the Special Events Committee the S.U. on Sunday April 23 at 2:30 p.m. This will be sponsored as a part of the H.E.R. Weekend.

Early in the afternoon girls from UMass will model clothes from the House of Walsh, Am-herst. Commentating will be Susan Goldsmith '64, Mademoiselle representative on campus.

Following the Parade of Springtime Fashions will be a Jazz Concert featuring Tony Pappas' "Jazz Doctors." This jazz group is popular in the Pioneer Valley area; it has played at the Sophomore Banquet, the Freshman Picnic and other traditional campus affairs.

Primary Elections ...
(Continued from page 1)
Treasurer '63, Russell and Burns; Secretary '63, Hanna and Peterson. Presidential '64, Kings-ley and Bloom; vice-presidential '64, Wallace and Jordan. Treasurer '64, Sullivan and Esonis; Secretary '64, Mercer and Reagan

The final election is scheduled

Stockbridge Honors List, STOSAG Are Announced

Animal Science
Turf Maintenance
Food Management
Animal Science
Turf Maintenance
Turf Mainte

Cynthia I. Stiles
Thomas J. Worrick
Freshmen
Everett R. Emino
Floriculture
Enly T. Andscape Op.
Landscape Op.
Lands

Thomas A. Muir
Thomas A. Perron
James R. Pickard
Cynthia I. Stiles
Thomas J. Worrick
Thomas J. Worrick
Thomas J. Worrick
Thomas J. Stiles
Treshmen
Thomas J. Muir
Dalry Technology
Forestnoor
Landscape Op.
Toriculture
Animal Science
Treshmen
Thomas J. Muir
Tolly Technology
Forestnoor
Forestnoor
Thomas J. Muir
Tolly Technology
Forestnoor
Thomas A. Perron
Thomas J. Thomas Th

House Kills TaxDeduction For Students

The Massachusetts House of Representatives killed a bill to grant a $400 income tax deduction for each student still in school. This action was taken by a rising vote of 56 to 20 on motion of Rep. Edward L. Kerr, Belmont Republican. Proponents were unable to muster sufficient strength to obtain a roll call.

The Belmont member said that he, himself, would save $60 over a three-year period if the bill be-came law. He said, however, that it has been estimated the Commonwealth would lose $1,700 000 a year. "I certainly don't want to ave $60 over three years if the taxpayers have to make $1,700,000 a year," he said.

Rep. Freyda P. Koplow (R-Brookline), sponsor of the bill, said that few colleges have tuition of less than $1,000. "We want as many students as possible to go to college," she said, "regardless of their means. Eighty-five per cent of our col-lege students come from families with an income of $6,000 or $7,000.

much to the Representative from Belmont, but to these families it does because they need every cent possible to keep their chil-dren in college. It is an unfair and an impossible tax."

Annual Open House Planned ByStudent-FacultyCommittee

More than 50 exhibits will be displayed at the UMass Open House being planned for Saturday and Sunday, April 29-30.

An annual event, Open House

this year is expected to attract between five and six thousand visitors. A joint student-faculty committee is working on plans for the most extensive program yet offered in the seven-year history of the event.

WMUA To Tape Ideas On Evolution

Is evolution a fact or a the-ory? What is evolution and what evidence is there to support it? This will be the topic of a dis-cussion to be held with Dr. John Hanson of the Department of Entomology April 25 at 7 p.m. on WMUA.

The discussion with Dr. Hanon will be a part of the reg-ularly scheduled Mass Opinion show. Sometime before the show students will be approached on campus and asked to give their pinions on evolution. These aped opinions will precede the

This will be the first in a series discussions with Dr. Hanson evolution to be presented on

Jazz Concert

THE MODERN JAZZ OUARTET Winners of

Downbeat International Jazz Critics Poll

ART BLAKEY & the JAZZ MESSENGERS

Springfield Aud. Fri., April 21 - 8:30

Tickets at
Jeffery-Amherst Music Store
ADMISSION: $1.95 & $2.95

The program will include tours of new buildings, including the recently opened Bartlett Hall and the Justin S. Morrill Science Center. The UMass Speech Therapy Center, Language Labora-tory, and other facilities will be ry, and o display. Demonstrations, classroom and laboratory visits, discussions with faculty members, inspection of dormitory and recreational facili-ties are also planned for campus visitors. All colleges, schools and divisions of UMass will present

Luncheon and dinner will be available in the Dining Commons, and receptions will be held at dormitories, sororities, and fraternities.

Co-ed Track Meet Will Debut May 7 At Alumni Field

A new precedent will be set on May 7 at Alumni Field by the classes of '63 and '64. This will e the Coed-Soph-Frosh Track Meet. Participants will be able to win trophies for themselves as well as for their class. The large class trophy will be kept in the S.U. with the name of the victorious class engraved on it. The trophies will be on display April 95 in the S.U. 25 in the S.U.

Sign-up sheets will be in the dorms soon with with a list of rules and qualifications. The events for the boys are: a fifty, one hundred, two hundred and twenty, and four hundred and forty yard dash, mile relay, shotput, highjump and broadjump. The girls may participate in a fifty yard dash, a sack race and a three-legged race. The deadline for signing up is April 26. Trials for signing up is April 26. Trials to decide on teams will be held on April 30 and May 2.

BOYS & GIRLS

Spring Clearance SALE KINGSTON KRAYNE HATS

-2 for 99¢-

Remember: "You can always tell a Kingston Krayne Man" (Or Woman)

Butterfieldites Lose Debate

With AEPi's

On Tuesday, April 18, the quarterfinal round of the Intra-mural Debate Tournament was held. The debate started about held. The debate started about 8:15 p.m. with chairman Ed Tol. The topic of the debate was "Should Mr. McDonald's will be set aside on the ground of mental incapacity." Barry Ravech and Bill Shoevel, representing Alpha Epsilon Pi, won the debate against Joseph Kielec and Jack Downey, representing Butter-Downey, representing Butter-field. The judge for this debate was Stromberg of the Speech

The other results were forfeits by Vincent Parisi and David Crowley, representing Phi Sigma Delta, and Paul Doubit and Neil Cullinan, independents. The semi-finals will be held next Tuesday evening and the finals will be evening and the finals will be held on May 2. The final round of debate will be open to the pub-

Search for Youth

NEW YORK (UPI)-The Mar-NEW YORK (UPI)—The Mar-riage Research Institute in Frankfurt, Germany, has pro-duced a report confirming the rumor that the older a man, the younger he wants his wife.

"At age 35," the Insider's Newsletter reports, "a European man searches for a bride at least 10 years younger than himself, and at 50 demands a wife not over 30. After that age, 35-year-olds are acceptable—but no old-

Little Shavers

NEW YORK (UPI) - Little girls now start wearing nylons at nine. And what are little boys doing? According to the makers of an electric shaver, many lads start shaving when they're only

French Drama Group Will Act In Bowker

School for Wives," will be presented by one of France's finest drama companies at UMass on

The play will be performed in French by the cast of the Theatre du Vieux-Colombier under auspices of L'Association Francaise D'Action Artistique. The presentation will be given at 8:30 p.m. in Bowker Auditorium.

Presented in modern dress, the production has been described as supreme fun, Critic Jean Lemarchard has written of it: 'The School for Wives' comes to life, and we see it as if for the first time, as the first audience must have seen it in 1682."

Moliere's great farce, "The Bernard Lajarrige, Nicole de Surmont, Denise Chauvel, Jean-Barbier, Georges Per-Claude rault, Robert Sireygeol, Alain Raffael, Jean-Pierre Delage, and Christian Delmas. Stage settings and modern costumes are by Sylvain Deschamps.

> All seats will be sold between April 13 and 20 on a reserved basis only. Special attention will be given to requests for blocks of seats for students of colleges, private and secondary schools, and other school groups. Application for tickets may be made to the S.U. Box Office.

The play is being presented under campus sponsorship of the Department of Romance Lan-The all-French cast includes guages and the French Club.

Girls Are Electing Finalists For Ladies' Man Of UMass

The search for the Ladies' Man on the UMass campus got underway this week with the nomination of nine candidates. Voting has taken place all this week, in connection with the ticket sales for the H.E.R. weekend dance. As each girl buys her ticket she is given a ballot. Balloting ends with the closing of the ticket window today at 5:00. Three finalists will be selected for a runoff next week.

The Candidates

Vir Agarwal, a junior foreign student from India, was nominated by Hills House North. Vir is majoring in electrical engineering.

Pete Bracci, a sophomore, is a native of Haverhill and was nominated by Sigma Phi Epsilon. UMass hockey fans will recog-nize Pete as one of Coach Kosa-kowski's starting forwards.

Don Croteau, a familiar person all around campus, particularly in the Student Senate chambers, is a government major from Hampden. Don was nominated by the Commuters.

Jack Downey, a senior veteran from Wollaston, is a management major. Jack, an honor student, can tell some tall tales about his experiences "down south." He was nominated by Butterfield

Pete Hefler is a speech government major from Milton. Most people recognize Pete as one of the friendly faces behind the lobby counter. He was nominated by Wheeler House.

Bruce McLean, more familiarly known as Bart, is an electrical engineering major from Fair-view. He was nominated by Phi Jim Murphy is a freshman from Winthrop. Murphy is an engineering major and was nomi-nated by Hamlin House.

Vaughn Paddock is a sopho-more math major who hails from Methuen. He was nominated by Alpha Chi Omega.

Fred Shotz, well-known for his recent performance in Campus Varieties, is a junior from Brook-line. He is an economics major and was nominated by Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The candidates are all Ladies' Men in their own right, so it will be quite a job to eliminate six of them. The girls will have say, though, and the three final-ists will be announced Monday.

UMass Math Club Hosts High School Prize Exam

Secondary school students throughout the state will compete in the eleventh annual High School Prize Examination in Mathematics to be held Saturday, May 6, under the auspices of the UMass Mathematics Club.

Robert W. Wagner, professor of mathematics at the University and contest director, announced today that the examination this year will be held at 12 centers comprising 11 distinct regions throughout the Commonwealth. In general, contestants will be expected to take the examination at the center nearest their own at the center nearest their own

Cash prizes totalling $1,000 and appropriate gold and silver medals will be awarded for the four best papers in the state and to 11 regional winners. First prize is a cash award of $150 and a gold medal. Scrolls and certificates of merit will also be awarded for other creditable papers. Contestants take a two-h examination covering elementary and intermediate algebra, plane geometry, and plane trigonome-uates may register for the exam-ination by applying to their school principals for necessary school principals for necessary forms, or they may register di-rectly with the Contest Director, Mathematics Department, UMass. Registration in both categories must be postmarked not later than midnight, April 28. Last year, 1500 students from more than 200 secondary schools participated. Approximately 300 awards were made.

As in previous years, the contest is being sponsored by life insurance companies interested in encouraging outstanding young people to enter the actuarial profession.

Freshmen Are Initiated Into Alpha Lambda Delta

by SANDRA GIORDANO, Collegian Staff Reporter

Seventeen freshman girls were initiated into the freshman honor society, Alpha Lambda Delta, last Sunday after achieving the high standard of 3.5 or better for high standard of 3.5 or better for the first semester.

The initiation was held in the Student Union Council Chamber with President Carol McDonough, '63, in charge. Parents of the initiates were guests at the cere-

The purpose of the society is to promote intelligent living and high standard of learning, and to encourage superior scholastic attainment among freshman women in institutions of higher learning."

A reception was held for members, parents, and guests in the Colonial Lounge following the initiation. Invited guests included (Continued on page 8)

A ROBE BY ANY OTHER NAME

As Commencement Day draws near, the question on everyone's lips is: "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors?" Everybody—but everybody—is asking it. I mean I haven't been able to walk ten feet on any campus in America without somebody grabs my elbow and says, "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors, hey?"

marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors, hey?"

This, I must say, is not the usual question asked by collegians who grab my elbow. Usually they say, "Hey, Shorty, got a Marlboro?" And this is right and proper. After all, are they not collegians, and, therefore, the nation's leaders in intelligence and discernment? And do not intelligence and discernment demand the tastiest in tobacco flavor and smoking pleasure? And does not Marlboro deliver a flavor that is uniquely mellow, a selectrate filter that is easy drawing, a pack that is soft, a box that is hard? You know it!

But I digress. Back to the colored hoods of academic robes. A doctor of philosophy wears blue, a doctor of medicine wears green, a master of arts wears white, a doctor of humanities wears crimson, a master of library science wears lemon yellow. Why? Why, for example, should a master of library science wear lemon

Well sir, to answer this vexing question, we must go back to March 29, 1844. On that date the first public library in the United States was established by Ulric Sigafoos. All of Mr. Sigafoos's neighbors were of course wildly grateful—all, that is, except Wrex Todhunter.

is, except Wrex Todhunter.

Mr. Todhunter had hated Mr. Sigafoos since 1822 when both men had wooed the beauteous Melanie Zitt and Melanie had chosen Mr. Sigafoos because she was mad for dancing and Mr. Sigafoos knew all the latest steps, like the Missouri Compromise Mambo, the Shay's Rebellion Schottische, and the James K. Polk Polka, while Mr. Todhunter, alas, could not dance at all owing to a wound he had received at the Battle of New Orleans. (He was struck by a falling praline.)

Consumed with jealousy at the success of Mr. Sigafoos's library, Mr. Todhunter resolved to open a competing library. This he did, but he lured not a single patron away from Mr. Sigafoos. "What has Mr. Sigafoos got that I haven't got?" Mr. Todhunter kept asking himself, and finally the answer came to

So Mr. Todhunter stocked his library with lots of dandy books and soon he was doing more business than his hated rival. But Mr. Sigafoos struck back. To regain his clientele, he began serving tea free of charge at his library every afternoon. Thereupon, Mr. Todhunter, not to be outdone, began serving tea with sugar. Thereupon, Mr. Sigafoos began serving tea with sugar and cream Aream. Thereupon, Mr. Todhunter began serving tea with sugar and cream and lemon.

This, of course, clinched the victory for Mr. Todhunter because he had the only lemon tree in town—in fact, in the entire state of North Dakota—and since that day lemon yellow has of course been the color on the academic robes of library science. (Incidentally, the defeated Mr. Sigafoos packed up his library and moved to California where, alas, he failed once more. There were, to be sure, plenty of lemons to serve with his tea, but, alas, there was no cream because the cow was not introduced to California until 1931 by John Wayne.)

© 1961 Max Shulman So Mr. Todhunter stocked his library with lots of dandy books

And today Californians, happy among their Guernseys and Holsteins, are discovering a great new cigarette—the un-filtered, king-size Philip Morris Commander—and so are Americans in all fifty states. Welcome aboard!

WOMAN'S PAGE

Greeks Attend Conventions And Host National their dates will enjoy a buffet supper for H.E.R. Weekend.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA
This year the District Province
Convention was held at Alpha Tau chapter of Alpha Chi Omega in New Hampshire. Our chapter was represented by: President, Nancy Hanlon; first V.P., Jan Souza; second V.P., Betty Baldi; Treasurer, Shirley Fishman; Scholarship Chairman, Joanne Hyland; Rush Chairman, Maryellen Cicchetti; and Advisor, Mrs. Carolyn Broemel.

Deena Ferrigno was

Deena Ferrigno was recently initiated into Alpha Lambda Del-ta freshman women's honor so-

Other Alpha Chi's elected to ofother Alpha Chris elected to Michelland are Ruth Henderson, President of Naiads; Marie Schell, Secretary of the Home Economics Club; and Sylvia Oakes, Sophomore Representative for the Home Ec Club.

This month Jan Taylor re-ceived the Alpha Chi carnation for her outstanding work in sor-ority and school activities. She also was recently elected C.A. Vice President.

CHI OMEGA

The semi-annual Chi Omega
Fireside (regional convention) was held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Boston last weekend.
Delegates from our chapter were President, Barbie Winslow; Vice President, Alsie Edgarton; Rush Chairman, Nancy Pisanno; and Pledge Trainer, Paula Turco. The convention proved rewarding and invaluable to all concerned.

Chi O's theme for their H.E.R. Weekend party is Copa Chi. So-cial Committee members Carol Neal, Joan Hussey, and Kay Rea-gan have plans which include a Hawaiian Luau, Limbo contests and a conglomeration of coca-

Carrie Sherriff and her Chi O volleyball team are the sorority champions. Next championship on the list or so our coach Bobby Veno tells us, is in softball.

The sparkling house at 315 Lincoln Ave, is due to our recent spring housecleaning and the combined efforts of the sisters and pledges of Chi O and pledges of Theta Chi to whom we owe many thanks. many thanks.

sisters are duly proud of Jan Reimer, a new member of Woman's Judiciary.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Bunny Snell did a fine job planning our annual Pledge For-mal. The festivities at Wiggins were enjoyed by all.

Our exchange supper with S.A.E. before vacation was quite a success. We're looking forward to exchanges with T.E.P. on the 18th and with Phi Sigma Kappa on the 26th.

The sisters are proud of Ellie Stang, one of the finalists for Greek Ball Queen.

This Saturday the Kappas and

Carol Guerrette Plans To Travel And Teach

Second in our list of special weekends here at UMass, is the annual Military Ball. Carol Ann Guerrette, a pretty freshman from Salem was selected honorary Colonel for this year.

Her duties will entail attending a consumer to Westerney.

Her duties will entail attending a ceremony at Westover Air-Force Base tomorrow, and presiding over Spring Review this year and Fall Review next year. Carol was nominated by Alpha Epsilon Pi. With the other 32 nominees she walked before the ROTC cadets of both the Army and the Air Force. "It was a funny feeling," Carol commented, "you couldn't see them but you knew they could see you."

The next day the names of the five finalists were announced. Escorted by some of the advanced cadets, these five girls attended a tea with President Lederle, the colonels, the captains and

Carol remembers that on the night of the Military Ball, she felt happy but still apprehensive. On stage Harriet Culter, last year's Colonel, walked past Carol and she was sure she had not won. "Then suddenly I felt the satin sliding onto my shoulders. It was wonderful."

In high school Carol had been elected queen of various dances. She had never, however, been in a beauty contest before.

Carol considers herself to be an average student. She enrolled as a Nursing major but has since changed to English. She plans to teach in high school upon gradua-

Carol also hopes to do some traveling in the future. "My secret dream has always been to go to Switzerland," Carol said.

In what spare time she can find, our Honorary Colonel likes to play tennis, swim, and read. She recently went flying for a trial run and now hopes to join the Flying Club soon. The sisters welcome Larrilyn Carr, Theta's Traveling Secretary who is visiting the chapter this week. She is bringing us ideas from other chapters and at the same time gathering information about Gamma Eta to pass on to other chapters.

Two of the sisters were finalists in the Greek Ball contest. They are Judie Iversen and Jan Hall both members of the class of '62. Judie Iversen was crowned queen last Friday night.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The Theta's exchange supper with Phi Mu Delta on Tuesday proved to be a huge success.

Our softball players are pre-paring for a successful season by practicing every night at the W.P.E. grounds.

The sisters of K.A.T. are lookring forward to the H.E.R. Week-end festivities planned by the pledges for Saturday. The theme is supposed to be a secret but word has leaked out that there may be a hint of a Polynesian air.

SIGMA KAPPA

SIGMA KAPPA
Sigma Kappa's Executive Council has recently appointed many girls to fill positions for the coming year. They are: Asend festivities planned by the sitant Rush Chairman, Kathy
Rafferty; Assistant Pledge
Trainer, Joan Werner; Assistant
Treasurer, Carol Tarr; Assistant
House Manager, Terry Gwozdz;
Entertainment, Barbara Cushing;
Assistant Recreation, Arlene
Mawaka; Recommendations, Fran Maziarz. Maziarz.

Further appointments are: Activities Chairman, Marie Mortimer; Assistant Activities, Connie Gardini; Scholarship, Elaine Ricker: Philanthronies Philanthropies, Rosemary nner; Triangle Correspondent, Jean Saulnier and Music, Elaine Carlson.

Elaine Carlson.

The sisters were happy to have Barbara Williams, Sigma Kappa's national Traveling Secretary visiting at the house for about five days last week. The tea held on Sunday in her honor was enjoyed by all. Representatives from all the sororities and fraternities on campus were invited. The Sigmas are happy to welcome Joyce Kaplan, '62 from Lewis House, a new pledge.

All the girls in the house are looking forward to a picnic at Look Park as part of the HER Weekend festivities.

The softball players are busy

The softball players are busy practicing at the W.P.E. Building. Under the coaching of Carmen Scarpa and Pete Grigas, the Sigmas are looking forward to a suc-

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS ROISTER DOISTERS

Karel Capek's

BOWKER AUDITORIUM

APRIL 27, 28, 29

Curtain at 8:15

All Seats Reserved Tickets $1.10, $1.40

Ticket Office (Student Union) open weekdays 10-12, 2-4
Telephone Amherst Alpine 3-3411

Pinnings

Doreen Waskiewicz, Chi Omega to Pete Evans, Theta Chi. Ellie Stang, Kappa Kappa Gamma to Curt Bailey, Alpha

Gamma Rho.
Val Smith, Kappa Alpha Theta to Dave Brassel, Alpha Tau Gamma.

Engagements
Patricia Kraft, Pi Beta Phi, to Donald Burwinkle, Clinton, Mass. Ellie Osley, Sigma Kappa to Pete Grigas, Alpha Gamma Rho.

Redmen Take Third Straight; Edge Out Amherst 1-0

Lou Pia's 2-Hitter, Double By Schmoyer Provide Victory In Tense Pitching Duel

Fine pitching again was the key factor in a UMass victory as the Lordens, behind the two-hit hurling of Lou Pia, blanked the Amherst nine 1-0, Wednesday

Pia, pitching his first game on the varsity squad, was up against some rough competition, as the Jeff hurler, Dick Zeitler was no slouch on the mound, giving up only three hits to the Redmen.

The lone UMass tally came in the seventh as Fran Pisiewski led off the stanza with a free pass to first base. Bob Hughes fouled out, but Paul Foley uled out, but Paul Foley ounded to first, reaching safe-on a fielder's choice as Pisiewski was forced at second. Corky Schmoyer, a 400 plus slugger for last year's frosh team, then strode to the plate and lined a double to right center, bringing in Foley for the score. Corky went to third as Dave Krukonis' roller was booted by the short-stop, but Ed Forbush went down second to first to end the inning.

Zeitler gave up only one base on balls during the game, and that was his big mistake. Only one other man for the Lordens by BEN GORDON '62, Sports Editor reached second base during the course of the game.

The Jeffs had their chances but left their men stranded on base. Two walks and an error had the Redmen in trouble in the first with two down, but Pia bore down and got the next batter to ground out second to first.

In the last of the second, a walk, a stolen base and an error saw men on third and second with no outs, but again the righthanded Pia dug in to retire the side on a strikeout and two grounders.

The last Jeff threat car the fourth wher Bruce Elliott tripled to left with one away, but a grounder and a strikeout came in quick succession to haul the Redmen out of trouble.

After that no one could touch Pia, the only man to reach base being hit by a pitch in the ninth. Lou pitched to only sixteen men in the last five frames.

POP UPS

This was the third straight regular season victory for the Mass nine, all three wins being marked by suberb pitching . that city . . . Corky Schmoyer, whose double brought in the only run against the Jeffs, also comes from that burg . . Amherst is now 1-2 for the season, having lost another one run decision to Yale, Tuesday . . . Zeitler's only loss last season was against the Mass squad as he was bombed campus today and Saturday for

LOU PIA

	ab	r	h	rbi
Williams, 3b		0	0	•
Pisiewski, ss		0	2	0
Del Vecchio, cf	1	0	0	0
Hughes, cf	2	0	0	0
Foley, If	4	1	0	0
Schmoyer, 2b	4	0	1	1
Krukonis, c	3	0	0	0
Forbush, 1b	3	0	0	0
Roland, rf	3	0	0	0
Pia, p		0	0	0
Totals	30	1	3	1
	ab	r	h	rbi
Sheridan, cf	3	- 0	0	0
Diehl. 2b	4	0	1	0
Chadys, 1	4	0	0	0
Lawrence, as	3	0	0	0
Horton, 3b	4	0	0	0
Elliott, e		0	1	0
Nixon, If		0	0	0
Amend, rf	2	0	0	0
Zeitler, p	3	0	0	0
Totals	29	0	2	0
UMASS		000
Chadys, Lawrence,
bush. PO-A Amherst	27-9	IIM		- 5
LOB-UMass 4, Amhei
2B-Schmoyer, 3B	EII	intt	S	R - Sheridan, Elliotty, An re
Pia		0		9
Zeitler	9 3		1 1	4
HBP-Pia (Elliott).	U-	-Vasa	r :	and
Callahan, T-2:27.

Track Squad Shows Strength In Events As '61 Season Nears

(Continued from Mon. Issue.)

In getting ready for the spring track season, Coach Bill Footrick can be sure of good performances from many of his vets. The distance threesome for the mile and two mile races are Dave Balch, Captain Ralph Buschmann, and Dick Blomstrom, Balch had a great indoor season and Buschmann is the outdoor record holder in the mile. Blomstrom has shown improvement over his freshman spring running. The Mile record should be endangered by Balch who had a better time indoors this winter.

The Redmen have great depth in the two jumping events. Dick Ward leads the high jumpers with a 6'4" record effort Miami and could improve. He'll be joined by Al Garsys, Joe Cassidy, LaPier and Reilly who have all been over 5'10". Garsys is the bese broad jump prospect, having done over 21' in the UConn re-lays. Flagg and Reilly are both 20-footers in this event. Pole vaulters Lee Munson, Dick Brown, and Kermit Pruyne must improve to give the Redmen more strength in their specialty. This trio has been around 11 feet but inconsistant,

Despite the good prospects in

by ABE SCHEINKER '62

the above events, it may be the weightmen who take most of the honors this spring. The shot put record is the only one of the throwing events not in danger so far, but it could go eventually. George Giddings is currently working on the shotput technique to direct his Herculean power behind the 16-lb, ball.

Dick Ward, holder of the frosh hammer record of over 153 feet, may nip the varsity mark this year. Ernie Karshick should beat him to it though, as the big redhead has approached 150 feet in far, a 25-foot im-over last year. Karpractice so provement over last year. Kar-shick, who has also reached 130 feet in the discus, will find the going tough there, as sophomores Charlie Romeo and Al Obue are nearing 140 feet in practice. Tex Freedman could also surprise the others in the discus circle. Lastly, the 196-foot javelin record is the goal of soph Jack Ballou who set a frosh mark of 188'6" last spring. Hoop star Charlie Fohlin, Hank Kelsey, and sprinter Dineen are the other capable spearmen on the squad.

In summary, this is the first time Coach Bill Footrick has had three good men in nearly every event since coming here, and all are working hard because of the competition for places on the team. Outdoor prospects have never been better.

UMASS VARSITY OUTDOOR TRACK RECORDS

Event	Record	Holder	Date Set
100-yd. dash	10.0 sec.	O'Connor '41	May 3, 1940
		Davidson '47	May 1, 1946
		Flagg '63	April 5, 1961
220-yd. dash	22.0 sec.	Burke '58	May 1, 1957
		Flagg '63	April 5, 1961
440-yd. dash	50.2 sec.	Brinson '60	May 11, 1960
880-yd. run	1:57.0	Hoss '55	May 15, 1954
One mile run	4:27.4	Buschmann '61	May 14, 1960
Two mile run	9:39.4	Horn '56	May 14, 1956
120-yd. high hurdles	15.7 sec.	LaPier '62	May 5, 1961
220-yd. high hurdles	25.0 sec.	Joyce '40	May 27, 1939
Broad jump	23'1 ¼ "	Sniffen '26	May 20, 1926
Pole vault	12'1 14"	Law '59	May 14, 1952
High jump	6'4"	Ward '63	April 5, 1961
Javelin throw	196'614"	Svenson '59
Discus throw	139'	McDonough '54	May, 1959
Shotput	48'10"	Svenson '59	May 29, 1947
Hammer throw	164'10"	Kindred '60	May 17, 1958
	.01.10	Kindred 60	May 9, 1960

fresh and a big variety to select from at A&P's Delicatessen Department

Chinese Egg Rolls-Shrimp or Chicken Chop Suey-Several Kinde Bologna, Salami, Liverwurst Variety Cheeses and Spreads Cocktail Frankforts-Midget Bologna Herring-Sardines-Wine Fillets Potato Salad-Mexican Salade Kilbosi-Linguica-Cappacolla Cooked Shrimp and Cocktail Sauce Variety of Puddings-Cheese Cakes Old Fashioned Rye Bread and others and many more - come in

* there's plenty free parking

My Neighbors

WEEKEND SPORTS Any sports minded individ-ual on campus can take his variety Baseball vs. Maine
2:00 Home
Varsity Tennis vs. Fairfield
Home 2:00
Varsity Lacrosse vs. Amherst
Home 2:00

Home 2:00 Freshman Baseball vs. Wind-ham Home 2:00

Golf Team Romps Over Trinity In Opening Match

The University of Massachu-etts golfmen romped ever Trin-with the Judges of Brandeis. setts golfmen romped over Trin-ity Tuesday afternoon at the Orchards in South Hadley. The decisive 6-1 victory was the initial match of the season for coach Chet Gladchuck's charges.

Co-captain Pete Hatfield paced the linksmen with a 74 to easily dispose of his opponent on the thirteenth hole.

Senior Bill Marshall carded a

Mike Megliola, playing as second man on the team, triumphed 2-1. Also victorious were junior Barry Schmoyer (3-2), Jack Conway (2-1), and Bob Dion (3-2). The only loss was suffered by sophomore John Donasky, who was edged on the final hole.

The Redmen golfers travel to

GOLF SCHEDULE

20-Rhode Island A. 1:30 Apr. 26-Brandeis A. 1:30 Apr. 29-R.P.I. A. 1:30 May 1-Amherst A. 1:30 May 2-AIC & Conn. H. 1:30 May 5—Yan, Con. Maine 1:30 May 9—B.C. & N.H. A. 1:30 May 12&13—NEIGA R.I. 10:30 May 18—WPI & Nichols Worcester 2:00

May 18-Springfield H. 1:30

Gunning Good Idea

CAMBRIDGESHIRE, England CAMBRIDGESHIRE, England (UPI)—English huntsmen in the early part of the 19th Century devised the sport of trap-shooting because they had been deprived of the chance to shoot at wild birds.

Frosh Nine Displays Power, Swamps Mount Hermon 16-0

Nothing could stop the UMass freshmen baseball team yesterday, neither snow nor Mount Hermon. The game started in snow flurries but the sun came out long enough at the end of the game to see the scoreboard which read 16-0, Redmen.

The club went overboard in the club went overboard in exhibiting their patriotism as they left little doubt right from the start as to who would win. Wasting little time they scored five big runs in the first inning. John Adwycki, second batter up singled and was brought expended. singled, and was brought around quickly when Mike Brita followed with a triple. Catcher Gordie Lewis, not to be outdone, promptly stepped up to the plate and smacked a three-bagger of his own scoring Brita. Singles by Tony Kazukonis, Tom Ryan, and

by DAVE WILLARD '64
Jack Curtis sandwiched with a passed ball ran the total up to five runs.

Rick Farrell, working with relative ease using this five run explosion for a cushion, breezed through the first five innings. striking out six, allowing only two hits and one walk. He was followed to the mound by Haavisto and Brita.

The other UMass explosion was in the sixth when they tallied six. Barry Meunier started it off with a triple and Awdycki belted one over the left field fence. Brita then singled, Lewis walked, and Kazukonis who drove in five runs for the day, unloaded a three-run homer over the left a three-run homer over the left fence, even longer than the pre-ceding blast.

Coach Bergquist substited liberally, fielding a whole new unit after the fifth inning but the boys had their hitting shoes on and they couldn't be stopped, as the team collected 20 hits in

Pleased with their fine showing, the club is anxious to play their first home game to prove that this initial performance was no

This first home game will be tomorrow against Windham at 2 o'clock. The game was originally scheduled for an away affair but has been switched due to conflicts. The freshmen field is down behind the cowbarns across the tar road. the tar road.

Scoring
UMass — 502 006 003—16 20 3
Hermon — 000 000 000— 0 3 4

As usual, the opening of another baseball campaign is the signal for everyone from Univac to the batboy to make preseason predictions. So we thought, why not stick our neck in the noose, we're going to have a lot of company when it starts tightening—so here goes something. here goes something

AMERICAN LEAGUE

AMERICAN LEAGUE

1. Baltimore Orioles — You might call us birds, but we think this young team can do it this year if they avoid the sophomore jinx. Pitching and defense should make up for any lack of offense, especially in their big home park.

2. New York Yankees-Sure 2. New York Yankees—Sure they look good, that's why we're picking them for second instead of for third. You can't overlook their awesome hitters like Mantle, Howard, Kubek, Berra and Skowron, but their pitching is not that good. Losing steadying influence Gil MacDougald, Mantle will not be able to stand up under the added burden of being tabbed as the leader by Ralph Houk. Too much working against the Yanks, including nine other the Yanks, including nine other hungry teams, who are not quite

MINNESOTA SLEEPER

MINNESOTA SLEEPER

3. Minnesota Twins — Go ahead, laugh, but they could be the sleepers of the League. Vastly improved last year, they just needed that little something extra which they got from moving to Minnesota and in the person of shortstop Zorro Versalles. Hitting of Lemon, Killehrey, Al. of shortstop Zorro Versalles. Hitting of Lemon, Killebrew, Allison and Battery, should stand up most of the way. If Pedro Ramos and Camilio Pascual can keep their arms itself. keep their arms intact this team will go places.

Cleveland Indians-The acquisition of former Giant pitcher Johnny Antonelli will no doubt help the team. He should return help the team. He should return to form with the change of scenery. If Woody Held and Jim Piersall can come through with good years to match Vic Power and Tito Francona the offensive end will be all set. More big if's are pitchers Jim Grant and Gary Bell who are capable of at least are pitchers Jim Grant and Gary Bell who are capable of at least 15 wins a piece coupled with Jim Perry's expected 20 victories. If all these if's come through the Indians could be pennant contenders, but their youth alone has to rank them above Chicago.

5. Chicago — The "Go-Go"
White Sox are gone. No longer can they count on speed at every position to pull them through.
Aparicio's fielding won't be enough unless he becomes an over-night hitter. Minoso can't go on forever and Nellie Fox needs over-night hitter. Simoso can't go on forever and Nellie Fox needs someone to knock him in. Al Smith has never extended him-self, while Sievers, Rivera, Lollar, Goodman, Torgeson are all in the spectator class. The only thing that could raise the team any higher is their pitching. Baumann, Pierce, Wynn, McLish, and Staley might turn the tide, but even most of them are quite elderly.

Detroit - Picked over the 6. Detroit — Picked over the Red Sox mainly because of better pitching and a shade more power. Frank Lary and Jim Bunning plus Don Mossi in the bull pen should make the difference, Also a fine outfield of Bruton, Kaline, and Colavito, and two new rookies Steve Boros and Jack Wood. Always tabbed as the surprise team with the most potenprise team with the most potential, they have cried "wolf" too many times to pick them any higher.

SOX FUTURE POTENTIAL
The Bosox has 7. Boston — The Bosox have finally started a successful youth movement but are still a few finally started a successful youth movement but are still a few years away. As Ted Williams says, they could be the surprise team in the league, but we don't think they are quite ready to make their move. Geiger, Yastremski, Schilling, and Pagliaroni are bound to help, but the lack of any real front-line pitching, a major league shortstop and the sometimes mismanagement of Mike Higgins are the main obstacles. If Higgins can learn how to manipulate what talent he has the Sox could move up a rung or two, but Higgins' frequent lapses as to how long his pitcher has been belted around and who he's got on the bench could be disastorous.

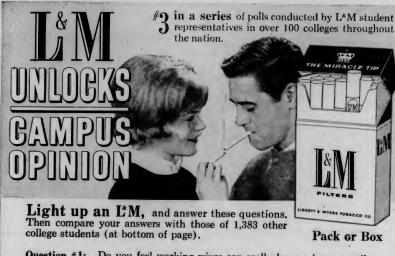

8. Kansas City—Will finish in the same place they did last year due to lack of constructive changes and Frank Lane. Lane may be good for publicity but seldom helps_the morale of a team. Some of the Yankee cast-offs will have to come down from their "Ivory Tower" for this team to go any where. Also the pitchers will have to give up fewer home runs and let their own teammates catch up. Kansas City-Will finish in own teammates catch up.

9. Washington Senator 9. Washington Senators—
They have too many former Red Sox who will come back, including Manager Mickey Vernon, that's why we picked them ahead of L.A. A pretty good mixture of rookies and veterans, led by Tasby, Keough, Woodling and Donovan the team should finish out of the cellar.

10. Los Angeles-A club with 10. Los Angeles—A club with a lot of power in the person of Cerv, Kluszewski, Bilko, plus pros like Pearson, Yost, and Aspromonte, their pitching will be what holds them back as they will probably give up more runs than the Angels can muster, and that'll be quite a few.

Look for National League predictions next time.

Question #1: Do you feel working wives can really have a happy, welladjusted family life?

Answer:

No_

Question #2: How big a help to a college man is a car in building a successful social life?

Answer:

The biggest_ Pretty big — Pretty big — No help at all_ Not so big_ Question #3: Which of these fields do you believe provides the greatest opportunity for success, within ten years after entry into the field? (CHECK ONE)

Answer:

__ Solid state physics ____ Advertising Law_____ Business administration Chemical engineering_ Medicine Sales Industrial design_ Architecture Mathematics College teaching Psychiatry___ Biochemistry_

Question #4: Do you prefer a filter or a non-filter cigarette?

Filter_ Non-filter

FLAVOR

... Flavor that never dries out vour taste.

Get the flavor only L&M unlocks ... in pack or box

●1961 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Campus Opinion Answers:

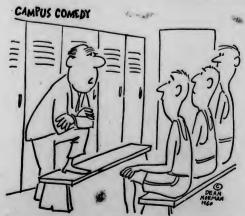

Answer, Question #1: Yes 61% - No 39% Answer, Question #2: The biggest 7% – Pretty big 55% Not so big 32% – No help at all 6%

Not so Dig 32% — No help at all 6%
Answer, Question #3:
Electronics 14% — Solid state physics 5%
Advertising 8% — Politics 1% — Law 7%
Business administration 12%
Chemical engineering 8%
Medicine 26% — Sales 4%
Industrial design 1% — Architecture 3%
Mathematics 2% — Psychiatry 5%
College teaching 3% — Biochemistry 1%
Answer Question 4%

Answer, Question #4: Filter 73% – Non-filter 27%

With almost three out of four college students now in the filter camp, you owe it to yourself to try L.S.M., the filter cigarette that promises—and delivers—flavor. The friend'y flavor of ripe, golden tobaccos . . . flavor that never dries out your taste.

The L&M Campus Opinion Poil was taken at over 100 colleges where L&M has student representatives, and may not be a statistically random selection of all undergraduate schools.

forget you're playing the league champions TONICHT! ... FORGET YOU'RE 30 POINT UNDERDOGS!

"FORGET WE HAVE THREE REGULARS OUT WITH INJURIES!... LET'S FORGET THE WHOLE THING AND GO HOME."

Plans For Smoking In Libe Announced

by PAT WHÍTING '63, Collegian Staff Reporter Mr. Hugh Montgemery, head destruction. Treat it librarian, announced a plan today vilege, use the ash tra to allow smoking in the old read-ing room of Goodell Library. An announcement will be made within the next two weeks as to when the plan will go into effect.

President Lederle and Provost
McCune suggested the idea to Montogmery and he agreed to it. This is the first time smoking will be allowed within the building itself, Montgomery said.

Montgomery also said that "this is a privilege which can be denied if there is any general is any general destruction. Treat it as a privilege, use the ash trays and not waste baskets full of paper." If there are any abuses there will be absolutely no smoking allowed in the building, including the lobbies which are now used for

The most immediate problem, The most immediate problem, Mr. Montgomery continued, was ventilation. Until proper ventila-tion is installed next year the windows will be left open from the bottom and top to allow cir-

Talk On Northampton Project To Be Given Monday Night

Monday night, April 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Berkshire room of the S.U., Paul Tela, Assistant Direc-tor of the Northampton Project, will speak on establishing a volunteer branch of the project on the UMass campus. The meeting will be sponsored by the Women's Service Organization and is open to anyone interested.

The Northampton Project is eing formed under the auspices of the Northampton State Hos-pital, and it is hoped that event-ually interested students and faculty of UMass will be able to go to the hospital and do volun-teer work with the patients there. For the last three years a group from Mount Holyoke has been doing this type of work, which involves ordinary activities and conversations, which are, to patients who have been somewhat isolated from the world, of in-terest and benefit. Volunteers of this sort are of immense value and benefit to students majoring in sociology, psychology, or who just like people. Anyone who fits into the above category is invited to attend as this is a completely open meeting — not limited to any one particular

There will be refreshments and an opportunity to talk with Paul Tela after the meeting.

Elections ... (Continued from page 1) above all, he most certainly does

AND IT'S ABOUT TIME THE WORLD KNEW!!!

"The American students have not staged wild demonstrations, riots, and stone-throwing spec-tacles because they believe in peaceful means as their government believes in peace!

Presented by Wilson

The statement was presented on campus about 1 p.m. by Senator Raymond G. Wilson '64. The statement was circulated in some dormitories, fraternity houses, and sorority houses.

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10 week in August alo net profit per party.
- ★ PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- ★ SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eli-gible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholar-ship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can
- ★ EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of valuable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in your own hometown

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, Alpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON..DeLAND General Manager College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc.

WESTFIELD, MASS.

J. Greenstein Will Lecture At Smith

Jesse L. Greenstein, Professor Astrophysics, California Inof Astrophysics, California Institute of Technology, will lecture at Smith College, Tuesday, April 25, at 8 p.m. in Burton 6. "Stellar Evolution and the Origin of the Chemical Elements" will be his tonic. An open discussion be his topic, An open discussion at the Alumnae House with Dr. Greenstein follows the Burton native of New York City, A native of New York City, Dr. Greenstein graduated from Harvard University where he also received his A.M. and Ph.D. degrees. While stationed at Yerkes Observatory, he was an Instructor, Assistant Professor and Associate Professor at the University of Chicago. After joining the Caltech faculty in 1948, he became a full professor in 1949. There he organized a new graduate school in Astrophysics which was connected with the work of the Mount Wilson and Paleman. Observatories A. and Palomar Observatories, A member of the staff of the Mount Wilson and Palomar Observatories, Dr. Greenstein is noted for esearch on the nature of gas dust in interstellar space, and on the early stages of the formation of stars.

Dr. Greenstein's studies of absorption and polarization of light in space has established the importance of magnetic fields in space. In the spectroscopic study of the composition of the stars from their spectra, the discovery of stars of populier composition. of stars of peculiar composition and the development of the the-ory connecting changes or differences in the compositions of stars with the nuclear processes occur-ring in their interiors, he is an expert.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: Plain gold wish-bone pin. Invaluable sentimentally. Please call Jane McKenney, Knowlton.

Lost: Tuesday night some place on campus, a black clutch bag containing a wallet with impor-tant papers. Please contact Elisa-beth Primmer, 303 Crabtree or leave at the S.U. Lobby.

Lost: Black leather billford 4"x7". Return to Jerold S. Wy-man, Village Inn, AL 3-2415.

ALWAYS FREE PARKING

AND FREE ADMISSION

Mrs. Lederle Is Avid Riding Enthusiast ANN MILLER '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

Mrs. Lederle frequently enjoys the campus and surrounding as upon one of UMass' Morgan horses. Here she is riding areas upon one of UMass' Mor Classique, one of her favorites. A familiar sight at UMass this year has been our new presi-dent's charming wife on horseback around the campus.

Mrs. Lederle was brought up in Newton Center, Mass., and at-tended Newton High School and the University of Michigan. She has always enjoyed horseback riding although she never seriously took lessons until three or four years ago. She stopped riding for two years and then, when she and her husband came to UMass this fall, started again. Mrs. Lederle rides for exercise and for sheer pleasure, finding the campus and surrounding land enjoyable country for the sport.

Although our gracious first lady does not have her own horse, she would like to own one some-day. Right now she rides, and is very enthusiastic about UMass Morgan horses. She began riding here on Damsel, the twenty-eight year old matriarch of the barns.
Of Damsel Mrs. Lederle said,
"She taught me more about riding than anyone else." Another favorite is Classique who, last year, won first prize in the Jusyear, won first prize in the Jus-tin Morgan Performance in the National Morgan Horse Show at Northampton. Presently, Mrs. Lederle rides Endonia. Mrs. Lederle is also very interested in the UMass Riding Club headed by Frank DeCaro.

Mrs. Lederle enjoys figure skating but finds it a difficult sport to continue here, because of lack of facilities. In Michigan she used to skate five or six days week at the University of a week at the University of Michigan's inside skating rink. Besides the President and Mrs.

Deerfield Drive - In

> -FRI. - SAT. - SUN.-Yul Brynner Steve McQueen

Theatre

Magnificent Seven

(Color)
-ALSOROBERT MITCHUM in "The Night Fighters" ★ B O N U S ★

—FRI. - SUN. APR. 21-23—

Shown at 7:45

World Heavyweight Championship Fight Pictures Patterson vs. Johansson

Show Begins at 7:30 Feature First Sunday

Lederle, the family consists of a daughter, a sophomore at the University of Michigan, and a fourteen-year-old son attending a private school in Pennsylvania. Both of them enjoy riding and the daughter also likes figure skating.

The whole family are water
They all water sport enthusiasts. They all water ski and swim; the daughter also enjoys sailing. The Lede les have a summer home not far from Lake Michigan where they enjoy

Annual Dairy Show To Be Held April 29

The 26th annual Bay State Dairy Classic will be held April 29 in Grinnell Arena at UMass.

More than 40 two and four-More than 40 two and four-year animal science seniors of the College of Agriculture will be competing for the H. P. Hood Trophy and the title of Premier Showman. Dairy cows of the Holstein, Ayrshire, Guernsey and Jersey breeds from the UMass herd are to be fitted and shown.

As in past years, the Parade of Farm Babies is expected to highlight the show for the youngsters. This parade will include some of the animals born on the UMass farm this spring.

Dr. Richard C. Foley, professor in the department of dairy and animal science, is faculty chair-man of the show.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: White winter coat at Junior Mix. Call Paul Heanue, 323 Butterfield.

Freshmen Are ...

(Continued from page 5) President and Mrs. Lederle and Dr. Louis Greenbaum, Director

Martha Hume, '63, was in charge of the arrangements. Dean Helen Curtis and Miss Le-onta Horrigan are the advisors.

The new initiates, from the class of '64 are: Dorothy Barnes, Marcia Bertozzi, Susan Black, Deena Ferrigno, Michele King, Carol J. Kline, Eunice LeMasurier, Jean McCann, Nancy Mello, Donna Morrison, Barbara Murphy, Elaine Needham, Alice Pierce, Linda Schechterle, Linda Streeter, Judith Young, and Sandra Zarvis.

VOL. XC NO. 69 5¢ PER COPY

APR 2 5 1951 UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

UMass Protest

(See page 2)

MONDAY, APRIL 24, 1961

Procession

Senate To Consider Centennial Support

Students' financial support of the Centennial will be decided Wednesday night when the Stu-dent Senate will consider a motion introduced by the Student Senate Rudget Committee in ac-cord with the classes of '62, '63, and '64.

1. "There will be only one principle source from which money may be appropriated in behalf of the students, and that is the S.A.T.F., the Student Activities Tax Fund.

2. A lump sum of money will a made available to the Centennial in the Budget Act, but the money may be released in a series appropriations as determined of appropriations as by the Senate.

3. The class officers will en-force the following policy during '61-'62 school year:

a. No additional class tax

LIBRARY

a. No additional class tax will be levied specifically for appropriation to the Centennial.
b. None of the $1.25 class tax already levied will be appropriated to the Centennial.

ed to the Centennial.

c. The only exceptions where class money might be given to the Centennial would be:

1. Money for the class gift, or the class gift itself may be used for the Centennial.

2. Profit earned from a source may be given to the Centennial; (Profit earned from a source is that amount of income over and above the expenditure of that source; i.e., Winter Carnion of the class of the content of of that source; i.e., Winter Carnival, dances, etc.)

This motion is derived from several recent meetings of the budget committee and class of-

Launches Lederle Inauguration

Flying Redmen AFROTC Color Guard approaches the WPE stage at the beginning of investiture of Dr. John W. Lederle as fifteenth president of UMass. Colors were posted, followed by the National Anthem.

Dance Band Will Present Open House Jazz Concert

On Sunday April 30 at 2 p.m., the UMass Dance Band will pre-sent its annual Open House Jazz Concert in what has become a

Blood Donors Needed For Pelham Boy

A 14-year old boy in Pelham will undergo a serious operation in a few weeks. He is in great need of blood donors. Students, faculty, or staff who have an O negative blood type and would be interested in giving blood are asked to contact Mr. George Condon at AL 6-6149 or Russell Claussen in the Protestant Chaplain's office.

students under 21 are required by law to have the permission of their parents before giving blood. giving blood.

customary end-of-semester spurt. The Band received wide acclaim at its second Westover AFB dance and at North Adams State College, where it played a jazz concert similar to the coming concert similar to the coming Open House engagement. Under the direction of student leader John Maggs, who has done all the writing and arranging for the group, the band will play many familiar tunes and originals in the popular style of jazz. Featured with the band will be Ann Shutty, a songstress popular in the Springfield area who has been with the band for three years.

REMINDER

REMINDER

Counseling day is a week from tomorrow, on May 2. Pre-registration booklets are available now from advisors. Students should obtain the booklets now so they will be able to accomplish actual pre-registration quickly next Tuesday.

UMass' new President, John W. Lederle, was inaugurated Saturday before a capacity audience in the WPE building. The pro-cession started at 3:10 p.m., led by the trustees and faculty of UMass.

To the strains of the "Grand

To the strains of the "Grand March", played by the UMass band, the colorful procession proceeded toward the stage, which was decorated with flowers for the event. After an invocation by Bishop Christopher J. Weldon of Springfield, the main speaker of the day was introduced by the chairman of the Board of Trustees, Frank L. Boyden.

Dr. Perkins Is Main Speaker

Dr. Perkins Is Main Speaker
Dr. John Perkins, President of the University of Delaware, and National Undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, spoke briefly on the purposes of a first-rate University.

"The Eastern land-grant colleges must question not how we have lagged in the past, but how we are to lead in the future." He also stressed the need for leadership within the Universities, for if it is not provided there, outside factors, namely state and national legislatures, will control the institutions. the institutions.

Volpe Invests Lederle
The climax of the program, the investing of the new President, was administered by Gov. John
A. Volpe, and at this time, the band burst forth with the "Inaugural Fanfare", a piece specially composed for the occasion by Elliot Schwartz.

The President's address, which The President's address, which followed directly, was aimed at students, teachers, and guests of the University. He mentioned the obligations and privileges of the professors and students to the University, as well as the University dylicate, the citizens of the sity's duties to the citizens of the nmonwealth.

President Lederle emphasized the point that "Some of the best teaching is done in the privacy of the professor's office, where the pupil-teacher ratio is one-to-one." The speech was well-received by the audience.

The Reverend Dr. Roy Pearson, of Andoren Newton Theological of Andover-Newton Theological School, concluded the program with benediction, and the recessional followed.

After the ceremonies, President and Mrs. Lederle, Governor and Mrs. Volpe, and other distinguished guests received students dents and guests. Asked to com-ment on the inaugural program afterwards, the guests were varied:

Gov. Volpe: "A very significant ceremony in that it marks the close of one era and the com-mencement of another. There will now be more emphasis on the qualitative phase of education."

Mrs. Volpe: "Thrilling! I like anything to do with colleges, especially since I have a son myself

(Continued on page 3)

Above, Gov. John Volpe arrives on campus by a State Police helicopter and is greeted by UMass officials. At right, the academic procession leaves the Commons for

- Photo by Dick Forman At the luncheon preceding Lederle's inauguration Gov. Volpe addresses members of the faculty and administration and guests. Listening &: the left are Mrs. Volpe and

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '6

Joseph Bradley '64 Sports Editor

Editorial Editor Business Manager
James J. Trelease '63 Howard Frisch '62
News Editor: Assignments News Editor: Make-Up Beth Peterson Photography Editor Lawrence Popple '6

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed se times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examinate a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mulling under the authority of periods: twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1982.

"2.0" A Must Defeat

Without a doubt, there is a definite need for a minimum average for activities. And with the correct elements contained within it, any minimum average bill would receive our anxious approval. But, whil a good "average" bill will upgrade our campus, a poor "average" bill could wreak such havoc on our organizations that the entire college atmosphere would suffer damage. As we shall point out, the "2.0" bill sent to us from the Student Senate contains few of the necessary elements and, therefore, must be defeated Thursday or our campus stands to suffer a possible crippling blow.

No bill in the legislative year 1960-61 was as bitterly fought over as the "2.0" was. And no bill will affect the Student Body's rights like this one will. But there is a similarity between this legislation and many of the other bills which come to us from the Senate. When someone named it the "Blanket Bill," their accuracy and choice of nomenclature was in tthe order of the master Linnaeus, himself. Beseiged by cries from the administration, faculty, and students for some minimum grade requirement in activities offices, the Senate sent us the "2.0" bill simply to have a minimum average in the be

Their idea of passing anything in order that some kind of foun dation by laid for future elaboration or delineation is not only absurd but it could be very injurious to a majority of students. While the bill was passed by a vote of 18-13, a large portion of those 18 Senators felt that, while the "2.0" served as a "blanket" (covering too large an area) and was much too vague, once the bill was in effect we could amend or delete portions as we saw its effects on the students. Not only is this idea unfair to those leaders who will be experimented on during the bill's initial years, but it is a waste of time since we may easily refer to the results of other colleges' periments in this activities average field rather than serve ourselves up a unnecessary guinea pigs.

Knowing the Senate and legislative procedure, we feel it will be much more difficult to affect the necessary changes once the bill is in effect than it will be if we put the changes into a bill before it becomes law. And this "2.0 bill" definitely needs changes

Would you say that a student requires the same time and energy to hold the office of the President of the Spanish club as he needs to hold the podium as President of the Student Senate? Or course not! "2.0 bill" calls for the same restrictions on both officers. A second argument used by a proponent of the bill was: "If you want to follow someone, follow the best." To say that the man with the best average is the best man for a leader is ridiculous. Marks are no indication of one's leadership ability but rather an indication of one's adaptability and proficiency in a particular field. Grades are never a foundation upon which to base leadership comparis

Perhaps the worst argument staged for the bill is that with a 2.0 minimum average as a requirement for office holding, one would be given an incentive to maintain eligibility and thus study harder. If, at this stage of our intellectual development, any of us need the incentive of "deprivation," if we are studying and attending lectures simply in order to stay eligible for office in the Senate, then we do not belong on this or any campus.

But there is reason to look up from this act passing from the Senate. Few doubt that some kind of minimum average is necessary for MAJOR organizations. This would not serve as an incentive to study for the office seeker, but rather serve as a guide for the organization members when voting: an essential officer-elect with a 1.6 may harm the entire organization later by flunking out of school. We have already shown that a separate set of standards is necessary for major organizations like the Senate, Collegian, WMUA and the minor organs like the language clubs, International Relations club, and the Debating society. But until such a bill is proposed, the status quo is better than the chaos which would result if the "2.0 bill" was passed.

Therefore, on the grounds on which the bill passed through the Senate ("We'll amend or delete later."), on the grounds that such may not occur once the bill is in effect, on the grounds that this "blanket" obscures too many innocent victims (the minor organizations), on the grounds that proponents of the bill offer it is as an incentive to study, we feel confident that more than half the Student Body will turn out Thursday and that two-thirds of this turnout will vote negatively on the "2.0 bill."

"2.0" Prosecution and Defense appear on the Spring election ballot, Thursday:

Moved that to be eligible for office in any R.S.O. organization or board, a student must have a cumulative average of 2.0 or, if less than a 2.0, he must have attained a 2.4 average for the semester immediately preceding his election.

This includes elected and appointed offices such as Senate and Judiciary Board members, Publications, I.F.C. and Panhellenic members officers of all organizamembers, officers of at tions and dormitories.

It is strongly recommended that this ruling include fraternities and sororities and house counselors.

It will be the responsibility of the organization's advisor or head of residence and the outgoing president, as well as the candidate to administer this policy.

Eligibility requirements for office and added duties of the pres-ident and faculty advisor shall be incorporated in the by-laws of constitutions of individual organi-

This policy shall not pertain to officers holding office as of January 11, 1961 insofar as selection to that same office is concerned.

This policy shall be in effect from September 1961.

Since the Student Senate spent much time in reviewing the bill itself, their pros and cons should looked at with consideration before voting.

PRO—Dennis Twohig, president of the Senate, representing Suf-folk house: "I feel that a movement toward some academic requirement for positions of resp sibility has long been needed. It is disheartening to observe how little academic achievement seems to matter in the selection of our campus leaders. I feel this motion would go a long way in breaking up some of the tightly knit cliques which have dominated many areas of student responsibility for so

CON-Senator Pete Haebler, Chadbourne dorm: "The '2.0' is definitely an infringement on the student's rights. The right and ability to budget one's time in order to stay in school is a much more valuable asset to an individual than to have others do it for you. This bill attempts to do just that.'

PRO — Senator Dick Shields, Butterfield dorm: "The recent li-brary expansion, the new honors program, and the Distinguished Visitors Program all reflect a growing emphasis on academics. am confident that this trend continue after the Thursday.'

CON-Senator Vin Della Per a, Van Meter dorm: "Basically disagree with this philosophy of the Senate's leading other stu-dents by the hand. It is preposterous to assume a blanket motion of this nature can adequately meet any needs of the campus, simply because we have too many organizations that are fantastically diverse in their type and work load."

The Omphalos by Paul Theroux

John Birch-III

An Open Letter To Carl Hanson And People Like Him

After a somewhat deleted and watered down article of mine had been printed in the Collegian last Friday I got an apalling letter from a student who apparently has paid his dues to the John Birch Society and wants to make sure he gets his money's worth from an organization which I called a veritable muckheap of "prigs, boors, and romantics". I won't retract anything I said about the John Birch Society-in fact, I'll add a little more; I'd even go so far as to say that The John Birchers are threatening the United States with their techniques in such a serious manner that unless something is done very soon then we are all in danger of being intruded upon by these vultures and will soon lose any dignity that we might have retained from attacks by previous, seemingly well-meaning fanatics.

I don't know how the rest of the students feel, but I'm pretty sure that if Carl Hanson called me up tonight on behalf of the John Birch Society to tell me that my pimply, wheezy roommate is a co munist and must be immediately dispatched to the Cameroons, then I'd probably tell him and his boss, Robert H. W. Welch, that they could explode themselves on the spot, or worse, for all I care. Or didn't you know that they do this sort of thing, Carl? Get Time magazine for March 10, 1961 and read; 'Society (John Birch) members in Nashville, Tenn. start telephone campaigns to warn homeowners that ne of their neighbors were suspected Reds." I think this is why Carl said that "a man like Robert Welch and many others like him are needed . . . don't know what kind of neighbors you have, Carl, but it sounds as though you live on the Gaza Strip coiled in some barbed wire between thirty reds. It doesn't take the House Committee for Un-American Activities to know that Robert Welch is more than a boor, prig, or fanatic-he's a parandoid, a threat, and he's drunk with power. Read all about him in the next paragraph.

This Is A Portrait of Carl's Boss

I won't plague you with the details of the pre natal itches of the John Birch Society. I will say that it was founded in 1958 at a meeting of twelve men (note the similarity to a previous meeting of twelve men-kind of presumptuous I'd say). Robert Welch (the brother of the fudge magnate) put himself in charge with these words; "The John Birch Society will operate under completely authoritative control at all levels . . . (and) . . . the men who join the John Birch Society . . are going to be doing so primarily because they believe in me . . . and are willing to accept my leadership anyway." This is Carl's boss—the same one who inspires nocturnal You've been duped, Carl, so find out a little more about your fellow John Birchers, then tell me how much we need these vermin; tell me how deep "a pit we have fallen into"; tell me how the "Communists are actually worried" by a man and a group who seek to undermine the U.S. from within. And I'll tell you that we're not on the same side.

telephone harassments. This is also Carl's boss;" he was the leading figure in the Committee Against Summit Entanglments (CASE) which puts out advertisements in newspapers in order to discourage top-level negotiations between the United States and Russia." This is the man Carl admires so much. Tell me, Carl, how do you propose to negotiate? Or are you and Bob Welch going to volunteer to press the button to release the Bomb over Russia and save everyone else the wear and tear of negotiating? That's nice of you and it's very big of Robert Welch to discourage summit conferences, but I wouldn't exactly say that he shows any trendencies toward American Patriotism when he does this-I'd call it more a penchant toward party peccadilloes, wouldn't you? I won't call Robert H. W. Welch a communist, but he is more than a figment of the American imagination, and if you squint at him a little he looks red.

If You Didn't Dangle A Modifier

In the last part of your letter, Carl, you flagrantly dangled a modifier. Now, personally, I wouldn't care if you dangled anything from hypochorisma to a spastic simile, but when you mentioned "they" I wasn't sure you meant the communists, the John Birchers, or the Three Stooges, for that matter. I am sure that the attack on the John Birch Society and Robert Welch is NOT "inspired by the Community Party" as you suggested. The attack on the John Birch Society is inspired by the innate good sense of the American people who are able to smell limburger and, sometimes, the stench of persons like Welch. And I say any man's an arse who doesn't want to protect the dignity of his home and the security of his country from the likes of Robert Welch.

"This Pit Which We Have Fallen Into

Carl Hanson says that we need some one "to shock us out of the pit we have fallen into." I'd say that Carl needs omeone to shock him out of the pit of Robert Welch and his like who are dedicated to slander. TIME magazine says that one of the aims of the John Birch Society is to write ". . . a rash of letters to newspapers." If this is the case then Carl's letter is no more than a small pustule of this "rash"—but it shows that we're not immune to the panderings of these subversives. I hate to mention my incredible powers of augury but I think I predicted in the second article that there are "many flag-waving, ultra-hationalistic, well-meaning persons here (at the University) who will be drawn into the John Birch Society thinking that they are doing the country a great service by ebetting the mad, fanatical cause of Robert Welch and his interniors. his intrusions on the lives of private citizens

Summer Session Plans Two Terms dents from 73 colleges and universities were enrolled last summer, as were teachers from 118 elementary and secondary

The UMass Summer Session will open on June 26 this year, and run to September. Two main terms are scheduled. June 26—July 29, and July 31—September 1. Special courses in Engineering, Forestry, and Nursing will precede and run concurrently with the main terms. Students may enroll for either or both terms. The usual credit-loa1 is six hours per term.

Over the past four years the Summer Session Committee has increased course-offerings by more than 300 per cent. This year some 180 courses are planned for. They include work in 26 departments and run from beginning courses through direction on the doctoral thesis.

Results of a questionnaire filled out by students in the 1960 Summer Session indicated that most students attend summer school for purposes of enrichment and acceleration. Stu-

the S.U., the Philosophy Club will present the fourth in a series of lectures on the topic "Does Modern Society Violate Human Nature." Dr. Leonard H. Ehrlich of the Philosophy Department here at UMass will speak on "Human Nature: Fiction or Task."

This lecture will be the concluding lecture in a series which has so far presented three views of man's nature: the view of the of man's nature: the view of the sociologist, the view of the Greek Classicist, and the view of a liberal Freudian. Each lecture is followed by an informal discussion period.

plication forms; early applica-tion is desirable. In May a panel discussion will Fourth Philosophy be held between all four speakers: Dr. Wilkinson of the Department Lecture To Feature of Sociology, Dr. Page of the English Department, Dr. Kates of Dr. L. H. Erhlich On Wednesday, April 26, at 8 p.m. in the Barnstable room of the S.U., the Philosophy Club will the Psychology Department, and Dr. Ehrlich of the Philosophy

Department.

All are invited to attend, this Wednesday evening, what promises to be a worthwhile presenta-

Professor Arthur Williams of the Department of English, in charge of the Summer Session.

points out that the presence of 'outsiders' proves intellectually stimulating to faculty and students alike, but that the chief aim of the Summer Session is to afford our own students a chance to intensify and broaden however, all work. Under the direction of Clarence Shellnut of the S.U., a varied program of recreational and cultural activities will be offered.

Students interested in attending the Summer Session may pick up catalogs in the Registrar's Office, South Col-

The catalog contains ap-their academic careers.

The Summer Session

Inauguration . . .

(Continued from page 1) in college."

F. C. Ellert: President Lederle's went right to the center.

Evelyn Kennedy, alumna: "Very impressed. I was amazed to see such a big event go off with tches. President Lederle to all factions in his hitches. talked speech."
Dr. Sasaki, Hokkaido Univer-

Rev. Claussen Resigns Post As Chaplain

The Rev. Russell G. Claussen, Protestant Chaplain at UMass, has resigned his position, effective June 30, 1961. He has received and accepted a call to become the minister of the North Congrega-tional Church in North Amherst. His duties will begin at church on July 1.

Mr. Claussen came to UMass in September, 1959 upon completion of his training at the Yale University Divinity School. He served as Assistant Protestant Chaplain until September, 1960 when he became the Acting Protestant Chaplain. the Acting Protestant Chaplain in the absence of the Rev. Al-bert L. Seely.

In the summer of 1960, Mr. Claussen attended the meetings of the World Student Christian Federation in Strasbourg, France. He has also been a leader in many student confer-ences in New England.

Before coming to UMass, Mr. Claussen had served as the Director of Youth Work of the Congregational Conference of Connecticut. He also served the national board of the Evangelian Reference Charles in and Reformed Church in 8 by serving as their Youth Associate. He has also served as a national advisor to Pilgrim Fellowship, the youth movement of the Congregationmovement al Church.

sity: "In Japan we have no inauguration ceremonies. I am very interested in his speech."

Mr. Matsumura, Hokkaido Prefectural Govt. of Japan: "Very solemn, and complicated."

Dean Helen Curtis: "The cereony was very impressive and the President's speech was excel-lent. He had something to say to all of us. Inspiring and challeng-

(Continued on page 4)

ASTRONOMY CLUB There will be a meeting in the Middlesex Room of the S.U. on Wed., April 26 at 8 p.m. A film, "The Mysterious Cosmic Rays", will be shown. All are invited. EDUCATION CLUB

CLUB

HOME

There will be a lecture by Ralph Goodrich, Superintendent of the Amherst Schools on "What a Superintendent Looks For When Higher New Teach Hiring New Teachers" on Tues., April 25 at 7 p.m. in the Com-monwealth Room of the S.U. Election of officers. Refresh-

FERNALD CLUB

Donald Sizelove of the Royal Mc Bee Corporation will lecture on "Data Processing, an Inex-pensive Punch Card System for Key Sorting" on Tues., April 25 at 7:30 p.m. in Fernald Hall, room B. All research workers and others interested are welcome. Discussion and refresh-ments will follow.

FLYING CLUB

Important meeting Wed., April 26 at 8 p.m. in the Nantucket Room of the S.U. Overnight flights and summer flying to be discussed.

LITERARY SOCIETY

Mon. April 24 at 7:30 the Literary Society will meet at Saladin. The winners of the recent poetry and fiction will read their winning entries. A brief business meeting will precede.

DIRECTORY

.

MORTAR BOARD

An I.Q. Tea will be held on Tues., April 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the S.U. Featured speaker at this event will be Dr. Victoria Shuck, professor of Political Science at Mount Holyoke College and one of the trustees of lege and one of the trustees of

NEWMAN CLUB

General meeting Tuesday, April 25, 7:30 p.m. in the Dining Commons. Rev. James J. O'Brien will speak on "CATHOLIC MARRIAGE".

OPERETTA GUILD

OPERETTA GUILD
Final auditions for Oklahoma
Tues., April 25, at 6:30 p.m. in Old Chapel. Dancers, singers, and actors are needed. For more information see Paul Cwiklik, 105 Greenough.
WATER SKI CLUB

Meeting Thurs., April 27 at 8:00 p.m. in the Franklin-Hampden Rooms. Members will sign up for preferred skiing dates. Election of officers for next semester. All members and anyone else interested are urged to attend. urged to attend.
WOMEN'S SERVICE

ORGANIZATION

A very important business meeting will take place Mon., April 24 at 6:30 p.m. in the Berkshire Room of the S.U. A corresponding secretary will be chosen. Directly following this an open meeting will be held at 7:30. Paul Tele will lecture. an open meeting will be held at 7:30. Paul Tela will lecture

Newman Club Breakfast Features Senator Hart

Saint Brigid's Church.

Since this takes place during Open House weekend, the stu-dents are urged to invite their parents to attend with them. Each year on his occasion the Newman Club presents annual awards to seniors who have distinguished themselves by dedicated service during their four years on cam-

Guest speaker at the breakfast will be the Honorable Philip A. Hart, United States Senator from Michigan. A native of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, Senator Hart completed his college train-Hart completed his conege training at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. and then studied law at the University of Michigan where he received his degree in 1937.

A practicing lawyer in Detroit from 1938 to 1941, the Senator then entered the United States Army in World War II and rose

The annual Communion break-fast of the Newman Club will be held on Sunday, April 30 in the Dining Commons at 9:15 a.m. following the 8 o'clock Mass in Saint Brigid's Church.

Since this takes place during guerre. In 1954 he was elected Lieutenant Governor of Michigan, an of-fice to which he was reelected. In 1958 he was elected to the United States Senate where he has served with distinction.

His committees in the senate are the Judiciary, Agriculture and Forestry and the Senate Select Committee on National Water Resouces. He is also Chairman of the subcommittee on Refugess and Escapees.

His proudest record is his family of 8 children—four boys and four girls.

The students are urged to puchase tickets early since the number of places is limited. Serving as co-chairman of the event are Rita Lisciotti and Fred Dumas. Dr. William O'Hare of the Bureau Covernment Research will be of Government Research will the toastmaster.

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

ROISTER DOISTERS

present Karel Capek's

BOWKER AUDITORIUM

APRIL 27, 28, 29 All Seats Reserved Tickets $1.10, $1.40

Ticket Office (Student Union) open weekdays 10-12, 2-4 Telephone Amherst Alpine 3-3411

NEWMAN CLUB MEETING

1.00 plus tax

Refreshing antiseptic action heals

razor nicks, helps keep your skin

SHULTON New York . Toronto

in top condition.

Tuesday, April 25 Dining Commons

LOTION

7:30 p.m.

Speaker: Rev. James J. O'Brien Subject: "CATHOLIC MARRIAGE"

REDMEN BLAST BEARS AFTER 6-6 COMEBACK TIE

A come-from-behind scoring surge by the Redmen baseball nine in Friday's game with UMaine and a 7-1 slamming of the same team added up to a suc-cessful weekend for the Lordens.

The old maxim that the ball game's not over 'till that last out certainly held true in Friday's clash as the Redmen, trailing by five runs from the fourth frame, entered the last of the eighth to across the equalizers, sending the game into extra innings.

Lou Bush, subbing for Tony Williams, headed off the big inn-ing with a free pass to first. Sin-gles by Frank Pisiewski and Bob Hughes saw the bases loaded with no outs. That was the signal for Paul Foley, who has hit for the Redmen in the clutch before, to come through with a booming trlple, driving in three runs.

Foley then crossed the plate when Ned Larkin reached on an error. A single by Ted Osetek, a sacrifice by Ed Forbush and a sacrifice by Pete Bracci provided the fifth tally of the frame. The Maine team went ahead

6-5 in the top of the 11'th, but once again the Lordens knotted the score. Hurler Pete Bracci helped himself out with a double and was sacrificed to third by Lou Bush. Frank Pisiewski's perfect squeeze bunt brought Pete home, and there was no more scoring by either team until darkness caused the game to be stopped.

Bracci Looks Good

Starter Paul Wennik, who chalked up his second win over Coast Guard last week, hurled only four innings. He was in only four innings. He was in trouble most of the way, being a victim of poor support. Sopho-more Pete Bracci, who looked strong on the southern tour, came in to relieve Wennik in the fifth and pitched fine ball for seven innings, giving up only four hits and one run in that span.

Saturday's game was a far dif-ferent story as the UMass squad, behind the great two-hit chucking of Ed Connolly, KO'd the Bears 7-1. Connolly, who allowed only three hits against AIC last week was in his true form as the Maine men coudn't come near his fast

The Maine pitchers didn't withstand the storm so well, as the Redmen waded through three of them, racking up ten hits.

Losing pitcher Haddan Libby did pretty well for four innings, matching Connolly's shutout ball, but it was all over in the fifth. two out and nobody on. Frank Pisiewski, who tallied three hits in Friday's game, stroked a single over second base. Three straight passes to Hughes, Foley and Schmoyer brought in a run. Catcher Dave Krukonis tagged Catcher Dave Krukonis tagged one for a single, bringing in two more and an error at shortstop resulted in a fourth tally. Maine picked up its lone run on two walks and a single in the sixth, and couldn't go any further.

The Redmen picked up another in the seventh on three singles by Schmoyer, Krukonis and For-bush, to load the bases, and a base on balls to Bobo Roland, forcing in the fifth run.

The final two bingos came in the eighth as Bob Hughes led off the stanza with a free pass to first, given up by the third hurler for Maine, Bill Thomas. Schmoyer struck out, but the UMaine catch-er lost the ball and when he retreived it threw it into foul terri-tory. Corky landed on second, Hughes scored. Schmoyer came in for the seventh run on a long triple by Ed Forbush.

POP UPS

UMass is now 7-3-2 for the season, counting the 3-3-1 record down south; that's two tie ball games . . The Lordens look pretty much like YanCon title contenders right now. Their tie with Maine should help out, especially if Maine and UConn split their series. The latter two squads were pre-season picks for the Beanpot honors . . . Big Ed Forbush would have had a round tripper on his triple in the second clash with the Bears if he hadn't fallen coming around third. The red-headed first-baseman looked like a freight train coming around the horn and the Maine catcher wouldn't have had a chance even if he had the ball waiting for Ed... Coach Earl Lorden cer-tainly can't gripe about his pitching; even his reliefers have the potential for pitching full ball games—witness Pete Bracci... Pittsfield's Corky. Schmoyer, who's folks came up to see the game, reached base five straight times on a walk, three errors and a bunt single.

The Redmen will be in for a tough week as they joust with New England powerhouse Holy Cross, Tuesday at Alunni Field, visit Williams Thursday, and host the B.U. Terriers Saturday

the B.C. Terriers	Sa	turda	у.
MAINE	ab	r	h	rb
Livesey, cf	6	0	2
Weed, cf	1	0	0
Hadley, c	5	0	3
Ranzoni, 3b	5	1	1
McPhee, 2b	3	1	0
Gaw, 1b	4	2	2	-
Dunphy, as	4	1	ī	- (
Marks, cf	5	0	ô	(
Henderson, p	2	ň	0	(
Bartlett. p	1	1	0	(
		-	_	_

MAINE UMASS MAINE Dunphy, Valiton, Livesey, Ranzoni, Gaw, 1b Gaw, 1b
McPhee, 2b
Gammon, rf
Hadley, c
Deemor, p b-Henderson

Inauguration . . .

UMASS MAINE

The most important personnage of the afternoon President Led-erle himself, when asked to comment, had a unique answer: "Well, I can't even give you a good quote."

LOST & FOUND

Lost: A sterling silver ID bracelet inscribed "Dave". Lost last Fri. If found, please return to David Kittler, 209 Wheeler. to Davi-Reward.

EXTRA

Look for the Tennis, La-crosse and Frosh Baseball write-ups in Wednesday's issue of the Collegian.

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- ★ TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10 net profit per party.
- PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eligible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholarship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can win this year!
- EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of valuable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in your own hometown.

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, Alpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON..DeLAND General Manager College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc. WESTFIELD, MASS.

The farther smoke travels Air-Softened. the milder, the cooler, the smoother it tastes > Perfectly in tune with your taste—that's Chesterfield King. Every satisfying puff is Air-Softened to enrich the flavor and make it mild. Special porous paper lets you draw fresh air into the full king length of top-tobacco, straight Grade-A all the way.

Join the swing to

CHESTERFIELD KING

Library Fiat

(See page 2)

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1961

VOL. XC NO. 70 5¢ PER COPY

Redmen Place First In Drill Competition

Photo by Dick Formar The "Flying Redmen", the AFROTC Drill Team, is pictured here celebrating after their win Sunday in a Drill Team competition held at Westover Air Force base.

The continued excellence of the "Flying Redmen" AFROTC Drill Team which has now become a Team which has now become a virtual tradition was again displayed Sunday at Westover Air Force Base as the Redmen took first place in the "armed units"

This victory marks the seventh time in eight years that the Red-men have taken first place. Run-ners-up to the Redmen were, in order: Tufts University, Boston University, and Holy Cross, In the unarmed competition, the de-fending champions, St. Michael's, took first place, followed by Rensselaer, Union College, and Syracuse University.

Trophies and plaques were presented to the two winners by Brig. Gen. John C. Meyer.

The Redmen, commanded by Cadet Capt. Archie Babaian, be gan competition Sunday morning with thirteen other teams and, with seven other teams, entered the afternoon finals competition.

In the afternoon, the assembled teams and spectators were welcomed by the Base Commander, Col. William C. Lewis, and the introduction was delivered by Col, John C. Marchant, Professor of Air Science of Air Science

Although they had drawn last Although they had drawn last place in the competition order, the Redmen drew hearty ap-plause from the spectators as they executed their precision movements in winning style.

Music for the program was provided by the eighth Air Force band under the direction of CWO Joseph Lanzilloti, bandmaster. 2nd Senior Mix Slated

May 2 At Belchertown

The second Senior mix will be held on Tuesday, May 2, at the Belchertown House on Route 9, co-chairmen Paul Ingram and Bill Peltier announced today.

The event, to be held from 1 to 5 p.m., will feature the dance band "Electras", softball and other outdoor activities, and free grinders, soda, and potato chips.

Chairman Ingram said that admission will be by University Identification Card. He said that the class was not going to send out cards to the individual sen-iors because of the time and expense involved.

pense involved.

The Belchertown House is located on Route 9 about halfway between Amherst and Belchertown on the left hand side of the road driving east. signs will probably be put up along the roadside pointing the way.

In addition to a large ballroom inside the building there is a inside the building, there is a field available which can be used for softball and other outdoor sports. Persons interested in playing softball should bring their own equipment.

The senior class pays all the costs for food and soft drinks, for all the seniors and the dozen or so guests which the senior class executive committee decided to invite at their meeting last

The mix will be held regardless of the weather, Ingram and Peltier said. Although it is counselling day, seniors will be able to attend since they don't have

Two UMass Men Capture Prizes At ASME Gathering

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers held its Annual Student Conference at Brown University on April 21, 22. All of the student chapters throughout Region I, which inthroughout Region I, which includes the 14 colleges in New England, were represented by both the faculty and student conference included the presentation of student papers, of which UMass walked away with two of the prizes. David Mraz was awarded third prize in the undergraduate contest with his presentation of "Aluminum his presentation of "Aluminum Dispersion Strengthened Alloys." David, a senior in Mechanical Engineering, is doing honors work in powder metallurgy. The talk was based on his original research in powder metallurgy, Kenneth Lovell placed second in the graduate student contest. Ken received his B.S. in Electrical Engineering here at UMass, and is now working for his M.S. in Mechanical Engineering. His talk, "Effects of Irreversibility in a Closed Thermodynamic System," is of much concern among all mechanical engineers.

the various meetings for At the various meetings for the exchange of ideas, the UMass Chapter was represented by Pro-fessor William Weaver, Head of the Mechanical Engineering De-partment; Professor Joseph O'-Byrne, Chairman of the Western Massachusetts, Section Massachusetts Massachusetts Section; Maryann McKay, Chairman of the Student Section; and Professor Robert Patterson, Faculty Advisor. After the decision to have the student section at UMass work more closely together, a joint meeting. closely together, a joint meeting between UMass and Worcester Polytechnic Institute was planned for next year.

Mushkin Announces Lederle To Address Student Leaders

Results Are Announced For Election

Carol Esonis and Fred Sullivan far outdistanced their opposition in the special primary rerun for the office of treasurer of the Class of '64.

The rerun was prompted by Madelyn Borges who protested the manner in which her name appeared on the ballot. Miss Borges claimed the appearance of the name Madelyn, rather than her nickname, "Bonnie", cost her votes.

Despite the special ballot, corrected to read "Bonnie" Borges, Sullivan and Esonis retained their right to place their names on Thursday's final ballot.

Of possible significance is the gain in votes made by Miss Esonis. The final results follow:

Esonis														102
Graham			*	٠	۰		۰	۰	٠	۰	۰			55
Sullivan						۰								156
Bradway	7	,	 					 						26
Borges	٠						٠							86

*Will appear on Thursday ballot. In the protested race, Sullivan led Miss Esonis by 23 votes. After Monday's rerun, Miss Esonis led Sullivan by 37 votes. The turnout for the special election totalled 516, a drop of 222 voters over the regular election total of 738.

Election Committee chairman, Vin Della Penna '64, was "as-tounded at the turnout". He stated, "Generally a special elec-tion turns out far fewer voters than this." Della Penna con-tinued, "The turnout could be at-tributed to the "2.0" Bill. The bill has caused the student body to look at campus politics."

Cage Will Be Setting For Student Recognition

by LARRY RAYNER '61, Senior Reporter

President John W. Lederle will speak at the Student Leaders night on Wednesday, May 10, Rospeak at the Student Leaders night on Wednesday, May 10, Ro-ber L. Mushkin, vice-president of the senior class and chairman of the event announced today. This will be the first time that the newly inaugurated president has addressed the student body, with the exception of the appearance he made at the opening football rally last fall.

Lederle will speak immediately after the welcoming address is given by Senior Class President Roger Riikonen.

The night, which begins at 7 p.m. in the Curry Hicks Physical Education Building, is dedicated to recognizing students who have been active in extracurricular ac-tivities, and selecting leaders for next year. It is the counterpart of the Honors Convocation, which recognizes outstanding academic achievement among the students.

The climax of the evening is ne tapping of the new Mortar Boards and Adelphians.

Another feature of the evening is the announcement of the 34 students who were named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universi-

Formerly done by Provos Shannan McCune, it will be conducted this year by Albert P. Madeira, an instructor in the English Department who has been very active and popular among student organizations for many years.

Among the other events of the evening will be anouncement of evening will be announcement of scholarship winners by the Class of 1962, the Pan Hellentic Coun-cil, and the Interfraternity Council, tapping of the Scrolls, Ma-roon Key, and Revelers, and the floating of candles across the campus pond from the senior women to the junior women.

Members of the cast of the Roister Doister pro-Members of the cast of the Roister Doister production R.U.R. by Karel Capek rehearse for their performances April 27-29. First row left to right, Richard Potter, Mike Hench, Robert Mastro-domenico, and Ivan Terzieff. Second row, Judy St. Jean and John Kane (partially obscured). Third row, David Goldstein.

Caps And Gowns Ready Next Week For Women

caps and gowns next week at Memorial Hall according to Joan Peterson and Cathy Cahalane, co-chairmen of the committee in

The gowns will be available om 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 2, 3, and 4 and 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday. Women whose last names begin with A through H are asked to come Tuesday night, I through P, on Wednesday, and R through Z, on Thursday. Those who can't come at their assigned time should pick up the accessthrough Z, on Thursday. Those who can't come at their assigned time should pick up the accessories Thursday afternoon, or one or the other days.

All seniors must pay a $4.00 rental fee and a $1.00 deposit upon receipt of the caps and gowns. Seniors also may buy a tassle, which will also be availtassie, which will also be avail-able in the basement of Memorial Hall, and will probably cost $.50. Arrows will be put up showing the way to the place of distribu-tion in the basement of Memorial Hall. Students should go into the building by the front entrance on Ellis Drive. Men will be able to pick up their caps and gowns at a date to be announced.

All seniors are reminded to remember what color tassle they should have. Following is a list of the colors by the appropriate school:

Arts, white; science, gold; agriculture, yellow; business, tan; engineering, orange; home economics, light blue; nursing, peach, and physical education,

Goodell Libe's Retarded Steps

As one Student Senator pointed out on this page recently, there is a definite trend toward the academic on this campus. As an example, he cited the Goodell Library annex. In theory, this is a noble instance; but in reality it is far from an example of a step toward the academic excellence we need. Goodell Library is a retarded stride which has stumbled on every step of the ladder upward.

Not only does it lack the necessary literary volume, but as a place in which one may pursue academics Goodell is inadequate also The sight of students trying to ignore the night sounds of the jungle in Van Meter, Baker, and other men's dormitories, plus the fact that many UMass fraternity men must use the Amherst College library in order to study late, indicate that Goodell is failing in its capacity to provide our students with an essential in our education. The idea of closing the doors at 10 p.m., when most of us are still wallowing in our texts, only thwarts a student's efforts since he must then interrupt his studies in order to change his locale from Goodell to his noisy dormitory.

There is a room collecting dust in the new annex which was originally intended to be used as an all-night study room. "But there's a destructive element in this school" which may damage things if we leave the building open, answers a portion of the administration. While we disagree as to the extent of this "element," we must admit that there is a very large "destructive element" in our entire society. Yet, movie managers have the "courage" to turn out the lights in their theatres and take the chance that some teenage kid will slit the seat upholstery with his pocket knife. The Student Union lost $12,000 in thefts last year and will probably come close to that figure again in 1961 . . . yet, no move has been made to close the Union's portals to all because of that vicious "element"

But, alas, we have been given reason to believe that, in the near future, the "old reading room" will be opened till midnight. Despite the fact that we should be overjoyed at such a compromised victory, we must not forget that it is just a probationary period and we are still eight hours away from what we rightly deserve—an all-night room.

Traditionally, the Goodell Library remains a sacred institution on campus. Automatically an individual changes his mannerisms and study habits to conform to the norm and best interests of others. When a student walks all the way down to the library from Butterfield or Greenough, he has come to study . . . not cavort. We feel confident that during this proposed probation, the students at UMass will show they have taken the necessary step toward the academic. Then it will remain for the administration to follow in our footsteps and grant to us what is deservedly ours . . . a place to pursue the academic 24 hours a day.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Fditorial Editor
James J. Trelease '63

News Editor: Assignments
Joseph Bradley '64
Sports Editor
Ben Gordon '62
WED.: Editorial, Jim Trelease '63; Sports, Ben Gordon '62; Feature, Diane Tovet '64; Copy, Bev Lang, '64, Holly Dare '63.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amberst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1984.

34.00 per year; 32.50 per semestry of the period of the control of the

Contemporary Jazz

By RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

While I was flipping thru the stereo albums in the Quill Bookshop, a stark, black and gold album jacket said "Name Band 1959" in my face. This Carlton stereo album contains the music of Bob Florence's big band, which, according to the sparse liner notes, has been "in rehearsing" for a year on the West Coast . . . and they sound it. The band swings like hell . . . with the enthusiasm of young kids and the precision of veterans.

The band surges, leaps, weaves around the melody and explodes with drum-thunder. I assume that Bob Florence did the lyrical arrangements for the band. Tunes like "I'll Remember April" and "Under Paris Skies" are done with recognizable but altered melodic lines. The arranger has created a series of his own tunes based on the theme. The orchestra is polished and brilliant . . . each section sounding like one big instrument. The over-all sound is happy and swinging.

A big band presents numerous recording problems, but Carlton records has done a near-perfect job in capturing every overtone without a trace of distortion. Many of my jazz friends have asked me why I bother with stereo, "All you do is hear the saxes from one side and the brass from another." After hearing my system, they usually say, "It's just like in a club . . ." or "Wow!" Properly reproduced stereo spreads the band out between the speakers. There is no "hole-in-the-middle" . . . in fact, a soloist may seem to be coming from a point between the loudspeakers. The same sound from two equidistant sources will form a single sound image because the two benefit from stereo because all sounds will reverberate in a recording studio. Stereo patches this "echo", and the walls of a room will actually seem to move apart when the room is darkened. The unknown drummer on this record does some very swift stick-work on the big drums and some thumping punctuations of the melody. The bass drum hits with a solid, gutty thud and echoes around the recording studio. The drum beats go to approximately 30 cycles and they can be felt in the pit of the stomach.

Most people have been soured on stereo because it has not been properly reproduced. Even many hi-fi stores don't know how to set up a natural stereo reproducing system. My own rig (for hi-fi fans) consists of a pair of Eico 60 watt basic amplifiers, a Dynakit stereo preamplifier, Shure M7D N21D cartridge, Grado lab arm, Rek-o-kut L 34 turntable and an Acoustic Research AR-3 and an AR-2a. After must work with a soldering iron and much adjusting and balancing, I get pretty good sound. The combination of this swinging band, the fine Carlton stereo dist and a good playback system is a complete "gas." I have succeeded in squeezing a whole band with instruments in my "square" 9/9/9 reom.

The Ivory Tower

The fads that have been appearing in colleges around the country have been quite unimaginative of late. Therefore I am going to list a number of fads that anyone can use absolutely free.

Desk Piling: The object of this is to determine how many regulation sized desks can be piled on top of each other. A standard desk will be defined, preferably with rollers. They must all be piled on one desk as a base, however the others do not have to be stacked in any special order.

Pickle Eating Contest: Intra-mural contests can be conducted to determine the champion pickle eater. The winner will be judged on the basis of weight eaten in a specified time. This can be modified to the total weight of pickles devoured with no other nourishment. For the present we will restrict this to dill pickles.

Tiddley-Winks: I think the ancient sport of tiddley-winks could be revived with beneficial results. This is an activity that need not be restricted to the male sex. I can see championship teams from one school competing against other schools. Possibly the national champion could meet the British champion. Think what this could do for international relations. There is no greater thrill than tiddling your last wink.

Knitting: Restricted to men only. The object of this activity is to knit the longest single piece of material based on a standard width. We could vary the ground rules by specifying the stitch to be used or having a free style knit. There would be no time limit on this.

Grease Pole Climbing: A standard flag pole is liberally covered with greases. The contestant is then required to climb the pole to the top in the shortest time. We might have incentives like placing a coed on top. This is best run on days with little wind.

ed on top. This is best run on days with little wind.

Gasoline Taste-Testing: Many people claim they can identify a beverage by taste alone. This is an admirable talent but it might be extended to include various brands of gasoline. The novice will be blindfolded, given three samples of gasoline to taste, of which two will be identical, and asked to choose the brand that is different. After he becomes adept at this he may be asked to grade a series on the basis of flavor characteristics or bitterness. The real expert may be asked to identify individual products as to company.

Uniovale Riding: Another sport that deserves reviving is that Unicycle Riding: Another sport that deserves reviving is that of riding unicycles. It would have many beneficial side effects such as relieving congested parking conditions and developing strong leg muscles.

Dagwood Sandwich Making: The making of gigantic sandwiches is not new, however, it has been marked by a singular lack of inventiveness. New spreads must be devised as olives and peanut butter on baigel, or chieve, pineapple and bologna on date nut bread, or cream cheese and meat loaf on oatmeal bread. You get the picture, All these must be eaten of course.

LETTERS

'2.0' And Stupidity

To the Editor:

Students, you are all stupid! You have no judgment, you have no sense of responsibility.

This is what your Student Senate is telling you, so listen and obey. Eighteen of the Senators hold that opinion, eighteen of them voted to tell you what organizations you can lead.

Some of them stood up and gave an oration to the effect that they were smart enough to decide whether or not to join activities, but that the rest of the student body was too stupid to make the same decision.

It never occurs to these great leaders that the Registrar's Office picks only the best for UMass. It never occurs to them the student body is, in fact, of above average intelligence.

The fact that these leaders believe we are stupid outweighs the fact that we all pay the same Student Tax and are entitled to the same extracurricular privileges.

Don't think for yourselves, students, follow the leader, just like you did at age four.

I'm sorry, Twohig and Co., but I will not accept my stupidity. I have faith in myself and in the rest of the students on this campus.

Do any of my fellow students feel the same way, or are you stupid?

Tomorrow we have a chance to show ourselves that we have some intelligence by voting against the 2.0 motion in the referendum.

A Non-Stupid Student, R. T.

Wilson's Panic Petition

To the Editors

The UMass student statement protesting the Soviet "slandering" of U.S. policy in Cuba has already been called naive and we have nothing to add concerning its specific wording, but we are highly critical of the "spirit" which this statement is supposed to represent and which the Collegian supported in an Editorial.

The people who drafted this statement were misinformed as to our country's actual policy and the only effect of this statement is a drum-beating panic. We now know that the C.I.A. had full control of the Cuban invasion and that they had trained and armed the invaders. To call the Russian Youth uncivilized for throwing rocks at our embassy when we had set up six bases in the Caribbean from which this attack could take place is a furious, false, and fruitless stand. The drafters of the statement and the Collegian deserve severe censure. The idea that "we are doing something" when we counter the well oiled machinations of Communist Youth by our own protests is the same thing which motivates the use-less vested interest groups from the American Legion to the John Birch Society.

These half-cocked hopheads show a lust for power that creates an immediate war mood and which in the long run brings on the worst effects of the frenzy of political negativism.

C. B., M. A. B., S. V. O. C., L. R., S. L. S., A. G., D. G., P. O. C.

ED. NOTE—Not only do we refuse to condone the stoning of ANY diplomatic embassy (regardless of whether or not you feel the Soviets were justified), but we reiterate that we are "doing something" constructive in seconding ANY relations our country has with men like Castro. Our country's only sin last week was in failing.

Senior Appeal

To the Editor

As you know, a referendum pertaining to the 2.0 question will be placed on the ballot this coming Thurs., April 27. Due to the cancellation of last week's Senate meeting, the question of whether seniors will or will not be allowed to vote on the 2.0 measure has not yet been clearly defined and will not be until after tonight's Senate meeting.

Therefore, in view of the extreme importance of their vote, all seniors are urged to go to the Student Union at some time Thurs., April 27, during voting hours. By doing so, seniors will be able to determine whether or not their vote on this important measure will be allowed.

Musigals Harmony Group Plans Trials April 27, 28

27 and 28 at 5 p.m. in the S.U. harmony group will be held April Ballroom. The UMass Statesmen will help to conduct the tryouts. The selection of participants will ing ability.

The "Musigals" will consist of about twelve girls, allowing three girls for each of the four parts.

Freshmen, sophomores and juniors are encouraged to try out. be based on voice quality rhyth- The group will be organized this mically, and musical and blend- spring, although regular practices will not begin until fall.

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

ROISTER DOISTERS

Karel Capek's

BOWKER AUDITORIUM

APRIL 27, 28, 29

Curtain at 8:15

All Seats Reserved Tickets $1.10, $1.40

Ticket Office (Student Union) open weekdays 10-12, 2-4 Telephone Amherst Alpine 3-3411

Arts Festival Will Be Held This Weekend

Saturday and Sunday of Open House Week-end the Wesley Foundation will sponsor an Arts Festival at the Wesley Methodist Church. Students from Smith, Mount Holyoke, Amherst, and vill contribute original and sculpture, which UMass will paintings and sculpture, which will be judged by Mr. Paul Norton and Mr. Donald Matheson from UMass, and Mr. Earl Saunders from Boston University. Theme of exhibit will be "Reality Through Art." Pictures of the winning art will be submitted to a national student exhibit.

On Sunday evening, April 30 Mr. Saunders will talk on "Reality Through Art: An Investiga-

All are invited to attend both e program and the exhibit.

CLUB DIRECTORY

AMATEUR RADIO ASSOCIA-TION
Meeting Wed., April 26, at 7 p.m. in Rm. 10, Gunness Lab.
ASTRONOMY CLUB

There will be a meeting in the Middlesex Room of the S.U. on Wed., April 26 at 8 p.m. A film, "The Mysterious Cosmic Rays", will be shown. All are invited.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION Workly Versey.

Weekly Vespers every Wednesday, 6-6:30 p.m. in the Worcester Rm., S.U.
FLYING CLUB

Important meeting Wed., April 26 at 8 p.m. in the Nantucket Room of the S.U. Overnight flights and summer flying to be discussed.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN

FELLOWSHIP

Bible Study on John 6 Verses 1-21, Friday, April 28, at 7 p.m. in the Plymouth Room of the

MOVIE COMMITTEE

Meeting Thurs., Apr. 27, at 11

Notice To SENIOR and GRADUATE Students who will complete their education and commence work this year.

If you urgently require funds to complete your education, and are unable to secure the money elsewhere,

Apply to STEVENS BROS. FOUNDATION, INC.

A Non-Profit Educational Corporation.

ST. PAUL 1, MINN.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

be a dangerous thing-especially in a multiple-choice exam.

DEAR DR. FROOD: I have calculated that if the population explosion continues at its present rate, there will be a person for every square foot of earth by the year 2088. What do you think of that? Statistics Major

DEAR STATISTICS: Well, one thing's sure, that will finish off the hulahoopers - once and for all.

DEAR DR. FROOD: I have been training our college mascot, a goat. He has learned how to open a pack of Luckies, take out a cigarette, ight up and smoke. Do you think I can get him on a TV show?

Animal Husbandry Major

DEAR ANIMAL: I'm afraid not. To make TV nowadays, you've got to have an act that's really different. After all, there are millions of Lucky

DEAR DR. FROOD: I am a full professor-and yet I stay awake nights worrying about my abil-ity to teach today's bright young college students. They ask questions I can't answer. They write essays I don't understand. They use complicated words that I've never heard before. How can I possibly hope to win the respect of students who are more learned than I am?

Professor

DEAR PROFESSOR: I always maintain that nothing impresses a troublesome student like the sharp slap of a ruler across his outstretched

DEAR DR. FROOD: You can tel your readers for me that college is a waste of time. My friends who didn't go to college are making good money now. And me, with my new diploma? I'm making peanuts!

Angry Grad

DEAR ANGRY: Yes, but how many of your friends can do what you can do—instantly satisfy that overpowering craving for a peanut.

DEAR DR. FROOD: Could you give a word of advice to a poor girl who, after four years at college, has failed to get herself invited on a single date?

Miss Miserable

DEAR MISS: Mask?

THE RECRUITERS ARE COMING! THE RECRUITERS ARE COMING! And here's Frood to tell you just how to handle them: These representatives of big business are, on the whole, alert fellows. They may be aware that college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. Let them know that you know what's up—offer them a Lucky, then tap your cranium knowingly. Remember—today's Lucky smoker could be tomorrow's Chairman of the Board.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Product of The American Tobacco Company - "Tobacco is our middle name"

a.m. in the Nantucket Rm.,

S.U.
PIONEER VALLEY FOLKLORE SOCIETY
Sponsoring a Folk Festival all afternoon on Apr. 29, with free admission. 17 out-of-state performers and as many local performers and as many local per-formers, plus the audience will

sing. PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Open House—Sat., Apr. 29 and Sun., Apr. 30 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Bartlett Hall Basement. Experiments and tours of the department will be given. SOPH-FROSH TRACK MEET

Event May 7, from 2-5 p.m. at Alumni Field. Sign-up sheets have been available in the dorms and will be picked up late tonight. WATER SKI CLUB Meeting Thurs., April 27 at 8:00 p.m. in the Franklin-Hampden Rooms. Members will sign up for preferred skiing dates. Election of officers for next semester. All members and anyone else interested are urged to attend.

LOST & FOUND

LOST & FOUND
Lost: A tan trench coat taken from the coat room at Sig Ep on April 14. I have yours, Contact Charlie Weeber at Sig Ep.
Lost: Tuesday night some place on campus, a black clutch bag containing a wallet with important papers. Please contact Elisabeth Primmer, 303 Crabtree or leave at the S.U. Lobby.

MIMEOGRAPHING

PROMPT SERVICE REASONABLE RATES Will Call For and Delive

CALL Alpine 3-7877

AMHERST + + CINEMA

-Tonight 7:00 & 9:00-

"Two Way Stretch"

ith PETER SELLERS -Thurs., Fri., Sat.-

"All In A Night's Work"

th DEAN MARTIN

LATE SHOW FRIDAY-'Devil In The Flesh"

Kellerman's

(ACROSS FROM LOUIS' FOODS)

Spring Clothing Headquarters

Amherst's only Clothing Store with the "Know-how" to guarantee you a perfect fit every time.

STOP WEARING MISTAKES!

UMass Tennis Squad Nets Two Wins Over Holy Cross, Fairfield by AL BERMAN '62 The varsity tennis squad rack a point. Berman '62 6-0. 6-0. 6-0. (UM) over Elchler (F). 6-0.

ed up two match victories over the past weekend, versus Holy Cross and Fairfield University. The wins put UMass into a 3-1 record for the season.

Thursday, versus Holy Cross, the Redmen won by an odd 6½-2½ score. After UMass had taken five of the six singles points, the squad split even in the first two doubles matches, making the score 6-2, pending completition of the third doubles contest. But darkness came over the courts with the score tied, so the official gave each team half Saturday on home grounds, the Redmen thoroughly whipped Fairfield, 7-2. The starters took all the singles with little trouble, and Coach Steve Kosakowski played all the grass-warmers in the doubles. Schuler and Sherman were the only doubles pair able to win.

The results:

UMASS VS. FAIRFIELD UNIV.

- Poritz (UM) over Dowd (F), 6-1, 6-1.
 Rubin (UM) over Towell (F), 6-0.
 Thomas (UM) over Melican (F), 6-2, 6-1.
- on (UM) over Fappiano (F), (UM) over Faulkner (F).

- 6-0, 6-0. 6. Howarth (UM) over Elchler (F), 6-0,
- Doubles

 1. Dowd and Towell (F) over Levy and Edelstein (UM), 6-2, 6-3.

 2. Schuler and Sherman (UM) over Melican and Fappiano (F), 6-0, 4-6.
- 6-0.

 3. Faulkner and Eichler (F) over Baker and Berman (UM), 6-0, 4-6, 6-2.

- UMASS VS. HOLY CROSS Singles 1. Sinnott (HC) over Poritz (UM), 6-2, ubin (UM) over Graham (HC), 6-2,
- 6-4.
 Thomas (UM) over Driscoll (HC), 6-2,
 C-4. 6-2.
 Thompson (UM) over Reichard (HC),
 C-2. 6-3.
 Simons (UM) over Person (HC)

- 6-2, 6-3.
 5. Simona (UM) over Bernardin (HC), 4-6, 7-5, 7-5.
 6. Howarth (UM) over Canton (HC), 6-2, 6-4.
- Doubles
- Doubles

 Sinnott and Graham (HC) over Poritz and Simons (UM), 6-0, 6-2. Rubin and Thomas (UM) over Driscoll and Reichard (HC), 6-1, 6-1. Thompson and Howarth (UM) tled with Bernardin and Canton (HC), 6-1, 6-8: called because of darkness.

Snakebeaters Dump Jeffs 10-5 To Remain Undefeated

Coach Dick Garber's varsity la-crosse team outplayed Amherst College with a well-balanced scoring punch for a 10-5 victory last Saturday here at UMass.

In winning their fourth game in a row without a setback the Garber Snakebeaters marked the first time that Massachusetts has ever defeated the Lord Jeffs in After Dick Hoss broke a 3-3 deadlock in the first period of play, the garbers were never headed. Hoss had three goals in the conflict.

Golfers Post Second Win

The University of Massachu-setts golfers posted their second victory in as many starts Thurs-day when they defeated URI, 5-2, at the Winnapaug Country Club in Westerly, Rhode Island.

UM's Dan Pierre, making his initial appearance of the season, carded a respectable 77 for low honors. This 5 over par performance enabled him to edge his Ram opponent, 2-1.

First man for the Redmen, Pete Hatfield, was nipped, one up, on the 19th hole by Rhode Island ace, Barry Fitta. Mike Megliola also was extended for an extra hole, but the UMass cocaptain ended the match there, winning by one stroke.

Other victors for the Redmen included Bob Dion (2 up); John Donasky (6-4); and Bill Marshall

Barry Schmoyer, who played in the third position, was defeated on the 17th hole.

The Redmen continue their travels Wednesday when they meet Brandeis on the latter

Jim Ellingwood paced the Red-men attack with three goals and two assists. Frank Gilliatt and Bob Gibley added two apiece. Goalie John Bamberry was fine on defense when he was needed. The UMass squad, however, managed to control the ball 80% of the time.

Massachusetts 5 0 1 4—10 Amherst 3 1 0 1— 5

Freshman Baseball Team Triumphs 9-0

The Redmen Freshmen base-ball club registered their second straight shut-out win of the son in as many starts last Saturday. This time the score was 9-0 over Windham, with the com-bined pitching of Mike Brita and Mike Johnson giving up only one hit.

The UMass nine was in complete command all the way as plete command all the way as they scored six in the initial frame. Big guns for the team were Len Slomski with four hits, John Awdycki with three hits and 3 RBI's, and Gordon Lewis with two hits including a double. In up-holding the UMass sports domination on Saturday, the Bergquist-coached club garnered 13 hits to dominate the bewildered Windham team.

UMass ... 610 200 00x—13 0 Windham 000 000 000— 1 1

#4 in a series of polls conducted by L*M student representatives in over 100 colleges throughout MPUS OPINION Light up an IM, and answer these questions. Then compare your answers with those of 1,383 other college students (at bottom of page).

Question #1: In your opinion, who is the greatest living American?

Question #2: Should the college curriculum, taking note of the growing importance of science, require more science courses for nonscience majors than at present?

Answer:

Yes_

Question #3: When you kiss your date, do you close your eyes?

Answer.

Close my eyes ____ Don't close my eyes___

Question #4:

Can't remember In your opinion, which of the following types of filters gives

Answer:

the best connotation of purity? (CHECK ONE) A filter which is white inside and is wrapped in colored paper

A filter which is dyed a color and is wrapped in white paper

A filter which is white inside and out

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- ★ TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10 net profit per party.
- ★ PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eligible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholarship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can
- EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of valuable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and 'teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in your own hometown.

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, Alpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON..DeLAND College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc.

WESTFIELD, MASS.

UNLOCK A NEW WORLD OF FRESH SMOKING PLEASURE

Start Fresh with

Stay Fresh with LiM

Answer, Question #1: Six highest scoring individuals: 1. Kennedy - 2. Eisenhower 3. Stevenson - 4. Schweitzer - 5. Frost Stevenson Sandburg

(This question was asked February 1961. Note: Dr. Schweitzer is not an American.) Answer, Question #2: Yes 30%-No 70% Answer, Question #3: Close my eyes 76% Don't close my eyes 11% Can't remember 13%

I'M Campus Opinion Answers:

Answer, Question #4: A filter which is white inside and is wrapped in colored paper 21%
A filter which is dyed a color and is wrapped in white paper 5%
A filter which is white inside and out 74%

L^AM was first to offer you a pure white modern filter—the famous Miracle Tip—pure white inside, pure white outside. And L^AM's modern filter enables you to fully enjoy the rich flavor of golden ripe tobaccos. So reachefor flavor...reach for L^AM.

The L&M Campus Opinion Poll was taken at over 100 colleges where L&M has student representatives, and may not be a statistically random selection of all undergraduate schools.

@1961 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Cu.

survey Ment

INCREASE

(See page 2)

FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1961

Proposes Doubling State School Tuitions Volpe Pledges To Block Administration Thompson

Architect's Drawing of Newman Club Center

$750,000 Newman Center To Be Built

herst, and two full time chaplains will be assigned there, Most Rev. Christopher J. Weldon, bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese Springfield, announced today.

The bishop said that construc-

The bishop said that construc-tion will start in July, and the 2½-story brick building will be ready for use when UMass opens for the September, 1962 term. Bishop Weldon said $50,000 has been assigned during each of the past two years from Catholic Charities Appeal funds to start this project. this project.

Rev. David J. Power, diocesan director of Newman Clubs and chaplain to UMass students, and chaplain to UMass students, and Rev. J. Joseph Quigley, assistant chaplain to UMass students, will reside in quarters on the second floor of the new center. Fr. Pow-er is now residing at All Souls Rectory in Springfield and Fr. Quigley is at St. Brigid's Rectory in Amherst.

There will be a social hall recreational area and snack bar on the ground floor. The chapel, which will seat 485, will be on the

A $750,000 Newman Center will be erected at UMass in Amherst, and two full time chaplains will be assigned there, Most Rev. first floor, and two adjoining classrooms will accommodate another 250 students at chapel services. The first floor will also have a library, offices and a lounge. The second floor will have an apartment for the housekeeper, and accommon chaplains and guests. modations for

LIBRARY

The building will be exected on North Pleasant St., just south of the Theta Chi fraternity house. Bishop Weldon commented: "Be-cause the Newman Center will be surrounded by campus buildings, we asked Henry J. Tessier, Springfield architect, to design a building with four 'fronts' and no 'back' and that is what we are going to build."

Fr. Power said that the center Fr. Power said that the center will be for the use of students only. Masses, confessions and other religious services will be held every day. The chaplains will be available on a fulltime schedule for consultations with students. Facilities will be available for the social and educational programs arranged by these al programs arranged by the university's Newman Club.

Senate Sets Student Tax, Protests Crowded Dorms

by THOMAS A. McMULLIN '64, Senate Reporter

In a marathon session Wednes-day night, the Student Senate day night, the Student Senate approved the final budget and student tax, money for the cen-tennial celebration and a letter of protest to the administration on the problem of over-crowded dorms.

The Senate approved the rec-rd budget of $121,850 for student activities. This means the student tax will be $19.25 for next year, an increase of seventy-five cents over this year's fee.

Included in the budget was a $3,000 item for the centennial celebration. The budget committee had originally proposed that $6,000 be given, but the sum had been reduced to $3,000 by an amendment offered by Senator amendment offered by Senator Gail Osbaldeston speaking for the executive committee. Various attempts to raise the $3,000 to $4,000 or $5,000 were defeated by one vote. The majority felt that the student body was being asked to carry too much of the centen-

The third major item approved by the Senate was a motion to protest next year's increase in students and the subsequent over-crowding in the dorms. The bill was proposed by Senator Andy D'Avanzo. He stated that the overcrowding would cause "medi-ocrity" in the education received as studying would be extremely difficult under such conditions.

-Reminder-

UMass police chief Blasko reminds all motorists that the of-ficial state motor vehicle inspec-tion deadline is April 30, a Sun-day. In most cases, Saturday will be the last day for inspection. A $5 fine will be levied on unin-spected vehicles on the readspected vehicles on the road after April 30.

Leaders To Contact Other State Schools: Students Asked To Write State Solons

Library

by AL BERMAN '62, Editor-in-Chief

Efforts of the administration of Governor John A. Volpe to double the tuition of 20,000 students at UMass and other state colleges were made public yesterday.

Rumors of the move have been circulating ever since the tuition was raised from $100-$200 two years ago and Senator John Powers hinted that he would like to see a further increase.

Definite confirmation came when House Speaker John F. Thompson (D-Ludlow) revealed that Volpe's commissioner of administration and finance, Charles Gibbons, had sent letters to all state college heads proposing that the present $200 rate be doubled.

Thompson has given his pledge to block the efforts of the administration.

Gibbons claimed in his letter that everyone who attends a state college should pay as far as he is able. This would help solve the "financial stringency" of the state. He promises that no qualified students would be denied admission because of inability to pay.

More Scholarships Available

Of of $4,000,000 added revenue the increase would provide, Gibbons says half will be set aside for

Of of $4,000,000 added revenue the increase would provide, Gibbons says half will be set aside for additional scholarships.

Additional scholarships.

Speaker Thompson lashed out against the move, because it in effect is asking the 20,000 students to subsidize the railroads. "In my judgment," he declared, "it is completely wrong... to favor millions of dollars of tax relief for mismanaged railroads and to argue that the general fund should be enriched to enable it to provide such relief by imposing additional financial burdens on students who are already hard-pressed financially in their desire to further their education."

Referendum Fails; Election Shows Small Turnout

The "2.0" Bill referendum fail-ed to receive the necessary 50 per cent voter turnout Thurs-day, in elections held in the S.U.

Class of '63:
President;
Oakes — 4
Chalmers—

lobby.

The controversial measures

Associately voted down was substantially voted down 1401 NO's to 796 YES', as only 43.2 per cent went to the polls.

In class officer voting, incumbents were returned to office for the Class of '62, with the vote as follows: President;

Murphy (incb.)-323, Judge-

Vice-President; Curtis (incb.)-340, Hailer-

116 Treasurer;

Read (unopposed)-359

Secretary; Havey (unopposed)—344 S.U.G. Board; Wylde (incb.)—294, Parker— 165

Upon recommendation o fthe Elections Committee the Senator-at-large elections was contested for the closs of '62. It will be rerun Monday from 9-4 in the President; Oakes — 448, Wainstein — 90. Chalmers—90

Vice-President; Bracci (incb.)—403, DiMauro—

Russell-316. Burns-244

Secretary; Hanna-422, Peterson-288 S.U.G. Board;

Cushing (incb.)—246, Jones— 124, MacDonald—99, Nordberg -105, Chomyn-57

Senator-at-Large;

Robicheau—302, Haebler—277, Griffin — 295, Strong — 135, Howe—196, Fleishman — 177, Traquair-40

Class of '64:

President: Kingsley (incb.)-499, Bloom-

Vice-President; Wallace—532, Jordan—334

Treasurer; Esonis—465, Sullivan (incb.)—

(Continued on page 7)

New officers of IFC are left to right: Kevin Judge, Executive Vice-President; Richard Greene, President; Steve Shusterman, Administrative Vice-President; standing — George McKenna, Treasurer; and Joel Lerner, Secretary.

UMass President John W. UMass President John W. Lederle is against the move, saying that he "believes in a low tuition University." He pointed out that while in most colleges fees are listed as a part of the tuition, at UMass they are separate. When we are thinking of tuition here, then, we must also add on the fees that all students must pay. pay.

Tution Raised Already

Due to the $10 increase in the Athletic Fee and the new $30 Health Fee, the UMass tuition has veritably been raised $40 for next year, and combined other fees, totals $300.

This total is the thirteenth highest in the country in landgrant institutions.

The ultimate decision, however, rests with the UMass trustees, and there is little doubt that it will be voted down by them.

Meanwhile, UMass students have already started to take action. A group of student leaders has banded together and elected Jack Sweeney '61 as chairman. It will be his duty to contact the chairman of similar groups being set up at the other state colleges. The respective chairmen will get together and plan definite concerted action to show the feelings of the 20,000 students in State Colleges.

Each Student Must Write

But, according to Bill Knowlton '61, one of the organizers of the UMass group, every student must do his part by writing to his state representative and senator and by urging his parents to do the same.

It is the belief of the UMass group of leaders that a large flow of letters to legislators, plus the collaboration of all the state colleges, plus the pledge by Speaker Thompson to fight the bill, will be enough to force the abandonment of the proposal.

Welcome, Massachusetts!

Several hundred people were gathered around the College Pond at UMass on 2 warm and weatherful afternoon in April. The year was 1955 and the event was a chicken barbeque and 6000 Massachuresidents had come to see the "new look" at their state university.

Across campus, football coach Charlie O'Rourke, just off a 4-4 record in his sophomore putting his gridiron gladiators through the final paces of spring practice. Alumni Field was bright with sun and shirtsleeves as the Redmen tackled and passed for a full-scale scrimmage victory over an "alumni" eleven. But unfortunately, the following October saw a repeat 4-4 performance.

Outside the fences of Alumni Field, campus visitors were scurrying between Coach Joe Rodgers' natatorium where the Naiads were flipping the swim fantastics, and the Poultry Department where kids vere amazed at the mechanical hen.

It all pointed to the "new look" at UMass where there were $10,000,000 worth of new buildings for more than 40 departments and eight schools. And that April day seven years ago was the first of our Open House Weekends.

This incorporation of Parent's Weekend End and High School Day has grown with each succeeding year. Last year there were thousands of weekend visitors to the Amherst green. That barbeque spot beside the College Pond is occupied by the Student Union and today there are over 14,000,000 worth of new buildings for more than 50 departments.

Nevertheless, the occasion still retains the original vogue of Open House. Our gridiron gladiators, under a new coach with no Redmen record to his credit yet, will once again be tearing up the turf and Roister Doisters, with R.U.R. this year, are still performing to the applause of our visitors as they did for their first Open House crowd in 196, representing George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man." And most important of all, this Open House Weekend again gives us the pleasure of presenting our finer attributes and products and enables us to say, "Welcome, Massachausetts. We are proud to say this is yours and ours."

Collegian Editorial Policy

One of the principle functions of a newspaper in serving its readers is that of formulating opinion. On each topic of concern to our readers, the Collegian will make every attempt to present all facets of the issue, as immediately and as accurately as possible. Thus, the Executive Board will meet frepossible. Thus, the Executive Board will meet frequently to discuss and analyze significant issues. According to the decision reached by the Board, an unsigned editorial reflecting its opinion will be printed in the editorial column. In the editorial an attempt will be made to evaluate the pros and cons and to indicate the reasons for the position that the Board takes. All unsigned editorials represented the position of the position that the Board takes. All unsigned editorials represent the official Collegian position. All signed editorials appearing in the editorial column do not, necessarily, reflect the opinion of the Editorial Board, and usually reflect only personal opinion.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor mes J. Trelease '63 Business Manager Howard Frisch '62 News Editor: Assignments News Editor: Make-Up Joseph Bradley '64 Beth Peterson '63 Photography Editor Lawrence Popple '63 Sports Editor Ben Gordon '62

EDITORIAL tes: Michael Palter, Warren Richard

Genevleve Real Judith St. Jean Paul Theroux

Rudy Wittshirk
Marcia Ann Voikos

eature Associates: Jean Cann Diane Tovet Paul Kennett Marie Mortimer '63 Francis Maziarz '63

Thomas McMullin David Osterhout James E. Mulcahy Deborah Selig

Donald Croteau Donald Johnson

John Lennon Abe Sheinker mes E. Mulcahy Peg Bagdon PHOTOGRAPHY Dick Forman Pete Heffer Jack Kessler Steve Arbit Stanley Patz BUSINESS

Alan Savitt Robert Walils

TECHNICAL ADVISER Marc L. Ratner

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Americ, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic art, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a set the week following a vacation or examination period, or the action of the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended the act of June 11, 1984. n price $4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass. secciated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press Sun, Tues, Thurs.—4.00 p. m.

Changing Times

by MIKE PALTER '63

On April 11, the New York Times said, "The Cuban conflict must be settled by Cubans. Aside from the historic and human precedents for this in the case of all social revolutions, there is the special attitude in Latin America toward foreign interven-tion in the internal affairs of another hemispherc nation." At present there seems to be a difference of opinion as to whether U.S. actions in the Cuban of opinion as to whether U.S. actions in the Cuban situation constituted intervention. Apparently there are some who insist that intervention connotes active military aid. These people dismiss the charge of U.S. intervention in Cuba, Yet, it appears that this attitude can only be a manifestation of incredible naivete (at the least) or political evasiveness (at the most). Intervention is simply "the interference of a state in the affairs of another state for the purpose of compelling it to do or forbear certhe purpose of compelling it to do or forbear cer-tain acts or to maintain or alter an internal condi-Guatemaia calls.

Despite this, the majority of the American people have not yet to realize the Latin American attitude toward intervention. For example, in President Kennedy's address to the editors of the United States he said, "Should it ever appear that the inter-American doctrine of noninterference merely conceals or execuses a policy of non-action; if the conceals or execuses a policy of non-action; if the nations of this Hemisphere should fail to meet their commitments against outside Communist penetra-tion then I want it clearly understood that this Gov-ernment will not hesitate in meeting its primary obligations, which are the security of our nation."

What Mr. Kennedy has forgotten is that the nations of this Hemisphere do not want to be told what their commitments are. As the Diario Noticias of Rio de Jeneiro said, "President Kennedy must come to understand that the future of relations between the United States and Latin America is at stake. Nixon was spit upon (on his Latin America trip) because there was a Guatemala as a repulsive sym-bol of a certain policy toward Latin America."

Another significant reaction to our Cuban adventure was that of Prime Minister Nehru of India, venture was that of Prime Minister Nehru of India, who said, "To encourage a force to come from outside does seem to us a kind of intervention which may lead to any other party interventing also. Nehru realizes the dangers implicit in our attitude toward Cuba. More than this, he stands on international law which he believes is of primary importance in the minimization of future conflict. And even the Times concurred with this principle when it stated editorially (April 16):

"The road to peace is through 'scrupulous adherence to law and justice, under whatever provocation."

The significant problem, however, is found in the attitudes of those who feel that that which was injust in the Cuban situation was not our subtle violation of international law, but in our very failure to crush the regime of Castro. This is an extremely dangerous attitude for it condones intervention while completely negating moral considerations.

It appears that an atmosphere is developing wherein the fundamental ideals of democracy are subordinated to political expediency. If this at-mosphere crystallizes, the very bed-rock of demo-cracy cracks and crumbles into ashes.

Better Education Or Better Railroads?

When word arrived from the State Legislature Friday morning that there was under way a move—not to just increase—but to DOU-BLE the tuition of our state institutions of higher learning, the UMass campus was shocked into dismay. But to a few veteran upper classmen, this move is the materialization of prophecies made during the 1959 tuition-pay increase war: "Action of this caliber will only set a precedent." Today, with the threatened jump from $200 to $400, those student and administrative prophets may be proevn correct sonner than all believed.

But in reality, this increase is congruent with a nation-wide pattern of tuition changes which has emerged in the last four years. Cornell students have had their tuition upped three times in the last four years. Harvard men have faced two tuition, three board, and two room increases in the last four years. It is quite obvious that the finances of UMass students put them in a separate class than Cornell and Harvard men, but there are legislators who would have us meet the same financial commitments. the same financial commitments

The tuition increases across America are totally out of perspective with the needs and costs of higher education. A correlation between tuition increases and the national economy changes should prove the two congruent. There is no denying that a "gradual inflation" has beset our nation over the last four years. But the comparison of the rate of inflation on building needs and teachers' salaries and the rate of tuition increases show that the tuitions are far in excess of the necessary costs. Today, our colleges are being threatened with the possibility of being operated at a profit. Is this the goal of education in Massachusetts?

The recent accusations by House Speaker John F. Thompson that a large portion of the tuition increase would "... subsidize the railroads" and enrich the general fund "to enable it to provide such relief by imposing additional financial burdens on students who are already hard-pressed financially," back up the above threat.

Speaker Thompson was certainly correct in labeling UMass students as "hard-pressed financially." At most universities, the student fees are included in the tuition costs. At UMass, where the fees verge close to $100, the tuition bill is separate from the fees. Thus, students on this campus already pay what is comparable to the $300 tuition of other schools. With an increase of $10 in athletic fees, plus a new health program of $30, the new tuition increase would be adding another debt to what is presently a hardship case.

A further example of how low an income bracket this student body represents can be seen in the following statistics. Of the 5000 member student body, 44% are from families whose incomes are in the $4000-$6000 range. The percentage of students who own cars at UMass is 4.7% (the bulk of which is filled by commuters). Today, the University of Massachusetts ranks 13th from the top—not scholastically, not in teacher salaries, not in scholarships available—but in the amount of tuition required. Out of 50 states and more than 80 U.S. land-grant institutions, Massachusetts may boast that there are only 12 other colleges who make their students pay more tuition. Yet, our teacher salaries are rated D— to Failing. Yet, our teacher salaries are rated D- to Failing.

Today, it is recognizable that there will always be SOME students requiring financial aid. Tomorrow, with a doubling in tuition, more than 50% of our student body will need financial help. To place such a heavy and unnecessary burden on the shoulders of our young men and women and their families, in order that our railroad system be polished, is a moral and political decay of the lowest level. When, in the name of education, they rob the poor to support the rich, there is every indication that the supporters of such measures may not be concerned with the interests of education and certainly do not understand education.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

In the administration of the ROTC drill classes, I should think t the army would take into consideration the students who are not in these classes

On Monday morning, our drill instructor marched our class from the ROTC parking lot to the road behind the library, blocking the road and causing great inconvenience to the class and to vehicles using the road. When we were in the road directly in back of the library, the instructor proceeded to give loud, clear commands in proper military fashion, profanity and all. Several people came to windows to discover the cause of the noise. We were then marched up the road and were halted in the rear of the library for more commands, and then back to the ROTC building.

It is my contention that people studying and working in the library and in Bartlett Hall should be allowed to do so without being distracted by someone bellowing beneath the windows. I hope that the ROTC Department will in the future have more respect and consideration for those engaged in academic pursuits and will confine their seemingly useless activities to their own grounds.

David M. Perry '64

OPEN HOUSE

This weekend is our Open House With everything in tune— What matters not is what we she But what we turn out in June.

ames Club Started Here By Mrs. Rich, Mrs. Mather

One of the most active organizations on campus is the Dames Club, a students' wives' organization. They meet the third Thurs-day of each month, usually in Middlesex dorm, although this year they have had meetings in kinner.

original 'Dames' were the original Dames were started over sixty years ago by a Mrs. Peabody at Harvard University and at its origin had nineteen members. In 1900, a Mrs. Davenport from the Har-vard group started a Dames Club at the University of Chicago. Soon after, clubs sprung up at the University of Iowa and Ohio State. A national constitution was ratified in 1923 and there are now about one hundred Dames Clubs in the country.

The UMass chapter, presently numbering about 75, was founded by Mrs. J. Harry Rich and Mrs. J. Paul Mather in 1954. The Dames donate money every year for a scholarship for a mar-ried student. At Christmas the club gives presents to the children of the Belchertown State School. They also have a party for the Dames' children at Christmas. Every so often they have Bake Sales and at Open House the members serve coffee and punch at the Engineering Library.

This year's officers are: president, Kathy DeGrasse; vice presi-dent, Carol Honkanen; corresponding secretary, Elaine Gud-brandsen; recording secretary, Joan Arold; treasurer, Toni Pickard.

Officers for next year have been elected and are: president,

Carol Robinson; vice president, Ann Franz; secretary, Judy livan; treasurer, Jan McHugh Judy Sul-

For each of the club's activities 'interest groups', one person is put in charge of arranging the e and setting for each of these functions. Among these interests are swimming, bowling, bridge, a choral group, ice skating, kniting and sewing, and modern

Last Saturday the Dames had a Dames Dinner Dance at the Sportsmans Club. For May 7, they have planned a Dames barthey have planned a Dames bar-becue. In May they will have their installation program when they have gifts for each of the graduating seniors' wives. On the May 21st graduation at the Student Union, when these members 'graduate', they received a P.H.T. degree—Putting Hubby Through.

For each meeting they usually have some sort of program planned. For example, earlier this year they had Professor Boycott speaking on floriculture arrangements. Also, they had a mock fashion show.

Usually, refreshments are served. The club has a very interesting and well organized program.

The symbol of the Dames is a wedding ring pierced by an arrow. The wedding ring stands as a bond of fidelity and the arrow is used as a symbol of friend-interested in Anyone Dames, see Mrs. Kathy DeGrasse, Suffolk House, apartment 3E.

Alpha Chi Omega To Move To Infirmary

Last week, the Alpha Chi Omegas received some long awaited news. They will open the fall semester by moving into a house.

Through the help of the administration, without which it would be impossible, the Alpha Chis are renting the old Infirmary. If all goes as planned, they will utilize all three buildings. The large building on the left will sleep thirty-eight of the Sisters and will also serve as their dining area. The middle building will be converted into study rooms, while the building on the right will be used for activities and house meetings.

In the fall when plans are com-

In the fall when plans are com pleted, the Sisters of Alpha Chi Omega will hold an Open House for the faculty and students.

Naiads ToPerform

The University of Mass Naiads will present their aquatic production "Rich man, poor man..." during Open House weekend Three performances have been scheduled: Saturday afternoon at 2 and 3:30 and Sunday afternoon at 3 at the Women's Physical Education Building pool. Students and visitors are invited to attend, and tickets may be obtained free of charge at the Student Vision. of charge at the Student Union from 9 to 12 Friday and Saturday mornings.

Pinnings

Diane Miller, Crabtree to Ronald Mgrdichian, Alpha Sigma Phi. Pauline Sarrazin, Lasell Junior College to Robert Addison, Alpha Sigma Phi.

Engagements

Irene Gurka, Sigma Kappa to Stanley Liana of Chicopee.

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- ★ TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10 net profit per party.
- PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eligible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholarship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can
- EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of valuable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in your own hometown.

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, Alpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON DELAND General Manager College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc.

WESTFIELD, MASS.

Finalists Chosen For Ladies' Man

Two seniors and a sophomore have been chosen as finalists in the UMass Ladies' Man contest. Don Croteau, nominated by the Commuters, and Jack Downey, populated by Butterfield are both nominated by Butterfield are both from the class of '61. Pete Hefler '63, the nominee from Wheeler, was also selected.

The three were picked by UMass coeds who bought tickets for the H.E.R. weekend dance. Judging will take place later this week to determine the final

The Ladies' Man will receive a The Ladies' Man will receive a fine sport outfit from Hans Kellerman as well as a gift certificate from Musante's Flower Shop. Watch the Collegian for details concerning the final election.

Pledges Become Sisters

The sisters of Kappa Kappa Gamma are both happy and proud to welcome their twenty-two new sisters who were initiated on April nineteenth. The annual April nineteenth. The annual initiation banquet was held that same evening in the Sun Room same even. at Wiggins' at Wiggins' Tavern. A good time was had by all. 314 Lincoln Ave. was the residence of these initiates this past weekend and under their sponsorship, the old Kappas and their dates enjoyed a buffet on Saturday evening.

Recent faculty guests included Miss Riggs and Dr. & Mrs. Varley. KKG thanks them for coming and hopes that they enjoyed their visit as much as the sisters enjoyed having them.

An exchange supper was held with Phi Sigma Kappa on April twenty-sixth. Everyone attending

French Corridor Planned

Several girls on campus have shown interest in establishing a shown interest in establishing a dormitory corridor, set aside exclusively for those who would enjoy using French "tout le temps."

Only through enthusiastic res-can such a program be d. If you are interested in this plan please contact Ruth Levine, Johnson House, for further information or leave your name with the secretary of the French Department in Bartlett

AND FREE ADMISSION

Joseph Langland To Read Selections Of His Poetry

Joseph Langland, UMass associate professor of English and nationally known poet, will read selections of his poetry at the Jones (town) Library Tuesday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Also on the program will be Carter Revard, assistant profes-sor of English at Amherst Col-lege. Genevieve G. Hamilton, Head of the Reserve Book Room of Goodell Library, will introduce both poets.

Langland won the Amy Lowell Traveling Poetry Fellowship in 1955 and spent a year in Italy. He has held Ford Foundation Faculty Fellowships at Harvard and Columbia, and last year the Library of Congress recorded his work under its program of making live recordings of noteworthy contemporary poets.

He is the author of The Green Town (1956) and his poetry has been included in a number of anthologies. His work has also appeared in dozens of magazines, among them the Atlantic, Hudson Review, New Yorker, Saturday Review and Poetry.

Langland has been invited to read his poetry at numerous colleges in both the United States and Canada. He has also appeared to the control of the co peared as guest poet and literary critic at art festivals and on many radio programs.

He serves with G. Stanley Koehler as co-editor of Poetry for The Massachusetts Review and currently is also co-editing a volume of poetry for Dial Press, Poet's Choice.

Prior to joining the LIMAGE.

Poet's Choice.

Prior to joining the UMass faculty in 1959, he taught at the University of Wyoming and the State University of Iowa. During World War II he served as an infantry captain in Europe.

Langland is married to the former Judith Wood (UMass '37) of Weymouth. The Langlands have two sons and one daughter and reside at 325 East Pleasant Street, Amherst.

Street, Amherst.

Frosh Plan Bali Hai Mix For May 12

The freshman class has been diligently working on plans for the Frosh Mix to be held Friday, May 12th, in the S.U. Ballroom from 8 to 11. The title of the mix, Bali Hai, explains its theme—that of a South Pacific

The Jazz Doctors are the main attraction. Many of the talented members of the class have entertainment planned and refreshments will be served. Anyone interested in participating please notify Carol Esonis, Dwight, or Rita Crosby, Mary Lyons.

When They Counted

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe De-Maestri, utility infielder for the New York Yankees, drove in only two runs in 1960 but both of them won ball games.

Hillel Will Hold Annual Parents' Day Breakfast

B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation and the Springfield Lodges and Chapter of B'nai B'rith are hold-ing their annual Parents' Day Breakfast on Sunday morning, April 30 at 10 a.m. in the Din-ing Commons.

Officers for the 1961-1962 sea-Officers for the 1961-1962 season will be installed by Bernard Brandwene former president, Shalom Lodge B'nai B'rith in Springfield and awards will be presented to the outstanding senior members of Hillel by Professor Joseph Marcus, Faculty Adviser to the UMass Chapter.

Guest speaker at the Breakfast will be Rabbi Joseph Klein of Temple Emanuel in Worcester. He has been spiritual leader of the Temple since January, 1949.

He has served as President of the New England Conference of Liberal Rabbis and as a member of the Executive Board of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, and serves on the boards of such local organizations as the Red Cross, Worcester Housing Authority, Jewish Welfare Fund, Archeological Institute, the Jew-ish Community Center, and the Worcester Ministers' Association. He is president of the Worcester Zionist District.

Rabbi Klein is Editor of the CCAR Journal, official organ of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, and is a member of the Board of Governors of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion. stitute of Religion.

All parents and students are cordially invited to attend.

C.A. Plans Breakfast Installation

The installations of the recent-ly elected officers of the C.A. will be held at the Open House Breakfast, Sunday, April 30, at 9 a.m. in Line 1 of the Dining Com-

As the annual breakfast is being held during the Open House Weekend, students are in-vited to ask their parents to at-tend with them.

Featured as speaker will be K. Brooke Anderson from the World University service, who will be talking about the stu-dent's role in today's world situa-

Anderson, a Virginian, com-pleted his undergraduate work at the University of Richmond and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Yale. For four years he directed the work of the student religious program of the YMCA at the University of Vir-ginia and in the succeeding 24 years held a personal relationship with the students of Brown University as Director of the Brown Christian A sociation.

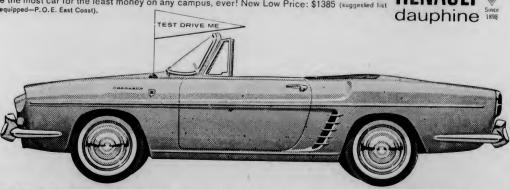

Tickets for the breakfast may be purchased at the Protestant Chaplain's office. It is suggested that tickets be purchased early. By those expecting parents how-ever, the tickets may be bought at the time of the breakfast.

Hamilton Hal., men's dormitory in a co-educational college, was just across a courtyard from Willard Hall, where girl students lived. The occupants of Hamilton were increasingly careless about pulling down shades while dis-robing and showering. Presently the girls sent over a note: "To residents of Hamilton Hall. Course in Anatomy not appreci-ated. Signed Willard Hall." Back, promptly, came the reply: "Course in Anatomy optional."

Professors and students both agree that nothing beats the Dauphine for economy, styling, and 4-door convenience. Up to 40 miles on a gallon, low upkeep, rugged, sporty performance make the Dauphine the most car for the least money on any campus, ever! New Low Price: $1385 (suggested list price, fully equipped—P.O.E. East Coast).

Here's the car to escape from the ordinary in. Heavy on styling, light on gas and upkeep—the Caravelle is available with an optional hard top that turns it into a sports coupe at a moment's notice. Like the Dauphine, the Caravelle carries a 12 month/12,000 mile (whichever comes first) warranty and a load of free extras. TEST DRIVE US SOON AT YOUR LOCAL RENAULT DEALER!

MON CEN MOTERS, INC. 57 KING STREET NORTHAMPTON, MASS.

PEERLESS INSURANCE COMPANY

KEENE, NEW HAMPSHIRE

has openings in its Management Career Program

- · Progressive 60 year old company
- · Best in retirement and insurance benefits
- · Pleasant living in congenial town
- · Broad training to fit you to your best potential
- · All salaried positions, start at $4500, first increase in 6 months

If you are interested in a future with an aggressive company in this growing industry, fill out the coupon below and mail. If you prefer, call Mr. Heneage collect at ELmwood 2-3221. We will arrange to interview.

То: Н	. R. Heneage, Peerless Insurance, Keene, N. H.
I am interes	ted in:
	More information on Peerless
	An interview
Name:
Address	Sty
Phone:

UMass Trackmen Take Brandeis By Storm 89-45

Flagg, Bushmann, Reilly Great As Judges Lose Big Verdict

Some exceptionally good per-formances coupled with a few formances coupled with a few disappointingly poor ones featured an easy 89-45 victory by the UMass trackmen in their opener at Brandeis, Wednesday It was an odd meet in which the unexpected occurred with the runners and jumpers enjoying the feel of the Judges' new track and the weightmen having to throw uphill. The track, made from a rubber-base compound that looks rubber-base compound that looks like asphalt and feels like cork, is one of a few of its type in this country and affords a springy but firm running surface while requiring little maintenance. A similar installation is slated for the new UMass athletic fields. Loren Flagg started the ball rolling when he wasted no time in breaking the varsity dash rec-ord which he just recently tied, sprinting 100 yards in 9.9 sec-onds, "Loppy" was off the start fast, led all the way, and at the finish was about three yards ahead of Brandeis' George Dor-ing, a 10-second man himself. Three watches caught in 9.7, 9.9.

-DEERFIELD Drive-In-

Bob Hope & Lucille Ball in

"The Facts of Life"

"THE WONDERFUL COUNTRY"

by ABE SHEINKER '62 and 10.0, as the race looked to be at least 9.9, possibly better. But the most surprising part of this feat was that Flagg suffered a muscle pull in football practice a muscle pulm in football practice several days ago and was run-ning with one leg heavily taped. A very satisfactory day was also turned in by Jim Reilly, a versatile performer both on and off the field. After taking third in the 100 with 10.1, a career best, and second in the broad jump with a good 21'3", "Rile" won his life's first hurdles race, won his fires first hurdles race, charging ahead of two Brandeis pursuers in the lows.

The other jumpers were also hot that day—Al Garsys showed that he's really coming along with a 22'1½" broad jump victory. Charlie LaPier and Joe Cassidy handed Diek Ward his first sidy handed Dick Ward his first collegiate loss in the high jump when both cleared 6 feet. Ward had the height but his timing was poor, as he knocked the bar off poor, as he knocked the oar off with his trailing leg. LaPier encountered almost no competition in his nigh hurdles win and also surpassed 20 feet in the broad jump, but failed to place.

The distance men found the fast track to their liking while encountering good competition from the Judges. Ralph Buschmann led teammates Dick Blomstrom and Dave Balch to a two-mile sweep as he recorded a personal best of 9:51.9. Balch also copped the mile in a fair 4:36.8 with Buschmann third Prancisco with Buschmann third. Brandeis showed that they had at least a few real stars when Goldschmidt took the 440 in 49.9 seconds and Gastonquay won the half-mile in 1:56.0, both times being below records in those race CMass' records in those races, Ken O'Brien had a creditable 1:59 time for the half after he and Balch spent two nights in the woods on a recreation class camp-ing trip. Ron Young's 51.0 and Bob Avery's 52.4 in the 440 were outstanding also the lattue being outstanding also, the latter being Avery's tops ever.

Dick Brown and Kim Bruyne had steady performances in the pole vault, going one-two at 10'6" and 10'. But the weight throwers generally had a poor day, tossing their implements up the Dick Ward managed only 125'5'2" in winning the hammer, although he had one measuring 130' that was just outside the poorly marked throwing sector.
This one would have been a good 160° on a level area as it landed in the highest portion of the hill. Ward also put the shot 40'8" from a standstill for a second.

Charlie Romeo, after placing second in his first try at hammer throwing, edged his Brandeis rival by 8 inches in the discus

Lita Sieloff, who is no stranger to ping pong, being a champion in her nat/ve Germany, is here presented with her trophy for winning top honors in the Stuiv's women's ping pong championships. Ann Baker (center), the runner up, is also honored by Games Manager Larry Truehart. Lita defeated Ann in four

Golfers Win Third Straight As They Defeat Brandeis

third victory in as many starts Wednesday when they swamped Brandeis, 6-1, at the Belmont with a mediocre 122,1012", while with a mediocie 122,101₂", while Al Obue was third at 119'7", these marks also going up the hill. Tall Charles Fohlin got off a nice 180'1₂" toss to win the a nice 180 2 toss to win the javelin contest but ace spearman Jim Ballou was off form in second place at 166', with this event being on the level area.

The Redmen could have easily pushed the score about the 100 mark but Coach Bill Footrick mark but Coach Bill Footrick prefered to save his men for the big one this Saturday at Spring-field College. The team was without the services of George Giddings, Ernie Karshick, and Jack Harrington, who had scholastic committments; vaulter Lee Munson had an injured hand, and Flagg was pulled from the 220 to save his leg.

The frosh crew, led by Collingwood, Danforth, Piatek and Brouillet, will also be competing at Springfield.

The University of Massachu-etts linksmen rolled to their triumph extended the Redmen hird victory in as many starts victory streak to eight over a two year span.

Co-captain Mike Megliola and junior Barry Schmoyer won low honors for the day with their seven over par 78's. Both men easily toppled their opponents, 3-2 and 6-5 respectively.

Other UM victors included John Donasky (83) and Dan Pierre (79), both of whom were on the front end of 6-5 scores. Coach Gladchuck's sixth and seventh men, Bob Dion (2-1) and Bill Marshall (7-5) also triumphod ed.

Pete Hatfield, who has been playing in the first position and constantly facing the best the opposition has to offer, was edged on the last hole by Harry Zinn, who took medalist honors for the day with a 77.

Tomorrow morning the UM golfers meet RPI on the latter team's home course. This match will mark the first meeting between the Redmen and the Engineers on the fairways.

F. H. THOMPSON & SON 13 N. Pleasant St. — Amherst

A man with Alopecia Universalis* doesn't need this deodorant

He could use a woman's roll-on with impunity. Mennen Spray was made for the man who wants a deodorant he knows will get through to the skin . . . where perspiration starts.

Mennen Spray Deodorant does just that. It gets through to the skin. And it works. All day. More men use Mennen Spray than any other deodorant. Have you tried it yet?

64¢ and $1.00 plus tax

*Complete lack of body hair, including that of the scalp, legs, armpits, face, etc.

0

Bamberry Leads Snakebeaters To 7-0 Conquest Of Engineers

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

ROISTER DOISTERS

Karel Capek's

R. U. R.

BOWKER AUDITORIUM

APRIL 27, 28, 29

Tickets $1.10, $1.40

Ticket Office (Student Union) open weekdays 10-12, 2-4

Telephone Amherst Alpine 3-3411

Goalie John Bamberry recorded is first shutout of the varsity acrosse season as Coach Garerb's snakebeaters downed M.I.T. 7-0 Wednesday here at UMass. The UMass win was their fifth in as many starts. The Redmen, who also hold victories over Adelphi, Wesleyan, Holy Cross, and Amherst, now loom as strong ontenders for Northeastern Con-

M.I.T., who had beaten the home forces last year in Boston

All Seats Reserved

never got started offensively. Even with last year's squad in-tact, they erred repeatedly as they were outpositioned and out-played by the Garbers.

After Frank Gilliatt scored via assist by Mike Chretian with 5 gone in the first frame, it 9:15 gone in the was all UMass.

Chretian and Jim Ellingwood each had 2 goals in leading the undefeated warriors. Gibeley and Hoss added the remaining tallies.

As usual the defense sparkled with Jerry Cullen and Walt Glinski showing the way. Spirited blocking and checking kept the Bostonians from setting up good offensive patterns.

Bamberry filled his goalie spot up to pre-season expectations.
"Bumps" continually frustrated invasion attempts with his hawk-like protection.

Considering the adverse weather conditions, the Garbers controlled the ball well. High winds, however, caused many a carrier to drop a pass or fumble the ball.

Saturday finds the stickmen in Saturday into the stickmen in Medford, for a date with Tufts. The Jumbos have a loss to Amherst on their record but could be tough on the home field.

BASEBALL GAME

The UMass baseball team will host the Boston Univer-sity nine Saturday at 2:00.

Referendum Fails . . .

(Continued from page 1) retary;

Mercer (incb.)-587, Reagan-221

S.U.G. Board; Oliver—295, Aceti—279, Tem-kin—164

To Speak At Sports Clinic Vic Fusia and his UMass foot-ball coaching staff and Ernie Calverly, coach of the '61 Yankee Calverly, coach of the '61 Yankee Conference Basketball Champions, the University of Rhode Island, will be the main speakers at the 11th Annual Western Massachusetts Coaches Association Sports Clinic which will be held here on Saturday April 29.

Coach Fusia will start off the Coach Fusia will start off the morning football session speak-ing about the UMass offensive ing about the UMass offensive and defensive philosophy. Line Coach Ted Schmitt will lecture on "Interior Defensive Line Play", backfield coach Jack Delaney will cover "Defensive Backfield Techniques", and end coach Fred Glatz will conclude with "Offensive End Play."

The football session will con-

The football session will conclude in the afternoon as the Redmen football squad goes through an intrasquad scrimmage as part of its spring football practice sessions.

Fusia And Calverly Slated

Ernie Calverly, who is one of Rhode Island's court immortals, saw his team break the stranglesaw his team break the strangle-hold that Connecticut has held on hold that Connecticut has held on the Yankee Conference Basket-ball championship this past win-ter and then make a very fine impression in their NCAA game with St. Bonaventure. Calverly will speak on the "Five Man Weave Offense" and "The Fast Break Attack." Registration from 8:30-9:30 a.m. will begin the day's activia.m. will begin the day's activities and a luncheon will be served in the dining commons at 12:30 for the clinic participants.

Stanley Ursprung (Longmeadow) President of the Western Mass. Coaches Association is general chairman of the clinic and he is being assisted by Angelo Cerreale and Charles gelo Cerreale and Charles Abramson (Amherst) and Bud Kneeland (Hopkins Academy).

W.A.A. Highlights

Girls' Spring Sports Now In Full Swing At W.P.E.

by PEG BAGDON '63

in full swing at the Women's Physical Education Building. Anyone interested in archery may come out on Mon. and Wed. from 4:45-6:00 p.m. or Tues. and Thurs. from 11:00-12:00 a.m., to compete for

Senator-at-Large; Della Penna—437, Clapper— 238, Bransfield—302, Sweeney—462, Sackmary—233, Gutting --69

Commuters;

Casey—23, Patten—17. Write-ins received an additional four votes in the Commuters' sena-their dorm or so shoot or a J shoot or a Junior Columbia Round.

Lacrosse for anyone is on Mon. and Wed. from 5:00-6:00 p.m. All are welcome rain or shine.

Softball games are well under way and the competition between dorms and sororities is very keen. Schedules are posted so be sure to check and see when your team

This year for Open House the program not only includes the Wonderful Naiads Show but also a gymnastics demonstration pre-sented by the members of the Women's Gymnastics Club. In-Women's Gymnastics Club. In-cluded in the program are in-dividuals on the even and uneven parallel bars, the balance beam, and the trampoline. Group activities include tumbling, marching, and a ball routine. There will also be a demonstration of free exer-

Tickets are required for the Naiads show but there is no charge. The Gymnastics demon-stration requires no ticket and will be given on Sat. afternoon while the Naiads Show will be given on Sat. and Sun. afternoon.

Other shoes may look like Keds, but only U.S. Keds® can give you "that great feeling." Because Keds have a patented shockproofed arch cushion and cushioned inner sole. And because Keds are built over tested, scientific lasts, to fit all feet perfectly, even narrow ones. Keds are right for class, gym, tennis court or dorm. Machine-washable (and they even look good clean). His: Keds "Court King." Hers: Keds "Champion." Get your U.S. Keds at good shoe or department stores.

LOOK FOR THE BLUE LABEL

announces its official May Day Smoker

A Veteran's Organization

May 1, 9:00 p.m.

6 · 107 · 3651/4*

* 60 million times a day people get that refreshing new feeling with ice-cold Coca-Cola!

led under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

OH

Agricultural Exhibit Is Held For Radio, TV Broadcasters

The College of Agriculture Student Enrollment Committee was host to a group of Massachu-setts radio and television broad-casters today in order to acquaint them with the opportunities in scientific agricultural careers through training at UMass. Prof. Grant B. Snyder, Dept. of Horti-

ביר ר

Grant B. Snyder, Dept. of Horticulture, is chairman of the Enrollment Committee.

Special agricultural research projects, from viruses—midget microbes to color measurement of food flavor and spoilage, were demonstrated and explained to members of the United Press International Broadmasters Association of Massachusetts.

The broadcasters held their

The broadcasters held their quarterly meeting at UMass as guests of the College of Agricul-

Other UMass research that provided a backdrop to the state's 200 million agricultural industry—to say nothing of an additional $4 billion in the food industry—included a review of ultra-high temperature pasteurization, ova temperature pasteurization, ova transplant in sheep, and use of radio chemistry in plant growth. These special research features were examined by the broad-casters under a visiting arrange-ment during the afternoon.

Setting the stage for the afternoon tour of research projects and facilities was a morning program opening with a welcome by Fred P. Jeffrey, acting dean of agriculture. Prof. John Blackmore, head of the department of agricultural and food economics, keynoted the meeting with a talk keynoted the meeting with a talk on "New Horizons in Agricul-

Members of the UMass Jazz Band play at various functions on an are drummer Tony Mercurio '64 and Don Tepper '61. At upper saxophone, Below John Maggs '62 directs at a recording rehearsal. unctions on and off campus. At the '61. At upper right is Chuck Reid

Program Planned For Open House

On Saturday:

9-4 Bay State Dairy Classic 10:15 Special Events 2:15 Farm Baby Parade

12:30 Basketball Movie

12:30 Basketball Movie
1:15 Football Movie
1:30, 2:30, 3:30 Civil War Film
2 Baseball Game UMass vs. B.U.
2-3:10 Naiads W.P.E.
2 Baseball Game UMass Freshmen vs. A.I.C. Freshmen
2:15-3 Gymnastics W.P.E.
3-4 ROTC Band
3-4 Precision Deill

3-4 Precision Drill

8 p.m. R.U.R. Bowker
On Sunday:
9 C.A. Breakfast
9:15 Newman Club Breakfast

Hillel Breakfast

12-1:30 Dinner atthe Commons
Tick is will be sold in advan only in the S.U. Lobby
1:30, 2 3:30 Civil War Film
2 Je concert
3-4:10 Naiads W.P.E.

3-4 R.O.T.C. Band 3-4 Precision Drill 3-4 Student Music Recital

LOST & FOUND

Lost: A tan trench coat taken from the coat room at Sig Ep on April 14. I have yours. Contact Charlie Weeber at Sig Ep.

Lost: A brown raincoat lost in Dining Commons. Please return to Jim Bradley, Brooks 220.

Lost: Benrus watch somewhere on campus, Reward. Notify Ri-chard Guzowski, Sip Ep.

Lost: Blue and white American bike; from back of S.U. Return to Ellen Messenger, Hamlin 424.

Two Bands Play At Sophs' 'May Day, Heyday' Picnic

"May Day, Heyday" will be sponsored by the sophomore class on Monday, May 1st from 4 to 10 p.m. The six hour festivities have as a musical acompaniment the "Tiki's Four" and the "North-rule the sponsored by the sophomore class on Monday, May 1st from 4 to 10 games are being played and the refreshments are being served.

The "Northern Lights" will keep up the tempo from 6 until 10 with their well known rock and roll music p.m. The six hour festivities have as a musical acompaniment the "Tiki's Four" and the "Northern Lights".

The activities will take place on the south side of the S.U. The "Tikis" are scheduled to play and and roll music.

The admission charge for members of the sophomore class is .05. Other members of the student body are cordially invited to come and dance but the hot dogs, tonic, and ice cream will be or the sophs.

Master of Ceremonies Howie

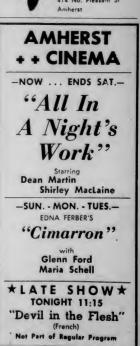

Master of Ceremones flowie Wainstein and the Co-Chairmen stated that in case it rains the picnic will be held Tuesday, Counselling Day.

MIMEOGRAPHING

PROMPT SERVICE REASONABLE RATES Will Call For and Delive CALL Alpine 3-7877

and specially processed for filter smoking. Smoke Winston.

WINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

wheelest Bly +

1961 UNI

COUNSELING DAY

TOMORROW

VOL. XC NO. 72 5e PER COPY

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

MONDAY, MAY 1, 1961

Spring Open House Enjoyed By Commonwealth

House

to the rain.

more people to enjoy the Open which were open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Guided tours were offered to give a more inclusive tour of

One of the biggest attractions was the Naiads show, "Rich man, poor man . . ." Tickets, which were obtained free of charge, were all taken by noon on Satur-

For the guests who stayed later on Saturday the Roister Doisters presented Karel Capek's R.U.R.

that evening, as it had the two previous nights.

Sunday was followed by the ROTC Band and Precision Drill which were able to perform that Intercollegiate

Sing Will Be

The Intercollegiate Sing will be presented at UMass on Friday, May 5, 1961. This festival was instituted two years ago and has been such a success that it has become an annual event. At the sing, vocal groups from various colleges in the New England area come to sing on a non-competitive

The success last year was due to such groups as the M.I.T. "Logs", the Mt. Holyoke "V'8's", our own "Statesmen" and the

In addition to the "Pipes" will be the "Double Quartet" from Amherst; the "Statesmen"; the "Newtones" whose motto is "...

have cummerbund, will travel"; and the "Dirijoes" from Maine. The talent of these groups is ex-emplified by their backgrounds which includes recordings, television and performances at various social functions.

The performance starts at 8 p.m. in the S.U. Ballroom. Admis-

Women's Dormitory Room Choosing for 1961-62 will be held Wed. & Thurs. evenings, May 3 & 4. For details see posted notices or the Office of the Dean of Women.

our own "State Trinity "Pipes".

Held May 5

The Jazz Concert at 2 p.m. on different departments.

Counselors Selected For Women's Dorms

by SANDRA GIORDANO '64, Collegian Staff Reporter
Eight junior women and three from the class of '63 will head in the Roister Doisters, C.A., the women's dormitories in 1961-

After a temporary loan of the After a temporary loan of the "Abbey" to men, women will resume occupancy, making a total of 11 women's dormitories for the 1800 women living in the north area next year.

Many Applied
Miss Helen Curtis, Dean of Women stated, "A keen interest was shown in dorm affairs as there were 259 applicants for the 82 positions, more applicants than in previous years."

Jean Condon, '62, from Med-way, will head Mary Lyons. Jean a Physical Education major and is active in W.A.A.

Lucy Dubiel, '62, will head Lewis House. Lucy is a Sociology major, active in C.A., is a member of the Senate, and of the class of '62 advisory board. Kathleen Kelley, '63, from Kathleen Kelley, '63, from outh Hadley, will head Thatcher. Kathleen is a Speech Therapy major, and is a member of the Newman Club, the Concert Association, and Kappa Alpha The-

Charlotte Kimball, '62, from Beverly, will head Leach House next year. Charlotte is an Edumajor, and is active in the interdorm council, W.A.A., and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Priscilla Lincoln, '62, from Cohasset, will be the chairman of Crabtree. Priscilla is an Edu-cation major and is active in the Modern Dance Club and C.A.

Nancy Stiles, '62, an Education major from Lynnfield, will head Knowlton. She is a Pi Phi and is active in Modern Dance Club and C.A.

Janet Taylor, '62, will head the largest women's dorm, Arnold. Janet is an English major, an W.A.A., and Alpha Chi Omega.

Patricia Valiton, '63, from outh Ashburnham, will head outh Ashburnham, Hamlin. Pat is an English major, an Honor Student participating in the Sophomore Honors Colloquium, a Scroll and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Barbara Viera, '63, from West-port, will head Johnson House. Barbara is a Physical Education major, a Scroll, an Honors List student, a member of the Newman Club, W.A.A. and Pi Phi.

Martha West, '62, will head Abigail Adams House. Martha is an English major from Newton. She is an Honors student, in Newman Club, and a member of Alpha Lambda Delta.

Relies On Students' Opinions Asked on what basis House hairmen and Counselors are Chairmen chosen, Miss Curtis replied: "I rely almost 100% on students' recommendation from the present House Counselors, Senate Women's Affairs Committee, and Judiciary. They recommend House Chairmen who are "tops" and who have qualities of democratic leadership. Scholarship, dependability maturity and real interbility, maturity, and real interest in the dorm are considera-tions."

Abigail Adams House, Martha Vest 62, Chrm., Ann Cohen '63, Ruth Ann Kirby '63, Jesselyn Piecewicz '63, Dorothy Soja '62, Evelyn Ruthel '62, Robin O'Brian

Arnold House, Janet Taylor, '62 Chrm., Marjorie Friedman '63, Janice Jones '63, Barbara Johnson '63, Mina Lowe '63, Carol McDonough '63, Susan Onksen '62, Joan Orrell '63, Janet Parisi '62, Pamela Perkins '63.

Crabtree House, Priscilla Lin-oln '62 Chrm., Anne Barton '63, (Continued on page 3)

Large Attendance Reported At The Exhibits: Opinions Given On UMass, Tuition Raise by BARBARA KATZIFF, Special Rep dampen the spirits of more than 2000 visitors Saturday as UMass began its annual Open Hambara

-Photo by Popple

During Open House Weekend James S. Bosco, Instructor in Physical Education, applies a test in muscle response to an electric stimulus to Joel Berkowitz '63.

The Flying Redmen only last week won the New England week won the New England championship, and put on another fine performance in front of parents, visitors, and students.

Parachuters Jump 7,000 ft.

At 2:45 Dana Smith '61 and Elsworth Getchell '61 made a parachute jump from the north side of the campus at 7,000 ft. They fell for 5,000 ft. before op ening their parachutes. From the north of the campus they glided to the lawn by the campus pond, missing their small circular objection.

tive by about 100 ft.

Also held from 3-4 was the Student Music Recital.

The general impression of this year's Open House was very good. When asked of their opinion on this year's exhibitions the major-ity of visitors replied that they were much better than the pre-vious years', more interesting and a greater number of them.

Most of the visitors were parents of UMass students and had visited the campus several times before. A majority of these people were very pleased with the cam-pus, Open House, and the school which their son or daughter was attending. One man said, in regard to UMass, "I'm for it 100%."

Parents Asked About Tuition The most definite opinions were those concerning the proposed increase in tuition for state schools. Some said that if they were sure of where the m was going, that is, that it was going back into the school and would benefit the students, they would not object to the increase, although they did not favor it.
"If it isn't for classrooms and teachers, I can't see it." said one.

Some accepted it as inevitable With everything else going up suppose the tuition must too."

A teacher from Lowell Tech said, "There isnt' anything wrong with a tuition increase, but this is too much too suddenly. A raise should come but not so soon after the last raise. It should be grad-

This was the general feeling concerning the tuition increase.

But the main reason why these people were here for Open House was to see UMass and they enjoyed what they saw very much.

Fred Waring To Launch 1961-62 Concert Series

by BARBARA KATZIFF '61, Special Reporter aring and the Pennsyl- Mahler, has made a number of

Fred Waring and the Pennsyl-anians will open the 1961-62 University Concert Series next October 24 in the Cage, the Concert Association has recently announced. Waring will present the spectacular "Let Freedom Ring", which will make use of the newest techniques in lighting, stage sets, costuming and stereophonic sound.

November 8 will be the even-ing devoted to chamber music, when the Hartford Little Symphony will perform in Bowker Auditorium. This group of eightto-nine musicians has an unusual-ly large chamber repertoire and is a part of the Hartford Symphony which, under the baton of the internationally famous Fritz highly successful recordings.

Guitarist Montoya To Perform Carlos Montoya, the world's leading flamenco guitarist, will highlight the third concert of the Series on January 9 in the Student Union Ballroom. Montoya, a Spanish gypsy from Madrid, is acclaimed as one of the truly great contemporary masters of the guitar, and has played to au-ences in every part of the globe.

One of the nation's ten leading orchestras will be in the Cage on February 20, when the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra will offer the fourth Series presenta-tion. Since 1930, this outstanding

(Continued on page 3)

-Photo by Pete Hefler

Roger Riikonen, President of the Senior Class and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Reunion Trust Fund presents $3000 to a member of the B.C. Morton Co. Other members of the Board are, from left, William F. Larson, Executive Committee and Denise Harmony, Senior Class Treasurer. The class of 1961 is investing the money in the Mass. Investors' Growth Fund. The investment is expected to grow to $25,000 by the twenty-fifth re-union of the class.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor News Editor: Assignments Business Manager News Editor: Make-Up Photography Editor

James J. Trelease '63 Joseph Bradley '64 Ben Gordon '62 Howard Frisch '62 Beth Peterson '63 Lawrence Popple '63

Editorial Associate News Associate Feature Associate Sports Associate

Warren Richard '64 Pat Barclay '63 Jean Cann '63 Dave Willard '64 Joan Roanowicz '64

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Marinted three times weekly during the academic year, except during tition and examination periods; twice a week the week following a war on or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the weekersteeper or mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, mended by the act of June 11, 1984.

by the act of June 11, 195s.

$4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester
Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.

Associated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press
Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

THE CHAUFFEUR

Yuri travelled round the world n a modern Jules Verne way While we slipped and hid our face With our friends looking on in dis

We lead the world in automobiles, And TV sets of course
But in our good progressive way
We put the cart before the horse.

And the world looks up And thinks that we are "beat" And sees that the Soviet Union Is now in the driver's seat.

LETTERS

2844 Shoal Crest Austin, Texas April 18, 1961

Dear Students, Professors, and Citizens:

We ask your help.

Austin, Texas, is ready for further integration of public facilities and business establishments. Many restaurants are open to Negroes, as are predominantly white churches and civic organizations. The Uniof Texas has been integrated since 1956, with no racial vi-

But our theaters refuse to open their doors to Negroes. The theater managers refer us to Mr. Leonard Goldenson, President of ABC Paramount, 7 West 66th Street, New York 23, New York, in whose hands the decision rests.

For more than two years Mr. Goldenson has refused the persistent requests of hundreds of Austin residents.

Since last November as many as 600 students and citizens in a single day have stood in protest lines in front of the theaters three times a week. We are using every peaceful, lawful means of protest available to us.

Can you help us?

Inform Mr. Goldenson of ABC Paramount at the above address your decision to patronize only theaters which belong to inte-

Send a dollar, or as much as you can afford, to help buy a full page advertisement in the New York Times, protesting Mr. Goldenson's segregation policy, and to aid us in bringing integration to Austin, and to Texas.

Send your contributions to Students for Direct Action, 2844 Shoal Crest, Austin, Texas.

President, S.D.A.

SUPPORTED BY: J. Frank Dobie Roger Shattuck Ernest E. Goldstein William Arrowsmith Rev. Brandoch Lovely

Paul M. Van Buren
Asst. Prof., Episcopal Seminary of the Southwest
Manny Solon Pres., Uinv. Religious Council Pres., Hillel Foundation Stu. Coun. Dell Jackson Hood

President, Canterbury Assn.

James Neyland

President-Elect, Student YMCA Susan Reed President-Elect, Student YWCA

$200 SI, $400 NO

Last Thursday the UMass students learned the shocking news that the governor plans to double our present tuition rate from $200 to $400 dollars. What our governor does not understand is that many students cannot afford to pay any more for a college education than they are presently paying. A state school should be a place where a student who cannot afford an expensive education can still obtain an excellent one. Many students come to UMass primarily for this reason. If the tuition were doubled, many students would not be able to obtain this extra $200, and as a result, be forced to leave school.

The governor stated that half of the increase would go towards raising teachers' salaries and increasing the number of student scholarships. At present the teachers' salaries are among the lowest in the country, and the only students that obtain scholarships are football and basketball players. scholarships are football and basketball players. The tuition was raised two years ago with the stipulation that the extra money would go towards raising teachers' salaries. Strange, however, that very little of this money has gone into increasing the teachers' wages. What guarantee exists that this will not happen again? In addition, where would the other half of the money go?—to finance our railroads, as Representative Thompson predicted.

Already this year the legislature has shirked its responsibility of paying for student health. This fee, and other such fees which the student has to pay, now total $100. Thus the UMass student is paying actually $300 a year for tuition. Is it fair to raise it to $500?

In order to prevent his proposal from being passed, must prove to the legislators that we cannot afford an increased tuition. To do this we must all write letters to our legislators, explaining our opinions. We must encourage our parents to write letters. In addition, we must all take part in organized, mass protests. However, if these protests are not organized completely, the effect of the protests will be weak, if anything. These actions might seem ridiculous to a few, but if the legislators do not know our feelings, they will think we are in favor of the increase and will therefore vote it in. Action must be taken, and must be taken quickly, because time means money. W.R.

WMUA Better, Needs Conversion

While being one of our wealthiest organizations, the campus radio station, WMUA, is in the poorest shape of all our major organs. Not only is it run by a minority which speaks hesitantly for the majority, but this minority is faced with a task the likes of which the station has never seen before. It must bring WMUA up from the fathoms of disorganization and low popularity ratings to a level where it once again may be said to represent our student voice. student voice.

Until recently, the caliber of the station's offerings was so poor that the administration and facul-ty would not even listen with a deaf ear, campus buildings refused to broadcast the station's offerings over their intercom systems, and the student listening audience was almost nil.

The casual finger may be pointed to: lack of qualified people to put the station on the air seven days a week; and the failure of those few qualified people to install converters in the dormitories. A student must hear the station before he feels the organization is something which he would be proud to participate in because of its caliber.

The Collegian, Quarterly, and Ya-Hoo pay individuals to distribute their publications to the dormitories. But when WMUA suggested to the Senate that it pay someone to maintain and check the converters weekly, the Senate balked. This maintenance would be at a cost of $240 for the year. Such a measure would insure each dorm and individual of the availability of their campus radio voice. Still the bill was defeated by the Senate.

the bill was defeated by the Senate.

In opposing the motion, the Senators declared that a student should not have to be paid to do his job in an organization. "In such a case, I should be paid for being a Senator," said Senator DaVanzo. The answer to this is that the Adams dorm Senator's position in the Senate is one from which he will gain invaluable experience. But delivering magazines is recognized as hardly an experience on which one will rely in later life. Unless an individual graduates with a degree in crawling into boiler rooms to fix converters, the role of the maintenance man for WMUA should have passed through the Senate with approval. We hope the motion is not dead in many Senators' minds. We will definitely refresh their memories on this subject in September. their memories on this subject in Septemb

With the new administration at WMUA, there with the new administration at WMUA, there have been more than just glimpses of efforts in the direction of raising the station's standards. But the resurrection can come only with the helping hand from the Student Body and the Student Senate. Presently, Mr. Teran & Co. at WMUA are capable enough to teach any interested individual practically all he needs to know in order to become a good radio man. The programming and announcers have risen in quality of late . . . all that remains is for the quantity to rise also. The choice is up to YOU.

—J.T.

A REVIEW

Raskolnikov's Motives Seen As Contradictions

by MARCIA ANN VOIKOS '63

"Did Raskolnikov kill the old woman because she was a burden to society? or merely to better his own conditions ?"_

Such were the questions raised by Prof. Rufus W. Mathewson, Jr., member of Columbia University's Dept. of Russian language and literature at last Tuesday night's lecture sponsored by the UMass English department. Mathewson discussed the motives of Raskolnikov, the main character in Dostoevsky's famed, Crime and Punishment.

The Professor mentioned that through the "stream consciousness" method, Dostoevsky enabled his reader to penetrate the mind of Raskolnikov in order to understand why each motive was a paradox. What made Crime and Punishment classic was that it dealt with the "why" of the murder and the complexities of Raskolnikov's mind, rather than the nere "who-did-it." This murder situation is characteristic of all Dostoevsky's works because its dramatic effect relates to every level of meaning in the lives of the characters. In general, the murder is an act of rebellion against an established authority.

Mathewson emphasized that Raskolnikov's motives vere basically contradictions. For example, did he kill the old woman because she was useless to society? Would he use the money to better mankind? No—for Raskolnikov, himself, was the paradox of his own purpose—"I want to live for myself and not for the happiness of all." Furthermore, these motives are mere rationalizations because he fails to use the money for any purpose.

Was robbery a motive? Or a poor environment? If so, Raskolnikov would rise above his intolerable position of filth and squalor. From that standpoint, he committed the murder out of deliberation and pride so that he might add a sense of purpose, dignity, and order to his chaotic life. But here again, Raskolnikov defeats his own motive because his mind becomes more and more confused!

Mathewson went on to say that Raskolnikov's true motive lay deep in the roots of his own per-sonality—the ideology that certain individuals were justified to "break laws" and "shed blood" because they were the geniuses chosen to lead the masses. In order to alter the course of history and improve mankind, these "supermen" might use any means to achieve their goals. Therefore, the murder of the old woman was merely instrumental and only one step on the road to a better humanity.

Nevertheless, Raskolnikov's mind is still at posite ends because his own set of values conflicts with that of an already established society. That is why he has withdrawn into his own little world of isolation and appears insane because his own capacity for adjustment fails to meet the demands

But Raskolnikov's motives go deeper than superficial pride, environment or ideology. They are psychological in that he becomes the victim of his own unconscious and deluded mind. Through numerous dream-like trances, Raskolnikov identifies himself with the injustice of mankind. Thus, he is convinced that he is committed to this crime in order to take on the "suffering of humanity" and bring order to an evil society. on the "sufferi

—Photo by Lawrence Popple
UMass students are shown at the S.U. April 27 marking their ballots for next year's class officers, senators-at-large, and the S.U. Governing Board. In addition, students were asked to vote on the 2.0 referendum.

SID BERNSTEIN and JOHN DREW present MUSIC AT NEWPORT — June 30, July 1-2-3 day Holiday weekend.

Joe Williams
Cannonball Adderley
George Shearing
Gloria Lynn
Duke Ellington
Sarah Vaughn
Ray Charles
Horace Silver
sts are being added.
SIC AT NEWPORT 201 Louis Armstrong
Maynard Ferguson
Lambert. Hendricks
6 Ross
Dave Brubeck
Carmen McRae
Ramsey Lewis
This is just the beginning! — Other critis

This is just the beginning! — Other critists are being added. Tickets can be purchased now from MUSIC AT NEWPORT, 201 West 46th Street, New York, N.Y. — Circle 5-6272.

Ticket prices are: $3.30; $4.40; $5.50 (tax incl.)

BETWEEN CLASSES... get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Northampton, Northampton, Mass

Little World's Fair At S.U. On May 3-5

The Department of Recreation Leadership and the Student Union Program Committee are sponsoring The Little World's Fair to be held in the Commonwealth Room of the Student Union, May 3rd through May 5th. The Fair will continue daily from 2 p.m. till 10 p.m. with special programs and guest speakers programs and guest speakers planned for each evening. 70 exhibits from 50 countries will be displayed showing every-thing from South American pot-tery to the national dresses of Pakistan.

Counselors . . . (Continued from page 1)
Susan Brand '63, Lana Canavan '63, Nancy Gregory '63, Anne Griffin '63, Sandra Russell '63.
Dwight House, Jane Grant '63
Chrm. Leap. Repir. '62

Chrm., Jean Bruin '63, Rosanne Catalano '63, Raija Nuppola '63, Barbara Sneider '63, Lois Tatarian '63, Joan Werner '63.

Hamlin House, Patricia Valiton '63 Chrn., Elizabeth Erker '64, Nancy Kenyon '64, Gloria Press-er '62, Betsy Robicheau '63, Su-san Spearen '63, Jo Anne Veale

Johnson House, Barbara Viera Johnson House, Barbara viera '63 Chrn., Constance Creamer '63, Roberta Hanna '63, Barbara La-valette '63, Ada (Lisa) Nordberg '63, Carolyn Mozden '63, Marjorie Olson '63, Judith Wilkinson '63. Pakistan.

Knowlton Hosue, Nancy Stiles '62 Chrn., Barbara Cushing '63, Elizabeth Johnson '63, Carol Madison '63, Elaina Menin '63, Joanne Solitario '63, Sandra Tomlinson '62.

Leach House, Charlotte Kimball '62 Chrn., Jan Lee Clement '63, Eleanor Harrington '63, Ann Huska '63, Rita Lisciotti '62, Gertrude Meyer '62.

Lewis House, Lucy Dubiel '62 Chrn, Doris Hollis '62, Arlene Jacobs '63, Janet Louis '63, Sara O'Reilly '63, Elda Ricalzone '62, Judith Ryan '62.

Mary Lyon House, Jean Condon '62 Chrn., Judith Leonard '62, Carolyn Lizio '63, Charlotte Scan-

CLUB DIRECTORY

Wanted: freshmen girls to sell tickets 10-4 each day from Wed., May 3 until May 12. See sign-up sheet by Lobby phone

CANTERBURY CLUB

A picnic and outing are planned for May 7 at 3 p.m. DEBATING CLUB

The last meeting of the De-bate Club will be held on Tues-day, May 2 at 6:30 p.m. in Bartlett Hall. Election of officers and naming of debators for the tournament on May 6. HORSE CLUB

Important business meeting Thursday, May 4 at 8 p.m. in the Barnstable Room of the S.U. There will be a speaker

MANAGEMENT CLUB

There will be representatives of the Management Club in the front hall of Draper on Pre-registration Day, May 2 to answer questions on the club and the major by any interested students.

Election meeting for 61-62 officers on Thursday, May 4 at 11 a.m. in 224 Draper.

PHI ETA SIGMA

There will be a meeting on Wednesday, May 3, at 7 p.m. in the Hampden Room. New members will meet at 6:30 p.m.

SOPH-FROSH TRACK MEET The Meet will be held May 7, 2-5 p.m. on Alumni Field. Trials will be held on May 2 beginning at 10 a.m. to decide teams for each class.

YA-HOO

A-HOO
Entire staff: meeting in the Braves Room of the S.U. Wednesday, May 3, at 2 p.m. preparatory to going into exile on Devils Island. Sailing on the R.M.S. Titanic from Boston.

Staff Competition May 3 For Literary Magazine

The Literary Magazine announced recently its annual competition for new staff membership. Published three times a year by UM undergraduates, the Literary Magazine provides an opportunity for student writers and artists to demonstrate their creative talents. creative talents.

The LM competition will be held on Wednesday, May 3 at 7:00 p.m. in the S.U. It is open to any student interested in joining the staff for next year. The purpose of the short written competition will be to test critical ability.

ability.

While the staff of the student magazine encourages everyone interested in the editorial phases of publishing to try-out, the staff is also looking for persons inter-ested in business and advertising. The post of Business Manager nell '63. Carele Stone '63, Susan nell '63. Carele Stone '63, Susan Streeter '63, Judith Williams '62. Thatcher House, Kathleen Kel-ley '63 Chrn., Virginia Blais '63, Kathryn Connolly '63, Shirley In-galls '63, Rochelle Simons '63, Joyce Traquair '63, Elaine Carl-son '63, Marie Mortimer '63.

sarily have to participate in the editorial aspect of the magazine. Elected last week to head the editorial board of the Literary Magazine were: Elizabeth Schneck, Editor, and Janet Liz-otte, Associate editor.

Fred Waring . . . (Continued from page 1) orchestra has served as a stepping-stone for such personages as Eugene Ormandy and Dimitri Mitropaules.

Mitropoulos.

American Ballet To Appear
The Series will conclude its season with the American Ballet Theatre, April 12 in the Cage.
This is the company which recently drew capacity audiences in Moscow, Kiev, Tiflis and Leningrad on its tour of the Soviet Union. With Maria Tallchief as its leading ballerina, it has helped bring the United States into international prominence in the ballet field.

Have a real cigarette-have a CAMEL

Connolly Rolls To Third Win In Pitching UMass To Fifth Victory; Roland Has Big Bat

his third straight victory with a five hitter against Williams College, last Thursday at Williams-town. The Redmen nine, winning their fifth game of the Northern season, 6-3, boosted its record to

The Lordens chalked up all their runs in the second and third frames, four tallies coming across in the second and two in the next

Centerfielder Bob Roland started the four-run outburst with a long double to right, and scored on Connolly's safety. After Williams' pitcher Moss surrendered a base on balls, Connolly crossed the plate on an error for run number two. Another free pass loaded the bases, and Corky Schmoyer notched two RBI's with

A walk, an error, Bob Roland's second bingle of the ball game and a two run safety by Pete Larkin accounted for the final two runs in the third, and the Red-men were unable to threaten again during the game.

Williams rallied for a run in the fifth, and brought across the second and third in the ninth, bu it wasn't good enough to stop Connolly and entourage.

After handing the Ephs their third loss, the Redmen prepared for a big one with the Boston University Terriers, but were rained out last Saturday.

A big game against Connecticut is on the agenda for Tuesday as the Lordens will host the men from Storrs at 3:00 on the Alumni Field diamond.

UMASS	ab	r	h	rhi
Larkin, 2b	3	1	1	2
Pisiewski, ss	5	1	1	0
DelVecchio, rf	2	0	0	0
Hughes, cf	3	0	1	0
Foley, If	3	0	0	0
Schmoyer, 3b	5	0	1	2
Kowkonis, c		0	0	0
Forbush, 1b		1	0	0
Roland, cf. rf		2	2	0
Connolly, p	4	1	2	1
Totals	95	6		5
WILLIAMS	ah		h	rbi
Ryan, If		ò	0	0
Haeffner, 3b		0	0	0
Smith, cf		0	0	0
Fogg. 1b	4	1	1	0

WOMEN'S BOWLING

The pairings for the women's Student Union Bowling Championship have been posted in the Games Area. Competing bowlers must get in touch with their opponents at once as the competition will begin soon.

			٠		١
t	Mayer, ss	4		2		3	0
•	Adams, 2b	2		0		0	0
	Berry, 2b	2 2		0		0	0
	Holmes, rf	3		0		0	0
	Lum. c	3		0		ŏ	1
	Moss, p	0		Ö		ň	0
	a-Potsubay	1		0		0	0
	Donovan, p	1		0		ō	0
	b-Drott	i		0		ĭ	0
	Gagnier, p	ō		0		Ô	0
		-			-	-	_
	Totals			3		5	1
	UMASS	04	2	000		000-
	WILLIAMS	00	0	010		062-	-3
		tp	h	r	er	bb	80
	Connolly, W (3-0)	9	5	3	1	1	10
	Moss, L (1-1)	3	6	6	3	5	0
	Donovan	5	2	0	0	1	3
	Gagnier	1	0	0	0	0	1
	WP-Connolly 2. U	—B	оу	d	4	Cal	la-

BOB ROLAND

MIMEOGRAPHING REASONABLE RATES Will Call For and Delive CALL Alpine 3-7877

SPORTSENSE

spring now, and, for good mea-sure, are well into the win columns. We fans can't be at all critical of the teams this year, for all of the spring sports are boasting winning records thus

Coach Earl Lorden's baseball squad has gone undefeated so far, and has showed a great pitching staff, with Paul Wennik and Ed Connolly as the mainstays of the moundmen, and Lou Pia and Pete moundmen, and Lou ris and rece Bracci throwing excellent ball in relief work. Hitting has been good, with many of the sopho-mores showing the skill that they promised both at bat and in the

In pre-season roundups, it was UMaine and UConn, Yankee Conference title holders last year, who were picked to battle it out for this year's honors. Now that the Redmen have defeated Maine, it looks as if UConn may be the only threat to our capturing the third beanpot of the year (remem-ber football and hockey). The Huskies dumped the Bears last week, so Maine is virtually out of

We'll see which way the ball bounces when the UMass squad meet the Huskies in a crucial game on Alumni Field, Tuesday. It's counseling day, so all of you should be able to make it out to the field some time during the afternoon. Ed Connolly should be on the mound for the Redmen, looking for his fourth win.

Speaking of Connolly, it looks if the Baltimore Orioles have their eyes on the lefty. Ed is certainly pro material, and keeping tabs on him. Remember Gerry Glynn—he was picked up by the Braves system when he finished his UMass pitching days

Coach Dick Garber's Lacrosse team couldn't be looking better.
The team, touting a 5-0 record thus far, shapes up to be the finest in lacrosse's seven year his-tory at UMass. Great all around play looms as the reason for what many predict will be an unde-feated season for the snakebeaters. Dick Hoss, who scored sixty plus goals last year is a good bet for lacrosse All-American, and got a good start with his picture on the cover of the Collegiate NCAA lacrosse guide. Head Coach Vic Fusia is optimistic about his football squad. The team is undergoing spring practice now, and is showing the enthusiasm for the game that the Coach likes to see. The squad likes to hit, says Fusia, and showed it during last Saturday's intrasquad drill.

NEW EVENTS

The gymnastics squad will be performing in a different category next year, as they drop three of their present events and switch to the six Olympic gymnastic events. Tumbling, flying rings and rope climbing will disappear from scene (our three best events, the way) and the team will pick up the long horse, free exercise and the still rings.

College Athletics are at the crossroads of survival, said Don Felt, assistant director of athletics, at Harvard, and the recent basketball s andal, including the identification of three UConn players seems to back up this out of the high finance of college ball today, but it would be a good idea if people started looking for

Frosh Net

Third In Row

by DAVE WILLARD '64 Thursday afternoon the freshman nine continued their win-ning ways with a 5-1 win over

Williams at the latter's home

As in their two previous contests UMass jumped the gun for a quick start, tallying three in the first inning. Gordie Lewis was responsible for two of these while Mike Brita accounted for the other one.

Williams was not prepared for this outburst and spent the rest of the game trying to catch their breath. But the one-hit combined pitching of Dick Bavosi and John Mastone were no help as they smothered the Williams attack.

What was even more remarkable

What was even more remarkable was that the lone hit came with one out in the ninth inning, when

Williams managed its lone run.
This superb pitching feat was backed up by a solid offensive display of eight hits. Lewis had two hits as did Joe Apicella who drove in a run with a pretty squeeze bunt. Awdycki turned in a fielding gem of a high pop-up behind first base in the opening frame to aid the pitchers in their quest for a foul weather and will be made up on May 11.

The next scheduled game for the Bergquist-men will be Friday against Springfield. This game should provide their toughest opposition to date.

Saturday's scheduled game with AIC was postponed due to the foul weather and will be made the other one.

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

Notice To SENIOR and GRADUATE Students

Apply to STEVENS BROS. FOUNDATION, INC.

A Non-Profit Educational Corporation.

A Non-Profit Educational Corporation.

ST. PAUL 1, MINN

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- ★ TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10 net profit per party.
- PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eligible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholarship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can
- EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of val-uable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- * NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, Alpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON..DeLAND General Manager College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc.

WESTFIELD, MASS.

SUPER SMOOTH SHAVE

New "wetter-than-water" action melts beard's toughness—In seconds. Remarkable new "wetter-than-water" action gives Old Spice Super Smooth Shave its scientific approximation to the feather-touch feel and the efficiency of barber shop shaves. Melts your beard's toughness like towels and massage—in seconds.

Shaves that are so comfortable you barely feel the blade. A unique combination of anti-evaporation agents makes Super Smooth Shave stay moist and firm. No re-lathering, no dry spots. Richer and creamier...gives you the most satisfying shave...fastest, cleanest—and most comfortable. Regular or mentholated, 1.00.

UNIVERSITY UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

CHORALE CONCERT

TONIGHT

VOL. XC NO. 73 5¢ PER COPY

MASSACHUSE WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1961

Considered By Volpe

A compromise $300 tuition at UMass and other state colleges with all the additional $100 to go into a $2,000,000 scholarship fund is now being given serious consideration by the administration of Gov. Volpe.

Much Opposition

Last week it was learned through charges of House Speaker John F. Thompson, D-Ludlow, that the present $200 tuition was under consideration to be doubled.

Opposition has been mounting quickly at the university and state colleges. The students point out that the total present cost, including room, board, fees and tuition, at the university is $1400.

Under the "exploratory" proposal suggested to college presidents and trustees, Commissioner of Administration Charles er of Administration Charles Gibbons said a $200 tuition in-crease would yield $4,000,000 from the 20,000 students in state institution of higher learning. In that proposal, 'the $2,000,000 scholarship fund was proposed to replace the $40,000 now awarded in attack.

Up to Officials

An administration source said Monday that it would probably be impossible to make any definite anno accement regarding the tuition until the meeting next week with the administrative heads and trustees of the ministrative. heads and trustees of the univer-sity and other state schools. It was pointed out that the choice of raising tuition and fees at the state schools is now completely

Speaker Thompson has been atspoken in his attack on the outspoken in his attack on the Volpe administration for the pro-posal to double tuition. He vowed he would see legislation enacted to bar a tuition change if that became necessary.

Following that thought Monday, Reps. Sumner Z. Kaplan, D-Brookline, and Thomas C. Wojtkowski, D-Pittsfield, jointly filed a bill to freeze present tuitions at their present ceilings.

Scholarship Sole Test

Scholarship Sole Test
"This will prevent the matter from becoming a subject of exploitation by those who would prey on parents of students wno are not in a position to effectively lobby their own cause," the two representatives stated. "The education of the youth of Massachusetts should be available to all regardless of economic inall regardless of economic in-ability to attend college. Scholar-ship should be the sole test—not Wojtkowski and Kaplan con-Wojtkowski and Kaplan contended that the Legislature, which provides the money for the institutions, should be the body to set the tuitions. They said, "This is in no way legislative interference with fiscal or academic freedom which we both espouse. On the other hand, our proposal leaves a question of determining what one should pay to attend an what one should pay to attend an institution of higher learning in the hands of those directly responsible to the people."

Conference On U.S. Policy Will Be Held At Amherst

On the weekend of May 5-6, as Amherst College Internationthe Amherst College Intern al Relations Organization, in conjunction with the Collegiate Council for the United Nations, will hold a New England College Conference on "U.S. Foreign Policy: The Underdeveloped Keynote speaker for the occasion will be Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, President of the General Assembly of the United Nations, who will address the public at 8 p.m. Friday in Johnson Cheek son Chapel.

Following Boland's speech will be a discussion period at the Am-herst Alumni House when Boland will be available for questioning.

Saturday morning, the delegates will break up into groups to meet in fraternity houses for discussion of the problems of giving foreign aid to the five selected areas. These areas and the moderators for the discussions are: South America, Prof. E. Dwight Salmon, Amherst College; Africa south of the Sahara, Dr. Gerald Braunthal, UMass; Southeastern Asia, Dr. Cecil Dr. Geraid Brauntnai, Umass; Southeastern Asia, Dr. Cecil Cody, UMass; Middle East, Dr. John Petropulos, Amherst Col-lege; India-Pakistan, Prof. Paul Agarwal, UMass.

After the discussion groups have met, a meeting will be held, and the groups will give short reports on their discussions.

Dr. Gillespie Elected To State Post

Dr. John Gillespie, administrative assistant to the president of the University of Massachusetts, has been elected as new director of the Mass. Division of State

Dr. Gillespie, the chairman reported, was one of the candidates who sought election to a Westfield State College position. However, when the opening of director of the Division of State Colleges arose, he was asked to consider this post.

Dr. Gillespie began his duties as aide to the UM president Nov. 1, 1958. He had been director of the Bureau of Government Re-search at the university since January, 1956.

Born in Winthrop, Dr. Gillespie received his B.A. degree at East Central State College in Oklahoma, his M.A. at the University of Oklahoma and his Ph.D. from the University of Texas. All his degrees are in public administration.

$100 Tuition Addition | A.I.B.S. To Be UMass Guest In Coming Centennial Year

UMass will play host to the 1963 annual meeting of the American Institute of Biological Sciences. The week-long event is scheduled for late August 1963, during the University's Centennial year, and is expected to draw 6,000 scientists to the cam-

American Institute The American Institute of Biological Sciences (AIBS) is composed of scholars and researchers connected with educational institutions, industrial organizations, and governmental agencies. The AIBS encompasses many separate specialized biological, horticultural, and pharmaceutical associations.

Exhibition to be Staged During the AIBS meetings, the member societies will hold their individual gatherings for symposia and the presentation of research papers. An exhibition by the manufacturers of professional equipment and by publishers of scientific works will be staged during the Institute gathering.

UMass was selected to host the UMass was selected to host the 1963 gathering because of its available resources — physical facilities, faculty research, and curriculum. Much of the AIBS activity will be centered about the new $9 million Justin Morrill Science. Centers at the new $100 million for the property of the Science Center on the campus, the last unit of which will be completed in 1963.

According to Dean Gilbert L. Woodside: "It is obviously an honor to be host to the Institute. This event expresses the fact that This event expresses the fact that the University can be proud of the biological work being done here; members of our faculty have some outstanding research projects underway."

World's Fair Schedule Is Announced

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week the Little World's Fair is being held in the Commonwealth Room of the Student Union.

Cultural exhibits from 70 countries will be displayed. Each evening two special programs have been planned.

The schedule is as following: Wednesday at 7 p.m. Miss Razia Choudhury will speak on life in Pakistan. At 8 that same evening there will be a fashion show of costumes from Japan, India, Spain and Korea.

Thursday at 7 three Greek stu-Thursday at 7 three Greek students will sing songs from their native land. The singers are Stam Paleocrossus, Christos Sideris, and Takis Argentinis. At 8 Lita Sieloff and Wally Ulich will perform folk dances from their native Germany.

On Friday at 7 p.m. Julian

On Friday at 7 p.m. Julian Deschil will perform Russian folk dances. At 8 Evelyn Ruthel will present a talk on German educa-

Students and the general pub-lic are invited to attend free of

Jester Is Local Chairman

The local chairman for the gathering is Randolph A. Jester, assistant professor of floriculture at UMass. Jester has been on the UMass faculty for seven years, and is campus coordinator for the exchange program with Hokkaido University in Japan under Inter-national Cooperation Administra-tion sanction. He has also served as the faculty chairman for the annual Horticultural Show for Each department in the bio-logical sciences and agriculture will host its own related society on campus during the AIBS ses-sions. The departmental chairmen have not yet been named. Summer School To Close Early

All facilities at UMass will be devoted to Institute proceedings during its operation. Nothing else has been scheduled on the campus during the week. The UMass Summer School program will conclude a week early in 1963 to accommedate the Leviente. commodate the Institute.

The 1963 meetings at the Uniresity will begin immediately after the conclusion of the International Zoological Congress in Philadelphia. Many foreign delegates to that conference are expected to attend the AIBS sessions.

The 1961 AIBS gathering is scheduled for August 22 to Sept. 1 at Purdue University, Lafay-ette, Indiana. The 1962 meetings will be at Oregon State College

Skellings To Give Lecture Here On Modern Poetry

Edmund Skellings, young American poet, will give a lec-ture on modern poetry at UMass tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in Bartlett Auditorium.

Skellings, whose volume poetry entitled "Duels and Duets: Poems of the World" was pub-lished in 1960, is an alumnus of UMass and now a graduate student at the State University of Iowa.

A native of Ludlow, Mr. Skellings attended Suffield Academy. After serving three years as a parachutist with the 82nd Airborne Division, he studied Eng-lish and speech here.

In 1957 he was host reader for In 1957 he was host reader for the New England Poetry Festival and in 1958, the year of his grad-uation, he was class poet. Cur-rently a candidate for the doc-torate in English at the State University of Iowa, Mr. Skellings teaches poetry in the institution' writing program

About reading poetry, the au-thor says, "Although he would have us believe otherwise, Man wants information, not facts. He wants to hear the spirit of mean-ing, not the letter. And in read-ing, it is the breath that informs, that intones the meanings which gather to be poetry. Without that felt spirit, poetry would be no more than a heartless intellectual competition much like the mock warfare of chess. Verse. Verse. Not poetry."

The young poet's recent volume "Duels and Duets" contains two L-P records in which Mr. Skellings is heard reading his poems. The book and records are available in the S.U. Bookstore.

Drill Team Presents Lederle With Recent Victory Trophy

Cadet Captain Archie Babaian, Redmen Drill Team Leader, is shown presenting to President Lederle the first place trophy in the armed division of the Air Force ROTC Area A Drill Competition. Watching the presentation is S/Sgt. Edward W. Bates, Jr., NCO in charge of the team.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor News Editor: Assignments Sports Editor Business Manager News Editor: Make-Up Photography Editor

News Associate Feature Associate James J. Trelease '63 Joseph Bradley '64 Ben Gordon '62 Howard Frisch '62 Beth Peterson '63 ence Popple '63

Warren Richard '64 Audrey Rayner '63 Diane Tovet '64 Diane Tovet '64 Dave Willard '64 Jean Cann '63 Mary Roche '64

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the autiority of the act of March 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1934.

price $4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester
Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.
ciated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press
Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

LETTERS

To the UMass Student Body:

In last Monday's Collegian the "shape" of WMUA was hung out to be aired along with the now defunct Ya-Hoo, the oft criticized Literary Magazine (previously the Quarterly), and the Collegian, itself. We thank the Collegian for presenting our "converter problem" accurately and fairly. It failed, however, to mention that WMUA plans to have converters working in every dorm by September. The problem of maintenance is still very real, but we feel that the ultimate answer must lie with the Senate and the student body. Last year two converters were stolen from their respective dorms. Many of the converters now in use are ancient and, thus, in almost constant need of repair. A paid repairman (cost, $240 a year) could keep even these converters working. It is now up to the student body to let their newly elected or re-elected senators know their feelings on this matter.

So much for the real problems of WMUA. We wonder how the Collegian can in one paragraph refer to WMUA as "in the poorest shape of all our major organs," and in the "fathoms of disorganization. and then in a later paragraph of the same editorial concede that WMUA is capable "to teach any interested individual . . . to bea good radio man." The editorial even went so far as to allo the programming and announcers have risen in quality of late .." In a futile attempt to be bi-partisan we might well wonder how ny organization in such a condition can keep a radio station on the ir seven days a week from 3:30 to midnight, broadcast all UMass air seven days a week from 3:30 to midnight, broadcast all UMass football games home and away, and present such education programming as the weekly series "Evolution: Fact or Theory?" which is currently being presented every Tuesday at 7 p.m. by Dr. John Hanson of the Department of Entomology. An analysis of the day's news by Louis Lyons, UMass graduate and now curator of the Nieman Foundation of Journalism at Harvard is re-broadcast five days a week at 6:30 p.m. and up to the migute news reporting is supplied to at 6:30 p.m., and up to the minute news reporting is supplied to WMUA by UPI. Merely to accomplish these feats, regardless of the quality, would be a task of major proportions. But more than this, we feel, with all due respects to the dictates of modesty, that we are presenting quality programming.

WMUA is not professional radio. It is for just this reason that we feel we can offer to the University the type of programming it wants to hear; programming that professional radio will not and cannot offer. Last semester WMUA conducted a representative student opinion poll in an attempt to discover what the musicial tastes of the student body are. This poll showed an overwhelming dislike for rock and roll. Working with this in mind, as well as our own feeling that if a student wants to listen to this type of "music reeling that it a student wants to listen to this type of "music" he has only to go to the Hatch or tune in almost any commerdial radio station, we have initiated a new policy of continuous, uninterrupted, good music (both up-tempo and down) to replace the rock and roll dominated Campus Capers show from 3:30 to 6:00 in the afternoon. In a further attempt to insure that this is truly what the students want to hear, we placed this show on an experimental basis. The response has been a very definite "YES."

Finally as for the number of students responsible for putting WMUA on the air; we now have a full working staff of over 30 members. Naturally any organization must, of necessity, be conducting a full time recruiting program. We gladly welcome any student who is interested in making WMUA a better radio station. Admittedly, we have our faults, but these can be eliminated only by you, our fellow students. If you have an interest in any phase of radio, stop by our main studios in the Engineering Building. If your interest is in good radio listening, tune in WMUA, 91.1 F.M. or 790 AM in the dorms, then write, call, or tell us your reactions. In this way you will be helping us to build the kind of station you want to listen to nine months of the year.

THE STAFF OF WMIIA

When The Kissing Has To Stop

(This is the first in a series of editorials on a crisis which every college in the nation is being faced with through the force of its neo-pacifists. UMass may not exclude itself from the struggle.)

There arrives a time when "the kissing has to stop." Slowly at first and then with a sudden burst of speed and fierceness it is upon us. And we may rightly feel disgusted and ashamed that there are those among us—through our nation's colleges (including UMass)—who would have us continue "the kissing."

Last week, America witnessed a Civil Defense alert. Millions of citizens sought shelter from the imaginary enemy within the bomb shelters. And upon emerging from their crypts, Americans were greeted by their own wholesome college students. Parading up and down with their "peace" signs, these disarmament radicals, Tocsinists, Synthesisists, and premature nuclear policy experts were showing the nation and the world what they would do in the face of disaster and peril to their families and society. They showed, while others hurried to shelters, that they were ready to passively sit and "kiss" the enemy. As the "peace criers" shouted through the empty New York streets, they were ready "to be Red rather than dead!"

Within the last few weeks, President John Kennedy has met with every possible faction leader in our country. It appears that only Joseph Welch was missing from the long-parade to the White House. Although they did not print it the way they saw it for fear of alarming the nation, newsmen perceived easily that Kennedy was about to make a decision on which he would need everyone's support. It is an important enough decision to merit the need to stamp out all factions which might oppose it and, through ignorance of the facts, peril the success of the move. And so J.F.K. moved from Goldwater, Nixon, Ike, to Hoover, Truman and finally MacArthur. The meeting with MacArthur further enhanced the opinion of newsmen that a move was in the works. MacArthur knows the Oriental mind better than any military mind in the West today. And when President Kennedy addressed the Press dinner last week and called for discretion on the part of newspapers in what they print about government projects, our President aligned all behind him in whatever move he might make.

And so the most knowing, powerful, and experienced minds within America march to meet the Communist enemy while some of the same nation's most ignorant, impotent, and inexperienced collegiate citizens sit ready to continue "the kissing" and oppose our chances of survival.

In the past, when we saw members of Synthesis, Student Peace Union, Tocsin, and Sane Nuclear Policy pleading for American disarmament, we took the attitude of "Live and let live." But within recent months, there is definite proof that these organizations, by more than just their conduct, are endangering our chances to live. While the John Birch Society is presently under fire, the disarmament organizations are only feet away from the fire. Senate investigations may soon reveal that their "kissing the enemy" is more a case of love and not of appeasement.

R.U.R. — 'Unique'

by GEORGE DICKINSON '64

The Roister Doister's Spring production of Karel Capek's R.U.R. was, speaking technically, an excellent job. The sets were composed of a few pieces that could be moved easily to make the scene change. These were expressionistic and ideal for the mood which Kapek's play is intended to create. The lighting, too, was very good, employing "psych-lighting" to a great advantage. This lighting was at its very best in Acts one and three, the former having a blue "psych" with a small point of red and the latter ending in a blood-red "psych" at the crucial moment when the robots take over the world.

The cast, headed by Judy St. Jean as Helena Glory and John Kane as Harry Domin had its good moments but seemed to be too stiff and precise giving an impression that the play was overblocked. This is, in the case of the robots, to be expected, but the people should have been more natural to provide a contrast. As it was, the observer could only tell the difference by the phony eyebrows on the Judy St. Jean was especially stiff from the moment of her entrance on stage, but in the scene with Sulla and Domin in the first Act all three did very well and this was one of the acting highlights of the play. John Kane was at his best in this scene too although he was only medicre and partially convincing during the rest of the play. Richard Potter as Alquist had, by far, the best lines in the play, and did a reasonably convincing job with them. Mike Hench as Busman played his part very naturally and was one of the most believable and human of the cast. Robert Mastrodomenico as Hallemeier had his good moments, most noticeably in the Third Act in which much of the cast was forced to struggle with trite lines at the climactic moment of the play.

Among the smaller parts, Nancy Pulaski was perfect for the character part of Nana, an old, Godfearing maid. Sulla, Domin's robotess secretary, was played effectively by Eve Silberstein.

Other members of the cast included, David Tasgal, David Goldstein, Ivan Terzeiff, Joseph Collins Marcia Bailey, Robert Peters, Richard Levine, Allen Blustine, Ernest Bilodeau, Franz Boehly, Robert Knopf, Andrew Main, Perry Thompson, and Jerrold Lemkin.

The play was directed by Henry B. Pierce, Jr. and the sets and lighting were under the direction

Contemporary Jazz

by RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

The Four Freshmen qualify as jazz in the way the melody is "bent" in their arrangements. Se times, this consists of nothing more than embellishing the tune so that it is a little more complex . . . ie, more notes added. The Freshmen give the listener a pretty clear idea of how a jazz artist begins to work around the basic melodic line . . . how jazz

The album, "The Four Freshmen in Person, does not bring out the full capabilties of the group. Their studio efforts are much better ("The Four Freshmen and Five Trombones"). You may like it, however, if you can stand the continuous she ship and clowning around . . . the "funny" voices and the jokes. This stuff is alright for an in-person, one-shot deal, but not on a recording. Even Gerry Mulligan's intro to one album, "I think maybe I'll play the blues while you get seated," gets stale after twenty hearings.

The Freshmen do maintain their technical perfection on most of the tunes. The voicing of the four men is almost like a sax section in a big jazz group. Many of the arrangements border on the 'slick." The individual members of the quartet couldn't sing for their supper as far as I'm concerned, but they are unbeatable as a group. They always manage to please the audience . . . even to their own surprise. They are best on the ballads . . . own surprise. They are best on the ballads . . . which are filled with the counterpoint voicings of jazz. "Indian Summer", called one of the most difficult arrangements by the linear notes (arranged by Nelson Riddle), is the finest cut on the whole record and made my trip to the Quill Bookshop worthwhile. Again, they handle the intricate arrangement with superb skill. If they make it sound easy, try the "Sing along with Mitch" bit.

The Freshmen accompany themselves, and the fellow who plays the trumpet and mellophone does some quite good modern jazz. Some of the music shows a definite Kenton influence . . . even to the lighting of an impressionistic riff from a Kenton standard. As usual, the group features the hi-lo type of voice blending which results in some very unusual harmonics.

of Ben Benoit. Production advisor was Richard L Stromgren.

As a whole, the play was unique and attending it was a very pleasant diversion, even though it was not a profound or inspiring aesthetic experience.

School Of Home Economics | Management To Sponsor Fiber Display

An exhibition illustrating mod-ern uses of fibers and possibili-ties in creative weaving will be presented at UMass May 5-6.

Sponsored by the School of Home Economics, the display will be on view in Room 300 of Skinner Hall from 9 to 5 on each of the exhibit days. The general public is invited to see the ex-hibit; there is no charge for adThe exhibit is composed of works of Mrs. Helen Klekot of Northampton and Mrs. Jackie von Ladau of Brookline. Mrs. von Ladau of Brooking. Klekot's weaves are illustrations of the highly diverse possibilities of the two-harness in producing decorative weaves. Mrs. von Ladau's work shows great ori-Ladau's work shows great ori-ginality and boldness in design, color, and combinations of un-usual fibers.

OLD GRADS NEVER DIE

In just a matter of weeks many of you will be graduating-especially seniors.

You are of course eager to go out in the great world where opportunities are limitless and deans nonexistent. At the same time your hearts are heavy at the thought of losing touch with so many classmates you have come to know and love.

It is my pleasant task today to assure you that graduation need not mean losing touch with classmates; all you have to do is join the Alumni Association and every year you will receive a bright, newsy, chatty bulletin, chock full of information about

Oh, what a red-letter day it is at my house, the day the Alumni Bulletin arrives! I cancel all my engagements, take the phone off the look, dismiss my chiropractor, put the occlot outside, and settle down for an evening of pure pleasure with the Bulletin and (need I add?) a good supply of Marlboro

Whenever I am having fun, a Marlboro makes the fun even more fun. That filter, that flavor, that pack or box never fails to heighten my pleasure whether I am watching the television or playing buck euchre or knitting an afghan or reading Mad or enjoying any other fun-filled pursuit you might name—except, of course, spearfishing. But then, how much spearfishing does one do in Clovis, New Mexico, where I live?

But I digress. Let us return to my Alumni Bulletin and let me quote for you the interesting tidings about all my old friends

Well, fellow alums, it certainly has been a wing-dinger of a year for all us old grads! Remember Mildred Cheddar and Harry Camembert, those crazy kids who always held hands in Econ II? Well, they're married now and living in Clovis, New Mexico, where Harry rents spearfishing equipment and Mildred has just given birth to a lovely 28-pound daughter, her second in four months. Nice going, Mildred and Harry!

Remember Jethro Brie, the man we voted most likely to succeed? Well, old Jethro is still gathering laurels! Last week he was voted "Motorman of the Year" by his fellow workers in the Duluth streetear system. "I owe it all to my brakeman," said Jethro in a characteristically modest acceptance speech. Same old Jethro!

Probably the most glamorous time of all us alums was had by Francis Macomber last year. He went on a big game hunting safari all the way to Africa! We received many interesting post cards from Francis until he was, alas, accidently shot and killed by his wife and white hunter. Tough luck, Francis!

Wilma "Deadeye" Macomber, widow of the late beloved Francis Macomber, was married yesterday to Fred "Sureshot" Quimby, white hunter, in a simple double-ring ceremony in Nairobi. Good luck, Wilma and Fred!

Well, alums, that just about wraps it up for this year. Keep 'em flying! © 1961 Max Shulman

Old grads, new grads, undergrads, all agree: The best new nonfilter cigarette in many a long year is the king-size Philip Morris Commander. Welcome aboard!

Club Hears L. Shannon

Louis P. Shannon, manager of the Du Pont Company's extension division, addressed the Management Club, Tuesday May 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Middlesex and Nantucket rooms. His topic was "Committee Form of Manage-ment at Du Pont".

Shannon, a widely known speaker, has traveled extensively addressing more than 1,400 groups in the last eleven years, appearing before college and university groups, educators, civic clubs, industrial conferences, and technical societies.

Shannon has been with Du Pont since 1942. Before joining the Extension Division, he was engaged in personnel training and industrial engineering work and industrial engineering work at a number of plants, This in-cluded training supervisory per-sonnel at atomic energy plants the company built and operated for the government. He has made numerous engineering studies and has written several industrial training courses.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: Notebook, Chem. workbook, Physics textbook. If found please return to S. Maskell, 430

Lost: Girl's glasses with gray frames. Please return to Larry Schectman, 354 Van Meter.

Lost: A tan trench coat taken from the coat room at Sig Ep on April 14. I have yours, Contact Charlie Weeber at Sig Ep.

Found: White blazer in Public Health Building. It may be claimed in the Collegian office.

CLUB DIRECTORY

BALI-HAI FROSH MIX

Wanted: freshmen to sell tickets 10-4 each day from Wed., May 3 until May 12. See sign-up sheet by Lobby phone

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Special Events Committee: meeting Thurs., May 4, 7 p.m. Discussion of next year's program and plans made for Student Union Reception.

CANTERBURY CLUB

A picnic and outing are planned for May 7 at 3 p.m.

HORSE CLUB

Thursday, May 4 at 8 p.m. in the Barnstable Room of the S.U. There will be a speaker and a film.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

There will be a meeting on May 5 at 7 p.m. in the Barnstable Room of the S.U. Rev.

Walter Thorsen of M.I.T. will speak on "What is Faith?" Refreshments will follow in the Hampshire Room.

MANAGEMENT CLUB

Election meeting for 61-62 of-ficers on Thurs., May 4 at 11 a.m. in 224 Draper.

PHI ETA SIGMA

There will be a meeting on Wed., May 3 at 7 p.m. in the Hampden Room of the S.U. New members will meet at New mer 6:30 p.m.

SOPH-FROSH TRACK MEET

The Meet will be held May 7, 2-5 p.m. on Alumni Field.
Trials will be held on May 2 beginning at 10 a.m. to decide teams for each class.

STUDENT UNION MOVIE COMMITTEE

Important meeting Thurs., May 4 at 11 a.m. in the S.U.

UMass Students Volunteer To Fight Tekoa Mt. Fire

Friday night over 250 UMass men volunteered to help fight a forest fire that had broken out on Tekoa Mountain in Woronoco.

Tekoa Mountain in Woronoco.

At 7:20 p.m. Dean Hopkins received word from Civil Defense headquarters that only a few men would be needed because of the limited fire-fighting equip-

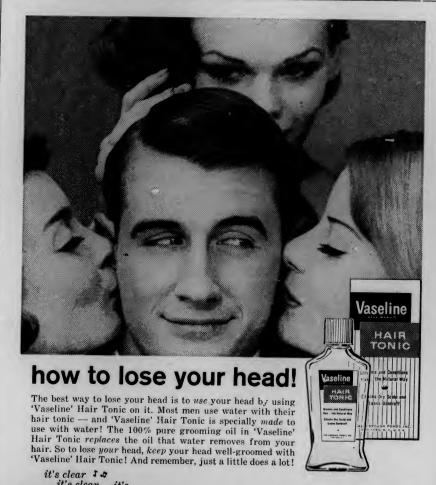

Thirteen students from the many assembled outside South College left campus under the leadership of Herschel Abbott, Assistant Professor of Forestry, and were escorted by State Police to the scene of the fire, However, when the growth of the scene of the fire, However, when the growth of the scene of th when the group had reached the mountain, the rain, which had recently begun to fall, had extinguished the blaze.

The students present were Charles Flinkstrom S'62, Almon Shaw '61, Robert Lucas '63, John Morrissey '63, John Aho '63, Richard Hojdys '62, John Farrington S'62, Henry Perkins '63, Arthur Creelman '61, Robert Peoples '63, Michael Greene, Peter Woodcook, S'62, Arthur Creelman '64, Robert Peoples '63, Michael Greene, Peter Woodcook, S'62, Arthur Creelman '64, Robert Peoples '64, Michael Greene, Peter Robert S'64, Aller Perker Woodcock S'62, and Allan Parker

All other students were placed on a stand-by basis in case they might be needed later.

Earlier, four students, Jim
Baskin '63, Dave Crowley '61,
Stephen Ford '63, and Andy Soucy '62, all members of Phi Sigma Delta, had journeyed to Woronoco to help the blaze.

it's clean 1.5 it's clean...it's

/ASELINE HAIR TONIC

Varsity Netmen Edge Rhode Island 5-4, As New Experiment Pays Off Handsome Dividends

by AL BERMAN '62

The varsity tennis squad continued in its winning ways last week by edging a strong Rhode Island team, 5-4. The win made

Island team, 5-4. The win made the Redmen 4-1 for the season. The top three UMass men were defeated in singles play, but the fourth through sixth positions came through to tie it up for the doubles. Bill Thompson, who has yet to be defeated in singles play year, easily defeated his while Ernie Howarth and Tom Simons were also winning. Simons has been looking better

Simons has been looking better each time out and has moved up to number five position.

In the doubles competition, Coach Steve Kosakowski shook up his usual pairings and was happily surprised by the results. Although Poritz and Howarth were defeated in a close match, the other two experimental pairs were victorious. Thompson and

Simons combined to thoroughly bewilder the Ram pair and take their match in less than ten min-

But the match that decided the affair was the victory of captain John Thomas and Ted Rubin in the second doubles position. The first team was being defeated and the third seeded pair of Thompson and Simons had already won. The score was 4-4 with the outcome of the match lying in the results of the Thomas-Rubin set.

The two came through for the Redmen, 6-1, 6-2, to give the final victory to UMass.

Coach Steve was very pleased with the showing of his new doubles service.

bles combinations and may decide to use them in the Yankee Conference tournament to be Conference tournament to be held at UMass during the week-

- Emmanuel (RI) over 100.00 (LB), 6-3, 6-4. Cain (RI) over Rubin (UM), 11-9.
- er (RI) over Thomas (UM), 6-4,
- son (UM) over Port (RI), 6-1,
- ons (UM) over Weiss (RI), 6-2,
- 6. Howarth (UM) over Berman (RI), 6-3, 4-6, 6-4. DOUBLES

- DOUBLES

 I. Emmanuel and Chasse (RI) over Poritz and Howarth (UM), 6-4, 6-4.

 2. Thomas and Rubin (UM) over Sauer and Gray (RI), 6-1, 6-2.

 3. Thompson and Simons (UM) over Slater and Porter (RI), 6-0, 6-0.

BASEBALL GAME

The varsity baseball sched-uled to be played against UConn yesterday at 3:00 was washed out, and is being played today at Alumni Field at 2:00. If you see this in time get out there and see this crucial game.

CHESTERFIELD KING

Potpourri

Although Neil Johnston resigned from the Warriors under his own volition (according to him) it still sounds fishy. It probably was another one of those resign-or-get-fired deals and to save face the Warrior management gave him his choice, as owner Eddie Gottlieb didn't show any displeasure with the resignaany displeasure with the resigna-tion. Part of Johnston's troubles stem from the inefficiency of col-lege superstars Tom Gola and Guy Rodgers who have never quite lived up to expectations... Why not let Wilt Chamberlain League has adopted a new rule. League has adopted a new rule.

Any shot made from a radius of 25 feet or more from the basket, will count three points instead of the normal two. This is designed to cut down on the easier jump shots from in close. However you'll probably find most NBA players could match any one long shot with two quick short ones.

shot with two quick short ones.

The new league should be thinking of ways to attract the fans if they expect to succeed, yet they are hesitant to adopt the already proven 24 second rule. This rule helped immensely to drag the sagging NBA up by its bootstraps and put it into the vaunted position it enjoys now, as the fans have given their complete approval of the rule. Let's get with it, ABL, we don't want to see you fall on your face just because you can't see past your nose.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

1. San Francisco Giants-They San Francisco Giano finally obtained a good they've lacked for years. Al Dark knows how to handle such would-be problems as Cepeda and McCovey. These potential stars, plus uncomparable Willie Mays and newcomer Harvey Kuenn will comprise one of the best offensive attacks in the league. Sad Sam Jones, Jack Sanford, Juan Mari-chal, and Mike McCormick should come through in the clutch pro's like Snider, Hodges, Gil-liam, Neal, Moon, and Larker will provide the perfect balance with youngsters like the Davis brothers, potential super-star Frank Howard, Established pitchers like Drysdale, Sherry, Williams,

Podres, and Koufax might take the club all the way. The differ-ence between them and the ence between them Giants is Willie Mays. LOST THE HORSE SHOE 3. Pittsburgh Pirates—we don't think they can do it twice in a row. They have stayed with virtually the same team with the addition of Bobby Shantz, while other teams have made many important changes. Their speed and singles won't be enough this year. Pitching won't be able to contain opposition as well this season. 4. Milwaukee Braves

Burdette and Warren Spahn are another year older now. Spahn won't win 20 this season, Buhl and McMahon will have to come through with 15 wins apiece. Henry Aaron can't do it alone through with 15 wins apiece. Henry Aaron can't do it alone with the help of Eddie Mathews. Bolling and Temple won't help that much. Braves gave up too much over the winter.

5. St. Louis Cardinals — Stan Musial should have taken his que from Ted Williams. The Cardinals wont be able to fall back on his broad shoulders this of this broad shoulders this season. With no hitting to speak of, save for Ken Boyer and Bob Nieman, their pitching will loom bigger and bigger. Ernie Broglio will win his 20 and Lindy McDaniel will give him a big assist. Larry Jackson and Bob Miller could come the season and Bob Miller could be season an ler could come through but are question marks.

6. Cincinnati Reds — Unbeat-6. Cincinnati Reds — Unbeatable combination of Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson could provide the spark needed to vault the club ahead in the standings. Bell and Post are old but can still hit that ball. Ed Bailey is one of the best catchers in the league. Pitching will be their drawback with Purkey the only reliable one on the staff. O'Toole and Jay will have to win for the Reds to finish have to win for the Reds to finish have to win for the Reds to finish

HEADS - TAILS

7. Chicago Cubs—We pick the Cubs over the Phillies because of Ernie Banks, nine managers, of Ernie Banks, nine managers, and the coin came down heads. Actually it's a toss up, but a guy like Banks has got to help a team. Besides, just the novelty of nine coaches to man a team has to mean something.

8. Philadelphia Phillies-Could beat out the Cubs but the young guys like Taylor, Herrera, and Gonzalez will have to hit major league pitching. Callison could develop into a star outfielder. Defense and pitching is weak, Frank Sullivan will have to find himself and Robin Roberts will have to

Introducing Kangaroo Amherst's Trampoline Center TRIANGLE STREET In Back of Rowe's Garage Opening, Sat., May 6 10:00 a.m. Saturdays

UM Golfers Win Fifth Straight; Get Set For Conference Games

by W. JOHN LENNON '61

The Massachusetts golfers gained their fifth consecutive victory this season Monday when they edged cross-town rival, Amherst, 4-3, at the Orchards Country Club.

Pete Hatfield's 75 enabled him Pete Hatfield's 75 enabled him to edge his Jeff opponent 1 up. This three over par performance also was good for medalist honors. Mike Megliola, playing as the second UM man, was also extended to the last hole where he triumphed 2 up.

extended to the last hole where he triumphed, 2 up.

Bob Dion (78) and Bill Marshall (76) were the other two Redmen victors, both men winning by 4-2 counts.

Dan Pierre and John Donasky both were edged on the 18th and both were edged on the 18th and 19th holes respectively; while Barry Schmoyer, who carded a 77, was also defeated, 3-2.

Redmen Rip RPI
Saturday the local linksmen played in a steady rain, and defeated previously unbeaten RPI, 5-2, at the Troy Country Club.

Victors for the Redmen included medalist Barry Schmoyer (75) 7-5; Pete Hatfield (80) 6-5; Mike Megliola (80) 6-5; Bob Dion (81) 2-1; and Bill Marshall (79)

4-3.

Dan Pierre and John Donasky were both edged by their Engineer opponents. This marked Pierre's first defeat in the last eleven matches

Yankee Conference Meet
Golfers from the University of Connecticut are rated slight favorites to capture the annual Yankee Conference championship this Friday when teams from the

by W. JOHN LENNON '61
six New England state universities meet at the Penobscot Valley Country Club, Orono, Maine.
In the event the course is not playable, the championships will be postponed one week and played in conjunction with the New England Intercollegiates at Providence, Rhode Island.

The UConns, who lost to New Hampshire by a single stroke last year, again will have to fight off the Wildeats and the linksmen from the University of Massachusetts. Rhode Island's lack of depth and the poor playing conditions which have plagued both Maine and Vermont may prove factors in keeping these teams Maine and Vermont may prove factors in keeping these teams from contention.

Bill Lockhead of New Hampshire, the New England Intercollegiate titlist of a year ago, heads the list of individual competitors, but stiff opposition for medalist honors may come from Bob Fitta Rhode Island junior champion, and Peter Hatfield of the Red-men. Fitta defeated both Hatfield Lockhead 1 up in recent Play will start at 9 o'clock Friday morning over 36 holes. Each team will enter seven men, and the total of the lowest six scores will determine the champs.

Since the championships were started in 1948, Connecticut has won nine times; New Hampshire twice, and Massachusetts and Maine, once each.

Trackmen Rested Up For Biggest Test Against UConn

UConn boasts a strong outdoor track team although the Redmen defeated them indoors this year. Spearman Reid Crawshaw is consistent over 200 feet and has done 240 feet, so he will be out of the reach of the UMass throwers. But high jump champ Ed Harrison is erratic and could fall

by ABE SHEINKER '62

This Saturday's washed out meet was rescheduled again at Springfield for May 18, This may be a break for the Redmen as the Maroons represent one of their strongest rivals and the UMassmen should be in better shape later in the season.

UConn boasts a strong outdoor track team although the Redmen defeated them indoors this year. Spearman Reid Crawshaw is contact the state of the strong in the hurdles, pole vault and the hurdles, pole vault and weight events, but is very weak in the six flat races.

The Redmen will be looking for their first outdoor victory over UConn in several years.

THE SEAFARING MAN IS A Calalina MAN

Mooring your craft or sunning on a raft, Catalina combines the sun and sea of California with the British style influence to brighten your seaworthy command.

Eaquirea CLUB &

BY O. E. SCHOEFFLER Fashion Director of ESQUIRE Magazine

Not so long ago, the university man (or any man, for that matter) had a simple choice to make: Dress to be in fashion...or dress for comfort. This spring he insists on both qualities in one outfit...and what the man wants, the man gets.

SEERSUCKERS REBORN—The return of the seersucker suit illustrates this fashion with comfort theme. Ideas in campus fashion have a way of running in cycles. Many years back seersucker suits were the main event in every college man's wardrobe. Then they disappeared from the scene. Now, brought up to date by the textile magicians, seersucker is back on campus, bigger and better than ever.

The seersucker fabric, with its slightly crinkled texture, comes in all cotton or in blends of cotton and man-made fiber. Its very light weight combines maximum comfort with excellent shape retaining qualities. Traditionally seen in stripes of blue, grey, or brown with white, seersucker is showing more pattern variety these days through the use of small Glen Urqhart plaids...particularly in the grey and white combination.

DENIM AGAIN—Denim is another campus wardrobe fabric representing many turns of fashion's wheel over the years. Originally used for work clothing, denim has been refined to a soft, lightweight, and very comfortable multiple-purpose fabric. Seen mostly in a soft, faded blue shade, denim's versatility is demonstrated by its many uses...in trim cut slacks, Bermuda shorts, and particularly sport jackets that go remarkably well with many different types of shirts and slacks.

INDIA - MADRAS WITH "UT END -

University men have been consistent in their preference for soft, muted or conservative colorings. This no doubt accounts for the keen interest in India Madras. This cotton fabric...authentically imported from India and also adapted in American wearing is marked with in American weaving...is marked with many different plaid patterns, some large and irregular and others small in dimension. All have the characteristic subtlety of color, soft and muted in tone.

Madras has gained in popular campus acceptance through extensive use in the widely worn button-down model shirts.. many in a short-sleeve pullover style with a button placket part way down the front These shirts are equally fashionable in the classroom, for weekend wear, and wherever home is during summer vacation. The same fabric has also caught or in walk shorts.

TOMORROW — While nobody can really predict the next exciting fashion for the well-dressed university man, I'd bet strongly on the new idea of the Blazer Cardigar... a collarless mode! blazer with a strong British heritage. It's something to look for a year or so from now.

And while you're looking, keep ar eye open for another legacy of Brit ish fashions...the country cleth-ing colors of chamois and mustard.

Fabric suits with a suede finish and glove soft pigskin shoes are two more likely contenders for future ampus popularity.

Buffalo Woman First BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Mrs.
Charles Fahning of Buffalo was the first woman ever to bowl a perfect game. She accomplished perfect game. Sl the feat in 1929.

Buffy Sainte-Marie

Folksinger Weds. 8-10:30

Saladin Coffee Shop 414 No. Pleasant

'Benedictite' To Open Chorale Spring Show

edicite" by the modern composer Vaughan Williams will open the spring concert of the UMass Chorale tonight at 8 p.m. in Bowker Auditorium.

The Williams work is a musical depiction of the creation sung by chorus and soprano soloist. Conducting the entire program will be Dr. John R. King, professor of music at UMass. The concert is open to the public at a small admission charge.

A group of works by the 17th century English composer Henry Purcell will be another feature of resented by the verse anthem for four soloists and chorus entitled "O Sing unto the Lord a New Song", a duet called "Sound the Trumpet", and the two stage lyrics "Nymphs and Shepards, Come Away" and "The Sailors' Song". The program will also include three acapella works, a number of madrigals and folk

The duet will be sung by Curtis and Donald Paine of Sutton, graduate students at UMass. Soloists during the performance will be Miss Beverly Carlson, freshman from Lexington, and Miss Margaret Loomis, Amherst

Sophs' May Day Heyday Success Despite Weather

Monday, supplied with plenty of cool, wet, and windy weather, did not dampen the spirits of the sophomore class. The sophomore picnic, May Day-Hey Day, began on the patio and lawn south of the S.U., but as night came on the festivities were moved into the main ballroom.

The "Tiki's Four" did a grand of entertaining from 4:30 to 6:15 despite the strong winds and occasional rains. This exposure to elements, rather than hampering their style, increased their resonance. A banjo, a set of bongos, and two guitars made music to accompany their singing and to warm up the crowd.

While the "Tiki's" played, twelve sophs were contestants in a pie eating contest. Of the six boys and six girls that gobbled up the cherry pies, Joan Mahoney from Dwight House proved her-self the heartiest eater and won the event.

soda, and two hot dogs was dis-tributed to the five hundred sophomores who purchased the sophomores who purchased the nickle tickets. The four concession stands tested the skill of the students in tossing colored discs, pitching marbles, throwing darts, and pounding nails

As the food and prizes gave out the picnickers moved inside where the "Northern Lights" where the "Northern Lights" were tuning up for a four hour swing session. They increased the tempo and kept everyone hopping till 10 p.m.

Co-Chairmen Jim Brescia and Judy Lindahl expressed pleasure in the outcome of the picnic and wish to thank all who contrib-uted to its success.

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- ★ TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10 net profit per party.
- PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eli-gible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholar-ship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can win this year!
- ★ EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of valuable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, Alpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON..DeLAND College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc. WESTFIELD, MASS.

Will Comment On Marxism

Marxism and Christianity will be Dr. Culbert G. Rutenber's sub-ject at the Christian Associa-tion's third Critique which will be held Thursday, May 4, in the Public Health Auditorium.

It is anticipated that Dr. Rutenber, in discussing the pro-letariat versus the Kingdom of God, will analyze the two different images of man presented in the doctrines of each belief. A the doctrines of each belief. A comparison of such similarities as the Messianic aspect of each doctrine is expected. Comments on the Marxism statement that democracy is the "opiate of the people" are also anticipated.

Dr. Rutenber, a Professor at ndover-Newton Theological Andover-Newton School, teaches courses pertaining to philosophy of religion, the theology of Greek philosophy, social ethics, and Communism and Alan Savat Installed As Hillel Pres.

At the annual Parents' Day Breakfast sponsored by Breakfast sponsored by the Springfield B'nai B'rith Lodges and Chapter and the UMass Hillel Foundation on Sunday, April 30, the officers for the 1961-62 season were installed. Bernard Brandwene, past president of Shalom Lodge B'nai B'rith administered the oath of office to Alan Savat, president, Lois Fleishman, vice-president, Irma Barron, recording secretary, Brina Shnider, corresponding sec-retary and Joel Berkowitz, treas-

Professor Joseph Marcus, faculty adviser to the group, pre-sented Hillel keys to Sheida Gor-don, Alan Kaplan, Bryna Lansky and Fred Saltzberg for outstanding service to the organization during their four years at the University.

Government Dept. Will Place Student In Boston Position

The Government Dept, will place one student with the Republican Committee in Boston for a period of eight or nine weeks this coming summer. The Citizen Clearing House will pay $25 a week and the State Committee will pay an equal amount to the student chosen. He will perform a variety of duties for the Co mitteee under the guidance of the new chairman, Philip Allen.

Those interested should leave the following information in the mail box of George Goodwin, Jr. (314 Machmer) by 5 p.m., Friday, May 5: name, campus address, political experience, and a brief explanation of how he would benefit from this experience.

C.A. Speaker | Methodist Foundation Will Sponsor Drama

Lovejoy Mason takes the leader of the neighborhood gang in and in a scene from The Bishop's Company production of "An Episode of Sparrows".

The Bishop's Company of Santa Barbara, California will present Rumor Godden's "An Episode of Sparrows" on May 7. at 7 p.m. at The Wesley Method-

The story begins on a windy Saturday morning in March on Catfield Street, London. The

Massingham Moves Mix To 'O' Club

The Senior Class Mix was moved to the Quonset Club vesterday afternoon as the management of the Belchertown Town House refused to make all of its facilities available for the stu-

The manager would not open the large ballroom in the rear of the building, according to Paul Ingram, chairman of the Mix. The seniors from UMass were crowded into the small space allotted them.

Finally, when it became apparent that they were not going to be able to use the larger room, I.F.C. president Gordon Massing ham stood up and announced that the Mix would be moved to the "Q" club

Apparently the back room was being renovated, and the manager was afraid the students might do some damage.

Garden Committee had met to discuss the earth-not the whole earth, the terrestial globe-but the bit of it that had been stolen from the Gardens of the Square. The holes in the earth involve Lovejoy Mason, the little girl who lived in Vincent's Restaurant; the rich Miss Chesneys in the Square; Tip Malone, the leader of one of Catford Street's gangs; and others, who find their lives changed as the secret of the missing earth is solved.

Presented by a skilled cast. "An Episode of Sparrows" is one of six carefully selected plays in the repertoire of the Bishop's Company, first American touring repertory company of its kind. Currently on its eighth National Tour and fourth International Tour, the Company was founded in 1952 by Phyllis Benbow Beardsley, who formulated the idea in

WARNING

Dean of Men Robert S. Hopkins, Jr. today issued a warning to all traffic violaters.

"There are a great many unpaid traffic tickets on record in the office of the Dean of Men. Those having such tickets are reminded of the 72 hour limit for payment and are urged to pay their fines at the T:easurer's Office prior to 8 May 1961. Unsatisfied obligations can result in disciplinary action such as loss of automobile privilege and, for seniors, a withholding of the de-

Lizotte's

Next to the Nonotuck Savings Bank Northampton

Take a break during your studies and enjoy a smoke. Lizotte's has all the necessities for that enjoyable smoke. Fine Imported Tobaccos, Pipes, and Cigarettes. Stop by and spend a few minutes with Augie. You'll be glad

UMASS Banners & Pennants Glasses, Mugs & Plates Animale A. J. HASTINGS

> Inc. Nawsdealer & Stationer was I for +

LIBRARY MAY 9 1961 U. of II. Massachus

INTERCOLLEGIATE SING TONIGHT IN BALLROOM

VOL. XC NO. 74 5¢ PER COPY

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1961

Faculty Will Present Conference On Cuba

by ELIZABETH SCHNECK '62, Senior Reporter

The recent action in Cuba has provoked an ad hoc committee of the UMass faculty to present a panel discussion of "U.S.A. and Cuba: Dilemma and Danger." It will be held Monday, May 8, at 8 p.m. in Bartlett Aud.

o p.m. In Bartlett Aud.

Conference to Provide Information on U.S.-Cuba
Relations
The conference is being presented in an effort to provide accurate information on U.S. relations in Cuba and the Latin tions in Cuba and the Latin American countries, in a critical context. It is the opinion of the ad hoc committee that the press is not providing sufficient in-formation about the political situation of the U.S.

The three speakers for the panel discussion will be: Karl Loewenstein, professor of political science and jurisprudence at Amherst College; Ramon Ruiz, assistant professor of history at Smith College; and Nederland Service College; and Nederland Se Smith College; and Nadav Sa-fran, professor of government at Harvard. Moderator for the program will be Jay Savereid.

Hope for Active Discussion It is the hope of the faculty embers sponsoring the "U.S.A."

speakers' talks. The committee suggests that only through a presentation of both conservative and liberal points of view will an understanding of the U.S. position in Cuba be realized. With an understanding of the issue, they believe it would then be possible to make an effective plea for rationality.

The topics of discussion will include: the background of social problems in Latin America, to be given by Ramon Ruiz, a Latin be given by Ramon Ruiz, a Latin American scholar and author. Nadav Safran will discuss the history of the U.S., in its relations with Cuba since Castro came into power. The current status of the U.S. and Cuba since the recent crisis will be analyzed by Karl Loewenstein, noted critic of political affairs.

Petition Addressed to Kennedy As a result of the Cuban crisis, members of the faculty have also members of the faculty have also drawn up a petition addressed to President Kennedy. The purpose of the petition is to express op-position to military intervention. The petition urges that differences between governments be resolved by peaceful diplomacy, and that we should re-establish relations with Cuba.

Fulbright Picks Quint To Lecture In Europe

history at UMass, has been named a Fulbright Exchange Lecturer for the year 1961-62.

Prof. Quint, a member of the staff since 1959, will lecture in United States history at the Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Stud-ies at Bologna, Italy. He will offer seminars in contemporary in-stitutions in the United States in American history since Civil War. He will also conduct research on left-wing Italian attitudes toward the United States, particularly as evidenced in the Romagna province of Italy.

A graduate of Yale University,
Prof. Quint received his M.A..degree at Stanford University and his Ph.D. at Johns Hopkins. Dur-ing World War II he was a re-search analyst in the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). He has taught at the University of South

Howard H. Quint, professor of Carolina and the University of story at UMass, has been Colorado, and has held summer posts at the University of Wis consin and at Johns Hopkins. In 1956 he was named to a Smith-Mundt Professorship at the Uni-(Continued on page 6)

Senate Receives Study Of UMass Budget Power

The House of Representatives has enacted and sent to the Senate for concurrent action a resolve for a study of the budget-ary powers of the trustees of the niversity.

The enacted resolve was based a a bill which would have permitted the trustees to exercise sole power over UMass appropriations rather than have the uses specified in the general appropriations bill.

The proposal of Governor Volpe to increase from $200 to $400 the tuition fees at state institutions of higher education, now in the exploratory stage, was vigorously opposed by Democratic House Speaker John F. Thompson of Ludlow. Two bills have been filed to "freeze" the present tuition rates. Commenting on this, Governor Volpe told a press conference "I would hope the legislature would let the trustees run the institutions." tees run the institutions."

Sponsors of the original bill, emocratic representatives Sumner Z. Kaplan of Brookline and Thomas C. Wojtkowski of Pitts-(Continued on page 6)

stitutions of higher education, now begins a transition from miarrous laughter to frenzied excitement. Who is going to be tapped is the uppermost question in everybody's mind. Everyone's eyes watch as old members circulate through the

(Continued on page 6)

Twohig Gives Final Address

By a twenty to fourteen vote, rthur "Tex" Tacelli defeated Artur Tacelli defeated Andy D'Avanzo for the presi-dency pro tempore of the Student Senate Wednesday night, Presi-dent Tacelli will serve until the fall Senate elections at which time his reelection is almost as-Tacelli is a junior, majoring in government. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and comes from East Boston.

Commenting on his election, Tacelli stated, "I will work as hard as I possibly can to do the job required of the president. I realize it's a big task. My two predecessors (Zelis and Twohig) have done an excellent job ful have done an excellent job fulfilling their obligations. I'm here to learn and I will learn."

Linda Achenbach Elected V.P.
Elected to the vice-presidency was Linda Achenbach, junior from Johnson House. Senator
Achenbach is majoring in Marketing and comes from sylvania. As vice-president, she will be in charge of the Distin-

Senators Elect 'Tex' Tacelli:

ARTHUR "TEX" TACELLI Also at Wednesday's meeting, former Senate President Dennis

Twohig gave his farewell speech.
Twohig stated, "As I look back on the Senate, it has undergone a transition. The number of mo-tions has decreased as more things are being handled by committees.

Says Administration Is Usually Right

Twohig went on to say, "I feel guished Visitors Program. She defeated Senators Samma and Della Penna. She that student government based on protest to the administration is on weak ground, I urge you to handle the administration with kid gloves. They're right ninety per cent of the time."

He continued, "Now don't get me wrong. If there's something in which the students are being short-changed, they should com-plain."

Twohig then advised the Senate not to increase the student tax on every occasion

He concluded his speech by nanking all those who had thanking all those who helped him in the Senate.

In other Senate action, an Ad-Hoc Committee on Student Cost and Tuition was formed and charged with the responsibility of representing student interests regard to any proposed tuition raises at UMass.

After a speech and a question and answer period with Doctor Gage, the Senate defeated a motion protesting the new health fee.

Leader Night To Be Full Of Joy, Fun

by LARRY RAYNER '61
Senior Reporter
Excitement is expected to reach a fever pitch next Wednesday night in the Cage as Student day night in the Cage as Student Leaders night once again comes to the UMass campus. In the past, screams and shouts of joy and surprise, especially by the fairer sex, rattled the panes of glass in the roof of the cage. But the excitement doesn't begin to mount until late in evening.

The tone isn't really set until the "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" announcements are in American Colleges and Universities" announcements are made. In previous years, they have been made by Provost Shannon McCune, but since he is no longer with us, Albert Madeira, an instructor in the English Department, extremely popular and well-known about campus, will assume the task.

The senior class gives his wise cracks about various student cracks about leaders top billing.

But you have to listen closely

But you have to listen closely and perceptively, or you might miss some of the digs and subtle remarks about the Who's Who's. Who comes up with the vital information? Nobody knows, but he must know his way around, because he comes up with some of the most hilarious and embarrassing things of the most hilarious and embar-rassing things.

Then the tapping begins with the Revelers, and the atmosphere begins a transition from hilarious cage in search of their "prey."

The pitch increases as the tapping proceeds to the Scrolls and

Rec Majors Sponsor UMass World's Fair

by SALLY WINTERS '64, Collegian Staff Reporter

Photo by Bruce Bonner Admiring a carving from the Isle of Bali and a native wedding drum are Brian Graves '63, Sue Sidney '62 and Carol Friar '63 drum are Brian Graves '63 at the Little World's Fair.

This week, May 3-5, students in Recreation Leadership have been sponsoring, in conjunction with the S.U. Program Committee, the Little World's Fair.

Recreation Dept. Combines Practical With Theoretical

As the program for the exhibition explains, this is one of five special events of this semes-ter's course of Recreation Leadership 2 which is planned "to give practical program experiences along with theoretical skills to recreation leadership majors pre-paring for professional careers in municipalities, industry, government, penal institutions, hospitals, camp administration, park naturalists, student union, service agencies, and many other al-lied fields".

Flags Displayed
On display are flags from ninety-one countries, and displays from eighty two.
Colored slides of famous Eurlandmarks and scenery from Scandanavia to Italy are being shown.

Among the various and unusual articles loaned by instruc-tors and students are a figure carving from the island of Bali, a wedding drum from Nepal, and a festival mark of "love" from Somaliland, donated by Dana Harlow, instructor in the recreation department.

Figures dressed in folk cosrigures dressed in lolk cos-tumes from several lands, such as Estonia, Japan, and the Philippines are being exhibited. Scottish plaid samples are set up, with a book showing the clan to which each plaid belongs, and the metto, flower, and a short the motto, flower, and a short history of each Scottish family.

Spirit of the Fair Expressed Spirit of the Fair Expressed Prominently displayed among the exhibits is a quote taken from Arnold Toynbee which well ex-presses the spirit of the Little World's Fair:

or centuries . . . geological (Continued on page 6)

If He Walks Like A Duck..

We should definitely mark a difference between a pacifist of the old order and the neo-pacifists within many of our disarmament organizations today. As Americans we must and should respect the rights of a pacifist—"one whose attitude of mind opposes all war and advocates the settlement of international disputes entirely by arbitration." His religious and political beliefs should no more be strangled than his right to marry the woman of his choice. But freedom and rights, out of proportion, can be very vulgar words—as when an individual thinks it is his right to marry . . . his sister. Since his conduct violates our society's laws, society has every right to restrict his conduct.

And when the neo-pacifists insist on impeding law and order by refusing to comply with our nation's safety laws (Civil Defense regulations), picket, disturb, and embarrass visiting diplomats, disturb Naval operations (as seen at a recent atomic submarine launching), cause confusion at Air Force bases by their "peace marches," have every right to restrict their conduct and put them in their places. In refusing to obey Civil Defense laws last week, NYU, Columbia, and University of New Hampshire students were not complying with their religious beliefs but were disrupting our society's measures for safety and thus are playing right into the hands of our nation's These student organizations have petitioned Washington, picketed the United Nations, and embarrassed our nation's leaders . . . all in the name of peace. But how many letters have they written to Moscow or Pelping, how many times have they picketed the Russian Emcow or Peiping, how many times have they picketed the Russian Embarsy here or even the Kremlin, and how many times have they embarrassed Red diplomats before thousands. The answers to those questions are negative and this shows the organizations to be working on a one-sided level . . . just what the Communists want. Thus, they act like Commies (noisy and disorderly demonstrations), talk like Commies (disarmament but the one-sided kind), and are being infiltrated by Commies (WORLD YOUTH CONGRESS, AMERICAN STUDENT UNION, etc.). And "as long as he walks like a duck, talks like a duck, and acts like a duck, I have every right, until proven otherwise, to treat him like a duck."

Presently, there are reports and clear evidence to show a definite resently, there are reports and clear evidence to snow a definite link between the Communists and pornographic literature in the United States. The New York headquarters for SANE publications is in X office in X building in New York City. At this same office address in New York, the same two men in charge of SANE office also put out a pornographic type book. And from this same address and put out by the same two men, comes a sex magazine which consistently portrays the American armed services as filled with eaverage manifests. trays the American armed services as filled with sex-crazed maniacs. Plans are now under way for a House Subcommittee investigation of these three along with a long list of others. The probings hope to prove that the Communists have infiltrated these just as they definite', have joined American Student Union, American Youth Congress, Friends of the Campus, and the National Youth Assembly. The latter are all declared subversive by the U.S. Attorney General.

These angry student demonstrators for peace, appeasement, and These angry student demonstrators for peace, appeasement, and disarmament have hindered the United States just as much as those responsible for the boondoggling at missile bases when plumbers were paid from $420 to $733 a week (or four times base pay). Their conduct, which has endangered the inalienable rights of their fellow Americans, supports any move to reprove these organizations and put them back in their places in society.

And within their societal berths, these angry college students may sing their theme song as long and loud as they please—"I'd rather crawl on my hands and knees to Moscow than be involved in a nuclear war." But the rest of America's college students may be thankthat the thousands who are buried at Arlington National Cemetery did not sing the same type song just over a decade ago.

Editorial Of The Week

It is not a man's duty, as a matter of course, to devote himself to the eradication of any, even the most enormous wrong; he may still properly have other concerns to engage him; but it is his duty, at least, to wash his hands of it, and, if he gives it thought no longer, not to give it practically his support. If I devote myself to other pursuits and contemplations, I must first see, at least, that I do not pursue them sitting upon another man's shoulders. I must get off him first, that he may pursue his contemplations too. See what gross inconsistency is tolerated. I have heard some of my townsmen say, "I should like to have them order me out to help put down an insurrection of the slaves, or to march to Mexico; -see if I would go;" and yet these very men have each, directly by their allegiance, and so indirectly, at least, by their money, furnished a substitute. The soldier is applauded who refuses to serve in an unjust war by those who do not refuse to sustain the unjust government which makes the war; is applauded by those whose own act and authority he disregards and sets at naught; as if the state were penitent to that degree that it hired one to scourge it while it sinned, but not to that degree that it left off sinning for a moment. Thus, under the name of Order and Civil Government, we are all made at last to pay homage to and support our own meanness. After the first blush of sin comes its indifference; and from immoral it becomes, as it were, unmoral, and not quite unnecessary to that life which we have made.

> H. D. Thoreau Civil Disobedience

When The Kissing Had To Start

-Editor's note

THE MASSACHUSETTS COLLEGIAN, FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1961

Perhaps Mr. Trelease is right. Perhaps we should feel "disgusted and ashamed" that there are those among us "who would have us continue the kissing." Perhaps we should feel ashamed of the students, professors, priests, the mothers and fathers who refused to retire to their crypts. Perhaps we should feel ashamed of the thousands upon thousands of feel ashamed of the thousands upon thousands of them who marched into Trafalgar and who will con-tinue to march. Perhaps we should feel disgust up-on seeing those who are foolish enough to believe that there exists some moral principle upon this

Yet while we might feel disgust, we must also Yet while we might feel disgust, we must also defend the right of these people to study peace, talk peace, and, if need be, march for peace. To all these people ignorant, impotent, and inexperienced is quite obviously an evasion of the question. It is also deceitful to concede this right in one breath, and in the next to say that it must be checked "for the good of all." This is like saying that the fifth the next to say that it must be checked "for the good of all." This is like saying that the fifth amendment is good "some of the time."

Perhaps Linus Pauling is ignorant, impotent, and inexperienced. Perhaps Lord Russell. Perhaps all of those Nobel Laureates who refuse to retire to their crypts. Perhaps Dr. Schweitzer. Perhaps. One may judge for oneself.

Within the past few weeks, an unfortunate philosophy has developed in the minds of many Americans. This philosophy was manifested in the general reaction to the Cuban situation. It comes down to this: moral considerations are of no consequence in political actions. Our sin, according to this philosophy, is not that we engaged in deceitful and losophy, is not that we engaged in deceifful and immoral tactics but that we were caught while doing it. But do not misunderstand. This is not to say that political reality is to be discarded. This is to say however that a political philosophy which r

(This article is in reply to an Editorial which appeared in the Collegian of May 3.)

gates moral considerations is extremely dangerous to our future existence. Yet, it is toward this nihilistic philosophy that we, as a nation, appear

> To many "neo-pacifists," obedience to a civil defense alert signifies a resignation to approaching cataclysm. Unfortunately (or fortunately) there are many who are not resigned to this and who will not descend into a crypt (which would more correctly be termed a hole) no matter how long and loud screams the siren. Neither Mr. Trelease, nor any other responsible reporter can make meaningful value judgments as to the moral character of paci-fists or "neo-pacifists." Intellectual evaluations can only be made by those who are themselves capable (or reasonably well read) in such fields as failout, nuclear-detection techniques, etc., or have valid knowledge as to the Geneva negotiations and areas of related knowledge. I of course assume that Mr. Trelease possesses this vital knowledge.
>
> The pacifist or "neo-pacifist" is sincere and he believes that he is right.

> The pacifist or "neo-pacifist" is sincere and ne believes that he is right. He says descend to your crypt; we will not. Educate your children to hate and to kill; we will not. Censor your press; we will not conform. Call us ignorant, impotent; we will continue to read, to think, to discuss, and to act. Tell us that Hiroshima and Nagasaki were morally justifiable. Speak of a mythical thresh-hold level of realistion avecause. Implements to stalk us. radiation exposure. Implore us to stalk up on can-ned food to be better prepared for a massive atomic

Idealistic? Perhaps. Impotent? perhaps. Inexperienced? Perha

Perianced? Perhaps.
Yet, the pacifist, or "neo-pacifist," or humanist (if you will) would perhaps like to ask one question. After one half-century of intermittent carnage and human slaughter is this the time to stop the kissing, or is it rather the time to start. But let us not kiss in the dark.

LETTERS

Concerning The Mud

The following remarks concern the Armor ROTC class held at 9:00 p.m. on Wednesday, May 3. POWER: the possession of sway or controlling influence over others.

Egotism, power for its own sake, 1984; there is threat of war, or Communism. ROTC is taking

The sergeant thinks it's all right for us to stand in mud and water; he is doing it. Diffusion, wet sneakers, wet feet, wet shoes, wet feet. We can all get sick together: it's the military way.

FORWAHD . . . HAHTCH! You're outta step.
But the puddles.

FORWAHD . . . HAHTCH! Ya know, all you guys have accomplished is causin' the cadet officer here to flunk supervision.

Of course that bothers us soldiers; we don't want

Of course, that bothers us soldiers; we don't want the cadet officer to flunk, we didn't mean to walk around the puddles, we didn't mean to get out of step.

As soon as I buy a new pair of shoes, reclaim my pants from the mud, and own a pair of knee boots, I'll be happy to wade through the cow pastures, and in step, too.

This is a plea to the Dean of Men, to the President. I want to study in the relaxed atmosphere of a civilian school not a military totalitarianism.

William Dain '64

The Massachusetts Collegian

MEMBER

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Sports Editor Business Manager News Editor: Make-Up Photography Editor

News Editor: Assignments Joseph Bradley '64 Sports Editor Ben Gordon '62 Business Manager Heward Frisch 62 Beth Peterson '63 Lawrence Popple '63

Editorial Associate News Associate Feature Associate Sports Associate Copy

Michael Palter '63 Roger Cruff '64
Paul Kennet '64
Dave Willard '64

James J. Trelease '63

Entered as second class matter at the post office at An herst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academi year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice week the week following a vacation or examination period, owhen a boliday falls within the week. Accepted for mailin ander the authority of the set of March 8, 1879, as amende by the act of June 11, 1994.

84.00 per year; $2.50 per semests

Concerning The Muck

To the Editor:

It is highly improbable that the members of the ROTC Department lack intelligence. That they do not use whatever intelligence they possess is a proven fact. Wednesday morning's drill class in the swamp below the tennis courts pr one look at this field would have sufficed to One look at this field would have sufficed to show that it was too wet to march on, but the class was conducted on it for forty minutes, making fools of the instructors and students alike, and ruining numerous pairs of shoes. It was almost impossible to walk in the muck, let alone to do turning movements in it.

If the ROTC Department does not have better things to do with their own time and that of the students, then the program should be discontinued. I hope that in the meantime the leaders of this department will use a bit more common sense in planning of its activities.

David Perry

A Note Of Thanks

To Editor, The Collegian:

I have received the following letter this morning from Robert S. Gardner, Director of the Westfield Civilian Defense Agency and wish to add my per-sonal thanks to his statement.

All those students who turned out so eagerly on Friday last to stand by to fight the forest fire deserve every bit of commendation they can get, I'm sorry that we couldn't utilize all their services but I take this means of thanking them most sincerely for what they did.

> Robert S. Hopkins, Jr. Dean of Men

Text Of Statement

Dear Dean Hopkins:

We here at Civil Defense wish to thank you and your staff for the splendid cooperation extended to this office during the bad forest fire located between Westfield and Montgomery, Massachusetts.

In the confusion of excitement we tried to obtain the names of all the young men who volunteered their services to the city of Westfield, but know full well that we did not get a listing of all of them. Please convey our personal thanks to all concerned. Although many of these men did not get a chance to actually get to the fire scene, their numbers gave the moral support needed. moral support needed.

Again, many thanks for a job well done

Very truly yours, Robert W. Gardner, Director

Don Croteau Is Chosen As Campus Ladies' Man

After two weeks of competition the UMass Ladies' Man has final-ly been selected. He is Don Croteau, a senior government from Hampden, Mass.

The eliminations began right after the April vacation when nine men were nominated by va-rious organizations throughout campus. Voting for three finalists was accomplished while UMass ladies bought their tickets for the H.E.R. weekend dance.

After the girls picked the three finalists, the men had a chance to talk around campus and campaign for the final election. Then, with the presidents of all women's dorms and sororities acting as judges, Croteau was picked.

Enters National Contest
The UMass winner will now be entered in the national contest with a chance of winning a free trip to Hollywood and a date with any of the 31 girls appearing in Jerry Lewis' latest picture, The Ladies' Man. There is a second prize also, consisting of beautiful Kroehler furniture. For winning the campus con-test Croteau is receiving a fine sport outfit from Hans Keller-man and a gift certificate to Musante's Flower Shop. Croteau Very Active Croteau, a graduate of Spring-field Classical High School, is acfield Classical High School, is activitie in numerous major activities on campus. He is a former Managing Editor of the Collegian, and is presently a Student Senator representing the Commuters. He has been a cheerleader for three years and has competed on the rymnastics team for two three years and has competed on the gymnastics team for two years. A member of the WMUA policy board and the Calendar Coordinating board, Croteau is Co-Chairman of the Student Or-ganization for Scholarships. Our Ladies' Man is also President of the Commuters Club, and a mem-ber of the RSO committee. Besides engaging in and lead-

Besides engaging in and leading the above activities, Croteau has been on the Dean's List for two years.

The trouble with trying to get away from it all these days is that most of it is portable.

Open Houses And Coffee Hours Are Past Dorm Events

Dr. William F. Field, Director of Guidance was guest speaker at a coffee hour on April 27th at Lewis House. His topic was "Choosing a Major and Other Sophomore Problems." The lecture was concluded by a question and answer period.

Dr. Fields stated that too many students have a narrow view of what a major is. A major is not necessarily a vocation, but rather it should represent the subject which offers the best core upon which one can build an edu-

There are many ways of choosing a major but it should be done on the basis of personal interest.
The undecided student, therefore, should try many different subjects his freshman year to discover where his greatest interests lie.

On April 29. Lewis House wel-comed the public to open house. The entire dorm was open, and guests were conducted on guided tours by the residents.

Refreshments were served from one to four in the rec-

Sorority Girls Plan To Entertain Children

SIGMA DELTA TAU
Saturday the sisters of S.D.T.
will visit the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children in Springfield. Stuffed dolls and refresh-field. Stuffed dolls and refreshments will be provided by the house. This should be a rewarding experience for everyone.

S.D.T.'s new pledges are Judy Addleson, Judy Rosenthal, Harriet Feingold, and Beverly Enstrom. Wednesday night at Mother-Daughter Banquet, the pledges presented pledge paddles to their mothers.

At the recent Scholarship Repu

At the recent Scholarship Banquet Eileen Berenson, scholar-ship chairman congratulated the sisters for placing second in the recent sorority scholastic compet-ition. Bobbie Genter was congrat-

On Wednesday, April 26 the fourth floor freshmen of Arnold held a coffee hour.

After refreshments were served, Reverend Mr. Thayer Greene of the First Congregational Church in Amherst gave an interesting talk on prepara-tions for marriage. A discussion period followed.

Arnold House participated in the University open house festivities by having the dormitory open for inspection on Saturday and Sunday. Punch and cookies were served to the many visitors.

ulated for showing the most im-

Lauri Newstadt has been awarded a fellowship to do grad-uate work in mathematics at Weston Reserve College, Cleve-

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

ALPHA CHI OMEGA
Alpha Chi would like to thank Theta Chi for the use of its party room and the help given over HER weekend. It was great-by appreciated and enabled the girls and their guests to have a very successful party.

Plans for Alpha Chi's new house are getting underway.

There is much excitement and all are looking forward to Sentement are looking forward to Septer ber when the Infirmary will I the home of Alpha Chi Omega.

Grace Grybko was chosen "Chapter Sweetheart" of Phi Mu Delta at their Pledge Formal last Grace

Shirley Ingalls and Lisa Nordberg were selected to be house counselors for the coming year. Also Jan Taylor will be the new House Chairman of Arnold House, KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Theta's annual junior-senior sponsored by the junior class will new house chairmen and eleven be held this Saturday afternoon. The Thetas are proud of three new dorm counselors.

Sue Powell was awarded the Club Award at the Newman Club Breakfast last weekend.

On Saturday afternoon a Tea was held in honor of parents and guests and on Sunday a buffet was enjoyed by sisters, pledges, and their parents at the House.

An exchange with Alpha Sig

last week was enjoyed by all.

Pinnings

Joan Boskiewicz of Sigma Kappa to Barry Crane of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Linda Lane of Hamlin to Eric

Einda Lane of Hamilin to Eric Pruyne of Greenough. Eunice LeMasurier of Kappa Alpha Theta to Joe DeSilva of St. Anselm's College. Chris Merrill of Sigma Kappa to Bill Christopher of Alpha Tau Omega at Worcester Tech. Engagements

Barbara Feldman of Kappa Alpha Theta to Irv Bernstein of Miami Beach, Florida.

Lori Gelpey of Knowlton to le ry Cook of Needham, Mass. Bobbie Genter of Sigma Delta Tau to Charlie Dress of Tau Epsilon Phi at URI.

Marsha Joyce of Kappa Alpha Theta to Jack Mitchell of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Ruth MacLeod of Kappa Alpha Theta to David Botts of Conn. Brenda Mason of Kappa Alpha Theta to Bill Rhoades of Theta Chi at Tufts.

Salem refreshes your taste "air-softens" every puff

Take a puff... it's Springline! Somewhere there's a place you love especially well in springtime...perhaps a place of hillside and valley like this. You'll think of this place when you try a Salem cigarette, so soft, so gentle, so refreshing is its smoke. Special High Porosity paper "air-softens" every puff. Fine tobaccos add their own richness to Salem's taste, too. Smoke refreshed...smoke Salem!

- · menthol fresh
- · rich tobacco taste
- modern filter, too

UMass Baseball Squad Blanked 4-0 By UConn In First Loss

by BEN GORDON '62, Sports Editor

The UMass baseball team, going into this week's competition with a 5-0-1 northern record, ran into some tough customers in UConn and Tufts uniforms and were on the wrong end of the bat both times, losing 4-0 to UConn Wednesday, and 6-5 to Tufts, yesterday.

It was UConn's show all the way as the Husky pitcher, Joe Clement, was putting all he had behind each pitch. Clement hasn't lost a varsity game in 15 outings, and this was his seventh victory season.

he UConn squad got to Ed Connolly in the fourth frame as the previously undefeated Red-men hurler had not given up a hit until then. A walk to the leadoff man, three straight safeties and another free pass accounted for three quick runs. Connolly got the next three men out on a fly ball and two grounders. The final UConn tally came in the sixth as UConn centerfielder Uhl lead off with a single, stole second, reached third on a ground out and came across the plate when Clement laid down a perfect squeeze bunt.

The Lordens could gather only five hits off Clement, and three of them came in the first few in-

Don't leave school

nings. The only real threat they posed came in the ninth when Bob Hughes, pinching for Delvecchio, reached first on a grounder too hot to handle. Paul Foley then sliced out a single, and you was reasonable. and men were on first and second with none out. Coach Earl Lorden then called on Paul Wennik to suh for Corky Schmoyer and Paul bounced the ball to the pitcher. Hughes, on second, thought Cle-ment had caught the ball on the fly and tried to get back to sec-ond to avoid the supposed double-He was tagged, and then Foley was caught in a rundown between first and second. When the dust had settled, there were two men out, Wennik was on first, and the UConn bench looked pretty happy. Dave Krukonis went out pitcher to first to end the game.

the game.

Clement struck out two and walked only one during the game. The UConn ace has now pitched 26 straight scoreless innings. Connolly gave up 10 hits, walked three and struck out eight.

The Tufts staw will fallow the structure of the st

The Tufts story will follow in Monday's Collegian.

After Deerfield had knocked across four runs in their half of the first, the little Redmen came the first, the little Redmen came back with three in the second. Lewis started it off with a single, Mastone was hit by a pitch, and Poirier walked to load the bases. The Deerfield hurler lost all control as he walked the next three men, three runs being forced across.

Deerfield netsbad enother telly:

Deerfield notched another tally in the fifth, but again the frosh came back, this time with a big four runs in the top of the sixth frame.

Ryan and Mastone were both hit by pitches, and Awdycki reached on a free pass to load the bases. Pinch hitter John Earle then stepped up to the plate and belted a long triple to right center for three runs, Earle creesed the plate when less Aviences.

right center for three runs, Earle crossed the plate when Joe Apicella put down a squeeze bunt.

The frosh, now 4-0 for the season, play Springfield and Worcester Academy on Friday and Saturday, traveling both days.

Their next game will be against Leicester Jr. College, next Wednesday at 3:00.

Golfers Dump AIC And UConn; YC Hopes Soar

by W. JOHN LENNON '61
The University of Massachu- the Orchards Tuesday afternoon. setts linksmen sharpened up for today's Yankee Conference cham-pionships by decisively defeating both UConn and AIC by identical 5-2 scores in a home match at Medalist honors for the meet went to UM's John Donasky whose 75 enabled him to upend his AIC opponent, 9-8. This sparkling three over par per-formance also toppled John's Huskie challenger, 2-1.

Left-handed Mike Megliola, playing as number two man, also breezed to victory with a total of 77 over the soggy layout which had been subjected to two days of rain. The Redmen co-captain handily beat his AIC and UC adversaries, 5-4 and 6-5 respectively.

Also breaking 80 for the Glad-chuckers were Barry Schmoyer and Dan Pierre with totals of 78 and Dan Pierre with totals of 78 and 79 respectively. The latter man has been having trouble around the greens, but performed well enough to win by counts of 5-4 (Conn) and 7-5 (AIC). Schmoyer, who was promoted to the third position, ran into stiff competition, and was defeated by AIC, 4 down, but upended his UC man, 2 up.

Bill Marshall brought in an 80 which was good for a double vic-tory; but Bob Dion split his matches, losing to UConn. Pete Hatfeld, playing as number one man for the Redmen, suffered a double defeat, one down to UC and one down on the 20th hole to Joe Megliola of AIC.

Tuesday's double victory marked the thirteenth consecutive victory for local golfers, who last tasted defeat at the hands of UConn early last season. Following that 4-3 loss on the Huskie's nome course, the UMass clubbers have become habitual winners. The UM septet won their remaining six matches last spring, and have been undefeated in seven encounters this year.

AMHERST + + CINEMA

Now . . . Ends Sat.-

Tonight at 7:00 & 9:00

Saturday at 5:00, 7:00, 9:15

A modern lagend of love, passion and violence!

SUN. - MON. - TUE.

Mon.-Tue. 6:45, 9:00

world's lightest suit One final "exam" before summer starts: examine MR. COOL by Clipper Craft. A suit so lightweight, your mind won't believe the comfort your body feels! Frothy 6 oz. Dacron* polyester and worsted-wiltless.

wrinkle-resistant, wonderfully tailored. See MR. COOL in authentic Ivy and other models. You'll head home looking great, and the folks'll like your sense of economy, too. Suits, $49.95; Sport Coats, $35; Slacks, $15.50 (slightly higher in the West).

without

*Du Pont's TM

DANIEL'S, INC. MICHELMAN-CARSON Northampton Greenfield .

RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

D. H. JONES—Real Estate Agency

* FINANCING IS SELDOM A PROBLEM *
Alpine 3-7702

Varsity Trackmen Upset 79-56 By UConn Team; Freshmen Win

The UConn track team staged an upset over the UMass squad on Alumni Field, Wednesday, 79-It looked like a victory for the Redmen, who had overcome their YanCon rivals indoors, but the javelin and discus are not contested in winter track and that's where the Huskies picked up valuable points this time.

The weight events seemed to tell the story of the meet as UMass had some disappointing setbacks here with places being missed by inches. One foot separated Charlie Romeo from a ond in the discus as he did 1'1" with UConn going one-o. George Giddings had a similar fate by two inches in the shot-put as the Huskies also swept the first two places. Giddings had a good series with four putts over 41 feet and a close foul on a 43'8" effort that would have won. But the hardest break to take But the hardest break to take was when the Huskies took one and two in the javelin, with Charlie Fohlin missing the second for UMass again, this time by by ABE SHEINKER '62 two inches with 176'5".

Dick Ward came through nicely in the fourth throwing event with a three foot victory in the hammer at 150'6" over UConn's John Dragon. Ward also met with success in the high jump with a 6'2½" win, besting YanCon champ Ed Harrison who was tied for second by Charlie LaPier at 5'10".

Lee Munson took a second in the pole vault at 11 feet despite a painful hand injury, and had to watch UConn's Bachman make 11'6". But the local broad jump-ers were way off. The best the Redmen could manage was a Redmen could manage was a 20'2", for a third by LaPier who isn't broad jump specialist, and 22-footer Al Garsys wasn't even

UMass did well in the running events, however, with a Dave Balch win in the mile and a typimann, Balch, Blomstrom the two mile sweep of the two mile. Roy Young and Ken O'Brien had come from-behind victories in the 440 and 880, respectively, and Loren Flagg was his usual tops in the 100 with a good 10.1 seconds. The Huskies' Parsons, indoor double winner in the hurdles, added the 220 yara dash to his usual hurdle wins and swept three events.

FROSH WIN

The UMass freshmen keep alive a winning streak started with their first cross-country meet last fall, by eking out a 72-63 victory over the Husky paps, cracking four records. Paul Pisniski hit 43'3%" in the shotput, as compared with the old mark as compared with the old mark of 41'94", while he beat out UConn's Sumeski, who topped him this winter. Sprinter Bruce Piatek tried the low hurdles and broke the frosh record by sixtenths with 26.5 seconds.

Double winners Bob Brouillet and Fred Lewis set new marks in one half of their triumphs. Brouillet had a fine 10:15.8 two mile, bettering the old mark by over three seconds, after winning the mile. And marvelous and

Tennis Squad Notches Third Victory In Row As Husky Netmen Are Slammed 7-2

by AL BERMAN '62

The varsity tennis streaked to its third victory in a row and its fifth in six starts as it downed the University of Connecticut, 7-2, here in Amherst.

The netmen were the only UM varsity squad able to down the Huskies Wednesday as both the baseball and track teams were defeated by the men from Storrs.

muscular Lewis churned his way to a 10 flat 100 yard dash win, two-tenths under the record. His broad jump victory and second place high jump tie netted him 12 points for the day. The third win victor for the frosh was Phil Danforth with a tough 220 and

GOOD MEET SATURDAY

This Saturday at one 'clock, the varsity competes against Tufts and Northeastern in a trimeet, while the frosh tackle Tufts

SECOND YANCON WIN

The victory was the second straight without a loss in Yankee Conference competition for the UMass crew. They journey to Durham tomorrow where they will take on the perennially strong New Hampshire Wildcats.

The Redmen had an easy time of it as they won the match early by taking five out of the six sin-gles points. From then on it was only a question of exactly the score would be.

The most exciting match to watch was the doubles competition with Redmen Ted Rubin and John Thomas versus UConn's Cronenberg and Ammerman. After dropping the first set, the UM pair came back to edge out the second set, 8-6. Coming from behind five times (once from a 1-4 deficit), Rubin and Thomas took the long rubber match, 11-9.

PRIMED FOR TOURNEY

Although the day was very windy and cold, the Redmen appeared to be in top shape. They should be primed and ready to go for the big Yankee Conference Tournament which is being held this year on the UMass campus SINGLES

JOHN THOMAS

1. Poritz (UM) over Cronenberg (UC),
2. Ammerman (UC) over Rubin (UM),
6-0, 6-3,
3. Thomas (UM) over Mogull (UC),
4. Thompson (UM) over Rea (UC), 6-9, 6-2.
5. Simons (UM)

- 6-2.
 5. Simons (UM) over Jacobsen (UC), 6-3, 6-1, 6-2.
 6. Howarth (UM) over Horowitz (UC), 6-4, 6-3.

DOURLES

1. Rubin and Thomas (UM) over Cronenberk and Ammerman (UC), 2-6, 8-6, 11-9, 2 Jacobsen and Rea (UC) over Sherman and Schule (UM), 6-2, 6-3, 3. Levy and Edelstein (UM) over Mogull and Horowitz (UC), 7-5, 6-8, FInal score: UMass 7, UConn 2, FRESHMAN SINGLES

1. Mendel (UM) over Weiss (UC), 6-4, 6-4, (AM)

- 6-4.
 2. Austin (UM) over Tucker (UC), 6-2.
 3. LoVetere (UC) over Murray (UM).
 6-3. 6-8.
 4. LaBranche (UC) over Piersail (UM).
 3-6. 6-2. 6-4.
 5. Seely (UC) over Hutchinson (UM).
 6-2. 6-1.
 6-2. 6-1.
 6-1.

frosh 2. Final score: UMass 7, UConn 2.

Winning Combination
SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)— Australians captured three of the world's four top men's tennis championships in 1960.

Rod Laver won the Australian title, Neale Fraser won the Wimbledon and the U.S. crowns, Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli won the fourth major title—the French.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

Dear Dr. Frood: I've been reading a great deal about automated teaching devices. How long will it be before they come up with machines to replace profes-

DEAR PROFESSOR: Just as soon as they get one that can rap the knuckles of a sleeping student, give humiliating answers to foolish questions and spring surprise tests whenever it happens to be in a bad

Dear Dr. Frood: My problem is fat, stubby fingers. As a result, I am exceedingly awkward with my hands. My manual dexterity is so poor, in fact, that I can't even get a Lucky pack open. What can I do?

DEAR FINGERS: Simply strap ordinary sewing needles along both of your index fingers. Now cup the Lucky pack in your hands, grasp the little red tab in your teeth, and yank. Next, place the pack on a flat surface and secure it between two unabridged dictionaries. Then, with the right-hand needle, carefully, carefully carve a one-inch-square opening at the top right-hand corner. Finally, place the points of the needles firmly against the sides of a Lucky and lift. That's all there is to it. A word of warning though: Try to be careful when shaking hands.

Dear Dr. Frood: In the four years I've been at this college I've done some pretty horrible things. I am around the home of Professor into and ashamed of the Board of Regents, and completely the same than

DEAR : You can if you send $500 in unmarked bills to Dr. Frood, Box 2990, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N. Y. If you don't, I'll print your letter without the little black lines.

Dear Dr. Frood: Don't you think it's wrong for a boy and girl to marry while they're still in school? Soc. Major DEAR SOC .: Yes, they should

THE HANDWRITING IS ON THE WALL, says Dr. Frood. Or, more exactly, on the blackboard. It's appearing on college blackboards everywhere: "College students smoke more Luckies than any other regular." Why is this statement showing up on college blackboards? Because I am paying agents to put it there. For you must remember that Luckies are the cigarette with taste—the emphatic toasted taste. Try a pack of Luckies today.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Product of The American Tobacco-Company - Tobacco is our middle name

Operetta Guild Completes Early 'Oklahoma!' Casting

Photo by Bruce Bonner Prof. Doric Alviani discusses the score of the Operetta Guild's Fall production "Oklahoma!" with cast members Jean Alden, Frank Mancuso, and Stuart Chase. The production is scheduled for Fall 1961.

The UMass Operetta Guild has recently announced the tentative casting of its fall production of Rodgers' and Hammerstein's 'Oklahoma!" Operetta Guild business manager Paul A. Cwiklik released the large cast list, which will appear in a later Collegian issue, after long hours of deliberation by the guild's executive board and its advisor, Prof. Alviani.

Prof. Alviani commented that it was "a difficult task" to choose from among so many talented candidates. Drawing from well over 80 applicants, the executive board cast 50 students in principal and ensemble roles and has yet to select a small dancing unit from approximately 35 prospects.

CLUB DIRECTORY

BALI-HAI FROSH MIX

ALI-HAI FROSH MIX Wanted: freshmen to sell tick-ets 10-4 each day from Wed., May 3 until May 12. See sign-up sheet by Lobby phone

CANTERBURY CLUB

A picnic and outing are planned for May 7 at 3 p.m. INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN

FELLOWSHIP
There will be a meeting on May 5 at 7 p.m. in the Barnstable Room of the S.U. Rev.
Walter Thorsen of M.I.T. will speak on "What is Faith?" Refreshments will follow in the Hampshire Room.

SOPH-FROSH TRACK MEET The Meet will be held May 7, 2-5 p.m. on Alumni Field.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Meeting Sun., May 7, at 7 p.m. at the Wesley Methodist Church. The Bishop's Company of Santa Barbara, California will present Rumer Godden's "An Episode of Sparrows". Everyone is welcome.

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- ★ TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a in August alone. Dealers average more than $10
- PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eligible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholarship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can win this year!
- EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of valuable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in vour own hometown.

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, Alpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON..DeLAND General Manager College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc.

WESTFIELD, MASS.

Blue Notes

by JIM E. MULCAHY

Police Reporter UMass police chief, Alexander "Red" Blasko, stated that the number of misplaced bicycles being picked up by his dept. and the maintenance dept. continues to grow. Because the students have failed to claim their bikes, the Chief has issued the follow-ing list of descriptions.

If any of the losses resemble the descriptions, contact the police dept. If these are claimed by their rightful owners, other lists will follow.

Boys' Bicycles

Boys' Bicycles
Red, J. C. Higgins with chrome wheels, generator on front fork, chrome light, hand brakes, gear shift, chrome pump. Special lock on rear wheel, front wheel locked, looks as though there are locked, looks as though there are two wire baskets on rear.

Red and White Custom Decal, wire basket on front, chrome fenders with a brown seat.

Red, J. C. Higgins, hand brakes, gear shift, rear fender with a plate on it. Chelmsford 2608

Dunelt, hand brakes, gear shift, rear carrier with a padlock on it. Black Royal Elgin, black grips well worn, chrome wheels, black hand pump, white painted tip on rear fender, red reflector with a

Newton plate 5671. Black Raleigh S Black Raleigh Sports, gear shift, light bracket and pump holder, pump missing.

Girls' Bicycles

Black, Sterling, hand brakes, gear shift, old light on front, two wire baskets on rear, torn tool kit, a heavy padlock and chain locked to rear basket. Wellesley plate no. 9475. Green and White Columbia, white-walled balloon tires, light on front fender with a large wire basket on front, Haverhill plate no. 4639.

Blue and Cream Raleigh Colt, hand brakes, gear shift, grey handle bars, blue and white seat, chrome pump.

Blue and White Weston Flyer, white wheels, wire basket on front, red horn, green grips.

Blue and White, old worn blue seat, red grips, no chain guard.

Blue Indian Princess, black bag on rear seat, chrome wheels, hand brakes great chift woven.

hand brakes, gear shift, woven basket on front.

Student Leaders . . . (Continued from page 1) then the Maroon Keys.

Who will they be? You can be sure that they will be the most outstanding all-round men and women at UMass.

Time: 7 p.m. Place: Cage.
Date? Next Wednesday,

May 10.

Advice? Be there early! SRO after 6:30 p.m.

Introducing

Kangaroo

Amherst's Trampoline Center

TRIANGLE STREET

In Back of Rowe's Garage

Opening, Sat., May 6 10:00 a.m. Saturdays

> 1:00 p.m. Sundays 3:00 p.m. Mon.-Fri.

Collegian Seeks 'M Page' Nominees For Last Issue

M' Pages

Nomination Blank

Return to COLLEGIAN Office before 5 p.m., Monday, May 15.

Who are the 12 Most Valuable Members of the Class of 1961? The Collegian Executive Board will attempt to determine this group for the annual "M Pages", which will be published Friday, May 19. To do this, the board needs YOUR help. Along with the 12 Most Valuable, four men will be selected as "The Senior Athletes of 1961". Here now, is your chance to nominate the 12 seniors who have done the most for UMass, and the four top senior athletes of

Remember, these are nominations—not votes, which the Col-legian Executive Board must have as a public opinion guide to

Using the "M Pages" nomina. tion blank above, nominate the two seniors, who, in your opinion, have done the most for UMass in their four years on campus. On the third line, nominate your choice for the top athlete of '61.

When you have completed the nomination blank, return it to the Collegian office anytime before 5 p.m. Monday, May 15. The board will consider only the names received up to 5 p.m. Monday, May 15.

From these names submitted, the 12 Most Valuable and the four top senior athletes will be selected.

UMass Debate Team Will Vie For Intercollegiate Honors

This Saturday, May 6, the de-bating society will hold its an-nual intercollegiate tournament. One round of debates will be held in the morning at 10:15 and two rounds of debates in the afternoon, one at 2:30 p.m. and the other at 3:45 p.m.

Teams from Amherst, Mt. Holyoke, Emerson, W.R.I., Middlebury, and Northeastern will be participating.

Students are needed for chairmen and timekeepers for each One round of debates will be held men and timekeepers for each debate. Anyone interested is asked to contact Clarence Angell in the Speech department at

Vigneault To Speak At State Seminar For Poli. Science

State Representative Dave Vig-neault of Springfield will be the guest speaker Saturday, May 6 at the annual State Government Seminar sponsored by the UMass Political Science Association.

Vigneault, representing Wards 2 and 8 of Springfield and a former UMass student, will address the association on "The University and the General Court"

The seminar will begin at 2:30 p.m. at the S.U., and is open to the general public.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: One tan trench coat with striped lining at the Quonset Club Tuesday afternoon. Please con-tact Debbie Wall, Leach House.

tact Debbie Wall, Leach House.
Lost: A red leather wallet in the vicinity of Machmer and the Libe, Tuesday morning. If found return to Virginia Blais, 410
Thatcher House.
Lost: Taken by mistake from the Library; reversible MacGregor jacket, one side tan, other checked. There is also a wallet in one pocket. John Urban. 417

mills House. Reward.

Lost: A silver circle pin, with cat's head; please return to Liz Bruno, 207 Thatcher.

Bartlett Hall.

The debates will be on legal cases and all of the debates are open to the student body and the public.

public.
The UMass champions were decided last week in the final run-offs. Jack Downey and run-offs. Jack Downey and Joseph Kielec, representing But-terfield House, were the winners.

Budgetary Powers . . . (Continued from page 1) field issued a statement today emphasizing their bill would do just that. "The bill would prevent the trustees education budgets from becoming subjected to see from becoming subjected to acafrom becoming subjected to acc-demic blackmail year after year, by threats, innuendo, suggestions, etc., that dire things will happen to educational budgets unless tuito educational budgets unless tui-tion rates are raised. The trus-tees can only run the institutions if they are truly free from poli-tical pressures of this kind." They called upon Governor Volpe to state his position on their bill.

Prof. Quint . . .
(Continued from page 1)
versity of Mexico.

Prof. Quint's publications include two books—The Forging of American Socialism (1953) and Profile in Black and White (1958), an analysis of the segregation problem in South Carolina.

As a member of the Francisco

As a member of the Executive Committee of the National Interuniversity Committee on the Superior Student, Quint has been long associated with work to improve opportunities for gifted students on the college level. As chairman of the Honors Council at UMass, he will attend a national conference of the Interuniversity Committee on the Superior Student, to be held at Boulder, Colorado, in June. As a member of the Executive

Rec Majors Sponsor

Rec Majors Sponsor . . . (Continued from page 1) mistakes and human errs have separated nations and peoples . . little can be done with the natural phenomenon but a man's love for his country and respect for another's can be reinforced through cultural interchange . ."

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS MASSACHUSETTS

VANCE PACKARD HERE IN S.U. 4 P.M. TUES. (See below)

VOL. XC NO. 75 5¢ PER COPY

MONDAY, MAY 8, 1961

Peabody To Highlight Former Honors Convocation

ENDICOTT PEABODY

Endicott Peabody, former Gov-Councillor, will be the main speaker at the UMass Honors Convocation to be held on Thursday, May 11. Peabody will speak on "The Place of Pub-lic Higher Education in Massa-

Dr. John W. Lederle announced oday that the Convocation is the institution's most important event prior to Commencement. Recognition will be given to all students who have achieved outstanding scholastic records and who have earned membership in academic

Pres. Lederle said that parents of students, alumni, and all other interested persons are invited to

Procession Begins Activities

Honors Day activities will begin with an academic procession at 10:55 a.m. The line of march will be from South College to Student Union Ballroom where the Convocation will begin at 11 a.m. Dr. Gilbert L. Woodside, acting provost, will be master of ceremonies. Presentation of honor students to the President will be made by Louis S. Greenbaum, assistant professor of his-tory and chairman of the Honors Council.

Peabody, who was a candidate or Governor of the Common-wealth in 1960, is a graduate of Harvard College and of Harvard Law School. A grandson of the late Rev. Endicott Peabody, founder of Groton School, he has served as a member of many public service committees and organ-

He has been assistant regional counsel, Office of Price Stabilization, and regional counsel and assistant director, Small Defense Plants Administration, Boston Regional Office.

Served On Governor's Council Elected to the Governor's Council in 1955, Peabody served for one year prior to becoming a (Continued on page 6)

Dem, GOP Chiefs Named UMass Professors

Meade Alcorn, former national chairman of the Republican Par-ty, and Neil Staebler, former ty, and Neil Staepier, former chairman of the Democratic Committee of Michigan, have been named Distinguished Professors of Public Affairs at UMass, was announced John W. Lederle. unced today by Pres.

The public affairs program, set up under the $85,000 grant from the Ford Foundation, has been undertaken as a means of stimulating student interest in local, state and national politics. One of the first of its kind in the United States, the professorship was established last year on a five-year basis in conjunction with the work of the department of government. Former U.S. senators, cabinet cabinet officers, congressmen, state governors and mayors are officers, among those asked to participate.

Each Teaches Seminar Appointments to the professorship are made on a semester bas-is. Each appointee offers a seminar in American politics for graduate students and selected junior and senior undergraduates. He is also available for informal participation in courses such as history, economics, sociology and others, depending puon his ex-perience and special interests.

students at the other Connecticut Valley colleges which, with UMass, comprise the Four College

Cooperation group,
Alcorn Was Active In Conn. Legislature

Alcorn, a native of Connecticut, served as Republican national chairman from 1957-59. Prior to his appointment to that post, he was a leading figure in state legislative activities. A member of the House of Representatives in the Connecticut General Assembly from 1937 to 1941, he became majority leader in 1939 and speaker of the House in 1941. His political activities have included posts as Republican town chairman of Suffield, Connecticut; member of the Republican state central committee; member, gen-eral counsel, and chairman of the Republican national committee; state chairman, Eisenhower-for-President committee; and chairman of the Connecticut delegation to the Republican national vention in 1956 and 1960. He has been a delegate to all Republican national conventions since 1940. A graduate of Dartmouth lege and Yale Law School, Alcorn is presently in law practice with a Hartford firm of which he is

Staebler Active Democrat

Since 1920's
Staebler's activities in the Democratic Party date back to the 1920's when he managed his father's successful campaigns for ma-(Continued on page 6)

Four College FM Radio Goes "On The Air" Today

WFCR, a cooperative, educational, FM radio station supported and operated by the Four Coltion with the Concert Network leges goes on the air with regular broadcasts today.

Will Cover East Coast

The station represents a major link in an educational radio network which is designed eventually to provide coverage of most of the East Coast of the United

The station, at 88.5 megacycles, is operated by the Western Massachusetts Broadcasting Council, an organization composed of representatives of Smith, Mount Holyoke and Amherst Colleges and UMass. Operating with a radiated power of 34,500 watts it will provide a clear signal within a radius of 50 miles from its transmitter on Mount Lincoln in Pelham, Mass. During tests earlier this spring the station's signal was reported as far south as Long

WFCR is affiliated with WGBH-FM, Boston educational radio station operated by the Lowell Institute Cooperative Broadcasting Council, an organization composed of 12 educational, cultural and charitable institutions in the Boston area. Initially the Boston station will provide most of the WFCR programs. Plans are being made, however, to originate part of WFCR programming from Western Massachusetts. Both WFCR and WGBH are so equipped that either station acn rebroadcast off the air programs originated by the other station. To Program WGBH, Boston

The Western Massachusetts station will broadcast the full WGBH schedule of programs WGBH schedule of programs from Monday to Friday beginning each day at 4 p.m. Weekend programs are scheduled to begin in the fall.

The programs include live and recorded broadcasts of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, discussions phonic FM concerts in conjunc-tion with the Concert Network, news commentary by Louis M. Lyons, curator of the Neiman Fellowships at Harvard, serious drama, reports and discussions on science and the arts, and a variety of other broadcasts.

Horace W. Hewlett, president of the Western Massachusetts Broadcasting Council, said "WF-CR is the result of the work and interest of many people in the Connecticut Valley. While it is now operated by the four colleges as part of their cooperative program, we expect to draw upon the cultural resources of other the cultural resources of other oganizations and institutions of Western Massachusetts. We consider this station an educational opportunity for everyone who hears it and hope to attract suggestions and criticisms for programming."

The formal opening of WFCR is scheduled at 8 p.m. Monday with a special program which in-cludes brief remarks by the presidents of the four colleges and a discussion of the cooperative ac-tivities in which the four institutions are engaged. This program will be followed by the regular stereophonic broadcast of the Boston Pops Orchestra. Concur-rently with the opening on the air the Western Massachusetts Broadcasting Council will be host at a reception for persons con-nected with the radio venture. To Transmit From Mt. Lincoln

The WFCR (Four College Radio) transmitter is located on Mount Lincoln and its tower, about 100 feet high, rises to approximately 1300 feet above sea level, a sufficient altitude to overcome interference from the hills to the south and east. In addition to the transmitter, the station owns specially tuned FM receiv-ing equipment which it will use

(Continued on page 6)

Famed Author Will Appear Tues. - 4 P.M.

VANCE PACKARD

VANCE PACKARD

Vance Packard, author of the eye-opening new book, The Waste Makers, now a bestseller in American book stores, will appear at UMass Tuesday, May 7, at 4 p.m. in the S.U. Ballroom.

Packard was recently queried.

Packard was recently queried by his publishers on his reaction to having penned a book which has turned into a national topic of discussion of discussion.

Concerning his books, Packard has stated, "In each of my books — The Hidden Persuaders, then the Status Seekers, and now The Waste Makers — I have sought to make a serious comment about the drift of American society under the impact of certain forces." der the impact of certain forces.

Intercollegiate Sing Delayed, But Worth Waiting For

-Photo by Audry Rayner Ricker College's Sonics Appearing at Sing

The Intercollegiate Sing was held Friday evening in the S.U.

There were several delays due to the late arrival of two of the ups. Howard Temkin, M.C., effectively held the audience by his groups. Howard Temkin, M.C., effectively need the audience by mis joke-telling.

After some delay, the "Trinity Pipes" arrived. They were well-worth waiting for and proved themselves the hit of the program.

Other groups participating were: the "Sonics", five male singers from Ricker College, the "Newtones", a group of twelve girls from Newton College of the Sacred Heart, the "Trinity Pipes" a group of nine male singers from Trinity College, the "Dirigos", nine girls from UMaine and the UMass "Statesmen."

The groups sung a wide variety of songs including spirituals, folk-songs, and their own special arrangements.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief

Editorial Editor News Editor: Assignments Sports Editor ss Manager News Editor: Make-Up Photography Editor

James J. Trelease '63 Joseph Bradley Ben Gordon '62 Howard Frisch '62 Beth Peterson '63 Lawrence Popple '63

Editorial Associate News Associate Feature Associate Sports Associate

Warren Richard '64 Pat Barclay '63 Jean Cann '63 Dave Willard '64

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of Marsh 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1984.

ded by the act of June 11, 1934.

ription price $4.00 per year; $2.50 per somester:

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass ber—Associated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

BALLAD OF CONSERVATISM

O I'm a college conservative A walk the line conservative A "nouveau-riche" conservative

And you'll not take my money from me No-No-No-Sirree, Sirree No, You'll not get my money from me. oney from me

For I'm a conserving conservative . barry goldwater conservative A coat and tie conservative
They laugh at me—those liberals
They scoff and scorn—those radicals But I ignore their "quibbericals" An immune to stones conservative
An oblivious to moans conservative
An unsusceptible to loans conservative And I'm opposed to the income tax And I'm against inheritance tax And Social Security's only for quacks I'm a "healthy wallet" conservative A "faith in conservatism" conservative An apathetically smug conservative.

A History 64 Bard

An "Anti-Discrimination" Housing List

What could have smeared the University of Massachusetts and left many scars on the campus and community has come and gone and the campus, instead of being maimed, is much the wiser and clearer because of it.

Being an institution of higher learning and with a tradition in practicing good international relations, our University has occasion to host and instruct more foreign students than the average school. But where there are differences in color and origin, the idea of "stranger" is usually prevalent. And within this small town, New England atmosphere we are even liable to find those who associate "enemy" with "stranger." Thus, when homeless and unknowing foreign students arrived in Amherst, the discrimination which they met left them not only embarrassed and left their image of America tarnished, but this discrimination also left us ashamed.

With a portfolio of past discriminatory experiences under its arm, a group of UMass students, faculty, and town religious leaders met recently with the purpose of avoiding such practices in the future. In past instances the University Housing office has offered a list of available off-campus lodgings although the administration never sanctioned the list as a policy of the school.

This same discrimination problem, as handled by the Boston University students and administration, turned into a dirty, hard hitting, long, drawnout in the mud battle that finally resulted in an official housing list for B.U. which excludes those addresses which discriminate. Our solution has come about with none of the agitation that might have been aroused.

As September 1961 draws near and with the probability that more students than ever will be living off-campus, it will be significant to see a clean-cut official housing list through which our University will be practicing and urging the adoption by others of the principles on which this school was founded.

And just as significant is the fact that Mr. Randolph from University Housing and members of the Student Body are working on this mutual problem TOGETHER and with success.

-J. T.

DENNIS: An Unusual Combination

When Dennis Twohig stepped down from the President's podium in the Student Senate last week, we had officially lost, not just the most outstanding leader this campus has seen all year, but also an honest and dedicated man. While this page has often been in opposition to Dennis' bills in the Senate, we have always respected the unusual combination of honesty and enthusiasm with leadership ability in our outgoing Senate President.

Whenever the letters of wrath and voices of dissent surrounded him, Dennis' sense of tolerance and his ability to take a punch were unmeasurable. And his insight into the problems of our administration molded two old opponents-South College and the Student Senate-into two components working successfully toward the same educational goals.

It is a student like Dennis Twohig who, after leading his fellow students toward excellence with honesty here, leads UMass to an honest and excellent reputation later.

Jo The Letters

Pride, Pacifism, and Principle

To the Editor:

Palter made an erroneous assertion in his reply Mr. Palter made an erroneous assertion in his reply to Mr. Trelease. He spoke of a contemporary philosophy in which "moral considerations are of no consequence in political actions," of a "political philosophy which negates moral considerations." But this cannot be true. The nation which would intervene for the cause of freedom, the nation which would risk existence for national principles and national pride is hardly negating "moral considerations." For indeed, to many political to many political to the principle of the princi ing "moral considerations"! For, indeed, to many political minds, including those in office today, staking life for national principle is the acme of morality. Kennedy's inaugural address declared that "we will pay any fight any battle" for the preservation of our na-ideals. Is this, Mr. Palter, "nihilistic"? Is this not on a most ardent nationalistic morality? non-pacifist is as warm about his ethical philosophy non-pacifist is as warm about his ethical philosophy as is the pacifist.

As for the validity of President Kennedy's statement, it is questionable. I would question his assertion, and those of Mr. Trelease on this point: are principles made for men, or men for principles? Principles can effectively fectively exist while we are still alive and kicking, while we can still formulate and attempt their imple-mentation even though enemy controlled. But to embrace the attitude that nuclear conflict is preferable to overrelinquishing national ideals is taking a colossal s. The holocaust could yield no victory. The tragger math could not inspire national pride, only anguish. Human life should not, and must not, be treated like surplus capital which can be spent for the abstractions of honor, etc. War is the supreme extravagance.

tions of honor, etc. War is the supreme extravagance. We were not made to serve our principles; we were made to be served by them. They are rendered less compelling when humanity is the pawn.

To lay down our arms is not to lay down our values. "Might is not right." To lay down countless lives is to lay down the value upon which all others are contingent. For there is no ultimatum so final, so irrevocable as the grave. And when the grave is not just that of one man or two, of one Christ or one Socrates, but the feasible grave of our species, can we ignore the odds? Can we still clutch our pride jealously and mouth the sentiments of victory, of honor, of dignity? There can be no victory, no honor, no dignity in mass homicide. There are no men less free than the dead.

-G. Reall

Pennant Predication Questioned

To the Editor: I should like to take issue with Dave Willard over his prediction of the results of the 1961 National League pennant race. Perhaps it would be best if I emphasize what I hant race, Pernaps it would be best if I emphasize what I believe are gross errors as they occur in his article. (My arguments are directed to Mr. Willard.)

First, I don't believe you are justified in saying that Al Dark "knows how to handle such would-be problems as Cepeda and McCovey." Al Dark has never managed any major league team of whatever temperament. There is absolutely no assurance that he could sit on the keg of dynamite that the Giants are with no recurrence of the dynamite that the Giants are with no recurrence of the problems that have cost the Giants many a game. Second, it seems to me that in picking a pennant winner in any league, it is necessary to at least look at the situation in the bullpen. A look in this extremely important department (relief pitching) reveals that the Giants certainly lack what it takes to become pennant winners.

certainly lack what it takes to become pennant winners. Third, I think you are unjustified in saying, in reference to the Pittsburgh Pirates, that "we don't think they can do it twice in a row." Certainly your argument that "they have stayed with virtually the same team with the addition of Bobby Shantz..." leaves much to be desired towards being convincing. It seems rather senseless to me that the Pirate-front office should spend the winter merrily trading the very players that have just won Pittsburgh its first world championship in over thirty years. Fourth I don't know where you get the idea that the Milwaukee Braves' batting order consists of Eddie Matthews, Henry Aaron, and nothing else. The Braves have on their roster such players as Del Crandall and Joe Adcock.

Fifth, Johnny Temple plays for the Cleveland Indians, not for Milwaukee. If he were playing for Milwaukee, he would be a tremendous asset, however. Perhaps you are confusing Roy McMillan with Temple. They once played for the same team.

Sixth, I don't think you can, in referring to the St.

Louis Cardinals, say "with no hitting to speak of, save for Ken Boyer and Bob Nieman . . ." Nieman appeared at the plate less than 200 times in 1960, knocking in a resounding 31 runs. Certainly Bill White and Joe Cunningham deserve mention before Nieman.

As you might have gathered by this time, I seem to As you might have gathered by this time, I seem to be saying nothing concerning my feelings concerning the National League race. My main purpose in writing this letter was to point out what I believe are logical inconsistencies. I certainly respect your right to give opinions on any subject, but, in this case, it seems to me that these opinions should be justified. Justifications, I sincerely believe Mr. Willard, are woefully lacking in your article. opinions should be justified. Justifications, I sincerely b lieve, Mr. Willard, are woefully lacking in your article. I eagerly await your American League predictions.

Barclay Megathlin '64

Lacrosse Needs Recognition

To the Editor:

For three years I have been a member of the Varsity Lacrosse team here at UMass. At present our team is leading all the New England teams in our conference.

The fact that there are no scholarships given in lacrosse proves that everyone who participates does so for the love of the game. Isn't it true that people take part in athletics because of the satisfaction and recognition received.

We have on our team a potential All-American in Dick Hoss. How many All-American players have we had in the past in any sport?

Lastly, and most important, I believe that some recognition should be given to our coach Dick Garber, who has spent endless hours teaching us the game. This is a great sacrifice on his part, because there is not a person on our team that has ever played Lacrosse before coming to the University.

I think that it is a shame when we receive such little recognition and publicity and as a result, must take a back seat to just about every other activity on the campus. It seems that the only time we get any recognition is when the newspaper needs a spare column to fill the sports page. I'm sure that the students on the campus would enjoy reading about a potential championship team and also know when we are playing, and whom we are playing against.

A Snake-Beater

AFROTC Wing Staff Plans Forthcoming Spring Review

—Photo by Pete Hefler
AFROTC Wing Staff, Spring Semester 1961. Left to right, seated: Lt. Col. Francis M. Madden, Deputy Wing Commander; Lt.
Col. James A. Corsi, Wing Inspector; Col. David U. Burke, Wing Commander; Lt. Col. Neil B. Reilly, Wing Administrative Officer; and Lt. Col. Guenther H. Ressel, Wing Operations Officer. Standing, in the same order; Major James K. Lavin, Wing Personnel Officer; Capt. John D. Pomfret, Information Officer; and Capt. John D. Hoden, Wing Material Officer.

for the annual Spring Review and Ceremony, are the members of the AFROTC Cadet Wing Staff year. for the 1961 Spring Semester. The joint Air Force-Army Review will be held on Thursday, May 11, commencing at 2:00 p.m. and will be open to the public. As a part of the ceremonies, awards will be presented to out-

Shown above, completing plans standing Cadets of both the Air and Armored units for their eremony, are the members of achievements during the past

Miss Carol Guerette, 1961 Hon-orary AFROTC Cadet Col., chosen as the Military Ball Queen, will preside over the function.

Music for the ceremony will be provided by the joint Air Force-Army Band.

Sec. White To Address Swap Talk

Jim Earley of the SWAP executive committee, has announced Kevin H. White, Secretary of State of the Commonwealth will attend this year's annual SWAP

This year's keynote speaker will be UMass president, John W. Lederle. White, it was announced, will also address the delegates.

The SWAP conference is scheduled for May 12, 13, and 14, at the Oak 'n Spruce. The cost is $22 per delegate, and all campus organizations are invited to send representatives. All groups are asked to contact Miss Linda Achenbach, chairman, at the Senate Office or at Johnson House.

LOST & FOUND

Lost: White trench coat with check book in pocket and red plaid lining. Lost in Campus Room, April 26; I have yours. Contact Richard L. Blair, 324

Lost: Somewhere between Johnson and the S.U. Thursday a silver bracelet. Please return to Gail Risso, Johnson House.

Lost: From infirmary out-patient office a week ago, a silver multi-colored mechanical pencil.
Please return to Infirmary Office.
Lost: AFROTC raincoat, gloves in pockets, lost at Commons Sun-day. Jay Marlin, 318 Mills.

Summer Students To Enjoy Varied Recreation Program

by IRVING JOHNSON,
For students attending summer school at UMass an interesting and varied recreation program has been announced by Clarence B. Shelnutt, Program Coordinator in the S.U. Activities office. The in the S.U. Activities office. The program will include: theater productions, picnics, foreign speakers, professional entertainment and indoor and outdoor sports.

and indoor and outdoor sports.

Three theater productions have been scheduled for the summer at the following places: The Valley Playhouse, The Storrowton Music Theater and The Berkshire Music Barn. Tickets to the productions will be free but students will have to provide their own transportation.

The foreign speakers and groups on campus will provide an

On one occasion during each summer session there will be professional entertainment.

There will be swiminmg, tennis, badminton, ping pong and bowling. A dorm league will be organized for softball.

On various weekends during the summer the Amherst College Music school will put on concerts for students and their parents.

In addition to the regular summer program Mr. Shelnutt said he would be very glad to coor-dinate any other activities for student groups.

Naiad Performance Hailed Success At Open House of Open House ber followed by Fashion Models

The success of Open House Weekend was heightened by three afternoon performances of "Rich man, poor man . . ." given by the UMass Naiads. Countless hours spent in rehearsal by the group paid off in a truly outstanding production which drew well deserved praise for showmanship and aquatic skill.

The Junior Naiads began the show with a snappy military num-presenting a routine featuring the evolution of bathing suits.

Mathematicians were next on the program, and with neat, light strokes they executed a full range of geometrical figures.

A rousing "football" game, complete with T-formation and pre-game warmup proved very popular with the audience as did the antics of the Firemen who paddled bravely to the rescue of their unfortunate victim, stranded on a "burning roof."

Peppy secretaries, diligently pounding typewriters and gaily flirting with their boss were also a delight to those attending the Theologians, combining swimming skill with the striking ef-fects of pool lighting added even deeper beauty to the production.

Exhibitions of especially su-perb swimming ability were given by the Artists and the Thieves in their respective numbers. These routines in particular called for perfection of highly complex and extremely difficult underwater maneuvering plus flawless timing.

Recently the Naiads elected ofrecently the Nalads elected of-ficers for the coming year. They include: Rusty Henderson '62, President; Judy Williams '62, Secretary-Treasurer.

Gretchen Shultis '63, Jr. Naiad Manager; and Carole Marsden '63 and Barbara Quay '64, Publicity Managers. Those who served as officers for the 1960-61 season are: Toni McCune '61, President; Elizabeth Van Epen '61, Secretary-Treasurer; Maren Simonds '61, Jr. Naiad Manager; and Marcia Frost '62, Publicity Manager.

FILTER-BLEND gives you the real flavor you want in a cigarette. Rich golden tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking - that's Filter-Blend.

WINSTON TASTES GOOD like a cigarette should!

Umass Track Teams Come Through With Smashing Win In Tri-Meet With Tufts, N.U.

The UMass track team came through brilliantly Saturday when they defeated both Tufts and Northeastern in a triangular meet at Alumni Field. Two psychological factors were going for the Redmen; they wanted to avenge their indoor loss to Northeastern and they were angered by their poor showing against UConn. In all, eight men improved their best career marks in nine events, indicating how much effort was put forth for this one. The big double victory set their record at 3-1 for the Spring, as the score rung in at UMass 67, Tufts 491/2, and NU 481/2.

FLAGG COMES THROUGH

Loren Flagg had two clutch performances when he outsprinted Tufts' Larry Smith in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. "Loppy" won the latter race by 15 yards in 22.6 seconds and had a 10.1 century win over a 10 second man who had beaten him on several previous occasions. Jim Reilly had one good effort all day, but it was a great one. He hit 22 feet even for the first time in his broad jump victory, and when Al Garsys got the second at 21'91/2", the two Boston track powers realized how rough the Redmen would UMass took two, three, and four in the 440 as Ron Young, Jack Harrington, and Ken O'Brien recorded their best times of 51.5. 52.0, and 52.1. Young lost the race by just one-tenth of a second. O'Brien came back to record another best effort of 1:58.8 in winning the 880, with Bob Avery doing likewise in 2:00.2 for fourth.

NOW! WE'VE GOT

FAMOUS BRAND

EASY-TO-ERASE

AT THE LOWEST

PRICE YET!

TYPEWRITER PAPER

N.U.'s Chico Parillo pulled off a double victory in the mile and two mile, just nipping Dave Balch in the mile, 4:26.5 to 4:27.9, a career low time for Balch, Ralph Buschmann and Dick Blomstrom finished behind Dave in the two mile for places two, three, and four, and six points to offset Parillo's five for first.

Charlie LaPier broke up the Tufts-NU monopoly in the high hurdles when he pulled in second behind the Jumbo's Dave Thompson and ahead of Banks and Lytle of the Huskies. It was Banks, Lytle, Thompson, and LaPier in that order in the lows

Lee Munson hit his steady 11 feet in the pole vault as he tied NU's 12-footer, Frank Lynch, with three Jumbos tying for first. This also served to keep strong Northeastern's score down and the weaker Tufts squad's total fused Dick Ward a new pair of shoes to replace his battered set, he borrowed a pair from NU's Will Anderson, a high school mate, and proceeded to tie his rival for the second time this year at 6' 1/4". Anderson has done 6'5" but can't beat his old team-

WARD JUMPS-THROWS

Ward was up against three of New England's best hammer throwers and came out second at 152'9". This marked the third time this year he has come up with his best effort on his last throw, the sign of a real competitor. NU's Joe Donahue won it with 159'2" although he has done with 159'2" although he has done 170', and Tufts' 175-footer, Carl Peterson, and the Huskies' Lidback were over 150' in the third and fourth spots. The Jumbos' Earle Beasley couldn't stay in the circle with his 175' tosses. but was at his tops in the shot-put, setting an Alumni Field record at a winning 52 feet. Heckler of Tufts won the discus with Beasley second, Anderson of NU third, and UM's Charlie Romeo

Charlie Fohlin won the javelin Charlie Fohlin won the javelin with 172'6" and Hank Kelsey improved to 168' for second place. Jim Ballou had "foulitis" but was out to 195' while stepping over the line just one inch. George Giddings' shotputting continued to improve to 43'7 1/4" and he was in second place ahead of NU's Buzz Krastin who had beaten George this winter. George this winter.

FROSH BREAK 100

The UMass Freshmen were much too powerful for the Tufts' frosh, as their winning score in this dual meet mounted to 105 2/3 -29 1/3. This is believed to be a frosh scoring record. Of the 15 events contested, only the hammer fell to the baby Jumbos, although the Redmen were without injured Fred Lewis and Bruce

Bob Brouillet picked off Dave Balch's freshman mile mark by two-tenths of a second with 4:33.7 and loafed through a 10:13.2 two mile, lowering his own recent record there. Phil Danforth ran a very fast 440 to lower the frosh record to 50.5 seconds, only 0.3 seconds over the varsity standard. He was again a double winner as he also captured the 220.

Other twin victors were Jim Lumley in the high and low hur-dles, and Dave Collingwood in the high jump and discus. Each man also had seconds, Lumley in the pole vault and "Colly" hammer, so each had 13 points.

The frosh can now count seven cross-country, three indoor, and two outdoor track victories in a fabulous undefeated year.

Wednesday at 3 P.M. on Alum-ni Field, the varsity and fresh-men squads meet Holy Cross, their strongest rival this year.

Netmen Defeat N.H. For 3-0 YanCon Slate

The varsity tennis squad swept to its sixth victory of the season Saturday as it stopped the New Hampshire netmen, 6-3, in Dur-ham. Coach Kosakowski's crew has lost only one match this year, and stands 3-0 in Conference play, having previously defeated UConn and Rhode Island.

Number one man Sid Poritz was defeated by last year's Yan-Con singles champion Roger Magenau in a match that was closer than the score indicates.

In the fourth spot Bill Thompson suffered his first loss of the year, while Tom Simons continued to win at number five posi-

Paul Edelstein, a sophomore, starting in only his second match of the year, came through in the sixth slot to defeat his Wildcat opponent convincingly. The excellent play of sophomores Simons and Edelstein holds promises for the future of the Redmen, as their in June.

The next match for the netmen will be against Tufts here tomorrow at 2:00. Then this weekend UMass will host the Yankee Conference Tennis Tournament.

SINGLES

SINGLES

6-4, 6-2,

Rubin (UM) over Weinberg (NH),
6-4, 4-6,

-4, 4-6, 6-0,

Thomas (UM) over Dibbons (UH),
6-2, 6-1,

Hicks (NH) over Thompson (UM),
6-3, 6-2,

Simons (UM) over Chase (NH), 6-2, 6-0.

Edelstein (UM) over Reilly (NH), 6-4, 6-1.

6-4, 6-1. DOUBLES

1. Magenau and Weinberg (NH) over Poriz and Howarth (UM), 10-8, 9-7.
2. Rubin and Thomas (UM) over Dibbons and Hicks (NH), 2-6, 6-0, 6-3.
3. Thompson and Simons (UM) over Chase and Reilly (NH), 6-0, 6-1.

Frosh Nine Split Pair In First Loss, But Bats Still Hot

by DAVE WILLARD '64

This weekend the UMass freshmen baseball squad gained a split of two games, beating Springfield 7-3 and being nosed out by Worcester Academy 8-7.

Friday afternoon the boys won their fifth straight at Springfield.

It was a close contest until the inning when the Redmen broke loose for four big runs to put the game on ice. Slomski singled to open the inning and Awdycki and Lewis reached on fielder's choices to jam the sacks. One run scored when reached on an error. Meunier singled in the second and then Curtiss struck the big blow, a triple to account for the last two of the inning.

This was all winning pitcher John Mastone needed as he allowed only one hit the rest of the way after relieving starter Mike Johnson in the fifth.

The big guns for UMass that propelled them to their margin of victory were Lewis, Kazukonis, Mennier and Curtiss, each collecting two hits.

Saturday turned out to be a different story however, in a makeup contest of a previously rained out affair at Worcester.

The game turned out to be a real slugfest, won in the tenth inning on a fluke play.

Trailing by two runs in the top of the ninth, UMass came through with two runs to go ahead. With two outs, two on, and one run behind, third base-man John Earle stepped up to the plate and delivered a clutch triple to put his team out in front.

The Academymen managed to

The Academynen managed to push across the tying run in the bottom of the inning however and pulled it out in the tenth. They scored the deciding marker when UMass was trying to complete a double play via pitcher to home to first. They had the misfortune of seeing the ball hit the runner going to first in the back as the winning run was seeing. winning run was scoring.

The losing pitcher was Bavosi, but Farrell, Mastone, and Poirier were also used. Although UMass outhit Worcester 14-13, the latter made their hits count, as their as their total included four doubles and three triples. They were also aided by eight bases on balls.

In losing their first game of season the Frosh still hit. Both John Awdycki and Earle had three hits, Bavosi and Poirier had two hits apiece as

This coming week the Redmen have three home games in a row on Wednesday, Friday, and Satur-day against Leicester Jr. College AIC, and UConn respectively..

SPORTS SCHEDULE week of May 7 VARSITY BASEBALL

May 10 Rhode Island A 3:30 May 12 Vermont A 8:00 May 13 Vermont A 1:00

VARSITY TENNIS

VARSITY GOLF

May 9 B.C. & N.H.

Durham, N.H. 1:00

VARSITY TRACK May 9 Holy Cross A 3:30 May 13 Yankee Conf.

VARSITY LACROSSE
May 13 Middlebury H 2:0
FRESHMAN BASEBALL

May 8 Amherst A 3:30
May 10 Leicester Jr. H 3:00
May 13 Connecticut H 2:00
FRESHMAN LACROSSE

May 10 Nichols Col. A 2:45 May 13 New Hamp. A 2:00

Kingston, R.I. 10:00

Tufts May 12, 13 Yankee Conf.

May 12, 13 N.E.I.G.A.

H 2:00

e 10:30

H 2:00

Mass. 10:00

Brandeis University SUMMER SCHOOL

1961 SESSION JUNE 26 - AUGUST 4

- Coeducational
- Credit Transferable
- For Graduate and
- Undergraduate Students

Language Workshop

FRENCH - First, Second & Third Year

GERMAN - First Year

RUSSIAN - First Year

SPANISH - Second Year

- Intensive SIX Week SIX Credit Course
- Full Year's Work
- Langauge Laboratory

Art Institute

Workshop in Painting-History of Art:

- 1. Modern Painting & Sculpture in the United States.
- 2. Pre-Columbian Art and recent Latin American Art.

For Further Information write: Brandeis University, Summer School, Waltham 54, Mass.

Now at a new, money-saving low price, we have fine quality Eagle-A Type-Erase — the paper that's famous for cleaner, faster typing and easy erasability. At the touch of a pencil eraser, typing errors "wipe" right off the surface of Type-Erase, leaving no mark. Saves time . . . makes your work neater. Comes in a budget-priced pack of 100 sheets, 8½" x 11", in medium or heavy weight, plain or 3-hole punched. Free with every pack — a Letter Placement Guide to help you type neater letters and reports. EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE

... the paper that erases perfectly with a pencil eraser

Made by American Writing Paper Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., manufacturer of Eagle-A Boxed Typewriter Papers

University Store

UMass Golf Club Captures YanCon Title; Threat To N.E. by W. JOHN LENNON The University of Massachusetts golfers stamped themselves been relieved of snow, and a few been relieved of snow, and a few of the greener wave will without the states were accustomed to them. The seven Redmen, who trudged the greener wave will without the states were accustomed to them.

The University of Massachusetts golfers stamped themselves as a definite threat for the New Englands Friday when they won the Yankee Conference championship at the Penobscot Valley Country Club in Orono, Maine.

Since spring is just beginning to trip into the north country, the six team event was staged under extremely difficult conditions.

by W. JOHN LENNON
Many of the fairways had just been relieved of snow, and a few of the greens were still without adequate grass cover. To complicate matters, the young collegians had to contend with a cold, biting wind which raked the playing area throughout the day.

All the players, however, were

All the players, however, were victims of the elements, although the boys from the more northerly states were accustomed to them. The seven Redmen, who trudged over the 36 holes, recorded scores which were about eight strokes over their season averages which lie in the mid 70's for the 18 holes.

Co-captain Mike Megliola led his mates to the five stroke victory over runner-up, UConn. The left-handed senior compiled an 83, 81-164 card. The other UM individual scores were as follows: Pete Hatfield 80, 87-167; Dan Pierre 79, 88-167; Bill Marshall 85, 82-167; John Donasky 85, 85-170; and Barry Schmoyer 83, 87-170.

Since the lowest six scores of each team were totalled to determine the champs, Bob Dion's card was not included.

Following the Redmen were the Huskies of UConn-1010; UNH-1013; URI-1026; Maine-1082; and Vermont-1122.

Vermont-1122, Maine-1082; and Vermont-1122.

This was the first year that the Yankee Conference was not held in conjunction with the New Englands. It also marked the second title for the Redmen since the tourney was initiated in 1948.

Next weekend the local golfers will attempt to annex greater glories when they journey to Providence for the New Englands. Before this, however, Coach Gladchuck's boys place their string of 13 consecutive victories in match play on the line when they tangle with Boston College and UNH Tuesday on the Wildcat's home course.

Two approaches to the "man's deodorant" problem

If a man doesn't mind shaving under his arms, he will probably find a woman's roll-on satisfactory. Most men, however, find it simpler and surer to use Mennen Spray Deodorant. Mennen Spray was made to get through to the skin, where perspiration starts. And made to work all day. More men use Mennen Spray than any other deodorant. How about you?

64¢ and $1.00 plus tax

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- ★ TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10 net profit per party.
- ★ PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- ★ SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eligible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholarship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can win this year!
- ★ EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of valuable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- ★ NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in your own hometown.

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, ALpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON..DeLAND General Manager College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc.

WESTFIELD, MASS.

with Boston College and UNH Tuesday on the Wildcat's home course. Snakebeaters Lose First 6-5, Swamp W.P.I.

After losing their first outing in six tries 6-5 to Brown University at Providence, last Wednesday, the UMass snakebeaters came back in great fashion in their seventh attempt to blank the Worcester Polytechnical Institute team 11-0, Saturday on the UMass campus

the UMass campus.

The squad, led by Coach Dick Garber, was without the services of Dick Hoss in the WPI victory. Dick, who scored a total of 37 goals for the snakebeaters last season, more than any mid-fielder in the nation, suffered a bad charley horse in the Brown clash, but should be back in action either against Holy Cross, today, or Middlebury at home, Friday.

The Redmen were paced to their 11-0 victory by Bob Glew, who came through with two goals and six assists. Armand Caraviello and Mike Chretian each had three goals apiece, Bob Gibley and Gordie Wallace tallied for two and one goals respectively.

The Garbers have lived up to all expectations, having the finest season in their seven year history at UMass, and the Brown squad, which edged the Massmen last week, deserves all the more credit for that victory. Lacrosse is not an organized sport on the Brown campus. That is, it is not supported by the University. Thus, a group of players, forming their own club, obtaining their own coach, and beating some of the finest teams in the East are doing quite well for themselves.

CLOSE AT TOP
NEW YORK (UPI) — Bill
Terry of the New York Giants and Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees had almost identical life-time batting averages.

Redmen Snap Out Of Slump; Wennik Spins Three Hit, 6-0 Shutout

The UMass baseball squad bounced right back into Yankee Conference contention by defeating New Hampshire, Saturday, 6-0 at Durham. Paul Wennik hurled a brilliant three hitter for the Lordens, chalking up his third victory of the season with no defeats.

After giving up three runs in the last of the ninth to a spunky Tufts team, last Thursday, for their second loss of the season, this Yankee Conference victory looks pretty good on the record.

looks pretty good on the record.

A five run outburst in their half of the fifth inning gave the Mass squad all the insurance runs they needed behind Wennik's superb pitching performance, but a first inning run was actually all that was necessary to beat the Wildcats. The first inning tally came when Pete Larkin was hit by a pitch, was sacrificed to second and came in on Frank Pisiewski's safety.

siewski's safety.

Wennik began the fifth inning explosion when he reached on a walk. Ed Forbush sliced out a single and Wennik came in on an error for the second UMass run of the game. Forbush crossed the plate when Paul Foley lined out another bingle. Bobo Roland walked to load the bases for the Lordens, and Bob Hughes and Tony Willians each clobbered the New Hampshire pitcher, Hughes driving one run across, and Williams notching two RBI's.

Wennik had a no hitter going for him until Howie Haselton of the Wildcats connected for a single in the seventh. Haselton and Tom Parr both singled in the ninth, but a pinpoint throw to the plate by Bob Hughes cut down Parr and preserved the UMass southpaw's shutout.

POP UPS

While the Redmen were trouncing New Hampshire, the UConn squad was in the process of losing its first YanCon game at the hands of Vermont, 4-3. The Huskies had defeated the Vermont squad in their previous game, 7-2. This puts UMass back in the battle, the Redmen record now being 2-1-1 in conference play, and Connecticut hanging on to a 5-1 slate . . The Lordens will travel to Vermont for a two day stand May 12, 13, and will visit Rhode Island Wednesday.

BOB HUGHES

Studies at New York University show that when a person is extremely preoccupied with his clothing and general grooming, it indicates emotional maladjustment.

PAUL WENNIK

UMASS	ab		h
Larkin, 2	4	0	11	rbi
Forbush, 1	4	2	1	0
Pisiewski, s	5	4	1	0
Foley, If	4	1	1	1
Roland, rf	4	1	2	1
Delvecchio, rf,	2	1	0	0
Durch of		0	1	0
Bush, rf,	1	0	0	0
Hughes, cf	5	0	3	1
Williams, 3	5	0	1	2
Krukonis, e	4	0	0	0
Wennik, p	2	0	1	0
	-	-	-
Totals	37	6	11	5
NEW HAMPSHIRE		-
Manzi, cf	3	0	Ò	0
Stewart, cf	2	0	0	0
Joslin, s	4	ő	0	0
Wotton, 8	9	0	0	0
Parr. 1	4	0	1	0
Cramer, If	3	0	0	0
Haselton, 2	4	0
Luine -	4	0	2	0
Flint, c	2			0
Lard, e	1.	0	0	0
Soule, p	1	0	0	0
Nodlinger, p	2	0	0	0
Foirer, p	0	0	0	0
	-	-	-	-

YanConTrack Meet Coming

Several records are in jeopardy and the University of Rhode Island faces stiff competition from Massachusetts, Maine and Connecticut in team competition when the 14th annual Yankee Conference track and field championships are held Saturday at Kingston, R.I. The Rams, defending champions, will be seeking their 13th title in the 14 years the championships have been held.

The two marks most likely to fall are in the 440-yard run and the javelin. The 440 mark of 49.1 seconds, set by Vin McAloon of Rhode Island last year, will be given a stiff test by Pete MacPhee University of Maine sophomore, who has bettered that time consistently all spring. Reid Crawshaw of Connecticut, who holds the conference record with a toss of 212 feet, 3 inches, did better than 215 feet in a dual meet with Rhode Island at Kingston a few weeks back.

Seven individuals, two of them double winners, will defend titles they won a year ago. In addition to Crawshaw, they are Carl Lisa of Rnode Island in the 100-yard dash; Wil Spencer of Maine in the 880; Mike Kimball of Maine in the mile and two mile; Ed Harrison of Connecticut, high jump; Al Torgan of Rhode Island, discus and shot, and Terry Horne of Maine, hammer.

Houk's Record

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ralph Houk, New York Yankee manager(appeared in 91 games as a major leaguer and had a lifetime batting average of .272.

Informality Keynotes Spring Pops Concert

The University of Massachusetts Concert Band will present its annual Pops Concert at 7 p.m. May 14, 1961, on the terrace of the Student Union.

This outdoor concert is pre-sented for the enjoyment of both the listeners and the participants. For the Band members the con-cert will be a memoralbe one. Since it is outdoors, the atmosphere will be more relaxed than at a formal concert. Moreover, the regular band uniforms will not be worn. This concert will be particularly memorable for the senior Band members who will be participating for the last time.

eeeeeeeee

EVERY COLLEGE STUDENT needs this book

to increase his ability to learn

An understanding of the truth contained in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy can remove the pressure which concerns today's college student upon whom increasing de-mands are being made for academic excellence.

Christian Science calms fear and gives to the student the full assurance he needs in order to learn easily and to evaluate what he has learned. It teaches that God is man's Mind-his only Mind-from which emanates all the intelligence he needs, when and as he needs it. Science and Health, the textbook of Christian Science, may be read or examined, together with the Bible, in an atmosphere of quiet and peace, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Information about Science and Health may also be obtained on campus through the able for the audience also. The numbers were selected to please the musical tastes of almost ev-eryone. While listening to this light music, the audience can sit anywhere around the terface. The evening will be a time to renew old acquaintances as the year

Christian Science Organization at

UNIV. OF MASS. Meeting Time WED., 6:30 P.M. Meeting Place OLD CHAPEL

The University of Massachu-setts Concert Band has been wide-ly acclaimed for its performances both on campus and on tour. It is under the direction of Professor Joseph Contino, who has been at UMass for eleven years.

For those who have not yet heard this band, the Pops Concert will be a novel and enjoyable experience. Those who are already familiar with its work will find that the Pops Concert is one of most memorable concerts by the UMass Concert the most be presented in the Student Union Ballroom. Admission is free.

Young Democrats Sponsor Speakers Tues. Night At 8

Under the auspices of the Young Democrats Club, Murry Levin and James Burns will speak on campus Tuesday evening. Levin, a professor at Boston University, is author of The Alienated Voter. Tuesday he will discuss the last Massachusetts gubernatorial race.

Burns, a nationally known political scientist from Williams College, has written a biography of President Kennedy. Burns will speak about COD, Committee of Organized Democrats, a new movement in Massachusetts to reorganize the Democratic party.

The program is scheduled for Tuesday, May 9, at 8 p.m. in the Student Union. All are welcome.

WFCR . .

(Continued from page 1) to receive the WGBH signal as well as the signal of the 10-watt transmitters of undergraduate ra-dio stations at UMass, Amherst College and Mount Holyoke College. The student stations will help in originating broadcasts from the four area colleges. These broadcasts will include discus-sions, broadcasts of lectures, concerts and other events.

The opening of WFCR represents the third link in the pro-jected Educational Radio Netjected Educational Radio Net-work. In addition to WGBH, the network also includes WAMC, the FM station of Albany Medical College which carries many WGBH programs. Plans are now in progress to add additional sta-

> APT. FOR RENT for SUMMER STUDENTS Reasonable Rates Contact Barry at AL. 6-6059

Republicans Present State G.O.P. Officer

The Young Republican Clubs of the Four Colleges will be host to Phillip K. Allen at the UMass S.U. Tuesday night at 8:00 p.m.

Allen, Chairman of the Massa-Allen, Chairman of the Massa-chusetts Republican State Com-mittee, will address the Clubs and the public on the subject, "The New Republican Party." He will outline his program for the re-building of the Republican Party in Massachusetts.

Allen was Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Information in the Eisenhower Adminis-tration, and he was the Appointments Secretary for Gov. John Volpe until his recent election to the State Committee Chairman-

Allen was a leader of the "Young Turk" movement in the Republican Party last year. His object was to infuse the Party with vigorous young leadership and a new program. His recent election is the fruition of the

The program tomorrow night marks the beginning of a new era of cooperation for the Four College Young Republican Clubs. They will work to attract dynamic speakers like Allen to the Colleges.

The public is cordially invited to the meeting tomorrow night.

Service Fraternity Donates Time To Children's Camp

by DICK HAYNES '64
About twenty members of APO, the men's national service fraternity, and WSO, the women's service organization, spent the weekend working at Camp Forest Lake in Winchester, New Hampshire. The camp sorves as a sumshire. The camp serves as a sum mertime refuge for hundreds of underprivileged New York children. Since the camp was founded in 1942, over 10,000 student volunteers have worked there to prepare the camp for the sum-

Founded by Robinson

The camp had its start nineteen years ago when Dr. James H. Robinson, pastor of the Church of the Master, took issue with the opsided newspaper stories of Harlem. An article he wrote attracted the interest of a couple in Winchester who gave him as a camp site a 400 acre farm. Since that time, weekend work-camps attended by thousands of college students have converted the farm into a fully equipped camp.

Robinson, besides his duties at the camp, is a vice-president in President Kennedy's Peace Corps. tions to provide greater coverage in southern New England, the New York area and, ultimately, the area surrounding Washington, D.C. and the Southern States.

Program guides are now being prepared and can be secured be-ginning the week of May 8 by writing to WFCR, Box 611, Am-

Index Distribution Date Changed To May 15

- Photo by Dick Forman The new Index staff prepares to take over for production of the 1962 Index. Here standing are, left; Ann Huska, co-managing editor, Carol Castellanos, co-managing editor; seated, left, Dave Casey, business manager and Ed Rodriguez, editor-in-chief.

For the first time in many years, the UMass yearbook, Index, will be produced by a fully experienced staff, according to this year's outgoing editor, Hugh Calkin.

The newly selected staff, all with at least a year's experience, include: Ed Rodriguez, Editor-in-Chief and Co-Editor of this year's "Student Life" section; Ann Huska, Co-Managing Editor and Editor of "Organizations" for the '61 edition of the Index.

Also Carol Castellanos, CoManaging Editor was Copy Editor for '61. Dave Casey will move in as Business Manager.

The new system for Index staff rie new system for index stait selections is seen as an "incentive" move. Calkin stated, "If people are really interested in working on the Index, they have a good chance of becoming editorin chief."

Calkin also announced the '61 Index will be distributed Monday May 15, not as noted on the card received at pre-registration. The yearbook will be distributed at Memorial Hall.

CLUB DIRECTORY

A.S.C.E.

There will be a picnic May 9 in Groff Park from 1-5 p.m. freshments. Tickets are $.75. There will be a meeting Wed., May 10 in the Worcester Room of the S.U. at 8 p.m. A lecture will be given by Vemri Mills on Engineering Employment with the Soil Conservation Department."

BALI-HAI FROSH MIX

Wanted: freshmen to sell tickets 10-4 each day from Wed.,

May 3 until May 12. See sign up sheet by Lobby phone

FLYING CLUB

There will be a business meeting Tues., May 9 at 8 p.m. in the Franklin Room of the S.U.

WOMEN'S SERVICE

ORGANIZATION There will be a very important business meeting Mon., May 8 at 6:30 in the S.U. All members please be present.

vited to the work weekend were APO Chapters from Yale, UConn, MIT, and other New England colleges.

(Continued from page 1) yor of Ann Arbor, Michigan. Prior to World War II, the new distinguished professor served as a delegate to Democratic county and state conventions and on the Ann Arbor Democratic city com-mittee. During he war, he was appointed chief of the Building Price Administration and later undertook duty as an officer in the Fuel Division of the U.S.

After World War II Staebler helped to reorgenize the Wash-tenaw County Democratic com-mitee and the Second Congres-sional District Democratic committee. In 1949 he was appointed finance director for the state par-ty, relinquishing that post when he became state chairman one year later.

Since 1955, Staebler has served Since 1955, Staebler has served as chairman of the Democratic National Advisory Committee on Political Organization. He was also appointed to the National Committee's 1960 Campaign Planning Committee and is presently chairman of the Subcommittee on Planning and Techniques. Planning and Techniques.

Peabody . . .

(Continued from page 1) candidate in the primaries for the post of Attorney-General of Massachusetts. Later, in 1960, he ran for the office of Governor but was defeated after a strong race.

A lieutenant in submarine service during World War II, Pea-body received the Silver Star and Commendation Ribbon for action during two extensive patrols in the Far East. Selected as one of the Seven Outstanding Young Men of Boston for 1954 by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, he is a member of the American Le-gion, Marsh Post No. 442, Cambridge; a member of the Board of Advisors, Boys' Club of Boston; a director of the Cambridge YMCA; and a member of the Corporation of the New England Deaconess Hospital. In 1960 he was state chairman of the 1960 Heart Fund Drive and is presently chairman of the Children for Palestine Scholarship Drive.

Peabody is a member of the American, Massachusetts, and Boston Bar Associations. He has served on the admissions and legislation committees of the latter Association and is a member of the Massachusetts Committee, Section of Judicial Administration American Bar Association.

Student Leaders' Night —7 P.M. At Cage were to Why +

Massachus

PLEDGES HELP CLEAN UP CAMPUS (See below)

WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1961

Variety Of Courses Offered This Summer

The largest number of courses ever offered in a UMass summer session will be available this year, Pres. John W. Lederle announced today.

Beginning June 27, more than 50 courses in 30 different fields will be open to summer session students. The first term will end on July 30; the second will run from Aug. 1 to Sept. 3.

Among the offerings, there will be approximately 25 courses in education available for elemen-tary and secondary school teachers and administrators. Under-graduates and graduates of col-leges of liberal arts and science prepare for teacher certification through the UMass sum mer program in education.

The annual Institute for Advanced Studies in French will also be offered under auspices of guages. Special graduate leve courses will be offered in contemporary French literature and in methods and techniques of the temporary French Retrature and in methods and techniques of the Language Laboratory, UMass' 80-booth laboratory will be open to all students undertaking work in languages.

Under the expanded program, qualified high school students can begin their college careers immediately after graduation in June. In addition, outstanding high school juniors, upon acceptance under a new UMass procedure for gifted students, may begin their college attack. their college studies during the summer.

Specific information on summer courses and costs is contained in a special summer sessions catalogue available from the Registrar, University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

Pledges Clean Up Campus In New Sophomore Drive

-Photo by Pete Hefler

Pledges from Pi Beta Phi and Tau Kappa Epsilon pause outside of the S.U. After cleaning up the campus, the rubbish filled bags were stacked up for removal and the students were treated to lemonade by the sophomore class. Seated on the right is, Jim E. Mulcahy '63, cleanup co-ordinator.

If you have noticed that the campus is a little cleaner, it is not because the litterbugs have left us but maybe they have be come a little more considerate.

On past weekends pledges from fraternities and sororities have combined their efforts in helping combined their efforts in neighing to keep our campus clean. These pledges, directed by their masters and trainers, donated one hour on a Friday afternoon to aid in the sophomore spring cleanup.

The idea of a spring cleanup originated with the sophomores, as an outward sign of the desire of the Centennial Class to conas an outward sign of the desire of the Centennial Class to constantly improve UMass. "All constructive actions by the student body, no matter how small, will impress upon the Commonwealth our willingness to pitch in and help out", stated the ex-president of the class, Bob McMaster. At 3 p.m. on Friday, April 21, eight pledges from Sigma Phi Epsilon met in front of the S.U. Each man was given a burlap bag and a section of the campus to clean of objectionable litter. They did a marvelous job in the hour and Messers Mellen and Martineau of the Grounds Dept. expressed approval of the project and its timing, just before the Innauguration of President Lederle.

Last Friday, May 5, the com-bining of the efforts of the pledges of Pi Beta Phi sorority and Tau Kappa Epsilon frater-nity produced fine results, for the boys gathered up the heavy jects and the girls the light.

It is hoped that this Friday Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Kappa Sigma fraternity will join the Burlap Bag Brigade.

History Dept. Exits In Anger From Heated Cuba Discussion

by PAT WHITING '63, Collegian Staff Reporter

Five members of the UMass history department walked out en masse from the discussion on Cuba that took place in Bartlett Auditorium Monday night. The men took the action after a heated debate in the recent invasion of Cuba.

The discussion for Cuba.

in the recent invasion of Cuba.

The discussion featured Ramon Ruiz, assistant professor of history at Smith College; Karl Loewenstein, professor of political science at Amherst College; and Nadav Safran, professor of government at Harvard, whose speech was delievered by moderator Jar Sevareid.

The talk, titled "The U.S.A. and Cuba: Dilem ma and Danger, centered around the controversial problem of U.S.-Cuba relations during the recent invasion that took place on the island.

The U.S. must accept the fact that Cuba is going to have a different type of government and learn to live with it, "even if it isn't the kind of government you or I want at this time."

This was the conclusion drawn by Ruiz, who was the first of the speaker on the platform.

Sororities Will Award Scholarship

For the first time on campus, the Panhellenic Council will be awarding a scholarship at Stu-dent Leaders Night, Wednesday, May 10.

The scholarship program was initiated under the presidency of Esta Yaffee, of the 1960-61 Panhellenic Council.

The amount to be presented is two hundred dollars, and will be given to a sorority girl who has met the necessary qualifications. Criteria for selection are: active sorority contributions, financial need, and at least a 2.6 cumulave average.
The scholarship recipient, whose name will be disclosed this Wednesday night, was selected after initial screening by a scholarship committee including David P. Lawrence, Assistant Directer of Placement in charge of schol-arships, and Mrs. Isabelle Gonon, Assistant Dean of Women. The selection was confirmed by the University Scholarship Commit-

Co-Operation Needed For Processional

An integral part of Student Leaders' Night is the Senior Women's Processional.

Women's Processional.

In order for the Processional to be most effective and impressive, it is extremely important that the utmost co-operation be main-

It is therefore urged that all women of the class of 1961 be lined up by two's, in caps and gowns outside the Cage by 6:30

Wednesday evening May 10. gowns outside the Cage by 6:30 on Wednesday evening, May 10. The Leaders' Night program will begin promptly at 7. Immediately following the Convocation, senior women, led by the former Mortar Boards, will go to Memorial Hall to pick up their candles and then move on to College Pond; junior women led by the new Mortar Boards, will go directly to the Pond, The seniors will then float the candles across the Pond to the junior women in the Pond to the junior women in a traditional ceremony.

Cuban Problem Socio-Economic

Ruiz also stated that the U.S. fails to realize that the problem Ruiz also stated that the U.S. fails to realize that the problem in Latin America, Cuba included, is a social-economic one, not political. With the exception of Franklin P. Roosevelt and his "Good Neighbor Policy" the U.S. has taken an attitude of imperialism and carried a "big stick", just recently demonstrated by the U.S. supported invasion of Cuba. The U.S. must realize that the first needs of Latin America are economic, and Castro is filling these needs.

Cites Schlesinger
We are out to crush Cuba, but the reason why has been distorted, said Nadav Safran.

said Nadav Safran.

The real reasons behind the U.S. assult are such that should not be the basis of our determining the actions we are taking on such grave matters. Rather the U.S. should help to restore Cuba and use our established influence there to convince others that social and economic advance goes hand in hand with politics.

Concerned With U.S. Position

Concerned With U.S. Position

Loewenstein stated that he was neither pro or con Castro. His only concern was the international position of the U.S. He continued that the U.S. was acting the same as those countries involved in the Peace Treaty of Vienna in 1815 in say—that we will intervene in any Latin American country that advances any ideas other than democratic, that is that did not coicide with their policies of state. A major part of his speech was similar to that of Ruz and Safran. However, he did say that due to Kennedy's religion he would never be able to negotiate with the Communists successfully and the solution was to wait and let this revolution in Cuba take the same course as previous revolutions and wait for the moderates to come into power bevious revolutions and wait for the moderates to come into power be

(Continued on page 6)

UMass Music Instructor To Perform Compositions

Elliott Schwartz of the Music Department has been asked to perform two original composi-tions at music festivals in Cali-fornia and Washington, D.C. later this month.

José (California) Contemporary Music Festival on May 19-21, where his String Quartet in E

Packard Talk Cancelled By Bad Weather

Author Vance Packard, who was scheduled to appear yester-day in the S.U. Ballroom, was unable to keep the engagement due to poor weather conditions.

Senator Linda Achenbach said Senator Linda Achenbach said Packard was expected to arrive at Bradley Field, Windsor Locks, Connecticut, early Tuesday after-noon. Senator John Finnegan and WMUA news-broadcaster, Larry Rayaer, made the trin to meet Rayner, made the trip to meet Packard at the Windsor Locks

Air Field.
It is unlikely that Packard will appear here this year. Miss Achenbach said it is possible Packard might come next year.

will be performed. While there, he will also participate in a contemporary music forum.

From San José, he will travel to Washington, D.C., where on May 27, he will have his Symphony in Two Movements performed at the American University Contemporary Music Symposium.

Schwartz has been a member Schwartz has been a member of the faculty here since September. He is a graduate of Columbia University and is a member of the National Association of American Composers and Conductors. He has had his compositions performed both in New York City and in Amherst.

York City and in Amherst.

On campus, Schwartz has had a number of his works played. For the occasion of President Lederle's inauguration, he wrote the Trumpet Fanfare, performed at the investiture ceremony. The University Concert Band recently introduced his Three Pieces for Brass, Piano and Tympani; he has in addition had performed a Woodwind Trio and has had sung his musical interpretation of his musical interpretation of Frost's poem, "Fire and Ice." Schwartz has also played several of his piano compositions at Music Department Concert Hours during this past season.

This Much We Hope

WE HOPE tonight's Student Leaders night produces more joy and fevered excitement than ever before. Hearts should beat with growing anxiety, exclamation, and, finally, pride. The thousands of faces in attendance should reflect a significant and growing concern over whom we will follow in 1961-62.

WE HOPE the selections will show a growing sense of responsibility on the part of those who have done the selecting . . . a concern over whether or not the selections will lead us by example as well as by words . . . a concern over whether or not this student will exercise the enthusiasm, peristence, and honesty which characterize a good

WE HOPE the final choice will exhibit a cross section of our campus. So that come next September, this campus will see sororities, fraternities, and independents leading our Student Body in its relations with individual student organizations, the faculty, South College, and our brother institutions of higher learning.

WE KNOW that our hopes are high but in this growing University's case, HIGH HOPES are not "pie in the sky" but rather in direct correlation to our HIGH GOALS.

Just Passing

A young man stepped before the press microphones the other day, and began to field rapid fire questions with all the assurance and perfection which usually characterize a veteran shortstop's motions around second base.

And yet, there must have been someone watching, who nostalgically remembered this man's youngdays and grades at Harvard. As a freshman, his subjects included English, French, history, and economics and his grades were all C's except a B in economics. There he was ir the lowest passing group of students in his class. Things weren't even looking up by his sophomore year when he collected four C's, one D, and one B.

Thus one might say, after watching him answer queries ranging from politics and economics to our crises in Laos and Cuba, that John F. Kennedy had a long way up from the lowest passing group at Harvard.

Pro-Barry

To the History 64 Bard: Order and stability Plus deference and servility And the acquisitive agility, Are what we want. As heirs of talent and position And even sometimes erudition Against privileges' attrition, We take our stand. For we're the jeunesse dore No more taxes will we pay. And save us from the day
Of the democratic herd.
With the unwashed we'll not be lumped,

Nor with laborers be bumped, Let unfortunates be dumped From welfare care.
We are obviously superior
Externally and interior
And I'm sure you're getting earier As this drags on.

So Goldwaterites unite, Forward we step to the Right, Hurrah for John F's plight Back to root, hog and die.

the History 64

The Massachusetts Collegian

MEMBER Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor News Editor: Assignments Business Manager News Editor: Make-Up Photography Editor

H

0

3

M

Wednesday Editorial Associate News Associate Feature Associate Sports Associate Copy

James J. Trelease '63 Joseph Bradley '64 Howard Frisch '62 Beth Peterson '63 Lawrence Popple

3

Jim Trelease '63 Audrey Rayner '63 Diane Tovet '64 Dave Willard '64 Sheila Mullane '64 Holly Dare '63

Entered as second class natter at the post office at Amherst, Massted three times weekly during the academic year, except during vaon and examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacaor examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week, epted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as need by the act of June 11, 1984.
scription price $4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester by the act of June 11, 1934.

$4.00 per year; $2.50 per seraester

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amherst, Mass.

-Associated Collegiate Press; Intercollegiate Press

Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

TOWER Barry Goldwater In THE IVORY

Traditionally, college students are the most receptive of all groups to liberal ideas. One of the purposes of a college education is to free the student of outmoded traditional thinking and to give him the ability to embrace radical ideals without the handicap of prejudice.

In practice this leads to many interesting phenomena. In foreign countries most revolutions are started on the campus by disgruntled students. They are allowed a certain degree of academic freedom that might not be available to everyone.

In the past in this country many students became Communists. This did not last long. All sorts of radical ideologies have sprung up on American college campuses.

But now, if a poll were taken among students as to the man they most admire, I think the winner would be Barry Goldwater. How has this come about?

Actually it is not as paradoxical as it seems at first. Senator Goldwater is the first conservative in a number of years, at least in the lifetime of the college students, who has stated a positive conservaive policy. Conservatism has always opposed. It has stood for the past. It has never come out with a policy except to oppose liberal philosophies. Now when the conservative is asked what he stands for, he can answer positively.

When the conservative is asked what he stands for, he can answer positively.

I imagine that no small part of the appeal of Goldwater is his personality. He gives the appearance of being dynamic. He has just enough gray hair to be distinguished and is young enough to be the only jet pilot in the Senate.

Conservatives have always tended to be drab and colorless. Robert Taft was a very brilliant and dedicated man. But because he was so lacking in color he accomplished little of his aims. Joe McCarthy was, well . . . Joe McCarthy. Senator Byrd is a southerner and interested only in what is good for Virginia.

In the next national election the young people are going to have a good percentage of the votes. Unless President Kennedy retains and enhances the image of liberalism, many of the young voters will turn to a philosophy their parents have not tried conservation.

parents have not tried, conservatism.

Students are becoming more realistic. Many liberal policies appear to promise much and give little. I think many students are also tired of America tryng to support the rest of the world.

I think the Goldwater conservatism is good in general if for no other reason than it at least offers an alternative philosophy that a thinking person is not ashamed of.

Contemporary Jazz

By RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

Max Roach does not take one drum solo on his Mercury album, "Max Roach plus 4, Moon-faced and Starry-eyed." This must have taken marvelous restraint. Max blends his drums with the rhythm section and provides metronomic support for the soloists. This does not sound like a group led by a drummer. "Moon-faced . . ." is quietly done all the way through . . . but the music is constantly seething.

done all the way through ..., but the music is constantly seething.

This is not mood jazz, although the lovers of the "hard stuff" may think so. The manager of the Quill Bookshop told me that the record companies are moving away from the "percussion" albums to quieter music. Although this "ping-pong" stereo craze has little to do with jazz, I hope that a similar move does not take place in modern jazz. Much of today's jazz is quiet and delicate, but the record companies realize that quiet, mushy jazz will sell as well or better than quiet, delicate music.

In any case, "Moon-faced . . ." is good, quiet jazz—mostly ballads done at medium tempo. Usually, only one soloist is featured on a tune. Ray Bryant plays a strongly funky and melodic piano on the title tune and "Speak Low." Julian Priester is one of the few trombonists today who does not owe all his style to J. J. Johnson. He plays a fluid, melodic slide horn with lightness and ease. On "Wild is the Wind," he blows like a hot, sensuous breeze.

The Turrentine brothers, Tommy on trumpet and Stanley on tenor sax, handle their solos with a subdued sweetness. The three horn men are described as "near names." I think that the qualifying "near" will soon be dropped as more is heard from this new Max Roach group.

There are two vocals by Abbey Lincoln which are okey but don't fit. What the hell they're doing in the album I don't know . . . looks like an after-thought.

Max is one of the swiftest, most precise, but more important, nost meiodic drummers. He has studied harmony in order to provide better backing for a jazz group. In his own words, "One of the a better backing for a jazz group. In his own words, "One of the prime functions of the drums is to serve as an accompanying instrument. This can be developed by listening to everything around you and by fitting yourself in without being smothered or smothering others." Of course, Art Blakey, who has been described as "a brush fire going in the background," is a volitile drummer who spurs the soloists on with very loud and tricky punctuations. Max can do this also, but a drummer is in great danger when he tries to lead the soloist rather than following him.

Omphalos -- by paul theroux

"The full and joyful acceptance of the worst in one's self is the only sure way of transforming it."

—Henry Miller

In a few months the Grove Press plans to publish Henry Miller's TROPIC OF CAPRICORN. This In a few months the Grove Press plans to publish Henry Miller's TROPIC OF CAPRICORN. This step forward on the part of the Grove Press is another one of those brave, well-meaning efforts on the part of a private company to risk a court case in order to deliver the people of the United States from the ignorant censors, from the prudes, philistines, and hyenas who wish to do everything in their power to legislate morality, stifle free thought, and oversee and strangle our private reading habits. True, the heroines of Henry Miller's books and Lady Chatterly and Molly Bloom look like the sterile, saccharine, lollipop trollops that mince across the pages of REDBOOK, LADIES' HOME ETC., and all the other pseudo-salacious tripe which is hawked in every drugstore from Scollay Square to San Francisco. And Miller seems to dwell almost laboriously on the natural functions, But Miller is not the first writer in the world to have an anal syndrome; he IS the first American pornographer to have things other than the boudoir on his mind. Like Whitman, Blake, Rabelais, Joyce, or any other major writer who had the confidence in his own talent and peculiar genius to realize that each daily thought or action is a necessary segment of the complex mosaic of life, Miller excludes nothing, describes everything and, in fact, is probably the most honest writer in the world today for he gives the reader a realistic glimpse into the virile core of his mind without frosting, glossing, or preening.

is probably the most honest writer in the world today for he gives the reader a realistic glimpse into the virile core of his mind without frosting, glossing, or preening.

Miller's novels are almost all autobiographical and he pictures himself as the free soul, the lone crusader for Truth who is being constantly harassed and buggered by the pleague of modern progress. And what is this plague which stifles Henry Miller? It is the plague which stifles us all. In Miller's book BLACK SPRING (which has not the faintest hope of being published in the United States for many years) he lists the "plague" "... colonization, trade, free Bibles, war, disease, artificial limbs, factories, slaves, insanity neuroses, psychoses, cancer, syphilis, tuberculosis, anemia, strikes, lock-outs, starvation, nullity vacuity restlessness, striving, despair, ennui, suicide, bankruptcy, arteriosclerosis, megalomania, schizophrenia, hernia, cocaine, prussic acid, stink bombs, tears gas, mad dogs, auto-suggestion, auto-intoxication, psychoterapy, hydrotherapy, electric massages, vacuum cleaners, pemmican, grapenuts, hemorrhoids, gangrene . . . Men running away from themselves so frantically that they look for salvation under the ice-floes or in tropical swamps, or else they climb the himalayas or axphyixiate themselves in the stratosphere . . ."

for salvation under the ice-floes or in tropical swamps, or else they climb the himalayas or axphyixiate themselves in the stratosphere . . ."

These are what Henry Miller is crusading against and his voice is yet to be heard where it is most needed. His books should be chained to every water-closet in suburbia and be required reading. The trouble is that Americans feel they are being criticized enough without someone else telling them that they live stupidly, steriley, and spasitically. Vance Packard is all right—he the crizes industry, machines, and selling technique. But Henry Miller theorizes, picks at, and talks about real people in real situations—and what is more real or more natural than the functions of assimilation, reproduction, excretion in the cretion, joy.

Why should we be deprived the privilege of reading? Why should the inquiring minds of America be compelled to read the drivel which is published in such vast quantities? When does this legislation cease? When a country controlls the reading matter of its citizens it is blocking other points of view and hoisting its own mediocrity into the position of importance. This is totaltaransm.

We can easily see what type of legislation this becomes; once the reading matter is controlled then the minds are controlled and the whole structure becomes terrifyingly Orwellian. The thinking of the critical results and critical and the whole structure becomes the controlled that the propose of the controlled and the whole structure becomes the controlled that the propose of the citizens becomes static and gripped with the ignorant fingers of a state which controls. The change in values which is inevitable is not allowed to grow in its natural direction and all that can follow is strangulation and stagnation.

Survey Shows It's Possible To Finance The Rising Costs Of College Education

Many young people are hunting for ways to finance their future education. Parents too are concerned since the cost of education is rising annually. Costs range from $1200 to $1500 at a publicly supported college to $1800 to $2600 for those attending privately supported institutions.

More and larger scholarships

There will be a joint publicity

Wanted: freshmen to sell tickets 10 to 4 until May 12. See sign up sheet by lobby phone committee meeting on Thur May 11 at 8 p.m. in the S.U.

BALI-HAI FROSH MIX

LITERARY SOCIETY

A.P.O. W.S.O.

CLUB DIRECTORY

IZATION

Machmer.

are available, says Barbara Higgins, Extension specialist in family economics at UMass. Although the amounts of scholarships are small and the demand for them is great, they are worth exploring—especially during the junior and senior year in high school.

Loans to students for educational purposes are available from several sources. Loans are field, Buffy St. Marie, and Bob

Stanton in the cast on Mon., May 15 at 7:30 in Bartlett Aud.

Final meeting of the year Wed., May 10 at 8 p.m. in E14

LOST & FOUND

STUDENT ZIONIST ORGAN-

scholarships.

Federal loans have been available since 1958. They are for those of superior ability who need financial aid and they are handled through the college where the student is registered. Interest starts after leaving college. Loan plans also are being offered by banks to parents who want to pay for their children's education on a monthly basis. Payments are made to the bank before or while the child is in college and the bank makes payments directly to the school.

liberal terms and are at a low interest rate. They are supervised by the institution you attend and are not as restrictive as most

Bank loans are a newer development. Massachusetts has a plan called HELP whereby loans are available through commercial banks at a lower interest rate and for a longer repayment period than for an ordinary personal loan—after completing the first year at an approved institution

R.O.T.C. Will Present Spring Review Thurs.

Alumni Field will be the scene of the annual Military Spring Review Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. The Air Force precision drill team, the Flying Redmen, will open the ceremonies with an exhibition similiar to that which captured the AFROTC New England championship. They will be followed by the Army drill unit. land championship. They will be followed by the Army drill unit, the Bay State Rifles who recentplaced third in the Pershing Rifles competition held at North-

Following the forming of the entire cadet corps on the parade field, 28 cadets of the Armor and Air Force units will be awarded honors for their outstanding achievements during the past school year. Participating in the award ceremonies will be Col. John C. Marchant USAF, Col. James R. Weaver USA, Dr. John Gillespie, mebmers of the faculty

Brig. Gen. Ernest K. Warburton, USAF, (Retired) of Hardwick, Mass. will then review the combined cadet corps as it passes in review under the command of Cadet Col. David U. Burke, AF-ROTC. The Joint Armor-Air Force ROTC band will furnish music for the event.

The annual military review provides UMass, the ROTC departments and the cadets a chance to exhibit to the public and particularly to the invited guests, approximately two hundred, the status of their training and their military accomplishments. In addition, it provides an opportunity to honor those who have distinguished themselves

Students Exhibit Liberal Views In C.C.N.Y. Poll

ed by the City College of New York Ticker revealed that 50% of the students polled declared themselves to be liberals. One hundred students volunteered to answer anonymously an eightquestion survey about current is-

Questionnaires were distributed in the Student Center and in

'Bali Hai' To Be Held Fri. Night

The Freshman Mix is to be held this Friday night, May 12, from 8 to 11:30. The theme is Bali Hai with the Jazz Doctors as featured guests. There are also some skits planned by the members of the class.

Tickets are 30 cents and on sale at the ticket window at S.U. from 10 a.r., to 4 p.m.

WMIIA SCHEDULE

Wednesday

3:30-Sign-On; News

3:35-Music Theatre

5:00-News

5:05-Music Theatre

6:00-Four College News

6:15-Let's Go To Town

6:30-Louis Lyons and the News

6:45-World News Round-Up 6:55—Sports

7:00-Masterworks From France

7:30-Musicale 9:00—Broadway Showcase

10:00—Jazz

11:00—Shoes Off

12:00-News; Sign-Off Thursday

3:30—Sign-On; News 3:35—Music Theatre 5:00—News 5:05—Music Theatre

6:00—Four College News 6:15—Reserved for You 6:30—Louis Lyons and the News 6:45—World News Round-Up

6:55—Sports 7:00—Mass Opinion 7:15-Stars for Defense

7:30—Musicale 9:00—Broadway Showcase

10:00—Modern Impressions 11:00—Shoes Off 12:00—News; Sign-Off

(UPS)-A recent poll conduct- classrooms by members of the Ticker staff.

> Of the remaining fifty per cent questioned, the second largest fraction (32%) claimed their views to be moderate, 11% claimed to be conservatives. Radicals and reactionaries each constituted only one per cent of the sample. Five per cent claimed they could not classify their political views.

> Fifty-seven per cent were in favor of Communist China's admission into the United Nations Thirty-six per cent were opposed to such a move and seven per cent said that they did not know.

"If a self-admitted Communist was editor of the student newspaper or president of the Student Council, would you favor his removal from office?" was another question asked. According to the survey, fifty-five per cent of survey, Inty-live per cent of those participating would, thirty-three would not and twelve per cent did not know how they would feel under the circum-

It is the opinion of the ma-jority of those queried that a student should not be required to sign a loyalty oath before being granted a loan or scholarship from the federal government. from the federal government. Responding to this question. fifty-eight per cent gave non-af-firmative replies and thirty-three per cent gave affirmative an-swers. Nine per cent did not know their views on this matter.

Annual Art Exhibit Will Be Displayed May 12-20 In S.U.

The Second Annual Student Art Show will be held May 12-20, in the Commonwealth Room of the S.U.

The exhibition will consist of representative works, chosen by the instructors, in oil, watercolor, sculpture, free hand drawing, printmaking, and basic design.

Purchase Prizes will be awarded and the winning works will be hung in various buildings throughout UMass. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Make a date with flavor. Try Chesterfield King. Every satisfying puff is Air-Softened to enrich the flavor and make it mild. Special porous paper lets you draw fresh air into the full king length of top-tobacco, straight Grade-A all the way.

Join the swing to

HESTERFIELD K

UMass To Host YanCon Tennis Tournament; Race Expected To Be Closest In Its History

by AL BERMAN '62

in New England history is expected at the Yankee Conference tennis tournament to be held here at UMass this Friday and Saturday, May 12 and 13. Any one of five teams could cop the crown that has been at least partly in UMass territory for two years.

The Redmen won the championship two years ago, then were involved in a triple tie with New Hampshire and Vermont last year. The three teams are considered leading candidates to take the tourney this year, but take the tourney this year, but Rhode Island and UConn are also MAINE COULD BE SPOILERS While the Maine Bears are given only an outside chance, they might very well prove to be the spoilers for one of the other teams. The Bears have shown tremendous improvement since the start of the season and dis-played their strength in a recent match with powerful Rhody, when four of the Ram star.ers had to go three sets to beat them. As far as singles are concerned, Roger Magenau of UNH is expected to repeat as the individual champion of the tourney, but he will have strong opposi-tion from Ted Emmanuel of Rhode Island. John Kane, also of URI and Neil Ammerman of UConn are strong contenders for the championship of the second flight.

VERMONT USUALLY STRONG

The Catamounts from Vermont will probably show up with their usual strong team, having such as Kelsey, returning winners Rutner, Katz and Efrein.

UMass has already defeated UConn, URI and New Hampshire in regular competition this year, but has not yet faced either Maine or Vermont. A great fac-tor in determining the winner, however, is the drawing of the initial matches. If two strong initial matches, If two strong teams are pitted against each other in the early competitions they may kill each other's chances while a third team is enabled to back into the cham-

Sid Poritz, Ted Rubin, John Thomas and Bill Thompson, the four top UMass men, are expectout top Uniass men, are expec-ed to carry enough points in the singles to keep UMass in com-petition through the doubles matches. Thompson was the only matches. Thompson was the only UMass player to come through and win the finals of his flight

Sophomore Tom Simons, who has been looking better as the nas been looking better as the season wears on, may provide some surprises for Coach Steve Kosakowski. The Coach has to choose between Ernie Howarth and Paul Edelstein for the last singles position. Howarth, Edelstein and Simons are all undefeated in Yankee Conference compatition this year. competition this year.

NO INDIVIDUAL CHAMPION

There is no official individual champion of the tournament. The champion of the first flight is unofficially termed the singles individual champion but the Yan-Con championship itself is team affair

A point is given to a team for every match that one of its play-ers wins at any time during the tourney. Thus, even though a team may win few of the finals matches, it may build up enough points in the preliminary competitions to win the tourney. Last year, Thompson was the only UMass player victorious in the finals, but the Redmen still man-aged to participate in the three-

The seeding will take place at 9:00 a.m. Friday in the Cage, and will be followed by the first round of singles at 10:30.

The second round of singles will be started at 1:30 p.m. Friday, followed by the first round of doubles. On Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m. the finals in the singles competition will take place. Then at 1:00 the second and final rounds of doubles matches occur.

There will be a large scoreboard posted so that all specta-tors will be able to keep track of the progress of the teams. A large crowd is expected to view the tourney, since it comes to UMass only once every six years and this year the Redmen are defending champions.

Improvement Noted NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)— The Yale football team that went through the 1960 season without a defeat was made up largely of players who "led" Yale to a 2-7 record as 1958 sophomores.

BILL THOMPSON

Netmen Notch 4th Straight

The varsity tennis squad notched its fourth straight victory and its seventh in eight games as it handily defeated Tufts, 7-2, on the UM courts.

There was little doubt about There was little doubt about the outcome from the very start. The Redmen took five points in the singles, which was enough to signal victory, no matter what happened in the doubles. As it was, UMass also took two out of the three doubles points to add more weight to the win.

- SINGLES

 1. Poritz (UM) over Schlief (T), 6-1,
- . hreiber (T) over Rubin (UM), 6-4.
- 6-1.
 3. Thomas (UM) over Feinberg (T), 6-8, 6-0, 6-0.
 4. Thompson (UM) over Fine (T), 6-4, 6-0.
- 6-0. Simons (UM) over Goldstein (T). 6-3. 6-0. Edelstein (UM) over Quint (T). 6-1.

- DOUBLES

 Poritz and Howarth (UM) over Schlief and Schreiber (T), 6-2, 8-6. Thompson and Simons (UM) over Feinberg and Fine (T), 6-3, 6-0 over Schlief (UM), 6-4, 6-4.

Frosh Nine Drubbed By Amherst, 7-2

The UMass freshman baseball team went down to its second straight defeat Monday afternoon, this time at the hands of Amherst, to the tune of 7-2.

Scribner went all the way for the Lord Jeffs allowing the Red-men only four hits, striking out nine and not issuing a single pass. This was certainly the best pitching the Redmen have faced

Amherst tallied three in the second and four in the fifth. They collected eight hits off starter Mastone in four innings, while reliever Brita gave up only three hits in the last four innings. Am-herst was aided by seven bases on balls also.

Tony Kazukonis provided U-Mass with its only bright spot of the day in the fourth inning as he made a sensational run-ning-back-handed catch of a long drive in deep centerfield.

BASEBALL GAME

BASEBALL GAME
The UMass baseball team travels to the University of Rhode Island today to face the Rams in a vital Yankee Conference clash. The Redmen must win all of their remaining YanCon games if they hope to be in the running for Beanpot honors. Five Conference tilts follow the Rhody game, those being against Vermont (2), Rhode Island,
New Hampshire and the big one, UConn.

DEANSGATE® 1961's NEWEST IN NATURAL SHOULDER CLOTHING

versity men...because DEANSGATE is America's most desirable natural shoulder model.

SUIT $42.50 COATS $32.50

A. D. WHITE, INC.

CLOTHIERS TO GENTLEMEN . . . and their sons

Main St., Opp. Taylor, Springfield

FREE PARKING at Mat's Lot

Hampden St.

MAKE MONEY THIS SUMMER?

LIZOTTE'S

offers you a complete line of domestic and foreign tobaccos cigarettes and pipes. Just name it and AUGIE will get it. For the unusual in smoking pleasure . . . Lizotte's We also carry a complete line of foreign magazines

76 MAIN ST., NORTHAMPTON

You Will On The Stanley Plan For U. of M. Students!

- TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10 net profit per party.
- PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.
- SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eli-gible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholar-ship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can
- ★ EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of val-uable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, ALpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON, DeLAND General Manager College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc.

WESTFIELD, MASS.

Snakebeaters Fight To 9-9 Deadlock Against Holy Cross Crusaders

Coach Dick Garber's varsity lacrosse team, seeking its seventh win of the season, had to settle for a 9-9 tie with Holy Cross in Worcester last Monday. Play was stopped after a second overtime period.

The Redmen snakebeaters, playing the kind of ball that has made them leaders of the North eastern Conference, built up a 7-3 lead going into the final canto. But the Crusaders and co-captain Bill Heaphy rallied for four goals in the closing minutes to knot the score.

Heaphy, an attackman from Baltimore, had three goals to bring his total to 26 in eight. Dick Hoss, UMass' star midfielder, was used only sparingly by Coach Garber. Dick, laboring with a charley horse from the with a charley horse from the recent loss to Brown, still managed to garner 2 goals before leaving, Jim Ellingwood and Mike Chretian also contributed 2

A crowd of 330 saw the cru ders capitalize on fast breaks for their late goals. Time and again Redmen goalie "Bumps" Bamberry, was left alone to face 2 or 3 oncoming attackmen who opened fire from five yards out.

The 7-7 tie at the end of regulation time necessitated two overtimes periods (in lacrosse two overtimes are always played to give each team a chance at both goals) of five minutes each. The Garbers opened with two quick tallies in the first but the home forces countered with goals in each overtime.

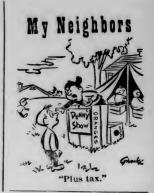

The game had been postponed from an April 15 date. The stick-men now sport a 6-1-1 slate. They next go to the post this Saturday at home against Middlebury.

Pro Potpourri

Although the NHL finals have long since been completed, they will be remembered for many things. The third and fourth place finishers competing in the finals plus the fact that they were both U.S. teams; the fines imposed on the Chicago bench; the nightly switching of sites due to the fact that the Follies were using Chicago ice, Detroits' constant platooning of goalies; and perhaps most notable of all were the charges directed at the Black Hawks by Detroit General Manager Jack Adams. He accused the Hawks of deliberately slowing down the condition of their ho ice in order to hamper the faster Red Wings and give the stronger Hawks a chance to wear their opposition down. We've heard of some good excuses, but that must have taken a lot of effort.

It has been learned that Russia plans to challenge the NHL for the Stanley Cup in the not too distant future. Under the terms left in the deed by Lord Stanley, for whom this cup, emblematic of hockey supremacy is named, anyone has the right to challenge it. The Muscovites have also expressed a desire to play an NHL team for comparative purposes. Just think of all the Vodka the Cup would hold.

Red Sox slugger Vic Wertz, nicknamed "Mr. Clean" for his likeness to the soap idol, certain-ly cleans the bases. He leads all active American League players in life-time grand-slam home in life-time grand-slam home runs with nine . . . You wonder why the White Sox carry canes and wheelchairs as part of their regular equipment? They have nine, ten year-plus veterans on their present roster, more than any other American League club . . "Jumping" Gene Conley, frustrated baseball player who plays basketball in the off-season, was approached as to why he didn't passetball in the off-season, was approached as to why he didn't add another pitch to go with his fastball and curve. Unabashed he retorted, "I have one more pitch than Walt Johnson and he did pretty good, didn't he?" Smart logic, Gene, except that we fail to go the similarity between see the similarity between your-self and the "Big Train."

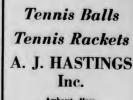

TRADE BAIT

Get this! Sammy White, former Red Sox catcher and turncoat Cleveland backstop, has written a friendly letter to Manager Mike Higgins, saying he might like to play ball again and asking Higgins' advice. Mike is too much of a gentleman to tell White what he really should do, but White must remember he's but White must remember he's really not in any bargaining posi-

Think what might have happened if . . . Much earlier this year when eccentric Montreal goalie Jacques Plante was demoted to the Eastern League moted to the Eastern League after a squabble over the wearing of his special mask, Toronto made a vain effort to get him. The Canadians wouldn't let him go however and Toronto had to "settle" for old Johnny Bower, who "only" wound up winning the Vezina trophy for allowing the least number of goals. In the end however, neither team was able to make the finals.

TOO MANY MARTINIS

This is a fine time to find out, but Billy Martin may not have broken Chicago Cub pitcher Jim Brewer's jaw last year, for which he has a $1,000,000 suit against him still pending. Former Cincinnati pitcher Cal McLish, now with the White Sox, who at the time was a teampate of Martime was a teammate of Mar-tin's, has recently admitted that he himself might have caused the damage. He said he had run out damage. He said he had run out to the mound and grabbed Brewer in a headlock and "banged him a couple of times." This could put a whole new light on the picture, but as Brewer has completely recovered now, chewing gum magnate Phil Wrigley, owner of the Cubs, wants to settle this out of court . . . Reminiscent of the infamous Copacabana incident for which Martin bana incident for which Martin was unjustly blamed by the Yankees and which resulted in his ultimate release people are just natural goats.

Newsdealer & Stationer

Buffy Folksinger Weds 8-10-30 Saladin Coffee Shop 414 No. Pleasant

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Don't let exams upset you. After all, there are worse things—distemper, hunger, insatiable thirst.

Dear Dr. Frood: Shouldn't we spend our millions on education instead of a race to the moon? Taxpayer

Dear Dr. Frood: What would you say about a rich father who makes his boy exist on a measly $150 a week allowance? Angered

DEAR ANGERED: I would say, "There goes a man I'd like to call Dad."

DEAR TAXPAYER: And let the Communists get all that cheese?

Dear Dr. Frood: A fellow on our campus keeps saying, "Bully," "Pip-pip,"
"Ear, 'ear," "Sticky wicket," and "Ripping!" What do these things Puzzled

DEAR PUZZLED: It's best just to ignore these beatniks.

Dear Dr. Frood: How can I keep from bawling like a baby when they hand me my diploma?

Emotional

DEAR EMOTIONAL: Simply concentrate on twirling your mortarboard tassel in circles above your head, and pretend you are a helicopter.

> Dear Dr. Frood: What's the best way to open a pack of Luckies: Rip off the whole top, or tear along one side of the blue sticker?

DEAR FRESHMAN: Rip? Tear? Why, open a pack of Luckies as you would like to be opened yourself.

FROOD REVEALS SECRET: After exhaustive study and research, Dr. Frood claims to have discovered the reason why college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. His solution is that the word "Collegiates" contains precisely the same number of letters as Lucky Strike—a claim no other leading cigarette can make!

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Product of The American Tobacco Company - Tobacco is our middle name

New Men's Judiciary Officials Are Elected

-Photo by Pete Hefler Fred Karshick '62, incoming Chief Justice, and Dave Clancy '63, are being sworn in by Mike Kleinerman '61, outgoing Chief Justice.

Debating Club Trophy Goes To Butterfield

The Debate Society closed out The Debate Society closed out the year by attending one tourna-ment and holding two others. Last weekend debaters Beverly DeMarco, Steve Jenkins, Bill Krim, and Lew Goldstein attend-ed the New York University In-vitational Tournament in New York City. York City.

During the week Joseph Kielec and Jack Downey were announced the 1961 Intramural champions. The Butterfield representatives defeated Barry Ravech and Bill Shavel representing Alpha Es Shaevel, representing Alpha Epsilon Phi.

The formal activities of the club ended this past Saturday with the UMass Intercollegiate Experimental Debate Tourna-

All the debates were held in All the debates were held in Machmer Hall with UMass students acting as chairmen and timekeepers. Joseph Kielec, Keven Donovan, Steve Jenkins, and Joseph Tryba represented UMass.

Experimental Theatre Presents Two Plays

Two plays, "Bigpipe and Poppies" and "A Matter of Time", will be presented Friday, May 12, at 8:15 p.m. in Bowker, Admission is by ticket only. Free tickets are being distributed at the S.U. lobby counter.

These experimental productions were inaugurated at UMass in 1959, when Miss Doris Abramson, instructor in speech, directed two plays by Arthur Miller and Tennessee Williams. This year, student scripts were solicited. From several submitted, two plays by Raymond Kennedy, an alumnus of UMass, were chosen.

Well-known at UMass for his Well-known at UMass for his short stories and poems which appeared in the campus literary magazine, the Holyoke man has also had a short story published in "The Massachusetts Review," professional quarterly of the arts, literature and public affairs.

Miss Abramson, who has directed several plays for the student dramatic group, Roister Doisters, has a B.A. from UMass, an M.A. in theatre from Smith College, and is a Ph.D. candidate at Columbia University. Last fall she staged "Carmen" for the Amherst Community Opera and this winter directed a staged reading of a new play, "Island".

Concert Band Will Present Pops Concert

At 7 p.m., Sunday, May 14, The UMass Concert Band will present its annual Pops Concert on the S.U. terrace. Several per-sonalities will be featured at this outdoor concert.

The trumpet soloist in The Trumpet Polka will be Robert Skibinski. Bob, a junior from Chicopee, is majoring in Industrial Administration. For the past three years many have enjoyed his solo performances in the

The program will include a flute trio consisting of Bonny Wade, '62, a Home Economics major; Judy Clark '61, an Education major; and Norm Wolfson '64, in the College of Arts and Sciences. Accompanied by the Band, these girls will play The Flute Cocktail.

It is traditional that part of this Pops Concert be conducted by the student director. After try-outs in the fall, the Band selected Jesse Rydenski as director. Jesse is a junior from Northampton majoring in Psychology. Among the pieces he will conduct are March Carillon by Hansen and Belle of the Ball by Leroy Anderson.

Some of the other selections to be played by the band are Holi-day in Naples, Calif of Baghdad, and Swedish Rhapsody.

In case of rain, the Concert will be held in the S.U. ballroom. Ad-mission is free.

He and the previous two speak-He and the previous two speakers failed, however, in mentioning the possibility of the communists' setting up a stronghold in Cuba while we are waiting for the moderates to come in, and also the possibility of any grave danger surrounding this country if the Cuban revolution does not follow the course which previous revolutions have followed. revolutions have followed.

It was during the question and answer period following the pre-pared speeches that the fiasco happened. Dr. Shafer Williams happened. Dr. Shafer Williams stood up and protested vehemen-ly against statements by Loewen-stein pertaining to Kennedy's religion. After a rebuttal by Ruiz, the history department took to its feet and left the auditorium.

Her new puppy was a roly-poly mass of black curls, and when people stopped to admire him she explained that he was a French poodle and his name was Pierre. Expecting that the dog would have a pedigree, one woman asked, "But what's the rest of his name?"

The answer, in a surprised to the pool of the pool

The answer, in a surprised tone of voice: "Whaddya think?
Shapiro—same as me."

(The Reader's Digest)

Professors and students both agree that nothing beats the Dauphine for economy, styling, and 4-door convenience. Up to 40 miles on a gallon, low upkeep, rugged, sporty performance make the Dauphine the most car for the least money on any campus, ever! New Low Price: $1385 (suggested list price, fully equipped—P.O.E. East Coast).

Here's the car to escape from the ordinary in. Heavy on styling, light on gas and upkeep—the Caravelle is available with an optional hard top that turns it into a sports coupe at a moment's notice. Like the Dauphine, the Caravelle carries a 12 month/12,000 mile (whichever comes first) warranty and a load of free extras. TEST DRIVE US SOON AT YOUR LOCAL RENAULT DEALER! Caravelle

57 KING STREET

MON CEN MOTERS, INC. NORTHAMPTON, MASS. Connect Oly +

Where Your Student Tax Dollar Goes (See below)

VOL. XC NO. 77 5¢ PER COPY

FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1961

Peabody Projects Future Of UMass

"The Future of Higher Education in Massachusetts" was the subject of Endicott Peabody's address Thursday for the Honor's Convocation. Speaking before a large assembly in the S.U. ball-room, Peabody, a former governor's councilor and recent candidate for governor, spoke of the need of a quality education, one which is devoted to the pursuit of excellence. There is also a need to educate a quantity, and the speaker sympathized with many unfor-tunate students who were unable to enter for lack of facilities.

Cites Fifth Freedom
During World War II, the Unit-States fought for the four eat freedoms; now "there is a great freedom; now there is fifth freedom—the freedom to do one's best". Higher education is a necessity in Massachusetts, a necessity in dustrial society where a strong industrial society as been built in spite of the hardy climate and rocky terrain.

The speaker noted that even if the same proportion of the population continues to want higher education, there will still be an increase. We must safeguard the avenues of opportunity which state education supplies. Since state colleges currently graduate 11,000 students each year in Massachusetts, there must be fur-supported institutions and the state legislature. Peabody named as two examples, the Freedom Bill passed by Gov. Herter, and the new system of "Community Colleges" in different areas of the slate, which will enable moderate-income students to commute for the first two years of their cole education.

Discusses "Renaissance"

He brought up the interesting idea of a "Massachusetts Renaissance"-a rebirth of the spirit of public service, and cited as an incentive to this goal a studentinternship program like that of Carnegie Institute. Under this plan, students interested in gov-ernment service would be able to spend a semester working at the State House or other government posts.

"So the new challenge is-will you do the job? To paraphrase a speech of President Kennedy's 'Ask not what the Commonwealth can do for you, but what you can do for the Commonwealth.'"
Peabody concluded with the inspiring words, "If the new chal-lenge can be met, the University will be not a jewel, but the crown diadem of education in Massachu-setts!"

Impressive Ceremony Marks Tapping Of Campus Leaders

In a noisy and impressive cere-ony at the cage Wednesday evening, over one hundred UMass students and faculty members were tapped into various campus honor and honorary societies.

Adelphia, senior men's honor society, tapped ten juniors who will be the campus representa-tives of the organization next year. Announced by senior class president Roger T. Riikonen, they are: Bernie Murphy, Charlie Curtis, Arthur "Tex" Tacelli, Steve Schusterman, Paul Cassidy, Wes Honey, Fran Lovejoy, Allan Berman, Joel Lerner, and Fred Berman, Joel Lerner, and Fred Shotz. According to Riikonen, these men represent a "cross-section of the campus leadership." Outgoing seniors named to the men's honor society are: Larry Rayner, Mike Kleinerman, Bill Lockwood, John Finnegan, Robert Mushkin, Dave Burke, Doug Grutchfield, Perry Harris, Don Croteau, and Bob O'Neil. Croteau, and Bob O'Neil.

Six honorary members were also accepted into the organization. Faculty members tapped are Dr. Henry Varley, Dr. Glen Tinder, Dr. Dana Harlowe, and Dean Himy Kirshen. Hills Skillings, administrative assistant, and Everett Kosarick, campus photographer, were also tapped.

Adelphian scholarships, presented by Marshall "Monk" Meyers, were awarded to Richard J. Greene and Ted Osetek, both juniors. These scholarships were given on the basis of scholarship, need, character, and extra-curricular activities.

Mortar Board tapping was directed by Pat O'Connell, president of the organization. The eleven new members are: Donna Pope, Debbie Read, Dianne Coyle, Sandy Segel, Carol Veno, Pat Conway, Mary Jane Stack, Alice Edgerton, Linda Achenbach, Mer-rilee Atkins, and Nancy Hanlon.

Freshmen men selected for next ear's Maroon Key, named by Ed Hammond, former president, are: Christos Sideris, Bill Theroux, Paul Graham, Art Collins, Dave Truesdell, Russ Feener, Tom Tyrer, Ray Kodzis, Jim Bloom, Chuck Reid, Bob Austin, Bob Tedoldi, Dick Phillips, Bill Kitchen, Jim Medeiros, John Yablonski, Mike Rubin, Paul Pisinski, Barry Meunier, Al Rand, Mike Moynihan, Joe Cassano, Terry Murphy, Jim Bradley, Corky Brickman.

Mike Rubin '64 is capped for the Maroon Key by Bob Slessinger '63.

Hammond presented a gift to Or. Dana Harlowe, advisor to the Maroon Key, and a placque to John Gounaris, in appreciation of their services rendered in making the Maroon Key once again a worthy honor society. Jim Bres-cia, vice-president, presented Hammond with a token of appreciation.

Twenty-two freshmen girls were tapped by members of Scrolls. Announced by Jean Bruthis year's president, they are as follows: Marie Makinen, as follows: Marie Makinen, Bet-ty Mercer, Margy Jordan, Claire Goldick, Judy Addelson, Lynda Bonney, Beverley Christo, Barb Farrell, Judy Fitts, Bonnie Hunter, Barbara Kelley, Nancy Kor-netsky, Edie Leahy, Ann Led-with, Barbara Murphy, Janice Reimer, Ellie Stang, Pat Stankie-wicz, Pat Sweeney, Linda Swen-son, Margaret Walters, and Leslie Wilcox.

Recipient of the Scrolls scholarship, announced by Miss Bruen, was Nancy Ann Mello '64.

The new Revelers, tapped by the former members of the "spir-it-instilling" organization, were named by Joan Knowles, one of

(Continued on page 8)

Peace Corps Exams Will Be Offered Soon

Candidates for the Peace Corps who want to begin their service this summer will be tested May 27 or June 5 for their fitness for one project already announced and others now being explored. Peace Corps candidates can take one or both tests.

The Peace Corps is actively re-The Feace Corps is actively re-cruting for engineers, surveyors, geologists, teachers of English as a second language, community development workers and agricultural extension workers.

The Peace Corps Entrance Test can also be taken by anyone interested in joining the Corps at any time in the future.

Surveyors, geologists, and civil engineers are needed for survey-ing a secondary road system in parts of Tanganyika, a project announced last week by President Kennedy. Similar skills will be needed in projects in other coun-tries. Robert Sangarat Shiria needed in projects in other coun-tries. Robert Sargent Shriver, Di-rector of the Peace Corps, said one of the greatest demands will be for people to teach English.

CORRECTION

The Collegian, due to misinformation from a usually reliable source, committed an error of fact in the issue of Wednesday, May in the issue of Wednesday, May 10. In the lead headline on page one it was stated that members of the History Department walked out on the Cuba discussion in Bartlett Auditorium. In truth, no such action was taken by anyone at the discussion. The Collegian apologizes for the inaccuracy.

It is anticipated that many teachers of English will be place teachers of English will be placed in both primary and secondary schools by the end of the year in countries in Africa, Asia, and Latin America. There also have been requests for secondary school teachers of mathematics, history chamistry and physics biology, chemistry, and physics.

Another major need will be to supply volunteers who know farming methods. Here, the degree of technical knowledge is not so much required as a thorough grasp of farming and its basic tools.

basic tools.

Candidates who have a questionnaire on file with Peace Corps Headquarters will be notified of the time and place of examination by the middle of May. With few exceptions, they will not have to travel long distances to a testing center.

to travel long distances to a testing center.

To be sure of an opportunity to take the Peace Corps Entrance Test, candidates must have submitted their questionnaires by mid-May. The forms are obtainable at any post office, from members of Congress, from county agricultural agents, and from colleges and universities. eges and universities

Those who have not filled out questionnaire may do so at the esting center and will be allowed testing center and will be allowed to take the test if circumstances permit. Preference, however, will be given to those applicants who have submitted their forms by

May 8.
The May 27 examination will be for volunteers who wish to work as elementary school teachond language, in agriculture or animal husbandry, as engineers, surveyors and geologists.

After the administration of this After the administration of this first test, there will be a special testing of liberal arts and teachers' college graduates for teaching of English, biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics in secondary schools Later tests and interviews will assess personality qualifications.

Candidates will take the Peace Corps Entrance Test for a measure of intelligence and learning ure of intelligence and learning ability, for knowledge of Ameri-can history, institutions and values, for language aptitude or values, for language aptitude or achievement and for job competence. Optional tests will measure their skills in such areas as teaching ability, farming and animal husbandry, basic mechanical engineering, basic health and engineering, child care.

D'Avanzo Outlines Allotment Of $145,350 Activities Tax

The Student Government As-ociation will collect a total of sociation will collect a total of $145,350 from the UMass stu-dent body during the next fiscal year, according to Andy D'Avan-zo '63, chairman of the budget

D'Avanzo commented, "Peronally, and quite frankly, I don't sonally, and quite trankly, I don't believe the student body is fully aware of the tremendous fi-nancial responsibility that is vested in their elected represent-

D'Avanzo continued. D'Avanzo continued, "I am very hopeful that the information presented here will impress upon the student body their duty to elect representatives who will be highly responsible individuals. Certainly, finances are only one aspect of importance in student government.

The money will be collected from each student according to the table on page four and ac-cording to the following amounts from the entire student body: Student Activities Tax $111,650.

Class Tax 19,500. Distinguished Visitor Program Freshman Directory
(Freshmen only) 17,400.

1.800 $145,350

All of the above figures All of the above figures are based on 5800 undergraduates, and 1800 freshmen for next year. In the spring of each year, each tax supported organization meets with the Senate Budget Commit-(Continued on page 4)

We Salute You

We offer our sincere congratulations to the newly initiated members of our honor and service societies, Adelphia, Mortar Board, Scrolls, Maroen Key, and Revelers.

AcademicDiscussion

We are deeply indebted to the ad hoc committee of distinguished faculty for their presentation, "U.S.A. and Cuba: Dilemma and Danger." Although many of us may have disagreed with Professors Loewenstein, Ruiz, or Safran (whose talk was read in absentia) we must concede the overall value of the presentation.

Too often, we are indifferent to the significant events of our time. This indifference, is most cases, is a manifestation of a general lack of information. We all have the right to honestly disagree, yet if this disagreement is ventured in ignorance of the facts it is surely an academic sin. In addition, we all have the task of separating information misinformation and, if necessary, openly exposing this misinformation. We do not have the right, however, no matter how justified our argument, to introduce emotion into academic discussion. This completely negates the very idea of academic discussion and makes further discussion impossible.

Review: Sartre

"Sartre on Cuba" is the obvious sequel to C. Wright Mills' "Listen Yankee." The brilliant philosopher-writer critically examines the origins of revolution and the personalities involved. was Mills, Sartre is essentially objective. Unlike Mills, however, Sartre does not detach himself from the revolution and its leaders.

I thought I recognized in Fidel an idea which was too important to me to speak about. Except with him. I said to him, "All those who ask, no matter what they ask, have the right to obtain?" Fidel didn't answer. I insisted: "That's your view?"

tain?" Fidel didn't answer. I insisted.
your view?"
He puffed on his cigar and said loudly, "Yes.
Because demands, in one manner or another, represent needs!"
He added without turning around, "Man's need is his fundamental right over all others."
"And if they ask you for the moon?" I said, sure of the answer.
He puffed on his cigar, verified that it was out, put it down, and turned around toward me.
"If someone asked me for the moon, it would be because someone needed it," he answered me.

me.
I have few friends. That is because I attach much importance to friendship. After this reply, I felt that he had become one of them, but I didn't want to waste his time in announcing it to him.

Whereas Mills used the composite Cuban as a device to reflect the personal view of the revolu-tion, Sartre uses himself. He, in fact, uses Castro as his "Existentialist Man in action."

Sartre analizes the consequences of Washington's attitude in relation to the sugar quota. He points out that unilateral decisions on the part of our government and Congress establishing the price import quotas of sugar were responsible for developing within Cuba a false abundance and an undermined economy.

The U.S.A. certainly had no interest in lowering the price. It would have had to abandon its policies at the same time. Besides, in the island, and particularly in sugar, it had investments which it had to protect.

There remained foreign competition. In Latin America, the Cubans had rivals who dreamed of replacing them. Washington could consider buying more from the rivals. In short, it could pare down the Cuban "quota" from one year to the next. The U.S. government was not unaware of this power. It didn't shun having it recognized.

"And if we lower the 'quota' what then?" In brief, it made the Sovereign" nation eat crow; and the nation ate because there was nothing else to do.

In light of our recent Cuban adventure and the verall significance of the Cuban situation, this books well worth reading.

Copyright 1961 by Balantine Books, Inc. Available at the University and Little Stores

Report On Honors

by JUDY DICKSTEIN '63

"Why does the moon appear larger near the horizon?"
"What are phonemes?"
"How does a spectrograph work?"

What makes insectivorious plants trap insects?" Why does a pencil seem to bend when placed beneath water

'What are Polaroid lenses?"

"How do birds fly?

Do you want to know the answers to these questions? The students in the sophomore honors colloquium in science do. Each Wednesday evening they meet to discuss these and other questions. Group discussions are guided by two highly capable professors, one repdiscussions are guided by two highly capable professors, one representing the physical sciences (Prof. Hans C. Duus, chemistry) and one representing the biological sciences (Prof. Eugene C. Putala, botany.) Reports are prepared and presented by members of the group, furnishing information desired by the other students through research and experimentation.

These students were recommended to the sophomore honors program, co-ordinated by Dr. Louis S. Greenbaum, by their respective faculty advisers. The students in this semester's group are majoring, for the most part, in physics, chemistry, engineering, or math. But there are other colloquia in other fields: one in the humanities (Pro-fessor Leonard H. Ehrlich, philosophy, and Professor Seymour Rudin, English) and two in the social sciences (Prof. Jules Chametzky, English, and Prof. Marc L. Ratner, English; Himy B. Kirshen, Dean of the School of Business Administration, and Prof. Thomas O. Wilkinson, sociology.) Presently, a student accepted into the sophomore honors program can join the seminar treating whatever his interest may be; there is nothing to stop a student majoring in Spanish, for example, from joining the colloquium in science, although this would eem to be the exception rather than the rule

Next year, however, these divisions will be eliminated in favor of a totally inter-disciplinary approach, including professors and stu-dents from all departments on campus. The program will remain very elastic and informal, allowing each group to determine its own cur riculum, under faculty guidance. Students are encouraged to under-take meaningful investigation on their own of relevant topics through books, articles, movies, television, or whatever other means they may have at their disposal.

The student expresses his ideas or convictions and may be challenged by his colleagues to defend his views. The emphasis in the future colloquia, however, will be placed considerably more upon thinking rather than doing, for the basis of the honors program is, in the words of Dr. Greenbaum, director of the program, to provide "a place where the good student can find community of interest and common shared experience with his brightest colleagues and the ablest faculty on campus." faculty on campus.

Membership in the honors program is dependent upon scholarship and interest. Due to the scarcity of openings in the various groups, the selection is competitive; each colloquium has ten student members. A student recommended by his adviser is first interviewed by Dr. Greenbaum and the honors staff, who determine the actual member-

For the coming academic year, the Honors Council is proposing to set up four colloquia for second semester freshmen and four others for juniors. The former will engage superior freshmen in intellectual pursuits before they become involved in less meaningful extra-cur-ricular activities. The latter will provide a continuum for the sopho-mores enrolled in this year's colloquia.

Students participating satisfactorily will receive one aca credit for each semester colloquium. A total of five credits will there-by be accorded a student who has satisfactorily participated in the col-loquium program beginning in the second semester of the freshman year and continuing through the second semester of the junior year.
The credits accumulated from the colloquia will be included in a student's total academic accumulation necessary for graduation.

Next year there will be twelve honors colloquia: four for fresh-men, four for sophomores, and four for juniors, all of which will be inter-disciplinary. At the senior level, individual departmental honors projects will be pursued, as under the present system. Thus, the entire program will be co-ordinated to build an honors continuum over four years, climaxed by the specialized departmental concentration of the senior year. And the academic credits accumulated at the rate of one per semester would enable the honor student to take a lighter class schedule his senior year while engaged in honors work.

In this way, complete involvement will be afforded the stu In this way, complete involvement will be arrored the students who are truly interested in learning beyond the limitations of the classroom experience and thus would also be provided stimulating intellectual fellowship otherwise difficult to achieve. On the part of the University, it is the recognition of its increasing responsibility for the identification and encouragement of our best students, tomorrow's leaders in our state and nation.

The greatest aid that I know of that any man could give the world today would be a correct definition of "liberty." Everybody is running around in a circle announcing that somebody has pinched their "liberty." . . . So the question arises "how much liberty can I get and get away with it?" Well, you can get no more than you give. That's my definition, but you got perfect "liberty" to work out your own, so get in.

-Will Rogers

The Ivory Tower

Spring has finally arrived. We only get snow once a week, the swanboats are out, I saw a robin; and the City Council of Boston is debating whether they should donate money and land for the Boston Arts Festival.

The issues are clear. Every year about 80% of works exhibited are abstract while about 90% of the viewers are abstract. These people don't know anything about art but they know what they like.

The exhibits don't have to be abstract. It is just that the committee that picks the works to be exhibited happen to be abstract artists themselves.

They are a little bit prejudiced in this respect.

There is another side to this question. Two years ago, artists who had their paintings rejected rebelled against the academic atmosphere of the festival and held their own exhibit in the loft of a church. With a manifesto no less. They decried the conformity that the public was being subjected to. Besides painting and sculpture, the festival also presents ballet, jazz, poetry readings, opera and legitimate drama

One year they presented Handel's water music as played by musicians on swan boats. It was broadcast by WGBH, but all that came out was auto

For those of you not acquainted with the inner workings of this cultural achievement, the Boston Arts Festival consists of a series of tents on Bos-ton Common which house exhibits of painting, sculpture, architecture, and photography for two weeks in June. There is also an open air stage for drama-tic works. It is a private enterprise.

The purpose is to exhibit and promote con-temporary art in all its forms. That is where the controversy arises with the first robin every year.

Just what is contemporary art and who is quali-fied to judge it? Obviously you have to be arbitrary in selecting works that will be in good taste, provide a balanced show, and be fairly good art.

So, with most of the art being produced as abstract, what choice is there? One year they displayed a special exhibit of paintings by Edwin Hopper, a realist. No one took notice. Apparently they weren't

The Arts Festival will continue, Boston will get its two weeks of culture and we'll hear the same arguments next spring.

Someday someone will wake up to the fact that someday someone will wake up to the fact that the eight or so art galleries of Boston only exhibit abstract paintings anyhow. Will these galleries lose their permits? Will the Arts Festival continue? Will Boston move into the 20th Century? Tune in next year, and the year after, and the year after.

On Freedom Of The Press

It is the best cause; the cause of liberty; and I make no doubt but your upright conduct, this day, will not only entitle you to the love and esteem of your fellow citizen, but every man who prefers freedom to a life of slavery will bless and honor you as men who have baffled the attempt of tyranny, and, by an impartial and uncorrupt verdict, have laid a noble foundation for securing to ourselves, our posterity, and our neighbors that to which Nature and the laws of our country have given us a right—the liberty of both exposing and opposing arbitrary power (in these parts of the world at least) by speaking and writing truth.

-Andrew Hamilton

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor News Editor: Assignments Joseph Bradley '64 Sports Editor Ben Gordon '62 Business Manager Howard Frisch 62 Sports Editor
Business Manager
News Editor: Make-Up Photography Editor Friday
Editorial Associate

James J. Trelease '63 Beth Peterson '63 Lawrence Popple '63

Michael Palter '63 Roger Cruff '64
Paul Kennet '64
Dave Willard '64
Jean Cann '63 News Associate
Feature Associate Sports Associate Copy

Entered as second class matter at the post herst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during year, except during vacation and examination power the week following a vacation or examinat when a holiday falls within the week. Accepte under the authority of the set of March 8, 187 by the act of Ju v 11, 1984.

Subscription price $4.00 per year; $2.5

FINAL EXAM SCHEDULE, MAY 22-29

A.M.	Monday, 22	Tuesday, 23	Wednesday, 24	Thursday, 25	Friday, 26	Saturday, 27	Monday, 29
8:00-10:00 A	Jr. Sr. 11 MWF Chem Eng 25 G 157 Chem Eng 26 G 157 Latin 6 B 314 Phil 12 B 305	Chem 33 G 252	Hort 32 Bh 307 Math 12 W 21 Phys 7 H 100, 111	Boe 1 WPF C 151 150	Ital 6 B 207 Music 2 OC Sem	Jr. Sr. 8 TThS An Sci 2 S 102 Hort 2 F 102	Eng 1, 2 WPE: B:
10:20-12:20 A.M.	C.E. 32 EB 118, 120 Ec 26 EB 132, 134; B 325, G Fren 26 B 205, 207 Hist 32 B 227, 301 Math 29 W 21, 22, 27, 16 Math 30 G Aud	Math 1, 2, 4,7 WPE, EB: GL: G: Mach	Hist 6 WPE; EB; B; G 151, 152 P. Ed 42 W 16	Chem 30 G Aud, 151 French 2, 8 WPE; B Aud	Chem 2, 4, 26 WPE; G; EB: GL	Ec 12, 25 WPE Geol 2 M Aud; G 151, 152 WPE 2 WPE	AVAILABLE FOR MAKE-UP EXAMS
1:10-3:10 P.M.	W 16, 33 Jr. Sr. 1 MWF Ld Arch 2 WH ME 46 EB 118, 120 Zool 35 M Aud, G 151, 152	Jr. Sr. 11 TS Eng 25, 26 WPE, B, EB, GL, S, F, M	Astron 24 H 211 CE 34 EB 118, 120 Hist 26 B Aud, . 325, 227, 305 Home Ec 35 Sk 217 Ital 2 B 206 Phys 6 WPE Russ 6 B 208		Ld Arch 30 F 9	Jr. Sr. 9 MWF Astron 2 H 100 Air Sc 2 DH; WPE Bot 26 CH 104 Span 26 B 21 2	AVAILABLE FOR MAKE-UP EXAMS
3:30-5:30 P.M.	EE 42 EB 118, 120	WPE 10 WPE	Germ 2 WPE Math 5 W 32, 34 Math 31 W 16, 14 Phil 31 B Aud; 325, 227 P Ed 22 G 151, 152	Hench 28 B 201 Ld Arch 28 WH, W ME 1, 2 EB,	Math 32 G 151, 152 EB 118, 120, Mach	Ent 26 Fe D, B1	BY ARRANGEMENT: Music 12-24 Nursing 2, 26

Bearded Old Man, Familiar Campus Sight, Will Be 75 And Hopes To Live Until 100 by GRACE FITZPATRICK '63, Collegian Staff Reporter In a few weeks Leo Robinson, veteran of World War I He took neretofore identified by many becople as the old man with the ong grey beard, will be seventyheretofore five years old. To most students at UMass. Robinson's tattered garments, long flowing beard and distinctive stride are familiar net profit per party.

veteran of World War I. He took the two year course in practical agriculture. This was before the SSA was founded. At that time Dr. Van Meter was extension specialist in marketing, and Robinson who was particularly interested in marketing studied under

Robinson first came to UMass in 1920 a Federal student similar to students on the GI bill as a the town of his birth. There wa a note of nostalgia in his voice when Robinson mentioned his birthplace and he spent a long time telling about his boyhood in that small country town.

During the depression in 1935

Buring the depression in 1935 Robinson attended North Caro-lina State College where he took adult education courses in Zoo-logy, Sociology, Farmer's moveetc.) and com ments (Grange munity organization.

Robinson Well Informed

In speaking with Robinson on can perceive that he is more than an ordinarily educated man. He is very interested in politics, is very well informed on current events, and even mentioned the recent flight of the Astronaut. Robinson reads quite a bit and is currently interested in nutrition. He menamino acids are to the life and growth of animals.

Robinson receives a small pension from World War I with which he supports himself. He lives in the farm area of UMass.

Feeds Local Cats

Robinson has undertaken the task of feeding and caring for the cats which live around the farm. He claims that by taking good care of the cats and feeding them nutritionally well balanced diets he has succeeded in ridding the farm area of rats and mice. Robinson says that it is quite a responsibility for him to feed the cats all the time but considers it something useful and patriotic to Massachusetts. The cats look upon Robinson as a protector and he can ap-proach even the wildest of them. He says that the reason they distrust other men is because men have at times been brutal to them. Robinson says that he knows how they feel for some of the same people have been dis-respectful to him.

Hopes to Live Until He's One Hundred

Hundred
The bearded man's parting words were "In a few weeks I'll be seventy-five and the way I feel I think I'll make a hundred.
I hope so." He turned then and walked jauntily into the stable.

Centennial Committee Hopes For Budget Of $96,000

by BARRY HALLETT '63, Centennial Coordinator

$96,000, in cash or kind, has been confirmed as a realistic es-timate of a work budget that will enable UMass to produce a Cen-tennial development of the scope and quality appropriate. The Centennial planners have had the benefit of the counsel of two experts in this field, both of them alumni, and both of them former-ly news editor and publications officers here.

Francis Pray, Vice President for College Relations, Council for Financial Aid to Education, for-mer public relations officer at Union College, and coordinator for the University of Pittsburgh Centennial, and Robert McCartney, Director of Public Informa-tion at the University of Maryland, reported mutually the $96,-000 work budget.

UMass Doesn't Have Assured Budget For Centennial "Unlike other Centennials presently being celebrated, UMass does not have an assured budget. Funds will have to be raised as the need occurs," said Centennial son at a recent planners banquet. son at a recent planners banquet.

"We are seeking to raise this Work Budget from the following sources" said Dr. Maxwell Goldberg, the Executive Director;

"The Alumni, the student body,
University of Massachusetts development, and other sources outside the University family."

Need Time For Projects
A chief problem is that the chief problem is that the more time and effort the members of the Centennial Committee and staff have to put into work budget fund-raising, the less time they have to put into developing the projects themselves. It will be upon the numbers and quality of the projects we can develo that a great part of the quality and impact of the Centennial enterprise will depend.

Already there exists some fourteen varied committees with an ever expanding membership. The attitude is to try to educate fellow students, faculty members and all others to the full potential of our Centennial.

CLUB DIRECTORY

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

There will be an executive meeting at 6 p.m. and a regular meeting at 7 p.m. followed by initiation ceremonies and re-freshments on Mon., May 15 in the Worcester Rm

LITERARY SOCIETY

There will be a reading of Santre's "No Exit" directed by Ben Benoit with Karen Canfield, Buffy St. Marie, and Bob Stanton in the cast on Mon., May 15 at 7:30 p.m. in Bartlett Auditorium

SENIOR WEEK

Tickets are on sale from Tues... May 16 until June 1 at the S.U. Ticket Window, 2-4:30 p.m. Senior Class Picnic Fri., June 2, 1-6 p.m. at Forest Lake Park. Jazz Band. Tickets $1.50. Senior Dinner Dance at the Red Barn in Chicopee on Thurs., June 1, 6-12:30 p.m. Tony Ravosa's Band. Tickets $2.50.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Beck's Barn, Belchertown Road, Amherst. Admission is $.50. Cars will be leaving Skinner at 7:30. Caller will be Harold

WMUA

MUA New converters have been in-stalled in Dwight, Hills, and the Lincoln Apartments. The converters serving Hills and the Lincoln Apartments operate on a frequency of 750 kc on the radio dial. Students living in the married dorms are request-ed to call University Extension 425 if they are unalbe to get

LOST & FOUND

Lost: UMass jacket taken by mistake in front of Chem Lab on Thurs. morning. Please contact Bob Simmons 330 Butterfield.

Lost: Black blazer, taken by mistake at the Dining commons, line 3. Return mine, I have yours. Sponsoring a square dance Sat., May 13, at 8 p.m. at Sally Winter, 212 Hamlin.

PARTIES ALL SUMMER are fun and they are moneymakers, too. You will sell our line of housekeeping and personal good grooming products on the Famous Stanley Hostess Party Plan. P.S.: This is not door to door selling.

You Will On The Stanley Plan

For U. of M. Students!

★ TOP MONEY can be yours. Last summer students made up to $1,000 in one month. Many made over $100 a week in August alone. Dealers average more than $10

MAKE MONEY

THIS SUMMER?

- ★ SCHOLARSHIPS will be awarded to the high seven eli-gible College Dealers. Ed Milligan won a $500 scholar-ship last year in Pittsburgh. Other winners were from California, Massachusetts, Kentucky and Ohio. You can win this year!
- ★ EXPERIENCE is not required, but when the summer is over you will find you have gained a great deal of val-uable experience in talking with people. We have career opportunities for experienced leaders.
- NATIONWIDE OPPORTUNITIES exist for both men and women, students and teachers, in our hundreds of branch sales offices throughout the fifty states. Work in

AMHERST INTERVIEWS CALL MR. OLDERSHAW, Alpine 3-5278

OR WRITE TODAY TO

MR. GRAYDON..DeLAND College Division

STANLEY HOME PRODUCTS Inc.

WESTFIELD, MASS.

a. Handbook 3.8%; b. Literary Magazine 3.2%; c. YaHoo 3.1%; d. Centennial 2.5%; e. Fine Arts Committee 2.1%; f. Judging Team 1.6%; g. Mugbook 1.5%; h. Debating Society 1.2%; i. Mortar Board 8%; j. English Journal .6%; Adelphia, Foreign Student Aid, and Amateur Radio .3%.

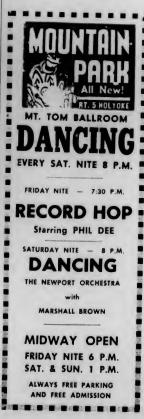

Old Spice Smooth Shave moist and to the end vour shave . . .

Your razor rides easy all the way. Softens the most stubborn beard instantly for a faster, closer shave, soothes and lubricates your skin. Extra-rich, extra-thick, push-button quick. Regular or Mentholated, only 1.00

STUDENT SENATE NOTICE

In accordance with the Student Government Association By-Laws, the Budget Committee will hold its annual Spring Meeting on Tuesday evening, May 16, at 7 p.m. in the Barnstable room. The purpose of the meeting is to give all new treasurers and officers of each organization an opportunity to ask questions about their new Budget and Senate financial policy. Those attending should study the copy of their budgets in their boxes so as to be prepared to use this meeting to the fullest advantage

WHERE YOUR STUDENT TAX DOLLAR GOES

tee to fulfill their budgetary requirements before their appro-priations will be considered on priations will be considered on the Senate floor. The appropria-tion that the Senate decides to give an organization depends primarily on the needs of the organization. In other words, each organization is weighed on its individual merits before ap-propriation is decided upon. After appropriations for all organiza-tions have been determined, they tions have been determined, they are totalled, and then the Senate sets the Student Activities tax

The total student activities tax for each student next year will be $19.25, which is a 75 cents increase over this year's tax. It is also noted that next year's total budget appropriation is approxi-mately $10,000 greater than this past year's. Careful study of the above table will reveal that this is primarily due to the following:

1) Two entirely new Budgets that never existed before are added to next year's total: the Centennial donation and the Fine Arts Council Donation.

2) The Literary Magazine and WMUA have increased more than the usual amount because of the overwhelming needs of the or-ganizations. The University Band also has increased considerably, both this year and last year, because of its pressing needs.

Extra Revenue Expected

However, the $10,000 budgetextra revenue expected from the increase in next year's enroll-

Although the Centennial dona-tion is one of the causes of next year's increase in the Student Activities Tax, it is not the primary cause. Even if the Senate had not given a donation to the Centennial, the Student Activities Tax would still have increased, though only by 25 cents. This increase is attributed to the processes is attributed to the processes. crease is attributed to the un-derestimated tax rate of this year which caused the Student Activities Tax Fund to operate $2800, in the red for the part of this semester.

New Collegian Policy

One of the most important changes in the Budget Act for next year is the new policy in relation to the Collegian Budg-et. Next year, the Collegian will not be printing one paper for every student as has been the case in the past. The Collegian will be printing at 80 per cent saturation. That is, there will be four Collegians printed for every five students. Although this five students, Although this is an experiment, the Senate is quite confident that a considerable amount of waste will be eliminated. At the same time, the stu-dents will save $4,000. of their students in agriculture has been established by Alpha Zeta, na-tional honorary agricultural fraternity, according to Donald L. Smith who is chancellor of the UMass Chapter.

Alpha Zeta Establishes Scholarship Foundation

Proceeds received by the foundation from gifts, bequests and contributions from active undergraduate members will be used to promote the study and adof agricultural students at UMass and other univer-sities in the country, reports

Smith.

Dr. Louis L. Madsen, high chancellor of Alpha Zeta and director of the Institute of Agricultural Sciences at Washington State University said, "Establishment of the foundation is a most significant, step, forward for significant step forward for Alpha Zeta and the agricultural

Each year, Alpha Zeta has been offering scholarships for grad-uate study. The foundation is expected to provide funds for a larger number of graduate schol-arships as well as for undergrad-

School Of Business

Presents Colloquia At 4 p.m. today The School of Business Administration will present the third in a series of Colloquia in the Middlesex Room.

All are invited to attend.

The Program will center around an Interdisciplinary Symposium on "Some Views on the Decision-Making Process in Organizations". Participants in the panel drawn from different academic areas of UMass include Dr. Paul Agarwal, School of Engineering: Dr. Happy J. Versel Dr. Paul Agarwal, School of Engineering; Dr. Henry J. Korson, Department of Sociology; Dr. Walter G. O'Donnell, Department of Management; Dr. Sargent Russell, Department of Statistics; Dr. Clarence Shute, Department of Philosophy; Dr. Sidney Schoeffler, Department of Economics; and Dr. Warren H. Teichner, Department of Psychology. Economics; and Dr. Warre Teichner, Department of

WMUA SCHEDULE

Friday 3:30—Sign-On; News 3:35—Music Theatre

5:50—Nusic Theatre 5:00—News 5:05—Music Theatre 6:00—Four College News 6:15—This is a Friendly World 6:30—Louis Lyons and the News 6:45—World News Round-Up 6:55-Sports

7:00-Old Tunes Show

8:00-Crazy Rhythms

1:00—News; Sign-Off Saturday 3:30—Sign-On; News

3:35-Music Theatre

5:00—News 5:05—Music Theatre

6:00—Canadian Short Stories 6:30—World News Round-Up 6:45—Sports Round-Up

7:00—Campus Jukebox 8:00—Dancing in the Dark 1:00—News; Sign-Off Sunday

3:30—Sign-On; News 3:35—Sounds of the People 5:00—News

5:05—Dinner Date 6:00—The Navy Swings 6:15—Pat Boone

6:30—World News Round-Up 6:45—Washington Reports to the People

7:00—Canadian Short Stories
7:30—Musicale
9:00—Sunday Spectacular
10:00—Sounds of Jazz
11:00—Shoes-Off
12:00—News; Sign-Off

Winter Carnival Queen Maintains Honor Grades

The biggest weekend of the UMass. school year is the annual Winter Carnival. A pretty coed from Worcester, Bette Broberg reigned over the gala affair this

Bette was the nominee of Mary Lyons House. After the pictures of all the nominees were taken and placed in the lobby of the S.U., the whole campus voted for their favorites. Soon the finalists were announced. These five girls then attended an informal discus-sion in the S.U. with the judges. "It was like a tea except that you didn't have food," Bette described

Before the winner was announced, the five finalists had pictures taken as they frolicked in the snow. Movies for television ere even taken. Friday night of Winter Car-

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

Seven years now I have been writing this column for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, and each year when I come to the last column of the year, my heart is gripped by the same bittersweet feeling. I shall miss you sorely, dear readers, in the long summer days ahead. I shall miss all you freckle-faced boys with frogs in your pockets. I shall miss all you pig-tailed girls with your gap-toothed giggles. I shall miss you one and all—your shining morning faces, your apples, your marbles, your jacks, your little oilcloth satchels.

But I shall not be entirely sad, for you have given me many a happy memory to sustain me. It has been a rare pleasure writing this column for you all year, and I would ask every one of you to come visit me during the summer except there is no access to my room. The makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, after I missed several deadlines, walled me in. All I have is a mail slot into which I drop my columns and through which they supply me with Marlboro Cigarettes and such food as will slip through a mail slot. (For six months now I have been living on after-dinner mints.) living on after-dinner mints.)

I am only having my little joke. The makers of Marlboros have not walled me in. They could never do such a cruel thing. Manly and muscular they may be, and gruff and curt and direct, but underneath they are men of great heart and sweet, compassionate disposition, and I wish to take this opportunity to state publicly that I will always have the highest regard for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, no matter how my lawsuit for back wages comes out.

I am only having my little joke. I am not suing the makers of Marlboros for back wages. These honorable gentlemen have always paid me promptly and in full. To be sure, they have not paid me in cash, but they have given me something far more precious. You would go far to find one so covered with tattoos as I.

I am only having my little joke. The makers of Marlboros have not covered me with tattoos. In fact, they have engraved no commercial advertising whatsoever on my person. My suit, of course, is another matter, but even here they have exercised taste and restraint. On the back of my suit, in unobtrusive neon, they have put this fetching little jingle:

Are your taste buds out of kilter? Are you bored with smoking, neighbor? Then try that splendid Marlboro filter, Try that excellent Marlboro fleighbor!

On the front of my suit, in muted phosphorus, are pictures of the members of the Marlboro board and their families. On my hat is a small cigarette girl crying, "Who'll buy my Marlboros?"

I am only having my little joke. The makers of Marlboros have been perfect dolls to work for, and so, dear readers, have you. Your kind response to my nonsense has warmed this old thorax, and I trust you will not find me soggy if in this final column of the year, I express my sincere gratitude.

Have a good summer. Stay healthy. Stay happy. Stay loose.

● 1991 Max Shulman

The makers of Mariboros and the new unfiltered king-size Philip Morris Commander have been happy to bring you this uncensored, free-wheeling column cil year long. Now, if we may echo old Max: Stay healthy. Stay happy. Stay loose.

nival Weekend was the big one. At intermission the five finalists were escorted to the stage, and President Lederle crowned Bette as queen. "I just stood there and couldn't believe it," she said. The special event for Bette was a fol-lowing dance which she had with the president.

The following day the five finalists modeled in the fashion show and were given a free ride on the dog sleds which were down by campus pond.

At home, Bette was queen of her junior prom in high school and in the queen's court of the senior prom. On campus, she had previously been a finalist for previously been a finalist for Homecoming queen.

Since Bette is a Nursing major, she will be going to Springfield Hospital next year to study at Springfield Hospital. A Dean's List Scholar for the past two years, Bette is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, the Scrolls, and Nursing Club, and the C.A.

As for the future, Bette is particularly interested in pediatrics and surgery and might specialize in one of these fields.

Sororities Initiate Freshman Women

CHI OMEGA

It has been quite a full month for the Chi O's. On May 1st and 2nd, seventeen girls were initi-ated into the sisterhood. The hapated into the sisterhood. The happily welcomed new sisters are: Lucy Allen, Bonnie Borges, Pat Bourbinais, Marie Brazao, Debby Downey, Judy Fitts, Barbara Kelley, and Edie Leahy.

Also initiated were: Nancy Leach, Margie Mentes, Marcia Policow, Kay Reagan, Jan Reimer, Judy Scott, Pat Sweeney, Linda Swenson, and Dolores Sylvester. vester.

Thursday night May 4th, the Thursday night May 4th, the Chi O's traveled to Leeds Veterans Hospital to entertain the patients. The main events of the evening were games directed by the girls. A Bingo game for which prizes were awarded was the feature. Refreshments were served and a community sing were served and a community sing were served and a community sing was conducted.

The evening was so rewarding and successful that the group hopes to make a return visit soon. The annual Junior-Senior Banquet will be held next Monday night at a place known only to the secretive Juniors.

SIGMA KAPPA

The Sigmas are pleased to have Mrs. Williams as the new house mother. We regret to say that Mrs. Young had to leave us because of illness.

Last Sunday the following girls were initiated into the sorority: Priscilla Bradway, Sharon Clapper, Janet Haron, Penny Hatch, Gail Jensen, Mae Kapinos, Ellen Kfoury, Judy Knox, Carolyn Oliver, and Paula Wickens.

The annual initiation banquet was held at the Lord Jeff in Amherst. Judy Garlinger, Joan Bos-kiewicz, Nancy Ringoen, and Sharon Clapper spoke for the classes of '61, '62, '63, and '64 respectively.

The following awards were presented: Rita Maroun, most cooperative senior for four years of membership; Joan Werner, best rusher; new initiate with the highest average, Mae Kapinos, new initiate with the most activi-ties, Nancy Sheldon; highest new initiate with the most activities, Nancy Sheldon; highest averages in the house, Sue Gallagher, Rose Kirchner, and Marie Mortimer; sisters raising their averages the most, Joan Hendrickson, Marsha Gaffey, Ginger Anderson, Barb Cushing, and Joan Werner.

The activities awards went to Judy Javela and Connie Gardini. This weekend at SWAP, Sigma Kappa will be represented by Carol Hajjar and Joan Boskie-

The annual pledge picnic was held at Look Park on last Thurs-day. The freshman initiates planned the picnic and provided entertainment.

PI BETA PHI

PI BETA PHI
This year's Senior Banquet was held on Monday evening, May 1st at the Log Cabin in Holyoke.
Lane Farr read the Senior's last will and testament and Penny Matthews and Jan Dimock gave the prophecy of the Junior Class.
The delicious meal and festivities The delicious meal and festivities were enjoyed by all. The Senior Banquet is a yearly tradition and extends a formal farewell to all the Pi Phi Seniors.

Pi Phi would like to thank ATG for the wonderful exchange supper on Thursday, May 4th.

Pinnings

Marlene Corin of Boston University to Mike Ratner, Alpha Epsilon Pi.

Epsilon Pi.

Debbie Downey of Chi Omega to Dick McKenna of Holy Cross.
Rita Enbinder of Mount Ida to Al Tobias, Alpha Epsilon Pi.
Cynthia Freeman of Simmons College to Al Bornstein, Tau Epsilon Phi.

silon Phi.

silon Phi.
Danielle Freund of Boston
State Teachers' College to Mike
Buchman, Tau Epsilon Phi.
Ruth Levi of Mary Lyons to Stanley Miller, Phi Sigma Delta.
Rita Monteiro of Fall River to Leo Colbert, Butterfield.
Sandy Myers of University of Bridgenort to Phil Katz Tau En-

Bridgeport to Phil Katz, Tau Epsilon Phi.

Gloria Sperry of Central Con-man, Tau Epsilon Phi.

Mary Ann Sweeney, Sigma
Delta Tau to Ernie Goff, Sigma
Phi Ensilon Phi Epsilor

Engagements

Mo Filkins of Thatcher to Chuck Sherman, Q.T.V. Linda Lane of Hamlin to Eric Pruyne, Greenough.

Bonnie Sanborn of Chi Omega to Jerry O'Neil of Gloucester.

BETWEEN CLASSES... get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

tied under authority of 1 Coca-Cola Company by oca-Cola Bottling Company of Northampton, Northampton, Mass

UMass Trackmen Conquered By Crusaders; Will Challenge Mighty Maine In YC Games

was easily defeated by the powerful Holy Cross Crusaders at Alumni Field on Wednesday. The score mounted to 81.1/3-53 2/3 as the visitors from Worcester showed great strength in the dis-

The victors took one and two the 440, 880, mile, and two mile, for 32 points against UMass 4 in just these four events. It was not because the Redmen were unequal to the task; Ron Young recorded his best quarter mile time, 51.0 seconds, Ken O'Brien set a school record of 1:56.7 in the half, Dave Balch did the same with a 4:24 mile, and Ralph But each of these men had thirds in their races as the Crusaders' Charlie Buchta set a field record 4:22.9 in the mile and John Barker did likewise with a 9:38.4

Holy Cross' Scully had a winning time of 50.1 in the quarter and Jay Bowers won the half-mile by a half-second over O'Brien. Buchta, who won an combination which included a 4:20.6 mile and 21.4 second 220 against B.C. last week, was no match for Loren Flagg in the latter. Flagg beat the Crusader to the tape in just one-tenth sec-ond over his own school record of 22.0, after defeating Eris Tait in the 100 yard dash in 10.3. Tait and Loppy had split in two indoor meetings. Flagg now has posted four straight 100 yard victories while being a double dash winner twice this spring.

Tait also split hurdles victories with Charlie LaPier, LaPier, slow but sure over the highs, had sur-prisingly good time for winning them, 15.9 seconds, just twotenths off his school record set in Miami. Joe Cassidy, who has not hurdled for quite a while, picked up a third in the highs, while Tait came back to edge La-Pier in the low hurdles. The fast H.C. man also tied Al Garsys for first in the broad jump at 21'5".

It was Purple again for the Redmen in the pole vault, as the Crusaders took first and second with Dick Brown picking up the third for UMass. The winning height by McLaughlin was a good 12'3". A different situation was presented in the high jump as Dick Ward conquered the opposi-tion with a steady 6'2", and La-Pier and Cassidy managed to tie footballer Tom Hennessey for sec-

DAVE BALCH

It was a seesaw battle in the veights, with H.C. sweeping the shotput but UMass sweeping the javelin. All three Crusader shotputters surpassed 45 feet with Winters winning at 46'10 3/4". Jim Ballou, Hank Kelsey, and Charlie Fohlin finished in that order in the spear throwing contest, as Ballou finally hit the range without fouling at 189' 101'2", his best in competition. Winters became a double winner by taking the discus with 133'1' and Kevin Kilgallen set an H.C. mark of 177'6" in winning the

FROSH BEATEN

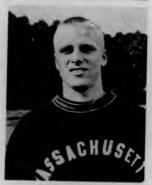

The UMass freshman trackmen finally saw their 12 meet streak (including cross country) broken at the hands of the Crusader yearlings, 76-59. Again the young Redmen did not have Fred Lewis and Bruce Piatek, and judging by the marks, these injured hands may have made the difference.
Holy Cross exhibited some excellent as well as durable freshen, including two triple winners, rarity in track. Maiberger took the 100, 220, and broadjump for them, and endurance-packed Kevin Callahan won the half mile, mile, and two mile. They also had a double winner in shotputter-discus thrower Colbert, and Maiberger picked off second in the javelin, resulting in 43 points among three me

Jim Lumley starred for the Redmen with a pole vault victory and seconds in both hurdles, and Bob Brouillet had good seconds in the mile and two mile.

YANCON MEET SATURDAY

The varsity trackmen travel to Kingston, R. I., for the 14th annual Yankee Conference Championship meet on Saturday. Maine has practically been conceded the

LOREN FLAGG

has been broken only once, by UConn in 1959.

The Black Bears are strong in early every event, as they present returning champions in four events as well as some great sophomores. One of these champs, victory by most speculators, but this may be a welcome relief since Rhode Island's domination Terry Horne, was recently defeated by Maine sophomore Dick Nason in the hammer and discus.

A battle shapes up for second between URI, UConn, and the Redmen. The Rams, last year's champs, have lost much in some events, and have not improved as much as their rivals in others. They do have returning victors in three events, but 100 winner Karl Lisa has to face Loren Flagg, and shot-discus champ Al Torgan will battle Horne and Nason.

The Huskies, although they topped the Redmen in a dual meet, may not have the outstanding individuals necessary to score heavily in this contest. Javelin champ Reid Crawshaw should reappear in his specialty, high jumper Ed Harrison has new competition in Dick Ward, who has already beaten him.

UMass should easily surpass the last place they have taken in the past three years and for the first time has enough good men to be a possible winner. Flagg, Ward, Balch, and O'Brien are only a few among more than a dozen on the squad who are bringing the UMass team into YanCon prominence

Johnson's Pitching Leads Frosh To Leceister Win

by DAVE WILLARD '64

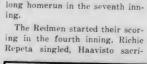

The UMass freshmen nine losing streak with a decisive 8-4 victory yesterday afternoon against Leceister Junior College.

Big Mike Johnson, the Gene Conley of the Redmen, proved to be the big hero and stopper as the 6'6" basketball player came in in the fifth inning to relieve starter Dick Haavisto. Mike pitched shutout ball the rest of the way, allowing just one hit and striking out seven over four innings. Johnson also had a big hand in the scoring as he hit a long homerun in the seventh inn-ficed and was safe on an error. Powers walked to load the bases and Awdycki reached on a fielder's choice to drive in a run. Gordie Lewis then smacked a long double clearing the sacks and the Redmen had four runs in. Lewis, the fine catcher, had three for three on the day and turned in his steady job behind the plate for the Redmen.

In the fifth Curtiss, Repeta, and Powers banged out three suc-cessive singles to account for an-other run. UMass continued their drive in the sixth when Lewis singled and John Earle doubled him in. Earle has developed into e of the best and most dependable hitters on the club.

"NEVER ON SUN-

Long sleeves $5.00 Short sleeves $4.00 F. H. THOMPSON & SON 13 N. Pleasant St. - Amherst

Redmen Hurling, Bats Batter Rhode Island Squad 4-0 In Crucial Conference Meeting by BEN GORDON '62, Sports Editor

UMass southpaws Paul Wennik and Ed Connolly combined forces to hurl the Redmen to a 4-0 victory over the Rhode Island Rams last Wednesday at Kingston, Connolly started for the Lordens but his aim was off the plate and Coach Earl Lorden called for Wennik in the fourth to smother

The Massmen started it off on the right foot in the top of the first inning when Bob Roland, switched to leadoff man, drew a base on balls from Rhody's Betty. Big Ed Forbush laid down a bunt and went out third to first, but Roland was standing on sec-ond. After Frank Pisiewski popped to the first baseman, Paul Foley brought Bobo in with the winning run on a single. Corky Schmoyer struck out to end the inning, but the damage had been

The squad's bats were cold until the sixth frame when Bob Roland sliced out a single and was sacrificed to second again by Red Forbush. Pisiewski then smashed a double bringing in Bobo, and was brought across the plate himself when Paul Foley, notched his second RBI with a follow-up two bagger. Pete Larkin, subbing for Schmoyer, drew a walk, but Bob Hughes grounded out to end the 3-0 lead, the Lordens added their final tally to the scoreboard when Tony Williams lined out a double. sacrificed to third on Dave Krukonis' grounder, and scored when Wennik flew to center.

PAUL FOLEY

POP UPS

The Mass bats burnt their way through four Rhody pitchers dur-ing the contest, notching nine hits in all . . . Ed Connolly, pitching for three innings, gave up only one hit while Wennik gave away only two . . . It looks as if Coach Lorden picked a good spot for Bobo Roland. Bob, who spot for Bobo Roland. Bob, who has been hitting well all season, scored twice for the Redmen . . . Pisiewski, Foley and Williams each had two hits for the Mass nine . . . The team now has a 3-1-1 Conference record as opposed to UConn's 6-1 slate . . . They will travel to Vermont this weekend for a couple of required to the control of the state of the couple of the couple of the same state. weekend for a couple of games, having to win both of them to stay in the running. It's been a long time since UMass has beaten Vermont twice in one season . . . Remember, it was Vermont who dumped the UConn Huskies this

FRANK PISIEWSKI

UMASS	ab	r	h	rbi
Roland, rf	2	2	1	0
Forbush, 1b	2	0	0	0
Pisiewski, ss	4	1	2	0
Foley, If	4	0	2 2	2
Schmoyer, 2b	1	0	ō	ő
Larkin, 2b	2	0	1	0
Hughes, cf	4	0	i	0
Williams, 3b	3	1	2	0
Krukonis, c	4	0	ō	0
Connolly, p	1	0	0	0
Connolly, p Wennik, p	1	0	0	1
		-	_
Totals	28	4	9	3
RHODE ISLAND	ab	r	h	rbi
Vallese, 2b	4	0	2	0
Richmond, rf	2	0	0	0
Anez, 3b	2	0	0	0
Coleman, 3b	1	0	0	0
Harrington, as	3	0	0	0
Ayard, ss	1	0	0	0
Swift, c	3	0	1	0
Scarbula, If	4	0	0	0
Allari, cf	3	0	0	0
Pritchard, 1b	2	0	0	0
Betty, p	1	0	0	ő
Ricardo, p	0	0	0	0
Ricardo, p DiMichele, p	0	0	0	0
Logan, p	0	0	0	0
		-	-
Totals	26	0	3	0
UMASS	100	002	100	-4
E - Larkin, PO-A	- 1	Mass	27.	19.
E - Larkin, PO-A Rhode Island 27-12.	DE	-Pi	siews	ki.
Larkin and Forbush. I.	OB-	-UM	4. F	1.5
6. 2B—Pisiewski, Will SAC—Forbush 2, Hu	iams	. 2B	-An	ez.
SAC-Forbush 2, Hu	ghes,	W	illiat	ns.
ip ip	h		r bb	80
Connolly 4 1			0 5	5
Wennik (W) 4 2	.3 2	0	0 2	3
Betty (L) 6 Ricardo 6				3
Ricardo	3 3		2 1
DiMichele 2	3 1		1 0
U-Gold, McDowell	2		0 0	1
U-Upid, McDowell	T_ 9	91

Golfers Lose To N.H.; Snap 14-Game Streak

by W. JOHN LENNON
The University of Massachu- staged at t setts golf team suffered their first defeat of the season Tuesday when New Hampshire's Wildcats edged them, 5-2, at the Durham Country Club. The afternoon was not a total loss, however, since the Redmen won the second half of the match with a 5-2 verdict over Boston College.

seven highlighted the match when he aced the 230 yard par 3 eighth hole. This one in a lifetime shot enabled him to tie for medalist honors with a one over 73.

Not only was this the initial setback for Coach Gladchuk's men, but also the end of their 14 match play winning streak which had extended for the great-

It must be that lightning strikes twice in the same place, since Mike Megliola also saw his streak of 13 slip away. The lefthanded senior recorded a 76, but named senior recorded a 76, but was upended on the 17th hole by his UNH opponent. Lucky thir-teen just didn't come through this time.

Next-New Englands

This afternoon the Redmen have high hopes of getting back on the winning trail; to do it they'll have to capture the coveted New England Intercollegiate tournament, which is being

WEEKEND SPORTS

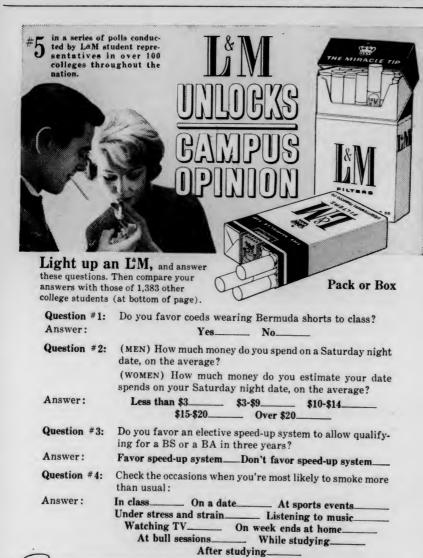

The YanCon Tennis Tourney, varsity lacrosse and frosh base-ball are on the home slate for staged at the Metacomet Country Club in East Providence. After 18 holes the lowest four of the seven individual scores for each team will be tallied to determine which team will reign as the NE king. The lowest 16 men in this medal play tourney will then engage each other on Saturday and Sunday in match play to determine the individual champ.

Some of the top names in the Some of the top names in the scramble for the crown include Barry Bruce of Tufts; Abbott Baker of BU; Bill Lockhead, last year's New England title holder from UNH; Barry Fitta from URI; Bob Foley of Wesleyan; Lin Faxon of Middlebury; plus the entire Redmen squad. From this corner it looks like Bruce for the individual crown and UNH for the individual crown and UNH for the team crown.

The scoring for the recent match is as follows:

- 1. Hatfield (79-UM) lost to Lockhead (73-UNH) 5-4; beat Burke (79-BC) 1 up.
- 2. Megliola (UM-76) lost to Cook (75-UNH) 2-1; beat Sanford (80-BC) 2-1
- 3. Schmoyer (UM-73) beat Werner (77-UNH); beat Foley (90-BC) 8-7.
- 4. Marshall (77-UM) beat UNH 2-1; beat BC, 6-5
- 5. Donasky (84-UM) lost to UNH, 5-3; lost to BC, 5-4
- 6. Dion (85-UM) lost to Edmunds (84-UNH) 2-1; lost to Pickering (82-BC) 1 down
- 7. Conway (83-UM) lost to UNH, 1 down and beat his BC opponent who had no card.

UNLOCK A NEW WORLD OF

FRESH SMOKING PLEASURE-

Answer, Question #1: Men: Yes 57%-No 43% Women: Yes 48% No 52%

Answer, Question *1: Men: Yes b7%-No 43% Women: Yes 48% No 52% Answer, Question *2: (Men's and Women's answers combined): Less than $3, 23%. $3-$9, 65%. $10-$14, 9%. $15-$20, 2%. Over $20, 1%. Answer, Question *3: Favor speed-up system 55% Don't favor speed-up system 45% Answer, Question *4: In class 2%. On a date 8%. At sports events 4%. Under stress and strain 26%. Listening to music 4%. Watching TV 7%. On week ends at home 3%. At bull sessions 22%. While studying 2%. After studying 3%.

When you smoke is your business. What you smoke, we hope, is ours. You start fresh with L*M, and you stay fresh with L*M. Do away with dried-out taste for good. The secret? Flavor Seal...L*M's special way of moisturizing tobacco to seal in natural tobacco freshness...natural tobacco goodness. Get fresh-tasting—best-tasting L*M.

The L&M Campus Opinion Poll was taken at over 100 colleges where L&M has student representatives, and may not be a statistically random selection of all undergraduate schools.

#1961 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co

Start Fresh with L'M ... Stay Fresh with L'M

Caps And Gowns Available For Senior Men Tuesday

Senior men will receive their Memorial Hall according to Joan Peterson and Cathy Cahalane, co-chairmen of the committee in

The gowns will be available on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., and on Wednesday, from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

All seniors must pay a $4.00 rental fee and a $1.00 deposit upon receipt of the caps and gowns. Seniors also may buy a tassle, which will also be available in the basement of Memorial Hall, and will probably cost fifty

Arrows will be put up showing the way to the place of distribution in the basement of Memorial Hall. Students should go into the building by the front entrance on member what color tassle they should have. Following is a list of the colors by the appropriate schools:

Arts, white; science, gold; agriculture, yellow; business, tan; engineering, orange; home economics, light blue; nursing, peach; and physical education, forest

Marriage-Go-Round

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)— Justice of the Peace A. A. Sea-maan lost no time in getting down to his traditional duties after he took office. Within the first hour he performed his first marriage, one of three he performed on his first day.

Campus Leaders ...

(Continued from page 1) the co-captains. The new officers are: Neal Scott, president; Ann Hall, vice-president; and Nancy King, secretary-treasurer. They are all juniors. Other members are: Jack Wylde, Ed Hazlett, Charles Rock, Rosemary Hussey, Jean Alden, all juniors; Bill Hale, Charles Noble, Ron Harris, Barb Viera, Barbara Sneider, and Carol Madison, sophomores; and Paul Kennett, Alice Pierce, and Pat Bourbonnais, freshmen.

Marion Damon '64 and Donald Allen '63 received the Reveler scholarships.

Gordon "Willie" Massingham, president of I.F.C., announced the winners of the I.F.C. scholarships. They are Richard J. Greene '62, and Richard H. Tarruck '63.

The receiver of the newlyestablished Pan-Hellenic scholarship, presented by Esta Yaffee, Pan-Hell president, is Donna

Women Voters Hold Annual Book Sale

The Annual Book Sale of the Amherst League of Women Voters will be held May 12 and 13 on the Amherst Town Common. Donations of books may be left from now until May 12 at the Gulf Service Station next door to the fire house, or pickup may be arranged by calling Mrs. Warren Teichner, AL 3-2686, or Mrs. Loren Beth, AL 3-2021.

Bring in your old books; contributions will be gratefully ac-

Blue Notes

The number of misplaced bicycles continues to grow, but last week's list brought six owners to the Police dept. The students claimed their bikes, and therefore Chief Blasko will continue to identify and print the descrip-

Boys' Bicycles Red Western Flyer, no fenders, chrome chain guard, wire basket on front, brown leather bag, brown strap on wire basket, hand brakes and gear shift with red

Black Crescent Sports Roadster, gear shift, rusty wheels, red horn, white light, wire basket on front, blue rubber grips, walled, name on plate under basket.

Black Meta Jet, hand brakes gear shift, generator on rear side bar, silver light on front.

Black Raleigh Sports, hand brake, gear shift, wire basket on Front, grey grips.

Black Phillips, chrome wheels, chrome light and tail light generator, hand brakes, gear shift, rusty bell, two wire baskets over rusy beil, two wire baskets over rear fender wired to back of seat. Old, Red, Painted over with Silver, brown seat with a long lock hanging from it.

Girls' Bicycles Black Dayton Consort, wire basket on front handle bar, hand brakes, grey rubber handle grips.

Black Phillips, hand brakes, gear shift, white handle bar, woven basket on front handle bar.

Grey "Victors" Sports and Toy Shop, red and grey seat cover, red handle bars, fenders very rusty, two wire baskets on rear red

Blue, wire basket on front, silver painted handlebar, black grips, rear fender dented, white paint on tips of both fenders.

Black Rudge, hand brakes, gear shift, brown seat, red scotch tape and handle bar to main brace. This is an old bike in good condition. Hand painted.

Blue and White Fleet Wing, white wheels, red pencil stripes, carrier on back, large wire basket

Sophomore Blazers Are Now Being Sold

73 %

Skip Oakes, President of the Class of '63 and Polly Gorman '63 display the new Sophomore Class blazers. Polly won hers at the Soph Banquet. They are on sale at the bookstore now.

Experimental Productions Open Tonight At Bowker

Curtain goes up tonight on the UMass Experimental Theatre's one-act plays, which will be pre sented in Bowker Aud. at 8:15.

"Bagpipes and Poppies", a drama which blends both humor and pathos, has the following cast: Paul Cwiklik, Charlie Frye; Steven Orlen, Howard; Sheila Ferrini, Marjorie; Arnold Sgan, Erica Savereid, Lorrie; Ed Radding, Herb. The assistant director is Judith Noren.

"A Matter of Time", an expres sionistic courtroom farce which the director, Miss Doris E. Abramson, of the Speech Dept., describes as being "way out!" is cast as follows: Judge, Mick Broad-hurst; Defendant, Wendy Rus-sell; Bailiff, Miles Thomson; Prosecutor, Peter Avratin; Jury, Bette Susie Ellis, Viola Albert son, Elizabeth Foskett, Robert Smith, Peter Gezork, Ernest Bilo Witness, Kenneth Brophy. The assistant director is Charlene Prentiss.

These one-act plays, both of which were written by Ray Kennedy '60, are being presented by the Speech Dept. in an effort to stimulate interest in theatre on the campus. Free tickets for the performance are available at the S.U. lobby counter. Tickets must be presented to gain admittance.

NOTICE

Indexes may be available for Monday morning at 8:30 a.m. in Memorial Hall. Should there be a delay, they will definitely be available by Tuesday. Seniors are reminded to bring their I.D.'s.

NOTICE

Students are requested to check the WMUA F.M. converters in their dormitories. If there is anything wrong with them or if they are out of order, the student shoud report it to his housemother so that the problem can be taken care

NOW OPEN The House of Melody

Featuring the Best in JAZZ • POPULAR • CLASSICAL • FOLK FREE DRAWING

1st prize Table Radio 2nd prize $4.98 Album of your choice 3th prize 45 RPM of your choice

OUR GENEVA CONFERENCE

(See page 2)

5¢ PER COPY

MONDAY, MAY 15, 1961

Lecture On Civil War

Noted historian Oscar Handlin will deliver the third Alumni Me-morial Lecture at UMass Tuesday.

day.

Dr. Handlin, professor of history at Harvard, will speak on "The American Civil War: A Symbol." Th talk will be given at 8:15 p.m. on Tuesday, May 16, in Bartlett Hall Auditorium. The public is invited to attendable both the lecture and the coffee hour which will follow.

which will follow.

Lectures To Be In Memoriam
The Harvard historian will round out the first series of lectures sponsored by the Associate Alumini of UMass as a memorial to the many students and alumni who gave their lives in the coun-

The first lecture was given by . W. Rostow of the Man W. W. Rostow of the Massachu-setts Institute of Technology, now an adviser to President Kennedy. Second speaker was Samuel Eliot Morison, Harvard historian and former naval officer. One of America's most distinguished scholars, Dr. Handlin has written a number of outstanding books. One of these, "The Un-rooted," a study of the migrations which fostered the growth of the American community, was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in history in 1952.

Author of Several Books
Dr. Handlin's first book, "Boston's Immigrants," was widely ton's Immigrants," was widely praised at the time of publication for its excellent analysis of social assimilation. His second book, "Commonwealth," prepared in collaboration with his wife, the former Mary Flug, is a study of the role of government in the American economy. Other im-portant books by Dr. Handlin include "Race and Nationality in American Life," "Chance or Destiny," and "Al Smith and His America."

The Harvard historian has won, in addition to the Pulitzer Prize, a number of other prizes for distinguished scholarship. In 1954 he was awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship for historical research. He is editor of "The Library of American Biography" and "The Harvard Guide to and "The Harr American History

Ideas And Decisions Of SWAP Are Reported

(Editor's Note) Following are secretary's reports of each of the discussion groups of the 4th Annual SWAP Conference held this weekend. It is against Collegian policy to print such long stories but we feel that this information is of sufficient importance to merit such action in this case. Readers who are pressed for time might scan the topics of discussion looking for those of particular interest to them.

FINE ARTS

The Fine Arts Council is charged with the responsibility of coordinating current extra curricular activities within the Fine Arts and developing a long range balanced program.

The Council will be comprised of an equal number B. of voting students and faculty. Not more than three of the faculty shall be from the Fine Arts Department. At least one member of the Student Senate shall be one of the students. The President of UMass and the President of the Student Senate shall jointly select the members of the Council and appoint a chairman.

C. The Senate has the authority to allocate the total sum each year to be used by the Fine Arts Council and has the right at any time to prohibit the use of funds for any

D. It was decided that there was a definite need for a Council offering coordination to all Fine Arts Organizations -not dealing with the respective policies of these organizations, but offering scheduling assistance publicity coordination

E. A Fine Arts Council is a University need to encourage an arts program on campus of a limited number of well planned events. Also the creativity of the students on the campus was emphasized—the Council will make use of this for better public relations.

F. It intends to aim for a level of quality in selections since these selections reveal the campus taste to the world outside.

STUDENT UNION

A. More activities needed on the weekends-also suggested S.U. facilities are made available to campus (Hatch hours later for example).

B. More variety in the students working with S.U. programming. Then the group feels there will be a greater variety of ideas. A suggestion was made that some coordina-(Continued on page 6)

Handlin Will Deliver SWAP Attacks Problems Of UMass In Conference

by LARRY RAYNER '61, Senior Reporter

Over seventy delegates from UMass student organizations attended the fourth annual Student Workp on Activities Problems, at the Oak 'n Spruce Country Club at South Lee, Mass. over the past week-

Objectives Noted

SWAP objectives for this year's meeting were to solve campus problems in various areas, to allow student leaders to mix and meet each other, and to allow the student leaders to meet faculty.

Delegates left campus at 3 p.m. Friday, and arrived at the country club at 5 p.m. After supper the group attended a meeting keynoted by President Lederle.

Saturday morning began with discussions. Each member participated in the discussions aimed at the SWAP chiestives. After a the SWAP objectives. After a noon break for lunch, the delegates met, in an informal interview, the Secretary of State fo the Commonwealth, Kevin H

Student leaders questioned White informally about such mat-ters as UMass fiscal autonomy and state affairs in general (Oid Colony problem, politics, and the past state elections).

Agenda Topics Discussed
The third round of discussions began with topics listed on the agenda. The discussions lasted about one hour and fifteen min-utes. The delegates discussed agenda topics and also digressed for pertinent issues brought up in the discussions. Groups of from ten to fifteen students, in-from ten to fifteen students, inacluding discussion leaders and faculty observers, took part in these sessions.

Following supper Saturday evening, a re-evalution meeting reviewed the day's work. Among the proposals made, it was decided that there would be no SWAP conference next year, with the next meeting to come in the the next meeting to come in the fall of 1962. This move, it was explained, was brought about because delegates felt there would be more interest in the fall of ne year. Sunday's discussion was held on the secretary's report. (See full report in this issue).

Delegates Worked, Played

SWAP delegates enjoyed a full ound of athletic diversions, including tennis, softball, archery, horseshoes, and ftball, golf, and swimarchery, horsesnoed, ming. The reportedly successful conference ended up with an door chicken barb afternoon.

President John W. Lederle addresses fourth annual SWAP Conference Friday evening at the Oak 'n Spruce Country Club, South Lee, Mass. Over 70 student delegates attended the confer-

Dr. Goldberg To Speak At Education Conference

Dr. Maxwell H. Goldberg, Ph.D., and financing the institutes professor-at-large at UMass, will the principal speaker at an Institute for Directors and Super-visors of Adult Education to be held in the S.U. here Wednesday, at noon. The institute is one of a series being held in different re-gions of Massachusetts under the auspices of the Division of University Extension of the Massachusetts Department of Educasachusetts Department of Educa-tion, the Massachusetts Adult Education Association and the National Association of Public School Adult Educators. The NAPSAE is sponsoring similar studies throughout the country through special grants.

To Speak On Liberal Education

The objectives of the NAPSAE project will be explained by Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, who is serv-ing as state chairman. Dr. Golding as state chairman. Dr. Goldberg will speak on the theme of the institute, "Community Organization for Liberal Adult Education." His association with several important programs for the advancement of liberal education makes him well qualified to analyze the problems of facing the director of adult education program.

He is executive director of the Humanities Center for Liberal Education in an Industrial So-Humanities Center for Liberal Education in an Industrial So-ciety at UMass and a member of the Committee on Industry and Higher Education, American Council on Education. He has been a consultant on development of continuing liberal education programs for executives and for the Center for the Study of Liberal Education for Adults. He was recently keynote speaker at the Massachusetts Conference, New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and gave the faculty greeting at the inauguration of Dr. John Lederle as president of UMass.

Ursula K. Toomey Will Also Speak

Another speaker on the luncheon institute program will be Miss Ursula K. Toomey, super-visor of University Extension in Western Massachusetts.

Serving as chairman of the meeting will be Mrs. Mary R. A. Lovett, director of Adult Education in West Springfield.

SWAP delegates take time out from discussions to enjoy the sunshine. Delegates attended four rounds of discussions at the weekend conference held from Friday evening to Sunday afternoon at South Lee

UMASS' GENEVA CONFERENCE

Over the last weekend, the nucleus of students, around which this University of Massachusetts operates, descended upon tiny Berkshire town of South Lee, intent upon "redefining, by examples, the scope of responsible leadership for the purpose of middle of the purpose of the purp

Yet, this Student Workshop on Activities Prob-lems (SWAP) encompassed more than just re-def-inition. As one stood away from this assembly, he could see the complete diversity, complexity, danger and hope in a growing institution as ours. Some original organization and University problems were set upon by the student leaders and before the week-end closed, many of the 43 had been solved, some of the vague problems had been defined, and several undefined and undiscovered ones were brought to

There was a feeling aroused as the days wore on which made one proud of the leaders which this campus has elected over the year. If anything, SWAP displayed an attitude scope of responsible swar dispiayed an attitude scope of responsible leadership which will definitely guide this campus in years to come. The concern, integrity, individuality, and enthusiasm displayed by members in attendance certainly will make inter-student organization problems and student-faculty problems more easily solved problems.

Vin Della Penna discussing faculty-student dinners with the wives of the men in South College; Andy D'Avanzo explaining Senate budgets to com-plaining organizations; Paul Cassidy questioning massachusetts Secretary of State, Kevin White, on why "we" must pay for the Old Colony line; John Gounaris and Dr. Max Goldberg working out the problems on the Centennial program under the sun and over coffee; Ed Rodriguez questioning that veteran of student wars, Dennis Twohig, on the effec-tiveness of freshman senators; Ya-Hoo's Tracey Wil-son conversing informally with President Lederle; WMUA's Lloyd Teran and the University's newsman, Bill Deminoff, conferring on their mutual problems and antagonisms; this was the construc-tive atmosphere under which flourished your lead-

While the purpose of SWAP was to re-define stuwhile the purpose of SWAP was to re-define student leadership by providing solutions and recommendations to current problems, several times the discussions served up only a definition of the problem (in most causes a not too difficult task) but lacked the constructive and necessary solution.

These unproductive sessions were, thankfully, in the minority. For the most part, the solutions were well thought out and in line with our growing pro gram. It remains now for the faculty, administra-tion, and student body to follow through on these proposals. Because SWAP leaders are young and human, there may be some solutions with innate flaws; but because these leaders are the best this campus has to offer and because the best of the ad-ministration at SWAP rested highly on these leadsal must go ur

And as those two busloads of student leaders And as those two busloads of student leaders came within sight of the campus on Sunday afternoon, one could only say—"With UMass growing at its present rate, if nothing can come of this SWAP weekend, then there is little hope for individual students of the came of the c dent freedom and responsibility in years to come." The guidelines of student initiative were laid at a quiet resort in the Berkshires—it remains for us to

THE IVORY TOWER

Boston, the hub of the universe, the Athens of the West, is rapidly becoming famous for its architectural achievements of which the Prudential development is only the latest.

A few years back some promoter acquired an option on the Charles River basin, His ultimate objective was to build an industrial center on Texas tower type stilts on the river. Fortunately, Harvard and M.I.T. heard of this and applied pressure to have this project dropped. The river now is half the size it originally was due to the sides being filled in and made into Back Bay.

Currently, a gigantic automobile garage is being built underneath the Common. Everything is fine though. The builder has promised to replace every shoveful of dirt removed. He'll probably put the flowers back in the same place as he found them This man is apparently a great surveyor. Last year he struck a watermain and had the Common under a foot of water for a week.

Speaking of surveying, they were repairing pipes underneath Storrow Drive, a major thoroughfare, when they found the water main. It exploded regularly, through the street, for a period of a week, daily, during the rush hour traffic.

Earlier this year there was a plan to build an office building on stilts on the Cambridge Common. Boston likes to build structures on stilts. The zoning requirements and sale of the property passed the Legislature. Volpe vetoed it.

Boston is probably the only city that preserves historic structures by having subway stops in

There is a campaign going on now to save the Old Corner Bookstore Building from being razed to a parking lot. It is currently occupied by a pizza shop. One of the more ingenious ideas is to build an office building around the original store.

However, for sheer ineptness the prize example is the toll road.

It seems that Prudential has offered to build a huge development that will rejuvenate Boston. One of their conditions is to have adequate access from the West.

The two possibilities are a toll road, advocated by William Callahan head of the Turnpike Authori-ty, and a freeway which Gov. Volpe wanted. Cal-

The road was supposed to go through the center of Newton. This did not make Mayor Gibbs too happy and it would split his city in two. In the face of tremendous pressure he gave in.

The state tried to sell bonds on the toll road. T M.I.T. and one Harvard professor did not like this arrangement so they conducted a private survey, sent the results to the major investment houses where they pointed out the basic details of the whole thing. The state couldn't sell the bonds.

That is where the issue stands now

I won't even discuss the M.T.A. That would take

NEW POP RELEASES

Remember the "long count" in the second Tun-ney-Dempsey fight? Jess Willard's charge that gangsters muscled into boxing? The vicious Joe Louis-Tami Mauriello fight?

Unless you are an elder statesman or have peppering of gray around the temples it's not likely that you'll remember any of these incidents.

But all are brought back vividly in an LP called "Great Moments in Boxing" (Coral CRL-57325). This is a playback of actual radio broadcasts of momentous fights plus commentaries by victor, vanquished and important onlookers.

The narration is handled by Don Dunphy, but the LP itself seems to be a memorial to Clem McCarthy, one of the greatest fight announcers ever.

Under the able production of Bud Greenspan the action moves fast. There is a bobble here and there such as the erroneous statement that Gene Tunney served in the Army, whereas he actually was a Marine.

This, however, is unimportant. For those who like to remember the past for its exciting moments, this is a most important piece of Americana. "The Belafonte Folk Singers at Home and Abroad" (RCA Victor LPM-2309) is a moving re-view of great American blues and spirituals as well as important folk songs of other nations. Robert de Cornier conducts this band of wandering singers in

Cormier conducts this band of wandering singers in one of the best folk music productions of this year. For Dance Fans—"A Young Man With a Big Band Plays for His L'il Darlin' "by Bobby Vinton (Epic LN-3780) will appeal to steppers of all ages. Bobby's greatest ambition was to be a successful band leader and, although he is young in years, he has gone a far way toward reaching his goal. Selected Singles—"Lullaby of the Leaves" by Teri Thornton (Riverside R-45455), "Marie" by the Mus-Twangs (Smash S-1700), "Lonely People" by Teri Thornton (Riverside R-45455), "Marie" by the Mus-Twangs (Smash S-1700), "Lonely People" by Debbie Reynolds (Dot 16199), "La Pachanga" by Joe Sherman (Kapp K-385), "Oh Judge, Your Honor, Dear Sir, Sweethearth" by David Seville (Liberty F-55314) F-55314).

LP's of the Week—(Mono) "Lightnin' in New York" by Sam "Lightnin' " Hopkins (Candid 8010). A triple threat on vocals, guitar and piano is happy and sad in boogie woogin' the keys and recalling

NOTES AT RANDOM

by JIM TRELEASE '63

SWAPsicles: after President Lederle's speech at SWAP, all were well aware that he, for one, listens to WMUA... Sec't of State Kevin White has certainly adopted (knowlingly or not) the inflections and idosyncrasies of J.F.K... Majority of fraternities never bothered to send delegates and it was noticed... Possibilities for getting movies and after-flick dances for Union on Sat. nights... SWAPers would like to see a government prof discuss current events one night a week in S.U. during the winter... Ass't Registrar Bill Starkweather had an inconclusive debate with yours truly over whether or not baseball is as much a part of our culture as opera is in the European culture; Mr. S. said no and I said yes... The quote of the weekend came from Dean of Men Robert Hopkins when, he said after reading of the new soph blazers: "The University is going to blazers." ... While Senator Della Penna was explaining a problem, a New Haven railroad train buzzed by nosily and someone quipped: "Speaking of the Senate..." ... Acting-Provost Woodside and his wife looked like real "Palmer's" on the links.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

As one of the most outspoken critics of past Adelphian selection procedures and as one who has been seriously concerned with the deterioration of the Adelphian tradition, I have to compliment the outgoing Adelphians on their selections, last Wednesday, of those Juniors who will follow in their footsteps the coming academic year.

It is clear that this year's Adelphians showed far more concern for recognizing a broader base of academic and extracurricular achievement than did their predecessors. It is gratifying to note that by their actions they have raised Adelphia above the fraternity and campus politics stage and have restored much of the prestige which was so obviously lacking following last year's Student Leaders Night.

The members of the Class of 1961 should reflect with some pride that it was the Adelphians of the class of 1961 that reversed the downward trend of the organization, something that the Adelphians of 1959 and 1960 had neither the courage nor inclination to do

I would hope next year's Adelphia will keep firmly in mind the example which has been set for them and jealously strive to insure that Adelphia represents the best of the male student body at the University.

To the Editor:

I was shocked and disappointed Monday when I read Miss Reall's answer to action and principle vs. pacifism. Since when has freedom n been worth fighting and dying for? Did our fathers, brothers, uncles die in France, Manila, and Korea so that we could hand our country over to the enemy because we feel that victory, honor, and dignity are mere "sentiment?" "To lay down our arms is not to lay down our

I am ashamed of the members of my generation who expound on fatalism and pacifism and think it is sophistication. Miss Reall says that we must stay alive at any cost so that we can "formulate and attempt their (principles) implementation even though enemy controlled." Does Miss Reall believe she would live very long if she attempted to implement American principles and practices in Hungary?

It is time our pacifists pulled their heads out of the ground and tried to find out what living under Communism would really mean.

If the day ever comes when principles mean nothing, when the majority join our self-styled "intellectual" cowards cry "I'd rather be Red than dead", I hope I die for I would lose all my faith in man. It is difficult to live without faith.

Suzanne Drew '63

The Massachusetts Collegian

MEMBER Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor News Editor: Assignments Sports Editor Business Manager News Editor: Make-Up Photography Editor

Editorial Associate News Associate Feature Associate Sports Associate

James J. Trelease '63 Joseph Bradley '64 Ben Gordon '62 Howard Frisch '62 Beth Peterson '63 Lawrence Popple '63

Jim Trelease '63 Pat Barclay '63 Jean Cann '63 Dave Willard '64 '64 Sheila Mullane Holly Dare '63

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed three times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation or examination periods; twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or when a holiday falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of the act of March 8, 1879, as Subscription price

ed by the act of June 11, 1984, 4.00 per year: $3.50 per semester student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amberst, Mass., ——Associated Collegiate Press: Intercollegiate Press: Sun, Tues., Thurs.——4:00 p.m.

Pipe Quality Important Plans Started Many Awards Presented According To Esquire

For college men engaged in the "Battle of the Briar," victory may lie in the quality of the pipe.

The "freshman" smoker, states an article in the June issue of Esquire Magazine, preordains his own Waterloo by not paying enough for his pipe, and paying too much for his tobacco.

Almost universally, says Esquire, he is motivated by the theory that any cheap pipe is good enough for a beginner, and that after he learns to smoke it properly, he will graduate to a better one. The chances are, however, the beautiful proper to the chances are, however, the chances are the control of the chances are ever, that he will never learn to smoke with a cheap pipe. In smoke with a cheap pipe. In choosing a pipe, the quality of

Prof Urges Careers In Space Med.

(UPI)-Students interested in careers in the space field are urged by Dr. A. W. Jaussi, Okla-homa State University physiclogy professor, to investigate the medical possibilities.

Space medicine may be the answer for many students desiring a space career, but who do not wish to approach it from an engineering standpoint, Jaussi said.

"This area has been called one "This area has been called one of the most stimulating challenges that medicine has ever facc.i," Jaussi said, "for medical men must be able to help the space man survive and function efficiently in the most hostile environment that man has yet dared to penetrate." vironment that man has yet dared to penetrate." the briar may be safely recognized by the prices ofthe finished product. Six dollars seems to be the very minimum at which a good pipe can be purchased, and Esquire recommends paying up to four times that much for the first

'The better the briar," states the article, "the more perfect the smoking, and if there is ever a time when a pipe smoker needs the very best, it is when he is just starting out."

On the other hand, the very best in tobacco is not the most expensive—at least for the beginner. An unblended white burley, suh as that found in most American and English straight brands is best as a starter. The more expensive blends have been carefully aged and processed for the pampered pleasure of the more practiced smoker . . . the

In the choice of both pipe and tobacco, says Esquire, "There's many and many a pipeful between the novice and the master."

Lost and Found

Lost: one Psych. notebook from Bact. lab Mon. Will the person who took it by mistake please return it? Lois Heselton, 213

Lost: circular gold pin, engraved with initials AGP (inscript) at Student Leaders' Convocation. Sentiment Hayden, 227 Arnold. Sentimental

Whoever borrowed a copy of Mendenhall from Lodge Sat. p.m., please return it. Needed for please return it. Needed for finals. Bea Ferrigno, 33 Gaylord

CLUB DIRECTORY

PORTED ORGANIZATIONS

The Budget Committee of the Student Senate will hold its annual Spring Meeting on Tues., May 16, at 7 p.m. in the Barnstable room. All new treasurers and officers of each organiza-tion are invited and will have an opportunity to ask questions about their new Budget and Senate financial policy.

MOVIE COMMITTEE

There will be a meeting Tues., May 16 at 11 a.m.

TAU BETA PI

The last meeting of the year will be held Thurs., May 18 at 11 a.m. in the Middlesex Room of the S.U.

For Seminar On Industry

Preliminary plans for an in-dustrial seminar to be held at UMass Sept. 7 were discussed during a meeting of the indus-trial committee of the Pioneer Valley Association Wednesday night at the Yankee Pedlar Inn. New Analysis Wednesday

New Analysis
The seminar will be concerned with a new analysis of the industrial advantages of Franklin, Hampshire and Hampden Counties and it is expected the seminar will serve as the initial and primary distribution point for the then newly published copies of a revision of the PVA's survey of the industrial opportunities of the region. region.

Among the factors discussed during the seminar will be population growth and markets.

Among industrial committee members handling arrangements are Graham King of the Valley Bank and Trust Co., Springfield, speaker, John Turnbull of the Western Massachusetts Electric Co., publicity, and Philip Gamble of UMass.

WMUA SCHEDULE

Monday
3:30—Sign-On; News
3:35—Music Theatre
5:00—News

5:05—Music Theatre 6:00—Four College News

6:15—This is a Friendly World 6:30—Louis Lyons and the News 6:45—World News Round-Up

6:55-Sports

7:00-Paris Startime

7:30—Musicale

9:00—Broadway Showcase 10:00—Sounds of Jazz

11:00—Shoes Off 12:00—News; Sign-Off

Tuesday
3:30—Sign-On; News
3:35—Music Theatre

5:05-Music Theatre

5:05—Music Theatre 6:00—Four College News 6:15—Here's to Veterans 6:30—Louis Lyons and the News 6:45—World News Round-Up

6:55—Sports 7:00—Mass Opinion

7:15—Reserved For You 7:30—Musicale

9:00-Broadway Showcase

10:00-Jazz

11:00—Shoes Off 12:00—News; Sign-Off

OPEN WIDE and SAY A-H-H-H! Get that refreshing new feeling with Coke!

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Northam

At ROTC Military Review

President John W. Lederle, flanked on the left by AFROTC Lt. Col. Marchant, and on the right by National Guard General, Maj. Huff (UMass ROTC), and acting Provost Gilbert L. Woodside, Reviews Armor-Air Force ROTC.

Thursday afternoon the UMass ROTC students held their annual military review and presentation

AFROTC Students

Cadet David U. Burke was awarded the Air Science Tropny for the graduating senior cadet who has demonstrated qualities of leadership, military bearing, and scholarship. He was also named as the Distinguished AFROTC Cadet for 1960-61.

The Amherst Lions Club Award, presented to the senior cadet who has been most outstanding at the summer training unit, was award Charles S. Bowker. awarded to Cadet

The third award for senior cadets went to Cadet Kermit K.
Pruyne for maintaining a high
Air Science average.

The Junior Air Science Trophy, rewarding military and scholastic proficiency, was presented to Cadet David S. Osterhout, Junior Josephy F. Cassidy, outstanding in physical sciences and having demonstrated excellent qualities of leadership and high moral character, received Amherst Rotary Club Award.

The last Junior Cadet award, the Reserve Officers Association Medal, was given to Paul Cassidy for academic excellence.

The Air Cadet Squadron Trophy was given to sophomore Peter A. Cabana, an outstanding member of the Air Cadet Squad-ron and Drill Team.

For maintaining a grade of "A" in Air Science II, Cadet James J. Vermeiren received the Sons of the American Revolution Medal.

Cadet Warren Miller was awarded the Amherst Post American Legion Trophy for demon strating outstanding scholasti ability.

The Convair AFROTC Award was presented to Cadet Austin C.
Morris, the most outstanding in his class, and a candidate for Advanced ROTC in the Pilot

category.

The Chicago Tribune Awards were presented to the two Cadets who have earned the highest AFROTC grades in the sophomore cadet category. John K. Southard, Jr. received the Gold Medal, and James H. Coopee, the Silver Medeal.

Three awards were given to Freshmen Cadets. The Air Science Trophy was awarded to Cadet Paul D. Kennett, the most outstanding freshman in military and academic scholarship.

The Chicago Tribune Awards for Air Science I were presented to Robert H. Gusciora and Bruce K. Norlund, on the basis of general academic excellence.

Armor Students
Peter D. Gleba was awarded the Amherst Rotary Club Trophy for the freshman highest scholarship and proficiency.

The Military Science Award was presented to David L. Chiras for the freshman student out-standing in military proficiency.

Jacob R. Karas received the Superior Cadet Ribbon Award for the outstanding Armor ROTC

The Elizabeth McNamara Trophy went to Alvin S. Nathanson. sophomore highest in scholarship and proficiency.

Steven F. Alger was presented the John C. Hall Trophy for the sophomore student outstanding in military proficiency.

Sophomore Thomas P. Leavitt received the Superior Cadet Ribbon Award for the outstanding Armor ROTC student in the class of 63.

class of 63.

The Military Science Trophy for the junior highest in military went to Mark R. Theran.

Sherril A. Hiltz received the Association of United States Army Medal for the junior highest in scholarship and proficiency.

The Superior Cadet Ribbon Award was presented to Demi-trios M. Moschos, the outstanding Armor ROTC student in the jun-

John J. Bitgood received the United States Armor Association Scroll for the senior outstanding in drill, military proficiency and leadership.

The Mass. Reserve Officers Association Medal for the senior outstanding in military pro-ficiency went to William F. Vin-

Valdis A. Augstkalns received the Superior Cadet Ribbon Award for the outstanding Armor ROTC student in the senior class.

Named as Armor ROTC Dis-tinguished Students for the year 1960-61 were: Valdis A. Augat-kalns, Thornton P. Banks, John J. Bitgood, David A. Goldstein, Robert J. Powers, and William F.

Redmen Scores Come Quick In Scoring Barrage Against Outclassed Middlebury Team

Coach Dick Garber's well-drilled Varsity Lacrossemen outclassed Middlebury College by a 14-2 count Saturday, here in Amherst. The first half told the story for the Big Red as they banged home six goals and held Middlebury's Panthers scoreless. Armand Caraviello drew first blood for UMass with just 3:25 gone for UMass with just 3:25 gone in the first period. Before the Panthers could compose them-selves, Bob Glew and then Bob Gibeley had made it 3-0. All three scores had come within a space of 32 seconds of playing time.

Jimmy Ellingwood, on an assist from Gibeley, ended the first period outburst. The lone Panther threat came at the close of the period when UMass goalie "Bumps" Bamberry was left period when UMass goalie
"Bumps" Bamberry was left alone to face a charging Middlebury attackman. But a beautiful save by Bumps prevented a score.
After Glew made it 5-0 with 6:40 gone in the second stanza, Co-Captain Dick Hoss thrilled the crowd with a spectacular driving crowd with a spectacular driving shot that tickled the twine for goal number six. Another fine save by Bamberry ended the half.

The Middlebury strategy of double-teaming star midfielder Dick Hoss had backfired into allowing Dick to feed sharp passes lowing Dick to feed sharp passes to unprotected Redmen, Dick's ballhandling skill enabled him to shake Panther defensemen and add two goals to the home cause.

The second half saw a combination of a UMass club that passed with precision and a Middlebury team which didn't pass enough. In the third period the visitors broke into the scoring column only at the expense of six more Redmen goals. Caraviello, Ekonly at the Redmen goals. Caraviello, Ekberg, Gilliatee, Hoss, Chretian, and Ellingwood all added insult

DICK HOSS

injury to the pulverized

Substitute goalie Dougie Cole, replaced Bamberry in the final frame. Bumps has been ailing from a leg injury acquired from a leg injury acquired against Holy Cross. The Panther's Dowd hit for

The Panther's Down Int for 12-2 to open the fourth period but Jack Chretian and Gibeley had made it 14-2 by games-end. Jimmy Ellingwood with three assists and two goals was impressive all afternoon. Jack Chretian also had two goals and one less assist.

Coach Garber cited his Redmen for a good all around effort, calling the victory, "One of the better team games we've played."
The Garbers are now 7-1-1 on the season. Middlebury is 2-4.
Tuesday's game with Trinity and next Saturday's season finale with New Hampshire wind up

New Hampshire wind up what will probably be UMass' finest year in Lacrosse. A win against Trinity will virtually sew up the Northeast Conference for the Garbers. Perennial power-house New Hampshire will be the big test since UMass has never beaten a UNH lacrosse squad. The Wildcats will be the visitors.

DICK WARD

SPORTS SCHEDULE

Varsity Baseball vs. Conn., May 16,

UMass vs. R.I., May 18, H 3:00 UMass vs. N.H., May 20, H

Varsity Tennis
UMass vs. Springfield, May
17, H 2:00
N.E.I.T.A. at Wesleyan, May 19 & 20 10:00
Varsity Golf
UMass vs. WPI & Nichols
College, Worcester, May 18
2:00

UMass vs. Springfield, May

19, H 1:30
Varsity Track
UMass vs. Springfield, May 18, A 3:00 N.E.I.T.A. at N.H., May 20,

Varsity Lacrosse
UMass vs. Trinity, May 16, A
3:00 UMass vs. N.H., May 20, H

UMass vs. Springfield, May 16, H 3:30

FOR RENT

From June 1 to Sept. 1, a single room in a private a single room in a private home, fully furnished, semi-private bath, a male student preferred to help maintain the lawn, rent $25 a month. Contact Jim Mulcahy at the Collegian

STRAIGHT FROM THE HORSES' MOUTH
UMass' Dick Garber, Lacrosse coach, explains to two members of his team how he used to do it when he was All American.
Coach Garber is leading the squad to its best season in its seven-

UMass Takes Fourth In YanCon Meet As Maine Sweeps Title

by ABE SHEINKER '62

The University of Maine's track team walked off with their first Yankee Conference track title in the 14th annual champion-ship meet at the University of Rhode Island in Kingston. The Black Bears' victory was no sur-prise as they scored 57 points to UConn's 37, URI's 314 UMass' 241/3, Vermont's 10 and UNH's

Two meet records were broken and one tied as all the times and distances were among the finest in the Conference's history. Reld Crawshaw of Connecticut broke the javelin record for the third the javelin record for the third straight year by hurling the spear 218'9". The mark he set last year at UMass was 212'3". Maine's Pete MacPhee, a sopho-more, had the other new stand-ard, a 48.8 second quarter mile ard, a 48.8 second quarter mile which was three tenths under the old record. Another Black Bear, Baron Hicken, also a sophomore, tied the high hurdles record of 14.9 seconds. UMass' Charlie La-Pier was not far behind in third place, while breaking his own. place while breaking his school record by two-tenths of a second with 15.5.

The Redmen did well amid some of New England's best trackmen, winning an individual title for the first time since Tord Svenson took the shotput and javelin in 1958. Loren Flagg won the 100 yard dash when he defeated last year's champion, Carl Lisa of URI, in 10.1 seconds. Flagg was also only one yard behind Maine's MacPhee in the 220 as he again beat Lisa, who was second in this event in 1960. Svenson took the shotput and

UMASS SOARS

Dick Ward also had the pleasure of dethroning a YanCon champion. Ward rose 6'23' to capture the high jump over UConn's Ed Harrison who did 6'1". LaPier cleared 6 feet for third and Joe Cassidy tied for fourth at 5'10" as UMass picked up 7½ of a possible 11 points in this contest. Ward also did well in the hammer with 152'11" for fourth, behind Maine's great trio.

Ken O'Brien starred for the Redmen when he ran the halfmile in 1:57.7 with only Maine's returning champion Wilbur Spencer defeating him. Ralph Buschmann almost won the two-mile as he saved too much for the finish and sprinted the last lap to come in third, three and a Dick Ward also had the pleas-lap to come in third, three and a in 9:54. Al Garsys picked up the other UMass place when he took fourth in the broad jump with a 21'21'2" leap, while taking off 21'2½" leap, while taking nearly a foot behind the line. taking off

Maine lived up to their early season marks as they scored in 12 of the 15 events, while winning seven of them and picking up ten tallies in the hammer alone. The squad from the Pine Tree State, like UMass, is loaded with good sophomores, indicating that these two teams may be the teams of the future in the conference. Five champions repeated as the Bears had the only double winners, MacPhee in the 220 and 440, and Terry Horne in the hammer and discus.

COMING MEETS

The Redmen finish their dual meets at Springfield this Thursday, before returning to URI for the New England Collegiate Championships next Saturday. The Maroons are 7-1 and recently captured the class B Eastern Collegiate track crown.

Mile—1, Perkins (Vt); 2, Kimball (Me); 3, Cross (Conn); 4, Seale (Conn). 440-1, MacPhee (Me); 2, Mulhern (Vt); 3, Steimle (RI); 4, Stewart (Me), 48.8s (new conference record)

40.58 (new conference record), 100-1, Flagg (Mass); 2, Lisa (RI); 3, Parsons (Conn); 4, Parker (Me), 10.18, 120 High—1, Hicken (Me); 2, Parsons (Conn); 3, LaPier (Mass); 4, Hargraves (RI), 14.9s, (ties conference ord).

880-1, Spencer (Me); 2, O'Brien (Mass); 3, Oberg (Conn); 4, Simpson (Vt), 1:55.7. 220-1, MacPhee (Me); 2. Flagg (Mass); 3. Parker (Me); 4. Lisa (RI). 21.7s.

21.78.

220 Low-1, Parsons (Conn); 2, Hicken (Me); 3, Werner (RI); 4, Hargraves (RI), 24.4s.

Two-Mile-1, Kimball (Me); 2, MacGregor (NH); 3, Buschmann (Mass); 4, Helarich (Me), 9:50.5.

Heinrich (Me). 9:50,5.
Pole Vault—I. Bachman "Conn). 12'9"; 2. Lamphere (RI). 12'6"; 3. tie between Crandall (Me). DuRois (Me), and Fleury (RI). 12'.
High Jump—I. Ward (Mass). 6'2'M,";
2. Harrison "(Conn). 6'1"; 3. LaPier
(Mass). 6; 4. tie between Jasinski
(NII). Kells (RI). and Cassidy (Mass), 5'10".

Rroad Jump—1. Harrlson (Conn), 22'11½"; 2. Sakkinnen (RI), 22' 4 1/4"; 3. Emery (NH), 21'11¾"; 4, Garsys (Mass), 21'2½".

(Mass), 21'2'4'', Shotput—1, Torgan (RI), 46'2''; 2, Daniels (Conn), 45'6'4''; 3, Horne (Me), 43'8'4''; 4, Jurgela (RI), 42'10'4''.

43'8'y' ; 4, Jurgela (Rl), 42'10'y',
Discus—1, Horne (Me), 145'11'; 2,
Torgan (Rl), 144'14'; 3, Nason (Me),
137'; Davis (Conn), 135'4'y';
Javelin—1, Crawshaw (Conn), 218'9''
(new conference record); 2, Andrews
(Rl), 188'6'; 3, Fishburn (Rl), 186's';
4, Simpson (V), 183'9''
Hammer—1, Horne (Me), 174'7'; 2,
Nason (Me), 173'3'y'; 3, Woodhead
(Me), 162'1½''; 4, Ward (Mass), 152'-11''.

Old Spice Smooth Shave stavs moist to the end vour shave . . .

Your razor rides easy all the way. Softens the most stubborn beard instantly for a faster, closer shave, soothes and lubricates your skin Extra-rich, extra-thick, push-button quick.

SHULTON

Sloppy Fielding Is Big Factor As UM Nine Splits At Vermont

The Redmen baseball nine aveled up to Vermont this traveled up to Vermont this weekend with high hopes of keeping their YanCon title aspirations alive and even bolstering them.

But they returned home But they returned home with their feathers bent as the best they could do was to split a two series.

Friday night the Redmen came through with a big win scoring 15 runs to only 3 for Vermont. The little southpaw Paul Wennik had the Catamounts eating out of his hand as he went all the way while allowing only six hits. He contributed to his own cause by belting a home run, one of three hits he collected on the night. Paul Foley and Jim Schmoyer also connected for the

by DAVE WILLARD '64 circuit to make Wennik's task just that much easier. As if this offensive display wasn't enough, Vermont obliged further by handing the Redmen eight unearned

Saturday was an altogether Saturday was an anogenic different story however as Ver-mont decided to put on a hitting show of their own, winning 13-2. STORY SEEN

Right from the first inning then Vermont touched big Ed Right from the first inning when Vermont touched big Ed Connolly for four big runs, two of them unearned, the story of the game was unfolding. Just as Vermont had picked up their hitting where UMass left off the night before, the Redmen, unfortunately, acquired the sloppy fortunately, acquired the sloppy fielding habits the Vermontians had displayed previously. This proved to be the Redmen downfall as they allowed seven unearned runs to cross the plate. Pia and Elmstrom followed Connolly to the slab, but they fared little better than their predecessor, as Elmstrom was the only one who escaped unscathed.

Dick DeNichola, young sophomore pitcher handcuffed the Redmen through. Hughes and Williams were able to connect for two hits apiece, one shy of the two hits apiece, one shy of the UMass team total.

This loss may prove to be disastorous for the Redmen as UConn was sweeping a double-header from New Hampshire at the same time. This now puts (Continued below)

UNLOCK A NEW WORLD OF FRESH SMOKING PLEASURE

Start Fresh with I'M ... Stay Fresh with I'M ...

Opinion

Answer, Question #1: Yes 36% - No 64% Answer, Question #2:

Answer, Question #3:

Yes 10% - No 90% Yes 34% - No 66% Answer, Question #4: Less than 8, 20% –8-12, 18% – 13-17, 19% – 18-22, 28% – Over 22, 15%

Answers:

The more you smoke, the more you appreciate today's L&M. You start fresh with L&M, and you stay fresh with L&M. Do away with dried-out taste for good. The secret? Flavor Seal...L&M's special way of moisturizing tobacco to seal in natural tobacco freshness...natural tobacco goodness. Get fresh-tasting—best-tasting L&M.

The L&M Campus Opinion Poll was taken at over 100 colleges where L&M has student representatives, and may not be a statistically random selection of all undergraduate schools.

©1961 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Esquires CLUB 8 FASHIONS

BY O. E. SCHOEFFLER Esquire's Fashion Director

Defining "sportswear" is a somewhat sticky wicket in a column for university men. Apparel which is considered appropriate only for leisure wear on one campus, may be perfectly suitable for the classroom or even for casual dates on another.

Therefore, I'll not attempt to dictate when the following fashions should be worn...that's up to each man on each campus to decide for himself. These are the newsmakers in the general sportswear field for the warm seasons ahead:

YOU NEVER HAD IT SO LIGHT in jackets! The new crop of wash-and-wear jackets in combina-tions of Dacron and cotton are almost shirting tions of Dacron and cotton are almost shirting weight, and unlined in the bargain. Two positive trends are notable: giant plaids for the pace-setters; subtle colorings in the native craft fabrics (batik, madras, Kalamkari) for the conservatives. Outstanding color-mates in the plaids will be either olive and blue or olive and grey. These look best with solid color lightweight trousers in deep olive or grey. Complete the outfit with a classic, button-down collar shirt in white or the new "Jute" color...a light natural tan, especially effective with olive.

THE BRITISH-INFLUENCED BLAZERS, created with Yankee know-how, are currently in great favor. Choose a natural-shoulder, single-breasted version with metal buttons in navy or one of the newer hues...olive, gold or light grey. The double-breasted blazers are smartest in navy, accepted with white recel buttons.

cented with white pearl buttons. THE KNITS ARE IT for casual shirts in cotton, Banlon or blends. These, in the conventional, solid-color, short-sleeved pullover style will be offered in light tan, gold or olive. For kicks, pick one in bright red. Note, too, the great variety with contrasting border stripes at collar and sleeve edge, and another group with knit collars and button plackets half-way down the front.

CHECK THE NEW SLACKS ... in checks, stripes and plaids. The fabrics are light-weight and washable. Basic tan chinos continue to be popular, but let yourself go and add at least one pair of patterned slacks to your Summer wardrobe this

SWEATER COLLECTORS will want to investigate the semi-bulkies in pullover or six-button cardigan style. These look warmer than they are because the knits are very porous and many are of cotton or blends, as well as very lightweight wools. White is still the number one choice for varm weather, but tan, gold and olive are also god.

(Con	unued	from	abor	ve)
UConn ou	t in fi	ront w	ith a	league record of	7-1,	while	the	UMass conference	slate	reads	4-2-	1.

If the Redmen hope to do anything about the situation they'll have to make their move this week, as it is now or never. Tuesday they take a run up to Tuesday they take a run up to Storrs to take on the Huskies. This is a must game for if they don't win this one it is "wait till next year." Then Thursday and Saturday UMass nosts Rhode Island and New Hampshire respectively. These are all Confessor tively. These are all Conference games and are all of the utmost importance if the Redmen hope to maintain any title hopes.

SUMMA	(KY
First G	ame
UMASS	ab	r	h	rbi
Roland, rf. cf	3	5	3	0
Forbush, 1b	4	1	1	2
Pisiewski, ss	6	0	1	5
Foley, If	5	1	1	8
Schmoyer, 2b	5	1	î	1
lughes, cf	3	2	ō	0
Del Vecchio, rf	1	0	0	0
Williams, 8b	5	2	ĭ	ő
Crukonis, c	4	0	ō	ő
Wennik, p	5	8	3	2
	-	greete.	greate.	-
Totals	41	15	11	8

UMASS	108	200	202	_15
VERMONT	100	002	000	- 3
E-Pisiewski, Sch Federici, Jarrett, Du	move	r.	Sher	riff
Federici, Jarrett, Du	catte	2,	Yend	irezski 3, Silvira, Brown. 2B—Sheriff, Jarr Schmoyer, Wennik.	ett.	H	-F	oley,
Warm II.	ip	h r	er b	b so
Zinger	. 9	6 3	2	6 8
Wennik Zingg	. 3	4 9	4	5 3
Schilo	. 6	7 6	8	1 1
HBP-Wennik (Duc	ntte).	WP	-Zli	ngg.
Second (iame
UMASS	ab	r	h	rbi
Roland, rf	3	ò	0	LDI
Forbush, 1b	2	Ö	0	0
		0	0	0
Plsiewski, ss Larkin, 2b	3	0	0	0
Larkin, 2b	1	ő	0	0
roley, II	9	0	0	0
		0	0	0
ounmover, 2h		1	1	ŏ
		1	2	1
Williams, 8b Krukonis, c Osetek, c	4	0	2	ō
Arukonis, c	1	0	0	ŏ
Con-1	2	0	0	0
		0	0	0
Pia, p	1	0	0	0
Elmstrom, p	1	0	0	0
Totals		2	5	1
VERMONT	420	401	20x-	-19
MASSACHUSETTS	000	200		- 2
E-Forbush 2, Foley molli. PO-A-Vermon 24-21. DP-Williams	. Se	hmov	er.	Cor
molli. PO-A-Vermon	t 2	7-8.	UM	288
24-21. DP-Williams	to !	Schme	over	to
2B-Federici, Cassani,	Duqu	ette.	Bro	wn.

SWAP Conference Proceedings 2. Social fraternities should expand botn tion with Women's Interdormitory Council be arranged. In this way one representative from each dormitory would be familiar with the programming and leadership opportunities in the S.U. This plan would also serve the purpose of publicizing all S.U. events.

(Continued from

- C. Another suggestion was made to set up an advisory staff and student committee-perhaps dormitory representatives could be members of this group.
- D. Big name entertainers were suggested as possibilities for Union programs-also, the possibilities of talent from our own campus was mentioned.
- E. The S.U. has a definite problem with communications-it was suggested that the present programming staff emphasize public relations in the fall.
- F. It was suggested that the name remain Student Union (in considering University Center). Students did not feel that union had a poor connotation.

STUDENT LEADERSHIP AS EXPRESSED IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT

- A. Should there be a President of the Student Body? It was decided there would be too many activities to cope with and that no one would be identified with his class if the President were to be an overseer, to preside at UMass functions concerning the students and also to represent UMass off campus.
- B. Is the Student Senate truly representative? Does it reflect the opinions of the student body? The Student Senate does have a good cross-section of students. Represented are dormitories, fraternities, sororities, and commuters. The Senate should enlighten the students so they may take an active part. The students should know the agenda for the meetings and should know all the Senate is doing by good publicity. Let non-senators be members of an advisory Senate Commit-
- C. What does the Senate need? Good publicity a meeting report in the Collegian or WMUA. Prestige may be developed from informing classes from Freshman year on through Senior year. Get more people interested in the Senate, having only 2 or 3 senators on R.S.O. so a balance of power can be achieved. Also it was suggested that non-senators work on senate committees.

THE CENTENNIAL PROGRAM

- A. All organizations on campus should participate in the program scheduling. The students should promote public relations.
- B. Convocations of note will be held announcing the Centennial Year. The program includes a number of distinguished visitors. The Alumni Association will have various alumni lectures for the student body. Seminars and experimental courses will be held.

C. Suggested programs: fund raising. Ban quet for alumni; student, faculty, and administrative events; a barbecue at Homecoming Weekend; concert association special programs; movie Friday night with proceeds to Centennial; telethon on WMUA to raise funds; faculty and student dinners for a small fee.

D. Many different programs will be held to raise money for the Centennial. Publicity for the Centennial will be well-planned and extensive. All newspapers will have coverage, etc.

CROWDED DORMITORIES

- A. Qualified students should not be denied admission. This will require increased cooperation and adaptions on the part of the students. There should be greater flexibility in allowing freshmen to switch rooms in order to facilitate study arrangements.
- B. What is the responsibility of the administration in providing study facilities to balance problems in the dormitory? Would these facilities be used?
- C. Women's closing hours should remain the same with each dormitory making its own decisions concerning study regulations
- D. An important aspect is filling dormitories it is never a positive thing as to how many acceptances will actually come. Of those who come-those placed in triples will make good only if the girls themselves can make a go of it. Serious students can make their own adaptions.

CURRICULUM

- A. Each course is set up now in a framework of 45 course hours.
- B. Science course planning makes essential that holidays be used for Classes.
- C. Each department has great flexibility within the 45 hour framework.
- D. Definite positive feeling was shown for a trimester plan containing 3 courses or a semester plan with 4 courses.
- E. Credit should be re-arranged and course depth increased.
- F. Pre-final personal review days were suggested. A reading week is not the answer-but rather a few days for thought collection.
- G. Finals schedule should be posted at the beginning of the semester.
 - H. R.O.T.C. problem is being acted upon
- Physical Education Department should give proficiency exams to exempt students from two years of compulsory education.

SCHOLASTIC ADVISORS

- A. A booklet should be printed under the direction of the Provost to list the requirements of UMass and individual colleges and departments.
- B. The new Dean of Students should arrange advisors' meeting and act as a communications center between departments.
- C. The Honorary groups on campus should plan talks with the freshmen to encourage students to accept responsibility in planning their
 - D. Frequent semi-social evenings should be held in the dormitories with department representatives and majors present to help interest undeclared majors in department.
 - E. Frequent Dorm counselors should have a list of all students and their majors so that freshmen may be directed to them for help in planning their programs. Big and little sisters could help carry out this campaign.
 - F. Advisors should prepare a list which would include the various occupations which one may enter from his specific major.

REDEFINITION OF GREEK ROLE ON CAMPUS

ties are primarily oriented toward so-of a balance of social, intellectual, and recreational activities should be maincial aspects.

A. Goals of sororities and fraterni-

1. Students have changed; more

FOR SUMMER EMPLOYMENT In New England States and Other Areas

Exceptional opportunities to make outstanding earnings. Average minimum - $10 for three hours work. Mornings, afternoons or evenings.

WANTED

STUDENTS (Male and Female)

PERSONAL INTERVIEW - MAY 19 Worcester Room - Student Union 2 to 5 p.m.

College Division of Stanley Home Products, Inc.

- externally and internally. B. Housing is not the chief function of
- 1. The present image of sororities and fraternities should be changed.
- 2. There should be a freshman inter-group council.
- 3. Pledge training should be tried on a mass basis.
- 4. Emphasis should be primarily placed on scholarship,
- 5. Pan Hel and IFC should participate in the four college cultural program.
- 6. Greeks should have more activities during the first semester.
 - C. Pan Hellenic-Interfraternity Councils.
- 1. Goals and purposes of Greek Week were evaluated.
- a. It was agreed that Greek Week is mainly social in nature, and should be maintained as the climax of a year's work by fraternities and sororities.
- b. More of the Greek world should be shown at this time.
- c. There should be an expansion of the program to include the cultural and intellectual aspects as well as the social.
- d. The week provides a good opportunity to exemplify and increase unity, harmony, and good feeling in the Greek system.
- 2. There has been a definite lack of communication between the Pan Hellenic and Interfraternity Councils. If this gap were bridged, there would be more cooperation between the two.
- a. A proposal was made to set up a committee of equal representation of Pan Hel and
- b. The two groups could combine efforts on such projects as Greek Week.

TAXING

- A. The problem is one of lack of communication concerning the health and athletic fees. There are many things which are not known about the new health fee. These facts include the hiring of a psychiatrist and possibly a dentist, the state's ignoring UMass, the increase of faith in the infirmary, the infirmary will not serve as a "guinea pig" for pre-med majors.

 B. It was suggested that communication
- B. It was suggested that commuters and married stu-nts should be given a cut in the fee.
- C. The athletic fee hike prompted several suggestions.

 1. Men should be allowed to use gym facilities.

 2. Laundry and other supplies could be handled more
- 2. Laundry and other supplies could be manufactured efficiently.
 3. Too much of the money collected through this means is used for publicity.
 4. There should be more student representatives on boards which set fees, a method which is a better method than submitting an increase to a referendum.
 5. A person in athletics should be given voting rights in the Senate.
- D. Organizations visiting campus should pay for health fees if aid is received.

 E. A service charge should be paid to RSO by special interest groups if they have to do bookkeeping.

COMMUNICATIONS

- 1. The quality of announcing needs improvement; however, good announcers leave for paying jobs.
 2. There is a great need for publicity—a membership drive will be held in the fall.
 3. The converter problem is caused by the fact that the telephone company has been uncooperative in installing telephone lines.
 4. The Programming has been very good.
 B. Collegian.
- - B. Collegian
- There is a problem raised by reporters who work for professional newspapers on the side. The result is frequently bad publicity for UMass.
- Both the good and bad points of the University be publicized.
- 3. A Board of registered student correspondents should meet regularly. C. Communications Board.
- 1. It has been established to coordinate all student publications, not as a censorship board.
 2. Successful procedures will be reported to other media.
- 3. Recommendations to the Senate as to constitution-or financial problems will come from this board. D. Ya-Hoo
- 1. A membership drive should be held in the fall, and contributions from the student body will be based on
- Subject matter will be of universal appeal rather than well-worn campus issues.

INTERDORMITORY COUNCILS

- . I'lans were made for an interdormitory Council.

 1. Each dorm will be represented by one person.

 2. A committee of eight men was formed to begin
- organizing.

 3. An executive committee should be set up to organize functions with the women's dorms.

 4. Each dorm should make, plan and distribute information in advance for the coming year.

VOL. XC NO. 79 5¢ PER COPY

HISTORY DEPARTMENT CHALLENGED

(See page 2)

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1961

B. C. Pres. To Keynote Graduation

The main speaker at UMass' 90th commencement will be the Very Reverend Michael P. Walsh, president of Boston College.

Of the 900 students expected to be graduated on June 4, 770 will receive bachelor's degrees and ap-proximately 130 will be granted proximately 130 will be grant advanced degrees. An ent advanced degrees. An entire weekend of activities will open on June 2 with a schedule of events for seniors, parents and alumni.
Weather permitting, the commencement ceremonies will be held on the lawn at the rear of the S.U. In case of inclement weather, exercises will be trans-weather, exercises will be transferred to the Cage.

Father Walsh, a biologist, has been president of Boston College since 1958. A graduate of Weston College, he served as acting principal of Fairfield Preparatory. cipal of Fairfield Preparatory School in Connecticut prior to joining the Boston College facul-ty in 1943 as an instructor in bio-logy. He received his doctorate in biology from Fordham Univer-sity in 1948.

member of several scientific societies, including the American Society for the Advancement of Science and the American Association of Zoologists, Father

Hunsberger To Direct Study On Chemical Notation System

The National Science Foundation has announced a grant of $56,000 for a one-year study of chemical notation systems, to be conducted by the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council (NAS-NRC). The study will be directed on a part-time basis by Dr. I. Moyer Hunsberger, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at UMass.

of Arts and Sciences at UMass.

Dr. Hunsberger will be assisted by an advisory group which will include representatives of the NAS-NRC Committee on Modern Methods of Handling Chemical Information and of other interested organizations, such as the American Chemical Society, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, and the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association. The study will be administered jointly by the Division of Chemistry and Chemical Technology and the Office of Documentation of the NAS-NRC.

System Would Eliminate Ambiguity

System Would Eliminate Ambiguity

Chemists first became interested in the use of notation systems for structures of chemical compounds as possible substitutes for names, many of which do not identify compounds uniquely and unambiguously. It was believed that a notation could be made to do so more easily than a system of nomenclature and might have other advantages as well. In addition, during the past decade or more, interest in the possibilities of using machines to handle scientific information has been growing rapidly, and chemists have devised a number of notation or coding systems for representing chemical structures in mechanized information systems.

The notation system devised by G. Malcolm Dyson of England, now Director of Research for the Chemical Abstracts Service, formed the basis of the international standard adopted in 1959 by a commission of the International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry. At the same time, the commission recommended certain revisions in the notation, and it is expected that the revised edition will be published

Uses Of System Are Varied

This international notation and a number of other systems are This international notation and a number of other systems are being used for a variety of purposes, some systems having been de-signed primarily for use with punched card equipment and others for use with computers, and some being suitable for use in printed lists or indexes and others for mechanized structure searching only.

The purpose of the new study is a thorough analysis of the characteristics of the various systems, the similarities and differences among them, the uses now being made of them, the criteria which led to their adoption or development, the problems encountered in their use, the potentialities of each system for more widespread use, the needs not met by existing systems, and the purposes that might be served by agreement among chemists on the use of one or more standardized systems. standardized systems.

Persons and organizations working with chemical notations are invited to send information about their systems to Dr. I Moyer Hunsberger, Dean, College of Arts and Sciences, Bartlett Hall, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Massachusetts.

Walsh has published extensively in the fields of genetics and cy-tology. He has lectured frequent-

Senior Festivities To Begin With Dance On June First

Finals will end on Monday, May 29, at 5 pm., and after two days of rest for weary seniors the festivities of Senior Week will begin on Thursday, June 1,

Senior Dinner Dance, semi-formal dance preceded by a steak dinner, will take place at the Red Barn in Chicopee featur-ing the music of Tony Ravosa's

Forest Lake Park in Palmer will be the sight of the Senior Picnic which will run from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday, June 2. The park has a good beach with swimming and diving facilities, as well as equipment for badmin-ton, horseshoes, and other games. A small combo will play dance music in the boathouse-dancehall. UMass Nine To Play Amherst

Saturday afternoon at 2 the Varsity Baseball team will complete its season against Amherst college at Alumni Field. At night, the traditional Class Night activities will be held at 7:30 p.m. on the Lawn behind the SU The Hatchet and Peace Pipe Orations will give a satiric treatment to the four years sen-iors have spent at UMass. It is an evening devoted to humor with awards and praise of a dubious nature being presented to many popular campus figures. The finale will be of a more serious nature, however, for it is on this night that the mantle of the Sennight that the mantle of the Senior Class President is passed on by the graduating senior to his successor, and the seniors, in cap and gown, will close the night with a candlelight processional.
Cadets Will Receive Commissions
The day looked forward too by all seniors with a combined feeling of anxiousness and sadness of anxiousness and sadness

is Commencement, Sunday, June commissioning of senior cadets as Second Lieutenants in the Army and Air Force Reserve at 11 a.m. in Bowker Auditorium. At 2 p.m. on the S.U. lawn the President's Reception for parents will afford an opportunity for parents and friends to meet the faculty and members of the Administration.

Commencement Exercises will begin here at 4 p.m. The speaker will be the Very Rev. Michael P. Walsh S.J., President of Boston College. Seniors will line up according to the P. Walsh S.J. cording to colleges at the sounding of the Old Chapel bells at 3:30 p.m. Following the main Commencement Exercises, grad-uates will proceed to brief school and college ceremonies for the actual presentation of degrees as follows:

College of Arts and Sciences S.U. Amphitheatre School of Engineering

Steps of the Engineering Building School of Business

Commonwealth Room, S.U.
College of Agriculture
Steps of Stockbridge Hall
School of Education S.U. Amphitheatre

Worcester Room, S.U.
School of Home Economics
Steps of Skinner Hall

Steps of Skinner Hall
School of Physical Education
Women's Physical Ed. Building
In case of rain arrangements have been made to move the ceremonies into the Cage.
Programs have been made available through the efforts of Larry Rayner, Chairman of the Graduation Day Committee. They may be obtained in the Office of
(Continued on page 3)

Communications Board Is Approved In Committee

After much discussing and amending, the R.S.O. Committee unanimously approved a motion creating a Communications Board in a meeting held yesterday 4 p.m. in the Plymouth Room of the S.U.

A member of the select-staffed, student-faculty committee, Sen-ator Bill Knowlton '61, remarked after the meeting, "Reorganiza-tion in the area of communica-tions has long been needed. This board may answer the problem. At the very least, it's a step in the right direction."

Analyzed as an effort to reor-ganize the chain of responsibility in the student government—student communications area, the board is intended to deal in two general areas according to the outline which was worked out in committee. These are: general policy and overall finances.

The plan is for the existing or-ganization to work within their realization to work within their constitutions as they now stand. The change is that the general policy of the organization will be established by the board. As regards censorship, the policy statement reads, "This Board would not get as a constraint of the statement reads," would not act as a censorship agency, but it will be available to individual organizations for advice and counseling."

The board does have the power make post facto recommendations to the student senate in the case of the use of inappropriate

The second function is budget-The second function is budgetary. The board will be charged with the shaping of financial policy and the handling of any budget changes that come up during the school year.

Membership will be evenly balanced between faculty and students and is allotted as follows:
Tech. Advisor.

appointed students will be chosen appointed students will be chosen by the President of the Student Senate. Three selected students are going to be chosen by the board, annually, from among ap-plications made by members of the undergraduate student body.

One of the specific functions of the Communications Board, it was decided, will lie in the en-

A.&S. Dean Gives Story On System

Dean of Arts and Sciences, Dr. I. Moyer Hunsberger, will head a team of two or three chemists in a study of chemical notation systems. Dr. Hunsberger said the team will travel widely in the United States, visiting chemical companies to determine what various companies have done on

The information received will be sent here to UMass for evaluation. "It is a problem that has plagued chemists for years", Dr. Hunsberger said, "We are charged with processing the information received, and then suggesting the criteria to evaluate gesting the crit criteria to evaluate Since 1948, Dr. Hunsberger said, work has been done on the problem of chemical notations. However, the work has not been well channelled for evaluation. well channelled for evaluation.

The chemical industry has a great need for a workable chemical notations system, Dr. Hunsberger stated.

Dr. Hunsberger suggested that the information received might prompt the Government to establish large computers centers which could handle any notations system devised.

Dr. Hunsberger will take a month during the summer when he will not be working at UMass to do the travelling which will be required for this work.

'Last Chance' Announced For Seniors

Men and women in the senior class will have their last chance to pick up their caps and gowns tonight and tomorrow, according to Larry Rayner, chairman of the Graduation Day Committee. They will not be available after tomorrow because the Alumni office does not have the time to give the caps and gowns out to seniors who come in late, he said.

Distribution, which was made to women two weeks ago, will con-tinue from 7:30 to 9 p.m. tonight tinue from 7:30 to 9 p.m. tonight and 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 2 to 4 p.m. tomorrow. The outfits are given out in the basement of Me-morial Hall. Students should en-ter the building on the Ellis Drive Entrance, and follow the

All seniors must pay a $4.00 rental fee and a $1.00 deposit upon receipt. An additional charge of $.50 will be made for tassels.

forcement of R.S.O. policy. Among the facets of that policy is the controversial 2.0 law.

Meetings of the board are to be open to the public, at the discretion of the chairman of the board.

Any group wishing to form a new media of communications on cmapus will have to work its request through the board to the normal constitution-approving

Trench Coat, Pipe, And Prudence

It has been the practice in past years to dedicate one of the final issues of the Collegian to the one student who has made his presence felt most strongly on these pages during his tenure on this campus.

This year's dedication yields to a gentleman who presence on or near the Collegian has probably produced more printer's ink than the ROTC department or Chief Blasko.

Upon meeting him for the first time, he would probably impress you as being a "white collar Bohemian." is due less to truth than to the fact that he hates a clean trench coat and enamores short haircuts which can be brushed with a flick of his coat sleeve. That trench coat and haircut are as much a trademark with him as are his pipe and black-rimmed glasses

You were a bit more fortunate if you met him initially while he was assuming his favorite role . . . as Student Senator on the chamber floor. The glasses slip down to the bridge of his nose, a small piece of paper with figures scribbled across it slips from his hand to the table before him, his pipe begins to swing like a pendulum to encampass the assembly, and the man embarks on his course-"Now let's be reasonable, people . . .

Not only has his presence been felt within practically every Senate Committee during his four year plus tenure ehre, but as Senator he has represented, separately, Baker, Brooks, commtuers, and finally, to top them all off, his class of 1961. If there were enough time, he might have tried to fit in Crabtree next September. Over the years, there have been more news scoops collecting dust under his shaggy haircut than Dr. Gage has throat lozenges. As a student employee in the University News office, our man often exemplified prudence in the name of our University when he might have earned top dollars from the press services by divulging the "inside stories" in advance.

'rom their backlog of experiences with him, Senators have described him as: "amiable, very capable, diplomatic, devoted, happy-go-lucky, and industrious.'

And when a tall, crudely crew-cutted fellow stood up hurriedly in Keito's recently, pointed out to the beyond with smoking pipe, and exclaimed exasperatedly—"Dammit! That's the third guy to cheat me out of a pizza," one could only surmise that the man was William S. Knowlton (in-

For his constructive efforts on the floor of our Student Senate and behind the typewriters in the University News office, and for his amiable presence in Keito's and the rest of Amherst, we dedicate this Collegian to Bill Knowlton.

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor
James J. Trelease '63

News Editor: Assignments
Joseph Bradley '64

Business Manager
Howard Frisch '62

News Editor: Make-Up
Beth Peterson '63 Sports Editor Ben Gordon '62

EDITORIAL tes: Michael Palter, Warren Richard

Rudy Wittshirk Marcla Ann Voike

Marie Mortimer '68 Francis Maziarz '68

Alan Savitt Robert Wallis TECHNICAL ADVISER Marc L. Ratner mare 1. Rather as second class matter at the post office at Amberst, Mass. Printed weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examinaisy falls within the week. Accepted for mailing under the authority of twice a week the week following a vacation or examination period, or arch 8, 1879, as amended by the act of June 11, 1934.

Student Union, Univ. of Mass., Amberst, Mass.
Caled Collegiate Press: Intercollegiate Press
Sun., Tues., Thurs.—4:00 p.m.

A PENNY'S THOUGHTS

by JAMES COFFEY '63

I am a typical stereotype of the 1931 vintage. I can't complain about the length of my life but perhaps if it had been a little shorter I wouldn't have witnessed so much misery or so many hardships. There are those days when life is dark and I never see the light of day. This living in darkness is perhaps better because I am unable to witness the horrors of life.

I have seen Hitler and his mas-sacres of all the innocent and I have seen the capitalist exploita-tion of the masses. I have witnessed the beginning of atomic energy and the fury it let loose and its terrible potentiality for destruction as an instrument of the devil. I see today at the time of my death the beginning of a age, perhaps more promising than the one I have just experi-enced—"the space age." This new age with its Yuri Gagarin may perhaps offer better opportunities or perhaps may allow for the ex-tension of evil. This is for man decide and it must be decided today. I can't be placed on an agenda and postponed for poster-ity to decide. The decision must be made today so that porterity will have a chance against evil and its instruments — war and Well, now I have been sorted and placed in a tin marked "TO BE DESTROYED." So it is now as I am plowed into the melting vat I reach to end of an era and the beginning of perhaps the greatest age for mankind or disaster . . . all depending upon our decision of today.

Historian Challenges Historians To the Editor:

Against the tide of contemporary opinion which seeks to vindicate and absolve every action of the U.S. and its divine President, I would like to place

Specifically, in reference to the "correction" appearing in the Collegian of May 12, I cannot help but feel that this voice of the students retreated under pressure from above. Indeed, it may have been very unfortunate that such a topic as the role of Kennedy's religion on his decision-making should have been raised or that the five members of the History Department should have chosen the same exact moment in a heated discussion to leave.

The actions of these five gentlemen, one of which levied a highly emotional personal attack and the other four who accompanied him on this departure, leave much to be desired of academic temperament and intellectual restraint. Their actions carry more weight than their excuses.

As a history major I am surprised, as a student I am disgruntled, and as a citizen of the U.S. I am appalled.

Richard A. Wilgoren '61

Joe Cohen Extolled

Columnist Joe Cohen (the Ivory Tower) has done his readers a commendable service in pointing out the ludicrous condition of Boston politics.

William Callahan, of toll road fame, is now planning another attempt at selling the bonds for a toll extension from Weston to South Station. This preposterous scheme would dump thousands of automobiles into an already choked bottleneck. Not only would the cost of this gem be three times that of would the cost of this gem be three times that of any similar road ever built, but it would make the "Athens of America" into an anthill. Only two alternatives would then remain—extend the toll road into Boston harbor, or bury the city and start over

But Callahan has to his credit not only magnificent feats of engineering, but also incredibly good luck. Imagine finding $5000 in your raincoat pocket one drizzly night after visiting a bosom pal. Callahan might well muse to himself, "What's this—a bundle of money? Fancy that! Now how did that get Even better luck, Callahan was not on trial there?" Even better luck, Callanan was not on trial when this evidence was revealed.

Students of political science gape in amazement at Massachusetts politics. Is it any wonder?

R. J. Boardman '62

Historian Challenges Collegian

To the Editor:

Basically, the job of the historian and that of the reporter are much the same. Each has the responsibility of ascertaining truth, either of the present or of the past and explaining this truth to an interested audience.

The lead story in the Collegian of May 10 exemplifies the problem which confronts both the historian and the reporter. I refer to the headline which alleges that members of the Department of History left a meeting concerning Cuba in a concerted move that apparently was intended to show anger at statements made from the

The situation was obviously one for a good reporter. Here you have a meeting called to discuss a vital subject. The meeting was better attended than almost any single event during the academic year. Three reputable speakers criticized aspects of American foreign policy, and one of these speakers inferred that at least some of our policy concerning Cuba resulted from the religious faith of President Kennedy: thereupon a brief and not subject to explanate tabletic between a member of the History Department and the speakers. Subsequently a number of persons left the room. It was noted that four or five members of the Department of History were included in this

How should a responsible editor and capable reporter handle this How should a responsible editor and capable reporter handle this situation? Obviously, as a first step, some effort should have been made to check on whether the departure of the historians was, in fact, a concerted move intended to show strong disapproval of the speakers. A check would be relatively simple and probably would have involved contact with members of the History Department, as well as other persons in the audience.

than taking this first step to ascertain truth, your rereporter made what seems to me to be the worst mistake the reporter or historian can make. She assumed that the apparent fact was the true fact, and that rumor was reliable as corroboratory evidence. Then, without making any apparent effort to ascertain whether what

Then, without making any apparent effort to ascertain whether what seemed to be true actually was, she proceded to write an inflamatory story which a responsible editor should have checked before printing. As a consequence, a patently untrue story appeared in the Collegian. The uncoordinated departure of a number of persons scattered throughout a hot room during a two hour meeting was made to look like an action of planned hostility toward several reputable scholars. To my way of thinking, this evidence of inadequate realization of the basic responsibilities of editorship and reporting strongly reflects on the reputation of the Collegian. Only rarely does the Collegian impress me as adequately filling its function as University newspaper. It almost never leads the student body in anything constructive. Too often it ignores stories of campus events which need any deserve reporting, and which would interest a broad group of the student body. Too heavily is it filled with material aimed at a very small group of students. Too frequently it substitutes canned filler material from the news services for the industrious and imaginative legwork of a good reporter. Finally, it is often poorly written, badly spelled, and barely factually correct. spelled, and barely factually correct.

John R. vanSteenberg. Assistant Professor Department of History

Ed. Note—We are sorry that Professor van-Steenberg feels the way he does about the Collegian, but we are nevertheless appreciative of the fact that he is interested enough to inform us of his Steenberg feels the way he does about the Collegian, but we are nevertheless appreciative of the fact that he is interested enough to inform us of his criticisms. As students we look toward the faculty for a realization of our shortcomings. Many faculty members are aware of the role they can play in helping the Collegian grow as a competent newspaper, and visit the office often for constructive working out of problems. We would be happy to talk with Professor vanSteenbergen about his remarks and to listen to any suggestions he may have for remedying the situations that exist presently. We would also like to explain to him why are forced to "subsitute canned filler material . . . for the . . . legwork of a good reporter." Many faculty, once they have learned of the situation on the Collegian, have been able to give sound advice to benefit the paper. If Professor vanSteenberg is sincerely interested in seeing a better Collegian, as we feel certain he is, we would be happy to explain our personnel problems to him and to be receptive to any suggestions he might offer. It is only by being made aware of our inadequacies and by confering with persons of wider experience and knowledge that we can ever hope to move forward toward the type of newspaper that this campus deserves.

As far as the article in question is concerned, we did check the story with a person wingm we thought that this campus deserves.

As far as the article in question is concerned, we did check the story with a person whom we thought responsible and informed about the matter, and were satisfied as to the accuracy of the story at the time of printing. When we learned later that our source and our "informed person" were mistaken, we admitted the error, and promptly printed a correction (see p.1, May 12).

mitted the error, and promptly printed a correction (see p.1, May 12).

We know that Professor vanSteenberg realizes that historians are fallible and liable to commit mistakes in research or in fact analysis. What we hope he also realizes is that reporters, alas, are only human and subject to error also.

Art is not self-expression. Just as art cannot be understood without effort, so it cannot be created without travail. It lives by laws of its created without travail. It lives by laws of its own, laws not always easy to communicate or to understand. But the true artist in any field is bound by these laws and its responsible for keeping them by a strict inner discipline. This is as true of the most abstract or experimental art as of objective and traditional art. Above all, art is its own end, and has nothing to do with therapy or emotional release. its own end, and release.

or emotional release.

—from GOALS FOR AMERICANS

Court Ejects Greeks At U Of New Mexico

(UPS) - University of New Mexico students were roused out of traditional pre-exam inactivity by a controversial student court injunction.

The University Student Court last week upheld a petition con-tending that Greek "organiza-tions practice discrimination in violation of . . . the Association Students Constitution" and there-Students Constitution" and therefore should not be represented in the student government. The Court issued a temporary injunction against the seating of Greek members in the Student Senate until a hearing could take place at which each Greek organization. at which each Greek organization would present its constitution.

The section of the Constitution referred to states that "there shall be no discrimination by race, religion or political ideology in the student community."

The petitioners stated they are not interested in forcing integra-tion on Greek organizations, but are only interested in "having the court rule that the University cannot officially sanction criminatory organizations by allowing them to take part in Student Government."

The Student Senate, in a fiery meeting, censured the Court for its decision, but the censure was because the Senate lacked a quorum.

Senior Festivities ...

(Continued from page 1) the Dean of Men, the S.U. Lobby Counter, and the Collegian Of-

Tickets for all events are available at the S.U. Box Office. Graduation announcements and invitations may also be obtained at the Box Office which will be open from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Accommodations for parents and Alumni may be made by contacting the Alumni Office in Memorial Hall, rooms will be available in Knowlton and Hamlin dormitories.

Pre-Lawyers Elect New Officers

Friday night the elections of officers for the Pre-Law Club officers for the Pre-Law Club took place under the organization of Bill Tinty '61. Those elected for '61-'62 are: Board of Directors: David Kauffman, '63, John O'Conner '63, Betty Mialak '63, and Peter Baker '62.

David Kauffman will be chairman of the board for the first quarter of the year. Other officers elected were: Secretary, Joan Alonis '63; and Treasurer, Jane Nason '64.

Notice

Pictures for the Handbook will be taken Thursday evening be-ginning at 7 p.m. in the Barn-stable Room of the S.U. The schedule is as follows:

Class Officers: 7 p.m. Adelphia: 7:10 Maroon Key: 7:20 Mortar Board: 7:35 Scrolls: 7:45 Revelers: 8 p.m. General Court: 8:15

Stevenson To Speak At Amherst College

Adlai Ewing Stevenson, United States Ambassador to the United Nations, will speak at the 140th Commencement of Amherst College on Sunday, June 11.

A distinguished and successful lawyer, diplomat, and politician, Mr. Stevenson paradoxically is best remembered for two defeats he suffered as Democratic candidate for the Presidency in 1952

Admitted to Bar in 1926

Mr. Stevenson attended Prince-ton University, where he was editor of the Daily Princetonian. After his graduation in 1922, he attended Harvard and Northwestern Law Schools and was admitted to the bar in 1926.

Between 1927 and 1941, he did many jobs for the federal government and was named special as-sistant to Navy Secretary Frank Knox in 1941. He led a mission to Italy in 1943 to plan the economic policies of the Allied occupation. In 1945, he served as an aide to State Secretaries Edward R. Slet-tinius, Jr. and James F. Byrnes in the arrangement of the United Nations founding conference. Two years later, he was a delegate to the General Assembly of the

In 1948 he scored an upset landslide victory to win the Il-linois gubernational election. He was completing his first term as Illinois governor when he was drafted the Democratic nominee for President in 1952.

"Dynamic Statesmanship"

After Kennedy's election last November, the name of Steven-son was high among the candi-dates considered for the post of Secretary of State. As Ambassador to the U.N., his associates say he is scoring a tremendous triumph with "dynamic states-manship."

State Dept. Grants 100,000 To Assist African Students

A special Department of State grant of $100,000 has been made to the Institute of International written assurance of intent to re-Education to assist African students now at United States col-leges and universities.

leges and universities.

In announcing the grant, Kenneth Holland, President of the Institute of International Education, stated: "This action by the Office of Educational Exchange of the U.S. Department of State marks a departure from the traditional use of United States Government funds for foreign students. It recognizes that many able foreign students come to this students. It recognizes that many able foreign students come to this country without United States Government assistance, either on their own limited funds or with private support from educational institutions or private organizations." Holland added that "The purpose of this Special Fund is to provide supplementary aid to as many of these students from Africa as possible."

All applications for individual awards from this Special Fund for African Students must be for African Students must submitted to the Institute of In-ternational Education through the student's college or university. To be eligible for an award, a student must be enrolled in an accredited college or university, must not have received United States Government aid either for

Notice

All lost articles at the S.U. Counter must be picked up by May 29, or they will be disposed of. Students who have lost things are advised to check there.

cational purposes, and must give written assurance of intent to rehome upon completion of Preference will be given to African students from countries south of the Sahara, to under-Bachelor's degree, and to those who request partial grants to supplement their present resources. Applicants for awards should have a good academic record, be interested and participate in extra-curricular activities, and be in a field of study important to the home country's develop-

J. Hamilton Lewis's Discussion To Be Thursday, May 25

The possible success of mankind's age-long search for peace and security is the topic of J. Hamilton Lewis's discussion to be held on Thursday, May 25, at 8 p.m., in the Council Chambers of the S.U.

Lewis, a member of the Christian Science Board of Lecture-ship, is on an extended speaking tour and coming here at the invitation of the UMass Christian Science Organization.

During his lecture, Lewis will describe spiritual healings of alcoholism, heart trouble, and a fractured back.

The lecture is open to the public without charge.

CLUB DIRECTORY

ZOOLOGY CLUB

Important meeting for election of officers and planning of next year's program, 8:00 p.m. Wednesday, May 17 in Morrill 138. Speaker: Mr. Lieberman. Refreshments will be served.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Bible study-John:6:35, held in the Plymouth R., S.U., May 19 at 7 p.m. This is the last meeting of the semester.

Lost and Found

Lost: A black St. James Lost: A black St. James Eng-lish bike from Hamlin House. Would whoever took it by mistake, please return to Louise Aceti, Hamlin House. Found: A grey shetland wool cardigan in the quadrangle of the women's dorms. Contact Gail

Summer Students wanting Apartment

furnished, four rooms, close to campus Phone AL 3-7914

on House

Lost: Glasses, brown heavy

Lost: Glasses, brown heavy frame and brown clip case. Lost between Hampshire House, Machmer, S.U., and Wilder Hall.
Lost: Extremely battered, but vital Chemistry Workbook. Last seen in the Hatch. Please return to Diane Tovet, 224 Hamlin.

Found: Wedding band outside S.U.

S.U.

Lost: Robert Hall Raincoat with several items in pocket in 3 p.m. Eng. 25 class in Bartlett Hall. I have yours. J. W. Tullock, 212 Baker.

Hoss And Cullen Lead UMass Snakebeaters In Trinity Trounce

Coach Dick Garber's lacrosse team notched its eighth win yesterday as it trounced the Trinity snakebeaters 13-4 on the latter's home field.

Senior Gerry Cullen, a defense-nan, notched the first goal of his four-year lacrosse career in a brilliant play. Gerry has played outstanding ball for the Garbers in his UMass career.

Dick Hoss was the high scorer for the UMass squad, tallying three times. Bob Glew had two scores to his credit, while Frank Gilliatt, Bob Gibley, Jim Elling-wood, Gordie Wallace, Mike Chre-tian, Joe Moro and Bob Barrett had one tally apiece. This was the second straight game in which the scoring has been evenly distributed and shows that the squad is extremely well balanced.

Armand Caraviallo chalked up two assists while Gilliat and Chretian had one each.

The Trinity crew was no match for the mighty UMass squad, staying close only through the first period, the score being 1-1 at the end of that stretch. The Redmen really tore loose in the second quarter, notching five goals to none for Trinity. Each team made good on two nets in the third period, but the Garbers again surged ahead in the final frame when they hurled five more spheres into the nets as opposed to the hosts' one.

John Bamberry was again out-anding in the UMass nets. The squad will finish its season this Saturday when they host the

New Hampshire stickmen behind the Curry Hicks Building at 2:00 p.m. The winner of this game will wear the Northeast Championship crown. If you haven't yet seen a lacrosse game, you won't want to miss this fast and furious contest.
The victory over Trinity marked a high point in Coach Dick campus.

The team is only seven years old, and had not won more than seven games in each of the past six years. Saturday's clash with the Wildeats could up the win column to nine, in addition to bringing the lacrosse crown to the UMass campus.

W.A.A. Presents Awards To Outstanding Dorms, Sororities: Naiads Chosen proved to be a fitting climax to a successful season, dormitories and sororities being awarded prizes for participation and skill in their athletic competition. Chi Omega, Alpha Chi Omega and Kappa Kappa G a m m a were awarded plaques for their par-ticipation in events, Chi Omega ticipation in events, Chi Omega receiving top billing and the other two following.

In dormitory competition, Leach, Johnson and Dwight received plaques in that order.

Trophies were awarded to the dorms and sororities for accumulating the greatest amount of points in competition. Chi Omega, Alpha Chi Omega and Kanna Alpha Chi Omega and Kappa Kappa Gamma were the winners in the competition in that order, while Leach, Dwight and Johnson took first, second and third places respectively.

Mickey Adamson, Carrol
Greaves, Sherill Lambert and Pricilla Whalen were honored by

The WAA picnic last night the WAA for outstanding service proved to be a fitting climax to during their four year participaduring their four year participa-tion in that organization.

NAIADS NEWS

Nineteen upperclass girls were accepted to the Naiads swimming group, after passing proficiency tests judged by the present sen-ior members. Freshmen tryouts will be held in September to bolster the membership of the group. Those girls were selected are as follows: Sally Billington, ster Beverly Brent, Diana Carlson, Carrol Dyer, Carolyn Gregory, Joy Gustafson, Judy Kelly, Barbara Lundgren, Bernadette Menz Linda Morris, Mary Pelton, Ruth Perley, Terry Price, Judy Quirck, Ruth Shephard, Anne Snouffer, Nurit Strauss, Marcia Trimble and Donna Wilber.

pushing their trunks up above the surface of the water and breathing through them, elephants can walk on the bot-tom of a river.

Sports Editorial

Who Are The Guilty?

The following article is a Sports Editorial on a subject which should concern college students throughout the United States, and has an additional meaning to us at UMass as representatives of the Yankee Conference. The first porition of the editorial is taken from the May 8 issue of Sports Illustrated Magazine.

THE GUILTY MEN

"Take a good look at the eight men in the column at right (the reader is referred to eight pictures). They are the presidents (or chancellors) of the seven schools involved in the basketball scandals and the executive director of the National Collegiate athletic Association. In our opinion, they and all other college presidents should share in the guilt for the corruption of the players who took bribes from gamblers to fix games.

"The most shocking act about the scandals is not that there are evil men who try to seduce college athletes, or that some of those athletes yield to temptation. It is that the college heads refuse to admit their own dereliction of duty and are trying to shift responsibility for the tragedy to others. 'We don't intend to do anything different than in the past," says LaSalle's Brother Bernian, "because we don't think we did anything wrong.' This seems to be the position all college administrations have taken since the scandals broke.

"U.S. university presidents and the NCAA's Mr. Byers are ultimately responsible for the recruiting tactics which corrupt young athletes while they are still in high school. There has grown up on our campuses a double academic standard (one for athletes, one for other students) for which all the presidents share responsibility. These men deplore bribe-taking by their athletes at the same time that they themselves have yielded to th temptation of commercialized college athletics.

"So long as college administrations believe they discharge their duties by expelling bribe takers and shedding a few tears before going back to business as usual, so long will there exist all the necessary ingredients for future scandals.

"For his part, Mr. Byers says the scandals did not originate within college walls but are merely a reflection of the poor moral climate of the times. This statement is doubly outrageous since policies which gave birth to the scandals did originate within college walls. As for the moral climate of our times—since when have college presidents not had the responsibility of trying to better it?"

Terry Rice of Sports Illustrated wrote and asked me to comment on this article, and I did. It is our opinion that Sports Illustrated tended to place more blame upon the shoulders of the college presidents than their positions warrant. Granted, the administrators of the colleges involved in the scandal must take on some of the blame, but no more than anyone else in our society.

The university, just as the home, serves the function of transmitting the mores of our culture to the youth of the nation. It is unfortunate, yet inevitable, that our materialistic culture must entail sinister ramifications.

Whether or not the cash (a nexus present in all facets of our society) can be eliminated from the campus scene is dubious, yet an attempt must be made to do so. This would entail, to carry the solution to its extremes, the abolition of all athletic scholarships. The question then arises whether or not the administrations would be justified in depriving the many deserving athletes of financial help. Is it worth the deprivation of these men to prevent the small minority of athletes from being drawn into crime? This is a question which must be answered.

At any rate, college athletics must be subordinated to college scholastics. It is the duty of college heads to bring this about in the institutions where the opposite exists, and to prevent the superiority of athletics over scholastics in institutions where this situation shows sgns of coming about. Here the administrators cannot place the responsibility elsewhere, and, in carrying out this process, will undoubtedly take a step forward in combatting those forces which impel some athletes toward crime.

THE SEAFARING MAN IS A

Chart your course to the crisp, colorful look of the California sun and sea swimwear that Catalina so handsomely combines with the new British styling influence.

Catalina, Inc., Los Angeles, California. Another fine Kayser-Roth Product.

LEARN HOW

PRAYER CAN HEAL

The Christian Science Organization at the University of Massachusetts cordially invites you to attend a free lecture entitled

> How Christian Science BRINGS SECURITY AND PEACE

J. HAMILTON LEWIS, C.S. of Concord, New Hampshire

member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

> Thursday, May 25, 8 p.m. in the Council Chambers of the Student Union University of Massachusetts Amherst, Mass.

Freshman Baseball Team Loses To Springfield 7-1; End Year With 6-4 Tab

The UMass freshman baseball team finished their season yester-day, losing to the Springfield College frosh 7-1.
The team,

lege frosh 7-1.

The team, ending the season with a 6-4 record, gathered nine hits during the game, three more than did the Maroons, but couldn't get them in bunches. Tom Ryan was the only steady hitter for the Little Redmen, brandishing a big bat for three hits including a triple, double and sincluding a triple, double and sincluding. cluding a triple, double and sin-

Tom was the key factor in the single run for the squad, connecting for the triple, and crossing the plate when Dick Bavosi, coming in to pinch hit, sliced out a

The rest of the hits came one time, no threats being suffered by the Springfield College

Pitching proved to be the weak factor in this defeat, the hurlers

This year's freshmen should prove to be next year's stars, for many show great potential. Barry Meunier, Coach Dick Bergquist's shortstop will receive the coveted freshman Student Athlete Award, presented by the Dad's Associa-tion to the outstanding frosh athlete every year. The award will be presented to Barry next Sunday at the Spring Sports

Gordy Lewis, by far the best slugger on this year's frosh nine and an outstanding catcher, should prove to be a great help to Coach Earl Lorden's varsity squad in the '62 season, Gordy batted an even 15 for 30 at bats for a solid 500 batting average.

Redmen Marksman Roy Fritz Named As All-American

Roy W. Fritz, a member of the University of Massachusetts Rifle American Pistol team by the National Rifle Association of America. Fritz, a junior, lives in Springfield, and has been the top marksman for the Redmen this vear.

Among the other men named for marksman honors were five men from the Army's crack unit, four of them repeaters from last year's squad.

All of the men on the ten-man team but two come from U.S. academies, George T. Sinclair of Villanova being the other exception

IMPALA CONVERTIBLE Here's topdown going at its breezy best. And, like all five Chevy Impalas, it's available with Super Sport features* that set it apart from anything else on the *Optional at extra cost, as a complete kit.

Sports car spice never came in so many varieties ... Chevrolet!

Maybe you're a fellow with more or less normal driving habits who's looking for a change of pace. Or maybe you're a red-hot sports car buff. Either way, you'll find the fastest relief for that tantalizing itch in your driving foot at your Chevrolet dealer's One-Stop Shopping Center. He's got cars that run the sporting gamut like no others—nimble Corvair Monzas (2- or 4-door), charged-up Impala Super Sports (in five different body styles) and the kingpin of production sports cars, the Corvette. You can take your choice without chasing all over town. They're all stablemates under the same roof!

CHEVY CORVAIR MONZA CLUB COUPE

Nestle behind the wheel in one of those bucket front seats and what Corvair's rear-engine design has done for driving. Steering that responds to the subtlest Braking that brings you to precise even-keel stops. Traction that clings like a cocklebur.

CORVETTE

It's the goingest machine in America. Pure-bred sports car performance the likes of which only the most elite (and expensive) foreign-built jobs could claim before Corvette began stealing their thunder in open competition.

See the new Chevrolets at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's

Exquires CLUB & FASHIONS

BY O. E. SCHOEFFLER Esquire's 1 on Director

You will probably have more occasions to don formalwear during your undergraduate years than at any other time of your life... unless you become a career diplomat or a sax player. No apparel in your wardrobe is more strictly governed by tradition than formal-

FOLLOW THE RULES. There aren't many, but each should be observed if you want to be correctly turned out. First, what fabric? Since most ballrooms and country clubs are warm enough to prevent pneumonia among warm enough to prevent pneumonia among the strapless dress set, I think lightweight formalwear for men makes sense in any sea-son. Choose lightweight mohair, a mohair blend or other blend in either black or mid-night blue.

YOUR JACKET, SIR... should be single-breasted with natural shoulder line and a shawl collar with plain or stin-faced lapels. Trousers are tapered. Select a white dress shirt with pleated or plain bosom, a black satin cummerbund and bow tie.

You'll need cufflinks and studs for the shirt. These must match and can be either black pearl, onyx or plain gold. Some experts advocate black patent oxfords or pumps, but I don't think they're necessary if your black dress shoes are fairly plain and light enough for dancing. Wear black hose, of course.

BUDGET PERMITTING, you will also want a white dinner jacket for Spring and Summer parties. Surely a white dinner jacket is among the most festive of masculine fashions... and it makes even an ordinary Joe feel like Cary Grant. Follow the same styling rules as for the all-black outfit and wear the same type of accessories.

The more venturesome will want to investigate the dashing new crop of plaid Madras and printed Batik dinner jackets. These are also tailored in natural shoulder, single-breasted style with shawl collars. So much for elegance, now let's check out some new headware.

IN THE SW.M, you'll see many variations on knit swim briefs and trunks in all kinds of fabrics and patterns. Horizontal or vertical stripes in vivid color combinations will be the number one choice. The boxer style also remains popular, especially in colorful new plaids or solid shades of blue, olive or gold.

ON THE BEACH, or at poolside, take note of the attractive and com-fortable new terry cloth dry-off suits. These outfits consist of a shirt and either shorts or longer pants in white or such wild colors as Tiger (orange-rust). The biggest news-(orange-rust). The biggest news-maker is this year's version of buc-caneer pants... beach knickers! Yes, shades of Tom Swift... knickers are back. These are heavy white cot! twill. They button just below ' knee and look great teamed w. long siceved crew neck pullover I m shirts in bright horizontal stripes.

soled canvas Espadrilles go ith any of these fashions.

TYPING PAPER EATON'S CORRASABLE BOND CARBON PAPER CARTER'S MIDNIGHT CARBON A. J. HASTINGS Inc.

Newsdealer & Stationer

Amherst, Mass.

UMASS SPORTS
The varsity baseball squad will host the Rhode Island Rams at Alumni Field, Thurs day at 3:00. On the same day, the Springfield College track team will visit the UMass campus. This is a make-up meet, due to the previous meets being rained out. The tennis squad will take on the Springfield netmen today at 2:00 p.m. Get down to some of these events and make it a good summer send off for summer send off for graduate study in 15 foreign countries in 1962-63 will be offered by foreign governments and universities through the Institute of International Education.

Foreign Governments To Offer Fellowships

The Institute announced today that applications for these fellowships are now available.

The fellowships cover tuition costs and varying amounts for living expenses for study in universities in Austria, Brazil, Canada, Denmark, France, Germany, Iran, Israel, Italy, Mexico, The Netherlands, Poland, Rumania, Sweden and Switzerland. Students applying for Austrian, Danish, French, German, Israeli, Italian, or Netherlands government awards may apply for a Fulbright Travel Grant to supplement their fellowships.

Two additional awards, offered by an American foundation, are for study or research in any country in the Far East, South or Southeast Asia, and Africa.

General eligibility requirements include United States citizenship, a Bachelor's degree or its equi-valent before departure, foreign language ability, and good health. A good academic record and demonstrated capacity for independent study are also necessary. Pre-ference is given to applicants un-der 35 years of age who have not had extensive experience abroad. While married persons are eligi-ble for most of the fellowships, the stipends are geared to the needs of single grantees.

College and university students should obtain application forms from their campus Fulbright Adviser. Other prospective applicants may obtain further information and application forms from the Information and Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th Street, New York 21, New York.

Revelers Plan Frosh Picnic For Friday Evening

For entertainment there will be games and dancing. Music will be provided by the Storms, a prominent rock-and-roll band.

A picnic supper will be served. A pichic supper will be served, Please bring your meal ticket, for meals will not be served to freshmen at the Dining Halls. This will be the last time the

Contest Called For '62 Varieties Script

Revelers is sponsoring a contest for all interested students who would like to write a script for next year's Campus Varieties, March, 1962, Students have all summer to think of an idea, and may submit it in draft form in the fall for consideration.

Campus Varieties is a produc-tion written and produced by stu-dents, and each year discerns new talent. It began as a variety show, but in the last three years has taken the form of a musical comedy such as "Boola Boola Bull", "Flowers Grow Wild", and the recent "Infernal Triangle."

On Friday, May 16, from 4-7:30 p.m. the Revelers will sponsor a Frosh Picnic on the lawn at the side of the S.U.

Class of '64 will be together this year, and also it is the last social event before finals. All freshmen are urged to attend this final get-together of the year.

Drugs May Cure Types Of Cancer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Austin Smith, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, has predicted that a drug will be the cure for certain types of cancer.

"In the next two decades expect the drug industry to develop agents which actually will cure cancer," he said. "It cannot be forecast that all types of cancer will be subject to cure by drugs, but many of them will."

Dr. Sidney Farber, a cancer specialist at Hard University, noted that the time has come for research centers to treat all cancer victims with medicinals as well as with surgery and radiowell as with surgery and radio-therapy. He told public health officials at a recent meeting that chemicals have lengthened the life of cancer sufferers, some of whom had cancer that was too advanced even for surgery.

WANTED

STUDENTS (Male and Female) FOR SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

In New England States and Other Areas

Exceptional opportunities to make ourstanding earnings. Average minimum—$10 for three hours work. Mornings, afternoons or

PERSONAL INTERVIEW - MAY 19 Worcester Room — Student Union 2 to 5 p.m.

College Division of Stanley Home Products, Inc.

Don't Play With Matches

A BLAZE IN THE BRUSH CAN CAUSE A FLOOD!

A million-dollar flood can be the offspring of a carelessly caused brush fireone that gets its start when a careless motorist flips a match.

Perhaps not a board foot of lumber is lost. But something else infinitely valuable is destroyed - watershed - brush, leaves, natural mulch that acts like a giant sponge to hold rain water and return it to underground storage.

Slopes burned bare cannot hold rain water. The runoff becomes a flood, spreading destruction and polluting reservoirs. Rich soil is washed away, leaving barren wasteland. Streams dry up.

So don't measure a fire's cost just in terms of timber burned. Watershed, too, is invaluable. And don't forget: nine out of ten forest fires are man-caused. Wherever you go in the country, follow Smokey Bear's rules: break matches—crush smokes—be SURE all fires are out!

Remember- only YOU can prevent forest fires!

LONDON (UPI)—British fish-ermen were told by the Post Office that they may send through the mails "small quantities of live bait such as meal-worms, ragworms, earthworms, lug-worms, caterpillars and mag-gots," but they must first obtain gots," but they must first obtain

"The only other living creatures
Post Office permission to do so.
which may be sent by post," the announcement noted, "are bees, leeches, silkworms and certain parasites."

738

THE YEAR

IN REVIEW

(See page 2)

FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1961

Distinguished Alumni Will Aid Centennial

M O H

General Chairman of the UMass Centennial, announced today the formation of a committee of distinguished alumni to aid the planning of the forthcoming Centen-nial. Nicholson said the Alumni Committee for Centennial Development presently numbers 24 alumni, who have agreed to con-tribute their time and talent tovards the endeavor

"Our University does not yet boast many alumni of extraordinary wealth in terms of dollars," stated Prof. Maxwell H.
Goldberg '28, Centennial Executive Director, "but it does rightly take pride in the large number of its alumni who have gained high professional competence and who have been contributing gen-erously of their time and talent to good works and civic service. We might call this our great re-servoir of talent, concern, and

"The attempt to tap this re-servoir for our Centennial development is very young. But al-ready the flow of creative energy from this source is strong, and it gains added strength each day."

The Committee's membership still growing daily as additional acceptances come in from across the country, includes:

George H. Allen '36, Wilton, onn., Assistant to the President, Meredith Publishing Company.

Emil J. Corwin '25, New York, N.Y., Director of Press Informa-tion, American Cancer Founda-

Dennis M. Crowley '29, West Roxbury, Mass., Member of the UMass Board of Trustees; past president of the Associate Alum-

Wynton R. Dangelmayer, Boston, Mass., General Epmloyment Manager, N.E. Telephone and Telegraph Company; past president, Associate Alumni.

Richard J. Davis '28, Portland, Me., President of the Associate Alumni.

Harold Dickey '17, Springfield, Mass., President, Moore Drop-Forging Co.

Joseph H. Forest '28, Boston, Mass., Vice-President, Liberty Mutual Life Insurance Company; Past director, Associate Alumni.

Gavagan '35, Hoosic Falls, N.Y., Director of Public Relations, N.Y. Dept. of Labor.

Robert Gordon '48, Boston, Mass., Executive Vice-President, Associate Alumni.

Robert C. Gunness '32, Chicago, Ill., Executive Vice-President, Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Alton H. Gustafson '26, Brunswick, Me., Chairman, Department of Biology, Bowdoin College; Past Director, Associate Alumni.

Page L. Hiland '34, Meridan,
Conn., International Silver Company; Past Director, Associate

Lawrence Jones '26, North
Beverly, Mass., President, Willard-Helburn, Inc., Boston.
Mrs. Mary Jones '29, North
Beverly, Mass., Women's Advisory Council, University of Massachusetts

sory Council, University of Massachusetts,
Parker E. Lichtenstein '39,
Granville, Ohio, Dean of the College, Dension University.
Murray D. Lincoln '14, Columbus, Ohio, President, CARE, Inc.;
President, Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company.

Robert J. McCartney '41, College Park, Md., Director of University Relations, University of Maryland.

Maryland.

Charles M. Powell '27 (chairman), New York, N.Y., President, American Agricultural Chemical Company; President, U. of M. Foundation; Past Director, Associate Alumni.

Francis Pray '31, New York,

Francis Pray '31, New York, N.Y., Vice-President, Council for Financial Aid to Education.

John Quinn '28, Kingston, R.I., Dean of Men, University of Rhode Island.

Gordon P. Smith '47, San Francisco, Calif., Partner, Booz, Allen & Hamilton.

Carl Swanson '37, Baltimore, Md., Professor of Biology, John Hopkins University.

(Continued on page 8)

Alumni To Share Planning Of Centennial Observance

by JIM REINHOLD '61, Senior Reporter

Alumni returning to the UMass campus during Commencement Weekend will be invited to share in the planning of the University's forthcoming Centennial observances.

The Alumni College sessions this year will be devoted to the question of the "Role of the Centennial in the Development of the Greater University of Massachusetts". Prof. Maxwell H. Goldberg '28, the Centennial Executive Director, will lead the sessions in considering what the alumni would like UMass to become in its second century of development, and how they would utilize the occasion of the Centennial to help achieve the Greater University. Centennial General Chairman James T. Nicholson '16, and President John W. Lederle will open the College.

UMass Alumni College Founded

Four Years Ago

Four Years Ago
The UMass Alumni College was founded four years ago, to provide returning alumni the oppor-tunity to participate in stimulat-ing thought and discussions on important questions. The programs are comprised of talks, panel discussions, and "round

The Alumni College this year will conduct two main sessions: the first on Friday, June 2, from 8-10 p.m., and the second on Sat-urday, from 9 a.m. to noon. The gatherings on both days will take place in the Student Union build-

Alumni College Session Open To Public

The Alumni College was conceived in 1958 to "provide a perennial means by which aiumni can get stimulating intellectual exercise." Evan Johnston, executive director of the Associate exercise." Evan Johnston, execu-tive director of the Associate Alumni, has said, however, that the College sessions are open to the public. "We would especially encourage all students, graduat-ing seniors, and faculty members to participate in the program, and lend their ideas to it."

lend their ideas to it."

Prominent People To Participate
In Sessions
The 1961 program on the Centennial will feature a number of brief informal talks by prominent people associated with the endeavor. President Lederle, as well as trustees, Alumni officers, Centennial Committee heads, state representatives, student leaders, and distinguished alumni will all participate in the sessions.

Maroon Keys Elect Advisor And Officers

At a recent meeting, the newly tapped members of the Maroon Key Society elected their slate of officers for the year '61-'62. Elected were Bob Tedoldi, president; Chuck Reid, vice-president;

Tom Tyrer, secretary; and Jim Bradley, treasurer.
The new Keys also selected Dr. Dana Harlow of the Recreation Dept. as their new advisor.

BULLETIN

(UPI) The Volpe Administra-tion has decided against the dou-bling of tuition rates at state colleges and UMass.

State Commissioner Charles Gibbons made the diclosure at a

Gibbons made the diclosure at a hearing of the House Ways and Means Committee today. He said it was his suggestion to double tuition rates to $400 a year.

The Commissioner said "I was sat on good and proper by the trustees." He said the idea never was the Governor's but was his own.

Evan Johnston '52, Associate Alumni Director, applies the finishing touch to woodwork of newly re-painted Centennial Offices at Mem. Hall, Dr. Maxwell Goldberg, Centennial Director will soon occupy this office, Johnston said he is hopeful new desks and office equipment will be installed soon. He also said Memorial Hall will undergo extensive remodeling to make it available for various groups including student organizations.

Mass. Speech Convocation Returns Here This Year

On Saturday, May 20, the annual spring convention of the Massachusetts Speech and Hearing Association will be held at UMass. This marks the second consecutive year that the event has been held on our campus.

Panel Discussions to Highlight Morning Program

Morning Program

The morning program, which will be held in the S.U., will open with registration, coffee hour, and welcome by the president of the association, Dr. Albert Koch, audiologist at the Massachusetts
Eye and Ear Infirmary in Boston.
These agents will be followed by These events will be followed by a panel discussion on research in the fields of speech and hearing. Dr. Arthur House of Massachu-setts Institute of Technology will be moderator and discussants and other members of the panel will be Miss Paula Menyuk, Dr. Jay Melrose of the Veterans Admin-istration Audiology Clinic in Boston, and Miss Jane Tyson grad-uate student in Speech and Hear-ing Therapy at UMass.

Arhtur E. Niedeck, chairman of the University of Massachu-setts Speech Department will extend greetings at the luncheon. Featured speaker will be Dr. Robert West, former head of the Speech and Hearing Center at Speech and Hearing Center at the University of Wisconsin and now Professor of Speech and Di-rector of the Speech and Hearing Center at Brooklyn College. Dr. West was the first president of the American Speech and Hear-ing Association and the first edi-tor of its journal. He is co-author of The Rehabilitation of Speech and Phonetics. and Phonetics.

A.S.H.A. Discussion Features
Afternoon Discussion
The afternoon session, to be held in the auditorium of Bartlett Hall, will include a panel disc sion on the proposed membership requirements of the American Speech and Hearing Association. Dr. Wilbert Pronovost of Boston University will moderate the dis-cussion. The panelists will be Dr. Geraldine Garrison, Connecticut State Department of Education; Dr. Eleanor Luse, University of Vermont; Dr. Jay Melrose; and Mr. William Philbrick of the Massachusetts State Department of Education. A tour of the speech and hearing center in Bartlett Hall will end the afternoon program noon program.

Dr. Inez E. Hegarty, vice-president of the Massachusetts Speech and Hearing Association and director of the University Speech and Hearing Center, is program chairman. Miss Catherine Hanifan, also of the University Speech and Hearing Center, is chairman of arrangements. Gerald Tuttle '63 and Miss Janice Marshall '61 will serve as student Marshall '61 will serve as student host and hostess for the meeting.

CORRECTION

The directions to the Senior Dinner Dance, scheduled for Thursday evening at 7 p.m. are incorrect as printed in the Senior Week Program.

Week Program.

Directions to the Red Barn:
Take Route 116 south to Route
33 (10 miles). Turn left on 33, across Route 202 to second traffic circle. Turn right and take a left at the first set of lights. The Red Barn is on the left after the second traffic circle, just before the Massachusetts Turnpike.

Maps will be given to everyone who buys a ticket.

Robinson Says Grain Room Completely Free Of Mice

Leo Robinson, subject of a Collegian story in last Friday's edition, visited the Collegian office to report the big grain room in to report the big grain room in the barn is completely free of mice. Robinson contributes annihilation of the rodents to the care and feeding of his mouser cats. However, evidence of mice has been found in the main floor of the barn, Robinson said.

Robinson said he would excuse the cat that usually handles the mice there because she is caring for a newly arrived kitten. Robinson feels certain the cat will re-son feels certain the cat will re-turn to its mouse patrol as soon as she is able.

The cats are perfectly trained to stay at their assigned posts Robinson claimed. He noted that female felines are by far better mousers than Toms. Robinson said this is only natural, since the female will instinctively hunt food for her offspring.

Robinson also showed the ingredients of a raw salad he sa he was preparing for a meal. He said that he was "using rature to regain some of what he was losing," in reference to his failing

Robinson also reminded us that UMass' prize winning Morgan horses would be vying for awards in July. He recalled that UMass Morgans have walked off with a number of awards over the years. Before leaving the office, he asserted he wanted to serve the state and make our campus the finest in the nation.

IN RETROSPECT

Glory is a very transient material and the honors of our University are short-lived. Yet, in a little room called the Morgue in the Collegian office, live the honor and dishonor, the victory and defeat the past. Stacked on the shelves therein, lie the back issues of newsprint which colored this campus during the nearly deceased year of 1800.61

In the early pages of September, we saw the Dean of Men urge the fraternities to brag and get off the defensive. Five months later, four houses were "offensive" enough to be put on social probation . . . One of those freshman beanies which flew skyward, after Roger Benvenuti scored the first UMass touchown at home, belonged to Charles Studley. This man of Harvard fame (27-12) was a picture of contentment this year as his team wan the "Rannot" Four months.

Charles Studley. This man of Harvard fame (27-12) was a picture of contentment this year as his team won the "Beanpot". Four months later, his bags were packed and on their way to Cincinnati.

September also saw the name of Mike Palter added to the editorial page ... and in the opposite corner sat Colonel James Weaver. Later in the year, Mareia Voikos advocated Capital Punishment and Mr. Therou almost tried it out on Miss Voikos.

As the nation fled to the polls in November, Ya-Hoo fled to the presses only to be greeted with a censorship notice which awaited their artwork on Pope John XXIII and Rev. Norman Vincent Peale. And by the following March 28, Ya-Hoo was back before the Senate ... this time for a complete overhauling. time for a complete overhauling.

... this time for a complete overhauling.
In December, the old year was nearly finished when Dr. Shannon McCune put the finishing touches on his Provost position and then he, too, packed his bags for far away places.
Dennis Twohig climbed down from the Senate President's seat and, demonstrating that the vote is quicker than the eye, before we knew it ... the Senate gifted us with a 2.0 gauge model railroad (?).
President Lederle was inaugurated in April and began what we feel will be a long and profitable tenure of office. All UMass looks forward to the year ahead in hopes that, with his feet firmly on the ground, our Chief Campus Executive will be a more familiar figure to us all.

Open house was dampened by rain and word of a tuition increase.

rain departed the next day and the tuition increase departed yesterday.

yesterday.

It was truly a year of departure . . . from campus and from tradition. It was a year of joy and disappointment. But when you build on hope and the future (as we must), these elements are inevitable. Thus we hope that with the disappointments and departures in 1961-62, there will be large supplies of good fraternities, good football under Vic Fusia, good Ya-Hoos, and good Collegians for Professor van-Steenberg, good men in our campus community like Grutchfield and Twohig, and good times for President Lederle . . . all this—after a good vacation.

INDEX: Review

The new Index, on the whole, has been very well received by the students, faculty, and administration.

The yearbook, one of the largest put out not only in New England, but in the United States, represents a great deal of time and

The first aspect of a yearbook that hits us is the pictures, their quality and quantity. Don Witkowski's color shots of campus views and the section breaks were, to put it simply, beautiful. The vividness of the UMass grounds in the various seasons is brought out to

The write-ups have to be praised also. In our new Index, very few pictures lack captions. And the write-ups are interesting and informative; the captions are amusing and at times hilarious, proving valuable for the time in future years when the college graduate looks hack on his old classwater. back on his old classmates.

back on his old classmates.

Coverage of events is spectacular. We enjoyed very much seeing the beard contest, the "King of the World", the Harlem Globetrotters, the Snow Sculptures. And only a stroke of ingenuity and imagination could have provided us with scenes from our Sister University across have provided us with scenes from our Sister yorld, Hokkaido University in Japan.

the world, Hokkaido University in Japan.

As in any major publication, however, there are the mistakes to be reckoned with. The misspelling of words was frequent and unnecessary in this edition. In an area in which care should definitely be exercised, there was a lack of attention. And of course the glaring unfortunate error concerning the School of Agriculture's mistaken identity with Stockbridge is too importance to go unnoticed and unsufficient.

We want also to criticize the lack of academic (classroom and We want also to criticize the lack of academic (classical laboratory) photos which were conspicuously absent. We do appreciate the amount of time, trouble and effort it costs to get such shots, but it still seems that more attenion should be paid this aspect of

to the quality of pictures, there were some practically in recognizable, out-of-focus shots which were, we felt, regrettable and

In all, taking the general view of the yearbook published for the class of 1961, we want to join with Bill Deminoff in saying, "the book has a breezy tone without failing in good taste. Hugh Calkin and his staff are to be commended for a job well done." Congratulations,

The Massachusetts Collegian

Editor-in-Chief Allan Berman '62

Editorial Editor James J. Trelease '63 News Editor: Assignments
Joseph Bradley '64
News Editor: Make-Up
Beth Peterson '63 Sports Editor Ben Gordon '62

Business Manager Howard Frisch '62 Photography Editor Lawrence Popple '63

intered as second class matter at the post office at Amherst, Mass. Printed times weekly during the academic year, except during vacation and examinateriods; twice a week the week Accepted for mailing under the authority of the office of the following a vacation or examination period, or ription price $4.00 per year; $2.50 per semester in the printed of the printe

Contemporary Jazz

by RUDY WITTSHIRK '61

We have been proud to have a man such as Rudy on the staff of the Collegian. He has at all times exhibited good taste and a thorough intimacy in relation to his enjoyable articles on Jazz. Many of us, however,, may not be aware that Rudy has also made his mark as poet and short-story writer. It is not often that such versatility is found. We after him our good wishes for the future. Ed. mto.

offer him our good wishes for the future. —Ed. note.

There are literally thousands of good piano players and hundreds that are brilliant. The Quill Bookshop devotes a whole record section to piano artists.

Among the many jazz pianists that have been the envy of concert artists for technique and skill . . . envy of concert artists Bill Evans stands out.

Bill Evans is a completely flawless technician ith unlimited creative powers. Evan's skill is such that he can immediately put into actuality the muthat he can immediately put into actuality the music in his mind. A solo jazz musican s really a composer who translates his thoughts directly into sound. Although he may "feel" a certain complex passage in his head, the physical body and the instrument place limits upon what can actually be played. This is a matter of sheer speed, harmonic relationships and chord structure. What the composer thinks out and puts carefully on the note sheets must be done in an instant by the jazz musician.

Bill Evans plays a rich, full-sounding piano in e album—"Portrait in Jazz." His music is as Bill Evans plays a rich, full-sounding piano in the album—"Portrait in Jazz." His music is as coherent and integrated as if it had been written down. He is never dissonant and does not hit one bad note in the whole record . . . all while improvising. The members of the trio also play back and forth with each other. The bass and drums do not merely accompany the piano, but when ideas come, they take the lead. This "group improvisation" is becoming more and more a part of iazz. Early efforts coming more and more a part of jazz. Early efforts of this sort came from the Lennie Tristano-Lee Konitz groups in the late forties and some of the Shorty Rogers-Shelley Manne trios. Ornette mban does a lot of group improvisation.

This album contains mostly old standards. To paraphrase the liner notes, one would think that nothing new could be done with these tunes. But Evans plays "Autumn Leaves" without once revertruns down the scales to siumlate "falling leaves." On "Spring is here," Evans is deliberately simple and nostalgic. On "Witchcraft" (a Sinatra hit), he improvises in rocking, two-fisted block chords. That is, he plays the melodic line with two-handed chords only.

On the cover of Bill Evan's first Riverside album, Miles Davis said that "Evans plays the piano the way the piano should be played." Quotes were printed of musicians from Cannonball Adderly to Ahmad Jamal. This prompted the modest and self-critical Evans to say, "Why didn't you get a quote from my mother?" Does mother blow jazz too?

In Changing Times Inside

Too often perhaps, we are confronted with impersonal value judgments of those engaged in political disputes. These judgments often do not penetical disputes. trate beyond abstract ideological considerations and often result in distorted conclusions. Thus, while in the nation's capital last week, I took the opportunity the nation's capital last week, I took the opportunity to interview some Fidelistas who were among those protesting U.S. intervention in Cuba by the C.I.A.

Q. "You know that many Americans are neither for or against Castro, but many do not want intervention in Cuba?

A. "I understand."

Q. "You say that you have brothers in Cuba?"

"You say that you have brothers in Cuba?"

"Yes."

Q. "How are homes, parks, food?

A. "They say good; better than before."

It should be pointed out here that objections to the Recvolution can not be based upon the contention that the Cuban People (as a whole) have not herefitted metacillar. penefitted materially. The fact that the government retains control of the economy is completely devorced from the fact that rents have been reduced from 40 to 50% for the peasantry, many schools are under construction, and housing developments are rights.

under construction, and nousing developments are rising.

The objection can only be based upon the fear that material gains will lag far behind civil freedoms. Obviously it is possible to effect material satisfaction in a political vacuum.

Q. "What do your people think of the Church?"

A. The answer to this was in extremely broken English but I waved off my interpreter for I perceived that what the Cuban was saying was extremely significant. It came down to was extremely significant. It came down to this: We do not like to be told when to eat meat!

This subordination of the Church to the forces of nationalism was the inevitable result of actions by Franco-Catholic priests! Yet, how many Americans have angrily protested actions of Castro in relation to these priests? A Dedicated Teacher

LETTERS

A Dedicated Teacher

On Wednesdy morning Mr. Tinder delivered his final lecture of the semester to a class of 170 students in Goessman Auditorium. The class rose to applaud as he replaced his carefully prepared notes in his brief case. One could clearly see that he was touched by this open show of appreciation by students who so often before could not wait for the bell before they put on their coats. They were expressing their gratitude to a man whose every presentation was made interesting to a group of students who would probably find the course dull otherwise.

Mr. Tinder is a dedicated teacher, anxious to impart his and other' wealth of ideas in such a way that each student will not only gain maximum knowledge, but enjoy learning it. To do this he plans his lectures down to the minute, organizes them clearly and works on phraseology and examples until knowledge, but enjoy learning it. To do this he plans his lectures down to the minute, organizes them clearly and works on phraseology and examples until he can communicate precisely what he wishes. Yet he never reads; one would almost guess that he rehearses them several times before class. Every lecture receives this same intensive preparation not only in his Comparative Government section but in his Political Theory course as well. His questions are phrased to stimulate thought more than immediate answers. For these reasons, though everyone enjoyed the course, it certainly was not a "gut". Nor did he intend it to be, for he shows his great concern for the calibre of education in his own effort. The class was only telling him that his efforts were not in was only telling him that his efforts were not in

Yet how seldom it is that students express their approbation in such a way, or indeed in any way. Perhaps this leads to a lack of enthusiasm on both the students' and teachers' part. Mr. Tinder is far from the only member of our faculty who deserves such praise. He just happened to be recognized. such praise. He just happened to be recognized. The students of European Universities applaud such efstudents of European Universities applied such erforts without hesitation, and the professors strive for this approval. It is a recognized custom which has its rewards, and perhaps would be a good one for the student body of UMass to adopt.

Anonymous

TO THE INDEX

To the Index Staff:

For the second year in a row, due to either insuf-For the second year in a row, due to either insur-ficient research or just plain oversight, the College of Agriculture was left out of the Index. Last year, acting Dean Jeffrey was not pictured. For your in-formation, there IS a College of Agriculture and it is not Stockbridge, as was shown in the current funnybook.

The College of Agriculture IS PART of the University, just as it the School of Engineering. By leaving it out, you have put out of existence 20 catalogued majors in UMASS.

I feel that this should be straightened out, so that the College may get the recognition it deserves.

What do we have to do to get recognition, Mr. Calkin, wear blazers?

Robert J. Catineau

THE CLASS OF '63

Shortly after the article "Pledges Clean Up Campus in New Sophomore Drive" appeared in the Collegian of May 10, I received the following memorandum from Mr. Burkhardt. I am forwarding this to the entire Sophomore Class, and especially those members whose initiative prompted this project.

Skip Oakes

President, Class of 1963
Congratulations on an excellent idea which shows a wonderful positive attitude. My hat is off to you

William H. Burkhardt, Jr. Assistant to the Dean of Men

Centennial

The enthusiasm that existed so wholeheartedly in a small group of UMass students in regards to the Centennial, has grown in a matter of weeks to build an attitude of complete support on behalf of the students, for the Centennial. The enthusiasm flourished like a disease that everyone is autoentable. students, for the Centennial. The enthusiasm flourished like a disease that everyone is susceptable to. From every individual, group or organization a pledge of support has been given. Somewhere behind all of this there exists an inner unity, a common goal hat all of us feel we are very close to. This goal is not eactly the same as the one the University has in mind, although the two are closely connected. Through the Centennial, we as members of the University of Massachusetts can show the entire educational world our feelings. For the first time we will be allowed to participate actively in displaying the qualities of our school.

time we will be allowed to participate actively in displaying the qualities of our school.

In all cases, it has been stressed that, even though some of the present classes will not actually be on campus during the Centennial period itself, whatever they contribute toward the Centennial development will become a matter of public record of the Centennial and will receive appropriate and permanent recognition as well as having had the chance to give wider acknowledgement to our school.

SORORITIES ARE HONORED ITH NEW STUDENT LEADERS

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

On Saturday, May 6th, Alpha Chi welcomed ten new sisters in-to the house. From the class of 1963 Dolores Bednarz was initiated and from the class of 1964 the following were initiated: Barbara Gregory, Margie Jor-dan, Maureen Keenan, Sylvia Oakes, Sylvia Piantoni, Lorraine Rees, Ellen Vyce, and Gerrie Rees, Ellen Walukewicz.

Alpha Chi thanks Sig Ep for

Alpha Chi thanks Sig Ep for a very successful and enjoyable exchange supper held last week. Many honors were extended to Alpha Chi's last week. Margie Jordan was tapped by Scrolls, and Nancy Hanlon by Mortar Boards. Jayne Hayden, Carol Scobie, and Linda Gardner were selected for the companying in th selected for the new singing group, the "Musigals." At the Dickson placed second in oil painting and Polly Demitropoulos placed third in sculptures.

The above girls were also awarded the Alpha Chi Omega carnations for May.

Alpha Chi sent four representatives to SWAP this year. They were: Polly Demitropoulos, Cary O'Connell, Shirley Ingalls, and Jan Taylor. All felt SWAP was very successful and enjoy-

CHI OMEGA

Student Leader's Night was most enjoyable to all Chi O's, but especially to those who were tapped. The Chi O Scrolls are: Judy Fitts, Barbara Kelley, Edie Leahy, Jan Reimer, Pat Swee-ney and Linda Swenson. Jan Reimer and Linda Swense:

elected President and Secretary of the organization respectively.

Mortar Boards for '61-'62 are

Pat Conway and Alsie Edgarton. Patty was elected Treasurer of this organization. The Revelers of the house are Pat Bourbonnais and Carol Madison.

Four of Chi O's seniors were recognized in "Who's Who in American Colleges and University "There are Donne Brooks ties." They are Donna Brooks, Denny Harmony, Mary Morrisey, and Patty O'Connell.

At the Inter-Dorm-Sorority Swim Meet held on May 9th, Chi O again placed first among the sororities and second over-all.

PHI DELTA NU

The Phi Delta Nu's congratu-late their President Merilee At-kins on her recent selection to Phi Kappa Phi and Mortar

Phi Delt announces their nev Phi Delt announces their new rledges. They are: Donna Achille, Sandi Giordano, Delly Mattews, Joan Marble, and Sonja Stock-haus. Also, Joyce Bourgon, Diane Smith, and Joanne Miller were recently initiated.

The sisters of Phi Delt thank the new sisters for the enjoyable pledge party on Tuesday evening.

PI BETA PHI

The Honors Convocation held last week brought happy surprises to several Pi Phi's. Diane Coyle and Debbie Read were chosen for Mortar Board. Barbara Viera was jacketed as a Reveler, and Lee Wilcox, Patricia Stankiewitz, and Marie Ma-

FRI., SAT., SUN.

SOUTHWEST TEACHERS

AGENCY 1303 Central N.E., Albuquerque, New Mexico. Serving Southwest, Entire West and Alaska FREE REGISTRATION

- DEERFIELD Drive - In -

Dean Martin & Shirley McLaine

"All In A Night's Work"

"Tarzan The Magnificent"

Show begins at Dusk - First Feature Sunday only.

Sid Bernstein & John Drew H MUSIC AT NEWPORT. MUSIC AT NEWPORT 1961

FRIDAY, JUNE 30th thru MONDAY, JULY 3rd

Pinnings .

Rita Blake, Alpha Chi Omega to Fran Madden, Phi Mu Delta. Bette Broberg, Kappa Alpha Theta to Tom Caldwell, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Beverly DeMarco, Chi Omega Warren 'Sid' Hathaway, Sig-Phi Epsilon.

Marcia Mallette, Chi Omega to Russell Feener, Sigma Phi Ep-

Bernice Yaroslow, Sigma Delta Tau to Howie Sinder, Carnegie Tech.

Engagements

Sandi Golden, Sigma Delta Tau to Bruce Norian of Brookline. Carol Kierstaed, Phi Delta Nu to Bob Hilton, '63.

kinen were tapped as scrolls.

Pi Phi's house counselors for ext year are: Roberta Hanna, oben O'Brien, Patricia Chase, Carol McDonough, Jo Veale, Ruth Ann Kirby, Ann Barton, and Barbara Johnson. Nancy Stiles will be House Chairman in Knowlton and Barbara Viera will be House Chairman in John-

Roben O'Brien has been chosen as one of five girls to take part in the Education Department's exchange program with Florida State University. She will be spending first semester next year at Florida State.

Patricia State.

Patricia Kraft was Pi Phi's representative to S.W.A.P. this past weekend. She reported that S.W.A.P. was very successful and that many important problems were discussed.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

All the Thetas are proud of Mary Jane Stack who was tapped by Mortar Board, elected Secretary of this honor organization, and awarded two scholarships on Student Leaders Night.

Anne Hall and Nancy King Anne Hall and Nancy King were tapped by the Revelers— Anne was elected Vice-President and Nancy, Secretary-Treasurer.

Salaries $4500. up.

MAY 19 - 21

Campus Queen Is A Ski Enthusiast

Greek Week is the final big event of the school year. This year Judy Iverson was selected to reign over the weekend's festivities. Judy enjoyed all of the events which took place. She thought that the Chariot Races, the awarding of the tropping the awarding of the trophies, and, in fact, the whole weekend just great.

When Judy was crowned queen at Greek Ball, her first reaction was a mixture of surprise and pleasure. On top of her surprise, the first thought which passed through her mind was, "My gosh, they're taking pictures! Smile!" Judy had never been in any contests of this sort before she attended UMass.

Judy's favorite sport is skiing. On campus she is a dorm counselor and the corresponding secretary of Kappa Alpha Theta. She is also a former Precision-ette.

Academically she is an average student with a Speech Therapy major. She plans to work in the field of Speech Therapy after

New Theta Scrolls are Linda Bonney, Barb Farrell, Bonnie Hunter, Barb Murphy, and Margie Walter. Barb Murphy is the Scrolls' new Secretary.

Dr. Louis Price of the Psychology Department and his wife were guests of the Thetas at dinner last week after which they led us in an informal discussion.

The Scholarship Banquet was held Wednesday night. The award to the girl who shows the most improvement in her average in one semester went to Anne Hall.

The pledges had quite a full week with the big sisters doing something for the little sisters every day, the annual kite-flying contest on the S.U. grounds, the traditional chicken-in-the-basket picnic and finally initiation. Theta welcomes Judy Agard, Jean Anderson, Bev Botelho, Linda Bonney, Del Comeau, Barb Farrell, Bonnie Hunter, Marsha Bailey, Sue Klein, Robbie LaBatte, Barb Murphy, Eunice LaMasurier, Meryl Donley, Joanne Pariseau, Margie Walter, Gail Sird, and Rosemary Seward all in the class of '64.

Others initiated were Huska, and Sondra DelaVega, class of '62 and Kathleen Ryan and Joanne Solitario, '63.

Bonnie Hunter was chosen as most outstanding pledge.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

Last Monday the following girls were initiated: Merry Arnold, Marlene Bash, Dorothy Glog, Ruth Ryer, Mary Ann Sweeney, Wendy Greene, Ronnie-Sue Fireman, Bernice Yaraslow, Wanda Letoile and Elaine Kan-Sue Fireman, Bernice Yaraslow Wanda Letoile and Elaine Kaplinsky.

The new sisters and the pledges have earned enough money doing odd jobs to buy a book for the library.

At the last meeting Wendy Greene was elected Sing Chair-man for next year and Merry Arnold was elected Philanthropic

Even though rain canceled the house picnic Tuesday, an indoor picnic was held with marshmallow toasting in the fireplace.

Thursday night was the Senior Party where comical skits were presented by the underclassmen.

Cindy Segel was recently initiated to Mortar Board. Judy Adleson is S.D.T.'s new Scroll.

er shoes may look like Keds, but only U.S. Keds® can give you "that great ing." Because Keds have a patented shockproofed arch cushion and

Other shoes may look like Keds, but only U. S. I feeling." Because Keds have a patented shroushioned inner sole. And because Keds are built over tested, scientific lasts, to fit all feet perfectly, even narrow ones. Keds are right for class, gym, tennis court or dorm. Machine-washable (and they even look good clean). His: Keds "Court King." Hers: Keds "Champion." Get your U. S. Keds at good shoe or department stores.

LOOK FOR THE BLUE LABELS

FRI., JUNE 30 at 8:30 p.m.

Louis Armstrong
Maynard Ferguson
Cannoball Adderley
Dave Brubeck
Carmen McRae
Lambert, Hendricks and Ross
Ramsey Lewis

SAT., JULY 1 at 8:00 p.m. Count Basie Chico Hamilton John Coltrane

SUN., JULY 2 at 8:00 p.m. Gerry Mulligan Stan Getz Anita O'Day Art Blakey Jaxxiet George Shearing Eddie Harris

MON., JULY 3 at 8:00 p.m. Duke Ellington James Moody Cal Tjader Oscar Peterson Bill Henderson

An Afternoon with JUDY GARLAND
Reserved Sents: $2.50 - 3.50 - 4.50 Including

Tickets can be purchased by mail from "MUSIC AT NEWPORT"

The COLLEGIAN Announces The Most

Dennis Twohig

One of the most dynamic personalities this campus has seen in a long while, Denny Twohig has been for the past year an exemplary Senate President. In addition to that he served as Vice Chairman of the SUG Board.

Hugh Calkin

Hugh, in his term as Editor-In-Chief, has made the Index into a more artistic book and a more tightly knit organization. His imaginative ideas for the betterment of the campus has earned him a permanent position in the Alumni Office.

Jack Sweeney

Jack is the man responsible for the many football rallies held this fall. Also, he has been Business manager of the Index, and is on the Board of Directors of the Fraternity Manager's Association. Jack has also served as treasurer of Adelphia.

Larry Rayner

A man who has been an integral part of many varied activities, Larry is best known and appreciated for his fine job as Editor-In-Chief of the Collegian. Also his work as chairman of senior week has been a great service to his class.

MAN OF THE YEAR

Roger Riikonen — Outstanding Leadership

As President of the Senior Class and President of Adelphia, Roger's contribution to the campus has been great. Through his leadership Adelphia has been restored to its former dignity on campus and under his direction the class of 1961 has profited in many ways. A conscientious worker, Roger has carried out his responsibilities well.

Don Croteau

Don's many activities for the campus are too numerous to mention. Among them are: former News Editor and Managing Editor of the Collegian, Student Senator, cheerleader, Commuter's Club President and Chairman of the Student Organization for Scholarships.

Gordon Massingham

"Willie" has distinguished Mmself as president of the Interfraternity Council and as Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Fraternity Manager's Association. His record is one of devoted service to the fraternity system.

Bill Knowlton

Bill has served the campus well as an outstanding senator for four years and as a contributing member of the R.S.O. committee for three years. He has also served on the Student Organization for Scholarships and on the Open House Weekend Committee.

Levin Lavin

One of the unsung leaders of the campus, Kev is president of the Campus Religious Council and responsible for the organization and functioning of the campus blood and clothing drives. His service to the Council and to the campus has been tireless.

Valuable Members Of The Class Of 1961

Pat O'Connell

Pat has a long record of service to the campus. Most significantly, she has been president of Mortar Board and was an exchange student to Radcliffe. She is also active in the Concert Association and in W.A.A.

Esta Yaffee

Esta has distinguished herself as president of the Panhellenic Council. In addition she has served on the Women's Judiciary for two years and is presently on the social activities committee. She has been an important leader of Sorority women.

Judy Fredman

President of SDT and a former vice-president of Hillel, Judy has also been a member of Revellers and Mortar Board. For the past two years she has been Art Editor of the Index. A steady honors student for four years, Judy has served the campus in many different capacities.

Bobby Bernstein

Having taken an active part in many activities since her freshman year, Bobby's total record is too long to list here. Areas of particular service have been: Chorale, Naiads, Precisionettes, Inter-Class Plays, and Campus Varieties.

Woman of the Year

Gail Osbaldeston — Dedicated Service

As distinguished vice-president of the student senate, Gail Osbaldeston has added more laurels to her impressive UMass record. Her distinguished visitors' program has brought many outstanding people to campus. An honor student for four years, Gail is University chairman of the Connecticut Valley Student Science Conference.

Anne Reseigh

A Phi Kappa Phi scholar, Anne has been able to gain her academic honors while also contributing much to the campus community. She is president of the Judson Fellowship, a vice-president of the C.A., and has done much for all the campus musical organizations.

Connie Ledger

Constantly active in many activities, Conny has distinguished herself particularly in her work for Newman Club and the Zoology Club. She has been a member of the Scrolls and Mortar Board, and has served on various student committees on campus.

Pat Binkley

As Chief Justice of Women's Judiciary and a member of the University Discipline Board, Pat has become respected by students and faculty. In addition she is on the senior class executive board and is a cochairman of the class night committee.

Bryna Lansky

Bryna, through her work as President of Hillel and a member of the Campus Religious Council, has done much for the campus and community. As a Reveller and a member of Mortar Board she has been a leader of students throughout her four years here.

Redmen Bats Blister Rhode Island Rams In 13-4 Romp

The bats of the UMass basebail squad were blistering hot in yesterday's battle against Rhode Island, as the Redmen trounced the Rams 13-4 behind the steady pitching of Ed Connolly. The Rams got off to the early start in the second with four runs off Connolly, but could go no further. A walk, a base on balls and a long homer to right-center provided for three of Rhody's runs, the other coming on a couple of singles.

- NOW SHOWING -

WALT DISNEY'S

"Absent-Minded Professor"

with

Fred MacMurray

LATE SHOW—

Academy Award Winner Actor

Laurence Harvey

"NO ROOM AT THE TOP"

> A Daring Adult British Film . .

Not Part of Regular Friday Program

The Lordens came back with a bang in their half of the second, notching five runs and driving the first of four Ram pitchers out of the box. Corky Schmoyer started off the big stanza when he drew a free pass. Bob Hughes then singled, and both he and Schmoyer came in when Tony Williams rapped a two bagger over second base. Dave Krukonis reached when the catcher dropped the third strike, and after Connolly went down swinging, Bob Roland collected his second of 4 hits, driving in Williams. A walk to Ed Forbush loaded the bases, and following Frank Pisiewski's fly to center, Paul Foley clobbered a fastball for a double, bringing the fourth and fifth tally across the plate.

The Redmen followed with three in the third when Hughes walked, Williams reached on an error and Krukonis belted one for a homer.

a homer.

Three more tallies came across in the fifth when Connolly drew a pass, went to second on Roland's single, and stood on third when Forbush was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Pisiewski then lined out a single, bringing in two runs, and a walk and a fielder's choice accounted for the third score.

score,
The Lordens notched a run in both the sith and seventh frames to make it a 13-4 romp.

Redmen Spring Squads Compile Winning Records

The 1961 spring sports at the University of Massachusetts have built up one of the most impressive records in many years, all of the teams having winning seasons thus far.

Coach Earl Lorden's Baseball squad threatened Connecticut's nine for the Yankee Conference crown until very recently when they dropped oneof a two-game series to a Vermont squad which also defeated UConn, The team now has a 9-3-1 record, its losses being suffered at the hands of Vermont, UConn and Tufts. The team is a young one, with many sophomores in starting positions, and should be a contender for the Beanpot next year.

The tennis squad, under the able direction of Coach Steve Kosakowski, has again come through with an outstanding season, racking up a record of eight wins and one loss, the last win coming over Springfield, Wednesday. Coach Kosakowski regards the team as one of the best he's ever coached, and is counting on some of his frosh to bolster the crew next year, four of the stars graduating this June.

The Lacrosse team, led by Dick Garber, has chalked up its best season in its seven-year history at the University, boasting a slate of eight wins and only one defeat (to Brown). Although some of the starters, including co-captains Dick Hoss and Jerry Cullen, will be graduating this year, Coach Garber still will have many steady veterans on his '62 squad, and we can look for another good season next year.

squad, and we can look for another good season next year.

GOLFERS CHAMPS

Coach Chet Gladchuck's golf crew has had one of its best slates in a long time, winning the Yankee Conference Crown at the Maine course on May 5. If some of the freshmen can come through for Coach Gladchuck next year, and if the vets retain their championship form, things will again go well for the golfers.

The track team headed by

The track team, headed by Coach Bill Footrick, has compiled a 2-2 record thus far in the spring, and has showed some great performances from many of its younger members. Many of the stars, such as Flagg, Balch and Ward, are juniors and sophomores, and big things are expected of the runners next year.

WANTED

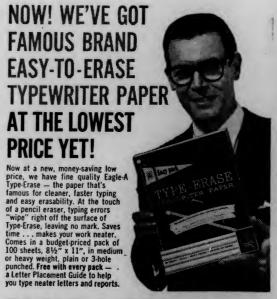

STUDENTS (Male and Female) FOR SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

In New England States and Other Areas

Exceptional opportunities to make outstanding earnings. Average minimum—$10 for three hours work. Mornings, afternoons or evenings.

PERSONAL INTERVIEW — MAY 19 Worcester Room — Student Union 2 to 5 p.m.

College Division of Stanley Home Products, Inc.

EAGLE-A TYPE-ERASE

... the paper that erases perfectly with a pencil erase

Made by American Writing Paper Corporation, Holyoke, Mass., manufacturer of Eagle-A Boxed Typewriter Papers

Buy your EAGLE-ATYPE-ERASE PAPER today at

UMass' Outstanding Athletes And Coaches Of 1961

Hoss Excels In Lacrosse, Football

"The man who wouldn't quit", Dick Hoss, has been chosen to represent the finest of UMass' athletic talent. Dick, who has seen extensive action both in the fullback slot on the gridiron and on the lacrosse field, has been a credit to the University throughout his athletic career.

Under Head Coaches Charlie O'Rourke and Chuck Studley, Dick performed well on Redmen grid teams, running, hitting and punting with championship form. But Dick's claim to fame has been his lacrosse performance. The 5'9", 190 pound senior from crosse performance. The 5'9", 190 pound senior from Rockland co-captained this year's snakebeater squad and again proved to be a key factor in its best season in UMass' history. Last year Hoss scored 37 goals, more than any other midfielder in the nation. His 46 point total (goals and assists) led all New England midfielders, set a new UM scoring record, and won him All-America mention. Dick will play in the annual North-South lacrosse game this year. After being involved in an auto crash, needing over 150 stitches, Dick was told his athletic days were over. We've seen that they weren't.

Grutchfield Is Great UM Hoop Athlete

Doug Grutchfield, beyond any doubt the finest player ever to wear a Redmen basketball uniform, is our first choice for outstanding athlete of the year. Grutch, a 6'5", 185 pounder from North Quincy, was unanimously elected to captain the 1961 hoop souad, and was the only unanisquad, and was the only unani-mous choice on the Yankee Conmous choice on the Tankee Con-ference team in his junior year. Besides begin chosen to the Yan-kee Conference team this year, Doub established a permanent both established a permanent berth for himself in the Univer-sity of Massachusetts record books. Grutch, named to the ECAC major college teams of the year in his junior and senior sea-sons, and to the District One basketball team in his final year. establised ten individual records in his three year varsity career.

These feats, which won him the praise of hoop scribes throughout the nation, will be rememerbed for a long time here at UMass: Most points in three years—1257; most points in one year—506; most field goals in one year— 210; most field goals in three years—782; most varsity games played—74; highest field goal played—74; highest field goal percentage in one year—483; highest field goal percentage in three years—431; highest scoring average in three years—16.9; and most field goals attempted in three years—1207. He previously set new marks of most field goals in one game—14 (1959-'60), and most points as a sophomore—322. most points as a sophomore—322. Doug Grutchfield, our choice for athlete of the year, the holder of more records than any hoop play-er in UMass history was shown how much his skill, sportsman-ship and contributions to the University is appreciated by the students when hundreds stood to give him a standing of Doug Grutchfield Night. ovation on

We have honored those players and coaches who, we be-lieve, exemplify the finest quality of athletics on the UMass campus. We realize, hoewver, that other senior athletes, and other coaches deserve our greatest praise. Suffice it to say that we, the Collegian. Sports Stoff, greatly legian Sports Staff, greatly appreciate the contributions of our athletes and coaches to this university.

Roland Shines On 3 Varsity Squads

During the past three years Bob Roland has occupied berths on three varsity teams, and has done well in each. Bob, a 5'11", 178 pound senior from Nahant was plagued with injuries during his football career, occupying a halfback slot on both the varsity and freshman teams. A broken ankle in his sophomore year, and a ruptured kidney in his junior season kept him on the bench most of the time.

season kept mm on the bench most of the time.

After football was over, Bob would don his goalie equipment and take his place on Coach Steve Kosakowski's hockey squad. Bob's work in the Redmen nets won him wide acclaim. He was given All-East honorable mention in his junior year, and captained the 1961 version of the hockey team, being named most valuable player after the team's triumphant season.

In the spring "Bobo" turned to baseball. He played as a third-baseman in his sophomore and junior seasons, switching to right field this year. Always a fine fielder, Bob finally broke into the hitting columns in his senior stretch. He is the lead-off batter for the Redmen, and is batting a solid .300, one of the best averages on the team. Bob Roland: in every way a fine athlete.

BOB ROLAND

Coach Richard Garber

Now in his seventh year as lacrosse coach here at UMass, Coach Dick Garber has brought the Redmen snakebeaters to championship playing ability. A 1950 graduate of Springfield College where he earned seven letters in football, basketball and lacrosse, Coach Garber was captain of the 1950 Maroon lacrosse team and was named to the All New England teams in 1949, and 1950. The last four seasons at UMass have found the Redmen winning 26 of 37 games. Currently serving the second of his two-year office as President of the New England Intercollegiate Lacrosse League, Dick Garber is our choice for co-coach of the year.

DICK HOSS

Coach William Footrick

successful seasons at UMass, highly deserves to be picked as one of our coaches of the year. Coach Footrick, who came to us after twenty

Coach Bill Footrick, who has led the varsity track teams to many

Collegian-Senate Picnic To Take Place Saturday

by LARRY PAYNER, Senior Reporter

All eyes will be on the rifle range tomorrow at 1 a.m. when the staff of the Collegian meets the members of the student senate in their annual softball game. The event, started two years ago at the Collegian-Senate picnic, has become a tradition.

Although the Collegian has been victorious for two years in a row, the Senate is expected to give the reporters a rough time. The teams are traditionally managed and coached by the heads of their respective organizations. Arthur J. "Tex" Tacelli, President of the Senate, is a veteran of Boston City League play and a dangerous man

Al Berman, Editor of the Co softball team, in reply to the forecast of a stronger Senate team, said: "Both squads play progressive-type ball. The Colle-gian gets progressively better, while the Senate gets progres-

When asked for a prediction of the final score, Bern

"We're weak in the field, so I don't think we'll win by more than eight or ten runs. Judging by the usual proficiency in pitch ing experienced at these games, I would say that the score should run about 20-12, with the Collegian on top."

NOTICE

BAY STATE RIFLES

There will be a meeting of the Bay State Rifle initiation committee Fri., May 26 at 2:30 p.m. in the Norfolk Room of the S.U.

LOST

Last Tuesday in vicinity of Wheeler or Hills—yellow Pickett slide rule in tan case. Please return to Dean Kauppinen, 221

Take A Break ...

Kangaroo Court

THE NEW TRAMPOLINE CENTER IN BACK OF ROWE'S GARAGE

AMHERST

Al Berman, Editor of the Collegian and manager of the paper's Distinguished Alumni . . .

(Continued from page 1)
Oswald Tippo '32, Boulder, Colo., Provost, University of Colorado.

Frederick S. Troy '31, Arlingtrederick S. Troy 31, Arling-ton, Mass., Emeritus Professor of English, University of Mass.; Associate Editor, The Massachu-setts Review; Past Secretary, Associate Alumni.

R. Gordon Whalley '32, Austin, Texas, Dean of the Graduate School, University of Texas.

Polio Shots Given Free At Out-Patient

Polio shots are available free of charge at the Out-Patient of-fice of the Infirmary, Dr. Robert Gage announced today.

Dr. Gage reminded those who have not had their third shot to get the third inoculation free anytime at the Out-Patient office Those who have had three shots are urged to get the fourth if their third was two years ago o reactions are anticipated,

Centennial Committees Listed; Number Of Alumni Included

"The Centennial effort involves large numbers of people, and as our additional needs become ap-parent, further task committees are being set up and consultants appointed," stated Prof. Gold-berg, the Executive Director of the Centennial. "A Centennial is not built in a day; it takes many devoted people to build the kind of Centennial we want. They have to work through long periods, with much patience and persist-ence, and much anonymous effort not easily given public recogni-tion."

The Centennial committees and their memberships, some of whom have been functioning for several years, encompass all constituencies of the University: alumni, faculty, administration, undergraduates, trustees, state legisla-

(Lists Incomplete)

General Chairman:
Dr. James T. Nicholson, 1916, Past
Executive Vice President, American National Red Cross; Vice President, International Red Cross

Executive Director:
Dr. Maxwell H. Goldberg, 1928, Commonwealth Professor of the Humani-

R.S.O. TREASURERS:

If your R.S.O, organization has completed all its business for the fiscal year, please leave your account book, requisition pad, and receipt pads in the Student Activities Office as soon as you wish but before you leave for summer vacation. Your account will be audited during the summer.

If you still have requisitions outstanding it will be necessary for you to continue checking your mailbox as long as you remain on

However, before you leave for summer recess, be sure to leave with Nat Swain secretary—Student Activities—your summer address, a list of accounts receivable, any unused receipts and retles, University of Massachusetts; Executive Director, Humanities Cen-ter for Liberal Education

Secretary:
Barbara Snowman, School of Home Economics

Boa-d of Trustees Llaison: John W. Haigis, Jr., Greenfield, Mass.

Steering Committee:
Alfred Brown, College of Agriculture
William Deminoff, Editor, University
News Service
James Ferrigno, College of Arts and Sciences
John Gillespie, Administrative Assistant to the President
Col. John Marchant, Department of Air Science

TASK COMMITTEES:

Arrangements Committee:
Co-chairmen:
Albert Madeira, College of Arts and Sciences
Hills Skillings, Administrative Assistant, Provost's Office

Members: Stephen Allen, College of Arts and Sciences William Burkhardt, Assistant Dean iences am Burkhardt, Assistant Dean Men Elizabeth Cramer, Alumna ard Davis, Coilege of Arts and William of Men
Mrs. Elizabeth Cramer, Almaria
Edward Davis, College of Arts and Sciences
Haroid Durgin, Conference CoordinaJane McCullough, School of Home Economic
Economic
Georgia Reid, Women's Physical Education
William Starkweather, Assistant
William Starkweather, Assistant

Art & Design Committee:
Paul Procopic Chairman, College of Agriculture
Raymond H, Otto, College of Agriculture
Lyle L, Blundell, College of Agriculture
Robert Kent, College of Agriculture
Robert Kent, College of Agriculture
George Goddard, College of Agriculture
George Goddard, College of Agriculture
Jure
John Spencer, School of EngineerJohn Spencer, School of Engineer-Spencer, School of Engineerwilliam Starkweather, Assistant Registrar

Finances Committee:
Robert Lentilhon, Chalrman; School of Business
John Anderson, School of Business
Anthony Krzystofik, School of Business

Colleges, Schools, Divisions Committee: Arthur Williams, Chalrman: College of Arts and Sciences

of Arts and Sciences
Committee for Development:
Charles M. Powell, 1927, Chairman:
President, American Agricultural Chemini. American Programs Committee:
Abert Medical Sciences
of Arts and Sciences
Edward Buck, Assistant Director,
Student Activities, Student Union
Student Leaders
Dean's Scholars
Publications Committee:
Gilbert Mottla, Chairman; Agricultural
Communications
William Deminoff, Vice Chairman;
Editor, University News Service

WMUA will broadcast classical music from 1 p.m. to 1 a.m. during exams

Publicity Committee:
John Mitchell, Coordinator; College of Arts and Sciences*
to be replaced during asbbatical leave by Albert P. Madeira, College of Arts and Sciences

Albert P. Madeira, College of Arts Sciences Radio: Woodbridge Brown, Agricultural Communications Albert Madeira, College of Arts and Sciences Peas: Paul Sciences; College of Arts and Sciences John Hicks, College of Arts and Sciences Marc L. Ratner, College of Arts and Sciences Ty.

Marc L. Ratner, College of Alta and Sciences TV:
Richard Stromgren, College of Arts and Sciences, College of Arts and Sciences, College of Arts and Sciencer, College of Arts and Science, College of Arts and Science of of Arts and Arts and ommunity Relations Committee: Gerald Grady, Assistant Dir Bureau of Government Res East Experiment Station;

ator, Four-College Coop

oordinator, Four-College Cooperative roject:
Dr. Sidney Packard, Smith College tadent Relations Committee:
John R. Gounaris '63, Chairman Class of 192; Bernard Murphy '32, president Debbis Reed '62, treasurer Debbis Reed '62, treasurer Jean Havey '62, Senate President Jean Havey '68, Senate President Linda Achenbach, Senate Vice-President

Carele Stone Sue Streeter, Centennial secretary Barry Hallett, Collegian Coordina-

Barry Hallett, Collegian Coordina tor James E. Mulcahy, Collegian Don Starr, Index Lloyd David, Freshman Directory Anda D'Avanzo, Senate Nancy Ridell, R.S.O. Jim Trelease, WMUA Linda Lederman, Pan-Hel Faul Chalmers and Paul Chalmers and Carol Madison, Revelers linas of 1964 Vin Della Penna, SWAP Kim Wallace '64, vice-president Stephen Kingsley '64, president Ray Wilson, Senate Betty Mercer '64, socretary Carol Esonis '64, treasurer Jim Bloom, Marcoon Key Beverly Christo, Scrolis Jan Reimer, Scrolis Ja

nts (incomplete) ne J. Ryan, Manager, Uni-Augustine J. Ryan, Manager, Uni-versity Store William D. Scott, Direcor, Student Union William D. Scots, Directory of Arta Raymond D. Gozzl, College of Arta and Sciences David Lawrence, Assistant Director of Placement for Men Robert Morlssey, Director of Place-

Robert Morissey, Director of Finee-ment
Gibert Martin, WHYN-TV, Spring-field, Mass.
Frank McInerney, WHYN-TV,
Springfield, Mass.
Edward Fouhy, WBZ-WBZA, BosEdward Fouhy, WBZ-WBZA, BosDonald D Johnson, Massachusetts
Onnald D Johnson, Calkin, Index
Sydney Sulkin, Associate Editor,
Changing Times
entennial Headquarters Staff
ssistants:

ssistants:
Mrs. Barbara Feinman Colby
James R. Reinhold
soperating Agency:
Humanities Center for Liberal Education in an Ind strial Society.

LEARN HOW

PRAYER CAN HEAL

The Christian Science Organization at the University of Massachusetts cordially invites you to attend a free lecture

> HOW CHRISTIAN SCIENCE BRINGS SECURITY AND PEACE

J. HAMILTON LEWIS, C.S. of Concord, New Hampshire

member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, Massachu-

> Thursday, May 25, 8 p.m. Council Chambers of the Student Union University of Massachusetts Amherst, Mass.

Have a real cigarette-have a CAMEL

